FEDERAL LAND BANK LOANS TO BE IN BONDS

Claude Strickland, secretary-treasurer of the Cisco National Farm Loan association, has received word from Wm. L. Myers, governor of the Farm Credit administration, Washington, D. C., that federal land bank loans and land bank commissioner's loans will be made in the future through the federal land bank in bonds of the Federal Farm Mortgage corporation, which bonds are guaranteed by the United States government both as to principal and interest, which will be at the rate of 3 1/2 per cent per annum for this time.

The bonds of the Federal Farm Mortgage corporation, according to the statement by Governor Myers, will have behind them not only the unconditional guarantee of the federal government as to both principal and interest, and the capital of the Federal Farm Mortgage corporation amounting to about $200,000,000, but also the consolidated bonds of the federal land banks issued in exchange for the bonds of the Federal Farm Mortgage corporation and the mortgages accepted by the land bank commissioner as security for loans.

Kidnaped Woman Has Relative Here

Mrs. Opal Gunter of Mexia, who was kidnaped recently by the desperado, Raymond Hamilton, accused of robbing the State National bank at West shortly before, and a woman companion, and was forced to drive 175 miles to Houston, is the sister-in-law of Mrs. C. W. Knight of Cisco, who lives with her husband on the Frazier farm. Mrs. Gunter and Mr. Gunter have often visited in Cisco.

According to messages to relatives here which were received immediately upon Mrs. Gunter's release, she stopped her car near Mexia when she saw the bandit's car in the ditch and the two people standing by the highway, their faces and clothes spattered with blood. Thinking they were victims of an accident, she stopped her car. At the point of a pistol, then she was forced to drive the couple to Houston, where she was released, the man giving her thirty dollars for fare home and damages to her car.

W. B. Starr Says "Modified Plan" for Peanut Control Probably Will Be Used

Supplementing a press release issued by the United States department of agriculture dealing with measures under consideration for peanut acreage control for 1934, W. B. Starr, Cisco, a member of the federal board, said this week that, lacking the legislation desired, the "modified plan" described in the release would probably be adopted.

He urged growers to use caution in deciding upon the amount of acreage to be devoted to the crop for the reason that to great production might compel the control board to allocate a considerable portion of the crop for oil production only.

The "modified plan" for sustaining the minimum price of peanuts, as established on January 27, this year, would allow growers to plant what acreage of peanuts would not conflict with any program for control of other crops upon which they have entered into contract with the secretary of agriculture, he said.

Department's Statement
The press release from the department of agriculture is:

Measures for protecting the peanut industry against low returns which may result from increase in production, are under consideration by the agricultural adjustment administration, it was announced.

The control board set up under the recently established marketing agreement for peanut millers, has requested the administration to adopt, as early as possible, some program for control of production or marketing. Relatively favorable prices brought by the 1933 crop and the release of labor and equipment from production of other crops in the south may it is feared, bring about increased production, a surplus, and low prices, unless some protective steps are taken.

One plan, tentatively approved by the control board, would be to determine the amount of the 1934 crop which could be moved into cleaning and shelling channels without danger to the minimum price schedules established in the marketing agreement, and to apportion the growing of the amount among states, counties, and individuals on the basis of acreage and production in a base period to be specified.

Excess Peanuts For Oil
Under this plan millers would be permitted to purchase, for cleaning and shelling, only peanuts grown under such allotments. Peanuts from farms without allotments, or peanuts grown in excess of allotments, could be marketed only to be crushed into oil, or for other purposes than cleaning and shelling, and would therefore bring approximately oil prices.

In its present form this plan includes production control features that can be applied only to products listed as basic agricultural commodities in the agricultural adjustment act as it now reads. The plan as now being considered would therefore be applicable only in the event that proposed amendments to the act making peanuts a basic commodity, are passed by congress.

"Modified Plan"
A modification of the plan, also under consideration, would be directed wholly toward market protection, with allotments based on a flat percentage of acreage and prospective production in 1934, instead of upon acreage and production during a selected base period. The allotments would be made, as in the plan formerly discussed, from the amount of the 1934 crop which could be used for cleaning and shelling without endangering the minimum price schedules in the marketing agreement. The allotments would be made by counties and pro-rated among growers in each county. This plan, it is pointed out, would not penalize growers who have already made plans to plant peanuts in 1934, as they have done in a large portion of the peanut region.

Under either plan, minimum prices would be paid only for the allotted proportion of the crop, and the surplus would be used for oil, or purposes other than cleaning and shelling.

Made Public Letter
Mr. Starr also made public a letter he addressed to Texas senators and Rep. Tom Blanton, urging a duty on imported oils—rude and refined. He pointed out that the peanut market "used to feel the support of the demand for oils," but that the heavy crops of cottonseed in recent years and increasing importation of copra and other foreign oils has taken this support away.

At the rate of importation indicated in a recent census report, said he, foreign copra oil would take the place of "two billion pounds of peanuts. Since the national production of peanuts is only about 900,000,000, he wrote, you can see that this imported oil can have a great influence on the price of peanuts."

Mr. and Mrs. Bill McKain and little son of Kilgore spent a few days here last week with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. John McKain and Mr. Mrs. G. S. Bruce.

Mrs. Dewey Jones, Mrs. R. L. Black and Mrs. Ellis Rouse drove over to Rising Star Tuesday and attended the Baptist Workers council.

Mrs. W. E. Barron was guest speaker at a delightful luncheon at the Methodist church at Eastland Wednesday. The occasion was "Guest Day" of the Missionary Society and was attended by a large number of members and visitors.

Our whole town was shocked Monday to hear that Mrs. Ed Parks who lives two miles east of town, had been seriously burned when her steam pressure cooker exploded. She was rushed to the West Texas Clinic hospital at Ranger where her condition is still very critical. Hosts of friends are hoping she may recover.

Many friends here were sorry to learn of the death of Mrs. R. E. Elliott at her home in Barnsdall, Okla. a short time ago. Mrs. Elliott was the mother of Mrs. P. M. Kuykendall and often visited here before Dr. and Mrs. Kuykendall moved to Itan-ger. She was loved by all who knew her. Mrs. Kuykendall has the sincere sympathy of hosts of Desdemona friends.

The attractive home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Ashburn, two miles west of town, was the scene of two very enjoyable gatherings last week. On Tuesday afternoon Mrs. Ashburn assisted by Mrs. C. M. Bratton, entertained the "21" Study club, and on Saturday Mrs. Ashburn and Mrs. I. N. Williams gave a noon luncheon and bridge party. Both of these occasions were notable for the attractive decorations and appetizing refreshments. Mrs. Cecil Williams, of Olden who formerly lived here was a guest at the luncheon.

On Monday afternoon of last week, Mrs. W. E. Barron was hostess for the social meeting of the Methodist Missionary Society. The home of Mrs. Barron was attractively decorated in spring colors. Games and contests were all suggestive of Easter and were much enjoyed as were also the refreshments served by the hostess.

Mrs. Winifred Gallagher is receiving the sympathy of her many friends because of the death of her father, Dr. J. H. McCoy who passed away at his home in Tahoka, a short time ago. Dr. McCoy was a leading physician here during boom days and hosts of friends were sorry to hear of his death.

Miss Jessie King spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. King of near Nimrod. She was accompanied home by Miss Idahlia Allen.

There was a picnic and Easter egg hunt at the Cottonwood school Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Hogue and little daughter, Juanita, of Albany spent Friday night and Saturday with Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Harris and family.

Miss Eunice Pence spent Saturday night with Miss Odessa Pence.

Charlie Harris, Edgar Pence and Milton Cleveland spent Saturday night and Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Pence.

Grandmother Thomas was the Saturday afternoon guest of Grandmother Harris.

Otis Huntington was seriously injured Friday afternoon when he was hit in the left eye by a baseball as he was catching. He is reported to be some better at this writing.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Pence, Henry Pence and Miss Eunice Pence were the Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Pence.

Miss Oletta Boatman spent Friday night with Miss Florine Yeager. Arthur Yeager has been working in Putnam for several days.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Parmer and little daughter, Mary Anne, spent Thursday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Pence.

Mrs. G. R. Pence was the Wednesday afternoon guest of Mrs. R. H. Yeager and Miss Mae Miller.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Pence spent Wednesday with Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Pence.

Mr. and Mrs. Ennis Qualls spent the week-end in Cisco.

Miss Odessa Pence spent Tuesday night and Wednesday with Miss Eunice Pence.

Sam Hittson, who has made his home in this community this winter left Sunday for Breckenridge to live.

Mrs. R. H. Yeager was the Thursday guest of Mrs. G. R. Pence.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Phippen and family, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Calloway and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ennis Qualls, Miss Juanita Yeager, Miss Jessie King, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Pence, Howard and L. B. Carslyle, Otis Huntington, Marshall Simpkins, J. C. Yeager, Ira Pence and Dalton and Meon Adams attended the musical at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Pence. All reported a nice time.

Miss Florine Yeager is on the sick list at this writing.

Cotton Supply and Demand Figures Are Overshadowed by Policy Uncertainty

AUSTIN, April 5 — For the time being, usual supply and demand figures are overshadowed in importance in the cotton market by the uncertainties surrounding the adoption of a permanent cotton policy in the United States, according to Dr. A. B. Cox, director of the University of Texas bureau of business research and well-known cotton expert.

"It is generally recognized that cotton dominates the agriculture of the South, but its predominance in the commercial and industrial life of the region is not generally appreciated," he said. "Drastic curtailment of cotton acreage as a permanent policy must inevitably cause far-reaching changes in sources of employment in the cotton region. Thousands of agricultural laborers, especially negro and Mexican cotton choppers and pickers, will be forced immediately on relief rolls and will stay there until a comprehensive plan of rehabilitation can be worked out. It will likewise throw out of employment thousands of unskilled and skilled workers at gins, cottonseed oil mills, cotton compresses, and many other industries and trades dealing directly or indirectly with cotton. If restriction of cotton acreage is to be a permanent policy, then the government must be prepared to set up thousands of subsistence farms throughout the cotton belt."

Transfer Influences
"Acreage released from cotton will in the main be planted to food and feed crops which in the long run will tend to cut off one of the Middie West's best markets for these things on the one hand and create a labor condition which will attract manufacturing enterprises from the north and east. The ultimate influence of drastic cotton acreage reduction program will transfer its influences throughout the country, especially to the corn belt and the manufacturing East."

In his monthly cotton balance sheet, Dr. Cox said:
"Total supplies of cotton in the United States March 1 amounted to 11,868,000 bales, compared with 13,634,000 bales a year ago, 14,337,000 bales two years ago, and 8,345,000 bales four years ago. The decrease in the supply of cotton in the United States and for American cotton in European ports and afloat to Europe was 1,603,000 bales."

