To explain the inexplicable in nature, man simply says that animals are guided — live by — instinct.

Man seemingly has explained those many wonders in nature merely by tossing out that catch-all word: instinct.

And the more closely man observes the creatures of the air, land and sea, the more amazed he becomes over those wonders.

The ways and quirks of even the most common of creatures can make a fascinating study as long as man has the inclination and makes the

the word "computer" for instinct to explain the marvels in nature.

And he can do the same thing in a futile attempt to explain man to man. Though he is prone to err, man is a marvel of God's creation. He is a finite and extremely limited "creator" who, unlike The Creator, cannot make something out of nothing.

Election officials Monday began to unravel the paper maze that shrouds the recount petitions and threatens to choke off an early resolution. Checking began in Corpus Christi Monday But while Nueces County officials got an early start, most counties may not begin new tabulations until later this week. Some have refused the requests outright.

"The move for a recount is the result of hope rather than anticipation," said Sam Millsap, Hill's Bexar County campaign manager. "I think at this point what we want is to know beyond a shadow of a doubt that we lost this election.

Search ends in Las Cruces

A Midland woman, whose disappearance with five children had kept Tall City residents in a state of suspense for nearly three days, was located by police in Las Cruces, N.M., today moments before she and the children were about to go swimming in the pool of the Holiday Inn Motel

Sue Briscoe, 36, who had been missing since Saturday afternoon with the children, including two of her own, was met by Las Cruces police shortly after 11 a.m. as she made her way to the pool.

The children were dressed in swim suits and were in "high spirits," according to police.

'She (Mr., Briscoe) was very cool She wasn't talking to us at all," remarked Lt. Fred Rubio of the Las Cruces Police Department.

'Until 20 minutes ago,' said Rubio about 11:20 a.m. today, " we had no idea that the woman or the children were in that motel. We received a tip from the Midland Police Department and are now detaining her and the kids. We had information that the lady was going to come out and go swimming, so we were ready."

Said Midland Police Chief Wayne Gideon today following the end of the nationwide search: "We were able to track her and the children down...and we were told Mrs. Briscoe and the five children are all in good condition.'

He said Mrs. Briscoe and the children were "tracked down with a credit card. We determined that they were still in the motel there and we notified the Las Cruces authorities."

The children appeared to be unharmed and in good health, according to Rubio

However, he said that 9-year-old Jeffrey Green, son of Mr. and Mrs. J.D. Highsmith of 4204 Dawn Circle,

This was the general reaction today to the word that Midlander Sue Briscoe and five children missing since Saturday had been found at a Holiday Inn in Las Cruces, N.M.

Responses from the parents and others involved were short but enthu-

J.D. Highsmith, stepfather of Jeffrev Green, 9, said: "We are so relieved we are out of our minds. He said a private plane would be picking up his stepson and the Jones boy later today. He did not know when the other three children and Mrs.

Briscoe would be returning. One of the Briscoe's neighbors. Cathy Phillips, said she had telephoned everyone in the neighborhood after hearing the news shortly before noon today

'I am thrilled to death," she said. 'Everyone's relieved. We're just happy that they are all right. We just want them back. This is such a great Midland Police Chief Wayne Gideon said the number of Midlanders who had wanted to help in the search for Mrs. Briscoe and the children "was

"Other citizens from other towns were sincerely interested. People are not just curious, but were truly concerned and wanting to help.

He added that children in the Briscoe neighborhood had formed a "bicycle brigade" to look for any clues that might be in the area.

Gideon said the Briscoes moved to Midland in 1970. Mrs. Briscoe is a registered nurse, but had not worked in five years.

The police chief added that she had been described by friends as "a very protective mother.

Man arrested at station

A Midland man was arrested for alleged possession of a substance believed to be marijuana very early today.

Nothing unusual about that. However, the 20-year-old man was arrested at the front desk of the Midland Police Station while pulling cash out of his pants pocket to post bond for a friend who was jailed earlier, according to reports. As Patrolman Michael C.

Reed, the arresting officer, tells it, the man came to the station about 1:40 a.m. today to bail out his friend.

Officer Reed told the man the process would take four hours. according to reports.

However, the man told Reed he had the money to bail out his friend, authorities said.

At that point, reports indicate, the man reached into a front pants pocket and pulled out a roll of money along with a baggie of what officers said appeared to be marjiuana.

The man then was informed he was under arrest for misdemeanor possession of marijuana. said Reed.

What became of the 'Hillside Strangler'?

The failure to solve this case has been a sore point with police officials for a long time. Last December, Assistant Police Chief Daryl Gates, who headed the investigation, said, "I'm embarrassed every time I look at myself in the mirror."

Gates, who has since been promoted to chief, has insisted all along that his men would solve the case. The department's top spokesman, Cmdr. William Booth, says the chief still feels the case will be solved. "He does, I do and the investigators do," Booth said.

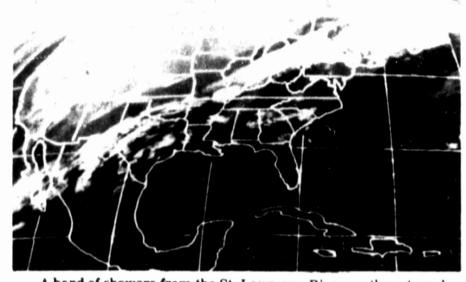

According to Booth, the Task Force is now "sharpening its focus, separating the wheat from the chaff as to what is a valuable lead and er, he said.

Booth said there is no specific trademark of the killer that would definitely link the stranglings. "The totality of circumstances" led investigators to consider the cases together, he said.

All the young women were strangled, most were left nude, several were sexually molested, several were prostitutes or had ties to the Hollywood street scene. But a few were girl-next-door types who lived at home with their parents or in quiet apartment buildings. The victims ranged in age from 12 to 28.

About a year ago women here were scared. Many wouldn't venture out alone, especially after dark. Self-defense classes sprang up at colleges

But time has dimmed the fears and interest. There have been other things to think about - heavy rains and mudslides, Proposition 13, mandatory school busing, brushfires that burned 200 homes, the World Series, the deaths of two popes, the San Diego air collision, the election, a new series of killings but this time with victims less worrisome to the public - derelicts, not young women. Around town today, you won't hear talk of the strangler. That was

Violinist's credentials impressive

By SUSAN TOTH R-T Staff Writer

Mark Piskunov seems to be a young man on his way up in his chosen profession.

Piskunov, 20-year-old guest violinist with the Midland-Odessa Symphony tonight, has already acquired some impressive credentials.

The personable native of Odessa. Russia, has won the Juilliard School's annual Concerto Competition and is a scholarship student with Dorothy Delay at Juilliard. He and his brother, a concert pianist, have appeared together at Kennedy Center in Washington, D.C., under the direction of Mstislav Rostropovich — an occassion Piskunov calls a highlight in his career.

His praise for Rostropovich is high. "He is the greatest musician there is," the violinist said Monday.

'I don't know anybody so dedicated. It's incredible — he manages to practice, conduct, have a social life. and his whole day is music, music,

Getting advice from the master on how to prepare for a performance was a high point of his appearance with Rostropovich

"It was exciting for me to appear at Kennedy Center for the first time, but he told me he couldn't wait to go out there and make these people happy. I hope always to feel that way" about performing, Piskunov said.

Piskunov feels dedication, concentration and discipline are essential to professional musicians, but one must make room for a social life.

"When you play, you should talk with the music. You must tell the story of your life or the composer's. With no social life, what would you talk about? You'd have to lie," he Piskunov immigrated from Russia five years ago with his parents, brother and grandmother The day before he came to Midland, he took the oath of loyalty to become a U.S. citizen, an event he called, "very "I have no nostalgia for Russia," he said. "I loved it in the U.S. from the first day I came here. Here, I can do anything I want to. The things he wants to do most right now are to perform and study his

Touring and performing in different cities with different orchestras is difficult, but worthwhile, he said. He has high praise for the Midland Odessa Symphony

"I didn't expect it to be of such a professional level," he noted. "Especially the conductor. He really does a beautiful job."

He will play the Violin Concerto by Khachaturian, a Russian composer, with the symphony tonight at 8 p.m. in the Lee High School auditorium.

He has played with the St. Louis Symphony, New Orleans Philharmonic, and the symphonies of Queens and Brooklyn, N.Y., Puerto Rico, Erie, Pa., and others.

Despite his increasing success, Piskunov said he does not think about the direction his career is taking.

"Now is the time for me to be completely involved in music and compete only with myself," he said. "If you do everything well, it just happens.

Apparently, everything is going well. After his performance here, Piskunov will appear in Hartford, Conn., Denver, Colo., Savannah, Ga., West Palm Beach, Fla., and Newport, However, low cloud cover and soupy skies replaced the fog and gave an omen of impending rain and cooler temperatures tonight and Wednes-

A 30 percent chance of rain is in the offing for Midland tonight, said a weatherman at the National Weather Service at Midland Regional Airport.

The percentage was to remain at 30 percent for Wednesday. 'This means we don't know," said the weatherman in taking lightly the probability of precipitation. The low tonight was to drop to the upper 30s. The high Wednesday is to be near 50 The record low temperature for Nov. 14 is 13 degrees in 1976. That low followed two days of five-inch snowfall. The record high for Nov.

The overnight low was 55 degrees just before midnight Tuesday. The high Monday was 71 degrees.

Patches of drizzle and fog covered much of Texas again early today, from Dalhart in the Texas Panhandle to the Rio Grande Valley more than 800 miles southeast.

Visibility was as low as an eighth of a mile at Houston and also at McAllen in the Valley. East Texas also reported extensive patches of fog. The National Weather Service called for cloudy and cool weather today, with occasional light rain north and partly cloudy skies in the south, with continued warm temperatures. Afternoon highs were expected to reach the middle 40s in the Panhandle

Iranian oil workers end strike; Troops fire on two demonstrations

TEHRAN, Iran (AP) — Iranian oil workers ended their strike against Shah Mohammed Reza Pahlavi today, but troops opened fire on two demonstrations against the monarch, killing at least three persons and wounding 19, the official Pars news agency reported.

The casualties were reported in Songor, west of Tehran, where Pars said demonstrators set fire to the provincial governor's office and his home. Troops also opened fire to disperse demonstrators in the Tehran bazaar, but there was no immediate report of casualties.

Mideast peace negotiations said in jeopardy

WASHINGTON (AP) — Israeli and Egyptian leaders are digging in stubbornly in Mideast peace negotiations, says President Carter. "I just don't know what will happen about it; we just pray that agreements will be reached," he says.

Carter's comments Monday night were his least-hopeful peace assessment in some time, implying that once-settled sections of a proposed agreement are in danger of unraveling unless questions on the more controversial Palestinian issue of West Bank and Gaza Strip control can be sewn up soon.

"We are involved in the negotiations, but we cannot make Israel ac-

In Washington, Carter said in a Public Broadcasting Service interview that both Egypt and Israel have "demanded additional assurances far above and beyond what Camp David said specifically."

The Camp David, Md., summit conference in September called for the current negotiations to hammer out specifics of a basic peace treaty between the two historic Mideast enemies. But the current talks apparently have become bogged down in disagreement over whether the peace agreement should be tied to resolution of issues concerning the Israelioccupied Gaza Strip and West Bank of the Jordan River.

Begin says there was "never any doubt" Israel will conscientiously negotiate that question later, but he doesn't want the issue formally linked to the present peace treaty.

Carter said Monday night, "I wouldn't want to start saying who is being more stubborn. I think there is adequate stubborness to be allotted to both sides."

He also said negotiations are more difficult when Begin and Sadat are not present as they were at Camp David. Carter complained in his most-recent news conference that "we have reached on more than one occasion so far agreement on the text between the negotiators, but when they referred the text back to the leaders in Egypt and Israel sometimes the work that has been done is partially undone."

Roman Catholic Bishops fighting 'growing government intrusion'

WASHINGTON (AP) - American Roman Catholic Bishops are girding for battle against what they see as growing government intrusion in church affairs.

The bishops, at their annual fall meeting, are amassing data for a fight — likely in conjunction with Protestant and Jewish leaders — and weighing tactics against the multiplying government regulations they say impinge on churches.

Religious freedom is being violated on a grand scale," Cardinal John Krol of Philadelphia told a session Monday. He called for resistance to the proliferating "mass of regulations, rules, licensings, directives and demands for information.'

If the trend goes on, "we'll wind up like the church in the Soviet - confined to the sanctuary," he said.

Archbishop Joseph L. Bernardin of Cincinnati said, "This growing intrusion of government into church affairs is something we must monitor and that we must resist.'

Cardinal Terence Cooke of New York proposed that the bishops set up watchdog and informational procedures with Protestants and Jews to develop joint guidelines for action.

Several cases already in the courts are being pressed either by Catholic or Protestant churches, sometimes with mutually supporting friend-ofthe-court briefs.

A background paper that said a collision course between government and organized religion is developing singled out numerous government rulings and regulations described as limiting or threatening to limit religious liberty.

And a detailed analysis by a priestattorney, the Rev. Charles M. Whelan of Fordham University, said Protestant and Jewish leaders have "expressed alarm at some of the laws, regulations and court decision of the last 10 years.

Among instances cited were these: —Internal Revenue Service rulings that religious agencies would lose their tax exempt status if they poll political candidates on special religious-moral concerns and publish the -IRS insistance that church-related agencies which are not "exclusively religious" must file informational financial returns. Bishops said this allows the government to define what is religious and to exclude schools, hospitals and social service and other activities the church considers reli-

-Labor Department rulings that certain church employees must be covered by unemployment compensation taxes and that church schools are subject to collective bargaining

Bishop Joseph A. McNicholas of Springfield, Ill., noting that the bishops have supported the Carter administration on various tough issues, such as the Panama Canal treaties, said it's time to ask members of the administration "what in the world it means by binding us down.

