Eighth grade band members and four seventh graders will play with the high school band. Selections will be made from the following numbers which are being rehearsed: Breezing Along March, Voyager Overture, The Enchanted Canyon, Pacific Garden, Golden Trophy, Indiana State Band March, No Name, Time Out For a Jam Session, Rags to Riches, and Paris Angelicus. The overtures and marches named are given in the Interscholastic League prescribed list of contest music, and the band will use three of them in the spring competition-festival at Canyon.

A sufficient amount of coffee will be provided for everyone bringing a basket supper to the social.

Sell Cattle At Buffalo

Eighty-eight registered Aberdeen-Angus in the Oklahoma-Kansas-Texas Associations thirteenth annual sale at Buffalo, Oklahoma Thursday of last week brought $29,992, averaging $341. Thirty-five bulls averaged $435 and fifty-three females averaged $278.00.

Two local Angus breeders were consignors at this sale. Richard M. Buckles' bull, Prince 4th of Buckles sold for $225.00. Shuler Donelson's bull, Consignment Eileenmere of S. D., sold for $385.00. Donelson was also a buyer, bringing home a bred heifer from the herd of Unruh Brothers of Hillsboro, Kansas.

R. M. Buckles plans to consign a female Angus to the sale to be held at Clayton, New Mexico Tuesday of next week.

Ross Turner Is Candidate For Sheriff

Ross Turner announces he is a candidate for election to the office of Sheriff, Tax Collector and Assessor of Sherman County. He asks the consideration of the voters in the approaching Democratic Primary election to be held Saturday, July 24.

Mr. Turner is making the race on his own merits as a citizen of Sherman County and his record as a former peace officer.

Ross Turner has made his home in Stratford at intervals since 1920. He believes he is capable of fulfilling the duties of the office he seeks in a fair and impartial manner.

In 1939 Turner was elected to the office of Sheriff and Tax Collector in Stonewall County, Texas. He took office in 1940 and served the people of that county for a period of five years. Mr. Turner resigned during his third term of office when the added responsibilities of his wife's failing health made it impossible for him to carry on the duties of the office in the manner in which he had conducted them in previous years.

Ross Turner will appreciate the consideration of every voter in Sherman County and looks forward to having them investigate his record as a peace officer in Stonewall County as a recommendation as to his ability to carry out the responsibilities of the office he seeks. He states that he will make an effort to contact every voter in the county in behalf of his campaign before the coming election.

Ross Turner has been associated with his brothers in the barber business in Stratford since 1920.

Texans Have New Maps

Publication of the Official Highway Travel Map for 1954 was announced in Austin today by D. C. Greer, State Highway Engineer, and it is now available for free distribution.

Incorporating many changes and new features, it is believed that this is one of the best travel maps the Highway Department has published, Greer stated.

For the first time this year type has been used for all names and symbols appearing on the map, instead of the hand lettering previously used. This greatly improves legibility of all names.

A different size and type face was selected for the various categories of names that appear on the map; counties appear in one type, cities of similar population density will have the same size type; mountains will have their own lettering style, while rivers will appear in still another size and type face, Greer stated. In all, thirty-three different styles and sizes of type were ordered for the new map.

Over 1,300 villages, towns, and cities are shown on the new guide. Each of these falls into one of the five population categories — towns of less than 1,000 persons, towns up to 5,000, those with 25,000, and cities with populations up to 100,000. After a city's population passes this mark, Greer said, it will be shown as a stippled outline of the city limits. Thirteen insets of Texas' largest towns showing highway routes through these towns are continued in the margins of the map again this year.

For the past two years the Department has been attempting to develop a relief base for the travel map that would succeed in showing the contours of the land to better advantage without adding to the expense of the printing, Greer said.

Copies may be obtained free of charge from any of the district highway offices in the state, the travel information bureaus, or by writing direct to the Texas Highway Department, Austin 14, Texas.

Busy Bee 4-H Club Studies Sewing

The Busy Bee 4-H Club met in the school cafeteria Monday. There were 25 members present. Those present were: Ginger Brooks, Jonna Knight, Nanfreda and Norveta Bammes, Barbara Lavake, Jessie Riggs, Kay Pickets, Margie Parish, Madeline Reising, Carol Smith, Shirley Robbins, Susan Sloan, Joanne Roper, Lela Hampton, Linda Coffman, Sharon Mulligan, Carolee Baskin, Leslie Gay Plunk, Ann Burgess, Mary Gay Judd, Norma Bachman, La Ruth Kendrick, Sharon Gamble, Robbie Burkham, and Kaye Webb, a new member.

Ann Burgess was elected to go to the TV show. Miss Lucile King gave a demonstration on how to cut material.

On the horizon was a special session of the Legislature, called by Governor Shivers for the purpose of providing a raise in pay for the public school teachers.

Other objectives of the session were to raise money for

Plenty of political friction is coming up between now and election time despite the "harmony" convention of young democrats at Mineral Wells. Any harmony at that meeting resulted from the fact that one faction, the liberals, stayed away.

National and state party leaders called the gathering for the purpose of trying to reorganize the Young Democrats and bring both factions together.

Representatives of both camps were placed on the reorganizing committee. Despite these efforts, however, dissension flared up as a prelude to the Mineral Wells conclave.