Indicated Advance
"Calculated changes in the index price of cotton based on these changes in supply indicate an advance of 221 points in the price of New Orleans spot cotton over this time last year. When changes in the index number and the spinners margin are put into the price calculation, the calculated cents price of New Orleans middling 7-8 inch spot cotton is 0.65 cents. Measured in gold content, the dollar has depreciated 40 per cent whereas the price level has advanced only 23 per cent. Cotton, because it is an important export commodity, should rise faster than the general price level where the advance is due to depreciating value of currency. However, if it should advance to the full limit of the depreciated dollar, the price would be only 11.62 cents. The Bureau of Business Research supply-price chart indicates a price between 9.50 and 10 cents. Forces outside ordinary statistical calculations of supply and demand such as the Bankhead bill are influencing cotton prices."

BEDFORD

We were grieved to learn of the death of our friend and neighbor, Grandmother Evans. She died Sunday morning at 9:30 o'clock. Her many friends extend their sympathy to the loved ones.

There was no church Sunday morning or afternoon on account of the death of Grandmother Evans.

The singing at Mr. Murphys Sunday night was attended by a large crowd of young people.

WASH OUT 15 MILES OF KIDNEY TUBES

Win Back Pep...Vigor...Vitality
Medical authorities agree that your kidneys contain 15 MILES of tiny tubes of filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. They should pour out thru the bladder 3 pints of fluid a day which contains 4 pounds of waste matter. If you have trouble with too frequent bladder passages with scanty amount causing burning and discomfort, the 15 MILES of kidney tubes need washing out. This danger signal may be the beginning of nagging backache, leg pains, loss of pep and vitality, getting up nights, lumbago, swollen feet and ankles, rheumatic pains and dizziness. If kidneys don't empty 3 pints every day and get rid of 4 pounds of waste matter, your body will take up these poisons causing serious trouble. It may knock you out and lay you up for many months. Don't wait. Ask your druggist for DOAN'S PILLS. A doctor's prescription... which has been used successfully by millions of kidney sufferers for over 40 years. They give quick relief and will help to wash out the 15 MILES of kidney tubes. But don't take chances with strong drugs or so-called "kidney cures" that claim to fix you up in 15 minutes. Your common sense will tell you that this is impossible. Treatments of this nature may seriously injure and irritate delicate tissues. Insist on DOAN'S PILLS—the old reliable relief that contain no "dope" or habit-forming drugs. Be sure you get DOAN'S PILLS at your druggist. © 1934, Foster-Milburn Co.

NEW POLITICAL CONSCIENCE

Substantial gains in poll tax payments and exemption certificates issued are shown in reports made by tax collectors on the last day in March as required by law. In all major cities of the state great increases in voting population are disclosed. Four such indicate a combined vote of 300,000. The tendency holds true in the lesser communities and on down the line to the farm hamlets which, to judge from the poll tax records, have been stirred with a political conscience that is significant. According to the estimates of the political statisticians and prophets there are 1,250,000 poll tax receipts and exemption certificates in the hands of Texas men and women whose citizenship, ages and periods of residence entitle them to register their will at the ballot box this year. During the depression and the New Deal year Americans have become government-conscious. They are preparing to state the community, state and national mind unequivocally in terms of votes this summer and fall. The sign is encouraging.

It makes no difference what the form or character of government is—provided it is the form and character desired and controlled by the public mind. Democracy means government of the people, for the people and by the people. As long as the fact of government conforms to that definition, as long as the people and the ballot box are supreme, the country is politically in safe hands. When it violates that principle, when the voter shirks his responsibility and gives his political destiny into the hands of the organized bloc and the dominant minority there is danger ahead. The political conscience that the depression and the New Deal have inspired is a salubrious condition. In the white heat of the battle of the ballots it is hard for demagoguery and insincerity to hide.

SPRING

Bountiful rain yesterday and today. Bountiful rain a fortnight ago, dispelling the last vestige of drought and soaking the soil to its capacity. Nature is not permitting the New Deal to take all the stage and give all the show. She is putting on a mighty attractive act of her own in west Texas this spring. "Back to the farm" and "live at home" are two familiar phrases of the so-called depression period. Farmers have been advised and assisted to produce subsistence crops and to turn from dependence upon a single cash commodity to living within their acres. Unemployed city dwellers have been pointed toward the land and told to emulate the example of the farmer and stop living out of paper sacks and milk bottles.

There never was a more encouraging time in which to turn soilward. A bad March has delayed the season but a generous April seems determined to overtake the delay with moisture that will send crops booming out of the soil. Spring is always a pleasant surprise. One day, irked with winter, you look at bare fields in warm sunshine and wonder if a blight has not settled upon them. There is no sprig of green. Trees and shrubs are dull and gray, the whole landscape folded in a dead and cinerous silence of defeat. But the next morning the field larks whistle you to a miracle. Lances of new sunlight glitter along avenues of bright and magic green. A million dewdrops sparkle. Dead twigs have unfurled a witchery of dress and bare acres are vivid with carpet that was laid overnight. There is wine in the air. The beauty of spring is in the magic of its resurrection.

TEXANS AND PWA ROAD PROJECTS

A total of 16,837 men are at work in Texas on 307 highway projects. In other words, Texans who are holding down jobs in the public works administration highway construction number more than the figures submitted by any one of the 47 remaining commonwealths. California has second place—5895 men at work on 85 projects. Most projects have been completed in Minnesota where 90 different roads have been finished. Texas ranks seventh in the number of completed projects with 68 roadways finished. Col. Ike Ashburn of Houston is seeking an additional fund for highways from a forthcoming PWA allocation. He is confident that $400,000,000 of the anticipated appropriation may be awarded for highway construction. More than $339,000,000 of the first $400,000,000 has already been allotted to various road projects.

The eminent Dr. William A. Wirt, the somewhat noted Gary schoolmaster, is responsible for this glittering lump of logic: "Governments cannot force production and the payment of wages." A year ago there were 12,000,000 Americans, men and women, in the army of the unemployed. The Gary schoolmaster was silent. He did not suggest a program that would lift "the starving ox out of the ditch." No doubt, men of his calibre are committed to the gospel that it is cheaper to "slay the ox in the ditch than it is to feed him." As an American citizen he is entitled to his day at court. Free speech, a free press, freedom of thought, freedom of worship, freedom of action and a free ballot are linked together in this republic.

FRANCE SAID TO BE ON THE BRINK

"We are here, Lafayette." This was the slogan of American tourists in the days that have departed. It is different now. "Pinch of gold prices and fears of further riots are exercising a depressing effect on business in France." France repudiated payment of interest on war loans. France had been reaping a golden harvest every year from the pockets of American tourists. This prize of the yellow stuff is said to have been as high in value as $300,000,000 a year. American women poured out their dollars for French importations of hats and bonnets and lingerie. Sons and daughters of Uncle Sam "had to see Paris or die." All this has been changed. As for the prime minister of the republic, he is insisting that the franc must be maintained, but concedes that "taxes must be diminished if business is to survive." French officials and the banking brotherhood freely predict that devaluation of the franc, king of gold bloc currency, is a possibility unless public finances are put in order. France has a third of the gold of the world stored in the vaults of the republic. All this before the declaration against the payment of interest on the American war loan.

Another Roar Against High Salaried Men

By HUGH NUGENT FITZGERALD

There are dollar-a-year men; there are $1,000-a-year men; there are $5,000 and $10,000 and $15,000-a-year men; there are $50,000-a-year men; there are $100,000-a-year men; there are $250,000-a-year men. If a man has the executive capacity and the brain and the vision which increases the earnings of dividends of any business from a peanut stand to a corporation with world-wide ramifications, isn't the laborer worthy of his hire along legitimate lines and not along gouging lines?

Hundreds of big business executives were paid from $50,000 to $250,000 in 1933. At least this is the substance of a report submitted to the congress by the federal trade commission. Willard R. Sheehan, a movie magnate, and Charles M. Shaw, head of a steel corporation, drew $250,000 salaries in 1933. Arthur M. Loew, another movie magnate, drew down two salaries totaling more than $300,000.

Moreover, the report revealed that big business was slashing the salaries of its big executives just as it was cutting the wages of its other white-collared employees. It is admitted that the size of some of the salaries indicated the industrial corporations of the nation "are getting back on their feet." A score of executives drew more than $1,000,000 in salaries and bonuses during each of the first two years covered by the report; but these in many cases had dwindled down to less than one-fourth of these amounts by 1933.

If the great industrial corporations are getting back on their feet, so to speak, it is a very excellent sign. It means the employment of workers who had been idle; wage payments to all concerned instead of government relief in labor or a straight dole; in the increase of buying power on the part of wage workers, while collar or otherwise.

Millions of workers were carried during the winter months. Where it was impossible to furnish the idle with employment heads of families and their dependents were furnished the necessary supplies—including housing and clothing and medicine and medical attention. It had to be done. This is said to be a humane civilization. The heart of America is all right. The people of America are the most generous time has known. They carried on through most devastating economic crisis in the history of the world. They are marching forward. They should not permit demagogues or mad anarchists or communists or publicity-seekers on the lunatic fringe to control their movements or the determination of the sane and the patriots to assist in bringing into the harbor of safety the head skipper and the ship of state.

HERR DOKTOR WIRT TO BE PLACED ON THE SPOT

Washington has let it be known that the democratic managers have planned to make the house inquiry into charges by Dr. William A. Wirt "as short and snappy as possible." It should be made "as short and snappy as possible." Freedom of speech governs in this land of ours; freedom of action, freedom of the press and the Herr Doktor of the steel town of Gary who superintends those who teach the young idea how to shoot should be given "a run for his money," as the gambling talent pieces it, and then sent back to his salaried job in Hoosierland. He has spoken his little piece. He crawled out of bed to find himself famous—or notorious, and there is a very slight difference between fame and notoriety. Their seekers make the headlines. They spit their propaganda into the face of the public. Then, like the flowers of spring, some of the guild wither and then fade away and others continue on the deck of action as the gifted makers of political or economic fiction as old as the art of printing. It cannot be eradicated while the art of lying is one of the fine arts and fabrication for political or financial effect is an industry that has been in existence for thousands of years.

A professional propagandist is more dangerous than the craziest red and has more hypocrisy in his make-up than all the diplomatic chameleons of the world that is dead or a civilization seeking control in the world that was born when the old or departing world changed its face. Plain facts, based upon truth, are demanded by the American people. They should be the masters—ever working along the lines of complete sanity and a liberal as well as sound interpretation of the constitution and constitutional liberty.

Itchless Underwear Next Improvement

LONDON, April 5.—Ram's inhumanity to man will cease soon. Itchy woolen underwear is out.

A new process has been perfected which spares the embarrassed blusher of those unfortunate caught scratching themselves in public, and also relieves the discomfort to the tender epidermis of the old-style woolens worn next the skin.

A new treatment of fabrics, which it is claimed renders them unshrinkable as well as non-itchy, also adds luster to the material, and can be applied with equal facility to loose, scoured wool, tops, or to knitted fabric.

The method is being kept secret for its discoverers and fellow members of the Wool Industries Research association, who hold patent rights, according to a recent report of the association. It is stated that the new discovery is the outcome of advances in technique in an entirely different industry.

