

Attitude is the difference between success and failure.

Ask disciples of Elbert Hubbard and Dale Carnegie, query super salesmen and those unnamed souls who 'dared to be great" in a world evolving around trivia, things thought to be important and things which truly are important

Attitude counts.

Ask just about any boss, particularly the manager or owner, and he'll say that the right attitude is good for business. The "right attitude," as defined by the chiefs who hire and fire, can build profits, reshape the corporate image, bring the reputation into esteem and tend to make the Peter Principle purely academic.

Attitude, an important intangible, could mean success

But, for the most part, the ideal is still in the tomorrows. Attitude is one of those intangible, but definitely discernible, qualities. Attitude makes some folks radiant and others dull. Attitude makes the blah tasteful.

Attitude reflects the self. It reveals the inner-workings of the mind and those things upon which the self dwelt (or didn't) over the seasons and

How do you shape attitude? Master propagandists can tell the formula, but making it work in a world of variables and changing values is no simpleton's task. Nazi Germany's Paul Joseph Goebbels mastered the technique.

But "the" attitude floundered, hostilities broke out and the regime collapsed. Opposing viewpoints of another military-industrial complex was the force behind the failure and had much to do with changing atti-

Attitude - call it confidence, if you like - is what gave the dollar its hypnotic power, made the United States virtually invincible and built the Rock of Gibraltar into a solid, immovable and impervious stone.

Now the U.S. dollar is waning, U.S. gold reserves are turning to dust, the United States is susceptible to doomsday and the Rock is not all that solid.

Attitudes cause you to drive, walk, cycle or jog that extra mile for an item you could buy close at hand. Given the choice and chance, you want to do business with somebody you like and who, in turn, respects

After you fill the cart at the supermarket, do you just arbitrarily push the basket into the handiest check-out Probably not.

You may select the checker whose attitude makes you feel comfortable and who innately seems to care during those fleeting moments your lives

And you may choose a checker or salesperson who doesn't toss your groceries and odds-and-ends or whatever around as if they were garbage - as if they were as nothing. You'll decide when and if that time comes.

Unwholesome attitudes even on things of no apparent consequence can wreck a marriage, hamper a friendship or spoil an otherwise perfectly good evening, outing or work-

They remember mama

She most likely will get 14 Mother's Day cards at the very least. With 13 children living in Midland and one in Odessa, she's well taken care of on "her day."

The family plans to celebrate by "making a whole lot of tortillas and a whole lot of beans and then eating them," said Mrs. Duran, whose husband Santos died five years ago.

Ranging in age from 13 to 30, Mrs. Duran's children usually gather at their mother's house, since restaurants sometimes have a hard time seating-all of them The Duran clan includes Lupe, 30; Dora, 29; Abel 28; Torivio, 27; Carmen, 25; Santos, 23; Moses and Encarnacion, 22-year-old twins; Mary Ann and Joe Louis, 21-year-old twins; Anita, 20; Frederick, 17; Lourdes, 16, Although they enjoyed growing up in a large family, none of Mrs.

Duran's offspring seems to be following in her prolific footsteps. She has only 12 grandchildren. "I've been trying for 10 years and I've only got one," said Lupe.

And it looks as if that's the way things will continue to go.
"My husband (Torivio) says he wants to outdo his momma," said

"But I told him he can have three with me, then he's gonna have to go someplace else," she said, laughing.

Midlanders have until May 25 to enter the slogan contest sponsored by the chamber.

The contest was initiated to focus attention on the chamber and the role it plays in helping build a better city for all residents. Officials are looking for a slogan which says in a few words how the chamber relates to the citizens.

Entries must be on a 3-by-5 inch card or paper with the slogan on one side and the entrant's complete name, address and phone number on the other. Entries must be in the Chamber office, 211 N. Colorado St., by 5 p.m. May 25.

Sohio may never complete pipeline to terminals here

By BILL MODISETT Staff Writer

Even if all obstacles to construction of the proposed Sohio pipeline from Long Beach, Calif. to Midland are removed, Standard Oil Co. of Ohio (SOHIO) still may not finish the project, according to U.S. Rep. Kent Hance of Lubbock.

Sohio officials in Cleveland, Ohio, meanwhile, said Friday they could not answer the question, "Will the pipeline be built?

Hance, whose 19th Congressional District includes Midland, said, "It is a possibility that they (SOHIO) will not go through with it because of the difficulties they've had up to this

Speaking through a spokesman, Richard M. Donaldson, vice president for governmental and public affairs for Sohio, told The Reporter-Telegram he could not answer questions asked him because he did not know

'We wish we knew the answers to the questions, but we are waiting to see if the government authorities on the federal and state levels can solve some of the problems that we as a company were not able to solve in the five years we've been planning this

In March, Sohio had announced it was scrapping plans for the pipeline because of delays and governmental red tape. The company reconsidered, though, and in late March resubmitted its application to the South Coast Air Quality Management District in California. This agency has drawn and continues to draw criticism for delay of the application.

Also in March, Hance introduced a bill in the House of Representatives which - if approved - would allow President Carter and the Congress to waive state and federal regulations that have been holding up the project.
U.S. Rep. John Dingell, chairman of the House Commerce Committee, offered a bill nearly identical to Hance's, according to the West Texas congressman. After hearings last week, the two bills were combined into one and that bill is expected to be voted on by the full Commerce Committee Thursday or Friday, Hance

South Coast Air Quality Management District finally granted Sohio the regulatory permit it needed in late April, but that approval was contingent upon the company installing an $80 million scrubber on a Southern California Edison plant. The scrubber is intended to clean the air of sulfur oxides, nitrogen oxides and particulates from gases emitted from the Edison plant.

Hance has been critical of the air quality board and Calif. Gov. Jerry Brown for the way the Sohio application was handled. He said Friday, "They (SOHIO) got blackmailed out there, really." Being forced to make concessions to gain the air board's approval was "ridicu-

County eyeing projects for surplus funds, if any

How big is the county's budgetary surplus?

It could be $400,000. It could be $2.9 million. It could be nonexistent. The size varies depending on who does the figuring. One thing is for sure, however. County commissioners will be eyeing additional funds to underwrite three major projects facing Midland County in the next few years. And at least some of the commissioners are planning on dipping into the county's surplus for that financial backing.

TALK OF A SURPLUS surfaced during the last Commissioners'Court meeting in April when Midland attorney Ted Kerr appeared before the board to ask for raises for county employees.

Kerr said the county was in healthy financial shape - the extent of a $2.8 million surplus of receipts over expenditures in the county's general

The attorney's comments brought quick denials of a surplus that size from commissioners Charlie Welch and Durward Wright, as well as county auditor Erma White. But Kerr is not alone in his thinking.

"He's right," Commissioner Win Brown said Friday. "We have enough

Your home: A prime necessity and a big investment

From the beginning of time, housing has been one of the three necessities of life, ranking up there with food

Not only has housing been an essential item, but recently it has turned into one of the best investments for average people, yielding a higher interest rate, so to speak, than what money in a savings account can

Midland consistently is termed "a inique city," with its high level of education among the residents, large ratio of upper income people, rapidlyexpanding businesses and fast-growing population.

To outsiders, the good points about this city make it appear somewhat like a mecca, almost too good to be true, almost to the pinaccle of perfec-

AVAILABILITY OF HOUSING is becoming an important factor to the growth of Midland. According to Realtors and others in the ecomonic profession here, there is nothing but good to be said about Midland's housing opportunities.

While about 100 new families are moving into the Tall City each month, Realtors say as a result, they are having no problems selling houses on the market.

To meet an increasing need for more homes, housing developments are planned to start in the northwest section of Midland and should be ready by early summer for construc-

Midland's population has boomed in the past five years, causing the need for more housing.

In 1970, the Tall City had 65,433 within its confines. By 1975, it had jumped to 76,849, according to estimates prepared by the Permian Basin Regional Planning Commission. Today, unofficial estimates put it around 80,000. And the PBRPC reports that by 1980, less than a year away, that figure should jump to 88,-

Between 1970 and 1980, this will be a 34.9 percent increase, the largest amount of any county in the PBRPC 17-county region, including neighbor-ing Ector. The agency also figures the 1990 population to be near 100,000.

These figures were prepared before the thought of deregulation and the effect it could have upon the Permian Basin. If the deregulation bill is passed, Midland's current boom may seem minor compared to what the city could experience in the next few years, according to local Realtors.

THE HOUSING INDUSTRY here, therefore, seems to be assured of a growing future.

But it wasn't always this way. In a housing plan prepared by the PBRPC and published in August 1978, the region "had an excess of housing in 1970. However, by 1975, that excess had been absorbed and an additional 17,000 units were warranted.

"This...now reflects a housing shortage for the region as a whole, which is expected to continue through at least 1980. Midland and Ector counties account for 63.5 percent of the region's need for housing," the report reads.

At first glance, there appears to be no problems for those involved in housing. Builders are putting up houses as fast they can, and the houses are being sold just as quicke-

Former news director joins staff of Reporter-Telegram

William "Bill" Modisett Jr. has joined the editorial staff of The Midland Reporter-Telegram, Jim Servaflus, executive managing editor, announced Saturday.

Modisett, 29, formerly was news director for the Permian Basin Bureau of the San Angelo Standard-Times in Odessa.

In San Angelo he served as a general assignments reporter covering county and city government, schools, police and court.

From 1972-1974, he was managing editor for Livington's Polk County Enterprise which won numerous awards from the East Texas Regional Newspaper Association. The newspaper also was named sweepstakes winner in its circulation category by the Texas Press Association.

Modisett returned to the Standard-Times in 1974 as general assignments reporter. He then served as state editor and editorial page editor before being named news director.

He has won numerous awards from the Texas Associated Press Managing Editors Association for his coverage of a presidential election, spot ning to germinate.

The foremost problem is the increasing difficulty for the average wage-earner to afford even a modest home. If a person has the money, then the problem arises with the mortgage company in having money to give the homes for low income persons is dropping almost daily. What it amounts to is more people are having to settle for less when it loan. And while new homes are continually sprouting up, availability of comes to housing. Inflation, being felt in every area today, has been especially noticable on housing in Midtand. Prices of houses have increased more here than on any other item in the city.

THE TEXAS REAL Estate Research Center at Texas A&M University compiled figures showing the average selling price of a previouslyowned house in Midland during the fourth quarter of 1978 was 70,718. Data is compiled from Multiple Service Listing reports out of Midland each month

According to those reports, the center reported, the average selling price of a home was 87.7 percent higher during that last quarter than for the same time a year ago.

'Midland recorded 262 new listings from October through December and 192 sales with a value of $13.5 million. Listings were down 15.8 percent and sales were up 11.6 percent from the third quarter.

"The state average for 1978 was 14.9 percent higher than 1977," according to th A&M center.

Midland's prices are fast approaching those of the Dallas-Fort Worth area which in December reported an average purchase price of new homes at $78,400, according to the Federal Home Loan Bank Board. In December 1977, the selling price was $57,100. Average figure for the Houston-Galveston area was $63,000, compared to $57,500 in 1977, according to the A&M

One local Realtor figured the sales for March through the Multiple Listing Service sheet, which showed that 187 homes were sold for a total of $9.373,693. The average home then was $50,126. At that top of that list was a home which sold for $159,000.

Taking the amount of building permits issued in 1978 for single family residences, the average home cost $57,028, according to Doug Henson with the economic research department at First National Bank.

The year before, in 1977, the average new home went for $47,159, he landscaping on the right. This development is one of

INFLATION ACCOUNTS for much of the tremendous increase in prices, said Joan Ramey, president of the Midland Board of Realtors. Property values had been going up 2 percent a month until last year, she said. Then they slowed down to 11/2 percent a month and have leveled off at that

And city Tax Assessor-Collector Virgil Jones added that another reason for such large jumps in housing costs has been an attempt to bring Midland's prices up to a competitive level with the rest of the nation.

A shortage of old lots is another reason for the higher prices, according to Henson. In 1978, builders began running out of inventoried lots which were developed in the early 1970s. New houses built on the old lots were cheaper primarily because the land cost was much less, he said.

Other reasons for the increasing costs are related to building materials, according to Jack Dillard, director of housing and community development with the city of Odessa.

"We're beset by things like a cement shortage," Dillard said, noting that cement is an ingredient in con-crete which is necessary for the home-building industry. "Plywood has gone out of sight in cost. We're exporting plywood at a high rate," he said, explaining that the wood comes out of the Northwest, and usually is shipped to Japan instead of the rest of the country.

And with more expensive building materials comes higher construction costs, noted Harry Clark, senior vice president with First National Bank of Midland.

"There are tremendous construction costs," he said. "A house with 1,500 square feet of living space will cost in excess of $30 a square foot. You should follow the rule in building a home that it should be only 11/2 to 2 times your maximum yearly income. Today, the two don't mesh.

DESPITE THE COST, there remains the need for housing. More than 1,000 new lots in the northwest section of town will be available this summer and these should range from $10,000 to $18,000 a lot, said one bank-

many going up or planned for Midland to meet the

Instead of looking at the higher housing costs, some people look at the new developments as a drawing card for bringing more industry into the "Housing is a criterion of economic growth," Clark said. "If you can prove someone can make a profit with their business here, they will ask about labor. You say if wages are good and housing is accessible, then labor is available.

"PPG (Pittsburg Plate Glass) and Texas Instruments put the emphasis upon the need for labor before they located here. We've been able to supply the labor demand," the banker said.

And the developers are supplying to run the county for a good six months far and above what we nor mally collect." he explained. County Judge William Ahders also agreed with Kerr's assessment.

BUT THE COUNTY auditor did not.

"There's not a surplus," Ms. White insisted Friday

According to her figures, she's right, too. Any extra money that the county does not expend for its normal operation each month is placed in certificates of deposits which will come due at regularly-spaced intervals during the upcoming year.

Man hospitalized after shooting

A 43-year-old Midland man was shot in an eastside bar Saturday afternoon after he allegedly threatened to "pistol whip" a man with whom he was arguing:

The wounded man, William Henry Fobbs of 1105 E. Estes Ave., was listed in stable condition late Saturday night in Midland Memorial Hospital's intensive care unit. He was shot once in the upper right chest.

Midland Detective Sgt. Johnny Thompson said Fobbs, a janitor, and a 27-year-old man got into an argument at the Texas Bar in the 800 block of East Texas Avenue about 5 p.m. Saturday. He said Fobbs allegedly told the other man he was going home to get a firearm to "pistol whip" him, left and returned to the bar with an empty 22-caliber revolver Thompson said the other man pulled a loaded pistol. Fobbs ducked behind the bar but was shot with one of two bullets fired by the other man, who fled from the bar.

No charges had been filed in the case Saturday night

Two injured in unrelated mishaps

Joe Tom Allen, 21, of 4027 Roosevelt Ave., was admitted to Midland Memorial Hospital Saturday following injuries he suffered when the 750cc motorcycle he was riding and a car were involved in a rear-end collision in the 3500 block of West Illinois Avenue about 5 p.m. that day. Allen, a plumber, suffered facial lacerations and abrasions, said a hos-

Driver of the car, Doris Ruth Poe, 52, of Midland, was not injured.

