SHAW PROMISES STATEMENT TODAY

Cermak Succumbs to Effects of Assassin's Bullet

DEATH OCCURS EARLY TODAY; END IS QUIET

MIAMI, Fla., March 6.—Anton J. Cermak, who rose from the coal mines to be mayor of the nation's largest city today from the effects of a bullet fired by an assassin who hoped to kill Franklin Roosevelt.

MRS. GILL IMPROVED

MIAMI, Fla., March 6.—Mrs. Joseph H. Gill was "slightly improved today after a restful night," hospital authorities announced. They said her condition continued critical.

The heroic 19-day battle of the Cermak case came to a quiet end at 6:55 p. m. All through the night Cermak had been sinking slowly. He died today escorted by mayors of neighboring cities, by Shriners and other leaders, his body will be taken to a train which will carry the mayors.

A special grand jury was summoned to meet later today to indict Giuseppe Zangara, Cermak's assassin for murder. He is under sentence of 80 years already on four counts of assault with intent to murder.

Physicians were to appear before the grand jury this afternoon to testify formally that Cermak died in the bullet wound, paving the way for an expected first degree murder charge. Zangara was under constant guard in his cell to prevent any attempt at suicide.

Cermak came to the peak of his political power in the last few years. His voice was a powerful factor in Democratic National Conventions in Chicago last summer. Cermak's political career lasts through more than 30 years but it was only the last three that he rose to a prominent position in national affairs. On April 7, 1931, he was elected mayor of Chicago, decisively defeating William Hale Thompson, the "Big Bill" that "nobody could beat."

Once the former coal miner had himself facing as difficult a task as perhaps any large city mayor ever faced. Gangsters, tax strike-unpaid school teachers and police and other city employees played a part in the problem play of practical politics.

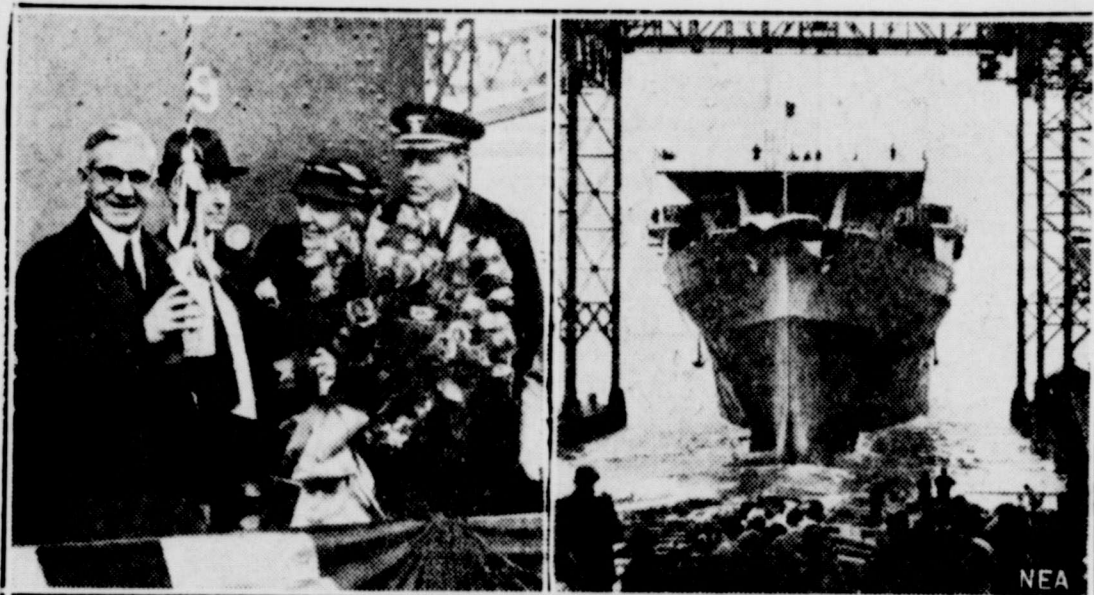

War on Gangs Cermak made war on the gangs. He made personal trips to New York to raise money for relief of financially-crippled home city. He reduced expenses to a level unthought of in Chicago in years. He saved plans for payment of back pay to the teachers and city employees.

