Farm Safety Week Gets Boost Here

Bailey County Judge Glen Williams has proclaimed July 25-31, 1980 as FARM AND RANCH SAFETY WEEK in Bailey County, at the request of Alec Schuster, Bailey County Farm Bureau president.

This marks the 37th annual Farm Safety Week, co-sponsored by the National Safety Council and the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

The theme for the week is "Personal Protective Equipment-Projects".

In his proclamation, Judge Williams said, "accidents involving Texas farm and ranch residents at work, in the home, at play, and on the roads and highways accounted for over 300 fatalities, thousands of painful injuries, costing millions of dollars in 1979."

The 1979 Texas Farm Bureau Accidental Death Program records show that 322 death claims were paid in 141 different counties. Bailey County recorded three death claims under the program. Traffic related incidents caused the most death claims, statewide, with 189 ---- (auto / truck....174; motorcycle / minibikes....5; bicycle....1; and pedestrians.... 9). Other high-ranking causes for accidental deaths were drownings, firearms, falls, aircraft crashes, and tractors, all with 20 or less claims.

The latest National Safety Council Agriculture accident surveys indicate that nearly half of the reported injuries involved the head, eyes, hands or feet -- part of the body for which a good measure of protection is available. Personal Protective Equipment (PPE) such as hard hats, safety eyewear, gloves and safety shoes could have prevented or reduced the severity of a large percentage of these injuries. In addition, many work-related illnesses and chronic health problems could be mitigated by use of the appropriate respirators, impervious garment, and safety shoes could have prevented or reduced the severity of a large percentage of these injuries. In addition, many work-related illnesses and chronic health problems could be mitigated by use of the appropriate respirators, impervious gar-

Four Firemen Attend School From Muleshoe

James (Smoky) Martin, volunteer fireman on the Muleshoe Volunteer Fire Department of Muleshoe, Texas is attending the 51st Annual Texas Firemen's Training School, July 20 - 25. The school, attended by nearly 1,880 students representing about 700 cities from more than 20 states, is being held on the Texas A&M University campus this week.

Firemen can choose their course at the school from a list including Fire Fighting, Fire Prevention, Fire Department Officer Training, Fire Department Pump Maintenance, Specialized Fire Protection, and Disaster Rescue Training.

Fireman Martin is being sponsored by Bailey County Farm Bureau and Texas Farm Bureau Insurance Companies by contributing toward the cost of the school. Since volunteer firemen are interested in attending this school to help do a better job of fire fighting and fire prevention, 100 County Farm Bureaus and the Texas Farm Bureau Insurance Companies in the statewide program have sponsored 100 firemen at the school.

"The Farm Bureau Insurance Companies believe volunteer fire departments have been very effective in reducing the amount of loss involved by fire in rural areas," said President Carrol G. Chaloupka of Dalhart. "It is our hope in sponsoring this program that the fireman will help the Muleshoe Volunteer Department to better serve the residents of Bailey County."

At noon, the youths, along with the Wildlife Refuge, hosted a hamburger cookout for their parents, workers at the Refuge, and special guests.

Muleshoe Native Has Acting 'Bug'

Master Sergeant Rod Lambert has been bitten by the bug...the acting bug. By day, he is the Tactical Air Operations Central, Marine Corps Communications-Electronics School. At night, he may be found in the spotlight facing an audience.

After 19 years absence from the theater, MSgt. Lambert has made his comeback in the suspense mystery thriller, "Night Watch", by Lucille Fletcher. MSgt. Lambert played one of the lead parts, John Wheeler, at the Cultural Center, Twenty-nine Palms Highway, from May 2 to May 24.

"After so many years away from the stage, it felt like coming home," said MSgt. Lambert.

"Although I drift away from the theater, I always come back. I guess that shows what my real love is," explained the 44-year old native of Muleshoe.

