BANGKOK, Thadand (AP) China said today it would withdraw from Victnam if the Vietnamese would quit Cambodia. But the Chinese said they were sure the Vietnamese world not accept the challenge

The main trend of world public opirion is that Vietnam should with draw from Kampuchea (Cambodia) and China from Vietnam." Peking's Hsinhua news agency said

More oil companies begin limiting sales

Several of the nation's major oil companies today began reacting to the "Iranian squeeze" as they limited oil supplies to their dealers.

The move by Texaco, Standard Oil of Indiana (Amoco) and Cities Service to deal with the current cutoff of Iranian oil matched a policy previous ly announced by Mobil, Atlantic Richfield and Continental Oil Co.

Meanwhile, Mobil, the nation's No 2 oil company, followed No. 1 Exxon Wednesday in limiting the amount of crude oil it sells to refineries. Mobil said it would cut sales by 9 percent, retroactive to Jan. 1. It did not say when the limits would be lifted.

In Washington, Energy Secretary James Schlesinger predicted $1-a gallon unleaded gasoline "within a Vedr or so

Schlesinger had predicted on Tues day that gasoline prices could rise by 10 cents a gallon before the end of the year. But on Wednesday he told the Senate Government Operations Com mittee that unleaded fuel prices would rise even faster because de mand for that type of fuel is high and supplies are short t

Schlesinger also told the Senate En ergy Committee that if Congress ap proves the standby energy-conservation measures submitted by Presi dent Carter "it is possible that at some time we may have to invoke temperature controls" or weekend closings of service stations before

But he said there is "no immediate need" to do so unless the supply squeeze caused by the Iranian shut down becomes more serious

The past 11/2 years have put more gray into what hair remains on Col. Wilson Banks' head

Despite all the problems in the past, the Director of Aviation for the city of Midland told the Chamber of Com merce Wednesday he expects the expansion and renovation work at Mid land Regional Airport will be completed by this summer

Banks outlined construction at the airport, told what stages it was in and indicated some of the problems en-

The concourse has been in use since the middle of December, but there still are "bugs to be worked out in the heating and cooling system," Banks said. The jetways have not given much trouble with the exception of

A lot of work is needed on the inside but "should be completed quite rapid ly " he noted. The ticket counters and walls facing those counters are the project in line for current work.

The parking garage should be com pleted by the first or middle of April, and it should handle 750 cars, said

The dirt lot being used now will be converted into the long-term parking area, relieving some of the pressure already expected on the two-story

The chamber also was told a ceremony is being planned for 1:40 p.m. March 15 to get Braniff Airline "off the ground" at the airport on its opening day

Winston Barclay reviewed progress of the Industrial Foundation, saying it was beginning development of another 300 acres west of the current industrial park. One large tract already has been sold to Worthington Corp, and another sale is being nego-

A third annual job matching fair sponsored by the chamber will be held in March, Grant Billingsley of the chamber announced. Last year saw 1.800 job applicants attend the event held in the Aquila hangar at Midland Regional Airport

A computer show will be held in October in Chaparral Center, with the main thrust being to educate the public and business community. Seminars are being planned in conjunction with the show, it was noted.

By GUY SULLIVAN Staff Writer

He's 30 years old and not getting anv vounger. The Midland County Sheriff's Office narcotics officer prefers his name not be publicized and his photo not be,

His "owns" one of law enforcement's most dangerous jobs. Most Midlanders may not realize the risks officers take in their efforts to keep illegal drugs out of circulation

Because Midland County's relative proximity to the Mexican border, the officer said, drug enforcement is a never ending effort here.

And the stakes are high - some times a matter of life or death.

He started his law enforcement career with the San Angelo Police Department as a jailer. He later worked for the Tom Green County Sherfff's Office as a patrol deputy.

His next job was with the Midland Police Department. And during the summer of 1978, he became a Midland County Sheriff's Office narcotics offi-

"I heard they had an opening and I always wanted to work this detail,"

The deputy said he has to be capable of changing his appearance from week to week. When he works under cover, disguises are vital, he ex - ger, he replied. "It does get dangerplained

The deputy doesn't work anything like "banker's hours." Instead, he's on call 24 hours a day as concerns listening and evaluating information provided by informants. "It's just interacting," he said

We don't have any set hours. We may start a surveillance which could last a while. I've been on one which lasted 72 hours straight Of the hours, he said: "You just get used to it. You're really never

He said he has no social life to speak of. "You've just got to be ready when informants call you," he said. He's been involved in substantial

'busts." or arrests, in Midland County. The arrests ranged from those involving "vice" offenses - liquor law violations, illegal drug possession, prostitution, and lately even cruelty to animals in the form of an allegedly illegal cockfight.

About drugs, the deputy said, "I think Midland County has a major drug problem. Our close proximity to the Mexican border makes the availability of drugs easier here.

He said that "one of our biggest problems is so many kids smoke marijuana because it's easier for them to just go down somewhere and get it." Asked about his job's obvious dan-

ous. One time we went to this guy's apartment and caught him shooting up on an illegal drug. He ran for a back room and grabbed a pistol. I came around the corner and he put the pistol to my chest.

Then my partners came around the corner and they convinced the man to put the gun down — because he didn't have a chance.

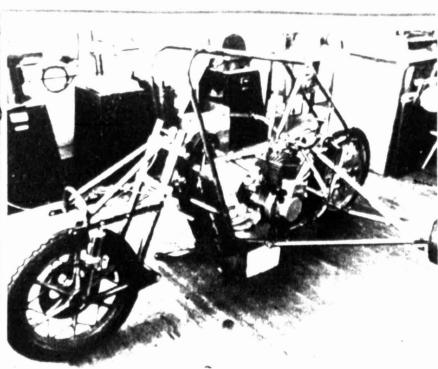

He said he recalled as much as two kilos (4.4 pounds) of cocaine passing through Midland County

He proudly said another out-of-state agency was notified of those carrying the cocaine, and people were arrested as a direct result of work on the part of the Midland County Sheriff's Office Narcotics Division

"I feel that this job is something that needs to be done," he said. "It isn't necessarily the most wonderful job in law enforcement, though.

..people should realize we're human, too," he asserted. "We're out here trying to do the job. It's not the most pleasant job. We have to go into people's homes with search warrants. We're trying to control the drug problem and at the same time see that no one is hurt '

He puffed on a cigarette and added. "Actually we're not as mean and vicious as some people think we are. We're just trying to do the job.'

Fleece this month awarded to $120,000 backward bike

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Transportation Department says it was justified in spending $120,126 to develop an experimental, backwardsteering motorcycle

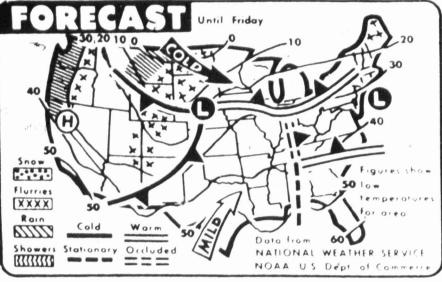

Department spokesman Hal Paris says the experiment was designed to examine problems "inherent in motorcycle design," such as braking and maneuverability. "We believe the study is justified," he said. Sen. William Proxmire disagrees. On Wednesday he awarded the department his monthly "Golden Fleece" award for wasteful federal The Wisconsin Democrat said the Transportation Department awarded the contract despite a report from the National Highway Safety Administration that the motorcycle "would be difficult if not impossible

He said that after 19 months of testing, the contractor was able to produce a motorcycle whose record run was 2.5 seconds - and with training wheels at that. Proxmire said government officials insisted the festing continue despite objections from the contractor. He said the final results of the "Advanced Concept Motorcycle" will be submitted in the near future.

Dr. Mast files for position on County Hospital Board

A retired Midland surgeon has filed for a position on the Midland County Hospital District Board of Directors.

Three of the five positions on the board are to be decided April 7 in an at-large election.

Dr. Henrie Mast said he is seeking the post because "I've been concerned with the hospital from the beginning, because I moved here

Dr. Henrie Mast

The 66-year-old surgeon said he considers physical facilities - both building and equipment — to be the top priority facing the board.

Parking, implementation of a computerized billing system and recruiting sufficient staff are other concerns, he said

Mast said the goal of the hospital should be to serve people "at the lowest possible cost for excellent care...the excellence of care being more important than the cost.

Mast came to Midland in 1950, the year Midland Memoriai Hospital opened, after practicing in Lubbock 10 years and serving in the Navy during World War II.

He was graduated from Johns Hopkins in Baltimore and received surgical training at Union Memorial Hospital in Baltimore

He and his two brothers, Drs. Clarence and John Mast, opened the Mast Clinic in Midland. Dr. Henrie Mast retired in 1977, but Dr. John Mast still is in practice in the same building. Dr. Clarence Mast now practices in Amarillo.

The candidate has served three years as Midland Memorial chief of staff, two years as staff vice president, three years as chief surgeon and six years as hospital trustee.

Tax credit proposal facing new obstacle

WASHINGTON (AP) - President Carter's proposed wage-insurance tax credit, never popular on Capitol Hill, faces a new obstacle: Congressional economists say it is likely to cost more than twice what the Carter administration predicts.

The credit, a central part of the president's anti-inflation campaign, probably would cost $6 billion in lost taxes this year, according to James Wetzler, chief economist for the Joint Committee on Taxation. Carter has estimated the plan would cost $2.5 billion in lost revenue.

The reason cited for the big increase is the very inflation that the credit is aimed at halting.

Democrats on the House Ways and Means Committee planned a closed caucus today to discuss the wage-insurance plan, which has been dormant for several weeks. However, John Sherman, a spokesman for Chairman Al Ullman, D-Ore., said Ullman does not expect the meeting to result in any decision on whether to let the bill die

But aides to the Senate and House tax-writing committees now say privately they see little chance that wage insurance will be enacted. The Carter administration concedes the plan would have little impact on inflation unless put into effect by the end of this month.

If Wetzler's forecast, given in testimony Wednesday before the Senate Finance Committee, proves correct, enactment of wage insurance would require Congress to cut another $3.5 billion from spending programs or increase the budget deficit.

Despite Wetzler's gloomy estimate, the Finance Committee left room in the fiscal 1980 budget for $2.5 billion worth of wage insurance, defeating a Republican substitute that called instead for a big across-the-board reduction of income taxes next year.

Sen. William V. Roth, R-Del., was defeated 10-8 on his motion to junk wage insurance and to make room in the budget for a broad tax cut of up to $13 billion. That decision reflects the feelings of the Carter administration and of the Democratic congressional leadership that a major tax cut next year would only worsen inflation.

The committee earlier had vowed to honor Carter's recommended $29 billion ceiling on the deficit. The vote against the Roth bill came after the panel had little success in cutting spending programs within its jurisidiction in order to finance the tax

Although the Finance Committee left room in its budget for wage insurance, no one on the panel spoke up for the program.

All 12 Republicans on the Ways and Means Committee are opposed to the plan; the eight Republicans on Finance appear equally unanimous against it.

The credit is designed as an incentive for workers who accept pay raises of 7 percent or less this year the president's voluntary guideline The credit would help make up for lost pay for such a worker if inflation exceeds 7 percent.

When the proposal was sent to Congress in January, Carter's economists were predicting that 47 million workers would participate in wage insurance, which would hold inflation this year to around 7.5 percent. That would cost $2.5 billion.

But there is almost universal agreement among economists now that 1979 inflation cannot be held to 7.5 percent. The Congressional Budget Office has a forecast of up to 9 per-

Wetzler's $6 billion estimate for wage insurance was based on a forecast of 8.6 percent inflation.

NEW YORK (AP) — Bonnie Schachter is five-three, black eyes, a face as bubbly as the Dom Perignon champagne she pours for breakfast. Not her breakfast. Yours - if you're willing to fork over, say, $1,000.

The fee also covers the caviar, strawberries Parisienne, fresh roses and whatever else you might fancy with your cafe au lait not excluding belly dancers.

Ms. Schachter runs an outfit called Rent-An-Event.

Any event. Any, that is, within the bounds of the law and decency but not of extravagance. Just the other day, the prospects in New Orleans being what they were, she rented to a New Yorker his own Mardi

"We had a float, jazz band, sword swallowers, fire eaters, a fantastic meal," she bubbled. "We put the whole thing on in a Fifth Avenue apartment. How much? Just $3,500.

That's nothing. She once rented, for $5,000, a Roman orgy. It did not overlook togas, fountains, a suckling pig on a spit and a barefoot grape-stomper who sang opera. She rents less grand events

A customer scanned his guest list for a small dinner party. It seemed boring. She rented him an intellectual. A customer needed understanding. She rented a Jewish mother.

One needed cheering up. She rented — what else? — a cheerleader. One felt out of touch. She rented a newscaster.

A group in Queens, angry with a neighbor who wouldn't tidy up his property, summoned Bonnie Schachter. She rented Lady Godiva, in a body stocking, galloping a white horse through the neighborhood shouting, "Mr. Jones is a litterbug.

A Manhattan dame wanted a birthday surprise for her husband, a man who, of course, had everything. She buzzed Ms. Schachter.

When the big day arrived the indulgent wife shook her spouse awake and led him to the window. Across the street, on the broad steps of the Metropolitan Museum of Art, in the first rays of morning, 10 ballerinas danced. "Just for you, dear." "What I do," Bonnie Schachter said, "is put emotions in motion for people for whom money is no object. There are lots of them. I feed egos. People who are too busy or too lazy or too unimaginative

Expenses, loans bite Davis' income

FORT WORTH, Texas (AP) - Expenses and loan repayment costs will dwarf Cullen Davis' estimated future annual income of $500,000, said the millionaire's lawyers during proceed ings in his bitter divorce case.

Lawyers Donn Fullenwilder, Jack Wesler and Cecil Munn continued to paint a bleak portrait of the industrialist's finances Wednesday.

They maintained Davis "lived too high" during his stormy 10-year marriage with his estranged wife Priscilla, piling up bank debts as high as $15.2 million. And they say his projected expenses and loan repayments will exceed his income by $1.1 million

Opposing attorneys' bickering during the morning session Wednesday drew a reprimand from District Judge John Barron.

Begin meeting starts today WASHINGTON (AP) sented to the two sides by defense.

President Carter, frustrated, impatient and already supporting key Egyptian demands, opens new Mideast peace talks tonight with Israeli Prime Minister Menachem Begin.

The outlook for wrapping up a treaty did not appear bright as Carter prepared for what he says will be "a frank discussion of the issues."

Before flying here, Begin criticized the United States for supporting Egyptian proposals he said "were totally unacceptable to Israel.'

He did not elaborate, but diplomatic sources in Washington told The Associated Press the specifics of U.S. support for Egypt's stand on the three major unresolved issues. The sources insisted on anonymity.

First, the sources said, the administration agrees a one-year timetable for establishing Palestinian autonomy in Israeli-held territory should be included in the Egyptian-Israeli treaty.

The United States is proposing that Begin and Egyptian President Anwar Sadat exchange letters providing that a Palestinian authority be set up on the west bank of the Jordan River and in the Gaza district within a year of a treaty signing.

Palestinian autonomy be negotiated separately and that the treaty be completed on its own. Sadat, not wanting to

Patsy Clark, the office-bound sidekick to Andrews County Chamber of Commerce Manager Louie Cure, likewise pigeon-holed Wood. "When he gets into something, he really gets into it," she said.

What Wood is pushing is a "moralized" version of competitive free enterprise in a city that could easily bill itself as the "Free Enterprise Capital of the World.'

Already, Andrews flaunts itself as the "Oil Capitol (sic) of the World." There's plenty of both here.

Wood, 31, is promoting an idea which Foreman, who is more than twice his senior, has been practicing for years.

The idea is being bannered with the red-white-and-blue billboard "Ener gize With Free Enterprise."

are trying to slow it down. Wood, a teacher, is coordinator of the distributive education program in the public school system here.

Foreman is an Andrews grocer and is an unofficial "ambassador" of the chamber.

"But I plug Andrews," said Foreman. "I've been accused of working for the chamber. If the town doesn't do well, no one will. Like Foreman, Wood is banking on the town prospering. And he is trying to do his part in promoting free enterprise, which seems to be limping na-

SIMPLY TO "get ahead" by any means, regardless of morality, isn't kosher, Wood maintains. "Unless there's morality, free en-look at it.' In Wood's classroom is a poster of a three-masted ship christened Pride. The vessel's sails project such ideals and concepts as honesty, quality, enthusiasm, responsibility, loyalty and motivation. That's what he's talking

But Wood is apprehensive. Free enterprise seems to be faltering in this country. He has some theories

"I think the people are afraid of competition. The students are afraid of competition," Wood said. "I think it's from the students clean on up. I think it starts with the government."

