CHINA LOBBY

Congress, President Examine Influence on Foreign Policy

By WALTER A. SHEAD

MANY NEWSPAPER and magazine articles have been written concerning the China lobby in this country, but according to those senators sponsoring a resolution for a full-scale congressional investigation into the ramifications of this global organization, with all its mystic, mysterious, oriental intrigue, the surface only has been scratched.

If the senate votes authority to the foreign relations committee for such a probe, it likely will take the form of a three-prong incursion into the devious machinations of a score of organizations: (1) those set up to foster the interests of the Red China or Communist regime; (2) those which have the backing of the Nationalist or Chiang Kai-shek clique in exile on Formosa, and (3) those organizations composed of Americans who have at one time or another sought to influence this country's foreign policy in the Far East.

If any of the many charges which have been made on the floor of the senate, in congressional committees and in the newspapers are true, then likely there will be red faces on both sides of the political fence and both within and without the government.

Despite this seemingly obvious fact, Secretary Truman, through Secretary of State Dean Acheson, has given the "go" sign to such a probe and instructed all government agencies to cooperate fully with any congressional committee set up for such a purpose.

Secretary Acheson testifying before the Russell committee in the MacArthur ouster proceedings said: "... I am authorized and directed by the President to say to the joint committee that he has instructed the agencies of the executive branch having powers and duties in regard to this matter to get together all their material... so there can be an immediate appraisal of what is known in the executive branch..." He has also authorized me and directed me to say that he will direct all these agencies of government to cooperate to the fullest extent with any committee or committees of the Congress which wish to go into this matter for the purpose of helping any investigation...

Senators Wayne Morse (R-Ore.) and Brian McMahon (D-Conn.) are authors of the resolution calling for the probe, which is sufficiently broad in its provisions to include, not only an investigation of a China lobby but a lobby of any other foreign government seeking to influence the foreign policy of the United States. The resolution calls for an appropriation of $50,000 for the job.

Money spent by these various groups runs into astronomical figures.

Moisture Falls Near Panhandle Territory

Local residents watched hopefully Tuesday night as rain bearing clouds emptied themselves over New Mexico, Colorado and the Oklahoma Panhandle.

At Lamar, Colorado, two inches of rain was reported. At Guymon the rain dwindled to .65 of an inch.

Some wheat producers are still waiting for more moisture to drill wheat although most of them have sufficient moisture. Maize growers as a whole think they have sufficient moisture to produce a better than average crop of grain.

Honored On Birthday

Little Miss Carol Jean Smith celebrated her eighth birthday with a party given in her honor, by her sister, Mrs. Clifford Garoutte, in the N. D. Smith home Thursday afternoon.

After an afternoon of play and opening of the many nice gifts, the 16 guests were served refreshments of ice cream and cake.

and the charge has been made that money appropriated by this government for aid to the Chiang government in China has found its way into this country for the purpose of spreading propaganda to influence the spending of more American money in China.

The Two American groups, of which only one, the Committee to Defend America by Aiding Anti-Communist China, has filed with congress under the lobby law, and the American China Policy Association, headed by Alfred Kohlberg, New York importer of Chinese goods, will come under the spotlight of the proposed probe.

The first, the Committee to Defend America by Aiding Anti-Communist China, is headed by Frederick K. McKee, Pittsburgh industrialist and philanthropist, and has been active in foreign policy groups since before World War I. Included in the McKee groups, according to a survey by Congressional Quarterly, are David Dubinsky, president International Ladies Garment Workers; Matthew Woll, president AFL Free Trade Union Committee and Jay Lovestone, executive secretary of the AFL group. Other outstanding names which have been linked with the McKee organization are Gen. William J. Donovan (Wild Bill), former GOP New York gubernatorial candidate; Carroll Reese, former chairman GOP national committee; James A. Farley, former chairman Democratic national committee and Charles Edison, former New Jersey governor.

