The hard-packed ice that has accumulated on Lubbock streets the past week should soften today, making travel to and from school and work less of a headache for city residents.

With Lubbock temperatures expected to reach the mid-30s today and then climb to near 50 Tuesday and Wednesday, activity may resume a lively pace following the hibernating effect of last weekend's weather conditions.

Another arctic cold front is anticipated to invade the South Plains area Wednesday night or early Thursday, said a Na-

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Supreme Court, indicating it may want to clarify a 1977 ruling, today granted hearings to ed-ucation officials in Columbus and Day-ton, Ohio, who are fighting systemwide school desegregation orders.

Its action on the Ohio cases, which are expected to be argued jointly this spring, will be closely watched by civil rights groups and other school systems.

When the case was returned to lower courts, the presiding judge diamined the desegregation suit against the city, but the 6th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals reversed his decision hat July.

The appeals court said the school board had failed to show its policies were racially neutral prior to the Supreme Court's 1954 Brown us. Board of Education ruling, and said Dayton officials had "committed affirmative acts that exacerbated the existing racial segregation" in the past 24 years.

That court ordered schools to open for a third year in 1978-79 under an old desegregation plan, originally approved in 1976, requiring busing of 13,000 of the school district's 37,000 students.

In the Columbus case, a federal judge also ordered a systemwide remedy, requiring reassignment of 42,000 children, including 37,000 who would have to be bused, and alteration of the grade structures of elementary schools.

The 6th Circuit affirmed the orders last July 14.

TEHRAN, Iran (AP) - Sporadic rioting broke out in Tehran today as Iran observed a second day of mourning for the hundreds killed in the past year of demonstrations against Shah Mohammad Reza Pahlavi.

Four persons were reported killed Sunday, the first day of the two-day mourning period, in riots in Tehran and six other cities. One man was reported wounded by police gunfire in Tehran today. Hundreds of demonstrators roamed through midtown Tehran in small roups, shouting "Down with the shah!" Mobile troops with riot gear moved quickly to disperse the groups as soon as

Thousands of mourners gathered at Tehran's main cemetery, and the military kept out of sight there.

In the holy city of Qom, 98 miles south of the capital, 100,000 persons marched through the streets, but no violence was reported.

Commerce, disrupted by strikes and a nationwide fuel shortage, was at a standstill for the second straight day.

Hundreds of protesters demanding the shah's abdication set fires and smashed windows Sunday in Tehran. Military police scattered the mobs with tear gas and gunfire, and one person was killed. The capital had enjoyed comparative calm for the previous four days while Prime Minister Shahpour Bakhtiar's new government was installed. Youths in Tehran shouted a new slogan today, "Bakhtiar strike," apparently a call for a strike to protest the new prime minister's three-day-old government.

Riots also were reported in Qom, Ta-briz, Hamadan, Baneh, Abadan and Khorramshahr. Pars, the official news agency, said a policeman was killed in Hamadan, and two demonstrators were killed in Baneh.

The mourning period was called to commemorate the estimated 1,500 persons who have died in the past year of violent opposition to the shah's authoritarian rule and his Westernization program which religious leaders charge under-mines the country's Islamic traditions. An aide to Bakhtiar said the new prime minister expects demonstrations against the shah and the new government to continue until the ruler leaves the country on the vacation Bakhtiar has said he would take, and until "Bakhtiar starts showing the people what his government can do."

The new prime minister and his cabinet of civilians was installed by the shah Saturday, replacing a two-month-old military government.

Agency Reorganization Decision Awaiting Return Of President

President Carter's return from Guadeoupe Tuesday is the decision on reorganizing — and changing the names of — the Departments of Interior, Agriculture, Commerce and Housing and Urban De-

Recommendations on the future of those departments reported have caused fierce fighting within the part of the bu-reaucracy that is affected, but now are due to be submitted when the Carters get back from their two-day post-summit va-cation on the Caribbean island.

Aides said the president's reorganization decisions will be included in his State of the Union address later this

The proposed name changes would be designed to reflect more closely the tasks these departments perform.

If Carter accepts the recommendations, the proposed name changes would more closely reflect the tasks the departments perform. Interior would become Natural Resources; Housing and Urban Development would change to Develop-ment Assistance; Commerce would be Trade, Technology and Industry; and Ag-riculture would become Food and Agri-

Sources familiar with the reco tions say Commerce would lose the most in the reshuffle of responsibilities, but the survival of the department would be something of a victory since many in the administration advocated dismantling it

Under a proposal expected to win presidential favor, Commerce would lose control of the Economic Development Administration and the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration, which would go to Development Assistance and Natural Resources respectively.

And Commerce's National Marine Fisheries Service would be placed under Food and Agriculture.

Commerce Secretary Juanita Kreps has been battling fiercely to stop the losses, and apparently her struggle had a major role in salvaging the department.

Under the other proposed changes:

—Interior would take the Forest Service from Agriculture, as well as that department's duties for water projects planning, whie losing the construction re-sponsibilities of the Bureau of Reclama-

-HUD would pick up the economic development programs of the Community Services Administration, the Small BusiHome Loan Administration without losing any of its existing duties would be re-

-Agriculture would assume a larger role in nutrition and consumer affairs and maintain its current involvement in producing farm goods. The Forest Service and portions of the Farmers Home Loan Administration would be its only

-Commerce would take over the Office of Special Representative for Trade Negotiations, which never comfortably fit in its current White House slot. Also, the Import-Export Bank and International Trade Commission would be moved into the agency's structure.

the cost of generating unfavorable publicity, the Democratic National Committee late last year sought a special exemption from the federal law governing campaign financ-

That statute limits individuals to yearly contributions of $1,000 to each candidate, $5,000 to each multi-candidate political action committee and $20,000 to the national committees of political parties.

In addition, individual donors may give no more than $25,000 annually to all candidates and committees involved in contests for federal office, e.g., seats in Congress.

BUT BECAUSE most of the DNC debt was incurred in connection with the 1968 presidential campaign, before the current law was passed, the Federal Election Commission waived the contribution limitations for the Democrats.

With authority to solicit unlimited amounts throughout most of 1978, the Democrats collected only slightly more than $250,000, leaving a deficit of approximately $1.4 million to be paid before fund-raising begins in earnest for the 1980 presidential and congressional campaigns.

The names of the major donors to the special debt-retirement fund have not been previously published, but a list of the so-called fat cats of American politics includes:

LEW WASSERMAN, the Beverly Hills, Calif., board chairman of MCA, Inc., a major entertainment conglomerate-and, at $100,000, by far the most generous contribu-

Richard O'Neill, a Mission Vejo, Calif., investor, and John McMillian, the Salt Lake City, Utah, board chairman of the Northwest Pipeline Co., the firm planning to build a gas pipeline from Alaska to the lower 48 states-a mere $25,000 each.

Entertainer Helen Reddy and her husband, Jeff Wald, gave $10,000; and the Communication Workers of America matched that plus an extra $40,000 in pledges.

The Democrats' inability to move more rapidly in eliminating their debt can be attributed at least in part to the reluctance of wealthy donors to be publicly identified at a time when the spirit of reform has made fat cats more unpopular than ever.

China 'Merger' Bodes Us Ill

WASHINGTON-To fully comprehend the far-reaching significance of President Carter's China moves, one must view them in a much wider context than the administration's policy of accommodating Communist China.

The diplomatic recognition of Peking and the breaking of diplomatic and military ties with the Republic of Free China on Taiwan are an integral part of a grand foreign policy design for the merging of the Communist and free world political and economic systems by the mid-1980s.

Developed during the Kennedy administration by McGeorge Bundy and Dr. Walt Rostow, foreign policy advisers to the President, and "refined" during the Nixon administration under Secretary of State Henry Kissinger, this "merger of the systems" strategy has dominated U.S. policy-making for the past 18 years with disastrous

THROUGH TIGHTLY controlled conflicts establishing conditions for change, the strategy has produced the great U.S. strategic retreat throughout the world with the loss of U.S. prestige and

In this wider foreign policy context, the Carter administration's switch from backing free China to supporting Communist China was a predicta-ble occurrence because of the roadblock that the free and economically booming Taiwan presented to the merging strategy.

As the number one success story of U.S. aid and security programs in Asia, Taiwan with its 17

With a steel and shipbuilding industrial complex second only to Japan in the Far East, the 17 million Chinese on Taiwan are currently producing more for export than the 750 million on the mainland—a living example of what free men can

UNDER THE "merging of the systems" policy as now being carried out under the direction of Zbigniew Brezinski, President Carter's National Security Adviser, the U.S. policy is to gradually move the Republic of Free China into a merger relationship with Peking.

The objective is to use Taiwan's industrial miracle to help build a "modern and new socialist society" on the Chinese mainland and bring the Communist giant into the merger concept of history, according to government insiders.

By recognizing that Taiwan is part of China and that Peking is the sole government of China, the Carter administration on Jan. 1 set the stage for the gradual implementation of this "merger poli-The ending of the U.S. Mutual Security Treaty

Instead, the U.S. switch on China is expected to make the island bastion of Taiwan an open target of both Moscow and Peking.

Located across Japan's oil-line from the Middle East, Taiwan is strategically placed to dominate the sealanes of the Western Pacific and the southern coast of Asia. Soviet leaders know this and are expected to move swiftly to take advantage of the withdrawal of U.S. diplomatic and military protection of Tai-

The basic theory of this "merging of the systems" policy is that the West, especially the U.S., through the use of huge credits, loans, trade and gifts of industrial know-how will be able to influence both Communist China and the Soviet Union to eventually accept the merger concept.

THIS IN TURN will prevent a full Communist takeover in the world.

What this policy doesn't take into account is that neither the rulers of the Kremlin or Peking have changed their views that the whole world should be Communist and that they should domi-

The brave people of Taiwan are to be the next victims of this policy unless Congress and the American people decide to bring it to an end.

Life In The Shadow Of LBJ

WASHINGTON-When a telephone call began, minus salutation or introduction, with the lazy, twangy, friendly prelude, "Wha'da 'ya know?", I did not doubt that one of God's shrewdest, zaniest, most loveable creatures was in confab.

It had to be the crippled genius, the uncomplaining invalid, the mother's victim and brother's brainpiece, one of the world's unspurred Napoleons and an untethered comet of uneducated political savviness on the loose.

It had to be don't-give-a-damn Sam Houston Johnson, the Rafael Sabatini character of whom was written: "Born with the gift of laughter, and a sense that the world was mad, and that was his only patrimony.

Sam was far away from another younger Presidential brother, Bob Kennedy, whom an obsessed parent made use of to mastermind the favorite family son to the seat of the most powerful

One of his phone calls reached me the day Lyndon died, or the day after, when they were fixing to bury him in the family graveyard back at the

The cost of replacing the heating, ventilating and air conditioning systems alone has shot up 109 percent; kitchen fixtures have soared 90.3 percent; foundations and framing have skyrocket-

ITEM: Also in 1974 (a mere five years ago) a two-story brickrow house in Pennsylvania was hit by $13,989 in damage because of an oil furnace

Repairing it now would cost more than $18,360 -with the underinsured owner being forced to bear more than $4,600 of the repair bill.

ITEM: ALSO five years ago, a fire badly damaged a three-story frame and asbestos shingle dwelling in San Francisco.

The repairs that would have cost $34,849 in 1974 now would run to more than $48,660—with millwork up 70 percent in this short span, glass and glazing up 62 percent, painting up 50 percent, etc. Enough of these horror stories; I have made my point. We have now entered the months of the worst home fires of the entire year-and if you're not adequately insured against what could be the worst personal-financial tragedy of your life, this disaster could literally bankrupt your family as well. Sure, the upsurge in housing prices has put up the value of your home to one new high after another. Sure, the cost of constructing a house in an average community has rocketed 37 to 40 percent in just these few years.

BUT, AS A homeowner, are you really as much ahead of the inflation spiral as you think?

Do you know what your home would cost to replace if it was seriously damaged or even destroyed by fire or another catastrophe in these months? Have you checked your insurance cover-

Are you among the 50 percent of homeowners in the U.S. who are actually underinsured, according to conservative estimates by the Insurance Information Institute of New York?

I have a house in exurbia which recently was reappraised (to my horror as a taxpayer and awe as a long-time owner)—and now as this new year begins and the danger of home fires becomes acute, I am painfully aware that my insurance once again is out-of-date.

IF THIS IS true in the case of an individual so sensitive to the subject as I am, what about you? Are you aware that if you built a house at $40,-000 only five years ago, it would cost you at least $55,000 (and probably more) just to replace to-

Bumper sticker: "Firemen Are Always In

Five-year-old, after her first spanking: "I guess the honeymoon is over."

When building materials increase in price, this drives up the cost of insurance. * Ordinarily, on a partial loss you are paid after depreciation is deducted. But if your house is insured for 80 percent or more of its replacement value, your losses are settled on the basis of replacement cost without regard for depreciation.

Replacement cost is simply the cost of constructing a new dwelling of the same size and quality as your old house.

* After you have found out today's replacement value of your home (and don't wait!) to make sure that you will be repaid in full for any partial insured loss, bring your insurance coverage up to at least 80 percent of that value.

To suggest what has happened to replacement costs, here are some individual price increases on essentials going into any damaged or destroyed house between 1974 and 1979 (based on four actual claims in California, Illinois, Pennsylvania, Washington).

PLUMBING AND Heating: Increases ranging to 100 percent;

Electricity: Increases ranging to 100 percent: Flooring: Up to 30 percent, and hardware floors, up to 79.2 percent; Roofing, Roof Sheathing, Scaffolding and Roof

Framing: Up to 71.4 percent: Removing Debris: Up to 60 percent: Glass and Glazing: Up to 62 percent.

The grand totals of the increases on four houses range from 31.3 percent to 32 percent to 39 percent to 52 percent.

If merely reading this report has made you feel uneasy, I will have accomplished my purpose -and perhaps saved you immeasurable agony, personally and financially.

So What If Shah Overthrown?

WASHINGTON-In the day-to-day crisis report-ing on the events in Iran there has been a tendency to overlook the larger questions, e.g., Does it really matter if the shah is overthrown? So what if a pro-Soviet or an anti-U.S. regime does come to power in Iran? Ian Grieg, deputy director of the London-based Foreign Affairs Research, thinks it does matter what happens in Ir-

He says that what's happening there "clearly carries with it the risk of developments which could threaten the entire world balance of power and the economies of many different countries on a scale which could...dwarf other current events on the international scene almost into insignific-

GRIEG NOTES that not only is Iran itself a major supplier of oil to the United States, Western Europe, Japan, Israel and South Africa but, together with Oman, it controls the straits of Hormuz at the entrance to the Persian Gulf.