Midland police officer J.J. Anastasio investigated the mishap. In another traffic accident investigated by the officer, Shirley Foster, 31, of 1219 E. Pecos Ave., was treated and released following a two-car mishap at Texas Avenue and Main Street about 8:30 p.m. Saturday. She was a passenger in a car driven by Cloyed Vernon Wallace Jr., 28, of 1710 N. Keith St. Driver of the other car, Webster Lee Edwards, 35, of 502 S. Tyler St., was not injured.

Temperatures in low 80s forecast

Midlanders will be in for more sunny, breezy and warmish weather today, as fair skies and highs in the low 80s are in the offing.

The low tonight should dip to near 50 degrees, and Monday's high will be warming up to the upper 80s, said a weatherman at the National Weather Service at Midland Regional Airport.

Winds today and tonight are to be light and variable.

The sun is to set today at 8:37 p.m. and rise Monday at 6:52 a.m. Saturday's high of 77 degrees was a good 22 degrees off the record high of 99 degrees set May 12, 1963. The record low for a May 13 was 39 degrees set in 1971. Saturday's low was 41 degrees.

Most of Texas enjoyed fair skies Saturday, and the National Weather. Service predicted the warming trend would continue through the remainder of the weekend.

Parts of the state reported light rains. Some precipitation fell in the northwest corner of the Panhandle, and showers developed Saturday evening in sections of Southwest Texas.

Heavy rains had fallen the previous 24 hours. Thundershowers delayed Friday's play in the Byron Nelson Golf Classic, and Moulton - in South Central Texas — received 5 inches of rain.

Winds were northerly across the eastern half of the state Saturday, at speeds of about 10 mph.

000 cash on hand in its operating fund, attributed to fees and other

A surplus? Not according to Ms. White, who said she reinvested that money, along with tax revenues, in CDs which will not resurface until later in the year.

"I try to keep this money going to keep the interest coming in for the county," she explained.

The auditor did say that there was "a cushion" built into the budget that would enable the county to absorb as much as $500,000 in unanticipated ex-

THERE IS ANOTHER problem which adds to the confusion over the surplus While the county's fiscal year runs from Jan. 1 through Dec. 31, the vast majority of tax revenues are received in the months prior to the fiscal year's commencement. Those revenues are reflected in the preceding year's financial state-

"They see all that tax money and don't realize that it's operating funds for the next year," Ms. White said.

It would be much simpler if the county switched its fiscal year to Oct. to coincide with the realities of taxation, she added. Regardless of what the county does about the fiscal year, commissioners still are facing construction of a courthouse annex to house the tax offices, expansion of the county library and right of way acquisition for the North Loop project. Brown said there is "a good possibility" bids will be advertised and a contract signed on the courthouse annex during this fiscal year.

The library expansion is being delayed until the county ascertains costs for the North Loop project, Brown said. Ms. White, who said she plans to retire next year, insisted the money could not come from the county's operating fund

But that may not be the only fund available. According to the April 1979 county financial statement, Midland County enjoys a balance of $828,000 in uncommitted revenue sharing funds.

Ms. White said those funds must be spent within certain time limits because of strings attached to the money by the federal government. The auditor said she budgeted more than $276,000 in expenditures this year which were to be covered by anticipated income from the revenue So far, the county has received less from the federal government than the auditor projected, and the possibility exists, she said, that the government may end the program this year.

Even if his bill is approved, however, Hance doesn't want Sohio to feel obligated to continue with the project.

Donaldson said Sohio is only in the position of a "spectator" now and that the overall situation regarding the

Only when all the governmental agencies involved in the project have unanswered at this time, will Sohio be ready to say definitely if the pipe-

It's your day, Mom!

There is no doubt whatsoever as to who is No. 1 in the hearts and today.

but Mother, as her sons, daughters and grandchildren everywhere voice prayers of appreciation for Mother, while at the same time honoring her in various ways on Mother's Day 1979.

It is, indeed, a grand and glorious occasion — a deeply meaningful observance in which Mother is elevated to her rightful place as "Queen of the Land" on this, her very own day.

And it is fitting, certainly, for children and grandchildren to set aside at least one day each year on which to honor Mother. There is nothing wrong, of course, in honoring Mother every day, and she most certainly merits such recognition, but Mother's Day is something extra special, affording sons and daughters the opportunity of showing their love, affection and appreciation for Mother in a very special way. This is why it has become one of America's most popular and most widely observed special days.

50, Mothers and Grandmothers the nation over today will be minds of Americans across the showered with gifts, messages, width and breadth of the land cards, telephone calls, flowers and very special care as sons and Yes, that's correct - who else daughters express in a most meaningful manner the adoration for Mother which fills their hearts to overflowing.

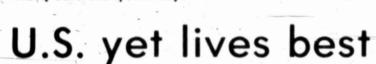

And Mother, although perhaps somewhat bewildered by it all, most certainly will enjoy and appreciate all the attention, thankful not only for the rememberances but for her children and grandchildren as meaningful occasion. It matters not how young or how old the honoree on this special observance — the deep affection and regard for Mother is the same, regardless.

And to those sons and daughters who no longer are privileged to have their Mothers, the memory of Mother and her love lingers

Yes, America and Americans pause today to salute all Mothers of the land, and to wish for them the very best and happiest Mother's Day ever.

Americans buffeted by inflation, soaring energy costs, an closely tied to economic growth international trade deficit, and and the maintenance of daily news of the dollar's sag on world money markets will be relieved, if not surprised, to learn that they yet enjoy the highest standard of living of any major industrial nation

Information assembled by a team of economists from the University of Pennsylvania reveals that per capita consumption of goods and services in the United States far exceeds that in France, West Germany, Great Britain, Japan and Italy. America's nearest competitors in consumption, the French, consume at a rate only 68 percent of that for Americans.

But it is also true that the gap between. American living standards and those of other industrial states is closing.

And, lest we be tempted to complacency, the University of Pennsylvania economists have put their collective finger on a potential Achilles' heel of the American economy: capital form ation

NICK THIMMESCH

The level of capital formation is

West Germany; Japan and France all exceed the United States in per capita levels of capital formation. Thus, it is possible to predict that the standard of living in West Germany - presently 66 percent of that in the United States of America - may exceed this country's within 20 years because West Germany's level of capital formation is 134 percent of the United States level

It could be this is why we never hear German politicians scream about "excess" profits.

We most certainly should enjoy and appreciate our high standard of living, but at the same time we should and must give serious thought to this all-important matter of capital formation.

goons tried to extract the names of WASHINGTON - This Mother's other "subversives" in the union. Day holds no maternal joy for 60-

On June 28. Elena devised a scheme she hoped would win her asylum in the Venezuelan embassy. She told her inquisitors she would lead them to fellow union and political dissidents, at a house next to the Venezuelan embassy.

WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

Blue Mother's Day for one mom

She prevailed on the two secret policemen who accompanied her to remain in the car while she entered the house to set up the "clandestine meeting" they would then raid. Once inside the house, Elena ran to a prisons have confirmed that she is second-story window and leaped into the supposedly safe refuge of the embassy next door.

Screaming "Asilo! Asilo!" 'Asylum! Asylum!''), Elena claimed the right of refuge that is traditional in the political turmoil of Latin America.

But in this case, tradition failed. The two plainclothesmen rushed into the embassy grounds to recapture Elena. Two Venezuelan officials who tried to stop them were knocked down and beaten by the police officers, who then proceeded to beat Elena and drag her out of the embassy grounds

The secret police threw her into their unmarked Volkswagen and drove off. The Venezuelan charge d'affaires. Francisco Becerra, flung himself on the moving vehicle in a desperate attempt to save Elena. But he was thrown off the speeding car and was left with only one of Elena's shoes - kicked off in the struggle with her captors - as evidence of the illegal kidnapping.

As a result of the incident, Venezuela broke off diplomatic relations with Uruguay. It also

reported the case to the Organization of American States as a violation of international law - invading the embassy's extraterritorial sanctuary.

The Uruguayan government responded by accusing Venezuelan Ambassador Julio Ramos of fabricating the whole episode. The official Uruguayan position, unchanged to this day, was that Elena Quinteros had left the country five months earlier

Since then. Elena's mother has traveled from one capital to another seeking support for her daughter. She has used her Uruguayan widow's pension - a strange oversight on the part of the dictatorship - to finance her one-woman shuttle diplomacy. From Latin America to Sweden, Maria Quinteros has pleaded her daughter's cause, as well as that of more than 100 other Uruguayans who have disappeared without acknowledgement by the junta.

Mrs. Quinteros was in Washington recently. She told her story to our reporter Dave Carpenter at a meeting arranged by the Washington Office on Latin America, a civic-religious group that deals with human rights

Last March, at a meeting of the United Nations Human Rights. Commission in Geneva, a representative of the Uruguayan government told Mrs. Quinteros and American officials in private. separate conversations, that her daughter was still in custody. The official advised Mrs. Quinteros that her daughter could be released or deported, and promised action within a month. But Mrs. Quinteros has heard nothing since.

Meanwhlle, Venezuela seems to be backing off on its insistence that Elena Quinteros be freed before relations between the two countries are normalized.

As for the United States, a State Department spokesman, Tim Brown, insisted that the Carter administration was conducting a "very frank, continuous" discussion with the Uruguayans on human rights. But asked whether the United States would urge the Venezuelans to hold off resumption of relations with Uruguay until Elena is released. Brown said: "certainly not. We wouldn't want them sticking their noses in our affairs, and we're not sticking our noses in theirs."

On this Mother's Day, Maria Quinteros is determined that her daughter's plight will not be ignored and that the conscience of Jimmy Carter and other world leaders will be given no rest until Elena Quinteros is

Former FBI men deserve and need citizen help

By CHARLEY REESE Sun Belt Syndicate

CHARLEY REESE

ORLANDO, Fla. - Washington has become a sordid place, a nest of ambition, demagoguery, cowardice, greed and opportunism. There is not much honor there, not much loyalty to subordinates or vice versa, not much integrity which is why the few who display these qualities deserve the support of the American people. .

There are three former FBI men who need your help and deserve it. They are L. Pat Gray, former acting director (an honest loyal man whom one of the Nixonites said should be left to dangle in the wind); W. Mark Felt, former acting associate director; and Edward S. Miller, former assistant director Over a year ago these men were indicted on charges that they violated the civil rights of certain people by authorizing entries for the purpose of placing bugs during an investigation of the Weathermen organization.

Only a miscarriage of justice could result in a conviction which may be why the Justice Department has been so reluctant to go to trial and so uncooperative with the attorneys_defending these men. A federal judge not long ago threatened to dismiss the charges unless the Justice Department moved more swiftly.

In the meantime, of course, these men have gone through hell. Legal expenses for them and for other former agents have already exceeded $600,000 — a heavy fine indeed for people presumed innocent until proven guilty. I don't know what the Justice Department bill is but you can bet they have spent a bundle of our tax dollars.

These three men are just the last victims of Watergate hysteria and of the liberal lynch mob that ran amuck in those days driving out a president who deserved it but also precipitating heavy attacks on the CIA and FBI which did not.

Former Attorney General Edward Levi is hardly one of my favorité public figures but even he said it would be hypocritical to indict FBI men who were acting in good faith in the belief that what they were doing was lawful. The houses which were bugged were occupied by friends and associates of members of the Weathermen, an organization which is selfdescribed as a member of the international communist revolution and which at the time was bombing public buildings and police cars.

The current FBI director, William Webster, describes the Weathermen as "...the closest thing we have in the United States to international terror-

All of this has a bearing because if pursuit of the Weathermen involved national security, the Justice Department has no case. As one judge remarked in a similar case decided ten months before these indictments, "We all know that physical entry for the purpose of auditory search has been authorized by presidents and attorneys general for 40 years in national security cases

Even Griffin Bell, President Carter's politically-inclined attorney general, to this day claims the authority to conduct warrantless searches in national security cases.

So why prosecute Gray, Felt and Miller? Because the McGovernite ideologues who poured into Washington under Carter's skirts made a political, not a legally sound, decision to bound these men, no doubt in the belief that they could bully them into plea bargaining with the threat of bankruptcy. These men, however, have stood firm, backed up by many patriotic Americans who have contributed to their defense, and demanded their day in court.

Why should you care? Well, for the sake of justice. These are loval. honest men who judiciously applied techniques which had been used for four decades and which they had every reason to believe were authorized and legal. Basic decency and the American tradition of fair play dictate that we do not change the rules in the middle of the game and prosecute people retroactively. Basic decency, however, is more scarce in the present administration than 30-cents-a-gallon gasoline. Secondly, you can expect an inrease in terrorism in the United States. All the signs point to it. Now. the only-defense against terrorism is sound intellegence work and the only organization capable of that is the FBI. If you want to help save innocent lives, you want to strengthen the

The prosecution of Gray, Felt and Miller has had a demoralizing and chilling effect on agents. Helping these men will signal the agents that the American people will not abandon them if they do their jobs.

You can write Bell and protest the presecution. If you can spare it, contribute money to their defense fund. Send it to: The Special Agents Legal Fund Inc., 420 Lexington Ave., Room 2754, New York, N.Y., 10017. This fund is administered by the Society of Former Special Agents of the FBI and you can be sure the money will go to

If good Americans fail to stand by each other, then bad Americans will win the day.

Republicans of all persuasions licked their chops over a recent Yankelovich-Time Magazine poll showing Ronald Reagan, by golly, in a dead heat with the President. It was incredible to learn from this poll that Reagan actually leads Carter in the Northeast, so laced with Democratic but it was in situ, at least 10 years ago, and has only worsened. Political gluttony, namely, Congress' long habit of funding federal programs so these elected officials can look holy to voters, preceded Carter by years here. There are still big spenders in Congress who are only waiting for the Proposition 13 cat to go away so they can get back in the fat cookie jar. And so it is with energy too. We Americans became addicted to the cheapest energy in the world, and now that we don't have it, the yelling is fierce. We spend much more time—other GOP aspirants than Kennedy is skewering scapegoats than we do in hard-headed thinking on how to manage the energy problem.

Anyway, Democrats of left, right and center far and away prefer Kennedy to Carter for 1980, somewhat in. the fashion that their fickle predecessors once panted for the highly popular Eisenhower, though a political neuter at the time, to run in place of Truman in 1948. In fact, leading Democratic liberals like Walter Reuther tried to get Ike to grab the Democratic banner that year. Fortunately for all. Ike wisely demurred

Nowadays, Gov. Brown could cause great harm to Carter's unpopularity. Indeed, Brown could cause great harm to Carter next year by beating him in some primaries, thus precipitating another one of those 1968 situaions wherein a Kennedy enters. But 1968 turned out to be such a grievous year for Democrats, didn't it? Gov. Brown should check the results of the 1972 presidential election as well.

In this town, incestuous chatter and self-assured pronouncements -Carter is really slipping — have a way of rubbing off on everything. Reagan has been rubbed this way, because the conventional morning line here is that Reagan is really slipping.

