Trustees Order Bond Election

Acting upon petitions covering over 100 names calling for issuance of bonds totaling $200,000.00 to cover construction of additional classrooms to the elementary and high school, repairs to the high school, and other improvements to the plant, the trustees have ordered an election to be held on June 21.

The bonds will be 10 year bonds at an average interest rate of 2.44%. This is the lowest average interest rate of any bonds previously issued. This is one of the best rates in this area and is due to the length of maturity in years as well as the excellent and sound financial condition of the district. This low average interest rate carries no fee and will save the district a substantial amount of money, at the same time enabling the trustees to make the necessary improvements to the school, to continue the betterment of the community.

TRUSTEES CONFER WITH ARCHITECT

Stratford Independent School District Trustees met with Fred Buford, school architect in special session Monday night. Preliminary plans of school plant expansion and ground improvement were discussed.

Tentative plans call for the following additions to the present plant: The addition of four rooms to the north end of the present elementary building. If these are built, the first, second, third, and fourth grades will be moved to this area. The present two sixth grade rooms would be converted to an elementary library and music room. The present fifth grade room would be converted to an art room and a music or piano room. The upper elementary grades (Continued on Page 5)

Bachman-Oquin Nuptial Vows Exchanged

Norma Louise Bachman and Carl Everett Oquin were married Wednesday morning in Boise City, Oklahoma.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Bachman, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. T. P. Oquin.

Immediately following the wedding, the young couple left for a wedding trip to Denver, Colorado.

Great Britain and China took part in the Opium War from 1840 to 1842.

The Doane Agricultural Service reports that numerous contacts have been made with possible markets for Sherman County products.

In general, most of the companies contacted have been very interested in the possibility of working through the Sherman County Development Association to locate dependable sources of quality agricultural products.

Markets for alfalfa, sugar beets, beef, grains, vegetables and other products have been studied or contacted.

The Doane organization reported that buyers of agricultural products are, in many cases, completely changing their methods of securing farm products. In the last few years, the cost-price squeeze and other factors have cut down the profit margin on many products. Hence, buyers are looking for more efficient ways of buying.

The consumer will make the final decisions on how our farm and ranch products will be marketed. If she can buy items at the supermarket at low cost because they were produced and marketed under specified conditions, she will certainly buy these lower cost products. The last ten years have shown us that she is also willing to pay a good price for products that are of a constant quality.

Doane reported that many of the processors are interested in what is going on in Sherman County because this is exactly what they are looking for. Buyers in the future will be looking more and more for a dependable supply of good, high quality products and will be willing to pay extra for them. The Sherman County Development Association is the type of organization that will be capable of bringing dependable markets and higher prices for products produced in the county.

Quota Vote To Set '59 Wheat Price

FOR AND ABOUT TEENAGERS

By Clare D. Smith

Should Teenagers Have Automobiles?

Should a teenage boy have an automobile of his own?

Every boy I have talked to, and that's been a good number, believe they should have one, if they could afford it. Nearly every one tacked on the condition—"if I could afford it," which shows, if nothing else, that most teenagers today understand the practical problems of ownership. I think the answer to the question depends upon a number of factors and not "if I could afford it."

First, the temperament of the teenager should be considered. Many boys of 17 and 18 are more mature than their parents like to admit, and, in this respect are capable of automobile ownership.

On the other hand, I know a number of high school seniors, all about 18 years old, that it would be like giving them a gun and telling them to shoot if they possessed a car.

There are other factors just as important. Among them I would list location. In greatly populated centers where there is every possibility of good transportation facilities, and where traffic congestion is likely also, there is much less reason for the teenager to own an automobile.

In many rural and suburban areas teenage car ownership can be an absolute necessity. For those boys who are mechanical minded a car can be a source of training, pride and accomplishment.

This is not, after all, a question that can be answered and applied to masses of teenagers. There are too many individual factors and problems.

What do you think?

If you have a teenage problem you want to discuss, or an observation to make, address your letter to FOR AND ABOUT TEENAGERS, NATIONAL WEEKLY NEWSPAPER SERVICE, FRANKFORD, KY.

The level of price support for the 1959 wheat crop will be determined by the outcome of the June 20 referendum on marketing quotas for next year's crop, 1959, R. C. Buckles, chairman of the county agricultural stabilization and conservation committee, declares.

