Farmers get philosophical when the weather is not to their suiting. It hasn't been of late.

"We might as well relax and enjoy this damp, messy weather," Hoot Leonard, a cotton farmer and ginner, said on a recent drizzly, damp, cool day that puts cotton production in suspension.

Ranchers, however, are doing "the jig." The laying of gentle moisture over the land since mid-September holds the makings for verdant rangeland in the spring growing season.

And it makes for promising prospects for next year's crop. Farmers are depending on underground seasoning (moisture) for a good crop. And, as well, they've got to have a good planting rain come April, May, or, at the latest, early June.

Right now, though, many Midland farmers are concerned about bringing in this year's crop

By and large, however, the weather has been too wet for harvesting That's not good

So far, only 316 bales of cotton have been ginned this season at Midland Farmers Co operative gin, which is the only cotton processing operation in the county. The first wagon load ginned was brought in by John Midkiff on Oct 16, said Leonard, who is the gin's manager and a cotton producer himself

The first bale from that stripping weighed in at 534 pounds and was produced from 2,296 pounds of seed (raw) cotton The turn out (lint) per centage was 23.39 From that first ginning came 890 pounds of cotton seed. The remaining weight was 872 pounds of "trash," including burrs and bits of stalk, which are returned to the farm in the spirit of organic farming and practicality. The "trash" makes for fertilizer and

The gin Leonard runs has been idle for about a week

Last year about this time, the had turned out about 7,300 bales from about half of the 38,803 acres of cotton fields countywide. By season's and the gin had processed 10,600 bales

However, the figure would have been about 5,000 bales higher had the gin not under gone an overhaul. Gins over at Stanton took care of the over

The yield from Midland county was about 15,000 bales in 1977. The season. however, got off to an earlier start than this one noted Leonard

But if the drizzle and dampness continue. Midland farmers may be seeing "cotton sprouting in the burr" That's not good, either the opening day of the 10th annual tions. Republican Governors' Association Conference.

"I brought a little crow with me." he jokingly told a national political columnist who had predicted a Clements' defeat at the hands of Democrat John Hill earlier this month. Clements' victory dramatically ended a 104-year-old Democratic stay in the governor's mansion.

Clements and his wife, Rita, made their formal debut as Texas' governor-elect and first lady-to-be during a Sunday night reception that was also attended by two of their famous Virginia neighbors — Senator-elect John Warner and his wife, actress Elizabeth Taylor, plump but still alluring.

Clements' Virginia estate, Wexford, which was built for John F. Kennedy in the early 1960s, is bordered on three sides by the Warner country home

Clements used this historic setting of colonial Williamsburg to continue his attack on President Carter.

"I made an issue of Mr. Carter during my election and I plan to continue making an issue of him,' said Clements. "His policies are clearly not in the best interest of Both Reagan and Ford were sent 'special invitations' to attend the conference but both declined due to prior commitments, said Ralph Griffith, the Republican Governors' Association's executive director.

Connally received one of approximately 1,000 invitations addressed to "friends of the RGA" but also declined, citing a previous commitment, and Bush was not invited, added Griffith.

WALNUT BOTTOM, Pa. (AP) 'Rudolph get a flat tire?' was the query of one rescuer as a red-faced man in a red suit was helped down from a hot air

St. Nick more of an adventure than he anticipated. We were 2,000 feet in the air when this down draft hit us and all of a sudden, we were flying through the leaves; I mean liter-eight miles west of Gettysburg. But the downdraft struck soon after take-off, and Santa's hotair sleigh descended toward Michaux State Forest at 400 feet per second.

An unidentified pilot flying nearby spotted the plummeting balloon and notified local emergency officials, who dispatched two fire companies to the

Within a half hour they found the balloon — punctured, deflated and hanging in a tree.

One of the firemen said, 'What happened? Did Rudolph get a flat tire?'' Santa, only slightly jolly, said.

After the rescue, Santa was given a ride in a fire truck to Ed's, where he distributed small gifts to youngsters who had gotten word of his hang-up.

"One kid said he knew nothing would happen because Santa Claus was magic," Santa said. "I wish I'd known that earlier because for a while there I thought I was a goner. When we went down in those trees it was terrifying.

If Santa plans unusual arrivals at Ed's — last year he came in a circus calliope, the year before in a covered wagon and three years ago in a helicopter - it may be because Ed Gutwalt is a bit different himself.

To celebrate the Bicentennial in 1976, for instance, Gutwalt tended the store for 76 hours straight starting July 4.

"People around here call me the crazy guy who'll do anything," Gutwalt boasts.

After 37 years in a coma, Elaine dies HOLIDAY, Fla. (AP) -

"I always prayed God would let me live longer than she did,' said Lucy Esposito.

Mrs. Esposito's prayers were answered.

Elaine's death Sunday, at age 43, ended the long ordeal of a devoted mother who refused to hand over the job to an institu-

It also ended what is believed to be the longest human cema ever: 37 years, three months and 20 days. The Guinness Book of World Records says it is the longest period of human unconsciousness ever recorded.

Elaine had slept since Aug. 6, 1941, when, at the age of 6, she underwent an appendectomy in a Chicago hospital. Doctors were closing her abdomen when her temperature shot to 107 and she began convulsing. Her doctors thought she would die that night.

But Elaine didn't die then, and she didn't die when she had pneumonia, or when death approached the other times - with measles, with gallstones, with a bowel obstruction.

Her parents never did learn exactly what had happened to their girl in the Chicago hospi-

"We never had time to worry about legal problems," Mrs. Esposito told the St. Petersburg Times. "Louie was working three jobs and I was with her day and night. I don't know how else we could have done it."

The family's money ran out in 10 months, and they took their only child home, where Mrs. Esposito learned to be a nurse a job she would practice fulltime for more than a third of a century.

When Esposito had a heart attack several years ago, the family moved from Chicago to Florida to make life easier.

Friends and doctors would urge the family, tactfully, to let a nursing home take Elaine. But the Espositos wouldn't do it. They did take her to Lourdes, France, once in search of a miracle.

When Medicare was established it helped a lot. Last year, however, bureaucrats in Washington threatened to cut off aid because Elaine wasn't in an institution. Mrs. Esposito complained bitterly, and an administrative law judge made an exception that let the monthly checks keep coming.

Esposito died last January of cancer. He was 68.

"I lost them both within 10 months," Mrs. Esposito said. "Lou and I always figured Elaine would go first and we'd have a few years for ourselves.'

The end finally neared Friday. Elaine was gasping, groaning. Her mother called an ambulance and once more climbed in to ride with her.

"I woke up 4: 30 Sunday morning and got dressed," Mrs. Esposito said. "I turned her over, rubbed her back, put baby powder on her, I put clips in her hair like I always do and I gave her a little kiss. I walked to the other side of the room and came back and gave her another

His words were echoed by a woman who did leap. "We had a choice of burning or jumping from the window," said Mary Atmore of Toronto. 'We jumped into the parking lot and I injured my leg. I don't know how I managed to land on my feet."

One woman held on to a secondfloor window window sill, but would not let go, said Maryanne Howard of Hamilton. "She just kept calling for someone inside to push her." The woman was rescued.

Firefighters and rescue workers with trained dogs pulled 10 bodies from the rubble and searched each room before a crane was called to help lift the collapsed walls and roof.