A look at the polls shows, however, that Reagan ties Carter in Time magazine, and bests all Republicans going away in all the other probings of the Republican appetite. He is farther ahead of Baker, Connally and the

AUSTIN NOTEBOOK

Texas party watchers aren't ignoring Republicans, candidates now

By BILL KIDD Austin Bureau

AUSTIN - Up until fairly recently, Republican Party watching was an activity which didn't attract too much attention in Texas, apart from that attention bestowed by folks whose employment, or political inclination, required it.

In fact, Texas GOP functions usually attracted an amount of attention and media coverage falling somewhere between a barbed-wire collectors' convention and irregular French verb conjugating contest.

That was — and note the past tense - because the Democrats seemed to be where the "real action" was and the Republicans - whatever pronouncements were issued or policies were proclaimed - just weren't likely to have much of an impact on the Texas political scene.

That was, of course, what has been tagged as "BC" - Before Clements by some observers, and there's some justification for seeing a political watershed at the point of the 1978 gubernatorial elections.

As of yet, Bill Clements isn't oneeighth of the way through his term and coming into office to face a notoverly-enthusiastic group of lawmakers must have been an experience something like that of the cat that was snoozing in the clothes dryer when someone pushed the "start" button

Clements has landed pretty much on his feet thus far, although his credibility with lawmakers - although perhaps not so much with voters — was damaged when he was forced to retreat from his stand against vetoing an increase in home mortgage rates, and against any increase above 5.1 percent for teachers' salaries

Clements alone would provide an impetus for increased Republican watching, but as it turns out, he's not

Texas also has two announced candidates for president on the Republican ticket, and might conceivably have three - if Clements should decide to run as a favorite son, as has been speculated.

John Connally has been running for president for some time (and officially announced the fact some months back); George Bush announced his intentions (which had been no secret) recently Clements had pledged himself to neutrality in the presidential race, at least as far as Republicans go, as long as Jimmy Carter doesn't run on the GOP ticket.

Clements managed to create a vacancy in the Texas GOP chairmanship and to place a party member in one of the most-coveted appointments in state government by naming Ray Barnhart to the Highways and Public

Barnhart promised to be non-partisan in his new position while remaining active in party affairs.

That activity is likely to be on behalf of Ronald Reagan, since Barn-

Clements should get approval by the State Republican Executive Committee on Saturday (May 19) of his choice of Chet Upham Jr., Mineral Wells oilman and current president of Texas Independent Producers and Royalty Owners Association, to replace Barnhart.

Upham has been active in Republican affairs for some years and has promised that he'll be neutral in the presidential race.

That SREC meeting should provide some good Republican watching time, and another opportunity should arise June 1-3 when GOP county chairmen gather in Austin for a workshop-planning-strategy session.

By that time, the participants should know what Gov. Clements plans are regarding a special session for law makers and what sort of presidential preference primary Texas will have for 1980. Lately, the separate day primary proposal has appeared to be in trouble and Clements has indicated he would support a same-day primary over a

A poll conducted statewide by the same pollsters who showed Clements winning last year, now shows that Clements outpolled Connally, Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby, President Carter and the Texas Legislature regarding leadership ability. Which could explain why a lot of the folks likely to be watching the Republicans are Democrats.

SHUT DOWN CUT BACK ON GAS CONSUMPTION

POWER STRUGGLE

The summit that 'summits' least ...

The Washington Post

WASHINGTON - Summit time finds both Jimmy Carter and Leonid Brezhnev in circumstances of political uncertainty, both presumably needing as well as wanting to demonstrate the success of their outreach to

Ordinarily, this might leave doubters on both sides wondering whether their man was going to give away the store. It shouldn't happen since the main issues in SALT are said to have been already resolved. So success is within Carter's and Brezhnev's reach. They have only to sign SALT II and commit themselves to start negotiating its sequel

In a way, I hope that's all they do. A modest secretarial summit, more of a foothill, including a SALT signing, a quiet tour of the international horizon and a little earnest rhetoric, would be just fine. We have had enough of great dramatic summits which turn out to burden of momentousness, felt and even invited by the players, ought to be shaved back as much as it can.

Is this sort of summit in the cards? Brezhnev, one can speculate, is not the problem. He is sick enough to realize his political career is nearing its end, and it may be enough for him to get his name in the history books for arms control. The old fellow has been at the top for 15 years and he can have few illusions left about what it is possible for a fading Politburo general secretary to bequeath to posterity

Carter, however, makes me a little nervous. There is his remark, repeated to enough people to force one to pay atention, that he thinks that if he could just sit down with Brezhney, he could really get to him and achieve a breakthrough and it would make a difference. A companion thought, spread by the president's admirers; is that he will impress Brezhnev by his seriousness and by his mastery of

If Carter really believes any part of this, I hope someone gets to him and tells him that it's baloney. The notion of Carter as the master cutterthrough-decades-of-fog and misperception and Brezhnev as an impressionable schoolboy doesn't wash. Hundreds if not thousands of Americans, of high station and low, have at one time or another been seized by the certainty that they could break through in their dealings with Russians, and none has. Deep-seated attitudes govern Soviet responses at the summit, not to speak of the cautions imposed by Kremlin collegial rule.

Oddly enough, what is still the most relevant top-level American statement or a summit comes from an interview that Secretary of State Cyrus Vance gave Time magazine last spring. He said:

"When the two men eventually sit down together, they will get along well. Both of them are strong men and have similar dreams and aspirations about the most fundamental issue's Both really have a deep conviction that somehow we've got to stop the arms race, that this is fundamental to the survival of the human race. Neither one wants to see the world faced with the specter of a nuclear confrontation. Both are practical men. They can sit down as practical men across the table and deal practically with international political problems, with an understanding of the problems each faces within his own constituency. I just have a feeling the chemistry between the two will be good."

Vance, who still believes this, is such a sincere man that it is easy to say he comes on sometimes like a Cub Scout. Who among us would not prefer the world to be a place where strong men with similar aspirations on the fundamentals and similar appreciations of the practicalities sit down and let the chemistry brew? But I hope the actual advice Vance gives Carter for the summit will reflect a less dream-like view.

To The Editor:

This letter is to protest the Midland School Board's condemnation suit against the home of the late J.E. (Bob) Hill. The school board is trying to acquire the property through the act of eminent domain for the expansion of Midland High School. According to the school board's Standard Study II, the land where the house stands now is destined to become a baseball diamond.

This stately home, at 1208 Illinois St., situated among beautiful American elm trees, is among the few eye pleasing sights in Midland. Why should we citizens (whose needs are supposedly represented by the act of eminent domain) want to see this oasis destroyed? I feel that this action by the school board does not represent the public it is elected to serve.

Mother's Day: A tribute to those who sit and wait and wait and ...

By ART BUCHWALD The Los Angeles Times

WASHINGTON - It is only fitting as we celebrate Mother's Day that we honor those women who sit at home and wait. Some of them wait for the plumber, others for the electrician. There are women, as I write this, who are still waiting for rug cleaners, United Parcel, J.C. Penney, a tree surgeon or the appliance repairman.

These are brave women, unsung, afraid to leave their houses for even a half hour because the person they are waiting for might show up the moment they are gone.

Mrs. Katherine Davenport has been chosen this year to represent all the mothers of America who sit in a lonely vigil waiting for a repairman or a delivery driver who never

POSITIVE THINKING

Powers of the human mind may defy our understanding

By NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

A woman says, "I saw in the paper that so-and-so died of a heart at-tack."

She is asked, "What paper?"
She replies, "I don't rightly know what paper, but I saw it in the paper." She quotes the item verbatim. A search of the files of newspapers dicloses no such item. Inquiry establishes that the person in question has not had a heart attack. But, three days later, that person dies of heart failure and the newspaper story reads exactly as the woman had quoted it in advance. Black magic? No - but could it be precogntion? A little 4-year-old girl, during World War I, calls to her mother: "Mommy; Daddy is choking to death! He is down a deep hole!" Later investigation ascertains that the child's father, at that exact moment, had been down in a cellar under gas attack. Witchcraft? No - but possibly

A few hours later, he learns that his son, driving in Colorado, had been killed at that exact moment, his chest crushed by the wheel of his ear.

Coincidence? Not necessarily - but maybe telepathy! This is the kind of story that was first investigated by Dr. J.B. Rhine of Duke University, who pioneered in the development of a science called parapsychology, the systematic study of the mental activity of man or other activity that must be perceived by means other than the physical

What are these things that he describes as precognition, clairvoyance, telepathy? What could they prove? Well, Dr. Rhine believed that these are only some of the powers of human soul ranging the universe without obstruction of space and time. Now, of course, that are always people who will respond to such a thought with the flat assertion, "It's impossible." Yet their only reason for saying it is impossible is that they have never heard of it before.

I once met the mand who developed the automobile radio. The banker he went to for the loan he needed in getting car radios into production told him: "I never heard of such a preposterous idea! The time will never come when they will have radios in automobiles!" That is how an unimaginative mind often responds to anything that ... I am a minister of religion and, as such, I believe that there is somehting in man beyond the physical, beyond the material. As Joseph Wood Krutch pointed out, if man is really the mere inevitable culmination of an improbable chemical reaction, then the fact that he has been able to trace himself back to it is indeed remarkable. The idea that a chemical can understand its own nature is actually stagger-

DIRT, SQUIRT & QUIRT Pecan problems worse this year

By CHARLES W. GREEN Midland County Extension Agent - Agriculture

Some scattered locations in Midland County received light rain showers last week but most of the country was bypassed. The weather was quite variable, with wind and high temperatures the first part of the week followed by a return to cool conditions, and most irrigated producers delayed planting plans. Some cotton was planted during the week,

A good rain is needed to improve the outlook for dryland crop and rangeland productions.

THE BEST TIME to control the pecan nut casebearer in Midland County will be sometime in the period of May 15-20. There will be some difference in the time that casebearer hatch between pecan varieties within orchards and in home yards. To determine the best time to control casebearer, each grower should inspect nutlets on his trees daily for eggs and the first casebreaker damaged nutlet.

At least 100 pecan nutlet clusters should be checked on trees to observe eggs or worm feeding damage. Pecan nut casebearer moths, which are small and gray colored, usually lay their eggs singly on the tips of the nutlets. They do not always lay eggs at the very tips though. Eggs may be found on the sides of -young nutlets.

The eggs are flattened and are bluish-green to white when first laid. After one or two days they start turning pink to red. At any time they are difficult to see because they are very small and no larger than the head of a straight pin. A sharp eye is needed to check your trees for casebearer activity. This does, however, remain the best means of determining the need and timing of any insecticide application.

If you find the small eggs, wait three to six days and apply your first chemical treatment. If you find the web-like frass and pellets in the nutlet cluster indicating the worms are already hatching, chemical treatment should be made on that day.

The spray treatments spaced at 5-7 days apart may be necessary if casebearer egg-lay is erratic. And there is indication that this will be the case this year as the variable cool and warm conditions are causing an erratic moth emergence. I can't stress too strongly the need for individual tree inspection by each grower for effective spray timing. Trying to pick a spray date without knowing the exact stage of insect cycle likely will result in failure.

Some years we can pinpoint general spraying dates within 5 days but this year it appears that this may not be possible. -

Homeowners can use Zolone, malathion or carbaryl (Sevin) for casebearer control. Commerical producers might use azinphosmethyl (Guthion) carbaryl, endosulfon (Thiodan) or phosalone (Zolone). Follow the directions on the label for mixing and applying the spray treatment:

HOME VEGETABLE gardeners have noticed that an unusual amount of onions are flowering this year. This is a condition known as bolting. Weather conditions during the growing season, the time of seeding and transplanting and the size of the transplants all affect the percentage of bolting. Mother Nature tricks us with an unusually cold winter this past

Onions are flowering all over Texas. A warm fall followed by a cool spring results in many bolters. Flower stalks do not severely damage onions except by reducing their storage capacity by causing a hole in the center of the bulb. Bolted or flowering onion bulbs are generally smaller, too.

The best advice is to use the flowering onions in salads or use the bulbs as soon as possible after harvest. Flowered onions do not store well. Another fact about onions. Knocking down the tops will not increase the size!

ANOTHER GARDEN puzzler. Squash plants may bloom profusely but fail to get squash. Why is this? Squash plants produce both male and female blooms. For fruiting to occur, pollen must be transferred from the male to the female bloom.

Polinating insects, mostly bees, carry out this important job with the result being fresh squash for the kitchen. When treating the garden for insects and diseases, spray or dust during the late afternoon to avoid killing many bees, if possiblie.

WORLD NEWS

Tales being told of mass killings

KAMPALA, Uganda (AP) — Uganda's new director of radio and television services said Saturday that while he was imprisoned by Idi Amin the ousted tyrrant's soldiers were killing at least 50 rival tribesmen a night, He was in jail for six months.

Apollo Lawoko, who has returned to Uganda after a two-year exile in Kenya, also said in an interview that Amin was present at his State Research Bureau headquarters when Anglican Archbishop Janani Luwum and two government ministers were allegedly murdered in February, 1977.

The State Research Bureau was Amin's secret police force. Its headquarters was the scene of housands of reported killings.

During his imprisonment at the Research Bureau, Lawoko said, "They (Amin's men) were killing between 150 to 200 Acholi and Langi (rival tribesmen) a day until the end of April. After that, it was lowered to a minimum of 50 a day for the rest of the time I was in (jail)."

People, newspaper executed

TEHRN, Iran (AP) — A soldier and two police-men were reported executed and an major independent newspaper suspended publication Saturday to protest criticism by Iran's revolutionary leader Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini.

State radio said an army officer was shot at dawn in the central city of Isfahan after a revolutionary court convicted him of killing one person during an anti-shah rally before the revolution. The broadcast also reported the Friday executions of two state policemen in the northern city of Gorgan for similar convictions. Since Shah Mohammad Reza Pahlavi's govern-ment was toppled in February, 204 persons have died before Islamic firing squads.

The decision to close the Tehran daily Ayendegan coincided with a march by hundreds of Khomeini backers demanding that the paper and two others be shut down for carrying articles that displeased

Iragis want sanctions enforced

BAGHDAD, Iraq (AP) — President Ahmed Hassan al-Bakr dispatched envoys to Arab capitals Saturday to discuss enforcing sanctions against Egypt for its peace treaty with Israel, the official Iraqi news agency reported.

Sources in Kuwait said both representatives carried invitations from Bakr to another Arab summit to adopt a unified strategy against Israel.

Bell has advice for calling mom

Since Mother's Day is today, Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. offers advice to telephone users trying to place calls to relatives.

Mother's Day traditionally is the busiest holiday calling period of the year, a spokesman said. The telephone company expects to handle some 1,966,000 calls in Texas today and says customers can avoid problems and expense — by following a few, simple steps.

Customers should use the "One-plus" calling method. Company officials say it is the fastest, most economical way to call. Place calls after 11 p.m. Volumes are heaviest before then and some

Mother's Day travel less likely

By The Associated Press

The nuisance of scattered gasoline shortages and station closings put a crimp on Mother's Day weekend travel, with many West Coast mothers getting a phone call or flowers instead of a visit. The severity of shortages and weekend closings varied widely across the nation, with California having the most problems.