Liberal Young Democrats announced that they would boycott the meeting, charging that it will be dominated by conservative friends of Governor Allan Shivers.

Shunning the "harmony" convention, the liberal Young Democrats insisted that their get-together in San Antonio last year was legal.

A feature of the confab was a panel discussion Friday afternoon, billed as an "open and frank discussion of party politics."

Attorney General John Ben Shepperd was moderator and State Senator Searcy Bracewell of Houston discussion leader.

Others on the program included Governors Shivers, Johnston Murray of Oklahoma and Frank Clement of Tennessee; Supreme Court Justice Will Wilson, National Committeewoman Hilda Weinert of Seguin and State Democratic Chairman Wallace Savage of Dallas.

Interested parties, while they waited on a court decision in the George Parr case, went back to Duval County.

Parr had asked for an injunction against Rangers Alfred Allee and Joe Bridge. The Duke of Duval said he feared the Rangers would harm him.

Arthur Garfield Hays, renowned New York attorney representing Parr, told the three federal judges trying the case at Houston that they should "do something constructive to prevent bloodshed in Duval County."

Hays said the Rangers are "men of zeal who think they are doing good." A man like Captain Allee, the attorney declared, can be both honest and dangerous when he takes civil law in his own hands, and "we have to kill this idea of Rangers being above the law."

Frank Knapp, Houston attorney representing the Rangers, summed up their case by saying: "It is crystal clear that there is no law of Duval County as free men would have it as long as the Rangers are not there."

"Lurking in the background and shadows of this case are thousands of Duval County citizens who have been oppressed by ruthless and unconscionable actions of which only the faintest outlines are visible in this court room."

As the attorneys checked the case to the federal judges, the Rangers and Parr headed back to Duval County.

So did Attorney General Shepperd, who said he will continue his investigation of alleged irregularities in the Benavides and San Diego school districts and in Duval County public offices.

needed state buildings, give pay boosts to state employees, and set heavy penalties, including death, for Communists.

Shivers had what has been described as a compromise plan to up the income of teachers by $402 per year, and he said he would specify, when the time comes, the tax measure necessary to raise the necessary funds.

House Speaker Reuben Senterfitt was at odds with the governor on his plan.

In the Speaker's opinion, the so-called "compromise plan" would play havoc with the Gilmer-Aikin school program.

Senterfitt offered his own program for increased teacher pay. He said the amount of salary raise for teachers should be based on what the Legislature can raise by taxation — not by what the teachers would like it to be.

There were some suggestions as to how the money might be raised.

Representative Joe Pool of Dallas thought about higher taxes on beer, and said that he would introduce a bill embodying that proposal.

While he did not say what rate of taxation he had in mind, Pool did tell reporters that a $10 per barrel levy would be enough to boost teacher's pay and build some state buildings.

The present state tax on beer is $1.37 per barrel, or about a half a cent per bottle.

Representative Gilbert M. Spring of Apple Springs, Trinity County, had another idea. He wants to quit giving tax exemptions on cigarettes sold at army posts in Texas.

The federal government collects its cigarette tax at army camps, Spring reasoned, so why shouldn't the state do likewise? Comptroller Robert Calvert estimated that if the state should collect taxes on cigarettes sold at army posts in Texas, the revenue would amount to about $1 million per year.

Other suggestions as to raising money for teachers included a tax on natural gas to replace the levy declared invalid by the U. S. Supreme Court.

But you could depend upon it: any time a tax was suggested, the prospective victim rose up and asserted himself.

For example, M. D. Bryant, president of the Texas Independent Producers and Royalty Owners Association promised that his group would fight any increase in the taxes on gas and oil.

"One thing is certain," said Bryant. "Producers and royalty owners already pay more than their share of state taxes."

TIPRO's reaction may be regarded as typical. Any business or industry which finds itself in the position of being eligible for taxation will undoubtedly rush to explain why it should not be taxed any more.

Thus you can see that the job of the Legislature is going to be nothing like sitting under the peach tree waiting for the fruit to drop.

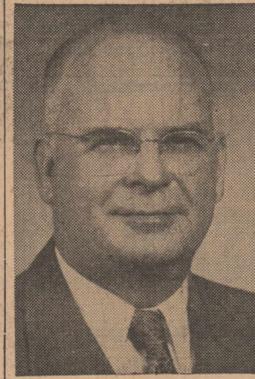

When the legislators convene, they will be greeted by an encampment of old people, gathered to demand more money in the form of pensions.

Jack Ballard of Wichita Falls, president of the Good Citizens League of Texas, announced that between 10,000 and 40,000 old people will camp on the capitol grounds during the special session, pending action on their grievances.

Brotherhood To Meet At Dumas

The Trans-Canadian Association Brotherhood will meet in the First Baptist Church at Dumas on March 9, at 7:00 P. M. Myers of Borger and Amarillo, will serve a barbecue supper with all the trimmings, which will be followed by a program on evangelism.

Dr. Jesse Yelvington, Department of Evangelism of the Baptist General Convention of Texas, will be the speaker of the evening. In his forty years of ministry, Dr. Yelvington has preached to thousands of people and led many of them to Christ. He is a dynamic speaker and is definitely a man with a message.

All men of the community who are Baptist, or have Baptist preference, are urged to attend this meeting.

