

Current Farm Program Placed Before Farmers

A meeting of Sherman County farmers was held in the court house at 2:00 P. M. Wednesday for the purpose of discussing Wheat Market Quotas and Wind Erosion Control practices.

R. C. Buckles announced that the drought relief program in Texas for emergency feed was closed May 11. No further applications will be accepted.

Buckles explained that anyone harvesting wheat within their allotted acres may secure a marketing card from the county ASC office and sell all wheat harvested without penalty or obtain a CCC loan. He also explained that anyone seeding wheat in excess of their allotted acres must destroy all excess wheat not being grazed before May 15 to be in compliance and be eligible for government support and a marketing card. Anyone harvesting in excess of allotted acres must pay a penalty of $1.12 per bushel on excess acres harvested or store the excess wheat before he can secure a marketing card. Where wheat is harvested on excess acres the farmer will not be eligible for government loan. Every farmer who does not destroy excess acres, regardless of whether or not he harvests any wheat at all, must come into the county ASC office and ask for an adjustment or he will still be charged with a penalty on all acres seeded in excess of his allotment times the normal yield. Buckles further stated that it is very urgent for farmers who have not turned in a sketch map on excess wheat to turn one in.

R. C. Buckles announced that $48,400.00 has been allocated to Sherman County for wind erosion control practices. He stated that the farmer, in order to receive Federal cost share, must ask for prior approval before starting any of these practices and only one practice may be carried out on any one plot of land. The total of all Federal cost shares for this practice for any one person with respect to farms in any one county shall not exceed $1,500.00, except that with the written prior approval of the State committee, a higher maximum may be approved in individual cases upon justification by the farmer on the basis of exceptional need and his inability to otherwise carry out the work.

Wind erosion practices carried out after March 31 and May 17 are eligible for payment without prior approval provided they are reported to the local ASC office before May 17. Any wind erosion practices to be carried out after May 17 require prior approval by the county committee before they are started to be eligible for payment.

E. Goule, County Agent, announced that there will be a hearing on a North Plains Underground Water Conservation District in Dumas Wednesday, May 19. He explained the purpose of this meeting will be to delineate the Underground Water Conservation District. Farmers are encouraged to attend this meeting and express themselves as to whether they desire to be in or out of the district.

Honorable Sam Wohlford, Representative of the 95th District, in discussing the Underground Water Conservation District, stated that in his opinion water would be one of the most important problems before the next regular session of the Texas Legislature. He stressed the importance of land owners deciding now whether or not they want to form a district in which they would have local control of the underground water conservation program or leave it up to legislation that might come out of the next session.

Goule announced a Field Day at the Amarillo Experiment Station starting at 1:00 P. M. Wednesday, May 26. A tour will be made of small grain tests under irrigation and dry land showing new varieties of wheat and winter barley. A discussion of insect and weed control in small grain will also be included. Crop rotation studies will be included in this tour as well as stubble mulch studies, and livestock grazing studies. This tour promises to be very interesting and worthwhile and

Inspect Wheat For Freeze Damage

Kenneth Porter, Associate Agronomist of the Amarillo Experiment Station, inspected wheat in Sherman County last Friday. He and Kenneth Kendrick had a conference on the Small Grain Field Day to be held at the Amarillo Experiment Station Wednesday, May 26. The Texas Wheat Producers Association is cooperating with the Experiment Station in conducting this field day. They plan to have open house in the morning at the Experiment Station and a tour of the small grain experimental plots starting at 1:00 P. M. The Texas Wheat Producers Association is very much interested in research work being done by the Experiment Station. Farmers are encouraged to take advantage of this field day to keep abreast with the research work on small grain.

After the conference the County Agent went into the field with Porter and inspected wheat for damage from the freeze April 30. They checked a number of fields and a number of samples of wheat at various stages of maturity. They found no apparent damage to wheat that had the kernel partially formed when the freeze came. Some damage was found in wheat that was in the blooming stage during the freeze, but no apparent damage was found in wheat that was in the boot stage or not that far advanced during the time of the freeze.

Porter stated that it was hard to establish definitely the exact amount of damage to wheat for a couple more weeks. But from the above observation he felt that there would be light damage to wheat that was coming out of the boot and medium to heavy damage to some of the wheat that was in the bloom stage. This damage apparently will be spotted over fields because of the different stages of maturity the wheat was in. From this inspection apparently a large percent of the wheat in Sherman County is not damaged by the freeze, the County Agent stated.