The Southern California Automobile Club predicted 92 percent of the stations in its region would be closed Sunday. California prices also led the nation. A motorist found regular gasoline for $1.99 a gallon at a self-service Mohawk station in La Conchita, near the coast about 15 miles north of Oxnard. "You gotta make it while you can," said the owner, who refused to give

About 60 percent of New Jersey's 5,000 stations were expected to be closed Sunday, according to Jerry Ferrara, spokesman for the New Jersey Gasoline Retailers Association.

Two killed, 43 injured as truck, bus crash killed and 43 injured Saturday when a tractor truck overturned and blocked two lanes of Interstate 84 then a charter bus spun off the highway attempting to avoid the truck, state police said.

The Continental Trailways bus was filled with 42 vacationers returning from an ocean cruise, and many passengers were thrown through windows by the force of the accident, which occurred during heavy rains.

A woman who saw the accident said it looked like people were being "shot from a cannon," as passengers were thrown through bus windows by the force of the bus accident.

'The driver hit the brakes and started sliding. He hit the guardrail. Six or eight people were thrown through the front windshield. It looked awful," said a bus passenger, who also asked not to be identified.

The bus crashed shortly before 2 p.m., moments after the truck cab - which was not hauling a trailer - had spun out of control, rolled several times and landed across both eastbound lanes of the highway.

The bus, traveling in the left lane with a flatbed trailer truck beside it in the right lane, approached the overturned truck from a curve and was not able to swing around it, police said. The flatbed truck drove around to the right, but the bus braked, smashed into a guardrail, spun around and ran off the wet roadway onto a grassy median strip, coming to rest about 300 yards west of the over-

"We have gotten the best deal we can, Carter said in an interview with visiting edi tors. "It is not perfect."

The president met with about 30 editors at the White House on Friday before leaving for Camp Hoover, Va., in the Shenandoah National Park for the weekend. The transcript was released Saturday

Carter said the SALT treaty he will sign with Soviet President Leonid 1. Brezhnev in Vienna June 15-18 "is to our great advantage and also to the Soviets' great advantage

Clearly addressing his comments to fence-sitting senators who are unsure whether to approve the pact, the president

"Rejection of the treaty will have the most devastating consequences to our country and I think to world peace. It will sever, to a substantial degree, the workable relationship between ourselves and the Soviets."

He said failure of the Senate to approve the treaty also would "shake the confidence of our NATO allies" and would 'make it almost impossible for us to pursue successfully the control of nuclear weapon development" in developing countries.

Senate Majority Leader Robert Byrd said Satrday that Carter's claim that defeat of the

To the side of the wellhead and the pumping equipment is the control room. Inside, away from the roar of the diesels, an instructor can sit before a collection of dials and switches that control everything from an engine starting or running out of mixing water for the cement, to changes in tubing or casing pressure, Turnbow-explained.

The simulator is capable of creating conditions that would be found cementing surface, intermediate or oil string casings as well as doing linear, squeeze plug jobs," said Turnbow Drilling foremen and a few drilling engineers make up the bulk of non-company trainees," said Turnbow. This year, about 40 to 50 people are expected to take the training courses.

The program has been so well received, according to Turnbow, that foreign countries have sent oil personnel to the training center.

"In 1976," said Turnbow, "eight people from the Algerian national oil company were sent to Midland

There have also been employees of B.J. Hughes and other companies brought in from Mexico, South America, Europe and South East Asia to take the

Midland defeats Diablos again, 8-6

EL PASO-Midland's Cubs made it two straight over the El Paso Diablos here, 8-6, before 4,052 fans Saturday night. The win was the Cubs' seventh in their last eight games.

Henry Mack picked up the win, although Darrell Turner had to bail him out of a bases loaded, three runs in situation in the eighth.

The Cubs came up with a pair of four run innings in the fourth and fifth to take an 8-1 lead and then had to hold on in the late innings as Keith Comstock, who relieved starter David Grounlund, retired the final 15 batters

Jesus Alfaro opened the Cubs fourth with a double and moved to third on a ground out by Jared Martin. Eric Grandy then hit a low liner to shortstop Jeff Bertoni. Bertoni fired to third in an attempt to double off Alfaro, but the umpire ruled he trapped the ball, allowing Jesus to score and Grandy to reach first. Jim Tracy then doubled to left and Carlos Lezcano singled the run home. Mike Turgeon then followed with a run scoring single and Brian Rosinski drove in the fourth run with a hit. In the fifth, Dan Rohn beat out an infield hit. Alfaro walked and Martin laid down a bunt. The ball was dropped at third on the force attempt and the bases were loaded. Grandy's single plated one run and Comstock arrived in relief of Grounlund. Tracy's fly got a second run in and Lezcano's grounder plated a third while a wild pitch accounted for, the

El Paso struck for two runs in the fifth on Bertoni's double. Then in the eighth, things got sticky. Mack walked two batters and after an infield out, Brian Harper singled in one run and Rohn muffed Mark Brouhard's sharp bouncer to second, allowing Bertoni to score. Steve Whitehead walked to load the bases and

Jackson pitcher hurls no hit game

JACKSON, Miss: (AP) - Pitcher Rich Anderson tossed a no-hitter Saturday to lead the Jackson Mets to an 8-0 victory over Shreveport in Texas League baseball action.

Anderson walked three men and hit one batter en route to his second triumph of the season with one loss. Losing pitcher Allen Hargesheimer's record fell to 2-3 as Jackson hammered 13 hits.

Ron MacDonald clobbered a double and a triple to drive in three runs for the Mets. Teammate Hubie Brooks slammed a double and a single.

The Captains committed four errors as seven Jackson batters had two hits each.

Turner came out of the bullpen. Steve Lubratich's fly got one run in before Turner got the side out.

The Cubs and Diablos play a doubleheader today, starting at 1:30 p.m. and then single games Monday and Tuesday. The Cubs come home to open a 10-game homestand Friday against Arkansas and Jackson of the 11th hour rule change made to stop cheating

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) - An 11thhour rules change designed to cut down on cheating in time trials for the Indianapolis 500 threw many of the entrants into a dither Saturday and threatened to drop speeds out of the 190 mph range.

"Unless they find a way around this change, it doesn't look good for the Cosworths. You might see an Offenhauser or stock block on the front row," said Tom Sneva, pole-position winner here the past two years.

Sneva has steadfastly maintained speeds of 190 mph or greater were impossible with "legal" power settings. He recorded a speed of 190.9 mph in practice earlier, but admitted it wasn't a legal setup.

U.S. Auto Club rules stipulate that all cars must run with a specific number of inches of "boost" or turbocharger pressure. To regulate the power settings, USAC officials install "pop-off" valve that is supposed to blow any power beyond the permissable limit out a relief valve.

Some teams apparently discovered that if the valve were overwhelmed with extraordinary amounts of power, it's purpose could be partially

'Say if you ran 100 inches instead of 50, the valve can handle some of that overflow but not all," Sneva said. after all."

"More air would be coming in than going out."

USAC officials announced early Saturday they would not only install the valve before qualifying but also set and lock the turbocharger wastegate at the prescribed limit.

Sneva's younger brother, Jerry, driving one of the stock blocks that has until now been much slower than the Cosworth-powered cars, said the rule change "may have put me and some other guys like Neil Bonnett back in the ball game. During practice I ran three straight laps at 183 mph. Johnny Rutherford was behind me the whole time and couldn't go fast enough to pass me."

Rutherford was clocked earlier in the week at just over 191.

A.J. Foyt, who has the fastest speed so far this month at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway at 194.890 mph, hasn't been clocked over 186 mph since Thursday.

The entire membership of the Championship Auto Racing Teams group called an emergency session at the close of practice Saturday, presumably to consider the impact of the rules changes.

"I said 189 would be plenty fast enough for the pole," Jerry Sneva said. "Looks like I might be right Sessom said, "I knew moving the

That, in short, was the story for the Rebels here at the state track meet Saturday. It wasn't all that bad in the long run, but this group had dared to dream of greater things. In reality, however, they won't be forgotten.

McCowan's gutty throw of 62-0% in the shot put would have won the state championship on most years, but in 1979 there was Dallas Jefferson's Michael Carter to contend with--nobody did and nobody has.

Carter won the event with a toss of 75-9, a new state meet record, but a little short of his own national mark of 77-0 set last week in Abilene. Either throw, however, would qualify for a national mark. A Carter only comes around once in three or four life-

"I could've won this event in just about any other year, but I was pleased with what I did," an unper-turbed McCowan stated. "Carter is really something else and he deserves what he gets. He is really good."

Carter, however, wasn't all that plased with his 75-9 show, "I wanted to break 77-feet today. The national record would have meant more coming at the state meet. I hear they still need to determine if the 77-foot throw is legal, but I think it will stand up.'

LEE'S RELAY teams had the best and worst of both worlds. A disasterous second handoff in the sprint relay cost the Rebels any chance of a title. They ended up seventh. But in the mile relay, Washington came roaring from fourth to first on the final leg only to lose it in the final straightaway to Houston Waltrip's Lynn Howe. Still, Lee was second with a brilliant 3: 14.9, the best they have run all year and a school record. A lot of reasons were given for the bad exchange. "Jody just left too soon and almost had to stop to get the baton," coach Sam Volpe said. "No matter what happened, it was a bad handoff and it

Ongais hurt as rains halt Indy time trials

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) - Danny Ongais, trapped in his race car for more than 20 minutes, was hospitalized in stable condition Saturday after crashing into the inside wall during a hurried practice session before the start of Indianapolis 500 qualifica-

A steady rain delayed the track opening most of the day, but nearly 40 cars were able to practice once the rain let up and the track dried off.

Time trials were then rescheduled for Sunday, when the forecast called for dry weather with partly sunny skies and temperatures in the 60s.

Ongais, clocked at 191.205 mph on the lap just before the crash, spun coming out of the fourth turn. His Parnelli-Cosworth slid backward about 550 feet, struck the inside wall, did another half-spin and slid another 150 feet into the wall again. He slid about 100 feet along the wall before coming to rest.

There was no fire.

A track observer said Ongais apparently lost control after going low to avoid two slower cars in front of him. He was trapped inside the cockpit until a Speedway rescue crew cut the chassis from around him, lifted him onto a stretcher and took him to the infield hospital.

He later was taken to Methodist Hospital downtown.

DR. STEVE OLVEY of the Speedway medical staff said it "appeared there is some tenderness in the lower spine. We're sending him to the hospital for more complete X-rays than we can do here. It appears that everything seems okay.

Ongais, 37, Costa Mesa, Calif., had been regarded as one of the favorites for the pole position for the May 27 race. He was one of seven drivers who topped 190 mph during the week-long practice, with his best lap at

The former motorcycle and drag racing champion was seeking his third start in the Indy 500. He tied for the second-fastest qualification speed of 200.122 mph and started in the middle of the front row last year and led the race for 71 laps, but he wound up 18th after engine trouble knocked him out after 145 laps.

The lengthy rain delay, coupled with Ongais' crash and the required half-hour of practice before any qualifications may be attempted, wiped out the entire session of time trials... By the time the track closed at 6 p.m., EST, 42 cars had made practice runs. Ongais' 191.205 was the fastest lap, followed by defending champion Al Unser at 191.164

Last year, the first two days of qualifications were rained out before Tom Sneva captured the pole position with a record four-lap average at 202.156 mph. Sneva finished second to Unser last year and to four-time champion A.J. Foyt in 1977.

A U.S. Auto Club restriction on manifold pressure cut speeds dramatically this year. The week's top practice lap was Foyt's 194.890. The lower engine "boost" was one of the key points in the dispute be-tween USAC and the breakaway Championship Auto Racing Teams. Ongais, whose Interscope Racing team was aligned with CART, was not one of the drivers whose cars were originally rejected by USAC.

A three-day hearing in federal court resulted in the reinstatement of 19 CART entries, including the Chaparral driven by Al Unser and the cars piloted by former Indy champs Bobby Unser, Johnny Rutherford and Gordon Johncock. With the exception of Foyt, an original CART director who went back to USAC, all the top speeds in practice this past week were turned in by CART drivers.

New Chaparral gives Al even more confidence

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) - Al Unser, second only to A.J. Foyt in Indianapolis 500 victories and prize money, said Saturday he is more confident about his chances in a new ground-hugging Chapparal than when he won-his third Indy a year ago.

Unser, who last year became just the second $1 million career winner here, was one of the favorites for the pole position as rain delayed Saturday's start of qualifications for the May 27 race.

It was the second consecutive year that rain limited activity at the scheduled start of four days of qualifications. Last year, rain washed out the entire first weekend of time trials.

Unser, who won all three U.S. Auto Club 500 mile races in a Lola last year, is trying to join Foyt as the only man to win here four times. His Chapparal, designed by Jim Hall, uses the ground effects principle common in Formula I racing.

"I don't understand the car yet, but it has the potential to be a first class race car," said Unser, who hit better than 193 mph Friday. "It responds a lot better than last year's car. But I won a lot of money last year, so I can't complain about that car."

UNSER, THE younger of the two racing brothers from Albuquerque, N.M., said his' 193 mph lap was achieved within the engine restrictions imposed by USAC for qualifications and the race.

USAC limited eight-cylinder cars to 50 inches of pressure, down from 80 a year ago, in an effort to tighten competition. Four-cylinder cars are allowed 60 inches and non-turbocharged stock blocks 58 inches.

The lower pressure has cut speeds by an average 10-15 mph from last year, when the entire front row of the 33-car field averaged more than 200

"I didn't expect speeds to be as highas they are, but I have never run 50 before ... Foyt ran 189 at Ontario, so 190 seems realistic here," Unser

Still, Unser, who is a member of the dissident Championship Auto Racing Teams, said the reduction is unnecessary and unfair to drivers.

"You're taking a car designed and developed to run 200 miles an hour and taking away its power. I don't think it's doing the drivers justice and I don't think it lets the drivers show whether they are good or bad," he

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) - Ed Halicki pitched a two-hitter and drove in a run and Johnnie LeMaster collected three singles as the San Francisco Giants beat the Philadelphia Phillies 4-1 Saturday. Del Unser, playing in place of the injured Greg Luzinski, got both hits off Halicki - a linc-drive single to right with two out in the fourth inning and a bunt single with one out in the ninth.

Halicki, 3-3, struck out eight and walked three in pitching the Giants to their seventh victory in the last nine games.

The Giants scored two runs-off loser Randy Lerch, 2-2, in the fifth. Darrell Evans tripled and scored on Marc Hill's sacrifice fly. LeMaster singled, went to second on right fielder Bake McBride's error and scored on Halicki's single for a 2-0 lead."

After the Phillies scored an unearned run in the sixth without benefit of a hit, the Giants added two runs in the seventh. Evans walked, Hill singled and LeMaster belted a run-scoring single. Larry Herndon was walked intentionally, loading the bases, and Terry Whitfield hit a sacrifice fly.

Pirates clip Reds, 3-2

PITTSBURGH (AP) - Willie Stargell and Omar Moreno each drove in a run after a disputed umpire's call kept alive a seventh-inning rally that lifted the Pittsburgh Pirates to a 3-2 victory over the Cincinnati Reds Saturday

With two out in the Pirate seventh, Rennie Stennett was at second base and Phil Garner at first when reliever Frank Pastore.