Chic Contrast
The all-important style note of today is contrast. In this look, it is shown in a separate yoke, collar and belt. Try it in black and white or navy and red combination.

Pattern—2908 x

HERE is a strikingly dashing costume that can be made up in plaid mixtures, rough silks or satin. It is designed in six sizes: 14, 16, 18 and 20 (with corresponding bust measures of 32, 34, 36 and 38) and also in 40 and 42. Size 16 requires 4 3/4 yards of 39 inch material plus 1-1/2 yard 35 inches wide for the tie collar and belt in contrast.

To secure a pattern and simple sewing chart of this model, tear out this sketch and mail it to Julia Boyd, 193 Park Avenue, New York, N. Y., together with 15 cents in coin. Be sure to enclose, on a separate sheet of paper, your name, full address, your size, the number of this pattern (No. 2908x), and mention the name of this newspaper.

CONOCO INTRODUCES A Remarkable new MOTOR OIL

Its lower consumption and greater protection to motors proved by the most convincing test ever made!

THIS new oil has a tremendously increased "film strength"—and a penetrative oiliness to always protect your motor. The "Hidden Quart" never leaves a dry spot or a bearing without lubrication—it resists dilution—and eliminates much trouble caused by carbon and sludge.

... New and Improved Conoco Germ-Processed Motor Oil excels in the most convincing test ever made, under the supervision of the Contest Board, American Automobile Association.

MANY "new" oils are presented to you without proof of claims made for them. You have to "test" them at your own expense.

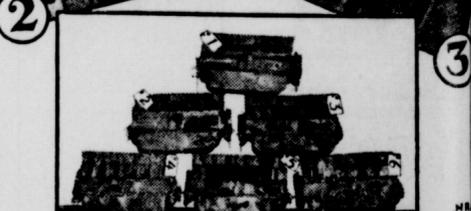

In presenting New and Improved Conoco Germ-Processed Motor Oil you are furnished facts of performance. You will at once be convinced of the direct value of this new oil. A test so dramatic, so honest, that it will go down in history!

Five quarts, a new and complete fill, were put in each car and the crankcases sealed. Then the real battle for supremacy began. The cars were driven for as long as the motors continued to operate. Started equally, they were driven as far as they would go—completely ruined—run dry and cracked up.

Here are the results: Oil No. 4 quit at 1713.2 miles; Oil No. 6 quit at 1764.4 miles; Oil No. 5 wrecked the motor at 1815.9; Oil No. 1 ceased its lubricative protection at 2266.8 miles; and Oil No. 3 at 3318.8 miles.

New and Improved Conoco Germ-Processed Motor Oil carried on to a total 4729 miles! Over three thousand miles farther than the first oil to go out, and over fourteen hundred miles farther than the final oil of the five!

FORD COMPANY WON'T INCREASE PRICES OF CARS

DETROIT, Mich., April 5— Increase in wages and material costs brought automobile price increases yesterday by all units of the General Motors corporation. Almost at the same time Henry Ford announced that these factors would not cause his company to raise the selling prices of its cars.
Asserting that his company was operating profitably under present conditions, Ford said that if necessary to avoid price increases the Ford Motor company would expand its own production of materials used in car manufacturing. The Ford company several weeks ago let contracts for an enlargement of its steel producing facilities at the Rouge plant.
"I have found," said Ford, "that higher wages do not mean increased costs and if our material prices go too high we will start making our own."
It long has been the expressed Ford philosophy that higher wages make for more efficient workers and that "better materials are always more economic in the end."
"It is pretty certain," he said today, "that everybody will be looking for a plan to reduce prices, before we can say that business is getting back where it should be."

Impatience? No. It's jangled nerves.
Are you the kind of wide-awake, "on-your-toes" person who hates to be kept waiting? Then you should be doubly careful about jangled nerves. If you find yourself nervously crackling your newspaper—drumming your fingers on the table—jumping at unexpected noises—then watch your nerves. Get enough sleep—fresh air—recreation. And make Camels your cigarette. For you can smoke as many Camels as you want. Their costlier tobaccos never jangle your nerves.

PARTY HONORS

ROBERT WELDON SMITH.
Robert Weldon Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Smith, 1302 M avenue was honored at a party given Tuesday afternoon in celebration of his fifth birthday.

Games were played during the afternoon and winners of the different contests held were Yancey McCrea Jr. and Billie Beth Bacon. The table, centered by a pink and white birthday cake with candles and decorated with candy, paper, and cookie animals arranged like a circus parade was a delight to the children. The animals, as favors were passed to the guests with ice cream and cake.

Mrs. Smith was assisted in entertaining and serving by Misses Jane Moore and Billie Beth Bacon.

The list of guests included: Fordie Hubbard, Charles Kleiner, Billie Jean Jones, Yancey McCrea, Bill and Joe Philpott, Patsy Lois McCrea, Dana Thornton, Jo Ann Bearman, Ray Nell Godfrey, Joanne Qualis, Pat Moore, Billie Beth Bacon, Joe Neal Poe, Hubert James Seale, Howard Bailey, Joe Ed Bacon, George Owens, Bill Morrison, Homer Lee Hensley, Jean Grantham, Vance Littleton, Lee Smith, and Jane Moore.

RACE CLOSE IN ATTENDANCE CONTEST.

The Missionary Society of the First Methodist church met at the church Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. W. G. Powell in the chair. After the opening song, "Draw Me Nearer," the 19th Psalm was read, and Mrs. Andres led in prayer.

Mrs. W. G. Powell and S. H. Nance were elected delegates to the annual meeting to be held in Fort Worth April 17-19. Reports on the attendance contest being waged between the circles were given with Circle 2 in the lead with 161 members for the first quarter, Circle 3, second with 152, and Circle 1 with 78. For the second quarter, Circle 2 has a lead of 8 points over the other two circles.

Those present Tuesday were: Mesdames W. G. Powell, L. E. Vaughn, Fred Hayes, Northrup Lane, George Winston, Mary Andros, S. H. Nance, R. S. Elliott, T. J. Dean, John Sertzer, Frank Turner, K. W. Merrett, J. W. Thompson, and J. T. Fields. Visitors from the Twelfth Street Methodist church were Mrs. Robert Farmer and Mrs. T. Richardson.

Personal Mention

Mrs. F. E. Williams and Mrs. Hugh Cockerell of Eastland were among the out-of-town ladies attending the Cooking School yesterday afternoon.

Mrs. Ray Smith and daughter, Betty Ray, are leaving tomorrow for a visit with relatives and friends in Dallas and Hillsboro.

Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Harris have returned to their home in Abilene after a visit in Cisco with Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Miller.

There never was a more encouraging time in which to turn soilward. A bad March has delayed the season but a generous April seems determined to overtake the delay with moisture that will send crops booming out of the soil. Spring is always a pleasant surprise. One day, irked with winter, you look at bare fields in warm sunshine and wonder if a blight has not settled upon them. There is no sprig of green. Trees and shrubs are dull and gray, the whole landscape folded in a dead and cinerous silence of defeat. But the next morning the field larks whistle you to a miracle. Lances of new sunlight glitter along avenues of bright and magic green. A million dewdrops sparkle. Dead twigs have unfurled a witchery of dress and bare acres are vivid with carpet that was laid overnight. There is wine in the air. The beauty of spring is in the magic of its resurrection.

TEXANS AND PWA ROAD PROJECTS

A total of 16,837 men are at work in Texas on 307 highway projects. In other words, Texans who are holding down jobs in the public works administration highway construction number more than the figures submitted by any one of the 47 remaining commonwealths. California has second place—5895 men at work on 85 projects. Most projects have been completed in Minnesota where 90 different roads have been finished. Texas ranks seventh in the number of completed projects with 68 roadway finished. Col. Ike Ashburn of Houston is seeking an additional fund for highways from a forthcoming PWA allocation. He is confident that $400,000,000 of the anticipated appropriation may be awarded for highway construction. More than $339,000,000 of the first $400,000,000 has already been allotted to various road projects.

The eminent Dr. William A. Wirt, the somewhat noted Gary schoolmaster, is responsible for this glittering lump of logic: "Governments cannot force production and the payment of wages." A year ago there were 12,000,000 Americans, men and women, in the army of the unemployed. The Gary schoolmaster was silent. He did not suggest a program that would lift "the starving ox out of the ditch." No doubt, men of his calibre are committed to the gospel that it is cheaper to "slay the ox in the ditch than it is to feed him." As an American citizen he is entitled to his day at court. Free speech, a free press, freedom of thought, freedom of worship, freedom of action and a free ballot are linked together in this republic.

FRANCE SAID TO BE ON THE BRINK

"We are here, Lafayette." This was the slogan of American tourists in the days that have departed. It is different now. "Pinch of gold prices and fears of further riots are exercising a depressing effect on business in France." France repudiated payment of interest on war loans. France had been reaping a golden harvest every year from the pockets of American tourists. This prize of the yellow stuff is said to have been as high in value as $300,000,000 a year. American women poured out their dollars for French importations of hats and bonnets and lingerie. Sons and daughters of Uncle Sam "had to see Paris or die." All this has been changed. As for the prime minister of the republic, he is insisting that the franc must be maintained, but concedes that "taxes must be diminished if business is to survive." French officials and the banking brotherhood freely predict that devaluation of the franc, king of gold bloc currency, is a possibility unless public finances are put in order. France has a third of the gold of the world stored in the vaults of the republic. All this before the declaration against the payment of interest on the American war loan.

PROCESSED CHEESE USE SKIMMED MILK

Take 3 gallons of separated milk when it is curdled, heat to temperature of 100 degrees F. stirring most of the time. This makes the ordinary cottage cheese. Hold at this temperature for 30 minutes and continue stirring. Squeeze drier than customary for cottage cheese. Take 1/2 cup butter, salt to taste (about 1/2 teaspoonful), 1 tablespoonful soda and mix thoroughly into the cottage cheese. Let stand 2 hours. Add 1 cup sweet cream and put all into a double boiler and heat while cooking until a smooth consistency has been formed. Remove from the fire and add 1/2 cup of sweet or sour cream to which has been added cheese coloring as desired (about 1/2 to 1/4 teaspoonful). Beat until smooth and turn into buttered dish to mold.

This complete process must be finished within one day. The cheese should season for about five days. It may be covered with paraffin wax if to be kept. This cheese is mild cheese with very little flavor and for that reason needs an added flavor. Pimientos, caraway seed or a small amount of strong flavored cheese melted and added, give a good flavor. A small size can of pimientos, or a quarter pound of strong flavored cheese, gives an excellent flavor.

TWO FEATURES OF INTEREST AT PECAN MEETING

Two events of particular interest to pecan growers will take place at Gorman Tuesday, April 10, when the Brazos Valley Pecan Growers association opens its annual spring meeting at the Ritz Theatre at 9:30 a. m. The visits to the Kirk and the Dr. Blackwell native groves which are being developed, will demonstrate principles of thinning, topping, budding and grafting. Visitors will have opportunity to witness these jobs in their various stages of development, it was announced.