MSgt Lambert's interests in drama began at Muleshoe High School. After graduation, he joined the speaker. Treadwell was preceded by Wesley Hennigh, camp director, who gave the three main purposes of the youth program.

Hennigh said the YCC program is unique, in that it is the only government program which is set up for anybody to participate. If they are between the ages of 15-18, Hennigh said it is not restricted to any special group.

The YCC program is designed to establish a work-program to expose youth to the work environment; get needed work done for refuges and fish hatcheries and is an environmental awareness program.

This County Ranks Fourth In 1979 Corn

Bailey County ranked sixth in 1979 Texas corn production, Agriculture Commissioner Reagan V. Brown reports.

Of the top ten counties, Bailey County carried 3.3 percent of the state production of corn with 4,343,600 bushels of corn produced.

Production of corn in 1979 totaled 132,300,000 bushels valued at $370,440,000. In national standings, Texas ranked thirteenth.

Planting season for corn in Texas ranges from February until May and harvesting lasts from July until November. Of the 1,400,000 acres planted, 1,260,000 were harvested.

Three Inches Fall South Of Sudan

Despite only a 20 percent chance of moisture Thursday, the skies clouded over with dark thunderclouds and ended up dumping one inch of moisture on parts of Muleshoe. This was hoped to be effectively breaking a prolonged dry, very hot two months in this area.

With .8 to one inch of rain being recorded in town, residents of farms south and west of Sudan rejoiced over three inches of rain falling in that area as the cloud trekked southeast from this county.

During the first four months of 1980, 2.28 in moisture was recorded, both in the form of snow and rain. Then for the following three months, an additional 3.06 in rain fell to bring the total for the year until Thursday to 5.34.

Most of that moisture fell in amounts like .20 and .17 at various times. However, the Thursday moisture in Muleshoe was the first moisture of any measurement at all since .03 fell on July 3, 20 days earlier.

During the entire month of July, the daily temperature ranged from the high 90's into the 100's.

On Friday, the temperature failed to reach 90 degrees for the first time in more than two months.

As the rain fell on Muleshoe, Only .10 was recorded at Friona, with 'sprinkles' around Earth and Springlake. Deaf Smith and Castro Counties also said they only received sprinkles as the clouds skittered on their southeast path.

Dusty, dry, hot Muleshoe National Wildlife Refuge received .22 in "welcome" moisture, according to manager Allen Jones, who also said the Thursday night low temperature was 60 degrees.

At the Maple Co-op Gin, only around .10 was recorded, although the sprinkles did cool things off in that dry area.

Around Bula, it was reported that no rain at all fell at the old Bula School, but around Claunch Gin northward, the rain ranged from one to one and a half inches. However, it is virtually too late in that area, as residents report no dryland crops at all around Bula, and very little irrigated crops.

Traditionally, Bula has been in the 'dryland' crop area, and Mrs. Claunch said the only green spots in the area are where the limited irrigated crops are located.

John Gulley said Progress received around .25 in

YAC Asks For Help Saturday

Are there any public-spirited citizens anymore? The Muleshoe Area Youth Activities Committee is seeking all civic-minded people, and persons with a sense of community involvement.

On Saturday, August 2, a workday is scheduled for the miniature golf course site adjacent to the Bailey County Exhibition Center and Coliseum at the west edge of Muleshoe.

Volunteer workers are asked to assemble at 9 a.m. at the golf course site and help with the construction on the golf course. If it seems the project has lagged since it was started, it is simply because of the unavailability of volunteer workers.

YAC, a non-profit organization, is attempting to construct the golf course with just volunteer labor, and there are not that many persons around who appear to be willing to donate a little time to the project.

YAC has funds to purchase necessary materials for construction, but does not have the funds to pay for labor.

Persons who contribute a day of work will be treated to a cookout that day at the end of the worktime.

Please volunteer to help. YAC is floundering and needs your help!!

