Miss Arnold Married In Service Sunday

In a candlelight ceremony solemnized in the First Baptist Church Sunday afternoon at 4:00 o'clock, Dorothy Jean Arnold, niece of Mr. and Mrs. Fate Morris, became the bride of Lilbrum "Jack" Durr, son of Mr. and Mrs. Morton Durr of Anthony, Kansas.

The double-ring service was read by Rev. M. E. Upchurch, pastor, before an altar flanked by bouquets of lemon leaves and green ferns. On either side were candelabra holding white tapers.

As a nuptial prelude, Mrs. Walter Pendleton, organist, played "Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life," "Indian Love Call," and "Thine Alone." Miss Nell Foreman and Bernard Walters sang "Oh, Promise Me," as a duet and Mr. Walters sang "Always." "I Love You Truly" was played as the vows were exchanged.

The bride, who was escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her uncle, wore a ballerina length gown of white nylon net. Her finger-tip veil cascaded from a crown of seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of pink baby rosebuds.

Miss Mary Arnold, sister of the bride was maid-of-honor and wore a dress of sky blue tulle. The bouffant skirt was ballerina length. She carried a bouquet of red rosebuds.

Miss Velma Ruth Arnold served her sister as junior bridesmaid, and wore a gown of pink net.

Parker Harrison served as best man and ushers were Don Powell and Travis Durr.

For her niece's marriage, Mrs. Morris chose a dress of black and white linen with white accessories and corsage. The bridegroom's mother selected a frock of aqua lace with white corsage.

The bride attended Stratford Public Schools and the bridegroom graduated from Anthony, Kansas High School.

For their wedding trip to Colorado Springs, Colorado, the bride chose a navy blue and white ensemble with white accessories and corsage.

The couple will make their home at Anthony, Kansas, where the groom is engaged in business with his father.

3 FFA Boys Receiving Lone Star Degrees

Johnny Summerour, Roy Lee Newman and Joe Everett have reached a goal that they have been striving for, for three years. Thursday night in Dallas, Texas, they will be among the 600 Texas boys who will receive the Lone Star Farmer Degree. This degree is the highest award offered by the State Vocational Agricultural Department. One other degree, the American Farmer Degree, is all that is left for the boys to work toward in their vocational agriculture work. This degree is given on a national basis, and will be the goal of these boys for another year.

In order to qualify for the Lone Star Farmer Degree, these boys had to show outstanding ability in leadership, community activities, school activities, church activities and last but not least, vocational agriculture in high school. Each of these boys have served on livestock judging teams, farm skill teams, and various other teams trained in the local chapter. They have all held office in the local F.F.A. Chapter, and worked very hard to make the local chapter a success. This year, Joe Everett is president of the Chapter, Johnny Summerour served as master of ceremonies at the father and son banquet and Roy Lee Newman is chapter secretary.

Three years ago, these boys started out in vocational agriculture with one or two unimportant projects. This year, three years later, their project program value ran into the thousands of dollars. Each of them have a well rounded program, including livestock, feed crops and cash crops.

The local chapter is especially proud of these three degrees, since so many applications for the degree were rejected.

Closing Days of the Session

The drive for adjournment got under full steam during the last week of June and the first few days of July. This meant extra long sessions in both Houses of Congress and in full committees. This is especially true in the conference committees between the House and the Senate. When a legislative matter passed both Houses but is amended in either House, the legislation is submitted to a conference committee between the House and Senate to adjust differences between the Houses. Since the House and Senate have differed on most of the major bills this year, the conferees have had some tough and exhaustive battles. The GI bill for veterans of the Korean War hit this snag on one major explosive issue and several minor ones. The explosive issue was whether or not the benefits should go directly to the veteran and thereby permit him to make his own arrangements and attend to his own business in obtaining the educational benefits. A select committee of the House known as the Teague Committee made a detailed investigation of the program created under the World War II GI Bill. This committee uncovered some of the most unconscionable raids on the public treasury by educational institutions that could be imagined. These raids were not confined to fly by night schools, although these schools contributed a substantial portion of these vicious practices. Many of the leading educational institutions in this country were permitting practices that were unbelievable. The victim was the American taxpayer. He was not only victimized through unnecessary and useless administrative expenses, but he was also victimized by institutions obtaining funds from the public treasury through various practices not anticipated by the Congress when the legislation was passed. These practices amounted to a federal subsidy of both State and private schools under what was intended as a program to benefit the veterans. Needless to say, many veterans were also injured by these practices. The Veterans Committee, working in cooperation with the Teague Committee, undertook to close these leaks in the treasury. An attempt was made in the Senate to revive the old