On a two-strike pitch, Stargell jerked his body and bat but the pitch was called a ball by home plate umpire Bob Nelson. The Reds aregued that Stargell had swung and appealed to third base umpire Harry Smail, but Smail ruled no swing. Stargell followed with a single to right that scored Stennett with the tying run. Moreno then singled off Dave Tomlin to drive in Garner with the winning Moreno also singled home a third-inning run that gave Pittsburgh a 1-0 lead off Cincinnati starter Fred Norman. In the sixth, Champ Summers' RBI double off reliever Jim Bibby gave the Reds a 1-1 tie.

Ken Griffey stole second in the Cincinnati seventh and came home with the aid of two Pirate errors to put Cincinnati on top 2-1.

Pirates starting pitcher Bruce Kison allowed only one hit over the first five innings before leaving with a finger injury. Bibby, Kent Tekulve and Grant Jackson allowed just two hits the rest of the way. Bibby, 3-1, got the victory, Pastore, 1-3, took the

Broberg to skip

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP) - Pete Broberg has pitched for five lastplace teams in seven years, and that's made it easy for him to say "No" to the New York Mets - even though it probably means the end of a oncebright major league baseball career.

The handsome, blond, West Palm Beach native was released on opening day this year by the Los Angeles-Dodgers, and he said that while the Mets have called four times since, "At this point, I don't want to go to another loser. I've played for losing teams all my career.

"I was going to quit at the end of this year anyway if I didn't have that real good year," Broberg said. "I've never played for a bonafide winning team and playing for the Dodgers this year was a chance to do that.'

Broberg, now 29, signed as a bonus baby in 1971 with the Washington Senators, the first in a succession of losers that have left him with a career won-loss record of 41-71.

"Two of the teams I played on lost 100 games," he said. "You could take Tom Seaver and put him on one of those teams and he couldn't do much better.'

Barring a call from say, the Cincinnati Reds or New York Yankees, Broberg will enroll soon at Nova University in Fort Lauderdale to seek a law degree. "I can still pitch. If I don't belong in the big leagues, then two-thirds of the pitchers don't either," he said. "I never wanted to be a hanger-onner, though. Just two months ago, Broberg was looking forward to what he hoped would be his big moment. He's still not sure what happened. "My agent talked to them and they told him I'd made the club. I had a so-so spring, but it was good enough. The club even flew my wife and two daughters out to California.

"We were all set to spend the sum-mer in California," Broberg said. "The day before the opener, they had a Chamber of Commerce dinner and (Dodgers' broadcaster) Vin Scully came up to me and said. 'Welcome to the club

"Four hours later, I was released,"

Broberg admitted his spring training performance was only so-so, but said he thought he could be helping the Dodgers as a long reliever and spot starter. Broberg keyed the Oakland A's strong early start last season by winning his first four decisions. What came next may typify the strange situation there. "A lot of what you hear about Oakland is true. Finley is not all that bad. but he does some crazy things.

Out there, I started out 4-0 and had the best stats of anyone on the club, the best earned run average. Then one day, he had lunch with his old pitching coach, Wes Stock, and he told Finley I would be better as a reliev-

"So the next day I found myself in the bullpen," he said. Broberg finished 10-12, noting a lot of hits got through "a sieve" of an infield.

Broberg, whose best season was a 14-16, 4.13 ERA, mark for the 1975 Milwaukee Brewers, said he's ready to move on to other things.

"Cumulatively, I spent about a year and half in Venezuela playing winter ball. I've traveled all over the country. I played amateur ball one summer in Alaska. Very honestly, I'm sorr it's over. Baseball's given me a good life for my 20s. I've seenparts of the world I wouldnt have seen other-

NCAA picks three teams for III tourney

WILLIMANTIC, Conn. (AP) -Eastern Connecticut State College, Brandeis University and Pace University were selected Friday for the NCAA Division III Northeast regional baseball tournament:

ECSC will be host for the May 22-25 tournament. Eastern Connecticut has a record of 25-12. Brandeis, in Waltham; Mass., is 24-2 and No. 1 among Division III New England teams. Pace University of New York has a 19-9 record.

The other three teams in the Northeast tourney will be named next week. The winner of the six-team competition will go to the national finals June 1-3 in Marietta, Ohio.

powered the Texas Rangers to a 3-1 victory over Toronto Blue Jays Saturday. Steve Comer, 3-3, got the victory, with relief help from Jim Kern in the eighth inning. Dave Lemanczyk, 2-2, took the loss. Last month Lemanczyk registered a one-hit shutout over the Rangers, with Comer again the opposing pitcher. Toronto took a 1-0 lead in the fourth inning when Roy Howell singled home Bob Bailor, but Texas tied the score in the sixth Buddy Bell's sacrifice fly.

Sundberg blasted Lemanczyk's second pitch over the left field fence for his second home run of the season to put the Rangers ahead to stay. Texas got an insurance run in the ninth on a triple by Al Oliver and a single by Pat Putnam. Kern came on with two out in the eighth inning after Comer walked Rico Carty. Kern walked slugger John Mayberry but then struck out Howell, who had barely missed a home run one pitch earlier when his drive over the right field fence curved foul by inches.

NEW YORK (AP) - Graig Nettles doubled Thurman Munson home from first base in the bottom of the ninth inning Saturday, giving the New York Yankees a wild 6-5 victory over the California Angels in a 27-hit slugfest played during a steady rain. Munson opened the ninth with a single off Dave , 2-1, the third California pitcher. Nettles, after twice failing to bunt, ripped a 3-2 pitch into the right field corner for the game's 12th extra-base hit.

The Yankees' 16 hits included four doubles, two triples and a solo home run by Chris Chambliss. The Angels collected 11 hits, including two doubles and three triples.

Chambliss snapped a 3-3 tie with a sacrifice fy in the fourth inning and gave the Yankees a -3 lead in the sixth with his third homer of te season and first in a month.

DETROIT (AP) - Jim Wohlford and pinch-hitter Charlie Moore hit consecutive doubles with two out in the ninth inning Saturday to give the Milwaukee Brewers a 3-2 victory over the Detroit Tigers.

The Angels chased New York starter Luis Tiant with a run in the seventh on a walk and Rick Miller's triple.

Nacquired Jim Kaat pitched out of Wohlford, who entered the game as a pinch runner in the seventh, grounded his double to left. The ball stopped in the wet grass, enabling him to stretch what normally would have been a single into a two-bagger. Then Moore doubled down the left field line off Bruce Taylor, 1-2, the third Tiger pitcher.

Jerry Augustine, the third of five Brewer pitchers, picked up the victory in his first decision of the year. Bob McClure earned his his second

tops Mets

SAN DIEGO (AP) -Pinch-hitter Kurt Bevacqua singled home Bill Almon to give Bob Ow-chinko his first win of the year and snap a sixgame San Diego losing streak as the Padres defeated the New York Mets 2-1 Saturday night.

Owchinko's victory was his first complete game of the year and it evened his record at 1-1. Owchinko scattered six hits, walked six and struck out five batters. Bevacqua's seventh-inning liner off Jesse Orosco broke a 1-1 deadlock. Almon led off the inning with a walk from reliever Neil Allen, 0-4. Owchinko sacrificed Almon to second, and Allen intentionally walked Gene Richards. Padres Manager Roger Craig pinch-hit lefty Mike Hargrove for Ozzie Smith to face the righthander Allen. Mets Manager Joe Torre countered with left-hander Orosco, and Craig then inserted Bevacqua for Hargrove to set the stage for the go-ahead hit.

The Mets took a 1-0 lead in the third inning. With one out, Alex Trevino singled to right. Lee Mazzilli followed with a hit-and-run double to drive in Trevino.

Higgins retains lead in LPGA golf

ATLANTA (AP) - Pam Higgins retained her one-stroke lead over Amelia Rorer and Sandra Post in the $100,000 Ladies Professional Golf Association tournament Saturday, despite two late bogeys that followed a long rain delay.

Higgins shot a par 73 for a 36-hole total of 140. Rorer, a long-shot, had a 71. Post, fired a 69, best round of the day.

Rorer, playing in the final threesome with the leader, gained one shot on Higgins with her 71 going into Sunday's final round.

Post, third leading money winner this year, knocked in a pair of four-foot birdie putts and another from 18 feet before moving into a secondplace tie with a six-foot birdie putt on the final Five others were deadlocked at 142, including Jane Blalock, winner of three tournaments this season. She had a 72 along with veteran Clifford Ann Creed. Also at 142 were Jan Stephenson and Dot Germain, both with 70s and Pat Bradley with a 73.

Texas' Curren advances

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) - Jay Lapidus of Princeton and Kevin Curren of Texas advanced Saturday into the finals of the Collegiate Tennis Championship. Lapidus beat Jai DiLouie of SMU 6-3, 4-6, 6-1 in one semifinal game, while Curren rallied to beat Juan

Farrow of Southern Illinois 2-6, 7-5, 6-2. Lapidus had beaten top-seeded Andy Kohlberg of Tennessee and Curren had edged second-seeded Eric Iskersky 6-4, 6-2 in earlier rounds of play, which involved 16 of the nation's top collegiate players.

Hays beams over 1st week of Pack drills

Dennie Hays knows a good thing when he sees it. And what the Midland High football coach saw during the first week of spring practice certainly had him beaming.

Hays and his staff put 107 hopefuls through the paces during five sessions last week. According to the second-year boss, the initial week of spring ball is set aside for work on techniques with very little contact.

'The kids are excited, they know they have some talent, it's just up to us to develop it and go from there," said Hays.

Much of the first week involved "acclimating" 48 sophomores-to-be from Edison Freshman School with the Bulldog program. "We're real enthused about the response, they're catching on real quick,' said Hays of his yearlings. "We've got a real good

Mind you, there are some studs among the upper classmen. Of 40 players tentatively placed on the "assigned varsity," 17 have monograms. There are 67 players on the "assigned junior varsity," including frosh-

But Hays stressed that the preliminary rosters were "not a final determination.

Still, there's plenty of experience, "particularly in the backfield." Hays has seven letter-winning backs in the fold, including two-deep at quarterback, tail-

That's a great nucleus, especially combined with 10 seasoned linemen. Of his trench warriors, Hays said, "We have some good-sized linemen. There's just a lack of playing experience.

The Purple Pack's infantry, understandably, has looked strong. "All our backs are doing real well," said Hays, refusing to mention names. "Our running game looks real good. That should be our strength and it is right now.

The only real shortage appears to be among coaches as Hays' staff is operating two men short. Hays said the situation isn't a problem, adding the kids have been real cooperative...," as has his

Hays also had kind words for the Edison staff, which this year appears to have provided a bumper crop of youngsters.

This week, said Hays, the Bulldogs will conduct a scrimmage and get into more contact work. He said the third and final week of drills will center on strategy adjustments and preparation for the May 25 spring game at Memorial Stadium.

One alteration in the Pack's game plan may involve the air attack. "I think we'll try to throw the ball a little more effectively," said Hays.

Midland Lee Saturday concluded their second week of spring training. The Rebels will cap drills later this week with their spring game.

Baylor opened the scoring in the first inning when Fritz Connally doubled home Matt Schaper from first base. Arkansas came back to tie the score in the fourth inning when Larry Wallace scored on Ronn McReynolds' double play ground ball.

In the decisive eighth inning, Arkansas' Mike Martin reached first base on an error, advanced to third on Johnny Ray's single and scored on a squeeze bunt. Ed Wallace was walked, McReynolds got on with a single, and the bases were loaded for Hennell's grand slammer.

Jets' Smith doing best

EDMONTON (AP) - Before their best-of-seven World Hockey Association championship series began, goaltender Gary Smith predicted his Winnipeg Jets would prevail over Edmonton in five

Then he kicked out 23 shots to help the Jets nail down the opener, 3-1. But Oilers coach Glen Sather wasn't impressed and says the Winnipeg goalkeeper can be had.

"He goes down to his knees a lot," Sather said. The style proved effective in the first game because the Oilers couldn't shake loose from tenacious Winnipeg defenders long enough to get clear shots.

Smith has played for all but 16 minutes in the Jets' first five playoff games, including a four-game semifinal sweep past the Quebec Nordiques. He has allowed 13 goals and has a 2.60 goals against aver-

Cardinals' Templeton injured

ST. LOUIS (AP) - St. Louis shortstop Garry Templeton, suffering a possible broken bone in his right wrist, was pulled from the lineup and sent for X-rays Saturday night just before the Cardinals' game against the Atlanta Braves.

It was not known immediately how the injury occured. Further examination is scheduled for Sunday morning. Mike Phillips took Templeton's place in the St. Louis lineup.

Orioless exec, Kluttz, dies at 61 years, had been hospitalized with heart and kidney problems for the past several weeks. As a major league catcher Kluttz played with the

Boston Braves, New York Giants, St. Louis Cardinals, Pittsburgh Pirates, St. Louis Browns and Washington Senators during 1942-52. He also was a scout, farm director, minor league manager and front-office administrator. He joined the Orioles in

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) - The Texas Longhorns, with 1-2 finishes in the javelin and shot put and a pressure-packed 3:07.34 victory in the 1600-meter relay, unseated the Texas Aggies Saturday night as the Southwest Conference track and field cham-

Oskar Jakobsson, who earlier in the day won the discus, placed first in the shot with a 62-101/4 heave, and teammate Robbie Robinson finished second at 62-0 to give the Longhorns precious points in the closing minutes of the 64th annual track circus.

Jakobsson won the discus with a throw of 197-5 and placed fourth in the javelin to earn high-point honors for UT with 24 points.

Texas took the early lead on Ian Seale's 46.2

opening split and never trailed in the race to earn 10 valuable points, while the Aggies finished third and netted only 6.

Houston sprinter Rich Edwards fulfilled a pre-race pledge by beating Texas A&M's Curtis Dickey in the 100-meter dash, and Rice's Bruce Gingrich avenged his 1978 disqualification with a meet record in the 800-meter dash.

Edwards, normally a slow starter, led from start to finish and recorded a winded-aided 10.18 victory over Dickey, who normally has a fast start.

He also became a double winner later in the meet when he charged to a victory in the 200-meter

Gingrich continued the heated pace moments later with an SWC record 1:47.6 victory in the 800-meter dash to erase memories of the 1978 performance when he won the event but was disqualified for impeding a Texas runner.

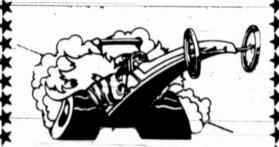

Todd Harbour of Baylor came from back in the pack to finish second in the lightning-quick 800-meter field in which the top seven finishers broke the 1:50 barrier and the top six finishers were under the NCAA championship meet qualifying time.

