

Wheat Poisoning And Bind Weed Specialists Visit In Stratford

Visitors at the County Agent's office this week included three members of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station at Amarillo and Pan-Tech Farm, located at the old Pantex Ordnance Plant near Amarillo. These visitors were Dr. M. R. Calliham, Veterinarian, and Dr. H. R. Crookshank, Biochemist, from the field laboratory at Pan-Tech Farm, and Roger Hamilton, Agronomist, from the Amarillo Experiment Station. Drs. Calliham and Crookshank are engaged in research on Wheat Poisoning, while Mr. Hamilton is conducting an extensive program on the control of noxious weeds which are of economic importance in this area, particularly bindweed and blueweed.

The purpose of this visit was twofold. These research men are anxious to know the County Agents better and feel that time spent with them in the local county gives them an excellent opportunity to become well acquainted. These men also hope that by visiting with the agents out in the field they will be advised of the problems under investigation not only by the agents, but also by farmers and ranchmen whom they also have opportunity to meet.

Both of the research projects these men are working on are the outgrowth of requests made by farmers and ranchmen of this area through their County Agents. The Wheat Poisoning project has been under way for three years, while the attack on bindweed is in its first year, having started in June, 1949.

Problems involved in these two research projects are entirely different. In the case of wheat poisoning the scientist has first to find out what it is in the wheat plant which causes livestock to come down with what is called wheat poisoning. When this is definitely determined then they will be in much better position to prescribe methods of handling cattle grazing on wheat so as to avoid death losses which result from this grazing. Many theories have been advanced by stockmen and scientists but to date no one really knows exactly why some cattle succumb and others apparently are not affected. Some of the theories are: lack of certain minerals, too high protein, and lack of sugar, calcium, and magnesium in blood. With the bindweed and blueweed problem the questions to be answered are practical and economical means of farming the land which is already infested and to prevent further infestations. Various chemicals and hormones are being tested as killing agents in an effort to determine proper time and method of application. Intensive cultivation methods are also being tested as are rotation practices. Not only methods of eradication being tested but practical control methods are also under study.

Work on these two projects is under the supervision of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, College Station, Texas. Co-operating with the Texas Experiment Station are: Amarillo Experiment Station, Texas Technological College, Lubbock, and Animal Husbandry Division, Bureau of Animal Industry, United States Department of Agriculture.

These visitors were in Stratford in company with Knox Parr, District Agent, Extension Service, Texas A. and M. College, who visits County Agents in this area periodically for the purpose of checking with them on the progress of their work in each of eighteen counties of the Panhandle district.

FHA Housing May Be A Reality

Representatives of the Stratford Chamber of Commerce conferring with Amarillo investors last week were told that they would be glad to inspect the city with interest in financing FHA housing construction in Stratford.

They stated however, that loans at the beginning of the project would be for construction of private homes, instead of a housing project.

Georgia is the largest state east of the Mississippi.

Lamb To Attend Area Conference

Duard Lamb will attend a meeting of Area 1 and 2 to be held in Plainview which opens Friday afternoon. Vocational agricultural teachers of the two areas will attend.

The purpose of the meeting is to discuss problems that were not settled at the annual summer conference held in Dallas. Complete plans for the area contests will be drawn up. Stratford will have two teams in the area contests. These two teams were winners in the district contest held before Christmas.

R. K. Everett purchased a soil testing kit and turned it over to the agricultural boys. It was with this kit that the boys performed a very good demonstration in Panhandle. The objective of the demonstration was to test the soil and make fertilizer recommendations.

The agricultural boys and Mr. Lamb are grateful to Mr. Everett for the gift so useful in their work.

Miss Foreman Marries In Amarillo

Vows were exchanged Wednesday evening of last week in the Polk Street Methodist Church uniting in marriage Miss Mary Phyllis Foreman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Foreman, and Troy Gene Sullivan, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Sullivan of Denton. Rev. Roy G. Percival, assistant pastor, officiated for the double ring service.

Charles Amos played a nuptial prelude on the organ and accompanied Mrs. Mary Lee Abbott Bayless of Borger, who sang "Because," "Always," and "The Lord's Prayer." The traditional wedding marches were used.

Red and white carnations intermingled with greenery, decorated the altar.

Miss Billie Bonfield attended the bride as maid of honor, wearing a gown of red satin. Henry L. Sullivan of Denton was best man. Ushers were Doyle Foreman, brother of the bride, and Milton Smith, cousin of the bride.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in white satin, fashioned with a net yoke, fitted bodice and gathered skirt extending into a train. Her finger-tip length veil of net, trimmed with lace, fell from a coronet of seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of yellow roses and vanda orchids. Her only jewelry was a lavalier necklace belonging to her mother.

Mrs. Foreman chose for her daughter's wedding a teal blue crepe dress with winter white accessories and a corsage of red rosebuds.

A reception was held in the church following the ceremony. The serving table was laid with a lace cloth and ornamented with silver candelabra bearing red and white tapers. Mrs. George Blackwell of Canyon and Miss Jean Anderson of Pampa served. Miss Grace Schneider of Plainview presided at the guest book.