Library News

The library has just completed a very successful Summer Reading Program, with 11,072 books circulated during this period. Some 150 boys and girls actively participated in the program.

We would like to thank the news media very much for all the good publicity, which ensured the success of the program—a very sincere thanks to the Journal, the radio, and Channel 6 TV!

If anyone was inconvenienced by the crowds we had on Wednesday morning when we were showing films to the children, we apologize for it, and now that things are a bit quieter in the library, we should be able to give much better service to our patrons.

One of deep concerns has been to provide reading material for the blind and visually impaired of our community. I am happy to report that in addition to the recorded material for the blind, we now have a collection of 100 LARGE PRINT BOOKS. About 40 of which have been added this summer, new fiction and non-fiction — and the print in these books is 4 times larger than normal print. We have also added the Reader's Digest magazine in LARGE PRINT, along with an inspirational monthly magazine, GUIDEPOSTS. So if anyone has limited or impaired vision, please ask to see our catalog of titles of all our books in large print. If we don't have the book, many times we can get it out of Lubbock on loan for three weeks use.

*Paperback books are very popular with our readers, and we have over 5,000 on hand to select. In the month of June we circulated 1,911 paperbacks! We have not charged fines on over-due paperbacks, however, we do ask that they be returned promptly on the due date, so someone else may read them too.

17th A.F. Selects Wing Chief

A chief master sergeant of the 601st Component Repair Squadron, here, was recently selected as the new senior enlisted advisor of 17th Air Force.

CMSgt. R. L. Gabbert, Sembach's maintenance superintendent, will replace CMSgt. Billy P. Cecil who has been named as the senior enlisted advisor for USAFE.

The 23-year Air Force veteran is no stranger to duties of being a senior enlisted advisor. Prior to being assigned at Sembach in January of last year, Chief Gabbert was the senior enlisted advisor for the 58th Combat Support Group at Gila Bend Air Force Auxiliary Field, Arizona. He also has six years experience as a first sergeant.

Chief Gabbert competed with eight other chief master sergeants 17th Air Force-wide for the senior enlisted advisor position. All nine appeared before a selection board comprised of five colonels. After all had met the board, three were selected and then interviewed by Maj. Gen. Walter D. Druen, Jr., commander of 17th Air force.

"How did I feel when I was told I was selected?"

Super!" said Chief Gabbert. "There are many things I'm going to do during my tenure as 17th Air Force senior enlisted advisor, but my main goal will be to improve the quality of life for enlisted members. To do this, I'll work closely with all enlisted people throughout Europe."

The chief will begin a transition period as the new senior enlisted advisor early next month. Chief Cecil will move up to become the USAFE senior enlisted advisor on July 1.

COLLEGE STATION — Texas and most of the South will weather this recession almost as well as the last, predict two Texas A&M University economists.

The current recession will affect the automobile and construction industries and the areas of the country where those businesses are heavily concentrated, agreed Dr. Charles Maurice and Dr. John Allen.

The two economists predict the structure of industry in the South and especially in Texas — specialization in highly technical companies and energy — will keep the Southern economy from suffering severely.

Smoking Risks

While most people are aware that cigarette smoking can lead to cancer of the lung, few seem to realize that smoking also is related to higher rates of cancer in the mouth, pharynx, larynx, esophagus, pancreas and bladder. According to the American Cancer Society, smoking also is linked to a higher incidence of colds, gastric ulcers, chronic bronchitis, emphysema and heart disease.

Linda Nowell

Your hear every day car salespeople using the word "options" when they are explaining a new car. They have real good reason for this, because if you do not get some of the options on your new car you won't be able to fully enjoy it. It is, however, a good idea to closely check the options or extra accessories that are on the car you are buying. There may be a few accessories not on the car that you could have on the vehicle for very little more money, that could make it much more enjoyable. There also may be some on a car that you do not need - that can cost you extra. It is never a good idea to buy a car without the major options--such as air conditioner, power brakes and steering. Remember, the options make the car more valuable when

Question?