To Reduce Sewer Rates May 1st

City sewer rates will be reduced approximately ten percent on May first. The decision was made by a unanimous vote of the City Council at their regular February meeting.

On and after May 1 the sewer rate will be $2.00 per month for each residence or family unit. The present rate is $2.25 a month.

All business houses now paying $4.50 a month, will be reduced to $4.00. Service stations using wash racks, now paying $9.00, will be charged $8.00. Other rates in effect will be reduced not less than ten per cent.

In making this reduction the City Council wishes to emphasize that this will require the prompt payment of sewer fees in order to maintain the service and provide funds to pay off the bonds as they come due. This reduction does not apply to the trash and garbage service as funds raised for this part of the sanitary service are a little short of self supporting. However, as in the past, the ten per cent will be allowed for advance payment on both sewer and trash and garbage.

The sewer system was installed on a basis of self liquidation from fees charged for the service.

To Vaccinate Pets In Stratford On March 6th

Owing to the fact that several neighboring towns are having serious outbreaks of rabies, the City Council has made arrangements with Dr. Thompson for a general vaccination of all the dogs in the City of Stratford and the surrounding community Saturday, March 6, from 10:00 A. M. to 3:00 P. M. at the City Hall.

Dr. Thompson's fee is $1.50 per animal which the dog owner will be expected to pay.

ideas from other editors

From the Holyrood Gazette, Holyrood, Kansas: Few money containers for benefit of worthy causes are ever left by sponsoring agents at the Gazette office. It is presumed that too few people come into this sacred sanctum of the art of printing. This is wrong contention. Plenty come in, but most are so irate from something in the paper—they probably wouldn't give anything anyhow.

From the Whiteside County News, Morrison, Illinois: Why . . . do newspapers put on subscription drives? In order to answer this question, let us ask a few. Why do insurance companies offer special premiums to agents who write the most insurance during a given period? Why do utilities offer premiums to employees selling the most merchandise or obtaining the largest number of users of their commodity? Why do large manufacturing and wholesale concerns put traveling men on the road to call on retailers?

The answer is obvious. A merchant, manufacturer or businessman who has a good product is anxious to get it into the hands of new customers. Despite the pleasure and convenience which persons secure from many products, they may never have owned them if it were not for the modern merchandising methods which are rapidly gaining popularity in this country.

Newspapers have to be sold, like any other desirable commodity. From the Chickasha Star, Chickasha, Oklahoma: Every now and then someone asks us what are the necessary requirements and duties of a weekly newspaper publisher. We won't attempt to give readers this information in its entirety, but here are a few of the requisites we believe most important.

A weekly newspaper publisher must be a man who is willing to work all day, still be a night owl and be fresh on the job next day. Must be a man's man, a lady's man, a model husband, a fatherly father, a good provider, a plutocrat, a Democrat, a Republican, a new dealer, a politician—even an engineer, mechanic, technician, mathematician, economist, not to mention being an editor and photographer.

He must have knowledge of sales-promotion and public relations, be a good credit manager, office manager, office boy, janitor, window washer, and attend all Chamber of Commerce meetings, committee meetings, visit customers in hospitals and jails and finally at funerals.

LOVE FINDS A HOME

By Irma Reitci

ANNE hardly had time to slip her sister's letter into her apron pocket, when Steve came in.

"I—I got a letter from Linda today," Anne volunteered.

"Yes? What does the successful career girl have to say?" "You remember the Marshalls who came out with Linda last year, don't you? Linda says they actually want to buy this place—"

"Buy?" Steve turned puzzled eyes toward Anne.

"Oh, isn't it wonderful, Steve," Anne hurried on. "We can get an apartment near Linda. And I'm sure I can get my job back at the Agency—"

"Hold it, Anne. I don't quite understand—"

"There's nothing to understand, dear," Anne laughed nervously. "except that we can get rid of this place—"

"This place?" Steve's voice was suddenly icy. "That's all it is to you. Of course, you never did try to make it a home. But, I planted those trees. They are a part of me and I have no intention of selling." Steve laughed bitterly.

"You promised—"

"I promised I'd try to like living in the country. Well, I tried, for two years—"

"How often have you soiled those beautifully manicured finger tips by digging into the earth. And how many times have you been down to the orchard, or — oh, what's the use?"

"Yes, what's the use?" Anne's voice rose shrilly. "It doesn't matter to you that I hate this place. That I hate living out here away from everything."

Steve looked at Anne for a long moment, then walked out of the kitchen, slamming the door behind him.

"I'm going to Linda's tomorrow," Anne shouted defiantly. "I'm going to pack my suitcase right now."

Anne watched Steve's retreating figure until it reached the orchard, then she wearily turned toward the bedroom. Low rolling thunder made her whirl about, and run to the window.

A strong north wind veered toward the orchard. Anne's heart began to beat furiously as she watched. If the wind would destroy again, the way it had last year—maybe Steve would listen to reason, then. The wind shook the trees in a frenzy of destruction.

One by one the branches bent down, until the tips kissed the sodden earth beneath them. For a breathless moment they lay there then, slowly at first, inch by inch, they battled their way up, until, with one final effort, they snapped upright.

Anne moaned, then turned dejected steps toward the bedroom again. Her last hope was gone. Now Steve—Steve! A sudden wave of terror swept over Anne. He had been out there in that storm. He might be hurt—"

The door flew open, and a moment later she was in Steve's arms.

