

State Capital Trends

(By Vern Sanford)

It seems as if a segment of Texas history is repeating itself as the state and numerous gas companies go to court to decide the constitutionality of a new gas tax.

Some 80 gas companies have filed suit asking the court to declare invalid the natural gas severance beneficiary tax passed by the Legislature last summer. Six of the suits are set for trial beginning February 15.

They will be tried in the same Austin district court in which the contest over the old gas gathering tax was begun. This tax law was passed by the Legislature in 1951 and eventually declared unconstitutional by the U. S. Supreme Court.

Gas companies are attacking the new severance beneficiary tax on much the same grounds they did the gathering tax. They contend it is a violation of interstate commerce laws.

Passage of the severance tax came after one of the hardest battles of the stormy six month session. It places a 1.5 per cent levy on the pipelines on the grounds that they benefit from the taking out of the gas.

Revenue-wise, the gas tax represents a rather modest portion of the overall tax program passed in 1959. It was estimated it would bring in about $15,000,000 of an overall $185,000,000.

Short Ballot
In the 12 races for statewide office this year, there will be only 22 candidates.

Six state officials are seeking re-election unopposed.

Some years ago, there were almost as many candidates in the governor's race alone as there are now for all the statewide offices. In those days the filing fee was only $100. Today's price is killing off the competition.

Filing fees today are 5 per cent of annual salary, which runs $1,250 for governor, $1,125 for U. S. senator, $600 for lieutenant governor, etc.

Watch That "Flu"
If you're one of those lucky Texans who hasn't yet been hit by influenza, State Health Commissioner J. E. Peavy has advice for you:

"Don't take any chances." In several cities the flu has reached epidemic proportions. Dallas reported the highest flu-caused death toll since the 1918 siege.

Dr. Peavy said flu ordinarily lasts only three to five days but must be taken seriously because of the possibility of complications such as pneumonia.

He advised against self-treatment and urged victims to go to bed and call a doctor at the outset.

P-TA Endorses Session
Some 85 per cent of local P-TA leaders in Texas favor a special session to raise teachers' salaries, according to a report made to Gov. Price Daniel.

Mrs. T. W. Whaley of Kosse, president of the Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers, told the governor that executive committee members of 563 local P-TA units were polled.

She said 8,155 favored a special session, 847 were undecided and 563 were against it. There were no suggestions as to how to pay the bill.

Governor Daniel has held off

Plan March 18 Art Festival

Plans are being completed by the Tri-Corner Art Association to hold their second annual Art Festival in the county exhibit building on March 18. Several noted women artists of New York City are expected to appear on the festival program.

Tri-Corner Art Association members hope to present an even more interesting art festival than last year, when their program and display of paintings attracted a large number of visitors.

calling a special session pending the development of enough public and legislative support to carry it through to success.

Poll Tax Assailed
Next Texas Legislature may be called upon to vote on whether the U.S. Constitution should be amended to outlaw the poll tax.

U.S. Senate has voted out a proposed amendment to void the tax. It goes next to the House, which has passed such a measure five times before.

If the House passes it, it will then have to be ratified within seven years by the legislatures of three-fourths of the states.

Texas is one of five states which still has a poll tax. Others are Virginia, Mississippi, Alabama and Arkansas.

Mr. and Mrs. Nelson were returning to their home in California after a visit with relatives in Nebraska.

William Hunter of Dalhart has announced he will seek the nomination for the office of District Attorney, 69th Judicial District, subject to the action of the Democratic primaries in May and June.

He has already filed his candidacy with the Democratic chairmen in the six counties embraced in the 69th district. Those counties are Dallam, Hartley, Sherman, Moore, Deaf Smith and Oldham.

Study School Curriculum

Legislative guarantees of educational opportunity for every child in Texas elementary and secondary schools are valid only to the extent that the educational program of each school district meets or exceeds the minimum guarantees of the State.

The State laws authorize the State Board of Education to establish regulations accrediting schools. The Board's policies for accreditation include principle and standards designed to assist each school district in a continuous program of instructional improvement.

The school year 1959-60 is vitally important in the development of the curriculum in Texas public schools. The reports of eleven curriculum commissions appointed two years ago by the State Board of Education to study the curriculum in grades 1-12 have been distributed to local schools, colleges, and interested groups and individuals. These commissions studied the basic courses to be taken by all pupils and the electives to provide for special needs. The Texas Curriculum Studies were concerned with the content and sequence of courses, course credit, time allotment, teacher education, textbooks and other teaching materials and equipment.