"If you don't know the warning signals of cancer, how do you know you don't have one?" asks the American Cancer Society. Local Units of the Society offer free leaflets listing the signals. The Society points out that early recognition and treatment of cancer can save one's life.

Miss Lambert, Thomas Repeat Double Ring Vows

Miss Linda Gayle Lambert of Amarillo, became the bride of David Ashley Thomas, also of Amarillo, at 7:30 p.m., July 5, in the First Baptist Church in Muleshoe. Dr. James A. Henry, cousin of the bride and pastor of the Central Baptist Church of Lubbock, read the double ring vows. Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. James Ashley Lambert of Muleshoe and Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Thomas of Boulder, Colorado. Vows were read before an arch candelabra flanked with spiral candelabras with yellow tapers, forming a semi-circle. The candelabras were entwined with spring arie fern, leather leaf fern and baby's breath. In the center was bouquet of yellow gladiolas, blue carnations, yellow daisies with leather leaf fern and spring arie fern. Two seven branch candelabras were on each side, with yellow tapers to complete the altar setting. The memory candle set amidst an arrangement of gypsophis and leather leaf fern. Pews were marked with hurricane globes, with yellow tapers inside. They were accented with spring arie fern, leather leaf fern and baby's breath with yellow and blue satin streamers. Candlelighters were Michael Goodnough, cousin of the bride of Lubbock, and Royal Warinner of Silverthorne, Co. They also served as ushers. Geoffrey Goodnough, cousin of the bride of Lubbock carried the wedding rings on a white satin and lace heart shaped pillow. Rob Blum of Amarillo sang "Follow Me" and "The Wedding Song", he was accompanied on the guitar by Mark Patterson of Denver, Co. Mrs. Larry Shafer of Cheyenne, Wyoming, played wedding selections on the piano. Traditional wedding music was played by Mrs. Elbert Hamilton on the organ. The bride given in marriage by her father, wore a bridal gown of organza with a complete Rachel lace overlay, with seed pearls on the bodice and Rachel lace bishop sleeves, with fingertip cuffs. The chapel train was of silk organza, trimmed completely in scalloped Rachel lace.

She carried a cascade bouquet of yellow silk roses, yellow daisies, stephanotis, yellow miniature carnations, with light blue gypsophilia accented with yellow and blue satin streamers on a white Bible.

Following tradition, she carried a lace handkerchief belonging to her late Grandmother Walker, something borrowed was a pearl necklace and earrings belonging to her mother, something blue was her garter, something new was her wedding attire. For luck, she wore pennies minted in the dates of their birth in her shoes.

Serving as matron of honor was Mrs. David Day, sister of the bride of Amarillo. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Verl Burris of Dallas and Mrs. Micheal Goodnough, cousin of the bride of Lubbock. The matron of honor and the bridesmaids wore matching formal length gowns of sky blue Fabian polyester with an empire waistline and a V-neckline, with spaghetti straps and a chiffon capelet that was attached to each strap in the front and were tied in small bows. They carried bouquets of blue silk carnations, yellow daisies and baby's breath on a soft yellow fan with yellow and blue streamers. They wore a silk hairpiece of yellow daisies and gypsophilia.

The groom wore a sky blue tuxedo with a ruffled shirt trimmed in blue with a blue bow tie and a boutonniere of yellow rosebuds and baby's breath. The best man wore a sky blue and navy tuxedo and white ruffled shirt trimmed in blue. The groomsmen's attire was identical to the best man's. The ushers and ring bearer wore solid navy tuxedos with sky blue shirts.

Mark Patterson of Denver, Co. was best man. Groomsmen were David Day, brother-in-law of the bride, of Amarillo and Mike Ingram of Grand Island, Nebraska.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Lambert chose a formal length gown of Fabiana knit of light blue with a lace blouse top and accordin pleated skirt. Her corsage was yellow cymbidium orchid. Mrs. Thomas, mother of the groom, chose a formal length gown of polyester knit in watermelon, with an A-line dress short jacket trimmed in lace. Her corsage was a yellow cymbidium orchid.