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) - The final ications. report of the House Public Education Committee on its between-sessions studies is almost as notable for what it leaves out as for what it includes.

Reps. Jim Nugent, D-Kerrville, and Lee Jackson, R-Dallas, stayed away, blocking the subcommittee vote that would have placed the report before the full committee Monday

But Rep. Tom Massey, D-San Angelo, committee chairman, said recommendations in a report drafted for Nugent probably would be embodied in bills introduced in January.

Other reports were approved unanimously, but the harmony would have dissolved at once if the TSTA report had come up. The committee is divided between TSTA backers and those _lum. who resent its lobbying and its support of Attorney General John Hill Class to perform over Gov. Dolph Briscoe in the Democratic primary last spring.

Massey and Nugent both have crit-icized the TSTA, and Massey calls it a 'union" and agrees with the draft report that it is improper to let teachers use in-service training time to go to TSTA state and regional meet-

"It (the time lost) costs the state $10 million a year and should be abolished," Massey told reporters.

The report also mentioned check-off of TSTA dues by school district payroll offices, extended leave for teachers who are TSTA officers and the use of school facilities for TSTA commun- program.

"Certain of the above-cited practices and policies constitute mismanagement of public school funds," the draft report said.

Committee members approved a report recommending a new $15.2 million building for the Texas Education Agency, calling for an end to "cross-consulting" for the agency and for limitation of state funding for adult education to "basics.

'We are not in favor of baton twirling for adults or underwater basket weaving," said Rep. Hamp Atkinson, D-New Boston, chairman of the oversight subcommittee.

He said cross-consulting involves an agreement by consultants to hire one another "but don't turn out a report." This should be "taboo," he

No one died in the explosions and fire Monday. But 24 of the 80 workmen at the 1,107-megawatt plant were injured, two severely, officials said. Seventeen men were hospitalized.

Sections of the plant's light aluminum walls were torn loose in the explosions, which were set off by a small fire in a coal pulverizer, said Lyle Corder, a spokesman for Monongahela Power Co., one of four firms that jointly own the plant.

The pulverizers convert coal into a highly volatile dust to create a quicker burning, hotter fire in the boilers, which make steam to generate electricity, Corder said.

Plant officials could not explain the cause of the fire and explosions. But damage to the power plant appeared to be only superficial, said Carroll Curry, Monongahela director of public relations.

The plant shut down automatically when the blasts occurred. Curry said he could not estimate when the plant would be back in service, but electrical supply would not be seriously affected.

Link between the pill, cancer not proven

NEW YORK (AP) - A study raising the possibility of a link between birth control pills and skin cancer is regarded by its authors and by a cancer expert as too inconclusive for

The study, first reported in a British medical journal last year, said women in a suburban San Francisco health plan were about 70 percent more likely to get malignant melanoma if they had used the pill for four years or more.

Melanoma is a cancer of the skin's pigment cells. It kills 4,300 Americans

The study was supported by the National Institute of Child Health and Human Development in Bethesda, Md., which has contracted for followup studies to check the results.

The pill is known to stimulate production of the skin-darkening agent melanin, which is often overproduced in cases of melanoma, and to contribute zirculatory disorders. But no link to cancer has been established.

The authors of the study said the finding raised concern about whether the pill makes some women more vulnerable to the ultraviolet rays in sunlight which are thought to trigger the disease.

The possible link between the pill and melanoma turned up in an 8-year study begun in 1968 of 17,942 women enrolled in the Kaiser Foundation

Health Plan at Walnut Creek, Calif. Women who used the pill for more than four years developed malignant melanoma at a rate of about 29 per 100,000 per year. Women who had used the pill less than four years had a melanoma rate of 24 per 100,000, while non-users had 17 per 100,000.

But the authors said the number -22 new cases of the disease in the sample group — was too small to be statistically significant.

Informant emerges in Davis trial

HOUSTON (AP) - FBI informant David McCrory emerged from pro-tective custody today to tell of a murder-for-hire scheme allegedly mas-terminded by oil heir Cullen Davis.

Davis, 45, a Fort Worth millionaire, is charged specifically with soliciting the murder of a judge presiding over the divorce battle between him and his bosomy blonde wife Priscilla.

The judge was not harmed. He cooperated with the FBI in an operation that led to Davis' arrest Aug. 20. "If we get started on time we should be through with McCrory in one day," said prosecutor Tolly Wilson, in advance of today's testimony.

Commissioners approve curfew

ODESSA - Ector County Commissioners Monday approved a curfew on the 30 parks in Ector County.

The curfew will run from 10:30 p.m. to 6:30 a.m. on weekdays and from midnight to 6 a.m. on weekends. The measure becomes effective as soon as proper signs about the curfew are placed in the parks.

The court also approved the Odessa Park Department's request to have a fulltime patrolman to help prevent the increasing amount of vandalism to Odessa park facilities.

The commissioners canvassed election returns in all races except that of the governor and U.S. senate races. A court order had been issued saying the returns in those two elections will be recounted at a later date.

'Son of Sam' arrives at prison

ATTICA, N.Y. (AP) - "Son of Sam" killer David Berkowitz was immediately segregated from the general inmate population after his arrival at maximum security Attica prison, prison officials said.

Berkowitz, who shot and killed six persons and terrorized New York City for a year, was transferred here Monday by van from the state's Central New York Psychiatric Center near Utica, officials said.

Following an hour-long interview with Berkowitz, Frances Mills, chief of the prison's psychiatric unit, said, "Right now, he's not psychotic, so he's just like any other inmate."

Nonetheless, Berkowitz, unlike most inmates, will be housed in a one-man cell in the prison's reception center and kept under daily psychiatric observation.

The former Yonkers postal worker will be kept virtually segregated from the main prison population for several years, Miss Mills said.

Berkowitz, 25, used a .44-caliber pistol to shoot 13 young persons, six of them fatally, between July 1976 and August 1977. He pleaded guilty to six murders and was sentenced last June to 25 years to life for each killing.

Is pigeon-toed 'Luther' behind latest Skid Row stabbings?

LOS ANGELES (AP) - Police want to question a muscular, softspoken black man who is pigeon-toed and may go by the name Luther in connection with the latest series of Skid Row stabbings.

The seventh and eighth victims in the past three weeks were found Monday - one in a dingy downtown alley and one in a deserted tavern parking lot near police headquarters. All eight had been stabbed in the upper torso.

A drawing of the suspect was circulated Monday, a few hours after police found the latest victims. The man sought is in his late 20s or early 30s, stands about 6-foot-2 and weighs about 210 pounds.

Lt. Dan Cooke said police are uncertain if all eight men were stabbed by the same killer. He said police have as few clues as they did in the winter of 1974-75, when the "Skid Row Slasher" killed nine derelicts by cutting their throats from ear to ear. Orrin Vaughn Greenwood was convicted of eight of those killings in 1977. He is serving a life prison sentence. Although police can't attach a motive to the latest series of stabbings, 20-year-old Kenneth Hawley, who lives at one of the rescue missions in the area, has his own theory. "I believe it's a kind of mercy killing," Hawley said. "We had the same thing in Omaha, where I'm from. This guy (the killer) sees them sleeping on the streets and he's trying to make the world a little bit better but he's doing it the wrong way." The latest series of stabbings has sent indoors many of those persons who normally make their beds in Skid Row's doorways and alleys.

They now are crowding into the district's missions - although many were seeking refuge from record low temperatures as much as from the killer. The overnight low Monday was 38 degrees and temperatures were not expected to climb much higher early today. Drizzle and scattered showers dotted the area Monday

Art Purner, who helps run the Union Rescue Mission, says many Skid Row residents "want in at night because they're scared.'

But Clancy Imislund, director of the Midnight Mission, disagreed. He said most of them were trying to escape the rain and cold weather.

"It's almost impossible to capture the attention of men on Skid Row ... to get them to focus on something or someone other than themselves," he Imislund said most of the men he talked to merely shrugged when asked about the killings.

Whether doing the samba into the early hours in Rio, skiing the Swiss Alps or charging about on a polo pony, the Prince of Wales is known as a fun-loving, man of action.

For a bachelor, he's been "unofficially" engaged to a dazzling number of high-born beauties, but rumors in the tabloids have been shot down in rapid-fire succession.

Charles rues the day, a few years ago, he told an interviewer that 30 was the right age to get married.

It was an open invitation for the press to wed him off innumerable times with such charmers as Princess Marie-Astrid of Luxembourg or Lady Jane Wellesley, daughter of the Duke of Wellington.

"I said it to take the heat off, but it was the worst mistake I ever made,'

he says now. The running story of Charles' love life, hinted at rather than told in the gossip columns, has helped make the prince a headline-grabbing advertisement for modern royalty. Currently 15 books are being written about

Part of his charm is that he mixes dedication with an appetite for goonish humor. He's said to do a devastating impression of starchy brother-in-law, Capt. Mark Phillips. "Prince Charles at 30 is a more straightforward, unpretentious and dedicated man than we have any right, or reason, to expect of one born to be king. We have been lucky," said The Sunday Times of London in a birthday tribute.

The prince's uncle, Lord Mountbatten, added: "It's not luck at all. It's a bloody miracle."

Doctor's trial begins today

CLEBURNE, Texas (AP) - Doctors and nurses who saw a West Texas doctor putting tape over his mother's mouth as she lay in a heavily sedated state were the leadoff witnesses in an attempted murder trial that began today.

An eight-man, fourwoman jury was chosen Monday afternoon to decide the fate of Dr. Milton Rains, 51, of Little-field, Texas. He said the tape he put over his mother's mouth was to hold a moistened piece of tissue intended to relieve her chapped lips.

The incident, alleged by some as an attempted mercy killing, occurred last July 29 at the Johnson County Memorial Hospital in Cleburne. Rains' mother died last month in a nursing home from cancer.

If convicted, Rains could be sentenced to prison for 2 to 20 years and fined up to $10,000. Attorneys said they expect the trial to end by this weekend. District Judge E. Byron Crosier is presiding.

GOP troupe checking Miami site for 1980 national convention

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) - Republican Party officials seeking a site for their 1980 national convention were in this tourist-hungry city today on the first leg of a six-city inspection

Eleven members of the party's site selection committee, joined by about two dozen executives and technicians of the three major television networks, visited several local hotels after their arrival Monday.

Today, the group was to inspect the expanded Miami Beach Convention Center and additional hotels.

Later this month, the committee will visit Detroit and Minneapolis-St. Paul, with subsequent visits to the other three cities contending for the 1980 convention — Dallas, New Or-leans and Kansas City, according to party aide Penny Crunkleton. Dallas' chances improved with the election last week of William P. Clements as the first Republican governor

Blumenthal to carry request to oil-exporting nations

WASHINGTON (AP) - Treasury Secretary W. Michael Blumenthal is heading for the Middle East, where he is expected to appeal to oil-exporting nations to keep price increases next year to a minimum.

West Berliners file suit to stop Army building

By STEPHEN H. MILLER

BERLIN (AP) - A group of West-Berliners has upset its city's tranquil relations with the U.S. Army by suing to halt construction of a military housing project.

The 5,000-member American brigade has long been popular with West Berliners. The local people remember the life-saving airlift 30 years ago, and they are aware they still live in an isolated, vulnerable city.

But opposition has developed to the construction of a block of apartments the U.S. Army wants for unmarried enlisted men now living in two leased barracks the Army says are substan-

The apartment houses are being financed and built by Germans. But environmentalists say the site, which was chosen by the city government, has been a rural preserve for nearly 1,000 years. They contend that the construction will destroy the setting.

The Independent Citizens' Voting Association, a non-partisan political action group, collected 12,000 signatures on a protest petition, but city officials refused to pick another site. A local court upheld the officials. Then the association went to the U.S. District Court in Washington, D.C. asking for intervention on the basis of the U.S. Environmental Policy Act

Meanwhile, the Agriculture De-partment said today consumers can expect retail food prices to rise at least 6 percent next year and maybe by as much as 10 percent if farmers get bad weather and inflation causes their production costs to rise more than expected. Blumenthal, who leaves Thursday, will spend three days in Saudi Arabia. from Friday to Sunday, and also will visit Iran, Kuwait and Abu Dhabi, three other key oil-exporting nations. The trip will take lace just a few weeks before members of the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries meet in Abu Dhabi in mid-December to set prices for 1979.

There were these economic developments Monday:

-The stock market had a bad day in response to a variety of adverse economic news, with the Dow Jones industrial average giving up 15 points to close at 792.01.

-The dollar was little changed against other major currencies, gaining slightly in value against the Japanese yen and German mark, while losing slightly against the Swiss franc.

-Some major banks increased their prime lending rate again from 10.75 percent to 11 percent. The increase reflects the steady upward rise in interest rates that has resulted from government efforts to slow in-

-Director Barry Bosworth of the Council on Wage an Price Stability said the least painful way to control inflation may be to tolerate a slowdown in the economy next year.

-Transportation Secetary Brock Adams said an 8.3 percent rate increase sought by the nation's rail-roads is too high, and revealed the administration's will seek an end to economic regulation of the railroad and trucking industries.

-The Commerce Department said retail sales declined 0.5 percent in October, reflecting sluggish consumer spending during the month.

-The nation's trade deficit could decline to $25 billion next year from the record $35 billion deficit this year, the result of a better all-around economic performance in the industrial world, said Assistant Treasury Secretary C. Fred Bergsten.

-U.S. Steel President David M.

Roderick said in Cleveland his firm should be able to live within President Carter's voluntary pricing guidelines if the corporation's suppliers do the same. "Fifty percent of our costs come from things purchased from others," said Roderick. "If they all stay down, we will have a chance."

Blumenthal's trip to the Middle East was scheduled before the recent outbreak of violence in Iran and the strikes that have sharply curtailed its oil output. However, he unquestionably will try to learn how serious the situation is since a prolonged interruption of oil exports by Iran would put additional upward pressure on world prices.