Comments of local school people, college personnel, and others will be taken into account in the formulation of revised standards for curriculum improvement in 1960-61. It is hoped that these reports will receive careful consideration throughout the State and that the results of this study will serve as a basis for improvement in every school district of the State.

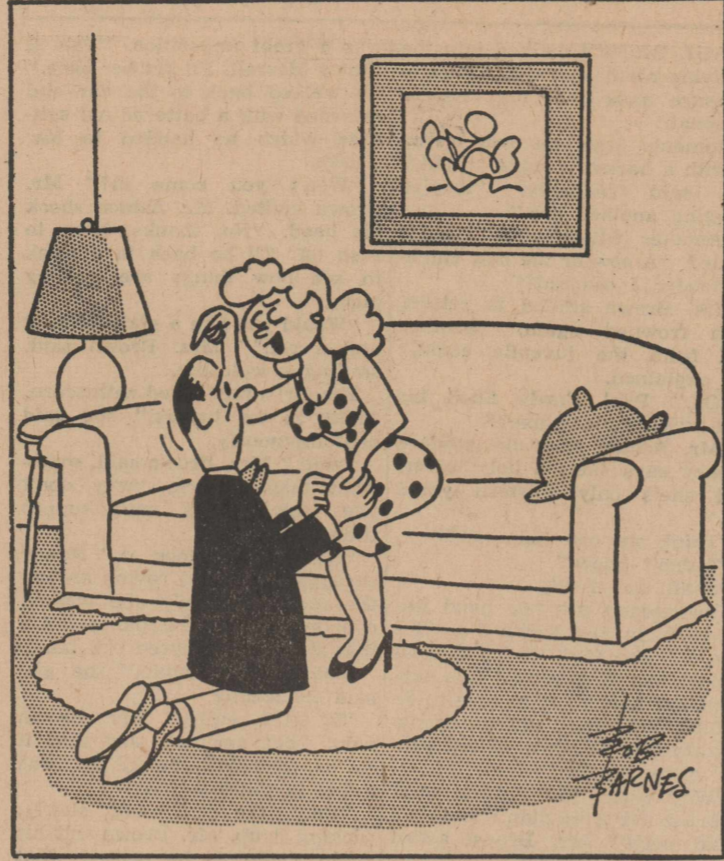

In visiting and observing school during Texas Public Schools Week, parents and other citizens may be interested in some of the problems which have confronted the eleven curriculum commissions in their two-year study and may want to discuss some of the recommendations of the reports with school personnel. The final recommendations regarding standards for instruction in Texas schools should reflect the thinking of many people. Citizens as well as professional educators can make real contributions in the development and refinement of the recommendations.

Benjamin Franklin once said, "Doing an injury puts you below your enemy; revenging one makes you but even with him; forgiving one sets you above him."

Time is that expanse of space between paydays.

Den Five Cubs
Make Scrapbooks

(By Mike Vincent)
Den Five Cubs met in Mrs. Hardy Gaylord's basement Monday.

Our new Den Chief, Lanny Harris, (of whom we are very proud) led the boys in their pledge of allegiance to the flag to open the meeting.

After working on our scrapbooks, we had cool-aid, cookies and gum. Refreshments were furnished by Larry's mother, Mrs. Puryear.

The boys present were: Mike Vincent, Wayne Smith, Teddy Martin, Rusty Garrison, Barry Smith, Sandy Kimball, Larry Puryear, Kevin Hill, Billy Baker and Lynn Gaylord.

The meeting was closed by all the boys forming the living circle and giving their Cub Scout Promise.

Sunday morning the B.G.M.-C.'s had the opening service. Sunday evening the C.A.'s opened their meeting with prayer and hymns. Discussions were made on new and old business. The devotional was given on "The Will of God."

Tuesday night the C.A.'s had a supper in the W.M.C. room at the church. After supper the group enjoyed playing games. We were very glad to have Ann Brown as a guest.

Raise a college education in a sorghum field?

It's not fantastic! And here is why:

One leading farmer with 250 acres of maize reported a yield increase of 1625 pounds per acre after application of Phillips 66 Ammonia. He cut a total of 7250 extra bushels of grain and netted $4050 in increased profits after deducting the cost of ammonia. This extra income for only two years—a total of $8100—will more than send a boy or girl through college.

Ask your Phillips 66 Distributor to show you how Phillips 66 Ammonia can help you and your family live better through higher profits per acre.