A reception followed in the fellowship hall. The bride's table was covered with a lace cloth over blue satin. A silver candelabra with yellow tapers was entwined with ming fern and baby's breath and a blue bow. The bride's bouquet was placed in front of the candelabra to complete the centerpiece. A three tiered cake was divided by white columns and decorated with yellow roses and wedding bells. It had a fountain flowing with yellow water. Ming fern and baby's breath was placed around the fountain. Servers were Jane Clausen of Lubbock and Deborah Snider of Farwell.

The groom's table was covered with a white linen cloth. It had a chocolate cake with a miniature car with lettering "Just Married". Coffee was served from a silver coffee service. It had a silver candelabra with yellow tapers, ming fern and blue bow. Servers were Jane Blum and Frances Brown, both of Amarillo.

For a wedding trip to San Juan, Puerto Rico, the bride chose a blue floral sun dress with matching capelet with white accessories. Her corsage was a blue silk carnation and baby's breath. They will make their home in Amarillo.

The bride is a graduate of Muleshoe High School and attended Commercial College and Amarillo College. She is employed by Pioneer Natural Gas Corporation of Amarillo.

Thomas is a graduate of Boulder High School and Mesa College of Grand Junction, Colorado. He is employed by Pioneer Natural Gas Corporation of Amarillo.

Out of town wedding guests were from Lubbock, Amarillo, Farney, Dallas, Texico, N.M., Portales, N.M., Boulder, Colorado, Grand Island, Nebraska, and Farwell, Texas.

A rehearsal dinner was held July 4 at the Corral Restaurant. It was hosted by the groom's parents.

moisture, with the most of the rain starting around Muleshoe, and moving across predominantly sand-hill and ranch areas to south of Sudan.

Friday, another 20 percent chance for moisture existed according to the National Weather Service, but late Friday, there was very little indication that any additional moisture was in the local picture for the next few days.

NWS predicted the very hot temperature, around 100 for daytime highs, would be returning to the area for the next several days.

Acting...

Little Theater in Lubbock. Some of his memorable stage performances were as the hunchbacked Dr. Einstein in "Arsenic and Old Lace" and as the aged Edgar in "Wuthering Heights".

"I held different jobs in Fort Worth after that," said the sergeant. He worked as a show salesman, vacuum cleaner salesman and at a gas company and lumber company.

He joined a drama workshop at Ft. Worth's Casa Manana. Known for its light musicals, the Casa Manana has a round stage. "I prefer dramatic roles, but I can sing and dance if the part calls for it. I especially enjoyed performing on the round stage," he added. Sing and dance he did, in supportive roles with Sal Mineo, Martha Raye, Frank McHugh, Lorraine Day and Jack Carson.

After his stint at the Casa Manana, he worked for the gas company and later with the soil conservation in West Texas. Then he attended the University of Texas at Arlington. "I was dissatisfied with the way things were going, so I joined the Marine Corps," he explained.

MSgt. Lambert enlisted in 1962. During his Marine Corps career, he served a 13-month tour in Vietnam, arriving in Twentynine Palms in August 1972. MSgt. Lambert plans to retire in November and reside in Los Angeles.

With a Masters Degree in Education, majoring in psychology, this Marine believes that, "In order to make yourself believable in a part, you have to convince yourself. I give myself a mental pep talk before going on stage. You look at people, life and see how they act and react. You learn from that and use it."

MSgt. Lambert recently read for a part in an upcoming production of "Guys and Dolls". As long as acting is in his blood, there's no stopping him.

Most people fail to understand other people's problems because they never take time to consider them.

ments and hearing protectors when such protection is needed.