"If Iran closes down, you're in a different ballgame" with respect to oil prices and the economic outlook, Ooms said Monday, oil prices at the December meeting. The Saudis have been the most moderate among the major oil-exporting nations in their pricing policies, and they were largely responsible for the 1978 freeze on oil prices that gave the United States and other oil-importing nations a one-year respite from the steady rise in oil prices that started in 1973.

But because inflation and the steep decline in the dollar have eroded the earnings of oil-exporting nations - by as much as 30 percent, according to a Kuwaiti official - the Carter administration is braced for a price increase next year.

Stock market loses

NEW YORK (AP) - The stock market rmained on the defensive today amid expectations of continuing upward pressure on interest

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials, which fell 15.08 Monday to its lowest closing level in seven months, slipped another 1.21 to 790.80 by noontime today.

Losers outnumbered gainers by a 4-1 margin in the broad tally of New York Stock Exchange-listed

Analysts said the market was depressed by widespread belief that interest rates will continue to rise. c A handful of banks in Chicago and Philadelphia raised their prime lending rates from 10% to 11 percent Monday.

Brokers noted projections that recent rises in openmarket money rates have virtually assured that the basic rate on blue-chip loans will go to at least 111/2 by the end of the year.

The latest rise in rates, which is mainly the result of government moves aimed at helping the battered dollar in foreign exchange, has increased the likelihood of a recession, in the view of many economists. Administration officials maintain, however, that a recession can be avoided. Borden led the active list, off 3/8 at 271/8. A 383,600-share block changed hands at 2714.

The NYSE's composite index lost .18 to 51.65. On the American Stock Exchange, the market value index fell 1.16 to 140.07.

Volume on 4the Big Board stepped up to 12.79 million shares as of noontime, against 8.23 million at the same point Monday.

Americans spend $50 billion a year to repair cars

By LOUISE COOK Associated Press Writer

Americans spend nearly $50 billion a year to repair and maintain their cars and many of them complain that they aren't getting their money's worth. Just over 30 percent of all the complaints received by the federal Office of Consumer Affairs in the first eight months of 1978 related to automobiles. Many of the complaints concerned high prices for new cars, but many also dealt with the frustrations and problems of getting old ones fixed.

The National Highway Traffic Safety Administra-tion has estimated that up to $20 billion is wasted annually on poor, needless or fraudulent repairs.

Industry officials argue that fraud is involved in only a small percentage of cases, but they concede that, rightly or wrongly, consumers are concerned bout the quality of auto repairs.

In most areas, auto mechanics need not be licensed to practice. Repair shops do not have to register or meet any type of government standard. Certification and testing programs generally are voluntary rather than mandatory. How can you avoid problems?

Start by reading the owner's manual that comes with your car, advises Donald A. Randall, a spokesman for the Automotive Service Councils, Inc., a trade association representing about 5,000 of the nation's 240,000 auto repair shops. Randall said that the growth of self-service gasoline operations have made preventive maintenance more important than

Don't wait until you need a mechanic to find a repair shop. "Make the selection before you break down and are captive of the nearest garage," Randall said

Among the things to keep in mind when comparing garages are the facility's reputation, convenience and appearance. Does the place look reasonably clean? Are there parts lying all over the floor? Does the shop have power tools and a lift to raise the car off the floor?

Ask if the shop gives written estimates. In some states, estimates are required by law; in others they are voluntary. Mandatory or voluntary, the estimate will help you avoid what Randall explained is known in the business as the "sundown surprise" — the big and unexpected bill you're handed when you go to Check to see if the repair shop is a member of the Automotive Service Council which sets standards for its members and runs an informal complaint-handling service. Look for the emblem of the National Institute for Automotive Service Excellence. The institute, set up six years ago by the U.S. auto manufacturers and dealers, runs a voluntary testing and certification program.

Note: Be careful about refusing payment if you are not satisfied. Most states have what is known as a 'mechanic's lien law." If you refuse to pay your bill, even if it is outrageous, the shop can keep your

CIA alleged to have Iranian coup scheme

NEW YORK (AP) - A man identified as a former deputy press aide to the Shah of Iran says the CIA has plans to replace the ruler with specific military officers if he is overthrown, according to CBS-TV In an interview with CBS Monday, Sia Zand, who is seeking political asylum in England after six years as deputy press aide to the shah, claimed in an interview from London the existence of "a contingency plan that has been prepared by the CIA." Zand said particular Iranian officers have been sent to the United States for military training. "Certain people were chosen for such a contingency plan that should the shah be toppled or should there be a need to topple him, these officers will take over," Zand said. CIA spokesman Lavon Strong in Washington refused to comment on the report. A CBS spokesman, who did not want to be identified, said Zand did not offer any documentation of his

In its report, broadcast Monday night, CBS said Zand told it that it was "common knowledge" in Iranian government circles "that the shah regularly ordered or approved the arrest, torture and even the killing of political dissidents, while turning a blind eye to widespread royal family and government corruption." Zand also claimed American and British journalists were paid to write favorable articles about the shah and Iran. He did not identify any of the writers, but said their names would be disclosed later.

CBS correspondent Bob McNamara said Zand 'implicated in the payoff scheme Iran's ambassador to the United States, Ardashir Zahedi."

In Washington, Ali Akbar Tabatabai, press attache at the Iranian embassy, quoted Zahedi as calling the payoff report "nonsense." The attache said Zand was "a minor employee" in the shah's government, 'an opportunist who is grabbing the situation for his own advantage."

Campaign workers eventually elected

WASHINGTON (AP) - More and more, it looks as though a good way to become a member of Congress is to work for one.

At least eight of the 97 congressional candidates elected for the first time on Nov. 7 had worked on the Capitol Hill staffs of senators or representatives Another, Sen.-elect Paul Tsongas, D-Mass., started out as a congressional intern. Still another, Rep.-elect Mike Barnes, D-Md., worked on the presidential campaign staff of Sen. Edmund Muskie,

DR. NEIL SOLOMON Exploding battery can be a hazard

To F.W.D.: Exploding car batteries can be a very real hazard. For instance, eye specialists at the University of Illinois report treating 62 injuries from them during an eightmonth period. The ordinary lead-acid battery lets off hydrogen and oxygen gases which can be ignited in a number of ways. The most common in the University of Illinois cases was the use of a match to inspect the fluid level. Second was faulty use of jumper cables. None of the injured people was wearing protection.

Dear Dr. Solomon: You recommend exercise in your diet plan, but doesn't exercise increase the ap-

Dear T.E.: Overeating and inactivity are the two major causes of overweight. Moderate exercise, done regularly, is actually a regulator of body weight and definitely does not increase the appetite. Spot exercising can help tone and firm the body while taking off inches in the right places. In my new book, "Dr. Solomon's Proven Master Plan for Total Body Fitness and Maintenance. (paperback Berkeley Publishing) 15. minutes a day, three times a week of body movement actually decreases your appetite.

Dear Dr. Solomon: Why does your diet recommend low-fat or non-fat milk? I thought whole milk was always best, particularly unprocessed raw milk. Please explain.- G.T. Dear G.T.: Because of the excess fats consumed by the average American, low-fat or non-fat milk has become more desirable. The U.S. Dietary Goals suggest non-fat for everyone, not just those on weight control plans. Unprocessed raw milk has certain advantages but a definite disadvantage is its high butterfat content. Incidentally, the powder nonfat milk is equal in value to the liquid non-fat milk.

Dear Dr. Solomon: Why is salt restricted on your diet?-K.E

Dear K.E.: The chemical name of salt is sodium chloride. Sodium is an essential nutrient and together with potassium plays important roles in the body, particularly in relation to nerve- and muscle-impulse conduction. However, excess sodium holds water in the body and excess water increases the amount of blood in circulation, and around blood vessels which in turn can help raise the blood pressure. The average diet contains about 10 times as much sodium as the body needs and most of it comes from excess salt. Therefore, it makes good sense to reduce salt

Dear Dr. Solomon: Isn't hashish more potent than marijuana?-L.O. BW2 Dear L.O.: Yes. A drug-rich resinous secretion from the flowers of the cannabis plant, hashish is processed by drying to produce a drug several times as potent as marijuana. The resin from the flowers is richer in cannabinols than the leaves and tops, ranging in THC (tetrahydrocannabinol) content from 5 to 21 percent.

Dear Dr. Solomon: What can you tell me about DMT and DET?-A concerned mother

Dear Concerned Mother: DMT is found in the seeds of certain plants indigenous to the West Indies and parts of South America. In Haiti the pulverized seeds have been used for centuries as a snuff, producing a state of mind which the inhabitants believe enables them to communicate with their gods. It can also be produced synthetically. DET is chemically related to DMT, but has not yet been found in plant life. They are administered by smoking one of the chemicals with tobacco, marijuana or other plant materials. Both illicit substances produce strong, shortlived hallucinogenic effects.

Volunteer army beset by serious problems

By H. JOSEF HEBERT

WASHINGTON (AP) - Although the Pentagon calls it a success, defense officials concede there are some serious problems with America's volunteer Army. And some critics question whether the force can respond adequately in quality and numbers in time of war.

But as America's experiment without the draft nears its seventh year, Pentagon leaders are increasingly irritated with criticisms from those who, they say, do not give the volunteer concept a chance.

In addition to critics on Capitol Hill, however, the attack is from within the Army. The greatest concerns are over the shrinking Army reserve, claims of a decline in quality of recruits, and the prospect of more problems to come as the number of military-age males drops.

"They're always talking about a quick war," says one infantry colonel who asked to remain anonymous. "Well, it better be a quick war and we'd better win it because we won't have anything left."

Gen. Bernard Rogers, Army chief of staff, has complained of a "drastic shortage" in the reserves. But he and other defense planners insist the active force is adequate and today's soldier is as good or better than the

"Basically the active duty volunteer force has been a success ... I think it's a good system. I think it does work," Assistant Defense Secretary John White said in an inter-

Army Secretary Clifford Alexander in a recent speech characterized the Army's critics as "armchair quarterbacks" who unfairly have declared 'open season" on the American sol-

When the volunteer concept was introduced in the Nixon years, the Pentagon's generals, especially those in the Army, were highly skeptical and preferred retaining the draft.

And controversy has been with the volunteer Army since the end of the draft in 1972. But now some critics, including congressmen, are suggesting a possible return to the draft which White claims "isn't politically feasible" except in a national emer-

'My first solution to the problem is for the military ... to acknowledge that there is a problem. They're not being candid," said Rep. Robin Beard, R-Tenn., a Staunch critic of the volunteer force.

Beard, a former Marine and a member of the House Armed Services Committee, commissioned a report that concludes that the quality of today's soldier is poor, his training inferior and that the Army "as an effective fighting force is in serious trouble.". The report said 60 days after mobilization the Army would be short a half million men.

Pentagon officials contend the critics are exaggerating the Army's defects and do not offer realistic alternatives. "One of the things you have to do is ask the question, 'Rela- a problem with turnover and the extive to what?' What is the alternative that is the solution to the problem,' says White.

From a 1.5 million-member force during the Vietnam War in 1968, the Army dropped to 811,000 in 1972 and to about 772,000 today.

Although acknowledging critical shortages in some specialities such as doctors, the Army has kept near its authorized strength. However, that authorization level has steadily been reduced by Congress.

While the numbers have gone down, the costs have gone up with the volunteer force costing an average of $3 billion a year more than its draft-era counterpart. The Pentagon argues that 80 percent of added costs are from pay increases that would have been given anyway and that a return to the draft would save only $500 million a year.

The volunteer concept was planned to work with a strong reserve backup. But the National Guard and Army Reserve are more than 130,000 men short of the desired strength of 660,-000. A backup pool is in worse shape with 154,000 men, far short of the desired 820,000.

"It would take 30 weeks from mobilization to draft, train and deploy replacements," the Army estimates. Acknowleding the problem, the Army has begun a $25 million reserve enlistment bonus program and for the first time has turned to full time reserve recruiters.

The Pentagon last week ordered all armed forces to study cutting minimum enlistments to improve the quality of volunteers. This could involve a return to the two-year minimum, upped to three years because of pense of training.

Pentagon officials, however, dispute that today's soldier is inferior to the draftee. One of every four soldiers, they note, is a high school graduate, and the absentee rate, drug abuse cases and judicial and nonjudicial penalties have been dramatically reduced.

The critics argue that the Army too often has become a last resort for youths. "They never ... told us they are presently downgrading all of the training manuals, downgrading the reading level from 11th grade to 8th grade and putting them out as comic books," said Beard, who adds-30 percent of recruits cannot read beyond a 5th grade level.

But White, admitting some problems with literacy, insists: "The soldiers we have today are good people; they want to do a good job.'

Recruiting is expected to get tougher with the number of 18-yearold males dropping 15 percent by 1985. The Army hopes to compensate by hiring more civilians, lowering the dropout rate - now 40 percent before the end of first enlistment - and stepping up recruiting. They also hope to increase the number of female soldiers from 6 to 12 percent by 19-3 and say women are "full and equal partners on the Army team."

But recruiters already have been criticized for "over promising," and a new draft is unlikely. Congress has rejected a move to again register men and add $3 million yearly to upgrade

Selective Service. "We couldn't get that amount of money for that modest purpose,' says White. "So I just don't see the political mood for change."

Rebel Express to meet crosstown rival Bulldogs

By Julie Ochsner, Cindy Canfield & Robin Bennett

Hey Rebs, Friday night our Rolling Rebel Express really poured on the steam against those Eagles from Abilene High. After a great show of pride and determination by our Rebel men, those Eagles took the victory. NEVER GIVE IN, HUSTLE TO THE VERY END. This Friday we'll be taking on our crosstown rivals, those PANSY PUPPIES from Midland High. Ya'll come on out to Memorial Stadium at 8 p.m. sharp and be sure to sit on the home side and see us Pound the Pups!!

Also this Friday will be 50's day to show Midland High that "YOU AIN'T 'NUTHIN' BUT A HOUNDOG!"