'We did a room-by-room search with the crane," said town supervisor Don Riley. "They actually took the debris out and set down outside. We actually went through it scoop by

Five people were found collapsed on top of each other about 10 feet from a second-floor exit

'They were painfully close," said Riley, adding they apparently became confused in the thick, choking smoke and stumbled over each other. Other bodies were strewn about the building, he said.

Survivors huddled outside in winds that gusted up to 25 miles an hour and 20-degree temperatures, most clad only in nightclothes, before they were taken across Route 104 to a Howard Johnson's Motel and later to a Holiand stage gimmick imagery, while the "Godz" of Columbus, Ohio, seemed to rely on the hard language of the "sagely" street people they seek so hard to emulate.

While "Triumph" lets music and performing motion do the talking, 'Godz'' does ''a number'' on the audience with "city tough" cussin'.

Perhaps the newer and less polished "Godz" members feel they can't make it on their music alone. And they seek to compensate, hopefully by stirring deep emotional responses from audiences with macho gutter talk and such exhortations as: Bikers, don't ever fight one another. Because whatever drives on two wheels is a whole lot hipper than anything on four wheels.

Disallowing this subterfuge, the music is competent and at time stirring rock, though it lacks innovation.

Lead singer-bass guitarist of 'Godz," Eric Moore, wears a combat knife on his hip.

He'd probably need it in a match with Rick Emmett, lead guitarist and vocalist for "Triumph," for at this stage his musical skills wouldn't carry him. But that's not to say Moore is without talent.

Musically, Moore and the other four members of "Godz" have a marketable beat. But they need to stagger their music's tempo and moods.

Their delivery is somewhat detached, and hostile. At times, they perform like rapists with electrical 'Triumph'' handles people artfully with music. And, like other Toronto groups, they use stage imagery to augment their musical "trip." Disco lights, a strobe, a butane volcano which the drummer erupts periodically, and a light-emitting exploding device at the front of the stage are among the group's tricks. And they work well.

Guitarist Emmett drove the small band of sometimes marijuana-smoking followers wild with his solo on the 12-string guitar. somewhat reminiscent of "The Byrds."

Overall their performance was indeed a triumph. Hopefully, somewhere "Godz" was watching.

WASHINGTON (AP) - Foreign tourists, taking advantage of low-cost air fares and charters as well as a cheaper dollar, have been coming to the United States in record numbers this year, the U.S. Travel Service

The agency says 8.6 million visitors came to the United States in the first six months of the year, an increase of 7 percent from the same period last

In addition, the report says that from January through June foreigners spent $3.5 billion in this country, a 17 percent increase compared to the first half of last year. "Large increases were evident in spending by visitors from Western Europe, up 36.4 percent; Japan, up 22.8 percent; and Latin America, up 17.4 percent," the report says. The British spent 80.3 percent more here. 'Travelers from the United Kingdom are spending the savings gained from the purchase of low charter and promotional air fares on additional goods and services in the United States," the agency says.

As the dollar sank against other currencies, most of the foreign tourists were able to get more for their money in this country.

The Travel Service is a Commerce Department agency that was established in 1961 to stimulate foreign tourist travel to the United States.

The Travel Service cited "the heavy devaluations of the U.S. dollar" and cheaper air fares and lowcost charters as having "brought about a major increase in international travel to the United States." Meanwhile, American tourists going abroad were still outspending people visiting the United States by $2 billion. But most of that extra spending went to foreign airlines and travel agents, the Travel Service says. Although more than two-thirds of the foreign visitors came from just across the U.S. border, there were substantial gains from all parts of the world this year. Following is a breakdown by countries with the most visitors to the United States in the first six months of 1978: Canada, 5.2 million; Mexico, 1 million; Japan, 411,108; United Kingdom, 303,150; West Germany, 199,426; France, 102,618; Venezuela, 91,705;

Australia, 78,301; Italy, 65,443. The agency predicts 20 million foreign tourists will visit the United States by the end of the year, a 7.7 percent increase over last year. That is just above the average annual increase for the past six years. According to polls taken abroad in 1977, foreigners, whether traveling or not, listed the following regions in order of preference as the ones they would most like to see: the Far West, the Northeast, the South, the South-west, the mid-Atlantic region, and Atlantic and Pacific islands. Rated lowest were the Great Lakes, the Mountain West and New England.

Use nature's decorations for tree

Copley News Service

Nature's own decorations are the key to creating a unique but inexpensive Christmas tree for the children's bedroom.

Hallmark designer Marie Smith suggests that a late fall trek in the woods can provide most of the materials for decorating the tree. Seed pods, bare winter branches, pine cones and feathers are the basic decorating components. Small bunches of red and green strawflowers tucked among the branches provide a colorful contrast.

"Use small-scale, brightly patterned gift wrap paper for small packages," Smith says. "Reverse-a-Wrap paper, for example, provides two contrasting patterns from one roll of paper. Red, white and green striped ribbon unites the two patterns. If you like, you can buy a few small wicker or straw baskets to hold the

Cheery red cardinals from Hallmark's Tree Trimmer collection add still another natural note to the

'Because the decorations are not fragile and many of them are free, this tree-decorating theme is ideal whenever a group of children is involved, in classrooms, Cub Scout and Brownie troops and at children's Christmas parties," says the Hallmark designer.

DEAR ABBY: In a recent column you said it was all right for a girl to let a guy know she liked him and wanted to see him again. You said it would save time, and do away with a lot of game-playing.

your final suggestion-that girls might make the first move if they really dig a guy—is probably the best advice you ever gave.

You'd be amazed at how many men are still smarting from a rejection they received six months ago. (Most men are reluctant to come on to a girl because they're afraid they'll be turned down.) I know from experience that the average man would be thrilled if a woman took the initiative and let him know she'd like to see him again.

Thanks, Abby, for telling girls that men appreciate honesty and that playing hard-to-get is passe.

Your letter was just what I needed to get me in the mood to start looking for a girl again. I had just about given up.-ERIK

Textbook protesters win in Kanawha County

By BOB ROBINSON

CHARLESTON, W.Va. (AP) -Four years after a bitter dispute over the selection of school textbooks set neighbor against neighbor in Kanawha County, it appears victory has gone to those who protested the use of books they saw as godless and un-American.

The protests were "very much" on sory committee that recently screened a set of language arts books for the Board of Education, according to the committee's leader.

The language arts books approved by the board were the first authorized for elementary schools since 1973. It was those 1973 selections - from authors such as ex-Black Panther leader Eldridge Cleaver, now a "bornagain" Christian, and LeRoi Jones that sparked the protest which shut down schools, factories, mines and a regional bus system.

When we got into the textbooks dealing with literature and fables where there had been problems before, we scanned those books probably like they've never been scanned before," said Stephen Priestly, a Lin-coln County elementary school principal who headed the 15-member advisory committee.

Phil E. Suiter, assistant state books approved by the advisory committee, from which county school boards must choose their materials, were carefully chosen with the textbook protest in mind. "I thought the fact that the textbook school superintendent, also says the advisory committee looked at the books so carefully ... that is evidence that they have been very sensitive to what the public's demands are,' Suiter said.

And the pro-textbook faction concedes defeat.