He found time for a trip to Europe last summer. There he heard the story of a new Chicago coming from its troubles to prepare for the World's Fair in 1933. In the city near Prague where he was born in 1873 and from which his parents had taken him as a toddler to America. The family lived in Braidwood. The family name "Cermak" went to work in the mine when he was 11.

He drove a mule through the mine entries and dreamed of a day when he could visit Chicago through the education he got in the little school at Braidwood was a preparation, he added to it by going to college.

Likeable Lad "Tony" was a husky, likeable African lad, with the stamp of America in features and voice. The clerk at the mine had written name "Tony Cermack" because that was the way it was pronounced. Tony had caught step with the ambition of the new world tempo and good nature. He was as boundless as good nature. He said good-bye to his day.

Mrs. Hoover Names $19,000,000 Airplane Carrier

METCALFE BILL WILL RECOVER FOUR MILLIONS

AUSTIN, March 6.—The state senate, struggling for ways to increase revenues without adding to the burden of the taxpayer, soon will have its chance at a "windfall" of $4,000,000 in added income yearly. This windfall is the Metcalfe bill, which passed the house by the overwhelming vote of 119 to 8 and which puts teeth in the enforcement of the state gasoline tax.

The measure is the outgrowth of complaints by State Comptroller George Sheppard, who has estimated that racketeers who evade the gas tax are robbing the state of millions each year because of inadequate provisions for enforcement in the present law.

Under the new bill the comptroller will be able to employ an adequate collection force, all gasoline carriers must be labeled, all adulterated or blended motor fuel must be labeled as such, and violation is made a felony.

"During debate in the house," said a statement of the Texas Good Roads Association today, "it was frequently stated, and not disputed, that the state is losing at least $4,000,000 in gas tax revenue through the enormous and varied bootleg racket which finds vast profit in evading a high tax."

"What a hue and cry would be raised if yeggs broke into the state treasury in the night and made off with $4,000,000! We would call out the dogs, organize scores on scores of posses, and neither eat nor sleep until the thieves had been caught. Yet robbery on this scale happens every year through organized cunning racketeers who evade the gas tax."

"Not alone do the highways lose by this. One-fourth of this stolen tax money, or $1,000,000, is lost to the common school fund every year. Translate that into actual work, and you find it would pay the $17.50 per capita allotment on over 57,000 children, or the yearly salaries of 1,000 teachers, or the $143 free textbook allowance for 700,000 boys and girls."

"Another $1,000,000 is lost to the fund from which the state is now beginning to pay off outstanding county highway bonds. Here again, recovery of the money is vital, for the money now appropriated for this purpose is not adequate to cover the entire amount this year, and a portion of the sinking-fund charges is falling back upon the counties. Every citizen who pays county taxes is therefore affected in some degree."

"The remaining $2,000,000 is, of course, lost to the highway fund; and every one of the state's 1,250,000 motorists is vitally interested in this money. With highway funds radically reduced this year, only about $7,000,000 of state money is expected to be available for new roads, and the recovery of this much bootleg revenue would add about 200 miles of new construction on Texas' 9,000 miles of unpaved state highways."

Christening the U. S. Navy's new $19,000,000 aircraft carrier, Ranger, was probably Mrs. Herbert Hoover's last official act as First Lady, outside the national capital. She is shown above with Homer L. Ferguson (left), president of the Newport News Shipbuilding Company, and navy officials as she prepared to smash a bottle of grape juice against the vessel's prow. At right the floating airport which will carry 140 planes, is shown leaving the ways after the ceremony.

PAID FOR EDUCATION ALMA, Mich., March 6.—A sweet way to get an education is by the production of honey, according to Howard Potter and Barker Brown. Both have paid their way through Alma college by raising bees. Last summer the two handled 150 swarms of bees, which yielded 15,000 pounds of honey. In a generous mood, the bees furnished two crops of honey.

Gives Blood For Cermak

WALL STREET OPTIMISTIC FOR MARKET

NEW YORK, March 6.—Spirits were high in Wall Street today as hope developed for a sharp rise in stocks when the New York stock market reopens after the current bank holiday.

Brokerage officers were open and hundreds of orders to buy stock accumulated. Some of them were for one to three points above Friday's closing levels.

There was no over-the-counter trading in stocks. Anticipating "bootleg" trading during the current holiday, the stock exchange explicitly forbade its members to engage in such transactions.