For a wedding trip to Carlsbad, New Mexico, the bride traveled in a navy gaberdine suit with matching accessories and a pink hat.

The couple will be at home in Perryton.

Among the wedding guests were Mr. and Mrs. Owen E. Hudson, Stratford, and Mr. and Mrs. Homer Foreman of Dumas.

Vandalism Mars Holiday Festivities

Home decorations at the Christmas season in Stratford surpassed by far the decorations in nearby cities and towns. The spirits of those exerting their efforts in making Stratford one of the most colorful cities on the high plains were broken by vandalism.

Approximately 140 colored light bulbs on Christmas trees were shot out with air rifles. The colored bulbs which have no value at any other time of the year were stolen from many trees.

Continuation of this practice will have the same result it is having in neighboring cities. Stratford will soon become a city without the warm glow of outdoor Christmas lights.

Polio Attack May Not Mean Life Immunity

One attack of polio may not mean immunity for life, it was revealed today by H. L. McMahan, Chairman of the Sherman County Chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

The Chairman of the March of Dimes organization stated that a recent research report from national headquarters indicates these are at least three kinds of polio virus capable of producing the human disease and that infection with one does not result in resistance to either of the other two.

Prior to the knowledge that three kinds of polio virus exist, physicians had been puzzled by the numerous instances of polio occurring more than once in certain individuals. McMahan cited the case of a young girl in Texas during last summer's epidemic, who came down with an attack of polio just one week before she was to enter the hospital for surgery on a leg which had been paralyzed by polio two years previously.

More of these cases are being reported by physicians. Recognition of the three different polio viruses now offers a sound scientific explanation for these tragic multiple attacks.

Scientists believe there may be other polio viruses in addition to the three recently discovered. Last year $1,370,000 in March of Dimes funds were given to four leading universities to determine actual number of polio viruses existing.

"If possible preventive for polio such as a vaccine is to be made, scientists must first know how many polio viruses are capable of causing the human disease.

The four universities engaged in this essential polio research are University of Southern California, University of Utah, University of Kansas, and University of Pittsburgh. Mr. McMahan concluded with the statement that a deadline had been set for the completion of this study by the end of 1951.

Economic Highlights

If anyone wonders why the cost of the Federal government is just about the most critical domestic issue we face, a tabulation recently printed by Reader's Digest will make the reason clear. It simply shows the amounts of money spent by each of the Presidents from the beginning of the nation up to September 30, 1949.

In the early days, Federal spending amounted to peanuts compared with modern standards. Washington and Adams each spent a little more than $34,000,000. Lincoln had a war on his hands, yet his budgets totalled only $3,252,000,000. Thereafter, expenses went down again. McKinley, for instance, spent just over $2,000,000,000.

The first really big budget came with the first world war and the Wilson Administration — nearly $47,000,000,000. Again expenses dropped, with Coolidge and Hoover together spending around $34,000,000,000.

Then came the depression, President Roosevelt and the New Deal. During his first eight years in office Mr. Roosevelt's administration cost some $67,500,000,000. The grand total for all the Presidents through 1940 was $179,620,000,000. And that total, it must be remembered, covers more than 150 years of our history.

Reader's Digest leaves out the extraordinary expenditures of the World War II years — 1941-45. It then lists President Truman's spending from the 1946 fiscal year to the end of September, 1949. It adds up to over $191,000,000,000 — nearly $12,000,000,000 more than all his 32 predecessors spent except for the 1941-1945 period.

Here is a very revealing picture of the way the nation has gone. It is true that conditions have changed over the years. But it is also true that the government has expanded in every direction to a point far greater than most of us realize. Mr. Truman is now a symbol of that expansion but he is not the major cause. Pressure groups of every kind have grown infinitely more adept and powerful, and office holders of both parties are our huge budgets, with recurring Federal deficits in spite of these budgets.

A noteworthy development is the concern over our fiscal affairs which is being expressed by people who are not conservatives. Speaking of taxes and deficits, Dorothy Thompson says, "This appalling discrepancy between what is spent and what is raised occurs. When the national income is near the highest in history! It is absolutely reckless example of the spirit of 'after us the deluge.'" A great deal more pressure to cut the cost of government may be expected in the future than in the past.

Excise Tax Repeal In Hurry Predicted

WASHINGTON, — Senator O'Connor of Maryland predicted Monday that Congress will lose no time removing wartime excise taxes but House Republican Leader Martin of Massachusetts warned that any attempt to "package" excise tax repeal with new income levies will be rejected. O'Connor said that elimination of so-called luxury taxes will provide a "healthy stimulus" and that the loss in revenue to the government will be made up at least in part through greater tax amounts paid by thriving businesses.

Martin commented acidly on reports that President Truman will ask Congress to eliminate or reduce excise taxes, offsetting the loss with new levies. The former House speaker declared: "Any 'package deal' sent to Congress by the White House has next to no chance of enactment. What the American people want is less spending in Washington, not more taxes. The excise tax repeal measure should be considered on its merits."

The GOP spokesman accused Truman of "planning to fly a $600,000,000 kite with a multi-billion dollar tail on it."

