Iran's oil, China's future main conference topics

SAINT FRANCOIS, Guadeloupe (AP) - President Carter and three European allies focus their Caribbean summit today on key Western security issues, including the future of Iran and its oil resources and China's future role in the world. The agenda for the two days of discussions was worked out Thursday night while Carter and his wife, Rosalynn, spent a relaxed, convivial evening over an elaborate French meal with British Prime Minister James Callaghan, West German Chancellor Helmut Schmidt, their host, French President Valery Giscard d'Estaing, and their wives. Giscard told reporters as the leaders gathered at a seaside resort Thursday afternoon: "We want talks without academics - simple, plain and direct.' U.S. officials said the leaders might hold most of their sessions, which will conclude Saturday, without advisers at their sides.

The most prominent academic on the scene is Zbigniew Brzezinski, Carter's national security adviser. There was no indication, however, that Giscard's comment was directed

The Carter administration, which opened diplomatic relations with China only this week, is taking a neutral stance toward such arms sales so long as the weapons are characterized as defensive in charac-unspecified consequences. The Chinese want to acquire about 80 Harrier-jump-jet warplanes, a British product effective against tanks and capable of taking off from short runways.

Rebels drive into Cambodia

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP) - Vietnamese divisions were reported driving north, south and east of Phnom Penh today in an apparent move to throttle the Cambodian capital.

Bangkok analysts said the Vietnamese bypassed Kompong Cham, 45 miles northeast of Phnom Penh, and may have moved 19 or more miles west of the Mekong River to a point near the dead center of Cambodia.

They said the Vietnamese also opened up a major front in the extreme south of the country, and that three divisions were driving westward near the coast.

Fog, drizzle follow cold to hassle Midlanders

Midlanders may have wished they had fog-piercing yellow headlamps to switch on this morning as they drove slowly to work in a ground-hugging fog and light, freezing drizzle.

The fog, which cut visibility to a quarter of a mile, delayed some commercial flights at Midland Regional Airport this morning, but did not lead today, said Wilson Banks, the city's aviation director.

On the other hand, said Banks, some flights "possibly" could be can-celled should the visibility and ceiling drop below limits for instrumentflight rules. To fly or not would be the pilot's decision, he said.

Okay, Midland taxpayers, it's that time of year again. Uncle Sam, in the form of the U.S. Internal Revenue Service, will be looking for receipts and other records to support claimed deductions on the returns of citizens, said Gene McCleskey, an IRS representative at the Midland office on Wall Street. Income tax forms already have been mailed, and most residents should have received theirs.

People who have been divorced, married or changed addresses in the past year probably will have to pick up a form at the IRS office. McCleskey said all forms are mailed to Midlanders according to the way payers. The records can also be used to back up various claims in case of an examination or to remind taxpayers of overlooked deductions, he said. For each reference, the records should be sorted into categories which appear on Schedule "A" of Form 1040, said officials.

When itemizing, they said, taxpayers should bear in mind interest paid on loans and mortgages as well as payments for medical insurance, which are documented on various financial statements.

These deductible amounts often are overlooked, IRS spokesmen explained.

Medical expenses, union dues and charitable contributions are a few other commonly claimed deductions for which the IRS auditors often request supporting evidence, said officials.

IRS officials also said it's a good idea to keep both canceled checks and bills when possible, but receipts or canceled checks should not be attached to returns.

Shah, family take ski vacation

TEHRAN, Iran (AP) - Shah Mohammad Reza Pahlavi emerged from near-seclusion in his palace to take his family to a ski resort near Tehran for a brief vacation after naming a civilian prime minister in a bid to quell months of bloody violence. The shah's chief foe hiked the price of a settlement, saying the monarch must be jailed for life and the royal family's wealth confiscated.

The embattled Iranian ruler appointed Shahpour Bakhtiar on Thursday to head a civilian Cabinet to replace the military regime he drafted last November in an unsuccessful attempt to crush religious and political opposition to reign. After signing the royal decree naming Bakhtiar prime minister, the shah, Empress Farah and their children went to the ski slopes at Jajroud, 40 miles east of Tehran. Ardeshir Zahedi, Iran's ambassador to Washington and a close confidant of the shah, said it was the monarch's first vacation from the capital in three Bakhtiar has said the shah would leave for a "rest and a vacation" while the new government works to restore order, but the trip to Jajroud clearly was not what he had in mind. Bakhtiar, a veteran of the anti-shah opposition, reportedly agreed to recruit a government after the shah bowed to demands that he surrender some of his powers and leave Iran temporarily. Most leaders of the religious and political alliance fighting the shah said they would settle for nothing less than abdication and denounced Bakhtiar for dealing with the monarch. But Ayatullah Khomaini, the shah's strongest foe and spiritual leader of Iran's 32 million Moslems, told The Associated Press at his residence-inexile outside Paris: "The shah and ... his immediate family are criminals and they have to be tried and punished according to Islamic laws." "Life imprisonment would be the minimum," he added in an interview. "And also the return of all the property he has confiscated from the peo-

The prime minister-designate is expected to present his Cabinet for the shah's approval on Saturday, and the two houses of Parliament will then vote to formally install the new government.

Scattered gunfire and shouts were heard after curfew in Tehran Thursday night, but a lull of sorts appeared to continue as the opposition awaited the transition to civil rule.

The Kremlin criticized the appointment of Bakhtiar, regarded by political observers as a pro-Western moderate. The Soviet goverment newspaper Izvestia said Bakhtiar's appointment was the result of U.S. machinations to safeguard American interests in Iran. In Washington, the Carter administration said it would cooperate fully with the new government. State Department spokesman Hodding Carter said the administration "hopes and expects" Bakhtiar will succeed in forming a cabinet and quelling the civil rebellion.

The administration also warned that Iranian students risk deportation if they take part in anti-shah demonstrations like the violent attack this week on the home of the shah's sister in Beverly Hills, Calif.

Religious leaders of the predominantly-Moslem nation launched a nationwide campaign of demonstrations against the shah a year ago, claiming his drive to modernize and Westernize the country was eroding its Islamic traditions. The shah's political foes joined the rebellion to push for an end to his authoritarian rule.

A tidal wave of street protests and strikes have paralyzed the Iranian economy and virtually shut down the oil industry, the major source of government income and foreign exchange. Production has plummeted from 6 million barrels a day to 250,000 barrels or less. Industry sources say it takes 900,000 barrels to meet Iran's has called on oil workers to hike output enough to end domestic short-Shiraz announced they will decide Saturday whether to heed the call.

ernment figures confirm what home buyers already know: Houses cost more now than ever before - more to buy and more to finance.

The average price for both new and used houses also hit an all-time high - $67,600 for new ones and $58,000 for those already lived in.

The Federal Home Loan Bank Board reported Thursday the average interest rate in December on newly purchased houses was above 10 percent for the first time in history.

He said he expects the rate to climb into the II.25 percent to 11.50 percent range during the coming year. "The rise should peak out in the third quarter of 1979," Sumichrast said.

In addition, Sumichrast said the housing market may not turn around until at least February 1980.

A depressed housing market beyond that time would "obviously not be a good election year scenario for the (Carter) administration," Sumichrast said.

world was much smaller, newspaper editors, particularly editorial writers, in convention sessions would warn each other against Afghanistanism; which is to say pointing with alarm at distant problems while overlooking the thorny ones close at hand.