"Aside from a choice between a marketing quota program and no marketing quotas, the big issue to be decided by the June 20 vote will be the level of price support available for the 1959 wheat crop," the chairman stated. "Acreage allotments will remain in effect no matter how the vote goes, as a means of determining eligibility for support."

As announced on May 1, price support for the 1959 wheat crop will be available in the commercial wheat areas at a national average of at least $1.81 per bushel, or 75 per cent of parity.

"With the automatic timer and perfect heat control, I can always count on taking eighteen perfect cakes from my double ovens every time."

"I have baked over 4,000 pounds of cake in my electric range and not a single failure."

"Even after baking over 4000 pounds of cake, I still get a thrill when I take eighteen "just right" cakes from my ELECTRIC double oven!"

says Mrs. John Ward, 1907 W. 6th St., Plainview, Texas

"My double oven electric range turned my hobby into a business — thanks to the controlled heat in the ovens. The ovens are a big help in my baking business, but I use them for family meals, too. I can bake one dish at a low temperature while I'm baking bread at a higher temperature in the other oven. Incidentally, I used the first profits from my cakes to pay for my new electric range. Now they're put aside for a college educational fund for our children."

"For years I had the false impression that cooking electrically was a slower process, but my electric range proved to me just how wrong I was. One wonderful feature of cooking electrically is that it cooks clean. Pots and pans don't get that "burned-on" look and the range itself is so very easily cleaned. I like my electric range because it is fast, clean, thrifty and dependable. In fact, I like everything about it. The deep well has so many uses from baking potatoes to making pots of soup."

Have you had your free demonstration of the electric range of your choice? If not, see your Reddy Kilowatt dealer and get your certificate for two free bug lamps. Yellow bug lamps, which fit ordinary sockets, eliminate most of the light that insects see, yet provide a soft, comfortable light for outdoor living.

Austin, City of Moonlight and Sunshine

A view of the Austin's sky line from the Inter-regional Express way. The sun shines all day in Texas, and there's moonlight every night in Austin.

It's no tall tale of Texas, they really "turn on the moonlight" at dusk in Austin every evening. From the tops of twenty-seven cast-iron towers, scattered throughout the city, a misty silver glow shines through oak leaves onto roof tops. When you first glimpse the Capital City of Texas, either from the air or at the crest of one of the encircling hills, the silvery-green lights look like fire-flies hovering around the base of the Capitol dome that looms out of the center of town.

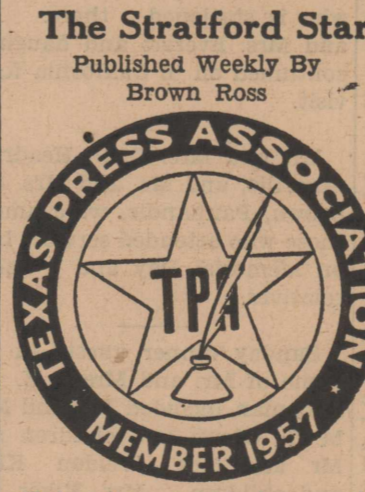

Austin acquired the artificial (but never failing) "moonlight" in a trade for a railroad back in 1894. The narrow gauge line had been used to haul granite for the construction of the city's first dam. Short of funds to purchase a needed lighting system, the city made a deal with an electric firm in Indiana, swapping the $50,000 railroad for the 32 power lights that solved the city's illumination problem. The enchanting lighting system has been supplemented by more modern, and less expensive, white street lights, but Austin citizens won't allow the towers to be dismantled — 27 are still in use. Austin, in the center of the big State of Texas, is a beautiful city of some 187,000 population. It was chosen for its beauty.

MORE NOW BEING SAVED
 A few years ago only one in every four Americans who had cancer was saved. Today one in three is being saved, the American Cancer Society says. This gain is due to early detection, earlier and better treatment, greater awareness by the public of cancer's danger signals, and an increase in the practice of annual health checkups.

Want 2 Or 20 Political Parties?

(By Walter Rogers)

For a number of years it has been argued in this country that there is a need for more political parties or a complete realignment of the two controlling political parties which we now have. Some argue that there is a definite need for a third party to counteract certain philosophies now present in both the Republican and Democratic. Others argue that we need a complete realignment of the two major parties so that the so-called conservatives will all be in one party and the so-called liberals will all be in the other. Still others argue that we need a group of political parties, each representing a particular political philosophy, in order to have a true expression of sentiment on a pure democratic basis.

