Education here involves more than just kids

By Jeff South Update Staff Writer

ducation in the Lubbock Independent School District isn't just kid stuff. Teachers and teachers-to-be need it too — and that is where Rafael Madrid fits in. Madrid is the district's new coordinator of student-teacher programs and university liaison. Among other things, he will help place some 2,000 college students this year into local public schools for a "taste of what teaching is all about."

The Lubbock school system is believed to be the second largest teacher training ground in Texas. Only the Austin district is said to provide placement for more stu-

"Texas Tech University and Lubbock Christian College are a tremendous resource to the public schools of Lubbock, and I think they see us in the same light," Madrid

TEACHER EDUCATION, HE SAID, is a "two-way street. The colleges and their students benefit by having a place to gain actual classroom experience. Our teachers and students benefit by having some extra helping hands in the classroom and by being introduced to innovative ideas" in the field of education.

The goal, Madrid added, is to "produce a better teacher for our students and our

*OBSERVERS. These are college students, mostly sophomores, who want to sit in on public-school classes for a few times during the semester to "see exactly what a teacher does," Madrid said.

•STUDENT AIDES. Some college education courses require sophomores and juniors to serve at public schools on a regular basis, usually three hours a week, helping teachers with materials and a small amount of instruction. As aides, the college students "learn what it would be like to work with young people. This gives them an opportunity to really find out whether they want to enter the teaching profession,"

*STUDENT TEACHERS. Education majors, as they near graduation, team up with regular public-school teachers and become almost a part of the faculty, Madrid said. Student-teachers work in the classrooms either on a full-day basis for seven weeks or on a half-day basis for 14 weeks. Unlike aides, student-teachers are phased in to the process of planning lessons and actually instructing children.

•INTERNS. Graduate students who are specializing in school administration or some other education field work for a semester or year with an appropriate official in the Lubbock school system. For instance, a person seeking a master's degree in elementary administration will be placed with a local elementary school principal.

*TEACHER CENTER PROGRAMS. The local teacher center is a consortium of area public schools, university and college officials and teachers' association.

Through the center, certain college classes are actually conducted in public schools, where the college students and professors have a ready laboratory for working with public-school children. Such courses are meeting three hours a week at Lubbock High and eight Lubbock elementary schools.

 TEACHER CORPS. This is a federally funded program for strengthening schools. Texas Tech has a $1.2 million grant to assist the faculties and families of Jackson Elementary, Thompson Junior High and Lubbock High over the next five years in addressing academic concerns. The project, which just got underway, is in the process of identifying scholastic needs of the areas involved.

•RESEARCH. Madrid is in charge of screening Tech research projects that involve public-school students. "We try to be cooperative," he said, "but we are generally interested only in projects that benefit us as well as the researcher." Currently, university professors are using Lubbock children to help develop better instructional materials for kindergarteners and for students in learning disabilities. A recent project that has had considerable impact here has been a study of open-space versus self-contained classrooms.

Madrid's responsibilities previously were under four different school administrators. "In the past, the school district has not had a direct channel to the university" on college-related programs, he said.

Madrid said the biggest task is the placement of student-teachers - about 700 a year. Student-teachers are placed in almost all schools throughout the city.

POLICE THIS week also were investigating the reported rape Sept. 17 of a 16year-old girl.

The youth told police Monday night that she was raped a week earlier by her boss at a fast-food restaurant. The teenager said she did not report the assault earlier because she was afraid of what might happen to her. The victim's mother, who reportedly also did not know of the alleged rape until Monday, said she called police after becoming suspicious when her daughter

Popularity is a fickle mistress

IT MAY not all be coming up roses yet, but some things certainly have begun to blossom for President Carter of late.

The Camp David agreements on the Mideast, to which the President contributed immeasurably, currently command the headlines. But there's more.

As a domestic certain-raiser for Carter's international coup, Congress gave him a civil service reform bill. Both houses by lopsided majorities have approved legislation that will place greater job emphasis on performance and less on security for more than 2 million employees of the bureaucracy.

The legislation does not give the President everything he wanted. But it comes close enough to fulfilling his requirements for reform as "the single most important step that we can take to insure the the government does what it is supposed to do...'

ADDED CARTER: "(What government is supposed to do is) meet the needs of the American people with the minimum of waste and a maximum of efficiency." Still pending in Congress are as important or more so items on the White House "must" list, e.g., tax reform, welfare, employment and health care measures. But momentum of the civil service action may well carry over to speed action on these

NO CANDIDATE has lost because of his opposition or support, putting a number of congressional incumbents in the happy posi-tion of having the White House in their debt without having endangered their re-election prospects as a consequence.

