U.S. oil companies announce cuts

There has been virtually no rise in consumer prices as a result of the special increases by OPEC members because not much oil is involved. The Iranian supply, which amounted to just 5 percent of U.S. crude oil needs, was used to adjust inventories. Its loss sent prices for what is available on the spot market soaring, as countries more dependent on Iran than the United States go there to make up their losses.

Neither Shell nor ARCO was a big customer of Iranian oil, but both noted that the shutdown of Iranian production had all but dried up the spot market.

"In addition to the tightened crude market, we have seen a cutback in the availability of refined products we normally can purchase from others in the United States and abroad," a Shell spokesman said.

U.S. oil industry analysts say the loss of Iranian oil is potentially as serious as the 1973-74 Arab oil embargo, but won't reach that stage unless crude oil from Iran stays out of the pipeline for several more

Chinese throw punishing blow at Vietnamese

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP) - In the heaviest fighting of the 6-day-old border war, Chinese forces launched fresh attacks on a Vietnamese-held mountain highway that links Hanoi with Vietnam's northeast border, reports from Peking said today. A Chinese government official in Peking said today that China's "punishment" of Vietnam is not finished, Japan's Kyodo news service reported. The unidentified official reportedly said China will not back down leaving the military situation as it is.

In Moscow, a Soviet Foreign Ministry official denied reports of a heightened alert for Soviet troops or troops in Soviet-allied Mongoli) because of the Vietnam situation. He called the reports "dirty provocative

As fighting raged around the highway 50 miles inland, three Chinese infantry divisions pushed 12 miles into Vietnam in Quang Ninh Province, closer to the South China Sea, fighting for every mile against tough opposition, intelligence sources in Bangkok said.

This attack force is believed to number as many as 30,000 men and is said to be backed by tanks.

The three divisions were expected to try to cut off east-west Highway 4, which is 12 miles farther south, and then may swing inland to attack the north-south Highway 1, the lifeline between Hanoi and Vietnamese troops concentrated around the town of Lang Son

Japan's Kyodo news service, in a dispatch from Peking, quoted Western military sources as saying the Chinese on Wednesday stepped up their assault on the mountain highway north of Lang Son, a strategically situated town 12 miles south of the border crossing that was named "Friendship Gate" in times of friendlier relations between the two coun-

The sources were quoted by Kyodo as saying the Vietnamese were fiercely resisting the attack.

Heavy fighting has been reported for several days around the village of Dong Dang, seven miles north Lang Son. Foreign reporters who visited Lang Son Tuesday said they were told the Chinese were holding the hillson one side of Dong Dang, and the Vietnamese had the hills opposite them.

Vietnam was rushing regular army reinforcements up to Lang Son, where local militias had borne the defensive burden for the first few days of the invasion. Analysts believe a major battle was brewing around the Lang Son. If the Chinese are able to deal a final blow to the Vietnamese, the analysts say, Peking will probably withdraw most of its invasion force from Vietnam.

The Soviet news agency Tass, in a report today from Hanoi, charged that the Chinese intend to annex many Vietnamese areas they have captured. The Chinese have disclaimed any intention to seize terri-

Sources here said the three Chinese divisions encountered "fierce fighting, with heavy losses on both sides' as they moved deep into Quang Ninh on Wednesday.

The invasion route the Chinese followed is a river valley stretching from China southwest into Vietnam. The intelligence sources described the area as "rugged and mountain-

Mansion meeting on oil reported

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) - Gov. Bill Clements disclosed today that a toplevel meeting of state officials was held at the governor's mansion Wednesday night to begin work on the Texas version of a national energy

In attendance, Clements told a news conference, were Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby, Speaker Bill Clayton, Attornev General Mark White, Railroad Commissioners John Poerner, Mack Wallace and James Nugent and members of Clements' staff.

Also there were former presidential adviser Walt Rostow, now a University of Texas professor, and William Fisher of the UT Bureau of Economic Clements said the group met to "establish a common ground to properly represent the so-called Texas position as regards energy

"It was a most successful meeting, strictly non-partisan," said Clements, Texas' first Republican governor in over a century.

Clements said a position paper is being prepared that will be the basis for an address he will make at the National Governor's Conference in Washington next week.

Asked to summarize Texas' position. Clements said it "takes issue with the national energy policy as a policy of conservation - not a policy of energy. We feel the solution to the problem is the production of en-

The case had been closely watched by the Consumer Energy Council, a consumer advocacy group on energy policy, as one of critical importance to users of natural gas.

If it affects the interstate supply of natural gas, today's ruling could affect the cost of that gas.

The "prudent operator" regulation had been imposed on gas producers by the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission.

The high court's tie vote was announced today in a two-sentence opinion. It noted that one of the court's nine members, Justice Potter Stewart, took no part in considering the controversy.

ny stocks, often disqualifies himself from cases involving certain energy

A tie vote does not carry the same weight as most Supreme Court decisions because it is conceivable that all nine justices could consider the same question in the future and reach a different conclusion.

But until that time, the 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals' ruling reached last year will prevent FERC from enforcing its regulation.

That regulation was challenged by the nation's major natural gas producers who said, essentially, that the agency's authority should not extend beyond sales to production.

The appeals court ruling found fault in the rule because it "is intended to open the door to FERC involvement into forbidden production activities.'

The lower court said the Natural Gas Act, which authorizes government control over interstate sales of the fuel, specifically excludes government involvement in "the production or gathering of natural gas."

Producers seeking to sell natural gas across state lines must first ob-Stewart, who owns some oil compa- tain from the commission a so-called certificate of public convenience and necessity.

Once the certificate has been issued, FERC is authorized by law to see to it that "no natural gas company shall abandon ... its facilities ... without the permission and approval of the commission and a finding ... that the available supply of natural gas is

The commission and the Consumer Federation of America's Energy Policy Task Force argued in separate Supreme Court appeals that some authority over production is needed to make authority over sales meaningful.

In its appeal, FERC argued, "A certificated producer could not evade his delivery obligations by deliberately failing to replace a broken washer, or to flush a plugged well-choke that had stopped the flow of gas from

In such an event, the appeal said, the commission could take action against the producer "notwithstanding that such enforcement would be based on the producer's physical operation or non-operation of his facili-

Archives has free packets of family history

WASHINGTON (AP) The National Archives, anticipating renewed interest in genealogy as a result of "Roots ," has prepared free family history packets. As the nation's permanent repository of federal records, the Archives has millions of documents pertinent to genealogical research.

It was at the Archives that Alex Haley began his 13-year search for his African origins, starting with the 1870 census.

'Roots," the television series two years ago based on Haley's book, is credited with a 70 percent increase in research requests to the Archives. Public use of the documents has dropped off since, but the Archives anticipates "Roots II," being televised nationally this week, will renew interest. The free genealogical information can be obtained by writing to Correspondence Branch (NNCC), National Archives, Washington, D.C.

Gerald Green, along with his wife and son, appeared Wednesday on the Phil Donahue talk show, taped at a Houston theater.

While his parents answered questions from Donahue and the audience, Chad romped nearby, dashing up one aisle and down another, leading his baby-sitter on a wild chase. She caught up with him only when Chad stopped to talk with someone in the audience.

The parents said they "never wanted a war but the judge left us no choice. When the government tells us what our son can and cannot eat, that is the last straw.'

Superior Court Judge Guy Volterra ruled Jan. 23 that Chad must remain in the legal custody of the state and his parents must stop giving the boy Laetrile, enzyme enemas or excess doses of vitamins.

The child was placed in the legal custody of the state.

Shortly after the order, the Greens flew to Tijuana to continue the Laetrile treatments. Green said his son "is in excellent health. The leukemia is now in remission.

Laetrile is a trademark for a substance derived from the chemical amygdalin, found naturally in the pits of apricots and peaches and in bitter almonds.

Advocates say it is an effective cancer treatment, but the medical establishment says there is no proof it has any value in treating cancer.

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) -Search teams combed villages in the Dieng Mountains of central Java today, moving villagers from the path of lava streams and poison gas spew-ing from volcanic Mount Sinila and a second crater in the area.

The toll from the eruption early Tuesday rose to 175 dead and more than 1,000 injured, officials said. More than 17,000 persons have been evacuated.

Suffocating gas and clouds of ash still blanketed several villages as teams of troops, police and villagers evacuated persons from threatened

Only persons with gas masks were allowed in within several miles of the erupting crater to search for more

Officials said two rivers in the area had carried the lava for six miles, poisoning the water and preventing its use for irrigation. A third river appeared to have been blocked, threatening the livelihood of villagers in the Banjarnegara district through which the river flows.

The lava also blocked roads, hampering rescue efforts.

The Dieng Plateau, a tourist attaction because of its volcanic craters, was declared off limits to visitors and roads into the mountains were

Howdy, Geophysicists

The Tall City of Midland is proud and pleased to be the host city today and Friday to the 23rd Annual Exploration Meeting of the Permian Basin Geophysical Society, with headquarters in the Midland Hilton.

The session is expected to attract several hundred geophysicists from over West Texas and Southeast New Mexico, and far beyond.

The meeting has as its theme, "1979 - Ending a Decade of Progress."

And it has been just that — a decade of progress for geophysicists, who, aided by modern and more sophisticated equipment and methods, have played and are playing a most significant role in the expanded oil and gas exploration endeavor of the '70s.

But while reviewing activities and achievements of the '70s, which is fine and dandy, it really is to the 1980's that the Permian Basin geophysicists are looking.

And this ties in perfectly with the subject of the keynote address, "The Expanding Role of

I want you to know that these are not pieces of impersonal junk mail. They are addressed "Dear Art and Ann," and go something like this: 'We're happy to inform you that you have almost won a $150,000 solar home, $20,000-a-year for life, a threemonth cruise around the world or a Gillette double-edged razor. You do not have to do anything to win one of these prizes except subscribe to Drowning magazine, the new bimonthly publication devoted to people who can't swim. I must admit that even I get sucked in by this kind of mail, and my wife also gets very excited the day a sweepstakes letter arrives.

The other afternoon when I came home she couldn't contain herself. "We've just won a three-year-old racehorse," she said hugging me, 'and it will probably win the Kentucky Derby.

"I'm not sure I want a horse," I said. "If he wins the Kentucky Derby the sportswriters won't give us any peace."

She went through some other letters. "All right, then, how would you like a 707 Boeing jet with leather seats designed by Gucci?"

"That sounds more like it. How do we win that?"

"I'm not sure. All the letter says is 'Dear Art and Ann, You have won a 707 Boeing jet airplane. Please fill out this card and enclose $29.50 for luggage tags. These tags will be placed in a computer, and if your tag is selected the Boeing will be delivered to your hangar or any airline terminal gate that you specify. A. exceeds quota

Congratulations are in order for Midland Junior Achievement, Inc., which has just completed its annual finance campaign on a highly successful note, exceeding its $60,000 quota.

And at the same time congratulations also are directed to all those interested individuals, groups and business firms who contributed to the success of the effort through their prompt and generous response in this most worthy community endeavor.

This actually is the second year in a row that Midlanders have seen fit to provide adequate finances to conduct the J.A. program which teaches high school students the principles of the American free enterprise system by helping them organize and operate their own miniature businesses.

It is not at all surprising that Midlanders, a vast majority of whom are outspoken advocates of the free enterprise system, would give strong financial support to Junior Achievement, but it was not until a year or two ago that J.A. gained sufficient stature in the community to get the attention it so richly merits. Additional funds, of course, could be used to a good advantage in broadening the scope of the program, and this added support undoubtedly will come at the appropriate time. This is the Midland way.

KREMLIN KUDO: It's always flattering to be denounced by the running dogs of totalitarianism. Over the years, we have basked in the warmth of attacks by dictatorial regimes of every persuasion. Still, it's not every day that the Soviet Union's most prestigious cultural organ, the Literary Gazette, calls us skunks. The magazine's New York correspondent, Iona Andronov, described us as purveyors of 'political and bedroom lies," and called my associate, "Lovable Les" Whitten, so revolting that "many Washington newsmen avoid him in disgust.

