Map Bindweed Destruction

The Santa Fe Railroad and the Texas High Department are ready to clean up bindweeds on their right of ways in Sherman County where farmers on adjoining land are interested in cooperating. C. W. Guthridge, Santa Fe division engineer, and Wayland Brown, local representative of the Texas Highway Department, met with the Sherman County weed control committee Monday and discussed plans for eradicating bindweed.

The Santa Fe Railroad plans to treat bindweed on their right of way with soil sterilants. The Texas highway department plans to treat small patches with soil sterilants and control larger patches with 2-4-D this year. The plan using 2-4-D will be directed toward controlling spread of bindweed and prevent them from producing seed.

The weed control committee will try to coordinate the county program for controlling noxious weeds. Farmers will be requested to report the location of bindweed along right of ways and give the size of the area adjoining their land. Also the farmer will be requested to report his plan for controlling bindweed so all parties can treat plots in the local area about the same time. For this program to be effective all bindweed patches along the rights of ways should be treated during the same growing season. The plan recommended by the committee and representatives of the Railroad and Highway Department calls for reports of bindweed to be directed to the county agents office where they will be tabulated, plotted on maps and information distributed to interested parties.

At the farmers meeting, last Thursday night, a number of out of town speakers discussed new chemicals and their use by local farmers. Jake R. Uebel of Topeka, Kansas, discussed Benzabor which is a new soil sterilant put out by United States Borax and Chemical Corporation. J. Rowland of Plainview, Texas discussed Benzack which is a new soil sterilant put out by the American Chemical and Paint Company. David Stabler of Plainview discussed Tryben 200 and Zobar which are new soil sterilants put out by the Du Pont Company.

These speakers made a special effort to help farmers understand the new trade names of these chemical products. They realize the general public becomes confused with so many new trade names for new products that come on the market annually. They discussed these four chemicals pointing out that benzoic acid was the basic killing agent used in all four of these products. They explained that Benzack, Tryben 200 and Zobar are placed on the market in liquid form and are easily applied by spraying on weeds. Benzabor is placed on the market

The fiftieth session of the Northwest Texas annual conference will convene May 26 to 29 in St. Paul Methodist Church in Abilene with Bishop William C. Martin presiding.

An ordination service will be conducted on Thursday evening and appointments will be read at noon Friday, May 29.

Bob Burgess, local church delegate, and R. W. Standefer Jr., alternate delegate, plan to attend the conference.

Rev. and Mrs. Charles R. Gates plan to go to Lubbock Monday where they will spend the night with their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Gates, and go to Abilene Tuesday.

Saber-toothed tigers are now extinct.

Precinct Three, the most aggressive road improvement precinct in Sherman County, again took the progressive lead in the bond election Saturday and approved a $213,000 paving bond program by a vote of 46 to 5.

Precinct Three was the first precinct in the county to organize a road district and vote a bond issue for the paving of roads within the precinct. Bonds for roads previously paved were paid off this year. The paving program approved this year will place each resident in Precinct Three within two miles of a paved road, according to a survey made by County Commissioner W. T. (Bill) Crabtree. The current bond issue in Road District One will pave about 11 miles of road and construct a bridge over the Frisco west of the Freeman Ranch.

PRECINCT ONE FAILS BY SMALL MARGIN

Precinct One, which comprises Road District Three, barely failed to get a two-third majority vote to approve the $220,000 bond issue which would have paved about 12 1/6 miles of road in the district. The vote was 24 for and 14 against.

PRECINCT FOUR BOND ISSUE SMASHED

A proposed $210,000 bond issue to pave 13 miles of road within Road District Four failed by a vote of 105 for, to 84 against. Petty squabbles over 1.6 miles of road along the northern edge of the city of Stratford is attributed to the defeat of the paving program in Road District Four.

Order Crackdown On Violations Of City Laws

Complaints have come to the City Council about double parking in the middle of the streets and also not observing the stop and yield right of way signs at the intersections.

These practices are against the law and those of us doing so are subject to a fine.

The law enforcing officers of our county and city have been notified by the City Council to stop these offenses and have the authority and backing of the City Council to do so.

We have had more oil to come into the City Sewer Disposal plant in the last few days and would like again to urge all business houses and also all individuals who may have a drain into the sewer mains to be very careful and not let oil drain into our disposal plant as it can be very destructive.