"Did the storm frighten you, darling?" Steve asked anxiously.

"No, but you—are you all right?" "I got a little wet, that's all," Steve grinned. "But I did a lot of thinking out there. Nothing is more important than your happiness. You can write Linda that it's O.K. We'll go to the city—"

The city. Bright lights, theaters, concerts. Anne waited for the feeling of elation, but nothing happened. She began to laugh softly.

The theater? Concerts? What could compare with the drama she had just witnessed? And the birds and the crickets and the frogs, they made the sweetest music—

"Anne, sweetheart, what's wrong?"

"Why, nothing dear," Anne laughed. "Come let's see what the storm has done to our orchard. And later, Steve, we'll write Linda that our home is not for sale. And never will be," she concluded as Steve's lips met hers.

The Junior Cooks 4-H Club girls met Thursday of last week in the club room at the court house. After the prayer, pledge, and motto were repeated, the minutes were read by Kay Keener.

Mrs. Arthur Judd, club sponsor, examined the seams of the girls' skirts. She advised most of the girls to rip out their seams and to use a seam gauge on the sewing machine for a nice seam.

Those present were Sheila Donelson, Donna Boner, Laurina Riggs, Kay Keener, Nell Purnell, Wanda Preston, Sharon Smith, Julia Willey, and two new members, Loreli Harding and Rita Jacobs.

After the business session, the girls sang songs and played games.

The next meeting will be March 11 at the school house.

Miss Stinson gave a demonstration on putting zippers in, making belt loops, and the proper way to put in a machine hem on a dress. Club members will model their garments at the March meeting.

Refreshments were served to six members by Mrs. Douglas Dettle.

Recipe Of The Week

Apple Crumble
1-2 cup sifted flour.
3-4 cup nonfat dry milk solids.
1-4 to 1-2 cup sugar.
1-4 teaspoon nutmeg.
1-4 teaspoon salt.
1 teaspoon cinnamon.
1-4 cup butter.

3 cups sliced apples.
Mix flour, nonfat dry milk solids, sugar, nutmeg, salt and cinnamon. Cut in butter with pastry blender until mixture is crumbly. Arrange apples in a shallow well greased covered baking dish. Sprinkle apples with dry mixture. Bake at 350 degrees F. for about 30 minutes or until apples are tender. Remove cover and bake for a few more minutes until crumbs are brown. Serve with cream or whipped topping. 6 servings.

Timely Tips
1. Using dry milk solids in cooking will help you get the necessary Calcium per day.
2. Peanuts and peanut butter are high in food value; use them often in family meals.
3. Peanuts are exceptionally high in niacin and are important also for other B vitamins.

How To Get More Light With The Same Power

Eye strain and poor eye sight can be caused by improper lighting. If you are interested in better lighting and how to get more light with the same power, says Miss Lucile King, County Home Demonstration Agent, follow these simple directions. She says to eliminate colored bulbs for they absorb one-third of the light. Replace dark shade linings with white ones to reflect light instead of absorbing it. Use one high-wattage bulb instead of several smaller ones to get the same amount of power. Keep bulbs and shades washed and dusted as the dust absorbs the light. Miss King goes on to say, use a flared shade for a table lamp instead of a drum shaped shade. And last, have light sources as near as possible.

Q—Do the letters "H. R." in front of numbers of legislative measures mean House Resolution?
A—The H. R. preceeding a number means House of Representatives, and designates the measure as a House "bill." H. Res. means House Resolution. A House bill originates in the lower chamber and when passed by both chambers and, normally, signed by the President becomes law (just as does a Senate Bill). A House Resolution requires for its adoption, only passage by the House of Representatives, and does not become a law.

Q—How many times has Congress declared war?
A—Congress only eight times has passed acts which could be considered declarations of war. They were: War of 1812, June 18, 1812; Mexican War, May 13, 1846; Spanish-American War, April 25, 1898; war with Germany, April 6, 1917; war with Austria, Dec. 7, 1917; war with Japan, Dec. 8, 1941; war with Germany, Dec. 11, 1941; and war with Italy, Dec. 11, 1941. The Acts did not say, "War is declared . . . etc." They usually declared the existence of war or a state of war. War was never actually declared against Tripoli in 1802, the Confederate States in 1861, or North Korea in 1950.

Q—What is the difference between a bill and an act?
A—A bill is a legislative measure introduced in either the Senate or the House and proposing enactment of a law. When it is passed by either chamber the bill becomes an act of that branch of the Congress which passed it. However, the term "act" is commonly used to refer to a measure which has been passed by both houses and has become law.

Q—What U. S. President served the shortest length of time?
A—William Henry Harrison died in office after serving only from March 4 to April 4, 1841.

PRISCILLA CLUB PARTY NEWS

(By Club Reporter)

Dear Aunt Sally:
We had a baby sitter shortage out here so Ruth and Ada Mae had to stay home with their little ones today. Seems these dust storms have papa on the run after their rambling acres. Syble had a basketball game at four to send her to Spearman and I'm on my way to help win the 6:00 o'clock jam. There should be a law, no ball games on club day.

