

PMA Changes Procedure Of Electing Agricultural Committee Members

As the time approaches for the annual election of farmer-committeemen who administer many Federal farm programs in Sherman County, the county office of the Production and Marketing Administration announced this week that new regulations of the Department of Agriculture will effect some what procedure for the selection of committeemen.

"The established pattern PMA programs in each agricultural community elect a county PMA committee and delegate to a county convention which selects the county PMA committee is not changed," R. C. Buckles present county committee chairman points out.

The new regulations provided, however, that (1) a member of the county committee may not be elected a delegate to the county convention in his own county, and (2) a delegate to the county convention may not be elected to membership on the county PMA committee.

"Since delegates to the county convention will now have no personal interest in the jobs to be filled, we believe that they will be able to approach the task of selecting committeemen in a much more objective manner," says Mr. Buckles. The farmer-committee system should be strengthened by this action.

The voting eligibility requirements have been liberalized somewhat to include those farmers who are, in effect, participating in the Agricultural Conservation program but because of their rotation practices or other planned features of their farm conservation program, will not, during the current calendar year, receive a payment or grant of aid. To be eligible, however, such farmers must have received a payment or grant of aid under ACP during one of the preceding three calendar years, or qualify under one of the PMA-administered programs during the current calendar year.

Mr. Buckles says that the dates for community PMA committeemen elections in Sherman County's three agricultural communities will be November 1st.

Precinct 2 Votes Bonds For Paving

Voters in Precinct 2 voted a 48 to 0 majority favoring issuance of $175,000.00 bonds for paving the Spurlock road. The bond issue combined with state aid will provide 20 miles of highway on this road in Precinct 2 extending west to U. S. highway 287 south of Stratford.

Voters in precinct 1 defeated the bond issue that would have paved the Spurlock road to U. S. Highway 287 and paved 5 1/2 miles of the Pronger road. The vote was 29 to 22 favoring the bond issue but a two-thirds majority is required for issuance of road bonds.

Construction contracts for the paving of the Spurlock Highway, completion of the Stratford-Gruver road and for paving a road in Precinct 3 from the Stratford-Gruver highway to the Oklahoma line will be let at the same time for early construction if plans of the State Highway Department are carried out.

Unless the State Highway Department reverses its decision the unpaved gap between U. S. highway 287 and the Spurlock road will receive the first farm-to-market appropriation expended in the county for completion of this road.

Jenelle Reynolds, Edwin Weatherford Win Santa Fe Educational Awards

Miss Jenelle Reynolds, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Verne Reynolds, Conlen, and Edwin Lee Weatherford, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Weatherford, Texhoma, have been selected as two of the sixteen outstanding 4-H club members to receive the coveted Santa Fe Railroad Educational Awards. Each award carried with it an all-expense paid trip to the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago November 27 to December 1. Selections, according to Floyd Lunch, state 4-H leader of the Texas A. & M. College Extension Service, were based upon length of membership in 4-H leadership and achievement records, production, participation in 4-H and community and county activities other than 4-H and the general all-round record made by the individual.

Lynch says travel plans and schedules have not been completed for the trip, but both are in process at the present time. He said competition for this year's trips was very close and the sixteen winners, their parents, local club leaders and county extension agents can all feel honored for having joined the charmed circle of National 4-H Club Congress trip winners and especially the Santa Fe Educational Award winners group. The Santa Fe Railroad has been providing these educational awards for Texas 4-H club members for more than twenty consecutive years.

Phillips Clamps Lid On Well Information

Phillips Petroleum Co. Wilco No. 1, located in section 15, Block 3-B, became a tight well this week. Findings of the company in continued tests of the well are not available to the public.

No explanation has been given for the sudden change in company policy. Until last week the Phillips Wilco No. 1 had been drilled as an open well.

The quantity of high grade oil found in the well still remains a matter of estimate.

The news story of the well published in the Star last week checks closely with the logue of the well.

Some confusion was caused by the original announcement of the well which placed its location in section 15 of Block 3-T. The well was actually drilled in block 3-B.

Mr. and Mrs. Taylor returned home Tuesday.

