

Australian Youth Arrives For 2 Month Visit

Robin M. Halbert, 22-year old Australian International Exchange student, arrived here Wednesday evening for a two month visit in the county. Halbert is accustomed to thinking in terms of vastness for his home state of Western Australia, is four times the size of Texas. He can also appreciate the problems of legislating satisfactory laws in Texas for in his large state there is also a problem of diversified interests. To help one is often to place the other at a disadvantage.

Halbert lives on Woorabbin farm at Cunderdin, Western Australia. Halbert and his mother operate a 4,000 acre farm. His father and brothers have their farms of a similar size.

The Australian youth devotes his time to producing spring wheat and raising sheep. He prides himself on his start in producing ram breeding stock although the wool crop provides a more substantial income.

Halbert has spent a great deal of time in studying about the United States as well as the history of his own and other countries. He expected to find in the Texas Panhandle a flat country in which it might be possible to see for 35 or 40 miles.

The vastness of his view in the Texas Panhandle and the possibility of seeing from horizon to horizon without obstruction of view was beyond his conception of the plains country.

Halbert has paid his own way to the United States and after his visit in Texas, he will travel east, returning home by way of England. Like other International Exchange students, he has a burning desire for better understanding between the countries. "We want trade and not aid," Halbert said. He hopes for the abolishment of all tariffs to encourage trade between America and Australia. The Australians would like to sell their wool to the United States in exchange for the privilege of buying American finished products.

Australian mills are being developed to use more and more of their wool but a large surplus remains for export.

Western Australians raise a spring wheat. Last year Halbert raised a 12 bushel an acre crop with 4 1-2 inches of rainfall.

The "Golden Mile" the richest square mile of gold deposit in the world, is operated by private enterprise, near his home.

The Australian school system is more or less standardized. A high school graduate has about the equivalent education of a second year college student in the states. Universities are provided for those who wish to study for specialized vocations. Like early day Texans, the Australians encourage youths to enter the teaching profession by providing free schooling and if necessary gives them advances to be deducted from their salaries if they will agree to teach for three years following their graduation.

Robin Halbert left his home in Australia on January 10. He has visited in Washington, D. C., Georgia, Tennessee and Arkansas during that time. He was dumbfounded by reckless American spending while visiting an army base in Georgia. After he presented his credentials he was immediately taken to one of the large army tanks and given a joy ride around the entire base. That's wasting too much money the young Australian said, and he thinks it would be easy for the United States to reduce its military budget by millions of dollars.

Producers Hope For Moisture

Sherman County producers are watching weather forecasts and looking skyward for hopes of additional moisture which might make possible a favorable yield in the 1953 wheat crop.

Warm weather and high winds Monday which blew dust most of the day, helped to deplete the already inadequate moisture supply for the growing crop.

A major portion of the growing wheat in this territory is still alive. March has favored the growing crop with mild weather and .76 of an inch of moisture.

If normal rains fall during the month of April a near normal wheat crop is possible. If the rains fail to fall it is quite likely extensive operations will be started in preparation for summer fallowing or the planting of row crops.

Some wheat mites have been reported in local wheat fields. They are doing some damage but one rain would probably do away with this menace. It is possible to eradicate the pests with insecticides at a cost of between $2.50 and $3.00 an acre.

Plan For Visit Of Australian To County

Walter Pendleton, Alfred Pronger, W. O. Bryant, Arthur Milton and R. M. Buckles are making plans for the visit of an Australian International Exchange student to visit in Sherman County.

Plans have been made for him to visit in the home of Alfred Pronger for experience on a large ranch. He will visit in the home of R. M. Buckles for experience in the operation of a large farm. He will visit in the home of W. O. Bryant to learn the manner in which a diversified farm and ranch are operated.

The committee in charge of arrangements hopes to place the young Australian on a small farm and on an irrigated farm to balance out his visit for experience in farming and ranching methods in Sherman County.

PRISCILLA CLUB PARTY NEWS

(By Club Reporter)
Dear Aunt Sally:
My! but I'm troubled! Yesterday, I caught sis trying to shave the baby — shaving cream from head to toe — only to be told at club that my worries were few — bound to increase as years fly by! A likely topic for Priscilla club, no?

Club met with Frances Browder. I think "Unfortunate parents of adolescents" could have been the topic of the main discussion. There were a number of sub-topics like "Where did Bobby learn such things?" by Mary Bolton and "It's fun to be a chaperone" by Marybelle Morris and Velma Wyatt. Ruth Park discussed "Those days are gone forever." I think Twila Blank had intended to sing "Lonely" but after the program decided that "Gee, What a Lucky Guy Am I" would be more appropriate.

