Plan Polio Vaccine Survey For Sunday Afternoon

Volunteer workers of Sherman County will meet at 12:30 Sunday, March 10, in Fellowship Hall of the First Methodist Church for lunch, after which they will contact all residents of Sherman County and the adjoining communities served by the Stratford School in regard to who has had polio shots and who is interested in taking them. Arrangements have been made to give the series of three shots to every person at a cost of $1.00 per shot. Everyone is urged to take advantage of this as it is a considerable reduction in the regular price.

The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis and medical societies of the nation are advocating that people of all ages be given the shots. The first series in Stratford will be given at the Stratford Clinic March 22 and 23. The second series will be given April 26 and 27, and the third series will be given approximately six months after the second shots.

Everyone interested in helping with this survey is urged to meet promptly at 12:30 in Fellowship Hall of the Methodist Church where they will be assigned a territory and receive their instructions.

Rev. M. E. Upchurch of the First Baptist Church, Rev. Bruce Clark of the First Christian Church, Rev. Bob Goodwin of the Assembly of God Church, and Rev. Charles R. Gates of the First Methodist Church, have made plans for the survey to be made Sunday.

At least 60 volunteer workers will be needed to make the survey. Workers who assisted with the recent religious survey, will act again, and an appeal is being made for additional help. Volunteers from Kerrick, Conlen, Spurlock, and all other sections are needed to complete the polio survey.

The survey will be made with the slogan, "The Life You Save May Be Your Own."

The territory has been divided into 11 regions to prevent overlapping. Region 1 will consist of all houses and business places between the Gruver Highway and Dumas Highway 287, to the Rock Island Railroad north. Region 2 will include all houses from the Gruver Highway east, extending to the Rock Island tracks north. Region 3 will include all houses from the Rock Island tracks using Highway 287 as a western boundary. Region 4 will include all houses east of Highway 287 to Maple Street, running from the Rock Island to the end of the Street northwest. Region 5 will include all houses between Maple and Chestnut streets, extending from the railroad to the edge of town northwest. Region 6 will include all houses from Chestnut to Main Street, extending from the railroad to North 8th Street. Region 7 includes all houses from Main to Pearl Street from the railroad to North 8th Street. Region 8 includes all houses from the railroad extending from Pearl to Fulton Streets to the edge of town. Region 9 extends from the Rock Island tracks from Pearl to Wall Street to the northern edge of town. Region 10 extends from the railroad, including all houses from Wall to Grace Streets, going north to the edge of town. Region 11 includes all houses from the railroad from Grace Street through Spruce Street on the east side of Grace.

It will also be necessary to cover all the houses in the country as well as those in Kerrick, Conlen and Spurlock and

Announcement of permanent local representatives of the firm will be made at a later date.