Hunters Fail To Bag Game In New Mexico

Fred Green, Bobby Lovelace, Explorer Boy Scouts, and their assistant scoutmaster, Ernest Lovelace, spent Friday and Saturday at the Philmont Scout Ranch in New Mexico. They had high hopes of bagging mountain lions and possibly a bear.

Snow and inexperienced dogs gave them a merry horseback ride during which time they spotted one bear that eventually eluded them.

The hunt was conducted by the New Mexico State Game Department. Ordinarily it provides a thrilling hunting experience for older members of the scout organization.

This year the professional hunter was using a number of young dogs. The dogs invariably backtrailed instead of following the fresh trail of the game. The snow Saturday morning melted before lead dogs caught the wandering bear that eluded the younger dogs Friday night.

Gross receipts of the Senior Class from the Hallow'en Carnival Saturday night was approximately $2,100.00. Expense of the carnival has been roughly estimated at $500.00.

The senior class and their sponsor express their appreciation for the cooperation of the public in making the venture a success. The evenings entertainment was opened with a stunt show presented by members of the various classes in the school auditorium. Booths in the high school building were opened at the close of the entertainment in the auditorium.

Coronation of the carnival queen climaxed the celebration. Randolph McAdams announced the arrival of the royal guests as they took their places in the school gymnasium. Mrs. Ada Kirby furnished the piano music.

Leading the procession were Douglas Carter and Miss Martha Crabtree, 1948 prince and princess.

Forming the procession were Princess Sharon Cook and Prince Joe Ray Brown, Princess Dixie Lee Knight and Prince Hal Bennett, Princess Sherryl England and Prince Jodie Reesing, Princess Serena Kelp and Prince Paul Aududdell, Princess Caroline Wilson and Prince Mike Neal, Princess Minnie Crabtree and Prince John Marvin Wilson, Princess Nancy Bennett and Prince Rex Bob Newman, Princess Dorothy Jean Arnold and Prince Johnny Summerour, Princess Jean Reynolds and Prince Dwane Johnson, Princess Gwendolyn Flores and Prince Billy Boren, Princess Rita Joyce Neal and Prince Sonny Donelson, followed by Queen Thelma McDaniel and King Marion Brannan of the senior class.

A program for the entertainment of the court depicted scenes of the California gold rush, Indian Wars, the Oregon Trail, and negro slave problems.

At the time of the meeting 189 memberships for 1950 in the Sherman County Farm Bureau had been paid. This makes it necessary for the organization to secure more memberships to have its quota of 100% membership in the county.

R. C. Buckles explained the operation of the High Plains Wheat Growers Association of which Sherman County is a member. He stated that it would be necessary to collect 1/4 of a cent on each bushel of wheat produced in the county as an operating fund. Letters will be mailed to producers, explaining the program and asking for this donation. One of the Objects of the High Plains Wheat Growers Association is to represent the high plains wheat producer in Washington when government farm programs are being established.

Mrs. Smith Injured In Fall Tuesday

Mrs. Earl Smith sustained painful injury of the muscles in her right hip Tuesday when she stumbled and fell at Texhoma while delivering flowers for a funeral.

Returning home, Mrs. Smith was unable to use her right foot on the brake pedal when she turned off the highway to drive to her home. Waylon Green avoided a collision with the Smith car and sensing something was wrong, followed Mrs. Smith to her home where she turned off the car and let it roll to a stop.

Green helped Mrs. Smith into her home and summoned a physician.

Members of the Sherman County Farm Bureau met in the American Legion Hall Saturday afternoon for their annual business session and the election of officers.

R. C. Buckles was elected president. Sam Wohlford was elected vice-president, Arthur Milton was elected secretary-treasurer.

Elected as members of the Board of Directors were: R. K. Everett, W. O. Bryant, Jim Taylor, E. H. Hudson, Ora Oldaker, J. N. Bridwell, A. E. Pronger, Floyd Brannan, Dan Foreman, Luther Browder, Leo Smith, Mrs. R. C. Buckles, Mrs. Emil Blanck, and Lorel Haille.

A report of the secretary-treasurer revealed that donations of $4,820.00 were made on the purchase of the Sherman County Farm Bureau Fire Truck, housed in Stratford and manned by the Stratford Volunteer Fire Department for fighting fires in rural sections. The cost of the truck was $1,821.88. Pump and tank equipment cost $3,265.00 and the expense of the fire hose was $79.88, bringing the total cost of the fire fighting equipment to $5,166.00. Only $346.76 was paid from the general fund of the Farm Bureau.