You should see Velma's new shoes. Twila complimented them by saying, "Wish I had them to go with my jeans." Well Velma was proud of them anyway.

R. A. Browder and Loyce Anne Craig were having a good time when Frances found them in the flour bin. Seems Loyce Anne was powdering her face and R. A. was trying to fill up her ears.

We all enjoyed green angel cake, lime sherbert, jello salad and cheese snack with coffee and a delicious fruit drink. Say, is it polite to ask for two beverages when there is a choice?

Plates and napkins were decorated with little shamrocks. Looks like time has rolled around for me to have club again. So come!

Bye now,
Meg.

Household Workers Social Security Tax Explained

April 30th is the deadline on which social security payments for household workers for the first quarter of 1953 are due at the office of your Collector of Internal Revenue.

The federal law bringing household workers under the old-age and survivors insurance system went into effect January 1, 1951. However, lawyers say that many persons who employ help in their homes are still in the dark about requirements of the law.

Here are some provisions everyone should know. Household workers covered by the law include maids, laundresses, housekeepers, cooks, nursemaids, gardeners, handymen, valets, footmen, grooms, chauffeurs of privately owned cars, practical nurses, and others.

Whether or not a household worker is included in the law depends on how many days she works and how much money she is paid. If the person works 24 days and earns $50 during any one of the three month periods into which the calendar year has been divided, a tax report must be filed and payment made.

Only cash wages are considered, which includes bus fare if paid in cash, but does not include bus tokens, clothing, room and board, or other noncash items furnished the employee. A domestic worker does not have to put in a full day to count on the 24 day rule -- any portion of the day worked counts as a full day.

The rule is different for domestic workers on farms operated for profit. In such cases the domestic is considered a farm worker and is covered only if he or she meets the test for farm labor.

The tax in all amounts to 3 percent of the cash wages paid. You, as an employer must deduct 1 1/2% from your household worker's cash wages if the person meets the 24 day, fifty dollar test. You then include another 1 1/2% which is the employer's contribution. After the close of each specified three-month period you should send the tax, with a report of the wages paid, to the Collector of Internal Revenue. These three-month periods or quarters, end on March 31st, June 30th, September 30th and December 31st. Reports and payments are due by the last day of the month following the close of each quarter. During any quarterly period that a household worker does not work 24 days or earn $50, the employer need not be concerned. You need not consider the work your employee performs for any other employer.

The Bureau of Internal Revenue has a special household report form, printed on the back of a return envelope, which can be obtained from your Collector upon request. Just ask for Form 942.

NATIONAL DEBT

Every normal American wants to do his duty . . . by his family, his faith, his community and his country. But nobody wants to be a veteran . . . to kill or be killed . . . to be crippled, or blind, or helpless, or sick . . . or to live henceforward in the special purgatory of mental derangement.

To be "taken care of" is not a goal for fighting Americans. To be "rehabilitated" by the world's finest medical brains and facilities does not square the nation's debt to the man who put aside his own career and gave his youth and health and strength to his country. But care and rehabilitation are the least we can provide, and yet . . . as of now . . . we are failing to meet this debt of honor.

National Commander Lewis K. Gough, of the American Legion, has charged that repeated reductions in the Veterans' Administration operating budget have resulted in "violation and evasion" of the nation's obligation to disabled veterans . . . and that:

As of now, there are some 10,000 empty beds in VA hospitals, with 30,000 veterans on the hospital waiting list.

As of now, the veteran population is increasing at the rate of nearly 100,000 per month.

As of now, Korean battle casualties have passed the 131,000 mark - and are still rising.

The Legion's recommendations established by a nation-wide survey conducted by its 600 rehabilitation offices, and presented to a house appropriations subcommittee by Commander Gough, are best summed up in his own words: "We are not asking any tremendous, new commitments from the Congress. We are asking the Congress to make possible the honoring of commitments previously made."

In addition, numerous Legion spokesmen at the state level have presented their Congressional delegations with detailed and documented evidence of impaired hospital and medical facilities back home.

But the matter should not rest there. After all, this is the people's battle that the Legion has been fighting so valiantly. And the question will be decided in the budget-fixing months of April and May by 538 senators and representatives. Three of these men are concerned with the national debt, and so are you.

Perhaps you should remind them that all Americans are concerned, too, with the national debt of honor to their battered defenders, which at best can only be repaid in small part.