Coming from a publication that has savaged every Soviet writer who has spoken out for freedom, this is high praise. What puts the frosting on the cake, though, is the word we have from senior U.S. intelligence officials that correspondent Andronov, like many other Soviet journalists, has for years been an agent of the Kremlin's notorious secret police, the KGB.

Terrorism in Rhodesia is overlooked by Americans

WASHINGTON - What if terrorists shot down two commercial passenger planes, say, over Chicago's O'Hare, New York's Kennedy or Los Angeles' International, with great loss of life? Egads, there would be a burst of outrage, a further lunge to the right, congressional investigations and perhaps mea culpas by apologists for so-called liberation fronts.

Well, two such planes were shot down by missiles fired by terrorists of Joshua Nkomo's Marxist "Patriotic Front" in the past six months. A third was pierced by ground fire but didn't crash. The crashes took 97 lives. But Rhodesia lives with atrocities, and the United States, as a rule, doesn't.

Too many of us regard the "Patriotic Front" as something U.N. Ambassador Andrew Young has praised, and his boss, Jimmy Carter, wants to include as part of any settlement in Southern Africa. Indeed, if Westerners do anger over Africa, it is only after such terrorists have killed

Hans Iver Hansen miraculously escaped death twice in the first shoot-down of a Rhodesian passenger plane. He survived the crash which killed 38, and he also managed to elude Nkomo's men who massacred 10 survivors at the crash site.

Hansen, 36, was here last week, incredulous that we don't understand what is going on in Rhodesia, a nation of 6,500,000 blacks and 250,000 whites, which he says is trying to change "uniquely" to a "racially cooperative" society. 'Americans have no respect for black people," he told me, as a sort of shocker. "It takes an air crash which whites can relate to - or an atrocity on whites - to get your attention. The truth is that 80 to 90 percent of the terrorists' victims are blacks, but they get no notice in your press. 'Nkomo is a ganster and bandit. He should never be let in on any settle-ment. But in politics, there are com-promises, so I think Ian Smith will let

"I don't understand your President Carter, who says he's a born-again Christian, supporting the anti-Christian 'Patriotic Front' with a veto right. I don't understand the World Council of Churches giving them aid. I don't understand why the civilized world doesn't deplore these terrorists' kidnaping black children to intimidate their parents."

Hansen and his wife Diana were aboard that Rhodesian plane last Sept. 3 when it was hit by a Soviet Sam-7 missile and crashed. "I grabbed her hand and said, 'Only God can save us,'" he recalled. "We were in the back end, and it broke off. The rest of the plane looked like a cement mixer. Eighteen of us got out a hole in the side, and ran about 100 meters away from the flames.

'Five went off to look for a village, and the rest of us waited. We heard gunfire, so Diana and I hit the ground. The others huddled and stood up when the terrorists told them they had come to help them. They took their jewelry and valuables and then mowed them down with their rifles. Diana said 'Pray, it is the only help we will get.

"The terrorists left, so we crawled back near the plane. But they came back to loot the luggage and also to bayonet the crash victims. I heard a bayonet go through a small child's skull. We lay there, like dead, for one hour. They finally left, and we ran into the woods but weren't rescued until well into the next day.

"If small fanatical groups can put a nation to ransom this way with one missile, what do we have left? Rhodesia learned white superiority from the very British who now scorn us. Now we are trying to integrate our nation. I don't see a man's face as black or

"You know, 80 percent of our secu-rity forces are blacks. Ian Smith is guarded by blacks. I served under black officers. All of us want to stay. We have no alternative, if you like Africa as I do. The rest of Africa is dictatorships, many bloody, and Rhodesia isn't that. You cannot wipe Rhodesia off the map, though life might become miserable for us. Hansen is Danish born, came to Africa at 13 when his farmer father decided there was more opportunity there than in Denmark. Hansen farmed for years and then got into the fresh water sardine business at Kariba Lake, where he lives.

"I'm not leaving Rhodesia," he says as a determined white (20,000 have left). "We have a good future if these Marxist terrorists can be stopped. I intend to live my life as normal, and that means flying in our planes, too. Most Rhodesians, black and white, are fatalistic. If you die,

Weather-beaten gym is only reminder of 'old' Courtney

Staff Writer

COURTNEY - There's no school in Courtney. And no one cheers.

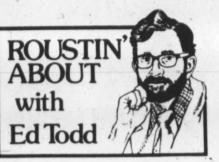

The hallowed halls are gone. The gymnasium, though, is still here and collects dust, dirt, bird droppings and debris from the bit-bybit crumbling building. Courtney is a farming community about 10 miles northwest of Stanton and just this side of Mustang The tin roof over the gray, stucco gymnasium ceiling is coming down. Slowly, year by year. Like so many rural communities earlier in the century, Courtney had its own school system. And the school, particularly the gymnasium, was the community's meeting place. "That was where we had all our social activities," remembered Peggy Cross Creech, who graduated in the Courtney class of 1951. Seven got diplomas that

"Not just a whole lot went on outside of school affairs," she recalled. Everybody in the county, the community, came. Nobody missed anything.'

"WE HAVE LOTS of happy memories from that time," Mrs. Creech said.

That's all changed. The old fire-brick school building, which Bill Hull of Stanton recalls helping build in 1929 to replace the old wooden school house, was razed more than 40 years later by a Midland preacher, Ross Payne, who wanted the brick.

But it was back in 1955 when the high school was phased out of Courtney. The older students were bussed to school in Stanton. For about 10 years after that, grammar school classes were held here.

Though folks are scattered all about, rural Courtney no longer has the charm of a country community, where folks gather for big and little goings-on.

Times change, and people move away. On the other side of the old gymnasium, beyond the bonfire when I'm gone."

foundation of the old school, are a couple of blue-gray tile houses.

Schoolteachers used to live there.

J.T. Britt, a gang pusher and former pumper for an oil company, and his reclusive but amiable wife, Midge, live there now.

THE OLD COURTNEY gymnasium, where the students and boosters alike used to cheer and hurrah the blue-and-gold clad Courtney Eagles to victory, and six acres thereabout belong to

Along with the other antiques, which she affectionately calls "junk," in the house is an old pupil's wooden desk replete with an inkwell and niche

The desk, likely made of oak or maple, has the old curved folding seat and, remarkably, is without penknife or pocketknife scratches, initials, graffiti and who-loves-who marks.

"Here's that desk, and I'm proud of that desk," said Mrs. Britt, who found the prized piece of school furniture "under the stage" in the gymnasium.

"I dug it out piece by piece," she said. Mrs. Britt admits to not knowing anybody here, though she has lived at Courtney more than a year. She was born in Kansas, where her father worked in a-roundhouse, and was "raised all over the world, mostly in Texas." Her husband is from Shacktown, now Welch, in Dawson County.

The old Courtney gym has been ransacked and vandalized - by youngsters, she figures. She keeps the gym locked.

Mostly, though, the old gym has been damaged by plain old weathering and neglect.

MRS. BRITT JUST knows that the gym has some kind of value, though she says she doesn't know exactly why she and her spouse bought it. She wanted to live in the country, for a change, and that's really where Courtney is.

"Look at all that good lumber," she said, as she surveyed the old gym.

'You could do anything with it. I just dream what I could do if I ever tore this thing down." She paused. "I couldn't build a thing."

But in another dreamy moment, she could visualize an edifice oozing from the gym - if it's ever laid

"Oh my goodness, you could build a mansion!" In another solution on what to do with the old gym, Mrs. Britt offered this whimsical thought for a goingaway "party:"

"I'm just going to will it to my kids and have a big

Lufthansa suspect promised $300,000 to set up robbery

NEW YORK (AP) - Louis Werner, latest suspect in the $5.8 million heist at the Lufthansa German Airlines cargo hangar at Kennedy Airport, was promised $300,000 to set up the robbery, an FBI

The affidavit, filed Wednesday in federal court in Brooklyn by agent Thomas Sweeney, also said Werner was arrested on information supplied by a Peter Gruenawald, to whom he gave $10,000 to buy silence. Gruenawald is a Lufthansa employee who is being held as a material witness in lieu of $250,000

Werner, 47, was arraigned Wednesday, and U.S. Magistrate Simon Chrein set bail at $1 million. Gruenwald, 39, of Levittown, N.Y., was arrested Saturday along with Angelo Sepe, 37, of Mattituck. Sepe is being held under $1 million bond.

Werner and Sepe have been charged with violation of the Hobbs Act, which means forceful theft from a company doing interstate commerce, theft from an interstate shipment, possession of goods taken from an interstate or foreign shipment and conspiracy.

The robbers got an estimated $5 million in cash, the largest robbery haul in the nation's history, and aboout $800,000 in jewels. Sweeney's affidavit said Werner also had been "instrumental" in causing a delay that prevented a Brink's armored truck from picking up the money at the Lufthansa cargo building as scheduled, three days before six bandits made off with it in a raid before dawn Dec. 11. The affidavit said Werner was promised $300,000 for his role and had already received $80,000.

According to the document, Gruenawald said Werner admitted taking part in the robbery, gave him $10,000 to keep quiet about what he knew, and used some of the money to buy a van. Gruenawald said Werner had planned to flee to Florida, the Stock market oses

NEW YORK (AP) - The stock market declined in moderate trading today, in what analysts saw as concern over inflation and fighting in Vietnam.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrial stocks was down more than 51/2 points in early trading but recovered a bit and was off 3.82 at 830.73 by midday. Losers outnumbered gainers by more than two-to-one on the New York Stock Exchange. Volume was moderate with 10.8 million shares changing hands in the first two hours, compared to 11.3 million in the same period Wednesday. Burlington Industries was the most actively traded issue on the Big Board, declining 1/8 to 171/4. Exxon, which said it will have to cut deliveries of low-sulfur fuel oil next month, was second on the active list and was down 1/2 to 503/4. Other oil issues were also down, with Murphy Oil off ½ at 43¼, Standard Oil of California down % to 45½ and Atlantic Richfield falling % to 60 %.

American Telephone & Telegraph bucked the downward trend, rising % to 62%. AT&T announced a 10-cent increase in its quarterly dividend on Wednesday. The NYSE composite index of more than 1,500 common stocks slipped .27 to 55.31. On the American Stock Exchange, the market value index dropped .39 to 162.95.

Khomeini promises vote for Iranians

TEHRAN, Iran (AP) - Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini has promised a national referendum in two weeks so the Iranians can say if they want the Islamic republic he promised them as the goal of

It will be the first of four national votes planned by the 78-year-old religious leader and his aides. An announcement by Prime Minister Mehdi Bazargan's provisional government said the voters would be asked one question: "Do you favor an Islamic republic?" Bazargan said earlier the referendum would be followed by the election of a constitutional assembly to approve a new constitution abolishing the 2,500year-old monarchy and establishing the republic. After the assembly adopts the constitution, there will be another referendum to approve it. Then a Parliament will be elected and will name a government to replace Bazargan's provisional cabinet.

Local press reports said the draft constitution prohibits persons of wealth or influence from participating in the government. This presumably is to bar those who wielded power during the regime of Shah Mohammad Reza Pahlavi, driven from Iran Khoemini said, while he led his revolution from exile, that he wanted a republic built around the tenets of Islam.

But in the 10 days since his revolution succeeded, the Western "decadence" decried by the ayatollah has been seen creeping back into Tehran's street scenes and lifestyles.

Right to privacy cited in tax trial

The right to privacy was cited in federal district court today in defense of an Odessan charged with violating income tax laws.

The jury was expected to reach a verdict in the case this afternoon.

William H. Mann III, Amarillo attorney representing Richard L. Enloe on charges he filed a false Form W-4 and failed to supply the IRS with required information, said in the computer age 'anybody who knows how to push the buttons" can find out "everything about you from the day you were born until today.'