The organization closed the year with a bank balance of $224.64. Membership dues for 1950 which had been paid before the meeting represented an amount of $945.00, $567.00 going to state and national funds. The $378.00 of 1950 membership fees in the local fund with the cash balance left over from last year leaves the organization with an operating fund of $602.64.

At the time of the meeting 189 memberships for 1950 in the Sherman County Farm Bureau had been paid. This makes it necessary for the organization to secure more memberships to have its quota of 100% membership in the county.

R. C. Buckles explained the operation of the High Plains Wheat Growers Association of which Sherman County is a member. Farm Bureau members at the meeting went on record as "opposed to any natural gas tax being placed on gas at the well head." The Farm Bureau favors a flame tax which would be paid by the consumer. The consumers tax on natural gas to raise the necessary 5 1/2 million dollars sought by the state legislature would represent a consumers tax of about 90 cents annually from every family in the state. J. H. Allender, Dalhart, spoke briefly on Farm Bureau Insurance.

Livestock Markets Review

Hogs continued to roll into the nation's major market centers in increasing numbers during the past week, and top hog prices over the country hovered in the $17.50 to $18.00 range by the end of the week. Prices were at or near the lowest point since OPA price controls were removed in mid-October 1946 at most markets, and with prices hovering around $1.00 above the level of the government's announced support program, the trade expressed some concern over how and when the government's support machinery would be put in gear. Peak movement of swine is still expected for December and January, but the heavy October marketings are expected to cushion the shock of the full tide. During the week 12 major markets reported 386,400 hogs against 368,062 last week and only 312,993 the same week last year. Cattle Shipments Down Cattle and calf shipments during last week were slightly below a year ago at this time, but edged ahead of last week's totals. The short crop of sheep and lambs revealed only 135,000 reported during the past week, against 150,000 a week earlier and 238,000 a year earlier.

Cattle and calves enjoyed a favorable price range at Fort Worth when a sharp runup the first of the week resulted from light receipts. Much of the gains were erased before the week was out. Steers and yearlings closed fully steady, other grown cattle closing to 50 cents higher. Slaughter calves closed steady and stocker cattle and calves strong.

The week brought more grain-fed than the previous week, but few highly finished offerings. Most slaughter steers and yearlings drew $17.00 to $25.00, a few to $26.00 and above. Stocker yearlings sold from $2.50 down, feeder yearlings $20.00 down, and feeder steers and heifers drew $17.00 to $19.00. Stocker cows sold from $13.00 to $17.00.

Fat cows ranged from $14 to $17, while canners and cutters drew $9 to $14. Bulls sold from $13 to $17.50. Fat calves cleared at $15 to $23.50, a few to $25.25 on the yearling order the first of the week. Stocker calves cashed at $17 to $24, heifers mostly $22.50 downward.

New Fiber Tops Silk And Cotton

NEW YORK—A new fiber developed in Germany is expected to displace both cotton and silk, says a Munich dispatch to Informationen in Madrid, and to free European textile industries from dependence on tropical lands for these staples. Discovered by a German engineer, the plan is said to belong to the Obuzinum family. Its fiber is superior to cotton for strength and softness, it is reported, and is sheer and shiny as

Free Cattle Of Parasites In The Fall

COLLEGE STATION, — There is no profit in feeding the external parasites on cattle. This is the time of the year when you can get control of the ticks and lice that will take your profits if they are not controlled, says James A. Deer, assistant extension entomologist of Texas A. & M. College.

Cattle that are free of parasites have a better appearance, are healthier and more productive than cattle that have to use their own methods and energy to combat the insect pests. Healthy and contented cattle turn the feed and roughage they consume into meat and the mother cows will produce stronger, healthier calves next spring.

Lice bother the cattle more in the winter and early spring when the hair is long and the best time to treat the cattle for these pests is the fall of the year. Deer says use 8 pounds of 50 percent wettable DDT powder to 100 gallons of water and treat twice. The second treatment should come two weeks after the first. This second treatment will take care of the lice that hatch after the first treatment. In the case of dairy cattle, methoxychlor should be substituted for DDT and it can be used exactly the same as the DDT, says Deer. These control methods can be used either as sprays or dips.