"I know what it's like to lose," said the Rev. James Lewis, an Episcopal minister who was a vocal supporter of

The eventual victory, Lewis believes, came almost unseen as book supporters tired of the battle.

"This thing wore people out," he explained.

Hardly a murmur of protest was heard when the new books were picked in early November. The selection process drew scant attention from the state's media.

The Kanawha County textbook furor started in the spring of 1974 when Alice Moore, a minister's wife, complained that selections from some of the books were lewd, unpatriotic and encouraged students to think in terms of relative values. Mrs. Moore had been elected to the Kanawha County school board as a candidate opposing sex education in the public schools.

The protest, led by fundamentalist preachers waving Bibles, escalated with thousands of followers, most of them concentrated in the hills and hollows surrounding Charleston. By the time school opened in the fall, hundreds of pupils' mothers were on beginning of the 1979 general enrollment period for Medicare medical insurance, Erven L. Fisher Jr., social security district manager in Odessa, said recently During the first three months of 1979, eligible persons who do not have medical insurance protection under Medicare can enroll for it. Medical insurance protection will start July 1, 1979 for those who enroll during the general enrollment period.

Eligible people include those who chose not to enroll during their initial period and those who once had this protection but dropped it.

People who enroll during a general enrollment period will pay a premium higher than the basic premium if there was a period of 12 months or more during which they could have had this protection but did not.

The basic premium for the period ending June 1979 is $8.20 a month. The new premium will be announced before the general enrollment period.

The National Safety Council had estimated that between 470 and 570 persons would be killed in traffic accidents during the four-day holiday observance, which began at 6 p.m. local time: Wednesday and ended at midnight local time Sunday.

Last year, 490 persons lost their lives in highway accidents on Thanksgiving week.end.

The worst such holiday was in 1968 when 764 persons were killed.

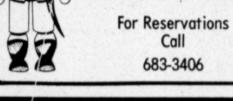

Weather hindered travelers over much of the holiday period with rain plaguing the Midwest, followed by a heavy plastering of snow. Rain troubled drivers in the East and fog made driving hazardous in the South. At least two highway deaths in the Midwest were attributed to icy roads.

If the diamond finesse succeeded, South could run the suit and discard his losing heart. If the club finesse succeeded South could discard the heart on the ace of clubs; and then he would make six or seven depending on the diamond finesse.

The trouble was that South couldn't afford to guess wrong. If he took a losing finesse, the opponents would promptly cash a heart trick to defeat the South's best chance was to play for both suits. He could lead one of the minor-suit aces to see if the king would drop. If it didn't, he could try the finesse in the other suit. Not absolutely guaranteed, but a lot better than just guessing.

BEST CHANCE

Obviously, the chance of a singleton king was far better in diamonds than in clubs. South therefore led a diamond to the ace. When the king dropped South had no further problem. DAILY QUESTION Partner opens with one heart, and the next player passes. You hold: S-73; H-K10873; D-K; C-K9854. What do vou say?

ANSWER: Bid three hearts. The hand is slightly too strong for a shutout raise to four hearts. Partner may have a decent heart suit and a couple of side aces; don't discourage him from trying for a slam.

The flight quickens

A year or so ago, it was possible to believe the Indochinese refugee problem would abate as Communist authorities in Vietnam, Cambodia and Laos sealed their respective borders and coastlines against those who sought escape. As recent headlines indicate, that has not been the case.

In increasing numbers, Vietnamese, Cambodians and Laotians have fled from the grim combination of oppression, hunger and continuing war that plague their homelands.

The flow from Vietnam alone has more than doubled during 1978. Worsening conditions in all three Indochinese states overrun in 1975 suggest even greater numbers of refugees in the immediate future.

Indeed, there are signs that Vietnamese authorities. desperate for hard currency and faced with acute food shortages, quietly are permitting some refugees to buy their way out of Vietnam with the small amounts of gold many Asian families hold as a last reserve.

Plainly, the refugee flow has long since overloaded the resettlement programs of the United States, France, Australia and Canada, which together have accepted the vast majority of Indochinese refugees.

Likewise, the temporary refugee camps and aid programs administered by the United Nations High Commissioner for Refugees in Thailand and Malaysia also have been swamped.

The tens of thousands of thus, languishing in squalid camps is a depressing enough reality. Far worse is the now common refusal of merchant ships to rescue Vietnamese refugees drifting on the high seas in tiny fishing boats.

The State Department estimates that up to half of the refugees who flee Vietnam die at sea of starvation, exposure or drowning.

In view of the scope of the Indochinese refugee problem, the only proper response is an international mobilization of resources to assure both temporary asylum and permanent resettlement.

The Carter administration and other concerned governments will have an opportunity to lobby for just such mobilization at the December conference on Indochinese refugees to be held in Geneva by the United Nations broader sense, Japan is finally shedding the caution bred of traumatic defeat and embarking on a political role appropriate for the free world's

No. 2 economic power.

One result is the new "peace and friendship" treaty with Communist

China. On our last reporting trip to Japan in 1975, Japan's government doubted it ever would conclude the Chinese pact because of Peking's insistence of an "anti-hegemony" clause aimed at the Soviet Union. In 1978, it signed a treaty containing that clause despite heavy breathing from High Commissioner for Refugees. Approximately 30 nations in a position to help will be invited.

It is hoped that countries like Sweden - so vociferous in its concern for the Vietnamese during the late war - could be persuaded to accept even a handful of refugees as a token of their commitment to humanitarian values. The people of Sweden now will have opportunity to prove their real concern.

At a minimum, none of the delegates to this conference should consider adjourning until some agreement is reached which would assure that not one more Vietnamese perishes at sea because a merchant vessel ignored a distress signal.

Beyond that, increased contributions to the United Nations' refugee program and a greater willingness to accept refugees for permanent . resettlement are necessary

Appropriately, the United States has led the international community in caring for and resettling these victims of depression. We would not have it otherwise. And if Americans would just think back to the abundant blessings for which they gave thanks on Thanksgiving Day, they undoubtedly would open their hearts and their purses a bit wider in assisting the refugees in every way possible. This is what President Carter was talking about in his "thankful giving" challenge expressed in his Thanksgiving Day proclamation.

But the United States, as willing and as generous as it is, simply cannot carry the burden alone and it shouldn't have to in the first place.

The redoubled efforts now necessary require nations as yet uninvolved to lend assistance in alleviating the heartbreaking human misery of Indochina's continuing nightmare.

WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

Causes of firing under question

By JACK ANDERSON

WASHINGTON - The firing of an obscure congressional aide usually makes no great waves on Capitol Hill. But when the dismissal may have been engineered to stifle dissenting views, the implications should be brought to public attention.

That is the gist of a sizzling secret report prepared for Sen. S.I. Hayakawa, R-Calif., by Senate staffers who investigated the firing of Michael Pillsbury from the Senate Budget Committee.

The sometimes abrasive, always candid Pillsbury was given the heaveho after he antagonized Ambassador Mike Mansfield in Tokyo. According to confidential State Department cables, Pillsbury, a Republican, did not always follow the Democratic Party line in his interviews with Japanese officials. The cables also alleged that Pillsbury made a remark to a Japanese official that Ambassador Mansfield was "not in touch with current developments in Congress.