Our Mighty Rebel Trackers trucked on up to third place last Saturday in the District 5-4A Cross Country Meet. Kevin Harper placed 7th at 10:20. Jeff Ryan came in 14th in 10:30. David Harwell placed 27th with a time of 11:00. Ramon Molinar was 29th with 11:06, while Robert Samuels was 31st with a time of 11:08. Alan Jones finished 43rd with 11:44. Congratulations, Guys.

Our great Rebel Volleyballers finished up their season Thursday night against those Puny Puppies from Midland High. They lost a hard fought game. Our girls finished the season with a 10-4 district record.

Way to go girls! You are super! REBELETTES: Be sure to come to squad meetings so you can vote on our Rebelette Football Sweetheart. We will be playing Midland High this Friday so we need a great turn-out from everyone. The football players' houses need to be wrapped by Thursday night. There will be an extra night to paint signs for their houses, Wednesday. Also, we will march in the halls Friday morning, so come out and beat a Pansy Puppy.

This weekend, Speech and Drama traveled to Odessa High and won sweepstakes again. Way to go! Special congratulations go to John Gould and Vickie Ballew for placing 2nd and Angel Durr and Brenda Woods for placing 3rd in Duet-Acting. Vickie Ballew also placed 4th in Dramatic Interpretation and Brenda Woods placed 2nd in Poetry.

B.C. COMMENTS: You solved one problem—clean up and set up—BUT, another cropped up. In order to have a dance, we need 100 club people to work at the snack bar, just a couple for four thirty-minute shifts. Anyone should be willing to devote 30 minutes for 10 points. There were only four people willing to help, Roseann Underwood, Stephanie Martin, Cindy Masoner and Jeff Snell-each of whom will be rewarded with 20 points for their willingness to help. Thanks to Chris Smith and Sabrina Hicks for their help too-they are older people who are not in need of points. Thanks to 100 Club and Junior Council-set up and clean up took about 30 minutes each, cause there was plenty of help. Remember FUTURE DANCES depend on your help setting up Friday. cleaning up Saturday, and 100 Club members working at the snack bar during the dance. Also, 100 Club set up for Cotillion Thursday and Seniors clean-up Friday morning. Thanks to Fran and Bob Dawson and to Bob and Virginia Jones for chaperoning the dance. Belated thanks to Kent Randel and Jack and Carol Steele for helping the week before.

Till next week, your Chatterers,

P.S. Congratulations go to our Mighty Rebel Band on its victory over the Permian band-30-7-way to go!!

NBC denies group pressure on story

NEW YORK (AP) - NBC officials deny a published report that they dropped investigative reports into alleged "brainwashing" activities of religious sects because of pressure by

"NBC News has not been pressured

The newspaper said an investigative unit was several weeks into the project when it was halted by executive producer Joseph Angotti.

Crystal said Agnotti stopped the report because the investigative unit did not have enough time to "permit adequate treatment of a story involving so many diverse organizations."

Stabler refuses to talk after win over Bengals

CINCINNATI (AP) - Oakland Raiders' Coach John Madden as Oak-Raiders quarterback Ken Stabler could have called it vindication, but he wasn't talking after tossing three touchdown passes in a nationally televised 34-21 victory over the Cincinnati

Bengals Monday night.
Embittered by media criticism after throwing 23 interceptions in his first 10 games this season, Stabler continued his cold war afterwards.

"Nothing personal, I just don't have any comment," said the bewhiskered 32-year-old National Football League veteran, dismissing reporters from his cubicle. He completed nine of 19 passes for 109 yards.

Taking advantage of seven Cincinnati turnovers, the Raiders, 7-4, withstood a 388-yard aerial barrage by Ken Anderson to move into a firstplace tie with Denver in the American Football Conference Western Divi-

And then there is Larry Gura, one that got away from the New York Yankees and isn't going back.

The 30-year-old Gura, perhaps the most attractive pitcher available in this year's crop of free agents, turned down Monday a bigger offer from the Yankees in favor of a five-year contract with the Kansas City Royals. "Really, the only team to offer me more money was the Yankees," said Gura, the first free agent in history to sign a contract with his original team. "But I wouldn't know what I would be doing with the Yankees.' The Kansas City left-hander, who posted a 16-4 record and 2.72 earned run average in 1978, agreed to the contract with Royals General Manager Joe Burke, telephoning from Joliet, III., where Gura is visiting relatives.

Terms were not announced, but Gura said the offer was the same as the Royals' original offer, reportedly for about $1.3 million.

The first player to be taken by all 13 teams in this year's draft, Gura said he also had offers from Milwaukee and Pittsburgh and Boston.

Before entering the draft, Gura said he wanted to determine his market value, but emphasized that unless he received substantially more than the

Royals' offer he would probably stay

Gura, who once played for New York but was traded to Kansas City in May 1976 for Fran Healy after falling into disfavor with then-Manager Billy Martin, indicated the Yankee offer to him was not enough to lure him into an uncertain situation.

"You might start one year and be in the bullpen the next," said the southpaw, who is 28-9 with a 2.77 ERA in 389.2 innings since joining the Royals. "Look at Sparky Lyle. He won the Cy Young award one year, didn't pitch much this year and was traded.

"Living in New York as compared to Kansas City ... I would just as soon live in K.C., the Midwest. I have a little girl (17 months) and I would like to raise her here."

Asked if the scheduled return of Martin to the Yankee helm in 1980 had anything to do with his decision, Gura couldn't resist a jab at his well known adversary:

"Yes and no. I figured if I was on the team, by the time he got through with Reggie (Jackson) and Thurman (Munson), he wouldn't know I was national collegiate championship. "I've never given much consideration to the poll until the end of the year," said the Penn State coach. 'The last vote, that's the only important one.

Paterno said that when the bowl invitations are issued at 6 p.m. Saturday, Penn State will be ready with all its options. State is waiting to see whether second-ranked Nebraska beats tough Missouri and remains the poll runnerup year, but not to the extent the press is saying," said tight end Dave Casper, who caught a 25-yard touchdown pass as Oakland built a 27-7 lead going into the final quarter.

"The fault is always blamed on the quarterback," said Casper.

'He's got a lot of unnecessary publicity," said cornerback Neal Colzie, whose 32-yard fumble recovery return triggered a quick start. The problem, said Colzie, is "we're hurting, but nobody mentions it."

Linebacker Phil Villapiano said the victory puts Oakland in good position for a 10th playoff appearance in 12 years. The Raiders play four of their last five games at home

"It's going to come down to that (Denver) game in Oakland (on Dec. 3)." said Villapiano, whose interception snuffed a Cincinnati drive with Oakland hanging onto a precarious 27-21 lead with 6:01 remaining.

Safety Charles Phillips victimized Anderson for a fourth interception with less than four minutes remaining, setting up an insurance touchdown by Mark van Eeghen. With the score at 13-7, Stabler directed a 73-yard march, hitting Casper three times for gains of 21, 29 and 25 yards. Earlier, he had a 5-yard touchdown toss to Raymond Chester after safety Mike Davis pounced on a fumble he forced at Cincinnati's 33-

Anderson tied a club record with 30 completions in 50 pass attempts. He had touchdown tosses of 25 and 5 yards to Isaac Curtis and Archie Grif-

Kansas City expressed any interest, but Tiant laughed off the doubts.

His age was always the roadblock

"Everybody thought I was through year, I'd hear, 'One more year for Luis,' but I'm still pitching. And as long as I can throw hard, I can pitch. I know I can ... not just pitch, but win.

There has been constant speculation that Tiant is even older than the 38 years to which he admits. "I don't know," he shrugged. "That's what my mother told me - November 23,

That's more important."

But if it (signing Rose) did come

"I spoke to Pete about it and he did ask, 'Have you and Danny decided where to play me if I come over?' and I said my first guess would be first base. He said, 'Fine, because I'm already breaking in two gloves."

In explaining why the Phillies, who have faltered three times in the playoffs, were hotly pursuing the Cincin-

NEW YORK (AP) - For the next 26 clubs. Besides the Yankees, only two years, and another season beyond that if they decide they want him, and that was brief. Luis Tiant will be pitching for the New York Yankees. After that, at the age of 40 or 41, Tiant, who signed as a free agent five or six years ago, but I thought I Monday, will turn to more dignified pursuits as the Yankees Director of Latin American Affairs.

"Sounds like a State Department post, doesn't it?" said Paul George, the Boston attorney who negotiated the unique deal that delivered the veteran right-hander to the Yankees from the Boston Red Sox.

GEORGE SAID Tiant signed with New York because of the long-term security the Yankees offered. "It was a very attractive proposition," the attorney said.

New York was the only club to select negotiating rights to Tiant at the free agent re-entry draft 10 days ago. That's because he will celebrate his 38th birthday at the end of this month and pitchers that age aren't in great demand, especially when they want multiyear contracts.

But the Yankees, who've been known to gamble in the free agent marketplace before, went after Tiant with an unusual offer that will keep him in their organization long after he's through pitching.

"We saw an opportunity to use a man who is as well known as anyone who has ever played this game," said Yankees President Al Rosen. "It was a natural marriage."

Tiant was 13-8 with a 3.31 earned run average for Boston last season, including a final game two-hit shutout over Toronto that gave the Red Sox a tie with New York for the American League East crown and forced a playoff. And he thinks he can help the Yankees on the mound before he switches to the front office.

"As long as I can throw the ball to home plate and do my job, that's more important than my age," he said. "Gaylord Perry's older than me and he won 21 games and the Cy Young Award. His age didn't make any difference."

TIANT WAS considered washed up when he was released by Minnesota following the 1970 season. But he signed with Boston and had three 20-victory seasons in eight years with the Red Sox and pushed his career victory total to 204 - 122 of them with the Bosox. But when he wanted a new multiyear contract Boston balked and Tiant went the free agent route.

"They made me go, the way they treated me," he said. "It wasn't fair after all I did for them. But they didn't care.'

Because he was drafted by only one team, Tiant was free to deal with all

Hillin plunges into racing scene

Midlander Bobby Hillin apparently has taken a serious plunge into Indy-style racing after recent developments.

Hillin was the first Midlander to ever qualify a car for the Indianapolis 500 race when he qualified two cars in 1977. In 1978, however, his car failed to qualify, and he said then that his Longhorn Racing Team would undergo a drastic change prior to the 1979 season. Those changes started in earnest this month.

Hillin has acquired a Penske PC-6 racer for the 1979 United States Auto Club Championship (USAC) season, and a second PC-6 will be built at the Longhorn's Indianapolis shop.

The team has also acquired six turbo-charged Cosworth Ford engines, which is a break from the Offy powered engines that Longhorn has used in the past. The Cosworth engine appears to be taking over USAC racing, and is an eight-cylinder model instead of the four-cylinder engine

The Longhorn Racing Team announced that Chaparral Cars Limited will maintain the engines for competition. Chaparral fields the entry for triple crown winner and three-time Indianapolis 500 winner Al Unser. Chaparral is a Midland based team under owner Jim Hall, who won his first bid at Indy this year.

No driver has been signed to drive next season's Longhorn entry. Hillin, owner of Longhorn racing, commented, "We are talking to several name drivers, including a national champion and a leading Formula One ship racing, and will contest the entire 1979 USAC schedule, which has not been done in the past. After this year's Indy 500, Hillin told The Midland Reporter-Telegram go all out next year." Hillin's recent moves proves that the local business man is serious in

In another move, Hillin has named R. Cary Capparelli of Chicago, Ill., as public relations director and management council for his 1979 race ef-

Capparelli has previously been Director of Public Relations for Roger Penske's Michigan International Speedway and the Montgomery Ward Auto Club. Other Capparelli clients include Stanley-BRM Limited, Ozone Racing (Herm Johnson), Teddy Pilette and Bertil Roos.

The Longhorn team will be entering its third year of USAC champion-that he expected a major change. "We've participated in the Indy 500 twice now, and we think we know what it takes to win. We are going to

CINCINNATI (AP) - Oakland Raiders' Coach John Madden as Oak-Raiders quarterback Ken Stabler could have called it vindication, but he wasn't talking after tossing three touchdown passes in a nationally televised 34-21 victory over the Cincinnati Bengals Monday night.

Embittered by media criticism after throwing 23 interceptions in his first 10 games this season, Stabler continued his cold war afterwards.

"Nothing personal, I just don't have any comment," said the bewhiskered 32-year-old National Football League veteran, dismissing reporters from his cubicle. He completed nine of 19 passes for 109 yards.

Taking advantage of seven Cincinnati turnovers, the Raiders, 7-4, withstood a 388-yard aerial barrage by Ken Anderson to move into a firstplace tie with Denver in the American Football Conference Western Divi-

"It's going to come down to that (Denver) game in Oakland (on Dec. 3)." said Villapiano, whose interception snuffed a Cincinnati drive with Oakland hanging onto a precarious 27-21 lead with 6:01 remaining.

Safety Charles Phillips victimized Anderson for a fourth interception with less than four minutes remaining, setting up an insurance touchdown by Mark van Eeghen.

With the score at 13-7, Stabler directed a 73-yard march, hitting Casper three times for gains of 21, 29 and 25 yards. Earlier, he had a 5-yard touchdown toss to Raymond Chester after safety Mike Davis pounced on a fumble he forced at Cincinnati's 33-

Penn State becomes bride the Longhorns from sixth to ninth

By The Associated Press

The Nittany Lions of Penn State, often a bridesmaid but never a bride, made it to the top of The Associated Press college football poll today for the first time ever.

Penn State's 19-10 victory over North Carolina State, coupled with previously unbeaten Oklahoma's 17-14 loss to Nebraska, vaulted the Nittany Lions from runnerup to Oklahoma the last four weeks past the Sooners into the top spot.

Meanwhile, Nebraska took over second place in a tight race with Alabama, setting up the possibility of an Orange Bowl showdown between the nation's 1-2 teams. Nebraska was named Monday to represent the Big and fifth in 1971, 1973 and last year.