Through these straits, giant tankers bring altogether 70 percent of Western Europe's imported oil and a steadily increasing percentage of U.S. supplies which, by the 1980s, could reach a figure as high as 60 percent. Grieg writes:

"In recent years, the Iranian government has also embarked upon a program of major expansion which, when completed, will make a very significant contribution to the maritime balance in an area in which the sole permanent Western naval presence consists of one squadron of three esence consists of one squadron of three erican vessels."

WHILE THERE may be some doubt in the In addition to the internal espionage being com-West as regards the strategic importance of Iran, there is no such division of opinion in the Soviet

The evidence is mounting that clandestine serv ices under Soviet control have been working hard in some cases for years to bring about the col-lapse of the pro-Western regime of the shah.

A study by Robert Moss, "The Campaign to Destabilize Iran," states that there exists in Tehran a school of thought which believes that the current upheavals in Iran are due in some measure to rising Soviet anger at the pro-Western policy and actions of the shah.

Moss quotes a senior member of the Soviet Embassy staff in Tehran as saying: "We defeated the U.S. in Vietnam. We will not tolerate arrogance from an American puppet with which we INDEED, THE Soviets do not appear to be tol-erating such "arrogance." He points out that the presence of about 4,000 Soviet technicians of various kinds in the country provides ample oppor-tunity for such agents to find suitable cover. In 1977, this problem was dramatically highlighted when Iran's deputy chief of army planning and logistics was arrested on charges of being a Soviet agent. He was tried and executed.

By November an estimated 500 illegal Afghan immigrants were in Iran, their appearance and dialects in most cases being indistinguishable from Iranians.

Moss believes that the survival of a strong Iran under a government that is prepared if necessary to help in the defense of neighboring states against communist aggression must surely be "the linchpin of any realistic Western strategy for the containment of Soviet expansion in the area.'

SO HOW DID the U.S. get in a position where we must stand by able to do nothing more than wring our hands while Iran is on the brink of a civil war which could bring a hostile government to power? In Ian Grieg's opinion: The fact that the West nowadays seems to be so often in the position of merely attempting to catch up with events is probably due in part to the damage done to Western intelligence services by the witch hunt against them by sections of the

"It is clearly damage that must be repaired at once if there is to be any hope for the emergence of a constructive Western strategy to meet the dangers of a steadily worsening international situ-ation, now centered in the Persian Gulf region."

"Doctors were coming to treat patients as there had been significant medical inroads, but the victims rarely saw anyone else, dashing for the few dwellings when even a friendly stranger approached. It took several months before they no longer were afraid of me," the white-haired missionary recalled.

Space Official Delivers New Solar Plan

HOUSTON (UPI) - In a new approach to converting sunlight to electricity, a space agency engineer suggests placing hundreds of mirrors in orbit to reflect sunlight day and night to a network of ground collectors.

The orbiting mirrors would keep a dozen or more spots several miles wide around the world basking nearly continuously in "high noon desert sunlight.

A vast array of solar cells, which convert sunlight directly into electricity, or other conversion devices would be able to generate enough electricity at one location to equal the output of several nuclear power plants.

The idea was presented Thursday to a meeting of the American Association for the Advancement of Science by Kenneth W. Billman of the Ames Research Center in Mountain View, Calif.

Although their main job would be to provide sunlight for power generation, Billman said in an emergency a few of the mirrors could illuminate large areas at night for frost prevention or perhaps snow removal.

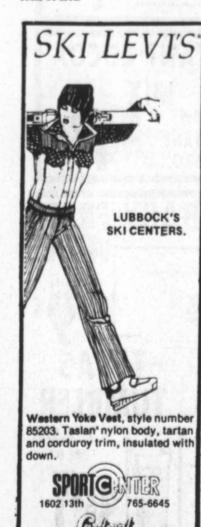

Billman and his colleagues call the concept Solares. It is only in the preliminary study stage but Billman said two years of analysis suggest such a system "could supply energy at costs competitive to the fossil and nuclear alternatives.

One of the big potential problems would be environmental effects, particularly unwanted weather modification. But Billman said such a system would not create the pollution associated with mining, transporting and burning fossil

The idea is a departure from the oftendiscussed proposal to station large solar collectors in orbit to generate electricity there and then beam the power to Earth. The reflector concept would keep the conversion equipment on the ground.

Its initial cost would be high, Billman said. He estimated a typical small size system would cost about $150 billion for the space equipment and $20 billion for each ground plant that would convert the radiation into 40 billion watts of electricity. As many as 12 ground conversion sites

Many did die before drugs were availa-ble to arrest the disease. The victims living there when Father Nicosia arrived eventually realized they were doubly fortunate, thanks to Western medicine and the dedication of the priest, who intended to live out his life with them.

The village with its carefully tended gardens, clean white residences for men and women, modern hospital, church and friendly occupants going about their jobs is an ongoing testament to Father Nicosia's success.

Treatment with drugs from the United States has resulted in such improvement that most of the 100 lepers living in the settlement are recovered and non-contagious. They could move out but don't, be-cause scars, shortened fingers and crippled limbs make them fearful of coping in a world which only holds memories of rejection. Contagious cases are kept at the hospital staffed by nurses and doc-

"Unfortunately leprosy still carries the old stigmas among many Chinese," Father Nicosia said. Although it is quickly diagnosed and can be treated in Hong Kong or mainland Macao hospitals, frightened parents often prefer to send their sons and daughters to the priest.

While those who want to stay because of the obvious physical ravages of the disease are allowed to, unblemished young men and women are encouraged to rejoin society, and even are trained for a job. The wide range of abilities of the villagers has enabled the community, once government, to become self-sufficient

Mechanics such as Lucas Chan-kau, 50, take care of the cars which villagers and the priest use to drive back and forth to the mainland, only 20 minutes away via the Coloane-Macao bridge.

Discovering he was a leper at 20, Lucas said that while he "could not cope outside after so many years and scars, the best thing I can do it service there who best thing I can do is equip those who will never experience the ostracism I did with a trade they can use."

Farmers raise crops, poultry and pigs, fishermen pick the most popular selections from their abundant catches and the women work on the elaborate gardens, clean and cook. The village has its own power generator and fresh water

He says there are about 400 of his men deployed along the border, but independent military sources say the number of troops is closer to 2,500, or a third of the National Guard. Guerrilla strength is placed at 320.

Comandante Bravo's troops lead Somo-za's fight to prevent a takeover of south-ern Nicaragua by guerrillas of the Sand-inista National Liberation Front (FSLN), now involved in a virtual "holy war" to overthrow the Nicaraguan president.

Some military analysts believe the guerrillas may be trying to seize the province to establish a provisional government in a liberated zone. Guerrilla communiques abroad refer to the region as the "southern front", opened in October when the Sandinistas reportedly began to infiltrate the region from their suspected summer training camps in neighboring Costa Rica. A top FSLN leader, Tomas Borge, told reporters in another country recently Tension in the region increased sharply by year's end when Somoza sealed the border indefinitely and threatened retal-latory raids into Costa Rica to strike at guerrilla bases. Analysts believe that if the invasion comes it could develop into a major Central American war.

WASHINGTON (AP) - Government income statistics do not accurately reflect the impact of inflation on the average incomes of residents around the nation, according to an economic research

The National Center for Economic Alternatives said Sunday that, for example, the Census Bureau points to Alaska, Connecticut and New Jersey as having the highest per capita incomes in the United States in 1977.

However, when prices are taken into account, Alaska ranks 20th, Connecticut 7th and New Jersey 16th, the center said.

The group's figures show the highest average incomes in terms of purchasing power are earned, in order, by residents of Nevada, Delaware and Wyoming.

"Everyone knows how well off you are depends not only on the money you earn but also on the prices you pay," said Gar Alperovitz, co-director of the center. Government income statistics do not take account of the cost of heating your home in South Dakota or buying food in Maine," he added.

The center is a liberal organization seeking government action to hold down the costs of basic necessities, such as food, housing and medical costs. It has criticized the government's inflation policy and blamed some of the inflation problem on lack of business competition.

The group, which is funded by various foundations, including the Rockefeller Foundation, tries to find alternatives to

Drivers Return License Plates

DAVENPORT, Iowa (UPI) - About 100 people have turned their automobile license plates back into the Scott County courthouse in the last month because they don't like the three-letter prefix GAY

State Department of Transportation officials issued 1.000 licenses with that combination this year - mostly in eastern Iowa.

The returnees in Scott County were upset because "gay" is a synonym for homosexual, officials said.

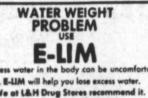

Among the people who returned their plates was one man who said two men in Chicago kicked the sides of his car after seeing his GAY plates.

"He thought that if they were going to cause that kind of reaction he'd better return them," said assistant treasurer Henry Farber.

The uproar has even caused state officials to consider eliminating the prefix when new plates go on sale in six years.

The state's plates traditionally include three letters and three numerals, but most of the potentially offensive combinations were not used.

Scott County treasurer William Cusack said he couldn't understand the decision to use GAY, when the state already had ruled out GAG. GAT and GEE prefixes the country, in 1977. But after prices are accounted for, New York ranks 27th. with an adjusted per capita income of €6,696, the report said.

Massachusetts dropped from 14th to 37th and the other New England states also declined, it said,

The group said it took the government's state figures on per capita income and adjusted them to account for estimated living costs in each state. It measured comparative prices but not price increases.

There are no state-by-state figures published on prices, but the center estimated them by taking average costs in major cities in each state. It also figured out the rural-urban composition of the state and what its spending habits are likely to be. Government officials said it can be difficult to adjust their figures for living costs because people spend their money on different products in each state.

For instance, the price of heating fuel would be more important in Alaska and Maine than in Florida, they said.

A DAILY MESSAGE FROM

Luke 8:22-29, The Living Bible

22 One day about that time, when He and His disciples were in a boat, He said, "Let's go across to the other side of the lake."

23 On the way He lay down for a nap, and while He was sleeping, the wind began to rise. A fierce storm developed that threatened to swamp them, and they were in real danger.

24 They went over and woke Him up, screaming, "Master, Master, we are sinking!" He woke up and told the storm, "Quiet down," and wind and waves subsided, and all was calm!

25 Then He asked them, "Where is your faith?" And they were filled with awe and fear of Him and said to one another, "Who is this man, that even the winds and waves obey Him?"

26 So they arrived at the other side, in the Gerasene country across the lake from Galilee.

27 As He was climbing out of the boat, a man from the city of Gadara came to meet Him. This man had been demon-possessed for a long time. Homeless and naked, he lived in a cemetery among the tombs.

28 As soon as he saw Jesus, he shricked and fell down before Him, screaming, "What do You want with me, Jesus, Son of God Most High? Please, I beg You, oh, don't torment me!"

29 For Jesus was already commanding the demon to leave him. This demon had often taken control of the man, so that even when he was shackled with chains, he simply broke them apart and rushed out into the desert, completely controlled by the demon.

Area Farmers To Meet Here Before Joining Tractorcade

Farm tractors, a familiar sight in Lubbock last winter, will return to the city Friday as area American Agriculture Movement farmers meet at the civic center to prepare for a nationwide tractorcade to Washington, D.C.

Tractors from an area stretching from Plainview south to Ropesville will gather here to "get the tractors ready to head out to Big Spring," according to Marvin Meek, one of the "wagonmasters" for the trek. district

Meek said he has no estimate of the number of tractors that will participate, but said he expects "maybe 50."
The tractors are scheduled to leave the civic center Saturday morning for Big Spring, he said. Plans for the national tractorcade were made Sunday in Amarillo by American Agriculture Movement delegates from 15 The number of tractors that will begin travel along interstate highways toward Washington on Jan. 15 has not been determined, said Gerald McCathern of Hereford, planner of the organizational meeting.

But once the tractors arrive at the Capitol around Feb. 2, he said, he expects as many farmers as last year when an estimated 40,000 to 50,000 clogged Washington streets.

Cooperation from Washington-area pol-Stratford, a member of American Agriculture's lobbying staff in Washington. The parade permit is expected to be granted on Feb. 1, he said.

The group of about 100 heard an Atlanta University professor explain how farmers should seek support from city dwellers for higher agricultural prices.

George Harris, Princeton Universityeducated professor of social work, said farmers needed backing from urban areas if they were to achieve their goals.

"Come to the cities to scare us and you lose," Harris said. "We're already scared to death.

He cited fears from nuclear war and the problems of high costs of living in cities as reasons that could turn city dwellers against farmers. If you take it to the American people that the issue is only 100 percent of parity - an economic issue - you'll be per-ceived as being just another group looking for the government to bail you out." he said. Instead, Harris said, farmers need to explain that the quality of rural life is threatened by the loss of farm profits. Harris told reporters he first became interested in the American Agriculture

Movement last year when a tractorcade came to Atlanta and he saw that the only political leader in Georgia interested in the farmers' cause was Atlanta Mayor Maynard Jackson. Harris, who researched rural poverty for four years, said the problems of the rural poor are growing and failure by American Agriculture to boost farm income will boost the numbers of those on "The poor wind up in cities," he said. There's no plan to help people stay in the countryside. Farmers are hoping their lobbying efforts will influence Congress to raise current loan levels to 90 percent of parity, and then to 100 percent of parity in the next farm bill. Parity is a measure of farm prices compared to industrial prices. Farmers also are seeking to curb imported beef and label imported meat with its point of origin; draw crop land limit importation of raw and processed agricultural commodities to a level that will not interfere with 100 percent of par-

Tractors tentatively are scheduled to leave from seven cities, including Amarillo, on Jan. 15 for the nation's capital. Proposed routes travel along interstate highways.

Stops are planned about every 100 miles.

Alvin Jenkins, a delegate from Campo, Colo., told the group that while the U.S. Department of Agriculture brags that farm income rose by 20 percent last year. it says little about an estimated 44 percent net loss in profits because of increased costs.

Total farm debt now stands at $139 billion, Jenkins said, which includes land mortgages and equipment - supply debts.

According to agriculture department figures, debt of farmers nationwide for equipment and supplies has risen from $46 million in 1977 to an estimated $55.4 million last year.