Why Texas Teachers Need A Raise In Salary

The facts given below are in support of House Bill 216 and Senate Bill 24 which would set the minimum salary for teachers in Texas at $3,000. The bills have the backing of the Texas State Teachers Association and of your local teachers. May they count on your support?

1. Since the minimum salary was set by Gilmer-Aikin legislation in 1949, the cost of living has risen 21.4%. This is the figure used by the Consumers' Price Index.

2. While salaries have been raised in almost every type of work within the last few years, the state salary schedule for teachers has remained the same. The following is quoted from the Dallas Morning News of February 9.

If you face the simple facts of our inflated dollar, teacher pay in Texas is little if at all higher than it was a quarter of a century ago. The present $2,400 starting salary about equals $1,200 in pay in 1940. It will not buy much more than $800 would have bought in 1925.

3. Teachers' salaries are far below the national average. According to the U. S. Bureau of Labor Statistics of January 1953, "the factory worker now averages $69.01 per week". This is $3,500 per year which is approximately $350 higher than the $3,186 average salary of the classroom teacher in Texas. Remember that the teacher has taken a minimum of four years of college training and has spent thousands of dollars in preparation while the factory worker learned his trade and drew his salary simultaneously. Are we going to pay factory workers more than we pay the teachers whose main responsibility is to train our future citizens?

The fact that teachers are leaving the profession for better paying jobs presents a serious problem. One teacher, whose annual salary was one thousand dollars less than that offered him at an airplane factory remarked, "I love the profession and wish that I might remain in it, but I must make a living for my family." Therefore, he left his classroom. In the last school year (1951-52) there were 12,346 replacements of teachers. On the first day of school, in the fall of 1952, there were 793 vacancies reported from 915 school districts in Texas. Many schools report a turnover of as much as 40% of the faculty. Some localities have been compelled to crowd classrooms because of the teacher and housing shortage. There are 15,000 students attending schools on a half-day or short-term schedule because of the lack of teacher replacement and shortage of classrooms. This situation of course, will not produce the better type of educational program.

We may not realize that the situation is serious until we learn that we have 1,634,000 boys and girls in Texas schools, and we are told that by 1960 we will have 2,000,000. Who will teach these children?

CREAM SOUP

Cream soup offers a practical way to get more milk into the family menu, and to use in an appetizing way the left over vegetables.

Miss Lucile King, County Home Demonstration Agent, suggests a thin white sauce made by adding two tablespoons flour to two tablespoons melted butter or margarine, and combining with three cups of hot milk. Stir white sauce until it thickens, and then add the two cups of cooked vegetables which have been chopped, cut or sieved. Continue cooking for about ten minutes and serve hot. This amount serves four persons. The agent says vegetables like asparagus, corn, cauliflower, peas, potatoes, beans, celery and spinach are especially good in making cream soup.

Highlights and Sidelights FROM Your State CAPITOL

AUSTIN — Let's talk about money — about spending a hundred and sixty odd million dollars of your money.

That's what the Legislature is doing. But even considering the size of that amount, the economy forces seem to be in control.

The proposed spending budget for the next two years is within tax revenue that the state can expect to receive. That means, if appropriation bills as they now stand are finally passed, no new taxes will be needed.

More liberal-minded legislators have advocated a number of new expenditures. In the House last week, for example, representatives said "no" to a proposal that would have given $2,600,000 more to the University of Texas at Austin.

Lawmakers eyed keenly a reduction in the oil production allowable, ruled by the Railroad Commission.

Comptroller R. S. Calvert had expected the cut and figured it into his estimate of state income for the next two years. But if there should be further drops in oil production, state tax revenue would fall below present anticipations.

The biggest part of the state's revenue is from a tax of about 11 cents per barrel on oil.

Calvert has been told by experts, however, that the demand for Texas oil may increase next summer. Allowables are fixed on the basis of demand and other factors.

Right now, imports of foreign oil are cutting into the demand for Texas crude.

With the conservatives scoring victories in both House and Senate, the future looked doubtful for increasing pay of teachers and state employees and for improving the state's highways.

Representative Charles Murphy of Houston advocates a constitutional amendment that would devote all future increases in the gasoline tax to roads.

That would help the road situation, if a gasoline tax increase were passed; but it would not give any more money to schools.

Gov. Allan Shivers voiced his disapproval of any new state taxes except a 1 cent increase in the gasoline tax, to pay for more roads. The Governor also said he hoped for court approval of the present natural gas tax which would bring in forty to forty-five million dollars. He added that if the gas tax is found constitutional he may call a special session to appropriate the money for state improvements and services.