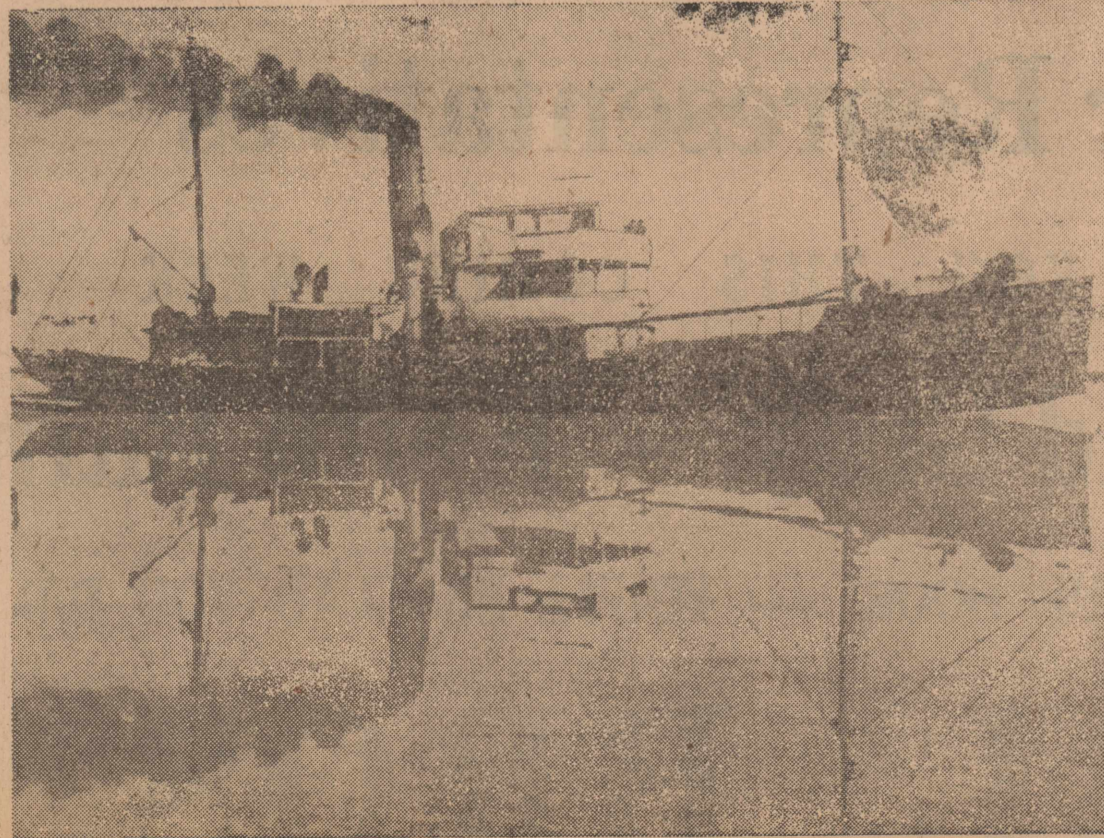

Band Attends West Texas Music Festival

Stratford's High School band attended the West Texas Music Festival held in Snyder, Texas Saturday. The musicians played in the concert Saturday morning which was followed by sight reading, and took part in the parade.

Each band will receive a criticism sheet of their performance but will not be rated. The criticism will be used to polish rough spots in preparation for the spring contests to be held in Canyon on March 23. An estimated 45 to 65 members of the band will take part in either solo or quartet numbers in the spring contest. A recording was made at Snyder which will be used as a teaching aid.

The band stopped to see the Elks play in the regional basketball tournament at Canyon both going and returning from Snyder.

MARCH BRINGS RAINS

Sherman County soil is frozen with a content of moisture reaching depth from 8 to 10 inches as the result of slow rain followed by snow. Saturday, a rain which varied from a light drizzle to a sprinkle registered .59 of an inch in Stratford over a 12 hour period. A dense fog which cut visibility of less than half of a city block followed Sunday night.

Monday heavy showers fell in the vicinity of Kerrick and to the south of Stratford. Locally only .18 of an inch fell during a 10 hour period. Snowfall during Wednesday brought another .07 of an inch of moisture to the Stratford vicinity. A total of .84 has been recorded in Stratford, bringing the total moisture for the year to 1.38 inches.

Irrigated wheat which has been kept in fair condition during the dry months will likely produce a crop. Farmers have varied views over the plight of dry land wheat. Some say that the root system thought to be dead, is growing. This gives hopes of a low yield with continued favorable conditions. In scattered sections over the territory there are fields of green wheat which may produce more than was expected.

Rain coming in March, the month when most people dread high winds and blowing dust, gives hopes that perhaps the worst drought in the history of the Texas Panhandle, is breaking.

The low temperature for the week has been 19 degrees.

4-H Council To Recognize Youths Saturday

Sherman County 4-H Joint Council is having a public 4-H Council meeting Saturday, March 9, at 10:00 a. m. Several 4-H members will be recognized.

The state's 4-H members for weeks have been making plans to tell others what 4-H has meant to them, and they will join with the more than 2,000,000 members in the nation in observance of the special National Week.

Governor Daniel in his proclamation, said "Activity, achievement and adventure await the 117,257 4-H club members who participate in this program in Texas.

4-H Club work is the youth phase of the Agricultural Extension Service. This voluntary youth program has a nationwide enrollment of more than two million members, and 51 foreign countries now have organizations similar to 4-H Clubs.

The Texas program is directed by members of the Agricultural Extension Service, which is a part of the A. & M. College System. County extension agents in the 254 counties work with 4-H members, their parents, volunteer leaders and friends of 4-H develop the future leaders of the state mentally, spiritually, socially and physically. Sherman County has approximately 200 4-H members and 24 volunteer adult leaders.

As Governor of Texas, I urge that due recognition be given to the fine organization which aids young people in useful, happy living by helping them to help themselves."