Now, however, little Afghanistan has been brought as close to an American as his car's gasoline tank, due to the geopolitics of the nation's economic life's blood - oil.

It already is late, but perhaps not too late for the American people and their leaders to wake up and react to the catastrophe the Soviet Union is contriving for the Free World in the Persian Gulf. The stakes are incredibly high — the future of mankind.

The Soviet Union, emboldened by unchallenged Communist successes in Angola, Mozambique and especially Ethiopia, has stepped up its expansionism to gain control of the Near Eastern oil countries by the early 1980s, Because Japan and Western Europe are absolutely dependent on oil from the Persian Gulf area. Soviet control there would force an unprecedented Free World dependence on Moscow. The United States then would be crippled and isolated. Those nations submitting to Moscow could receive oil at cut-rate prices, those keeping U.S. links could pay dearly or be cut off altogether.

The Russians already are well terrifying reality.

Afghanistan was forced into the Soviet Union's orbit last April. When Afghan President Mohammed Daoud, who was pro-Russian, became alarmed by the growing power of local Communists and began rounding them up, he was overthrown in a quick coup and replaced by Prime Minister Noor Mohammad Taraki, a strident Marxist who is completely subservient to Moscow. The coup was assured by an air force attack on the presidential palace made, it is believed, by Russian pilots.

More than 2,000 Soviet advisers now control Afghanistan's ministries and military.

Then in June, an almost-

South Yemen now is completely controlled by Moscow through military and advisory personnel from Cuba and East Germany, as well as by its own

Following the Afghan coup. Iran, the keystone of the Persian Gulf shore line, found itself even more exposed to Soviet subversion than Saudi Arabia; it is surrounded on three sides by Russia and two pro-Soviet neighbors. The widespread disorders against the Iranian government. in which the substantial Communist network has been actively engaged, are a grim fulfillment of Iranian and Pakistani fears that Soviet southward pressure would increase fron a Sovietized Afghanistan.

If Iran goes, the entire Persian Gulf and all of its oil may go also: Kuwait, Qatar, Bahrain, the United Arab Emirates and Saudi Arabia as well.

Meanwhile, the Carter administration turned the other cheek when Soviet President along in making this dream a Leonid I. Brezhnev issued a tough warning to the United States against intervening to help the Iranian government. Since then, some steps have been taken to strengthen the U.S. position.

The lack of U.S. reaction to the steady Soviet encroachment upon the Persian Gulf is interpreted by Moscow as a failure of American will. This perception, as much as the winner-take-all stakes, encourages the Russians to be bold. Their boldness and the U.S. complacency suggest the makings of a shattering disaster for the industrialized democracies.

Nation's isolation now is considered hazardous

By CHARLEY REESE Sun Belt Syndicate

CHARLEY REESE:

ORLANDO, Fla. - The best way to get a fresh look at your own country is to leave it. The month I spent in the Middle East taught me more about America than it did about the Middle

What struck me most forcefully is our isolation. We are a long way from Europe, Africa and Asia. Culturally, we are a long way from even Latin America. The isolation used to be a good thing. Now I think it's a danger. The oceans don't protect us from military attack anymore. The rocket wizards saw to that, but the oceans do keep us from seeing the world as it really is. The most obvious example of our mental isolation is our refusal to rest of the world knows about us. I wrote speeches for a congressional candidate once who had been a television newscaster for 10 years. He didn't know which hemisphere

Vietnam was in, much less anything about the country. I would say that it was fortunate that he lost except that the man who beat him knew less about the U.S. than he did about Vietnam. I heard Sen. Ed Muskie talking about the budget the other day and the stupidity of his statements was appalling. What he said was that if the federal budget were to be cut, then it was only fair to cut defense by the same percentage we cut everything Only an American senator would make such a childish statement based on the obviously false premise that every function of the federal government has an identical priority. That's part of our isolation, too. Our country is so vast, our economy so prosperous, our government so benign that is it very difficult for us to understand the degree of poverty and brutality, the extent of hatred and tyranny that exists in such abundance off our shores. I suppose that's why we produce such naive leaders. For example, our State Department experts refer to Saudi Arabia as a "moderate" Arab country. In Saudi Arabia, they chop off people's heads and hands in the public square, treat women like chattel and still have human slavery. I would hate to see a country the State Department considers extreme.

Another mistake we make because of our isolation is to see the world as a mirror image of ourselves. We tend to think, for example, that people who are not free want to be free. The fact is that freedom, as we define it, is a unique, Anglo-Saxon concept that in most parts of the world is neither understood nor desired.

Sometimes we confuse ourselves because we think that a nationalist is a nationalist in the same sense that Thomas Jefferson was. Actually, a nationalist can be a fascist, a communist or his own particular brand of are just that.

When these characters talk about freedom, they are talking about freedom from outside interference as they establish their own dictatorships. Self government and political rights as we know them are the farthest things from their thoughts.

Another aspect of this mirror image thinking is the assumption that other people are just as pragmatic and materialistic as we are. It's hard for most Americans to understand that someone who is given a choice between material prosperity and war would choose war for such an intangible value as saving face. Yet people do make such choices all the time.

There is no question that if the Arabs accepted Israel and made peace the whole area would prosper dramatically. Yet they have chosen war for 30 years.

On the other hand, the Israelis will not give up Jerusalem, as one of Carter's lackeys stupidly assured the Arabs, even if they have to start World War III. On the subject of Jerusalem, the Israelis are not pragmatists. Giving up Jerusalem is not even thinkable, let alone negotiable.

I wish every American could spend a month or two outside the country, not in the tourist traps, but in the back alleys and in private homes. You would come back with a better appreciation of the magnificent achievements of our nation as well as a better understanding of our dangers, the greatest of which is the poor quality of our leadership.

Ugly incident at polling place

DeKovacs and his wife conferred with the county election board commissioner in Woodbury, returned to the polling place and were again turned away.

INSIDE REPORT: Bill Clements providing foretaste of things to come

By ROWLAND EVANS AND ROBERT NOVAK

AUSTIN, Texas - In a cramped, rented office on the 10th floor of a downtown Austin building, the first Republican governor of Texas since Civil War Reconstruction is beginning his attempt not only to transform the face of this state's politics but also to change the national picture. Gov.-elect William Clements compact, combative oil multi-millionaire - in long hours at the transition office is providing a foretaste of life at the state capitol after his inauguration Jan. 16: cajoling and haranguing politicians to back his program of reduced taxes and slimmed-down government. His aim is no less audacious or improbable than his startling announcement for governor a year ago. The Texas governorship is constitutionally one of the nation's weakest, purposely made so after the Civil War to pit legislative power against the Northern carpetbaggers. Adding to structural inferiority, Clements is a Republican interloper facing an overwhelmingly Democratic legislature controlling the levers of power.

The stakes are immense. Clements' performance will determine whether his narrow upset in November was an aberration or whether banking, insurance and other Texas business interests will now abandon the state Democratic party. It incidentally will decide whether Clements, a former deputy secretary of defense, actually becomes the national Republican mover and shaker he wants to be.

Specifically, Clements is dead serious about enacting a program based on his campaign promises: a $1 billion tax cut spread over two years; elimination of 25,000 out of 165,000 state jobs over four years; a constitutional amendment providing for legislation by ballot initiatives.