Price Support Programs Geared To Handle Crop

Administrator Gus F. Geissler recently emphasized the work cut out for PMA after the heavy grain harvest. While expressing gratification at the prospect of the second largest wheat crop of record as shown by the latest estimate of the Crop Reporting Board, issued by BAE on June 10, Mr. Geissler said, "Wheat growers this year are marketing one of their largest, and certainly most costly, wheat crops ever produced. Our price support programs must be geared to handle this crop so that no producer falls victim to unfair prices caused by temporary marketing gluts which may accompany bumper yields. I am calling for swift and thorough handling of the necessary mechanics of our price support and loan programs, and I am asking for the fullest distribution of those details to all wheat producers."

Mr. Geissler also suggested for producers some of the steps they could take to help stabilize prices and assure themselves better returns. These are:

- (1) Sell at no lower than support prices.
- (2) If market prices are below support levels, store the grain on the farm or in an approved warehouse, for sale later when markets are "right."
- (3) For better price protection during storage, apply for a CCC loan or purchase agreement, both of which will be available until January 31, 1953.
- (4) Prepare for on-farm storage for all grain for which it appears commercial storage will not be available.
- (5) Clean grain if necessary, fumigate it against insects, keep it dry, and protect it from rodents and birds.

IT'S THE LAW

in Texas
A public service feature of the State Bar of Texas

Judge's Statement of Law Binding Upon Jurors

Judges get the law by which they decide the legal questions arising in a lawsuit from three sources: federal and state constitutions; federal and state statutes; and from previous judicial decisions and legal writings. Previous decisions state the public standards of rights and duties in matters not covered by constitutions and statutes.

Lawyers say that if judges and juries were not bound by law and precedents, if in each lawsuit, the judge or juror could set up a private standard of rights and duties as a basis for deciding that case, no one would know in advance of the decision how he should have acted in a particular situation. Cases arising out of similar circumstances would not be decided on settled principles but on the personal ideas of the trial judge or juror.

Because cases must be tried and determined on established and recognized public standards of right and wrong, we call ours a government of law and not a government of men.

Judges have access to statements of the law and know which apply to the situation involved in any lawsuit. So that justice may be done according to the law, it is imperative that the jurors in each case accept the law as the judge gives it to them. They are therefore required to base their verdict on his instructions as to the law, rather than on their own notions of what the law is, or ought to be.

For somewhat similar reasons there are rules governing the way a case is to be tried in court. These rules prescribe what must be stated in the pleadings, in what order evidence must be presented, what evidence is proper, what form questions must take, in what order lawyers are permitted to argue, what is permissible and what is not permissible argument.

If it were not for these rules no one could foresee what would happen during a lawsuit. It would be impossible to prepare properly for the trial. No one would know, until the judge had ruled, what he would be permitted to say or do, or in what order. Such a situation would inevitably result in confusion and injustice.

The whole purpose of laws and rules is to insure equal justice by providing a single standard of rights and duties, applicable to all persons similarly situated.

Keep Cool; Freeze Meals Ahead of Time

We all like to keep as cool as possible in the summer and the family member who is responsible for the family meals is especially interested. Miss Lucile King, Sherman County Home Demonstration Agent, says plan ahead, freeze cooked foods and cut down on the time spent in a hot kitchen.