The President also has scored with the sustaining of his nuclear carrier-prompted veto of the defense bill and the lifting of the embargo on arms supplies to Turkey.

Next could even come a popularity upturn in the opinion polls, which is precisely what the politically prescient are commencing to predict.

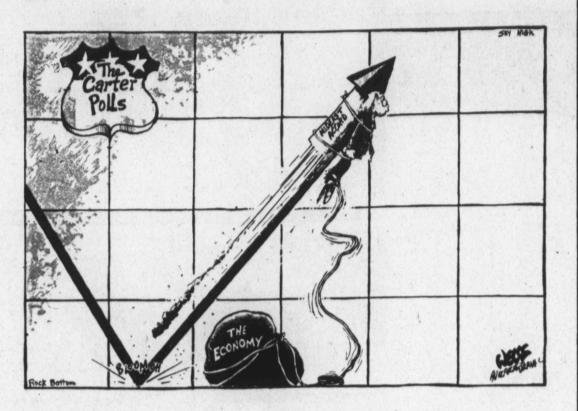

A chief executive could be forgiven for finding all this heady stuff, particularly one who only a few weeks ago was being discussed as a probable one-termer.

But a shrewd chief executive knows that what goes up, like public popularity, can also all too easily go down again.

THERE'S MORE to presidential success than foreign policy grandstanding, as Richard Nixon can testify. Or an impressive body of domestic legislation, as Lyndon Johnson discovered.

It requires some of both, plus large helpings of practical political sense...and luck. In which case, the present President's hopes for the future may lie in the evidence of his past, which has demonstrated that he is not deficient in either respect.

Patrick Brower: He's into worms

By Kim Cobb Update Staff Writer

Like it or not, Patrick Brower is into worms.

According to Lubbock's assistant attorney general for consumer affairs, Texans are spending approximately $10 million annually on worm farms and their upkeep.

And the only ones to benefit from the operation are the worms, he said.

BROWER EARNS a living by tilting at windmills, as he describes it. Since taking the job in March, he spends his days investigating claims of less-than-honest business practices, including worm farm scams.

"We've been looking into odometer rollbacks but a lot of my time is in worms," he said grinning.

Brower looks comfortable in his office hidden away on the third floor of the old post office building. He said he likes the job, though the pay is probably not as much as he would have made in private law practice.

"I wanted to do something to keep from losing my tan," he admitted. "It's completely different from anything I've done," he added. "It entails getting down with a lot of folks I have nothing in common with; even language, at times." "I get out in the sun, talk to people and generally do the things that keep your mind working."

BROWER WAS IN private practice here for about three years after grad-uating from the Texas Tech University law school. The desk work started getting him down and the consumer position started looking pretty good,

"We like to think we're pretty even-handed," he said. His office enforces the Deceptive Trade Practices and Consumer Protection Act.

Contrary to what many people be-lieve, he said, his office doesn't deal with criminal prosecution. He can enjoin a company or individual to stop an unfair activity or collect restitution for deceptive practices. But jail terms are not a part of his tactics.

"We are a state agency that represents the state," he said. "We don't have any criminal jurisdiction.
"Litigation is selective. We're trying to respond to the interests of the state. "We find that a lot of complainants shouldn't have complained in the first place," he said. "But if we have a legal problem, a professional con, so to speak, those folks need attention."

BROWER SAID he is a "non-typical" government worker in that he doesn't receive direct supervision

"I know how it is to work for a bureaucracy and I don't feel like anyone is bureaucratically looking over my shoulder, here."

Brower's office works with several other government agencies as well as the Better Business Bureau (BBB). BBB director Mal Cleland refers problems to Brower when legal action is needed, but the BBB sometimes has the inside track on mediation, according to Brower. He explained that the attorney general's office is not a legal aid society and that all complaints do not lead to litigation. Most complainants are urged to obtain their own lawyers, he

BEING A REGIONAL chief means nothing, Brower said, when there are no Indians. He works with a legal clerk and secretary — a small staff for a region which covers almost a third of the land in Texas.

"If something doesn't make sense we can ask questions," he said. "We do some good.

".In at least 50 percent of the cases, we get people what they want," he said, "and that's a good feeling."

"You can get into this job and tilt at windmills all day long; and a lot of people do," he said.

But you can feel pretty good without winning all the time.'

'Did you know that was a violation of a city ordinance?" was the next question. "No."