Concluding his proclamation, the Judge urged all farm and ranch families and those who serve agricultural producers to: read safety articles, items in magazines and newspapers which feature safety; read and heed instruction manuals and product labels; be informed on what to do in case of emergencies such as severe weather, fire, poisoning, bleeding, drowning, etc; take the defensive driving course; hunter and home firearm safety courses; take the basic first aid course.

He then emphasized the need for taking the CPR course which is special instruction on external cardiac compressions administered manually, alternating with mouth-to-mouth resuscitation in order to stimulate the natural functions of the heart and lungs to save the life of a heart attack or accident victim.

The Accidental Death Program, underwritten by the Texas Farm Bureau Mutual Insurance Company is an optional service offered to county Farm Bureaus and their members. Currently, 197 county Farm Bureaus are participating in this program. Less than a dozen counties have not had a claim.

Under this program, members may receive benefits to $1,000 for each member and spouse, plus $500 for each member's unmarried child under the age of 25 living in the insured's household, attending school, or in the armed forces.

There is no exclusion with this insurance, provided the accident occurs while membership is in effect, and the death occurs within 90 days after the accident. Claims must be reported to the home office in Waco or to an authorized agent within 20 days after the accidental death of the person covered.

Since the Accidental Death Program began on November 1, 1971, thru October 31, 1979, TFB has paid 1,801 claims totaling $1,536,500.

According to the TFB Safety Department seven-year (1973-79) study of FB accidental deaths; the public streets and highways have been the "big grim reaper" - with auto-trucks causing 834 deaths; motorcycle/minibike - 45 deaths; bicycles - 6 deaths; and pedestrians - 33 deaths, for a total of 918 traffic related causes.

Other causes and numbers of deaths of FB members for the recent seven-year study are as follows: firearms-144; drownings-100; falls-99; tractor-67; aircraft crash-61; fires and burns-47; electrocutions - 29; machinery-27; explosions-20; poisonings-18; animal-17; and choke /strangle-7. Lesser causes of accidental death among FB members have been lightning, snake bite, bee sting, spider, tick or other insect bites.

The hardest job we know is trying to be impartial.

Youth...

nity. He admonished the youth to go out into the work world with the attitude, "If it's worth doing at all, it's worth doing well."

He suggested the youth look at the whole perspective, and reminded that "Your life is divided into segments, and you're just beginning another segment. If you do something one way in life, it will reflect in your whole life. You're starting out now, look at yourself, look at your work experience and determine what it has meant for you. Can you get along with people? What have you learned? Most people don't care what you did when you worked, but your experience here is a good reference point. Future employers will see that you have actual work experience."

He concluded, "A person who is a success is respected. Many times they are a success because they knew hard times and had hard knocks, and overcome them because of their character and integrity."

Hennigh presented a slide show depicting many of the projects worked on during the eight weeks of the summer camp. Most of the parents expressed amazement on the vast amount of work done by the youthful crew.

The work ranged from digging water ditches, to constructing fences, to constructing cattle guards and cleaning dikes. They also had much classroom work, interspersed with painting and mixing concrete, to cleaning out bird baths and rock gardens.

Certificates of appreciation were presented to guest speaker, Dee Treadwell, Bill Long, Dean Giliam and Clea Williams; and certificates of completion were presented to David DelaRosa, Crystal Rudd, Tanya Ray, Mike Pecina, Kim Humphreys, Billy Brown, Shelly Gore and Shonnee Hodnett.

Realistic expectations, privacy, open and honest communication, flexibility in roles, companionship, equality, identity and trust are constant challenges of happily married couples, says Dorothy Taylor, a family life education specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A & M University System.

STATE CAPITAL HIGHLIGHTS
By Lyndell Williams
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN — Former U.N. Ambassador George Bush, the Texan who slugged it out in the primaries with GOP presidential nominee Ronald Reagan, won his party's vice presidential nomination last week . . . and many Democrats believe it signals the Republican party's attempt to build a broad base among voters.