Two Killed as Wind Caves Hospital Wall

MEMPHIS, Tenn., March 6.—At least two people were killed and many injured here today when a cyclonic wind caved in the roof and one wall of the main building of the county hospital here.

ENTIRE NAT'L BANK SYSTEM HELD AT REST

WASHINGTON, March 6.—The entire nation went on a four-day modified bank holiday today.

President Roosevelt, by an emergency midnight proclamation, forbade banks to pay out gold, silver or other currency.

Preparations were made to permit banks to issue emergency currency in the form of clearing house certificates. These will supplement regular currency so business can carry on and people can buy groceries and other necessities.

Congress was summoned to meet in extra session at noon Thursday. It was hoped emergency legislation will be rushed through before the modification holiday expires at midnight Thursday night.

"The United States is not off of the gold standard," said Secy of Treasury Woodin shortly after the midnight proclamation was issued.

"This is the start of a real thing. I think we're on the bottom and will not go lower. If people have confidence in the great leader in the white house the country will get out of these difficulties quite readily."

Protective Step. President Roosevelt regards his action as a protective step to give the exhausted banking structure a breathing spell while congress makes emergency laws to carry through the crisis.

He is attempting to do three things:

1. Stop bank runs and the drain of gold.
2. Provide emergency money in the form of clearing house certificates which will enable normal business to continue.
3. Permit resumption of the actual use of regular currency by allowing exceptionally liquid banks to resume normal banking after obtaining special permission and by also allowing banks to accept new deposits which may be withdrawn on demand without restriction.

Under the direction of federal reserve district authorities banks shortly will begin issuing the clearing certificates. These will be in small denominations.

MEDIUM OF EXCHANGE BEING WORKED OUT. WASHINGTON, March 6.—Secy of the Treasury Woodin said today that plans for a medium of exchange to meet all necessary demands were being worked out and would be in operation by tomorrow.

"The first consideration is to meet payrolls," Woodin said.

NO DECISION ON SCRIPT AT DALLAS. DALLAS, March 6.—No decision whether script money would be issued in the eleventh federal reserve district, which embraces Texas, was forthcoming from a meeting of reserve bank officials and officers of the Dallas Clearing House at noon today.

At that time the conference had been in session nearly two hours.

Demos Working Out Three-Fold Program

WASHINGTON, March 6.—A three-fold emergency program to deal with the economic and banking crisis was revealed today by democratic leaders.

The program was outlined in general terms as follows:

1. Stop withdrawals from banks already temporarily in effect by means of the national bank holiday.
2. Authorize the comptroller of the currency to compel banks to im-pound their good security as collateral for clearing house certificates or scrip which would be used without discount.
3. Enactment of legislation that will insure the return of deposits to the banks.

"Lady Lions" Will Meet Tuesday Night

All wives of Lions club members are members of this organization, and are urged to be present at this, the first meeting. There will be no club dues nor any charge made.

Ohio Sets Up New Bank Laws

After a night session of the legislature had passed bills legalizing limits on bank withdrawals, Gov. George White of Ohio made them law by his signature. The bills, designed to conserve assets of Ohio banks after withdrawals due to Michigan's bank moratorium, were passed after several Ohio banks had proclaimed withdrawal limitations. Governor White is shown here as he signed the bills.

Following are the regular awards made in the Eastland County Rabbit show which closed here last night after a three-day exhibit in the telephone exchange building on West Eighth street. Special awards were carried in Sunday's issue of the Daily News.

Former Cisco Youth Dies at Shreveport

Death of Ben Burleson, 20, former Cisco youth, at Shreveport yesterday, where his body was found hanging in a hotel room, was reported in state papers yesterday. The youth, whose death was declared a suicide by the Shreveport coroner, had been strangled with a belt.

His father, D. W. Burleson, now lives at Coleman. For a number of years the family lived in Cisco where they are well known.

HUMANE BEAR TRAPS. BAKERSFIELD, Cal., March 6.—James I. Waldon has perfected an automatic, all-steel, humane bear trap which protects the animal from injury and feeds and waters it daily without attention. Waldon has caught three bears with the device.

RULES SHAPED TO GOVERN IN WITHDRAWALS

AUSTIN, March 6.—James Shaw, Texas new banking dictator, worked today on rules governing the withdrawal of deposits and the future operation of the state's thousand or more financial institutions.