The reason for that fear, Wood speculated, is that "They're afraid to Wood is a self-proclaimed "advocate of the free-enterprise system.' And despite his exuberance for that concept, he senses that in reality it's falling to pieces.

"WE'RE LOSING THE competitive spirit. We're losing the will to make choices," he said, as if sermonizing. 'Therefore, we want others to make all our choice, and we want more governmental power. And they've giving it to us.' National "indifference" and blinded greed are contributors to waning

People tell their congressmen, "You stop government spending," Wood said, "and in the next breath, back home.' The two opposing forces don't make

More than 10 years ago, though, there were many who came to the government's rescue.

In the tumultuous 1960s when unrest and protest seemed to consume much of the nation, Andrews stood by the government. Notably, three men caused those billboards, proclaiming "Andrews Loves God, Country and Supports our Government," to be raised at the four gateways to the city.

"THAT CAME UP in the day when people were marching on Washington and burning campuses (in protesting the Vietnam War)," said Foreman, one of three men behind the billboard

And Foreman and free-enterprise advocate Wood "commissioned" sign painter Mac Snipes to alter the billboards' message.

Today, they proclaim that, in addition to loving God and country, "Andrews...Supports Free Enterprise.'

And on the incoming side of the one of the billboards, Snipes lettered 'Energize With Free Enterprise." "It's a high impact thing," said Foreman.

Maybe the Foreman-Wood scheme to boost free enterprise will prove to be contagious.

Prosecutors seek delay in FBI trial

WASHINGTON (AP) A federal judge has been asked to delay the trial of three former FBI officials accused of conducting illegal surveillance against the Weather Underground in the early 1970s.

The trial of the three, including former acting FBI Director L. Patrick Gray III, is scheduled to start Monday.

Prosecutors also indi-cated in a letter to U.S. District Judge William B. Bryant that they may ask to have Gray tried separately. Brian Gettings, a defense lawyer, said Wednesday that the government asked Bryant to delay until April 16 the trial of W. Mark Felt, former associate FBI director, and Edward S. Miller, former assistant director.

No new date was mentioned for Gray's trial. Justice Department spokesman Robert Havel said prosecutors still, "anticipate proceeding" against all three.

The government reportedly is having difficulty with its case against Gray because of concern about disclosing sensitive FBI information. Last year, Bryant granted the government's request for special procedures designed to prevent such disclosures. But defense lawyers indicated the matter has not been resolved.

The men are accused of authorizing break-ins, illegal wiretaps and mail openings against friends and relatives of the Weather Underground in the FBI's investigation of the radical left-wing group. Each faces up to 10 years in prison and a $10,000 fine if convicted.

The defense is expected to seek to show that the Weather Underground was linked to a foreign power and that, therefore, the FBI actions were justified.

'Phonic Ear' enables deaf persons to enjoy music

By DAVID HOCHMAN

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — People who are hard of hearing may be able to enjoy symphonies and rock concerts, if an experiment being conducted here is successful.

Using a device called the "Phonic Ear," the Buffalo Philharmonic Orchestra is challenging "the basic assumption that the hearing impaired cannot enjoy music," says Ruth Spero, the orchestra's co-manager.

each concert in which the program is being tried testify to its success in defying this long-held belief.

Already, other major orchestras are asking about the program, says Mrs. Spero, a former music therapist whose frustrations in working with the hearing impaired inspired her to develop the program. Launched with $12,000 in "seed money" from the National Endow-And the 25 or so smiling faces at ment for the Arts and an equal amount from the Gebbie Foundation, the orchestra began this season to operate 25 Phonic Ears - sophisticated hearing aids built by a California

> In the experiment, a centrally located microphone picks up the music from the orchestra. Then it broadcasts the music over a low-powered FM frequency to those in the audienc carrying the Phonic Ears, who listen through earpieces.

The Phonic Ear is about the size of a transistor radio, and current units sell for about $300. The Ear is not any more powerful than a standard hearing aid, but the use of the centrally located microphone and its wide frequency range make it particularly well-suited for listening to music.

At each children's concert in the orchestra's current season - and at some pops and classical concerts as well — 25 of the devices are made available to groups of students from area schools for the deaf and to a small test group of adults that isinvited back repeatedly for detailed

Since hearing problems run a wide range of severity, to avoid disap-pointing those with high but unattainable hopes joining or rejoining the ranks of concert-goers, Mrs. Spero cautions that "there are some people we know cannot be helped."

But she also notes that since no such research has ever been done before, 'One of the things we're testing is what they're actually hearing." And whatever it is they're hearing, their reactions say they're enjoying it, says the program's director, Buck Bur-

WASHINGTON (AP) - When two new snowmobiles were hauled into the presidential retreat at Camp David, Md., a couple of weeks ago, there was speculation President Carter and daughter Amy had acquired new toys.

Such was not the case, however. It seems the snow-scooters were purchased for Carter's Secret Service bodyguards as a necessary tool of

But tracking was only part of the potential problem. What if Carter fell on his face and was injured? How could he be hauled back to Camp David over rugged terrain?

The snowmobiles arrived and quickly proved their value. Within 48 hours, Carter's skis hit a patch of ice on a steep downslope, precipitating him onto his face.

Grocery costs in February down slightly in AP survey

By The Associated Press

Consumers got a break at the grocery store last month, but shoppers who've been keeping track of prices over the long haul will find little to cheer about, an Associated Press marketbasket survey

The AP drew up a random list of 15 commonly purchased food and nonfood items, checked the price at one supermarket in each of 13 cities on March 1, 1973 and has rechecked on or about the start of each succeeding month. One item, chocolate chip cookies, was dropped from the list at the end of November 1977 because the manufacturer discontinued the package size used in the survey.

The latest check produced a mixture of good and

On the minus side: Comparing prices today with those a year earlier, the AP found the marketbasket bill increased by an average of 8.3 percent. And a look at current costs versus prices when the marketbasket survey was started showed that the average bill at the checklist stores has risen 71 percent. The Consumer Price Index of all items has gone up about 55 percent in roughly the same period.

On the plus side for shoppers: The February marketbasket bill at the checklist store declined in eight cities, rose in four and was unchanged in one. On an overall basis, the marketbasket bill was an average of 1 percent lower at the end of February than it was at the start of the month. The drop compared with a 2.7 percent boost in January.

The February decreases were due mainly to continuing declines in the price of coffee and to a reversal of the trend toward higher egg prices.

The price of a pound of coffee dropped at the checklist store in eight cities last month, reflecting, in part, cuts at the wholesale level which, in turn, reflected increased supplies of beans from Brazil and other producing nations. Prices today are about one-third lower than they were in June 1977 when they reached a peak of $4 a pound and more. But they are still more than double what they were before a 1975 freeze in Brazil touched off fears of a shortage and sent prices soaring.

Egg prices, which had been going up with the cold weather, started down again. The price of a dozen sizes were used when available. If the requested size eggs dropped during February at the checklist store and brand was not available on March 1, 1973, a in 11 cities; by the beginning of March, the average price was 84 cents a dozen, compared to 91 cents a month earlier.

There is no sign, meanwhile, of any real break in the steady increase in meat prices, although there are some scattered, temporary sales. The latest AP survey found that the price of frankfurters increased at the checklist store in seven cities and decreased in four; the price of pork chops went up in six cities and down in six; and the price of a pound of chopped chuck was up in two cities and down in

Declining supplies of beef are responsible for most of the price hikes and no relief is expected until herds are built up again. "There will be short-term ups and downs in the price of beef, but the trend for the next three years is toward higher prices," says the National Live Stock and Meat Board.

A look at the overall number of items in the AP survey showed fewer increases during February than during January. Here are the percentages of increases and decreases:

No attempt was made to weight the AP survey results according to population density or in terms of what percent of a family's actual grocery outlay each item represents.

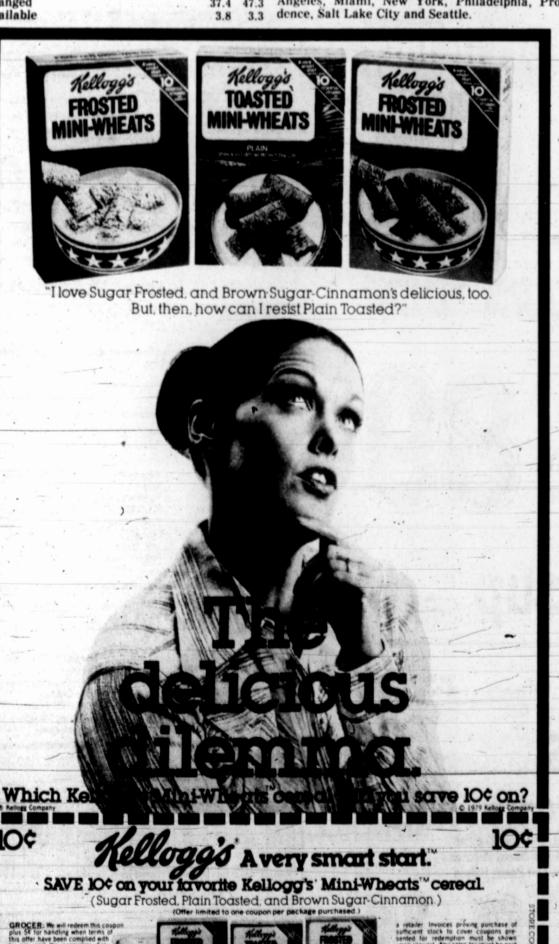

The day of the week on which the check was made varied depending on the month. Standard brands and comparable substitute was selected. Items temporarily out of stock on one of the survey dates being compared were not included in the over-all total. The AP did not try to compare actual prices from city to city - to say, for example, that eggs cost more in one area than another. The only comparisons were made in terms of percentages of increase or decrease - saying a particular item went up 10 percent in one city and 6 percent in another. The USDA marketbasket issued each month is based on a complex set of statistics. It includes 65 retail items of U.S. farm-produced foods in amounts that theoretically could supply a household of 3.2 persons for one year, but the department says the figures do not correspond to actual family food spending and are used mainly to illustrate changes

The items on the AP checklist were: chopped chuck, center cut pork chops, frozen orange juice concentrate, coffee, paper towels, butter, Grade-A medium white eggs, creamy peanut butter, laundry detergent, fabric softener, tomato sauce, milk, Jan. Feb. ofrankfurters and granulated sugar.

The cities checked were: Albuquerque, N.M., Atlanta, Ga., Boston, Chicago, Dallas, Detroit, Los Angeles, Miami, New York, Philadelphia, Provi-

Tanassi convicted of taking Lockheed bribe

ROME (AP) - Italy's highest court convicted former Defense Minister Mario Tanassi of taking Lockheed bribe money, sentenced him to 28 months imprisonment and ordered him removed from Parliament.

The Constitutional Court also found the former air force chief of staff, Gen. Luigi Fanali, and three others guilty of corruption in the $1.6-million Lockheed bribery scandal but acquitted former Defense Minister Luigi Gui and four others.

Fanali was sentenced to 21 months

The trial lasted nearly five months, the 28-judge court deliberated for 33 days, and the session today was televised live throughout the country.

Tanassi, a 63-year-old member of the Democratic Socialist Party, and Gui, a 64-year-old Christian Democrat, were ordered to trial nearly two years ago by Parliament. Only Parliament can order a present or former cabinet minister to stand trial.

They and the other defendants were accused of using their positions to influence the government to buy 14 of Lockheed's C-130 Hercules military transport planes. The U.S. aircraft firm was said to have kicked back $1.6

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Social Security Ad-ministration may wipe off its books $33 billion in such as restaurant workers or carwash employworkers' earnings from 1937 to 1955 that were never ees. posted to the correct workers' accounts because of identification problems.

The $33 billion is part of the nearly $69 billion in earnings records that the agency revealed Wednesday are in its "Suspense File." The earnings were reported with mistaken or missing Social Security numbers and names.

Social Security Commissioner Stanford G. Ross said he has ordered a study on discarding the incorrect records from the 1937-to-1955 era because most benefits today are figured only on earnings from 1956 and later.

Ross said the $69 billion is only a tiny portion -0.7percent - of the $9.7 trillion the SSA has credited to workers' accounts since the system was set up in

He said that because benefits are figured on average earnings over a long period, and because people's earnings records are scrutinized when they retire, only in a rare instance have the mistakes cost anyone retirement benefits.

Ross, who took office in October, said he already has been able to reduce the Suspense File by $3 billion with new computer techniques that unravelled one-digit errors in Social Security numbers. He expects to correct $560 million more by April by correcting surname errors.

There are 142 million incorrect wage reports, averaging $486, out of a total of 10 billion. Ross said

> Just before the urban policy was unveiled last March, Carter's chief domestic adviser, Stuart E. Eizenstat, and Budget Director James T. McIntyre convinced Carter to defer a decision on the bank's location until public attention on the Harris-Kreps battle subsided.

> In a memo obtained by The Associated Press, Eizenstat and McIntyre told Carter they would recommend putting the bank in Commerce but that the issue "is fraught with political difficulties." Putting it in Commerce, they said, would "significantly increase the criticism which we already expect to receive from these groups (blacks and mayors) when the urban policy is announced."

> They recommended it be transferred to Commerce later when reorganization plans were ready. Since then, reorganization planners working for McIntyre came to favor putting such programs in HUD.

what they had recommended last spring. Sen. J. Bennett Johnston, D-La., lauded Carter for backing off an earlier plan for consolidating water resources management.

Johnston, the Senate public works subcommittee chairman, said if Carter had proceeded with plans to move the Army Corps of Engineers planning and budgeting functions into the new Natural Resources Department, "there would have been a tremendous fight in Congress.'

The senator and his Capitol Hill allies think Interior unduly emphasizes environmental concerns in planning new dams, reservoirs and other water projects while they believe the corps gives appropriate weight to economic concerns like developing jobs, agriculture and commerce.

Sim has been serving as a special prosecutor in Texas investigating a shooting assault last November on James W. Kerr. Kerr, an assistant U.S. attorney from San Antonio, had been investigating possible violations in El Paso of the Mann Act, prohibiting interstate prostitution.

'So what's new?" Colacurcio said Tuesday when asked about Sim's comment. Colacurcio was reached at the office of Talents West, a toplessdancer placement service. "I've got nothing to say," he added.

Potholes plague U.S. drivers again

WASHINGTON (AP) — American motorists will swerve around and lion potholes this winter and spring encountering an average of about 49 each mile.

The curse of late-winter driving is back, according to the nation's highway construction industry.

The industry says it has surveyed 20 states and projects that "freeze-thaw cycles of the current winter will have caused at least 93 million potholes in the nation's roads and streets by spring. That averages 49 potholes per mile for all paved roads in the coun-

Chagra's Midland trial scheduled for April 2

EL PASO, Texas (AP) - Three sealed indictments have been returned by a federal grand jury investigating allegations of wide-spread drug trafficking, prostitution and racketeering.

Assistant U.S. Attorney Mike Mac-Donald said two of the defendants named in Wednesday's indictments already are in custody on other charges and he has information on the whereabouts of the third. U.S. Magistrate Harry Lee Hudspeth, meanwhile, scheduled a bond reduction hearing next Tuesday for Jamiel "Jimmy" Chagra, 34, who was indicted by a federal grand jury in Midland this week on drug conspir- in El Paso.

DEAR ABBY

Bargains in bachelors

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: A friend of mine whose divorce became final a few weeks ago has appointed me to head a search committee to find her a man. She's 40, attractive, not exactly destitute (her husband gave her a nice settlement), and good company.

She's told me (and others) not to fix her up with a man who's never been married. She insists that there is something seriously wrong with a man of 40 or older who's never been

She says, "They're either too set in their ways, closet gays, or they're selfish and stingy."

What is your opinon of her analysis?-LOOKING FOR MR.

DEAR LOOKING: Your friend needs to open her mind and let out a few prejudices.

There are plenty of men 40 and over who are still single because they've never met anyone they wanted to marry who wanted to marry THEM. The same can be said for many women who've never been hitched.

DEAR ABBY: I went to a party the other evening where I saw a number of old friends. The wives hugged me and their husbands shook my hand. After the third handshake I let out a

Abby, don't men realize that some women wear costume rings that cut deeply into their flesh when their fingers are squeezed too tightly? Also, some of us older women have arthritis, and a firm handshake can be frightfully painful.

So, gentlemen, please remember when shaking hands with a lady that she doesn't want to sell you a railroad or an airplane or even the Brooklyn Bridge. All she wants is a gentle little clasp .- 73 YEARS OLD IN CIN-

DEAR 73: Although it's not earthshaking, it's a hand-shaking problem with which many women (including this one) will identify.

