

Public School Week Observance To Close With Program Friday Night

Public School Visitation Week will close with a program to be held in the school auditorium Friday night at 7:30. Rev. M. E. Upchurch will be the principal speaker for the evening.

The Stratford High School Band will appear in several musical numbers under the direction of John H. Schnabel.

Miss Wederah Watkins will present about 50 students of the elementary school in a variety of numbers. First and second grade students will make up the Rhythm Band. A chorus composed of third, fourth and fifth grade students will sing several songs that are used in their daily class work.

Students have received guests in both the elementary and high school buildings this week as they visited the school to view displays of the work students have completed and to observe them in their daily classes.

Miss Mildred Bennett, a Stratford High School graduate, who has been chosen as an International Foreign Exchange student to Germany, was honored at a banquet held in the school cafeteria Monday night. The banquet was sponsored jointly by the Stratford Lions Club and the Sherman County Farm Bureau, who have sponsored Miss Bennett as a candidate for the honor she has won.

Rev. H. A. Nichols gave the invocation. A cafeteria style boiled ham dinner was served by the Palace Cafe personnel.

Roscoe Dyess and O. H. Ingham were appointed Lions Club tail twisters for the evening and kept most of those present subjected to the threats of fines for slight misbehaviors. Earl Riffe was the first to lose a neck tie when he argued with the tail twisters over a fine which he was assessed.

Kenneth Kendrick served as master of ceremonies. He introduced Superintendent R. W. Standefer, Jr., as the first speaker of the evening.

Mr. Standefer expressed his pleasure in honoring Miss Bennett, a Stratford High School graduate, as a part of the public school week program. He invited every citizen to visit the schools during the week in order that they might become better acquainted with the work that is being carried on.

Mr. Standefer stated that representatives of the Texas Education Agency would visit the school system March 23 and 24 to advise officials of any weak points in the school which might be improved. He stated that he had had the complete cooperation of every member of the faculty in planning the present school program. He believes that this cooperation has improved morale, and that with the continued cooperation of the public the school may be made as good as the public desires.

Although the building program has provided the school with many advantages, the Superintendent stated there is still need for an agricultural shop, a metal shop, a band room, and that physical education in the school is handicapped by a small gymnasium even though the present gymnasium was the best in the Panhandle territory about 20 years ago. With the help and cooperation of the public the needs for the children will be met, he said. Mr. Standefer stated that he felt that the school had had the cooperation of the public in every activity and that with that continued cooperation the school will be developed in accordance with public desires.

A trio composed of Miss Bonnie Farris, Miss Carolyn Folsom and Miss Cynthia Reed, sang a melody of songs. They were accompanied on the piano by Miss Wederah Watkins. Cleo Aduddell sang "I'm Only Telling You What Some One Told Me," and as an encore he sang "The Angels Are Lighting God's Little Candles."

Mrs. Arlyn Halle, who served Sherman County as a Home Demonstration Agent during most of the years Miss Mildred Bennett accomplished her goals as a 4-H club girl, gave a brief review of her work in the program to "Make the Best Better." In closing her remarks, she introduced Miss Bennett.

Miss Bennett expressed her appreciation of what she termed as "quite an occasion" for her. She stated that she felt honored and was proud of being selected to make the trip to Germany. It will be an experience of sharing what I observe in the International Farm Youth Exchange program, she said. The International Farm Youth Exchange program is designed to help develop understanding of similar peoples all over the world with similar backgrounds. It was originated at the close of World War II when youths gathered to discuss what they might do to prevent another World War. They believed that they might begin at the farm family level to establish a foundation for understanding with the cooperation and help of the Extension Cooperative Service.

In 1947 six young British farmers came to the United States. In 1948 seven Europeans came to the United States and 17 Americans became delegates to Europe.

Since the program started, 280 Americans have visited in Europe and 212 Europeans have visited the United States.

Plans are being made to bring 140 Foreign Exchanges to the United States this year. The grass roots ambassadors are supported by voluntary contributions, Miss Bennett said.

In closing her talk, Miss Bennett said, "I hope to help promote better world understanding by sharing my experiences with the most wonderful home town people in the world."