Shaw said he expected to have a statement this afternoon regarding the limits on withdrawals. As banking commissioner he is now virtual dictator over Texas banks, acting under authority of emergency legislation signed Saturday night.

A proclamation he issued yesterday continued in effect a five-day moratorium proclaimed last Thursday by Gov. Miriam A. Ferguson on assumed authority.

The new law allows Shaw to limit withdrawal of deposits or to keep banks closed altogether when he sees fit, provided the governor and the state banking board concur. On the third and final passage of the bill in the senate time limits on effectiveness of the measure were stricken out.

The penalty of charter forfeiture and liquidation for refusal to obey Shaw's orders was expected to be sufficient enforcement of the new measure.

EMERGENCY ACT REPEAL BILL IS INTRODUCED

AUSTIN, March 6.—Rep. B. F. Vaughan, of Greenville, today introduced in the Texas Legislature a bill to repeal the emergency act which was made effective Saturday night.

Vaughan said the action was taken now to avoid possible blocking of such a bill later in the session when the consent of four-fifths of the members would be needed to offer a new bill.

He said he will not push the bill now but will let it lie on the table subject to later action.

A bill to allow business firms to issue scrip for payroll purposes during the banking moratorium period in Texas, was introduced by Sen. Walter Woodin.

SIX ROBBERS ARE SOUGHT IN BANK RAID

GRANDVIEW, March 6.—Texas rangers today led a search for six bandits who robbed the First National bank of Grandview of $12,000 and an unestimated amount of jewelry after imprisoning the town night-watchman and another man early Sunday.

It was after dawn when B. C. Hibbett, 42, nightwatchman, and Earl Brockette, 28, sandwich shop operator, freed themselves and spread the alarm.

Hibbett said the robbers were professionals. He believed the gang included four men and two women. "This money is all insured. We don't figure on hurting anybody that needs their money," Hibbett said one of the robbers told him.

Capital Police and Jobless In Clash

WASHINGTON, March 6.—Police and unemployed clashed here today sending 12 of the marchers to hospital with bruised heads and resulting in the arrest of 30 demonstrators. The unemployed were led by a man with a baby under each arm.

"Home Made Money" Being Turned Out

By United Press. Engravers printing presses, heavily guarded by special police, were running at top speed today to provide a ready currency for America during the unsettled banking situation. "Home made money" fully backed by ample security and authorized by law, will be ready for distribution in many sections of the county by tomorrow. This currency, bankers pointed out, is not "flat money."

TEXAS TAKES ITS PLACE AT TOP.

Texas, richest of commonwealths in treasure wealth, freest of states, as freedom is reckoned, with a population of 6,000,000 and able to support from its soil alone a population of 60,000,000 Saturday took a proud place in the sisterhood of commonwealths. John Nance Garner, vice president, will preside over the American senate, the first speaker of the house in history to lay down the gavel and move over to the senate to wield the gavel in the hall of the "most deliberate body in the world."

Texas gave to Roosevelt electors more than a 700,000 majority. Its total contribution to the Roosevelt campaign fund was the second largest of any American state. In the house Texas will have 21 representatives. Henry T. Rainey of Illinois will be the speaker. Many Texas representatives voted for Rainey as the successor of Garner. Rainey is a liberal. He is one of the voices of the third political revolution. He is for the West and the South and the Southwest, but for equal and exact justice for all sections regardless of geographical line.

More important than a vice president, more important than the speakership, more important than all the small jobs at home or abroad will be the power vested to Texas representatives in house committees. Rep. Byrne of Tennessee is the new floor leader. He will name two assistant floor leaders. He will resign from the appropriations committee to accept the leadership of the house, and James P. Buchanan of Texas will become chairman of that all-important committee. Buchanan's elevation will give Texas the leadership of five major and one minor committees in the house, "never before equaled by a single state."

Sam Rayburn will continue as chairman of the interstate and foreign commerce committee; Hatton W. Summers will head the judiciary committee again; John J. Mansfield will hold the chairmanship of the rivers and harbors committee; Marvin Jones, known as "the Panhandle Kid," will retain his position as chairman of the committee on agriculture; while Fritz Lanham, the son of a former Texas governor, will continue as chairman of the committee on buildings and land.