The thrust of his program imperils entrenched prerogatives of the lgislature. Although the tax cut is alluring to many legislators (including House speaker Billy Clayton), it has a determined Democratic critic in Lt. Gov. William Hobby. Holding an office that constitutionally rivals the governor's in power, ex-Houston newspaper executive Hobby in six years as lieutenant governor has gained a reputation as a leading and respected student of state government. Hobby has noted that nobody even reads a governor's budget, a reflection of legislative dominance in Texas. But to assume that Clements' failure is, therefore, preordained is to underestimate the blunt, hot-tempered Dallas business tycoon about to

For one thing, Clements has moved quickly to blur partisanship. Millionaire rancher Tobin Armstrong of Armstrong, Tex. (husband of Anne Armstrong, former ambassador to London), was on the telephone to nonliberal Democrats within minutes of his appointment as Clements' unpaid talent scout. Clements, who formally became a Republican in 1973, has told the Reaganite state Republican executive committee he plans to name Democrats, independents, blacks, brown and women to his administra-

Moreover, Clements will be the first governor of Texas since John B. Connally a decade ago who is articulate and dynamic. While lacking statutory power to cut the state payroll, he intends to use his 4,000 state appointments over the next four years to that end. For department heads who balk, he poses the ordeal of a state audit. On tax and spending questions, Clements sees the people as his biggest allies. Regarding Hobby's opposition, Clements told us, "He's on the wrong side of these issues" - a view privately shared by some of the lieutenant governor's worried friends. "Bill will end up flexible on this," Clements forecast.

A replica of California's Proposition 13 debate is in store. Hobby sees a surplus of only $900 million, with taxcutters required to slash highway and school funds; Clements sees a $1.2 billion surplus after his $1 billion tax cut. As for nobody reading the governor's budget, Clements balled his hands into fists and told us: "They may not read it now or next month. But before we are through, they are going to read it.

The impact of this new star in Texas will be felt in Washington. President Carter could not have carried Texas in 1976 without all-out support from a Democratic governor, and will therefore be hard pressed to repeat in 1980. But beyond this obvious problem, Bill Clements seems to have taken on the political destruction of Jimmy Carter as his holy mission ("I am dedicated to the proposition that Mr. Carter is bad for

As governor-elect, Clements has blasted Carter's China policy and - about his bride? Genesis 29: 20-25 other national security stands as "inimical to the people of Texas," adding to us: "And I damn sure am going to keep talking about it." Clearly, the president has a vital interest in the outcome of the absorbing political drama about to unfold in this city.

Moody Blues slipping back into limelight

By YARDENA ARAR

HOLLYWOOD (AP) - After spending five years finding out that their whole is greater than the sum of their individual parts, the Moody Blues have slipped quietly back into successful collectivity.

Notice the careful avoidance of the word "comeback." The comeback in pop music is almost as commonplace as smog in Los Angeles, and arouses about as much enthusiasm.

Besides, it's almost ridiculous to talk about comebacks when you're dealing with a band like the Moodies. Of course, diehard Moody Blues fans (the group used to be referred to as a cult band but the word cult is also in ill repute these days) noticed that the concerts and flow of platinum albums that began in 1965 stopped in 1973 with the release of 'Seventh Sojourn," cut a year earlier. But for many casual rock music listeners, the Moodies' disappearance didn't register. Their classics of the late '60s and early '70s — "Nights in White Satin" and "Tuesday Afternoon" for example - remained staples on most rock stations. Their albums sold at a greater clip in their absence than in their public presence — some 30 million copies to date.

The illusion of their presence was never shattered by any formal announcement they were splitting up. They preferred — and still do — to talk in terms of rests, personal housecleaning and the like.

But while the Moody Blues remained fondly ensconced in the public mind, guitarist Justin Hayward, bass player John Lodge, flutist Ray Thomas, keyboard player Mike Pinder and drummer Graeme Edge were just another bunch of struggling solo artists — not hugely successful

It's hard to tell what would have happened had even one of them made a huge breakthrough. In any case, they decided to go back to the studio as a group in September 1977.

The result - "Octave" - was clearly a welcome shot in the arm. It was certified gold, meaning sales of 500,000, 10 days after its release last summer and joined the Moodies' earlier efforts in million-sales country in November.

So the Moody Blues are officially back - an attractive collection of fellows who have that quiet self-assurance that comes from years of stardom, but who are well aware of their good fortune in not only keeping their old friends, but also making a few new ones.

'We're very lucky to be able to come back on this level," says lead guitarist and vocalist Hayward, obviously gratified at the sellout houses that greeted the group during a recent 30-city swing across the United "You know, we were lucky that we did split when we did. We each needed to do different things and put our own house in order, all of us. And I think if we'd have gone on another year, after 74, we'd have split up never to come back together again.' Hayward, a low key sort of chap who looks like a grown-up British choirboy and writes the Moodies' softer, more romantic ballads, probably enjoyed the most success of the bunch in the last five years. His solo album "Songwriter," sold 500,000 copies and he also has something of a surprise hit single in "Forever Autumn," a cut from a recent

In fact, Hayward says, the group work has boosted individual sallies. "One's helped the other. It's very nice.

FCC continues to track Network avoiding Christmas tops ratings down CB radio violators

By JOHN D. McCLAIN

WASHINGTON (AP) - CBers who CB frequencie operate their radios illegally and thus risk fines and loss of licenses and equipment also imperil their chances of getting amateur radio licenses.

The Federal Communications Commission continues to track down CB operators who imitate ham operators by using more than the 4 watts of power permitted for CB use, transmitting on non-CB frequencies and farther than the 150-mile limit...

Amateur radio oprators, depending on the type of license they have, are permitted up to 1,000 watts of power and may talk literally around the world on their allocated frequencies. But any illegal imitation of these activities could have dire effects on subsequent attempts' to achieve the real thing. Take the case of a Baltimore CBer who recently was fined $100 in U.S. District Court after pleading guilty to operating his rig with excessive power. According to the plea agreement, the government agreed not to charge the CBer with 30 other violations and he in turn agreed to forfeit $900 in radio equipment.

An FCC administrative judge subsequently ruled the CBer's "past willful and repeated violations" of CB regulations made him unqualified to hold any FCC license and denied his application for a ham "ticket."

According to the judge's written decision, the CBer's story unfolds this

Using as many as 60 watts of power, the CBer admitted communicating with stations as far away as the West Coast and Alaska, the decision says.

In fact, it adds, he considered himself more an amatedur radio operator than a CBer and, in 1976, even studied to get his ham license. But before he had the chance to take the ham exam, he was arrested and subsequently appeared in court. Following his plea, he resumed his interest in amateur radio and early this year passed his novice exam.

But the judge wrote, the CBer's promise of future compliance with the commissions's amateur radio rules cannot erase the effects of his past willful and repeated violations of the commission's Citizens Band

"It is concluded," the judge wrote, that the CBer "does not possess the requisite qualifications to remain a commission licensee ...

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Is Gov. Edmund Brown Jr. planning another $1 billion tax cut for California? "Tune in next week," he says. In a televised interview, the Democratic governor hinted there may be new tax cuts in store when he makes his inaugural address Monday

Brown trimmed $1 billion from the state income tax last summer and promised further cuts if elected to a second, four-year term. "We're not asking for more taxes. In fact, we may be even looking to see how we can eliminate a few," Brown said on Wednesday.