Doc King of Rice provided early thrills when he streaked to a 13.74 victory in the 110-meter hurdles to become only the fourth SWC hurdler in history to win

Houston's Charles Whigham was second in 13.99 but came back moments later to beat out King with a meet record 49.84 clocking in the 400-meter hur-

The Texas Longhorns added 23 points in the javelin event alone with four athletes earning points, including a meet record 261-8 toss by Frank Lyons. Denes Pajtas was second at 254-3. Lyons and Pagatas both exceeded the 16-year-old record of 249-3 held by Rice's Ed Red.

Bullets may keep NBA tradition alive

LANDOVER, Md. (AP) - No team in the past decade has been able to repeat as National Basketball Association champion, and the Washington Bullets are precariously close to keeping that tradition alive

The Bullets, shellshocked by George Gervin's 42-point fusillade Friday that gave San Antonio a 3-1 lead in the best-of-seven Eastern Conference final, must beat the Spurs Sunday or else be dethroned.

"This team isn't beat until you beat them four," cautioned Spurs Coach Doug Moe, hopeful of letting a sleeping dog lie. "I'm excited as anything, but I know we only won three. I feel very confident but I'm not overconfident. I know what can happen.

"It's not over by a long shot. We vere up 3-1 with Philly with two games at home and we had to go to the seventh game, so we understand where we are.

Cautious words notwithstanding. 'the freewheeling Spurs are on the verge of knocking off the defending NBA champions and the team picked by most experts to win the playoffs again.

SAN ANTONIO won the series opener here, lost the second game but then built a 3-1 lead by winning both games in Texas. The big man was Gervin, the NBA scoring champion the last two years, who bombarded the Bullets with 20 points in the third period of Friday night's 118-102 victory, including 18 straight San Antonio points in what Moe called "an unbelievable

"I turned to (Louie) Dampier on the bench when he hit the first three in the third quarter and said, 'This game is history," said Spurs center Billy Paultz.

"It was so easy for him, it was boring," observed Bullets Coach Dick "We weren't in any way able to contain him.

Motta tried an assortment of players against Gervin, including guards Kevin Grevey and Tom Henderson and forwards Bobby Dandridge and Greg Ballard. None could stop him, or even slow him down.

'It was just one of those nights," said Gervin, nicknamed "Iceman" for his unflappable court demeanor. "This is my job and the job is not over yet. We've got a 3-1 lead and they've got their backs to the wall."

The Bullets, with rugged frontcourtmen like Wes Unseld and Elvin Haves, had expected to outmuscle the Spurs. It hasn't happened.

MC women seek tennis upset

A battle of conference oppo-nents could decide the 1979 National Junior College Athletic Association women's tennis title again this year as Midland College and Odessa College resume their rivalry in Waco Monday through Friday.

The Chaparrals are underdogs with OC favored to successfully defend its title. However, Coach Brian Gilley's bunch isn't to be counted out without a fight. The Midland girls won the national championship in 1975, to the surprise of everyone, and repeated in 1976. OC bounced back to win in 1977 and 1978 with MC finishing second.

That's the way it has been this year, too, with OC winning WJCC and Region V play with Midland second.

'Our doubles teams in particular played well in the regionals," Gilley said. "They had a couple of matches they had to win to ensure the trip to the nationals, and they came through with victories.

With four freshmen and only one sophomore on the women's team, there isn't much experience with the pressures of national tournament play. Kathy Bovell, a sophomore from Australia, is the lone returnee from last year and she didn't play in the nationals.

Also representing the Chaps will be Leslie Miller, Odessa Permian freshman: Debbie Smith, Houston Westchester; Mary Jane Spencer, Arlington Lamar; and Karen Young, Wichita Falls Rider.

"Leslie has developed this year into an all-around player. In high school, she was primarily a doubles player. She and her partner won 73 straight matches to win district and regional championships," Gilley said.

He went on, "Debbie was Where's Steinbrenner's wallet?

If you were an owner or manager, would you risk a 25-3 pitcher and Cy Young winner as a relief pitcher?

No matter how noble and selfsacrificing the intent, Ron Guidry is putting his career on the line for an owner who has bought the best team in baseball, damned the expense, yet apparently can't afford or find a relief

Guidry isn't your ordinary rubber armed reliefer, who can heat up in a few pitches in the bullpen, and if he is not needed, sit down and get ready in a hurry again a few innings later if the need arises.

By his own admission, Ron says, "Not me. I won't loosen up, sit down and loosen up again. I won't do that. When I get up I'll go in."

Of course, it may be that Guidry may be destined for the same fate, unreasonable as it sounds, as Ken Holtzman and Sparky Lyle. Holtzman, a 20-game winner for the world champion Oakland A's, was the forgotten man on the Yankees' staff for two years on the whim of a Billy Martin or George Steinbrenner. And Lyle, a Cy Young reliefer, was relegated to the scrap heap when the Yankees acquired Rich Gossage. And now, Tommy John, 7-0, seems to be the fair-haired lefthanded starter on the Yankees staff.

Somehow, successful pitchers have away of fading into oblivion at the tops of their careers with the Yankees and by volunteering for relief chores, Guidry may be taking more of a risk than he realizes...

COULD IT be that John McEnroe. the terrible-tempered ex-teenager from Stanford, is just the necessary evil to make Jimmy Connors the exbad boy of tennis and the new Ameriean folk hero.?

John's behavior at times has been so outrageous that finger-pointing Jimmy's antics may seem respectful in comparison. It wouldn't be the first time it happened.

Back in his early days as a Yankee, Mickey Mantle wasn't exactly the darling of the New York fans or press, the same reverance as a DiMaggio, but it wasn't always that way. And while Biorn Borg is known as the Iceman of tennis because of ability to encounter disaster of the worst sort without reflecting his innermost feelings, it wasn't always that way. As a 12-to-14 year-old, he was a racquet, tempering tossing brat of the worst kind. No lineman was safe from his foul tongue. That's when his parents threatened to take his racquet away from him...

AND AS we were saying before being so rudely interrupted in Friday's edition by the 1949 Philadelphia A's infield, before snapping something in his arm last week in San Antonio, Mike Allen was fast becoming Midland's most valuable relief pitcher...Incidentally, no one is en-

Today, Mantle is remembered with more than the Amarillo Gold Sox, back almost intact from a year ago when they were pistol-whipped in 22 of 26 games by the El Paso Diablos. You can bet they were remembering last week when they ran up those 19 and 18 run games against the California Angels' farmhands, who, thank goodness, have come back to earth this season...

> Incidentally, the Angels regard third baseman Carney Lansford as the best prospect ever developed in the Angels' farm system, which will prove hard to believe for the Midland fan who used to give Carney such a hard time whenever he visited Cubs Stadium. That should be good news to Amarillo's Tim Derryberry, who also receives the treatment here, probably because his parents didn't name him Gerald Terrance, like they should

Lyle wins close decision

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) Heavyweight Ron Lyle kept his professional boxing career alive as he survived a third-round knockdown and went on to capture a split decision from Scott LeDoux in a 10-round bout Sat-

The 37-year-old Lyle, only recently exonerated from seconddegree murder charges, used his left hook in gaining the decision by the scantest of margins from the 30-year-old LeDoux, from Anoka, Minn.

LeDoux, 225, floored the 218pound Lyle in the third round and then followed with a right cross that put the Denver boxer into the ropes again:

Judge Art Lurie scored it 46-45 for Lyle and judge Harold Buck saw it 45-44 for the winner. Judge Charles Minker had it 45-44 for LeDoux.

Tom Watson overcomes disaster to keep lead

DALLAS (AP) - Defending champion Tom Watson, overcoming his own personal disaster, took advantage of Jerry Pate's four-putt collapse on the final green Saturday to take a one-shot lead after 54 holes of the wind-blown $300,000 Byron Nelson Golf Classic.

Watson notched a one-under-par 69 for a three-round total of 5-under-par 205 over Preston Trail Golf Club's par-70, unforgiving 6,993 yards.

BOWLING BEAT

Poole follows 225 with a 300

By RANDY ISENBERG

Sonny Poole jammed the pocket 12 times for a perfect 300 game to pace bowlers for the week in Midland.

Poole, a 22-year-old bowler of three years, was bowling the Tuesday Aces league finale when he rolled his perfecto. His first game was a 225, then the 300, and his final game was a

Poole rolled the final four strikes of his 300 before a hushed house of nearly 160 people who were crowding his bowling area to share in the thrill of a lifetime. As the twelfth ball scattered all the pins for the perfect game, the entire house erupted into applause. Poole's three game series was 723.

Sonny will receive a diamond ring from the American Bowling Congress, a 300 chevron, a century chevron for bowling 100 pins over his 173 average and a 700 chevron for the 700 series. Poole also received $300 from Air Park Lanes and tickets to "The Dreamer" from the Midland Theater Company. "The Dreamer" is a movie with the theme centering around bowling currently showing at the Hodge Theater.

In other bowling activity during the week, Karen Schoonover led the women with a 617 series on a 233 game. Linda DeCosta scored a 215 game and 595 series. The Alley Cat league, a beginners league organized in April, saw 114 average Belinda Warford sparkle with a 242 game and 505 series. The 200 game was her first as was the 500 series. Belinda will earn the century patch from the Women's International Bowling Con-

Among the men, Larry Alldredge, one of the most improved men bowlers in the city, scored a 256 game and 687 series in the His & Hers league, and a 224 game and 591 series in the Petroleum National. Last year he averaged 169 in the Friday Night Mixed and a 164 in the His & Hers Mixed. This year he will finish in the 170s and 180s for league play.

Charlie Lacy totaled 247-670 in the Oil Star roll-off, 237-606 in the Keglers league, 226-635 in the Industrial league and 246-226-689 in the Petroleum American league. Lacy will end the season with a composite average of better than 200. In the leagues that he bowls, his averages range from the 190s to 206 plus. Lacy, who is a 32-year municipal employee with the city of Midland, made three stops on the pro tour this year, bowling well and just missing the cut.

On the league front:

Midland's Billie Hunt makes community service her hobby

most satisfying and rewarding "hobby" through the years has been community service.

She and her late husband, Wilmont, were staunch backers and boosters of Midland Community Theatre for many years and in 1972 were honored by the MCT board of governors by being made honorary life members of the theater.

Mrs. Hunt, long active in Midland Symphony Guild, has been similarly honored with a lifetime membership in that organization. She also holds honorary life memberships in the Midland Symphony and Chorus Association as a result of her many years' work on behalf of, first, the Midland Sympho-

THE HUNTS, NATIVES of Wichita Falls, first moved to Midland in 1940 after spending the first two years of their married life in Hobbs, N.M. They remained here until 1942 when Hunt went into the Army, emerging several years later as a captain in Falls, then moved back to Midland. As Mrs. Hunt amateur theater festival. points out, it was after their move back here that "we really began to get involved in the community - and we enjoyed every minute of it." Hunt, who was a scout for Texaco in those years, began working with Midland Community Theatre in its first home, the old city-county auditorium (actually a quonset structure) on South Colorado Street. He had roles in several early productions at MCT, and Mrs. Hunt about the same time began working credited with creating the "Symphony Debs" organibackstage, doing props or costumes "or whatever needed to be done," she recalls

He was transferred to Denver later that year and the Hunt family left Midland for a two-year stay in the Colorado capital city.

> After their return here, Hunt again was elected to the MCT presidency, and it was during his tenure that MCT's Theatre Centre at 2301 W. Indiana Ave., was built and occupied.

THEATRE CENTRE continued as MCT's home until the splendid new theater structure known as Theatre Midland at 2000 W. Wadley Ave., was completed and occupied in May of 1978.

After the Hunts' return from Denver, Mrs. Hunt undertook her first stage role at MCT - in the theater's production of the comedy classic, "Life With Father.

In later years, she has had various other stage roles, including those in "The Remarkable Mr. Pennypacker" and "Anything Goes." ("And I've tried out for some roles I wanted but didn't get," she recalls with a chuckle, "but I imagine that was probably good for me.")

In 1965, the Hunts were in Europe to participate in festivities marking the 20th anniversary of Gen. George Patton's triumphant race across Germany, a military campaign in which Hunt, as a young artil- She is an honorary life member of Midland lery officer, had been involved

THE SYMPHONY LEAGUE ultimately expired; but after the orchestras of Midland and Odessa were combined into the Midland-Odessa Symphony under Dr. Lara Hoggard, Mrs. Hunt organized the Midland Symphony Guild.

She served as Guild chairman the first year, and in later years held various offices, including the presidency in 1967.

She is quick to pay tribute to the guild's early members and believes that their hard work and support of the Midland-Odessa Symphony is one of the factors contributing to the ensemble's present success and high standing among the nation's metro-

In the summer of 1970, Mrs. Hunt served the Symphony Guild as general chairman for a special production of the Tom Jones-Harvey Schmidt musical, "I Do! Round Top Festival will begin June 8 and continue through July 8. Fifteen performances, including solo instrumental recitals and chamber music and orchestral programs, will be offered, said concert pianist James Dick, founder-director of the festival.

In addition, a special program featuring numerous outstanding musicians and instrumentalists will be given on July 4 to honor famous American composer Samuel Barber on his 70th birthday.

Special seminars at the festival will be given by Byron Belt, music critic of the Newhouse Syndicate; Martin Bernheimer, music critic for the Los Angeles Times; Robert Commanday, music critic for the San Francisco Chroncle; John S. Edwards, general manager of the Chicago Symphony Orchestra; Harriett Johnson, senior critic for the New York Post; Isador Saslav, concertmaster for the Baltimore Symphony, and others:

Some performances will be given on the stage of the Mary Moody Northen Pavillion, one of largest outdoor facilities of its kind in the nation. Other programs will be presented at-the William L. Clayton House, both in the outdoor courtyard and in the indoor parlor. This building dates back to 1870 and has been carefully and authenically restored.

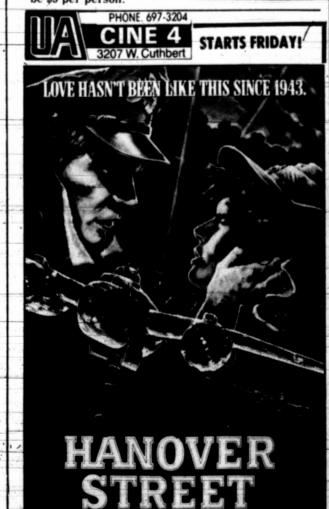

Three years ago, James Dick moved his festival to a site now known as Festival Hill. It is located a halfmile from the Round Top town square. Each season since then, there have been gradual additions made to what now can truthfully be called a small musical town. The latest addition is multi-purpose music studios desgned by Houston architect Edward Mattingly. It is the second facility which Mattingly has created for Festival Hill.

The opening event of the 1979 festival will be a two-piano concert featuring James Dick and Eugene

A highlight of the program will be a performance of the Two Piano Sonata by the late, great French composer Francis Poulenc, to commemorate the 80th anniversary of the composer's birth.

The second program of the new season, scheduled June 9, will feature pianist Dick and cellist Yehuda Hanani in a sonata recital. Programmed for the recital are works by Beethoven, Debussy, J.S. Bach

Tickets for festival concerts and recitals will be $4, with children under 12 admitted for $2. Admission to the series of special Sunday afternoon concerts will be $5 per person.