County 4-H Councils, say the state 4-H leaders, are perfecting plans for the local observance of National 4-H Week. To be honored are local adult leaders, parents, friends of 4-H and the members themselves. The 4-H story will be told many times with special emphasis on the character building side of the now world wide rural youth organization.

4-H has grown from the boys corn clubs and the tomato clubs for girls for half a century ago into an organization that today involves every phase of farming and homemaking. Boys and girls who are not now 4-H members may obtain information on how they may become members from county extension agents or other 4-H members.

Irrigation Gas Pipe Lines Are Contemplated

A contemplated installation of gas pipelines for irrigation farmers will be discussed at a meeting tentatively planned for Saturday, March 16. A Midland, Texas firm is interested in serving Sherman, Moore and Hansford farmers with this service.

The meeting to be held will be for the purpose of determining the potential demand for such a venture.

Arrangements should be completed in time for an announcement of the time and place next week.

The opinion handed down Tuesday by Attorney General Will Wilson concerning the constitutionality of Senate Bill 101, commonly called the "Gas for Irrigation Bill," was met with widespread approval. Although Judge Wilson's opinion held that Section 2 of the Act was unconstitutional, the remainder of the Bill was approved. The objectionable Section, which limits the right to buy gas to royalty owners, was held unconstitutional on the ground that it constituted an unreasonable classification between persons similarly situated. In other words, Judge Wilson held that since one of the purposes of the Act was conservation of the soil, it should make no difference whether the farmers who might be using the gas were also royalty owners.

In a joint statement issued at Dumas late Tuesday evening, W. J. Morton, Jr., chairman of the Gas for Irrigation Executive Committee of the Seven North Plains Counties, Jess Cooper and Carroll Boyd, both members of the Gas for Irrigation Executive Committee of the Seven North Plains Counties, Richard Spradley, manager of the Dumas Chamber of Commerce, and J. W. Buchanan, manager of the North Plains Water Conservation District, said "We are deeply grateful for the action on the Gas for Irrigation Bill which has been taken by Judge Will Wilson, Attorney General of Texas, and for the fact that it has been upheld as being constitutional with the exception of one section. We are certain that Section 2, which limits the right to buy to royalty owners, can be amended in committee so as to eliminate the unconstitutional features of the section and we are quite confident that the proponents of the Bill in the Legislature will lead the move to bring these amendments about."

"For ourselves and on behalf of all the people in the North Plains area, we want to express our appreciation to Governor Daniel for his wholehearted endorsement of the Bill. We also want to make it clear that we are in perfect accord with the position which has been taken by Judge Wilson in his opinion on the constitutionality of the Bill and we are planning to cooperate with all branches of the Government of Texas in bringing about the passage in the immediate future of an Act that is fair to all and constitutional in all respects."

"The Gas for Irrigation Executive Committee of the Seven North Plains Counties is extremely grateful to the various senators and representatives who have worked so hard in support of this Bill, as we think it will have a tremendous effect in altering the economy of the North Plains Area from that of a drought-stricken area, which has been classed by the president of the United States as a disaster area, to one which has a potential agricultural productivity of $200,000,000.00 per year.

Mrs. M. Wilson Is Bride Of R. B. Terrell

Mrs. Marguerite Wilson, daughter of Mrs. Mertie Massie, became the bride of Russell B. Terrell of Perryton in a quiet ceremony solemnized Saturday afternoon in Clovis, New Mexico. Mr. and Mrs. Terrell will make their home in Stratford.

Mrs. Terrell will continue to write insurance and work as a secretary in the office of the Sherman County Abstract Co. Mr. Terrell operates the Terrell Drilling Co., and maintains an office in Perryton.

The Stratford F.F.A. Chapter, is again this year sponsoring a donkey basketball game as a means of raising funds to finance their future farmers of America organization. The event will be held in the old gym, Saturday night, March 9, and will begin at 7:30 p. m.

The program will be the same as was put on last year. Included in the many events will be a hobby donkey derby, a trick mule act, a girls donkey race, a men's garment race, and as a climax to the program, a donkey basketball game.

Each member of the Stratford F.F.A. is selling advance tickets for the game. The boys receive a larger percentage of the money on pre-game sales than they do on ticket sales at the door.

For a real evening of fun for all members of the family, the F.F.A. boys urge you to make plans now to attend this donkey ball game.