	*Using Phillips Ammonia	Without Ammonia
Fixed Cost Per Acre	$39	$39
Ammonia Cost Per Acre	$7	—
Yield Per Acre	97 bu.	68 bu.
Net Profit Per Acre	$31.60	$15.40
INCREASED PROFIT PER ACRE $16.20

Thai people are straight, slender, well formed with good skins and sunny dispositions. Thai women are among the beauties of the world with their creamy soft skin, dazzling white teeth, and appealing eyes. We were told that one well acquainted with Asia is impressed by the rarity of diseased, blind and disfigured people as he travels about Thailand. We made boat trips on the Klongs (canals) where people bathe, shampoo their hair, wash dishes, swim, dump garbage in the water and hundreds of boats, of all sizes serve as floating markets and delivery systems. Bangkok is a sea port at the mouth of the river Mae Nam Chao Phraya. On both sides of the river hundreds of canals, large and small, branch off in all directions. Floating house and small shops vending everything from fish sauce to marine engines. There are floating markets where vegetables and fish are sold in abundance at prices low enough to suit the humblest peasant purse. Bangkok is called the "Venice of Asia."

From Thailand to the mystic land of India-landed in Calcutta a seaport, and one time capital under the English-Calcutta, crowded, hot, incredible, clamoring beggars, teeming millions, and 250,000 homeless people in the streets and parks, and beautiful jeweled temples built by the rules of past centuries. The Jain Temple, a beautiful thing to behold, shops along the streets like cubby holes, no bigger than our living rooms, the proprietor sitting in the middle of his wares, with many of his relatives dependent on him, lying sleeping in front of the shop so that you step around them. And then there are cows! Cows that poke around in the alleys, munch garbage from the gutter and plain stroll down the sidewalk or lie down in the shade. For in the Hindu Religion, the cow is sacred. Calcutta has been called the "human dead sea," so many starving and dying on the streets! And so it is in Bombay. Millions of people, and not enough food, and to that 21,000 refugees who have lately come down from Tibet since the Communist attack. However, Benares, on the sacred Ganges River was fascinating. Pilgrimages made by the people to dip in this to them Holy River for purification. At Banares is a fine university where the sciences and humanities are taught. Many Western students go there. The wisdom of India, we get our decimal point from them. We owe our greatest spiritual understanding of India to one little man, the late Mahatma Ghandi, who crossed barriers of caste (more powerful than our color) to bring the untouchables to the dignity of human beings, and whose greatest achievement possibly was in getting the English to leave without force, the land of India, so that now India is an Independent Republic with a president, two houses of Parliament, a Prime Minister. It is against the law and is punishable by the government to practice the Cast of the Untouchable. Women have the right to vote, religious tolerance is practiced, Hindu is the national language though there are 250 languages and dialects spoken by the different strains of people. Some twenty states in the Republic, although there are varied peoples there is a deep and abiding faith in the unity of their government. The life expectancy is thirty-six years. India is making much progress in her fight to contain and feed her people, but with the help of the United Nations and other Nations, our own in particular, there are hundreds starving and dying on the streets daily. Can God continue to bless us if we in our great surpluses of food, fail to feed the hungry, clothe the naked? There must be found a way, and I believe we have one way through "CARE," a non governmental organization. There was Agra, the home of the lovely, Shimmering Jewel, that is the Taj Mahal, built by Sultan Jehal Mahal as a tomb for his dead wife whom he had loved more than riches or life even. We viewed this in 112 degree weather, but I was so overcome by the sight of this Taj Mahal, a stones, so touched by the love dream in marble and precious story which was so rare a thing in India or anywhere for that matter, that I forgot to feel the heat of the sun. To see this miracle of marble alone, is worth a trip to India — to all who love beauty and the spirit of beauty which is love.

Next New Delhi, the seat of the New Government and Bombay, the great seaport, a city with its millions and the famous "Gate of India" where all vessels enter through the Arabian Sea to reach Bombay and India. Again we saw with a little heart break each time the starving thousands who had no place to sleep, the sick cry of the little children touched me most. In my comfort at home I have not been able to sleep so soundly remembering that so many are starving and dying. Now that I know, I have a deeper responsibility to help some way. We visited the modern Aaray Buffalo milk colony with its herd of 15,340 water buffalo that gave such rich milk it was mixed 50% water, 40% whole milk and 10% skim milk powder from New Zealand. But there is not enough. Some must starve. Here in India it is not uncommon to see the Snake Charmer with a Cobra in a round basket under his arm, as he plays on his wooden flute, to attract the attention of tourists, hoping to get an audience and a few coins.