Mansfield happens to be the former Senate majority leader. He fired off a complaint to his old friend, Sen. Ed Muskie, D-Me., chairman of the Budget Committee. Mansfield did not demand Pillsbury's head. But Robert Boyd, the committee's Republican staff director, discerned that message. He called Pillsbury back from abroad and fired him.

Hayakawa hasn't released the blistering report, possibly because it is as embarrassing to the Republicans as it is to the Democrats. The report is especially critical of Boyd for allegedly firing Pillsbury under pressure from Democratic Staff Director John McEvoy. The latter vigorously denied to us that he played any role in Pillsbury's firing. We tracked down Boyd in London, but he did not return our calls.

Here are highlights of the confidential report obtained by our reporters Gary Cohn and Jim Grady: - Boyd never gave Pillsbury a chance to refute the charges against Some of the intemperate remarks attributed to Pillsbury were either misinterpreted, badly translated or never uttered at all. "It appears that there was undue interference on the part of McEvoy. and that Boyd was responding to his pressure," the report states. It notes that the majority staff director has no business trying to influence decisions concerning the minority staff. - "Boyd does not seem to consider the possibility," says the report, "that the action of the embassy was based more on their disagreement with the policy implications of Pillsbury's ... than on Pillsbury's questions behavior.

- The Pillsbury firing sets a precedent for similar treatment of congressional staffers by the State Department in the future. It "'will encourage the Department to 'get' other Hill staffers who ask questions and get answers the embassy does not want revealed," the report states.

When Pillsbury was fired, Ambassador Mansfield wanted to release his letter to Muskie, which would show that he had not asked that the man be axed. In a confidential cable

The Senate investigators found that this simply was not true. Indeed, Pillsbury's security clearances have been reconfirmed since his Senate

MARINE SCANDAL: With the spur of the draft no longer goading America's young men, the allvolunteer armed services are having a tough time recruiting troops. Even the Marine Corps, which pridefully advertises for "a few good men," is apparently signing up anyone who can read and write.

Unqualified volunteers are herded through Marine recruiting offices like cattle. Those who cannot meet the stiff requirements are often passed anyway. Their records are changed and their tests are cribbed. An unfolding scandal in the Marines' recruiting office in Cleveland best illustrates the Corps' enlistment woes. Already working 16hour days to meet their quotas. recruiters who fell short were subjected to threatening phone calls from the brass in the middle of the night, according to information given to investigators for Sen. Howard Metzenbaum, D-Ohio.

In desperation, some recruiters resorted to altering records and exam results to qualify volunteers who plainly couldn't cut the mustard;

Some recruiters also had their pockets picked by officers who demanded they contribute to a slush fund which was used for booze, to buy gifts for officers and to provide loans to other enlisted men, the Senate probers were told.

The Marine brass headed off the potentially damaging testimony of at least one expert witness scheduled for a hearing by Sen. Sam Nunn, D-Ga., by threatening to prosecute recruiters who told the truth about harassment and intimidation by their superiors.

Footnote: A Marine Corps spokesman said allegations of recruiting irregularities are being investigated. The slush fund, he said, was a "fund" to which recruiters contributed voluntarily to meet routine expenses.

One week after Carter won New Hampshire's primary, Sen. Henry Jackson won the primary of a much larger state, Massachusetts, and later, New York. In his case, however, the high muckety-mucks of the media poo-poohed his wins.

In fact, the study shows that between the New Hampshire and Pennsylvania primaries, Carter "...received 43 percent of the network evening news time given the Democratic contenders, 59 percent of the space in Time and Newsweek, and 46 percent of the newspaper coverage."

The author of the study concluded that from all of the media concentration, "..most people came to know only one of the candidates - Carter." Public recognition of Carter quadru-

The great power of the press, which most people do not understand is its power of selectivity. Its strength, in so far as influencing public opinion, is not in twisting the news it reports but in choosing which events it decides is If anyone were to complain that the inherent in the ability to choose what is brought to public attention and what is to be ignored. There is a tendency in our business, because we cling to the myth of objectivity, to refuse to admit the existence of this power and therefore to refuse to assume responsibility for it. The death sentence for a political candidate is an "objective" decision on the part of political writers and editors that he is not a serious contender, and therefore does not deserve the same coverage as the serious contenders. The irony of the situation is that, unlike the conspiratologists believe, the problem is not a result of a conscious effort to manipulate the public, but the stubborn clinging to the concept that we should not try to manipulate the public. The internal process works like this in our heads. As newsmen, we must be objective. To be objective, we must be concerned only with what is news and what is not news -not with how the news may affect public opinion or

The smart publicist, however, manipulates us by shaping events to fit our rather rigid definitions of what makes news. The individual newsman, if he is so inclined, has merely to drape his prejudices with the clothing of "news judgment." Most important, though, is the fact that whether we admit it, our decisions most certainly do affect both public opinion and

I think the sooner we admit this to ourselves, the sooner we will begin to wield this power more responsibly. As for Carter, he is not only an opportunist and a liar but an ingrate as well.

This situation presents oil companes with two unattractive courses of action: concentrating on rugged and remote onshore locations and investing more of their exploration budget in offshore exploration with its enormous attendant expense.

In smaller oil companies like Aminoil USA, a subsidiary of R.J. Reynolds Industries, Inc., the emphasis is being placed on less costly onshore exploration. In offshore ventures, Aminoil participates selectively, usually as a partner in a group.

"We're getting into areas," says Marshal Scherba, Aminoil's senior geophysicist, "where the risk is high and the expenditures are high. With the rapidly increasing interest in exploring these difficult areas, you could say that the industry is entering a new phase where finding oil and gas is going to be more difficult and more costly than ever before."

Three onshore areas where Aminoil has significant exploration efforts under way are in the Diamond Valley and Pine Valley areas of Nevada and in the northeastern corner of Utah, an area known as the Overthrust Belt. These areas are presenting problems which explorationists have usually been able to avoid in past years.

The Nevada exploration site is far from other oil company operations, and equipment must be moved long AUSTIN, Texas (AP) - Andrew W. Tarkington, former president of the Continental Oil Co. and a member of the Southern Methodist University Board of Trustees, is dead at the age of 67 following a lengthy illness.

He had retired in 1971 and since 1975 had lived in Lakeway, not far from the Texas capital. He lived in Greenwich, Conn., from 1961 to 1975.

Tarkington was born and reared in Taylor, Texas, and graduated from SMU in 1932. He started with Conoco in 1948 as treasurer in Oklahoma and later served as vice president and regional general manager based in Fort Worth. He moved to Houston in 1956 as a senior vice president.

complex nature of the geology.

One basic tool Aminoil's geophysicists use in studying an area's geology. Scherba explains, is the seismic section. This is a cross section of the undergroung terrain developed by exploding charges at regular intervals along a "shot" line and recording the reflected sound waves at the surface of the earth.

"We are using geophones (devices that measure earth movement) that are so sensitive," he explains, "that they will respond if you blow on

The recording equipment being used can register 100,000 recordings a second when an explosion is triggered, making it possible to map underground formations with more clairty than was possible just a few

In an area like the Overthrust Belt, however, Scherba says, the underground strata is not neatly layered, but is very complex. "We're convinced that the payoff is there for those who can unravel the puzzle," he adds, "but so far it's been very difficult to come up with good prospects to drill."