FOR AND ABOUT TEENAGERS

Should Teenagers Have Cars?

By C. D. Smith

A midwestern newspaper editorial recently called attention to the fact that so many teenagers own their own car or drive the family buggy to school that the average schoolyard is surrounded by so many vehicles it looks like "Sunday at the baseball park."

Probably for a number of reasons, the matter of teenagers owning and driving automobiles has been receiving more and more attention from editorial and feature writers. And, nearly everyone who discusses the subject starts out with the standard question, "Should Teenagers Have Cars?"

teenager owning or driving a car when he becomes old enough to get a license and capable enough to pass a driving test. Automobile driving is taught today in hundreds of schools.

Grownups seem to think that all teenagers look upon an automobile as a "hot rod." This is an unfair assumption. Probably the majority of teenagers who drive are competent, careful and more observing of highway regulations than more experienced drivers. But the few who indulge in "drag racing" on the open highway (usually winding up as a front-page statistic) give the impression that teenagers consider the auto more a high-powered toy than a method of conveyance.

Teenagers who "play" on the open highway, who disregard traffic laws and restrictions—these have no business behind the wheel of a car. But there are a lot of older people who fall into this same category. Somebody should take their deadly playing away from them, too.

If you have a teenage problem you want to discuss, or an observation to make, address your letter to FOR AND ABOUT TEENAGERS, NATIONAL WEEKLY NEWSPAPER SERVICE, FRANKFORT, KY.

Southall Sees Opportunities In Marketing

Gene Southall of Potter County encouraged Stratford FFA boys to master agriculture with the thought in mind that the man capable of finding new markets for agricultural products will be one with a golden opportunity in his future. Southall spoke at the FFA father and son banquet Saturday night. In telling of his recent trip to Italy, he told of the lack of information Italian farmers had for teaching others, although most landowners were financially independent. He described the books in the average class room as being worth a fortune in Italy where very few books pertaining to agriculture are available. Italian newspapers and magazines do not give space to agricultural news and the people of that country are hungry for enlightenment. American farmers have been concentrating on producing more and more from their land, while Canadian and Australian farmers have been concentrating on securing more and more foreign markets, Southall said.

Miss Darla Taylor, FFA sweetheart, and Rose Marie Schurig of Hildesheim, Germany, were honor guests at the banquet.

H. M. Flores was presented an Honorary FFA Membership for his interest and support of the commercial FFA feeding program. Flores has not only given financial assistance to the boys but has aided them in securing buyers for their livestock.

FFA boys and their fathers attending included: Hal Bennett, Karl Kirkwood and Earl Kirkwood, Leon Eden and Pete Eden, Charles Clements and Jim Clements, Wayne Lavake, Dwayne Lavake and Herman Lavake, Tony Laird and C. THE financial plight of the federal government has been "in the news" almost constantly, but in recent weeks it has been brought to the attention of newspaper readers everywhere that the individual states are having their money problems too.

Michigan captured the spotlight in a wire service story which reported that the Governor was forced to ask industry to make some tax payments to the State "early" so that state government could meet its payroll. But Michigan is far from alone. Other states are badly in need of revenue. Many of them will try to get it this year—in new and increased state tax proposals totaling $1½ billion dollars.

According to research by Tax Foundations, Inc., governors in 39 states submitted budgets for consideration and in some 21 states governors requested new or increased taxes. Eleven new major taxes have been proposed. In nearly 60 instances, rate increases or a broadened tax base are in the cards.

The tentative totals of net tax increases which may accrue in 1959 if legislation follows budget suggestions, runs from $300 million in the case of Ohio, down to $1½ million in Vermont.

The 48 states (excluding Alaska and Hawaii) spent $23½ billion in fiscal 1958, are likely to spend $25 billion in the current fiscal year and around $27 billion in fiscal 1960.

Michigan proposals for tax revenue includes new taxes on corporate and personal income (about $100 million sought from each source) and a Massachusetts proposal would raise $40 million from a retail sales tax.

Among proposals to increase tax rates or broaden bases of existing taxes are: three, applying to corporate income; seven, affecting personal income (largest Minnesota, $26.3 million); nine relating to retail sales (e.g., Pennsylvania's proposal would collect $132 million).

Five applying to motor fuel taxes are on schedule or already passed. New York's newly-hiked gasoline (tax 4c to 6c per gal.) is anticipated to garner $69½ million.