DEAR ABBY: I am a compulsive gambler. I almost destroyed my family and myself with 25 years of hard qambling, lying, stealing and whatever it took to support my vice. When I finally hit rock bottom and owed everybody I knew, I called did it only to get my wife off my back and keep her from divorcing me, but after going to a few meetings I realized that I really had an illness and could help myself.

I have been with Gamblers Anonymous only a short time but my life has already changed. It's as though a miracle has come over me.

I know of no one who can carry this message better than you, Abby, so please print this for anyone who has a gambling problem or lives with a gambler: Have them call GA. They're in the phone book.-A NEW

No dues, no lecturing-only gamblers being taught how to quit by gamblers who had already learned. I recommend them highly. The most a gambler can lose at GA is a bad habit.

DEAR ABBY: My husband is in sales. I know he's good because he's won nearly every sales contest his company has had.

He makes a wonderful living for me the children, but it doesn't compensate for his absences. He is busy nearly every night entertaining customers and prospects until the wee Weekends are a nightmare. He's exhausted and sleeps every Saturday morning, plus almost all day Sunday. Meanwhile, I am supposed to keep our youngsters quiet and out of sight while Daddy sleeps.

Sex has long been forgotten. He doesn't have the time or energy for that anymore.

I plan to stay until the youngsters are old enough so that I can leave with a clear conscience. Then I will try to make another life for myself-if I'm still desirable. I see no other alternative. Do You?-MARRIED BUT

DEAR MARRIED: Yes. Lay your cards on the table amd give your husband a chance te respond. Perhaps he isn't aware that in his determination to make a good living he is making a bad life for his family. I recommend marriage counseling. Please give it a try. # Hairdresser styles world's famous heads

By NINA S. HYDE The Washington Post

LOS ANGELES - Jose Eber had only been working in Beverly Hills for 18 months when he got a phone call from Farrah Fawcett-Majors.

She called his beauty shop, Linterman's, because she knew several models — as well as Susie Coelho, Sonny Bono's friend — who were Eber clients. The actress and the hairdresser got together and the result was a change in the most famous head of hair in the world.

And for the year and a half since then, Eber has continued to manage the celebrated Fawcett-Majors coiffure, including several color changes and the styling for the Christmas cover of Playboy. He has also done Cheryl Ladd and Racquel Welch for the covers of national magazines. And last month he faced the challenge of cutting Cher's hair - down to an even inch-and-a-half all around.

EBER, 38, whose own hair is cut and colored precisely like Farrah Fawcett's - "It's not intentional, my hair was like this before I even met her," he insists - is now styling some of the finest heads in Hollywood.

The freedom to have Farrah-Fawcett shoulder-lenth hair, and to dress as he pleases, is one of the things that attracted Eber to Los Angeles from Paris - where he worked for one of the swankiest and most staid salons, Jacques Dessauge's

"In Paris you have to dress to impress other people with obviously expensive labels," says Eber, sitting comfortably in the chair Fawcett-Majors uses in his shop. "Now, I do everything for myself." But his clients also enjoy his single-color bright red or bright purple layered outfits, which he buys across the street at the trendy surplus store Camp Beverly Hills or at Theodore's on Rodeo Drive or at the newly opened Fiorrucci.

Eber says he practically cannot recall a time when he didn't love to play with hair. At 12, he was primping and fixing the hair of his sister and mother: "It came naturally," he says. After the initial shock, his parents reluctantly conceded that their son, then 15, might be a hairdresser after all. So when the French family textile business was moved to Berlin, Eber signed on as an apprentice

At 18, he began work in Paris.

AT DESSANGE'S he used to work on the hairstyles for the Paris couture collections. "Maybe that is why I am so successful here,' says Eber. "I don't have one particular hairstyle that I give to everyone.

He is philosophical about Farrah Fawcett-Majors and her famous hair. "Why change it? Well, everyone has to change," he begins, brushing his hand across his chin. "Her hair was, for my taste, a little too . . . well, messy, but not free. I didn't have the impression that she could shake her head all the time and have her hair stay the same way." He shakes his head to show what he means. "Her hair was messy, but not messy en-

Eber says proudly, without smiling, I really made it messy." He cut it constantly until now it is much straighter, without layers and with a smaller effect.

ought. Not free.

He kept the bangs. "When you have beautiful eyes, bangs are great. It's like a picture with a frame," Eber says, touching his own bangs. Recently he has cut the bottom of her now-straight hair in tiny layers "to give it some form.

It helps, Eber says, that she has good hair and a lot of natural wave -'Just the right wave, like a person gets when you give somebody a bodywaye" - so she can let her hair dry naturally.

MOST OF THE TIME Farrah Fawcett-Majors does her own hair -"She's very talented, she can do it very well herself," says Eber. But when she's in town, she's usually in the salon once a week, often chatting breezily with the other clients.

Eber streaks her hair, using one color but in varying degrees, so that it looksir. And as the mood strikes her, she'll change the color from darker, as it was for her first movie, "Somebody Killed her Husband," to very blond for "Sunburn" and now blonder still for "Saturn Three," filming in London, "She just felt blond again."

A lot of customers come to see Eber with a photo of Farrah in hand. "When I think it is right for them, I do it, when it's not, I don't," says Eber. It would never work, say, on a lady with a round face, or an older woman, he says. Long hair pulls the face down.

It does work on Chastity - Cher's daughter, one of Farrah's big fans, cluded Bobbye Kizer, and another of Eber's clients.

Eber was called upon to cut Cher's hair back to little more than an inch because it had been permanented so frequently that it was dried out. Sud- nington and Juanita denly Cher hated it, says Eber. "It didn't feel like hair anymore," Cher told him, so at her insistence, he started to cut and cut and cut. Finally she said. "Cut it all off."

"I WAS AFRAID to cut it so short because I know what it's like for a woman to have hair so short. She likes it for a month, and after that she to join the organization. starts hating it," says Eber. "But I know Cher and if I hadn't cut it, she would have had someone else do it."

Cher's not mad for it now - as Eber predicted - but wears it "greased back" occasionally. The rest of the time she wears wigs of various lengths.

At Linterman's, one of an international chain of 18 beauty salons (Eber shares the ownership of this one) he charges $40 to $45 for a haircut and blow-dry and does between 10 and 15 a day. (At Dessauge's in Paris he had more than 30 clients daily, with two assistants). On location he's paid from $200 to $700, even $1,000. "I'm very flexible," he says. For "house calls" he goes alone: "It makes people feel more confident when I go by myself.

It's a lot of money, he says, but it doesn't make him a millionaire -"compared to the people I'm surrounded with, it's nothing.

Just the same, he drives a Cadillac and is saving up for a Rolls-Royce. He lives in an apartment, and has postponed moving to a house until he can afford servants.

"I spend a lot of money and people think, I'm much richer than I am. They always see the gold rings and bracelets, the new clothes (a favorite recent purchase was a black silk shirt and black leather pants for evening wear) "and I let them think what they want but it is far from true.'

EVEN WITH A CLIENT list which includes some of the swellest heads in town, there are others he'd still like to tackle. Rosalynn Carter is on the top of the list and he gets very serious when he discusses her hair. "She's too stiff, too done," says Eber. "She looks too fancy. She can still look like a president's wife and look a little bet-

Turn 'em loose NOW!

President Carter on Tuesday proposed a standby gasoline rationing plan, and on the same day Texas Gov. Bill Clements declared, "There must be no energy rationing in the United States without an all-out production effort."

We most certainly will go along with Gov. Clements, as undoubtedly will many other citizens across the width and breadth of the land.

Why in the world the Carter administration and the Department of Energy will not turn loose the oil and gas producers of America to get the job done in taking care of America's energy needs, we will never know. But now is the time to do just that.

There is no doubt that we are in an energy crisis and, as the governor said, "it can be described in no other way."

He went on to say, however, that Carter's gas rationing proposal "is a clear indictment of the administration and the administration's energy policies.

It's deplorable." The governor then presented to the National Governors Association a national energy plan, which, he said, has the endorsement of a nonpartisan coalition of Texas legislative leaders, most of whom are

Democrats. The Texas plan includes the following major elements: - The petroleum industry would be allowed to produce energy under a free enterprise system. - It would "unfetter" the coal industry to develop coal reserves, whether through gasification, liquefaction or pipeline slurries. - It would "remove barriers" to the development, siting and construction of nuclear power plants and encourage research and development of "exotic"

gasohol. - Federal land now withdrawn from energy use would be freed for development.

energy sources, including solar,

fusion, wind, geothermal and

The United States would pursue Mexican oil and gas.

Regional energy development banks also are urged in the plan to provide financing to the private sector for energy development projects, and to offer incentives for secondary and tertiary recovery techniques. The program also would promote "a sensible conservation program." It also would moderate environmental restrictions: Windfall profits would be plowed back into energy development.

It appears to be a reasonable, sound energy plan. It merits careful study by the powers that be in Washington.

The oil, gas and coal industries certainly should be "unfettered." as the governor said, to permit them to do what they are capable of doing - produce energy.

Everyone surely must agree with the governor in his warning that, "We in the United States are overly dependent on imported oil from some of the most politically unstable and unpredictable parts of the world."

He said the last major oil crisis in the United States was five years ago and the nation yet has not developed a rational energy policy that addresses the problem of an over-dependence on imported oil.

"Instead," he emphasized, "we are awash in a sea of excessive and unreasonable government regulations and we have a socalled energy policy that places an undue dependence on conservation as the answer to the energy problem."

The governor tells it like it is, but this just may be the problem - too "Texas-oriented" for some of the Washington crowd. It also may be too practical for them.

But again, the overall Texas plan would, if adopted, go a longway in easing the energy crisis. Conservation measures certainly are important, but conservation alone will not get the job

President Carter said he has no immediate plans for ordering the mandatory measures included in his program, and that he only is asking for the power to put them into effect.

But before anything else, he should turn the petroleum industry loose to do the job it is capable of doing.

WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

Fraud is in eye of the beholder

By JACK ANDERSON

WASHINGTON - Justice Department' prosecution of a "phantom" native Alaskan village corporation, indicted for allegedly trying to euchre Uncle Sam out of 69,120 acres of valuable land, was quietly - and reluctantly - dropped after a government lawyer's affidavit knocked the bottom out of the case.

The lawyer, former Bureau of Indian Affairs official Robert E. Bruce, insisted that the Shuyak Village corporation was entitled to land it claimed at Port Williams

More crucially, Bruce stated he saw "no evidence of fraud" in the enrollment figures for the village, on which the land claim was based. They were the fault of the BIA and the "complexity of the concepts ... particularly as applied to an unsophisticated and uneducated people."

This cast doubt on the fraudulent intent necessary for criminal prosecution of the village corporation, and the case was dropped The Shuyak Village corporation is a subsidiary of Koniag Inc., a regional native corporation. Koniag submitted 16 villages for certification that would give them over a million acres of federal land in Alaska. But FBI and Interior Department investigators checked out Koniag's villages on the scene and came to the conclusion that seven of them - including Shuyak were phantom settlements created by Koniag to gain title to more than 600,000 acres of public land.

The Bureau of Indian Affairs initially approved all 16 of Koniag's village certification applications. But one federal investigator labeled the certification reports "absolutely fraudulent," noting that there were cases where "the bulk of the supposed villagers were living in Los Angeles.' Doubts about the authenticity of Koniag's villages led Interior Department officials to call in the FBI for a thorough investigation. The years-long probe of Koniag's operations got no cooperation from the native corporation. Quite the contrary. Karl Armstrong, Koniag's executive vice president and Washington lobbyist, made this astonishingly self-incriminating admission to our associate Hal Bernton: "I sent word out to the villagers not to discuss their affairs with any strangers ... especially not any officials of the U.S. government."

Undeterred by this self-proclaimed attempt to obstruct their invsstigation, FBI agents methodically tracked down and interviewed the natives listed as residents on the Shuyak Village application. They concluded that 90 percent of the enrollment was fraudulent. This led to the indictment that was eventually shot down by Bruce's affidavit.

The roots of the Alaska land-grab described by some officials as the biggest attempted public-land swindle of the century - can be traced to the incredibly lax regulations which implemented the 1971 law. "Native villages" were defined in terms so loose as to invite fraud. The regulations permitted native "'residents" to be enrolled by the very corporations which had the most to gain by padding the figures, since the land was awarded in proportion to the village population.

These vague regulations were enthusiastically lobbied for by Koniag's Washington lawyer, Edward Weinberg, a former solicitor in the Interior Department under the Johnson administration. They were opposed by some Interior Department officials who recognized the potential for fraud.

Interestingly, our sources report that these same officials have had little better luck with Jimmy Carter's appointees in the Interior Department. Indeed, instead of pressing for vigorous prosecution of Koniag Inc., the department brass has come out in favor of a special congressionally sanctioned conveyance of 115,000 acres of prime timberland to one of Koniag's phantom villages.

JUNKETING JUNKMEN; The Pentagon's junk dealers apparently like junkets as well as the next bureaucrat. So each year the Defense Property Disposal Service holds regional conferences so officials from Washington can discuss the finer points of unloading excess military hardware with their field representatives overseas.

ANDY EVANS ADDENDUM: In a recent column we referred to American soldiers who were brainwashed during the Korean War. We cited Air Force Col. Andy Evans as one who eventually signed a false war-crime confession after months of mental torture.

Evans, now a retired major general, wrote to clarify our capsulized version of his record. He notes that he signed a statement, which "admitted" participating in germ warfare, only after he was certain the war was over. Also, he was careful to use as a date for the germ-warfare mission a day when he could prove he was in Hong Kong on leave.

Practically the last POW to be set free, Evans defiantly thumbed his nose at a Red Chinese cameraman filming the prisoners as they crossed the bridge to freedom at Panmunjom.

really works on a large scale. How does it?

"Okay, it's simple," Fiddler said. "Come upstairs with me." We went up to the next floor where there was a series of offices with names of different oil companies on the doors. Fiddler went into one of them, the Prairie Dog Oil Co., and he introduced me to Hart Heggler. "Hart, my friend here has never seen a daisy chain. How about setting one up for him?"

"No problem, I was about to do the 2 o'clock one anyway," Hart said. 'Now, the first thing you have to keep in mind is that there's a bunch of oil tanks in Galveston loaded with 100,000 tons of old fuel oil which I own and which should sell for $5 a barrel. I pick up the phone and call the Rattlesnake Petroleum Co., which is in the next office." Fiddler and I went into the next office which, sure enough, had "Rattlesnake Petroleum Co." on the door. The man sitting at the desk was an exact replica of Hart.

"That's Hubbard," Fiddler whispered to me. "He's Hart's twin brother." The phone rang and Hubbard picked it up.

"Hart, well I'll be damned. I haven't heard from you in a long time. Whatcha got on your mind? You wanta sell me 100,000 barrels of new crude at $16 a barrel? Isn't that a might high? No, no, I'll take it, just send over the voucher and I'll give you a check, you lowdown thief."

"He called his brother a thief," I whispered to Fiddler.

"That's just in case anyone's tapped the line," Fiddler explained. "Now let's go to the next office of the Wildcat Crude Oil and Gas Bros.'

There was a fellow sitting on a sofa with a girl next to him and a gold phone cradled in his chin. He dialed a number. "Hubbard, you got any new crude to spare? I'll pay you $20 a barrel.'

Fiddler said, "That's the Hegglers' nephew. He's part of the daisy chain. In 12 minutes the Hegglers have sold the oil three times and each has made a profit. The only thing about it is they're all the same company with different names. Now, the nephew will sell the oil to his brother for $22 a barrel, and that brother will sell it to his eight-year-old son for $24 a barrel. The umbrella company that owns all the oil companies is called All in the

"So that's why they call it daisy chaining. Doesn't the government know what's going on?'

"Well, they have oil tasters who can tell the difference between old oil and new oil. "Where do they find them?"

Fiddler smiled. "They're on loan from the major oil companies.

President Carter's soft approach: Is it working?

WASHINGTON — The world appears to be erupting a bit, but it doesn't seem to disturb our President. Jimmy Carter is almost benign about the danger spots and could almost be saying, "Everything's all right. The world leaders are a good group of men, and have good intentions. He is confident that the Chinese won't overdo it in Vietnam. After all, they have a reputation in diplomatic circles for not lying, and going further than most large nations to cooperate. Besides, some think they are quite reasonable about Taiwan. The Soviets, as far as the President is concerned, are different. They could, indeed, equivocate if it served their interests. But he feels they are serious about wanting a good SALT agreement, and that for us to link that agreement to other U.S.-Soviet issues wouldn't be productive. While shocked by the killing of Ambassador Adolph Dubs in Afghanistan, the President wouldn't personally accuse the Afghans or Soviets of culpability in this tragedy. They were following an anti-terrorist procedure, one our government has grave doubts about, and it didn't work. He stresses how determined the U.S. is not to interfere in the currentIndo-China War, letting our involvement only be technological. He is disappointed that cloud cover has prevented our intelligence system from getting a quality monitoring. We had to make do with radio devices.