Texas is coming into its own. Now let Texans everywhere keep the faith of the pioneers, make the sacrifices where sacrifices are demanded, cut the cost of state government at least 25 per cent all along the line and plan as the pioneers planned. Face the future as the pioneers ever faced it and long before 1950 the empire of the Southwest will be pushing three mighty American commonwealths, New York and Pennsylvania and Illinois, for at least second place in population and wealth and power and influence, as not only an agricultural leader but as a leader in manufacturers and finance and all the minor accessories that tend to make a people patriotic as well as proud, prosperous and peaceful.

CONSUMPTION OF AMERICAN COTTON.

Cotton mills of the world consume 12,067,000 bales of cotton in the first half of the current season, against 11,660,000 bales a year ago, and 10,970,000 bales two years ago. This estimate was made by the New York Cotton exchange. There is a large carry-over and "the surplus fixes the price." Gov. Ferguson named an advisory committee on crop production loans. That committee held a session in Dallas. John

BEHIND THE SCENES IN WASHINGTON

WITH RODNEY DUTCHER

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON.—Some of those picayune personal convenience expenditures of Congress which have bought many a newspaperman a new overcoat or a second-hand car by becoming the subjects for Sunday feature articles, magazine articles or even books, have been aired in Congress.

Not in the Senate, which runs a free barber shop and so has more for which to answer, but in the House, a body less sybaritic.

Last year the House began a successful movement to cut down on mileage allowance, clerk hire and stationery allowance for both branches. Now it has actually taken up such raging issues as the House barber shop and the House barber shop, although most members are still stubborn about leaving the Capitol grounds for a meal or a shave during working hours. Congressman John W. Summers of Washington has a resolution in which would close the House restaurant, the adjacent public restaurant and the House barber shop immediately and permanently. It is not entirely clear whether Summers is serious, but he argues as follows:

"It will save a little money and end the general impression over the country that these institutions operate free to members of Congress, when as a matter of fact every meal or hair cut or shave is paid for by the member.

"I hold in my hand a menu showing the reduced or depression prices now effective. Hearts of celery for one person, 20 cents. Stuffed mangoes for one person, 20 cents. Bean soup, 15 cents. A plate luncheon of chopped sirloin (that means the fragments), with potatoes, peas, spaghetti or pie, 50 cents. . . . A tenderloin steak is a dollar—that would almost pay for a calf—then add two vegetables, 30 cents; dessert, 15 cents, and a cup of coffee, 10 cents—it totals $1.55.

"A cheese sandwich costs you 15 cents, a chicken sandwich 40 cents, chicken salad 75 cents—and so on. Has any member ever had a morsel of food at the taxpayers' expense. Or a hair cut or shave? Not one.

"There are restaurants and barber shops from three to ten blocks from the Capitol. To save a little money and to secure better understanding I propose that we patronize these outside places or fastenuring the day. At going prices our restaurants that feed members and the public that comes to the Capitol by thousands sight-seeing or on business lose money. Let us close them up. Because of the necessary food loss from vastly unequal patronage from day to day there is an annual loss of one penny for every 125 of our population."

CONGRESSMAN CHARLES L. UNDERHILL of Massachusetts answers Summers boldly in debate. He implied that it was the Senate that abused its privileges, not the House.

True, there were evils in the barber shop that should be cleaned up. Some of the expenses, such as towels and laundering, were being paid for by the House. "That," said Mr. Underhill, "ought not to be."

But the restaurant, he insisted, was absolutely essential to public health and transaction of public business. Most members attended committee meetings until noon when the House came in session. Must they leave the House and travel afar for a sandwich and a cup of coffee?

The Elephant That Forgot

W. Carpenter presided. Among the speakers were leading bankers.

A resolution calling for a 30 per cent reduction in cotton acreage throughout the cotton producing area of the country was adopted by unanimous vote. It concerned crop production loans. Another resolution grew out of consideration of the department of agriculture 1933 regulation for loans, by which a farmer must agree to a 30 per cent reduction of his cotton acreage in order to be eligible for a loan. Not a dissenting vote was recorded against the second resolution.