McCathern compared the timing of the demonstrations to the way the American Revolutionary War was fought. Winter soldiers fought the war and returned to farming in the spring, he said.

Farmers demonstrate in winter, instead of during the spring planting and summer harvesting seasons, because a quit operations for the full year, McCath-

RACCOON CAUGHT IN ACT

WASHINGTON (AP) - Police in suburban Fairfax County say a four-day stakeout at a doctor's office paid off Sunday when they apprehended a raccoon. Police had staked out the third-floor office since Wednesday night following com-plaints of vandalism.

Because of government regulations that set crop allotments on the basis of past planting records, he said, farmers hesitate to stop for a full year in order to protect their allotments in the future.

Delegates at Sunday's meeting came from Louisiana, Mississippi, Georgia, Texas, Oklahoma, Kansas, Missouri, Nebraska, Illinois, Ohio, New Mexico, Colorado, Virginia, Montana, and South Da-

GOSIER, Guadeloupe (AP) — President Carter jogged, went fishing and scuba diving and attended a shipboard party given by British Prime Minister James Callaghan as he vacationed briefly with his wife and daughter on this French Caribbean island.

The Carters were staying on until Tuesday after the president's summit meeting with his three chief European allies—Callaghan, French President Valery Giscard d'Estaing and West German Chancellor Heimut Schmidt.

Returning from a seven-hour boating expedition that featured fishing and scuba diving. Carter declined to comment on the reports that Vietnamese troops were making huge gains into Cambodia in support of a rebel Communist movement.

dent told reporters. Asked what he had heard about the situation, Carter instinctively reverted to the nomenclature of the Vietnam War, replying: "Only just that the Viet Cong have taken Phnom Penh."

The president's national security adviser, Zbigniew Brzezinski, also declined to comment on the Cambodian situation. But he recalled privately that several months ago he predicted a proxy war between the Soviet Union and China with Hanoi fighting for Moscow and Panom Penh standing in for Peking.

The president began his Sunday with a 6:30 a.m. jogging expedition. In the even-ing he attended a reception given by Callaghan aboard the frigate Scylla.

The two-day summit ended Saturday with the four leaders insisting that their views on the world's problems were harmonious and agreeing that the West's new links with China should not be an obstacle to dealing with the Russians.

"We found no divergence among us," said Giscard, playing down differences of opinion over arms sales to China and sup-port for Shah Mohammad Reza Pahlavi

"Because of the almost unprece harmony that exists among us," Carter told reporters, "I have never attended a conference that was more beneficial to me nor more substantive in nature."

Laetrile Hearing Resumes

PLYMOUTH, Mass. (AP) - A young couple are renewing their legal efforts to win the right to give Laetrile to their leukemia-stricken, 3-year-old son.

Gerald and Diana Green of Scituate say that beginning today they will present a series of expert witnesses defending Lae trile's value as part of the metabolic therapy they want for their son, Chad, who is now undergoing chemotherapy as a ward of the state.

But Assistant Attorney General Jonathan Brandt, representing the state Welfare Department, says he will present evidence on Laetrile's side effects, as well as experts prepared to testify that only chemotherapy will save Chad's life.

It was the chemotherapy argument that led to Superior Court Judge Guy Volterra's April 18 ruling ordering the treatments and making Chad a ward of the state. Today's court appearance was the third time within a year that the Greens have tried to overturn Volterra's ruling.

Volterra was to hear the appeal behind closed doors under a provision calling for review of his initial decision after six

Chad already receives Laetrile and a special diet from his parents - with whom he lives - in addition to the courtordered chemotherapy from Massachusetts General Hospital and a public health nurse in their home town.

Mrs. Green said that Chad weighs 32 pounds, is 371/4 inches tall and is coming along well on both chemotherapy and his diet, which includes enzymes, vitamins, minerals, raw juices and goat's milk.

George Donovan, lawyer for the Greens, said the effectiveness of Laetrile was actually on trial in the case. The Greens argue that metabolic therapy, including the use of Laetrile and a special diet, is as effective as the chemotherapy in arresting leukemia and that they have the right to choose their son's The Greens contend that chemothera-

Advocates of Laetrile, a substance extracted from apricot and peach pits, maintain that it is a cancer cure. But the U.S. Food and Drug Administration has banned its interstate tranport, saying there is no proof of its value in treating

The Greens planned to present at leas four pro-Laetrile witnesses, including Dr Ernesto Contreros, a Harvard-educatec physician who has treated patients with Laetrile at his clinic in Tijuana, Mexico.

County commissioners this morning unanimously approved the appointment of Janice Choate as Lubbock's new county home economics agent. Mrs. Choate will fill the position vacated by Mildred Patterson, who today officially announced her retirement effective Jan. 31.

Mrs. Patterson has held the position for 16 years and has worked for the extension service office for a total of 25 years.

Mrs. Choate's appointment will become effective Feb. 1. She joined the Lubbock County extension staff as a home economics agent last October. According to Catherine B. Crawford, district extension agent for home economics, she is "well prepared academically for the position and by far the most qualified for the job.

Mrs. Choate, 31, has worked as county extension agent in Garza and Mitchell counties, co-directing adult and 4-H pro-

She graduated from Kermit High School, and is a 1970 graduate of Texas Tech University, where she received her bachelor and master's degrees in home economics.

Her husband, Michael, is a Lubbock accountant. They have one daughter.

Mrs. Patterson said she plans to travel and devote time to church and volunteer work in the Lubbock area. She said helping people develop their leadership abilities in meeting community needs has been the most rewarding part of her 25 years of extension service work. She said that an important change in

GRAIN FUND TRANSFER

WASHINGTON (AP) - Some $3.3 million in unused credits previously earmarked to finance sales of U.S. wheat to Poland have been switched to feed grains under the Commodity Credit Corp. export credit sales program.

Born in Grand Saline, Mrs. Patterson graduated from Tahoka High School and received a bachelor degree in home conomics from North Texas State University in 1946.

She began her extension career in 1953 as county home demonstration agent in Terry County. Three years later she transferred to Hale County where she worked until moving to Lubbock County in 1962.

Mrs. Patterson is a member of the American Home Economics Association, the Texas Home Economics Association and the Texas Association of Extension Home Economists. She also is a member of Highland Baptist Church, where she teaches an adult church school class.

Mrs. Crawford said, "She'll continue to make an important contribution to her church and her community."

Man Escapes City Blaze

A 59-year-old Lubbock man crashed through a window this morning to escape from a burning house where a floor furnace apparently had exploded. R.C. Scott, trapped in the flaming residence at 1321 E. 25th St., escaped by breaking through a bedroom window. Scott, suffering a cut on the hand, was saving by subscribing home, which sustained heavy damage. Mrs. Browning said the fire caused about $6,000 damage to her home and its contents. She said the explosion appeared to have come from a gas furnace n the hallway of the three-bedroom Scott reportedly was lying on a bed and could not reach the door because of fire and smoke. "He just ran through the window." Mrs. Johnson said. "He would have been killed if he hadn't,

Sign Violation Case Begins

Testimony is expected to begin this afternoon in county court-at-law in a case involving an alleged violation of the city's sign ordinance. Defendant Mike Corley is charged with a class C misdemeanor for allowing a portable sign to exist on a tract of land under his charge. Corley is the operator of a fast-food store on 34th Street. The case was appealed from Municipal Court. A pre-trial hearing in the case hit a snag when Corley's attorney, Bill Wischkaemper, charged the sign ordinance had been unequally enforced. However, County Court-At-Law No. 2 Judge J.Q. Warnick Jr. ruled last month the city was not guilty of selective enforcement of the ordinance. The city outlawed portable signs like the one Corley is accused of using in a revision of the zoning ordinance in 1975.

TODAY'S STOCK PRICES

Stock Mart Chalks Up Big Decline

NEW YORK (AP) - The stock market lapsed into a broad decline today as the post-New Year's rally of last week ran out of mo-

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials dropped 5.97 to 824.96 by noontime.

Losers opened up a 2-1 lead over gainers in the over-all tally of New York Stock Exchange-listed is-

Analysts said some selling was to be expected after the 25.72point runup in the Dow over the first four trading sessions of 1979 last week.

They also noted uneasiness over some analysts' forecasts of renewed rapid growth in the money supply before long.

In the last few months monetary growth has slowed markedly, giving rise to some tentative hopes that the Federal Reserve's effort to rein in inflation by raising interest rates was taking hold.

Among leading blue-chip and glamour issues, International Business Machines fell 21/2 to 3031/2; Du Pont lost 11/4 to 1261/2, and Texas Instruments gave up

The NYSE's composite common-stock index fell .36 to 55.05. On the American Stock Exchange, the market value index was down .65 at 157.01.

Volume on the Big Board totaled 9.62 million shares at noontime, down from 10.97 million at the same point Friday.

CLEVELAND (UPI) — Democratic Mayor Dennis J. Kucinich today labeled as treason attempts aimed at a state takeover of Cleveland's finances to avoid possible bankruptcy.

"Any Cleveland public official who would support a state seizure would be guilty of treason against the people of Cleveland," Kucinich said.

"In the name of trying to save the city, (they) are prepared to destroy the city," the mayor said. "This is being prepared by Ohio Republicans and being promoted by a former Republican mayor and their wealthy sponsors. It violates the people's sacred right to determine their own desting."

The proposal for a state takeover and a switch to a city manager form of government was advocated last Friday by former mayor Ralph J, Perk.

As for the creation of a special control board which would have broad powers over the city's finances, Kucinich said it "would mean the end of local government in Cleveland and the substitution of a government set up by Republicans and big business." big business."

Carter To Request Missile Funding

Carter reportedly will ask Congress later this month for nearly $1 billion to push development of a new long-range mobile missile system designed to be safe from a surprise Soviet attack.

Administration sources said Carter's budget requests will be made in anticipation of probable final decisions by April on moving into full-scale development of such a missile and on the method of bas-ing it. Senior defense officials appear to favor an air-launched concept.

Although final U.S. Soviet agreement has not been reached on limiting strateg-ic nuclear weapons in the future, defense officials say they are confident they can proceed with development and testing of an advanced mobile missile regardless of the outcome of the SALT negotiations.

There is general agreement in the Pen-tagon that some kind of elusive new mobile missile system, either land-or airlaunched, will be essential by the mid-1980s. That is when the present force of 1,000 Minuteman intercontinental ballistic missiles, stationed in fixed underground bases, are expected to become vulnerable to possible destruction if Russia should launch a surprise attack with its increasingly accurate missiles. But uncertainties and disputes over how to base the new missile have twice caused the Carter administration to delay advancing the mobile missile project into full-scale development.

The effect of this has been to delay the earliest deployment date until about 1986. Defense specialists argue the United States can not afford further delay.

Administration sources, who asked not to be named, said Carter will ask Conpress for about $270 million as a supplementary appropriation that could be used to move ahead promptly with the mobile missile project this fiscal year, which ends Sept. 30.

Carter also will request nearly $720 million additional to continue work on the missile and its basing system in fiscal 1980, the sources said. All the systems under consideration would deploy about 200 long-range mo-bile missiles and the project, counting basing, would cost $25 billion to $30 billion, according to current estimates. Senior defense leaders regard as promising a proposal to place long-range missiles aboard short-takeoff-and-landing planes smaller than jumbo jets and to fire the weapons from those planes. Also under consideration has been a

"land and launch system," under which missiles would be flown about in jumbo jets and periodically placed in firing positions on the ground. The Air Force reportedly prefers a system likened to a carnival shell game un-der which the missiles would be moved constantly by truck among thousands of launching holes to force the Russians to guess where the weapons might be at any given time.

Gacy allegedly was accused twice of kidnapping and rape — by a 19-year-old Chicago man in December 1977, and by a 27-year-old Chicago man in March 1878.

"They (the police) would only say there was insufficient evidence. Both the cops and an assistant state's attorney said that he (Gacy) was a solid citizen," the 19-year-old told the Chicago Tribume. At the youth's request, he was not identified.

"I was practically pleading with them, I even told them that he bragged to me that he had killed people and said he was going to kill me, but my pleas didn't do any good," the youth said.

Assistant State's Attorney Jerry Latherow, who made the decision not to pro-

Wildcat Strike Closes Port Arthur Refinery

workers were told to report to work today, but at least one facility in Texas was disrupted by pickets. The threat of a nationwide walkout by 60,000 refinery workers remained "very real," the union president said. A.F. Grospiron, president of the Denver-based Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers International Union, delayed calling a strike to give further study to a proposal from Amoco, a company trademark of Standard Oil Co. (Indiana). Jerry Archuleta, spokesman for the union, said at midmorning that he had heard no reports of any union members going on strike today. He said as far as he knew, all workers were honoring the union's call for them to report to work. But at Gulf Oil's refinery in Port Arthur, office workers who belong to the oil workers' union set up pickets shortly after midnight, Gulf spokesman Bill Rinehart said. Archuleta said the picketers belonged to a different union whose contract had also expired.

Rinehart said the company was proceeding with "orderly shutdown procedures and takeover by supervisory personnel" at the plant, which employs 3,000 union workers.

The Gulf plant was apparently the only one affected in the vast petrochemical industry area stretching from Houston 75 miles east to Texas-Louisiana border.

Grospiron said he and the union's 12member bargaining policy committee would resume discussion of the Amoco offer today. The increase, if accepted, would appear to exceed President Carter's voluntary wage-fringe benefit guideline, which allows for a 7 percent increase over the life of a contract. But if the union agrees to hold its wage increase to less than 6 percent in the second year of the contract, that could bring the oil workers in line with Carter's guideline.

The voluntary guideline has been the focus of the contract dispute, with the negotiations marking the first major showdown over it.

Traditionally, an agreement with a major oil company is used as a pattern for settling with the rest of the industry. Some 411 contracts were being negotiated locally with 100 companies, and the national union has final approval over

Most earlier offers to the OCAW called for a 7 percent wage increase in the first cents in the first year, the Amoco offer reportedly includes a clause that would reopen wage discussions in the second year. Oil workers currently average $8.82 an hour. Grospiron said the union received about 10 revised offers just hours before the expiration of the existing contract at midnight Sunday. He and the committee then held a two-hour, closed-door session, emerging to announce the decision to give the Amoco offer more study. We don't take our responsibility light-

Interstate fares are regulated by the federal government, including fares charged by interstate airlines when they carry passengers between two points in the same state.