Still, it is man who decides, and good works can result when good men are in charge. The President is impressed with the current lot of leaders. Teng is charmingly effective. Sadat is inscrutable, a mystic, a totally assured man. In his heart of hearts, Begin is a peacemaker. Mexico's President Jose Lopez Portillo is dynamic and fascinating, an anomaly in that he comes from the rich aristocracy but is outraged over exploitation of Mexico and its people.

Carter is disappointed that Sadat isn't more of a team player in that Sadat is so critical of the Saudis. whose support is needed for a Middle East peace settlement. After all, good will is needed from whatever quarter. The Saudis have helped, he says, by privately conceding that the Camp David agreement should be consummated - with conditions - while publicly denouncing it.

If Carter ever becomes passionate, it is over the Middle East. He says that he has spent more time on this question than any other, and has endured fierce attacks by the U.S. Jewish community. But he bears it just as he bore the gibes in Mexico last week for the national interest. He told Vice President Mondale that his Middle East effort will be so good for Israel in the long run that he is willing to risk his Presidency for it in the 1980 It is unfortunate, he observes, that

Israel's list of nation-friends is down to the U.S., England, and the Pariahs - Nicaragua, South Africa, and Taiwan. French President Giscard d'Estaing has become so pro-Arab that he is close to becoming anti-Israel, Patience, a low, soft voice, and belief in others characterize Carter's approach. If the Iranians gave notice they were going to execute Marine Sgt. Kenneth Kraus, Carter would have had a problem deciding whether sending in 10,000 Marines - and losing 1,000 - was worth one life.

His hopes for improvement in Mexican-U.S. relations (and future oil for us) are based partly on what he sees as improved relations with Portillo. exchange of technology, and a new study of "undocumented workers," the euphemism for illegal aliens whom Mexico regards as "slaves."

He says he welcomes Henry Kissinger to the White House for heady consultation, but that has happened only twice. He similarly welcomes former President Ford. He keeps in touch with former President Nixon's thinking through his National Security Council director, Zbigniew Brzezinski, but he doesn't talk directly

Carter seems to enjoy the White House he lives and works in. He likes. to spend some evening time in the Second Floor Treaty Room (sometimes called the General Grant' Room) because he feels it is solid and masculine. He has an aversion for the Lincoln Sitting Room, with its dark browns, the site-of that celebrated session where Nixon and Kissinger knelt down and prayed for the good of the republic.

He seems fatalistic about his future. A recent visitor asked if he might visit China in the fall of the election year, 1980. He replied, smilingly, that he might be packing to leave for Plains. Carter is casual, assured and religiously sure that all will be well. His critics claim he is oblivious to the world's real dangers, but who knows, perhaps the soft approach is work-

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) triple the employees at could, result in greater - The Texas Senate's first filibuster was shortlived Wednesday thanks to a fried fish dinner dually instead of as a proved, 141-0, and sent to thrown for lawmakers by the Austin Chamber of Commerce.

Sen. A.R. Schwartz, D-Galveston, droned on for an hour in protest to a motor carriers rate bill until the Senate finally agreed to reset the controversial debate for Monday morning.

Sen. Lloyd Doggett, D-Austin, led fellow lawmakers in a quick retreat to a fresh fried fish luncheon sponsored by the Austin Chamber of Commerce as a pre-March 2 celebration of Texas Independence

Day. "I'm just voting 'yes' because I'm hungry," said Sen. John Traeger, D-Seguin.

Schwartz, D-Galveston, rambled on until almost 12:30 p.m. in opposition to a bill presented by Sen. Ray Farabee, D-Wichita Falls. He will have the floor to continue talking, if he wishes, when the bill comes up again Monday.

Farabee said the billwould require the Texas Railroad Commission to regulate motor carriers in Texas individually or as a group. It would give motor carriers the responsibility to jointly consider and propose 'reason rates, charges and classifications." It also would excuse from Texas antitrust laws motor carriers that act as a group so long as they conform to commission regulations.

This is price-fixing at its very worst," protest-ed Schwartz. "It is not going to help-the people of Texas ... The truckers' lobby wants this because it will help them lie. cheat and steal.'

Farabee said his bill was in no way a pricefixing or deregulation measure. "If we don't get this, we may have to

Young's wife won't speak

AUSTIN, Texas (AP)

— A minority of House members have squelched a black law-maker's attempt to invite the wife of United Nations Ambassador Andrew Young to address the Legislature. Rep. Wilhelmina Delco, D-Austin, needed a two-thirds vote to bypass a committee and take up her resolution inviting Jean Childs Young to speak on Monday.

Mrs. Young, wife of the United States ambassador to the United Nations, is chairwoman of the U.S. Committee for the International Year of the Child. Mrs. Delco's motion failed, 79-53, Wednesday. She needed 87 "aye"

Funds from sales taxes proposed to finance state's public schools

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) - Despite $450 million worth of tax cuts from the 1978 Tax Relief Amendment, Texans remain "mad as hell" about property taxes, says Rep. Bennie Bock II.

Bock, D-New Braunfels, presented his answer to a House subcommittee on Wednesday - spending an eighth of Texas' state sales tax on public schools in place of property taxes. The subcommittee of the House Ways and Means Committee also by $90 a student or 50 percent, whichheard a bill declaring a moratorium on motor fuel taxes on the gasolinealcohol blend called "gasohol" until the product becomes competitive. It will report later to the full committee on both measures.

Bock's bill would cost $675 million over the next two years. In the 1979-80 school year, a district would receive $110 per pupil but only if it cut taxes

Valley citrus season ends early because of freeze

HARLINGEN, Texas (AP) -Chuck Schneider's prematurely empty citrus packing shed stands as testimony to his abilities as a prognosticator. Back in January after a hard freeze crippled the Rio Grande Valley's multi-million dollar citrus industry, Schnedier said, "most of us will be out of fruit by the end of February."

And on Wednesday, the end of February, the owner of Progressive Groves Packing Shed in Weslaco said, "Today's going to be my last day. I've got a few grapefruits to run but I'm. out of oranges.

A check of Valley packing sheds and citrus associations showed much of the same throughout the area. Two freezes - a mild one in December and a hard one in January — have cut the shipping season by more than two

"We may be able to go through next week," said Charles Rogers, owner of a Donna shed. "Usually we go through May.'

Les Whitlock, general manager of the Texas Valley Citrus Committee, said only nine of the about 30 shippers are still sending fruit north. "But it's just a little bit. It's a trickle compared to what it should be," Whitlock said. "It's just about over with, all except the history writ-Jay Holford, president of the Texas

Citrus Exchange, said the crop loss has been great but many growers were able to salvage the season by rushing damaged fruit to the juice plants. Holford and Whitlock agreed that juice prices have been good this

Stave Daines, executive assistant director of the Texas Citrus and Vegetable Shippers here, said he understands that the major shipping cooperatives have closed down.

Some are still shipping but they are being very careful as to the fruit they select. It's on a grove to grove and day to day basis," he said.

An official of one of the large cooperatives said his plant has "just about" ended work for this season. Tom Newell of RioTex said the asseciation has nearly 500 members. Whitlock said the great freeze of '79 will not be soon forgotten. "We will very definitely see some freeze effect next season. The big quesion is how much are we going to be down," he said. "The intelligent guessers, the ones who have been through freezes before, say it could be down 30-60 percent.'

Plan introduced on home loans

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) - A Perryton legislator has introduced what he calls is a "moderate and workable solution" to the present problem of home mortgage loans.

Rep. Bob Close, a Republican, proposed a floating ceiling on mortgage interest rates, compared to the present 10 percent limit.

Other bills in the Legislature would raise the limit to 12 percent. His bill would set the maximum rate of mortgage interest at one of three levels.

ever was less.

"The people of this state are impatient and I don't blame them. Everybody I have been in contact with over the past few years is mad as hell about their property taxes," he said. Bock added that implementation of the Tax Relief Amendment umay be just a temporary solution.'

John Veselka of the Texas Association of School Administrators objected that the bill does not recognize "the unique needs of individual districts and individual students." The $20 per pupil for added expenditures doesn't deal adequately with inflation, new program costs and enrichment by local districts, he said.

"If a community has a concern with improved educational programs it should have the ability to raise funds for those programs," Veselka said.

The gasohol bill received support from agricultural interests and the American Automobile Association but was opposed by road builders because it would reduce income to the

Sam Stone of Austin, representing the American Automobile Association, said AAA chapters in other states report gasohol is "a boon to the motoring public in those states."

Rep. Bill Keese, D-Somerville, the sponsor, said a car that uses unleaded fuel could burn a 90-10 gasoline-alcohol blend without modifications and would get better mileage.

"Being from the East Texas Bible Belt, I don't want to have any alcohol bills coming through my committee,' said subcommittee Chairman Jim Browder, D-Coldspring.

"We would not have anything but denatured alcohol in it, and denatured alcohol is poison," Keese said. Jim Short of the good roads association said motor fuel taxes in Iowa fell about $39 million, or by one-sixth, over the first five years of a tax

Texas farmers want to ban farm land sales to foreigners

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) - Farmers support a proposal to prohibit foreigners from buying choice Texas farm land but doubt the Legislature will enact it, says a farm official. Secretary Ron Butler of the Texas Farmers Union said Wednesday family farms are like "mom-and-pop" groceries and drug stores - slowly going out of existence. Corporate ownership of farm land domestic as well as foreign - is a 'clear and present danger' to Texas, Butler told a news conference.

"It doesn't matter to the Texas farmer whether the investor lives in Saudi Arabia, New York or Houston,' said Butler. "Whenever there is an absentee landlord, the rural economy

Butler, President Jay Naman of the farmers union and several Templearea farmers appeared at a news conference and later testified at a House committee hearing on the prohibition proposals. Family farmers feel speculation in farm land drives up prices and makes it harder for farmers to stay in business. Foreign investment in land retors and state officials have expressed concern.

The farmers union established a task force to study the ownership of land, and it concluded farm land in the United States doubles in value every four to five years, making it an attractive investment. Also, the report said, there is an opportunity for possible profit in farm operations if a boom period ever returns.'

Butler was asked if the task force had estimated how much acreage in Texas was owned by foreigners, and he replied:

"We have no hand-hold on who owns land in Texas. You can go from coun-. ty courthouse to county courthouse and never find who owns land in Texas. We find it is a clear and present danger that warrants prohib-

U.S., China complete relation normalization today

U.S. Treasury Secretary Michael Blumenthal, right, observes the removal of the Flag and seal from the U.S. Liason office in Peking. A new flag and ambassadorial seal marked ceremonies this morning. (AP Laserphoto)

PEKING (AP) — Treasury Secretary W. Michael Blumenthal hoisted the American flag above the first U.S. Embassy on the Chinese mainland since 1949 today as the Chinese and American governments completed the process of establishing normal diplomatic relations.

China was to raise its liaison office in Washington to embassy status with a similar ceremony later in the day. The U.S. Embassy in Taiwan was closed simultaneously with the Peking ceremony. But there was little fanfare in either Peking or Washington, reflecting the strains that have developed because of the Carter administration's outspoken opposition to the Chinese invasion of Vietnam on Feb. 17.

Blumenthal, representing President Carter, told a crowd of 300 in front of the building that has housed the U.S. Liaison Office since it opened in 1973:

"For too long our peoples and our governments have been separated. That separation has ended. Our histories and our political and economic systems are different yet we can trade together and we can work together for a better world."

A phonograph played "The Star-Spangled Banner," a dozen American children sang "America the Beautiful" and the noise of firecrackers added a Chinese touch.

The crowd included American and Chinese employees of the embassy, and their families and about 100 American businessmen. About 200 other Chinese stood across the street watching quietly.

Chinese officials were not invited to the ceremony, reportedly because the Chinese did not invite American officials to their ceremony in Washington. But Vice Premier Yu Chiu-li headed a group of about 25 officials who attended a reception afterward.

Reporters were not invited to the reception and were not told why.

Ambassador Leonard Woodcock, confirmed Monday by the Senate, was still in Washington, where the U.S. Senate confirmed his appointment Monday. When he was sworn in at the State Department Wednesday, he said he hoped the new relationship would help the nations "build a stable East Asia" and establish "peace in the entire world."

T. Stapleton Roy, Woodcock's deputy, said the ceremony had special significance for him because he was present at the Fourth of July ceremony at the U.S. Embassy in Nanking in 1949, a few months before it moved with the Nationalist government to Taiwan.

The United States severed diplomatic ties with the Nationalists on Jan. 1 and established them with the Communist regime. But the United States will continue trade, economic Eight other airmen volunteered for rehabilitation, Air Force officials said, after the investigation showed that 39 airmen had used marijuana both on and off this B-52 bomber base.

"The circumstances varied from case to case," said information officer David McCoure.

He said the airmen all received honorable discharges after facing an administrative discharge board, which recommended such separation to the base commander.

McCoure said the airmen who were discharged and those volunteering for rehabilitation faced no formal charges, but instead went through an administrative process.

Mayor gets barrage of vituperation, eggs

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Racial slurs and a Mardi Gras barrage of eggs, onions and dog biscuits produced tighter security at the home of Mayor Ernest Morial today while striking police walked picket lines for the 13th consecutive day.

No negotiations were planned in the Teamsters walkout by an estimated 1,100 of the city's 1,514 policemen, but the city intended to continue forging a new labor pact with AFL-CIO firemen. The firemen's contract expires Friday, but voting on a new agreement was expected tonight.

In another development, Teamster sanitation workers were expected to again ignore picket lines by police and continue garbage pickups today.

Trash collections stopped last week, then resumed Monday when a state appeals court ordered police to stop picketing sanitation department facilities. Police temporarily picketed in defiance of the court order Wednesday, but garbagemen worked anyway.

James Chubbuck, an executive assistant to Morial, said additional National Guardsmen and non-striking police were stationed at the mayor's home following a Tuesday incident involving five truckloads of Mardi Gras revelers. He said the homes of New Orleans' seven councilmen were also now being guarded.

A police report said some striking policemen and their wives were among those who shouted "Nigger, nigger" outside the home of New Orleans' black mayor and then pelted the house for about five minutes with eggs, onions and dog biscuits. Although Morial and his family were at home at the time, no one was hurt.

"Vandalism is on the increase," said Lt. Frank Hayward, the NOPD's public information officer.

Hayward said a firebomb was found in the front seat of a National Guard truck parked at a district police station, several city and state police cars had their windows shattered and tires punctured or slashed, another state police car had a window shattered by a small caliber weapon and a brick was thrown through the window of a sanitation department facility.

Returning here Wednesday, Teamsters negotiator Joseph Valenti of Detroit told newsmen he had been warned that a group of New Orleans businessmen had issued a $9,000 contract on his life. Valenti would not elaborate, other than to say the FBI and state police were investigating.

Valenti also said a major modification in the union's proposed contract would exclude lieutenants and captains from representation by the Teamsters, although those officers would be free to separately choose their bargaining agent.

A major obstacle had been the union's insistance that the police department's highest ranking officers be covered in any contract, a demand the city rejected on grounds the union would control NOPD's administrative structure.

Hospital workers decertify union in Texarkana vote

TEXARKANA, Texas (AP) — Wadley Hospital officials hail a vote to decertify the union that called the first hospital strike in Texas a "victory" for both employees and the residents of this northeast Texas

Employees voted by an almost 3-2 margin Wednesday to end their affiliation with the Communication Workers of America, said A.L. McElmurry, the hospital administrator.

"Today's defeat of CWA represents a victory for both the employees of Wadley hospital and the citizens of Texarkana," McElmurry said. "We

Mudslide sends train off track

BUCHANAN, Va. (AP) — A mudslide caused 38 cars of a Chessie System freight train to derail and tumble 40 feet down a steep bank to the edge of the James River, officials say.

The train carried no hazardous materials and no one was injured in the accident, which occurred Wednesday about 35 miles north of Roanoke. The western Virginia area was hit by heavy snow and rain last week.

Crews were expected to try to clear the twisted, partially buried cars from the tracks today.

Botetart County Sheriff Richard Beard said one of the cars fell into the river and floated nearly a quartermile from the derailment site. Other cars lay in the mud along the steep bank or came to rest in the river, he said, adding that the engine and seven cars got past the slide.

Chessie System spokesman Willis Cook said from Huntington, W.Va., that excessive moisture could have undermined the tracks.