The visit to the Dallas Jobe orchard will show possibilities of a planted orchard on upland sand. This orchard is also interest with fruit trees which have been a paying investment before the pecan trees required the space occupied by the fruit.

Owners of native pecan timber will find it to their advantage to attend this meeting and pick up all possible information relative to the development of the native groves. Said County Agent J. C. Patterson. And every owner of Eastland county farm land will find some points of interest suggesting the possibility of planting a grove that will in time make the owner independent, he added.

Program

The program for the meeting was announced by Mr. Patterson as follows: Invocation, J. L. Roden; address of welcome, J. W. Cockrell, responded to by J. C. Patterson, county agent; "Why I selected Gorman for my new pecan orchard," J. L. Rainey of the San Angelo Pecan nursery; "Pecan Rosette Control," J. H. Burkett, Clyde; lunch; tour of orchards led by Dr. G. T. Blackwell, D. J. Jobe and John Kirk; demonstrations by instructors W. S. Price, Jr., Charles Denny, J. H. Burkett, O. S. Gray and Ross R. Wolfe.

The meeting will conclude with a business session.

George B. Overton to Be Buried at Abilene

Funeral services will be held at Abilene this afternoon for George B. Overton, Cisco, salesman for the West Texas Utilities company, who died there last night after a brief illness. Overton, who was 32 was visiting at Abilene when he became ill Saturday.

He came to Cisco about a year ago, being transferred here from Albany. Prior to that he had served with the company at Cross Plains, Texas.

He was born in Mexico, July 22, 1902, and at the age of seven moved to Sweetwater, where he spent his boyhood. He was married last February 3 to Miss Thuy Tillotson of Rotan, the ceremony taking place at Altus, Okla.

Survivors besides his wife are a small daughter by a former marriage; his father, Dr. J. W. Overton of Dallas; his mother, Mrs. Louise Overton of Sweetwater; three half-brothers, C. E. Seifert of Rio de Janeiro; Oscar Seifert of Paral, Mexico; F. F. Seifert of Abilene, and a sister, Mrs. Guy Morris of Sweetwater.

The funeral services were to be held at 3 p. m. with Dr. T. S. Knox, pastor of First Presbyterian church, officiating. Burial will be made in a local cemetery.

Texas Political Sentiment Found To Vary Widely in 4000 Mile Trip

By RAYMOND BROOKS

A 4000-mile trip over Texas has been made by the writer to study the political aspect and trends, especially as to the governor's race.

Widely varying results have been found in different parts of the state, and a great range of conflicting opinions and predictions.

The sectional divergencies of opinion will be acted upon by a still greater element of uncertainty during the next 40 days, as candidates swing into their stump campaigns, and prove their several rates of speed.

The early survey was not made to prove anything, nor to boost any candidate. Only incidentally was it concerned with the comparative campaigning abilities of the six men on the list from which the voters will choose the next Texas governor.

Its purpose was to find how the candidates stack up at this time. It sought to get a picture, as of today, of the governor's race, and generally, of the United States senator's race, state senatorial and other state races.

Hearing the Voters
It was based on the idea of hearing the people talk about the candidates, rather than the candidates talk about themselves.

The survey has been completed. Subject to change without notice, these are conclusions which run up the aggregate opinion of the sections visited. The tour included Houston, Beaumont, Port Arthur, Corpus Christi, Waco, San Antonio, Amarillo, Abilene, San Angelo, Dallas, Fort Worth, Palestine, Tyler and points in between. Here is the Easter morning picture:

1. James V. Alford is certain of a place in the run-off primary in the governor's race.

2. C. C. McDonald, Ferguson-anointed candidate, has but an outside chance of making the run-off.

Hughes Makes Gains
3. The most colorful campaigning and progress to date is that of Maury Hughes of Dallas.

4. Tom Hunter, who as an unknown two years ago made a phenomenal race, based on protest votes objecting to both Ferguson and Sterling, again will poll a surprisingly large vote.

5. In the United States senate race, Sen. Tom Connally is far out ahead, with only the most surprising upset capable of putting him in any danger, and friends of Cong. Joe Bailey still suggest he may drop out of the race before campaigning time starts.

Here's the Question
Recognizing the whole picture or any quadrant may change overnight, or may change half a dozen times—the question is:

Who will go into the run-off with Alford?

The two strongest prospects right now are Maury Hughes and Tom Hunter.

Bunched up so close to these, and so close to one another, that it is pure guessing to evaluate the relative position of the others, are Clint Small, Edgar E. Witt and C. C. McDonald.

There is a general tendency to credit Hunter with first place in Wichita county—home of Hunter, Alford and McDonald. There is a belief that Hunter will get a very strong vote among the independent oil people—and who knows not the majority?—throughout the oil regions of Texas and the independent affluents down to the last carbide gasoline pump.

Two Hughes Groups
It is clear-cut that Maury Hughes has won two distinct elements of support; very powerful backing of all those citizens and voters integrated in the great public utility interests, and that numerous group of people who have been Ferguson people, but who either have been alienated or who will vote for Ferguson but cannot be "delivered" to any other candidate.

Big business, and business generally, will support Small, Hughes and Witt. Lieut. Gov. Witt may have very powerful backing of people substantial in a business way. His campaign has not taken form yet. The opinion is widely met that Hughes has taken away a good deal of what promised originally to be Witt backing.

These are general facts. A brief review of the various sections blocks in the detail of the composite picture.

Small's Claims
In Amarillo and the Panhandle, in Abilene and Fort Worth, Sen. Small is tremendously popular. Through West Texas generally, he will get a very large vote. There are certain centers elsewhere in the state in which he will make a vigorous showing—notably San Antonio and Southwest Texas, and in Houston and Beaumont, and Port Arthur.

If West Texas had the same population density as East Texas, he would be certain of a place in the run-off.

Any outstanding trend to conservatism this year will be in his favor.

Below the T. & P. in West Texas through southwest Texas especially, Atty.-Gen. Alford is credited with leadership in the first primary. In Dallas, in the large cities, and, as a matter of concurrent opinion generally, something taken for granted, he is conceded a place in the run-off.

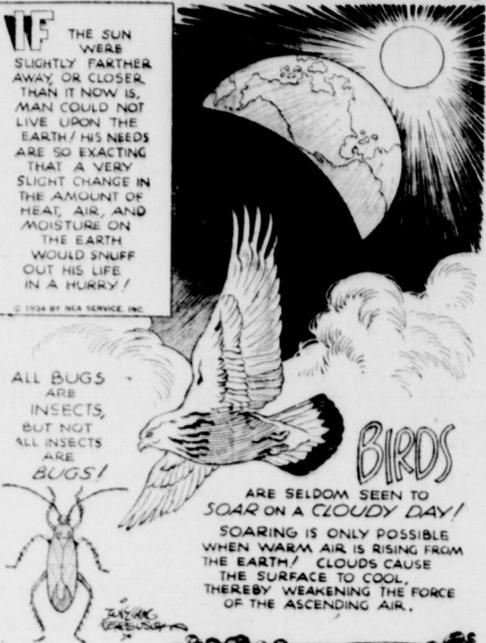

Dallas and Fort Worth
Dallas estimates, despite the popularity of its own candidate, that Alford may get 40 per cent of the total vote of that city. Dallas sees Hughes or Witt second, there.

But 40-odd miles away, Fort Worth puts Sen. Small high, and regards Hunter and Alford as about breaking even for second place with him.

San Antonio's political leaders say Maury Hughes and Alford look like the two leading candidates there, but point out that the political machine which easily dominates 50,000 votes hasn't yet decided upon the one man to be supported. That selection will not be Mr. Alford. It

THIS CURIOUS WORLD

By William Ferguson

THE SUN WE ARE SLIGHTLY FARTHER AWAY OR CLOSER THAN IT NOW IS. MAN COULD NOT LIVE UPON THE EARTH/HIS NEEDS ARE SO EXACTING THAT A VERY SLIGHT CHANGE IN THE AMOUNT OF HEAT, AIR, AND MOISTURE ON THE EARTH WOULD SNUFF OUT HIS LIFE IN A HURRY!

ALL BUGS ARE INSECTS, BUT NOT ALL INSECTS ARE BUGS! BIRDS ARE SELDOM SEEN TO SOAR ON A CLOUDY DAY! SOARING IS ONLY POSSIBLE WHEN WARM AIR IS RISING FROM THE EARTH/ CLOUDS CAUSE THE SURFACE TO COOL, THEREBY WEAKENING THE FORCE OF THE ASCENDING AIR.

ing in under the wire in the elimination contest.

What will happen in the run-off? That is another story. There are too many "ifs" to hurdie in July to tackle that now.

East Texas Outlook
The East Texas oil country, represented by a cross-section of opinion of all factions at Tyler, would put Alford first, with Hughes and Hunter tugging for the break as runner-up.

The Corpus Christi section reflected Alford's claims to first place, and Hunter and Hughes both crowding into the picture.

Several elements confuse the situation in the Beaumont-Port Arthur section, where organized refinery workers recently took over municipal affairs of the two large cities. One is the race of McDonald and Hunter for this group vote.

Another is a surprising showing made to Clint Small—who lives 800 miles away. Another is a feeling that in this section the Alford leadership is in a "silk stocking" group antagonistic to the heavy labor vote.

Rural Sentiment?
Alford is forming an effective organization at Houston. Four weeks ago the surprising aspect there of the March situation was the enthusiasm for Maury Hughes.

This, borne out in the other cities, pointed to the prospect that Hughes will run effectively in the cities. How strong outside, in the strictly rural areas, will decide whether or not he makes the run-off.

A definite factor in this survey is that it does not, and could not within the limits of its making, sound out the sentiment of rural voters, who collectively form a very large share of the total.

Where Hughes Falls
Generally, Lieut. Gov. Witt, Tom Hunter and C. C. McDonald will share heavily in this vote. Witt, because of his present official title and the fact that is known by name and official record rather generally over the state. McDonald, because of the Ferguson Forum and the mighty volume of Ferguson votes of the past, out of whom will come his support, so far as it follows the weekly-expressive wishes of the executive mansion. Hunter, because he is the "poor man's friend," who surprised them so badly two years ago, and made many of slow-changing opinion feel like he is a probable, or at least a possible winner.

Long-growing city vs. country sentiment—in the country—will limit Hughes, it appears.

As to the wet and dry issue, that is less an issue than for many years. Alford and Hunter will share the dry side, so far as it is a question decided by liquor sentiment, and the others will share the rest. It balances out as nearly as a wash sale.

Many an If
That then, until we hear from the cotton fields in July, is the story: Alford in the run-off; Hughes or Hunter in one-two order, as prospects for fighting it out with him; Small, Witt and McDonald each or either potentially capable of com-

SHAPING SCHOOL TO LEISURE IS TEACHERS' TASK

HOUSTON, April 5. — Revision of high school curriculum to prepare children for a world in which leisure will be a major consideration is the task before educators, according to Dr. Edison Ellsworth Oberholtzer, new president of the department of superintendence of the National Education association.