The Third Commandment And You

(By Jean Spurlock)

The Third Commandment reads: "Thou shalt not take the name of the Lord thy God in vain. Here I will mention the fact that this commandment is the second commandment in Roman Catholic and Lutheran churches. Do we realize the true meaning of this commandment. I am afraid that we often do not. We all feel that we are obeying this commandment. As one rabbi said, that the whole emphasis is on the word name. He then explained that down through the ages the concept of God kept changing and growing. Each new concept had a new name. At different times He was known as God is Strength, God is a Mighty Ruler, God is found through the Sacraments, and He is the Law.

By Moses' time there were possibly a dozen different names, or rather, different concepts for God. This rabbi brought out the fact that we as humans can not limit God. Let us put it this way. God Himself settles the long dispute about his nature. "He says in effect, "I am more than Strong, more than Law or Sacrament. I cannot be defined in terms of your worldly affairs. I can be described only in terms of myself: I am That I am.

It can be summed up by saying that we must not take only God's name in vain, but we must not take His concept in vain. The curser curses himself. Or, the man who takes the concept of God in vain, destroys himself.

We must live as near perfect as it is possible for us as humans to live not only for the reward we will receive for so having lived, but for the effect our lives have on those we come in contact with. We say, 'Like father like son.' The son being constantly around his father becomes like his father, it is rebirth, on a spiritual level.

We may not say a curse word and still be disobeying the Third Commandment. How? We may do this by taking a negative, atheistic and degrading view on or of the concept of God and therefore be profane.

"What other Commandment carries a more deadly penalty

Q—Are members of the Electoral College required to vote for their party nominee?

A—While it is a long-standing custom that members of the College vote for their party's nominee, thus giving all their state's electoral votes to him, the constitution does not require that they do so. The only constitutional requirement is that at least one of the men the electors choose for the offices of President and Vice President shall not be an inhabitant of the same state as they are—which means that an elector from California, for instance, could not give his vote for both offices to candidates from his native state.

Q—Did President William H. Harrison serve half of his term? A—No. Harrison died one month after his inauguration, on April 4, 1841 and was succeeded in office by Vice President Millard Fillmore.

Q—When was the Department of Defense created? A—On Sept. 16, 1947, the Department of the Navy, Department of the Air Force and Department of the Army into a single executive department.

Q—How large is the Pentagon? A—The Pentagon covers 34 acres on the Virginia side of the Potomac River. It is 5 stories high and consists of 5 rings of buildings connected by 10 corridors. About 29,000 persons—70 per cent of them civilians—work here.

for transgression, or a greater reward for obedience?"

This article was taken from the Guidepost.

Answered Prayer

I asked God for strength, that I might achieve; I was made weak, that I might learn humbly to obey.

I asked for health, that I might do greater things; I was given infirmity, that I might do better things.

I asked for riches, that I might be happy; I was given poverty that I might be wise.

I asked for power, that I might have the praise of men; I was given weakness, that I might feel the need of God.

I asked for all things, that I might enjoy life; I was given life, that I might enjoy all things.

I got nothing that I asked for, but everything I had hoped for. Almost despite myself, my unspoken prayers were answered. I am, among all men, most richly blessed.

Senior News

(By Carolyn Folsom)

West Texas State Teachers College sent Evaluation tests to the seniors of many schools of which Stratford was included. These tests determined the I.Q. of the student his main interest, the field in which he was most advanced, conflicts within his personal self, how well he got along with others etc. The seniors that took the test and reported to the college were Darla Galloway, Jean Spurlock, Ann Roberts, Virginia Plunk, Cynthia Reed, Carolyn Folsom, Buzz Summerour, Sonny Judd, Raymond Kirkwood, Lance Harrington and Dorothy Bachman. We arrived in Canyon on 10:30 February 28. We were taken to the auditorium, and one at a time, each of us was counseled by an experienced counselor.

Each test was interpreted. Everyone of the seniors that were privileged to go, realize the importance of it, and were helped greatly, to understand themselves, and also in what they were best suited for. In every test, they proved true to the feelings of the group. The seniors would like to advise, any underclassmen to take the test, do your best, and take advantage of the trained counselors advice, we feel you will greatly profit from it as we have.