Asked if that meant he would cut taxes again, Brown replied, "We might just do that ... Tune in next week.' Senate President Pro Tem James Mills said Thursday that Brown put a tentative $1 billion price tag on the tax cuts in a briefing of Democratic lawmakers.

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) - Elvis Presley was killed by a big heart - literally and figuratively, his private murse says in a new book Marian Cocke was the rock 'n' roll star's nurse and confidant during the final 21/2 years of his life, and says she hopes to set the record about Presley straight.

"The coroner's report stated that Elvis died of a heart attack and that he had an enlarged heart," she said. "This was no surprise to me. Elvis had the biggest heart of anyone I've every known.

Mrs. Cocke, 52, says Presley did not abuse drugs and looked bloated in his later years due to a high-salt diet. "In my opinion, he had one fatal illness — loneliness," she said. The book, "I Called Him Babe: Elvis Presley's Nurse Remembers,"

While the 74-year-old New York Republican says he hasn't made up his mind about a re-election bid, Javits says he wouldn't give up if he failed to win the Republican nomination in the primary.

NEW YORK (AP) - Betty Ford cried for a whole day after she lost a breast to cancer, but the saddest day of her life, she says, was the day her husband became President.

Mrs. Ford discussed her mastectomy and the life of a first lady in an interview with NBC's Betty Rollins, author of "First You Cry," a book about Ms. Rollin's experience with breast cancer.

The full interview, one of a series of specials featuring Mrs. Ford, is to air today on NBC

Mrs. Ford said she cried the fifth day after her breast was removed, but that she hasn't felt ugly as a result of the surgery

"I think perhaps my family, my husband, made me feel so completely loved that there was no difference," she said. "... He never gave me any indication that it repulsed him, and he never has to this day."

Ms. Rollins asked the former first lady if she felt any joy when her husband was sworn in as president after Richard Nixon resigned. "I think probably that was the unhappiest day of my life," she replied.

"... It was a terrible, tragic thing."

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) - Ex-mayor Joseph Alioto is back on the voting rolls in San Francisco amid speculation he may cast his next ballot

Mrs. Adams, a graduate nurse, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Scharbauer of Midland. Dr. Adams, a native of Wichita Falls, practiced medicine at Seminole before going to the mission field 14 years ago. They returned to the States on leave last summer and are scheduled to go back to

Dr. Adams, in his remarks, said Kenya, a Third World country, gained its independence 16 years ago. The country, which has an independent government, is closely aligned with the Western World, the speaker said. He went on to say that Kenya has installed a new ruler since they left there in early August, and that a smooth transition of government is reported

'Returning to West Texas after a 50-month absence is really an eye-opener." Dr. Adams said, "particularly in observing the fantastic changes and developing countries of sence is really an eye-opener." Dr. Adams said, comparing them to the developing countries of

Mrs. Adams, in her talk, told about the work which they do in the mission field and related numerous experiences encountered there

She said they work in the only clinic in Nairobi's slum area which, itself, has a population of 95,000. Dr. Adams is the only physician on duty there and he sees from 40 to 150 patients a day, she explained. Those receiving medical attention pay a small portion of the cost - the equivalent of 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for children. Volunteer help is

Once a month Dr. and Mrs. Adams go out into the bush area for a day, as far as 150 miles from Nairobi, seeing and treating persons at various stops along

Much of their work, Mrs. Adams said, is with hungry children, and their parents.

'This is one of the most exciting and most rewarding things we have ever done, just working with people who need help," Mrs. Adams concluded. Their work in the mission field is sponsored by the Southern Baptist Church.

Cleveland workers remain on payroll

CLEVELAND (AP) — The 400 Cleveland workers due to be laid off today are still on the city payroll at least temporarily.

Cuyahoga County Common Pleas Judge Richard Markus Thursday postponed the layoffs of 400 of Cleveland's 10,000 public employees, including 275 of the city's 1,875 police.

'I'm happy, but it might be short-lived," said William McNea, president of the Cleveland Police Patrolmen's Association, one of three unions which sought the court action.

Markus delayed the layoffs, intended as a costcutting measure for the financially troubled city, until noon Tuesday at the earliest. It was the second such postponement in as many weeks.

Last week, Mayor Dennis Kucinich canceled a plan to dismiss one out of every five city employees, including half the safety forces, when six local banks holding $14 million in defaulted municipal notes said they would not force the city to pay its debts immediately.

Cleveland, a city of 625,000 persons, became the first major U.S. city to default since the Depression. when it could not make good on its debts in Bankers have indicated they will await the outcome of a Feb. 27 vote on proposals to increase Cleveland's payroll tax by 50 percent and to sell the city's electric company.

The ruling gives the City Council a chance to act on Kucinich's proposal to sell city land to salvage the jobs. A council meeting is scheduled for Monday. Markus recessed hearings on the challenges to the layoffs until Tuesday morning

Guard, $1.5 million disappear from car

LAKEPORT, Mich. (AP) - An armored car guard and three bags of money - possibly more than $1.5 million — disappeared Thursday night while two other guards were taking their coffee break, state police said. And, state police Sgt. Robert Moore said a crumpled, unsigned, hand-written note was found in the front of the truck. Moore would not disclose what the note said.

Troopers also said they were looking for a car that was seen earlier in the restaurant parking lot where the Purolator Security Inc. truck was parked.

When Purolator employees Glenn Harper and Paul Pudlik returned to the truck, Fred Dixon Jr., 28, of Pontiac, Mich., and three bags of money were missing, they told troopers. "At this point, we don't know if he (Dixon) was abducted or if he absconded," Moore said in a telephone interview from his post in St. Clair.

State police Sgt. Robert Warner said the guards often stop for coffee at the Table Top Restaurant. Warner said a restaurant employee saw a car leave while the armored car was parked outside.

Israel, South Africa can cope with shutoff

NEW YORK (AP) - Israel and South Africa, which get most of their oil from Iran, should be able to cope if Iran's new government stops selling them oil, petroleum industry experts said Thursday.

"It's not anything that's catastrophic, because oil is available from other sources," said an analyst who didn't want his name used.

Iran supplies about 90 percent of South Africa's oil and about 60 percent of Israel's. Shahpur Bakhtiar, picked by the Shah to return Iran to civilian rule, said Wednesday he would probably not sell oil to either country because of political differ-

Israel has an agreement with the United States that would guarantee Israel's oil supply in an event of a cutoff such as the one proposed by Bakhtiar.

Red China could be big in oil

HOUSTON (AP) - Communist China is "potentially a very important crude oil producer," a U.S. Geological Survey researcher said Thurs-

Edward C.T. Chao said that with accelerated use of foreign technology, the Chinese may find out within a few years whether it has oil reserves worth tapping and refining. If so, production from huge basins might begin in five to 10 years, he said.

Chao discussed China's efforts in earth sciences at a session on 'China's Science is World Prospective" at the 145th National meeting of the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

. Currently, the giant Taching oil field, discovered in late 1959, is the largest oil producer in China and produces about one-half the national output of 730 million barrels a year.

Chao said there have been estimates that total crude oil resources and reserves in China range from 100 billion barrels to 400 billion barrels. But Chao emphasized that the estimates are speculated.

In comparison, he said, reserves for offshore Alaska oil have been estimated at about 9 billion barrels.