A proposal has been made for correction of the seating and acoustics of the auditorium. Complete plans for the proposed building project will be made available for the study of the public in the near future.

Commissioners In Session Monday

County Commissioners in session Monday, took up many phases of the county's business. The court ordered acceptance of a proposal by District Judge Harry Schultz that the county pay $50 to $60 a month for the expenses of maintaining a well-fare worker to aid the District Court and County Welfare Board in matters concerning divorce and child welfare in district court.

The Commissioners approved the plan with the idea that it would expedite solution of problems of this kind. The salary of the worker would be paid by the state and counties in the 69th judicial district with each contributing to the monthly expense account.

May 26 was the date set for the meeting of the County Board of Equalization. They will meet at 10:00 A. M. to hear all matters relative to county taxes. All citizens who have any matters relative to taxation to discuss are urged to be present.

The court discussed the possibility and feasibility of construction of a County Barn to be located at Stratford, and to be used as a place both for the storage and repair of county equipment and for county livestock shows and fairs. Plans for this are still in the formative stage as to details but it is hoped that such project can be completed by early fall.

May Publish Sherman County Expenditures

Editor's Note: (Members of the Sherman County Commissioners' Court, in session Monday, studied the possibility of publishing a financial statement of the business of the county. A statement prepared by the Court follows.)

The Commissioners' Court of Sherman County has been approached informally and indirectly by several persons relative to the need for printing the claims paid by the Court each month at its regular meetings.

The court wishes to point out that all information with respect to the action of the court on all matters is of public record in the county clerk's office in the courthouse in Stratford, Texas, in the Minutes of Claims Allowed and the Commissioners' Court Minutes Vols. 1 through 5. The court invites all persons interested in the affairs of the county to meet with it on the second Monday of each month at the regular session, or at any other time, in special session.

Inquiry has been made as to the cost of printing the claims allowed each month in the Stratford Star and it has been determined that the expense would be approximately $20.00 per month.

The court wishes to announce that it is receptive to a petition from the taxpayers of Sherman County requesting that such claims be printed monthly, quarterly, semi-annually, or otherwise, and if enough taxpayers express their desire that public funds be expended for such printing, the court will be pleased to see that this policy is undertaken.

Seniors Will Give Class Play Friday Night

Stratford seniors will present their annual class play in the school auditorium at 8:00 P. M. Friday night. "Headin' for a Wedding" is the three act hill-billy comedy the class has chosen this year.

Included in the cast of characters are: Benny Biddy, Bob Garoutte, Frankie Hamilton, James Crawford, Jimmy Davis, Rita Joyce Neal, Lynn Reeder, Yvonne Mitts, Adabelle Knight, Rogene Seaman, Arlene Doerfler, Shirley Finch, Helen Finch, Carrol Ann Parvin, and Shirley Plunk. Duard Lamb is directing the play and Mrs. Van B. Boston is serving as the make-up artist for the cast. Cynthia Reed, Joe Wayne Harding and Frances Norris have served on the advertising committee. Irene Doerfler will be in charge of the sound effects.

The story of the comedy is built about a boy, played by Bob Garoutte, who is returning from town with a fish wrapped in a newspaper when he discovers the picture of a beautiful debutante. Homer, the mountain boy, decides to correspond with the girl, and in doing so, exaggerates the financial and social conditions of the Hollowbone family.

Imagine the confusion when the beautiful debutante shows up at the mountain shack to marry her newly found millionaire.

ACROSS THE DESK
 ideas from other editors

From the Duncannon Record, Duncannon, Pennsylvania: How easily we can hide our heads in the sands of time is reflected in the recent tragic ignoring of the beleaguered Indochinese. Slowly the enemy tightened a noose of Korean proportion while more and more of the legislative and administrative time was taken up with solving the McCarthy dilemma. Pathetically enough all the Communist hunters were caught in a web of distraction manufactured by the Great Red Hunter himself, while in another part of the world hordes of Communists were overrunning our outposts. It was then—and remains—much easier to cast opinions on what should be a comparatively minor publicized part of the danger. Part of this is because it is easier to associate our national welfare with what happens within our boundaries; part is suspicion of our chosen allies, but most of it is the instinctive knowledge that the more important decisions can be postponed if only we can find a minor but more irritable area in which to cast our moments of passionate feeling. And, too, the vague hope that maybe if we don't face Indochina and the H Bomb, they will slowly fade away.