HOUSTON — B.G. Rider of Odessa has been promoted to executive vice president by the board of directors of El Paso Products Co. He has served as vice president in charge of administration for the past

Rider started with Products in 1956 as plant superintendent and later the same year was promoted to division manager. From 1958 to 1964 he was general superintendent of plants. After Products' corporate offices moved to Odessa in 1964, he assumed the position of administrative assistant to the vice president of manufac-

In 1969 Rider was promoted to as sistant vice president and while hold ing that office was also director of computer services for four years and then assistant vice president of manufacturing during 1973-74. He was made vice president in October 1974.

Pennzoil reorganizes

HOUSTON - Pennzoil Co.'s Oil and Gas Division is being restructured to make it a more efficient and effective organization. Effective May 1, it will function as Pennzoil Exploration and Production Co., a Division of Pennzoil Co., with its own officers.

The group will continue to operate under the direction of William A. Hover as chairman and chief executive officer and Harold J. Fitzgeorge as president and chief operating offi-

The new structure will consist of functional assignments and operating assignments. The functional positions include Exploration, Production, and Engineering, and the operating positions include United States Onshore, United States Offshore, and International Exploration and Production.

. Assisting the president in functional positions will be David S. Holland, who is being promoted from vice president to senior vice president, Exploration; Kenneth R. Huddleston, who is being promoted from vice president to senior vice president, Production; and Robert G. Bryan, senior vice president, Engineering; who will continue to have responsibility for all engineering activity in the new Holland joined Pennzoil in 1966 as a senior exploration geologist in the company's Midland-based Western Division. In 1977, he was named to his current position as vice president, Oil and Gas Exploration.

Diesel shortage spreads

By The Associated Press

Diesel-fuel shortages are spreading across the country, endangering farm operations from Georgia to the Dakotas, coal mining in Montana and commercial fishing off the coast of Washington state.

Although not as visible as the long lines at gasoline stations in California, the diesel shortage could have a staggering economic im-

Agriculture Secretary Bob Bergland responded Friday by announcing that the Department of Energy would guarantee farmers 100 percent of their diesel-fuel needs. If necessary, he said, the government will order refineries to move diesel into agricultural areas.

"Any shortage of diesel fuel could significantly reduce the size of harvests, create a tight supply situation and result in serious market disruptions," Bergland said. Farmers and farm organizations had been warning for weeks that diesel shortages could have a major impact on farm production. "We could have a real foul-up of our food production and distribution system," the agriculture commissioner of Georgia, Tommy Irvin, said before Bergland's announcement.

Farmers use diesel to run tractors and other big farm equipment. Excellent planting weather has compounded the problem in Georgia, one of the hardest-hit areas. Rain and cold weather have delayed field work in much of the Midwest, taking the pressure off diesel supplies.

Connally urges more use of gas

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) - Republican presidential candidate John Connally says he would encourage nation's utilities to start burning natural gas instead of fuel oil to relieve any energy crisis.

.. We have a temporary surplus of natural gas we could sacrifice for the next year so that we could turn all fuel oil into gasoline for summer or heating oil for winter and perhaps get by any crisis," Connally told a news conference after a speech Friday to the American Cotton Shippers Association

"Then I would try as hard as I could to get the utilities to convert to coal instead of using gas or

Connally said President Carter should have been granted standby authority by the House to ration the nation's gasoline supplies.

We're going to have a crisis... I think he has to have the flexibility of action to deal with it," he The House rejected the President's gasoline rationing plan by a 246-159 vote although the Senate approved a amended rationing plan 'I agree with the Senate," Connally said.

Connally, 61, former governor of Texas and former secretary of the Navy and Treasury, predicted the California gasoline shortage will spread across the country this summer.

He called for creation of an energy common market to benefit the United States, Canada and In his speech, Connally criticized the Carter administration's handling of the Iranian revolution. "We've run the Shah of Iran off his throne over civil rights," he said. "Where are civil rights

Wheat exporters agree on policies

By DAN MORGAN The Washington Post

WASHINGTON - Four of the five largest wheat exporting nations agreed at a one-day agricultural summit meeting this week that there was no need for joint action to set prices for the wheat they sell to the rest of the world.

A communique from their meeting Thursday in Saskatoon, Saskatchewan, noted "recent improvements" in wheat prices, and declared that "there was no need to vary their national marketing policies" - a statement indicating opposition to the establishment of an exporters' car-

"A wheat cartel makes no sense, economically or politically," Agriculture Secretary Bob Bergland said at a news conference Friday. "If we attempted it we'd have no way of enforcing it."

Although formation of a cartel was not on the formal agenda of the Saskatchewan meeting, the administration recently has been under presure from farm state legislators to consider an international scheme for putting a floor under world wheat

At the same time, grass roots sentiment in favor of pegging wheat prices to foreign oil prices has been on the rise. Bumper stickers demanding "a bushel of grain for a barrel of oil" have become popular in the Mid-

Bergland made clear Friday that the administration flatly opposes any artificial pricing policy, and he hinted that senators from farm states who have been pushing for joint international action may be politically moti-

"Some of their constituents are after $5 (a bushel) wheat no matter how they get it," said Bergland. On tying grain prices to oil prices, Bergland said:

"We don't think $18 (a bushel) wheat will sell. (Other countries) will grow more, or they'll grow rice. It makes a good song and a slogan." The current spot price of wheat in Minneapolis is around $3.60 a bushel.

Attending the Saskatchewan sum mit, in addition to Bergland, were representatives of Australia, Canada and Argentina. France, the world's fourth largest wheat exporter, did not send a representative.

The communique indicated that little substantive progress had been made. The officials agreed that the major exporters should meet twice a year "to ensure greater coordination of decisions relating to the production and marketing of wheat.'

There will be a follow-up meeting in June to discuss establishment of an emergency world wheat reserve. The U.S. government has submitted a bill to Congress giving the Commodity Credit Corporation authority to acquire up to four million tons of wheat for such a reserve against famines... Unsold stocks of wheat in the major producing countries are estimated to be around 47 million tons.

Share sale launched

Eddie Mee, Midland representative with Investors Diversified Services (IDS), said Saturday that sale of shares has been launched in the new IDS High Yield Tax-Exempt Fund, a concept which combines the diversification and liquidity of a mutual fund with the tax-exempt features of municipal bonds.

The new fund, he said, is the 11th mutual fund in the Investors Group of Companies

He explained that the investment objective of the new fund is to provide a high yield generally exempt from federal income taxes by investing in municipal bonds and notes. He said applications will be accepted only when current returns are higher than the minimum yield set for the fund.

Overhaul may help Texas-Mexico trade

By BILL KIDD Austin Bureau

AUSTIN - Plans by Mexico to overhaul its tax regulations on exports and imports may help with the already substantial amount of trade between Texas and its southern neighbor.

Details of the changes haven't been received by State officials, but they are due to go into effect July 1 on imports, and Jan. 1 on exports from Mexico.

Mexican officials have indicated the new trade law will increase the competitiveness of Mexican products by lowering or eliminating a number of existing taxes.

There are some indications the change is part of an increased emphasis on foreign trade by the government of President Jose Lopez Portillo - which was initially somewhat cooler to trade promotion than the previous administration.

A meeting was held in Laredo in March regarding plans to develop the US-Mexico border area into an industrial zone, by expanding and enhancing the twin plant project.

The newly-reported changes in trade laws appears to tie into that effort, and Texas officials are awaiting details of the changes.

The idea of requiring insurance companies to give credits on homeowners policies for installation of fire and burglar alarm systems, deadbolt locks, etc., remains alive with some lawmakers, despite efforts

Reps. Gene Green, Houston, and Bobby Leonard, Fort Worth, both have measures that require the State Board of Insurance to institute such programs, and both have been considered by the House Insurance Committee - with Green's bill having been another battle is shaping up with the Environmental Protection Agency on air quality standards - this time on lead emissions

TACB and EPA recently worked out what appears to be an agreement regarding the "State Implementation Plan" on hydrocarbon emissions, but Texas' request for an extension in submitting its plan for meeting the lead standards (due in July) has been denied, and the State may not be able to meet the deadline.

TACB also reports that it will be up to industries to maintain records necessary to document claims for "banked" emissions, used to offset new sources of pollution.

Those offset provisions were one of the main difficulties between TACB and EPA over the Texa compliance

TACB Chairman John Blair, Kountze, notes that if a plant shuts down, the offset potential would still belong to the plant - and could be sold as an asset to another industry seeking to expand.

"There's a good possibility that some plants would get more for pollution rights than they could for the plant," he told a board meeting re-

Figures released by the Federal Home Loan Bank Board of Little Rock, whose territory includes Texas, showed Texas savings and loan associations received $688,928,000 in net new savings during the first three quarters of 1979.

That compares with $601,974,000 for the comparable period in 1978-but remains well below the 1977 and 1976

Net savings flow for the first quarter came to $992,491,000. March accounted for $173,857,000 in net new savings (excluding interest and dividends). Loans in process at the end of March were shown as $622,100,000.

FHLBB's figures are likely to get more attention in coming months to help in analyzing the impact of actions by the Federal National Mortgage Association and the Texas Legislation on home mortgage loans, although it may be some time before those figures are available.

Carter forcess continue to deny control plan

By KRISTIN GOFF AP Business Writer

NEW YORK (AP) - The Carter administration continues to deny it has any plans to institute mandatory wage-price controls, but the pressure to do more about the inflation problem is clearly growing.

Top administration officials acknowleged this past week that inflation is expected to reach 8.5 percent this year - or one-and-a-half percentage points higher than the wage guideline they are asking workers to observe.

Others in the private sector are predicting even higher rates of inflation. The Business Council, a group of corporate executives, forecast, for example, that inflation will be 9.5 percent this year.

For the first three months of the year the consumer price inflation has been running at an annual rate of 13 percent. Even if inflation slows, as it is expected to, there is broad agreement that for the fullyear it will wind up well above the 7 percent wage guideline that is part of Carter's antiinflation program. So far, comments from Washington indicate that the short-term solution is simply to let workers take the inflation loss and hold to a 7 percent guideline. But there may be efforts to tightened guidelines for prices:

as well. For one thing, the idea evidently met with a chilly reception from a number of the blue-chip companies listed on the Big Board. "An NYSE poll of its listed companies appeared to reveal a strong concern that merger with the Amex would dilute the value which those companies felt attached to their listings," as the memo

While the Wall Street executives considered such matters in the isolation of this mountain resort community, the stock market itself was in a struggle of its own. The Dow Jones average of 30 indus trials dropped 16.98 to 830.56.

The NYSE composite index declined 1.28 to 55.48, and the Amex market value index was down 6.14 at high rating

Big Board volume averaged 28.02 million shares a day, against 29:89 million the week before. The brokers' decision to lower their sights on an Amex-NYSE combination was no big surprise. Robert C. Hall, executive vice president of the NYSE, said no formal merger talks have been held for some two years now. And there had been no change since then in any of the primary problems that sidetracked the idea, he said. Industry leaders here said they doubted any sudden dramatic progress was likely toward their new goals either.

But they did note some favorable factors, particularly on the subject of trading in financial futures, which

They noted that antitrust obstacles in this case should be far less formidable since the bulk of this business now is conducted at commodity exchanges in Chicago.

Options represent a more complicated situation since the Securities and Exchange Commission has imposed a moratorium on expansion of the options market pending a study of it regulation and impact.

Still another part of what SIA leaders envisioned is some sort of sharing of physical facilities by the two exchanges.

The Amex has successfully sought help from New York state towards the construction of a new building. The NYSE, meanwhile, is considering its options for the future, including expansion and a possible outright

LEGAL NOTICE OF 1

Fed herbicide rules will hurt area range

.Federal regulations governing limited use of the 2, 4, 5-T herbicide have prompted many Midland County ranchers to plan treatment of acreage above what they would normally spray, according to Ed Dwyer, chairman of Midland's Soil and Water Conservation Board.

Secretary of Agriculture Bob Bergland has suspended technical and cost-share assistance of the herbicide for forestry, rights of way and pas-

"This will be a terrific setback for ranchers in Texas and the Southwest area," Dwyer said, "because of the problem of invading brush, such as mesquite.

He said the chemical only suppresses the brush, which has to be sprayed again in about five years.

Mesquite uses much moisture needed for beneficial rangeland grasses. The eventual loss of 2, 4, 5-T will be a great economic loss to the livestock industry and to resource conservation," Dwyer said.

And the American Farm Bureau has joined other interested parties in filing a lawsuit challenging the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency's emergency suspension of 2, 4, 5-T and Silvex herbicides. The latter has been completely banned.

A federal judge ruled in favor of the suspension order. But, the farm bureau maintains that the judge's ruling clearly shows that "the legislative, judicial and executive branches of government are integrated.

Joe Unfred to head cotton growers

LAMESA - New Home cotton farmer Joe Unfred has succeeded Lamesa banker-farmer Lloyd Cline as president of the Plains Cotton Growers Inc.

Cline moves to chairmanship of the PCG's board of directors. Unfred has been a PCG cotton director since 1965 and served as the organization's vice president in 1978-79.

The PCG board promoted Gary Ivey of Ralls from secretary-treasurer to vice president. Cotton farmer Charles Axtell of Springlake was elected secretary-treasurer. He is a member of the Texas Corn Growers and Texas Wheat Growers associations and is secretary of the board of Dimmitt Agri Industries Inc.

Texas third in farm exports

WASHINGTON - Texas, which chalked up $2.07 billion in overseas sales of farm products, ranks third nationally in farm exports. Only Illinois and Iowa outranked the Lone Star State.

Total farm exports for the fiscal year that ended last Sept. 30 were valued at a record $27.3 billion. The ranking of states, according to dollar value, was based primarily on each state's production and sales of various commodities.

The top 10 states accounted for $16.5 billion, or 60 percent, of the total $27.3 billion in farm exports last year.

Kleberg honored at King Ranch

KINGSVILLE, Texas (AP) - A warm spring rain washed the South Texas coastal plains Friday as several hundred persons gathered to honor the memory of a fourth-generation member of one of the world's most famous ranching families.

The ceremony was held on the 823,000-acre King Ranch that the ancestors of the late board chairmn, Richard Mifflin Kleberg Jr., began building before the Civil War. Kleberg died Tuesday at age 62, following a lengthy illness. He had headed the ranch corporation since 1968

Horse show scheduled in Pecos

PECOS - The Reeves-Loving County 4-H Horse Project Group will hold its first 4-H horse show. May 20 on the Pecos Rodeo grounds. Competition will be in three age divisions. Entry fee is $2 per event, said Mike Mallett, county extension agent.

Art Bizzill takes over as Lamesa's mayor succeed banker-farmer Lloyd Cline, who has held the mayorship for more than 10 years

Cline chose not to seek re-election.

In bidding farewell to Cline, the Lamesa City Council passed a resolution noting his "outstanding service" to the community In response, Cline said he is comforted in knowing he is leaving the city "in competent hands. Bizzell, in taking his turn, told Cline the council would "reserve the right

Two at Sul Ross to retire

ALPINE - Two Sul Ross State University faculty members, Dr. Delbert A. Dyke, professor of education, and Ralph A. Welker, assistant professor of biology, are closing out a combined total 60 years in education with their retirement this year.