Martin charged that the president hopes to add a multi-billion dollar tax program "to the back-breaking load the American people now carry so that the administration can proceed with its extravagant and illiberal plan to socialize America."

At the same time, Senator Dworshak of Idaho declared that as a result of Truman's indication that he will ask for tax boosts "the people will look very critically as his various social welfare proposals" Dworshak said:

"The president's proposal for higher taxes drove home to the people the idea that the cost of all these paternalistic government programs is going to have to come out of their own purse." O'Connor said there is great cause for "encouragement" in

Truman's favorable attitude toward elimination of so-called luxury taxes. The senator added:

"Notably in some of the lines that have been hardest hit by these taxes — among them cosmetics, furs and jewelry, for instance, as well as telegrams and railroad fares — return to the pre-war status will provide for a healthy stimulus which is urgently needed."

"In all the lines affected, however, it is only in accord with simple justice that the additional burdens laid on during the war should be lifted so that no sections of industry be unduly taxed while others bear less burdensome levies."

O'Connor pointed out that with the drop in exports in many lines and fulfillment of the backlog in other fields, "the additional business that will surely result through lower excise taxes will help all along the line."

Weight Of Public Opinion In Democracy

There has been a sense of public impotency for some time toward the rising cost of government, heavy taxation, controls an deficit financing. Too many people urged economy as a generalization but at the same time sought funds for their projects, all of which added together makes the cost of government in this country about $5 billion a year. Thus budgets steadily have risen, and more recently deficits have returned. Something, however, has been happening in America to dispel the feeling of popular futility toward big government and its cost. Joseph C. Harsh, chief of the Washington bureau of the Christian Science Monitor, has well defined this development. As a theme running through the news, he notes a rising public protest, almost a revolt, against higher government spending and high taxes.

This is an old theme in public sentiment, but the new factor, which Mr. Harsh cites, "is the political weight these voices are exercising." The President is no longer talking in terms of new taxes to meet increased government costs but of economics to bring government costs down to income. An actual application of the new idea is occurring in the defense command, which is cutting costs below the amounts authorized by Congress. Elsewhere recommendations of the Hoover Commission are being implemented.

There is in prospect for next year an executive recommendation of a $42 billion budget, which would be $1.5 billion below the expenditures for the current fiscal year. Senator Byrd's proposed $36 billion budget to avert another deficit next year and permit debt reduction has met with widespread favor. In this connection, the Monitor states that reports from the grassroots show the people are increasingly concerned about the high cost of government and deficit financing in boom times.

These apprehensions reflecting a heartening popular awakening, are well founded upon the realization of the meaning of inflation, oppressive taxation and increasing controls that attend more public spending. This awareness may be intensified in the near future as every worker receives a report from his employer of the amount in withholdings from his income for 1949. Taxpaying time has already taken its cut of income at local and state levels.

Possibly Mr. Harsh and other news analysts of his type are being over optimistic as to the public awakening over the trend in government. Yet this influence of the people on their government is fundamental in democracy. If government is beyond the people the end of democracy is approaching.

The majority, divided into pressure groups clamoring for narrow selfish benefits at the cost to all the people, is a phenomenon of recent years. This power of minorities has led to a $5.5 billion federal deficit. In Texas the same force is draining surpluses and pointing toward either a state tax increase or debt-making. Local government is going into debt to sustain growth.

The homely wisdom of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, and others of his clear vision should be taking root with the American people. Government, no more than the individual, can spend recklessly without a day of reckoning.

Texas Girl Is March Of Dimes Poster Girl

March of Dimes poster children of the past four years will form an honor guard to escort the 1950 March of Dimes poster girl, Wanda Wiley of Austin, Texas, on a tour of seven Eastern cities on behalf of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis during its forthcoming drive, January 16-31.

The five children, all of whom have been helped with March of Dimes funds, will lead the nationwide appeal for greater contributions to continue patient care, research and education programs sponsored since 1938 by the National Foundation. The recall of poster children from the past emphasizes the need for increased funds following the nation's worst polio epidemic last year.

The cities they will visit include: Washington, D. C.; New York N. Y.; Boston, Mass.; Philadelphia, Pa.; Cleveland, Ohio; Chicago, Ill.; and Detroit, Mich.

Eight-year old Wanda Wiley is the second consecutive poster child chosen from Texas to symbolize the annual March of Dimes. Her selection points up the fact that polio may strike an area in successive years and that, while the majority of patients make quick and complete recoveries, thousands, like Wanda, face a prolonged and costly uphill fight long after the epidemic has subsided.

Wanda was stricken in 1948, two weeks after her 16-year old sister was hospitalized with polio. Both girls were respirator cases for several weeks; both were sent to Georgia Warm Springs Foundation for convalescent care, with all expenses paid for by the Travis County Chapter of the National Foundation. More than $8,000 in March of Dimes funds has been expended to date for the care and treatment of the two Wiley sisters. Wanda is now able to get about on crutches and in a wheelchair. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. N. E. Wiley, 3708 Webberville Road, Austin.