Dr. Oberholtzer, superintendent of Houston schools for the past ten years, looked upon his election to the highest office of the N.E.A. with great concern.

Pioneering Past
Pioneering has passed, he said and it will be the duty of high schools to prepare children for wise use of the leisure time that will become such an important part in living.

Public school training may be lengthened, Oberholtzer ventured, to meet the new economic situation. Thus educated men and women would enter the field of competitive business much later and be in it a shorter time, taking several years from social readjustment to leisure time.

He believes children should be trained to think more in terms of helpful work for the common social good and less in terms of material success.

New Programs
Necessary as this change is, he said, those who make the new school programs are "betwixt the devil and the deep blue sea." On the one hand is the need for the new curriculum to adjust children to the new world of greater leisure and on new world hand is an economic pressure demanding curtailment of the very activities introduced to meet the social demand.

Dr. Oberholtzer has two courses for high school students here. One is for those who plan to continue their education at institutions of higher learning. The other is for those who will end their training with a high school diploma. The latter is a general course, designed to round out an education as nearly as possible during the four years.

Teachers Committee Urges Tax Comm'n
PORT WORTH, April 5. — Executive committee of the Texas State Teachers association urged the creation of a state commission, enactment of a state income tax and expansion of sales taxation as a means of bolstering revenue for public schools.

The tax revision proposals were adopted on recommendation of the associations sub-committee on financial public education in a meeting here today.

The proposed tax commission would be authorized to evaluate corporate properties for tax purposes and equalize assessment rates on all forms of property upon which a state tax is levied.

FIREMEN TOLD NEW METHODS IN CLASS HERE

Frank Williams, chief of the Winters fire department and special representative of the Texas Firemen's school at A. and M. college, conducted a demonstration before a class of 22 Cisco volunteer firemen and visiting firemen Monday night.

Such special demonstrations by representatives of the state school will be regular features of the state fire prevention program, in which, it was explained, emphasis will be put upon efficiency in volunteer as well as paid departments.

Present Monday night for the three-hour class that began at 7:45, were 12 firemen from Baird, 3 from Albany 3 from Moran, 2 from Breckenridge, 1 from Ranger and 8 from Eastland in addition to the Cisco force under Ass't Chief Noah Fowler.

The class was held at the fire department headquarters.

The state department not only is awarding credits on the fire insurance rate for approved practices in fire prevention programs, but it is inaugurating these extension classes as a means of seeing that the efficiency aimed at in this system of credits is really attained, it was explained. The program is a serious effort to cut down fire losses in Texas and to insure better fire prevention methods and better fire departments from the smallest to the largest, it was said.

STATE RECORD SHATTERED AT COUNTY MEET

By FRANK LANGSTON
One state record was shattered and others came near to toppling in the determined attack upon them by the class B tracksters of the county at the annual interscholastic league meet held at Eastland Saturday.

Charlie Livingston, Scranton ace, led the assault in the sprints by winning the 100, 220 and the 440 yard dashes. His time of 52.6 bettered the state class B mark by two tenths of a second and was one second faster than that of Garrison, who won the class A event.

Scranton had little difficulty in winning the class B meet, while Cisco took first in the class A division, closely followed by Eastland. The class A title was still in doubt as the last event, the mile relay, was called. Cisco took an early lead in the relay, but dropped the baton at the halfway mark and finished second. Had Eastland won the relay instead of Gorman the class A championship would have gone to the Mavericks.

3-Cornered Battle

A feature of the meet was the three-cornered battle in the sprints of the class A division, between John Garrison of Eastland, Popeye Beasley of Cisco, and Boaz of Gorman. Boaz won the 100 but drew a bad lane next to the crowd in the 220 and took third in that event while Garrison and Beasley won first and second respectively. Garrison won the 440 yard run with Beasley second.

Platwood, a rural school, sent a one man track team to the meet in Ramsey. This youngster, forced to compete in the class B division, picked up 18 points for his school.

Garrison of Eastland, was high point man in the A division of the meet, trailed in order by Rutledge and Caffrey, both of Cisco.

EXECUTIVES OF STEEL, FILMS HIGHEST PAID

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 5.—The Federal Trade commission which has been delving into the high salaries paid business men, bankers and other figures in the American scene last week revealed another report on better paid executives.

The highest paid men on the list made public Saturday were Charles M. Schwab, chairman of the board Bethlehem Steel Co., and W. R. Sheehan, vice president of the Fox Film Corp. Each received $250,000 annually.

The salary figures, reported at the behest of a senate resolution introduced by Sen. Edward F. Costigan, Dem. Colo., were as of September, 1933.

The only other executive whose salary crossed the $200,000 figure was G. F. Kelly, president, Anaconda Copper Mining Co., and drew $208,402.

Some of the best-known figures in American industrial and business life were in the comparatively lower brackets of the salaries reported.

Owen D. Young and Gerard Swope of the General Electric Co. were each listed at $72,308. Harvey S. Firestone of the tire firm received $71,280. H. F. Sinclair, chairman of the board of the Consolidated Oil Corp., was down for $106,310, a figure topped by most motion picture executives.

Utah Prepares For Earthquake Relief

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, April 5.—Creation of Salt Lake disaster relief organization to Salt Lake officials' answer to the challenge of a series of earthquakes which shook northern Utah recently.

The organization, which consists of several units, including the Salt Lake Visiting Nurse association, Girl Scouts, Boy Scouts and CWA workers specially trained in first aid, will, according to John M. Knight, commissioner of public safety, be ready to answer any emergency call. The body will work in co-operation with a similar organization of the American Legion.

The organization will be under the direct supervision of city officials. Thomas Dee, first aid instructor for the police department, is acting director and announced that plans for immediate action have been completed.

Northern Utah, in which are located Salt Lake City and Ogden, both large centers of population, lies in what geologists call an earthquake belt. Several faults of which follows the face of the Wasatch range, is the largest, are a constant threat of earth movement.

The recent shocks—there were more than a hundred in four days—did little damage, spending their violence in the sparsely settled region of Hanzel Valley.

Geologists who visited the scene found several cracks in the earth running several miles long and more than a foot wide. One face of the largest was nearly 18 inches lower than the other, showing the geologists said, that the quake was equal in intensity to the one which created havoc in the Long Beach area of southern California little more than a year ago.

Grammar Debate Teams Are Chosen

Members of the Cisco grammar school debate team have been chosen, according to an announcement from the coaches. The ward school debate is a new event among the Eastland county interscholastic league contests, which does not carry with it any points toward the all-round championship.

The girls' teams are composed of the following: Uviah Moad and Edith Tennyson, affirmative; Daisy Wood and Waldorene Dowda, negative; Elinor Gleason, alternate. The following boys have been selected to represent Cisco: Evon Humphreys and Ramon McBride, affirmative; Billie Latch and Gerald McCrary, negative; Richard Schaefer and John L. Allen, alternate.

The question to be debated in the grammar school contest this year is "Resolved: That the Philippine Islands are more beneficial to the United States than Alaska is." Each school will have as its representatives two teams of boys and two of girls and will debate one of the question.

The only low-priced car with fully-enclosed Knee-Action Wheels and what a difference that makes in performance and dependability

Simple as a Shock Absorber!

Chevrolet's "fully-enclosed" Knee-Action is in reality a gigantic "shock absorber," built solidly on to Chevrolet's big, heavy frame, with the front wheel anchored to the "shock absorber" arm. The result: When the front wheel comes in contact with a bump or hole, it rises or falls to absorb the shock.

In a Chevrolet, you not only get the gliding ride at its best, you also get several other Knee-Action advantages not found in any other low-priced car! The reason: Chevrolet's Knee-Action is of a very special kind. The patents on it are held exclusively by General Motors. In this construction, the coil spring, which is the heart of the mechanism, is safely and solidly enclosed in a heavy steel housing to keep out dirt and flying stones. What's more, the design of this type is such that the steering mechanism is completely divorced from the spring action, the result being a new and welcome type of shock-proof steering.

Admittedly these "fully-enclosed" Knee-Action wheels are more expensive to produce than other types. But Chevrolet feels that the extra satisfaction thus assured for Chevrolet owners is well worth the extra manufacturing cost. And this same attitude is responsible for the presence of many other "fine-car" features in the new Chevrolet: the large, roomy Fisher body. The new Y-K frame. The cable-controlled brakes. In fact, everything about this automobile reflects Chevrolet's well-known policy: to build the most cars, by building the best cars of low price!

CISCO FLOUR MILL IS NOW IN OPERATION

Cisco Flour Mill opened for business Wednesday morning. Operated by P. K. LeFevre, a man of 15 years experience, and his law, J. H. Kendricks, who has associated with him for the three years, the mill will do a milling of both flour and and grind feed. The mill, of 25 barrels per day, is located in the building with street and Katy tracks occupied by the Fort Worth and Supply company. The mill was brought here from Greenville two months ago and Mr. LeFevre and Mr. Kendrick have busy installing it since that time. The public is invited to visit the mill at any time.

Five Amateur Wrestling Champions to Defend Their Titles at Iowa College

AMES, Ia., April 5—Five national Amateur Athletic association wrestling champions will meet here here April 13-14 to defend their titles at the national tourney to which Iowa State college is host. One of the champions, Robert Hees, who holds the crown in the 165 pound class is a native Iowan, hailing from Cresco. The other four champs are E. Stott, Southwestern Teachers' college, Weatherfield, Okla., 135 pounds; Guy Sappington, Columbia, Mo., 145 pounds; Art Sweet, Southwestern Teachers', lightweight; and Gordon Ellison, Cornell college, Mt. Vernon, Ia., heavyweight.

New champions will be crowned in the 112, 118, 126, and 155 pound divisions. Last year's 115 and 125 pound weights have been shifted into 118 and 126 pound classes respectively and the 122 pound class has been added to the list of entries.

Wilbur Frederick, Champaign, Ill., winner of the 115 pound class last year, will be entered in the 118 pound bout this year as a result of the change, and Milton Andes, carrying the colors of the Baltimore, Mr. Y. M. C. A., holder of the 125 pound title, will compete at the 126 pound mark this year.

Several new rulings will be in effect at this year's meet. Included are: head and body scissors hold, barred last year, will be permitted; no ropes will be used for the ring; in case of no fall, the contestant scoring the most points during the bout will be declared winner.

Points will be scored on the following basis:
Bringing opponent to mat and going behind—five points.
Getting out from underneath and going free—three points.
Getting out from underneath and going behind—five points.

LIQUOR SALES SLOW

SALEM, Tex., April 5.—Embarrassment held over from the prohibition era has prevented thirsty Oregonians from purchasing permits and patronizing the new state liquor stores, state officials believe. In any event, business has been more slack than was anticipated and staffs of most stores have been reduced.