That, said Mann in his closing argument, is why Enloe filed what is commonly called a "fifth amendment" tax return for 1976.

"This is a very valid fear," Mann argued. Concerning the Form W-4 the government contended was false, Mann told the jury an allowance simply is a multiple of $750 in anticipated tax deductions. He claimed the government had not proved Enloe was not entitled to the 30 deductions he claimed on the Form W-4. Mann used much of his time in his closing remarks emphasizing that the two charges are separate and entreating the jury to consider the evidence on the two charges separately.

The defense attorney also called to the jury's attention the fact that Enloe did not testify in his own defense. Mann said he was the one who decided Enloe should not testify.

The prosecution argued that Enloe intentionally broke the law on both of the counts for which he is charged. Closing for the prosecution Jake Snyder, Justice epartment criminal tax lawyer, told the jur Enloe's intention to break the law was illustrated by testimony from a former employer. The former employer, said Snyder, testified that Enloe had told him a false W-4 "is only a misde-

"That's as close to a confession as you're going to get," the government lawyer said. Assistant U.S. Attorney Dan Maeso attacked

Clements' budget hits instant opposition

By JACK KEEVER

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) - Republican Gov. Bill Clements' 'belt-tightening' budget raninto solid opposition Wednesday from Democratic Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby and the chairmen of two major Senate committees.

Clements proposed reducing local school taxes by $1 billion, telling lawmakers he learned in campaign conversations with "tens of thousands" of Texans that is what they want.

He asserted the state budget has grown by 235 percent in the past decade, with the growth rate of Texas' bureaucracy outstripping that of California and

"Taxpayers have no obligation to bear the cost of bloated bureaucracy, of wasteful and inefficient government spending, and of overlapping and redundant government services," Clements told a joint legislative session.

To return $1 billion to Texans, he suggested repealing the 10cent per $100 state property tax and providing an additional $900 million to school districts so they could reduce local taxes.

Clements' 1980-81 budget would spend $13.76 billion from major state funds - excluding federal money and certain dedicated state taxes — which is $968.1 million less than the Legislative Budget Board's (LBB) proposal.

"It is not a reasonable nor realistic budget," Hobby, chairman of the budget board, told a news conference.

An IRS report was distributed showing Texas ranks last in average state and local taxes in four of six income brackets, ranging from $10,000 to $100,000

Asked what he considered the "most objectionable" feature of the Clements budget, Hobby said it was the proposal to reduce public school spending by 58 percent from the LBB budget. This includes the removal of cost-of-living salary increases for 160,000 teachers and other school employees.

Overall, Hobby said, Clements' proposed budget would cut the LBB spending proposals for all education by $728.2 million or 75 percent.

Also, he said, the amount that local districts must raise for the public school program would rise by $189.2 million.

"When you raise the local fund assignment, that's not tax relief that is a tax increase at the local level," said Sen. Oscar Mauzy, D-Dallas, chairman of the education committee.

"As a political reality, either we do it (raise teacher salaries) in the budgetary process or it will be done in a school finance bill," said Sen. Grant Jones, D-Abilene, chairman of the finance committe.

Jones said he feared Clements' proposal to put a freeze on the hiring of state employees could drop certain job positions - such as prison guards and mental health workers - to "dangerously low levels."

Asked about Clements' proposals, Hobby said, "I doubt it (the budget) will come out that

Connally denounces negativism

FORT WORTH, Texas (AP) - Former Texas Gov. John Connally gave his Texas campaign for the Republican presidential nomination a homestate shove Wednesday, chiding Americans for losing "our respect for "Our prestige is ebbing away because in some ways we have no respect for ourselves," he told a crowd of 2,500 in Fort Worth Wednesday night. He denounced what he called an "aura of defeatism, and aura of negativism and an aura of retrenchment," but said he believes "the horizon of America is brighter than it's been any time in history.'

Connally's Fort Worth stop was the fourth of the day and he ended the evening listening to singer Ray Price croon country western tunes. His Thursday schedule includes a morning stop in Wichita Falls, then appearances in Amarillo and Lubbock.

The former Democrat kicked off the 7-day swing through 22 Texas cities with a breakfast in Austin Wednesday morning where he told supporters he wants to restore pride in America.

"It is time for us to regain pride in our country and in our governmental system," the former U.S. treasury secretary said.

He criticized President Carter for severing diplomatic relations with Taiwan in favor of China, saying the move jeopardized U.S. military and political strength in the eyes of for-

"We should have normalization of relations with China, but we must not cut off our friends," he said in an interview in Waco. "We must show the world that we have strength, we will maintain our strength and use our strength.' Connally told a Fort Worth news conference he does not think he will run against President Carter. "I have said since 1977 that I think he is a one-term president," he said during the Austin stop.

Connally also said he does not favor 100 percent parity for farmers and warned American Agriculture Movement members not to "overplay their

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — Not a single voice and only one vote was raised in protest Wednesday to a bill that could increase state spending at church and other private colleges by nearly $50 million in 1980-

The Senate Education Committee approved the proposal, 8-1, with only committee chairman Oscar Mauzy, D-Dallas, opposing it.

The bill is sponsored by Sen. Grant Jones, D-Abilene, who has several private schools in his 13-county district, including Baylor, Howard Payne, Hardin-Simmons, McMurry and Abilene Christian President Norman Hackerman of Rice University said the original concept was to provide tuition grants at private colleges that were approximately one-half the average appropriation for students at state-financed colleges.

In 1971, when the first tuition grant was made, the average state appropriation was $1,200, so the private grants were limited to $600. Hackerman said "largely because of inflation," the average state appropriation has risen to $2,475.

Jones' bill would raise the private tuition limit to 50 percent of the average state appropriation, whatever it might be. It would also make part-time students eligible for the financial aid.

"I would not try to kid you that costs will go down in the foreseeable future," said Hackerman.

As the spokesman for Independent Colleges and Universities of Texas - ICUT - Hackerman was the only witness on the proposal. Representatives of 13 other private schools showed up to support the bill, however, including Baylor President Abner

Union council to stay male

By OWEN ULLMANN AP Labor Writer

BAL HARBOUR, Fla. (AP) -- Although about 4 million union women are AFL-CIO members, the federation's executive council is an all-male club. It will stay that way for the time

Four candidates, all men, are vying for one vacancy on the 34-man council. The vacancy is to be filled by

That annoys Joyce Miller, president of the Coalition of Union Women, but it doesn't distress her.

When the coalition was founded in 1974 to advance the cause of union women, "a lot of people felt we needed a woman on the executive council," said Ms. Miller, who is here for the executive council's annual winter

"I still think it's important, but I don't want to get hung up on the issue," Ms. Miller said in an interview

She said AFL-CIO President George Meany has been "very good and very sensitive" during the past few years in helping the cause of union women, who now account for almost one-third of the federation's 13.5 million members.

Ms. Miller, a vice president of the Amalgamated Clothing and Textile Workers Union which is made up of 60 percent women, said Meany has appointed at least one women to every AFL-CIO committee, but no department heads are women

She also pointed to the AFL-CIO's strong support for the proposed Equal Rights Amendment, demonstrated last month when the federation canceled plans to hold its fall convention here because Florida had not passed

Any AFL-CIO member can be an executive council member, but by long-ytanding tradition only union presidents are chosen.

More than 300 Midland Girl Scouts and adults from 32 troops represented different countries at Thinking Day held at Alamo Junior High School. Darah Jane Shepherd, 8, left, is showing Cassandra Riggs, 7, her Girl Guides uniform from Canada. Darah, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Shepherd is in Brownie Troop 212, while Cassandra, daughter of Mrs. Daisy Riggs, is a member of Brownie Troop 57. The event was kicked off with a parade of flags and many of the Midland troops presented songs, dances and skits originating from other countries. The celebration is in honor of the birthday of Lord and Lady Baden-Powell, founders of Boy Scouts and Girl Guides. While over 90 countries have Girl Guides, only the United States uses the term "Girl Scouts," the largest organization for women in the world. (Staff Photo)

It's GS cookie time again

Doorbells all over Midland will begin ringing Friday afternoon, when the Midland Girl Scouts start taking orders for the Permian Basin Girl Scout Council's annual Cookie Sale.

This year they will be selling the large family-size box for $1.25 in seven varieties: Peanut Butter Sandwich, Sandwich Creams, Thin Mint. Shortbread, Peanut Butter Patties and the new Granola Cookies and Sesame Wheat Crackers.

'Since all of these keep well in the freezer, it is a good idea to order a case of your favorite kind to have on hand for entertaining unexpected guests," said Joan Southerland, publicity person for the sale.

The sale provides girls with an op-portunity to learn how to meet the public, to practice record-keeping and business like procedures and to assume responsibility, as well as to earn money for the council's camping program and their own troop's program activities.

The troop keeps 15 cents for each package sold. In addition, girls selling 48 or more packages will receive a cookie patch, those selling 72 packages or more will get a patch and a set amount of cookie currency, which may be used toward camping and special event fees, and those selling 125 or more packages will receive the patch, currency and a bike bag.

Profits from the cookie sale support the Scout council's two resident camps, Mitre Peak and Hat-A-Ranch, where girls enjoy hiking, backpack-ing, swimming, horseback riding, cooking out and learn to appreciate the beauty of nature and to become more self-reliant through living in the out-of-doors. The profits also help the council bring services to girls and leaders in the community.

"Please continue to support Girl Scouting in your neighborhood by ordering cookies when a Girl Scout calls on you," said Mrs. Southerland. If you are not called on, contact Clara King at 682-8758 or the Girl Scout Program Center at 684-6222.

Colorful fresh produce best buys of the season

NEW YORK, N.Y. — You don't have to watch the official Consumer Price Index to know that prices are up on most everything, but what you may not realize is that fresh fruits and vegetables showed the lowest rise of all categories monitored by CPI during the period from mid-1974 to mid-1978.

Getting the most for your produce dollar means knowing which fresh vegetables are inpeak abundancy each season, however. And though March may seem to last too long, it's only because spring is on its way — bringing forth a plentitude of fresh broccoli, carrots, lettuce, muchrooms, peas, spinach, cabbage and asparagus, among others, to local markets.

These fresh vegetables, while available every month of the year, are often referred to as "cool weather crops" because they thrive in growing temperatures close to 60 degrees F. Greater quantities and attractive price during the spring should be an inspiration to include more fresh produce with meals.

Selecting high quality produce isn't mysterious - fresh vegetables have a fresh appearance. They have characteristic color, good shape and a minimum or absence of blemishes. As to size, the United Fresh Fruit and Vegetable Association recommends that you choose medium sizes over very large or small. To retain the exceptional nutritional content of fresh produce, store more items in your refrigerator crisper bin. It is specially designed for optimum storage conditions, providing temperatures close to 32 degrees F., and a higher level of humidity than is present on open refrigerator shelves.

Combine the best buys of this season's com-modities in a Fresh Vegetable Collage. It's an original way of serving America's ever popular mashed potatoes, deepdish style.

Risi e Bisi Tastes Better with Comet Long Grain Rice -and Costs Less

There's no way you can make this famous Venetian dish properly with an "instant" or "quickie" rice product. Comet Long Grain Rice prepared in the traditional way adds authenticity to one of the world's most memorable dishes. And it saves you about 50% on the cost of the rice. You'll find my recipe for Risi e Bisi isn't that-difficult to make. Considered by Italians to be a soup, it is even thicker than most Italian soups. Serve it first, followed by fried or baked fish, a tossed salad and peaches in wine.

Risi e Bisi INGREDIENTS slices prosciutto (Italian ham) or bacon minced fine scallion with green top, finely chopped medium stalk of celery with leaves, finely chopped cup uncooked Comet Long Grain Rice

31/2 cups hot chicken stock ½ teaspoon salt Pinch of freshly ground black pepper tablespoon butter l tablespoon freshly grated Parmesan cheese

I small package frozen peas, thawed and drained

Melt butter in a large saucepan; add prosciutto, scallion and celery, and sauté until vegetables are limp. (This type of sautéed mixture is called soffritto or battuto in Italian.)