California is the only state which regulates these intrastate fares, and the fares it fixes are substantially lower than those interstate passengers pay for traveling over the same route. Texas licenses intrastate airlines that compete with such interstate airlines for traffic within the state and which charge substantially lower fares. As a result, carriers historically have maintained two fares for transportation between the same points in California and Texas: one for interstate traffic and a lower one for intrastate passengers.

Daily Production Of Oil Increases

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP) - Oil production, on which this nation depends for almost all its export earnings, averaged 2.2 million barrels a day during the first week of 1979, the Energy and Mines Ministry reported.

The figure was just over the daily maximum established by the government to conserve the country's reserves. Current proven reserves are expected to last until the end of the century at the present production rate, according to the government. The output was up 388,000 barrels a day above 1978 production for the same

HOUSTON (UPI) - In the middle of December, Judge Wallace Moore confidently predicted the much publicized T. Cullen Davis murder conspiracy trial might be over by Christmas. He didn't

The trial moved into its eleventh week today with no immediate end in sight.

The prosecution has said it will produce at least 10 more rebuttal witnesses this week before turning the stage over to defense. How many more witnesses the defense will call to the stand is anybody's

The latest prediction from attorneys is that the jury possibly could begin deliber-ation within two weeks.

Last week Davis' attorneys rested their case with testimony that indicated chief prosecution witness David McCrory benelited personally from federal protection

McCrory, 40, a four-times married high school dropout whose adult life has included IRS problems, ownership of a money-losing tavern and karate school, testified earlier he did not know about the federal witness protection plan until after he went to the FBI Aug. 17 with allegations the Fort Worth millionaire wanted 15 persons killed. But former Las Vegas cocktail waitress Sandra Merriman testified that McCrory. an FBI informant, had known since 1975 how to qualify for federal protection as a ritness. She said she was the one who told him about it.

Defense lawyer Phil Burleson said, "I don't say he (McCrory) hatched it in '75, but it's knowledge he's had since then that he contradicted when he testified,"

Burleson said the provisions of the witness program suited McCrory's needs.

You get to change your identity, you can defeat your creditors, relocate where you want to," he said. On the basis of McCrory's charges that the alleged murder plot was to include the kidnapping of Davis' younger brother, Bill, the FBI assumed jurisdiction and conducted three days of surveillance before arresting Davis Aug. 20 and charging him with conspiring to kill his divorce

Davis has conceded he met with McCrory on several occasions, gave him a job at a good salary and even participated in the discussions in which murder targets and payoffs were mentioned.

But Davis said he was just "playing along" with McCrory because his employee had been identified to him as an extortion suspect who might be captured if Davis would cooperate.

Follow-Up

Wyman said many relatives have told the State Department they cannot afford to transport and bury or cremate the bodies. Many relatives apparently are waiting for the government or some charitable group to pay the costs, he said.

Next of kin have been notified of the deaths of 635 positively identified cultists, but 353 of those bodies remained unclaimed at the base as of Sunday night. There also were 278 unidentified bodies.

"I don't know what the solution is going to be," Wyman said. "Obviously there's going to be a solution. We can't leave them there in the hangar.

Wyman said Air Force pathologists in Washington are still trying to name the unidentified corpses, but the pace has slowed considerably. Only two bodies have been identified since Dec. 19.

All 913 of the decomposed bodies were fingerprinted before being placed in hermetically sealed coffins, but Wyman said the Air Force has had trouble locating fingerprint records for many victims, particularly children. The U.S. military flew the bodies here from Jonestown. According to Wyman, the government had to get the bodies out of Guyana to pacify local officials there. But bringing the bodies here upset some Delaware officials. Gov. Pierre S. du Pont IV asked President Carter last month to have the military fly the bodies to San Francisco, where the Rev. Jim Jones' cult began and where many of the relatives live. Carter has not responded, said du Pont news secretary Frederick Stern.

Both du Pont and Dover Mayor Charles A. Legates Jr. have insisted that no mass burial be made near Dover. They fear the site would become a shrine to the cul-

Man To Face Charges For Hijack Case

EL PASO (AP) - William Bruce Johnson, 29, of St. Paul, Ark., was ordered to appear before a federal magistrate today to face charges of attempted air piracy.

Authorities accused Johnson, unarmed at the time, of trying to hijack a Continental Airlines Boeing 727 Saturday night as it was about to take off for Austin and Houston. The flight had originated in Los Angeles.

An airline official said Johnson boarded the flight in El Paso and was removed after he demanded to be flown to Washington to see President Carter.

The defendant was ordered to stand before U.S. Magistrate Harry Lee Hudspeth for arraignment.

"No weapon was utilized and no weapon was found on Johnson," said FBI Special Agent O. Leon Dobbs.

Wayne Curto, Continental's operations manager in El Paso said Flight 68 continued east after Johnson was removed.

"He handed a note to one of the attendants saying he wanted to go to Washington to see the president," Curto said. "The pilot turned (the plane) around, went back to the gate, turned the guy over to security personnel and that's all there was to it.

DETROIT (UPI) — The Big Four car-makers since last summer have boosted 1979 prices nearly 6.5 percent, or $450 over last year's models, and some industry observers say prices are likely to go

The industry now has raised its prices a full percentage point higher than price hikes on 1978 models. But because its initial 1979 price hike was overlooked under President Carter's anti-inflation guide-

A spokesman for the Council on Wage and Price Stability administering the president's program said he is satisfied with the auto industry's pricing actions.

"We are concerned primarily with what the companies do over the course of the year, not with individual price increases," spokesman Thomas Joyce said. "If they can decelerate prices under the guideline formula during the year, they are meeting the standards."

Toy Originated In South America

By SHARI LEWIS

Amazing history shows that natives - primitives all over the world - seem to have invented the same toys! Here's a great toy that was created by Indians in South America, Eskimos in Alaska and tribesmen in Africa. They used hemp or strips of knotted leather. You can make your version with stuff around the house. Here's

Auto Specialists Going Strong

By LeROY POPE
NEW YORK (UPI) — It may come as a surprise that the Midas Muffler shops still sells about 7,000 mufflers a zear for Model A Ford cars, not manufactured for

This could be dismissed as an item of business trivia except that according to Midas President Richard de Camara it highlights an important trend in the American economy

"Motorists and other Americans are increasingly dependent on specialized chain outfits like Midas for service on a wide range of consumer goods," said de Camara. "This is most noticeable in the automobile world."

Two important traditional service providers - the service departments of automobile dealers and the full service gasoline stations — are rapidly going the way of the Model A, according to de Camara. The impact is being felt particularly in the larger cities where there are vastly fewer full-service gasoline stations and garages than there used to be, said de Camara, who was put in charge of Midas early this year by IC Industries, Inc., of Chicago. IC acquired the chain drom Nate Sherman, the founder.

"As for the new car dealers' service departments, it's increasingly difficult to get service without making an appointment days in advance - and the job often takes days to finish once one gets

Not so many years ago, any garage would get you a muffler for even a Model A Ford on reasonably short notice. Now that often is a tough proposition unless you go to one of the specialized muffler

De Camara says the erosion of the traditional service centers gives firms like Midas, Rayco, Speedy Muffler and the various automotive transmission and brake service chains an excellent growth opportunity.

Unusual Inaugurations Part Of State Culture

SAN ANTÔNIO (AP) - Texas' second governor, George T. Woods, absolutely refused to wear socks, not only to his 1847 inauguration but throughout his term. His successor, Peter Hansbrough Bell, sported shoulderlength hair to his swearing-in ceremony, but probably re-ceived little argument about it — since the former Texas Ranger regularly carried a Bowie knife and two pistols.

Texas' newest governor-elect, Bill Clements, will be inaugurated Jan. 16, but he would have to go to extremes to outdo do some of the inaugurals in Texas' coloful past. Jack Maguire, executive director of the University of Texas Institute of Texan Cultures here, has researched Texas governors for several years and turned up these facts: Sam Houston, opposed to Texas' secession from the Unon, protested Texas' entry into the Confederacy by refusing to attend his second-term inaugural in 1861. Lt. Gov. Ed-

McCuirk Studios Sudden Warming

Florida and budding trees in arctic Alaska could have something in common. They might someday even help predict what years Texans need to invest in snow

James McGuirk, a Texas A&M meteorologist, says there is a relationship between certain kinds of colder-than-usual winter weather and a phenomenon known as stratospheric sudden warming that occurs miles above the earth.

McGuirk wants to look at the last 80 years of weather information in the United States and Canada to see if certain signs can warn of the kinds of severe winters suffered nationwide in late 1976 and

No one quite knows the whole picture, says McGuirk, because very cold winter weather is not always tied to anything in the stratosphere, the behavior of which is also not completely understood.

Huge distortions in the jet stream develop, explains McGuirk, and at any one time it may warm Alaska to the point where trees bud, while snow falls in tropical Florida.

These distortions, which accompany stratospheric sudden warming, apparently have occurred in about half the years since 1952. Perhaps half of those have resulted in severe surface weather and unseasonable conditions," he said.

By examining pressure and temperature data compiled since 1900, McGuirk says he hopes to pin down the relationship of stratospheric sudden warmings and what is happening on the ground. If patterns emerge, they could serve as warnings for scientists about the likeli-warmings and the results they might have on the surface thousands of feet be-

In plotting weather summaries on maps, McGuirk has demonstrated that the 1977 reports of snow in Florida, warm weather in Alaska and dry weather in the West all had similar counterparts during January of 1958, 1963 and 1971 times of stratospheric sudden warming

His efforts have received support from Organized Research, a special fund established by the Legislature to foster research of benefit to Texans.

Recipe, Techniques Aid 'Bread-Maker'

SAN ANTONIO (Special) — There's nothing like fresh baked bread right from the oven. Many homemakers haven't attempted to make their own because of the difficult directions given in cookbooks. Darily Council, Inc. home economists would like to present a recipe and several techniques for taking the doubt out of bread making.

EASY DOES IT BREAD

2/3 cup milk 1/3 cup butter

2/3 cup sugar 2 pkgs. dry yeast 1/2 cup warm water 3 eggs, slightly beaten

2/3 cup water

6-7 cups sifted flour 1/2 tsp. nutmeg Scald the milk in a pan. Remove from heat and add butter, sugar and salt. While this mixture is cooling, dissolve the yeast in 1/2 cup of water in a large mixing bowl; add eggs, water and the cooled mixture. Sift flour and nutmeg together and add, one cup at a time, to liquid. A mixer may be used to combine the first few cups of flour. The flour may then be mixed in by hand until the dough leaves the sides of the bowl and becomes hard to mix. Place flour on a smooth surface in preparation for kneading. Kneading the dough develops the gluten, a type of protein in the flour. Make sure that your hands are well-floured as you work flour into the dough. This step is nothing more than folding the dough over itself and press-ing it with the heels of your palms. After each fold and press, rotate the dough. You don't need to be concerned about treating it gently. The dough is kneaded enough when it has a smooth elastic sur-

Next the dough has to rise in a warm place. You have two options:

Grease the bowl in which the dough was mixed, or divide the dough in half and lightly grease two one-gallon freezing bags. Place the dough in the bags, as possible, to allow plenty of room for the dough to expand

The best place for the dough to rise is in the oven. Preheat the oven at 200 degrees for one minute. Turn it off and place the bags of dough or the pan in the warm oven. It will take 45-75 minutes for the dough to double in bulk. At this point you have a very large, fluffy mass. The dough should now be squeezed in order to remove excess air which appears in the form of large bubbles. If the dough is too sticky, use a little flour on your hands to pinch the dough into twoinch balls. Place the buns on greased cookie sheets. Preheat the oven again, and allow the bread to rise again. When doubled in size, remove from oven. Bake at 400 degrees for 10-15 minutes until golden brown and crusty. Makes twodozen buns.

PARBOIL Parboiling potatoes for five minutes cuts baking time to 40 minutes in a 400 degree oven.

By ERMA BOMBECK Whatever history may say about this generation, it will be duly recorded they had great teeth.

I can just see historians digging through the ruins and observing, "Good grief, Professor Harkins, there isn't one overbite...one chipped tooth ...a single overlap. What do you suppose that means?' What they may never know is that behind every successful smile stood a selfsacrificing mother who devoted her life to her child's teeth.

"Do you like the way your son's mouth looks?" asked the orthodontist I shrugged. "It's a little drafty sometimes from being open so much but other than that.

"Look at it!" he chided. "Do you actually think he can approach adulthood will those teeth?"

'What's the matter with them?" Nothing, if he's going to go through life biting necks."

Sitting in his office week after week reading the Bleeding Gums Journal while son was being fitted into braces, I heard stories from the other women in the Tooth Cult.

"This is only the beginning." said one. You'll make so many trips to this office your car will come here automatically. You'll have to remind your son to brush morning, noon, and night.

"You'll buy 50 toothbrushes in a month which he will lose."

Wait until he gets into retainers. He'll procrastinate, complain, and lose them every time you turn around." You'll find his retainer in lockers,

DEAR ABBY

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I have tried for six years to have a child. We've seen many fertility experts, and my husband's urologist now recommends artificial insemination.

We intend to go through with it and have decided to tell absolutely no one, with one exception -my husband's brother, Gene, who was told for a very special

Instead of using sperm obtained at the regular sperm bank, we came up with the idea of using sperm donated by Gene. That way our child will inherit the physical features of my husband's family.

Gene has agreed to cooperate only if his wife approves. Abby, we don't want Gene to tell his wife because we're afraid if she knows that her husband is the biological father of my child it might cause problems later on.

We say it's Gene's sperm and he can do anything he wants with it.

Are we wrong? Or is Gene? ALL IN THE FAMILY

Dear All: It may be Gene's sperm, but if he wants his wife to know what he's doing with it, it's his right. And unless Gene's wife gives her unconditional ape you to use an unkno

DEAR ABBY: When you advised that family whose kids were being called atheists on how to defend themselves against the accusation, you seemed to be implying that there was something wrong with being an atheist. Well, I'm an atheist with no apologies. I happen not to believe that God exists.

But contrary to what many religious people think, I have no desire to impose my disbelief on others or to hinder them from worshiping whatever god or gods they choose. Nor do I think that not believing in God frees me from responsibility to my fellow human beings. I consider myself as moral a person as most believers - and more moral than some I can think of! I'm certainly not a saint, but you don't find many of those in or out of

To me, denouncing people as atheists is as offensive and un-American as calling them papists or hebes. What people believe about God - or don't believe - is their own business. My advice to that family would be to tell their neighbors: "Judge us by what we do - not by what you think we believe." Or, in the words of a man whom some think was God and others, including you and me, consider merely a wise and good human being. By their fruits ye shall know them.'