Nancy, victim of the 1944 Kentucky epidemic, has completely recovered from her polio attack. Regular physical therapy at home and in the hospital for years has restored her limbs to full functional use. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Drury, 2533 Rowan Street, Louisville, Kentucky.

Donald, stricken in 1943, wears a body brace part-time and has never been hampered from participation in active sports. He is still under medical care and visits the hospital clinic for checkups every six months. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Anderson, Warm Springs Indian Reservation, Warm Springs, Oregon, 1946 poster boy and first polio patient ever chosen to symbolize the national appeal.

Terry, stricken in 1945 before he had learned to walk, has made continuous progress in overcoming crippling after-effects and now has progressed sufficiently to discard one of his two leg braces. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Tullos of Laurel, Mississippi.

Agricultural Population Dwindling

In 1948 a total of 123,000 persons settled down on the farms and ranches in Texas, but while these folks were adjusting themselves to "the great open spaces" a total of 134,000 were moving out to the towns and cities, a decline in rural population of 11,000.

According to Wayne C. Rohrer, assistant professor of Texas A. & M. College department of agriculture, one out of four people in Texas live on farms and ranches, as compared to 33 percent in 1940 and 49 percent in 1920.

Why did they leave the farm? Is a question asked in the joint survey made by the U. S. Department of Agriculture and the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station.

The answer: poor roads, low level of living and lack of conveniences, were the reasons most frequently given.

Typical of the answers to the survey inquiries were from Atascosa County. People are leaving the farm because the roads are bad. Good rural roads would place more people on the farm. From Floyd County comes the answer: "If we don't get more hard surfaced roads school children will have to move to town to attend school."

The Texas Rural Roads Association does not wish to assume the attitude of criticizing the rural people for leaving the farms and ranches, society does not condemn people who live in rural areas totally isolated from the outside world in bad weather. But society should condemn those who can do something about this deplorable condition of rural roads and don't.

The welfare of the rural areas of this State is not a rural problem altogether, it is a state-wide responsibility, if we are to insure future stabilization of our economy.

Until Texas has a balanced road system, the outsiders will continue to speed through the state, by-passing the opportunities offered by the State.

Have your ideas about outboard motors kept abreast of the latest development? To bring you up to date, let's see where the experts stand on certain controversial points which have up to now been in debate. Boating authority Willard Crandall reports that these challenge the validity of many time-honored beliefs, so be ready to change your mind.

What kind of oil insures top outboard motor performance? The trend is now toward using outboard motor oil exclusively. Use straight, unadulterated oil. It is easier to obtain than it formerly was, but if you can't get it, the cheapest automobile oil is the best substitute.

What weight of oil is best? A reversed opinion on No. 30 oil, stating that the lighter grade lubricates as well as No. 40. Since No. 30 is easier to find than No. 40, this is good news to boatmen. What kind of gasoline has the approval of the experts? Not long ago it was generally held that the kind of gasoline used in an outboard motor was unimportant. Now, the use of gas containing tetraethyl lead is discouraged on the ground that it leaves a deposit on the spark plugs. Likewise, the dyes used in regular gas are said to leave a residue. Whatever gas you use, see that it comes from the pump and is labeled as motor fuel.

How does altitude affect motor performance? Since air pressure is lower in the mountains, it is necessary to set the carburetor for a lean mixture. Thus more oil should be used to compensate for the reduction of fuel flowing into the motor. Manufacturers now recommend the following dosage: An increase of 20% at 4-5,000 feet; 25% at 5-6,000 feet; and 30% above 6,000 feet.

What size motor should be used with the ordinary nonplaning boat? This point is most frequently debated by anglers who use coastal waters and rivers where tides and tricky currents are encountered. Most of them favor ample power, a motor as large as the boat will permit. But there is another large group which favors a smaller motor. They hold that the amount of power needed to negotiate waves is often greatly exaggerated; they point out that nonplaning boats become less seaworthy as power is added and this unseaworthiness will outweigh any advantages gained by a more powerful motor. So everthing considered, the small motor seems to be the best bet for the nonplaning craft.

Driller Killed In Oil Well Accident

J. G. (Jack) Jones, 26, was killed instantly about 4:30 Wednesday of last week when struck by a set of heavy tongs at the Phillips Petroleum Company Hansford County wildcat test for oil.

J. B. (Bob) Renfro was treated in a Borger hospital for a back injury and minor bruises. The men were working at the test well six miles west and four miles north of Morse. Witnesses said they were struck by tongs when the catline cable on which the tongs were suspended fouled and began to swing.

Mr. Jones lived at Goodwell, Oklahoma with his wife, Jewell, and daughter, Sharon Ann. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jay Jones of Goodwell and a marine corps veteran. Funeral services were held at Texhoma Thursday.

When turned loose to feed at will, a horse will eat himself to death, while a mule will eat only his fill.

Seasonal Health Hazards

Seasonal health hazards for young children are to be guarded against in the wintertime just as carefully as they are in the summertime in the opinion of Dr. George W. Cox, State Health Officer.

"Every mother is familiar with so-called summer complaints which affect small children but certain diseases can be just as harmful and are just as likely to make their appearance unless proper precautions are used," Dr. Cox said.