Add uncooked rice, and stir constantly until translucent; then add peas for a moment until well coated. Pour in stock; season with salt and pepper. Bring to a boil; lower heat and simmer covered until stock is almost absorbed, about 15 minutes. Stir occasionally.

Stir in butter and grated cheese. Serve with additional cheese.

VARIATIONS: The combination of rice and peas is traditional, but other vegetables such as string beans (parboiled), mushrooms or sliced zucchini can be substituted Preparation and Cooking Time: 30 minutes Serves 4

DAR chapter honors longtime Midland banker

Jno. P. Butler was awarded the Medal of Honor at a dinner meeting of the Col. Theunis Dey Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolu-

The medal, with an accompanying certificate, can be awarded to a native-born adult citizen who has exhibited the highest qualities of leadership, trust-worthiness and patriotism, and who, by his-her service, has made an outstanding and lasting contribution to the community and to the

A candidate for the award must be approved by the Americanism and DAR Manual for Citizenship Committee of National Society of the Daughters of the American Revolution (NSDAR) and certificate signed by the president general.
Butler's qualifications were proven by latters of endorsement, excerpts of which were read by the presiding regent, Mrs. Walter C. Hubbard III.

Homer T. Fort endorsed Butler by saying Jno P. Butler "was one of a handful of people who took seriously the idea of building the Permian Basin oil and gas museum, and held on to the idea when discouragement was easily possible." Fort is director of the Permian Basin Petroleum Museum, Library and Hall of Fame.

Paul Davis wrote, "My long term friend has been a leader is this community since 1927 when he began a career in banking and distinguished public service and business achievements which few can equal. Active in civic affairs for many years, he is a past president of the Midland Chamber of Commerce, Midland Downtown Lions Club and a former member of the Midland City Council."

From Butler's hometown of Mount Calm came the following: "He is an honorable man and his accomplishments have been many; not only in the field of finance, but in civic and religious activities. He has never forgotten his friends, his community and his church in this area. He is a great man and always has time for his family, his friends, his business and his church.'

The Col. Theunis Dey Chapter endorsed their friend by writing, "He has been benefactor, patron saint and supporter of this chapter since its inception 12 years ago."

The dinner was held at Midland Country Club in honor of the chapter members' valentines-their husbands and guests. The medal presentation was made with the theme of "Jno. P. Butler-Won't you be our valentine?"

Preceding the presentation, the national defense report was given by Mrs. George Van Husen. She highlighted a warning from "Attack on Private Schools" by Phyllis Schlafly. The report said "President Carter recently reaffirmed to the world that human rights is the core of his administration's policy. While 'human rights' is subject to almost any definisatisfaction of IRS officials, the punishment is loss of its tax exempt status. Both compliance and noncompliance would be so financially costly that most private schools would be forced to close. Internal Revenue is graciously allowing the public to comment before putting its proposed regulation into effect. Already more than 100,000 letters of protest have poured in and the hearings in December were some of the best attended ever held in Washington.

"As applied to religious schools, the proposed IRS ruling is so clearly a violation of First Amendment freedom of religion that one wonders how even the most arrogant officials have the gall to propose it. The proposed regulation would require private schools to have a student body whose percent of minority children is at least 20 percent of the percentage of minority children in the local public school district.

"This regulation would require the private religious school to enroll enough minority pupils to satisfy the IRS percentage regardless of whether the minority pupils are members of that religious faith, and even is such enrollment could be achieved only by enrolling them free while children of their own parishioners must pay tuition or dismiss children of their own parishioners in order to make places for minority children.

"Minority children should have the right to attend a nondiscriminatory school at the taxpayers' expense. Internal Revenue should not have the power to destroy parents' rights to send their children to private schools at their own expense. Members and guests were enter-tained by the Midland College Choir under the direction of Robert LaFontaine. Classical selections were sung, as well as folksongs. Loretta Rieck sang an aria from Carmen. Mrs. Rieck has just won this Division's competition for the Metropolitan

MHS YOUTH CENTER CHATTER Our Superdogs forging ahead

By Jane Forsyth, Cecily year is already over. You Shull and Valerie Van better use this weekend to STUDY for exams!

This week's column is dedicated to JIMMY O'NELL, in honor of the time, work, blood, sweat and tears which he put into Catoico. Jimmy would like to thank the following people for their help: Mr. Hixon, Mrs. Cobb, Miss Holt, Mr. Buchanan and edna Hibbits. THANK YOU! Hope everyone enjoyed the last Catoico at MHS. May the memories of cattle, oil, and cotton live on forever in the hearts of all graduates.

Last weekend the Speech and Drama teams captured 5th place out of ch-Remember it's only 35 schools at the WTSU a story!!! tournament in Canyon. Dramatic awards were won by:

Connie Velasco-3rd place in humorous interpretation

Matt Vaughan and Mark White-2nd place in duet acting Connie and Mark were also finalists in dramatic interpretation. In the apeech events, Therese Folger and Joni Brown place 1st in debate, and Valerie Van Pelt was a finalist in informative speaking. Hope ya'll enjoy the weekend off and get caught up on term papers and sleep!!!

Spring is in the air, and butterflies are in the water...butterfly strokes, that is! In the district 5-4A swim meet, Loryanne Coon and Clay Spears were double winners in swimming, and Ricky Morton, Mark Krauss, Randy Peets and Charles Corbin swept the diving competition. Several MHS aquadogs qualified for regional competition.

Swimmers earning regional berths were Jimmy O'Neill, Kevin Cook, Paula Gordon, Chrissie Faller, Laurie Mac-Curdy, Sheila Hill, Holly White and Billy Goodgame, Faller, Coon, Carley, Spears, Hill, Gor-don, and Cook all qualified for more than one race. Congratulation!

We are proud of you!! The MHS girls' basketball team is staying alive as they are still in the battle for the district crown. Tonight they take on the cross-town rivals, which is sure to be a thriller. Our girls have earned the position by beating Abilene in a playoff game 40-30. Tip-off for tonight's game is 8 p.m. in Chaparral Center. Be there to back the pack!!! Jump! hustle! rebound! shoot! Ruin the Rebels! Come on, you can do it!!

ON YE Bulldogs! On ye Bulldogs! All the way to state!

Ever onward! Ever forward! Our Basketball guys are great!!

Tuesday night in Abilene our Daring Dribblers conquered Wichita Falls with the score 59-56 in bi-district action. This win marked 17 in a row for our Superdogs!!! Coach Humphrey said the fans really backed the Pack, and it was the fans who help the dogs pull out the last few seconds of the game.

The regional play off is set for Friday night in Abilene's Taylor County Coliseum at 8 p.m. Our Purple Pack will take on the winner of the Fort Worth Dunbar Richland Hills game. We are behind ya'll 100.. Good luck guys! All of these events coincide with the fact that two-thirds of the school

Sen. Edward Kennedy celebrates 47th birthday

BOSTON (AP) - Sen. Edward Kennedy today celebrates his 47th birthday — an age never attained by his three brothers.

The Massachusetts Democrat is spending the day in London, where his son, Edward Jr., has been nominated for an international sports award for courage. Young Kennedy, 17, lost a leg to cancer several years ago, but is an accomplished skier.

Members of Kennedy's office staff plan a birthday celebration when he returns to Washington. Aides say Kennedy's McLean, Va., home has been flooded with birthday cards and telegrams.

Region I cage meet boasts fire power

By TERRY WILLIAMSON Sports Writer

ABILENE — The Region I Class AAAA basketball playoff tournament here Friday and Saturday has enough fire power to win a major war.

Midland High's Bulldogs test region favorite Fort Worth Dunbar at 8 p.m. Friday in the Taylor County Coliseum while Lubbock Monterey faces El Paso Coronado at 6 p.m. The winner of those two matches meet Saturday at 2 p.m. for the right to advance to the state Class AAAA meet in Austin, game winning streaks, including Midland High. Monterey and Dunbar both own 17 game winning streaks also. Coronado has won 12 games in a

The Bulldogs get to jump right into the fire against the Fort Worth crew that is ranked No. 2 in the state with a 33-3 record, and picked by many-to meet 36-0 Houston Madison in the state AAAA finals in Austin. An upset by the Bulldogs, however, would make them the favorite to earn the trip to Austin. The running and gunning Dunbar squad is led by 6-foot-5 senior forward Butch Wise, who carries an impressive 18.5 per game scoring average to go with his 10 rebounds per game. Darrell Browder, a 6-0 senior guard, averages 16 points per game, and is another downtown threat

DUNBAR ALSO sports 6-8 center Gilbert Collier, but he is relieved by awsome 6-5 sophomore Willie Ashley, who is destined to be one of the best players in the state for Coach Robert Hughes' team in the future. Dunbar also has 6-6 forward Andre Allen and 6-0 guard Furmia Nealy to help out.

Dunbar hasn't lost since last December when they dropped a contest to Dallas South Oak Cliff. Their 33-3 season mark is one of the bests in the Midland High matches up pretty well with Dunbar in the height category, and not many teams in the Fort Worth area have been able to do this. Herbert Johnson, a 6-8 sophomore, can match the center post while 6-5 Charles Johnson will match up against Ware on even basis. Milton Sanders, a 6-5 senior, gives up an inch in the overall forward matchups, but Sanders can leap with the best of WALTER BRYSON, a 6-0 guard and Roy Lee Jefferson, a 6-2 guard, give Midland High an inch advantage there to even up the entire score of height on the floor.

The other semifinal bout Friday features two teams that have beaten Midland this year. Monterey owns a 24-4 record and has split meetings with Midland High, winning in the Snyder tournament and losing in Midland. In fact, Monterey's last loss was to Midland

Coronado, on the other hand, defeated Midland in overtime in the first game of the season for both schools. Coronado has since rolled to

Craig Ehlo, a 6-5 senior who is considered a major college prospect, leads the Monterey team with an 18 point average while Coronado has a two-pronged attack with 6-7 forward Travis Salem, who has a 15.4 mean, and 6-8 center Harry Hussmann, who carries a 10-point per game mark. Any way you look at it, the Region I tournament should be a real shootout. and many experts think any of the four teams are capable of winning it.

The Midland Bulldogs and Midland Lee Rebels tangle tonight in a District 5-4A girls basketball title game at the Chaparral Center on the Midland College campus. Tip-off is set for 8 p.m. Midland tied Abilene for the first half championship and won a playoff game in Snyder last week, while Lee won the second half outright, so tonight, the two Tall City teams shoot it out for a berth in the Class AAAA state playoffs against Lewisville in bi-district play next week.

Lee is the defending champions and the Rebels went to the regional finals before losing in overtime to El Paso Parkland last year in Abilene.

The Rebs are coached by Shirley Stephenson while Midland is coached by Jane Young, sister of Shirley, so no

Midland beat Lee, 43-40, in the Lee

Gymnasium while the Rebels dumped the Bulldogs, 43-23, in the MHS Gymnasium so tonight's game is the third and deciding contest between the two Lee's starting lineup most likely will be Patty Adams, Dee Dee Poole, Gale Wilson, Deborah Ledbetter and either Deborah Kittle or Leisha Watkins while Midland will counter with Karen Cook, Sandra Rock, Nan White, Margaret Christian and LaSchell Schrock.

Lee's season record going into to-night's title game is 27-7 while Midland stands 26-11 on the year.

The rest of the Lee team includes Gloria Bowens, Jan Carnes, Melissa Oestmann, Tanna Parrish, Lynette

Taylor and Judy Taylor while Gale McDonald, Jana Trollinder, Diana Nelson, Liz Armstrong, Eileen Miller, Patsy Krawietz and Jean Rasmussen round out the Bulldog squad.