Helen simply has no respect for the valiant efforts we make to keep our figures trim. But, boy, oh boy, those four decker sandwiches and cherry pie with home made ice cream just could not be turned down. Its easy enough to say "get thee behind me satan" but— well, you know, we can diet tomorrow, I hope.

Francis gave a lesson on how to tie the fringe on stoles. The rest of us just sort of sat back and rested. Guess we are trying to store up energy for that vitamin K chasing job that faces us most every day. Maybe being fifteen years younger made the little lamented 30's seem less trying than now.

You have heard about "little pitchers having big ears," ours also have "big eyes" as one informed us the pretty birthday and anniversary gifts were mamas. Mama must have changed her name.

Bob Charles brought Mary today and R. A. escorted his mother. Those two boys are real pals. Catha and Lynne completed the foursome of little folk.

Nell said she was going some place around regular club day so be sure to come to see her next week.

It's about that time so I must grab my bubble gum and take off or they may win that game without me. Bye now. Sarah.

First Grade Mrs. Gates' Room

Last week we were happy to know that 22 out of 25 made 100 in spelling. We spelled our number words to 5. This week we are spelling our number words from 6 to 10. We hope everyone makes 100 this week. Those making 100 last week are: James, Danny, Louis, Jimmy, Terry, Edward, Gary, Huston, Don, Tommy, Charles, Eloise, Elaine, Linda, Tanna, Julia, Charlotte, Donna, Karen, Elizabeth, Vivian and Glenda.

Several of us have a new book this Monday. We hope all the rest of us will have one by Friday.

We have a lot of nice things on display. We hope all of you will come and visit our room. We have a guest book and we want everyone to come and sign it. Please come at any time this week.

We have been talking about the things we want to be when we grow up. Here are some of the things we wish to be: Jimmy, a pilot; Don, a pilot; Connie, a nurse; Eloise, a nurse; Jerry, an elevator operator; Louis, a cowboy; Charlotte, a nurse; Tommy, a cowboy; Carolyn, a housewife; Gary, a policeman; Tanna, a nurse; Elaine, an air corps enlistee; Beth, an air corps enlistee; Huston, a doctor; Vivian, a nurse; Glenda, a cowgirl; Linda, a dancer; Danny, a sailor; Edward, a U. S. President; Charles, a Texas Ranger; James, a Texas Ranger; Terry, a U. S. Marshal; and Donna, a nurse.

Karen and Julia are absent. We hope they are better tomorrow and back with us again.

Second Grade Mrs. Minkley's Room

We have been very busy this week trying to get our work on display for our parents to see next week during Texas Education week. We are hoping they will visit us and enjoy seeing our work as much as we have in displaying it for them.

We are enjoying our new Monthly Activity book. This month we learned many things about two great Americans, Abraham Lincoln and George Washington.

We are very happy to report only two absences this week. They were: Sue Plunk and Michell Hemphill. Karen Woolsey, Linda Reesing, Rickie Pickens, Cynthia Heil and Phil Dettle have not missed a day so far this year.

Fifth Grade Mrs. Elliott's Room

(By News Committee)
Our Arithmetic Contest was won by the North Side group and were treated with candy bars by the losing side last Friday. We had a nice time and enjoyed our practice periods very much.

We are looking forward to the March Flag appreciation program directed by Sharon Oquin. She has been working very hard under the direction of Mrs. Elliott and has her program posted. The various subject matter chairmen and committee members have worked hard throughout the week assembling materials that have been neatly filed away as projects and unit work were accomplished since the first week of school, on particular tables so that our parents may actually get a glimpse of some of the things we have been doing. We hope to see all of our parents some time during Educational week. If you watch our news items we will let you in on the secret of how many parents and friends drop by our room during visitation week.

Now that six week tests are over and our test papers are all corrected, report cards are about all that stands between us and perfect happiness.

The Music Box (By Wayne Stevens)

In ancient Greece the word music had a much broader meaning than it does today. Contrasted to the word gymnasium (the development of the body), music included all phases of education dealing with the culture of the mind, from the Three R's through singing and literature to astronomy.

Music per se for the classical Greeks and Romans was something mysterious and inexplicable. Although Nero was probably a very crude musician, his musical ability was looked upon in awe by the common people. Every educated Greek was expected to sing well as an integral part of the art of speaking well. In ancient civilization the modern contrast between the singing and the speaking voice was not made — a person was instructed to sing in the same pitch that he ordinarily spoke. Many good modern voice teachers believe it is best to begin training the singing voice within the normal range of the student's speaking voice, but with training the range of the singing voice will far exceed the range of the speaking voice (higher or lower or both.) It is not uncommon for a high soprano to speak normally around the A or G below the treble staff.

Ancient music had only two dimensions — melody and rhythm. The third dimension of harmony which occidental civilization has enjoyed for the past 500 years did not add its expression of beauty to their musical art.

In medieval Italy, as with the eunuchs of the Bible, boys who had unusual vocal talent or aspiration to become great opera singers were castrated in order to keep their voices from changing when they reached puberty. It was deemed a privilege to keep the beautiful, high, lyric quality of voice natural for youthful singers for the use in singing and in the acting of feminine roles in plays. The coming of the violin for use in expressing musical "frills" and the entrance of women into public performances outmoded this practice.

Sound is the basic medium for the art of music, just as color is the basic medium for painting, and the history of the development of nature's element of sound into the great compositions of the masters is a complex and intriguing study.