The organization headed by Kohlberg was recently in the public eye as the fountainhead of information used by Senator Joseph McCarthy in his smear campaign against Secretary of State Dean Acheson and others in the state department. Listed in the Kohlberg group are William Loeb, Manchester N.H., publisher, president of the organization; Max Eastman, author and roving editor of Readers Digest; Louis Waldman, one-time Socialist candidate for governor of New York; George Earle, former governor of Pennsylvania and former Representative Clare Booth Luce of Time, Life and Fortune publications. Both these organizations made substantial campaign contributions in the 1948 and 1950 campaigns to elect their friends, the most publicized, the Kohlberg contribution to Senator John Butler, who defeated Senator Millard Tydings of Maryland.

Ironically, the McKee committee contributed $300 to the campaign of Senator Wayne Morse in Oregon, while Kohlberg in addition contributed $1,000 to the fund of Senator Styles Bridges of New Hampshire. Chinese organizations active in this country will be discussed in a following article.

Big Building Projects To Require Approval

After September 30, all construction involving the use of more than certain amounts of steel, copper, and aluminum will require government approval, B. F. Vance, chairman of the State Production and Marketing Administration Committee, reminds farmers this week. On the farm construction, including farmsteads, food and fiber processing facilities, and wholesale food distribution facilities are the responsibility of the Department of Agriculture and are handled through PMA state offices.

Construction need not be approved if it involves only the amount of controlled materials which farmers and others may acquire through self certification, the chairman explained, and for this reason, the controls are expected to have little effect on farm construction.

To obtain materials for on the farm construction, farmers may self certify up to 2 tons of carbon steel and 200 pounds of copper and copper base alloys per quarter-year. Food and fiber processors and wholesale food distributors may self certify allotments of up to 25 tons of steel (but no stainless steel), not to include over 2½ tons of alloy steel, 2,000 pounds of copper base alloys and 1,000 pounds of aluminum required per construction project per quarter.

All projects requiring delivery of more than these specified amounts of controlled materials after September 30 must have construction schedules and materials allotments before they may be started or continued.

To self certify an order for construction materials under this regulation, a farmer merely places with his regular supplier an order bearing the notation "Certified under CMP Regulation No. 6," and the allotment symbol "U-8," and his signature. Food and fiber processors and food wholesalers follow the same procedure but use the symbol "U-6."

Holiday Mishaps Spare Local Residents

The Labor Day holiday weekend which took a dreadful toll of 563 lives spared local residents in their tours of various sections of the nation. Traffic on the highways was the heaviest it had been for several years.

Traffic deaths claimed 461 victims, 97 drowned, and 100 fatalities were reported in a variety of accidents which included plane crashes and falls.

Paul Craig, Texhoma, thought for a short time early Tuesday morning that he was involved in a traffic accident. He was driving on U. S. Highway 54 south of Texhoma and swerved off the pavement to the right side of the road when he realized that he had driven by a grade crossing where he planned to turn left.

Unknown to him a car had been driving behind him without lights and it stopped suddenly on the pavement when he swerved from the road. Craig was temporarily stunned when he saw a car wheel roll past his car and later saw a car swerve and turn over. Five soldiers of the Amarillo Air Base were occupants of the car. The car driven without lights with which they collided sped away from the scene of the accident.

Local officers brought the soldiers to Stratford and secured rides for them to Amarillo.

Seven Amarillo men were involved in a car accident 9½ miles south of Stratford on U. S. Highway 287 Monday night. They had delivered cars from Amarillo to Denver. The driver of the car fell asleep and the car struck a concrete culvert. Occupants of the car sustained only minor injuries.

The Grave Robbers

"I HATE to speak disparaging of the dead," Odd Bodkin tells everybody, "but there's nary a fellow this or tuther side of the grave as mean-proud and sneaking as was old Mose Dozier, Laze's pappy."

"I never allowed myself much dealing with him 'cause of all the cheating and cussing he put into a trade, and I got so I never even traded chaws with him—he'd swipe my plug and blister my ears besides, with his rawhide tongue."