Midland Lee is the defending champion, the only one in history of District 5-4A competition since the loop held its opening season in 1977-78. Last year was much the same story. Lee won the championship outright last year, but it came down to a last game effort in the Lee High gym. Deborah Kittle paced the Rebels in last year's finale between the two schools

Everytime these two sister coaches meet in a game, something happens. Midland High could have nailed down the 5-4A title the last time these two met, but the Bulldogs connected for only 12 per cent of their shots and missed the first 18 tries. That is not expected to happen again tonight.

The Midland High and Midland Lee track squads open the 1979 track season Friday and Saturday when they travel to Fort Stockton for the Comanche Relays, and coaches at the two schools have adopted a wait and see attitude on this year's thinclad

Lubbock Monterey, San Angelo, Odessa Permian and Big Spring will join the two local schools in the Division III competition, which begins at 11 a.m. Friday with the field events. "We will show up if the weather doesn't change or if the buss doesn't break down between now and then,' MHS boss Ed Nixon stated light heartedly. "We are anxious to get started and just see how things work out."

Midland High has no regional qualifiers returning from last year's squad as sprinter Alvin Price and distance men Chuck Stump and Jeff Adkins. That talent will be hard to replace.

MIDLAND LEE is losing the heart of their running game with the losses of Jerry Moore, Doug Guthrie and Jamie Berry. All three were on the defending champion sprint relay team, but the Rebels do have two district champions returning.

Jeff McCowan, who went to state last year in the shot put, is back and looking stronger than at the beginning of last season, and junior Phil Carleton is back to defend his 440 title. Lee's mile relay team lost only Berry as Arthur Pertile, Carleton and Dwight Washington return. That team earned a state berth last year. Junior David Simmons is the brightest star on the horizon for Midland High. He should be very strong in both the discus and shot put this year. He already is throwing around the 165-foot range in the discus and is looking good in the shot put.

MIDLAND HIGH'S Jeff Robnett already has a 10.0 in the 100 this year and could take up some of the slack left by Price in the 100 and 220. Bob Glenn could be a strong miler while James Lary looks good in the discus and shot. Gene Tuttle is also strong in the 880 while the Bulldogs hope to improve in the hurdles with Jerry Zachery, Link Grimes, Bobby Floyd and Bruce Fisher.

Pertile should be good in the 880 for the Rebels while sophomore sprinter Mark Landers could give the Rebs some punch in the dashes along with Washington.

The Comanche Relays will be a three division meet. Iraan, Stanton, Rankin, Crane, McCamey, Reagan County and Kermit are among that large field.

The Comanche Relays will be run in meters this year in a new twist. There still may be a 100-yard dash, but the final decision has not been made yet Midland High and Midland Lee will both be in Pecos the following weekend for the second meet of the year.

Jazz lose Maravich to bad knee

NEW ORLEANS (AP) - All-star guard Pete Maravich says New Orleans' sorry 19-42 record contributed a lot to his decision to sit out the rest of the National Basketball Association season with an injured left knee.

"If we were 42-19 and in the midst of the playoffs, I'd chance the odds,' Maravich said following the announcement Wednesday that he would immediately begin rehabilitating the knee for next season. "But now, it's ludicrous to play on it anymore. Maravich tore ligaments in the knee while making a fancy, betweenthe-legs pass against Buffalo on Jan. 31, 1978. Although he underwent surgery last spring, he played in 41 Jazz games and the NBA All-Star game this year but had to wear a two-pound brace on his knee. During the 1978-79 season, Maravich scored his 15,000th career point and he now ranks 17th in NBA scor-

My right knee has atrophied some more - another half inch," he said. "That makes the left an inch and a half smaller than the right knee. I lack the muscle structure to support the knee, and there's a great degree of possibility something else could go wrong." Maravich said waiting until May 1978, to have the operation probably kept him from reaching peak condition last year. And he said playing in three games while New Orleans still had a shot at the playoffs probably compounded the problem because his knee ballooned with fluid each time

"I shouldn't have come back at all to play those three games," he said. "It was idiotic on my part. I don't know what goes through an athlete's mind - facing the lions no matter what the circumstances are." He said the decision to sit out the remainder of the NBA season came after a meeting Tuesday with Dr. Ken Saer, an orthopedic surgeon.

"They just felt it would be best to rehabilitate my knee," he said.

Cauthen surprises agent with European pact

NEW YORK (AP) - The announcement that jockey Steve Cauthen would sign to ride for one year in Europe came as a complete surprise to his agent, Harry Hacek.

The contract between the young riding phenom and English owner Robert Sangster is to be signed Friday according to a Santa Anita Hacek, who became Cauthen's agent during the rider's recent 110day winless slump at Santa Anita, heard of the upcoming agreement on television and immediately went to the track's administration offices for more information, where it was reported that he "was quite upset."

Sangster has said that he has already signed the 18-year-old to a contract that will reportedly pay him $400,000 over the standard jockey fee of 10 per cent of his purse winnings.

Cauthen had failed to maintain his almost unbelievable winning percentage that earned him more than $6 million as an apprentice in 1977 and that is believed to be one of the reasons for his decision to race abroad. Among other reasons that are being speculated upon is Cauthen's being taken off Affirmed, the horse that he was aboard for the 1978 Triple Crown. Cauthen was replaced by Laffit Pincay on most of the stakes horses trained by Laz Barerra. Barerra had said that he considered Cauthen an-

Mrs. Myra Cauthen, the jockey's mother, said that "it will be a learning experience. It would be different if he had some stakes horses going here for him, but Steve has nothing holding him back."

Mrs. Cauthen isn't the slightest bit worried about the change to the clockwise racing across the seas either. "Oh my, no," she said, "As his father says, he races in both directions out in our pasture.

Chaps would have to play the fifth place finisher for the fourth berth.

Midland virtually assured itself of a shot at the Region V tourney when the Chaps disposed of Odessa College 74-58 at the Chaparral Center Monday night. New Mexico Military Institute and Amarillo College combined to ease some of the playoff pressure on Midland by winning Monday. NMMI defeated New Mexico Junior College 99-96 in triple overtime while Amarillo edged South Plains College, 81-79, That leaves NMJC tied for fifth with 8-7 records while AC is 7-8, creating a three-way struggle for fifth while leaving Midland and Odessa to squabble over third.

Western Texas raised its WJCC record to 13-2 by defeating Frank Phillips 101-84 Monday at Borger as Greg Stewart led a blistering last half comeback with a 32-point night after the Westerners led only 44-42 at half.

Midland got a 26-point effort out of Cullen Mayfield in its win over Odessa while Chucky McGill chipped in with another 18.

WTC will be seeking revenge tonight for a 64-62 loss at Midland, but if the Chaparrals can pull off another upset, it will keep Midland at least within striking distance of second-place NMMI. The Chaps go into tonight's play a game behind the sec-ond-place 11-4 Bronchos with a 10-5 record. NMMI draws a tough assign-

Kings depend heavily on Ford

By The Associated Press

How bad are the Kansas City Kings without rookie sensation Phil Ford? The first two minutes of the fourth quarter he was on the bench and we didn't get a shot. That's how bad we are without Phil Ford," Coach Cotton Fitzsimmons said Wednesday night.

Luckily, Ford played 44 minutes in the Kings' 133-117 rout of the Milwaukee Bucks and, when he wasn't scoring 26 points, he handed out 22 assists. matching the club record set by Oscar Robertson in 1961 and again in 1966 when the Kings were the Cincinnati

With Ford responsible for 70 of Kansas City's points, the Kings posted tory, the longest streak in the 31-year history of the franchise.

Kansas City took a 68-58 halftime lead by hitting its last eight shots of the second quarter and 13 of 15.

Bernard King and John Williamson scored 26 points apiece and New Jersey hit its first nine shots of the fourth quarter. Playmaker Eddie Jordan added 18 points, 12 assists and five steals for the Nets. Paul Westphal led the Suns with 25 points and Alvan Adams scored 24.

"Kevin (Coach Loughery) gave me a lot of confidence, made me feel a lot more relaxed," said Jordan, who became a starter several weeks ago when Eric Money was traded to Philadelphia. "I feel now that this is my team. It's a confidence thing with the whole team. We have it now, we feel we can win. A month ago we would have lost a game like this."

Pistons 106, 76ers 99 M.L. Carr hit two baskets to spark a 15-8 overtime barrage that provided Detroit with its fourth straight victory. A tip-in by Steve Mix with one second left in regulation time forced

In the overtime, after Carr and Philadelphia's Maurice Cheeks exchanged baskets, the Pistons ran off four straight baskets by Bob Lanier, Carr, Leon Douglas and John Long to put the game out of reach. The Pistons finished with six men in double figures, topped by Long's 23 points and Carr's 20. SuperSonics 96, Jazz 94

Gus Williams scored 20 points to lead Seattle over crippled New Orleans, which played without leading scorer Pete Maravich and Spencer Haywood. Williams scored 14 points in the third period when Seattle took control. New Orleans was led by Jim McElroy's 37 points and 29 from Celtics 101, Warriors 97

Player-coach Dave Cowens sent Boston ahead on a 20-foot jump shot with 27 seconds remaining and finished with 20 points. The Celtics scored the last eight points after trailing 97-93 with 2: 29 left. Cowens' jumper broke a 97-97 tie and Bob McAdoo made two free throws for Boston's final points. Cowens, who benched himself and made McAdoo the starting center last week, played 36 minutes. He entered the game late in the first period after McAdoo drew his third personal foul. Hawks 106, Trail Blazers 83

Wayne Rollins blocked a club record 12 shots and Terry Furlow led a balanced attack with 19 points. The Blazers played in the Hawks' practice uniforms because of a baggage mixup. Portland's Maurice Lucas led all scorers with 29 points.

Nuggets 114, Pacers 109 David Thompson scored 30 points, including two key free throws, and Anthony Roberts had a season-high 17 points for Denver. Thompson connected on two foul shots with 2:25 left for a 105-102 lead and baskets by George McGinnis and Bobby Wilkerson helped Denver pull away.

Christenson seeks rebound

PHILADELPHIA (AP) - Larry Christenson recalls the thought flashing through his mind that his career as a major league pitcher might have ended in a fall off a bike on a railroad crossing in Davis,

BOWLING BEAT

"It went through my mind," Christenson said Wednesday at his sumptuous three-level townhouse condominum in suburban Philadelphia.

"I definitely worried. I was one of the saddest people in the world," Christenson confided. The Philadelphia Phillies' pitcher is strapped in a body cast and wears a yellow sling on his arm. The right-hander shattered his right collarbone in the accident. "But now I'm not worried," Christenson insisted as he showed some people through his home, which includes a railing of bats with baseballs glued on top leading down to the den.

"I've had lots of problems in my career," said one of the National League's best young pitchers. "It will be just a matter of getting back in shape. I'll miss not throwing to batters in spring training, but I am experienced, and I don't think it will be a problem I can't overcome.

THE MEDICAL prognosis after X-rays Tuesday is that the bones still were broken but are healing, and that the set was good. Christenson is hopeful that by the first week in March the body cast will be off, and he'll be able to start a weight lifting program. Christenson doesn't believe that the team will be hurt without him for the first couple of months of the season. He refers to the rain, cold, even snow, that cause so many early season postponements. "I hated starting every eight days in April," he noted. "It might help the other pitchers to work more in April. They come from spring training in great shape and it will be good for them to pitch a littler Christenson has learned to live in pain, but he says this injury has caused him the most discomfort. He can't fall asleep until four or five in the morning. A first he had to step on his back. Now he can turn over and try it ... his chest. At best it's uncomfort-

THE BOREDOM also is getting to the 25-year-old blond. He's tired of watching television, reading, listening to records.

The collarbone break is just another bad break in the life of the 6-foot-4 inch blond. He was born with a congenital back problem, aggravated in 1972, when an instructor changed his pitching motion. In 1975, he was the club's best pitcher in spring training. The final week of camp he pulled a muscle in his left side and had to pitch his way back into shape in the minors. A year later, Christenson hurt his already bad back falling away from a wild pitch by San Francisco's John D'Acquisto. He didn't regain his form unil late in the season.