Cattle will make better gains during the winter months if they are kept free of the external parasites and they will come out of the winter in much better condition says Deer.

TEXAS FARM AND HOME EGG LAYING CONTEST UNDERWAY

COLLEGE STATION — The 1949-50 Texas Farm and Home Egg Laying Contest got underway on October 1 and will close on July 31, 1950. Changes in the rules and regulations and the regrouping of the flocks, says Cecil Williams, assistant extension poultry husbandman of Texas A. & M. College, should make the contest even better than the one just concluded. This year according to Williams there are four groups set up for the competing flocks. In the 100-300 hen flocks, there are 82 entries with a total of 14,236 birds involved. In the 301 to 600 hen flocks, 32 flock owners have entries and involved are 12,988 birds. In the 601

Truman Signs Bill To Push Rural Telephone Line Construction

Truman Friday signed into law a bill extending rural electrification loans to rural telephone systems.

The bill was signed by Truman in a brief White House ceremony attended by Agriculture Secretary Brannan REA Administrator Wickard, and representatives of farm and other interested organizations.

The president, in a statement expressed belief that the bill will act to "promote the general welfare of our rural citizens and to the nation as a whole and, at the same time, to strengthen our private enterprise system."

For the current fiscal year Congress appropriated $25,000,000 for 35-year 2 per cent loans to improve phone service for rural subscribers.

Loans may be made to co-operatives, mutual companies, or privately owned systems for expansion of rural telephone facilities which must not, however, duplicate existing and adequate services.

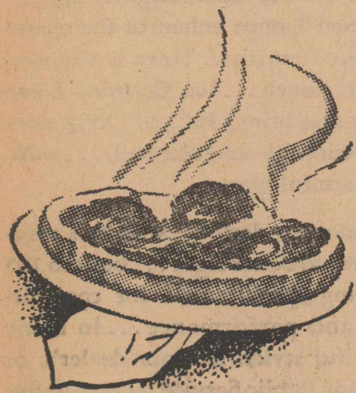

REA money will be available to take rural lines out of financial difficulties with the limitation that not more than 40 per cent of any loan may go for refinancing existing indebtedness.

Economic Highlights

The latest chapter in the long controversy between the Navy and the Air Force shows how easy it is to effect unification of the services in theory--and how difficult it is to achieve it in practice. As the Wall Street Journal said, "You do not make two belligerent cats peaceful by putting them together in a barrel." The differences between the views of the forces are fundamental, they affect our whole concept of offensive and defensive war, and they are held with great passion and sincerity on both sides.

The layman, of course, is not equipped to accurately weigh the merits of the arguments over the B-36 super-bomber. Ranking Navy admirals said in their testimony that it was a 1941 airplane in all essentials, that it would be easily picked up on radar screens, and that it would be pretty much of a sitting duck for our new jet fighters, and, more important, for the jet fighters that Russia is developing. The Air Force top brass, in answer, held that the plane is as nearly invulnerable as aircraft can be, that it is our basic offensive weapon, that it needs no fighter escort on long bombing missions and that its speed, service ceiling and firepower make it able to deal with any jets. It is worth remarking in this connection that not only the Navy disagrees with the Air Force view. As an example, some British experts published a scientific study some time ago which cast doubt on the operational efficiency of the B-36 under combat conditions, and which also advanced the theory that in these days of swift development of the jet engine the piston engine may be on its way out for military planes.

Be that as it may, the Navy, in the view of many, has one very strong talking point--and that is the too-many-eggs-in-one-basket idea. There seems little doubt that Air Force heads believe there is no need for Navy combat air strength, and that the Air Force should have it all. This was the reasoning that lay behind the order stopping construction of a 65,000-ton aircraft carrier after a start had been made on laying the keel. That order came as a body blow to naval men, who saw in it a plan to relegate their service to the status of a secondary, subsidiary force. The Navy's position, as presented by Admiral Denfield, Chief of Naval Operations, holds that "each service within budgetary limitations be permitted to design and develop its own weapons," and that the "views of a particular service are entitled to predominant weight in the determination of the forces needed by that service to fulfill its missions." This is one of the basic points which underlines the whole controversy.