State is expected to receive an invitation when the formal bids go out

"I don't feel any different now than I did when we were ranked No. 2. said Penn State Coach Joe Paterno. 'We still have two tough games to play before we can stake a claim to being No. 1. I've always said the only poll that means anything is the final

PENN STATE, 10-0 and the nation's only unbeaten major college team, winds up its regular season Nov. 24 against No. 20 Pitt.

The Nittany Lions, who finished second in the final 1968 and 1969 polls received 55 of 66 first-place votes and 1,296 of a possible 1,320 points from a nationwide panel of sports writers and broadcasters.

Nebraska received six first-place votes and 1,209 points while Alabama, a 31-10 winner over Louisiana State, held onto third place with four firstplace votes and 1,203 points.

Oklahoma slipped to fourth place with 1,092 points, while Southern California remained in fifth place. The Trojans, who whipped Washington 28-10 and knocked the Huskies out of the Top Twenty, received the other firstplace ballot and 1,071 points.

Paterno eyes tinal vote

PHILADELPHIA (AP) - Penn State coach Joe Paterno has waited 13 years for his team to become No. 1 in college football and when it finally got there today he took the news rather

"We have two more games to play before we're really No. 1," Paterno said after learning the Nittany Lions had been voted the top team in the nation. "I feel the same way I did last week when we were No. 2.

In a telephone interview, Paterno said No. 1 or No. 2 doesn't make a lot of difference at this point as long as his team gets a chance to play for the

KC Royals re-sign Gura from free agent pool

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — Reggie Jackson ... Rich Gossage ... Luis

And then there is Larry Gura, one that got away from the New York Yankees and isn't going back.

The 30-year-old Gura, perhaps the most attractive pitcher available in this year's crop of free agents, turned down Monday a bigger offer from the Yankees in favor of a five-year contract with the Kansas City Royals.

"Really, the only team to offer me more money was the Yankees," said Gura, the first free agent in history to sign a contract with his original team. "But I wouldn't know what I would be doing with the Yankees.

The Kansas City left-hander, who posted a 16-4 record and 2.72 earned run average in 1978, agreed to the contract with Royals General Manager Joe Burke, telephoning from Joliet, III., where Gura is visiting relatives.

Terms were not announced, but Gura said the offer was the same as the Royals' original offer, reportedly for about $1.3 million. The first player to be taken by all 13 teams in this year's draft, Gura said he also had offers from Milwaukee and Pittsburgh and Boston.

Before entering the draft, Gura said he wanted to determine his market value, but emphasized that unless he received substantially more than the Royals' offer he would probably stay with Kansas City.

"I looked at the ballparks. Boston isn't a pitcher's park. Now Yankee Stadium is," he said. "But the Yankees are always fighting amongst themselves. We are a content club

Gura, who once played for New York but was traded to Kansas City in May 1976 for Fran Healy after falling into disfavor with then-Manager Billy Martin, indicated the Yankee offer to him was not enough to lure him into an uncertain situation.

"You might start one year and be in the bullpen the next," said the southpaw, who is 28-9 with a 2.77 ERA in 389.2 innings since joining the Royals. "Look at Sparky Lyle. He won the Cy Young award one year, didn't pitch much this year and was traded.

"Living in New York as compared to Kansas City ... I would just as soon live in K.C., the Midwest. I have a little girl (17 months) and I would like to raise her here."

Asked if the scheduled return of Martin to the Yankee helm in 1980 had anything to do with his decision, Gura couldn't resist a jab at his well known adversary

"Yes and no. I figured if I was on the team, by the time he got through with Reggie (Jackson) and Thurman (Munson), he wouldn't know I was national collegiate championship. "I've never given much consideration to the poll until the end of the year," said the Penn State coach. 'The last vote, that's the only important one. Paterno admitted, however, that is team is thrilled by the accolade.

"I don't want to downplay the efforts of the players. I just want everyone to know that we still have some things to do," Paterno said. He referred, of course, to his team's season-ending game against Pittsburgh on national television Nov. 24 and a postseason bowl game.

Paterno said that when the bowl invitations are issued at 6 p.m. Saturday, Penn State will be ready with all its options. State is waiting to see whether second-ranked Nebraska beats tough Missouri and remains the poll runnerup. The Lions also are awaiting the outcome of the Southeastern Conference championship race, which may end up in a tie between Alabama and

In the event of such a deadlock, Georgia would host the Sugar Bowl because Alabama was there last year. Both teams have Auburn left on their schedules. Alabama still could wind up ranked second, or possibly first, if Nebraska and Penn State lose their final

Penn State will go to the bowl where it can meet the highest ranked team available, Paterno said.

"I think the sentiment of our squad is certainly to play the team recognized as No. 2," he said. "Obviously in this case things are so close that you can't tell (who will wind up No. 1 and

He said because his team in the last two years went to the Gator and Fiesta bowls it probably will want something different, like a berth in the Cotton, Sugar or Orange bowls.

Chaps to test Wayland JV

Midland College, an 85-70 winner over McMurry College JV last week, will go for its second win tonight at the Chaparral Center, taking on the Wayland College JV at 7:30 p.m.

It will be the Chaps' last home appearance until the Western Junior College Athletic Association opener Nov. 28 against New Mexico Junior College

In between, the Chaps will play in the Odessa College Tournament Thursday, Friday and Saturday and in the Scottsdale Tournament Nov.

Coach Jerry Stone will be using the early games to find out a little bit about his roster, which lists seven freshmen and six sophomores.

In last week's win over McMurry. Stone took a look at everybody and, despite the kind of spotty performance that isn't uncommon to inaugural games, saw enough to be encouraged.

In a blend of something old and something new, 6-7 postman Luis Alvarado scored 17 points and Henry White, the 6-4 forward from Chicago, scored 10 points. Both are lettermen. Six-five Kenneth Young from Houston Wheatley and 6-5 Kenneth McGill. Dallas South Oak Cliff, scored 13 points. In all, 10 of the 13 Chaps to see action broke into the scoring col-

NEW YORK (AP) - For the next two years, and another season beyond that if they decide they want him, Luis Tiant will be pitching for the New York Yankees.

After that, at the age of 40 or 41, Tiant, who signed as a free agent Monday, will turn to more dignified pursuits as the Yankees Director of Latin American Affairs.

"Sounds like a State Department post, doesn't it?" said Paul George, the Boston attorney who negotiated the unique deal that delivered the veteran right-hander to the Yankees from the Boston Red Sox.

GEORGE SAID Tiant signed with New York because of the long-term security the Yankees offered. "It was a very attractive proposition," the attorney said.

New York was the only club to select negotiating rights to Tiant at the free agent re-entry draft 10 days ago. That's because he will celebrate his 38th birthday at the end of this month and pitchers that age aren't in great demand, especially when they want multiyear contracts.

But the Yankees, who've been known to gamble in the free agent marketplace before, went after Tiant with an unusual offer that will keep him in their organization long after he's through pitching.

"We saw an opportunity to use a man who is as well known as anyone who has ever played this game," said Yankees President Al Rosen. "It was a natural marriage.

Tiant was 13-8 with a 3.31 earned run average for Boston last season, including a final game two-hit shutout over Toronto that gave the Red Sox a tie with New York for the American League East crown and forced a playoff. And he thinks he can help the Yankees on the mound before he switches to the front office.

"As long as I can throw the ball to home plate and do my job, that's more important than my age," he said. "Gaylord Perry's older than me and he won 21 games and the Cy Young Award. His age didn't make any difference."

TIANT WAS considered washed up when he was released by Minnesota following the 1970 season. But he signed with Boston and had three 20-victory seasons in eight years with the Red Sox and pushed his career victory total to 204 - 122 of them with the Bosox. But when he wanted a new multiyear contract Boston balked and Tiant went the free agent route.

"They made me go, the way they treated me," he said. "It wasn't fair after all I did for them. But they didn't care."

Because he was drafted by only one team, Tiant was free to deal with all way through the third quarter. Bengals' Coach Homer Rice my mother told me - November 23, Phils make bid for Rose

THOROFARE, N.J. - The Philadelphia Phillies are trying to snag Pete Rose with a three-year contract and would use first baseman Richie Hebner as trade bait for a starting pitcher, according to Phillies' General Manager Paul Owens.

"The only logical place for Pete is to move him perhaps to first base and that would only necessitate one move and I would have Hebner left over, so to speak," Owens, also in charge of player development for the National League team, told the TD Club of South Jersey Monday night.

"I don't particularly like to get rid of Richie because he's done an awfully good job for me the last two years. But if it (signing Rose) did come about, at least it would give you a good, quality player (Hebner) with a lot of value, so I might be able and go out and get the one pitcher I need," Owens said. "I spoke to Pete about it and he did ask, 'Have you and Danny decided where to play me if I come over?' and I said my first guess would be first base. He said, 'Fine, because I'm already breaking in two gloves."" In explaining why the Phillies, who have faltered three times in the playoffs, were hotly pursuing the Cincinnati Reds' third baseman, Owens said: "Maybe we really do need a rallying point, like Pete Rose or perhaps someone like him.

"I really think we're in the running for Rose with two or three other clubs. He has a lot to offer to us. We have a lot to offer to him. He knows if he comes here, he'll get at least 600

Owens also said that pitching was his No. 1 concern.

"Ideally, I would like to have one more pitcher, just to give me depth among the starters. I think our bullpen is in good shape. If I had a choice, I'd like a good pitcher who could give me 12 to 15 wins to go along with our youth," Owens said.

Hillin plunges into racing scene Midlander Bobby Hillin apparently has taken a serious plunge into Indy-style racing after recent developments. Hillin was the first Midlander to ever qualify a car for the Indianapolis 500 race when he qualified two cars in 1977. In 1978, however, his car failed to qualify, and he said then that his Longhorn Racing Team would

The team has also acquired six turbo-charged Cosworth Ford engines, which is a break from the Offy powered engines that Longhorn has used in the past. The Cosworth engine appears to be taking over USAC racing, and is an eight-cylinder model instead of the four-cylinder engine

The Longhorn Racing Team announced that Chaparral Cars Limited will maintain the engines for competition. Chaparral fields the entry for triple crown winner and three-time Indianapolis 500 winner Al Unser. Chaparral is a Midland based team under owner Jim Hall, who won his first bid at Indy this year.

No driver has been signed to drive next season's Longhorn entry. Hillin, owner of Longhorn racing, commented, "We are talking to several name drivers, including a national champion and a leading Formula One

The Longhorn team will be entering its third year of USAC championship racing, and will contest the entire 1979 USAC schedule, which has not been done in the past. After this year's Indy 500, Hillin told The Midland Reporter-Telegram that he expected a major change. "We've participated in the Indy 500 twice now, and we think we know what it takes to win. We are going to go all out next year." Hillin's recent moves proves that the local business man is serious in his quest to become competitive in USAC racing.

In another move, Hillin has named R. Cary Capparelli of Chicago, Ill., as public relations director and management council for his 1979 race ef-

Area grid powers leave very little to be decided

By STEVE O'BRIEN R-T Sports Writer

And then there was one. Heading into the final week of regular season football play, only one of six area district races remains undecided. And there's a good chance things may still be up in the air in District 7-AA after next week's final round of action.

Kermit and Sonora, who fought to a 14-14 standoff in their district opener, remain deadlocked for the front-runner's position in that district after each took wins in their second outings. If both win next week, they would tie for the district crown and the representative to the playoffs would be decided by the flip of a

THE CRANE Golden Cranes still have an outside shot at sneaking into the 7-AA throneroom, but it would seemingly take a miracle for that to happen. Unbeaten and twice-tied Sonora blasted Crane, 31-0, Friday night to saddle the Golden Cranes with their second loss of the season and level their district mark at 1-1. Kermit, a 35-0 winner over hapless Ozona, and Sonora are 1-0-1 in district play. For Crane to win the title, they would not only have to beat Kermit in the final game, but would also have to depend on Ozona to pull an upset over Son-

Crane trailed Sonora only 10-0 in the fourth quarter, but Broncho running back Joey Kirby scored a pair of touchdowns and Benny Granger added his second score of the game in the final frame to turn the game into a FORT STOCKTON clinched a trip to the playoffs and at least a tie for the District 2-AAA championship when they edged late-surging Andrews 21-13. Though winning the game, the Panthers saw their string of eight games without giving up a point come to an end. Fort Stockton would have to suffer a stunning collapse against 2-7 Odessa Ector next week to miss winning the district title outright. If they should falter against the Eagles, the winner of the Pecos-Andrews battle would pull into a tie for the crown. Fort Stockton would still go to the playoffs, having defeated both Pecos and Andrews.

Seagraves drove 74 yards in 10 plays for the go-ahead touchdown late in the fourth quarter to edge Stanton, 13-8, and wrap up the District 5-A championship and the right to meet unbeaten Iraan in bi-district in two weeks. Seagraves is also unbeaten through nine games this year and the Eagles pushed their district mark to 6-0 while Stanton fell to 5-3-1 and Stanton had taken an 8-7 lead with less than eight minutes remaining in the contest when tailback Todd Smith plunged over from two yards out to cap a 69-yard drive. Mitch Elmore sent the Buffs out in front with his run for the two-point conversion.

JUNCTION CLINCHED a tie for the District 9-A title by blistering Eldorado, 40-0, Friday night. But, the playoff representative will be decided when Junction meets Menard next week. Junction is 4-0 in league play while the Yellow Jackets are 3-1. A Menard win next week would tie the two teams for the crown and send Menard to the playoffs by virtue of their win over Junction. Junction could take the crown outright and go to bi-district by defeating Menard.