One proposed solution to the highway problem is to authorize construction of toll roads. But there is difference of opinion in both House and Senate as to how the toll road authority should be set up.

The first bill to be introduced was one that would permit the installation of a Dallas-Fort Worth toll road. Later there were other bills in both House and Senate, these making the toll road authority statewide.

The House bill, for example, provides that the three highway commissioners would head the state toll road agency.

Sponsors of this bill say it would make possible the construction of needed roads immediately; that the roads would be built by private industry; and that they would save tax money.

Supporters of this measure also argue that a central state agency would be preferable to a number of local, un-coordinated toll road authorities.

The Highway Department, meanwhile, was about a million dollars better off than it expected to be.

The department let contracts for improvements on 446 miles of state roads. The total bids amounted to about nine and a half million dollars.

The department had figured that the cost would be more like ten and a half million.

Senators gave their support to Pioneer Airlines in that carrier's controversy with the Civil Aeronautics Board.

The board had denied Pioneer larger mail subsidies, claimed to be necessary after putting larger aircraft into operation at the board's suggestion.

By a resolution passed unanimously, the Senate called the CAB's action ill-considered, capricious and arbitrary.

By all tests so far, the Legislature has approved giving the right of jury service to women.

A resolution calling for the necessary constitutional amendment passed the House of Representatives by a vote of 124 to 16. A Senate committee also put its OK on women jury service.

If the resolution is finally passed, the voters will have their chance to approve or disapprove the proposition at the general election in November next year.

Forty-two states now permit women to serve on juries.

The Senate passed, 26 to 2, and sent to the House a bill providing that persons, convicted of drunken driving would automatically go to jail for three days and pay a $50 fine.

Senator Carlos Ashley, author of the bill, said it would aid law enforcement and traffic safety if people who drive while drunk know they will have to spend some time in jail.

The bill would not change the maximum penalties of two years in jail and $500 fine.

Senate committee approval was given to a bill by Senator Searcy Bracewell of Houston that would provide a special deer hunting season for those who employ the bow and arrow.

The season would be set by the State Game and Fish Commission ten days before the regular deer season.

Annuals For Your Flower Garden

Annuals fill a needed place regardless of your gardening situation. Long season bloomers, quick growers, low-growers, medium height and tall annual flowers fit into many roles. Miss Lucile King, County Home Demonstration Agent, says there is an annual flower for every need. When the bulb-bed is getting unsightly, you can tuck in annuals to hide the dying foliage. After the iris season there may be a gap in the floral parade that annuals can fill. Annuals are the answer if you need cut flowers in abundance.

The agent says annuals are flowers that grow from seed, bloom one season, and then die. They have served their purpose as soon as they have produced a crop of seed, so for this reason if they are to bloom long they need to be kept cut more than perennials and biennials.

Selecting annuals for your flower garden should be relatively easy for there are more than fifty kinds available in most seed stores or catalogs. They are usually inexpensive, many kinds cost a nickel and seldom more than twenty-five cents a packet.

Seeds can be started indoors for early bloom, planted in a small protected spot in the garden for transplanting to other areas, or you may sow seeds where the flowers are to grow. Prepare seed beds well by adding humus and plant food to the soil.

Annuals are considered to be sun-lovers, but some like petunias and snapdragons thrive in light shade. But regardless of the location, be sure to give them space to grow and bloom in a flower bed of their own.

Most annuals need six inches to a foot spacing, some as much as eighteen to twenty-four inches for ease of cultivation, good air circulation and space for the roots to grow without competing with shrubs. Mulching in the summer will take care of the weeds, keep the soil cool, and conserve moisture.

Among the ten most popular annuals are zinnia, marigold, bachelor button, larkspur, annual phlox, snapdragon, petunia, gallardia, annual chrysanthemum and pansy. Others widely grown include verbena, sunflower, scabiosa, cosmos, China aster, and pinks.

Good edging annuals include ageratum, alyssum, candy tuft, and annual phlox. Those with varieties of moderate height are zinnias, dwarf French marigolds, nigella, larkspur, gallardia, China aster, chrysanthemum, dahlias, and snapdragons. Tall flowers include the cosmos, African marigolds as well as Mexican sunflower, castor bean and hollyhock.

TWO CASES IN COUNTY COURT

Two cases have been disposed of in County Court.

Ross Stroud, charged with driving while intoxicated, was fined $50.00 and his privilege of driving in Texas suspended for six months as he was a resident of Kansas.