The train originated in Chicago and was bound for Newport News, Va., hauling grain, coal and piggyback truck trailers.

are indeed pleased with this victory and we all look foreward to maintaining an atmosphere of harmony and understanding between the management and the employees of the hospital."

He said hospital employees voted 398-234, in an election overseen by the National Labor Relations Board, to decertify the union as their collective bargaining agent.

McElmurry said the union has five days to appeals the election results. Union representatives were not present at a post-election news conference, and could not be reached for comment late Wednesday.

The union called the only strike against a hospital in Texas history in June, 1978. The walkout lasted 143 days until last November.

The voting involved 625 hourly workers at the medical complex, according to a hospital spokesman. Only persons who were former strikers or present employees who were hired before the Jan. 13 pay period were eligible to vote in Wednesday's election

Hospital employees voted by a 65 percent margin in December, 1976, to adopt the CWA as their collective bargaining agent. The employee'8s vote Wednesday was 59 percent to decertify the union.

U.S. keeping track of border war with use of electronic ears, eyes

By FRED S. HOFFMAN

WASHINGTON (AP) - Lacking observers anywhere near the battlefield, the United States is relying on a complicated mosaic of intercepted radio messages and satellite photographs to keep track of the Chinese-

Vietnamese war. The process of patching together the products of such remote intelligence means that assessments available to senior U.S. officials lag at least 12 hours behind actual events on the battlefield. This is a far cry from what intelligence officials are used to. In the 1973 Mideast war, for example, U.S. military attaches and diplomats were present in the capitals of the warring

At least in the case of Israel, American military officers attached to the embassy were given detailed briefings and access to the fighting fronts. As a result, U.S. officials in Washington received a steady stream of timely tables reflecting the ebb and flow of the battles.

The United States has no diplomatic relations with Vietnam and, therefore, has no official representatives in Hanoi in touch with the government there. There is a U.S. diplomatic mission in Peking, but no American military officers are stationed there.

While some information reaches U.S. officials from friendly countries with diplomatic missions in Hanoi, intelligence from such sources is generally of a dubious quality.

Therefore, U.S. intelligence agencies depend principally on what their electronic ears and photographic eyes

The detailed methods by which U.S. intelligence information is gathered are closely guarded secrets.

States keeps aloft several kinds of tored effectively, "so we can't keep reconnaissance satellites traveling in orbits at different altitudes. Some observation satellites are as far out as about 25,000 miles, others pass over the earth in orbits as low as about 135 miles from the surface.

High-resolution cameras, particularly in low-orbit satellites, can easily pick out objects such as tanks, artillery batteries and trucks. Some satellites are able to pierce the cover of night with radar and infra-red heat-detecting sensors. Photographs are ejected in capsules that parachute toward earth and are plucked out of the air by specially equiped Air Force planes.

Television links are used to transmit pictures in black and white, color and infra-red patterns to ground and ship stations,

But a veteran intelligence specialist said "this kind of military action in that kind of territory is hard to keep track of by photography" from satellites. Vietnam-Chinese fighting so far has been mostly in mountainous ter-

A specialist said the difficulties stem from a "combination of weather and ambiguities on the ground.'

Asked what he meant by ambiguities, he said, "You really can't see an infantry line on the ground, but you can see a mass of tanks."

It takes analysis of many photographs, snapped during successive satellite orbits, to determine changes in the battle area, experts said.

They indicated that some of the most valuable information is obtained from constant listening-in on Vietnamese and Chinese military radio communications. This is called signal intelligence.

One expert said forward combat elements probably are using lowpower radios that cannot be moni-up with the battle hour by hour.'

But, he said, "We can intercept communications with higher headquarters when higher-powered radios are used. That's how the U.S. has identified 17 Chinese divisions deployed in the Vietnamese border

This intercepted information is recorded, translated and coordinated with satellite-gathered photography to develop assessments of the war

The location of U.S.-manned land listening stations in the Asian area is one of the most sensitive secrets, partly because of possible diplomatic complications which could lead to their shutdown if a host nation was embarrassed by disclosure of their

U.S. patrol planes and Navy ships operating in international waters also carry on radio intercepts that fit into the mosaic constructed by the intelligence analysts.

When one is found, he said, a person merely takes down the name, then goes to the Bureau of Vital Statistics and asks for a birth certificate in that

"And from that point on," Mitton said, "you're home free."

Foreign students - aliens granted entry to the United States solely to study - are not regulated in the same way as other aliens living and working here.

Unlike the ordinary resident alien, the student is not required to report his address to immigration authorities every year. Diplomats, including embassy officials and United Nations staffs, also are exempt from the reporting rule, as are foreign military members in training here.

The U.S. Attorney General's Office determines who is exempt from the reporting rule, Mitton said.

Current intense interest in tracking the movements of foreign students was sparked by the Jan. 2 melee between Iranian students and police outside the Beverly Hills mansion of the Shah's sister and mother. But the students who so easily disappear from federal recordkeeping come from practically everywhere, Mitton said. 'Iranians do it, Scandinavians do it, Mexicans do it. No one group predominates," he said.

Those who disappear from their campuses tend to fall into two general categories, Mitton said.

"Most of those people who've disappeared into the woodwork never really intended to go to college, but to work," he said.

"Others have an unsuccessful learning experience, but instead of going home, they'd rather stay here and work.

"Either way, the end motivation is usually the same," he said. "This is the land of opportunity; they want to make money.

And once the decision to stay is made, the process of acquiring the necessary documents is fairly simple.

'We don't require proof of citizenship from anybody," said a California Department of Motor Vehicles spokesman. "It would be very simple for a foreign student to obtain a license. You could just give an address near, say, a university that would just about be enough.

Port again delayed

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) - The long-delayed House vote on a $2.4 million appropriation to continue state efforts toward construction of a deepwater port for jumbo oil tankers has been postponed again.

Rep. Jerry Benedict, D-Angleton, a sponsor, obtained House permission Wednesday to postpone floor action for a week. The bill was approved by the Senate more than a month ago.

"We need more time to talk to members here on the floor," Benedict told reporters.

The measure has attracted considerable opposition, but Benedict said, "I see a good chance of getting 76 votes" - a House majority.

Benedict said it would be hard to get the 100 votes necessary to put the measure into immediate effect, and this would mean "the latter part of July and all of August are going to be a dry month" for the Texas Deepwater Port Authority.

But, he said, the authority could get by.

The bill would appropriate the money to the authority in stages as it progresses toward getting a federal license and issuing $1.2 billion in bonds to build the offshore port 26 miles south of The authority would have to repay the state treasury from the first proceeds of its proposed bond issue.

Benedict said 50 representatives have told him they will vote for the bill and added that oil and chemical lobbyists are pursuing votes for it as well.

Oklahoma gets reprieve

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) - State Senate President Pro Tem Gene Howard says Gov. George Nigh has informed him that federal officials will grant Oklahoma a 30-day reprieve on enacting a bill natural gas producers say will protect them from heavy financial losses.

The bill, which is awaiting action on the Senate floor, would designate the state Corporation Commission as the agency to regulate natural gas price adjustments under the Federal Energy Act.

The federal act gave states until today to name an agency to regulate the price adjustments in order for natural gas producers to apply for price adjustments retroactive to Dec.

Howard, D-Tulsa, told senators Wednesday that Gov. Nigh called him from Washington, D.C., and told him Oklahoma would get an extension on designating an agency to administer the price adjustments.

He said the governor told him he had met with officials of the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission (FERC) and asked for the 30-day extension.

U.S. to ask IEA nations to curb petroleum use

By JOHN M. BERRY and J.P. SMITH The Washington Post

WASHINGTON - In a dramatic response to rising oil prices and the threat of worldwide shortages, the United States today will ask the member nations of the International Energy Agency to agree to reduce oil consumption by 3 percent to 5 percent. The Washington Post has learn-

The action is intended in part to try

ENERGY OIL & GAS

to head off another major oil price increase, which could come at a scheduled meeting of the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries March 26 in Genevas

The proposed reduction is expected to trigger a series of mandatory and voluntary conservation measures in this country. They include weekend closings of gasoline stations, restrictions on temperatures in non-residential buildings and stricter enforcement of the 55 mph speed limit, as early as this summer, according to U.S. officials.

Despite this, strict gasoline rationing should not be necessary, officials

The proposal to the IEA represents the administration's most significant response to the loss of more than 5 million barrels a day of Iranian oil exports and to a string of price increases announced in recent days by individual members of OPEC.

The main target of the U.S. proposal is prices. Administration officials fear OPEC might raise sharply its official price of $13.34 a barrel if industrial nations take no action to cut consumption before the March 26 meeting.

In congressional testimony Wednesday, Energy Secretry James Schlesinger warned that OPEC prices easily could rise to $16 or $17 a barrel soon and predicted that the current shortage could push the price of unleaded gasoline to $1 a gallon "within a year or so."

Full details of the agreement remain to be worked out, but the United States has received assurance from most of the 19 industrial nations in the IEA, including Japan, West Germany and Great Britain, that they will formally accept the proposal during meetings Thursday and Friday. Other administration officials said the economy should suffer very little placing on pump next day if the cut in oil use is properly man- DAWSON COUNTY aged. But the combination of higher oil prices and reduced consumption, whether on a voluntary or a mandatory basis, will tend to generate more EDDY COUNTY inflation and less real economic activ-

The worry of administration economists is that, without some vigorous action, oil prices would shoot up so high that a recession could hardly be avoided.

Officially, the administration predicts the economy willslow later this year, but that there will not be a recession. Many private economists think otherwise.

"The sooner we do something, the less we have to do later," said one official. "The main thing is to get on top of prices.

Alice M. Rivlin, head of the Congressional Budget Office, testified Wednesday that the economic fallout from Iran's oil shutdown "could further weaken the economy and increase the risk of a recession.'

If the Iranian oil shutdown continued for the rest of the year, Rivlin said CBO estimates it would result in a loss of half a percentage point in real gross national product, and could increase unemployment by about two-tenths of a percentage point, resulting in the loss of about 200,000

President Carter has not decided precisely which mandatory measures to use to achieve the cut in consumption, but all of those being sent to Capitol Hill this week for congressional approval except gasoline rationing probably will be needed. Altogether, oil use would have to be cut by 600,000 to 900,000 barrels a day, administration sources said.

Since the winter heating season is nearing an end, the most signifcant oil savings this summer would come from closing gasoline stations for part or all of the period from noon Friday until midnight Sunday. The Energy Department estimates such closings could save 246,000 barrels a day, if everyone complied.

Over the course of a full year, the restrictions on non-residential building temperatures would produce greater savings. Winter thermostat settings could be no higher than 65 degrees, and summer setting no lower than 80 degrees. Hot water temperatures generally could be no more than

The Energy Department estimates these restrictions would save up to-360,000 barrels of oil a day. Summer savings would be lower since most air conditioning units are electrical, and relatively less oil is used nationwide for generating electrical power than for heating buildings.

At the IEA's last meeting in January, member countries expressed the desire to develop a concerted effort to respond to the problem of the Iranian export cutoff. "No one wanted the IEA's mandatory sharing plan to be used," a Carter official said.

Under a 1974 IEA agreement, mem-bers must share available oil supplies if a shortage reaches 7 percent of total

While Schlesinger and senior State Department officials in recent days have been ruling out a formal triggering of the sharing agreement, they have said some sort of conservation measures might have to be adopted.

"There are differences of view among the IEA, some want prices just to go up - getting all IEA members to agree is not easy," Schlesinger told a Senate panel. The real question for IEA members has been what should the target be for reducing consumption. Consultations among the members suggest the 3 percent to 5 percent range, which is expected to be pinned down by Friday. Drafting all the details of the agreement could take up to two months, sources said.

The United States apparently would prefer reductions closer to 5 percent than 3 percent.

Because other OPEC nations have stepped up their output since Iran halted exports, the worldwide drop in production is calculated at 2 million barrels a day, out of worldwide consumption of about 50 million barrels.

However, officials are concerned that extra production might not be continued indefinitely, particularly if Iran resumes some exports, as its new government says it intends to

A State Department official said the IEA conservation measures, if adopted, would take place by "late summer - not by early fall." The official also said the U.S. proposal enjoys "wide support" from many of the member nations, including West Germany.

$1 million in furs seized in El Paso weekend raid

authorities in El Paso are trying to figure out how to sell more than $1 million in illegal furs and skins shipped this week to the border city.

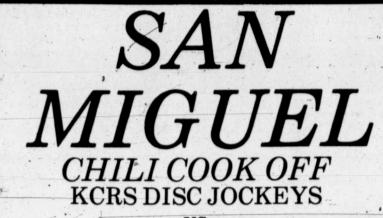

Agents of the U.S. Customs bureau and of the Texas Fish and Wildlife Service seized 17,538 skins valued at $1.1 million - some from endangered species - in a weekend raid on a 37,000-acre ranch in the Big Bend area of Texas, authorities said

Tom Riley, head of the Fish and Wildlife office in El Paso, called the seizure the largest ever made in the United States. He said the furs and skins now must be disposed of before

David M. Adams was arrested with four illegal aliens on his ranch. They were charged in Pecos with conspiracy to smuggle and with smuggling the skins from Mexico; violating the endangered species laws; and illegally transporting the skins in interstate or foreign commerce.

Adams was released on $35,000 personal recognizance bond, Riley said.

The agent said the agents seized 1,336 Mexican lynx skins, 5,878 ringtail cat skins, 3,000 grey fox skins, 4,620 coyote skins, 1,066 raccoon skins, 636 skunk skins, 562 badger skins, 3 house cat skins and one un-

Receiving the American Law Enforcement Association Honor Award earlier this week is Charles E. Carter Jr., right, law enforcement coordinator at Midland College, who was given the honor for his part in "leading many law enforcement graduates to enter their careers as qualified professionals."

Lettuce strike: It's high stakes on future of Cesar Chavez, union

By RAY KIPP Copley News Service

United Farm Workers Union president Cesar Chavez may have gambled the future of his 17-year-old union in the lettuce fields of California's Imperial Valley.

A victory in the strike could provide Chavez the springboard he has lacked to carry his labor organization into other states with the same success he enjoys in California.

A defeat could crumble his base of support in California even though his 30,000-member union is protected by the strongest agricultural labor law in the nation.

Major victories - the type that capture national attention - have been few and far between since Chavez brought - California grape growers to their knees with a strike and worldwide boycott.

He has continued to win contracts, but he also has lost a number of representation and decertification Some of his own forces are unhappy with medical benefits and other provisions of their contracts. So Chavez, the man viewed more as farm worker, apparently has selected the Imperial Valley to show his strength once again.

More than 3,100 UFW members are on strike against eight of the 28 major vegetable growers in the Salinas and Imperial Valley areas, and more are expected to be hit.

Chavez, negotiators seek pay raise increases ranging from 30-90 percent.

The growers, many of whom believe this is the time to try to break the UFW hold over California farmers, have offered a 7 percent wagefringe benefit increase in each year of a three-year contract.

The conclusion of the negotiation ritual can expect to find the eventual settlement somewhere between the opening offers of both sides. But attention has strayed from the bargaining table, and it may be difficult for either side to make the first concession.

The strike once again has captured national attention for Chavez by occurring in the middle of the lettuce harvest in the Imperial Valley, which produces 95 percent of the country's winter lettuce.

Harvest operations have been the Messiah than the leader of the crippled at the struck farms, costing growers millions of dollars. Wholesale lettuce prices have skyrocketed, with consumer prices expected to follow.

The walkout has the potential for eventually affecting almost every vegetable crop grown in California, and could involve up to 16,000 UFW members

The public is more interested in what is happening in the fields of the Imperial Valley than at the bargaining table, and each side is locked in a bitter public relations campaign to win support for his position.

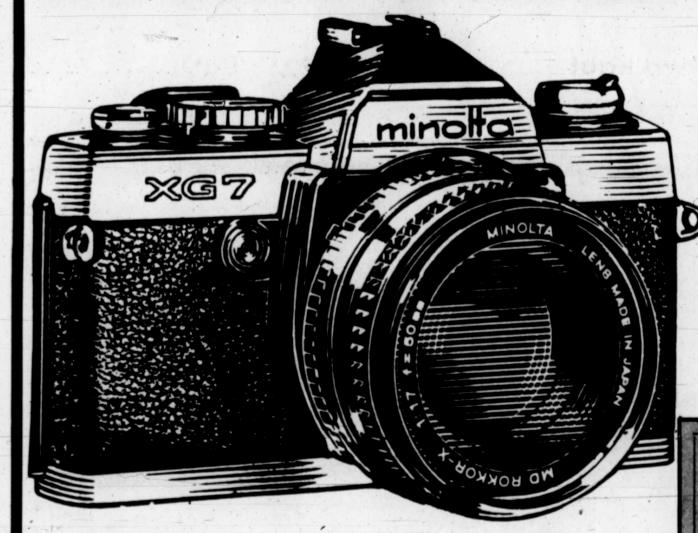

The growers have hired the Los Angeles-based public relations firm of Bill Roberts, who engineered a campaign to defeat a farm workers' initiative - Proposition 14 - on the 1976 ballot.