Workshops, Classes, Products Galore Marking Village Craft

class schedule, involving former and new instructors, ushers in the new year at Village Craft Corner in South Plains

Really exceptional opportunities are afforded in the instruction program beginning immediately. To be assured of a place in one of the classes or workshops, immediate inquiry and reservation is necessary. Don't delay! Have fun this year! And achieve!

Workshops Among the significant workshops are those to be conducted by Ann Harris and by Danny Gamble, both outstanding in

Anne Harris, of Houston, will conduct oil painting workshops Jan. 22 through Jan. 26, with choice of two classes, one from 10 a.m. until 1 p.m., daily and the other from 6 p.m. until 9 p.m. Three complete paintings will be involved: (1) floral including roses, (2) landscape with emphasis on clouds, and

Ann has studied under such authorities as Dick Turner, Fernie Parker and Robert Schuhsler. Danny Gamble, always accorded a tremendous welcome here, and whose mand, will conduct two classes in a watercolor workshop Jan. 29 through Feb. 2. Morning and night class choice will be afforded in this workshop, too, at Village Craft Corner.

Regular classes are beginning in the very near future (inquire for exact dates, with some beginning immediately) in-

On Mondays, Barbara Bilberry will conduct oil painting classes on a morning and evening schedule. Barbara is one of the more popular and well-qualified artists in the area.

Jane Hodgkins, another who hardly needs introduction, will have a Monday schedule, too, offering tole painting classes from 6:30 p.m. until 8:30 p.m. Then on Tuesdays, Barbara Bilberry will conduct other classes, and Mac Ca-row will have an impressive schedule,

Mac will teach portraits in pastels or oils from 10:30 a.m. until 1:30 p.m., and beginning oils from 6 p.m. until 9 p.m. Mac's paintings have won enviable awards in area and national competition. Barbara Bilberry's Tuesday classes will include a morning tole painting session, early afternoon mini-painting, and

Wednesday calendars will be marked by instruction from James Ivey Edwards and Mac Carow. Edwards, familiar throughout the region, will have a 2 p.m. until 5 p.m., class on oils or acrylics, with another at

Mac Carow will have a 6 p.m. classs on portraits (pastels or oils). Paul Wylie and Jon Birdsong will be on hand in a Thursday schedule! Wylie, whose western art is readily recognized and appreciated, will have a 10 a.m. landscape class and a 2 p.m. western art class (both in oils) and an evening (6 p.m. until 9 p.m.) sculpture instruction period.

Jon Birdsong, expert in watercolor techniques, will conduct basic watercolor classes at 10 a.m. and at 6 p.m. Mac Carow will have a beginning oils class on Fridays beginning at 10:30 a.m. Then on Saturday, Jan. 13, Georgia Bartlett will conduct an oil painting session (10 a.m. until 5 p.m.) with a windmill subject. Georgia teaches classes two Saturdays each month at Village Craft Corner. A master of floral landscapes, poppies, etc., she is one of the really qualified instructors in her field.

Enrollment Still Possible In Industrial Technology Classes

For training in basic skills necessary to enter the world of work in technical trades, one could do well to learn all details and register now in new classes of the Industrial Technologies Division at Lubbock Christian College.

But don't delay . . . classes begin immediately. As example of the practical approach in instruction there, the Automotive Technology courses include introduction to auto engines, chassis and tune up; carburetion, installation of kits and major tune-ups; overhaul, diagnosis, re-moval, overhaul and installation of V-8 and six-cylinder engines; transmissions, automatic and manual; inspection, servicing, removal and installation; automofive electrical and air conditioning systerns, repair and maintenance; brakesdiscs and drum, master, cylinder, and chassis maintenance; and welding introduction to oxy-acetylene welding, cutting and brazing, and introduction to are Similar complete instruction is noted in the other areas of training (Drafting, Electronics, Machine Trades and Welding Technology).

The opportunities afforded through these several fields could be of significant benefit to you, or someone of your acquaintance, we are sure."

Registration is now underway, and full details can be obtained from Reginald Duncan, director of Industrial Technologles, Lubbock Christian College, 5601 W. 19th St., Lubbock, phone 792-3221. Schedules are available in day and night classes in all areas except dafting that is offered only at night.

Many people, in a wide age range, take the classes to aid in their job change or to velop new skills with which to enter the job market. Industry needs skilled craftsmen, and the programs at LCC train and provide such individuals.

Operating in its 13th year, the Industrial Technologies Division has built a tradi-tion of good training and has many satis-fied graduates (check with us for docu-Courses are non-academic in nature, with one taking only the courses that per-tain to a chosen field of study. Students enrolled in the Industrial Technologies program receive CEU's credit (continuing education units). All courses are NC n-college credit) and do not lead to a degree; however, students completing a program will receive a certificate of com-pletion and will have on file a permanent LCC.

Financial aid also is available to qualifying persons, in the form of grants, stu-dent loans and scholarships. All courses are approved for veterans training.

Full explanation of costs is given upon

In general, all the courses are open to high school graduates or those over 18

Each course is set on a "clock hour" basis, with 798 clock hours involved in autive technology, as exam machine trades and in welding: with even more hours in electronics technoligy, and 528 hours for drafting.

Located in adjoining buildings on the west side of the campus, the division has all the up-to-date facilities a good program needs. The student learns under qualified instructors and with the use of

Not all classes start and end at the same time, and in some courses a student may enter the program at any time. To learn how any part of the program can work for you, a visit is invited, with full details gladly given and with inspection of facilities invited.

A very comprehensive and practical program is afforded in this unique division at Lubbock Christian College. Participation could well open new fields of achievement for you or a friend or family member. We at the LCC Industrial Technologies Division invite your inquiry, wishing for you the best in the new year.

"There's nothing like a home fireside when the cold envelopes the area, when snow swirls outside and when the chilling wind whistles around the corners!

And in the Lubbock region, the heating units have come in for early-season use. Right? Did you find in your own situation that possibly a new screen was needed for the fireplace, or that and acessories were inadequate?

In any event, consider this: One can turn to Childress Hardware for the best in gas logs, stoves, grates, logholders, fireplace sets, screens, Dear-borne space heaters, radiant heaters, wood stoves, andirons and other fireplace accessories and heat-related needs. Childress Hardware Store, at 902 Main St. in Lubbock, has a long, long record of stocking needed items - and the

"The heating season is upon us, along with those expensive heating bills!" So . . . now is a good time to try and reduce some of those costs and maybe even some of the dangers of the heating

This is the very practical word from Lellem Welch, Inc., 1401 Ave. J, phone 762-8797, in Lubbock.

"Most people actually don't pay much attention to the appliances used for home heating, but with the cost of energy going up for both gas and electricity. we need to begin to attempt reduction of heating costs in the home. Right?" Filters Important Therefore, clean filters are a "must"

for efficient heating operation. Dirty filters eat up energy by making the furnace motor run longer and harder (be-cause less air is pulled over the heat exchanger and a burned up motor is expensive to replace. Setting the thermostat lower also helps. Humidiflers Advised

The addition of a humidifier will help, too, making lower room temperatures

For health, comfort and protection it repel upper respiratory ailments aggravated by too-dry air. In many cases, where excessive dryness has been diagnosed as the cause of those aggravations, doctors have prescribed humidification. Ask your doctor for his recommenda-

"For comfort, it is pointed out that if the humidity level in the home is too low, you may feel cold, even at 75-degree temperature setting. Proper humidifcation reduces the rate of evaporation from the skin and makes the room feel warmer. Those annoying wintertime static electricity shocks are reduced, too. Use the April Air humidifier.

"For protectioon, April Air humidifiers provide the answer. Dry, heated air draws moisture from everything in the home - woodwork, furnishings, books, the piano or organ. It can cause walls and ceilings to crack and make fabrics and carpeting wear out too fast. Proper humidification provides the protection that's needed.

Air Cleaners Also, with the addition of a Space Gard air cleaner, you can have a cleaner firm emphasizes. "Now, you should also remember to put in the damper on the evaporative cooler so that expensive warm air doesn't just go right out the roof. Cover that evaporative cooler with a cover to also help, holding that warm air.

"If you don't have a damper, our stock of covers is still good with most sizes

Heat Tapes

In trailer homes and those places that have water lines that freeze, heat tapes with insulation for covering can save a lot of grief from frozen and burst water lines. Wrap-on heat tapes and insulation are available here, in tape length from three to 100 ft. and insulation that is 3inch and 6-inch wide

"And as always for the do-it-your elf bargain hunter who doesn't mind a few dents, bumps and scratches, we seem to have more than our share of this merchandise. Our loss is your gain. All damaged merchandise is reduced according to amount of damage

Not only are the learning opportunities abundant there, and special values presented in the two-day sale, but Mrs. B's has a lot more going for it . . . such as the extensive stock, the arrangement for efficiency and ease in shopping, easy access, off-street parking, and a building specially designed and remodeled for its

Everything seems to say "We're glad you are among our customers". Supplies for all instruction courses are available at the shop. A large selection of wood, in unusual and popular patterns, is stocked for the tole painter. And there is plaster in many designs.

Weekly there are new arrivals throughout the diversified stock, and frequent visits are advised to stay abreast of all that's new at Mrs. B's.

Projects by the score can originate and develop to completion at Mrs. B's. For shopping satisfaction, pleasure in browsing and selection, and for learning from "pros", this shop is recommended and don't forget the current two-day

Cake Place Reveals Openings Still Available In New Classes

There's good news from The Cake

Registration still is available for the hensive classes aginning early this month.

The Cake Place, 5423 Aberdeen (just off 55th and Slide), phone 792-5730, has arranged a most interesting and benefi-cial instruction schedule, and those familiar with the classes there in the past know of their worth.

So don't delay, as pre-registration is necessary. Get full information and register now.

(Free chocolate molding demonstra-tions are set for Feb. 8, 24, and March 10.)

Classes Outlined
Included in the classes are:
Basic I Beginner Class, a 5-week course
eginning Jan. 15, involving basic cake
ecorating techniques for the homemaker. Cost is $20 plus equipment. Day and evening sessions are included. The Basic II Intermediate class, involving fancy borders, royal icing techniques, wedding cake, panorama egg and color flow, begins April 16, and this 5-week course is $25 plus equipment. A Gum Paste Orchids class is set for

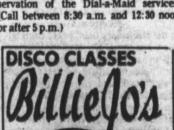

Jan. 15; and Color Flow /Royal Flowers on Feb. 5.

Mini classes include Rice Paper, Jan. 13: Buttercream Flowers, Jan. 27, May 12; Panorama Egg, March 3; Cocoa Painting, April 14; and a Rolled Fondant demonstration on April 19.

Get complete details at The Cake Place; inquiry is invited regarding exact times and arrangements, together with supplies involved.

Remember, pre-registration is neces-sary, due to the always-popular demand for the limited-number classes.

The Cake Place has been in new, enlarged quarters at 5423 Aberdeen for some months now (just one door south of its former location). Everything is ar-

For any baking or cake decorating project ahead, why not come in during the announced sale, profit in dollars and cents and learn of the classes and the customer services that are making The Cake Place so favorably known, throughout the region.

You have read in this newspaper and have heard on radio and T.V. that the housing market in Lubbock is depressed and that martgage money is virtually unobtainable. Mertage loan companies always take a conservative stand when the Matienal economy varies from the norm and the news media, hearing only

The fact is that the housing market in Lubbock is not depressed and mortgage money is available. You can and should purchase that new home new. Why now? The selection of homes in Lubbock has never been better, interest rates will more than likely continue to go up, and inflation is certain to continue driving house prices up. Waiting for interest rates to came down before buying is not in your best interest, because the escalated values of property will more than offset any savings on interest rates.

Ownership of a home is the only way most people have of protecting their savings from inflationary trends. It is also a fact that the purchase of a previously owned or new home in Lubback is still a bargain. Compared to the rest of the Southwestern United States, Lubback housing is inexpessive. Those of us who live here do not think of it as being inexpensive, but the truth is we have become spailed to our good. fortune. We must face the fact that the cost of housing in Lubbock will not remain as realistic, as geagraphic trends predict.

The Real Story is: you cannot go wrong with the purchase of a home in Lubbock. If these facts are of interest to you, call Lubbock's most progressive Real Estate firm and allow us to visit with you about your future home buying plans, desires or needs. Landmark wants to help.

NCHT-

It was born of an afterthought and has grown into one of the city's great ideas in public education.

On March 6, the Lubbock Independent School District board of trustees proposed closing Ella Iles Elementary rather than desegregate that all-minority campus by "forced busing."

Protests were immediate and loud. Iles Elementary, namesake of one of Lubbock's first black teachers, is more than just a building, the board was told. The Iles campus, which once served as Dunbar High, symbolizes a neighborhood, a tradition and an alma mater for thousands of citizens here. Within days, trustees reconsidered. Instead of closing Iles, they took up a last-minute offer from Texas Tech University to form a partnership in making Iles a "magnet school," a campus so attractive that white students from throughout the city would transfer voluntarily.

Not at first, school administrators conceded. They predicted the Iles magnet school — with its innovations, daylong activities and other features — initially would draw only about 50 whites (38 percent of the school's enrollment). But give Iles three years or so, Superintendent Ed Irons suggested, and there would be a waiting list to get in.

Iles has accomplished in mere months what Irons thought would take years.

One measure of the school's success is racial balance. Voluntary transfers are triple the projection. So many whites now attend Iles that the school also accepts minority children from outside its immediate neighborhood. Iles enrolls about 150 whites, 100 blacks and 50 Mexican-Americans.

Some 40 other youngsters are on a waiting list. Perhaps a more significant gauge of success, however, is the enthusiasm of the lles students and their parents and teachers. Stated Jeanine Brown, treasurer of the Iles Parent-Teacher Association: 'This is the first school that truly does what it says. The school's philosophy is to find out where each child is and go from that point forward. Iles is the kind of school that can accommodate both the fifth-grader reading on a second-grade level, and a second-grader reading on a fifth-grade level - without making either child feel stigmatized. "Everything is individualized, and children feel good about what they're doing. That's important. When kids have a positive self-concept, they're going to succeed. If they don't feel good about themselves, you've lost the ballgame Mrs. Brown does not make such statements lightly. Besides being a PTA officer, shoe also is a Lubbock Independent School District teacher - in the Title I reading program at Jackson Elementary.