In Austin, Texas Democrats began preparing for a tough race in this state and the National Democratic National Convention next month in New York.

Behind the leadership of Reagan, Bush, Gov. Bill Clements, former Gov. John Connally, et al. — and a "now, if ever" attitude, Texas Republicans in the past year have added newcomers to their rolls, and are now prepared to play a whole new ball game.

The Anderson Factor

Independent presidential contender Ill. Cong. John Anderson may be on the Texas ballot, adding to the political twists of the autumn.

His campaign workers here turned in some 70,000 petition signatures to Texas Secretary of State George Strake, well over the 40,719 signatures needed.

Anderson's forces are expected to be challenged with a suit from the Democrats over whether Democratic primary voters are eligible to sign Anderson's petition. Strake has ruled Democrats may sign, and Atty. Gen. Mark White has ruled they cannot.

Battling State Agencies

The University of Texas System is expected to tell Gov. Clements it cannot comply with his demand to cut five percent of its payroll, although the regents agree in spirit with his efforts to cut the fat from state government.

Chancellor E. Don Walker insists that U.T. is not a "bloated bureaucracy," and a five percent cut would hit muscle and bone, not just fat.

Clements, who campaigned on a shrink state government theme, has been adamant about reducing state employees, but according to news reports, with little success.

One wise political observer commented that Clements and others, including Bill Hobby, Bill Clayton and a host of legislators, have succeeded in preventing unnecessary increases in spending. By making government "mark time" during a period of rising costs, the officials are, in effect, melting off the fat.

Apparently, that's not good enough for Clements, who now wants to beef up the inspection operations of State Auditor George McNeil.

Clements wants state auditors to perform in-depth examinations of state agencies, rather than "once-over lightly" inspections, as he calls them.

McNeil says he just wants "to be left alone," because his agency is doing fine. McNeil is appointed by the Legislative Audit Committee, which includes the Lt. Governor and House Speaker, and is confirmed by the Senate.

If McNeil doesn't accept Clements' offers of more staff, money and power, those additions may go to Clements own staff or to outside auditing firms, the governor said.

Odds and Ends
Arch Republican H. Ross

Perot's company which handles the state's Medicaid program lost its bid to renew the $2 million Texas Medicaid contract, a group insurance plan for over 700,000 lower income Texans.

House Speaker Bill Clayton's Brilab trial date has been postponed until Aug. 18. While his lawyers rush to prepare his defense, Clayton hopes for an acquittal by Labor Day.

Former Gov. Dolph Briscoe, campaigning for Railroad Commission candidates Jim Nugent and Buddy Temple, said he "wouldn't rule out" any future political race of his own, including governor or U.S. Senate.

Taxes on Energy

Attorney General Mark White was in Washington last week protesting other state's high severance taxes on coal shipped to Texas and at an Austin hearing with U.S. Sen. Lloyd Bentsen on the windfall profits tax. Texas officials and taxpayers are outraged at the tax on backyard wells.

In legal opinions issued last week, White ruled:

—A county may not reimburse the county auditor for travel expenses other than on a reasonable rate per mile traveled.

—A commissioner's court may allocate courthouse space to representatives of the media, title companies and employee credit unions.

Bruce Vento, Rep. (D-Minn), on gold medals for U.S. athletes:

"The medals would not compensate the athletes for the loss of competing in the Games, but would recognize the sacrifice they have endured."

Jaycees In Action

By Chuck Smith

The Muleshoe Jaycees met for their regular Monday meeting at XIT, July 21, 1980. Several members were present and business was discussed the entire meeting. It should be mentioned that the dry, hot weather has kept many of the Jaycees away from the meetings, but everything is being done as to keep the membership and the public informed as to what the Jaycees are doing.