There are a few points to remember in freezing cooked or ready prepared foods. Miss King warns that inferior products put into the freezer will come out inferior products. So be as careful in the preparation as possible.

Another important factor in successful freezing of these foods is proper packaging. Put them in moisture-vapor-proof material to protect them from air, loss of moisture, and foreign odors. See that the seal is airtight before they are put in the freezer.

To save time in preparation cook more food for a meal than is needed and freeze what is left over for future use. Foods that are good for freezing and easy to prepare in double or triple the amounts needed are, baked beans, chop suey, soup, meat loaf, and beef stew.

Miss King points out that cakes, pies and bread all lend themselves to freezing. It's just as easy to bake two pies at a time as it is one, pop the extra pie into the freezer instead of the oven. Sandwiches may be frozen for emergencies and there's nothing so handy as a batch of frozen cookies. Remember, freeze cooked or prepared foods that require little time or attention between freezer and table. Miss King points out that if this time is not kept short the chief objective of the freezing is defeated.

Use Courage Choosing Rug Color To Set Right Keynote to Rooms

By Ertta Haley

THE BASIC FOUNDATION of any room is the carpet or rug color which is used to set the color keynote for the room. There are many women who show a great deal of courage in choosing colorful wearing apparel, and yet they are often very timid about using the same courage in the selection of a carpet color.

There was a time when the solid virtues of taupe, gray or medium green carpet were considered the backbone of any decorative scheme. These were good, conservative colors that went with everything.

Somewhat later homemakers discovered that good conservative colors might be completely out of step with the rest of the room. In many cases conventional colors are neither fun to live with, nor do they do anything for a room. Other colors, some of the newer textures as well as the general handling of the rugs now can be the foundation for many charming rooms which best express the kind of living the family wants.

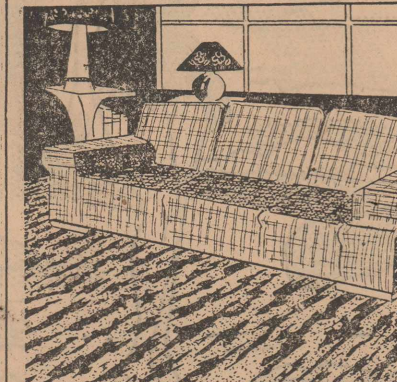

Gray, green and beige, along with rose, are still popular. These are basic colors but if their use is used to emphasize a decorative scheme, they are ideal.

Then, too, for rooms in which the basic colors do not fit there are new ones, colors that are crisp, sharp and even some which are downright bold. Occasionally an off-color is just the thing which you need to dramatize the furnishings and make them more interesting. Astonishing combinations make some of the new rugs and carpets

Decorative Rug

Venetian bars in the rug pictured is a striking example of what's being done in carpeting. Highly decorative, it combines a rhythmic arrangement of bars reminiscent of a cattle brand, in olive, avocado and pomegranate against a nubby twist ground. Flickers of lighter gray give depth and perspective to the design. Made of a blend of wool and man-made fiber, it is an excellent choice for a formal modern dining room or living room.

Small rooms can look spacious . . . stunning foundations for many types of rooms.

New Treatments Give Fresh Look

New colors are achieved by combining certain colors which have never been used together. There is, of course, infinite variation in this and it makes possible fascinating schemes.

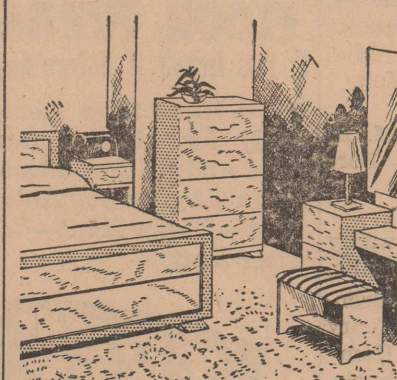

All of the new colors are bold or high shades. Take, for example, the nut colors. These may vary anywhere from black walnut to a just-off-white Brazil nut meat tone. Sun and earth tones are used often to give a new look to staid beige rugs.