I discuss this matter at this time because I feel that much history is being written at the present time in France concerning this particular issue. The tragic political difficulties in France did not come as a surprise to students of politics. The surprise was that France had been able to avert the present crisis for so long. The 4th Republic was built on political sand. It would seem that the architects of that Republic concerned themselves too much with the philosophy that everyone be allowed to do as they pleased with a total disregard as to how such action might interfere with the rights of others and create a chaotic conflict that would result in complete impotency of France as a nation. Instead of two or three well-balanced political parties with the strength to fully debate issues, to provide for the bringing about of a final decision, and for the subsequent enforcement of that decision, France found herself with a large number of splinter parties made up of subscribers to every conceivable philosophy known to mankind. The governing body, the National Assembly and the Senate, became infiltrated with these different groups, some of which would be joined by lesser groups in political issues that came up. The result was that France had a government in name only. It had a parliament in which all of the issues could be thoroughly debated, but in which no final decision could be made with any degree of patency. Under the circumstances, the government was wholly impotent insofar as enforcing any controversial decisions. France floundered for a number of years under this loosely knitted scheme of things, and the 4th Republic was able to survive only because of help from French allies including its major benefactor, the United States. However, I feel that the situation which has developed over recent years in France has made a major contribution to the science of government. The advance of civilization has been by trial and error. The political situation in France has furnished us with a most valuable source of information on governmental questions.

I think that it has definitely proved the merit of our system in this country of two major political parties, with both parties being well-balanced, and counting among the membership of each, students of divergent political views. A system by which issues can be threshed out, thoroughly considered and acted upon. A system wherein Independents are free to move into either party or to cast their votes solely as independents. And probably most important, a system wherein the possibility of the military taking over is at a minimum.

Unknown Soldiers

Last week the nation paid tribute to all the brave and valiant men who gave their lives for their country in the Korean War and in World War II. The last remains of two servicemen, their identity known but to God, were interred in Arlington Cemetery alongside the Unknown Soldier of World War I.

The flag-draped coffins lay in state in the Rotunda of the Capitol from Wednesday morning until Friday afternoon, Memorial Day, where thousands of Americans paid their respects. At the Capitol, the caskets rested on the same bier on which the body of Abraham Lincoln lay in state after his death in 1865. On Memorial Day, they were borne to their final resting place.

Visitors

The senior class from Morse, Texas, was in Washington for their senior trip. The class is distinctive in that there are only two members. They made their own money to take the trip, and they certainly had an enjoyable and educational one. The graduate seniors of Morse were Margaret Womble and Frank Karr, and they were accompanied by their friends, Kay Leverton and Bill Tibbit, and their class sponsors, Mr. and Mrs. R. O. Jackson. Mr. Jackson is High School Principal at Morse and Mrs. Jackson teaches the 7th and 8th grades. It was certainly good to see all of them.

Last Rites For Mrs. Taggart At Griggs

Funeral services for Mrs. John Taggart, 67, early day resident of Cimarron County, were held at 10:00 a. m. Monday in the Marcello Church in the Griggs Community. Rev. Cox, a retired pastor, conducted the funeral.

Services were also conducted Tuesday at 10:00 a. m. at the Lewellen Funeral Chapel in Longmont, Colorado with Rev. Grooters, pastor of the Longmont Methodist Church, officiating.

Burial was made in Mountain View Cemetery in Longmont.

Mrs. Taggart, the former Buena Cayton, was born April 15, 1891, at Holden, Missouri, and moved with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Cayton, to Boise City in 1906.

She married John Taggart January 26, 1912, at Garlington, Oklahoma. The couple lived south of Boise City until 1949 when they moved to Longmont, Colorado.

Mrs. Taggart became ill about 4:00 a. m. Saturday and died in a Guymon hospital at 11:30 p. m. She had suffered a heart attack.

Surviving are her husband; three sons, Virgil Larmen Taggart and John Marvin Taggart, both of Longmont, and Lester R. Taggart of Louisville, Colorado; three sisters, Mrs. G. G. Smith of Plainview, Mrs. A. H. Dawson and Mrs. C. R. Hawkins of Texhoma; two brothers, Norbon of Spearman and Tom of the Griggs Community, and 8 grandchildren.