Delmar M. Roberts, charged with driving and operating a motor vehicle on a public highway while his drivers license was suspended, was fined $100.00 and 90 days in jail.

Gas Or Sales Tax Looms

AUSTIN — Threat of a general sales tax levy in Texas makes it all the more imperative that the 53rd Legislature pass a tax on natural gas going into pipelines, five legislators who are sponsoring gas pipeline tax bills declare.

Two-thirds of a gas pipeline tax would be paid by people and businesses outside of Texas, while a sales tax would be paid almost entirely by people living in Texas, the statement of Representatives Dolph Briscoe of Uvalde, George Hinson of Minola, Charles E. Hughes of Sherman, Maury Maverick of San Antonio, and John A. Warden of McKinney declared.

"Is there any hesitation on the people of Texas in choosing which tax they prefer — one they would pay themselves or one to be paid mostly by people outside of Texas?" the legislators asked. "Is there any doubt as to their decision?"

"The people of Texas are demanding more and better services from their government," the statement continued. "And the cost of the services already being rendered has increased. More money is needed — and the logical place to get that money is by the levy of a natural gas pipeline tax.

"Texas needs more money for an expanding highway system.

"Texas cities, caught in the squeeze between a tax ceiling and rising costs, need money for city streets.

"Texas' educational system needs money to provide the best in education for the school children of the state.

"Texas needs an adequate and continuing water conservation program."

These needs can all be met by the levy of a tax on pipeline gas of about two cents per thousand cubic feet, raising about $60,000,000 a year, the legislators declare.

"Two thirds of the tax would automatically be passed on to the users of Texas gas in other states, but Texans would enjoy the benefits through better highways, better streets, better education and better water conservation," they said.

Exports of natural gas from Texas have climbed 900 per cent in the last 12 years, the lawmakers pointed out.

"In 1940, only about 19 billion cubic feet of gas was leaving the state each month. Today, only a dozen years later, Texas Railroad Commission reports show that 180 billion cubic feet a month are leaving the state to provide fuel for home, stores and factories in other states. Texas use of its own gas, in the same period, has increased only about 350 per cent, from about 31 billion cubic feet a month to 107 billion cubic feet a month."

The gas tax bill sponsors urged the people of Texas to make their wishes known by informing members of the legislature of their wishes as to a tax on natural gas pipelines to provide the revenue for necessary services.

Life-size Wood Carving of Last Supper

Courtesy Christian Science Monitor

BOSTON, MASS.—All the specialized skills of some of the finest craftsmen of New England have been combined to create this life-size copy in wood of the famous painting "The Last Supper" by Leonardo da Vinci.

More than a year was used in preparing the great carving—18½ feet long and 8½ feet wide. The figures, of limewood, are delicately tinted to give a feeling of lifelike reality, and a giant frame of contrasting walnut gives it depth. The carving will be the point of central interest in The Upper Room chapel, now nearing completion in Nashville. It is expected that visitors who view the carving will be moved to spend a few moments in prayer and meditation in keeping with the purpose of The Upper Room—a devotional guide issued in 17 languages and used round the world. The chapel itself is part of the new headquarters building for The Upper Room, the world's most widely used devotional guide. It is believed that it will become a devotional shrine and point of interest for visitors of the Midsouth.

The picture shows W. D. Irving, of Irving and Casson, New York and Boston, who have produced wood carvings for some of America's greatest churches and cathedrals. The wood carving was done from a model created by Earnest Pelligrini.

22 Million Dogs in the U. S. Never Had It So Good Before

Let's face it, the dog is no longer leading a dog's life.

While you may wish for a return to the "good old days," not so our friend Rover. Why should he? Thanks to advances made in various fields of medicine and nutrition, man's best friend can now have a standard of living equal to man's.

All this is not news to the approximately 22 million dogs in this country. And not only is the dog's life safer and healthier today, but his life expectancy has increased, just as man's has. While no official statistics are available, most experts feel that if a pup survives the disease hazards of the first year, and is not run down by an automobile, he can look forward to a ripe old age of 11 or 12.

This is due to the great advances that have been made in preventive and therapeutic medicines, in animal hospitals and personnel, and in nutrition. In no other aspect of veterinary medicine have medicaments and preventives been developed more rapidly than in the field of canine practice.

Rabies, the one-time horror of dogdom, need no longer cause fear and trembling. A new vaccine was developed a little over a year ago and gives solid, lasting immunity against rabies.