There are two distinct schools of thought in the matter of beige colorings: cool, light and clear tones are used in some, while in others warm, sunny pink is the predominant coloring. This latter is sometimes deepened so that in the end the result is a true terra cotta shade.

Sometimes combinations of both the very dark nut colors and the light airy shades are combined to give the carpet a fresh, new look. Cocoa, mocha, fur and coffee browns, all of them luxurious and rich, are important carpet colors.

Greens are both varied and popular this year. A lovely blue spruce green is one of the leaders in this group of colorings. Yellow greens which include both the pale and deep olive tones, avocado and a light spring green are to be found in the solid color carpetings as well as in accent colors.

For those who find that the deep, dark shades are most appropriate for their decorative scheme, the dark forest and pasture land greens are excellent. Medium green, the others attractive with texture interest, old reliable color, has been supplanted to a great extent by these other shades which have more character and appeal.

Traditional Carpets Show Innovations

Another of the basic rug colors, gray, is now seen so much varied as to be an almost different color. A gray rug may be anything from pale oyster to deep charcoal. One of the most exciting innovations in the new color palette is a black and white combination in stripes, tweed mixtures or stippled or splatterdash effects.

Equally high in fashion is a creamy white, black and tete de negre combination to give a very sophisticated effect. This kind of treatment is necessary to rooms which have a great deal of high and unusual color and need the neutral of a rug background to show them off as well as to give balance to the room, while at the same time fulfilling the need to have a neutral unusual enough in itself to be in keeping with the furnishings.

Traditional floral designs have achieved a remarkable contemporary aspect by the handling of their colors. While the colors are clear and often bright in these floral motifs, they are never garish or showy.

Accent notes in the patterned carpets include the new fashion colorings such as olive, avocado, gold and terra cotta. Here and there one finds a good blue or a very amenable "blue linen blue."

Turquoise and aqua have become increasingly important because of the striking effects they can create. The lovely colors give a cool crisp look to the floor and are very easy to use in decoration.

Gold and mustard have come into their own in the new carpet collections. These agreeable decorating colors can be found in a wide selection of designs, tones, weaves and textures.

What to Consider In Buying Carpets

Although you do not expect to have the floor covering of your rooms to set the character, it must agree with your other furnishings so that a handsome background is created. Rugs or carpeting give a room a certain expressiveness and this must not conflict with the effect that furnishings give.

One of the main problems to settle first is whether the room should be covered completely with carpeting or whether smaller rugs are best.

Small rooms can always be given a spacious treatment if the rooms have wall to wall carpeting. In this case the same carpeting is used in all the rooms except bathroom and kitchen, of course, so that a unity is carried out.

Naturally, one would not put in wall-to-wall carpeting unless the home is one's own, as it's too expensive an investment. However, if the home is not owned, similar rugs can be used in all the rooms.

Wall-to-wall carpeting permits a good covering for floors which are not in good condition. It can be made to fit irregularities in rooms, such as bay windows, and thus help hold the room together by not separating them from it.

A very pleasing, slightly formal effect, just the opposite of scatter rugs, can be created with the use of wall-to-wall carpeting, and even with similar carpeting though it doesn't come quite to the wall.

Any rugs bought should be of the regulation sizes so they will fit in any room to which you may move.

Select Small Rugs With Texture Interest

Small rugs can be used most effectively when they unify furniture groupings. If they are being used in the living room, see that the area covered is one of the conversational groupings, for example. Or, if the rug is used in a bedroom, for example which is rather large, tie the various pieces of furniture together with it.

When texture interest is predominant in a smaller rug, much pleasing effect is added to the room simply from the rug. For example, looped cotton rugs in pastel or decorator colors, used in bedrooms, dens, playrooms and even the living areas add interesting accents, as well as being easily laundered.