Trustees Order—

would then move to the present primary section. This arrangement would make this group more acceptable to the Band Hall, Gyms, Cafeteria as well as Music and Library.

The addition to the high school would consist of four large rooms (actual room and half each or equivalent to six rooms). This would be a combination of Science room, Commercial Department, Audio Visual room and Speech, and an additional Study Hall or classroom.

The windows and doors in the high school would be replaced and this building relighted. Improvements to the present boiler and heating controls would also be done. Parking areas, sidewalks, curbing, and ground improvements are planned, as well as two concrete tennis courts.

Fred Buford, the architect, has estimated that a $200,000.00 bond issue as planned, will be adequate to cover the cost of the new classrooms, repair and other improvements.

- (a) An analysis of our existing state governmental tax structure should be made so as to eliminate inequities. I will be guided by the Texas State Tax Study Commission.
- (b) A study of the proposed "Caveness plan."
- (c) If additional revenues are absolutely necessary, I would favor the taxation of dedicated natural gas reserves.

As your state representative, I will do my best to improve the economy, effectiveness, and efficiency of our state government so as to diminish the need for additional taxation of any kind.

I will favor the plan of returning to the legislature the authority to control the disposition of the state's tax revenues.

II. I am intensely interested in the conservation of all natural resources, and in particular land and water, and I will favor the continuation of the program of water conservation on the presently-existing plan of control on the local district level.

III. I have already spent a considerable amount of time on the "gas-for-irrigation" legislation and I will continue to do so.

IV. I will work toward raising the standards of our public schools by local and state authority, but without Federal aid or control.

V. I will favor the passage of legislation which will continue to be attractive to out-of-state industry, to develop the industrial potential of the state.

VI. I pledge to work for and support any legislation that will be beneficial to my district and the State in general. As your elected state representative, I will represent all the people on an impartial basis.

"I Cut 2,190 Tons of Ensilage From 104 Acres of Maize"

Leo Bezner, Bushland, Tex., says: "I put down 80 pounds of Phillips 66 Agricultural Ammonia preplant on 104 acres of irrigated maize land. I cut 2,190 tons of ensilage, or slightly more than 21 tons per acre. I use Phillips 66 Ammonia to help increase yields on all my cash crops."

Other Southwestern farmers have discovered that the 82% nitrogen in top quality Phillips 66 Agricultural Ammonia helps them to get more profit per acre, through higher yields and lower production costs.

They have found that, by using Phillips 66 Agricultural Ammonia, they get more cotton that grades out higher at the gin; yields of sorghum grain and ensilage are increased; more marketable vegetables are harvested, and profits on wheat are increased through better forage, and higher yields of grain.

Texans To Hear Higher Taxes And New Election Laws

(By Vern Sanford)

During coming months Texans will ponder and argue the wisdom of adopting sweeping changes in election procedures. If adopted, the changes recommended by Gov. Price Daniel would alter campaign procedures more drastically than anything since the Terrell election law became effective over a half century ago.

Governor Daniel's proposals are (1) to abolish precinct conventions and, instead, elect county convention delegates at the first primary and (2) to hold primaries in May and June instead of July and August.

Such ideas are grist for mills that grind slowly. They'll be debated, pro and con, at the party conventions this summer and, probably, again by the Legislature next year.

At the June 9 meeting of the State Democratic Executive Committee, the resolutions subcommittee will recommend support of the changes. Subcommittee members announced they agreed with the governor that a direct primary vote in the precincts would insure wider participation and do away with the "ugly contests, rump delegations and bitterness" that have characterized Texas party politics all the way to the national convention.

Support from the State Committee was to be expected since a majority of its members are friendly to Governor Daniel.

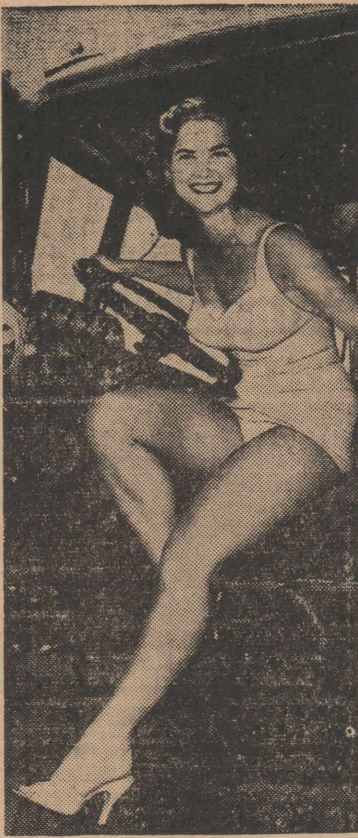

Opposition is anticipated, down the line, from people who regularly participate in precinct meetings. They, or at least some of them, contend the neighborhood gatherings provide the citizenry with a sort of democratic "town hall" experience. Others object to earlier elections on the grounds they would prolong the "lame duck" period for defeated incumbents.