From the Empire News, Empire, California: The atomic scientists had selected the widest deserted region in the world—the Pacific Ocean—for the test, and yet they were not able to assure the safety of the human beings nor of food for human consumption.

It would be useless to say that it is time to stop atomic experimentation now. Scholars will never agree that any field of knowledge has been studied enough, least of all the fascinating new field of nuclear physics. Experimentation will continue forever, and would continue on a small scale, even if every government in the whole world got sick of the whole deal and illegalized every proton the atom possesses.

If there is no way to investigate the atom without exposing . . . seamen to radiation, the least that science can do for people who may become guinea pigs without their consent is to warn them in advance. In other words, everything that the scientists know will happen or suspect might happen, should be explained thoroughly to everybody within the range of the experiment.

Instead of being hush hush, top secret, mustn't touch it, and don't tell it, atomic science should become a part of the general knowledge of every man, woman, and youth in Japan, in the United States, and in every country where radiation effects may be felt.

SUNDAY'S SERMON

Rev. Robert H. Harper
 Elijah Rebukes Ahab.
 Lesson for May 16: I Kings 21: 1-4, 16-20.
 Golden Text: Exodus 20: 17.

Naboth had a vineyard near the palace of Ahab which the king desired. But Naboth refused to sell his family inheritance to the monarch. Jezebel comforted the disappointed king and promised him that the vineyard would be secured. When she had had Naboth stoned to death and his sons slain, that there should be no minor heirs, she told Ahab to arise and take possession of the vineyard.

His pleasure in walking about the place was soon dispelled by the appearance of the stern old prophet. As usual, when Ahab and Elijah met, there came a message of rebuke and then of doom from the prophet. He foretold that in the place where dogs had licked the blood of Naboth would dogs lick the blood of the king.

Ahab repented and God mercifully postponed the day of reckoning for the house of the king until the reign of the king's son. But the king himself was soon slain in battle when he and the king of Judah went against the Syrians. The murderous Jezebel was afterward thrown from a palace window, her body trampled by the horse of the victorious Jehu and hungry street dogs ate her remains. Thus perished in blood they who had brought bloodshed unto others. Let us be admonished that the wages of sin is death and that the evil deeds of men return upon their own heads.

SPORTS CORNER

About Champions

Two of today's fight champions are champions because of fierce dedication to their trade. Rocky Marciano and Bobo Olson are serious businessmen where their ring fortunes are concerned. Ring observers say Olson beat Kid Gavilan because of the type fighter he (Olson) is, busy, always working, always moving forward. The Keed was too much on the defensive to let go enough big bombs of his own. Rocky Marciano was once regarded as clumsy and crude when he first came out of Brockton, Mass. He was, and still is, far from being a boxer. Under the training of Charlie Goldman, the strong Marciano learned to punch straighter and shorter, dedicated himself to the game and became the world champion . . . Word has been getting around lately that Bill Terry, one-time Giant manager who has made a small fortune in the automobile and real estate fields wouldn't mind at all getting back into baseball if the right kind of an offer came along, such as the managership of a major league team.

MY PET PEEVE

by Mike Bennett

THE little woman has been asking me questions about baseball lately and it has me worried. When she starts asking questions, I always wind up in trouble.

When she discovered one time that my duties included the editing of a farm column, she began asking questions, just as she's doing now. I came home to find out that she had paid some fellow $15 to plow the back yard and had spent several more on garden tools for me.

A few years ago, when television first came to the town we lived in at the time, she plied me with questions about the astonishing new medium. Not being too versed myself, I solved the situation by taking her down to a department store to see one of the things in action. She was impressed, but not as much as she was carried away by an expensive washing machine she spied in the store. When I say she was carried away by the machine, I should make it clear that the machine carried away, to our house—along with a little envelope containing an easy payment plan.

Like I say, when my wife asks questions, she's not just making conversation. I don't think that she has discovered my plans to go to the big city next month to see a major league ball game. I believe, instead, that she is trying to plant the idea in my head. Then she will have an excuse to go along and "shop" the city.

It's nice to know that she won't mind my going to the ball game. I only wonder now if I can afford it.

The average American spent $10.30 for candy last year—a total expenditure for our collective sweet-tooth of $1,620,000,000.

SEES PEACE . . . UN secretary-general Dag Hammerskjold says H-bomb makes "permanently peaceful world" possible for first time in history, if nations recognize its power.

The number of those saved from cancer could be doubled by early detection and prompt adequate treatment, according to the American Cancer Society.