Then, in April, 1978, he missed several early season turns because of a respiratory ailment diagnosed as asthma. It bothered him on and of all

Csonka, Dolphins healing wounds

MIAMI (AP) - National Football League free agent Larry Csonka and the Miami Dolphins are apparently reconciling and talking money and health as Coach Don Shula reorganizes his staff. Shula said Wednesday that he and owner Joseph

Robbie met earlier in the week with Csonka, 34, who helped lead the Dolphins to back-to-back Super Bowl championships in 1972 and 1973. "We had the first discussion with him, then he went down and had the physical examination with Dr. Herbert Virgin," Shula said. "He's indicated his desire to sign with us." The coach said Robbie and Csonka met without incident, despite some bitterness over the owner's having revealed Csonka's asking price when he joined the New York Giants. Csonka had jumped from the Dolphins to the World Football League for an estimated $2 million in 1975, then signed with the Giants when the WFL folded. He gained just 311 yards last season. 'They sat down and talked," Shula said, adding that Csonka probably would pass the physical despite some knee problems. Csonka apparently wasn't negotiating seriously with any other teams, Miami may have an opening at fullback because Norm Bulaich has indicated he might retire this

The coach also revealed the signing of Bill Davis as director of pro personnel.

"This completes the reorganization of the staff," said Shula. He earlier had hired Dan Henning from the New York Jets to coordinate the Dolphins' passing game. Henning replaced Howard Schnellenberger, now head coach at the University of Miami. "You hate to lose people like Howard and George, but I think we got two good men to replace them," the head coach added. Davis, 40, former administrative assistant to Philadelphia Eagles Coach Dick Vermeil, will take over the job of George Young, who has been appointed New York Giants general manager.

Clemson bolted to a 31-15 halftime lead and then used its "Tiger Pause" offense to keep things under control. "We got some nice backdoor plays on it," said Clemson Coach Foster. We didn't want to take anything but a layup or a foul off it (16 of Clemson's 23 baskets came on layups) and we were pretty patient with it. Our guys have a lot of confidence in it and we feel that we can use it pretty effectively on anybody."

ELSEWHERE IN the Top Twenty, third-ranked Notre Dame crushed Oklahoma City 88-60, No. 8 Syracuse routed Niagara 120-82, No. 15 Temple defeated St. Joseph's, Pa. 76-68, No. 17 Georgetown edged George Washington 73-71 and No. 20 DePaul clobbered Valparaiso 104-76.

Notre Dame got a career-high 21 points from Orlando Woolridge and 14 rebounds from Bill Laimbeer in crushing Oklahoma City. The Irish rolled to a 21-8 lead and had a 43-25 halftime bulge.

Syracuse had no trouble with Niagara after 6-foot-11 Roosevelt Bouie scored nine points in the first five minutes. The Orangemen roared to a 33-10 spread and upped it to 66-27 at halftime. The victory was the 16th in a row for Syracuse and 44th in a row at home and it was pure murder.

Elsewhere: -Larry Gibson's jump shot at the buzzer gave Maryland a controversial 54-53 triumph over Wake Forest. Coach Carl Tacy of the losers claimed Maryland used more than five seconds to get the ball inbounds prior to Gibson's winning shot.

-Oklahoma was upset 66-65 by Iowa State on Jon Ness' 20-foot jump shot with 44 seconds left but the Sooners, bidding for their first Big Eight title in 30 years, retained a one-gamelead when runnerup Kansas State blew a five-point lead in the final five minutes and bowed to Missouri 67-63.

-Central Michigan whipped Ohio University 80-62 and took over sole possession of first place in the Mid-American Conference when Toledo lost to Miami of Ohio 72-68 in overtime. At the other end of the standings, cellar-dwelling Western Michigan lost to Bowling Green 99-86 and Coach Dick Shilts was informed his contract would not be renewed.

-Wayne Robinson's 22 points helped Virginia Tech beat West Virginia 73-61 and James Ray had 28 as Jacksonville downed South Carolina

-Two of New England's best teams won handily. Rhode Island, 19-6, trounced Baltimore 98-61 behind Sly Williams' 21 points and Ernie Cobb scored 25 points and Joe Beaulieu added 24 as Boston College, 21-7, drubbed Boston University 99-84.

-In the Southwest Conference, Billy Allen, the coach's son, scored 23 points as Southern Methodist beat Texas Christian 89-77 and earned a sixth-place tie.

However, said Coach Sonny Allen, "The win gives us momentum going into the playoffs and anything can

Of course, he's just counting the number of letters, but the statement does underline the fact that the rich event starting today was expected to be wide open and many of the big names have decided to skip it.

In that group are Jack Nicklaus, Gary Player, Lee Trevino, Arnold Palmer, Hubert Green and Jerry

Dr. Gil Morgan, the graduate optometrist, is back to defend his title, and the field also has two-time Player of the Year Tom Watson, 1977 winner Hale Irwin and Tom Purtzer.

The winner's purse will be $45,000 this time for the 72-hole event ending Sunday at the Riviera Country Club

Even with that much money at stake, Campbell said, "I think even more would have bypassed this event if it wasn't being played at such a great course.'

Riviera, one of the better courses in the world, is long at 7,029 yards and demanding with hills and valleys. It's tough enough that Ben Hogan's tournament record of 275 set in 1948 stood up until Irwin broke it, although the LA Open had some other homes after the Hogan era.

Campbell was in a pro-am group including defending champion Morgan, former President Gerald Ford and comedian Bob Hope, and they were at the 14th green when Wednesday's storm hit.

"The president and Bob were like drowned rats out there," said Campbell who was also soaked and not unhappy that the prelude was shortened because of the heavy rain.

"I was playing like all of us ... bad," the host said. "It just poured, but I hope that's the tail end of our

Navratilova wants more

DETROIT (AP) -Martina Navratilova is $150,000 womens tennis tournament Wednesday night at Cobo Arena.

"It's in people's minds that Chris (Evert) is No. ... that certainly doesn't make me feel good," said Navratilova, the tourney's top seed. Evert is not entered.

"I'm trying to prove I'm No. 1. If I have the best record by far, there's nothing anybody can do but give it to me . I'd have to do that and must have a definite edge over Chris in headto-head play." The rivals have met twice this year, splitting the matches. Latham gave Navratilova all she could handle. It was even tougher for No. 2 seed Dianne Fromholtz. The Australian had to go three sets to eliminate Sue Barker of England 6-1, 4-6, 6-2.

The next two seeds weren't so fortunate. No. 3 Greer Stevens of South Africa, perhaps hampered by a large brace on her left knee, was upset by Yugoslavian Mima Jausovec 6-2, 6-2.

Fourth-seeded Virginia Wade of Great Britain was ousted by Rosie Casals 6-4, 3-6, 7-6 (7-3). Casals has been a runnerup in the Detroit tourney four times.

In other second-round singles matches, fifthseed Wendy Turnbull of Australia dumped Marcie Louie 6-1, 6-2, and sixth-seed Ann Kiyomura defeated Renee Richards 6-7 (2-7), 6-3, 6-4.

In first-round doubles matches, Leslie Allen and Diane Desfor pended Kay McDaniel and Nina Bohm 6-2, 6-3. Top-seeded doubles tandem Turnbull and Betty Stove of The Netherlands stopped Bettyann Stuart and Barbara Potter 6-2, 6-1.

Services set for Bob Lemons

WALTERS, Okla. (AP) - Funeral services are scheduled Today for Bob Lemons, brother of University of Texas basketball coach Abe Lemons. Bob Lemons died Tuesday of an apparent heart atack. He was 73.

Abe Lemons left for Oklahoma immediately after his 11th-ranked Longhorns lost 81-66 Tuesday night to Southern Methodist in Dallas.

'SportsWorld' ratings improve

By HOWARD SMITH AP Sports Writer

Things are looking up for NBC's "Sports World" these days. The ratings have improved sharply, the show has a more professional look and there is the prospect of better programming in the future.

What started out as the longest pregame show in history — it was originally planned as a means of whetting America's appetite for the 1980 Moscow Olympics - is establishing its own following and its own Through the first five Sunday shows this season, "SportsWorld" averaged a 7.5 rating, percentage of TV homes, and 19 share, percentage of TV sets in use. That is up 29 percent over last year. ABC's "Wide World of Sports," the grandaddy of sports anthology shows, still rules the roost with the top events, the best production and about twice the ratings of "SportsWorld."

But considering the NBC show founded by Don Ohlmeyer shortly after he left ABC to become executive producer of NBC Sports — is in only its second season, it is making remarkable progress. "Our show is much better now than it was a year ago," says Linda Jonsson, coordinating producer of 'SportsWorld." "We spent a lot of the first year working on technical aspects. None of us had much experience with an edited show. The whole thing looks a lot smoother now."

Essentially, when you do a live show you just aim your cameras at the action and when the action stops you go off the air. But an edited show is different. Each segment has to Tarleton State University.

have a beginning, a middle and an end. There has to be a story line. And each segment must be a particular

That takes practice and NBC's troops, who will have to be familiar with editing tape at the Moscow Olympics because of the time difference, have been getting plenty of it.

Jonsson says that the first year "SportsWorld" covered the San Diego track meet, for example, NBC shot 23 reels of tape, covering events from all conceivable angles. It then took 18 hours to put together a 21-minute segment for the show. This year, they only shot five reels - about 71/2 hours of tape - and it took four hours to produce the segment.

"We were a bit more selective this time," she explains.

Clearly the show has improved technically but the events haven't. ABC still has the cream of the anthology crop sewed up and with CBS also in the bidding for its "Sports Spectacular," NBC has had to scramble for solid programming.

JIMMY'S WHITE HOUSE

Jogging mania now spreading

By FRANK CORMIER

WASHINGTON (AP) - The jogging mania at the White House is spreading.

Joining the parade of runners headed by President Carter and wife Rosalynn is Zbigniew Brzezinski, the president's 50-year-old national security adviser.

Within minutes after participating in a presidential review of disturbing developments in Iran, Brzezinski was seen circling the South Lawn driveway at the White House in a blue jogging suit.

During his visit to Mexico City last week, Carter not only found time for jogging but told President Jose Lopez Portillo that he had first adopted the sport during a 1971 visit to the Mexican capital as governor of Georgia.

With its 7,000-foot altitude, Mexico City certainly provides a rigorous test of a jogger's respiratory

THE CARTERS' knowledge of Spanish, conspicuously exhibited during the Mexican visit, also is inspiring self-improvement efforts among some

Frank Moore, the White House assistant for congressional liaison, confided that he and a number of his associates plan to begin taking lessons in Span-

DURING the Mexico City stay, the motorcade carrying the Carters to a performance of the Ballet Folklorico slowed to a crawl.

Appointments secretary Phil Wise got on his walkie-talkie and demanded an explanation for the slowdown. Ellis Woodward, the president's chief advance man, replied that Lopez Portillo's motorcade was approaching from an intersecting street and planned to join the Carter procession to the theater. After a pause, during which he presumably consulted with a higher authority, Wise shot back:

"He (the Mexican president) invited himself. Let him find his own way.

All the talk about Carter's irritation at being lectured in blunt terms by Lopez Portillo was reinforced by this episode.

DURING ONE of his lecture sessions, the Mexican leader got so het up that he interrupted a tirade on the treatment of poor Mexicans in the United States

"I confess, Mr. President, that I am deeply moved, and I shall try to be more stable.'

At least, that's what the interpreter told Carter. A written translation subsequently distributed by the Mexican government quoted Lopez Portillo as having said: "I confess my emotion, which I will try to keep under control."

THE MEXICAN government is justly celebrated for its ability to turn out crowds, or turn them off, with the ease of manipulating a kitchen faucet.

For Carter, the spigot was turned off. But when the U.S. president visited a remote pig-farming village, the host government, eager to show off a rural development program, imported 22 porkers for Carter's inspection.

"We didn't get rent-a-crowds," one American in Carter's party joked. "Instead we got rent-a-pigs."