Since ignorance is no excuse for breaking the law, beware - U-turns are prohibited at intersections controlled by an electronic traffic device, ie., signal lights. The ordinance holds whether there is or is not a sign advising U-turns are illegal at that intersec-

Associate Muncipal Court Judge Bob Baber said this ordinance and two others give Lubbockites the most trouble. He said few persons are aware that Uturns cannot be made just anywhere and that a backing ordinance stipulates that a motorist cannot back his vehicle into a crosswalk or intersection, and the vehicle cannot back over 25 feet and only then when parallel parking.

All three violations carry a $15 fine for first offenders, Baber said. What are some other traffic ordinances and their respective fines, according to Baber, for first-time viola-

A person caught driving in the city without a license is fined $30 for the first offense; $55 for the second offense; and $500 if the person is found guilty for the third time within 24 months of driving without a license.

Persons guilty of making a turn without using a turning signal usually pay a penalty of $15.

Other $15 fines for first-time violations include making a left turn into or out of an alley or driveway when such a turn crosses the roadway's double yellow center stripe, driving through funeral processions or other processions (except at intersections controlled by traffic signals or police officers), driving on sidewalks (usually with motorcycles or mini-bikes), and not yielding the right of way for approaching emergency vehicles.

Police Information Officer Bill Morgan said the city use to have a law, which no longer is in effect, saying that cars were not to be parked on the side of the street from 2 a.m. to 6 a.m.

The reasoning behind this, Morgan said, was so the city could clean the streets during the night.

Traffic Update: attitude

SAFE DRIVING DEPENDS on three main elements, 1) streets and highways, 2) vehicles, and 3) drivers and pedestrians, says Northwestern University's Traffic Institute.

If all roads were as good as the traffic on them warrants, accidents might be reduced as much as 50 percent.

If all vehicles were as good as the best, accidents could be reduced 10 percent If all drivers were as good as the best, accidents could possibly be reduced 90

Roads and vehicles can be improved only through physical changes, that is by engineering. Drivers and pedestrians can be improved by education and law en-

Dr. Lowell Selling, psychologist to the Traffic Court in Detroit, Mich., has concluded that for the safe driver, it makes little difference whether he operates a new or older car, or drives on old or new highways. What is really impor-tant is his attitude. Dr. Selling classifies attitudes under two broad headings.

Examples of the passive driver who may be potentially hazardous is the person who is indifferent, not influenced by new stories of accidents involving others. His only concern is with himself. The rest of the world can go drifting by. He is not excited about excelling in business, in school — or in driving.

The Blase driver has been in conflict with the police and courts so frequently that he doesn't much care, of his independent way of driving has become so ingrained that he feels, "It's every man for himself and God for us all, as the elephant said when he danced among the chickens."

Full house expected for Tech-Texas battle

Update Executive Sports Editor

If Rex Dockery likes history - that part about it repeating itself - he could be pleased about this weekend. It's time for Texas Tech to play the University of Texas Longhorns. Gametime will be at 7:30 p.m. in Jones Stadium, and a full house is expected. Seats have been at at premium all week.

But, to check up on the history. . The Raiders have beaten the Longhorns the past two times the game was played in Lubbock. The victories have come on even-numbered years (1974, 1976).

And in each case, it was a different coach. Jim Carlin was head man for the Raiders in '74, Steve Sloan two years ago. And, this time, Rex Dockery is head coach. Each time, the Raiders were underdogs and they will be again Saturday when the two teams collide. TECH COMES IN WITH a 1-1 record, and Texas, 2-0, is rated sixth in the nation. The rating came after the Longhorns defensed Wyoming 17-3 last Saturday night in Aus-

That same night, the Raiders went on an offensive binge, scoring 34 points in the last 15 seconds of the first half and

That shocker, over a team which had won its two pre vious contests, saw a new leader surface. And as a result of that passing-rushing-leadership performance, freshman Ron Reeves will be at quarterback for the Raiders Satur-

REEVES, WHO GUIDED Monterey to the state footbal state baseball tournament last June, had not played against Southern Cal in Tech's opener. But, he trotted onto the field with 84 seconds remaining in the first half and Tech trailing 16-7. He fired a touchdown pass to Godfrey Turner with just seconds left in the half, then came back in the second half to lead the Raiders to the win. Reeves' credentials included six scores in eight posses sions, 11 of 14 pass completions for 159 yards and two touchdowns, 38 yards rushing and a pair of touchdowns.

In his passing display were eight straight completions, a covered." commented Dockery The performance also gave Reeves the Associated Press Southwest Conference Offensive Player of the Week award.