Defenders of the anti-precinct convention plan declare it's the next logical step in a long-range trend. Before the adoption of the Terrell election law, state officials were nominated by political parties at their state conventions. Beginning in 1907 voters were given a more direct say by the use of one primary and a convention vote if no candidate received a primary majority. In 1918 this was amended to provide the present two-primary system.

Code Forthcoming
SDEC's resolutions committee also promised to meet DOT's challenge for a "code of ethics" for conducting party conventions.

The Committee said it did not feel privileged to dictate procedures from the state level, to precinct and county officials, "the overwhelming majority of whom can be trusted to function, with the highest ethical considerations." But it said it would recommend a "declaration of principles which will insure majority determination" at state conventions.

When a city or county needing supplies or equipment gets sealed bids identical to the fraction of a cent, there's a possibility the bidders got together beforehand and agreed on a jacked-up price.

Attorney General Will Wilson says that his office has had several reports of identical bidding. He is making an intensive investigation. Suits will be filed after evidence is complete, probably within six to eight weeks.

Contracts under study involve sales of electric transformers, chlorine for swimming pools, and lime and oyster shell for street topping.

A conspiracy among bidders to raise prices can cost taxpayers in the multi-millions, Wilson commented.

Holes In The Net?

With the state facing a sizable deficit net year, the Senate general investigating committee is seeking to discover if the state is getting all the tax money due it.

Members of the State Comptroller's Department, chief collecting agency, told the committee, in effect, that the collecting net was a little skimpy for the potential catch.

They're way behind in their audits of large companies, said Houston area supervisor Harvey J. McKinzie. Reason, he said, is that low state salaries have caused the staff to dwindle from 14 in 1948 to 5 at present.

An audit, said McKinzie, sometimes results in recovery of large sums of additional tax money.

Back Again

Texas officials are making another attempt to get the Supreme Court to say who's "boss" of insurance liquidation.

Both the State Board of Insurance and the judge of the local district court handling the liquidation cases have had a hand in selecting liquidation attorneys during the past few years. In a recent test case the Supreme Court said the Board had the first responsibility for naming the attorneys and setting their salaries, but that if it failed to act, the judge could step in.

Now, the attorney general is pressing for a more definite ruling. Acting on behalf of the Insurance Department, he has asked the court to set aside a recent order by District Judge Charles O. Betts raising the salaries of three liquidation attorneys.

Wilson's petition contends that, in changing the salaries of men already appointed by the Board, the judge is overstepping his authority.

All Or Nothing

A farmer or rancher cannot get a refund on state gasoline taxes if he uses his "agricultural gasoline" for any other purpose.

This opinion by the attorney general was given at the request of State Comptroller Robert S. Calvert, who said that a farmer wanted to correct a previous claim and get a partial refund for gasoline used partly for farming.

A farmer using gasoline on which he receives a tax refund may not drive the vehicle on a public road.

Quota Vote—

if marketing quotas for the 1959-crop of wheat are approved by at least two-thirds of the growers voting in the referendum. This minimum will not be reduced, but may be increased if a combination of the wheat parity price and wheat supply relationships as of July 1, 1959 indicate a higher support price.

If quotas for the 1959 wheat crop are not approved by at least two-thirds of the voters, however, the support level in the commercial wheat producing area will drop to about $1.20 per bushel, or 50 per cent of parity, as directed by law. Compliance with allotments would continue to be a condition of eligibility for the lower price support.

Those farmers who vote in the referendum will be the ones who decide whether or not marketing quotas will be in effect for the 1959 wheat crop, R. C. Buckles points out. All farmers are eligible to vote if they will share in the 1959 wheat crop from a farm in the commercial wheat area on which the wheat harvested for grain in 1959 will exceed 15 acres and provided they did not take part in the 1958 feed wheat program.