R. C. Buckles, president of the Sherman County Farm Bureau, spoke briefly. "We have tried to stop war with weapons, but I think the International Foreign Youth Exchange program may be the solution eventually with prayer and the help of almighty God."

County Agent Ernest Goule, president of the Stratford Lions Club, made a short talk. He complimented Miss Bennett on winning her appointment in competitive work on a state level as a state leader in 4-H work. He further stated that he believed she was well prepared to represent this country in the cause in which she goes abroad, "to save democracy and prevent a third world war."

Mr. Goule stated that the two foreign exchange students who will visit in Sherman County this summer may be given a gift at the time of their departure from the homes in which they visit but cannot be paid wages as farm laborers. "The youths visiting here are not to be made to feel that they are being paid as laborers," he said.

Miss Jean Spurlock, Miss Letha Gail Fedric and Miss Donna Fedric sang two songs accompanied by Miss Wederah Watkins at the piano. Arrangements are being made for Miss Bennett to appear on several radio programs.

Stratford Land Mark Falls To Wrecking Crew

Wrecking crews leveled the frame cafe building belonging to Mrs. Albert Lee this week. The old Main Street land mark is thought to have been erected by Herbert and Stewart in 1901 and was used as a saloon.

Arthur Mullins, who was living on the Dick Pincham ranch near the present town of Sunray, came to Stratford in the summer of 1902 to purchase fence material which had recently been brought in the first shipment of materials over the Rock Island Railroad. Mr. Mullins recalls seeing Col. Colton, who named Stratford, and another man sitting by Potts Cafe, which was in the vicinity of the wrecked building. The Potts Cafe had previously been in a tent in the area now occupied by the stock yards.

Mrs. W. P. Cummings, who came to Sherman County with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Spurlock, in April of 1900, relates that even though she was a small child she recalls the existence of the Potts Cafe. The word "Cafe" on the sign was a new word to the family and they pronounced it the same as "Calk." She also stated that the Spurlock family brought their milk cows to Stratford with them, and as the cows roamed where they chose, they often wandered to the Cafe where they raided the place where the garbage was kept behind the building. Occasionally the cows would come home already milked.

Edgar Spurlock and Jim Bowling remember the old land mark as a building built by Herbert and Stewart for a saloon. They think the Potts Cafe was located in another building built by Jim Pylant.

Edwin Seaman, another W.T.-S.C. freshman, is pledging the Alpha Sigma Xi fraternity. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Seaman of Stratford.

Two new members were added to the roll. The adult leaders present were Mrs. Arthur Judd and Mrs. Everett Riggs.

The girls will learn to put in a zipper at the next meeting. Each girl will bring some material, a zipper, needle, thread, thimble and scissors.

Those present in the Busy Bee group were Norma Bachman, Carolee Baskin, Ann Burgess, Doris Dortch, Sharon Gamble, Mary Gay Judd, La Ruth Kendrick, Kay Pickens, Gay Plunk, Joanne Roper, Margie Parrish, Jessie Jean Riggs, Nanfreda and Norvita Bammes.

The siren has been reconditioned and is now more or less centrally located. Several sharp blasts Monday morning caused alarm. There were no fires. The boys were merely testing the siren after moving it to its new location.

How To Meet Tomorrow

Does this worry you in your family finances? Or do you have a family plan for spending that will take care of tomorrow?

According to Miss Lucile King, County Home Demonstration Agent, a family plan that provides the wants and needs during the year will better enable you to meet the demands on the family purse.

The agent suggests a family get-together around the table to talk about these wants and needs. After listing all of the big items, discuss what can be done to reach those goals. This may be the year Junior finishes high school or starts to college. This may be the year some other family member needs glasses. Or, it may be the year to build the new home. Whatever the individual or family wants and needs, there are certain demands like income tax, insurance, payments on debts and everyday living expenses that have to be met.

The finance plan should be made according to the family's pattern of living. Consider the Jones family good neighbors, the agent says, but make your own standards to suit your own family spending plan. It will become a good money-manager for meeting today's and tomorrow's needs, a plan for good family living.