THE EX-MONTEREY FRESHMAN will open with another freshman in the backfield, as Phil Weatherall will be at tailback for his second straight game. Fullbacking will be handled by junior James Hadnot. Weatherall, in his first start out of Greenville High School, carried six times for 20 yards. Hadnot led the rushers with 87 yards on 25 carries. Mark Johnson, who had come into the game at quarterback after regular Tres Adami was injured, had a 45-yard touchdown sprint before Reeves came in. "We know what kind of team we're playing in Texas," said Dockery. "It was good for our players to win that Arizona game; we needed it. "Texas is so strong defensively, so quick and fast in the secondary. Their defense is good enough to give the offense "And, with (kicking specialist Russell) Erxleben, they can keep a team in a hole all night. He is one of the best athletes at his spot in the nation. WHILE ERXLEBEN HANDLES both punting and kicking chores, Tech will split those duties among kicker Bill Adams (five field goals in two games without a miss) and freshman Maury Buford, whose punts rank second to Erxleben, 43.9-43.8, among SWC athletes. Tech will mount a defense against the Longhorns with a line which includes senior tackle Curtis Reed, one of the top performers against Arizona. Dockery praised Reed, linelly and safety Larry work in the upset win. "You have to watch their speed," said Dockery. "Johnny Lam (Jones) has such great speed, you can't let him get

The Raiders must work against a Texas defense which includes eight starters from last year. The Longhorns lost starting defensive end Tim Campbell to surgery following the Wyoming game. After Saturday, the Raiders will start a string of three straight games away from home. The stretch begins Oct. 7 at Texas A&M and continues on consecutive Saturdays at New Mexico and Rice.

Three-pointer

Update photos MILTON ADAMS

As Mark Johnson moves his hand away from the football, top photo, Tech kicker Bill Adams plants his left foot and swings his right leg into a field goal try from 50 yards out in last Saturday night's game against Arizona. Adams was successful on the shot, and he had another goal of 30 yards in the 41-26 win over the Wildcats. Adams has kicked five of five field goals this fall.

The Panthers of Pittsburgh haven't exactly been able to loaf through their first two games. In fact, they got more than they bargained for last week against Temple - a tremendous scare. They beat Tulane in their opener, 24-6, and came back to down the tough Owls, 20-12. Now Pitt comes up against one of the prides of the Atlantic Coast Conference, the Tar Heels of North Carolina. The two have only met once on the football field and North Carolina was the winner. The Tar Heels nipped East Carolina, 14-10, in their first game, and were edged by Maryland last week, 21-20. So, in a home game for the Panthers, they're favored over North Carolina by just five points.

AND HAVING BLOWN BY one appointment and unimpressively beaten a second, the powerful Arkansas Razorbacks prepared to destroy a third. In fact, it appears that Arkansas won't be tested until the third Saturday in October, their fifth game, when they challenge Texas. This Saturday the Hogs are top heavy favorites over undefeated Tulsa. The spread will be about 30 points.

In January of 1962, U.C.L.A. lost the Rose Bowl game to Minnesota, 21-3. In 1977, the Bruins, in quite an upset, were up-ended once more by Minnesota, 27-13. So, the Uclans haven't beaten Minnesota in the last 16 years! (Only a died-inthe-wool Gopher fan could dig up a statement like that!) However, it looks as though Minnesota's victory "string" will come to an end this week. U.C.L.A. hosts the Gophers and will probably beat 'em by 11 points.

OUR PICKING PERCENTAGE for the first three weeks of the season (through September 16th) stands at .752. There were 324 smiles and 107 big frowns.

There are two particularly potential block-busters Saturday. Duke invades Ann Arbor to do battle with Michigan. and Oklahoma entertains Missouri in a Big Eight confrontation. The Blue Devils have never beaten the Wolverines, while the Sooners hold about a two to one edge over the Tigers in nearly 70 meetings. Michigan, Duke, and Oklahoma are all unbeaten, while Missouri was beaten by Alabama. The verdicts: Oklahoma will win by ten . . . Michigan will win by fourteen.

Experience called key to improvement

By Bob Bajackson Update Sports Staff

It's hard to visualize a football player making mistakes when he gains 103 yards in a game.

But, according to Estacado Coach Louis Kelley, Kevin White is still making sophomore mistakes.

Friday night, White went over the 100yard mark for the first time this season as the Matadors defeated the Coronado Mustangs 14-7.

"Kevin is still not hitting the hole properly," said Kelley. "What I mean by that is that he'll hit off tackle when the opening is at guard.