So even with the improved technology, Aminoil is finding that drilling a well is still a risky venture, especially in the Overthrust Belt. "We look at things like possible reserves, risk factors and the economics of drilling a well. In the final analysis, all you can do is weigh all of the variables and make the best possible decision."

But even the best decision doesn't insure success and drilling could still lead to dry holes, giving Aminoil little value for seismic work which may cost up to $12,000 a mile in the Overthrust Belt and $5,000 a mile in

In both Nevada and Utah there is a good chance for finding sizable fields, says Scherba, noting significant discoveries at the Eagle Springs and Trap Springs fields in Nevada and the Ryckman Creek and Pineview fields in the Overthrust Belt.

While there is insufficient data at this time to estimate what the possible recoverable reserves in Nevada are, estimates place recoverable reserves in the nine Overthrust Belt fields discovered to date at 600 million barrels of oil and 2.25 trillion cubic feet of natural gas.

So despite the difficulties, Aminoil will continue to conduct seismic work in these areas in hopes of finding much needed hydrocarbon reserves.

"We're working in the kinds of places that push people and equip-ment to the limit," notes Scherba, "but we've done enough work to know that these areas have good potential. Now, it's just a matter of proving

Opec to raise price of crude in December.

KUWAIT (AP) - Members of the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries will raise the price of oil by two percent per quarter in 1979, a Kuwaiti newspaper reported today. The usually well-informed Al

Watan said the increase - eight percent by the end of 1979 - will be adopted at next month's OPEC meeting in Abu Dhabi.

The report, if true, would appear to be a compromise between the world's largest oil producer, Saudi Arabia, which favors a freeze or a minimum increase in stages, and the militants like Algeria and Iraq which support an immediate hike of at least ten percent.

Earlier Kuwait press reports, quoting unnamed Arab officials at an quarters in Vienna said last summer there would be a price "adjustment"

An increase of 10 percent for crude oil, which has sold for $12.70 a barrel since mid-1977, would increase retail gasoline prices by about a cent a gallon in the United States.

market gains

NEW YORK (AP) - The stock market gained more ground today with support from continued strength in the dollar in foreign exchange. The noon Dow Jones average of 30 ndustrials was up 1.82 at 811.94.

Gainers outpaced losers by more than a 2-1 margin in the broad tally of New York Stock Exchange-listed issues.

The Dow has risen about 25 points since it hit a sevenmonth low at mid-November, helped by a rally in the dollar that began when the government took several steps to support the U.S. currency early in themonth.

The market lately has shrugged off news of steady upward pressure on interest rates, which pushed the bank prime lending rate to 111/2 percent by the end of last week.

But brokers noted that it faces some further potential obstacles in the days ahead. More bad inflation news is expected Tuesday with the monthly report on the consumer price index. Gambling stocks, which have rallied lately after a steep drop from their early-autumn peaks, dominated the active list again today. Bally Manufacturing, the volume leader, climbed 11/4 to 42%; Caesars World picked up 1/2 to 27; Del E. Webb was up % at 1634, and Playboy Enterprises rose 11/8 to 165/8 The NYSE's composite index rose .07 to 53.51. On the American Stock Exchange, the market value index climbed .46 to 149.05

Volume on the Big Board came to 8.37 million shares at noontime, up from 6.89 million at the same point

DR. NEIL SOLOMON Alcohol crosses male libido wires

Dear Dr. Solomon: Just what are the scientific facts about how alcohol affects a man's sex drive? I heard on some radio program that drinking actually turns a man off despite what most people think. Is this correct? And if so, why do men get so eager once they've had a couple of drinks?-J.

Dear J.: Alcohol seems to have two opposite effects in men. It increases sexual desire but decreases performance. End result: a very warm but possibly impotent gentleman. Just why this happens has not been entirely understood, but researches at Harvard University and McLean Hospital in Belmont, Mass., may have a clue.

In tests on 16 healthy, nonalcoholic males, they found that alcohol lowers levels of testosterone, the male hormone. But at the same time it increases production of a hormone called LH (luteninizing hormone), which tells the testes to produce testosterone. In other words, the libido wires seem to get crossed-a very confusing situation, and - I'd say - one more argument for moderation in drinking.

Dear Dr. Solomon: I have developed a herpes veneral infection. My doctor says that there is nothing he can do. Any new ideas?—Ms. P.R.

Dear Ms. P.R.: A collagen sponge has been tested as a contraceptive. One interesting and unexpected side effect was that the collagen has the ability to act against genital herpes infections. Ask your doctor if you can follow through on this lead. Dear Dr. Solomon: What is a synthetic narcotic?-R. B.

Dear R.B.: In contrast to pharmaceutical products derived directly or indirectly from narcotics of natural origin, synthetic narcotics may be chemically related to the opium alkaloids but are produced entirely within the laboratory. A continuing search for a product that will retain the analgesic pain-relieving properties of morphine without the consequent dangers of tolerance and dependence has get to yield a drug not susceptible of abuse.

The two most widely available are meperidine and methadone. The first synthetic narcotic, produced originally a generation ago, meperidine is chemically dissimilar to morphine but resembles it in its analgesic potency. Next to morphine it is probably the most widely used drug for the relief of intense pain. Available in pure form as well as in products containing other medicinal ingredients, it is administered either orally or by injection, the latter method the more widely abused.

In response to a shortage of morphine during World War II, German chemists synthesized methadone. Although chemcially unlike morphone or heroin, it produces many of the same effects. It is administered orally or by injection. Tolerance and physical dependence can develop. Withdrawal symptoms develop more slowly and are less severe than in withdrawal from morphine or heroin, but may be more prolonged.

Methadone was introduced in the United States in 1947 as an analgesic and distributed under such names as Amidone, Dolophine and Methadon. Since the 1960s it has become widely used in detoxification of heroin addicts and in methadone maintenance programs. There are special restrictions imposed by the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act as well as other government agencies for both the manufacture and use of methadone

Other synthetic narcotics in current medical use are levorphane (Levo-Dromoran), phenazocine (Prinadol), alphaprodine (Nisentil) and anileridine (Leritine). All produce many of the same effects of morphone, but their potency and duration. of action differ. All have addiction

JFK film shows new evidence

WASHINGTON (AP) A New Jersey film technician contends a 15year-old strip of color fore the John F. Kennedy assassination is "important new evidence' showing more than one person was responsible for the president's death.

Technician Robert Groden of Hope Lawn, N.J., who enhanced the home movie, was present Sunday when the Assassination Information Bureau screened the film for representatives of the national media.

Groden said the film "is proof and important new evidence that someone else was on the sixth floor and that witnesses who said then (in 1963) they saw someone other than Oswald are not crazy." The double window on the sixth floor of the Texas School Book Depository can be seen in a corner of the tiny film frames. The Warren Commission said Lee Harvey Oswald, acting alone, fired the shots that killed Kennedy from that double window. The Dallas Morning

News published a nineframe sequence of copyright pictures, enlarged 100 times, in its Sunday editions. In each of the frames, a faint, light-colored area in the left side of the window changes shape from frame to frame, while a similar area in the right portion of the window remains more nearly stationary. "There is another person moving in the next set of windows," Groden told The Associated Press. "He (the figure) is wearing a bright red

UH upset keeps SWC pot boiling

By The Associated Press

The football year of 1978 in the Southwest Conference would press a fiction writer's talents but there's yet another chapter left for the story to get even more bizarre.