"He never missed a chance in 30 years to slick me, and that's why I should'a knowed better'n to trust him dead. Folks tell me all the fuss was the undertaker's fault, but that don't keep 'em from laughing at me, and I say old Mose fixed it so they would, he's that mean. The undertaker was just an innocent tool in his dead old hands."

"I didn't go to the services the day they shoveled Mose under, not wanting folks to think I'm a hypocrite after calling him a snake and hoss thief for 30 years. But a couple of days later, I get to thinking it ain't right to disrespect the dead, after he'd given me something to gripe about on dull days and kept me on my toes to keep from getting slicked, until I'm a right smart trader myself."

"SO I BUY A SPRIG of something pretty and head for Mose's grave to sorter pat down the dirt and hold some last rites. When I get there, the grave is open and empty as my fool head. Pretty soon, me and Constable Starr Badgett has a ruckus going that there's grave robbers loose in Dawdle Dell."

"That is, until that long-coated dandy at the Rest-in-Peace Funeral Parlor says he done it. Seems the gravediggers his solid rock in Mose's final abode and couldn't go deep enough. The undertaker goes ahead with services, but sneaks back at night to dig Mose up and bide him deeper. So I'm the butt of every smart Alec in town. My friends say the laugh is on the undertaker, but me and Mose knows better."

"I know he's snickering at me in the hot spot right now, 'cause he bought that cemetery lot over solid rock to fix me. He knew I'd hold out a long time, just like in a mule trade, but pretty soon I'd come around—with that damn peony!"

The best reducing exercises consist of placing both hands on the dining room table and pushing back.

Minute Meditation

(By Ferguson C. Pollycutt) Moral Madness The expression "moral insanity" is not unfamiliar in our day. It has become part of the accepted vocabulary. It appears frequently in our newspapers, is often heard over the air and occurs commonly in general conversation.

I have a notion that it is all too frequently used. Sometimes as a shield for crime; often as an instrument of hate. Of course, the term has a legitimate meaning; and when thus employed may be a blessing and a protector of the innocent.

There is a sense, however, in which a type of "moral insanity" (I prefer to call it "moral madness") is more prevalent than any other kind of mental disorder. And that is all bound up in a familiar three-letter word known as "sin"! Sin may be thought of as a type of "moral insanity," i. e., any turning away from God is madness!

I often wish that someone would explain why it is that a man will deliberately turn his back on the God who created him? And why it is that so many individuals, when they develop into adult men and women, grow so conceited that they set themselves up on their home-made pedestals like little gods? "Thou shalt have no other gods before me," said our Creator, in His first commandment to men! And yet, in our vanity and pride, we are in all reality pushing the God of us all into a background position of second best! Moral insanity? Moral madness? Is it no wonder that our personal life, as well as the life of our world, is so frequently distraught and confused? Yes, sin may be thought of as a kind of insanity! And our constant turning away from God Almighty is nothing less than moral madness! Why not examine our attitudes right now?

(Editor's Note: If you wish Mr. Pollycutt to discuss a particular topic, just mail your request to the "Stratford Star in care of Minute Meditation." All names and correspondence will be held strictly confidential. However you need not sign your letter).

DESTRUCTION?

Here is destruction you can see. And it is likely that these two "Indians" will be called to task for their saw and hammer artistry. But, even so, this destruction is not as serious as the destruction you can't see that goes on within your costly farm machinery motors when you trust your lubrication to "just any" oil.

Several years ago, a group of farmers realized the need for a refinery that would make oil especially for use in Op Refinery, is the product of their vision. This Oil is the farmer's assurance of maximum service and minimum wear.

"I REMEMBER" BY THE OLD TIMERS

From Mrs. Ida Treat, Wilsonville, Neb.: I remember when father sold our farm in Webster county, Neb., and went out to Furnas county, in 1890. He bought a man's right to a timber claim. He loaded furniture and farm machinery onto a hay rack and into a covered wagon. Brother rode a pony and drove about 20 head of cattle. On the way, we met over 50 covered wagons going east and only one going west. It had been a dry year and the people were abandoning their farms and going back home in the east.