Miss Lowe Is Shower Honoree

Miss Opal Lowe, bride-elect of Charlie N. Johnson, was honored with a miscellaneous shower Saturday in the home of Mrs. Joe Billington.

Co-hostesses were Mrs. Joe McAdams, Mrs. Walter Lasley, Jr., Mrs. Orland Lasley, Mrs. Arthur Judd, Mrs. Frank Sutton, Mrs. Elmer Hudson, Mrs. John Knight, Mrs. Herbert Folsom and Mrs. Odis Bryant.

The table carried out the honoree colors of blue and white with a white cut work cloth, underlaid with blue. The centerpiece of blue carnations and white daisies, and white napkins with wedding bells and names of Opal and Charlie were in blue.

Mrs. Joe McAdams poured from a hand painted china coffee service and Miss Sylvia Shelton served white cake iced in blue from a china cake plate of matching design.

Miss Helen Lowe, sister of the honoree, registered the guests. Miss Lowe was assisted by her mother, Mrs. A. E. Lowe, in opening the gifts, and little Miss Orlanda Lasley carried the gifts to Mrs. Bernard Dovel to put on display.

Present were the honoree, friends and relatives. From out of town were: Mrs. Arthur Corse, Mrs. Earnie Schumaker, Mrs. Gilford Corse, Mrs. Bernice Hammock of Sunray, Mrs. Charles Shelton and Miss Sylvia Shelton of Dumas, Mrs. Gerald Lasley and Mrs. Carroll Chaloupka of Dalhart.

There are many kinds of insects and mites that cause formation of galls on different parts of many types of plants. Such insects and mites have the unique ability to irritate various plants so as to produce a gall which is a swelling or peculiar malformation.

Miss Lucile King, County Home Demonstration Agent, says some of these galls take the form of large, globular protuberances while others take the appearance of buds and flowers. Some are simply an enlargement of the leaf or stem. These galls seldom cause serious damage to the plant, she says, but in some instances they contribute to the weakening of the plant which may even die when other insects and diseases attack it.

SCANNING THE NEWS

BOTH the Democrats and the Republicans have strong "get out the vote" campaigns for 1954. Both believe that the marathon drive put on in 1952 by major parties and non-partisan groups increased the potential vote considerably, since about 20 million more voted that year than voted in 1950. But, each must find the answer to one big question: Why don't people vote?

Being realistic about it, both parties recognize the fact that traditionally more Americans vote on the presidency than on any other office. The 1952 marathon drive, where tactics ranged from use of Girl Scouts as sitters to "VOTE" appeals on bread wrappers and laundry bands for shirts, still had to credit a great portion of the responsibility for success to the fact that there was tremendous interest in the presidential race itself.

The Republicans intend to gun for what they call the "stay-at-homes." They figure 14 million Americans who do not usually vote went to the polls in 1952—and about 11 million of them voted for Eisenhower. They will appeal to voters who "liked" Ike in 1952 to vote for his "team" in 1954.

Democrats, on the other hand, have started "workshops" to train party workers in organization and get-out-the-vote techniques, including house-to-house canvassing and use of telephone brigades, car pools and baby sitters.

Both parties naturally will concentrate efforts on marginal Congressional districts won by less than five per cent of the vote in the 1952 election—with special vote appeals to women and young voters.

• March is American Red Cross Month and the annual campaign has been launched to finance the responsibilities of this humanitarian service here and abroad. This year's goal: $85,000,000 and 30,000,000 active members.

W. W. Overton, Jr., chairman of the board of the Texas Bank and Trust Co., Dallas, is national chairman of the one-month drive, directing 1,600,000 volunteer campaign workers throughout the nation.

"The truce in Korea has neither lessened the need for Red Cross services abroad nor decreased its burdens at home," Overton observed. "Nothing is over but the shooting. The needs of servicemen, disaster and accident victims, veterans and the general public remains unchanged." He said the Red Cross needs more members in general and more women in particular.

The financial goal represents what the organization's volunteer Board of Governors believes to be the minimum needed to fulfill all responsibilities. Last year the amount of $35,147,000, (or 40 per cent of the organization budget), was spent on the program of service to servicemen, veterans, and their families. The Red Cross spent $12,879,400 to procure 4,121,200 blood donations and 9,000,000 cc. of gamma globulin. A disaster preparedness program that served 25,000 disaster-stricken families cost $6,776,100.

In commenting on the fact that this year's drive is a campaign for both funds and members, E. Roland Harriman, Red Cross chairman, said: "These (Red Cross) services emphasize one of man's oldest and noblest traditions—people helping people."

My PET PEEVE

By W. Scott Boyd

THERE'S no fool, they say, like an old fool and sometimes I think I am the worldbeater at achieving distinction in this particular regard. Everyone wants to know what or who is to be blamed for the blue spot I am sporting on my forehead. It's rather difficult—and embarrassing—to explain. I first attempted to place responsibility on the wife, but decided this was unfair, since she not only packs such a terrific wallop, but aims with such authority that she certainly would have caught me on one of the eyes, if not directly between them. The "ran into the door" routine didn't work either. Too trite, the office staff said. So I told the awful truth.