UMA Chief Threatens New Strike

PITTSBURGH—A nation already reeling from the deadly one-two punch of twin strikes in coal and steel is preparing for another blow from United Mine Workers Chief John L. Lewis. With the strike of 380,000 UMW soft coal diggers going into its seventh week, Lewis threatens to extend the walkout to the 100,000 union members still working.

The miners chieftan said the working diggers, about one-fifth of the union membership, might be "called into action at any time" to help win the current mine strike.

UMW members now at work are employees in the bituminous fields west of the Mississippi, in all the anthracite (hard coal) areas and in Canada.

Lewis issued his threat at a dinner in Scranton, Pa., at a dinner honoring the late John Mitchell, an early president of the UMW.

In the meantime, the month old strike of 500,000 CIO United Steelworker members dragged along.

Unemployment soared past the million mark. Relief rolls mounted. Scenes in many steel and coal centers were reminiscent of the deepest days of the depression.

At Morgantown, W. Va., United Mine Worker funds were being used for the relief of needy miners.

Clairton, Pa., usually a humming steel center of 21,000, called a special meeting of City Council members Monday night to set up an emergency welfare fund for the striking steel workers. The Council had previously asked gas, electric and insurance companies to withhold pressure in collecting delinquent bills.

Hard hit Pittsburgh counted 120,800 idle in coal, steel and aluminum. Another 21,500 in other business fields are out of jobs as a result of the strikes.

Lewis has no further negotiations scheduled with the mine operators until next Tuesday. He is seeking a new contract with higher pay and more pensions.

Even as Lewis threatened to extend the coal strike, the executive committee of the America Retail Coal Association called on President Truman to take immediate action to end the costly walkout.

The committee said the country is facing "a critical situation and a national emergency" because of coal shortages in the Midwest, Northwest and South.

A government economist offered a cheerless prediction to those hoping for a speedy end to the strikes.

Dr. Leo J. Wolman of the National Bureau of Economics forecast a settlement of the coal and steel strikes, "probably in three weeks."

Frantic Digging Of Son Saves Man Buried Alive

PHILADELPHIA — Rescued from a 15-foot deep hole where he was buried alive for nearly an hour, 45-year old Harry Edwards was reported recovering Sunday at Frankford Hospital.

For a time Edwards was buried completely in the excavation and owed his life to the frantic digging of his son, Harvey, 19, who scooped earth from around his face, permitting him to breathe.

A wall of earth collapsed suddenly on Edwards late Saturday as he was at work on a sewer trench in the northeastern part of the city.

The younger Edwards, who was at work on the same job, escaped the brunt of the avalanche, freed himself quickly and tore at the mounds of earth surrounding his father.

Legion Airs

(By Earl Bond)

Once again the American Legion has scored a victory in our eternal battle with Congress and the Veteran's Administration. Those of you who have read the current issue will have read the report of how Department Commander Joe Spurlock went to bat for the boys in school, and caused the VA to rescind its recent ruling that would have put many thousands of veterans out of school. The VA came out with a ruling that vocational schools and schools opened since 1944 would not be recognized as suitable for veteran's training.

Money was appropriated for this purpose by Congress, after a long, hard battle on our part, and the vigilance of our department commander is all that prevented many thousands being denied the benefits of this money. The regular state institutions of higher learning could not begin to take care of all them, and in many cases the desired training could not be obtained in the public institutions, particularly in the Southwest. We have been sadly lacking in vocational training in our public institutions, and the creation of these private schools is of great benefit to those who are more interested in making a living than in quoting Shakespearean sonnets. This is a case where a single administrator very near got away with overruling a unanimous vote of both houses of Congress.

Another kick in the pants for the needy veteran is coming from President Truman. A measure was recently passed in Congress to provide automobiles for veterans who had lost a leg or legs, or an arm, and was thereby deprived of both power of locomotion and wage earning capacity. According to a report Truman intends to dispose of this measure by the handy "Pocket Veto" method. It is now time for the American Legion to act again in an effort to prevent this tragedy. Not one of you would be willing to trade an arm or leg for an automobile, yet our President intends to sit there in a soft chair, cross his two good legs, put his two good hands in his pockets and say the man who has given his legs for his country is not entitled to a means of transportation. He has given much less for his country, and we furnish him with limousines, yachts, and airplanes for his private transportation. He could use his perfect right hand to sign this bill, and not the horrible iron claw that those who have lost their arms would have to use. If ever he reached to scratch a leg that wasn't there, he wouldn't hesitate to sign that bill, and quick.