Though out of the running for the title, Reagan County hoped to double their win production of a year ago by picking up their fourth victory over Mason Friday night. It appeared the Owls were on their way to accomplishing that goal when quarterback Mickey Owens staked them to 7-0 lead on a five-yard run in the first period. But Mason, which has had its offensive problems this year, scored six unanswered touchdowns to turn the predicted close game into a 47-21

IRAAN AND Snyder clinched shares of titles in District 6-A and 3-AAA, respectively, last week and took the week off this week. Snyder had an open date to rest, while Iraan played Grandfalls, which was just as good as an open date. The fourth ranked Braves annihilated Class B Grandfalls, 60-7.

Though both are assured of berths in the bi-district round of the playoffs, both could also conceivably be tied for their respective district championships. A Snyder loss to Brownfield next week coupled with a San Angelo Lakeview win over Lamesa would give Snyder and Lakeview identical 3-1 league marks. Snyder would still go to the playoffs, having defeated Lakeview 25-6 three weeks ago.

Should Iraan falter next week against Clint, Rankin could move into a tie for the 6-A title with a win over McCamey. Again, Iraan clinched the playoff berth by beating Rankin two RANKIN UPPED their season mark to 7-2 and 2-1 in district with a 28-16 win over Marfa Friday night. In that one Rankin fullback Richard Barrett continued his phenomenal ground-gaining assault by rambling for 242 yards on 39 carries. That gives the 185-pound senior 1,479 yards for the season. He also scored a pair of touchdowns against Marfa, giving him 18 six-pointers for the season.

McCamey very literally "dropped" a 7-6 decision to Clint for their third district loss without a win. The Badgers fumbled the ball away at the Clint nine, four and 12 in that one, and all of those costly turnovers came in the first period. But, the Badger defense kept them in the game throughout the contest and with under six minutes left in the game Bobby Valdez swiped a Clint pass and returned in 25 yards for a touchdown to pull McCamey within one point. Clint rose to thwart McCamey's attempt for two points on the conversion and seal the Badgers' doom.

In other action, Brownfield quarterback Kelly Reid passed 48 yards for one touchdown and ran 22 yards for another, both in the fourth period, to lead the Cubs past Lamesa, 21-6, in a place teams. The Cubs took an early 8-0 lead when Gilbert Franco blistered the Lamesa defense for a 98yard touchdown run.

Akers worries about Texas' loss AUSTIN, Texas (AP) - Texas can finish the year as one of the nation's best college football teams if players don't dwell on the disappointing 10-7 loss to Houston last Saturday, says Coach Fred Akers.

Houston's victory snapped Texas' 11-game home winning streak and probably cost Texas its second consecutive Southwest Conference title and a Cotton Bowl bid.

Akers indicated at his weekly news conference Monday that officials erred on a possibly crucial clipping call but he refused to criticize them.

The clip by Texas' Ken McCune wiped out a 54-yard punt return by Johnnie Johnson to the Houston 21yard-line in the second quarter of what was then a scoreless game.

Asked if he had a comment - after watching game films - on whether the call was correct, Akers said, "Not

He added, however, "It's tough being an official ... You have some calls go against you and some help you, and once in awhile you will have one go against you on what was one of the biggest plays of the year." Akers said Texas coaches had chosen freshman halfback A.J. "Jam' Jones as the outstanding Texas offensive player and junior tackle Steve McMichael as the best defender. Jones ran for 94 yards on 22 carries and scored Texas' only touchdown. McMichael had 16 tackles, including four behind the line. He pressured the passer three times, caused a fumble and recovered a fumble

Akers said Texas "played well and had opportunities" to beat Houston, now 8-1, but "we didn't handle them. We didn't take care of them."

One apparent opportunity was a new play - a screen pass to Jones, after a fake reverse to Johnny "Lam" Jones. Quarterback Randy McEachern's pass, however, bounced on the ground. Akers said Jones could have scored if the pass had reached

Midland girls eye new cage game

By TERRY WILLIAMSON R-T Sports Writer

The 1978-79 basketball season is a big question mark for the Midland High girls' cage unit, but it is a question mark that every girls' team in the state must face.

For the first time, Texas' girls will be playing like the boys. They will have five players on the court instead of six, and all five will play full court instead of the half court setup that has been installed in past years.

MIDLAND HIGH girls' coach Jane and is looking forward to the season with three starters returning from last year's 20-10 unit.

"I think this is a much better game. The kids seem to like it better. Everyone can play offense and has a chance to shoot the ball. It is going to be a much faster game playing full court," Young noted.

Senior Karen Cook and junior Sandra Rock are the two returning forwards to Young's team, which lost a tie for the District 5-4A crown to Midland Lee in the last game of the year last time around. Both Cook and Rock have a lot of experience at . shooting the ball, but the other re-good we will be because we played anyone yet," Young says. 'We have a little speed, and that is in our favor, but we don't have a lot of height, and that's our major weakness. The girls really work together well and I think they are a good group

The Bulldogs open the season Friday when they travel to Arlington. They do not play at home until Nov. 27 when they host AAA Lake View. A new twist has been added to this year's schedule since a girls' tournament has been set for Dec. 9-10 with Midland High and Midland Lee playing hosts.

NBC considered switching

There was a time during Houston's National Football League game Sunday against the New England Patriots when the NBC television network considered switching to a more interesting game.

The Oilers were trailing 23-0 and apparently en route to being humiliated. Rather than having small children view such X-rated carnage, the network considered exercising its option of switching to another game and showing the Oilers-Patriots game in only Houston and Boston.

"Oh, that didn't bother me, I didn't have time to tune in the game anyway," Oilers Coach Bum Phillips joked Monday in replaying Houston's thrilling second-half comeback to a 26-23 victory that ended New England's seven-game winning streak.

Actually, Phillips wasn't that surprised with Houston's secondhalf performance - the Oilers have won six of their seven games by coming from behind.

"We've been a second-half ball club all year," Phillips said. "That's when physical conditioning comes into play and that's when your mental conditioning comes in ing the game that any of in the first half. That's our players didn't think all we needed." we would win the game.

The Oilers had been outscored by 10 previous opponents 26-24 in the first quarter and 88-36 in the second quarter before getting their act together. The Oilers merely repeated against the Patriots what they've been doing all season. Houston has a 55-40 advantage over the opponents in the third quarter and a 72-34 difference in the fourth quarter.

"Coming from behind like we have - and I said it the first time we did it - it would help us in the long run because it would show the ability that this football team has to KNOW it could come from behind.

'Now doing it, once, well, anybody might do it once, but doing it six of seven times ..

Phillips shunned the inspirational halftime talk when the Oilers trailed 23-7. But cornerback Willie Alexander said second-half emotion was what turned it around.

"We never got to the Xs and Os," Alexander said. "It was more a good rebounding team. "We're going to try to turn them loose this year. I don't think we will have a control type of game. We plan to press a lot and run a lot. We have a lot of speed on this team, and the postmen run lines right up there with the guards. A control type of game wouldn't utilize the talent we have."

Humphrey was more than pleased with the way his squad reported Oct. 15 to workouts, and that is the major reason for him to believe that the Dogs are ahead of last year's pace.

The guys have played together a lot and that has helped," Humphrey notes. "Everyone knows that Bryson is a great shooter, but Jefferson has really improved.

"CHARLES JOHNSON can do a lot of things for us, and I wouldn't be surprised if he becomes the league's most valuable player this year if things fall into place for him.

"In our scrimmage, Spirling looked just super, and the bench strength really pleases me. This is something we haven't had a lot of in the past, but we have four or five guys that can come in and do a good job for us."

Rebels will seek to rip cage odds

R-T Sports Writer

Coach Paul Stueckler begins his 18th season at Robert E. Lee High School as his Rebels prepare for their 1978-79 basketball season opener here Thursday night against Lubbock Coronado.

"We most likely will be picked fourth or fifth behind Midland, Abilene Cooper and Odessa Permian, but we are working towards finishing higher than that," said Steuckler Monday night as he introduced his team to the Rebel Boosters in the Lee Gymnasium.

IF HARD work counts any, Stueckler's team will be unbeatable. "This group of young men have worked harder than any other here at Lee, " said Stueckler, who is anxious to see his team when it scrimmages Odessa Ector in the Tall City Wednesday afternoon. Lee will face Ector at 3:30 p.m. followed by Greg Wright's Rebel JVs who will also have a scrimmage with the Ector JV after the varsity teams leave the floor.

Lee has averaged 21 wins a season for the 18 years that Stueckler has been at the school. In fact, he has been at Lee since it opened its doors some 18 years ago. Stueckler is used to winning. He picked up his 500th win as a coach last year in beating Pecos, 89-75 and is optimistic about this year's team.

"We don't have the good big man, but I feel like players like Ernest Merritt, Tyler Alcorn, Bruce Crawford, Ken Van Hoozer and Mike McGaha, can do a good job for us this year." McGaha is a 6-foot-5, 205pound senior letterman while Van Hoozer is 6-2 and also lettered last season for Stueckler. Crawford, a 6-2, 181-pound senior letter winner joins Alcorn and Merritt in the lineup. All are senior lettermen. Tim Walker and Forrest Allen are the other two returning letter winners from last year. Walker is a 6-1 junior and Allen a 6-2 years for the Rebels.

STUECKLER ALSO can call upon Eric Thompson, a 6-5, 204-pound senior who played junior varsity ball last year under Wright along with Arthur Pertille, 6-3, 191-pound senior who also saw JV duty last season. The rest of the squad includes Brent Sanders, 6-5 junior; Norris Lane, 6-0 junior; Tim Fisher, 6-0 junior; David Keys, a 5-10 junior and senior David Hatfield, who stands 5-8. After playing Coronado here Thursday, the Rebels hit the road and travel to Del Rio for a game Staurday night. There will be three games Thursday with the Lee Sophomores playing the Coronado Sophs at 4:30 p.m. followed by the JV tilt at 6 p.m. and the varsity contest at 8 p.m., according to Stueckler.

Lee girls face ambitious schedule

R-T Sports Writer

The Midland Lee girls basketball team opens the 1978-79 season on the road Friday and Saturday when they tangle with Dallas South Oak Cliff and Arlington High.

Coach Shirley Stephenson has seven returning letter winners back this season and a very ambitious schedule with 33 games slated. Letter winners back for Lee this season include Patty Adams, Jan Carnes, Deborah Kittle, Deborah Ledbetter, Melissa Oestmann, Dee Dee Poole and Leshia Watkins. Adams is a 5-foot-6 senior while Carnes, Kittle amd Ledbetter are all 5-8 seniors. Oestmann and Poole are 5-6 seniors while Watkins is the only junior and stands 5-9.

The rest of the team includes Gloria Bowens, 5-8 senior; Tanna Parrish, 5-5 junior; Lynette Taylor, 5-9 senior; Judy Taylor, 5-9 senior and Gale Wilson, a 5-9 sophomore that shows a lot of promise.

Lee will play in tournaments in Amarillo, Midland and the Lakeview Tournament in San Angelo along with 14 Districrt 5-4A games, the same as the boys. Besides South Oak Cliff and Arlington, other non-loop games will be with El Paso Parkland, Ysleta, Slaton, Lakeview, Monahans, Wylie, El Paso Eastwood and El Paso River-

Lee is the defending 5-4A champions after winning last year, beating Midland High, 42-32, on Miss Stephenson's birthday. The Rebel girls took a 24-8 record into the regional girls tourney last year in the Moody Coliseum on the Abilene Christian University campus and lost a tough 59-55 overtime game to Parkland in the opening round of action, winding up 24-9. Poole and Adams led Lee in that first round regional game with 22 and 11 points, respectively.

'We have an excellent chance to win the title again, but it could be mighty tough to repeat. We will have more experience going for us this time around, "said Stephens.

Ted Marchibroda fumes at 'stupid' questions

BALTIMORE (AP) - Baltimore Coach Ted Marchibroda says he would like those who have questioned the authenticity of Bert Jones' shoulder injury to explain why the Colts' star quarterback has been on the bench for most of the season. And while Marchibroda was saying the charges that Jones has been faking are "stupid," Colts' owner Robert Irsay found something to be equally angry about.

Following Sunday's victory over Seattle, Irsay said he might file a $5 million federal suit against all of the National Football League's officials. Irsay said he is considering a lawsuit rather than taking his case through NFL Commissioner Pete Ro-"The hell with Pete Rozelle, let's see what the federal court has to say," the fiery Irsay said. "When I'm right, I'm right. I'm not going to cool The Colt owner also said he was mad at Seattle club officials for allegedly blocking his access to a door that would have allowed him a quick route safety Keith Simpson. Jones' shoulder has been the focus of attention from sportscasters ever since he made a seemingly remarkable comeback after a hard hit in a a recent Monday night game. While playing against Washington in a nationally televised game, Jones left the field in what appeared to be great pain after being hit on the shoulder during a tackle. He returned to throw the winning touchdown pass in the Colts' victory.

Following his comeback, members of the ABC-TV sportscasting team covering the event questioned on the air the authenticity of the latest in-

"They've seen Jones in one game, and they believe they know it all. But they've got no idea what kind of player he is. I've been with him four years; I've seen him play with a great deal of pain before," said the coach.

"What would be the point of faking it? Do they believe we held him out of nine games as a joke? Their accusations and insinuations are stupid." Jones missed the first six games of the season with a separated right shoulder. He played less than 10 minutes before reinjuring the shoulder against the New York Jets and sat out two more full games.

Jones is expected to play in the Colts' next game, against the Cleve-

ANAHEIM (AP) - The originator of one-year contracts for managers of the Los Angeles Dodgers says he'll be giving out another one next year, to Manager Jim Fregosi of the California Angels. Buzzie Bavasi was general manager of the Dodgers for most of the 18 years that Walter Alston was given a series of one-year pacts. On the same day that current Dodger manager Tommy Lasorda's one-year extension was announced, Angels General Manager Bavasi said Monday that Frego-

"Jim's got a job indefinitely," Bavasi said. "I told Walter the same thing. Every year at spring training, Walter and I would get together and

Ohio State hedges vote

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) - The Ohio State Athletic Council meets again Wednesday with the picture unclear as to whether it will reconsider its earlier college football bowl

The council decreed at its Oct. 15 session that the Big Ten Conference power would go only to one of the major four post-season bowls: the Rose, Orange, Sugar or Cotton.