Japan's Inland Sea, 250 miles long, embraces more islands than any other sea on earth—from 700 to 3,000 depending upon whether the term "island" is extended to cover islets and the fantastic rocks that jut up as much as a hundred feet above the water.

YOUR brain budget

1. Lake Tanganyika, in Africa, is (a) 100 miles long; (b) 450 miles long; (c) 150 miles long.
2. The first steamship to cross the Atlantic was (a) German; (b) English; (c) American.
3. There are now (a) four; (b) three; (c) two mints in the United States that manufacture domestic coins.

ANSWERS

1. 450 miles long.

ideas from other editors

From The Chickasha Star, Chickasha, Oklahoma: A few months ago The Star predicted that it wouldn't be long before the big investigators would stomp their toe and somebody would probably come up with an idea to investigate the investigators. We made a pretty good guess—it has happened!

And now it appears there may be an investigation made of the investigator of the investigator. This thing can go on and on until the man originally slated for investigation is completely out of the limelight. There's really not much to worry about however, as the cost of the ordeal will probably not exceed a couple or three million dollars.

From the Suburban List, Essex Junction, Vermont: Some criticism has been leveled at the newspapers for not strongly combating the threat of Communism. Some of the newspapers even soft-peddle the issue, and even go so far as to support a policy of appeasement. Maybe it would be a good thing to put the newspapers on the carpet with a good strong investigation to see how strong they are for American loyalty. . . . The real American newspapers would be proud to have such an investigation.

From The Waverly Sun, Waverly, New York: There has always been a strong belief in large cities that small communities, such as those making up this valley, would escape the deadly effects of the Atom or Hydrogen mob attacks. This assumption no longer holds water. It has become a false idea of security, particularly after the results of the latest H-Bomb experiment.

Small towns may not be target areas, but they are really no safer than their big city counterparts several miles away. If an H-Bomb were to be dropped on New York, a community the size of Towanda, which is about 200 miles away, would still feel the effect.

From the Clinton County Republican-News, St. Johns, Michigan: We suppose that the first man who brought fire into the cave might have burned up the skins and furs and surely the others must have thought it a risky thing to do; all of them feared the lightning and the fires that it started. But one need only look about to see what the heat and the energy first found in fire has produced to know that its good far outweighs its evil. Just so the good that still lies undiscovered in fission and in fusion may some day far outbalance the evil of their beginnings.

Southside Club Meets With Mrs. Lavake

Tuesday the Southside Home Demonstration Club met in the home of Mrs. John Lavake for a demonstration on preparing chicken for the freezer. Miss Lucile King was unable to attend. Mrs. John Lavake and Mrs. Oma Ellison gave the demonstration.

Mrs. William Glen Hart and Mrs. Don Ellison were appointed to attend a training school on pie meringue. Suggestion were made on what we should do for next year and also what to do at the fun festival to be held Tuesday, May 25.

Those attending the meeting were: Mrs. William Glen Hart, Mrs. Arthur Cartrite, Mrs. Wayne Cartrite, Mrs. Lee Roy Morris, Mrs. Don Ellison, Mrs. John Lavake, and one guest, Mrs. Oma Ellison.

Our next meeting will be held Monday, May 24, at 2:30 P. M. in the home of Mrs. Meritt Sweny. The program will be on "Guarding Family Happiness."

About 15 million tons of coal per year are consumed in the vicinity of the mines where it is produced.

Devil's Lake, along Oregon's coast, has an elevation of just ten feet above sea level and is linked with an Indian legend which describes the lake as the home of a giant fish or water monster, alleged to surface from time to time and destroy any convenient native.

"I REMEMBER" BY THE OLD TIMERS

From M. D. Merry, Hudson, Wisconsin: Red McDonald, a pioneer cowboy, who came to Montana in the early eighties told of one day in late October, while riding along the ridges that bordered the Yellowstone. He heard an unfamiliar sound and saw a large, black cloud of dust north of the river.

He rode to the highest pinnacle and soon an angry, bellowing buffalo herd appeared out of the bad lands, jumped into the river and started across. He watched the migration for several hours. Often one would fall but the herd trampled him to death without paying any attention. Some would wander away from the herd and stay behind. These the cowboys killed for their winter meat.

The herd was enroute to Indian Territory and Texas, where they would feed during the winter months and rear their young. When spring opened they would again head north until they reached Saskatchewan to feed during the summer.