Pan Files

Do you have trouble finding and using trays and pans stored in your kitchen? Miss Lucile King, Home Demonstration Agent, says there is an efficient way to store these.

She suggests vertical or horizontal filing space for shallow pans. The files may be built as a unit and set on a shelf or in a drawer, or they may be built in permanently if removable dividers are used. The dividers can be made of plywood, hardboard, metal, thin crate wood or any other thin material.

Make the dividers of such a shape and size they will not interfere with grasping the stored pan or article.

A slanting horizontal file may be used for platters and trays that are too wide to set on a shelf. Narrow cleats can hold the dividers in place.

"I REMEMBER" BY THE OLD TIMERS

From Mrs. C. D. Hale, Route 2, Mart, Texas: I remember when after a quilting bee a cat was put in the middle of the quilt and the one he jumped out by was supposed to be the next bride.

From Mrs. Melvin Ingelretson, Thornton, Iowa: I remember when my mother made her own mattresses. They were made of feather ticking, buttoned down the center. There were ten children in our family and mother made mattresses for all the beds. Every fall, in corn picking time, she would take a sack and go into the field and pick the softest corn husks for each ticking.

From Mrs. J. J. Markle, Underhill, Vermont: I remember when my grandmother used to plump up the cornhusks in her mattress each morning. The furniture in her room was a set of valuable antiques. She made tallow candles in the old-time molds, knit her stockings and mittens for us children. I can still remember getting into the spool bed in the guest room that was always mine; the fragrance of sweet clover that she always put in her linen chest; the caraway cookies and strings of apples drying over the old range; and the copper kettles and brass candlesticks. One of the candlesticks and snuffer and tray are today among my treasures.

It costs a lot to be an American. But not too much. The American principle of personal and economic liberty provides more opportunity and more good for more people than any other system devised by man. Privately owned and operated industry is the American principle at work.

In America, private industry pays its own way. Pays the lion's share of taxes necessary to support our government. Were it not for private, tax-paying industry your individual tax would be much greater—for the burden of government would rest entirely on your shoulders.

Paste this in your hat. And when you file your income tax return, take off your hat to the American way of life.

STRATFORD GRADE SCHOOL NEWS

First Grade

Mrs. Gardner's Room
We elected our president, Phil D. Dettle, and vice-president,

Judy Hudson. They will serve one week, then we shall vote again. We have a librarian and assistant librarian, different pupils taking care of these duties each day. We have learned to "take turns" and that "turn about is fair play." We enjoyed having our mothers come to school. We enjoyed the pop-corn balls too.

Third Grade

Miss Ballinger's Room
All of us are in school today. Dale Barton was absent one day last week because of illness. Tommy Lovett and Cleo Aduddell were absent one-half day each.

Fifth Grade

Mrs. Elliott's Room
We are very happy to welcome our parents as visitors. Our most helpful visitor this far is little two year old Lu Ann Plunk. She raised her hand to offer information on the materials we were working on before some of us did.

We are having fun in arithmetic learning to make change as a courteous clerk would make change to an appreciative customer.

The dress of the week is a red and white check with white trim worn by Sammie Beall. In Geography we are viewing the Great Plains States as a land of vast open spaces. We are making a special study of the length of the growing season and the new kinds of plants that are being introduced into the section.

Mrs. Flowers' Room

Perfect papers in Spelling last week were: Hal Bennett, Linda Coffman, Molly Ann Davis, Mary Gay Judd, Raymond Keener, Dixie Lee Knight, Kay Pickens, Jessie Jean Riggs, and Sharon Gamble.

We have enjoyed having visitors in our room during National Education Week.

The bulletin boards are taking on a green look as St. Patrick's Day posters are being put up.

The exams are over and now grade cards.

We have some new moss and fern in our fishbowl. Mrs. Bennett brought it when she returned from her recent trip to Port Isabel.

The Art classes are making chalk drawings of Island sunsets and sailboats.

Mary Gay Judd scored again. This time she won a first and second on her pigs shown in Amarillo.

Several in our room have been absent due to illness. We wish them a speedy recovery and hope that they will be back in school with us again soon.