The so-called "wonder drugs" developed for use in human diseases, are also playing an important role in elevating the dog's health standards. The sulfa drugs, penicillin, and aureomycin are used for external and internal infections.

Advancement made in recent years in animal nutrition are well known to most people. Whereas Rover once was content with table scraps and an occasional piece of raw meat, today he can turn up his nose at anything less than a daily portion of government-inspected horse meat, or concentrated and fortified dog foods from a tin can with a fancy label. Other nutritional products developed for man, such as vitamins and liver extract, are also fed to dogs.

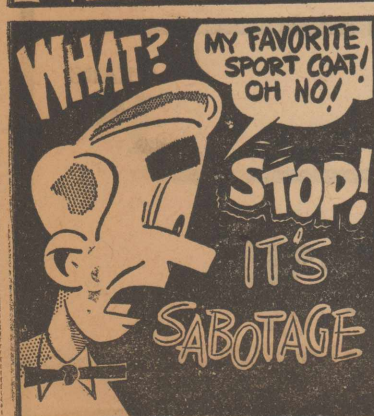

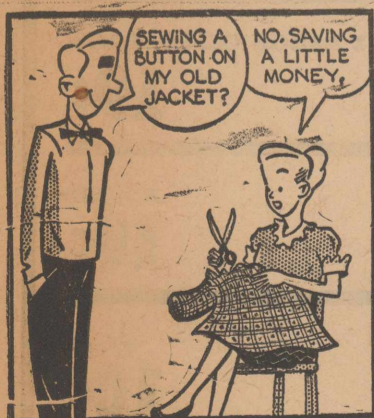

Surprising developments have occurred in the animal hospital field. There are about 2,500 animal hospitals today equipped to take care of 10 or more animals. The latest official listing reveals that there are 12,903 licensed veterinarians in this country, 1,135 of whom are in small animal practice.

All this fine care for dogs may seem silly to some people, but there is this to consider: with proper care, you may have the companionship of your dog a few years longer than was possible in the past. Children who grow up with a friendly dog can really appreciate this.

Rover just never had it so good.

Sunday's Sermon

Rev. Robert H. Harper

Jesus is Crucified
Lesson for March 29: Matthew 27: 32-44, 54
Golden Text: Romans 5: 8

Nearly two thousand years ago a jostling throng surged out of the gates of Jerusalem to behold a piteous spectacle, that of the Saviour of the world crucified between two thieves. And as Jesus looked upon that sea of faces, not one within his range of vision showed any sign of pity, mercy, and compassion. Instead, they that passed by the cross reviled Jesus and mocked him, saying that he had saved others but could not save himself.

As we learn from another gospel, one of the thieves cursed and railed on Jesus, saying, "If thou be God, save thyself and us." And the other thief rebuked him, saying, "Dost thou not fear God, seeing thou art in the same condemnation? And we indeed justly; for we receive the due reward of our deeds; but this man hath done nothing amiss." And then he had prayed Jesus: "Lord, remember me when thou comest into thy kingdom."

What his enemies said of him in bitter taunting and unbelief was indeed true. They unwittingly affirmed what is the very essence of the gospel, that Jesus had saved others because he was unable to save himself. He was unable because of the moral obligation resting upon him.

In the language of an old hymn: "Love so amazing, so divine, demands my soul, my life, my all." May we glory in the cross because we find that it is the way that leads home.

matter to keep up with the spending if all the items are listed under simple headings in a place where they can be referred to quickly and easily. The main headings are food, clothing and housing, the three big items for any family. Then comes the household operations, advancement and savings.

You can keep a more detailed record by increasing the number of headings. For example, advancement might be divided into health, education, recreation and personal expense.

The main things to remember are: be sure to select headings that best fit your family; be sure that every member of the family understands them, and knows what they mean, because good finances for a family includes each member. Then, the last suggestion is to always list items under the same heading each time.

Where Does Your Money Go?

Have any trouble with this question? According to Miss Lucile King, County Home Demonstration Agent, the only person who can answer the question, "Where does your money go?" is you.

And the agent reminds us, the only way you can know where it goes is to keep a record.

It seems only right that a business as big as the home-making business with more people employed in it than any other, would be concerned with keeping efficient records and operating on an efficient business-like basis.

In Texas there are nearly two million married couples, families or households, with a medium income of nearly $3,000.00. If each of these families took inventory of the property, equipment and furnishing it owns, it would add up to quite a valuable business.

The agent has a few pointers for those families who need help in keeping good records at home. She says it is an easy