Almost everyone remembers Major Edward Bowes, late Broadway showman, whose famous "Amateur Hour" on NBC inspired all the current amateur hours on radio and T. V.

From Mrs. E. E. Griffith, Reece, Kans.: I remember at harvest time straw ticks were emptied, washed and filled with new straw. Also the rag carpets were taken up, washed and new straw put under them. Carpet was tacked from wall to wall. With the new straw under the carpet and a freshly white-washed wall tinted with bluing.

HADACOL RELIEVES THAT TIRED FEELING, SAYS MR. HARRY ADKINS OF CALIFORNIA

HADACOL Helps Folks With Tired, Run-Down Conditions When Due to Deficiencies of Vitamins B1, B2, Niacin and Iron

Mr. Harry Adkins, who lives at 5242 Vesper Drive, Van Nuys, California, says he used to feel tired and run-down at the end of a day's work. Now most everybody has to work these days, but it's not necessary to feel tired and drained of energy at the end of the day. For HADACOL can help if you feel tired and run-down when due to a deficiency of Vitamins B1, B2, Niacin and Iron in the system. Mr. Adkins says he started taking HADACOL and now feels much better—is no longer tired-out at the end of the day and has more energy.

Here is what Mr. Adkins says: "I had been feeling run-down and tired. About three months ago I started taking HADACOL. I had heard about it and how it had helped so many people, so I decided to try it to see if it would help me. After just a short time of taking HADACOL I could tell that I was feeling better. I no longer felt so tired after a day's work—just seemed to have more energy. I think HADACOL is a good product and I recommend it. I take it regularly each day to relieve that tired-out feeling at the end of the day, and it really does work."

HADACOL makes it possible to actually relieve the REAL CAUSE of that tired, run-down feeling when due to the lack of Vitamins B1, B2, Iron and Niacin in the system.

AND EVEN MORE IMPORTANT! Continued use of this great HADACOL not only gives continuous complete relief but helps prevent this condition from returning when due to such deficiencies. Now, that's the kind of product you have been waiting for. That's the kind you should buy and start taking at once. And HADACOL is so easy to take—comes in pleasant liquid form and is so easily and quickly absorbed and assimilated in the blood, ready to go to work for you immediately.

HADACOL Is So Effective Because HADACOL helps build up the hemoglobin content of your blood (when Iron is needed) to carry these precious Vitamins and Minerals to every organ and to every part of your body. You may

So be fair to yourself. Don't put off finding relief another day. If you are suffering from this deficiency-caused ailment, you owe it to yourself to start taking HADACOL at once.

Refuse Substitutes And remember! There's only one HADACOL. Don't let anyone tell you something else is "just as good." Insist on genuine HADACOL. You risk nothing because HADACOL is sold on a strict money-back guarantee.

Sold at all drug counters. Trial size, $1.25, but buy the large family size, only $3.50. If your dealer does not sell HADACOL, order direct from The LeBlanc Corporation, Lafayette, Louisiana.

FATHER AND SON DIALOGUES

"POPPER, will you please explain all about those ninety West Point cadets being dismissed and perhaps ruined for life?"

"Gladly, my boy. They were guilty of cheating. It served 'em right. We can't tolerate things like that among our young men, you know."

"Is it a new American campaign or something?"

"What do you mean by a new campaign?"

"I mean are we really going to be harsh with cheaters, popper?"

"Of course. Where did you get the idea we weren't harsh in such matters?"

"I thought the papers have been chock-full of stories about people cheating and chiseling and being dishonest in all sorts of places, daddy. And I didn't read about ninety of them being fired fast for it."

"Ahem. I think the Smathers' boy is whistling for you to go out and play, Junior."

"But, popper, just what did these cadets do that brought such swift action and made so many people throw up their hands in amazement? I didn't read that they bribed anybody, peddled influence for money, cashed in on any big defrauding operation, cleaned up a lot of money through Washington agencies or anything like that."

"Honor is honor, my son."

"Everywhere?"

"Most certainly. Perhaps, ahem, in some places more than others. As stated in the ruling, there can be no compromise with honor and integrity."