Within the past four years the railroads have contributed to the farmers, ranchers and dairymen, through a 50% reduction in rates on hay and other feedstuffs, 25 million dollars. Both the Congress of the United States and the Legislature of Texas, by resolution, have expressed their thanks to the railroads for this substantial contribution. Through the years the railroads have always extended a helping hand to their neighbors in times of disaster. To us this is a basic responsibility of good Americans.

TELL US YOUR PROBLEM

BY JOHN and JANE STRICKLAND

HENRY and Ethel Scammold, Farmingdale, Long Island, received the first school report of their little six-year-old son, Hank, with a notation at the bottom that was something to be concerned about: "Henry seems to have no regard for the truth; he will tell a fib even when he can hope for no advantage. Something should be done about this now."

Was their son set to grow up a liar? A liar? Not that!

They asked Hank about it; he wasn't interested in the subject one way or another.

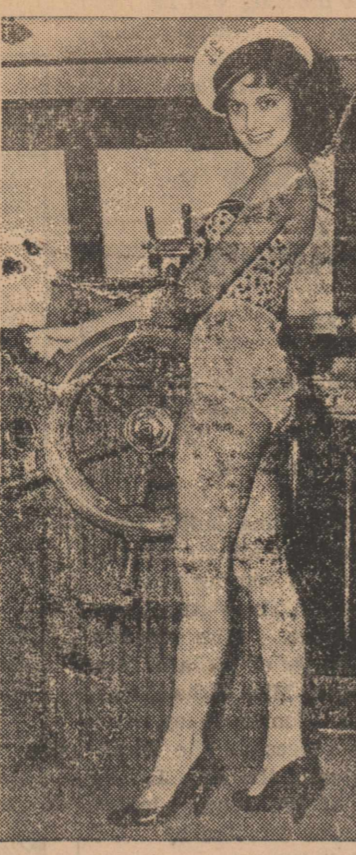

They had formed the habit months before of reading Hank a story or a poem after he was in bed. This had made him willing to go to bed when the time came. One night as Henry read to his son, he noticed the shiny eyes, the happy expression on his face at the make-believe stories, which he had never bothered to explain to the boy were make-believe. This gave the father an idea.

He would continue reading make-believe stories along with real life stories. But he would explain that the real life stories were of greater importance because they were true. Then he began telling stories to Hank, and whenever it was a make-believe story he would laugh amusingly at it, and show that a make-believe story was not too important.

Now when Hank told a fib his father would ask if it were make-believe or real. Hank would admit it when the former, and they would both laugh, sometimes derisively.

At the end of the year Henry Scammold paid a call on the teacher to ask about Hank's fibs. Why, the teacher had almost forgotten that Hank had ever told fibs.

THE WORLD OUTDOORS
By MIKE BENNETT

SPRING will soon be here and warm weather fishermen will emerge from their wintry hibernations all over the country. The nation's favorite outdoor sport will again be in the limelight.

Actually, however, fishing activity is far from confined to the warmer seasons. In many sections of the country ice fishing has become a popular and specialized diversion. The temperatures never gets too terrible for these enthusiasts who cut a hole in the ice, build a shanty over it for warmth, and then set out to catch themselves a mess of fish.

Further South, where it still gets cold enough to freeze over streams and smaller lakes, there's plenty of fishing activity in February, usually the most unpredictable winter month. "Jig fishing" is popular at all of the big impoundments in states like Kentucky and Tennessee. Lakes are high and cloudy (or muddy) at this time of year, except for a clear water "ring" usually found around the shoreline and in smaller coves. Such conditions are ideal for "jig fishing." Equipment for this sport consists of a stout cane pole, a short length of heavy line or leader, and a treble hook liberally adorned with night crawlers (worms to non-fishermen). The target is big bass and for some reason the lunkers can't resist temptation when a gob of worms is dropped into such hiding places as tree tops, roots or brush piles.

These aren't the only spots. Practically everywhere in the nation you can find hard-weather fishermen—hardy enthusiasts who'll tell you that a steel-head fights twice as hard when the water is icy and the banks lined lightly with snow. And one thing is sure: the winter angler seldom has to worry about tangling with a fellow fisherman's line or hooking some angler's hat on his backcast.

MARCH

MARCH may remind us of high winds and boys flying kites, of daffodils and spring, and of the derivation of its name. It may be thought unfortunate that one of the months is named after Mars, the god of war.