"Farmers for too long have sat back and taken a beating because they weren't willing to tell their side of the story while Chavez ran around and captured the headlines," said Jon Vessey, one of the first farmers hit by

Dunn sees his share of dogs and cats as head of a Charlestown, R.I., animal hospital. But twice a week he gets to deal instead with dolphins, whales, seals and other ocean mammals that pose problems not often seen by other vets.

Getting a blood sample from a dolphin, for example, means draining the animal's pool and enlisting a crew of helpers to hold the animal down.

Even then, Dunn says, a large dolphin can — and often does — knock over a half-dozen handlers before some ointment," says Dunn. "That's not going to the deed is done.

Getting the needle in a vein is only part of the condition which may have caused the problem."

Even though his unusual practice requires feats from their skins toward their vital organs, and getting a blood sample can easily take an hour.

The work also has rewards.

Advertising message to key exhibit, speech

A talk exploring the way advertising gets its message across through the mass media is slated at Midland College Friday evening.

The discussion is part of an exhibit currently on display at McCormick Gallery in the Midland College Fine Arts Building.

Dr. Robert Rothstein, professor of archaeology and sociology at The University of Texas of the Permian Basin in Odessa, will speak in the Fine Arts Building lecture hall at Midland College at 8 p.m. on "The Psychology of the Mass Media: Advertising's Hidden Message.

There will be no charge; the public has been invited to attend.

Now on display is "And Now a Message ...," a new exhibition organized by the Smithsonian Institution Traveling Exhibition Service on the growth of modern advertising between 1830 and 1930.

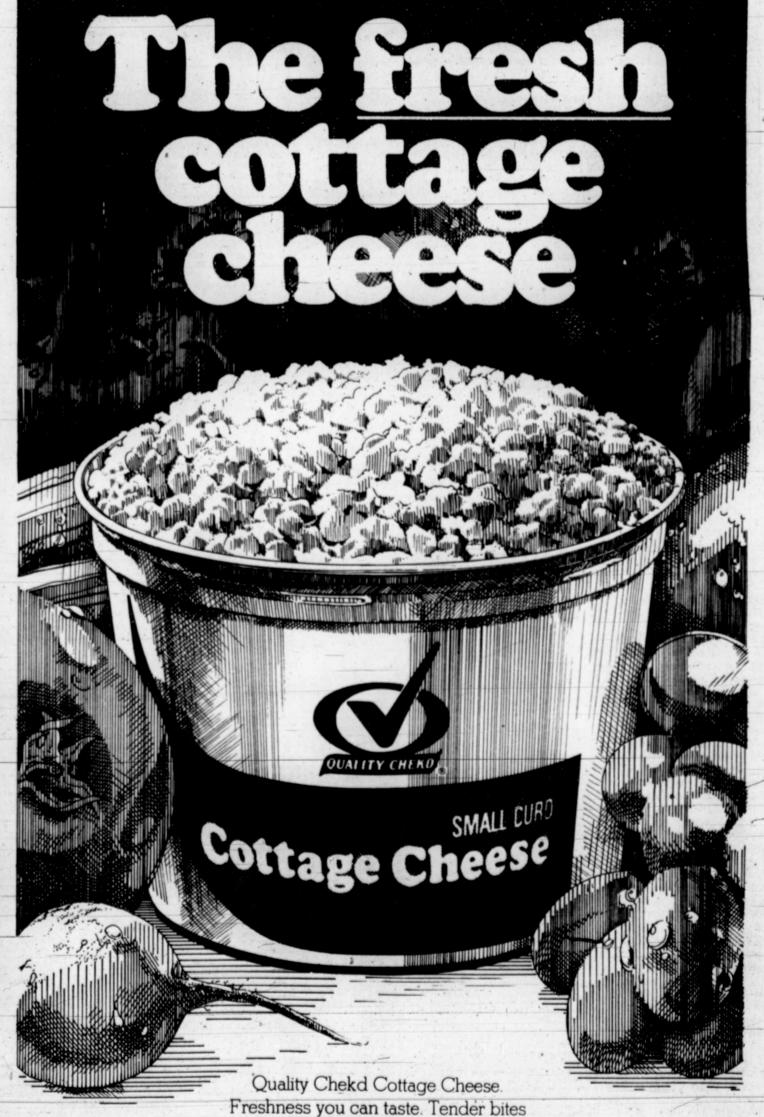

Thirty-two photographic panels trace the development of advertising from simple, representative signboards and smaller newspaper ads to. the beginning of large campaigns and use of product personalities.

Both black and white and color photographs are used to reproduce actual advertising devices from the Seriod covered.

The exhibition was researched and written by Dr. Keith E. Melder, former curator of political history at the Smithsonian and author of the several books and articles on American his-

Now eastern fishermen say it's over-regulation

BOSTON (AP) - The schools of cod and haddock have grown since foreign fishermen were chased from New England's rich fishing waters two years ago, but so have the complaints from U.S. fishermen.

The problem, say New England fishermen, is over-regulation by the same law that made the foreign competition pull in its nets and set sail.

Two years ago today, the U.S. Fishery Conservation and Management Act ended the severe depletion of fish stocks by the commercial fleets of the Soviet Union, Japan and Poland. The law set strict limits on foreign vessels fishing within 200 miles of U.S. shores, but it also set regulatory controls on American fishermen.

"The situation is tough because we're dealing with a group that has never been under regulation," said Norm Olsen of Portland, Maine, a fisherman who serves on the New England Fishery Council.

Quotas set by the council are aimed at allowing the fish population in Georges Bank and the Gulf of Maine to recover from decades of overfishing by foreign fleets.

But the fish are plentiful now, say the fishermen, and quotas only keep them from making more money. "There's plenty of fish out there."

says Edwin Smith, general manager of the New Bedford Seafood Cooperative. "A man should be able to go out and make a living instead of having to stay in port."

Quotas are set on several species, allowing so many to be taken each quarter: Some quotas are filled well before the three months are up, banhing certain catches for weeks. "We had a closure from Nov. 19 to

Jan. 1 last year," said Harry Swain, president of Boatowners United Inc. of New Bedford. "It was an economic disaster for some of the men. A boat owner has to hope he can make his payments until he can go out

But David Crestin of the Gloucester office of the National Marine Fisheries Service says, "It's tough to predict what the stocks are going to do, and the fishing industry doesn't believe us.'

Figures from fisheries officials show fishing has gotten better - and more profitable - since the law went into effect. In 1976, New England fishermen hauled in 293.3 miltton pounds of fish valued at $69.7 million. Last year, the catch was 350.3 million pounds, worth $100.7 million.

But there are also more fishermen: the number of U.S. vessels trolling the waters has doubled since the foreign ships left.

"If we did nothing to control their catch, they would have taken more and certainly made more money,' said Crestin. "Anytime you affect someone's pocketbook, actually or potentially, they're going to be mad at

Others say the controls have a roller coaster effect on prices, which rise when fishermen cannot bring in fresh catches. Smith said the price of cod went from 30 cents a pound the first six months of 1978 to 70 cents the last half when lower limits were im-

Olsen and other members of the New England Fishery Council are looking for ways to improve the regulatory process and stabilize prices,

"There may be a way to clear this up, but I can't tell you what,it is," said Olsen. "The problem is everybody's for regulation as long as it doesn't territorial integrity.' There were reports Wednesday that Amin and his family had fled Uganda, but in a Uganda Radio broadcast later in the day Amin asked Kenya, Zaire, Sudan, Rwanda and Burundi to try and persuade Nyerere to accept OAS peace efforts.

Observers speculated Amin's broadcast was a desperate attempt to halt Tanzania's creeping encroachment in the southern part of his nation. He has accepted mediation by the OAS, which has asked for a cease-fire but declined to condemn either nation. Uganda invaded Tanzania in October, Amin claimed a chunk of Tanzania, and reviled Nyerere, but the Tanzanian president vowed to even the score, and his forces invaded Uganda several weeks ago and now hold the upper hand.

(b) Any building in danger of falling and injuring the person or proper-

property of others; or

(d) Any building which is in the condition or conditions described in subsections (a) or (b) or (c) hereof, which is damp and in unsanitary condition, which is likely to create disease and sickness. When used in this Chapter the term "Building" shall include any erection or structure of any kind or any part thereof.

The City Building Official has found that the above referred lots contain a building, structure or portions thereof which are dangerous or dilapidated as defined above and are in violation of 4-8-1 of the City Code. Also noted above, are the defects attributable to each structure on each of said lots. The owners or occupants of said structure are hereby notified to commence repairs, improvements or demolition and removal of the building or structure or portions thereof within fifteen (15) days from the date of publication of the notice, and all such work shall be completed within ninety (90) days from date of notice, unless otherwise stipulated by the building official. The said above referred structures, building or portion thereof are to be vacated forthwith and not occupied until the required repairs and improvements are completed, inspected, and approved by the building official.

If the owner or occupant shall fail, neglect or refuse to comply with the notice to repair, rehabilitate or demolish the Building Official may prosecute the said owner or occupant as a violator of this Chapter. In addition, the Building Official shall notify the City Council of the City of Midland of such fact and the said City Council may order the Building official to proceed with the works specified in such notice or order such building or structure to be demolished or removed and may cause the cost of such work to be paid and levied as a special assessment against the property at a public hearing before the City Council.

Midland will host the best swimmers and divers in West Texas Friday and Saturday as teams from all over the northern and western part of the state converge on the Tall City in hopes of earning a trip to Aus-

The Mabee Memorial Swim Center will be the site of the two-day Region I Swimming Meet while Odessa Permian will host the divers.

Preliminaries are set for 2 p.m. Friday while finals will be held at 2 p.m. Saturday.

In the preliminary competi tion Friday, swimmers will be seeking one of the top six places in each event. Six swimmers will move into Saturday's finals. Saturday, the top two swimmers in each event will earn a trip to the state swimming and diving meet in Austin in two

THE GIRLS diving will be held at the Odessa Permian pool at 9 a.m. Friday while the boys will stage their competition at 9 a.m. Saturday.

In the boys competition, Amarillo High and Midland Lee are expected to square off in a battle for the team title while Midland High and El Paso Coronado will add to the excitement while Coronado is expected to be a big winner in the girls competition with Amarillo High, Amarillo Tascosa and Odessa Permian the top competitors.

Midland Lee swimming coach David Whytlaw thinks his Rebels can compete for the boys title with swimmers entered in 18 individual events and two "Amarillo High has beaten us every time we have swam they have a lot of depth. But in this meet, depth won't be quite as important with points going only to six places," Whytlaw "We may not win, but I think Amarillo will know they have been in a real meet when it's all over.'

THE MIDLAND High boys will have people in 10 individual races and two relays, but may be too shallow to win the team

"We could possibly qualify in four events in the state meet, but we will need a little luck to qualify any relay teams. Our relay teams aren't bad, but there is some good competition," MHS swim boss Jesse

Lee's boys will be paced by Carey Carrens, who was 5-4A's only three-event winner. But the Rebels have fire power with Cleve Carrens, Robin Franke, Paul Friemel, John Kimberly and Mark Solari all entered in three events also. Scott Beatty and Jon Franke will be in two events while Todd Stone and Ronnie Black are each in one may earn two state berths, will be in three events for the Bulldogs as will Craig Carley and Buddy Goodgame. Midland High also produced a 1-2-3-4 place sweep in the 5-4A diving competition, and Marsh feels like they might repeat that feat again. MHS divers are Ricky Morton, Mike Krauss, Randy Peets and Charlie Corbin.

TONY GUNN will be in two events for MHS while the relays will be filled out by Jimmy O'Neill, Mike Sharp and Berry Klempanur. Klempanur will be on two relay teams.

The local teams are somewhat weaker in the girls competition, but Lee will have nine swimmers making up 10 individual events and two relays while Midland High will have six girls making up nine individual events and two relays.

Lee's Patti Bruton, Heidi Franz, Holly Franz and Sara Hellinghausen will carry a big load for the Rebels. Each will be in two individual races and a relay team. Emily Murrah is in a race and a relay while Karen Fidler is in an individual event. Deanne Pare, Kerry Crowley and Meg Harrington will help out with relay duties.

Three event performers for Midland High's girls are Loryanne Coon, Chrissie Faller, Laurie MacCurdy and Paula Gordon. Coon is expected to earn a state berth in at least one event. Gordon will be on both relay teams while MacCurdy and Coon are on one. Shelia Hill and Holly White will each be in an individual race and a relay.

It's official---Astros may go up for sale SAN ANTONIO, Texas (AP) - If officials of the Houston Astros want to sell their National League baseball team, B.J. "Red" McCombs says they need look no farther than the chief stockholder of pro basketball's San Antonio Spurs. That happens to be "Red" McCombs. 'The next move is up to them. When they are ready to continue the discussions, they know I am ready," the San Antonio businessman said Wednesday night after Astros' officials tersely dismissed last week's meetings with McCombs as "exploratory."

The team officials added, "No further contact is planned on either side in the near future.'

McCombs, 51, a car dealer, board chairman of the National Basketball Association's Spurs and reportedly a multi-millionaire, said earlier Wednesday that he was conducting "ongoing negotiations" for the team with officials of Astrodomain Corp.

The corporation oversees the baseball team, the Houston Astrodome and its convention facilities.

Astrodomain President William Odem then issued the statement that indefinitely shelved the discussions. After hearing the statement, McCombs said, "I think now that the team's statement would have to stand. They are not interested in pursuing it at this time.'

McCombs, instrumental in bringing pro basketball to San Antonio in 1973, is the chief stockholder of the Spurs, who have no single majority owner.

SWC Basketball Classic to open action tonight

By DENNE H. FREEMAN AP Sports Writer

HOUSTON (AP) - Houston Coach Guy Lewis says don't expect the Cougars to be the surprise of the 1979 post season Southwest Conference Basketball Classic beginning tonight.

Lewis' Cougars finished third last year then stunned favorite Arkansas on a last-second shot by Cecile Rose to capture the tournament.

We were a big strong team last year, and we used our strength in the tournament," said Lewis. "We are not big and we are not strong this year. It is a completly different type

The unusual situation was set up when Krum, 43-0, and Snook, 43-2, advanced to the tournament in the same division - Class B.

Krum won the B title last year by edging Avinger, 69-68, and Snook squeezed by Coppell, 63-62, in Class A. Krum met West Lamar of Petty in the opener of the three-day tournament today, with Snook matched against Whitharrel in the other semi-

It is Snook's 12th trip to the tournament since 1962, and the Bluejays have won four championships.

Krum won in 1971, nipping Snook, Whitehouse and Huntsville also will seek their second straight championships at the three-day tournament, which opened today.

Whitehouse, 29-5, will defend its 2A title against Altair of Rice, Boling and Huntsville, 25-5, plays Daingerfield, which has won 26 of 27 games, in the semifinals Thursday night, followed by the Mineral Wells-Bay City game. Daingerfield won the 1977 champion-

Houston Madison, 39-0, eliminated Houston Wheatley, the defending 4A champion, 74-70, in regional competition and will meet Lufkin in the semifinals Friday afternoon. Lufkin is making its first tournament appearance in 31 years, after finishing as runnerup three times in the 1940s. Madison's scoring leader is 6-foot-11 Greg Kite, who won a lawsuit to allow him to enroll in a summer basketball camp. Kite averages 17.7 points a game. Only one player on the 15-man roster is under six feet. Fort Worth Dunbar, a 1977 runnerup, and Austin Lanier play Friday night in 4A. Lanier is the first Austin team to advance to the tournament

Reagan County of Big Lake and Vega will play in a Class A semifi-lor fray Friday night, whisle 9thranked Arkansas plays the survivor of the Aggie-Red Raider game.

Lewis said the biggest attribute of the 1979 Cougars, who finished in sixth place, was "they just kept hanging in there ... they had a chance to completely quit but they didn't."

Houston, which lost twice to Baylor during the regular season, will get forward Victor Ewing back for the Baylor game after he had been sidelined with a foot injury.

LEWIS SAID the Cougars biggest problem will be stopping All America guard Vinnie Johnson.

Johnson was named to The Associated Press' second team All America list Thursday and Lewis said, "I don't know how you stop Vinnie Johnson. We just hope we can stop some of the other guys on the team."