Dyke, who joined the Sul Ross faculty in 1952, has served as chairman of the industrial arts department, registrar, vice president for academic affairs, and as professor of education.

He took a leave in the mid-1960s to serve as field director for the Pakistan Technical Education program in Karachi, Pakistan, Welker, a former career officer in the U.S. Navy, has been on the biology faculty since the early 1960s. He was assistant registrar from 1968 to 1970.

Nagel to attend to business

BIG SPRING - Harry Nagel, Big Spring's city manager who simply got tired of the white-collar, work-a-day politicking and bailed out of office to enter private business, came up with this quotable quote in rushing out of

"My private business is going to the devil," said he, "and I need to do something about it." He said he would stay aboard if the council asks him but only on a part-time basis.

Lamesa seeking federal funds

LAMESA - The city of Lamesa is seeking $500,000 in federal funds for street paving and drainage projects. The city's pre-application grant for the Community Development funds has been approved. Funds would come from the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban development.

Crane junior wins again

CRANE - DeeDee Smartt, Crane High School junior, recently won first place in poetry interpretation in University Interscholastic League Class AA competition for the second consecutive year.

Meta Johnson, an English teacher here.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Smartt. Miss Smartt, 17, first went to UIL state competition in her freshman year, missed out on the blue-ribbon laurel then, but returned to win in the literary contest in her sophomore and junior years. Her literary coach is

Stanton grass judgers rank high

STANTON - Stanton High School's range grass judging team ranked third in national competition at the National Future Farmers of America Range and Pasture Judging Contest in Oklahoma City.

Teams from 32 states competed in the contest. Making up the Stanton team, coached by Nolan Parker, are Meg Vann, Bobby Mims, Richard Parker and John Parker.

Placing first in the contest was the Ennis team, which became the first Texas team in 28 years to disptace an Oklahoma team for the national FFA

Farm-and-ranch lab to open

LUBBOCK — Texas Tech University is returning to the land in opening a 980-acre farm-and-ranch laboratory which illustrates the beginnings of man's food-and-fiber cycles.

The facility is the Lubbock County Laboratory of the Texas Tech College of Agricultural Sciences five miles east of New Deal off Farm Road

Visitors at the center and feedlot can learn the beginnings of their "favorite steak dinner" and some of the facets of beef production. Open house will be from 1 to 5 p.m. Tuesday.

The laboratory features:> - Feedmill. Thirty-two rations are formulated for Tech's various research projects.

- Research center. Here are classrooms, small animal, physiological and surgical laboratories, 36 metabolism stalls, environmental chambers and animal holding areas.

Swine research. The sow-boar building can hold up to 80 sows and four boars. The farrowing-nursery building has two farrowing and two nursery wings and can hold 32 sows and their litters up to nine weeks of - Horse center. Director is Dr. James C. Heird.

- Dairy facility. This unit includes a necropsy laboratory and sheep

- Field research. Here, 80 acres are set aside for High Plains-type farming. Acreage will be planted in cotton, wheat, sorghum, maize and - Irrigation. The system is designed to use runoff water from livestock areas

Herbicide misuse draws South Texas complaints

AUSTIN - The mishandling of hormone-type herbicides and the resultant damage to vegetation has triggered complaints to the Texas Department of

The majority of complaints are from the South Texas area, according to Agriculture Commissioner Reagan V. Brown "Most of the effects could have been avoided by careful attention to he precautions provided on the herbicide label," he said.

Brown said about one-third of Texas' counties are under "regulated" status, whereby farmers and ranchers spray or dust under strict rules governing the laying of herbicides.

Damage to crops usually occurs due to spraying with faulty equipment; spraying too closely to susceptible vegetation and the blowing of strong

GEOLOGIST/GEOPHYSICISTS

Our newly opened Southwestern Division in San Antonio currently has career opportunities available for exploration Geologists and Geophysicists. We're a rapidly expanding company and the city of San Antonio has matched our growth. Consider our performance statistics. Since 1973 we have:

> *increased gas production 36% (industry down 13%.)

*increased oil production 18% (industry down 5%.)

In accomplishing this, we also achieved an average yearly growth of:

*36% in geophysical expenditures and, *42% in total capital expenditures, while maintaining a 44% compounded growth rate in net operating income.

If this kind of results-oriented environment excites you, and the climate of San Antonio appeals to you, consider an opportunity with Tenneco Oil. We're looking for Exploration Geologists with 4-7 years Permian Basin experience and Exploration Geophysicists with 3-5 years Permian Basin experience. Qualified applicants should call or send a resume to: Roger-LaBorde, (713) 757-3189, P.O. Box 2511, Houston, Texas, 77001.

Kari Brewer, left, and identical sis Marla take time out from play to adjust a shoe at the park. The four-year-olds are the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Brewer.

Double trouble double fun?

Double trouble or fun, there's no denying that twins are something special. Their moms certainly think so and in Midland have formed a Mothers of Twins Club with the slogan that it's "Twice the Love with Twins.'

Some members of the group metthis week at Dennis the Menace Park. Unique or not, it didn't take long for the kiddies to delve into the world of playpark fun while their moms watched, chatted and discussed why their particular twins were special.

"Jeffrey and Kristopher have their own language, and have had since they were one year old (they are two now)," said Mrs. Lynn Cardwell. "One talks to the other in a Martianlike language, the other one nods his head, says yes, and off they go. This was hard for my husband to believe until he witnessed it himself," she

She believes that they are extremely close and don't seem to argue as much as other siblings. For Daniel and David Acosta, three years old, being a twin means having someone to play with. Though identical, their personalities are very different, said their mother, Mrs. Ernie

"David is more aggressive, while Daniel is more easygoing," she admits. "Each is very independent, but they remain close. She and her husband have had to work at treating each one as an individual and not lumping them together. "One of them already resents comparison by others," she said. She added that she sometimes dresses the brothers in identical clothing, but only if they prefer it that way. Often they don't.

Mrs. Richard Brewer said that her girls Kari and Marla, four years old, don't think there's anything special about being identical twins.

"They understand that they have the same birthday and that's a lot of fun for them. But they think they're just kids. And that's the way we want it," she said.

She believes that their association with the Mothers of Twins Club has helped her girls in relating to other Mothers of all the identical twins present agreed that their children often enjoyed confusing others as to their real identity.

And all agreed on at least one thing: that raising twins is twice as much work as raising one child. They also said that their lives are busy, but the work is fun, too, especially when the dreaded toddler years are over.

For every family, the addition of twins has taken some adjustment. "We soon found that one can of beans was no longer enough to feed the family-it now takes two cans," said Mrs. Brewer. "Our food bill has really increased recently." She and her husband have two other children, both in their teens. Linda Cardwell first felt dispair when she learned she was expecting twins. "I kept asking myself how was I going to handle two babies when the thought of one was frightening

In talking to the other mothers of twins, she found that the panicky reaction is common. "After the idea soaks through, we're always happy about it." she said.

But she still wondered how she was going to get eight dozen diapers cleaned every two days.

Jeffrey, left, and Kristopher Cardwell didn't spare any Lynn Cardwell, they speak a special language no one else lack of affection for each other during fun activities at Dennis the Menace Park. According to their mom, Mrs.

can understand. The boys are two years old.

These and other questions were answered through the Mothers of Twins Club which provides opportunities for sharing ideas and experiences of raising twins or multiples. It also educates its members by increasing their understanding of child development relating to twins through information obtained from doctors, nurses, educators, adult twins and publications.

The children of members includes three sets of identical boys, two sets of fraternal boys, four sets of identical girls, six sets of fraternal girls and seven sets of girl/boy twins.

Three-year-old twins Laura and Lonnie Golden give their mom, Mrs. Tom Golden, a brief hug.

Story by Wanda Mouton Photos by Brian Hendershot

Daniel Acosta, left, and brother David are fiercely independent, but sometimes take great joy in confusing others about their identity, said their mother, Mrs. Ernie Acosta. They are three years old.

Agency matches handicapped with devices

By LES SEAGO Associated Press Writer

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) - For a handicapped individual, finding a particular gadget - such as a special wheelchair - to compensate for incapacities can be frustrating.

"A lot of these devices are made by small companies which don't advertise very much and unless you know they're available, you're not going to find what you need," says Marian Hall. "And when you find something and order it, it might not do what you wanted it to do ... you just spent money for something that'll sit in a Miss Hall heads the University of

Tennessee's rehabilitation engineering demonstration unit, an agency created last year to deal with the problem. It matches the handicapped with devices they need for a more independent life. Until recently, Miss Hall said, finding the right gadget or assistive device was a matter of

The center acts as a combination Sears Roebuck catalog, Underwriters Laboratory and Abby Rents for the disabled. Miss Hall, an occupational therapist who has worked with the disabled 10 years, has collected a 6-foot-long "catalog." Many of the devices, including a dozen-or-so wheelchairs of various configurations, are kept at the center so prospective purchasers can try them. "The manufacturers have provided us with some of the devices, and some we've bought," she said.

In a room filled with wheelchairs, Miss Hall demonstrated some designs - a spring-loaded seat to help a person get out of the chair, a back that unlocks and folds backwards for easier car loading.

Some of the wheelchairs come with electronic gear and a price tag that rivals a new automobile's. One electric-motor-powered chair has a mouth-operated switch that not only steers but signals an elaborate electronic console that can dial a telephone, lock or unlock a door, switch television channels or turn lights on or

In another room are devices to help the handicapped in the bathroom. An inflatable bathtub is designed for people who cannot get into a regular tub.

"We don't sell anything," Miss Hall said. "We tell them where they can get it ... And we can tell them how a certain device works and what the experience of other people has been

Lisa Bedford, Donald Davis engaged

George Bedford, 1607 Stanolind Ave., announce the engagement of their daughter, Lisa Suzanne, to Donald Wayne Davis of Houston. Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Lee Davis of Fort Worth are his parents.

The wedding is planned for 8 p.m. Aug. 11 in First Christian Church.

The future bride is a student at Texas Christian University in fine arts where she is an art major with a concentration in printmaking. She plans to graduate this summer. In 1975 she was

Mr. and Mrs. Hilory presented as a debutante by the Minuet Club. Davis graduated magna cum laude from Texas Christian University with a BBA degree in business management. His concentration was in marketing. He was a member of the business honor fraternity and on the Dean's List. He received the Mr. and Mrs. James L. West Achievement Award. A member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon social fraternity, Davis was rush chairman and served on the Intra Fraternal Council. He is employed as a landman for Texaco, Inc. in Houston.

Asbestos crisis believed easing

By RANDOLPH E. SCHMID Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The question of asbestos in hair dryers continues to raise concern, but the Consumer Product Safety Commission says the crisis seems to be easing.

To date, according to officials, the CPSC has mailed out more than 64,000 lists of affected hair dryers to the public and it now has 17 telephone lines in operation to answer queries.

When the possible cancer hazard of the asbestoslined dryers was first reported the commission was deluged with calls, and most were unable to get through because of jammed telephone lines.

A few calls still fail to get through, officials report, but the commission is now handling about 3,000 calls a day and, "occasionally one of the lines will be

Persons who want the list of affected hair dryers can obtain one by writing to Hair Dryers, Consumer Product Safety Commission, Washington, D.C.,

The Environmental Defense Fund also has prepared a pamphlet on the topic, listing dryers that may be affected.

The defense fund booklet also discusses how to inspect your hair dryer to determine if it contains asbestos. However, the CPSC reports it is discouraging people from doing this because they may try to take the dryer apart-something both groups say not to do - and because other materials may look like asbestos.

The defence fund booklet is available by writing Department HA, Environmental Defense Fund, 1525 18th St. NW, Washington, D.C., 20036.

MONEY SAVING TIP - Here is a money-saving suggestion from the federal Office of Consumer "Ever read the ingredients on a soda pop bottle? Water, sugar, artificial color and flavor. If water costs little and soda pop is about $2.50 a gallon, you're paying a great deal for sugar, artificial color, carbonation and artificial flavor. Try drinking something else, such as lemonade or orangeade made with fresh fruit, or even ice water. By mixing your own fruit drink mixes rather than buying the presweetened varieties, you'll pay less for the sugar and may find that you prefer a less sweet mixture than manufacturers offer."

More female mayors possible

Associated Press Writer

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) - Indiana, where politics has long been a man's domain, suddenly finds itself with the possibility of having 20 women mayors next year. It now has two.

In a surprising show of political muscle in municipal primary elections, five women unseated male mayors, the two female incumbents handily won renomination and 14 other candidates won spots on the November general election ballot.

The day has come when people are realizing we are here," said Democratic state vice chairman Patty Evans.

Their victories Tuesday cut across political and geographical lines. Twelve of the winning women were Republicans, nine were Democrats; they won in cities ranging in population from 2,600 to 108,000.

In West Lafayette, where Purdue University gained a national reputation for turning out coming much, much engineers and astronauts, Tuesday's voting guaranteed a woman mayor. The fall opponents are Democrat Sonya Margerum and Republican Kathleen B. Hunter, both city council litical power."

In that race, two-term Republican Mayor Joseph S. Dienhart drew the ire of women when he declared that a mother would be unable to devote as much time to the job as a man. Mrs. Hunter has four children, Mrs. Margerum three.

In Carmel, an Indianapolis suburb of 15,000 where three-fourths of the registered voters are women, Republican nominee Jane Reiman and another woman both ran ahead of incumbent Albert B. Pickett.

Though not all the 20 nominees are likely to win when the state's 115 cities choose mayors in November, both Mrs. Evans and Republican state secretary Alan Sutherlin said the primary successes represented a great leap for woman-

Discussions scheduled

DALLAS-The National Advisory Council on Maternal, Infant and Fetal Nutrition will meet at the Radisson Cadillac Hotel in Detroit, Mich., May 21-23 to discuss two U.S. Department of Agriculture nutrition programs.

The two programs, the special supplemental food program for women, infants and children(WIC), and the commodity supplemental food program(CSFP), provide special food packages and nutrition education to low income, pregnant and breastfeeding women and young children with special nutritional needs. In December, the programs reached 1.5 million women and children.

How Does One Clean A Chimney? VERY CAREFULLY.

Why does one clean a chimney? There are a number of reasons but mainly because they get dirty. When chimneys are dirty, the fire doesn't burn well. Dirty chimneys sometimes emit offensive odors. When dirty the damper cannot close properly, which causes a loss of heat in the winter and air conditioning in the summer. And last but not least, when chimneys are dirty they sometimes catch on fire (which immediately causes an emergency and a

When should a chimney be cleaned? When it is not in use of course-you can't clean one with a fire in it. If you wish to be completely safe, have your chimney cleaned after 2 1/2 to 3 cords of wood is burned in it.

Q. Everyone in my family is dynamic and gomyself and feel grownup. I am 23 and just broke up with a fellow that did everything for me, so this is an especially bad time.

A. In many families. the last baby is infantalized as parents regret their last child growing up. Hence, less is expected in terms of the baby's making decisions and choices than of the older offspring. This lets parents enjoy helping their children one last time.