Owen W. Sherrill of North Texas is manager of the crop production loan office. He was advised to take the matter up with the secretary of agriculture to the end that the agricultural credit corporation will require its borrowers to comply with the regulations imposed on the crop production loan office requiring a 30 per cent acreage reduction "to the end that the producers of cotton may receive a fair price for their commodity." A lean crop of cotton will result in fat prices for the fleecy staple. A fat crop will result in starvation prices.

I. C. C. CRACKS DOWN ON RAIL LOANS.

Receivers for the St. Louis-San Francisco railway company announced their counsel had advised them they legally could not comply with the conditions upon which the interstate commerce commission approved a further loan of $3,000,000 to the road from the Reconstruction Finance corporation. This condition was that the receivers should secure by receivers' certificates of indebtedness loans to the railway by the R. F. C. prior to appointment of receivers.

The receivers asked the I. C. C. to reconsider the application and grant the loan without the condition attached, "as the money is desired to pay taxes and meet installments of principal and interest on the equipment trust obligations of the rail system." A problem involving billions is a knotty problem. It is for the new president and his new congress to face the issues "and make the anvil ring," doing justice to all concerned as well as to the main body of the American people. As for the great god Greed, he should be bludgeoned.

VIEWPOINT OF A GREAT AMERICAN.

Elihu Root is 84. He is one of the grand old men of America when it comes to brain power achievement as well as to the power or the gift of vision. He was interviewed by a New York correspondent as to what action this republic should take in the clashing and ambitions of Japan and China in the event that a bloody war is staged. His reply was terse: "Keep out. We have no business there."

Now William Gibbs McAdoo, son-in-law of the war president, gives the same advice. There is war everywhere. There is war in the United States. Economic battles are wars. Financial battles are wars. And the struggle for economic existence is a battle from the cradle to the grave. Justice, like charity, begins at home.

DON'T QUOTE ME

WASHINGTON, March 6.—Representative Thomas L. Blanton of Texas, the ardent dry, now is known upon Capitol Hill as "Hold That Line Blanton," all because of his vain efforts to keep the house from voting for the anti-prohibition amendment.

When Blanton was speaking in opposition to the measure, he had occasion to tell a story about himself, suffering in a hospital from a broken leg after a football game.

"And all I could remember," said Blanton, in a loud and shrill voice was "hold that line; hold that line."

Later in his speech he told of receiving some threatening letters in connection with his prohibition work.

"And what do you think these letters said?" he asked.

"Hold that line!" shouted a wag in the back of the house.

That insulted Representative Blanton. He stalked from the chamber. A chorus of "hold that line; hold that line; hold that line" measured his progress to the exit.

The next day he made three speeches.

Every time he rose to address the speaker, one or another of his colleagues shouted:

"Hold that line!"

Since then, and to his disgust the phrase "hold that line" has become, wedded to Representative Blanton, the democrat from Abilene.

The August union of representatives of the United States has risen to the heights of futility by voting not to strike out an amendment which did not exist in the first place!

Representative John C. Shaffer, Rep. Wisconsin, started the whole embarrassing faux pas when he made a lengthy and impassioned speech urging his colleagues to strike out section five of the Burns amendment to the post office appropriation bill.

"This section is a democratic monstrosity," shouted the Hon. Mr. Shaffer.

"Yes, but it doesn't even exist," drawled William H. Stafford, Rep. also of Wisconsin, who had risen to a point of order. "There never was a section five in the bill."

Representative Shaffer blushed, but as he started to sit down, Chairman Joseph Byrns of the appropriations committee said:

"What of it? Let's vote upon the measure of the gentleman from Wisconsin anyway."

"So the members of the house, who weren't very busy at the moment, voted thunderously:

"NO!"

DIVORCE AWARDED

VALPARAISO, Ind., March 6.—Judge Mark B. Rockwell refused to hear a divorce case in Porter Superior court here until the husband washed his face. The jurist said he wished to know with whom he was dealing. A court bailiff supervised the washing, after which the decree was awarded.

Your Income Tax

No. 32
CHECKING DELINQUENTS
The Bureau of Internal Revenue has at its command many sources for checking up delinquent taxpayers. One of these is the "information at source" provision of the revenue act, under which persons, "in whatever capacity acting," are required to report to the Commissioner of Internal Revenue at Washington, D. C., payments to another in any calendar year of $1,000 or more if the recipient is married, reports need not be made unless the payments aggregate $2,500 or more. If the marital status of the payee is unknown to the payer, the payee is considered a single person for the purpose of filing an information return.