But when a football player rushes for a 103 yards, he must be improving.

"He's coming along," said Kelley. "But again he still has room for im-

And despite how many Matador practice sessions there are, Kelley believes White can improve only one way.

"Game experience is what is going to make White better and better," said Kelley. "When Kevin learns to anticipate openings, I'm going to see and expect great things fr him."

The Estacado victory over Coronado left no city high school football team without a loss this season.

The Mustangs and the Matadors sport the best records. Both are 2-1.

Usually powerful Monterey recorded its first win of the season in Midland. The Plainsmen have been having their problems generating an offense. In fact until Friday night, Monterey has only put six points on the board. 'We've improved and despite what you've read or heard we're going to have Monterey defeated Midland 17-14 to even its record at 1-1-1.

Meanwhile, inexperienced Dunbar and injury plagued Lubbock High both still sport goose eggs in the win column.

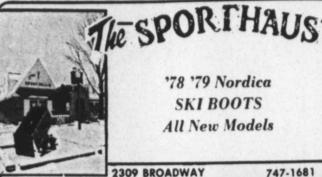

Both teams have 0-3 records. But this is a new week and as the worriers along the sidelines say, it's time to forget the past. Dunbar and Lubbock High will battle Friday night for the cellar championship, while Estacado and Monterey will tangle Saturday evening. Both contests will be played at Lowrey Field. Kickoff for the two games will be 7:30 p.m.

And if Monterey's offense continues to improve and Estacado tailback White stops making those sophomore mistakes, football game.

Water here causes problems in sodium restricted diets

By Sally Logue Update Staff Writer

Sodium restricted diets can be a problem in the South Plains area due to the high sodium content of the water, according to Mary Adams, chief dietician at the Health Sciences Center Hospital.

Mrs. Adams said the diets vary according to doctors' orders. "A two to three gram diet is considered mildly restrictive; a one gram diet is moderately restrictive; 500 miligrams is strict and a 250 gram diet is severely restrictive,"

IF THE DIET WILL allow, tap water can be used if salt is discontinued in cooking and at the table, she said, adding, "If the level is below two grams it is usually necessary for the person to use distilled water.'

Mary Adams

Most people can cook normally, but should avoid products made with salt, baking soda and baking powder. Other things that must be avoided include seasoned salt, salt substitutes, low sodium baking powder, onion salt, garlic salt, celery salt, meat tenderizers, steak and barbeque sauces, olives, pickles, boullion cubes, canned soups and broths and soy sauce.

Mrs. Adams pointed out there are some protein items such as milk, meat, eggs, bread and regular butter or margarine that are also high in sodium, but can be used on a limited basis.

"Reading labels becomes an important part of living with a sodium restricted diet. There are other things used in food processing that also must be avoided," she said

These sodium compounds and their uses are di-sodium phosphate, used in quick cooking cereals; monosodium glutamate (MSG) used to enhance flavor; sodium alginate, in chocolate milk and ice cream for smooth texture; sodium benzoate as a preservative in jams, jellies, relishes sauces and salad dressings; sodium hydroxide, to soften skins of certain fruits such as olives and hominy; sodium proprionate, to inhibit mold growth in cheese and bread and sodium sulfite, to bleach certain fruits before coloring such as mar-

Fruits and vegetables, either fresh or frozen, are good for low sodium diets. "One can use low sodium canned vegetables, but never regular canned vegetables," she said.

Mrs. Adams said that when a doctor perscribes a low sodium diet for a patient she trys to talk to as many family members as possible when she discusses the diet with the

"The more poeple there are to help and encourage the patient, the easier it is to stay on the diet," she said.

She said many herbs and spices can be used to season food. She provided Update with a list of these herbs and spices and their uses with the caution to use them lightly, because a little goes a long way."

Take your

By William D. Kerns

Of course, the Panhandle South Plains Fair is not yet over. There are two more days of rides, attractions and concerts by Mel Tillis. But if you've been faired out, well, look around you. There's so much more to take advantage of. "Death On The Nile" is the only major movie opening, though fami-lies should take note there are no less than three choices offered them this week: "Billion Dollar Hobo" at the Arnett-Benson and Village, "Olly Olly Oxen Free" at the South Plains Cinema and the matinee selection of "Mickey Mouse's Birthday Party" at the Fox, Showplace and South Plains Cinema. The rest of the big openings should arrive by mid-October.