"Who said that, popper?"

"The West Point leaders, Secretary Pace of the Army, Senators, Congressmen, everybody."

"Why limit it to West Point, popper? Every day I read about compromises with honor and integrity in many places, but no wholesale dismissals. I somehow got the idea there wasn't much indignation, Dad."

"You read too much. Look! The kids are waving for you to come out and play ball."

"Is America's honor system limited to one age-group, popper?"

"No, my boy. I will admit it sometimes looks as if America had one code for the 12-to-25-year group and another for the 25-to-75-year group."

"How many grownups pretty highly regarded in life, popper, never chisel, pull a fast one, take a mean advantage, break rules, forget ethics, or ease up a little on the higher standards of conduct?"

"Junior, my head aches. Please run along."

"Is there swift action, popper, against men in high places who finagle, hornswoogle, get the edge, hit below the belt, brush off integrity, dodge the truth, defuse the courts, break the rules and refuse to answer on the ground it may incriminate and degrade 'em, popper?"

"Will you scram, like a good boy?"

"But popper, I'm sort of mixed up. Almost a hundred young fellows were tossed right out on their ears, their careers halted and maybe their whole futures wiped out for cheating at exams and..."

"Cheating is cheating! It is reprehensible! They violated the rules. I hope you don't think cheating anywhere should be treated lightly."

"That's just it, popper. Isn't it treated lightly all over, except at West Point?"

"'Duty! Honor! Country!' These are the slogan words at the Academy, my lad. They stir the spirit. They are the backbone of character, service and behavior. Who takes them lightly?"

"Don't thousands of Americans go in a big way for all the angles, the fast dollar, the inside dope, the percentages and the slick operation, popper? What about the five per centers, the lobbyists, the crooked Federal agency operatives, the corrupt politicians, the shady dealers in lots of places, the cute lawyers and the all-around smoothies?"

"Scram, do you hear me? It's hot in here. G'wan out an' play!"

Why Is the Church?

Lesson for September 9, 1951

SCRIPTURE: Matthew 18:15-20; Acts 4:31-37; Philippians 1:27-2:11; I John 3:14-24. DEVOTIONAL READING: I John 4:7-21.

WHAT use is the church? What difference would it make if it were disbanded?

A woman bought a vacuum cleaner on trial, but after using it a while she decided it wasn't any better than an old-fashioned carpet-sweeper and she sent for the man to take it away. When he came around, he discovered that she really did not know how to use the thing. All the attachments were still in the box; she had never found out what they were good for and so she never realized how useful a "vac" can be.

It is something like that with the church. It has many uses which are seldom discovered.

Simplest needlework! Pattern C7353; transfer 6 motifs about 1x11 inches; crochet directions.

Tell the Church THE main and most important feature of the church is that it is a fellowship. This should be far more, far deeper, than a mere label.

One rarely-used function of the church was suggested by Jesus. In a quarrel, he said, the first thing to do is to settle it between yourselves. If that will not do, then take a few people with you and see if a small group can reach agreement. If not then "tell the church."

Probably the average congregation today, as a whole, would be a poor judge of quarrels. But suppose some church tried the experiment of forming a kind of consultation-group, made up of the wisest and most Christian persons in it; and suppose members of the church who had differences which would ordinarily be taken into court, were encouraged to consult those counselors for help—wouldn't some quarrels, that now reach the courts, never get that far?

SOME weeks ago it was suggested here that in some communities the church sees to it that no member of the church goes without a job. It is also a fact that in some congregations either a committee of the officers, or the minister, is entrusted with a fund, sometimes called the Deacons' Fund and sometimes the Emergency Fund, to be used in taking care of real financial emergencies, for the benefit of the members.

Sometimes it is used as a revolving loan fund, sometimes as outright gifts. No detailed accounting is made, because it is important that no publicity be given to the needy cases; hence those who administer the funds have to be persons who can be fully trusted.

The "needy cases" may not be charity cases in the usual sense. The point is that a church can be a fellowship so close that a person in physical or financial need would think of it as a source of help just as quickly as he would think of his own family. It is his family.