"These estimates (in China) cannot be substantiated since geological and geophysical exploration is far from complete, both on land and offshore," Chao said. "The People's Republic of China, however, is potentially a very important crude oil producer, and its significance as an oil-rich country will increase as more explorations and discoveries are made.

48,709 tests drilled in U.S

DENVER (AP) - A total of 48,709 wells were drilled for oil and gas in the United States during 1978, up nearly 10.7 percent from 44,019 in 1977, Petroleum Information Corp. reported Thursday.

The 1978 total included 19,761 wells completed as oil producers, 12,518 new gas wells and 16,430 dry holes, Petroleum Information said.

Oil producing wells completed were up 5 percent from 1977 and gas well completions increased by slightly more than 19 percent, the company Petroleum Information, based in Denver, follows U.S. drilling on a daily basis and provides for fees a number of technical and support services to the petroleum industry and related businesses. The company said total footage drilled in 1978 was up 14 percent. The average depth of wells completed in 1978 was 4,769 feet, compared with 4,628 feet in 1977, it said in a press

Drilling of wildcat wells seeking new fields increased 11.5 percent in 1978 to a total of 7,122, Petroleum Information said. Of these, 616 found oil and 645 found gas for a success ratio of 17.7 percent, the company

Although the number of discoveries increased by 7 percent, the percentage of the wildcat total that resulted in discoveries was down slightly from the 18.5 percent success ratio in 1977, Petroleum Information said.

Texas, with 16,090 well completions was the leading state in 1978, as it had been in 1977, the company said.

Following Texas, it said, were Oklahoma with 5,899 wells completed, Kansas with 4,345, Louisiana with 3,-808 and Ohio with 2,447.

men were still trying to man the Profiler pumps, the spokesman said, but they soon had to abandon ship, too. The chopper picked them up off a raft and flew them to Houston.

The cause of sinking was not known. Seas were at 4 to 6 feet, with winds at 10 to 15 knots.

Nugent was appointed by Gov. Dolph Briscoe to serve the remaining four years of Jon Newton's six-year Newton resigned Dec. 7, saying he wanted to avoid a possible conflict of interest resulting from natural gas production on South Texas property recently inherited by his wife. After being sworn in by Chief Justice Joe Greenhill of the Texas Su-interest or have them under a binding contract of sale, which will be closed as expeditiously as possible," he "Responsibilities of this agency are too important for there to be a public

Tax on ski-lift tickets proposed in Colorado

DENVER (AP) - Outright rejection to very qualified acceptance, at least in principle, was the reaction of ski-area operators to a proposal that Colorado add a 5 percent to 7 percent tax to the price of ski-lift tickets.

Money raised under a bill introduced in the Legislature would be divided by mountain counties and towns to help meet skier-related expenditures for such things as roads, sewage, public transportation and housing for ski-area employees.

The tax in most cases would costs skiers $1 a day and would raise an estimated $2.5 million a year. The bill was introduced by a state senator from Steamboat Springs whose district includes many of Colorado's major ski resorts.

Gary Mitchell, director of Colorado Ski Country USA, an industry organization, said Thursday the tax, if approved, would hurt the state's ski trade

"If it hurts the industry, it would hurt the communities involved. I said The proposal introduced by Sen.

Richard Soash, D-Steamboat Springs, was similar to proposals introduced and killed — in two recent legislative sessions. As proposed by Soash, the bill provides for a tax that could be imposed locally, either by vote of the county commissioners or by approval of 5 percent of the voters. Soash, however, said the bill would be amended to make it a state-mandated tax to be locally collected and shared. It would be imposed only in areas where a detrimental financial impact from ski areas had been demonstrated, he said.

Howard "Bo" Callaway, president of the Crested Butte ski area, said a lift-ticket tax would hurt his resort. "Colorado would be the only major ski state with a user tax and this puts us at a distinct disadvantage," said Callaway. "This is particularly true in bargaining for large groups.

John Ahearn, senior vice president for marketing at the Steamboat ski area, said management there feels it could support a lift-ticket tax - if certain things were done.

The bill should be implemented statewide, he said, and the financial need of ski towns and counties should be dent, said officers.

documented and evaluated by local and state government and local skiarea management.

There should also, Ahearn said, be discussion with the skiing public before any tax is imposed and provision should be made to insure that revenues derived from it are used for projects that benefit visitors as well as local residents.

Soash's district includes such major ski areas as Aspen, Vail, Steamboat and Winter Park.

About 6.6 million ski lift tickets were sold in the state last year, producing a total revenue of about $50 million. Soash's bill calls for the rounding off of the price of a lift ticket, plus tax, to the next-highest dollar. Lift tickets in the state cost up to $15 this season, with most in the $11-to-$13 range.

Midland man charged with earlier stabbing

A 22-year-old Midland man was in City Jail early today in lieu of $10,000 bond after he was charged with aggravated assault in connection with the alleged New Year's Day stabbing of a 19-year-old Tall City man, said authorities. James Goshen was arrested by po-

Authorities said he is charged in connection with the reported stabbing of Timothy Paul Grimes.

Grimes was listed in serious condition early today in Midland Memorial Hospital, said a hospital spokesman. He was admitted shortly after 2:30 a.m. Monday with stab wounds to the chest, said officials. Police said Grimes was stabbed

Lou Saban ... accepted to West Point

Rams must worry about 'exotics' they haven't seen

DALLAS (AP) - They are known as "Tom Landry exotics.

You saw one in the last Super Bowl. Fullback Robert Newhouse took a pitch and threw a touchdown pass to Golden Richards. Newhouse had been practicing the play since July for that one precious moment.

You saw one last Saturday against Atlanta. Linebacker Thomas Henderson took a reverse handoff from Butch Johnson on a kickoff and fell flat on his posterior. Henderson scored a touchdown on this play

You saw one against the New England Patriots. Fullback Scott Laidlaw took a handoff, ran precariously close to the line of scrimmage, whirled and lateraled back to Roger Staubach, who nailed a wide open Tony Hill for a touchdown.

You saw one in 1975 in the Dallas-Los Angeles Ram National Conference title game. Staubach faded back in the Shotgun formation and flipped maybe a one-yard shovel pass to Preston Pearson who ran for a touch-

And there have been a lot of "exotics" you may have missed.

Did you catch the tight end in motion who threw a crunching blow on a defensive tackle to spring Tony Dorsett for a 63-yard gain?

Did you catch center D.D. Lewis' head-bob in the second Washington game thatmade the Redskins jump offsides for a costly penalty?

Of course, the Los Angeles Rams know about all those Landry "exotics." But what worries the Rams, and justifiably so given Landry's gambling nature, is the ones they haven't seen. Landry counts on this unsettled state in the opponent. Witness his shifting, jumping, multiple offenses and defenses.

Landry says of the Rams: "You have to attack and beat them. You can't play conservatively and beat a team that is good.'

Pressed on his "exotic" plans, Landry will only say "The Rams have too solid a defensive team for Lou Saban resigns at Miami to guide Army program...

Saban begins the seventh college coaching job of his 28-year career today, taking over an Army football program that is rife with controver-

The hiring of Saban, 57, as head football coach was announced Thursday by Lt. Gen. Andrew J. Goodpaster, superintendent of the Military Academy. Saban resigned as head coach and athletic director at the University of Miami, Fla., to take the Saban succeeds Homer Smith, who was fired last month and then charged Army with illegal recruiting practices and an attempted coverup. Smith also said he was fired three days after he resigned.