Baylor Coach Jim Haller said he thought Lewis was whistling in the

"I think Houston is very physical and just as aggressive as any team in the league," said Haller. "Those first two games we won don't mean a thing, and our most physical player (Marty Zeller) won't play because of a broken foot.

However, Haller conceded: "Vinnie usually plays his best in a big

Haller said Houston had a big "psychological edge" because the game was being played in Houston and that the Bears had handled the Cougars twice previously.

AGGIE COACH Shelby Metcalf, whose team was 11-5 and third place in the regular campaign, said he would not know who his starting guards would be until tip off.

HOUSTON: tip off.

Metcalf said he hadn't been getting very good guard play. Asked if he had an answer for hot-dogging guard Dave Britton's antics on the court, Metcalf wisecracked, "Yea, you just play him less.'

Britton wasn't among the first four guards Metcalf named who might

All four coaches picked Texas to win the tournament. But Texas Coach Abe Lemons wasn't around to defend himself at the SWC press conference. Both Lemons anad Arkansas Coach

Eddie Sutton were no-shows, but were expected in Houston Thursday for the second round of the tournament. They had become involved in a shouting match the last time the two teams met and there was curiosity among the media just how they would handle their first meeting since their muchpublicized fuss in Austin.

Phillips named top freshman

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP) - Alabama's Eddie Phillips, a 6-foot-6 forward from Birmingham, is the pick among the Southeastern Conference's basketball coaches as the league's outstanding freshman.

Phillips edged Kentucky's Dwight Anderson as the 10 SEC coaches voted in a poll published Wednesday by The Knoxville News-Sentinel.

Phillips, averaged 14.8 points and 5.6 rebounds a game for the Crimson Tide. Anderson, a 6-foot-3 guard who did not break into Kentucky's starting lineup until Jan. 20, averaged 13.4

Lee girls face Plainview

Midland Lee's Dee Dee Poole, senior standout.

ABILENE - Coach Shirley Stephenson's Midland Lee girls' basketball team has drawn Plainview in the opening round of the Class AAAA state regional tourney to be played at the J.W. Hunt Center on the campus of McMurry College Friday.

Lee and Plainview tangle in the 6 p.m. game followed by the El Paso Burges-Richland game

The winners then meet at 2 p.m. Saturday for the regional championship and a berth in the state tournament next weekend in Austin.

Lee takes a 29-7 record into the Plainview game which includes Thursday's big 50-38 victory over R.L. Turner of Carrollton in the bi-district game, also played in the L.W. Hunt Center.

In that game, Deborah Ledbetter and Leisha Watkins led the way with 17 and 14 points for the Rebel girls. Plainview beat Amarillo in bi-district play while Burges polished off last year's regional champions, El Paso Parkland in bi-district play. Richland, meanwhile, drew a first round bye and didn't have to play a bi-district con-place with New Mexico Military Institute, Midland is a cinch to finish fourth and if all the pieces fall in place, might finish as high as second. Odessa, which has two more games left, is a half game ahead of MC and NMMI with an 11-5 record. Western Texas College, 15-2, is the only team that knows where it is going to finish. The Westerners again clinched the title and a sure spot in the Region V tournament at Big Spring next week. The way the Regional tournament is set up, the top three teams in the WJCC and the Northern Conference automatically earn playoff berths. The fourth place team in the WJCC then plays the fifth place team in the Northern Conference for the remaining spot in the tourney.

In addition to tonight's game at Amarillo College, Odessa has a make up game with Frank Phillips in NMMI finishes its season at Snyder against Western Texas College tonight. The Broncos beat WTC at Roswell earlier in the year, but have been in a slump of late.

"All we can do is play to win," shrugs MC Coach Jerry Stone, who refuses to worry about his rivals' might be doing. "After that, we'll must play one game at a time, whether it's a playoff game or regional tournament.

Should MC be forced into a playoff, it would be March 7 at Big Spring. The Region V tournament opens Thursday in Big Spring with four WJCC teams against four Northern Conference teams. The Chaps reached the finals of the Region V tournament two years ago before losing to WTC in the finals, their only previous appearance.

If Midland College wins, NMMI loses and OC splits, then there would be a three-way tied for second at 12-6. If NMMI wins. OC wins both of its remaining games and MC loses, MC would finish fourth.

In the event of a three-way tie, a complichated power-rating system is used and MC would be declared the second place finisher. Meanwhile, New Mexico JC has a headlock on fifth, especially since it finishes against Clarendon, which has forfeited its last two games. NMJC would play the fifth place team in the NC to earn its way into the tournament.

By TERRY WILLIAMSON R-T Sports Writer

PECOS - With one week of the track season behind, Midland Lee and Midland High track coaches both have found a few things to smile about as they head into Friday and Saturday's West of the Pecos

Of course, Coach Sam Volpe's Rebels exploded from the blocks to capture the team title at Fort Stockton's Comanche Relays, and he must have been a little surprised since he said his squad was not very good at this point in time.

Coach Ed Nixon was pleased with most of his kids, but was especially pleased with his sophomore crew, with which he will have to heavily rely on this

"We're still not that strong," Volpe said this week, "but some of our kids did very will at Fort Stockton. I was really pleased with Stewart Laufer in the hurdles and Dwight Washington ran well. Our shot putters did a.

"Considering that we have only three seniors that ran at Fort Stockton, we were pleased with the results," Nixon stated. "Jerry Zachery, Billy Taylor, Bruce Fisher and Richard Young all scored points for us and that is the first time I remember four sophomores doing that for us. Bob Glenn is a senior and he won his first track medal in the mile. Bobby Floyd ran well and David Simmons looked good in the discus even though he had some problems in the shot put. Jeff Robnett ran a good 100 meter race. His 10.7 would be about a 9.7 in the 100-yard

THE BULLDOGS and Rebels

will again be running in meters here Friday and Saturday. This year track officials have the option of running meters or yards. The state meet will be in meters except for the 100-yard dash and the mile run, according to Friday's running preliminaries begin at 1:40 p.m. while the field events will begin at 1:30 p.m. Saturday the girls division will hold preliminaries at 9:30 a.m. with all finals scheduled to start at 1:30 p.m. The Midland High and Lee girls will be making their track debuts.

Lee's Jeff McCowan got off to a very fast start in the shot put last week with a winning toss of 61-3. His best throw last year in the state meet was 60-6, and he has already improved on that mark. He is almost a foot better than last year already.

Midland High's Simmons got off to a fast start in the discus with a toss of 167-3, much better than last year when he was a sophomore and he was second in the shot put with a 56-3. Lee's Rodney Taylor was impressive in the shot with a 55-034.

ROBNETT LOOKS like the heir to Alvin Price, who went to state in the 100 for MHS last year. Robnett's 10.7 in the 100meter dash was one of the best times turned in last week across the state, and he also had a second place finish in the 200 meters with a 23.1. Lee's Washington won that event with a fine 22.9. Lee's Mark Landers, a sophomore, also had a 10.9 in the 100 for second while MHS' Billy Taylor had a fourth with an 11.0. That was a strong event for the Tall City as was the 200 meter run. Taylor had a 23.7 for fourth in that race.

It was also good to see improvement in the hurdles for local runners, two events that has been weak for the past couple of years. Lee's Laufer won the 300 hurdles with a fine 40.9 while Floyd and Fisher finished fourth and sixth respectively with 43.0 and 45.0. Midland High's Zachery was third in the 110 highs with a 14.9 while Laufer was fifth with a 15.2.

MIDLAND LEE again looks strong in the relays after bringing home two blue ribbons from Fort Stockton. The sprint relay crew of Landers, Phil Carleton, Jody Sessom and Washington posted a 44.3 while Washington, Laufer, Arthur Pertile and Carleton won the 1600 relay with a Lee's Pertile turned in a strong 2:02.5 for a second place in the 800 meter run despite the fact he has only joined the team since the end of basketball.

Lee's Steve Hooper had a second place 4: 42.7 in the 1600 meter run while Glenn had a 4: 46.3 for third.

The Rebels also got a 1-2 sweep in the long jump as Elmer Montgomery produced a winning effort of 21-81/4 and Sessom was second with a 20-61/2.

THE WEEKEND meet will feature an eight-team Division III field with El Paso Coronado, El Paso High, Big Spring, Odessa Permian, Odessa High and Roswell Goddard of New Mexico joining the Bulldogs and Division II will consist of teams from Pecos, Kermit, Fort Stockton, Stanton, Sierra Blanca. Van Horn and the Odessa Permian junior varsity.

The special girls' division will feature teams from Midland High, Midland Lee, Permian, Odessa High, Monahans, Pecos, Van Horn, Kermit, Fort Stock-ton Sierra Blanca and Hobbs, N.

Larry Peel ready for his Bulldogs to open '79 season

Coach Larry Peel sends his Midland Bulldogs into a tough baseball opener in Lubbock Friday when they take on perennial power Monterey at 4 p.m.

Peel starts his third year at the helm of the Purple Pack with a twoyear record of 18-34 and they were fourth in District 5-4A last season in racking up a season mark of 12-15.

Peel is optimistic that his team will make a strong showing in 5-4A this season with his three top pitchers back again this year, headed by Jimmy Zachry, who also plays shortstop and Tracy Gann, outfielder and pitcher. Bud Brigham is the other pitcher that Peel will rely upon this spring. Zachry is a three-year starter for the Bulldogs. There's David Brigham too.

About the only negative thing Peel has to report would be a lack of overall team speed this year, but his team will have experience and depth for a change.

Midland will stay in Lubbock Friday night to play Lubbock High in a 1 p.m. doubleheader on Saturday before returning home on Tuesday to opener. Then the Pack plays Midland later in the day.

Lee in the opening round of the Tournament of Champions at Cubs Stadium on Thursday night and join Monterey, Duncanville and R.L. Turner of Carrolton, in the big threeday double elimination tourney. The Midland-Lee game will start at 7 p.m. with the other three teams opening play the following day in the tour-

Other members of the Midland Bulldogs include Jay McMahon, se-nior; outfielder Link Grimes, who missed most of last year with an injury; Coyet Copeland, David Zarate, Shawn Mowles, Dana Drury, Russell Wickman, Alan Noel, Doug Brittain, Stuart Green, Tommy Munoz, Mike Mowles, Mark Mead, Kevin Cooper, Sam Driskill, Mike Young and Kelly Lilly.

Midland or Lee faces Monterey in action next Friday in the Tournament of Champions. The winner of the Bulldog-Rebel game draws the Plainsmen in the second round of action.

Duncanville and R.L. Turner meet in the 11 a.m. Frriday game with the winners squaring off at 6:30 p.m.

CLEARWATER, Fla. (AP) - Pete Rose skipped spring training's first day, so of course baseball's 37-yearold Hustle Kid arrived in the Philadelphia Phillies locker room for the second day at 6 a.m.

The reporters showed up eventually and the inevitable barrage of questions for Pete Rose began.

Did he feel pressured to earn his salary? Philadelphia paid an estimated $3.2 million in a four-year contract to convince Rose to trade his Cincinnati uniform for some Phillies pin-'Sure I feel that I can help them get to where they want to get," Rose said. "Everybody still has to do their thing tent, hard, day-in and day-out." Did he miss his former Cincinnati Reds teammates? "Hey, those guys have good jobs, so

I'm not emotional that way. I think I was emotional when I heard Sparky was fired," he said, referring to the sacking this winter of Reds Manager Sparky Anderson. "I just hope I can add that little dimension to get this club into the World Series," Rose continued. "I'm not thinking about the March 9 exhibition opener with Montreal at Daytona Beach. I'm thinking October.

"This is where World Series are won, right here in spring training, getting into shape. The team that works the hardest, gets in the best shape, wins. How about adjusting to the switch from third to first base? "Of all the positions in baseball to play, the easiest one has got to be first base," he said. "It seems when all the old time players get old they put them at first base.' Rose will be 38 next month.

'How old I am is immaterial as far as I'm concerned. I don't smoke or drink ... The only thing I can do is take care of my body. I don't play like a guy 37-years-old.'

Whether or not Rose finally helps the Phils get to the World Series, he already has demonstrated his drawng power at the gate.

Commenting on the size of the crowd surrounding Rose on the practice field, Manager Danny Ozark quipped: "Hell, Oakland doesn't draw that much at regular season games."

All-Star teams will play seven in Japan

TOKYO (AP) — Seven games be-tween American and National League All-Stars are to be played in Japan in November, according to plans disclosed by a major Japanese sports newspaper Thursday. Sports Nippon said the plans also call for two All-Star games between U.S. major leaguers and Japanese professionals in Tokyo and Osaka, to mark the 30th anniversary of the birth of Japan's two pro leagues — the Central and Pacific.

An official of Sports Nippon said the sites of the games to be held after Nov. 10 will be selected later. The Japan Professional Baseball Executive Committee Wednesday gave the go-ahead to the sponsor's two plans, the official said. The official said agreements on the project have already been reached with the Americans.

Sports Nippon has been hosting the annual East-West U.S. collegiate All-Star football game in Japan for the past four years.

"My game, right now, is just about like it was at Los Angeles last year," Nicklaus said.

It was at Los Angeles that Nicklaus, generally acknowledged as golf's finest player, started a string in which he finished second, won, was second by a shot, then won again and went into the Masters "probably better prepared than I've ever been."

This year he's cut back on his already-brief schedule. He's played only once this season, almost two months ago. "I've played a lot at home recently," Nicklaus said. "I'm hitting the ball reasonably well. I'm not in that "I just lack some tournament golf. I lack the competition. In a couple of vanced with quarterfinal weeks I should be where I want to

That position, that "where I want to be," is in peak condition for the Masters in Augusta, Ga., in April. It's the first of the year's Big Four tournaments, the events that now most exclusively. Nicklaus, now 39 and the winner of almost everything the game has to offer, has announced a cutback in his playing schedule to about 10-12 events a year. "I'll play the majors (the Masters, the U.S. and British opens and the PGA), the tournaments I feel I need to get ready for the majors, plus a couple of others," he said. The long-range plan, he said, is toextend his playing career in the

"I'm in a position now (having won a record 15 major professional titles) where it would be foolish for me not to try to extend the record. I can only do that by cutting back on regular tournaments. I have nothing left to prove in those events. By cutting back I think I can better maintain my desire to play, keep my interest at a high level for the majors.

"Right now the only thing I'm lacking is tournament competition.'

He'll remedy that with appearances this week and next, as the defending titleholder in the Jackie Gleason-Inverrary Classic, and two weeks later in the Tournament Players Championship, also as the defender.

He faces an extremely strong field here, on the 7,102 yard, par 71 Bay Hill course that is owned by his old golfing foe, Arnold Palmer.

Chief among the challengers are Tom Watson, twice a runnerup this year, along with Lee Trevino, Tom Weiskopf, Bill Kratzert, Jerry Pate, Hale Irwin, Ray Floyd and 1979 tournament winners Lanny Wadkins, Hubert Green, Fuzzy Zoeller, Lon Hinkle and Ben Crenshaw and, of course, the NBC will provide national television coverage of portions of the final two round Saturday and Sunday.

BOWLING BEAT

Benefield leads scoring

BY RANDY ISENBERG

Clint Benefield once again led the scoring parade among bowlers in Midland last week, slamming the pins to the tune of 685 while bowling in the Petroleum American League. Benefield's scores were 204-236-245. Clint also rolled 236-621 in the Oil Stars League and 213-610 in the Industrial League.

Pennie Poole's 230 game and 583 series in the Bluebonnet Ladies League was the highlight score among the women.

Right behind Benefield were Richard Moore who stroked scores of 244-216-210-670. and Bill Theobald, 214-207-247-198--668-866 in the Air Park Scratch.

Other fine results were: Jack Harvey's 110 pins over his aveage in the Kings and Queens league with a 245; Ken Baker's 252 in the Oil Stars; and Leroy Miller's 236-638 in the Dellwood Mixed. Bobby Mancha had his first 200, a 243, in the Chicano League.

AMONG THE 600 series: Hank Chambers 612, Jerry Delk, 618; Fick Daughdgtry 601, Civic Commercial; Richard Moore 244-670, Accountants Mixed; Nor Schuler 603, Texaco; Choya Young 615, Gary Hight 625, Benefield 621, Ross Graham 641, Vern Williams 255-616, Ken Baker 252-1630; Mark Thomas 249-1636; Rike Tipton 247-652, Oil STars; Charles Lacy 1258-651; Benefield 685; Jimmy Day 631, Les Massey 619; Don Kettle 255-604, Petroleum Américan; Benefield 610, J.W. ## World Cup ski racing winding up

LAKE PLACID, N.Y. (AP) - The World Cup ski racing circuit ends its February hiatus with a four-meet North American swing starting this weekend, and for the first time in World Cup history, an American has a real chance of winning the overall

Phil Mahre, a 21-year-old ski racer from White Pass, Wash., trails Switzerland's Peter Luescher by 26 points going into the competition here Friday, Saturday and Sunday. Luescher has 181 points and Mahre 155.