THE fact is, if there had not been real fellowship in the church all these centuries, it would not have lasted as it has. No outfit can run on and on for centuries if all it does is to provide jobs for a few jobholders.

No, there has been real family fellowship in the church. It does not always come out in official actions of church boards, but the love is there. Preachers talk about love, and Sunday school lessons mention it. But this is not all. There are enough persons in the church making love real, (see Moffatt's translation of I John 3:18), to more than justify the church's existence.

A poor woman who was in the grip of the drink habit had a Christian woman friend. This friend said to her, "When you feel the craving coming on, even if it's in the middle of the night, call me and I'll come right down and we'll fight it through and pray it through together."

That was what did it. Not the sermons, not the books on temperance, but the fellowship of a woman who would get up in the middle of the night to help her friend through a desperate struggle.

Happy is the person who finds a church where there are people like that. For that is what Christian fellowship is: making the other person's cause and troubles your own.

First Aid to the Ailing House

by ROGER C. WHITMAN

Question: Several times I have plastered bad parts of rooms and each time, try though I may, cracks appear in the plaster upon drying. I have tried retarding the drying, wetting the lath, but to no avail. Can you help me? Also, please tell me how to mix this plaster and in what proportion?

Answer: If you are not trying to replaster an entire room, merely to patch up some cracks or other bad places, I advise you to get a prepared patching plaster which needs only to be mixed with water to make a paste. This is slower drying than plaster of Paris, which hardens too rapidly to be easily worked. (Glue dissolved in the mixing water will slow the time of hardening; so will vinegar, mixed half and half with the water.) If the patching job has been done correctly and cracks reappear, particularly a round window and door openings, it is possible that structural weakness is the cause. If so, the defect should be located and corrected.

Question: My husband is remodeling the kitchen, using tile-board for the ceiling. The bathroom is directly above. Whenever water is spilled on the floor it leaks down into the kitchen. We have tried caulking around the fixtures, with little success. What can we do about it?

Answer: The bathroom should have a good waterproof floor covering, such as clay tile, asphalt tile or linoleum. Until you do this, you will continue to have leaks.

Mr. Harry Adkins

have tried other Vitamin preparations or other Vitamin and Mineral preparations, so we make you this offer. Try a bottle of HADACOL today if you need Vitamins B1, B2, Niacin and Iron. More Doctors Smoke CAMELS than any other cigarette!

That was what did it. Not the sermons, not the books on temperance, but the fellowship of a woman who would get up in the middle of the night to help her friend through a desperate struggle.

Happy is the person who finds a church where there are people like that. For that is what Christian fellowship is: making the other person's cause and troubles your own.

The future of color television may depend largely from a commercial standpoint on whether the tones do justice to beer and ale.

Devotional Gems

(By N. D. Carter)

In the fifth chapter of Matthew, verse three we read: "Blessed are the poor in spirit: for theirs is the kingdom of heaven." Now a person that is poor in spirit realizes his humbleness and lowliness before the throne of God. Many times this statement is confused with "spiritually poor" which has an entirely different meaning; namely a person who is spiritually poor is one that is without spirit. One who is poor in spirit is an humble servant knowing his total dependency on God. The fifth verse tells that they are meek. So we see that the pride of man must be discarded since it is contrary to humbleness.

Jesus said that they were blessed and also that their is the kingdom of God. The first thing that we note is that He said "is" and not "shall be." The verb "is" is always present tense. Therefore, one who is humble, meek, and lowly or poor in spirit does not vainly endure temptations and hardships in this life so that he might receive rich rewards of a future life but he already has a heavenly state of happiness and also a future happiness which is much better.

The way of the world is through pride and vanity but the way of God is by being poor in spirit and the one who has the later would not trade it for many of the first. And it is a certainty that the later weighs the most with God because He gives it freely to them that truly seek it. We have only to let God have his way in our lives which is first faith and repentance, which also is of God for the pride of the worldly man could not let it be. Follow God in accordance with his word and the rest will be given unto you.