By all odds, Houston should put a large knot on the Rice Owls Saturday night and claim the SWC title and the host role in the Cotton Bowl opposite Notre Dame.

And Arkansas should put a similar bruise on the Texas Tech Red Raiders in Fayetteville where former Texas Assistant Coach Mike Campbell said it was like "parachuting into Rus-

OF COURSE, Houston SHOULD have beaten Texas Tech Saturday and Texas SHOULD have beaten Baylor, by all odds.

That leaves this interesting parlay. Should Rice shock Houston (Baylor remembers Rice) and Texas Tech survive in the Ozarks with a victory then the Red Raiders could wear their funny, old timey black jersies in the Cotton Bowl New Year's day.

This was all made possible when fullback James Hadnot ran over two Houston defenders for a two-point conversion in Tech's 22-21 victory over the Cougars Saturday while down South senior Mickey Elam, who hadn't played quarterback since high school, led Baylor to a 38-14 slaughter of Texas.

IN OTHER games that tried to get out of hand but finally resorted to form, Arkansas overcame a two-touchdown deficit to whip Southern Methodist 27-14 and Texas A&M struggled to a 15-7 victory over Texas Christian Houston has one SWC loss while Tech, Arkansas, and Texas each own two defeats. Tech would go to the Cotton Bowl even if Houston, Texas and the Red Raiders tie for the title.

Houston, of course, can put an end to all this conjecture with a victory over Rice and Cougar Coach Bill Yeoman said he felt his team "had enough class" to bounce back from the Tech loss to do so.

"We better get ready for Rice," said Yeoman. "We will take the conference championship any way that we can get it. The kids, I'm sure, have enough class to be ready for the Rice

"We were not mentally ready to play Tech. The open date is no excuse. It's my fault that we did not go into the game in a better frame of mind."

Texas Tech's James Hadnot (86) bears down on Houston's Mark Foley (29) as Raiders scored 22-21 upset at Lubbock Sat-

Voters to name

cup winner

NEW YORK (AP) — In what promises to be the closest voting in several years, the winner of the 44th Heisman Trophy will be announced Tuesday. The winner will be either a running back or a quarterback.

That has been pretty much the story of the Heisman. Only two linemen — ends Larry Kelley of Yale in 1936 and Leon Hart of Notre Dame in 1949 — ever have won the award, presented annually by the Downtown Athletic Club of New York to "the outstanding college football player in the United States."

The ballots were sent out several weeks ago, the voting closes at 9 a.m. EST Tuesday, and the race appears to be close with perhaps four leading candidates.

THREE OF them were on national television over the weekend for one last glance — quarterbacks Chuck Fusina of Penn State and Rick Leach of Michigan and tailback Charles White of Southern California.

The other top candidate, halfback Billy Sims of Oklahoma, finished his regular season a week earlier as the nation's leading rusher with a school record 1,762 yards. He also leads the nation in scoring with 20 touchdowns and tied a national record with three 200-yard games in a row.

Fusina and Leach are seniors, Sims and White are juniors.

White rushed for 205 yards Saturday when Southern Cal edged Notre Dame 27-25 on a field goal with two seconds left. Already Southern Cal's top career ground-gainer as a junior, White has 1,608 yards with one regular-season game remaining, against Hawaii Saturday.

Fusina, who holds or shares 17 Penn State passing and total offense records, completed 12 of 20 passes for 107 yards against Pitt, including a key 15-yarder that helped set up the goahead touchdown with 5:02 left to play in the No.1-ranked Nittany Lions' 17-10 victory.

Lions' 11-0 mark rules grid world

By The Associated Press

With a perfect 11-0 regular season now a reality, Penn State still rules the world of college football. But there are five once-beaten national championship pretenders chomping hoping — praying? — that the Nittany Lions come up sour in the Sugar Bowl.

Top-rated Penn State came from behind with 10 points in the final 5:02 Friday and beat No.15 Pittsburgh 17-10. Runner-up Alabama and fourthranked Oklahoma were idle over the weekend - the Orange Bowl-bound Sooners have completed a 10-1 regular season - while third-ranked Southern California, No.6 Michigan and 10th-ranked Clemson were win-

Meanwhile, eighth-ranked Notre Dame's defending champions, who had been creeping up steadily in The Associated Press ratings since dropping their first two starts, bowed to Rose Bowl-bound Southern Cal 27-25 on Frank Jordan's 37-yard field goal with two seconds left. The Irish had erased a 24-6 deficit with a furious fourth-quarter rally and grabbed a 25-24 edge only 44 seconds before Jordan's field goal.

PITT COACH Jackie Sherrill cast a quick vote for Penn State as the No.1 team while Notre Dame's Dan Devine went for Southern Cal.

"Are they (Penn State) the No.1 team?" Sherrill mused when asked the question. "They're the only team in the country that's undefeated." Diplomatic, that Sherrill. But Devine had different thoughts. "I don't want to make Penn State mad," he said, "but I'd probably have to make them (USC) No.1 in the nation.' Elsewhere, Michigan made it to the Rose Bowl for the third year in a row, defeating 16th-ranked Ohio State 14-3 while Clemson's Atlantic Coast Conference champs closed out a 10-1 regutrouncing South Carolina 41-23. Besides Notre Dame, fifth-ranked Houston also dropped out of the national championship picture. The Cougars, who had won eight in a row after losing their opener, blew a chance to become Notre Dame's Cotton Bowl opponent when they were upset by Texas Tech 22-21. They will, however, get a second chance.

lar season, their best since 1948,

"We will take the conference championship any way we can get it," said Houston Coach Bill Yeoman, whose team can clinch the Southwest Con-

Day of underdog shakes up SWC

The excitement in the Jones Stadum press box at halftime Saturday was infectious. Down on the field, Texas Tech, a 10 to 14 point underdog that looked and played like something out of the Pete Cawthon era, had Houston fighting for its life.

And what was going around the rest of the Southwest Conference only served to heighten the anticipation of the moment.

People were almost giddy as they grinned and repeated in shock, li-. berally sprinkled with relish, the astounding events transpiring at such far off outposts as Waco, Dallas and College Station.

SMU had Arkansas down variously at 14-0 and 14-10. Baylor was beating the bejeebers out of some team from-Austin and in the latest precinct to report, TCU had Texas A&M down, 7-6, in the third quarter no less.

ONE VETERAN writer looked like he had been reborn. Come to think of it, he sounded like it, too. "This is the SWC I knew, grew up with and loved. Bring back Sammy Baugh.

It was the kind of day that had SWC historians ready to rummage through the musty pages of the past to find another day to equal it. It was beautiful while it last, unfortunately only Baylor slew the favorite while SMU and TCU were to succumb to superior numbers and talent.

And down on the artificial turf below, Houston was to lose its fight for its life on this particular Saturday. unfortunately the Cougars still have a life left against Rice this week. Still it rated as the season's biggest juggling of the form books this season.

It was a win that left Tech 7-3 with one game to go and an amazing 5-2 in SWC and, ridiculous as it may sound, still alive in the Cotton Bowl stakes. It also left first-year coach Rex Dockery as SWC Coach-of-the-Year, pending the formality of a ballot.