To make a long story short, it happened while I was baby sitting. Junior didn't do it, either. I did it myself, shamed as I am. You know these baby things—rattles, clowns, dolls, all sorts of funny gadgets, equipped with a suction cup you wet and attach to the wall or the baby bed? Real novelties. Well, during a lull (while the kids napped), I tested one of these gadgets for versatility—tried it on a chair, a lamp base, then on a mirror. I wondered if it would adhere as well to the human skin, so I slapped it to my forehead. It adhered, but good.

I've been told by a person supposedly an authority that I wouldn't have the blue spot had I washed my face immediately after I succeeded in getting the thing off. After so much ribbing I've decided to either wash my face more often or stop acting like a plain old fool. Something must be done!

I REMEMBER BY THE OLDTIMERS

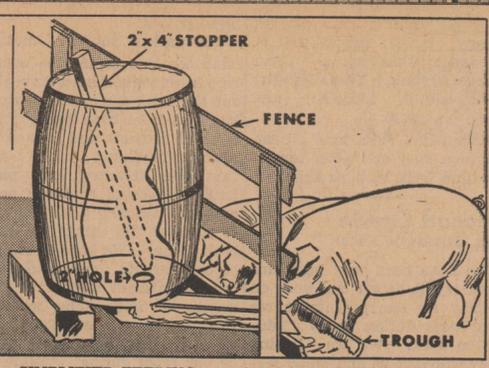

From Mrs. E. A. Wigton, Plains, Montana: I remember back in Virginia when neighbors often borrowed fire. Our family kept a little iron pot and shovel especially for this purpose. Matches were rare and if you ran out of fire you just walked to your nearest neighbor and filled the little iron pot and hurried home.

From Judge Dave Johnstone, Hettinger, North Dakota: I remember approximately 60 years ago—I read an ad in a paper "Six Shirts in One"—which I sent for. This gadget you could attach to your shirt and it was made up of pliable material. When it soiled, you threw away the outer piece and underneath was a shirt bosom of a different pattern every few days. About this time we boys were wearing stiff collars in a variety of stripes and colors and the boy wearing the loudest color or design was envied by all.

From Mrs. Wayne Shupe, Galax, Virginia: I remember when mother would parch green coffee, then grind it in the old coffee mill kept on the wall . . . the fun we had in the fall gathering chestnuts, and gathering and peeling apples for making apple butter . . . making molasses time, when someone always ran off with the taffy pot. I also remember the old ash hopper that made the lye soap with which we washed our clothes in old wooden tubs . . . In the summer, making hominy in the old iron pot, walking to school in the snow, studying at night by the light of a fire place, burning pine we hauled from the woods. Those were happy days, so different from today!

FENCE LINES

SIMPLIFIED FEEDING . . . One farmer simplified the job of slop-feeding hogs by placing a barrel outside the fence and rigging it with a chute to supply the trough inside the hog pen. A 2x4, tapered and rounded at one end is used both to stir and to plug the hole. Output per man day at U. S. bituminous coal mines is seven tons—a 50 per cent increase in 15 years. Production and distribution of motor cars furnishes more than 1,000,000 people in the United States with jobs.

NEW AMBASSADOR . . . John M. Cabot, 52, assistant secretary of state for Inter-American affairs, was named ambassador to Sweden by Pres. Eisenhower.

In an effort to eliminate noxious fumes and gases from the atmosphere, as well as to reduce smoke, U. S. industry spends about $120 million on air pollution control equipment each year.

DALE CARNEGIE

AUTHOR OF "HOW TO STOP WORRYING AND START LIVING"

TWENTY years ago Frank R. Johnson, 6344 Wentworth Avenue, So., Minneapolis, Minnesota, came to the realization that there was no medical treatment that he could receive which would restore or improve his vision. For three years prior to this his family had been taking him to specialists who were reported to be able to help him, but never once had they been given any satisfaction. He commended the eye specialist who talked with him and his parents as he said frankly, "Don't let anyone try to sell you another pair of glasses because you are just wasting your money. You are a young fellow and there is a lot of opportunity ahead for you—so forget your handicap and go out and live with it." So for the past twenty years he has tried to put these ideas into his everyday living.

CARNEGIE

Eight years ago he was employed by the Minneapolis Society for the Blind. In maintaining a philosophy of counting his blessings, he has tried to encourage others to do the same. He feels there is a broad area for the application of this principle, especially when we know that there are more than 26,000 people who become handicapped every year. This represents a great deal of man power that can be salvaged through constructive rehabilitation, and positive thinking and action, on the part of all of us.

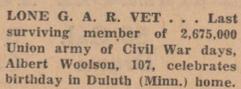

His thought for us is that we will not sit back, feeling sorry for ourselves, and over-emphasize any injury or set-back in health, business or social dealings, to the point where we will be bogged down and unable to go ahead. Each one of us has been given various talents and it is up to us to make the most of what we have and forget what has been taken from us or what is out of our realistic reach.

THE STARS

By LYN CONNELLY

THE biggest problem facing TV drama is one the movies never have to meet—holding an audience . . . Frank Wisbar, producer and director of "Fireside Theatre," says that "unlike movies, we do not have a 'captive' audience, one which must stay in the theater seat and watch or fall asleep . . . TV's audience is on the loose and a story must be good or 'click' goes the dial . . . My greatest challenge is the knowledge that each week 'Fireside' has to hold the interest of families so completely that they will stay with us for the entire half hour . . . No motion picture man ever had such a problem!"