Again we ask you to Check HUMBLE

Get your Consumer Check Card at any Humble Station

For the second time this year we ask you to check Humble products. We want you to test them thoroughly in practical, every day use and then tell us frankly — on a Humble Consumer Check Card — what your experience with Humble products has been. Humble's "Consumer Checks" are made four times a year in order that we may give you products which your experience tells you are satisfactory for your needs. We asked you to check Humble on January first; and we will ask you to do this again on July first and October first. ● Humble products are continuously improved. Laboratory tests and scientific tests made in actual use tell us that Humble products are second to none. But we are not satisfied until you say "approved!" because we feel that we should be guided in the improvement of Humble products by the experience of the practical buyer, in whose service Humble products are manufactured and sold. ● The second consumer check period will last ten days, April 1 to April 10. During this time, all Humble service stations will distribute Consumer Check Cards to Humble customers. We cannot too strongly urge you to fill out your card and drop it in the mail (no postage necessary). We are sincere in our effort to give you the right product at the right price with the right kind of service.

HUMBLE OIL & REFINING COMPANY

The Humble Company stands squarely behind the President's Program for National Recovery. All Humble products are manufactured and sold in strict compliance — letter and spirit — with the code of Fair Competition for the Petroleum Industry. We believe that this Code is fundamentally sound; we believe that the public wants every industry to realize a fair and reasonable profit from its operations in order that Code schedules of wages and employment hours can be maintained; and we believe that the majority of thinking people will support with their patronage any organization which takes a firm stand for those governmental policies which have already proven their usefulness. Every Humble Service Station is one hundred per cent N. RENTAL PRICES SHOW GENERAL UPWARD TREND

DALLAS, April 5. — Scarcity of dwellings and apartment houses has caused a general upward trend in Texas rental prices, a United Press survey has revealed.

Although rentals for residential buildings have dropped an average of 20 to 25 per cent from the peak years of 1929 and 1930, the general rental average increase to date is approximately 10 to 15 per cent.

Chambers of commerce in major cities reported the scarcity of dwellings and apartment houses due to additional businesses, industries and manufacturing plants moving from other states to Texas.

Real estate boards of the same cities reported the shortage was brought about by families which doubled up under a single roof during the depression years now separating and absorbing the surplus houses.

The real estate boards said the reduction of rentals to a figure within the wage earners' present income largely was responsible for the absorption.

Construction of business buildings and residential houses is inactive throughout the state, the real estate boards reported. Most of the carpenter work is being done under remodeling plans.

The survey showed Dallas has few buildings under construction, with a small percentage of remodeling being done. Vacancies in business buildings have increased, and business space and office rentals have declined.

A shortage of houses and apartments was reported in the better neighborhoods. What building of homes going on was reported in suburban districts. Rents here were reported increased as much as 10 to 15 per cent within the last six months. Tenant movement here was reported excessive in the rent houses and apartment buildings.

The Fort Worth chamber of commerce reported construction there almost too small to give a comparative figure, with few if any new homes being built. Authorities said the situation was partly due to the lack of financing facilities.

However, there is no shortage of houses and apartments, although families living under one roof have separated. This separating has caused an increased demand for rental houses and apartments which have been vacant for months.

Rentals in Fort Worth have not increased and were unchanged during the last two years, the survey revealed. Rents were reported 10 to 20 per cent lower than in Dallas. Tenant movement in Fort Worth was considerably smaller than anywhere else in the state.

Small business and residential construction was reported under way in Houston, due to difficulty in obtaining loans to finance the projects. Several large homes above the $50,000 margin have been built and one home costing $75,000 was reported. Rents there have increased 10 per cent on all classes of houses and apartments within the last year, the survey showed.

Vacant houses were reported filling rapidly in El Paso also due to the separating of families under a single roof. Rentals which have dropped as much as 35 per cent have steadied, but no increase was revealed in the survey.

The El Paso chamber of commerce reported construction of new buildings and houses has been at a standstill the last few months. Only permits granted within the last three months were for remodeling purposes, the reports stated.

Austin was reported doing some building in both business and residential sections. The percentage of construction, however, was small. Rents there were reported increased 10 to 15 per cent.

In several of the cities rents for apartments were being increased by agreement between owners and operators, the real estate boards and chambers of commerce reported. The effect of the agreements was largely felt in Dallas.

Ford Analysis Shows More Ready Money

DEARBORN, Mich., April 5. — Definite indications that the public has more ready money, is spending more freely and demanding "something just a little better" is seen in an analysis of sales of Ford cars during March, it was stated today at the head offices of the Ford Motor company.

This analysis showed that 60 per cent of all Ford cars ordered during the month were of the de luxe type, only 40 per cent of the orders calling for the standard types, the statement said. The ratio is in contrast to 1933 when the percentage of de luxe cars was only 44 per cent.

Since the first of the year the ratio of de luxe to standard cars has been rising steadily, according to the study of Ford factory orders. In January the sale of de luxe types was 55 per cent of the total. In February the percentage of de luxe cars had grown to 56 per cent. Orders in March call for 60 per cent, and advance requirements for April are 70 per cent de luxe types.

Inasmuch as the list prices of the de luxe cars are $40 higher than those of the standard types this encouraging symptom is taken to indicate that the public not only is spending in greater volume than last year, so far as new motor cars are concerned, but that it is also purchasing something beyond bare transportation requirements.

The differential between the list prices of the Ford standard and de luxe types covers the additional equipment on the de luxe types, including safety glass not only in the windshield but also in all doors and windows, as well as dual horns, tail-lights and sun visors, and other de luxe fittings.

Cisco Horse Wins In Arlington Race

Peacock Girl, one of the seven horses, entered in the Arlington Downs race by George H. Coyne of Cisco under the name of Cisco Stables, took first place in the sixth race of over a mile Friday. Peacock Girl won by one and one-half lengths from Adobe Post and Prince Toklong, placing second and third respectively.

Mr. Coyne took his string of thoroughbreds straight to Arlington from Exton Downs, Houston, where he topped several first places.

NO BALLOT UPON REPEAL SEEN AS McDONALD HELP

By GORDON K. SHEARER
United Press Staff Correspondent
AUSTIN, April 5. — Candidates for governor came to a sudden and disconcerting realization this week that James E. Ferguson, master politician, materially aided the campaign of C. C. McDonald at the Houston meeting of the state democratic executive committee by keeping prohibition repeal off the democratic primary ballot.

Repeal was saved as a leading issue for a contemplated run-off primary battle between Attorney-General James V. Allied, a "dry", and McDonald, a "wet".

One close to the administration councils predicted this week that McDonald would get 75 per cent of the so-called "Ferguson vote" and that strength with votes gained in his strenuous personal campaign will put him in the run-off with Allied. The state vote is wet, he asserted, and will elect McDonald in August over a "dry".

No Special Issue
Why keeping repeal off the primary ballot helps McDonald is the thing that has come slowly to other candidates. If it were on the ballot so voters could give the legislators a direct mandate on the question, there would be no special issue over whether a candidate were "wet" or "dry".

Having no opportunity to register the popular will by adopting or rejecting a repeal will naturally seek an indirect method of notifying the legislators what the state wants by seeking to elect a "wet" governor. Opponents of state repeal will as naturally rally around the "dry" candidate.

A repeal proposal can still be placed upon the ballot at the June meeting of the executive committee. The Ferguson construction, however, is that this can only be done on petition of a tenth of the democratic voters. Maury Hughes, as chairman of the executive committee, contended the committee could voluntarily do so, and could be forced to do so by petition.

Losing No Time
By June most of the campaign alignments will have been made. McDonald is losing no time in consolidating his strength. Already he has visited 140 of the counties of Texas. He drives from hamlet to hamlet, sees everybody he can, and is off to the next community.

For himself, former Gov. Ferguson achieved a long cherished ambition at Houston. He was elected to an office for the first time since he left the governor's office, Sept. 25, 1917, through impachment. Subsequently and successively he was defeated for governor, president of the American Party ticket), and for U. S. Senator.

His nearest approach to being elected anything was when he became a candidate for chairman of the convention to select wet delegates to cast the state vote for ratification of natural prohibition repeal. After a spirited battle with Joe Bailey, Jr. and other "Young Democrats," Ferguson withdrew, nominated McDonald, and McDonald became chairman.

At last he has a certificate of election, good for entrance to the national democratic committee. Whether it will expire with the holding of the state democratic conven-

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN Bran Relief

Look out for headaches, loss of appetite and energy, swollen abdomen, sleeplessness. Frequent these are warning signs of common constipation. If neglected, health may be impaired.

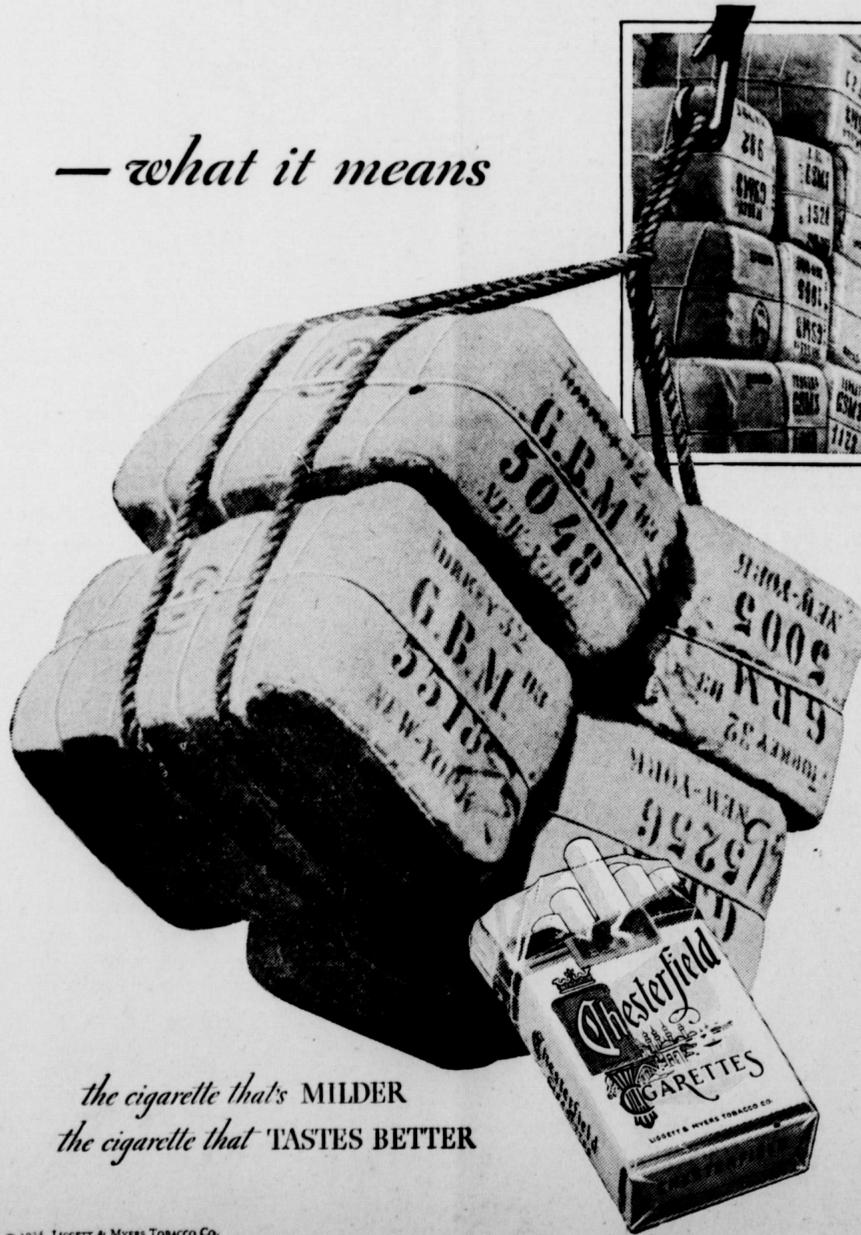

Today, you can rid yourself of common constipation by eating tempting cereal. Laboratory show that Kellogg's ALL-BRAN makes "bulk" and vitamin B regular habits. ALL-BRAN is rich in iron for the blood.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is like that found in leafy vegetables. Within the body, it forms a mass. Gently, this clears out intestinal wastes. How much better this is than taking medicines!