I wish that everyone, particularly every veteran, could and would read the story in the last three issues of the American Legion Magazine entitled, "I Saw the GI Bill Written". It is written by a Washington correspondent who was not a Legionaire, but who witnessed the whole struggle from the inside. Parts of it are more fantastic than fiction, but proves what the American Legion can and will do.

My purpose in writing this column each week is to try in my feeble way to bring to the people some of the activities of our organization so that they may know the truth about our purposes. There are those who criticize us, and those who are indifferent, mostly through ignorance of our cause. There are those who are opposed to the fact that we have a little fun occasionally, but I'll give you a hundred to one that not one of them has ever given one thin dime or one minute's time of their own free will and accord for the welfare of those crippled and maimed who spilled their blood and guts on a thousand gory battlefields. Their self-righteousness has not provided a single hospital bed, a single widows pension, or a single artificial limb. Yesterday's heroes are tomorrow's heels.

Had RHEUMATISM So BAD That He Had To Quit Working

Mr. Jerry Watkins, chief of detectives of the city of Hot Springs, Arkansas, suffered with rheumatism so much and the aches and pains were so terrible that he had to quit working in an effort to regain his health after he had tried everything which his friends recommended. Detective Watkins is well known and his countless number of friends throughout the country will rejoice to know that he is now healthy, free of rheumatic aches and pains and now working hard.

"For several years," Mr. Watkins says, "I suffered from a rheumatic condition in the hip and leg. I was very nervous and finally developed migraine headaches. I tried all kinds of medicines but nothing seemed to do me any good. I seemed to be growing worse and worse and was finally advised to take a leave of absence from my work on the police force in an effort to recover my health."

"The pains in my head sometimes were unbearable. I suffered tortures and I was miserable. At night particularly I lay awake and could not sleep."

"On January 14th of this year," he said, "I felt so much better I decided to go back on the job. The examining doctor told me I was in perfect health. Now I am working from 8 to 12 hours daily and I am able to sleep as any normal person. I have taken six large size bottles of HADACOL and all my friends know I owe my good health to HADACOL."

It is a well-known scientific fact that the lack of only a small amount of the B vitamins and certain minerals in your system will cause certain bodily disorders such as nutritional neuritis, which causes the aches and pains commonly known as rheumatism, and there is no known cure for the ailment except the administration of the needed vitamins and minerals. This is why people who suffered for years and years never were able to obtain any relief until they took the vitamins and minerals the lack of which was causing the disorders.

HADACOL does not contain only one but has five of the B vitamins and four necessary minerals. It comes to you in liquid form so that it will be easily absorbed by the blood and, therefore, carried to the parts of the body which need them most.

So, it matters not where you live—no matter who you are—if you have tried all the medicines under the sun, you should be fair to yourself and give this wonderful preparation, HADACOL, a trial. And if your disease is caused by a lack of the B vitamins and minerals which HADACOL contains, then don't go on suffering—don't continue to make your life so miserable. Temporary relief for you is not enough. Take HADACOL. Sold at all leading drugstores. Trial size only $1.25, but save money; buy the large family economy size, only $8.50. If your druggist does not handle HADACOL, order direct from The Le Blanc Corporation, Lafayette, La., and when the postman brings your package, just pay the amount plus the cost and postage. If you remit with the order we will pay the postage.

Then, if you don't feel perfectly satisfied after using HADACOL as directed, just return the empty carton and your money will be cheerfully refunded. Nothing could be fairer.—Adv.

God Our Comfort

Lesson for November 6, 1949

AS THE ENGLISH language keeps on changing, words do not always keep on meaning what they once did. "Comfort" is one of these. When our Bible was translated into English in 1611, the translation most English-speaking people use the word "comfort" had a bigger meaning than most people put into it nowadays. We think of it as meaning soothing; but it is a bigger idea than that. God is not merely a soothing God. We think of "comfort" as meaning to make comfortable; but it is a stouter word than that. God does not always make his people comfortable. The word means to strengthen, to steel against fear and despair, to put backbone into people.