Sixth Grade

Miss Cox' Room
(Mary Sue Taylor, Reporter)

WHORTON BROS., AUCTIONEERS

Hawaiian Statehood

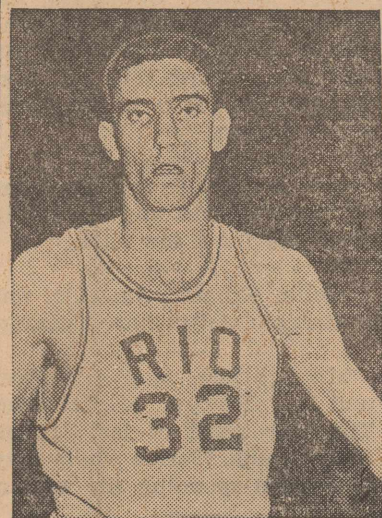

Although there has been very little progress in the Congress as a whole toward completing final action on the legislative backlog, the committees have been in almost continuous session for the past several weeks. One of the subcommittees of which I am a member has been holding the hearings on the bill that would admit Hawaii as a sister state. These committee meetings have all been open to the public and many people from various walks of life have shown a great deal of interest in this legislation. There was one group at the meeting the other day that were not primarily interested in the Hawaiian statehood, but were more interested in the mechanics of the United States Congress. These men came from Germany. The delegation was from the legislative body of Western Germany. The delegation consisted of Hans Trossmann, Director of the Bundestag (Lower House), Albert A. Pfitzer, Director of the Bundestag (Upper House), and Frederick K. O. Schram, Assistant to the Speaker of the House. They found the proceedings most interesting and informative. At the time of their visit there was extended debate in the subcommittee concerning proposed amendments to the bill concerning the constitution that has already been adopted by Hawaii. One point that was discussed at length was the possibility of a tidelands controversy should Hawaii be admitted to statehood. Incidentally, I warned the representatives of Hawaii to nail down their boundaries so that there could be no question should they be admitted as a state. I called to their attention that Texas thought she had her boundaries fixed until some Federal bureaucrats decided they wanted the tidelands. During this discussion the former Attorney General of Hawaii, a Mr. Tavares, pointed out that there is practically no possibility of oil and gas along the shores of the Hawaiian Islands because of the fact that the islands consist of volcanic ash and coral deposits. He pointed out that in the Islands television beams go through the mountains, which of course indicates the lack of mineral deposits. It was also pointed out in the hearings that should the water area between the islands be used as constituting a part of the islands, Texas might lose her place as the biggest state in the Union. The former Attorney General assured us that Hawaii would yield that position to the State of Texas.

The Tidelands

You of course realize that nothing yet has been done on the tidelands bills. This legislation is presently before the Judiciary Committee of the House of Representatives and the Interior and Insular Affairs Committee in the Senate. Frankly, I think that these committee hearings are wasted time because this is an issue that has been more thoroughly scrutinized than perhaps any other issue in the past two decades. Lengthy committee hearings have been had in both Houses of Congress and the reports are available for new members. The present administration is committed to tidelands legislation, and I personally feel that no delay should be occasioned in returning the products of that attempted legalized theft to their respective states who rightfully own them. The new Secretary of Interior stated before my committee in the House that he was for returning these tidelands to the States. He has recently been quoted in the newspapers to the effect that these tidelands should be returned to the States, but that all properties outside thereof should be decreed to be in the Federal Government, indicating that the states bordering on the ocean should have no interest in the continental shelf. I believe that Secretary McKay was in some degree misquoted in this statement as it is my understanding that he favored the bill that passed the House of Representatives last year. This bill not only quit-claims the tidelands strips to the states, but goes into great detail to fix interests of those states in the continental shelf. This issue has caused quite a bit of comment here and has prompted some of the news columnists to say that Texas and some of the other states now want to extend their boundaries several miles farther to the seaward. This certainly is not the case. Texas has always asked for what was rightfully hers and is not trying to encroach upon anybody. She is trying to keep from being encroached upon. Incidentally, one of the leading newspapers in the East, the Washington Post, has carried several editorials underwriting Federal ownership. Further delay in considering the matter could serve no good purpose and the bills should be brought to the Floor for an immediate vote.