"The bowl vote is not on the agenda this time," said Hugh Hindman, Ohio State athletic director.

It may be a moot point anyway if Michigan trims league-leading Purdue Saturday and the Buckeyes win at Indiana this week and at home against the Wolverines next week.

In that case, Ohio State, Michigan and probably Michigan State would be tied for the title and the Buckeyes would go to the Rose Bowl since they would have won the head-to-head meeting with the Wolverines.

Michigan State is ineligible for post-season play because of its proba-

William M. Protheroe, chairman of the Ohio State Athletic Council, said: "I haven't the foggiest idea if it (the bowl vote) will come up. If somebody brings it up, we'd discuss it."

Woody Hayes, the Buckeyes' coach, was asked his thoughts about the council reversing its decision about going to any bowl other than the major four.

Ninth fumble is costly

NORMAN, Okla. (AP) - A "certain score" broken up by a man who fell "the wrong way when blocked" has left Barry Switzer wondering about the post-season bowl possibili-ties for his Oklahoma University

During his weekly press luncheon Monday the coach managed to revive his familiar smile, but was clearly unhappy about the possibilities for his team after last week's 17-14 loss to Nebraska.

It was the Sooners first loss of the season and numbered their days as the nation's No. 1 team.

"The loss to Nebraska was the most most disappointing loss in my six years of coaching," Switzer said. "Its not who we lost to, because if you have to lose you want to lose to a team like "Its just disappointing to lose when you don't play up to potential. I still feel like we are the best team in the nation. We were the better team Saturday, but we just didn't play like the better team that day. We beat our-

Most of Switzer's frustration was directed at the Sooner's ninth fumble of the ballgame, when the ball squirted out the hands of halfback Billy Sims on the Nebraska three-yard

"We made it through the first eight fumbles," Switzer said, "but that ninth one killed us."

With a pained look on his face the coach verbally replayed the fatal play from the game film, claiming it was a "certain score" except for the efforts of a Cornhusker who fell the "wrong way when he was blocked by tight end Forrest Valora."

"Billy was looking back at two Nebraska defenders who had already committed and were out of the play and didn't even see Valora's man," Switzer insisted. "Forrest had blocked the man out of bounds, but instead of falling forward the guy fell backwards back into the play and managed to catch Billy unaware and knock the ball right out of his hands. It was disappointing."

However, despite being on the short end in the scoring category Switzer had some good things to say about the play of Sims and defensive middle guard Reggie Kinlaw.

"Billy got 153 yards against Ne-braska," he said. "I don't think there is another runner in the nation that can boast of that. And I really don't think that fumble should hurt his chances at getting the Heisman Tro-

"Billy is still the leading rusher in the nation. But I guess if the other Heisman winners never fumbled on a big play, then I guess Billy doesn't deserve it," he grinned.

Sims still leads the nation in rushing yardage with over 155 yards a game and 7.7 yards per carry. He has managed to tally up 1,553 yards so far this season and is first in the nation in scoring with 96 points.

The talented runner shared some of the limelight with Kinlaw, who Switzer said "had an outstanding game against Nebraska."

'He had contemplated resigning the last couple of years, and he just asked me to think about it," Lacewell said. "As the season progressed along, it became more like home to

"We're lucky to be able to get him," Davidson said. "If he were still at Oklahoma, we wouldn't have gotten him, but all at once he's God's gift to us ... put right into our hands.

Lacewell said there would not be any changes in the ASU coaching staff for at least a year. He also said the Indians would run some type of option offense, but that it would not be the wishbone.

Lacewell was a graduate assistant at Alabama in 1959 and then coached the ASU freshman team in 1960 and 1961, but this will be his first job as a head coach.

"It is something every assistant coach thinks about in his career and, needless to say, it has been a hard time coming for me," Lacewell said. "I could have been a head coach a couple of other times, and I'm glad I finally made the decision, because I'm very happy here at Arkansas State."

He coached at the University of Arkansas at Monitcello, Kilgore Junior College, Oklahoma, Wichita State and Iowa State before rejoining the Oklahoma staff in 1969. He became the Sooners' defensive coordinator in 1970 and then was named assistant-head coach in 1973.

COM marathon raises $6,500 in pledges

The City of Midland Swim Team's Celebrity Marathon closed out a twoweek fund-raising campaign in which a $6,500 was pledged.

The marathon consisted of relays, diving for pennies and other off-beat events instead of the usual distance marathon.

Celebrity swimmers participating were Larry Burgin, Midland High tennis coach: David Whytlaw, Lee High swim coach; Jesse Marsh, MHS swim coach; Tim Whelan, Lee JV football coach; Dennie Hays, MHS football coach; Grosse Mohler, MHS football coach; Ernie Johnson, Lee baseball coach; and Val Osborne, Goddard athletic department.

COM members Sam Perry and Pat Rhamey received prizes for bringing in pledges for the largest total sum.

"When I call a conference, nobody comes."

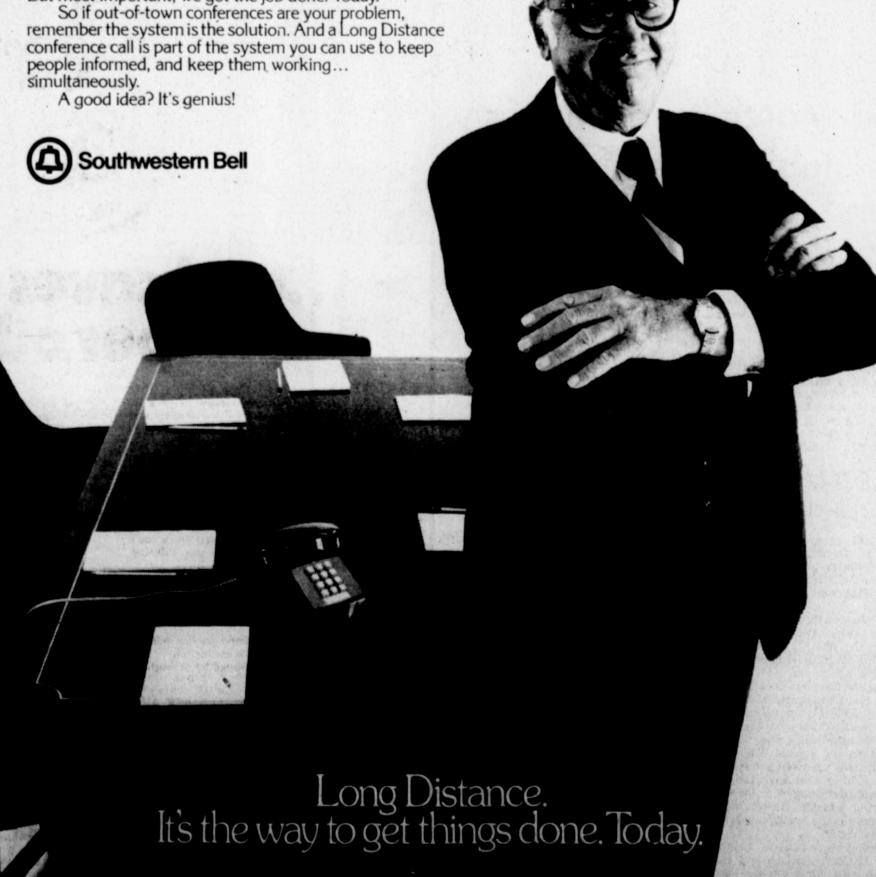

Many out-of-town conferences consist of groups of people who keep minutes and waste days. My time's too valuable. That's why I hold a lot of my meetings by phone on Long Distance conference calls.

I just dial "O" and ask for a conference operator who can connect me with up to 58 other telephone numbers. Coast to coast. Even overseas. The call is put through as soon as possible, or I can arrange to have a conference call placed at a specified time. And if I want to communicate important announcements, instructions or one of my famous pep talks to our other offices — without back talk I can ask to transmit only. My telephone becomes a microphone.

Conference calling isn't expensive, either. For example, my 15-minute teleconference with the managers in St. Louis, Los Angeles and New York this afternoon cost about $30, plus tax. A sound investment, considering all four of us discussed my proposal at the same time. I didn't have to make additional calls to repeat information, But most important, we got the job done. Today.

and none of us had to spend our valuable time traveling. So if out-of-town conferences are your problem, remember the system is the solution. And a Long Distance conference call is part of the system you can use to keep people informed, and keep them working...

More oil discovered in Mexico

MEXICO CITY (AP) - Reports of new oil discoveries along Mexico's Gulf Coast have increased the prospect that the southern neighbor of the United States will supplant Saudi Arabia as the world's premier pro-

The national oil company, PEMEX, said Monday if the finds along the "Golden Belt" are proven they could increase the country's potential reserves from some 200 billion barrels to more than 300 billion - double the amount of Saudi Arabia's known re-

Miguel Tomasini, PEMEX's press chief, said preliminary reports indicate the new field has 110 billion barrels of oil and 40 trillion feet of natural gas. He said the deposits are between Veracruz and Tampico at a depth of 270 to 6,000 feet in an area 75 miles long and 17 miles wide.

He said the field will be developed over 13 years with 30 wells drilled during each of the first four years. He also said about 1,800 miles of roads and railroads will have to be built to handle the oil.

PEMEX President Jose Diaz Serrano, breaking the find Sunday to the Latin American Petrochemical Congress in Cancun, said experts were being called in to confirm the size of the discovery and help revise estimates of Mexico's reserves.

He also said off-shore exploration is just getting underway along a 1,000mile stretch between Campeche and Tampico, and that engineers reported there were promising formations in or near recent oil discoveries on land.

Serrano said as a result of the recent discoveries that plans are being made to increase Mexico's daily production from 1.4 million barrels now to 2.2 million barrels by 1980.

Mexico's most recent oil boom began seven years ago when PEMEX engineers started drilling deeper in the Yucatan fieds where shallow wells had been producing less and less since they were first sunk in 1938. More deposits were found later farther north around Tampico.

PEMEX had said it was using new means of exploration that regired almost monthly reassessments of known and probable reserves.

Only two months ago, Mexican President Jose Lopez Portillo said Mexico's potential reserves topped 200 million barrels and that known reserves were 20 billion. But foreign experts called his estimate of known reserves very conservative and said the figure was closer to 120 billion.

Upton area re-entry test potentials

Mobil Oil Corp. has announced completion test on a re-entry projects in the Upton County portion of the Pegasus (Spraberry) field.

The gas-oil ratio is 300-1. Location is 660 feet from south and 660 feet from west lines of section 42, T-4-S, T&P survey, abstract 765, 18 miles southeast of Odessa.

Administration braced for oil price increase

By R. GREGORY NOKES

WASHINGTON (AP) - The Carter administration is braced for an increase in world oil prices of at least 5 percent, and maybe 10 percent, which would raise the price of gasoline and home heating oil.

Van Doorn Ooms, an assistant director of the Office of Management and Budget, said Monday the administration has assumed in its budget and economic forecasts for next year that there will be an increase of at least 5 percent. But he told reporters that "people are now talking about 10 percent as being more likely. Treasury Secretary W. Michael Blumenthal will travel to the Middle East later this week to confer with leaders of the major oil-producing nations of Saudi Arabia, Iran, Kuwait and Abu Dhabi.

Blumenthal's trip comes just a few weeks before members of the Organization of Petroluem Exporting Countries meet in Abu Dhabi in mid-December to set oil prices for next year. He will try to exert U.S. influence to keep the increase as low as possible. The oil minister of Kuwait has said he favors an increase of at least 10 percent. Oil prices were frozen for 1978, as OPEC gave the rest of the world a welcome respite from the steady increase in prices that started in 1973.

The world price of oil now averages about $12.70 per barrel. A 5 percent increase would raise the price to about $13.40, and a 10 percent hike would raise it to $14. Any increase would be reflected in higher prices for gasoline and home heating oil.

A 10-percent increase by OPEC, for example, would mean Americans would pay 1.5 to 2 cents a gallon more for gasoline and fuel oil, according to John Lichtblau, director of the Petroleum Industry Research Foundation, an organization supported by major oil companies.

In other economic news Monday, several banks raised their prime lending rate by a quarter of a percent to 11 percent, reflecting the recent Federal Reserve Board actions to push up interest rates throughout the economy to help control inflation.

Meanwhile, Both Ooms and Dirctor Barry Bosworth of the Council on Wage and Price Stability said Mon-

NORMAN, OKLA. - Ronald P. Walden has been appointed program manager of the Oil Well Blowout Prevention Systems School at the University of Oklahoma. Walden, who has been assistant program manager since May, has served as an instructor for the school since August 1976. He has had eight years of industrial experience as a petroleum engineer, primarily in drilling with some production and reservoir work

He will direct OU's 3-year-old Oil Well Blowout Prevention Systems School, which teaches workers in the petroleum industry how to prevent oil well blowouts. It offers class lectures dealing with techniques for handling possible blowouts and on-site training at an abandoned well, where blowout conditions are simulated by injecting a nitrogen bubble into the well. Students go through the procedures necessary to stop the blowout and to bring the well back to normal opera-

The OU program is offered through the College of Engineering and Oklahoma Center for Continuing Education. Only Louisiana State University has a similar program in oil well

Agreement announced

FORT WORTH - Southland Royalty Co. and Shenandoah Oil Corp. announced the execution of an agreement for Southland to purchase certain producing oil and gas properties: of Shenandoah located in the Permian Basin of West Texas and Southeast New Mexico for a cash price of $126.1 million, subject to certain adjustments.

The transaction will be effective Feb. 1, 1979, subject to approval of a plan of complete liquidation of Shenandoah at a meeting of stockholders Nov. 13, 1978.