SABAN, WHO WAS to be introduced as Army's coach at a news conference today in New York, was briefed Thursday on investigations into alleged improprieties in Army recruiting by Maj. Gen. Ray Murphy, Army's athletic director.

Saban also met with six assistant coaches, all of whom Murphy recommended Saban retain.

Asked why he gave up a $50,000-ayear job at Miami with four years left on his six-year contract, Saban replied: "Some people like to rebuild cars. I like to rebuild football pro-Saban, who served in the Army during World War II, added: "I'm happy to be here at West Point because of what the Academy stands for and because it produces men who are serving their country.

MURPHY REFUSED to discuss Saban's contract at Army, however it is speculated the coach also may take over as athletic director. Murphy was brought out of retirement to become athletic director and was known to have been looking for a man that could replace him.

Cowboys have tight security

DALLAS (AP) - The Dallas Cowboys, wandering like nomads through this ice-bound city looking for places to practice, have slapped tight security on their workouts after a brief scare Wednesday.

With their Forest Avenue practice field frozen over, the Cowboys worked out at the Cotton Bowl. It was there, a suspicious-looking character was noted by Cowboy scout and sleuth John Wooten.

"It turned out to be an elevator man," said Wooten. "But we can't be too careful since the Rams have three scouts in Ar-

OAKLAND (AP) - John Madden of the Oakland Raiders says he's burned out, has an ulcer to prove it and has coached his last football game.

"There was no pressure on me to retire," he said Thursday in his retirement announcement. "It was my decision.

It was a decision he made late in the 1978 National Football League season, but when the announcement was made, the impact of it filled Madden's eyes with tears.

"Things like this are easy to talk about and hard to do," said the burly, red-haired coach whose 10-year record of 103-32-7 with Oakland is one of the best in NFL history.

"I THINK this is the end of an era, certainly in Oakland Raiders' history," said Pete Banaszak, the running back who was in his second pro season when Madden joined the team as an assistant coach in 1967.

"I only knew one way to do this job for 10 years, and that was to give it everything I had. I just don't have it any more," Madden said, speaking of the dedication and drive that helped the Raiders win seven division titles and one Super Bowl.

Madden may work for the Raiders in another position after relaxing for a few months in hopes his ulcer problem improves, but he said that even should his physical condition improve dramatically, he has decided, "I'm never going to coach again.'

Al Davis, the team's managing general partner, probably will name a new head coach within a month. He said, "I don't think we're really talking about a successor, but a philoso-

Hill out as Bobcat coach

San Angelo Central began a search for a new head football coach and athletic director after the resignation of Smitty Hill, who beat the San Angelo school board to the gun

Hill's contract runs out in June and after a 2-8 1978 season, it was a foregone conclusion that Hill, who weathered previous controversy, would be

' Hill stipulated that his resignation, effective Jan. 12, hinged on his being paid through the remainder of his contract, which runs through June

Board President Paul Hudman said the board's goal is to hire a successor to Hill in time for spring training. Hudman added that the new coach should have experience as a head coach, and preferably a masters de-

Hill's fate apparently was sealed before last season when the board and Hill did not see eye-to-eye on the scope of his duties and did not to renew or extend his contract.

Hill, a native of Beaumont, played football at Lamar University and coached successfully at Port Arthur Jefferson, winning three district championships in six years, before coming to San Angelo. At San Angelo, Hill had a 43-26-1 record that included a 9-1 in 1973 and a cochampionship 8-1-1 in 1974, although Midland Lee represented District 5-4A in the play-

In 1977, San Angelo posted a 7-3 record, but last season was the Bobcats' worst in 27 years.

NEW YORK (AP) - Did Charles White of Southern California fumble the football before reaching the end zone on the controversial deciding touchdown against Michigan in the Rose Bowl Game on New Years

The officials, stationed much closer to the play than anyone, couldn't agree. Line judge Gilbert Marchman of the Big Ten Conference called it a USC touchdown. Umpire Don Mason saw it as a fumble recovered by Michigan

Instant replays of the controversial touchdown seemed to support Mason's view and again raised the demand for use of television slow motion and replay equipment to aid the game officials on difficult decisions. But football and television executives both agreed today that while replays are interesting for fans to watch at home, the use of sophisticated video equipment to aid game officials with their calls would not be

"WE LOOKED into it," said Art McNally, supervisor of officials for the National Football League, who keeps a tape of the NFL experiment in his office as evidence. "There are simply too many drawbacks."

The NFL test took place two years ago at a Monday night game in Dallas between the Cowboys and Buffalo Bills with four TV cameras placed at the press box level in the four corners of Texas Stadium. McNally and longtime NFL referee Norm Schachter were at the game and reviewed 26 plays with the equip-the stadium for every game and can you imagine 70,000 fans sitting for that long, waiting for a decision on a given play? And even then, we didn't always have a clear-cut answer."

"That's understandable," said NBC television producer George Finkel, who will work on the network's coverage of the American Conference championship game Sunday between Pittsburgh and Houston as well as the Jan. 21 Super Bowl. "You are dealing with a two-dimensional medium. The third dimension of space is the problem. Sometimes, you simply won't have the play to show."

THAT WAS what McNally and Schachter found in Dallas, Often none of the cameras used picked up a clear view of the questionable play.

Finkel certainly can appreciate that problem after working last year's AFC title game in Denver with the controversial Rob Lytle-non-fumble. "We had two replays available," the producer said. "One clearly showed the fumble. On the other, there was no way you could see it. What if the second view was the only one available?"

The bottom line, according to Finkel, is that television simply can't cover everything. At the Super Bowl, he will have five replay discs as well as a tape machine available. "Obviously, with that much equipment, there's more chance for you to have a specific play," he said. "But you can't be sure.'

TELEVISION'S REPLAY capabilities are determined not only by available equipment but also by guesswork on the part of the producers and direcyou preplan. We may isolate on Lynn Swann and the ball gets thrown to John Stallworth. Or we might isolate on Joe Greene and the tackle might be made by Jack Lambert. Sometimes, we might have the replay but the view might not be definitive. We're human, too. We just try to keep our percentages high.' There has been the suggestion that an official in the press box, stationed next to the television monitor, viewing the same picture seen at home, might be the solution. But McNally doesn't buy that theory, "If the man in the press box is going to have the final say over the men on the field, then I want my best man up there," he said. "And my best man belongs on the field."

MCNALLY CITED a pair of plays in the Buffalo-Dallas game, both involving apparent fouls by Cowboy linebackers against O.J. Simpson, then with the Bills. But in both plays, none of the four available cameras showed a clear enough view that might have helped officials decide on whether infractions had taken place.

'That's the problem," said McNal-"If four cameras isn't enough, how many do you need? Six? Eight?

Charles Lacy and Mike Umfleet won a high scoring and exciting Air Park Holiday double elimination bowling tournament recently, defeating runnerups Clint Benefield and John Denton

The winners went undefeated through the first three sets while Benefield and Denton battled back after a second round defeat to Lacy and Umfleet. Clint bowled games of 233 and 235 to pace his team to a fifth round victory over third place finishers Guy Conley and Jim Newton.