From Edna P. Mecum, Portland, Oregon: I remember 77 years ago in Indiana when I, after being the "baby" of the family for six years, had to give up my favored spot by mother for a new sister. And, then, later on she had to do the same for another newcomer. I'd like to cross those miles again and see both their faces, as they were then, or as I last saw them in 1912 and 1927 respectively. I could again be a happy little girl.

(Send contributions to this column to The Old Timer, Community Press Service, Frankfort, Kentucky.)

The U. S. Bureau of Mines reports that bituminous coal makes up 43.3 per cent of the competing fuels and power used in this country.

THE BAFFLES By Mahoney

MAYOR McGUP By John Jarvis

. . . but I'm just bustin' my buttons over the fact that my fellow employees at the Public Service Company have worked one-million man-hours without a lost-time accident.

They've been striving for this goal for a long, long time, and have been mighty close to making it before. Yes, they made more than 600,000 hours one time, and 910,000 another, but they never quite hit the magic million. This time they have!

This safety record is, of course, very important to you. The safe worker is the dependable, productive worker, and the one that makes possible the most economical, as well as the best, electric service.

Making a million man-hours without a lost-time accident is like making your first million dollars—it's the hardest million. We're shooting for two, now, and hope to make it, for safety makes your service better.

part-by-part proof...

Plymouth is your "best buy" in the lowest-price field!

Recently a 1954 Plymouth and current models of the other two best-known low-price cars were taken apart by Plymouth engineers and compared, part by part. Standard "stock" models were used. We've listed some typical findings below.

Plymouth is "best buy" in many ways. Here are just a few!

Front Wheel Brakes

Plymouth engineers provide two hydraulic brake cylinders in each front wheel to ensure smooth stops without "grabbing." The other two low-price cars have only one.

Seat Springs

Plymouth uses coil seat springs, for longer lasting support. The "other two" have a zigzag platform type. Also, Plymouth's "springs-on-springs" design adds more comfort.

Piston Rings

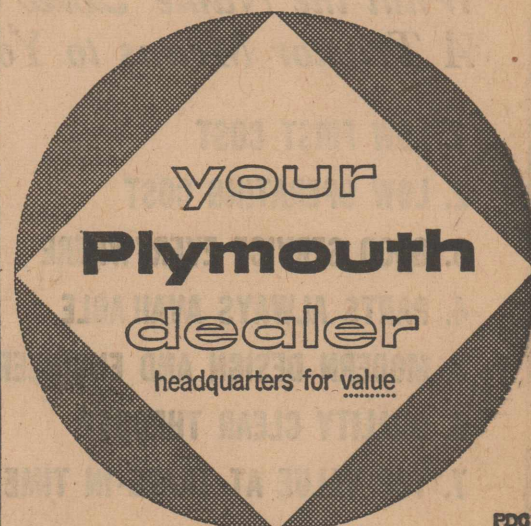

Plymouth has four rings on each piston; the "other two" have three. Result: decreased carbon deposit, more consistent power output. Increased oil economy, too!

Micronic Oil Filter

Standard on most Plymouth models. Keeps abrasive dirt out of the engine, reducing wear and achieving greater oil economy. Extra cost on the other two low-price cars.

And dozens of other part-by-part comparisons prove Plymouth is your "best buy"! See us today... and get the facts!

Ask us for the big illustrated booklet that shows how Plymouth leads in frame construction... engine design... performance... economy... comfort... safety.

Go for a drive in America's "best-buy" low-price car!

my PET PEEVE by Mike Bennett ONLY a few days ago, I found myself smote directly between the eyes by a heavy weapon often referred to as "The Awful Truth." It dawned upon me, suddenly and unequivocally; springs and summers are slipping by and I, tho far from the age of withering on the vine, begin to feel the mellowness that each new ray of morning sunshine can but mellowate the more. I guess that I crossed over the hill without bothering to watch the scenery, because the destination was reached effortlessly, without any serious struggles on my part. Of course, it had to come day, as I always knew it would. But I had expected it to be a slow process, "gradual stages, like climbing a tall ladder where each rung is an individual challenge. One must conquer each step. That's the way I expected it to be. But it wasn't that way at all. It was sudden, with such dynamic force that I knew instantly I had either "crossed over the bridge" or ventured out so far that to attempt to return would be sheer folly. It was just an across-the-coffee-cup discussion. One of those present, an elder noted for strong opinions, said with an adamant air: "The younger generation is totally incapable of shouldering their share of the world's responsibilities." Indignation welled within me. I poised the words I had wielded in numerous battles of the past. "Indeed we are," echoed the words within me. But, from without, I said with the same adamant air, "You are right. They are not." There can be no doubt, I am growing old (er).