In the group of winter diseases Dr. Cox included influenza, tonsillitis, pneumonia, bronchitis, asthma, and even diphtheria when a child has not been immunized. Any such disease affecting a child's respiratory or breathing system is apt to be very serious and only too often fatal. Pneumonia often develops from a neglected cold or may follow a severe case of measles or whooping cough. Bronchitis condition may also prove to be an after effect of these diseases and these respiratory ailments are much more difficult to combat successfully than the digestive ailments which are prevalent in the summertime and known as summer complaints.

"These winter diseases are especially dangerous to babies and very young children," Dr. Cox stated. "Nearly all of them are spread from the secretions of the nose and mouth. Children not in vigorous health are naturally more susceptible to these complaints and the first line of defense against them is to strengthen the child's power of resistance against disease," Dr. Cox advised. "The second step is to keep them under medical supervision and the third is to make sure that they avoid contact with those who have coughs, colds, or fevers." The Statue of Liberty faces away from shore because she is supposed to be enlightening the world.

Hadacol Helps Textile Worker Stay On Job

The great textile mills of the Carolinas are booming again with shifts working day and night to turn out the nation's finest materials, and HADACOL is doing its part to keep folks on the job.

Many textile workers have reported the wonderful relief which HADACOL with its five B vitamins and four important minerals. This worker, a young father employed by the Great Cannon Mills at Kannapolis, N. C.

Jay W. Barnhardt, Route 3, Box 343, Kannapolis, N. C., is 30 years old and the proud father of two children. His work in the Cannon Mills calls for a great deal of standing up.

"I had been ill for several years," said Mr. Barnhardt as he explained how close he came to having to give up his work. "I suffered with a weak stomach. It became worse and worse with gastric disturbances. I just could not hold food and no food agreed with me. I could not sleep and finally I became so sick that my legs got weak as I worked in the mill each day."

Mr. Barnhardt, like so many sufferers, had tried many preparations without relief, when he heard about HADACOL.

"After the second bottle of HADACOL I began to feel better and to regain the weight I had lost," said Mr. Barnhardt. "My digestion became normal again and today I am as well as ever. My legs no longer bother me. I eat and enjoy my food. I sleep well and have plenty of energy."

Mr. Barnhardt has taken several bottles of HADACOL and now takes the famous vitamin and mineral preparation to help stay well. He has had his wife take it with wonderful results and has recommended it to his friends in the mill.

Mr. Barnhardt suffered from a lack of B vitamins and the minerals which HADACOL contains. HADACOL comes to you in liquid form, easily assimilated in the blood stream so that it can go to work right away.

A lack of only a small amount of B vitamins and certain minerals will cause digestive disturbances. Your food will not agree with you. You will have an upset stomach. You will suffer from heartburn, gas pains and your food will sour on your stomach and you will not be able to eat the things you like for fear of being in misery afterwards. Many people also suffer from constipation. And while these symptoms may be the results of other causes, they are surely and certainly the signs of lack of B vitamins and minerals which HADACOL contains. And if you suffer from such a deficiency disorder, there is no known cure except the administration of the vitamins and mineral, which your system lacks.

It is easy to understand, therefore, why countless thousands have been benefited by this amazing tonic, HADACOL.

Prepared to fill a demand for a short to the point presentation of the real problem of excessive Petroleum imports, the pamphlet is an essential part of the TIPRO imports educational program. The program, set up at the mid-year directors meeting of the Association, calls for meetings in every Congressional District of the State, at which each Texas member of Congress is urged not only to support a limitation on imports but to work actively to convince his colleagues from other states of the need for some curb. E. I. (Tommy) Thompson, executive vice-president of TIPRO, was named to direct the program.

In addition to the meetings, attended by businessmen, bankers, farmers, and oil independents, the pamphlets are being mailed to TIPRO'S 4,500 members. Thompson said in response to the Association request, several hundred letters would go to Congressmen within the next few days calling attention to the fact that excessive imports, by undermining the oil independents of this nation, constitute a threat to our national security and economic stability.

The booklet, simply illustrated in color, answers the following questions with brief, factual information:

How important is domestic oil to the prosperity of the American people? Are we "running out of oil?" Does the use of imported oil mean conservation of our own resources?

Are current imports excessive? What is the effect of excessive imports? What is the future outlook for imports? Are imports prompting monopoly? Do oil imports promote "reciprocal trade" with other nations? What can be done to prevent excessive imports?

"It is extremely unfortunate," said Thompson, "that most Americans, and even many Texans, have not become sufficiently aware of the real meaning of current excessive oil imports. Too many view it as purely an oil industry problem, one concerning them very little if at all. Some even persist in the belief that imported oil preserves our own supply."

"The oil import question is one that touches directly the lives of every American. Besides making us dependent for our oil upon areas that will be inaccessible in time of war, imports are helping to end our national prosperity."

"It is very largely because of excessive imports that Texans will be asked within the next few weeks to dig deeper for more State taxes. Excessive imports shut in producing wells here, reducing the income to the State and workers. Equally serious is the fact that excessive imports force premature abandonments and lessen the amount of oil that is recovered, resulting in the loss rather than the preservation of our own oil resources."