The Fox began showing midnight shows last weekend, and the response was overflow crowds. So manager Harold Lieck has decided to hold over the same attraction, Ralph Bakshi's "Wizards," for midnight screenings tonight and Sat-

The Foreigner concert drew 8,420 people while illness forced the cancellation of Tammy Wynette's show last week. Next week will see The Travelers (formerly Denim) playing Wednesday at Rox and Rusty Wier playing Thursday at Cold Water Country. Both are highly recommended shows.

Lubbock Theatre Centre's "Man Of La Mancha" earned verbal kudos from all who managed to see it; at least that's the general concensus. Fast approaching, however, are productions of "The Killing Of Sister George" at the Lab Theater and "Romeo And Juliet" at University Theater. Oh yes, Monday and Tuesday will see the Lubbock Symphony Orchestra performing at the Civic Center theater. And someone told me there was going to be a football game this weekend.

Once again, if anyone is not yet listed in the Take Your Pick listings, that person or organization should feel free to call 762-8844 or write Update, Box 491, Lubbock, Tex 79408. We both need and appreciate your support.

on screen

Peter Ustinov is the detective in 'Death On The Nile' Agatha Christie murder mystery opens tonight at the Fox

Arnett-Benson — "The Billion Dollar Hobo." An enigma of sorts, in that this is a fine, enjoyable family picture which comes from neither Disney nor Mulberry Square. Instead, it's an independent release starring Tim Conway and the late Will Geer. Conway is still one of the country's most underrated comedia

Backstage ! - "The Other Side Of The Mountain, Part Two." Take a hanky, ladies. This one is a 90 minute tear-jerker. Marilyn Hassett is fine in her repeat performance as the Olympic skier paralyzed after an accident on the slopes. Well directed Backstage II - "The Fur Trap." X-rated material.

Cinema I, Mall - "Secrets." I was in New York City last week and the subject of film exploitation came up during a dinner conversation. This picture was one of the first referred to. It is NOT a new release, as many claim. It is an old film which does indeed contain a Jackie Bissett nude scene, but little of entertaining or artistic quality.

Cinema II, Mall - "Olly Olly Oxen Free." More family fare, and let's just hope those clamoring for G-rated products will put their money where their mouths are. This picture stars the venerable Katherine Hepburn and has played only short runs across the Cinema III, Mall - "National Lampoon's Animal House." This movie is so popular that theater personnel are quipping it may hang around and be a Christmas picture. John Belushi takes a break from his Not Ready For Prime Time Players stint on NBC and mugs his way through this wonderfully comic look at campus life in the '60s. The movie, often tasteless and totally lacking of redeeming social value, is nevertheless a scream. It's as funny as it is sick. So leave the kids at home and enjoy.

Cinema IV, Mall — "Revenge Of The Pink Panther." If you've seen one, you've seen them all — and now we're seeing them all rolled into one. "Revenge" doesn't even concern the Pink Panther; it's just more sight gags courtesy of Inspector Clouseau Cinematheque - Each Wednesday evening, the Cinematheque Film Society pre sents classic films on the Texas Tech University campus. Tickets may be purchased by the general public, as well as by Tech students. This week's offering is the original, uncut version of "The Wild Bunch" — a print which I daresay very few Lubbockites have seen. Directed by Sam Peckinpah, this violent classic stars William Holden, Ernest Borgnine and the late Robert Ryan. Show time is 8 p.m. and admission is only $1. Quite Cinemo West - "Somebody Is Killing Her Husband." This murder mystery stars Farrah Fawcett-Majors and Jeff Bridges, and both have surprised many by earning fine reviews. With all the Angel fans around, look for this movie to earn long lines on open-

Fine Arts Drive-In - "Acverine" and "Sensations." X-rated material

Fox I - "Death On The Nile." Yet another mystery based on an Agatha Christie book. This film, well over two hours in length and yet widely praised by the critics, stars Peter Ustinov as Hercule Poirot and co-stars David Niven, Maggie Smith, Olivia Hussey and Bette Davis. We'll have more details in next week's Update.

Fox II - "Heaven Can Wait." Still the classiest comedy in town. Warren Beatty plays a Ram quarterback priming for his big game against the Cowboys; but when it appears he'll be killed in a traffic accident, a Heavenly escort (Buck Henry) takes him upstairs before the crash. Oops. It turns out Beatty would have lived and, since his old body was cremated, Heaven has to find him a new body on Earth. That makes for hilarious quences, all of which are aided by wonderful supporting performances by Dyan Cannot and Charles Grodin (both possible Oscar bids) and Julie Christie. It's a G movie in PG's clothing, so feel free to take the kids.