JOHNNY QUINNEY, a junior free safety from Abilene's Jim Ned, said it all in the locker room, "The freshmen like Swann, Reeves and the rest turned it around for us. They said we'd win just one conference game," and was quick to agree, "before it's over some bowl promoters may be sick." One could be the Bluebonnet, which will go without a genuine "home" team.

While the roof didn't completely collapse in the SWC, it was a day when Notre Dame staged one of its greatest comebacks in history to beat USC, only to lose when a dead ball penalty after the third TD in the USC made the most of it by passing into field goal range to win, 27-25.

OUTSIDE THE Jones Stadium press box, a roar greeted what was transpiring elsewhere around the na tion and conference as the scores were announced, the same scores that were announced in the press box a few minutes earlier. Sometimes those inside couldn't always hear the outside PA, but the biggest roar of all prompted one writer to turn to his neighbor and remark gravely, "That must be for the Colgate-Rutgers score. They can't believe a bowlbound power like Rutgers lost to Colgate.

The writer, who had just been advised of the portent of Rutgers-Colgate, happened to be Mark McDonald. a former Midland Lee footballer who now waxes poetic in isolated and remote Abilene, looked at his neighbor incredulously.

'What bowl is Rutgers going to?' he demanded in the tone of one suspecting his leg was being pulled.

"I'll give you a hint," the other tempted, "The news of the Scarlet Knights' demise should be greeted with rejoicing in Tempe, Ariz., because it gives Arizona State hope where once there was none.' "The Fiesta Bowl?" Mark fumbled like the lineman he was.

"Wrong," chirped the know-it-all. Coming up with the most absurd bowl he could think of, Mark suggested sarcastically, "What is it, the Gotham Bowl?" knowing full well that once proud post-season classic has long since been rendered null and void.

"No, but you were close. It is the Garden State Bowl."

Come to think of it, Arizona State going to New Jersey for a bowl game against Rutgers is kind of unbelievable, isn't it?

Zorn, Seahawks upset Raiders to snarl AFC West

By BRUCE LOWITT AP Sports Writer

They're starting to compare Jim Zorn to Fran Tarkenton - and with good reason. They operate the same way and produce similar results.

Zorn, a third-year quarterback for , Seattle, a third-year team, calmly directed the Seahawks from their 20yard line to the Oakland 27 in the final 21/2 minutes of play Sunday, then watched Efren Herrera's 46-yard field goal with three seconds remainiing beat the Raiders 17-16. Earlier, Zorn had thrown touchdown passes Tarkenton, Minnesota's 18-year pro, threw only one touchdown pass Sunday — but it came a timely 10 seconds from the end of regulation play. The 5-yard flip to Ahmad Rashad boosted the Vikings into a 10-10 tie with the Green Bay Packers and it stayed that way through a 15-minute overtime period.

Oakland's loss dropped the Raiders back into the other divisional firstplace tie, in the American Football Conference West. Oakland and Denver are 8-5. The Broncos lost 17-14 last Thursday at Detroit.

Herrera's kick also booted the Seahawks into the playoff picture. They are only one game behind the Raiders and Broncos. The field goal came after Ken Stabler had put Oakland ahead by two points with a 31-yard TD pass to Dave Casper. Errol Mann missed the extra point, giving Seattle the chance to win.

'Can you believe it?" Zorn exclaimed after it was mentioned that the Seahawks were wild-card contenders. "Don't forget, this is the first time we've ever been over .500." added the left-hander, who hit 23 of 44 passes for 270 yards, including five completions in the winning drive.

Seattle got the ball after stopping the Raiders on a fourth-and-1 at the Seahawks' 21 when Oakland Coach John Madden went for the first-down try rather than a possible field goal and a five-point lead.

Vikings 10, Packers 10 In the first three periods, Tarkenton completed only 5 of 15 passes for 35 yards. Two periods later, the numbers were 20 of 37 for 199 yards and, of course, the big TD pass. Just as big was the pass prior to the scoring strike. It was a 15-yarder to Sammy White at the Green Bay 5 from a a fourth-and-7 situation at the 20.

"Tarkenton is a great quarterback," said Steve Luke, a Green Bay defensive back. "No team can completely shut out Fran Tarkenton. He just found his man. He's just Tarken-

"Tarkenton has an uncanny knack of coming back," added defensive tackle Dave Roller of the Packers. 'He has a knack of getting the job done, and he has an uncanny knack of somehow winning."

Even though Minnesota didn't win, it came out of the tie better than did the Packers. If the two teams still are tied for first place at the end of the season, the Vikings would win the division title by virtue of their 21-7 victory over Green Bay Oct 22.

"The thing we had to do today was prevent a loss, and next we had to win the game," Tarkenton said. "I thought we should have won, but the tie was good for us because it hurts them.

Patriots 35, Colts 14

The Patriots knew Miami already had lost when they went out and ran roughshod over Baltimore, opening a two-game AFC East lead over the Dolphins. "I told them, 'The Jets helped us. Now we have to do our job." said Coach Chuck Fairbanks.

Stanley Morgan set up two TDs with a 37-yard punt return and a 38-yard reception, then caught a Steve Grogan pass and turned it into a 75-yard TD play.

The big news wasn't Matt Robinson's 3-yard TD pass to Wesley Walker or the short runs by Darnell Powell and Kevin Long for the other New Yoek scores. It was Miami quarterback Bob Griese's three intercepted passes and one fumble. Two of the turnovers resulted in Jets' TDs.

"You don't expect something like this to happen to Bob Griese," said Dolphins guard Larry Little, "but you can't be real surprised. Nobody can be perfect week after week."

Browns 30, Rams 19 Coach Ray Malavasi expressed a similar sentiment about his Rams. "I think it's difficult to keep a team up for 16 games. I just hope we're up for the right ones at the right time," Malavasi said after Brian Sipe's 31yard scoring pass to Reggie Rucker

Falcons 20, Saints 17 Just as on Nov.12 against Atlanta, the Saints had victory within their grasp, only to allow it to slip away. Last time it was a last-minute, 57yard play on a tipped pass from Steve Bartkowski to Alfred Jackson. This time Bartkowski hit Jim Mitchell on a 1-yarder with five seconds to go, capping a seven-play, 72-yard drive that began with only 53 seconds left. "I guess it's just not in the cards for them to beat us," Bartkowski said. "I don't look forward to playing them next year."

Bills 41, Giants 17 Terry Miller became the first runner this year to surpass 200 yards in a game, gaining 208 against the Giants. He scored touchdowns on runs of 39 and 13 yards, wrapping up a comeback that obliterated New York's 17-7 third-period lead.

Eagles 14, Cardinals 10 Philadelphia snapped St. Louis' four-game winning streak, getting touchdowns on Ron Jaworski's 22yard TD pass to Charlie Smith in the second period and Mike Hogan's 2yard plunge in the fourth period. With the victory, the Eagles pulled into a second-place tie with Washington in the NFC East. The Redskins fell one game behind Dallas on Thankgiving Day, losing 37-10 to the Cowboys.