During Monday's meeting President Galen Bock had several items of business to discuss. First, he read a letter from the Chamber of Commerce Manager, John Gulley. John thanked the Jaycees for their fireworks donation. Second, Galen announced the "Inter-American Jaycee Forum" which will be held in Austin August 1st.

Galen and Chuck Smith both reported on the Five Outstanding Young Texans and Jaycee Summer Board. This will be held in Lubbock July 25-27. All members who could, were encouraged to attend.

Johnny St. Clair reported on the need to get the R.O.C.'s done. He also encouraged each member to participate in the membership recruiting incentives currently being offered.

Troy Stigmiller read a letter of appreciation from one of the July 4th Marathon race contestant. Troy was chairman of the Marathon.

Galen asked for participation in helping the YAC on the new miniature golf course. Several people helped Monday evening.

The Jaycees would like to encourage all members and interested people to help the YAC. Plans have been made for a work day on August 2nd.

The Jaycees plan to be out in force and provide cold drinks during the day. Everyone who can, please plan to help with this very worthwhile project.

Those attending Monday's meeting were; Galen Bock, Ernest Moravec, Terry Field, Troy Stigmiller, Johnny St. Clair, Hugh Young, Bruce Woods, Ricky Smallwood, Greg Hromas, Tommy Gunstream and Dan Hovland.

The Sandhills Philosopher

Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Sandy Creek has a plan for making political conventions more orderly.

Dear editor:

I sat through most of the Republican Convention, via television, and because justice demands equal punishment for parallel crimes—even though some judges have trouble remembering this—I'll sit through the Democratic Convention.

It's too late to do anything about it this time, but next time, four years from now if the nation still stands, which it won't if each party is right about its falling if the other party wins, something needs to be done about these shows. A political convention is the world's only sports event where the reporters outnumber the spectators and the star players are mostly ignored.

For instance, here's a prominent politician who's spent weeks rehearsing his speech. His moment of glory arrives, he steps to the podium, faces the microphone and lets loose. Two sentences under way he looks out at the audience and sees a man strolling by eating a hot dog. There's mustard on his chin. The aisles are filled with goofy-hatted delegates milling around and waving to each other. Fourteen TV reporters with antennas sticking out of their ears are interviewing a Governor, each with a microphone jabbed in the guy's face.

Here he's outlining plans to save the nation and reduce interest rates and half his audience is walking around paying no attention. HOW'S a man going to whip inflation if nobody listens?

I have given this problem some thought and have figured out the remedy. In this electronic age it should be fairly easy to equip each chair in the convention hall with a seat belt automatically controlled by a switch manned by the chairman up on the podium. When all delegates are seated, he throws the switch and every last one of them is locked in place. Naturally he'd let them out to stand for the Star Spangled Banner, but otherwise everybody stays fastened down.

For the most part I believe this would work, insuring an orderly convention, although you've got to remember there are some politicians who can wriggle out of any situation.

Yours faithfully,
J.A.

Biofeedback used to cure common headache

COLLEGE STATION — A Texas A&M University graduate student is refining a treatment for the common headache that's more effective than aspirin and costs nothing. Doctoral candidate Fred Drummond says he can teach people who have recurring headaches to control them by using biofeedback, a technique which helps people recognize how the body is reacting to stress situations and control its responses.

Tension headaches are caused by holding forehead muscles taut over a long period of time, he said. The idea is to learn to recognize when a headache is coming and learn to stop it by relaxing tensed muscles.

Life is too short to be wasted trying to please other people.

What Does It Take To Build A Church?

Perhaps you glance at the church on the corner once in a while and wonder what it would be like to visit during a service. What is it that draws those people to that particular building every week? What built that church?

The only possible answer is — the love of God. Their love of God prompted them to sacrifice and give so that the sanctuary might be built. The love of God compels them to meet there with others who serve Him. Their love of God compels them to "go, and tell others".

We pray that you will be drawn to such a church this week and that you will align yourself with it. You can help build it into something even better.