Fox III - "Hooper." Nothing but sheer entertainment. Leave your brains at home and go and enjoy Burt Reynolds and friends showing us the funnier sides of movie stuntmen. There's a new stunt every few minutes, staged by director Hal Needham, re spected as one of Hollywood's finest stuntmen and remembered as the director of the enally successful "Smokey And The Bandit." Co-stars include Brian Keith, Jan-Michael Vincent and Sally Field.

Comedy held over yet again at the Fox Fourplex

Fox IV - "Foul Play." Goldie Hawn is the divorcee cast accidentally into a murder plot; Chevy Chase is the cop assigned to help her out. There aren't many laughs, none of the original variety anyway, but there are indeed a great many cliches stolen from Hitchcock films. The one who suffers most, though, is Dudley Moore, cast in the embarrassing role of an orchestra conductor who doubles as a sex pervert.

Golden Horseshoe Drive-In, Front Screen — "Harper Valley PTA" and "Moonshine County Express." The former is an asinine movie starring Barbara Eden and based on the song composed by Tom T. Hall and made popular by Jeannie C. Riley. The latter is a low budget action picture filled with moonshine whiskey, fast cars, faster women and a bit of violence.

Golden Horseshoe Drive-In, Back Screen - "Vixen" and "Supervixens." Russ Meyer is back in town with a slew of bosomy stars, titillating storylines and absolutely

Excellent Texas band now known as The Travelers

Home Box Office - This pay television station offers movies not presently on Lub bock's big screens. Premieres are held on HBO each weekend evening, and then repeated throughout the week. Tonight will see "I Never Promised You A Rose Garden" aired, a compelling drama starring Kathleen Quinlan as the mentally disturbed patient. Saturday will see the long-awaited "September 30, 1955" debut, starring Richard Thomas as a young man affected by the death of James Dean on the title date. Sunday will bus and proceed to run "The Gauntlet."

Lindsey — "Semi-Tough" and "Gator." Burt Reynolds gets to laugh that laugh and grin that grin while playing football and running 'shine. You can see him do both for just $1. Next week will see the Lindsey open "Eat My Dust" and "Moonshine County

Red Roider Drive-In - "Amuke" and "Rabid." Don't know a thing about the former release, but the latter picture stars porn queen Marilyn Chambers in the straight (?) role of a woman who spreads rabies throughout a Canadian city. The funniest part is Showplace 1 — "Up In Smoke." Attracting stupendous crowds, "Up In Smoke" is a uvenile look at the counter culture by way of ten-year-old gags and stupid plot directions. High schoolers and those younger, the ones who see pot solely as a "brick" road to "munchie-land," may find it amusing. It was definitely not made to appeal to the older crowd since, when asked if the movie would succeed, Cheech & Chong said, "Sure. After all, millions of people smoke dope." Nevertheless, if this movie was grass, not even the kids would spend their money on it.

Showplace II - "September 30, 1955." See comments under Home Box Office

Showplace III - "Cracking Up" and "Record City." Again, our theaters keep booking fillers until the big October releases arrive. Don't know anything about the first pic-ture, but manager Steve Richerson says the latter film is about the daily routine at a

Showplace IV - "An Unmarried Woman." Jill Clayburgh is still a top candidate for an Oscar, thanks to her performance as the woman who must cope with the strange world of divorce in this picture. I personally thought the picture overrated, but most moviegoers (and most critics) disagree. Miss Clayburgh does offer an excellent perform-

Village - Same as the Arnett-Benson.

Winchester — "Born Again." Dean Jones stars as Charles Colson, a Watergate participant who finds God while serving time in prison. Not seen yet.

Coming Soon — The South Plains Cinema still plans October openings for Robert Altman's "A Wedding," Woody Allen's "Interiors" (a brilliant downer) and the Billy Hayes story called "Midnight Express." And "Goin" South," starring Jack Nicholson and John Belushi, will also open at the mall compex next month.

The Fox still has "Big Wednesday" and "The Driver" on hold, though I personally think the former picture will be bumped off the schedule. "The Boys From Brazil," starring Gregory Peck and Laurence Olivier, will also open soon at the Fox. The Winchester plans to follow "Born Again" with the Donny & Marie Osmond film called "Goin"

October openings at Showplace include "The Big Fix," starring Richard Dreyfuss and "Comes A Horseman," starring Jane Fonda, James Caan and Jason Robards.