In the opening round of the finals. Benefield and Denton edged Lacy and Umfleet by one pin to send the tournament to one more round. Lacy, who will become the third Midlander on the Pro Tour when he joins the circuit in progress at the Quaker State Open in Grand Prairie, averaged 212 for 10

Lacy and Umfleet pocketed the first place prize money of $140 while Benefield and Denton picked up $90. Conley and Newton won $50. Kenny Hostetter excited the house when he slammed 11 consecutive strikes following an opening frame spare for a 290 game and 489 two game set to take home $30 for high game and high two game set.

Meanwhile, Brent Gallagher, who had been a winner three consecutive times in the Holiday event, was eliminated in two straight sets along with partner Jerry Delk. Gallagher picked up a youngster to bowl in the Adult-Youth Tournament in progress at the same time, and generated excitement with games of 245-289-248 for a 783 series.

Lacy's victory capped a big month for the top notch kegler, averaging 215 in league play, and smashed home a big 691 series in the Keglers Mixed League on Dec. 14, which was highlighted by a 257 game and a 656 in the Petroleum American League on Dec.

HOLIDAY TIDBITS: Lacy, 32 years old, and Galtagher, 18 years old, are currently the two hottest keglers in the city. Lacy, a product of the youth bowling ranks, will join the Professional Bowlers Tour in February when the Tour stops in Grand Prairie for the Quaker State Open. Lacy placed in the ABC Masters this past year and defeated Dave Davis, a top PBA name and money winner, by over 110 pins in the opening round of the major event this past season.

Lacy speaks proudly when he mentions that he and two other West Texans all placed in the Masters in 1978, which is not bad for an area the size of West Texas in population. Lacy will be the third Midlander to be on the Pro Tour, joining John Denton and Bobby Bumpass, who begins his career in Anaheim, Calif., this coming week.

Gallagher has been bowling steadily for the past two years, and he appears to be rapidly gaining in knowledge and skill it takes to be a top notch bowler. Gallagher's highlights include two Air Park Holiday championships this year and one last year. He also had four game sets of 914 and 961, and just this past week, he posted a brilliant 289, 783 threegame set in the Adult-Youth Tourna-

Gallagher's style and temperment are both mindful of the two current hottest stars in the Professional Bowlers Association, Mark Roth and Marshall Holman, the famous "Jewish Connection" who together this year have won over $200,000. With a few more years of dedicated work, practice and maturity, Gallagher may become another Midlander to appear on the Tour.

Barber will trade shots with the Pittsburgh secondary Sunday when the two teams meet for the third time this year, this time for the American Football Conference championship.

Just as the Oilers have blossomed during their first playoff appearance in nine years, Barber also has played two of the best games of his two-year pro career against Miami and New England.

Barber stabbed the Patriots with 19 and 13 yard touchdown catches in the second quarter last Sunday to give him nine receptions for 195 yards in two playoff games.

"I've learned to read the defenses and to be where I'm supposed to be without messing up," the former All-American said. "When Dan Pastorini drops back, he's got to have confidence in me that I'm reading the defense the same way he is and to be in the right area.

"That right there is the big difference this year for me." Barber caught 32 passes for three touchdowns during the regular season and finished second to perennial Oiler receiving leader Ken Burrough. The two receivers each have nine receptions in the two playoff games

And now that the Oilers have reintroduced the bomb to their offensive arsenal, the emergence of Barber as a receiving threat has helped Bur-

Burrough, the most feared deep threat receiver in the business, has caught 34 career touchdowns for an amazing average of 56 yards per catch. He caught a 71-yard pass-run TD last Sunday when the Oilers eliminated New England 31-14.

"If they give me all the attention, Barber is going to hurt them," said Burrough. "The more they respect him, the more it helps me." Barber is glad the Oilers are playing the Steelers for the third time after splitting a pair of fiercely played regular season games. "You don't have to do as much studying," he saic.

"You know their football team and you know the personnel. I'd rather play them than Denver because we know them better than Denver. I'll just spend the rest of the week trying to relax and get mentally prepared." Barber also likes Houston's chances in the rubber Balance is the byword in college basketball this year, and that means that all-winning teams will be as scarce as shutouts. But Illinois is doing all right so

The fourth-ranked Illini improved their record to a shining 13-0, best in the country among Division I teams, with a 65-61 victory over Indiana Thursday night. "We knew coming into Bloomington, we were going to have to play hard," said Eddie Johnson, the Illini's 6-foot-8 sophomore. "Indiana is the best defensive team in the Big Ten."

ILLINOIS LOOKED like two different teams in each half - but saved its best for last.

"We played bad in the first half, but Indiana took us out of our offense," said Johnson, whose team trailed by as many as eight points before intermission. "Levi (Cobb) got us the momentum, then we knew we had to go out and do a job in the second half.'

Cobb scored the last six points of the first half to lead Illinois into a tie at 33 at intermission, and give the Illini the momentum. That was the turning point, according to Indiana Coach Bobby Knight.

"From our standpoint, we put ourselves out of the game at the end of the first half," Knight said. "We started out behind and worked well getting ourselves back into the game, and built ourselves a lead.

"BUT OUR ballhandling in the last 21/2 minutes of the half killed any chance of carrying any momentum into the second half. Our ballhandling was atrocious during that period. From our standpoint, that was the whole game.'

Arkansas, ranked No. 14, was another team that remained undefeated Thursday night, winning its eighth straight game with a 96-71 decision over North Texas State.

In other games involving the nation's ranked teams, top-ranked Michigan State beat Wisconsin 84-55; No. 6 UCLA edged Oregon State 65-63; No. 13 Michigan whipped Minnesota 88-75 and No. 16 Louisville routed Tennessee-Chattanooga 94-70. Two free throws by Mark Smith with five seconds remaining sealed Illinois' tight victory over Indiana. The Illini actually scored their winning point with 1:33 remaining on a free throw by Derrick Holcomb that gave them a 62-56 lead.

CENTER STEVE SCHALL had the best offensive game of his career at Arkansas, scoring 30 points to lead the Razorbacks over North Texas State. Sidney Moncreif added 22 to the Arkansas attack. "Schall killed us," said North Texas State Coach Bill Blakely. "We just couldn't stop him. We tried everything, but couldn't cover him one-on-one. I was surprised by his performance - it was impressive, overpowering." Earvin Johnson scored a seasonhigh 21 points and collected 14 assists to lead Michigan State over Wisconsin in the Spartans' first appearance this year as the nation's No. 1 team. The Spartans held the Badgers to just 25 points in the second half. "We've never shot that poorly before," said Wisconsin Coach Bill Cofield after his team shot an atrocious 22 percent from the floor in the second half. "I don't know what happened. In the first half, we played decently. Not well: just decently enough to stay in the game. It seems as though in the second half we grew kind of weary...we just stopped doing the kind of job we were doing in the first

DAVID GREENWOOD scored 19 points a shand hit a key field goal with 3:19 to play as UCLA squeezed past Oregon State. Holland's 20-foot jump shot, which snapped a 63 tie, accounted for the game's final points. Following an Oregon State miss, UCLA rebounded and went into a delay game with three

Mike McGee scored 33 points to power Michigan past Minnesota. Larry Williams led Louisville over Tennessee-Chattanooga with a 22point performance.

Elsewhere, Earl Evans had 18 points and 11 rebounds to lead Nevada-Las Vegas over San Diego State 85-80; Jim Krivacs scored 29 points to pace Texas over TCU 92-63; Seton Hall beat St. John's 76-70 as Nick Galis scored 25; Ohio State stopped Purdue 75-71 on Mike Cline's four free throws in the final 44 seconds; Calvin Garrett netted 26 points to lead Oral Roberts over Drake 86-76 and California turned back Arizona State 70-59 behind a combined 33-point output by Doug True and Walt Gillespie.