Like Jackson, "there are a lot of good schools in Lubbock," Mrs. Brown said.

"But Iles is something special." Among the most obvious of Iles' outstanding features are:

Student groupings. Instead of traditional grades, children are assigned to multi-age teams. "The Greenhouse" includes youngsters age 4 (in the lles area Head Start program) through 6; students 7 through 9 constitute "The Force"; and older pupils are "Argonauts." Principal Kay Knight said such a system allows children to "move at their own pace. We're not labeling a child as a second-grader doing first-grade work." Not only is there flexibility within a team, but students — depending on their maturity — may move from one team to another for certain subjects. Thus, children work together based on ability, not Grades. Iles is non-graded in another sense, too. Traditional letter grades — A, B, C, D and F — have been scrapped. Personal goals motivate students. "We let children realize that they'll get out of a class whatever they're willing to put into it, "said teacher June Lackey.

That does not mean permissiveness or lack of structure, however. Skills tests are administered regularly — Argonauts, for instance, take a math exam every two weeks, Mrs. Knight said. "They know they must master the skills to go on."

Description of the last symmetric involved removing walls to *Open concept. Renovation of Iles last summer involved removing walls to facilitate flexibility in grouping students. Mrs. Knight, who before the Iles magnet was principal of the more traditional Dupre Elementary, admits she initially was skeptical of some aspects of open concept. "But now I like the way it's working," especially in conjunction with team teaching.

*Team teaching. Each student has a "home teacher" for security. But for academics, instructors team up. "During the day, for example, every child in the Greenhouse will have some contact with each of the teachers assigned to the Greenhouse," Mrs. Knight said. As a result, teachers can specialize in subject areas, she added.

Texas Tech involvement. The university conducts at Iles "field-based" courses for education majors and places numerous student teachers there. Also, a "support team" faculty of Tech professors and graduate students takes over for two hours a week at Iles. Regular teachers thus are free to plan upcomi activities together, a "most important" process, Mrs. Knight said. The Tech-lles partnership is "mutually beneficial," said Dr. Robert Anderson, dean of the college of education. "From Tech's point of view, we have a school where we can work with real kids. This gives our professors the opportunity to sharpen their teaching skills, to practice what they preach in their methods courses."

•Piano labratory. Iles is the only Lubbock elementary school offering piano classes. Youngsters are taught in small groups so that each child has his or her own electronic keyboard. About 100 students are enrolled in the piano classes.

 An emphasis on arts. Children's artwork is displayed throughout the school, from drawings hanging on hallway walls to mobiles hanging from classroom ceilings. Anderson said art activities are not simply for fun; they are used to introduce math concepts and increase vocabulary

 Extended-day activities. From 3 p.m. to 5:30 p.m., Iles offers optional classes in music and piano, French, carpentry, art, physical education, gymnastics and speech and drama. The classes are open not only to children attending Iles but also to the 94 students who live in the Iles zone but attend Wheelock Elementary for desegregation reasons.

About 125 students, many from homes in which both parents work, take afternoon classes. They may enroll in up to three different subjects.

Other features at Iles are more subtle. In keeping with its "exemplary school" status. Iles seems more willing to try new ideas in education, for instance.

Innovations initiated from within the school system or by Tach inclusive (and tricky) use of calculators — not just for math, but for spelling bop, a new kind of math in which students are supposed to count on gers; rorschach-like "blob beasts," which serve as a springboard for storytelling; audio-visual equipment for self-paced work; and Otter's schoolwide-time of allent reading held every Friday afternoon. (Student ly embrace such activities, as evidenced by corridor posters. Proclais "Reading's fun, reading's nice, I never read the same thing twice.") Iles handles discipline problems in a way different from most other ery schools. Iles uses in-school suspension, a technique borrowed from secondoses here.

Also unusual is the school's way of reporting student progress. Convention report cards have been replaced by a Tech-developed system of conference Anderson said. First, the teachers in a team get together to evaluate a stude. Then the student's "home teacher" holds a conference with the child, follow by a conference with the child's parents. Finally, the youngster and his or limited to the child of the child's parents.

parents confer.

Mrs. Knight said Iles tries to facilitate communication among students.

"There is much verbalization, much moving about, much talking," she said.

"We stress being considerate of others, but it doesn't have to be like a tomb."

Iles is heavy on student involvement. Children as young as 4 serve on the student council, cafeteria council and cleanup brigade.

Parental involvement is emphasized, too. Besides conferences, parents have shown their support by donating items (one contributed 169 square yards of old carpet) and backing such PTA fundraisers as the sale of Iles Crusader T-shirts.

Most of Iles' strong points are not unique to that school, Lubbock school officials say. Williams Elementary is more "open" in physical layout; Mahon Elementary is just as non-graded; several schools use team teaching; almost all campuses have student teachers and employ creative instructional methods.

But Iles is the only school where all those qualities are pulled under the same roof, said Ed Stokes, elementary education director for Lubbock schools.

And there's something else.

And there's something else.

"Most of the kids who attend Iles volunteered to go — and it's the same way with the teachers," said Monte Hasie, school board vice president. "This creates an exceptionally good atmosphere."

Hasie, who has a son attending Iles, said Iles gives students independence—
"like they would experience in jun ior high"— and that the youngsters respond

The Iles faculty was specially selected, and PTA treasurer Mrs. Brown says it shows. "There seems to be more of a concerted effort among the teachers. They don't mind putting in extra hours if it means better opportunities for the Added Anderson, who visits Iles almost daily and serves as overall coordina-tor: "There's a certain amount of tender loving care going into Iles that you don't find everywhere.' 'It's no utopia," Mrs. Knight said. "We have flare-ups, just as there are in

School's Principal Envisions Special Type Of Playground

Iles Elementary School wants to build the kind of ground that's more than a jungle gym on asphalt. For starters, Principal Kay Knight envisions a soft base of eight to 10 inches of sand. On that there would be a tricycle track, a stripped-down automobile, an old boat set on springs, large wooden structures and frames, swinging bridges and a small pond. Children would get to pedal, jump, rock, climb and just relax, Mrs. Knight said. In doing so, they'd not only be developing their muscles - they'd be developing their creativitiy.

"We see this playground as an opportunity to take our in-door curriculum outdoors," Mrs. Knight said. "Besides helping students with motor (muscle) development, this will be a great setting for drama, puppet shows, art projects and

Texas Tech University and the Lubbock Independent School District, partners in making Iles a magnet school, are working together on the "model creative playground project." It will serve about 120 children age 4 to 7.

What Mrs. Knight needs now are materials. The school, 2401 Date Ave., is seeking such donations as telephone poles, railroad ties, cable spools, sand, lumber, pipe, galvanized sheet metal, brick, shipping flats or skids, nails, a cargo net, a large rubber conveyor belt, used tires, large metal washers and nuts and bolts.

Some contributions already have been received, Mrs. Knight said. Those include an old boat, a 1969 station wagon (doors and other possible hazards will be removed), 120 feet of telephone pole, two large spools and 15 tires.

Mrs. Knight said one of the most important items for which Iles is appealing is 155 feet of chain-link fencing and a gate, to divide the playground from the adjacent street and ensure youngsters' safety.

After materials are collected, individuals and groups of volunteers will be needed to construct the project, Mrs. Knight said.

Persons and companies wishing to donate materials or labor may call the school, 744-2746.

Coordinating the project are Mrs. Knight and Linda O'Neal, a former San Antonio principal and now a doctoral student in Tech's college of education.

As a class project, Randall Gilbert, senior student in the university's department of park administration and landscape architecture, constructed scale designs of the plans.

Also contributing ideas or materials were Dr. Libby Vernon, a Texas Education Agency consultant, and various professors in education, home economics, health, physical education and recreation. - JEFF SOUTH home is with a warranty. The National Association of Home Builders sponsors one of the most widespread warranty efforts through its HOW program. About 375,000 houses in 44 states and the District of Columbia were covered by HOW warranties as of late The HOW program basically is designed for new homes. A HOW warranty lasts for 10 years; if the house is sold during that period, the warranty goes with it.

The builder bears the cost - $2 per $1,-000 of the selling price of the house. During the first year of the warranty, the builder guarantees the house against defects in workmanship, materials and structure. (Swimming pools, patios, detached garages and other extras that are not part of the house itself are not covered. Problems that result from poor maintenance also are exempt from cover-The guarantee against structural defects continues during the second year. The builder also warrants that the plumbing, heating, cooling and electrical systems will perform according to approved standards. For the remaining eight years, the owner is insured by HOW's insurance carrier against major structural defects.

If you buy a HOW house, you will get a copy of the warranty agreement at closing time; you and the builder both sign. About six weeks after you move into your home, you will receive your individual policy. Disputes that arise during the period of the warranty can be settled by use of the HOW arbitration and conciliation period. If you have a problem that you cannot settle directly with the builder, contact the local HOW council listed on your warranty.

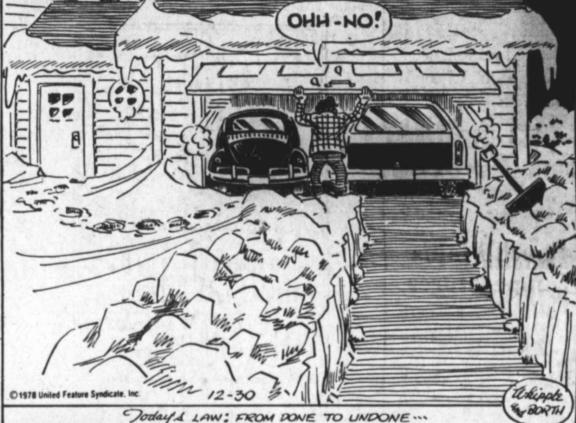

Confusion can occur over what is and is not covered by the phrase "major structural defect." According to HOW, a major structural defect is "actual damage to the load-bearing portion of your home which affects its load bearing function and which vitally affects the use of your home for residential purposes. This includes damage from shifting soil from causes other than earthquake or flood." Examples of such defects include weakening in the home's foundation due to contruction on weak, compressible or expansive soils and failure of beams, joists, load-bearing walls, lintels, etc.

By LAWRENCE E. LAMB, M.D. DEAR DR. LAMB - I read your column about diverticulitis. Now, I, too, have what doctors call the American diet disease. But beyond checking me every six months or so and requiring barium tests, my doctor hasn't really given me any advice in regard to diet. Your column mentioned a Health Letter on diverticulosis and I would greatly appreciate your sending it to me. Also, do you have any advice in reference to diet or what I should do about my condition?

DEAR READER - First, for those who may not know what diverticulosis is, it's those pockets of the colon that are so frequent in middle age and in older people. These are really little herniations through the wall of the colon. Each one looks like a small appendix. In fact, when one of these little pockets gets inflamed, since most of them are on the left side, it's often referred to as left-sided appendicitis.

Today most doctors believe that many people with diverticulosis developed the pockets because of increased pressure inside the colon. This, in turn, is caused by poor bowel habits, specifically spastic colon and constipation.

When the colon goes into a spasm, its contents above the area clamped off by the spasm stretches like a balloon. It's this constant stretching and pressure which may be a factor in causing diverticulosis.

Many people have these little pockets and have no symptoms at all from the diverticula. The symptoms they have are usually related to the underlying spastic colon.

I am sending you The Health Letter number 5-6, Diverticulosis, that you requested. Others who want this issue can send 50 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it. Send your request to me in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, N.Y. 10019.

The current idea about diet for diverticulosis is to increase the bulk in your diet. You can do this by using unrefined bran. You can add it to fruit juice or moisten it in any way that suits you or add it to cereals or whatever you wish.

Another approach is to use whole wheat cereals available in your grocery store. Using a good bowl of whole wheat cereal every morning will help a lot to increase your bulk.

You can change from white bread to whole wheat bread. Be sure it is really whole wheat bread and not just colored like whole wheat. Just becuse it's brown doesn't always mean that it is made completely with whole wheat flour.

I would add one caution to all of this. Not everyone is able to tolerate the increased bran immediately. You man need to gradually sneak up on it. Also, for the first three weeks after you've added an increased amount of bran bulk to the diet you may have an increase in gas problems. If you stick it out, your digestive system will usually adjust to your dietary change and you will feel better.

You also should be particularly careful to avoid all laxatives. The bulk laxatives do the same thing that cereal fiber bulk does for you. I would like to caution all patients with diverticulosis about the danger of using a strong laxative when they have some symptoms, just as you should never take a laxative when you have pain that may mean appendicitis. Why? Because it can be an inflamed pocket. It's like appendicitis and using a laxative at that point is just about as dangerous as in appen-

Lubbock Woman Reports Rape

A Lubbock woman told police she was raped repeatedly this morning by three men after she was grabbed at knifepoint in front of a discotheque.

The 25-year-old waitress said one of the three Mexican-American suspects grabbed her while she was attempting to get into a cab in front of the club about 1:30 a.m. today.

The knife-wielding man allegedly told the woman if she did not do what she was told he would kill her. Reports show the victim was placed in a 1962-63 blue Chevrolet station wagon containing the other two suspects and driven north of the city to a dirt road where each man raped the woman twice.

The woman said after the sexual assaults, she was driven to a convenience store at Clovis Road and Avenue U and let out.

The armed man, who reportedly never spoke any English, was described as having shoulder-length, wavy hair. Another of the suspects was said to have a neatly cut afro.

The victim told police her attackers had pestered her earlier in the night at

Proposals Offered For Loan Guarantees

AUSTIN (AP) - Rep. Luther Jones introduced two proposals Monday to make it easier for young persons to get started in farming or ranching.

Jones, D-El Paso, said lending institutions now require a minimum down payment of 29 percent for land loans, and the only way the average young person can obtain farm or ranch land is "either marry it or inherit it." Under Jones' plan, the state would guarantee at least 90 percent of the loan balance if a borrower defaults on the

Reports show the woman was ordered out of the car, and was being led to the suspect's 1970 green or blue four-door car when she broke free from the man's grasp and flagged down a passing motor-

MARRIAGE IN STYLE

NEW YORK (AP) - The divorce rate is leveling off, marriage is making a comeback and romance is in vogue, claims Kathy Lowry in an article in Family Weekly magazine. "This resurgence of romantic love is partially a benign reaction to the more strident excesses of the feminist movement, the New Morality and the '60s' drug-rock-sex culture in general," she says.