Voice Of America

There are many people here in official Washington who have never been satisfied with the progress made by this arm of the State Department. In fact, many have constantly condemned it. The hearings in this Congress seem to be confirming a suspicion that I have long harbored, namely, that the voice is not that of America, but of some individual who makes a personal decision as to what Americanism is, or is not. This is certainly brought out in the discovery that certain passages from Edna Ferber's book, "The Giant," were used in this broadcast. The excerpt reported to have been used on the Voice were to the effect that male Texans drink bourbon by the gallon and that the women are all nitwits. Any book containing such a statement is a disgrace to America, and the broadcasting of such a statement on the Voice of America is ample ground for abolishing the Voice altogether. My observation is that many people in this world could do themselves and their country a great service if they would follow the examples that have been set by Texans, especially those of our fine women.

BEVO SCORES . . . Clarence (Bevo) Francis of Rio Grande, Ohio, college basketball team, is breaking all-time national records with his 50-point per game average, and a high game of 116. Bevo, a freshman, measures 6'9".

All in the Game:

Joe DiMaggio will have to wait a while before he is voted into baseball's hall of fame. The former Yankee slugger was 81 votes short of that honor in the recent voting of the Baseball Writers of America. Dizzy Dean, former St. Louis Cardinals ace, and Al Simmons, the Philadelphia Athletics' one-time slugging star, were voted into the hall of fame. They make a total of 64 names enshrined in baseball's Hall of Fame at Cooperstown, N. Y. . . . A news note of interest about baseball and oil made the papers recently. Fourteen major league managers have invested in oil well drilling in south Arkansas. Of three holes drilled, two have been dry. Doesn't sound good for the coming season. . . . The nation's top scoring basketball ace isn't a member of one of the big time teams voted each week as one of leading ten. He is Bevo Francis of little Rio Grande College. He has been breaking scoring records left and right all season.

Directions For Making A Belt

Your belt is an important accessory to your costume, according to Miss Lucile King, Home Demonstration Agent. If it is well made and the correct type for your figure proportions, it will add a professional touch to your costume.

What is the correct type? The agent says if you are tall and slender yet well proportioned, you may choose a wide belt of self or contrasting material. If you are thin and short you may choose a narrow belt of self or contrasting material. If you are short and stout you will want to wear a slightly narrow belt of self material. Study your figure proportions and select the best type belt for you.

Turkey Salad

The cooked turkey stored in your home freezer can be used attractively and tastefully for a salad.

Miss Lucile King, Home Demonstration Agent, suggests turkey salad because it can be varied in so many ways and is easily and quickly made.

Two cups of diced, cooked turkey with a few other ingredients such as celery, mayonnaise or salad dressing and seasoned with salt, pepper and a little lemon juice will make enough salad to serve four to six persons.

Gov. Shivers Proclaims 4-H Club Week

Governor Allan Shivers has proclaimed March 7-14 "4-H Club Week" in Texas. The Governor placed the official seal on the proclamation signed in his office at a recent meeting with officials and leaders, to recognize 4-H club work being done in the state.

G. G. Gibson, director, Texas Agricultural Extension Service, says the group present for the signing include Floyd Lynch, State 4-H Club Leader and Erma Wines, assistant; Rose Erisman, Travis county home demonstration agent, and Mrs. Ruth Mozzi, assistant; community leaders, David Ceders, and Mrs. Fred Buass, Oak Hill; and Delbert Taylor, Tarrant county and Dorothy Foltyn, Lamb county, co-chairman of the Texas 4-H Council, who presented the Governor with an honorary 4-H club membership.

The proclamation reads: "In recognition of the influence on our rural youth through 4-H Clubs sponsored by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service in training aggressive and trustworthy citizens:

"And, the representation of youth in the organization numbering in excess of 117,000 Texas boys and girls cooperating with county agricultural and home demonstration agents, assisted by volunteer leaders, demonstrating to others better methods of farming and homemaking;

"And, the growth of their organization which found its beginning in corn clubs and tomato canning clubs, utilizing the teaching demonstration of which observance is made this fiftieth anniversary;

"THEREFORE, I, as Governor of the State of Texas, do hereby designate the week of March 7-14 as 4-H CLUB WEEK in Texas, and urge all of our citizens to participate in its observance."