Maragon Still Favored

A SIGNIFICANT DEVELOPMENT has taken place inside the justice department regarding the amazing John Maragon, close friend of General Vaughan and once a frequent caller at the White House.

Higher-ups in justice have given orders to Morris Fay, efficient U. S. attorney for the District of Columbia, to give them a full report on the perjury case against Maragon and to make no move without consulting the justice department.

This has not been done in other important cases. General Benny Meyers also faced a perjury charge, but no such order went to Fay from the justice department. He was convicted and jailed without any delay or consultation.

John Maragon not only faces an almost identical perjury charge, but Sen. Clyde Hoey of North Carolina, chairman of the senate expenditures subcommittee, officially sent the case to the justice department with a request for prosecution. Furthermore, Hoey went to extra precautions to have a quorum of his subcommittee present when Maragon was questioned so there would be no legal loophole for a wriggling out of a perjury prosecution.

Finally, it has been three full months since the senate sent its report to the justice department, and still no action. Ordinarily, it takes about one week to bring a case of this kind before a grand jury.

Maragon, of course, has had a special White House pass, has supplied liquor to Gen. Harry Vaughan, has ridden on special presidential trains, stood on the bridge of a battleship with the President when he reviewed the fleet in New York, and at one time had access to the White House at almost any time of the day or night. So while Gen. Benny Meyers can't even get parole, Maragon isn't even indicted.

Reluctant Justice

Failure to act in the Maragon case brings up a point regarding the justice department which most people don't realize. The public generally thinks of the justice department as the protective branch of the U. S. government, which reaches out to punish dishonesty wherever found and does its best to keep the federal government clean.

A review of important cases, however, indicates that the justice department is extremely reluctant to go after the big boys in government, and that most of the cleanup cases have been developed either by committees of congress or by the newspapers. Frequently it isn't until after a crime has been thoroughly aired by the press and on capitol hill that the so-called holders of the law in the justice department move in. And if some friend or high political figure is involved, such as John Maragon, sometimes they don't move at all.

Here are a few notable cases in point: Alger Hiss—Now on trial for perjury. This case was developed by the house un-American activities committee, which turned up the famed pumpkin papers. Since the justice department finally moved in, however, its lawyers have done an efficient and persistent job.

Congressman Andrew May of Kentucky—Now sentenced to jail. Various hints of May's peculiar activities were published by this column and others for some years, but it took the senate investigating committee, under Sen. Jim Mead of New York, to bring out the facts. After that the justice department acted.

Congressman Parnell Thomas—Now sentenced to jail. It took a newspaperman to dig out Thomas's skulduggery. After the canceled checks in Thomas's kickback deals, plus an important witness, were turned over to the justice department, it carried through thoroughly and efficiently. However, Alex Campbell, dynamic chief of the criminal division, who carried the ball, had to buck some opposition near the top.

Gen. Benny Meyers—The first public revelation that General Meyers had been up to no good was published in this column on July 29, 1947, when it was stated that Meyers had speculated in the stock market with as much as four million dollars.

Arabian Oil—It was also the Brewster committee which developed the amazing manner in which certain admirals and the navy had over-charged the U. S. government for Arabian oil during the war. The justice department, for reasons best known to itself, never prosecuted this scandal, but exposure of the facts resulted in new oil contracts and a saving to the taxpayers of millions of dollars. Why the justice department has not prosecuted those responsible for the swindle is another Washington mystery.

Hearty Desserts, Served Piping Hot From Stove, Pep Up Family Meals

"IT SEEMS as though I can't serve enough to keep appetites satisfied these cold days," says many a homemaker when the temperatures dip and chilly wind and youngsters crowd around the table ready to eat everything in sight. If you've planned a soup, this helps take the edge off sharp appetites. Add to this a nourishing meat dish, a starchy food and a vegetable and a salad; top it off with a hot, hearty dessert, and you'll be certain to meet not only nutritional requirements for a hearty meal, but also those of the appetite as well.

IF YOU MIX a starchy food with fruit, you have the perfect answer for dessert in many instances. Hot puddings can be baked right with meat and vegetables. Other top-of-the-stove desserts may be quick-ly prepared, so neither adds much work toward getting together a meal.

Cranberry Coconut Dumplings (Serves 6)
1 cup sifted flour
1 teaspoon double-acting baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
3 tablespoons sugar
3/4 cup shredded coconut, cut
1 egg, well beaten
1/4 cup milk
4 tablespoons melted butter
1-1/2 cups (1-pound can) whole cranberry sauce
1/2 cup orange juice
Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder, salt, and sugar, and sift again. Add coconut. Combine egg, milk, and butter; add to flour mixture, stirring until soft dough is formed.

Combine cranberry sauce and orange juice in saucepan; bring to a boil. Drop dumpling batter from tablespoon into hot cranberry sauce. Cover tightly and cook over low heat 15 minutes. Serve at once with cream, if desired.