Seven proposals would affect alcoholic beverages, e.g., Missouri seeks to raise $3½ million. Three proposals applying to death and gift taxes are being pondered or have been passed, such as New York's which is figured to raise $10 million.

Increased taxes are proposed among other things for pari-mutuels (in California and New York—the latter state's passed bill is likely to result in a $4½ million hike.)

Mud-Flaps Are Required On Trucks

The Texas Highway Patrol today called attention to the new Texas law requiring mud-flaps or safety guards.

They are required on all road tractors, trucks, trailers or semi-trailers that are operated on public highways if the rear-most axle of the vehicle (or combination) has four tires or more.

Even a towed vehicle will require flaps if it falls within the description given above.

The flaps, behind the rear-most wheels, must come within eight inches of the highway surface.

Also, the flaps must be of metal, or other substantial material, and must be at least as wide as the tires.

They must be sufficiently heavy and rigid to stay in place by their own weight while the vehicle is being operated over the highway.

They must prevent slush, mud or gravel being thrown by the vehicle's rear wheels against the windshield of a following vehicle.

CARD OF THANKS

In appreciation until we can see each of you personally, we want to take this means of saying "Thank You". We want especially to thank the Stratford and Texhoma Fire Departments for their assistance when our home burned; and to all who have helped in so many ways, our grateful thanks.

Sorority Entertains Mothers With Supper

Xi Epsilon Iota Chapter members entertained their mothers with a salad supper Tuesday of last week in Fellowship Hall of the First Methodist Church.

After the ladies were seated they were welcomed by Mrs. R. M. Buckles. Mrs. C. W. Moon, sorority woman of the year, asked the blessing after which a salad plate, hot rolls and coffee were served.

Mrs. Billy Cummings read a poem called "Mothers." Mrs. Lorraine Mehner sang a lovely Mothers Day song accompanied by Mrs. H. M. Flores.

Livestock Dealers Must Register

Scores of southwest livestock buyers are expected to register and furnish bond under a new amendment to the Packers and Stockyards Act, effective May 24.

This was announced today by W. C. Ball, district supervisor, Packers and Stockyards office, U. S. Department of Agriculture, Ft. Worth, Texas.

Dealers, market agencies, either buying or selling on a commission basis, and packer buyers, operating across state lines either in the country or at markets subject to the Packers and Stockyards Act, must register, Ball points out.

Also, all except packer buyers must furnish bond. Bond coverage is based upon the volume of business transacted, but in no case less than $5,000.00.

Previously, the regulations on interstate livestock marketing applied only to persons dealing at markets subject to the Act.

Mr. Ball emphasizes that the law places the responsibility on the dealer to register and obtain bond coverage if he is operating across state lines.

Methodists Win Improvement Recognition

Rev. Charles R. Gates has been notified that he and the MANY a fisherman throws up his hands in anger and despair when fair weather unexpectedly turns to "foul" on the day of the big fishing trip. Sometimes, however, weather changes greatly improve the fishing and the angler who realizes this—and has the patience to take advantage of it—usually fills his stringer.

Veteran anglers will tell you that fish seem to have a way of knowing that a weather change is on the way. Sometimes they will undertake heavy feeding activity just before and after a heavy rainfall or a storm. In the Spring, when pond and creek water temperatures go up and down with the changing from cool to warmer days and vice versa, many bass and bluegill anglers check the weather forecasts in order to be fishing on the last warm day before a "cool snap."

Water temperature is a highly important factor, and one that too few fishermen take into consideration. The famed white bass "run" up Kentucky's Dix River has taught fishermen in that state the importance of water temperatures. Each year, when the water temperature reaches a certain point, the white bass swarm outward from Herrington Lake into the shallow waters of the Dix River to spawn. But the temperature of the water controls the run like a puppet on a string. Let the water temperature be lowered by a sudden rain or "cool" spell and the "run" is shut off as if someone had closed the barn door. When the temperature climbs again, the "run" is on once more.

Fish react to changes in water temperature. Remember this. And, next time you are heading for your favorite fishing spot and it suddenly clouds over, begins to rain or looks as if a small storm is coming up—don't turn around and head for home and the easy chair.

Livestock Survey Starting

Postmaster Sallie V. McAdams announces that Rural Mail Carriers will begin distributing June 1 Livestock Survey Cards to patrons on their routes today.