Popular Recipe

DON'T let stains mar your table linens for future use. There's usually an easy way to rid them of stains if you use the right method. Here are some common stains and how to treat them.

Chocolate or cocoa stains on cottons or linens should be dipped in hot water and then washed in rich suds. Bleach any remaining stain with hydrogen peroxide. For colored fabrics, use lukewarm suds and sponge with carbon tetrachloride.

Coffee and tea stains on fine fabrics should first be sponged with warm water. Apply glycerine if the stain remains and let stand for half an hour. Rinse well then and wash in lukewarm sudsy water.

RECIPE OF THE WEEK

Sausage-Spaghetti Sauce
(Serves 4-6)
1 pound bulk pork sausage
1 4-ounce can mushrooms
1/2 clove garlic, minced
1 medium onion, chopped
Flour, salt, pepper
3 cups tomato juice
1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce

Crumble and brown pork sausage in skillet. Push to one side and remove all but 2 tablespoons fat from skillet. In this, brown mushrooms, add onion and garlic. Blend in 3 tablespoons flour, add tomato juice and cook until thickened. Add Worcestershire sauce, 1/4 teaspoon salt and 1/2 teaspoon pepper. Simmer 30 minutes. In the meantime, cook 7 to 8 ounces spaghetti in 3 quarts boiling, salted water. When tender, drain and serve topped with sauce.

If egg or meat has marred your washable table linens, soak first in cold water, then wash in hot or lukewarm suds depending upon what the fabric can take. For non-washable materials, use carbon tetrachloride.

Grease stains should first be rubbed with soap, then washed in hot suds. If the stain remains, treat with a solvent like carbon tetrachloride.

Iron rust stains on cottons and linens respond usually to a soaking in oxalic acid solution. When the stain disappears, place in a weak ammonia solution, then rinse thoroughly.

TALENT FOR GOODNESS

Some people have a talent for true goodness—like some have a talent for writing or painting. But they are few and far between.

A man with such a talent in the Bible was Barnabas, one of the leaders of the Christian church. Although he was known for his goodness, his greatest talent was finding goodness in persons that was not on the surface.

The truly good person performs his acts of kindness without a second thought, without really realizing he is performing an exceptional act. Barnabas was such a man.

The person who sets out to perform an act of kindness is not necessarily a good person. He would never look for some act of kindness to perform if he were truly good. He can be classified as the imitation-good persons.

But in every community there are those whose unselfishness, devotion to the Church and community stamp them as truly good.

The man or woman who falls in this class can become a truly good person by continuing the pursuit of doing good until that pursuit is not secondary in their lives, but its guiding theme.

W.S.C.S. Ladies Have Inspirational Bible Study

The Womens Society of Christian Service met Wednesday afternoon in the parlor of the Methodist Church for the Pre-Easter Bible Study. The meeting was opened by singing the hymn "In Christ There Is No East Or West." Mrs. Lorraine Mehner led in prayer. "The Bible as a Symposium" and "Revelation Through History" was discussed by Mrs. James Cameron. Mrs. W. P. Cummings gave "God Visits The Earth In Great Crisis of History." "The Exodus From Egypt" was discussed by Mrs. Vern Foreman. "Judgment and Solution" was discussed by Mrs. R. W. Standefer. "Hebrew Myth and History" was discussed by Mrs. Harry Sears. Mrs. Lorraine Mehner then led the discussion of the lesson text, and read scripture from the 18th chapter of First Kings. The worship center, arranged by Mrs. W. P. Cummings and Mrs. R. W. Standefer, Jr., was six red candles which represented the many Egyptian Gods, and a large white candle representing the Hebrew God or Jehovah. These candles were arranged in front of a map of Bible lands. To make this scene more significant, the red candles burned out during the meeting while the large white candle burned on. Twenty-one members were present to enjoy this wonderful, inspiring meeting. The assignment for next week is chapter 3 in the text "Toward Understanding the Bible." Mrs. F. B. Mullins dismissed the meeting with prayer.