Coconut Dessert Pancakes (Serves 4-6)
1 cup sifted flour
1 teaspoon double-acting baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon sugar
1 egg, well beaten
1/4 cup milk
3 tablespoons melted butter or other shortening
1/2 cup finely cut shredded coconut, plain or toasted
1 cup fresh or canned whole cranberry sauce
Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder, salt, and sugar, and sift again. Combine egg and milk. Add gradually to dry ingredients, beating only until smooth. Add shortening and coconut. Use about three tablespoons of batter for each pancake and bake on hot griddle. Serve three or four (three-inch) pancakes with cranberry sauce for each serving.

Empress Pudding (Serves 6)
1 quart milk, scalded
1/2 cup rice
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup sugar
2 eggs
1 teaspoon vanilla
1/2 teaspoon nutmeg
1-1/2 cups drained, cook apricots (sweetened) or 1 cup apricot jam, or other favorite jam

Scald milk in top of double boiler; add washed, drained rice and salt. Cover and cook over hot water about an hour, until rice is tender and milk is about absorbed. Stir occasionally. Beat eggs; add sugar and blend. Stir some hot rice into egg-sugar mixture and blend; stir into remaining rice mixture. Add vanilla and nutmeg. Put rice into well-buttered casserole in alternate layers with apricots or jam between, reserving a little for top. Bake in a moderate oven, 325°, about 40 minutes or until lightly browned. Serve with milk or cream.

Cherry Nut Custard (Serves 6-8)
3/4 cup sugar
1/2 cup flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
2 cups scalded milk
1 teaspoon vanilla or almond extract
2 eggs or egg yolks
1 cup red tart pitted cherries (canned or frozen)
1/2 cup broken nut meats

Mix dry ingredients. Add scalded milk gradually. Cook 15 minutes in double boiler, stirring constantly until mixture thickens and afterwards occasionally. Add eggs, slightly beaten, and cook two or three minutes longer. Cool and fold in the flavoring, cherries and nuts. Serve with dainty cake cut-outs or cookies.

Cherry-Apple Cobbler (Serves 8)
Cobbler Crust: Any favorite baking powder biscuit dough may be used. This may be made a little shorter for this purpose, if desired, by adding two additional tablespoons of shortening per cup of flour. Press a layer of the dough into a greased baking dish, then add filling and top with remaining dough. Bake at 400°, about 25 minutes, or until crust is brown and filling is tender.

Cobbler Filling:
1 cup red tart pitted cherries
2 cups apples—any cooking apples, sliced as for pie
1 cup sugar
3 tablespoons flour
Combine sugar and flour, then mix well with the cherries and apples.

Cherry Foam Sauce:
1 cup tart red cherry juice
1 cup sugar
2 egg whites
1/2 teaspoon almond flavoring
Few drops red vegetable coloring
Combine juice and sugar. Cook to a thick syrup or 230°. Pour gently over stiffly beaten egg whites, add flavoring, then the coloring to make desired shade. Serve hot or cold as a sauce or topping on any plain cake, such as white, yellow, sponge or angel food.

Use mint-flavored barbecue sauce for lamb chops. Combine chopped onion with mint leaves, vinegar and salad oil. Let stand overnight, then brush over lamb chops before cooking.

When you have meat loaf leftover, cube it and heat with barbecue sauce. Serve over toasted buns.

Use a slice of luncheon meat for these tricks. Break an egg on top of each and cover with grated Swiss cheese. Cook slowly in skillet until egg sets. It's grand for Sunday night suppers.

THE Church Dynamic

Lesson for January 8, 1950

THE CHURCH is not meant to be a club, a lecture-hall, a debating society, a rest home, a music hall, an entertainment bureau or a burial association. It has something to do along all these lines, of course. But the Church is meant to be a place and channel of power. One of the last things Jesus, the Founder of the Church, said to his friends was: "Ye shall receive power when the Holy Spirit is come upon you." Not—you shall receive comfort, or wealth, or insight, or any other good thing, though all of them have their place. What Jesus highlights is power.

Dr. W. M. Horton, in his little book on the Christian faith, asks: "When is a church not a church? His answer is: When it has lost the Holy Spirit. That is a good New Testament answer.

The early Christians could not have imagined a church without the Holy Spirit, because in fact there had never been one without him. It was the coming of the Spirit on that summer day in Jerusalem that actually made the church, in the first place. True, it was not made out of nothing.

But suppose the Spirit had never come? What would have happened? Sooner or later the little band would have grown tired of waiting, would have given up faith in Jesus' promise, would have drifted off one by one, and the Christian church would have died after it was born.

Tongues of Fire

THERE SEEMS to be something mystic, mysterious and unreal about the Holy Spirit, to most people's minds. We read in Acts about the flaming tongues of fire, about the rushing mighty wind, about Christians talking in strange languages; and then we go to our own church and find there no fire, no wind; only ordinary English is spoken by everyday people, the same people we have been seeing all week.

We get to thinking the Holy Spirit is just something in the Bible, some experience they could have away back yonder, but not here and now. After all, looking over the church from that day to this, and around the world at the present day, how many cases, authentic genuine cases of fire-on-the-head or storm-in-the-church-house, do you find? Not many! Does that show the Holy Spirit is not here any more?