This mid-year livestock survey is the first of three which your Post Office and U. S. Agriculture Departments cooperatively make each year. The June 1 survey provides basic information to the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service in Austin for estimating the 1959 calf crop; what the spring pig crop actually numbered and a preview of farrowing intentions for the fall season.

Also, poultrymen will get information on the number of chickens raised during the spring. Those chickens will be the coming fall and winter's laying flock.

To be sure our community is well represented in this survey, Postmaster McAdams urges each patron receiving a card to fill it out and return to his mail box.

Rural mail carriers working on this project are W. L. Hnakey, Route One, and Mrs. Owen Palmer, Route Two.

ACROSS the DESK
ideas from other editors

From the Desert Journal, Joshua Tree, Calif.: Able, authoritative yet subtle guidance of youth is the daily portion allotted the teachers at our elementary and secondary schools. The guidance is furnished free by the state for a twelve-year span of schooling—free in the sense that education through these levels is free to all, regardless of circumstances, in this nation of ours.

The demands of supplying such guidance are at a cost, both for the service and to those who bring it. The cost to our teachers is a neglected factor which should be considered in fixing the cost for the service.

The daily concern of the staff of teachers at our schools is with the charging of the mental batteries of the young, with attention to the physical as well. It is the teacher who does this job year after year, to the limit of endurance and serviceability, with whom we are chiefly concerned. Dedication is the word to apply in such cases.

The responsibility is no small one—rather it is the lion's share of the job in youth's upbringing and preparation for the job to come, that of living as independent well-coordinated units of society. Yet our schools in no way must be viewed as machine shops governed by a shop foreman. Neither are they nurseries devised merely to free parents of the responsibility of care for a few hours.

Discipline and stimulation of incentive go together in any well-conceived curriculum. The strict teacher is the one who supplies the best incentive and is the one most respected. Curriculum is the plan, but the teachers is the motive force which forms the young mind into the pattern of maturity.

Teachers supplying this free service are our most valued guardians of the future. Their position, while serving the needs of hundreds of pupils in a lifetime of teaching, is one which warrants full consideration in councils of school policy. They are the ones to vitalize the school facilities we build; their comfort and ease of operating are efficiency factors deserving of attention in any school planning.

Cost of education must give consideration to plus-values which exist in the contribution of our teachers to the community. It is not enough that we hold to the standard of hiring good teachers. We must value them in our hearts for the services to our children and to the families which make up our communities.

Fire Causes Damage To Berry Home

Fire, which was started when the hot water heater exploded about 1:30 a. m. Thursday of last week, destroyed over half the Ted Berry country home, about seven miles west of Texhoma.

Berry drove to Texhoma to call the Texhoma Fire Department which arrived at the scene a few minutes after 2:00 a. m. There were no telephones in the area.

Fire bombs, pyrene fire extinguishers, prevented firemen from entering the structure, but they fought the blaze from outside the house. The bombs were credited with preventing more extensive damage before firemen arrived.

The Stratford Fire Department was called to assist and arrived about 3:30 a. m. It was feared water from the Texhoma truck and from stock tanks at the ranch would have been insufficient had the blaze flared when the house was opened to clear it of gas from the fire extinguishers.

The utility room, the den, and living room were gutted, and extensive damage resulted to the kitchen and dining area. The rest of the home was damaged heavily from smoke.

Fire Chief Vane Tate of Texhoma said that half the house was completely damaged, and there was no way to estimate the damage to the rest of the home until further examination was completed. Firemen did not leave the premises until after 5:00 a. m.

A choice dressing for delicate fruit salads uses softened cream cheese into which has been beaten honey to form the right consistency. A bit of lemon juice adds the proper tang.

Before pouring fruit-gelatin mixture into molds for chilling, rub the mold lightly with oil and sprinkle with finely chopped nuts. This gives a pleasant contrast to Use fruits in their natural form as much as possible for fruit plates: melon rings, whole berries, halves of peaches and pears and thin slices of pineapple.

Easy frosting for an 8-inch layer cake: blend 3-ounces cream cheese with 1 tablespoon milk, 2 1/2 cups confectioners' sugar and 1/2 teaspoon vanilla extract.

Cream of chicken or mushroom soup thinned with 1/2 cup of milk for each can of soup gives a "cream" sauce for scalloped potatoes.

Lemon slices and green pepper rings add flavor to braised pork chops