Southwestern Public Service Company Wins Safety Award

One-million consecutive man-hours worked without a lost-time accident is the safety record achieved this week by the 1,850 employees of the Southwestern Public Service Company. This is the longest continuous accident-free accomplishment in the company's history.

"This safety accomplishment, and we regard it as only our first goal, is of vital importance to our customers. It is safety which makes it possible for us to offer dependable, economical service to our customers. Accidents are expensive in time and money, and we are best serving our customers when we reduce them to the minimum. Our employees have continued to work for this goal in the face of several setbacks, and now that they have reached their mark, you can be sure they will continue their efforts to add another million," A. R. Watson, Executive Vice President and General Manager, said.

The accident-free period started on January 30 of this year, and remains uninterrupted at the moment, with, as Mr. Watson points out, 2,000,000 man-hours the next goal of the electric light and power company employees.

The 1,000,000 man-hour goal was first set in 1953. Last year the employees worked one 910,000 man-hour period without an accident. Time ran out on them before it was again possible to amass a million before the year's end.

The goal was re-established for 1954, and after a temporary set back on January 29, the string of consecutive accident-free days, it takes nearly 3 1/2 months for the 1,850 employees to work a million hours, reaching the mark this week.

To more dramatically portray the magnitude of this accomplishment it can be pointed out that it would take one man working 2,000 hours a year, that's 50 forty hour weeks, 500 years without an accident to work one million accident-free hours.

Southwestern Public Service Company's safety record is one of the most outstanding in the electric light and power industry. Last year, the industry averaged 11.50 lost-time accidents for every million man-hours worked, while Southwestern's figure was 4.52 per million man-hours. The 1954 figure for the Public Service Company is now down to 1.56 lost-time accidents for every million man-hours.

HOW are your vegetable ways?
Do you always serve them the same way or do you try to do something different with them occasionally? Here are some new ideas with which you can start:
Try cream-style corn with eggs for a really good luncheon or supper dish. To 1 cup of corn add 3 slices fried bacon, crumbled, 4 eggs, beaten lightly. Place in skillet and proceed as for scrambled eggs.

Cooked chopped spinach takes on a new taste thrill when seasoned with 1/4 teaspoon garlic salt, a speck of pepper and 1/4 teaspoon of anchovy paste and 2 tablespoons butter.

RECIPE OF THE WEEK

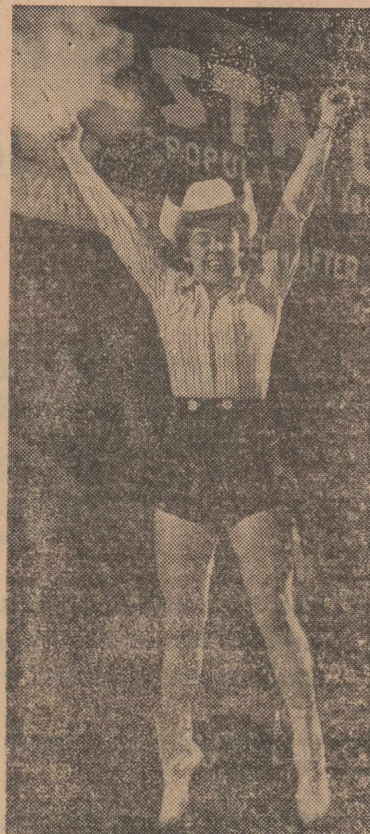

Lime Cucumber Salad
(Serves 6)

- 1 package lime-flavored gelatin
- 1 cup hot water
- 1/4 cup vinegar
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1 teaspoon grated onion
- 1 cup sour cream
- 1 medium cucumber, coarsely grated
- Lettuce

Dissolve gelatin in hot water. Add vinegar, salt and onion. Chill until gelatin begins to thicken. Stir in sour cream and cucumber. Pour into six individual molds. Chill until firm. Unmold on lettuce.

Try slicing radishes, firm and red, as an edible garnish for your next bowl of cream-style soup.
Halve green peppers and remove all seeds; then slice and cut in strips and fry slowly in bacon drippings. Add cut-up tomatoes and cook until tomatoes are in pieces. Mix well and serve with a pork or sausage dinner.

Green beans, asparagus, cauliflower or broccoli are all good with this sauce: To 2 tablespoons melted butter add 2 tablespoons each of bread crumbs and chopped nuts. Toss lightly until brown.