Two tablespoonfuls of ALL-BRAN will usually overcome types of common constipation. Chronic cases, with each morning seriously ill, see your doctor. ALL-BRAN makes no claim to be a cure all.

Serve ALL-BRAN as a cereal in cooking. At all grocers the red-and-green package, by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

W. B. Starr Says "Modified Plan" for Peanut Control Probably Will Be Used

Supplementing a press release issued by the United States department of agriculture dealing with measures under consideration for peanut acreage control for 1934, W. B. Starr, Cisco, a member of the federal board, said this week that, lacking the legislation desired, the "modified plan" described in the release would probably be adopted.

He urged growers to use caution in deciding upon the amount of acreage to be devoted to the crop for the reason that to great production might compel the control board to allocate a considerable portion of the crop for oil production only.

The "modified plan" for sustaining the minimum price of peanuts, as established on January 27, this year, would allow growers to plant what acreage of peanuts would not conflict with any program for control of other crops upon which they have entered into contract with the secretary of agriculture, he said.

Department's Statement

The press release from the department of agriculture is:

Measures for protecting the peanut industry against low returns which may result from increase in production, are under consideration by the agricultural adjustment administration, it was announced.

The control board set up under the recently established marketing agreement for peanut millers, has requested the administration to adopt, as early as possible, some program for control of production or marketing. Relatively favorable prices brought by the 1933 crop and the release of labor and equipment from production of other crops in the south may, it is feared, bring about increased production, a surplus, and low prices, unless some protective steps are taken.

One plan, tentatively approved by the control board, would be to determine the amount of the 1934 crop which could be moved into cleaning and shelling channels without danger to the minimum price schedules established in the marketing agreement, and to apportion the growing of the amount among states, counties, and individuals on the basis of acreage and production in a later period to be specified.

Excess Peanuts For Oil

Under this plan millers would be permitted to purchase, for cleaning and shelling, only peanuts grown under such allotments. Peanuts from farms without allotments, or peanuts grown in excess of allotments, could be marketed only to be crushed into oil or for other purposes than cleaning and shelling, and would therefore bring approximately oil prices.

In its present form this plan includes production control features that can be applied only to products listed as basic agricultural commodities in the agricultural adjustment act as it now reads. The plan, as now being considered would therefore be applicable only in the event that proposed amendments to the act, making peanuts a basic commodity, are passed by congress.

"Modified Plan"

A modification of the plan, also under consideration, would be directed wholly toward market protection, with allotments based on a flat percentage of acreage and prospective production in 1934, instead of upon acreage and production during a selected base period. The allotments would be made as in the plan formerly discussed, from the amount of the 1934 crop which could be used for cleaning and shelling without endangering the minimum price schedules in the marketing agreement. The allotments would be made by counties and pro-rated among growers in each county. This plan it is pointed out, would not penalize growers who have already made plans to plant peanuts in 1934, as they have done in a large portion of the peanut region.

Under either plan, minimum prices would be paid only for the allotted proportion of the crop, and the surplus would be used for oil, or purposes other than cleaning and shelling.

Made Public Letter

Mr. Starr also made public a letter he addressed to Texas senators and Rep. Tom Blanton, urging a duty on imported oils—crude and refined. He pointed out that the peanut market "used to feel the support of the demand for oils," but that the heavy crops of cottonseed in recent years and increasing importation of copra and other foreign oils has taken this support away.

At the rate of importation indicated in a recent census report, said he, foreign copra oil would take the place of two billion pounds of peanuts. Since the national production of peanuts is only about 900,000,000, he wrote, you can see that this imported oil can have a great influence on the price of peanuts.

CHEVROLET CO. INCREASES WAGES TEN PER CENT

Effective at once the Chevrolet company has announced a 10 per cent increase to all factory employees. Prior to this increase, the average worker was paid seventy per hour or $5.60 per day. This was one of the highest in the country and now that the average worker receives $6.30 per day, Chevrolet is one of the highest in the industry. Most manufacturers in the scale, says H. C. Howard, zone manager of the Dallas zone. Chevrolet's adherence to and full cooperation with NRA policies is indicated by the fact that in its plants, exclusive of the Chevrolet Motors units, who supply them production parts, they now employ 66,000 workers as compared with the peak production periods of 1929. During 1930, through the average employment was 50,000 men—better than a 120 per cent increase in the number employed in 1924 over 1923. Now with the hours worked increased from 40 to 36 per week, it will be further expansion in number employed. In the month of March, just closed, Chevrolet produced approximately 100,000 units and will produce in excess of 125,000 in April, the first months' production since it was said.

DESDEMONA

Bill Seed and baby of Eastland visited her uncle, John O'Rear, her aunts, Miss Mollie O'Rear, Miss Annie Daniel.

Erred Stover visited his parents, and Mrs. S. T. Stover from Saturday to Saturday. He is now attending the Baptist seminary at Ft. Worth.

Revival services at the Baptist church closed Sunday night with a splendid service and the presence of five members. The songs were led by Rev. Addington, and Mr. Worth, with Mrs. Addington, pianist, Rev. Z. C. Chambliss, who did the preaching.

Mr. Kountze was an Eastland Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Tufford and two children moved over from Gorman and are now living at the Ashes' home. As they lived at Gorman a long time already have a number of friends who are glad to welcome them here.

Mrs. S. E. Ritchey and son, of Gorman, were visiting friends here Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill McKain and little son of Kilgore spent a few days here last week with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. John McKain and Mr. Mrs. G. S. Bruce.

Mrs. Dewey Jones, Mrs. R. L. Black and Mrs. Ellis Rouse drove over to Rising Star Tuesday and attended the Baptist Workers council.

Mrs. W. E. Barron was guest speaker at a delightful luncheon at the Methodist church at Eastland Wednesday. The occasion was "Guest Day" of the Missionary Society and was attended by a large number of members and visitors.

Our whole town was shocked Monday to hear that Mrs. Ed Parks who lives two miles east of town, had been seriously burned when her steam pressure cooker exploded. She was rushed to the West Texas Clinic hospital at Ranger where her condition is still very critical. Hosts of friends are hoping she may recover.

Many friends here were sorry to learn of the death of Mrs. R. E. Elliott at her home in Barnsdall, Okla. a short time ago. Mrs. Elliott was the mother of Mrs. P. M. Kuykendall and often visited here before Dr. and Mrs. Kuykendall moved to Ranger. She was loved by all who knew her. Mrs. Kuykendall had the sincere sympathy of hosts of Desdemona friends.

The attractive home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Ashburn, two miles west of town, was the scene of two very enjoyable gatherings last week. On Tuesday afternoon Mrs. Ashburn assisted by Mrs. C. M. Bratton, entertained the "21" Study club and on Saturday Mrs. Ashburn and Mrs. I. N. Williams gave a noon luncheon and bridge party. Both of these occasions were notable for the attractive decorations and appetizing refreshments. Mrs. Cecil Williams, of Olden who formerly lived here was a guest at the luncheon.

On Monday afternoon of last week, Mrs. W. E. Barron was hostess for the social meeting of the Methodist Missionary Society. The home of Mrs. Barron was attractively decorated in spring colors. Games and contests were all suggestive of Easter and were much enjoyed as were also the refreshments served by the hostess.

Mrs. Winfield Gallagher is receiving the sympathy of her many friends because of the death of her father, Dr. J. H. McCoy who passed away at his home in Tahoka, a short time ago. Dr. McCoy was a leading physician here during boom days and hosts of friends were sorry to hear of his death.

Cotton Supply and Demand Figures Are Overshadowed by Policy Uncertainty

AUSTIN, April 5 — For the time being, usual supply and demand figures are overshadowed in importance in the cotton market by the uncertainties surrounding the adoption of a permanent cotton policy in the United States, according to Dr. A. B. Cox, director of the University of Texas bureau of business research and well-known cotton expert.

"It is generally recognized that cotton dominates the agriculture of the South, but its predominance in the commercial and industrial life of the region is not generally appreciated," he said. "Drastic curtailment of cotton acreage as a permanent policy must inevitably cause far-reaching changes in sources of employment in the cotton region. Thousands of agricultural laborers, especially negro and Mexican cotton choppers and pickers, will be forced immediately to seek relief rolls and will stay there until a comprehensive plan of rehabilitation can be worked out. It will likewise throw out of employment thousands of unskilled and skilled workers at gins, cottonseed oil mills, cotton compresses, and many other industries and trades dealing directly or indirectly with cotton. If restriction of cotton acreage is to be a permanent policy, then the government must be prepared to set up thousands of subsistence farms throughout the cotton belt.

Transfer Influences
"Acreage released from cotton will in the main be planted to food and feed crops which in the long run will tend to cut off one of the Middle West's best markets for these things on the one hand and create a labor condition which will attract manufacturing enterprises from the north and east. The ultimate influence of drastic cotton acreage reduction program will transfer its influences throughout the country, especially to the corn belt and the manufacturing East."

In his monthly cotton balance sheet, Dr. Cox said:
"Total supplies of cotton in the United States March 1 amounted to 11,668,000 bales, compared with 13,634,000 bales a year ago, 14,337,000 bales two years ago, and 8,345,000 bales four years ago. The decrease in the supply of cotton in the United States and for American cotton in European ports and afloat to Europe was 1,603,000 bales.

Indicated Advance
"Calculated changes in the index price of cotton based on these changes in supply indicate an advance of 221 points in the price of New Orleans spot cotton over this time last year. When changes in the index number and the spinners margin are put into the price calculation, the calculated cent price of New Orleans middling 7-8 inch spot cotton is 0.65 cents. Measured in gold content, the dollar has depreciated 40 per cent whereas the price level has advanced only 23 per cent. Cotton, because it is an important export commodity, should rise faster than the general price level where the advance is due to depreciating value of currency. However, if it should advance to the full limit of

WASH OUT 15 MILES OF KIDNEY TUBES

Win Back Pep...Vigor...Vitality

Medical authorities agree that your kidneys contain 15 MILES of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. They should pour out thru the bladder 3 pints of fluid a day which contains 4 pounds of waste matter. If you have trouble with too frequent bladder passages with scanty amount causing burning and discomfort, the 15 MILES of kidney tubes need washing out. This danger signal may be the beginning of nausea, headache, leg pains, loss of pep and vitality, backache, leg pains, swollen feet, getting up nights, lameness, swollen feet and ankles, rheumatic pains and dizziness. If kidneys don't empty 3 pints every day your body will take up these poisons causing serious trouble. It may knock you out and lay you up for many months. Don't wait. Ask your druggist for DOAN'S PILLS.