WHEN SOME reporters asked press secretary Jody Powell when they would be given the advance text of Carter's adress to Mexico's Chamber of Deputies, Powell said he was waiting for a "sign-off"

A reporter suggested that could take hours, since the president was attending a symphony concert to be followed immediately by a state dinner.

Powell explained the "sign-off" was not coming from the president, who had already approved the text, but from Jerry Rafshoon, chief White House

Jury penalizes Ford

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — An Alabama man has been awarded $1.5 million for injuries he received in an accident he said was caused by a faulty steering mechanism on a Ford pickup truck.

A state court jury in Birmingham made the award Tuesday to Rodney Trimble, 30, of Cullman, who has been paralyzed from the waist down since the onevehicle accident in 1972.

There was no immediate word on whether the

There was no immediate word on whether the company would appeal.

An earlier jury found in favor of the Ford Motor Co., but the verdict was overturned by the Alabama Court of Civil Appeals and a new trial ordered.

Testimony in the trial said a coupling in the steering mechanism failed because it was misaligned while the F100 truck was being built.

Trimble was one of three people riding in the rear of the year-old truck when it went out of control and overturned while going around a curve. He was overturned while going around a curve. He was thrown out of the truck, which landed on him and crushed part of his spine.

Trimble was the only injured person in the wreck.

The jury deliberated for more than two hours.

Six new evening courses to start next week at MC

If a person entered each of the six evening short courses beginning next week at Midland College, that person could, upon completion of the classes, do all of the following:

— Defend himself against other motorists while driving to the gas station.

- Analyze the station attendant's handwriting on the credit card bill for the gas.

- Write a reminder to himself in shorthand to ask for an increase in mileage pay.

— Think about entering the commodity futures markets for added income.

- Go home and forget his troubles while basking in the aroma of hot homemade bread baking in the But, James Bramlett, director of the Midland College Department of Community Services, pointed out that many of the classes which cover this knowledge meet on the same nights. So, it's up to the individual to pick and choose.

"This is a very interesting course selection," Bramlett said. "I don't recall when we've had such diversification among six subjects." The course in graphoanalysis, taught by Delores Gaines, is a scientific approach to analyzing an individual's handwriting. Once the procedure is learned, it is possible to gain insight into the writer's motivation. Graphoanalysis is used by teachers, police officers, counselors, psychologists, credit managers and parents. Classes will be from 7 to 9 p.m. Mondays for six weeks. Cost of the course if $12 and students assemble in Room 106 of the Occupational-Technical Build-A five-week introduction to the metric system, directed by Bryant Saxon, enables students to un-derstand and work with metric measures. Along with a history of the system, Saxon will present conversion methods pertinent to length, area, volume, mass, liquid and temperatures. Students will meet in Room 106 of the Occupational-Technical Building from 7 to 9 p.m. on Mondays.

Course fee is $10. Midland College is certified to teach defensive driving and offers eight hours of intensified instruction over a three-day period.

The next session will be from 7 to 10 p.m. Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday in Room 100 of the Occupational-Technical Building. Course instructor is Larry Freeman and fee is $12 per person. Graduates are entitled to a special savings on their auto insur-

For those who "used to take shorthand" but feel they have become rusty and need to regain the fine points, Maxine Jarnagin will hold a five-week brushup course on the Gregg system.

During the 20 hours included in this course, students will concentrate on improving both speed and accuracy. Classes will meet from 7 to 9 p.m. Tuesdays and Thursdays in Room 106 of the Occupa-tional-Technical Building. Course fee is $20 and books may be purchased at the college book-

Those who cherish good food now can take the time to learn to bake "from scratch" while Rosemary White conducts her three-week course covering exact procedures. Yeast and sourdough breads are part of the curriculum.

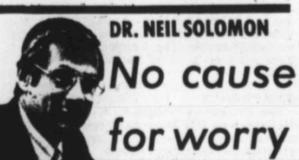

Classes are limited to 12 students. They will meet from 7 to 9 p.m. Thursdays in Room 104 of the Occu-pational-Technical Building. Course fee is $11. Speculation is what the commodity futures market is based on, and those who would like to stick a toe in the water can do so by taking Doug Forshagen's three-week explanatory course. Introduction to the Commodity Futures Markets will teach the use of futures in speculating on the rise and fall of prices. Forshagen will explain the me-chanics of trading, various market strategies and the application of "leverage" in buying or selling gold and silver.

Interest rate futures, cattle, cotton and protection against inflation or deflation also will be covered. Classes will meet from 7 to 9 p.m. Thursdays in Room 106 of the Occupational-Technical Building.

Persons may pre-register for any of these courses in Room 140 of the Occupational-Technical Building between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m. weekdays. More information may be obtained by telephoning 684-7851, exten-

Dear Dr. Solomon: For many years, artificial sweeteners have made my diet, which is restricted because of diabetes, more palatable and therefore easier to maintain. Now both saccharin and cyclamates have been indicted as a possible cause of cancer. Have I been endangering my health all these years, and should I now discontinue use of these sweeteners?—Mr. G.W.

Dear Mr. W.: There have been many conflicting statements about the carcinogenicity of saccharin and cyclamates. This results from the massive doses used in testing products on animals. Obviously, such used in testing products on animals. Obviously, such tests cannot be done on humans. The question then becomes: If a product causes cancer in massively exposed animals, does that mean it will cause cancer in moderately exposed humans?

Dr. Irving Kessler, in experiments done at the John Hopkins University School of Hygiene and Public Health, has tried to answer this question in regard to saccharin and exclamates. He reviewed regard to saccharin and cyclamates. He reviewed the use of these substances by 519 patients with con-firmed bladder cancer and by an equal number of controls (people who did not have cancer). His con-clusion? Neither saccharin nor cyclamates are likely to cause cancer in humans, at least at the level of ingestion reported by the patients in the study. It would appear that you have no cause for concern as long as you use these substances judiciously.

Dear Dr. Solomon: How can a woman know when she has syphilis?—Denise R. Dear Denise R.: The ony sure way is to see a doctor for a physical examination and a blood test. Syphilis may be diagnosed at almost any stage by a blood test, except during the first three weeks after contact. Too many victims of syphilis have been given a false sense of security by getting a blood test right after the exposure only to have the disease show up as long as three months after becoming infected. Any woman who suspects infection should see a doctor right away. a doctor right away.

Dear Dr. Solomon: Is it possible for the sickle cell trait to turn into the serious form know as sickle cell anemia?-Ms. C.A.

Dear Ms. C. A.: No. Not in the same person.

Saudis resisting oil price increase

KUWAIT (AP) - Several Persian Gulf oil states are trying to persuade Saudi Arabia, the world's biggest producer, to agree to another increase in the price of oil but the Saudis are resisting, the Kuwait magazine Al Hadaf reported today.

It said oil ministers of the smaller states are meeting with Sheik Ahmed Zaki Yamani, Saudi Arabia's oil minister, to get him to agree to an increase to prevent the international oil companies and other middlemen from making huge profits as a result of the shortage in world oil supplies caused by curtailment of Iranian pro-

Geneva site for meeting

VIENNA, Austria (AP) - The OPEC oil cartel will meet in Geneva, Switzerland, on March 26 to discuss supply shortages caused by Iran's political turmoil and the higher 'spot" prices that have resulted, the organization announced Wednesday at its Vienna headquarters.

The announcement blamed "speculative traders" for the volatile price situation on the spot market, the freebidding open market that accounts for only a small volume of the oil trade. Most crude oil is sold under long-term contracts. The announcement by Rene G Ortiz, secretary-general of the 13-nation Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries, refuted earlier reports that the oil ministers would be meeting to discuss possible increases in OPEC's standard prices.

Questions answered on energy situation

By MARK POTTS AP Business Writer

NEW YORK (AP) - The interruption of Iranian oil production has led to a situation that Energy Secretary James R. Schlesinger says is "prospectively more serious" than the 1973-74 Arab oil embargo. Yet most Americans have found no reason to

Even though prices are rising and government officials warn there could be mandatory controls on oil use soon, there are no lines at service stations. Gasoline can still be bought on Sunday. And there have been no nidespread shortages of any kind of

So why the fuss? Here are answers to some common questions:

Q. Since Iran only supplied 5 percent of the United States' crude oil needs, why is the loss of the oil so important?

A. Five percent doesn't seem much, but officials say it is enough to tighten supply. One official put it this way: "Imagine if 5 percent of the nation's drivers were told they couldn't get gas any more.'

Actually, the nation's loss so far is more like 2.5 percent because other oil-producing nations are making up some of the absent production. But experts say even that is enough to cause worry

IT IS ALSO important to realize that other countries, particularly in Europe, have been far more dependent on Iranian oil than the United States. Iran had produced 10 percent of world supply, and gaps elsewhere are being filled from the same sources to which this nation must turn. The result: a worldwide supply

So, officials say, the world faces serious problems in the event of unexpected trouble like the oil field fire in Saudi Arabia two years ago. And U.S. supplies were tight even before Iran's

Q. Oil imports have been running high in recent months, and the last tanker of Iranian oil just arrived. Why are there problems now?

A. High oil imports are the result of massive orders placed by the oil companies late last year to get oil before the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries' price rose 5 per cent Jan. 1. Nevertheless, supplies of some products such as jet fuel are tight because some companies rely on the spot market to meet demand. That is where sales not covered by long-term contracts take place, and although it accounts for only about 5 percent of oil supplies, it is important because it is used to adjust inventories. THE LOSS OF Iranian oil has all but dried up the spot market, and sent prices for what is available there soaring, as countries more dependent on Iran than the United States go there to make up their losses. Q. All right, there's a problem. But why are the warnings so dire?

A. Experts say if the shutdown in Iran lasts beyond a couple of more months, it could cause serious problems next winter.

In addition, analysts say the governmentis apparently taking advantageof the situation to try one more time to convince Americans that they should conserve energy, evidentlyin the belief that a good scare might change wasteful habits once and for

Q. Will Iran's current steps to re sume production solve the problem? A. Not necessarily. Even if oil begins flowing soon, the amount may be limited by mechanical problems, government quotas, or political problemsthat could crop up in the future. The theory, then, is to save now so

erators made 59 natural gas discoveries and 12 oil finds between Feb. 1-15, the state railroad commission said Wednesday. The gas discoveries included 17 in South Texas, 13 in Southeast Texas, 11 in the Refugio area and four each in East and West Central Texas. Three finds were reported in the San Antonio area, two each in East Central Texas, around San Angelo and Midland, and one in North Texas.

In the same two-week period, drillers reported 148 exploratory and field tests wound up as dry holes.

Three men recognized

Three charter members of the Petroleum Accountants Society were recognized at the organization's Wednesday night meeting in Ranchland Hill Country Club.

They are Nick Dragisic, with Joseph I O'Neill Jr.; Ted Witte, with Fred H. Fuhrman, and Robert B. Conaway, with Adobe Oil & Gas Corp.

tion in Mexico

The association was organized in 1954 in Midland. Wednesday's speaker was Ruben Madrid who discussed the oil situathat supplies can be stretched further

Q. IS THAT WHY Texaco and several other oil companies are limiting the amount of gasoline they sell to dealers now? A. Yes. Gasoline consumption drops in winter anyway, as bad weather curtails driving. With crude oil supplies uncertain, the companies want a lot of gasoline on hand at the start of summer so they can switch to heating oil production early for next winter. Q. What's all this doing to consumer

A. That's not quite clear. The base price of crude oil, from which other products are refined, was set by the Jan. 1 OPEC increase at $13.35 per 42-gallon barrel. That price has generally held. But Saudi Arabia, the key nation filling the gap left by Iran, has placed a higher price on the extra 1 million barrels a day it is producing over its usual 8.5 million barrels. Other nations have done the same. So far, there has been virtually no rise in consumer prices due to these special increases, because not much oil is involved. But should OPEC decide the market will bear higher prices, it could speed up its graduated 14.5 percent general price rise scheduled for this year.