The Lake Placid meet includes downhill races for men and women, but Mahre's real chance to gain ground is in the men's giant slalom Sunday.

In the overall standings, each skier is allowed to count his best threefinishes in each of three disciplines downhill, giant slalom and slalom in addition to points awarded at designated meets for combined results in downhill and slalom. A skier can gain a maximum of 75 points (25 points for a win) in each of the cate-

Mahre has near the maximum in slalom, 72 points; he has 56 in combined, with no more designated meets on the calendar, and he has zero downhill points. Since Mahre is competing in downhill for the first time in his career this season, his bost chance for closing in on Luescher is in the giant slalom, in which he has gained only 27 points thus far.

Luescher has 56 points in slalom, 60 in giant slalom, 65 in combined and, like Mahre, none in downhill.

With three giant slalom races left on the World Cup calendar, Luescher would have to place fifth or better in that discipline to increase his point total. Mahre can gain points with a ninth-place finish, or better.

With the World Cup on his home ground, Mahre feels he may also have a chance to gain some points in downhill. His best finish is 13th in a downhill earlier this season, which normally would get him zero points.

But there is a quirk in the complicated International Ski Federation (FIS) scoring system.

Normally, 25 points are awarded for first, 20 for second, 15 for third, 11 for fourth, eight for fifth, six for sixth, four for seventh, three for eighth, two for ninth and one for 10th.

Giants' Pisarcik unhappy with team

EAST RUTHERFORD, N.J. (AP) New York Giants quarterback Joe Pisarcik was not happy with the offensive arrangement on the National Football League team last season.

He didn't respect the knowledge of offensive coordinator Bob Gibson, who called all the plays, and preferred that the play-calling chores be left

Pisarcik will probably not be callng his own plays this year — if he is still the Giants quarterback — but his objections would not be nearly as strenuous with new Coach Ray Perkins calling the shots.

Perkins worked wonders with San Diego's Dan Fouts last season, a fact that has not gone unnoticed by Pisar-

"When a coach calls the plays, I have to know in my head that it will be a good play for that situation. I have to know what he's thinking before he calls the plays. That takes a lot of work," Pisarcik said Wednesday.

Fouts changed just two calls from Perkins when he had that option over the second half of the season.

Pisarcik loves to throw the football, take a chance and put points on the board, much like Fouts and Perkins. When told Perkins thinks along the same football lines, Pisarcik's voice from his Fort Lauderdale, Fla., home gained life and he blurted, "Let's do Unless the Giants trade for or draft a quarterback, Pisarcik - who completed 47.5 percent of his passes for 2,096 yards, threw 12 touchdowns and 23 interceptions last year — is the favorite to beat out the returning competition of Jerry Golsteyn and

Randy Dean. Pisarcik is worried, however, that Perkins will be evaluating him from last year's films.

Georgetown, Syracuse settle eastern supremacy clinching free throw at the 15-second

By KEN RAPPOPORT

With all due respect to Temple, Penn and the rest, Georgetown and Syracuse will settle eastern college basketball supremacy this Saturday in College Park, Md. "I'm looking forward to it," says Georgetown Coach John Thompson, referring to his-meeting this weekend with Syracuse. "They've been ranked high in the East and we've been ranked high in the East and it would have been a shame if we hadn't gotten a chance to play them. That situation was established as a result of Syracuse's 83-71 victory over St. Bonaventure in the Upstate New York title game of the Eastern College Athletic Conference playoffs and Georgetown's 73-52 triumph over Old Dominion in the Southern Division

The winner of the Syracuse-Georgetown game will gain an automatic berth in the NCAA playoffs.

"I think it will be a good spectator. game," says Thompson of the impending battle. Georgetown, the nation's 16th-ranked team, counts Ivy League champion Penn among its victims this season. Syracuse has already beaten Temple, an eastern

In the opening of the Southeastern Conference playoffs Wednesday night, Auburn eliminated Vanderbilt 59-53: Alabama trimmed Florida 81-64; Kentucky edged Mississippi 82-77 and Georgia stopped Mississippi

Elsewhere, 18th-ranked Detroit defeated Xavier of Ohio 88-69.

A tough zone defense and balanced scoring led by Roosevelt Bouie's 16 points featured the Syracuse victory. These same two teams met last year in the Upstate New York playoffs, with the reverse results.

"I'll tell you this," said Syracuse Coach Jim Boeheim, "there are only two or three teams on our schedule that aren't afraid of us, and the Bonnies are one of them.

Baylor's Haller just happy to have team in tourney HOUSTON (AP) - Baylor Coach

Jim Haller says he's just happy to be playing in the Southwest Conference basketball tournament among his heroes-the opposing coaches.

He may even finally--after 19 years--get Texas Coach Abe Lemons' autograph.

"When I was a senior in high school, Shelby (A&M Coach Shelby Metcalf) spoke at our high school banquet,' Haller said Wednesday after revealing he had kept all his schoolboy autographs.

"On the program he signed for me, he wrote 'Keep working hard young man, and you'll amount to something Metcalf, sitting beside Haller at the news conference, noted "Why didn't you follow my advice.' Haller, whose Bears will play Houston tonight in one of two quarter-final games in the Southwest Conference basketball tournament, said he also had idolized other coaches in the SWC including Texas Tech's Gerald Myers, Houston's Guy Lewis and Lewis, Haller said, spoke at the first coaching school he attended in

"I got out all those old notes from his talk last night," said Haller, whose Bears defeated Houston twice during the regular season. "Maybe they'll help some."

Haller continued the jest by point-

"I'm playing in the state tournament my junior year in high school and Gerald had a team there from (Lubbock) Monterey. All these guys I've looked up to through the years so it's just a thrill for me to be coaching with them.'

"I remember in 1960, they had just pened the new coliseum at SMU and Abe brought his Oklahoma City team there," Haller reminisced. "I was standing in line after the game to get his autograph. "Just as I was the next in line, he said 'Maybe next year kid' and walked away. I want to remind him of that when he gets here.'

But Haller is still chasing Lemons.

Bullets defeat Chicago, 124-113

By The Associated Press One of the things Phil Chenier never really noticed in past seasons was the fans - until he joined them. Then they became his inspiration. They must have been an inspiration around the rest of the National Basketball Association as well Wednesday night. All eight home teams wound up winners. Chenier was a star guard for the Washington Bullets before suffering a back injury during the 1977-78 season. It took more than a full year for him to return to action. 'My main objective was to get back into a Bullets uniform. I saw most of our home games from the stands. I sity in the crowd. I overlooked it while I was playing. I wanted to get back down there.' Down there on the Capital Centre court Wednesday night, Chenier, in his seventh game since putting that uniform on again, scored a seasonhigh 17 points to help the Bullets beat Chicago 124-113. In the rest of the National Basketball Association it was Boston 122, New Orleans 112; San Antonio 135, New York 112; Milwaukee 139, Cleveland 117; Houston 122, Denver 97; Phoenix 103, Indiana 102; San Diego 122, Kansas City 120, and Seattle 97, Philadelphia 93.

Elvin Haves scored 33 points, 11 of them in the final six minutes when Washington fought off a Chicago challenge, and Bob Dandridge added 21 for the Bullets. But it was Chenier. who got the plaudits.

"He's playing better than I expected," said Washington Coach Dick Motta. "This game has got to help his confidence - and help ours, too.'

"I'm just fighting for playing time right now," said Chenier, who hadn't scored more than 10 points in this year's previous six appearances. Thanks in part to the absence of Kevin Grevey, out with a hamstring pull, and early foul trouble by Charley Johnson, Chenier got the time.

The next step? "I've got to work myself back into the lineup." Artis Gilmore's 25 points and 23 by Mickey Johnson paced the Bulls.

Celtics 122, Jazz 112

Bob McAdoo made his Boston Garden debut for the Celtics with a 25point performance and Dave Cowens added 21 in the victory over New Orleans.

The Celtics pulled away from a 64-64 third-period tie, rolling up a 114-97 lead before the Jazz, led by Spencer Haywood's 31 points, made a belated rush.

Stock market gains

NEW YORK (AP) - The stock market advanced a bit in moderate trading today showing little reaction to a report of a steep decline in an index designed to foreshadow future economic trends.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrial stocks rose more than a point in the first half hour of trading and held near that level throughout the morning.

The noon Dow industrial index was up 1.90 at 810.72 And the New York Stock Exchange composite index of all listed stock posted a .12 gain at 54.05.

Big Board volume came to 10.09 million shares by midday, down from 12.47 million in the previous session. Before trading opened the Commerce Department reported a 1.2 percent drop in the leading index of economic indicators for January, which was the largest onemonth decline in four years. It was also the third consecutive monthly decline in the index which is designed to forecast economic trends.

State agencies report surpluses

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) - Members of the Senate Finance Committee were startled today by testimony from two important state officials.

Land Commissioner Bob Armstrong said unexpected prosperity has hit his agency - "business beyond our expectations or dreams as far as money

Secretary of State George Strake said his agency was asking $400,000 less than the Legislative Budget Board set up for his budget.

Armstrong told the committee that new projections show the state owns $3.4 billion worth of oil and gas beneath state lands. He said the additional oil and gas will more than double the size of the state's two educational endowment funds, the Permanent School Fund and the Permanent University fund. Both are already the largest in the world.

In additon, Armstrong reported, the land office will produce another $750 million in bonuses and rentals paid by companies to obtain state leases.

Sugar price hike proposed

WASHINGTON (AP) - The Carter administration today proposed a 5.3 percent boost in the U.S. sugar prices it controls to remedy what it called a critical

The proposal would add about four cents to the retail price of a $1.30 five-pound bag of sugar at the end of this year. About 80 However, it would increase grocery bills even more because about 80 percent of the sugar consumed is in beverages, baked goods and other products.

States aren't beautifying

WASHINGTON (AP) - Along the nation's interstate and primary highways there are 197,791 signs and billboards the government would like to get rid of and 10,608 junkyards it would like to see screened. But some states aren't cooperating, and even if they did, Uncle Sam hasn't got the money to pay for the removal.

As a result, America's highway beautification program, launched with fanfare in 1965 by President Lyndon Johnson and his wife, Lady Bird, is in

Western Texas will offer popular comedy

SNYDER - Western Texas College's drama department is in final rehearsals for its annual dinner theater produc-

This year's show is a popular Broadway comedy, "Never Too Late," and it will have performances at 8 p.m. Friday and Saturday, with a matinee scheduled for 2 p.m. Sunday. Additional presentations will be at 8 p.m. March 9 and 10, and 2 p.m. March 11. Tickets are priced $8, which includes dinner and show.

"Never Too Late" is being staged and directed by Jeanne Kobuszewski, speech and drama instructor at Western Texas College.

The comedy revolves around a middle-aged couple who find they are about to become parents again, 24 years after their first and only child, a daughter, was born.

The daughter is less than enchanted with the prospect of a new little brother or sister.

The cast includes Rick Mantooth and Janice Posey of Seminole, David Galvin of Lorane, Darrell Hayes of Caldwell, and John Hopkins, Rex Hopkins, Marca Parham, Robby Moore and Debbie Busciglio, all of Snyder.

Tickets for all performances are now on sale in the Fine Arts Division of Western Texas College. Admissions must be purchased in ad-

Globe launches '79 season

ODESSA - The Globe of the Great Southwest launches its 1979 season this weekend.

The season-opening attraction is "Camelot," the colorful and melodic Lerner and Loewe musical that has been enchanting theater-goers throughout the nation and the world following its initial production on Broadway almost 20 years ago.

The Globe's production will have its first performance at 8 p.m. Friday, with additional presentations at 8 p.m. Saturday and 2: 30 p.m. Sunday. Still other presentations are scheduled for 8 p.m. March 10, 2:30 p.m. March 11, and 8 p.m. March 16 and 17.

Globe season tickets are now on sale at the box office, and single admissions for "Camelot" also have gone on sale, priced $6 for adults, $4 for students. Information on ticket availability for a specific performance may be obtained from the Globe box office, 332-1586.

The Globe production of "Camelot" is being staged and directed by Jeryl Hoover who has been active at both the Globe and the Permian Playhouse of Odessa.

Pivotal cast members include Hoover and Suzanne Medlin, and other members of the large cast are from Odessa and surrounding area.

The famous diva will be singing with the Fort Worth Opera this weekend in what is being billed as her final operatic performances in the Fort Worth-Dallas area. She will be heard and seen as Rosina in Fort Worth's production of the famous and popular "Barber of Seville," just months away from her announced retirement

Beverly Sills

Early in her spectacular career, Miss Sills was something of a "regular" with the Fort Worth Opera. During the 1960s, in the years when she was zooming to the top in the operatic world, she was heard almost a halfdozen times in Fort Worth, in various roles which she now is widely known and admired for.

"Barber of Seville" is the Fort Worth Opera Association's third production of its 1978-79 season. Giuseppe Verdi's "Rigoletto" opened the season Nov. 17 and 19, followed by Gilbert and Sullivan's delightful operetta, "H.M.S. Pinafore" Jan. 19 and 21. The final offering of the season will be Massenet's tragic operatic drama, "Manon," due April 6 and 8)

Joining Miss Sills in Fort Worth's 'Barber of Seville" will be Metropolitan Opera baritone David Holloway as Figaro, New York City Opera bass Spiro Malas as Dr. Bartolo, and tenor Rockwell Blake as the Count. Blake recently won first prize in the prestigious vocal competition sponsored by

Einstein exhibit to open Saturday

By DONALD SANDERS

WASHINGTON (AP) - The country's most comprehensive exhibition of Albert Einstein memorabilia, numbering more than 100 items, will go on public view next Saturday at the Smithsonian Institution.

One of many commemorations of the centennial of the noted physicist's birth, this one includes original Einstein manuscripts, historic photographs, personal memorabilia drawn from private collections here and abroad and scientific apparatus used to test his theories

Many of the artifacts have never before been exhibited, officials say, adding that many offer intimate glimpses into the accomplishments and personality of the unassuming genius who enjoyed the celebrity of a movie star.

"Einstein was depicted from life more often and by more artists than any other person in human history," the Smithsonian's Museum of History and Technology says. "The exhibition shows the variety of interpretations his distinctive features evoked in the painting, drawings and sculptures of Ben Shahn, Jacob Epstein, Jo Davidson and many others.'

There are more than two dozen busts, drawings, paintings, etchings, lithographs and photographs. Many are likenesses of his head, but others depict the expressive hands which, with paper, pencil and a passionate curiosity, were his principal tools.

Although there were many skeptics in the second decade of this century and later, it goes without saying now that his theories of relativity and gravity had a profound effect on modern physics and helped unlock under-

The introductory biographical section of the exhibition includes every document from immigration to naturalization certificate, marking the path to Einstein's acquisition of U.S. citizenship. Born at Ulm, Germany, on March 14, 1789, Einstein renounced German citizenship before he was 17, after his family moved to Italy.

He acquired Swiss citizenship but, after gaining fame, he returned to Germany to teach and thus had his German citizenship restored automatically during the years 1914-1933. Coming to the United States in 1940, he later was naturalized, but never relinquished his Swiss passport.

Einstein, Smithsonian curators stress, delighted in gadgets and mechanisms. He worked as a patent examiner in his most creative years, and also took out many patents himself. On exhibition is an affidavit by Einstein declaring himself to be the true and original inventor of a refrigerating apparatus by which cold could be produced with heat. Alongside it is U.S. patent 1,781,541 issued to him in 1940.

Another unusual memento is the blackboard he used in 1931 while delivering a lecture at Oxford University. The preserved chalk equations in his own hand relate to the necessity of the "cosmological constant," a major scientific achievement of Einstein's

Two canines prove inseparable friends

(AP) — Ray Swanson and his family say, "A dog is a dog's best friend." They came to believe it after a recent episode involving their two inseparable dogs, Kessma and Ginger.

One day, the Swansons noticed Kessma, a Norwegian Keeshan, was missing. They searched the area in vain. The following day, Ginger, a German shepherd, was

"I started calling her name," recalled Ste-

FORT WORTH, Tex. Swansons' daughters. "After the third time she came bounding up and started jumping on me. She was biting on my legs and trying to get me to walk in a certain direction, so I started the way she wanted."

Miss Swanson found Kessma in a wooded section about a mile from the family's house. He had apparently tried to jump a barbed-wire fence and the loose wire had become wrapped around one of his hind

The Swansons cut him phanie, 14, one of the loose with wire cutters.