Egypt occupies the Northeastern corner of the Continent of Africa, with the Mediterranean on the North and the Red Sea on the East. The Red Sea now is connected with the Mediterranean Sea by the Suez Canal. Egypt is almost half again as large as Texas. Its capitol, Cairo is 3,000,000 population. Egypt is a part of the United Arab Republic, has Nasser for their leader. The official religion is Islam, but most all religions are represented. The majority of Arab people in Egypt or in Bible lands are Moslems, a faith, that numbers more than 350,000,000. Throughout the world, the name of the religion is Islam, and its sacred book of Koran. Moslems believe in one God (Allah is his name in Arabic) and that Mohammed was the divinely inspired prophet of God. New Cairo is a beautiful modern city that is growing and learning much of the dusty old city behind. Some of the women dress in Western clothes, but most of the men still wear their fez caps and "gallabiyahs" that look like long striped night shirts. Saw King Tut's Tomb as well as others, was rowed across the Nile River, admired the beautiful jewels in the museum, and rode a camel into the desert to spend a moonlight night on the sand near the Pyramids. Seductive Arabian dancing girls performed during dinner. Then on to the Holy Land (Syria, Lebanon, Jordan and Israel). I believe every Christian has longed to see the Holy Land. From the beginning of history, nations and countries have fought over it, have desired to own or rule this land for it is the bridge between East and West, North and South. They needed this country as a safe guard, or a passage way. It is small as we think of countries, and beset with deserts and mountains, though it also has seas, plains, and the great River Jordan. On the East it fronts others might come to think and want to share, then I can feel in a way that my trip was not selfishness. I know that I have a deeper insight as to my Christian privilege of sharing than ever I have had before. We relived in memory the familiar Bible stories as we viewed Bethlehem, Nazareth, Damascus, Jerusalem and the Garden of Gethesmane. We dipped our feet in the River Jordan and Sea of Galilee, and our hands into the dead Sea. The people still live as in Bible times, with little changes except in Israeli, which has accomplish-

Do Soil Conservation Districts Cost?

(By Wayne Chapman)

The question has been asked: "How much would it cost the people of Sherman County to form and run a soil conservation district?" The answer is: No more than it is costing them at the present. It would cost five men, one in each portion of the county some of their time.

When a soil conservation district is formed five men must be elected to run the affairs of the district. They usually meet once a month. They receive $4.00 per meeting plus five cents per mile traveled from their residence. This money is paid by the state. This district governing body, called the Board of Supervisors, is made up of men who must own land in the zone he represents and be actively engaged in farming or ranching. Soil conservation districts are run by resident farmers and ranchers through their elected supervisors. The name of any such land owner may be placed on the ballot election day. These supervisors are elected to five year terms. By rotating the elections by zones, one supervisor's term expires each year, and here again only resident land owners may vote or qualify as supervisors.

Several soil conservation districts own equipment such as grass drills, bulldozers, land planes, etc., which may be made available to district cooperators at a small rental fee. This equipment may be received from grants from the government when there is a need for equipment not furnished by local contractors.

As one farmer who lives where there is a soil conservation district said, "The only way a soil conservation district can possibly cost you is not to have one where you live."

ed much in ten years. Snipers stand guard on either side of the road down through the city of Jerusalem, known as "No Man's Land." Israeli is in a state of war with all of the United Arab Countries. Truly there is no real peace in Palestine. The magnificent palace with its rock crystal stair, banisters and fireplaces, and the reception hall with over 4000 lights was stupendous at Istanbul, Turkey. Men and horses are the beasts of burden there. Athens was neat with its amazing array of ancient ruins. The Acropolis, dominated the city, looking like a lovely diamond crown at night when it was illuminated. Had a three day cruise on the Aegean Sea, stopping on three Islands, we zig zagged on donkey back up a 1500 foot cliff to view life on an isolated island. On into Spain and Portugal where the years again rolled back as cars and machinery were scarce and donkeys, horses, bullock and hand laborers were plentiful. Saw the bull fighting arena in Madrid and strolled the promenade after a 10:00 p.m. dinner, as did seemingly everyone else. Serenaded by the Spanish folk guitarists. The famous International Resort, Estorau was beautiful as it nestled by the sea near Lisbon, Portugal. It is in this neighborhood where the Royal families live and have ther palaces. At last, June 14, with our travel bags bulging with films we had taken along with last minute souvenirs, and our minds jam packed with things that we had seen and done. It will take some time to call all we did. Some hours we arrived in New York, Dallas, Amarillo and on to Gruver to our home all in the same day.

Something that we had never dreamed we would do! A trip around the world! We feel as though we have only started our explorations and dream of other trips perhaps. But now we are content to relax and to enjoy our home and children in this grand Christian Nation of our. We are very grateful and thankful for our wonderful trip and so happy to share our experiences with others.