ALSO, ALTON BYRD'S 18 points paced Columbia over South Florida 71-65; Steve Krafcisin had 16 points as Iowa trimmed Northwestern 65-57; Chuck Goslan broke open a tight game with six straight points midway through the second half, leading New Mexico State past West Texas State 102-87 and Darwin Cook's 27 points triggered the University of Portland past Nevada-Reno 90-76.

Midland takes a 1-0 loop record into the game and also has a makeup game in Big Spring Saturday night. The Bulldogs and Steers had their Tuesday game postponed due to icy roads and will play at 8 p.m. on Saturday.

Lee and Cooper currently share first place in the league standings with 2-0 record while Midland is 1-0 after an impressive 65-55 win over Odessa Permian last Tuesday in its Abilene brings a 1-1 record on the year into the MHS Gymnasium tonight, beating Big Spring and losing to Permian, 42-41 Tuesday.

Rebs rip Cooper; Eagles stop Dogs

Midland Lee and Abilene High emerged as the District 5-4A leaders Thursday night in girls' basketball

The defending champion Rebels ripped the Abilene Cooper Cougars, 47-36, in the Lee gym while Abilene High dealt the Midland High Bulldogs a 30-28 defeat in Abilene. Both Lee and Abilene High stand at 2-0 in the first half cage race with the victories. Midland High fell to 1-1 and out of a share of first place.

Leshia Watkins and Gail Wilson led the Rebel charge with 10 and 11 points respectively. The Rebels fell behind by an 11-5 margin in the first quarter, but a Wilson bucket at the third quarter buzzer sparked a fourth quarter surge which saw Lee capture a 17-5 edge in the period and the victory. Midland High fell behind 12-4 to Abilene in the first period and just couldn't catch up with a slow offensive performance. The Bulldogs had a good fourth quarter with an 8-2 scoring edge, but still fell two points shy. Sandra Rock led the Bulldogs with 14 points and was the only Midlander in double figures. Lee travels to San Angelo Saturday while Midland High hosts Big Spring in makeup games that were lost Tuesday due to the weather. Midland High's contest with Big Spring will be at 6 p.m. in the MHS gym with the JVs playing at 4 p.m. Lee will play at 6: 15

In junior varsity action Thursday, Lee whipped Cooper, 33-30, behind the nine points of Evelyn Oudems. Midland High dropped a 37-27 decision to Abilene. Janis McDonald led the Bullpups with eight points.

In other District 5-4A games, Odessa Permian (1-1) defeated Big Spring (0-2), 41-30, and Odessa High (2-1) defeated San Angelo (0-2), 54-30. Cooper is now 1-2 in district play.

People denied homes; Prices forced up, up

By JOHN CUNNIFF AP Business Analyst

effect is the same:

NEW YORK (AP) - There is a new form of discrimination in the land, "an antihousing philosophy in towns around the country," said Donald Hovde, the new president of the National Association of Realtors. As vice president last year, Hovde travelled 100, 000 miles into scores of cities and hamlets. Almost everywhere, he said, he found evidence of building moratoriums - in effect, planned, or being talked They take various forms, he said, such as legal limitations, zoning changes, resolutions, regulatory harassments, and an unwillingness to extend facilities such as utilities, fire protection and the like. Whatever the form, said Hovde, 47, a second-generation Realtor who operates a commercial and investment real estate firm in Madison, Wis., the PEOPLE ARE DENIED housing and prices are forced up. And a rage against the injustice is being fired among the "outs" all over the country, he

When a Realtor (it's a proper noun, they remind you) talks this way there is a tendency to discount the words. Clearly, real estate people profit from housing; it's their product. But it doesn't mean they don't speak from conviction, too. The anti-housing forces aren't the only ones making it difficult for people seeking a home. They contribute to higher prices, Hovde observes, but so do buyers, who demand more and more. And so also does a changing market. Together, he fears, they have driven prices so high that a good many people already have been priced out of the market, forced out of the system, where they smolder in frustration.

Those forces - anti-housing, needlessly larger homes, and a market swelled by more households including singles — have added greatly to higher prices, although there are still other reasons. "Too many people are being cut out," said

Hovde. In the 1950s, he recalls, people were happy with a 1,240-square-foot home enclosing three bedrooms, one bath, and a basement but no garage. The price was $13,500.

NOW, HE SAID, THE accepted size is 1,600 square feet, three or four bedrooms, a family room and an extra half or full bath. Attached is a garage. And the price tage is $50,300

Hovde knows his inflation, the fight against which he intends to make a major theme of his one-year administration. In the past decade, he says, the consumer price index has risen 77 percent family income 83 percent - and home prices 124 percent. "Middle class housing has been the envy of the world," he comments. "If these trends continue where will it take us? Is housing to be a luxury of the

In citing the house-inflation figures, Hovde might bring joy to existing homeowners, some of whom have built up substantial estates. But in his view, the other side of the coin is grim. In order to buy, many families need two incomes. Nevertheless, some are overextended ures showing the old formula of using 20 percent to 25 percent of income for housing was swamped by inflation. Now it's up to 38 percent; and higher in many households. And if inflation remains unchecked, future homebuyers might have it even worse, Hovde maintains. If we have just 10 percent inflation a year, the $50,300 median-priced home becomes $88,000-plus in 1985. But why use 10 percent if you seek to show the horrors of inflation? Why not use the most recent rate of housing inflation, the 14.5 percent rate of the past two years? The price then becomes $112,000. "If left unchecked, and if moratoriums continue, we will see middle income housing go beyond the reach of middle income America," Hovde warned. 'I hope to bring a public awareness of it."

IT IS NOT A CONCERN alone of real estate people or builders or financiers or buyers, or even of government at all levels, whose activities, he maintains, account for 20 percent of new home prices.

"Everyone shares responsibility," said Hovde. The nation, he states, needs 2 million new units a year for four years before the supply-demand imbalance is resolved.

The anti-housing philosophy and the moratoriums n building should be replaced, he said, by a national policy that recognizes the need for housing. "It should be a national priority."

Fund-raising letter proof that Reagan will run in 1980

WASHINGTON (AP) - National mailing of a fund-raising letter under Ronald Reagan's name is providing new evidence he will make another run for the presidency in 1980. And friends say it's just a matter of time until he declares his candidacy

The letter asks contributions for the Citizens for the Republic, a political action group Reagan founded with money left over from his 1976 presi-

As a multi-candidate group, the committee could give only $5,000 to a Reagan presidential campaign. But his name is featured prominently in the letterhead and return address of the letter signed by Sen. Paul Laxalt, R-Nev., Reagan's 1976 campaign man-

Laxalt begins the letter by extolling the former California governor and saying:

"Many people have asked me if he will run for the residency in 1980. I tell them that I am convinced that he will."

Lyn Nofsiger, longtime Reagan friend and political aide, agreed in an interview Wednesday, saying a committee to raise money specifically for a Reagan candidacy is on the way. "We've made no secret of the fact that we plan to form a committee in late February and at some time after that he is going to announce his candidacy for the presidency," Nofziger said. "We've said all along that barring some unforseen circumstance we expect him to run," he said. "The question is when he will announce. I would say some