Police were told by witnesses that the man was wounded during a fight near a convenience store at Colgate Street and Detroit Avenue.

In one of several burglaries, Julie Flores Barron of 2202 Ave. K said she suffered a $1,500 loss when her house was burglarized between 7 p.m. and 11 p.m. Sunday and U.S. Savings Bonds, two televisions, a guitar and a safe were stolen.

Agustin Estrada, owner of a pawn shop at 703 Broadway, said five guns and an eight-track stereo were taken from the building sometime between Saturday and Sunday. A glass window in the building had been broken.

Ronald Ramirez of 502 N. Englewood told police someone stole his car Saturday night from in front of his house. Ramirez, who said his loss totaled about $6,-558, noted clothes, luggage, a camera and an eight-track tape deck were inside the Food appliances, a typewriter, stereo equipment and clothes, all worth $2,550, were reported stolen by Terry Wayne Marrs of 2317 Eighth St. Burglars evidently entered the house through a rear door, police reports show.

Someone apparently forced the patio door of Teri Davis' house at 4315-B 53rd St. between Friday and Saturday and took jewelry and a television set valued at $1,700, she told police.

Doomsday For Rams

THERE'S SOMETHING ABOUT the Los Angeles Rams that brings out the best in Dallas strong safety Charlie Waters. The nine-year veteran from Clemson is an outstanding athlete at all times, but when Charlie faces those guys with the horns on their hats he could whip Superman. Two years ago, these same teams met at Texas Stadium in the first round of the NFL playoffs. The Cowboy offense was sputtering, since it didn't have Tony Dorsett's outside speed then, so the burden was on the Doomsday Defense. With Waters playing like a demon, the 'Pokes almost pulled out a victory.

Charlie intercepted a pass and blocked two Ram punts that cold late-December evening, and his second block gave the Cowboys a last chance as the final minutes ticked off the clock. Dallas took over on the Ram 16, but Roger Staubach's apparent touchdown pass to Butch Johnson was nullified when Butch couldn't get both feet down inside the white line. A fourth down pass to tight end Billy Joe DuPree was inches short of a big first at the 6.

Waters had so intimidated the Rams, however, that they chose to give up a safety rather than to risk another punt from deep in their own territory. The Los Angeles lads went home with a 14-12 victory and a lot of respect for that Cowboy wearing No. 41.

It was no great surprise, then, when Charlie went into his act at the Coliseum Sunday afternoon. The sight of those funny-looking orange and blue helmets was all he needed to start intercepting passes, making key tackles and leading cheers from the sidelines.

Twice at critical times, Waters made the big steals. That probably was the difference in the game.

CHARLIE SHARED THE glory with his defensive teammates, despite his heroics. This may have been the greatest performance ever for a Dallas defense, everything considered. Larry Cole, who has participated in all of the Cowboy epics during the last decade, thinks this probably was the topper.

Coach Tom Landry might voice mild disagreement, since he always has considered the Cowboys' 24-3 rout of the Miami Dolphins in Super Bowl VI as the best ever for Doomsday. But he was in no mood to argue after the shutout over the big. talented Rams.

The Los Angeles club has collected a lot of first-round draft choices in recent iks to those quarterback swaps to Philadelphia and Green Bay. No team in the NFL has more raw physical ability than the Rams

LOS ANGELES (AP) - Bob Breunig, the 225-pound middle linebacker for the Dallas Cowboys, readily admits his defensive cohorts played great against the Los Angeles Rams, but he says they'll have to be better in the Super Bowl.

The defending National Football League champions qualified for Super Bowl XIII on Sunday by whipping the Rams 28-0 with four touchdowns in the second half, the first two coming after interceptions by safety Charlie Waters.

The Cowboys will face American Football Conference champion Pittsburgh, a 34-5 winner over Houston Sunday, at Miami on Jan. 21. "The defense did it," said quarterback

Steelers Freeze Out Houston

PITTSBURGH (AP) - The field got wet, and it got wetter. The ball got slick, and it got slicker.

"We got behind - and we got behinder," Coach Bum Phillips said Sunday after his Houston Oilers lost 34-5 to the Pittsburgh Steelers in an American Football Conference title game marked by continuous cold rain and torrential turno-

Yet the Steelers are bound for a Jan. 21 Super Bowl rematch with the Dallas Cowboys because the water, the Oilers and an intestinal virus failed to stop Terry Bradshaw, who fittingly spent the days before the game on a liquid diet.

"Once I went out to warm up I got so pumped up you never would have known was sick," said Bradshaw, who fired two touchdown passes in a 17-point outburst in the last 52 seconds of the first half that gave the Steelers a 31-3 intermission lead. "The field was a mess, and the ball was totally saturated. I guess I just got real lucky," said Bradshaw, who hit 11 of 19 passes for 200 yards to raise his career postseason passing total to 2.432 yards, an NFL record. The old mark of 2.398 was held by Ken Stabler of Oakland. Houston quarterback Dan Pastorini. who again wore a flak jacket to protect his cracked ribs, might have worn a life jacket. He threw five interceptions and was sacked four times.

'Pittsburgh beat us, not the weather,"

Pastorini said. Houston, a wild-card playoff entry after inishing runnerup to Pittsburgh in the AFC Central, ran rookie sledgehammer Earl Campbell off the right side to open Linebacker Jack Ham slammed Campbell for a 3-yard loss, and right there Steelers tackle Joe Greene smiled inside.

"That's been a big play for Houston all season. When Jack stopped it like that, I thought. 'Well, this is the way the game is gonna be." said Greene.

On the first Steelers series, Bradshaw's 34-yard toss to Lynn Swann set up a 7vard Franco Harris touchdown run for nother record. Harris now has 13 touchdowns in NFL playoff-games, extending his own record.

Campbell later lost a fumble that set up See PITTSBURGH Page 2

"They didn't do anything we hadn't ex-pected. Los Angeles has been that way. Pittsburgh is kind of that way and Pittsburgh is awesome. We'll have to put up at least the same defense performance and more to play with the Steelers."

Dallas put a tremendous pass rush on Rams' quarterback Pat Haden, who left the game late in the third quarter with a broken right thumb.

He was hurt when hit by defensive tackle Randy White, who had put fullback John Cappelletti out of the game in the first quarter with a shoulder injury.

"Our pass rush was just individual ef-fort by our defensive line," Breunig said. "It was timing. We did gamble some with safety blitzes and sometimes they worked and sometimes they didn't."

Then, early in the third period, Charlie Waters picked off a Haden pass at the Rams 30 and returned to the 9. Aided by a penalty, the Cowboys scored in five plays. Tony Dorsett circling right end from four yards out for the score.

Defensively, the Fort Stockton senior proved to be a better receiver to opposing quarterbacks than intended pass catchers. McIvor had 14 interceptions. Cooper graded out at an average between 85-90 percent. The Sweetwater guard (6-0, 225-pound Sr.) also has good speed to go along with his large frame. Cooper runs a 4.9 in the 40-yard dash.

Parks (6-1, 235-pounds) is known for quickness. Parks was often used as a pulling guard and with 4.8 speed to match his 235-pound frame, he was constantly a thorn in the defensive line's side.

In 1-AAA, tackle Milliard graded at an 85 percent average. Milliard, who made the I-AAA All-District team both offensively and defensively, is a better offensive player, according to Dumas coach Don Barton.

Land was the best blocker on the Snyder Tiger football team this season. Land is best known for trap and pass blocking. Estacado coach Louis Kelley says Escamilla, "is the best blocker I've ever coached." Escamilla kept a 85-90 percent grade throughout the season.

On defense, Terry Tennison (6-0, 200pound Sr.) of Canyon, Steve Wright (6-2, 210 Sr.) of Estacado, Jerry Joplin (6-3, 225-pound Sr.) of Fort Stockton, Morris Anderson (6-2, 218-pound Jr.) of Snyder and Steve Kolb (6-2, 240-pounds Sr.) of Andrews are the lineman.

McIvor with 14 interceptions heads the secondary. Joining McIvor are Danny Rendon (6-0, 160-pound, Sr.) of Lake View and Eddie Clements (6-0, 170pound Sr.) of Canyon. Rendon averaged 10 tackles a game and picked off six passes. Clements intercepted seven passes, and besides pestering quarterbacks, the Canyon secondary star is also the South-Plains kicker.

Clements hit 11 of 15 field goals, the longest being 50-yards.

So, with all the players taken care off, the only thing left to discuss is the man who molded his players skills the best this season.

Kelley of Estacado took a team last year that finished 6-4 and picked second in I-AAA this year to the semifinals of the AAA playoffs.

Along that route, the Matadors knocked off number three ranked Fort Stockton in bidistrict and Snyder before falling to Gainesville.

Oiler Fans Stay Loyal

HOUSTON (AP) - The Houston Oilers, after losing the American Conference championship football game in Pittsburgh Sunday, were stunned when they were met by 40,000 cheering fans when they arrived home Sunday night.

"I really can't believe it," said tackle Greg Sampson as he entered the Astrodome where the crowd had gathered, responding to a local radio station's call for a pep rally for the Oilers on their return whether they won or not.

By the time the Oilers arrived, the crowd had been waiting for two and a half hours in the domed stadium, because the team's flight back to Texas was delayed.

"Looking at this crowd I feel like we just won the Super Bowt," said

"Haden had thrown a sideline pass to Terry Nelson earlier and had confidence in the play. They lined up with two wide receivers on one side and the tight end (Nelson) on the other. I broke underneath to get the ball.

"On the second, we faked a maximum blitz and I broke in front of the receiver. "I think the biggest thing we had going for us was the two missed Los Angeles field goals." Rookie Frank Corral, the leading scorer in the NFL this season, had missed three-point tries of 39 and 45 yards. Coach Ray Malavasi of the Rams said, "When we lost John Cappelletti, that really slowed down our running game."

The coach took the blame for a fourthand-one gamble that failed in the third quarter with the Cowboys leading 7-0. Los Angeles had the ball at the Dallas 14 when Jim Jodat was stopped by Larry Bethea for no gain and the Cowboys took possession "We went for it because I wanted a touchdown," Malavasi said. "I had told the team the night before that we would go for it if we got in that situation. We had a shot to make it, but our back did

GERMANS EXCLUDED

PARIS (AP) - The West German Kauhsen auto racing team has been excluded from the 1979 World Grand Prix Championships because it failed to provide a $30,000 guarantee that it would take part in all 16 races, the World Motor Sport Federation.

Dallas free safety Cliff Harris of Dallas felt that play was the key to the victory.

"That fourth-and-one play was a challenge our defense needed. Not much was said in the defensive huddle that time. but we felt the game was on the line right then," he said.

Malavasi added, "It hurt us to lose our quarterback although Pat was not having one of his better days. It is tough for a player like Vince Ferragamo to go in there cold. "At times we threw the ball well and had some good plays, but we just didn't play well in the second half. Both the Cowboys and Rams finished the regular season with 12-4 records, and Dallas now has won its last eight games, having downed Atlanta in its playoff opener last week.

Coach Landry commented, "We're delighted to player whoever is in the Super Bowl. Pittsburgh has been the best in the NFL this year.

Sunday, on the big mouths of both teams. Dallas linebacker Thomas Henderson got most of the publicity, after his "no class" blast at the Rams, but many forget that the Rams started the whole mess. So it was natural for Henderson, admittedly the fastest mouth in the south, to retort in kind. When it comes down to verbal battles, the Cowboys can't lose as long as Hollywood is on the roster.

When Henderson intercepted a pass and returned it for a touchdown, it poured a lot of salt on Ram wounds

NOW THE COWBOYS have two weeks to get ready for the mighty Pittsburgh Steelers. It was the Steelers, fans may recall, who beat Dallas 21-17 in Super Bowl X at Miami. The Orange Bowl hasn't been kind to Dallas through the years, since the Cowboys also lost Super Bowl V down in the sunshine country. The Steelers bring an awesome record into the Big One. Pittsburgh has demolished two good football teams, Denver and Houston, in their playoff outings, while the Cowboys were struggling with Atlanta and Los Angeles.

Buf if the Dallas defense can play with the same intensity at Miami that it did in Los Angeles, then there is hope for 'Poke partisans. If only someone would paint Ram horns on the Steeler helmets, so that Charlie Waters can turn into the bionic man again!

Can Tech Follow Through By DON HENRY

Executive Sports Editor
FORT WORTH — Once the television set warmed up Saturday, TCU coach Tim Somerville had only one team he really wanted to watch. He had seen Texas, knew what they could do. So, he watched Texas Tech in that 92-74 Southwest Conference runa-

Tonight, beginning at 7:30 p.m. in TCU's Daniel-Meyer Coliseum, Somerville will get a closer look at Tech. And he has complimented the way the Raiders

Tech will take the floor with a 9-2 season record, but more importantly, a 1-0 mark in the league. It swamped the Longhorns in Lubbock in a regionally televised game Saturday afternoon to raise some eyebrows around the league. Somerville's were not stretched.

"Everybody about them (the Raiders) impressed me," said the TCU coach.
"Tech really has a line basketball team. They've played well the last couple of weeks.

"The big thing about them is their quickness, one through ten men. "They're really so much better than last year," he added. Somerville, although only in his second year as head coach, knows about playing on a foreign court. His Frogs sustained a 92-63 loss to Texas in Austin last Thursday night in the SWC's first game. Now, it's almost a new start, as he plans a completely different lineup from last Thursday.

"We played well the second half; that was it. We were down 29 points at the half, and that was the final score (margin). (Mark) Nickens played well for us," commented Somerville, "he and (freshman) Scott Blackwell. Both came off the bench."

The way the bench players performed, the Frog coach indicated he would open with a completely new lineup of the 6-8 Blackwell, 6-4 Nickens, 6-9 Ty Thompson, 6-6 Jon Mansbury and 6-3 Jeff Vincent

All except Vincent, a transfer from Chipola (Pla.) Junior College, are freshmen. TCU was to have played SMU in Dallas Saturday night, but the icy weather in the northern part of the state dictated a delay until Feb. 8. Thus, the Frogs got a rest, and Somerville says they needed it.

"It should help us. It gives us some time off, and we needed some rest after losing to Texas.

"We looked much better at times (late ly), but we're so much improved over last year. .. like night and day. The thing that kills us is that we don't have any experi-

"Every game is a new experience for these guys."