Rough and irregular textures in the smaller rugs play up beautifully finished furniture woods, too, thus giving nice contrast to the room.

Easy Does It

NEXT TIME you make sandwiches for a picnic, have your bread or rolls fresh, spread all over with butter or spread so the filling won't soak through and try some new and delightful fillings for variety.

Peanut butter is always a favorite. Add to it some crisp and crumbled bacon for variety, chopped raw apple or grated carrots.

Have some cream cheese on hand? Mix with deviled ham and catchup for a delicious spread.

Sliced bologna is something you'll have frequently. Team it with cole slaw in a sandwich for it's good texture.

RECIPE OF THE WEEK

Savory Beef, Parsleyed Rice

(Serves 6)

- 3 large onions, sliced
- 3 tablespoons shortening
- 2 pounds beef chuck
- 2 tablespoons flour
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1/4 teaspoon pepper
- 1/4 Teaspoon thyme
- 2 cups boiling water
- 2 tablespoons vinegar
- 1 tablespoon catchup

Fry onions slowly in melted shortening until brown. Cut beef into serving sized pieces. Add to pan, increase heat and brown on both sides. Mix flour with seasoning and sprinkle over meat. Add water, vinegar and catchup. Cover and simmer until meat is tender, about 2 hours. Serve on a platter with a border of parsleyed rice, made by adding chopped parsley to boiled rice.

Like a hearty sandwich? Combine chopped frankfurters, baked beans, catchup and mustard for the filling. This is delicious in toasted buns.

Chopped, hard-cooked eggs make a good filling when mixed with chopped or ground tongue, grated cheese, prepared mustard and mayonnaise.

Like raw vegetable filling? Chopped cabbage and nuts with grated carrots and mayonnaise are delicious.

Flaked tuna fish or shrimp combines with cottage cheese. Add some pickled relish to make it tart and delicious for a good filling on Vienna bread or crusty rolls.

Pick-Ups For Safety

There are a lot of hot and sharp articles around a house that the housewife has to pick up. For this reason, Miss Lucile King, county home demonstration agent, says more care should be taken in handling these safety hazards.

Tongs to pick up hot articles at the stove, kitchen sink and outdoor fireplaces will save many burned fingers. Use tongs to lift jars from hot water when canning, large vegetables from cooking water, baked potatoes from the oven or lids from pans. She suggests tongs to take silverware from hot rinse water.

Pins and needles may be picked up easily from the floor with a small magnet. To save fingers and hands when a glass crashes on the floor, use damp cotton. The small splinters of glass will stick to the cotton.

Miss King says pot holders are for service and not for ornaments, therefore be sure they are thick enough to prevent burning your hands when removing containers from the stove.

BY DR. KENNETH J. FOREMAN
SCRIPTURE: Judges 4-5.
DEVOTIONAL READING: Psalm 33: 12-22.

She Led Men

Lesson for July 13, 1952

WOMEN complain that this is a man's world. Well, it's half a man's world anyhow, because about half the grown people in it are men. But that's not the point. Women complain because men are the bosses, men get the big salaries, men run the government. Women are teachers but men run the school board, and so forth. As a matter of fact, it can be doubted whether women actually would like it the other way. Women like men who are leaders, men with minds of their own, who can take hold of troublesome situations and straighten them out.

Dr. Foreman

Wife, Mother, Judge

ANYHOW, Deborah was a woman like that. Her name means "Bee" and she was the sort of woman who would somehow sting lazy or timid people into doing their duty. She is the only one of the "Judges" of Israel who was a woman.

Now some female heroines are a bit odd, to say the least of it. Take Joan of Arc, who was a kind of bee herself, and who took over when the rightful leader hung back. Joan was the kind of girl who could hear voices no one else heard. She was not exactly the kind of girl any man would feel quite comfortable with. And naturally she never married.