Southland's president, Jon Brumley, said the Shenandoah properties contain long-life oil reserves, with considerable potential for recovery of additional reserves. Southland estimates proved oil and gas reserves on the properties are 21,733,000 barrels of oil and 63,053,000 thousand cubic feet of natural gas. In addition, probable reserves are estimated to be 7,032,000 barrels of oil and 1,038,000 Mcf of natural gas.

Brumley said the acquisition comlements Southland's extensive holdings in the Permian Basin, and represents a significant addition to Southland's reserves, particularly oil reserves. At Jan. 1, 1978, independent petroleum engineers estimated Southland's proved reserves at 105,-662,000 barrels of oil and 1,062,614,000 Mcf of natural gas.

day it will be difficult for the administration to realize its target for a budget deficit of $30 billion next year, down from an estimated $39 billion this year, especially if the economy slows significantly. Ooms said the administration projects fiscal 1980 expenditures of between $530 billion and $534 billion, up from $492 billion in the current 1979 budget year. Except for projected increases in defense spending, almost all the increase results from infla-

It has been learned the administration is considering increasing defense outlays from about $112 billion this year to $123 billion.

Ooms, who is assistant OMB director for economic policy, said the administration's projections for 3 percent growth in the economy next year are contingent on Carter's antiinflation program keeping inflation in the 6 percent to 6.5 percent range, down from more than 8 percent this

"If inflation gets out of hand, then all bets are off," he said, indicating there could be a greater lowdown in the economy.

Asked what would be interpreted as 'out of hand" for inflation, Ooms said there is some speculation prices will increase 8.5 percent to 9 percent, which probably would invite even higher interest rates. "If we have that sort of inflationary environment, we can't expect the Federal Reserve to sit back and watch that happen... We can't expect the economy to perform in a reasonably satisfactory way if that happens," he added.

Ooms denied published reports that the administration has private forecasts that show growth of only 1.8 percent and a mild recession next year. Economic growth this year is estimated at 3.75 percent.

Ooms said that the 6 percent to 6.5 percent inflation forecast includes an increase in oil prices in the 5-percentto-10-percent range. But he said if there is a long shutdown in Iranian oil production resulting from the political strife there, then oil prices could go even higher. Bosworth said in a speech in Detroit that a $30 billion budget deficit in 1980 'won't be easy to achieve" becasuse it will require reducing expenditures by $10 billion to $15 billion below the level required simply to continue existing programs.

And trimming the budget deficit alone won't solve inflation, he said. "We are going to have to have a pause in our economic expansion," he Hail the Victors!

Certainly the most stunning victory in last Tuesday's election was that of Republican Bill Clements over Democrat John Hill for the governorship of Texas.

It was a tremendous feat, one which many persons said could not be done but it was, by a great campaigner, seeking his first elective office.

Thus, the Lone Star State will have its first Republican governor in more than a century, beginning in January.

Congratulations certainly are in order for the governor-elect, as his fellow Texans join in wishing him well in his newly elected assignment. There are those who expressed surprise at Clement's election, but perhaps the most surprised were John Hill and his supporters. who had considered Hill's election a matter of course, in keeping with long tradition in Texas. But it wasn't to be this time.

Bill Clements undoubtedly was the least surprised of all. Visiting here some two weeks before the election, Clements said, with all the confidence in the world, "We are going to win this election! We are rolling, and we are going to

And that's the way it was in the Lone Star State last Tuesday, as Texans went to the polls to choose their elected officials.

As it turned out, a majority of them apparently wanted a change in state leadership, and this they will have come January.

who won a close race over his Democrat opponent, U.S. Rep. Robert Krueger. This was one of the most hotly-contested races of the year. The aggressive campaigning went right down to the wire, and the election results were in doubt to the very end.

As it turned out, Senator Tower returns to Washington for another six-year term as Texas' senior senator, with all best wishes from his Lone Star State constituents.

In the Texas attorney general contest, Democrat Mark White was the winner over Republican Jim Baker, and congratulations are directed to the winner in this race, which attracted much statewide interest.

In the other statewide races, congratulations go to the victors, Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby, State Treasurer Warren Harding, and Railroad Conmissioners Mack Wallace and John Poerner, all Democrats.

In the Railroad Commission (unexpired term) contest, Jim Lacy of Midland conducted a high-type campaign throughout the year, which brought him an exceptionally large number of votes for a newcomer on the political scene. All of which speaks highly of him and his campaign efforts.

And at the district level, Midlanders, of course, are very much disappointed that their fellow Midlander, George Bush, did not win the contest for the 19th District congressional seat being vacated by George Mahon after 44 years on the Hill.

Kent Hance of Lubbock, Democrat, was the victor in this race, and he merits the congratulations and best wishes which are directed to him on his victory. George Bush was among the first to express congratulations and best wishes to the new congressman-elect.

George Bush certainly does not have anything for which to be ashamed in the election. He conducted exceptionally hightype campaigns in both the primary and general elections, and now that the voters have spoken, he has accepted their preference in a most gracious manner, bowing to the will of the majority.

At the county level, Republican Bill Ahders won election as Midland County judge, over Democrat Blake Hansen, and congratulations go to the winner in this particular race.

In the county commissioner Congratulations also are in Precinct 2 race, Sam Snoddy, order for U.S. Sen. John Tower, appears to be the winner over incumbent Charles Welch by a 21vote margin, but the final outcome awaits the result of a recount.

> Congratulations also go to all the elected officials who were unopposed, along with all best wishes.

> And to all those who were unsuccessful in their efforts, thanks for offering yourselves for public service in an elective office. Your interest and effort are ap-

A CHANGING WORLD: A true-blue politician produces for Mr. Carter

By JOHN PINKERMAN Copley News Service

WASHINGTON - The performance in an important, high-level government position by old-time, down-toearth professional politician John J. Gilligan should have President Carter eating his words.

Gilligan, ex-Cincinnati ward heeler and city councilman, ex-Ohio governor and congressman and for most of his 57 years a man of street politics, is doing an outstanding job as administrator of the Agency for International Development. AID focuses on the poverty-stricken nations of the Third World, and it in no sense is a "giveaway" funnel for U.S. tax dollars. How Mr. Carter ever happened to appoint Gilligan to this job is somewhat of a mystery, particularly in view of the President's 1976 campaign promises to chase the politicians out of Washington and install pure and innocent nonpoliticians from the boondocks of Georgia and other areas untarnished

However, Gilligan did get the AID leadership job, and an interview with this sharp-witted political veteran plus a reading of his biography indicates he is eminently qualified for

Asked how he, an astute man who has loved the rough-and-tumble of basic politics, could wind up in an AID job, Gilligan responded:

"First, if I was as astute as you say, would increase Kremlin influence in

Begin confided sadly that he had lost his faith in Carter. The Israeli leader recalled a statement that has been attributed to former Secretary of State Henry Kissinger: "It's a

it. If not, no agreement can force our won't tolerate it!"

Pinkerman

I'd still be governor of Ohio (rather than having been defeated by Republican James A. Rhodes in 1974).

'However, I like this job; I enjoy every minute of it, every challenge. There is something satisfying in being a part of programs that seek to ease the poverty of 1.2 billion people, and these are programs that focus on people needs, not government bureaucracies.'

Denying that AID tosses U.S. tax money to the winds, Gilligan pointed out that his agency does not allocate millions to inefficient governments to parcel out as they wish. "We don't give money, we complete approved projects," he said, "and these are projects that have been carefully examined to make certain they are needed by the people of the countries concerned.

'Our business is to reduce poverty where we can - to ward off the dangers of chaos and tyranny. This is in our own selfish interest, too, and we are not the only ones in the game. OPEC (Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries) designates 2.5 percent of its GNP (gross national product) for this kind of work; we allocate .25 percent. However, because of our tremendous GNP, we give the most money.

This money is well spent. In 15 years the 100 largest cities in the world will be in the Third World. That's where the political clout is going to be, and we'd better be there."

Gilligan uses the same down-toearth straightforward approach and the same zeal in describing his mission as he exhibited from 1953 to 1974 in the rough-and-tumble world of Ohio politics. However, his preparation for a job like the one in AID has left him well qualified far beyond the simple reward reserved for loyal party members. He graduated from Notre Dame in 1943, received a master's degree in literature from Cincinnati University taught literature at Xavier, was a fellow at Woodrow Wilson International Center for Scholars and in 1969 at the John F. Kennedy Institute of Politics at Harvard.

John J. Gilligan is the rare combination of a basic politician and a man of global knowledge and insight. President Carter is lucky to have him, and so are the people of the United States. And his performance should remind the President that his own negative campaign rhetoric denouncing so-called political hacks might not have been completely in the public interest.

as the movie script writers have portrayed it. Real-life James Bonds can tune in on almost anyone with devices from a catalog that includes: wiretaps which can pick up not only phone conversations but everything said in your home; electronic or radiowave bugs smaller than a match book; two-way, peekaboo mirrors; "sniperscopes" capable of scanning a house perfectly from 100 yards in total darkness.

The cloak-and-dagger boys also carry a variety of fancy weapons. But alert Customs Department inspectors have detected and confiscated some of these hidden devices.

Once they expropriated a leather wallet which contained a derringer capable of firing .22 magnum or long rifle slugs. Another time, they discovered a folded knife in a toothpaste tube. Here are a few other weapons that they have seized:

- An imitation coin that concealed a two-bladed, stainless steel knife. A money clip that looked perfectly innocent. But under the folded bills was a sharp blade that could easily kill.

- A 12-gauge shotgun concealed in a car door. When the door was opened, the barrel pointed directly at anyone approaching the car. The shotgun could be fired by a trip wire attached to the dashboard

- A motorcycle handlebar loaded with shotgun shells. The handlebar acted as a gun barrel; the shells could be fired by pushing a button...

- A firearm disguised as an ordinary smoking pipe. The bullet could be loaded in a hole on the front of the pipe bowl and could be fired simply by biting down on the stem.

Bow down thine ear, and hear the words of the wise, and apply thine heart unto my knowledge. - Pro.

Looking toward 1980: Internal GOP bout envisioned

By ROWLAND EVANS AND ROBERT NOVAK

INSIDE REPORT:

WASHINGTON - While modestly impressive Republican gains last Tuesday pose a threat to President Carter in 1980, they also guarantee two years of intensified Republican civil war leading to the presidential

The party's conquest of four major governor's chairs (most spectaculary Texas) undermines the presumption of Ronald Reagan as the party's nominee. Beyond personalities, it sets up this debate: does the Republican path out of the wilderness lie in the tax revolt or in stressing a new, wellscrubbed Republican image?

Ammunition for both sides is being drawn from this year's Republican victories by leading proponents of the two tactical schools: Rep. Jack Kemp of New York and the Washingtonbased campagin consulting firm of Bailey and Deardourff.

In a possible preview of 1980, Kemp clashed with John Deardourff in Perry Duryea's losing race against Gov. Hugh Carey of New York. The author of the Kemp-Roth tax-reduction bill believes Duryea failed because Deardourff stressed image while campaign mastermind David Garth stressed issues for Carey.

The Bailey-Deardourff firm can not be blamed for Duryea's maladroit performance, particularly his refusal to heed their pleas to publish his tax returns. Bailey-Deardourff, making no secret of their contempt for Kemp Roth tax: reduction as, a campaign device, were involved in highly successful media-oriented campaigns in Pennsylvania, Michigan, Ohio, Illinois and Tennessee. Their formula was at its best in Pennsylvania where a brilliantly crafted media campaign brought former U.S. Assistant Atty. Gen. Richard Thornburgh from oblivion to snatch the governorship from ex-Pittsburgh Mayor Peter Flaherty. The formula: stress Thornburgh's qualities, undermine Flaherty's credibility and play down ideology or Thornburgh is the newest and one of the most impressive of a group of moderate Republican governors in a central and politically centrist belt running from Pennsylvania to Iowa, whose success last Tuesday endangers the inevitablity of Reagan. There has been private discussion of these governors pooling their power to pick a 1980 candidate — a process complicated by the presidential ambitions of Illinois' James Thompson and possibly Iowa's Robert Ray.

But also joining the Republican governors is a different breed: multimillionaire Dallas industrialist William Clements, who surprised even his own advisers by being elected governor of Texas. Clements, toughtalking and tough-looking, is the antithesis of the image candidate. His lavish media campaign stressed protax cut, anti-government, anti-liberal Envisioning Bill Clements at a Republican governor's conference de-lights his friends. "Imagine him with those candy-bleeps like Ray and Milliken (Gov. William Milliken of Michigan)," one insider told us. "Clements will roll 'em over.'

But not in Reagan's behalf. Clements, a Ford man in 1976, felt Reagan was not helpful in the early stages of his race for governor. He still burns over the intervention by the Reagan-ite Citizens For the Republic in a Republican congressional primary in Texas against Clements' advice. Texas state Republican chairman Ray Barnhart, a faithful and ardent Reaganite, now is eclipsed by a Republican governor who obviously would prefer George Bush over Reagan for president.

Ironically for Reagan, last Tues-day's ideological tone was slightly rightward, with the mass slaughter of all incumbent liberal Democratic senators (especially Sen. Dick Clark of Iowa) who were supported by the National Committee for an Effective Congress. What's more, the president's own advisers concede that victories of the three Republican senators - Jesse Helms, Strom Thurmond and John Tower - stigmatized as "radical rightists" confirms the futility of unadorned anti-conservative assaults

Furthermore, Kemp insists on the validity of Kemp-Roth, which is derogated by both the White House and Bailey-Deardourff. Rep. Bill Armstrong's Senate triumph in Colorado and Newton Gingrich's for the House from Georgia were squarely based on unswerving advocacy of massive tax

Kemp must soon decide whether this merits his own presidential bid, long urged by close advisers. But whether he, Reagan or anybody else opposes Carter with a national tax-reduction crusade, the election results assure an internal Republican struggle for 1980 that seemed most improbable a few days ago.