With a freshman-dominated club, the Progs have managed four wins in ten games this season.

Tech tonight will be starting a three-game week, as it hosts Baylor on Thursday and Rice on Saturday, following the shocking opener over Texas.

Tech, since opening the season, has had a set lineup, as coach Gerald Myers has gone with 6-9 Ralph McPherson, 6-8 Ralph Brewster, 6-2 Geoff Huston, 6-5 Kent Williams and 6-4 Jeff Taylor.

But the 12-point five-rebound, three-

LOS ANGELES (AP) - "History repeated itself. Los Angeles can't win the big one," said Thomas "Hollywood" Henderson in his usual less-than-humble

The Dallas linebacker claimed heading into Sunday's National Football Conference Championship game that the Rams didn't have "enough class" to play in the Super Bowl, and that the Cowboys always win the big games. He and his teammates gave credence to that boast Sunday with a 28-0 victory over the long-suftering Rams.

Not only did Henderson make his statement stand, he rubbed it in with a 68yard interception return for the Cowboys' final touchdown as Dallas' defense logged the NFC title game's first shutout

Henderson, who also deflected three Los Angeles passes, was asked if he felt he'd been a marked man in the game because of his statements about the Rams.

"I felt like a tomcat in a cornfield with a German Shepherd growling at me," he said. "But the German Shepherd was the one in trouble

Next stop for Dallas is Miami for the Jan. 21 Super Bowl date with AFC Champion Pittsburgh. The loquacious Henderson was somewhat conservative with his predictions about the Super Bowl.

"Pittsbugh has got a good team." he said. "But we're better."

Although Henderson's fourth-quarter touchdown seemed a fitting capsule of the way the game went — the Cowboys' capitalizing on the frustrated Rams' errors - safety Charlie Waters and linebacker Randy White made the biggest Waters intercepted a pair of passes that set up the Cowboys' first two scores, and driving tackles by White knocked both quarterback Pat Haden and fullback John Cappelletti out of the game with in-

Waters who also recovered a fumble wasn't particularly excited about the way he played.

"That wasn't my finest game," he said. "I had several missed assignments. I had a better game against the Rams in 1976, but that one won't be remembered because we lost."

White, a 250-pound defensive tackle, said he wasn't aware at the time that he'd sidelined two key Rams."

"I didn't know until after the game that Cappelletti was hurt," said White, who added that he wasn't aware Haden was injured until his Dallas teammates began talking about how to work against (Vince) Ferragamo.

Haden suffered a compound fracture of the thumb on his right hand late in the third quarter with the Rams behind 7-0. and seldom-used reserve Ferragamo had to finish up. Cappelletti went out in the first quarter with a shoulder separation.

Haden and Cappelletti, both in pain and downcast following the loss, seemed apt illustrations of the Rams' enduring playoff disappointments. Six consecutive years Los Angeles has won its division. but it has never survived the playoffs.

"We had the opportunities but we just blew them," said Haden, his bloody, bandaged hand in a sling. "The turnovers just killed us.

"Frustrating? Sure, it's frustrating.
Dallas played well, but we just couldn't seem to get it together."

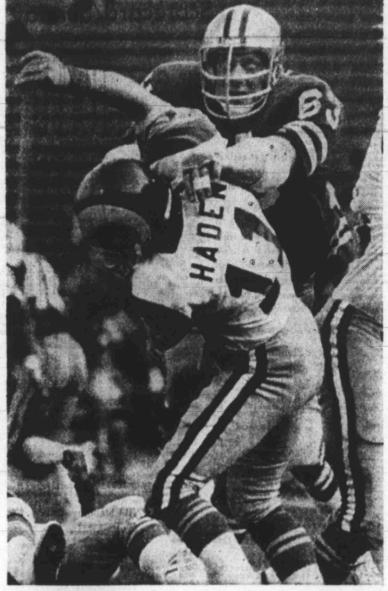

"This game was particularly disappointing for me because I got hurt right after I had fumbled," said Cappelletti, the Heisman Trophy-winner out of Penn State. "You work the whole season and then you see everything evaporate."

"It was just another dog day afternoon." said Los Angeles offensive guard Dennis Harrah. "You get tired of all that work going down the drain. I think we're all just sick of it."

Los Angeles wide receiver Willie Miller managed to retain a measure of optimisism despite the loss.

"This is a team with a lot of unity," he said. "We've come through a lot together, and we've grown together a lot. We'll be there next year."

"I told the team after the game that I appreciated the effort our guys put forth this year," said first-year Rams Coach Ray Malavasi. "We had a lot of adversity, what with all the injuries, but our players always gave us a top effort.

Steelers Look For Dallas

PITTSBURGH (AP) — They had tried to batter each other senseless on the frozen field, then they had shaken each others' hands and wished each other luck as they ambled back and fourth between their dressing rooms.

The Pittsburgh Steelers, typically subdued following their 34-5 rout of Houston in Sunday's American Conference championship game, were looking two weeks ahead to Super Bowl XIII. The Oilers had their sights set a bit further — to next

"I think the next time we'll be more prepared mentally," said wide receiver Ken Burrough, who failed to catch even one of Houston quarterback Dan Pastorini's passes. "We just have to forget about this. We can congratulate each other on a have to forget about this. We can congratulate each other on a great session and get ready for "79."

Pastorini, whose sensational passing had gotten the Oilers this far in two previous playoff games, had a nightmare afternoon. He completed just 12 of 26 passes for 96 yards, while sacked four times, and had five passes intercepted, the last figure matching a National Football League playoff record achieved—if that's the word—twice by George Blanda.

"It was a good west but because of today you can't call it a

"It was a good year but because of today you can't call it a great year. It's a long time coming, when you come so far and get so close." added Pastorini. Then, on the verge of tears, he put his head in his hands and shuddered.

Defensive end Elvin Bethea, who, like Pastorini, suffered through Houston's two successive 1-13 seasons in the early 1970s. added with obvious pride: "I don't think a lot of these guys realize what we've done. We've gone from the bottom of the pit to playing in a championship game."

In Pittsburgh's locker room, defensive end Dwight W' ite was licking his chops at the thought of winning a third Super Bowl ring. "It's gonna be a monster," he leered. "I'm gonna get that third ring and I'm gonna take it down to Dallas, show it to my buddy Harvey Martin (of the Cowboys), and let him eat his heart out." Nobody suggested to the 6-foot-4, 255-pound White that the Cowboys just might become the Super Bowl's first three-time winner and that it might be Martin flashing a monster ring around. The Cowboys, defending NFL champs, met Pittsburgh in Super Bowl X and were 21-17 losers. But White shrugged aside thought of a Dallas triumph this time.

Defensive tackle Joe Greene was a bit more hesitant. "We haven't gone the distance yet," he said. "We're in the race but. we've got one more to go." And linebacker Jack Ham, the de-fensive star with two fumble recoveries, an interception and a quarterback sack, added: "The jury's still out."

Pittsburgh quarterback Terry Bradshaw was clearly the of-fensive star. Despite being numbed by the freezing rain and weakened by a three-day bout with the flu, he completed 11 of 19 passes for 200 yards and a pair of touchdowns a scant 19 seconds apart just before halftime.

And while Pastorini was losing 26 yards on four sacks, Bradshaw was gaining 29 on seven rushes.

ferred to Wagner as "Webster." "You tell that Webster that he's a cheap shot" said Barber, continuing the sentence with a string of unprinta-"I'm gonna get him." he told Greene.

Barber was hurt on the first play of the second quarter on a long, incomplete pass over the middle. He and Wagner both raced for the ball. It sailed over Barber's head, then Wagner lowered his shoulder and chopped Barber down at Barber did not return to the game.

"I'll pay him back." Barber repeated inside the Oiler locker room. "And when I do, he won't play a game again."

About a half hour later, Barber was approached again by other reporters. "I don't want to say anything." he said. I'm so filled with anger right now that anything I say wouldn't be the real me. I just don't want to say anything

After he was helped off the field, Barber pointed a linger at Wagner and yelled at him. He also yelled at him several times during the game.

"That's really smart. If that's his mentality, fine," said Wagner. 'I can't worry about that.

Wagner said it wasn't a dirty play. "We were both running full speed. It was a collision course, and I was just hitting the dirt," said Wagner. "On a play like that, I'm not going to stand up and like that. I'm not going to stand up and just take a shot ... all I could do was buckle and go down.

France's Clint Eastwood To Star In U.S. Movie order to do so I would have to work and live in Hollywood. I can't do that.

"My accent is a small barrier. But the real reason my pictures don't play here is the business of exclusion and competition. My films only play art houses. It's the economics of the film industry to protect domestic movies. For that reason very few foreign films get big general releases in America.

"That's all right. I'm not complaining. It's normal. There is more than enought for me to do in France.

"My ADEL Productions makes at least one film a year. I do everything from A to Z. I find a story, hire writers, choose a director, collect a cast and then put it all together. I even handle the finances, distribution and publicty.

"I refuse to accept the director who thinks himself a genius and tries to put his stamp on my films. It is my stamp that counts."

Delon accepted his role of an Air France pilot in "Airport '79 Concorde" as much out of patriotism as anything else, aside, of course, for the small fortune Universal Pictures is paying him.

"This is a very important picture," he said. "The Concorde is a big star all by itself, and it is half French. I want to be the first pilot in the first picture about the Concorde. "This airplane is a landmark in 20th

Because of my production experience I was able to help Universal in its negotiations with the difficult French authorities - the people who built the plane, the airport shots and Air France.

Delon was interrupted by a pair of Iranian women who stopped by his dining room table to request an autograph. A few moments later a blonde, who said she was from Holland, worshipfully asked for his signature.

"It's like this all over the world," Delon grinned. "Except in the United States. If a bus filled with Japanese tourists stopped here I would be trampled to

"I don't mean to sound egotistical. The simple truth is that I am an enormous star all over the world. I like that because it enables me to live well.

Delon is unmarried although he has lived with the same woman for 10 years. He shares Clint's passion for privacy, living in isolated splendor in Paris and at a 150-acre forrested country estate 60 which he helicopters for three days every week.

But he is a practical Frenchman as well. He thinks it would be a fine idea to costar with Eastwood as a means to es-

She is running on the TDU slate.

Teamster officials deny the union had anything to do with those incidents of recent weeks. But TDU organizer Ken Paff claims they reflect the growing concern of entrenched Teamster officials about his small group, which is pledged to turn the hierarchy out.

"Our job is to get the silent majority." says Paff. "We want to give the union back to the members.

The dissidents say their power is growing. They claim only 3.500 active members among the more than 2 million Teamsters.

But last year, dissidents in Flint, Mich., including several TDU candidates, swept incumbents out of office at 4.000-member Local 332. In all of Michigan, where there are 100,000 Teamsters. the TDU claims only 600 members - 500 of them in Detroit, its biggest chapter.

Last year, in Oklahoma City, four of seven TDU candidates won: in Green Bay, Wis., all four TDU candidates won; and in Vancouver. British Columbia. three of five insurgents won and then promptly joined the TDU.

Last month. in Pittsburgh, a TDU candidate was elected to the executive board of the 6,500-member Local 249 of the Teamsters. But a TDU candidate for the presidency of that local lost.

Teamsters for a Democratic Union had its origins in a meeting in 1975 of about 40 Teamsters and independent truckers. Distrustful of the union hierarchy in coming negotiations, they formed Teamsters Paff teams with Pete Camarata, a 285pound loading dock worker who gained TDU its first publicity in 1976 by being the only one of 2.750 delegates to oppose Fitzsimmons' re-election at Las Vegas. On the last day of that convention, he was beaten in front of the Aladdin Hotel and Casino as Fitzsimmons climbed into a car a few feet away.

Now. Camarata says he plans to run against Fitzsimmons in 1981.

'If there was an open election. Frank Fitzsimmons wouldn't stand a chance. claims Paff, pointing as trucks go by on a busy street outside TDU's second-floor office over a drugstore. "I think you could stand out there all day, ask the drivers and couldn't find one who would vote for Fitzsimmons - and this is his TDU leaders insist they want to reform the union, and Paff says the TDU wants "to rewrite the international constitution" - to prohibit holding multiple union jobs, to ban patronage, to prohibit membership for anyone convicted of a felony, and to elect the general president by vote of the entire membership, not just convention delegates.

"Last time we were one vote. By 1981, we want to be a force, not the biggest force, just a force," says Paff. And he adds that by the 1986 convention, the TDU may be able to throw the old guard Camarata is a co-chairman of TDU's steering committee, and a steward in Local 299 here - the home unit not only of Fitzsimmons but of missing ex-Teamsters boss James R. Hoffa.

With 500 members, it is TDU's largest chapter, and Hoffa's rank-and-file popularity is a point not lost on the TDU. Its members frequently tout their cause with favorable references to him.

Hoffa, when he went to prison in 1967. entrusted union leadership to Fitzsimmons and later resigned as president, letting Fitzsimmons be elected on his own. But when Hoffa went free, he accused Fitzsimmons of having conspired with the Nixon White House to write a restriction into his parole barring him from union activity until 1980 - an allegation Fitzsimmons denied. After Hoffa vanished in 1975, federal investigators said they believed he was slain by organized crime figures who wanted the Teamsters power structure undisturbed.

Now Camarata fights in Fitzsimmons' home base. He lost a bid for the local vice presidency in 1977. Last year, 63 percent of those voting — just short of the needed two-thirds — favored a TDU-inspired call for elected, rather than appointed, business agents. Camarata says another such drive will be mounted this year.

One result, TDU members say, is that Fitzsimmons has become uncertain of how he would be received in his home local. "There's a lot of old Hoffa supporters here," says Camarata, "And Fitzie doesn't like being seen with me. He's a finicky old guy." Fitzsimmon's other swipes at dissidents include this statement on Oct. 5, 1978: "These liars and cheap shot artists .. call the best pension plans in America a sellout ... They call the most democratic institution that God ever put on this earth a tyranny ... They call me a tool of organized crime ... I call them a pack of lying jackals ... It is obvious that their sole mission is to try to tear the Teamsters union apart."

IN NEW QUARTERS - Ken Paff, 32, the only full-time organizer of the Teamsters for a Democratic Union, in shown in his new Detroit office. The 21/2-year-old union group has moved its national headquarters from Cleveland to Detroit. The TDU is a group of insurgents pledged to turn out the hierarchy of the hugh union. (AP Laser-