But this Deborah was a wife and a mother. She made some man happy, she was a home-maker, children cuddled up in her lap.

When later she became a "judge" she had all the wisdom of common-sense and of normal experience as the basis of her other wisdom. She knew how mothers and home-makers feel.

When it says that she "judged Israel" it does not mean that she ran for office like modern judges, or that any king had appointed her, for there was no king to do it. It means simply that everybody respected her judgment so much that when there were problems more tangled and twisted than common, they would go ask Deborah what she thought.

She Didn't Like a Sissy

ON one famous occasion Deborah did not wait for the man to come; she sent for him. He lived far from her home, and his name was Barak. She put an idea into his head, only it was not her idea, she claimed for it the authority of God.

Barak was to be a general, he was to recruit an army. She told him, there under the palm tree, where he was to get his army, where he was to take it and what to do with it when he got there.

Space does not permit the details that would show that Deborah's ideas were absolutely sound from a military point of view. She was a whole General Staff by herself.

But Barak backed off from his great opportunity. He would go, he said, provided she would go along. Now Deborah didn't like that. She liked a man who would go out on his own without having to have a lady at hand to tell him what to do. So she went; but she told him the journey would not be for his honor.

That, however, is another story. The point is that this Deborah was a woman so wise that the ablest man in the country at the time was not willing to do anything important without her advice.

Deborah's Daughters

DEBORAH was not the last woman whose wisdom and whose decisions have led men to success.

There are today in the United States women in congress, both in the senate and in the house; a woman is in charge of manpower; at least one woman is a U.S. circuit judge, the next highest in rank below the Supreme Court. There was a woman governor of Wyoming as far back as 1924.

But for every woman who makes the headlines and Who's Who, for every woman who has some official position, there are hundreds of others, un-nominate and unsung, who are known in their homes and in their home towns for their unfailing good advice.

"Ask Mrs. _____" is the first thing the neighbors think when something comes up. And sometimes a wise woman's reputation doesn't even get around to the neighbors. Sometimes it is only her family that know how wise she is.

But it is a safe guess that if you took out of our modern life all that women contribute, all the good acts and far-sighted policies that they have thought of first, ours would be a much worse world than it is.

The cheese tray may be simple, just one fruit may be served with a wedge of soft cheese. The tray may be as elaborate as the occasion calls for and can offer many contrasts, mild and sharp flavored cheeses - served with semi-hard and soft textured ones and many color variations can result with the use of a little imagination.

The agent recommends, for best enjoyment, remove the cheese from the refrigerator at least an hour before serving. Cheese served as cheese is good ending for any meal.

Use More Cheese Trays

Cheese flavors combine readily with other foods on a cheese tray. The most popular combinations are with apples, pears,

If you want bigger payloads, you want a Dodge

"We solved our hauling problems with Dodge 'Job-Rated' trucks"

"Our business calls for trucks that can haul big loads day in and day out—and we like our trucks to last, too! That's why we prefer Dodge trucks that are 'Job-Rated' to fit our particular hauling job.

"We recently put in service two Dodge 'Job-Rated' 1 1/2-ton models . . . and they sure haul big loads the way we want them to! For instance, the 170-inch wheelbase models allow for a 14-foot body, which is ideal for our business. And Dodge easy-handling advantages enable us to maneuver these trucks in the same space as some other trucks with 12-foot bodies."

... says

Lumber Yard,
Rock Island Lumber Co.
Rock Island, Ill.

- ▶ For bigger payloads, choose a Dodge "Job-Rated" truck—1/2- through 4-ton.
- ▶ "Job-Rated" engineering makes it possible for you to haul more with the right Dodge truck for your needs.
- ▶ You haul more economically, too, because of such Dodge advantages as lightweight aluminum-alloy pistons and others.
- ▶ For smoother power, extra load protection, gyro Fluid Drive is available on 1/2-, 3/4-, 1-ton and Route-Van models.
- ▶ Come in for a demonstration—and an extra good deal!