"Fear Not, O Worm!"

AT THE TIME of the prophecies we study this week, the Israelites had been kicked around a good deal. They had felt the conqueror's boots, they were discouraged, as all good people are when somehow God seems to be letting evil forces triumph. Their little world had split wide apart, their little nation had been blown to the winds.

To those people, torn by terrors and bowed down by wretchedness, people who were in serious danger of developing a once-for-all "inferiority complex," people who were about to lose all their backbone, the great prophet brings his messages: "Comfort ye my people, saith your God."

The whole idea is in this one sentence (Is. 41:14): "Fear not, O worm Jacob! . . . I am your helper, saith the Lord."

God does not indulge his people in foolish pride. Beside the Almighty they are worms, insects. Nevertheless worm though he may be, the man who trusts in God will not be afraid. He will trust in his own powers, he will trust in luck, he will trust in God.

A worm by itself is nothing; but with God on his side, the weakest of men can say with Paul, "If God be for us, who can be against us?" God's men do not get their courage up by flexing their muscles or admiring themselves. They grow in courage as they grow in the knowledge of God.

Goodness And Power

ANY ONE who saw "Edward, My Son" will remember the tragedy of that family. A boy's character went slowly to pieces, because his father was determined that nothing should be too good for him. To gain his purpose the father ran rough-shod over everyone who stood in his way, and eventually ruined the lives of all around him, including his son's and his own. The mother, on the other hand, could see, as the father could not, what his indulgence was doing to the boy, making him a weakling and a rat. But she was too weak to stand up against her husband, and her life too was ruined. That story is a kind of parable.

The prophet reveals a God who is both powerful and good; but suppose God were only good but not powerful, or only powerful but not good? Then the world would be in a mess, as that boy Edward was in a mess.

But these three are all in the same God. A God who is power only, might do as Edward's father did, destroy his children without even intending to do so. A God who is goodness only, might want to do right by his world, yet not be able to do so, like Edward's mother. A God who knew what was right but neither wanted nor was able to do much about it, would not be a God at all.

God Is Not Weary

SUPPOSE GOD were indeed powerful, good and wise, and yet grew tired from time to time? Suppose all God's good qualities came and went, unpredictably, like the wind on a spring day?

No; God is the Maker and Keeper of Promises, the Covenant God. He does not grow faint or weary; that is our anchor of comfort.

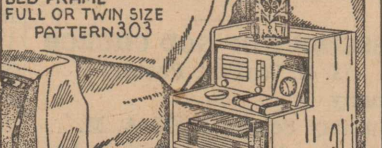

The earth changes, and men with it; but the Word of the Lord abides forever. His "convenient of peace" does not waver. We do not need to lean gingerly on the Almighty. He will bear all our weight.

techniques developed at the Texas Station will be made available to cotton breeders everywhere.

Beasley was a 1932 Texas A. & M. graduate; received his master degree from A. & M. in 1934 and his doctorate from Harvard in 1939. In work with the Texas Stations division of agronomy in 1932-36 and from 1939 until he was called to duty with the armed forces in March 1942, he became interested primarily in genetics and cytogenetics of cotton and specialized in interspecific hybridization. Many species of cotton produce only sterile hybrids when crossed; he pioneered in the technique of doubling the number of chromosomes in cotton by this means, obtained fertile hybrids between many species.

These discoveries opened a new field in cotton breeding and some of the genetic stocks he produced have become the foundation for new strains for the Cotton Belt.

Dr. T. R. Richardson is head of the regional cotton genetics research project which is financed largely through USDA Research & Marketing Act funds. Associated with him in the work are Dr. Meta S. Brown and Dr. Margaret Y. Menzel, cytologists; and C. F. Lewis and C. W. Manning, associate professors of agronomy. Dr. Brown was Beasley's assistant and Lewis and Manning worked under his direction as graduate students. Dr. Richmond was a co-worker, as was D. T. Killough, another of the Station's cotton breeders.

The resident instruction program made possible by the facilities of Beasley Laboratory has already attracted graduate students as research assistants from Missouri, Georgia, Mississippi and Arizona as well as Texas. The greenhouses contain wild and primitive species of cotton collected from all over the world.