Fixed and determinable income includes wages, salaries, royalties, premiums, rent, interest, etc. A separate return of information for each employee is required of employers. The requirements are not limited to periodical payments, but a single payment must be reported. Corporations are required to make a separate report of dividends or distributions for each individual, fiduciary, or partnership holder who was paid $500 or more during the calendar year.

Information returns are carefully checked with individual returns of taxpayers. Thousands of delinquent returns and additional revenue amounting to millions of dollars have been secured as the result of the domination of information returns.

STOCK MARKET COURSE HANGS ON "NEW DEAL"

its weekly review of business financial conditions The Wall Street Journal says:

new national administration has taken office, and on its actions immediately ahead, the course of the stock markets very largely depends. No recent administration, however, has taken office, and on its actions immediately ahead, the course of the stock markets very largely depends. No recent administration, however, has taken office, and on its actions immediately ahead, the course of the stock markets very largely depends.

the moment, the banking troubles of the country overshadow all other matters which come up for action. In the banking field, debt questions are of paramount importance, and the extensive discussions in regard to world economic conference rank high. These latter undoubtedly include discussions of tariff reductions.

the fact of the many adverse judgments last week the security markets retained their composure remarkably well. Steady pressure in evidence on the bond market reflecting in large part efforts to dispose of bonds to obtain cash for immediate needs. The market was nervous. The upt rally in prices at the close of the week was largely due to the absence of shorts in the face of current uncertainties. A general rush to cover commitments kept about a sharp rise.

general business news and immediate developments, like dividend payments and earnings, were of secondary importance. Business generally is feeling the effects of the banking troubles, but it is holding fairly well in many areas. Unquestionably the slackening in buying at the present time is building potential large demand for securities.

Dividend news throughout the week was unfavorable. Production slackened with conditions for the country at large being around 18 per cent of last year compared with 19 per cent in 1932. The average of the Dow-Jones averages follows:

	High	Low	Last
Industrials	$53.84	$50.16	$53.84
Railroads	24.76	23.49	24.76
Utilities	21.95	20.90	21.95
Bonds	75.47	73.21	73.21

Path of Man Is Real This Time

WILMINGTON, Del., March 4. — Death of Leroy Taylor, 43-year-old newspaper circulation man, here was the cause of the strangest case of a man, frightened hospital attendants ever faced. Taylor died in the Delaware hospital here, but it was not until two days later that physicians were able to state with finality that he had died—and then only after rigors had precluded any possibility of mistake.

Physicians took precautions before Taylor had fooled them by "dying" and then coming to life. On one occasion he died, apparently dead, in a railroad station, and was taken to the hospital. A half hour after admission he was declared dead, but he bolted upright and asking the attendants how he came to be in a hospital.

Several times afterwards Taylor appeared to die, but each time he came to consciousness. The cause of his malady, according to physicians, was traceable to a injury which resulted in a vein rupture in his head, becoming infected, permitting blood from the vein to seep into the artery. Whenever a certain amount of blood had made its way into the artery, it induced a slumber deep as to defy the stethoscope.

Operation was performed last week and Taylor seemed to have fully recovered, until a change of weather prompted his family to take him to the hospital.

Light, Fresher After Taking Black-Draught

Seven years ago, I was suffering with constipation," writes L. E. Williams, of Jackson, Miss. "My mother told me she thought it would help me to take Black-Draught. She had used it herself and it had helped her. I tried it and it relieved me of this troublesome complaint, suffered from headache and biliousness. It made me feel dull and lifeless. I had no ambition to do anything. I felt bright and fresh when I took Theodor's Black-Draught. It is a splendid medicine for constipation. I take it dry, at night, followed by a generous glass of water." — a package of Theodor's Black-Draught today. Refuse substitutes.

Lounge Cars Bought For "Texas Special"

Cisco travelers on the Texas Special next summer will have the distinction of riding in the finest air-cooled lounge cars it is possible to construct, according to J. C. King, local agent of the Missouri-Kansas-Texas lines. Cisco is on the Texas Central division of the Katy.

Mr. King announced here today that M. H. Cahill, chairman of the board and president of the Katy lines had just authorized the immediate purchase of four new air-conditioned lounges which, he declared, will be the last word in the car builder's art.