Better weight distribution. Dodge short wheelbase allows more weight to be carried on the front axle. Because the engine is located farther forward and front axle is moved back, you can haul bigger loads without overloading.

The right load-carrying units. Frame, axles, and other units that carry the load are "Job-Rated" on Dodge. Each is engineered to provide strength and capacity needed to support your load. All are "Job-Rated" to work together!

The right load-moving units. You get an engine that's "Job-Rated" with plenty of power to pull bigger loads at low cost. In fact, all load-moving units—such as clutch, transmission, rear axle—are engineered to move bigger loads.

HITLER successfully practiced the age-old strategy of swaying the minds of the masses by constant repetition. Stalin is finding the same practice very useful, as is exemplified by recent occurrences in Paris against "Ridgway the Poisoner".

From all reports the Voice of America broadcasts to the Iron Curtain countries have changed considerably in the last year or two. At one time these broadcasts appeared to be doing more harm than good to our cause.

Now if the constant repetition of a lie can influence Russians, Germans, French, etc., why could not the same effect be obtained by the constant repetition of the truth? Why might it not bear fruit to drum into the minds of the Slavs the truth that the only way they can liberate themselves from the misery of constant fear is to destroy the brutes who hold them in bondage.

Today the Iron Curtain peoples live in perpetual fear of the "knock on the door". Before, it was only certain elements which had to fear the terrible sound of the midnight footsteps: Today, it is everyone. The slave quotas must be kept filled or the Russian economy would collapse.

practice of paying money to the schools rather than to the veterans. This proposal would have created an almost impossible administrative problem that would have required thousands upon thousands of dollars for administrative expense and federal employees and untold red tape both to the Veterans Administration and to the veteran. The House was able to prevent this. It is the opinion of most of the members of the House and most of the members of the Senate that the bill agreed upon will be a major step forward in cutting out red tape and measurably reducing administrative expense and federal employees in this program. There was one particular amendment that I insisted upon being in the bill. This was concerning GI home loans to veterans. My amendment provided that a World War II veteran who was recalled to service in the Korean ODDITY . . . Hair-dresser's pride is this dress of human hair, fashioned of matching hues, exhibited in London.

War would not lose his entitlements to get a home loan under the Korean bill, merely because he had used his entitlements under the World War II bill. Many of these boys who have been called back in had just got started in civilian life and had a small equity in their homes. When they were called back in, they had to sell those homes and use that equity to pay up their bills and take care of their families. Had we failed to get this amendment in, a great injustice would have been done these boys who have been subjected to double service.

Public Housing

You will remember that the House of Representatives reduced the number of public housing units authorized in the original committee bill from 50,000 to 5,000. This was contained in an appropriation bill. When this bill reached the Senate, the number of public housing units was increased to 45,000. Since there was disagreement a conference committee went into the matter and finally agreed on 35,000 units. When this bill came back to the House for approval, a motion was made to send it back to the committee for further reduction in the housing units. However, as I have pointed out in previous letters, the coalition that was able to reduce the original number from 50,000 to 5,000 failed to coalesce and the result was that the bloc of Southern Democrats were left holding the bag, and the House approved the 35,000 units. It was just another case of what happened on the controls bill. The House had done away with many of the controls on goods not in short supply. However, when the matter got to the conference committee, most of these controls were put back on for the ten months period, and the matter came back to the House and was accepted by the House simply because of changed votes.

Other Matters

Almost every member has some bill that he wants to pass before adjournment. There is not supposed to be a filibuster in the House because of limited debate. However, when an attempt is made to bring a controversial bill to the floor, the opposition can easily start delaying tactics by many parliamentary maneuvers. One of these is to force quorum calls at every opportunity. It takes about 40 minutes to call the roll of the House. Yesterday the roll was called eleven times. So, you can see what filibustering in the House means.