Q. THEN WHY AM I paying more for gasoline and heating oil?

A. In both cases, that's the result of the Jan. 1 OPEC increase, which added about a penny per gallon to the prices of each product.

In addition, some gasoline dealers, taking advantage of supply tightness, are increasing profit margins. In the case of heating oil, the price of which is not regulated by the federal government, the rise is quicker because a lot of heating oil comes from the spot market, where prices are higher. This is passed on to the consumer. Q. Isn't this whole thing just a scam dreamed up by the oil companies to squeeze a few more pennies out of me at the gas pump?

A. There's little to support that oft-made accusation. In fact, the companies have appeared less concerned than the government, and say mandatory controls will be unnecessary. Of course, rationing would cut the amount of gasoline they sell and erode their profits. But the industry also is worried about its public image because it wants controls lifted from gasoline prices.e Energy Department backs that idea, which it says would encourage an expansion of refinery capacity. But the plan faces stiff opposition in Congress, because of estimates that it would boost the price of gasoline at least 5 cents.

Released by Iranians, Marine headed home

TEHRAN, Iran (AP) - Sgt. Ken Kraus headed been freed and would soon be home. home today after being held for a week by Iranian revolutionaries.

The 22-year-old Marine from Lansdale, Pa., who was freed by the Iranian provisional government Wednesday night, left Iran on a Pan American jumbo jet ferrying American evacuees to Frankfurt, West Germany. From there he was to catch a flight to the United States.

'I'm glad to be going home," Kraus told reporters as armed guerrillas escorted him to the plane. He said he was held in a Tehran prison but was not mistreated.

"They treated me like every other prisoner got treated," he said. "They didn't beat me, but they didn't go out of their way to make me feel at home

Kraus was slightly wounded in the guerrilla attack on the U.S. Embassy on Feb. 14 and was taken by a group of guerrillas from the hospital in which he was being treated. His whereabouts were unknown for a week, until Deputy Prime Minister Amir Entezam told a news conference Wednesday he was being by the government for trial on charges of shooting at Iranians during the embassy attack.

Ambassador William Sullivan negotiated all day with the government to secure his release. President Carter telephoned Kraus' mother in Lansdale Wednesday to tell her the young man had

Phone call to mother brings 'tears of joy'

LANSDALE, Pa. (AP) - When Jayne Kraus hung up the phone she was crying tears of joy.

"My whole body was shaking like I was outside in the cold with no clothes on. I can't describe it any better than that," she said from her home in this Philadelphia suburb.

The phone rang shortly after noon Wednesday. At the other end was the president of the United States.

President Carter told her he had just received confirmation that her son, Marine Sgt. Kenneth Kraus, was "free on American soil in the American Embassy" in Tehran and that the government "will try to get him home as soon as possible.'

He also told Mrs. Kraus: "Kenneth said to tell his mother: 'I love you very much and get to my Nina (his fiancee, Nina Trongone of Kulpsville) and tell her I love her, too, and I'm well."

Kraus, 22, was released Wednesday by Iran's new government one week after he was wounded in an attack on the U.S. Embassy in Tehran, where he had been stationed as a guard for one month. Kraus left Iran for the United States today on a

Pan American evacuation flight. "I'm glad to be going home," Kraus told reporters as he boarded the plane. After the attack he was taken from his hospital bed by guerrillas and the embassy lost track of him. Then, on Wednesday, Iranian Deputy Prime Minister Amir Entezah announced that Kraus would be brought to trial on charges of "firing at Iranians." The State Department intervened.

"Today, I'm the happiest woman, the happiest mother in the whole wide world," said Mrs. Kraus. "There were butterflies from the top of my head to the bottom of my feet, especially when the president

Carter's wage insurance gaining support

By CLIFF HAAS
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Carter says his proposal for wage insurance against inflation apparently is picking up support in Congress.

His assessment comes at the same time the chairman of the Federal Reserve Board is telling legislators inflation is likely to be worse this year than the administration predicts.

G. William Miller, Federal Reserve chairman, also Wednesday told the House Banking Committee he expects the economy to grow more slowly in 1979 than Carter has estimated.

The Commerce Department reported last month the Gross National Product, considered the best measure of the nation's economic health, grew at an unexpectedly strong 6.1 percent in the fourth quarter of 1978.

Revised GNP figures for the last quarter of 1978 were being released

The president has predicted that the economy will grow 2.2 percent in 1979, but Miller told the House panel he expects the economy will grow between 1.75 percent and 2.25 percent this year.

Miller also said he expects inflation to be between 7.5 percent and 8.25 percent in 1979, compared with an administration estimate of 7.5 per-

However, Miller added, "we could be fortunate" and hit the president's

Some private forecasters have predicted inflation will be 9 percent this year, and economists for the Business Council, a group of the nation's leading corporate chairmen, predict a recession toward the end of the year.

Carter told a group of state and local officials Wednesday he hopes to have his "real wage insurance" program through the House Ways and Means Committee "in the near fu-

"I believe it's accurate to say that the more that members of Congress have studied the basic principles of this proposal, the more progress has been made and the more support evolved," the president said.

The plan is designed to give tax rebates to workers who comply with Carter's voluntary 7 percent wage guideline if inflation exceeds 7 percent. It is one of the main elements of the president's anti-inflation cam-

Carter said he also was heartened because some labor unions that first opposed the idea or had been cool toward it were now giving it qualified

But the plan has drawn strong criticism from congressmen who say it is too complex and could cost the government too much money.

Jody Powell, the White House press secretary, said Carter also met with Democratic congressional leaders for "some particularly straightforward discussion" about holding down federal spending.

Powell said Carter made it clear to the legislators that spending bills going too far beyond his $532 billion budget would be vetoed.

Also Wednesday, Lauren Carlson, president of the National Cattlemen's president of the National Cattlemen's Association, said the government's January index for retail beef prices, to be released Friday, probably will show an increase from December of at least 5 percent.

Economists see no decline in retail beef prices until cattle producers rebuild herds and start marketing additional animals - at least two or three years from now.

Reagan seeks advice

CHICAGO (AP) — Former California Gov. Ronald Reagan said Wednesday he plans to appoint an advisory committee to decide whether he should seek the Republican presidential nomination in 1980.

Reagan said he plans to appoint the committee in March. The former governor was guest speaker at a United Republican Fund of Illinois dinner. The fund raises money statewide for Republican political candidates.

Reagan made his comments at a news conference before the dinner, which was attended by about 500 people.

AMSTERDAM, Netherlands (AP) — Associated Press photographers Sadayuki Mikami and Eddie Adams won top prizes today in five categories of the 1978 annual World Press Photo competition.

Mikami, of the AP Tokyo bureau, took first prize in the Press and Spot News categories for his picture of a demonstrator set ablaze by his own firebomb during a protest at Narita airport. Mikami won $2,500 and will be invited to attend an awards ceremony

April 4 at the Vincent van Gogh museum in Amsterdam. Adams, of New York, took first prizes in the News Features, Feature Picture Stories and Miscellaneous categories.

His eight-photo "The White Rhodesians" included a shot of an elderly woman armed with a pistol outside her house and a young girl walking along a country lane armed with a rifle.

A record number of 720 photographers from 50 countries submitted a total of 3,760 pictures for the competition.

Downtown Lions hear Advertising Lodge Notice Chapter No. 172 for degree No. 172 for No. 172 for degree No. 172 for No. Outstanding Young Man community, along with the Jaycees, Individual involvement in civic and community affairs was discussed by Midland's "Outstanding Young Man" of 1978 at the Wednesday noon meeting of the Downtown Lions Club in the Midland Hilton. The speaker was Larry J. Bell, president of the HBF Corp., who is recognized as one of the Tall City's most active civic and business leaders. A past president of the Midland Jaycees and a former regional director of Texas Jaycees, Bell holds numerous special awards presented by the Jaycees at local, district, regional, state and National levels. He is a director of the Midland Chamber of Commerce and is active in several other civic, cultural, youth and church groups.

Introduced by Lion Duke Jimerson, a former recipient of the "Outstanding Young Man" award, Bell said that people build cities, organizations, businesses and most everything else worthwhile, and that "Midland will be just what we want it to be.'

The speaker told what motivated nim, as a young man first arriving on the Midland scene, to become terested and motivated in civic affairs. He credited several more adult civic and business leaders of the for guiding him in the "right direction' in his civic and personal life. He said that active membership in the Jaycees is an excellent means of becoming involved in community service. Bell explained that attitude, goal setting and service are particularly important in the area of community service involvement.

'Attitude is the key to involvement in most anything," he continued. "This is where it all begins. In order to be successful in this, we have to do what we want to do.

"In becoming involved, we first should do some serious planning in determining what we want to do; we should set high goals, and we must keep a positive attitude."

Commending the Lions Club on its outstanding leadership role, Bell urged its members to share with young persons with whom they come in contact their enthusiasm, their experiences, their attitudes and their interest in civic affairs, in order to maintain continuity in community service.

"Build a better you, along with better attitudes, and then share those attitudes with others, encouraging them to carry on," Bell concluded.

Priscilla Davis presses claim to huge portion of his assets

FORT WORTH, Texas (AP) -Lawyers for Priscilla Davis continued to press their claims that the estranged wife of Cullen Davis is entitled to large portion of the his vast industrial holdings in any community property settlement. Ronald Aultman and Jerry Loftin contend Davis, 45, reaped $98.7 million in profits from his business empire during the couple's turbulent 10year marriage.

And the attorneys, during Wednesday's proceedings in the bitter 4year-old divorce case, argued Mrs. Davis, 38, should receive half of the Loftin's questions about Davis' corporate finances drew a reprimand

Wednesday by the presiding judge.
"I just don't think we need all this detail," retired State District Judge John Barron of Bryan told Loftin.

Loftin questioned Davis about a chart that reflected the earnings of KenDavis Industries, the family condomerate controlled by Davis and his prother Ken Davis.

That chart listed KenDavis after tax profits since 1968 as $271.4 million. And according to the chart, Davis' share was $98.7 million.

Davis' lawyer Cecil Munn maintained that Mrs. Davis surrendered any claim to the corporate holdings when she signed a pre-martial agree-ment two days before the couple's August 1968 marriage.

However, Mrs. Davis' lawyers argued she was tricked into signing the agreement and it is not binding. The Fort Worth industrialist testified Tuesday that KenDavis Industries had aquired 41 corporations and started 18 others since 1968. Mrs. Davis' lawyers contended she is due a substantial slice of that corporate pie acquired or founded since

Munn also has portrayed Cullen and Priscilla as former reckless spenders who squandered millions of dollars. Munn said Davis' total personal assets now amount to about $10 million dollars while his liabilities total $9.4 million. And Davis' lawyer contended that left just $600,000 for a personal property settlement. Davis is free on bond following a mistrial in his murder solicitation trial last month in Houston. The millionaire, who spent five months in jail, had been charged with trying to hire a "hit man" to kill the presiding judge in his divorce trial. That judge, Joe Eidson, has since removed himself from the divorce proceeding.

A jury in Amarillo aquitted Davis in 1976 of the murder of his 12-year-old stepdaughter Andrea Wilborn. The charged stemmed from a shooting spree at Davis' Fort Worth mansion that left Miss Wilborn, and Mrs. Davis' lover Stan Farr dead. Mrs. Davis and a chance visitor, Gus Gavrel Jr. were wounded.

Doctors may give disease

BOSTON (AP) - Doctors and nurses working in hospital nurseries may spread a common virus that causes severe, sometimes fatal respiratory illness in infants, a study warns.

The germ, called respiratory syncytial virus, can cause pneumonia, bronchiolitis and other breathing difficulties in newborn babies.

Doctors at the University of Rochester Medical Center studied an outbreak of the virus in an intensive care nursery and found that it apparently was spread by hospital staff.

They said they studied 66 newborn babies who were hospitalized for six days or more, and 23 of them - or 35 percent caught the virus. Four of those infants died