Chiefs 23, Chargers 0 Mike Livingston's TD passes of 29 yards to Henry Marshall and 7 yards to Larry Dorsey, plus Jan Stenerud's three field goals, boosted Kansas City past the Chargers. It was the Chiefs' first shutout in five years.

Bears 14, Bucs 3 Roland Harper, with 144 yards rushing, and Walter Payton, with 105, chewed up Tampa Bay's defense, leading Chicago to victory, its second in a row after an eight-game tailspin. The Bears' defense had eight sacks of Bucs' quarterback Mike Rae.

Campbell rockets Oilers to third

HOUSTON (AP) - Earl Campbell, who has been the Houston Oilers' savior this season, became their 220pound alarm clock Sunday

The Oilers were in the midst of a nightmare rerun after being held to a minus 13 yards in the first quarter when Campbell's wake up call came through.

Campbell rushed 58 yards in the second quarter and finished the game with 122 yards as the Oilers wiped out a 10-0 deficit and went on to a 17-10 victory over Cincinnati.

The victory gave the Oilers a 9-4 record, third best in the American Football Conference, and avenged a 28-13 loss to Cincinnati earlier this season when the Oilers never woke

The Oilers, who host AFC Central Division leader Pittsburgh Sunday, now rank ahead of Miami, Denver and Oakland, all with 8-5 records, in the race for two AFC wild card playoff berths.

Campbell's 122 yards on 27 carries gave him 1,265 yards for the season and broke the National Football League rookie rushing record of 1,162 set by San Diego's Don Woods in

Campbell, as usual, had little to say about his record-setting performance. "I'm too tired to even think about any records," Campbell said. The Bengals, however, weren't shy in talking about Campbell. "He gets up real slow like he's hurt but you know you'd better not feel sorry for him," said Bengal cornerback Ken Riley.

Archie Griffin, like Campbell a former Heisman Trophy winner, said

COLLEGE QUOTEBOOK

"I thought he'd have a great season but he's developed a lot more than I expected." The Oilers, who had to rally seven times in the second half to win their first eight games, fell behind Cincinnati 10-0 early in the second quarter on a seven-yard pass from Ken Anderson to Don Bass in the end zone and Chris Bahr's 34-yard field goal.

Houston then erupted. They drove to Cincinnati's 12, aided by Campbell runs of nine, 17 and 10 yards before Riley intercepted a pas at the Bengal eight to kill the drive.

The Oilers got the ball back and drove 63 yards with Campbell rushing 22 yards to set up Ronnie Coleman's four-yard touchdown run, his first of the season.

Moments later Guido Merkens returned a punt to the Cincinnati 47 and on the first play, Oiler quar-terback Dan Pastorini hit Rich Caster in the end zone with the go-ahead touchdown. Tony Fritsch had a 38yard field goal for Houston in the third quarter.

"I pumped once to freeze the free safety and hit him on the play action," Pastorini said.

The Bengals, now 1-12, were in cold storage the rest of the game, spoiling a homecoming for Coach Homer Rice, a former head coach and athletic director at Rice Univer-

"The two key plays were the punt which they returned to midfield after we thought we had them bottled up and Pastorini's pass to Caster," Rice said, "We had two men hanging all over him.

Cotton, Sugar bowls still wait on hosts ference title with a victory or tie against 2-8 Rice next week. But if Houston loses and Texas Tech beats Arkansas, the surprising Red Raiders, overlooked all season, will wind up as the Cotton Bowl hosts.

MEANWHILE, PENN State will have to wait until Saturday to learn if there really will be a 1-2 national championship shootout in the Sugar Bowl. Alabama must beat Auburn Saturday to become the host team in New Orleans while a loss or a tie would send the Crimson Tide to the Bluebonnet Bowl and put No.12 Georgia into the Sugar.

Although Michigan held Ohio State without a touchdown for the third year in a row, the only reason the Wolverines are going to the Rose Bowl is that 14th-ranked Michigan State, which tied for the Big Ten crown, defeated Michigan in October and drubbed Iowa 42-7 Saturday, is on probation and can't make the trip. Ohio State will meet Clemson in the Gator Bowl.

Meanwhile, 11th-ranked Arkansas, headed for a Fiesta Bowl date with UCLA, overcame a 14-0 first-period deficit and beat Southern Methodist 27-14. The only other member of The AP Top Twenty to play over the weekend was No.18 Purdue, which recaptured the Old Oaken Bucket, beating Indiana 20-7 and will meet Georgia Tech in the Peach Bowl.

ELSEWHERE, RUTGERS, the host team in the new Garden State Bowl, was upset by Colgate 14-9; Arizona State, the visiting team in the Garden State Bowl, edged Arizona

18-17; Liberty Bowl-bound Louisiana State whipped Tulane 40-21; North Carolina State, Pitt's Tangerine Bowl foe, shaded Virginia 24-21; Texas A&M, headed for the Hall of Fame Bowl, shaded Texas Christian 15-7, and Holiday Bowl host Brigham Young downed Hawaii 31-13.

MICHIGAN FELL behind Ohio State 3-0, then rallied to gain the Rose Bowl spot on Rick Leach's 30-yard touchdown toss to Rodney Feaster and an 11-yard scoring swing pass to Roosevelt Smith.

Elsewhere: -LSU's Charles Alexander rushed for 155 yards against Tulane, setting a Southeastern Conference career two cage tilts mark with 3,980.

Baylor took advantage of nine Texas turnovers — three fumbles, six interceptions - and whipped the Longhorns behind new quarterback Mickey Elam.

Ron Calcagni scored one touchdown and passed for another, fueling Arkansas' rally against SMU. Ed Smith. threw three scoring passes and Steve Smith ran for a pair of touchdowns as Michigan State whipped Iowa. Short touchdown runs by Ben McCall and Wally Jones helped Purdue hold off Lester Brown rushed for 121 yards, Steve Fuller gained 108 and Marvin Sims added 104 - and Brown scored three times - leading Clemson past arch-rival South Carolina. Carolina Coach Jim Carlen called the Tigers "the best team we've played this season, with no reservations." Ironically, Carolina beat Georgia, which handed Clemson its only setback.

Houston tied Texas Tech 14-14 on a 4-yard TD pass from Danny Davis to Garrett Jurgajtis in the second period, then went ahead 21-14 on Randy Love's 1-yard plunge in the third quarter. However, Tech scored with 3: 40 left in the game when freshman quarterback Ron Reeves' 1-yard sneak capped a six-play, 87-yard

Lee girls split

EL PASO---The Midland Lee girls basketball team split a pair of games here over the weekend, losing to Parkland, 41-35 on Friday night, but coming back to post a 65-47 victory over Ysleta on Saturday night.

Deborah Kittle was the only Lee girl in the double figures in Friday's loss to Parkland as the Rebels only managed to hit five free throws while Parkland was cashing in on 15 free

In Saturday night's game, Dee Dee Poole and Wilson scored 11 and 15 points respectively for Lee which now stands 2-2 on the year after trips to Dallas and the Broder City.

Lee travels to Slaton on Thursday and then competes in the Amarillo Tourney on Friday and Saturday before finally coming home to play its first home game of the season, Dec. 4 against Lake View.

"I'm still proud of our club," said new Coach Dick Walters after Saturday's 70-58 loss at Southern Illinois.

The Aces' 1978 home debut will be Wednesday night against DePaul.