The Ides of March makes us think of the death that befell Julius Caesar by the daggers of Brutus and the rest. And the day may remind us of all the assassination, wars and turmoil and death that have befallen mankind. Of old, March was in the season when kings and conquerors marshalled their armies and went forth to battle. Would it not be a blessed thing if men could learn to put aside the fear of war and war itself?

But thoughts of such a consummation may become as wild and vagrant as the winds of March. How can war be done away as long as the nations are ready to fly to the arbitrament of arms? It would be wise to join in the declaration of the spiritual—"I ain't gonna study war no more." The man who can bring forth a workable plan to induce men to study war no more would confer a lasting blessing upon mankind.

But begin with yourself and study war no more in all the relations of life and you will do your bit toward the relief of mankind.

The decisively different one

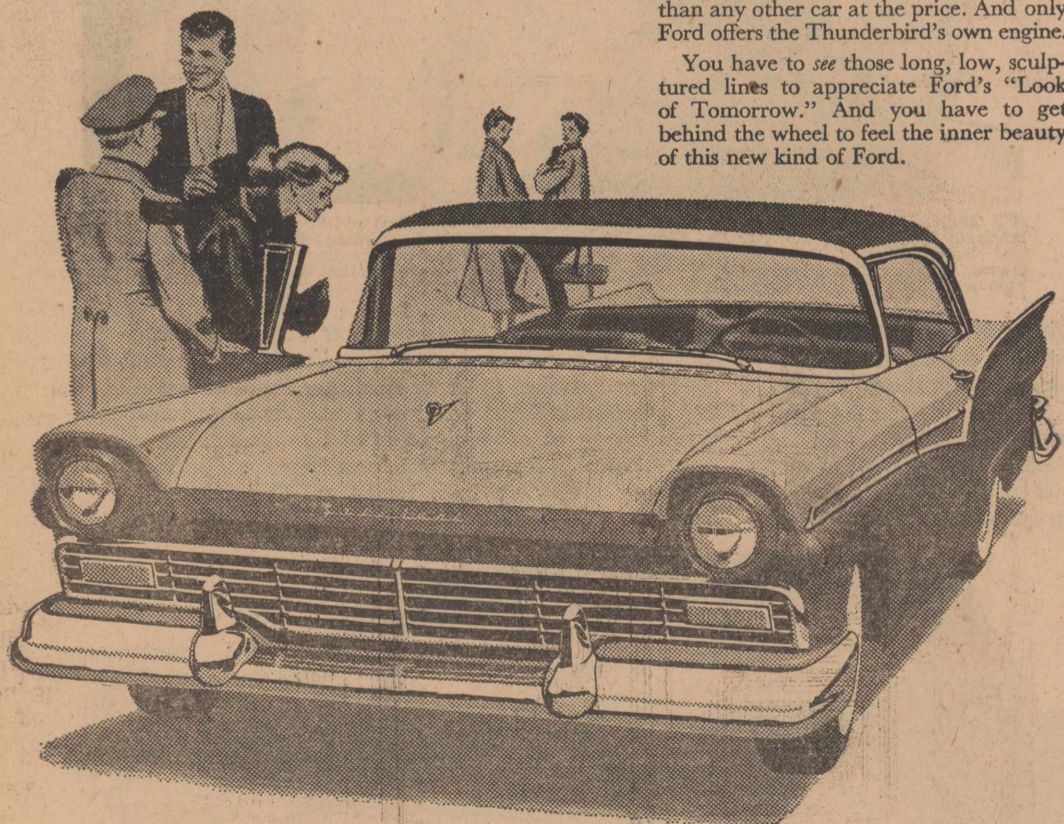

First in the low-price field with 2 big-car sizes, a contoured frame and an all-new "inner car," the luxurious '57 Ford brings you longer, lower, livelier going than ever before

Comfort and "sighs" come king-size in the '57 Ford. That's because Ford alone in the low-price field is so wonderfully new all the way through.

The all-new frame, for instance, dips down and out between the wheels for extra passenger comfort, smooth going. Even most high-priced cars don't have this revolutionary new frame yet.

Power? Sure, all cars offer V-8's. But Ford has 22 years more V-8 experience than any other car at the price. And only Ford offers the Thunderbird's own engine.

You have to see those long, low, sculptured lines to appreciate Ford's "Look of Tomorrow." And you have to get behind the wheel to feel the inner beauty of this new kind of Ford.