October 4, The Travelers — You may have to look twice at this band before realizing it's none other than Denim, the popular Texas group which always draws strong crowds when playing in Lubbock. The band has changed names and record labels, and will appear at The Rox at 9 p.m. for a one-night-only performance

Rusty Wier returns to Cold Water Country soon Still playing mixture of country and rock 'n' rol

October 5, Rusty Wier — Austin musician Rusty Wier will be turning Cold Water Country into a Black Hat Saloon, providing a lot of country and even more straight out rock and roll. The cover will jump to $5 for his appearance.

October 5-7, Stevie Voughon — The popular blues guitarist will play the first two nights at Stubb's Barbeque, then head on out to play his final show at The Cotton Club.

October 5-7, Bees Knees - Rock and roll at The Rox. This band has also been receiving local radio airplay of late, an indication it's shown more than just promise

It will be making a rare Lubbock appearance at The Rox. The cover charge is un-

October 20-28, "Romeo And Juliet" - The Texas Tech University Theater opened its doors 14 years ago with a production of Shakespeare's tragedy, "Romeo And Juliet," directed by Ron Schulz. History repeats itself. Schulz is now directing "Romeo And Juliet" again, no easy task, and swarms of drama students have re-enrolled at Tech just to take part in the production. It is an honor to Schulz and the Tech theater department, and promises to be a memorable theatrical event in Lubbock. A full month before the first performance, over 800 tickets had already been sold. Thus, early reservations are advised. Tickets are priced at $3 for adults and $2 for students.

October 22, Atlanta Rhythm Section — This band has released many a popular single and will make its first Lubbock appearance with an 8 p.m. concert in the Civic Center exhibition hall. Ticket information has not yet been released.

November 2-3, Houston Ballet — In what should be one of the artistic highlights of the season in all of West Texas, the Houston Ballet will offer two 8:15 p.m. full length performances of "Sleeping Beauty." Early ticket purchases are advised; ticket prices are $6, $8 and $10 for the general public, with Tech students able to buy seats in all categories at half price. All seats are reserved.

washington update

By U.S. Sen. Lloyd Bentsen

When is a government program not a government program? When it is the Bentsen Employment Tax Credit. Unlike virtually every other government program the Employment Tax credit operates at no net cost to the American taxpayer; in fact it helps to reduce the individual's tax burden by creating new taxpayers to help share it. IT DOESN'T ADD to inflation, as government spending programs generally do. Instead, it helps hold down prices by reducing the cost of labor to business It involves no red tape, no bureaucratic maze has been built to administer it and it is working very well, much better than had been predicted. It is like other government programs only that it was enacted by Congress.

Beyond that the similarities end. I began developing the Employment Tax Credut in mid-1975 as a tool to combat unemployment which had skyrocketed to more than 8 percent that year. That November I introduced legislation to establish this new approach to creat-

It was hard at that time to get anybody in government to listen to my proposal. With unemployment soaring, most people in Washington were more interested in creating make-work government jobs to take care of the immediate crisis.

BUT I FELT then as I feel today that the country and the worker would be better off if government were to encourage private industry to establish long term productive jobs. Instead of encouragement, the actions of government over the previous 45 years have made it more difficult for businessmen to hire new workers or even hang on to those they had. Increasing payroll taxes, increasingly complex income tax forms and a growing number of government regula-tions have all added substantially to payroll costs.

Our country remains rich enough and dynamic enough to provide a job for everyone who wants to work. But the policies of government too often make it be making it easier. And the response of overnment when unemployment results has been to concentrate on temporary, ernment-created jobs.

I feel this is a mistake. I believe the emphasis should be on incentives to create jobs through our free enterprise sys-

In late 1976 the tide turned, the Emloyment Tax Credit idea took hold and in May 1977 it was enacted into law by

IN AWARDS a $2100 tax credit for each new worker hired by business or industry. And, of course, the taxes paid by these new workers — plus the accompanying reductions in spending for unemployment compensation — more than offset this cost.

Preliminary indications are the Employment Tax Credit was a smashing success during its first year of operation.

According to an econometric study by Dr. John Bishop of the University of Wisconsin the new tax credit may have created some 400,000 new jobs in the construction and retail industries alone during its first year.

Dr. Bishop says, "Statistically significant increases in employment are found to have occured to construction and retailing in response to the credit. The...estimates imply the credit by March 1978 had indeed an 8 percent increase in employment in construction and a 2-3 percent increase in retailing. For the industries studied the total increase in employment seems to be 400,-000 (with a band of uncertainty of plus or minus 180,000)."

IN ADDITION, the Bishop study indicated that the jobs tax credit helped hold down the rate of inflation. "The