Mr. Wisbar is certainly correct, which brings up the question, if he is so cognizant of this unhappy problem, how come Fireside Theatre doesn't come up with better scripts? The ones in recent weeks have been pretty hackneyed and the acting leaves much to be desired . . . Maybe now that he has at last recognized the difficulty, he will try to remedy it.

SUNDAY'S SERMON

The Raising of Lazarus. Lesson for March 7: John 11: 32-46. Golden Text: John 11: 25. Across the Mount of Olives from Jerusalem there was a village to which Jesus loved to go—to the home of Martha and Mary there. A great sorrow came to this home—Lazarus, brother of the two sisters, died and had already been in the tomb four days when Jesus reached the grave of his friend. Then, as we read in the shortest verse in the Bible, "Jesus wept." And the Jews who were watching near said, "Behold, how he loved him!" A great Teacher who could weep beside the grave of his friend, who was touched with the feeling of our infirmities, and bowed beneath the weight of our griefs! Then Jesus cried with a loud voice, "Lazarus, come forth." And Lazarus came, still wrapped in the habiliments of the grave, no doubt a gloomy and spectral figure to the onlookers, but moving with life. Thus did Jesus, in advance of his own resurrection, rob death of its sting and strip the grave of its victory, to demonstrate in the great miracle that he is the Lord of life and the Conqueror of death. Let us, like Mary and Martha, turn to Jesus in our troubles, and find in him the answer to all our needs and our assurance of life evermore.

W.S.C.S. Ladies Begin Bible Study

The Womans Society of the First Methodist Church met in the parlor of the church Wednesday for the first lesson in the study of Jeremiah, the longest book in the Bible. Mrs. Arthur Ross, pianist, played the prelude. Mrs. Lorraine Mehner called the meeting to order and gave a short talk on the study. One point she brought out was that Jeremiah was a man that actually lived, and lived alone, which brought him closer to God. He was a prophet, a praying prophet, a man of God. Mrs. Mehner led in prayer. She gave each lady a map that showed the land where Jeremiah prophesied, and then gave the highlights of the study. The purpose of the study is to clarify the early prophets and the study of the Bible, to increase knowledge of Jeremiah as a spokesman of God, and how to learn the will of God in ones life. Mrs. A. L. King gave some of the happenings in the early life of Jeremiah. The Realist, a skit on the highlights of the life of Jeremiah was given by several members. Mrs. Bob Ferguson was the director and narrator. Mrs. Arthur Ross played the background music. Others having parts were: Mrs. James Cameron who sang "Where He Leads Me I Will Follow"; Mrs. Shirley Plunk as Anna the Sister, Mrs. Verne Foreman as Baruch, Jeremiah's helper and Mrs. Art Ross as the mother. Mrs. O. L. McMinn dismissed the study with prayer. Twenty-four members enjoyed this inspirational study which is open to every woman in the church. The next lesson will be the third and fourth chapters of the Jeremiah textbook.

Stock Show Men Honor Pronger Bros.

The Amarillo Fat Stock Show's Panhandle Hereford Breeders Association catalogue was dedicated to A. E. and P. J. Pronger, local Hereford breeders. Mason King, editor of the catalogue made the following comment:

"The two gentlemen gracing the cover page of this catalog are brothers — Pronger Brothers. By birth they are Englishmen, but heart and soul they are Americans, and have been since they set foot on American soil back in 1884. Few if any men now on the American Continent have contributed more to the culture in our American way of life than have they. None have ever made more wholesome or beneficial contributions to the Hereford Breed, and to the cattle industry as a whole than have the Pronger Brothers.

Their word of honor is as well known in the channels of commerce as is their reputation as producers of fine cattle in the Hereford fraternity. It is to this distinguished pair in appreciation, this catalog is dedicated."

Pronger Bros. gave $100.00 for four cash prizes to be awarded youngsters in showmanship awards at the fair this year.

Methodist Choir Has Rehearsal

Regular choir practice was resumed at the Methodist Church Wednesday night at 7:30 with the following members present: Frances Ross, Evelyn Harding, Kathleen King and Lela Moon, sopranos; Zonalynn Stevens, Shirley Plunk, Geneva Moon, Lucile King, and Velma Plunk, altos; C. W. Moon, tenor; Billy Ross, Don Moon and Virgil Plunk, basses; Martha Harrison, organist; Wayne Stevens, director. This represents 60 per cent of the registered choir membership. Mr. Stevens announces that there are openings for one tenor, one bass, two sopranos and two altos. Members are requested to attend the mid-week rehearsals as regularly as possible.

After warming up with helpful vocalises, the choir practiced two prayer responses, a new anthem by Bryant entitled "Daily Guidance," and the special anthem to be sung Sunday morning, "The King of Love My Shepherd Is." The choir will rehearse this anthem again briefly at 10:45 Sunday morning.

Copies of the Easter Cantata, "Christ the King," were distributed to those present. Weekly rehearsals on the Easter Cantata will begin next Wednesday at 8:30 P. M. at the Christian Church. All persons interested, from all churches, are invited to participate in the community project of singing this Cantata which will be given one night during the week before Easter.