"These new lounges, in connection with the present air-cooled diners on the Texas Special, will give the southwest the most up-to-date railway service available in any part of the country, and will no doubt influence an increase in travel," he declared. "Aside from the air-cooling feature, the new cars will be distinctly different in design and furnishings and will be constructed and furnished entirely upon new and modern lines."

According to Mr. King, investment of hundreds of thousands of dollars in new passenger equipment is a further evidence of President Cahill's faith in the future of the southwest, and of his belief that passenger traffic can only be increased by affording travelers every possible comfort and convenience. "The popularity of our air-cooled diners," he said "has been reflected in tangible passenger business gains and the new lounges will be another forward step in providing the Southwest the very best in train service."

It is said that the order will be the first of any consequence for passenger train equipment placed by a southwestern carrier since the Katy's order two years ago for its new air-cooled diners.

Did You Ever Stop to Think?

By EDSON R. WAITE
Shawnee, Oklahoma.

The gloomy side seems to look like the bright side to a lot of people who always look backward instead of forward.

In spite of the depression the traffic on the highways seems to grow, and how to control it grows in proportion. There is now a mass of laws designed to meet a state of affairs which has been brought about by human inability to cope with machines of its own devising but as yet no fool-proof system of traffic control has been invented.

Too many cities have factions working against each other. Now is the time for them to get together and work together in a spirit of good will and helpfulness so the home city can move ahead in the March of Progress.

The communistic idea of sharing everything in common will sooner or later take wings to itself and fly away. It is a foregone conclusion in the minds of most people with average intelligence.

Helpful hints for every family can be found in the advertisements of this newspaper. Read them!

In some sections there seems to be a number of people making an attack of words against this and that, without any facts to back them up.

Some cities are awake, some asleep, and some dead.

Did you ever notice that some people kick just from force of habit? They kick about the weather. It never suits them; they kick about business, usually because they fail to advertise and for that reason are doing a poor business; they kick about the home city just because they like to kick; they knock their neighbors, often because they have nothing else to do and feel that they have to keep kicking.

Well written advertisements are "Wonder Workers." They work for both buyer and seller.

TOBACCO IN WYOMING

SARATOGA, Wyo., March 6. — Adon Thomas, of Saratoga, is displaying samples of tobacco he grew in his garden here last summer. He raised 14 plants, all of which grew to a height of more than five feet. The leaves after having been dried, are from 18 to 21 inches long.

PHONE CALL CONCERT

NORWAY, Mich., March 6. — Eddie Reynier, 15, who is living at the home of relatives while attending school here, reports his progress with the accordion by long distance. He calls his mother in Chicago every three weeks and plays for her. The Reynier family in Chicago has an amplifying set attached to the telephone, and Eddie's concert sounds like a radio performance.

ILLUSION:

In India, the fakirs present a spectacle to tourists. Two lovely performers break bottles and lamp chimneys before the eyes of the audience, and throw the jagged pieces into a box already filled with broken glass. They step barefooted into the box and do an Oriental dance in the glass without injury.

EXPLANATION:

The performers toughen their feet in a strong solution of alum water and thoroughly rub them with pulverized resin before they appear. They throw the freshly broken glass around the edges of the platform. The glass on which they actually do dance is very thick, heavy, and filed or ground so that the sharp edges are rounded off. The girls just pretend to dance on the sharp glass.

IT'S FUN TO BE FOOLED ... IT'S MORE FUN TO KNOW

One of the tricks of cigarette advertising is to pretend that "Heat Treatment" is an exclusive process, making one cigarette better than any other.

EXPLANATION: All cigarette manufacturers use heat treatment. It is a routine process of manufacture. The first Camel cigarette ever made was manufactured under the heat-treating process.

Every one of the billions of Camels produced since has received the necessary heat treatment.

Harsh, raw tobaccos require intensive processing under high temperatures. The more expensive tobaccos, which are naturally mild, call for only a moderate application of heat. Heat treatment never can make cheap, inferior tobacco good.

It is a fact, well known by leaf tobacco experts, that Camels are made from finer, MORE EXPENSIVE tobaccos than any other popular brand.

This is the most important statement ever made in a cigarette advertisement. Weigh its words. Consider what it means. Then try Camels.

Camels are fresh... in the air-tight, welded Humidor Pack.