We must remember that St. Paul met with much the same questions. Did a man have to speak in strange tongues to be sure he had the Holy Spirit? Fortunately, Paul stated in so many words what the fruits of the Spirit are: Love, joy, peace . . . Look up the rest of it in Gal. 5:22-23.

You may take St. Paul's inspired word for it: If you ever see a church, a Christian group, that is notable for love, joy, peace . . . gentleness, goodness, faith . . . you may be sure the Holy Spirit is there. We do not gather grapes from thorns nor figs from thistles, Jesus says.

You don't have the fruits of the Spirit without having the Spirit. And that is Power. Said a great Australian preacher: Show me a church where the members treat one another with more real love than the people outside the church treat one another, and you will find men crowding the doors of that church to get in.

How Can We Get the Holy Spirit?

WE CANNOT GET the Spirit by wishing ourselves back in the first century. We can have the Holy Spirit now, on the same terms as always. There are no new conditions, no complicated rules, no application blanks to fill out. Jesus said: God will give the Holy Spirit to them that ask him; Paul said: Covet earnestly the best gifts.

In any church, if there is even a small group who want the power of God in their lives, who want his power for the church, that little group can change that church and change the community. Power passes through a wire when one end of it is attached to a dynamo and the other end to a machine that is doing some work.

Prayer—that is the touch with God. Service—that is the link with man. So power will flow through the Church when at one end it is in touch with God, and at the other end it is doing something real for human needs.

No Police State Needed In U. S. Says FBI Chief

WASHINGTON, — J. Edgar Hoover said Sunday that America needs no police state methods to master the challenge of communism.

He advocated calmness, intelligent alertness, and exposure of communism's dangers. "Police state methods can only encourage the growth of the very evil we abhor," he said in a publication of George Washington University. "The American people are determined that communism shall be rejected," Hoover wrote.

"However, as in years past, we again hear cries, 'Cut the red tape of formality,' 'Forget about freedom of speech when talking about Communists,' 'Let's cast them out.'"

"These critics urge the formation of a national police, a police system which, they assert, would handle the Communist menace 'with dispatch and finality.'"

If such methods were followed, Hoover added, it would mean the tearing of law enforcement from its democratic matrix and the creation of a 'state within a state,' a law enforcement system unresponsive to the will of the majority and obeying only the dictates of the governing few. "In such an event," he wrote, "the future of democracy itself would be in jeopardy."

pay-checks of North Texas workers decreased. In the first 11 months of 1948, $130,703.24 was withheld from North Texas employees. This year, during the same period, the amount totaled only $124,302.84.

A federal income tax specialist who asked that his name be withheld interpreted the increase in income tax collections and the decline in withholding taxes paid like this: "The figures indicate that the wage earner is making about the same in 1949 as in 1948."

"On the other hand persons not subject to withholding taxes, like business men, farmers, professional men and employers in general, made more money this year than last."

The government overcharged 576,922 North Texans on income taxes in 1949 and returned $39,489,633 to them.

There was a decline of $1,873,908.03 in miscellaneous taxes collected in North Texas during 1949's first 11 months.

These taxes include the levy on liquor, picture shows, oleomargarine, and luxury items like perfume, jewelry and such.

During the first 11 months of 1948 North Texans paid $72,132,857.99 in these miscellaneous taxes, compared to $70,258,967 for the same period this year, Jackson said.

Workers and employers paid a little more in Social Security taxes in the first 11 months of 1949 than they did in the same period in 1948 — $36,903,525.77 compared to $36,544,780.37.

Federal Tax Payments Rise In North Texas

DALLAS, — Texans in 144 North Texas counties will have paid approximately $625,000,000 in taxes during 1949 — $10,000,000 more than in 1948, Assistant Collector of Internal Revenue Kirby Jackson reported.

Income taxes, as usual, accounted for the biggest part. During the first 11 months of 1949, an estimated 1,500,000 North Texans paid $353,767,412.42 in income taxes — an increase of $15,837,242.20 over the same period in 1948.

Although the total amount of income taxes paid showed an increase, the amount of withholding taxes deducted from the

Biggest Home Building Year Predicted For 1950

The biggest home building year of all time is the prospect of 1950 for the nation, in the opinion of Frank W. Cortright, executive vice president of the National Association of Home Builders.

"The tremendous momentum built up by the industry can not quickly slow down," Cortright declared. "The industry will continue to concentrate on the $6,000 to $8,500 home — for those with incomes, ranging from $50 to $75 a week — with greater emphasis on economy rental units for the same income group."

"The speed with which new houses are currently being absorbed by the market is an indication that the market is strong and will continue strong next year."

Cortright found only one discordant note in the 1949 home building picture — the socialized government housing threat. Higher building costs will result from the enactment last year of the public housing bill, Cortright believes.

However, Cortright found helpful improvement in government financing aids for private building during 1949. He declared that financing aids were not sufficient, but were enough to open the way for home ownership for many families.

"The year 1949," Cortright declared, "was notable for a very high per cent of lower-cost houses, put in the face of mounting costs. Increased efficiencies better planning and better use of the smaller square footage made the lower-cost homes possible."