DOAN'S PILLS... a doctor's prescription... which has been used successfully by millions of kidney sufferers for over 40 years. They give quick relief and will help to wash out the 15 MILES of kidney tubes. But don't take chances with strong drugs or so-called "kidney cures" that claim to fix you up in 15 minutes. Your common sense will tell you that this is impossible. Treatments of this nature may seriously injure and irritate delicate tissues. Insist on DOAN'S PILLS... the old reliable relief that contains no "dope" or habit-forming drugs. Be sure you get DOAN'S PILLS at your druggist. © 1934, Foster-Milburn Co.

NEW POLITICAL CONSCIENCE

Substantial gains in poll tax payments and exemption certificates issued are shown in reports made by tax collectors on the last day in March as required by law. In all major cities of the state great increases in voting population are disclosed. Four such indicate a combined vote of 300,000. The tendency holds true in the lesser communities and on down the line to the farm hamlets which, to judge from the poll tax records, have been stirred with a political conscience that is significant. According to the estimates of the political statisticians and prophets there are 1,250,000 poll tax receipts and exemption certificates in the hands of Texas men and women whose citizenship, ages and periods of residence entitle them to register their will at the ballot box this year. During the depression and the New Deal year Americans have become government-conscious. They are preparing to state the community, state and national mind unequivocally in terms of votes this summer and fall. The sign is encouraging.

It makes no difference what the form or character of government is—provided it is the form and character desired and controlled by the public mind. Democracy means government of the people, for the people and by the people. As long as the fact of government conforms to that definition, as long as the people and the ballot box are supreme, the country is politically in safe hands. When it violates that principle, when the voter shirks his responsibility and gives his political destiny into the hands of the organized bloc and the dominant minority there is danger ahead. The political conscience that the depression and the New Deal have inspired is a salutary condition. In the white heat of the battle of the ballots it is hard for demagoguery and insincerity to hide.

SPRING

Bountiful rain yesterday and today. Bountiful rain a fortnight ago, dispelling the last vestige of drought and soaking the soil to its capacity. Nature is not permitting the New Deal to take all the stage and give all the show. She is putting on a mighty attractive act of her own in west Texas this spring. "Back to the farm" and "live at home" are two familiar phrases of the so-called depression period. Farmers have been advised and assisted to produce subsistence crops and to turn from dependence upon a single cash commodity to living within their acres. Unemployed city dwellers have been pointed toward the land and told to emulate the example of the farmer and stop living out of paper sacks and milk bottles.

There never was a more encouraging time in which to turn soilward. A bad March has delayed the season but a generous April seems determined to overtake the delay with moisture that will send crops booming out of the soil. Spring is always a pleasant surprise. One day, inked with winter, you look at bare fields in warm sunshine and wonder if a blight has not settled upon them. There is no sprig of green. Trees and shrubs are dull and gray, the whole landscape folded in a dead and cinerous silence of defeat. But the next morning the field larks whistle you to a miracle. Lances of new sunlight glitter along avenues of bright and magic green. A million dewdrops sparkle. Dead twigs have unfurled a witchery of dress and bare acres are vivid with carpet that was laid overnight. There is wine in the air.

The beauty of spring is in the magic of its resurrection.

TEXANS AND PWA ROAD PROJECTS

A total of 16,897 men are at work in Texas on 307 highway projects. In other words, Texans who are holding down jobs in the public works administration highway construction number more than the figures submitted by any one of the 47 remaining commonwealths. California has second place—5895 men at work on 85 projects. Most projects have been completed in Minnesota where 90 different roads have been finished. Texas ranks seventh in the number of completed projects with 68 roadway finished. Col. Ike Ashburn of Houston is seeking an additional fund for highways from a forthcoming PWA allocation. He is confident that $400,000,000 of the anticipated appropriation may be awarded for highway construction. More than $339,000,000 of the first $400,000,000 has already been allotted to various road projects.

The eminent Dr. William A. Wirt, the somewhat noted Gary schoolmaster, is responsible for this glittering lump of logic: "Governments cannot force production and the payment of wages." A year ago there were 12,000,000 Americans, men and women, in the army of the unemployed. The Gary schoolmaster was silent. He did not suggest a program that would lift "the starving ox out of the ditch." No doubt, men of his calibre are committed to the gospel that it is cheaper to "slay the ox in the ditch than it is to feed him." As an American citizen he is entitled to his day at court. Free speech, a free press, freedom of thought, freedom of worship, freedom of action and a free ballot are linked together in this republic.

FRANCE SAID TO BE ON THE BRINK

"We are here, Lafayette." This was the slogan of American tourists in the days that have departed. It is different now. "Pinch of gold prices and fears of further riots are exercising a depressing effect on business in France." France repudiated payment of interest on war loans. France had been reaping a golden harvest every year from the pockets of American tourists. This prize of the yellow stuff is said to have been as high in value as $300,000,000 a year. American women poured out their dollars for French importations of hats and bonnets and lingerie. Sons and daughters of Uncle Sam "had to see Paris or die." All this has been changed. As for the prime minister of the republic, he is insisting that the franc must be maintained, but concedes that "taxes must be diminished if business is to survive." French officials and the banking brotherhood freely predict that devaluation of the franc, king of gold bloc currency, is a possibility unless public finances are put in order. France has a third of the gold of the world stored in the vaults of the republic. All this before the declaration against the payment of interest on the American war loan.

"OH BOY---IT WON'T BE LONG NOW"

Another Roar Against High Salaried Men

By HUGH NUGENT FITZGERALD.

There are $1,000-a-year men; there are $5,000 and $10,000 and $15,000-a-year men; there are $50,000-a-year men; there are $100,000-a-year men; there are $250,000-a-year men. If a man has the executive capacity and the brain and the vision which increases the earnings of dividends of any business from a peanut stand to a corporation with world-wide ramifications, isn't the laborer worthy of his hire? Along legitimate lines and not along gouging lines? Hundreds of big business executives were paid from $50,000 to $250,000 in 1933. At least this is the substance of a report submitted to the congress by the federal trade commission. Willard R. Sheehan, a movie magnate, and Charles M. Shaw, head of a steel corporation, drew $250,000 salaries in 1933. Arthur M. Loeb, another movie magnate, drew down two salaries totaling more than $300,000.

Moreover, the report revealed that Big Business was slashing the salaries of its big executives just as it was cutting the wages of its other white collared employes. It is admitted that the size of some of the salaries indicated the industrial corporations of the nation "are getting back on their feet." A score of executives drew more than $1,000,000 in salaries and bonuses during each of the first two years covered by the report "but these in many cases had dwindled down to less than one-fourth of these amounts by 1933."

If the great industrial corporations are getting back on their feet, so to speak, it is a very excellent sign. It means the employment of workers who had been idle; wage payments to all concerned instead of government relief in labor or a straight dole; in the increase of buying power on the part of wage workers, white collar or otherwise.

Millions of workers were carried during the winter months. Where it was impossible to furnish the idle with employment heads of families and their dependents were furnished the necessary supplies—including housing and clothing and medicine and medical attention. It had to be done. This is said to be a humane civilization. The heart of America is all right. The people of America are the most generous time has known. They carried on through most devastating economic crisis in the history of the world. They are marching forward. They should not permit demagogues or mad anarchists or communists or publicity-seekers on the lunacy fringe to control their movements or the determination of the same and the patriots to assist in bringing into the harbor of safety the head skipper and the ship of state.

HERR DOKTOR WIRT TO BE PLACED ON THE SPOT

Washington has let it be known that the democratic managers have planned to make the house inquiry into charges by Dr. William A. Wirt "as short and snappy as possible." It should be made "as short and snappy as possible." Freedom of speech governs in this land of ours; freedom of action; freedom of the press and the Herr Doktor of the steel town of Gary who superintends those who teach the young idea how to shoot should be given "a run for his money," as the gambling talent places it, and then sent back to his salaried job in Hoosierland. He has spoken his little piece. He crawled out of bed to find himself famous—or notorious, and there is a very slight difference between fame and notoriety. Their seekers make the headlines. They spit their propaganda into the face of the public. Then, like the flowers of spring, some of the guild wither and then fade away and others continue on the deck of action as the gifted makers of political or economic fiction as old as the art of printing. It cannot be eradicated while the art of lying is one of the fine arts and fabrication for political or financial effect is an industry that has been in existence for thousands of years.

A professional propagandist is more dangerous than the craziest red and has more hypocrisy in his make-up than all the diplomatic charlatans of the world that is dead or a civilization seeking control in the world that was born when the old or departing world changed its face. Plain facts, based upon truth, are demanded by the American people. They should be the masters—ever working along the lines of complete sanity and a liberal as well as sound interpretation of the constitution and constitutional liberty.

Estelle closed her eyes. They were 21—two long years ahead. They knew they could not hope for Jim Field's consent to the marriage and that if they married without his consent no obstacles would stop him from seeking them out and finding them. Estelle it was who had seen the wisdom of waiting the two years and who had insisted upon it. There were times when she wondered at her own strength in making this decision but even then she clung to it.

At the edge of Morro Castle Billings stepped from the car he had hired for the morning. "Ouch!" he groaned loudly. Then he climbed the hill stiffly and, on the way up, acquired a guide.

A smartly attired, hair-faced woman and a slender girl passed by, walking briskly and easily. "The young one is the daughter of Mr. James O'Neil," said the guide, nodding toward the couple.

"Is that so?" "Yes, she is the beloved of Juanito, the fighter. They met in the Parque."

"You don't say so?" Suddenly Billings was interested. "Ah, yes! But Havana smiles upon the affair. Her father, Field, is very bad. The daughter is an angel and Juanito a good, good young man!"

"About how old is he anyway?" Billings asked as if to make conversation. "Twenty-one or two, I would suppose. Ah—he is a wonder! A Stoic, a Spartan. He shakes the head to many ladies who seek his hand as does an absent-minded individual, vaguely troubled by the buzz of a fly. 'Always Juanito remain in love until she comes. Than—ah! He is captivated. He succumbs completely! It is a pretty affair and all wish him luck.'"

"Why doesn't he go to the old man and ask for the girl?" Billings questioned between puffs. The coquina-paved grade was steep. Twenty-one or twenty-two—that was the right age. Hang it, he was getting excited about the affair! His heart had plunged as he heard the boy's age.

"Go to him? To Field? Field would buy a nobleman for his daughter to wed! Good or bad, it would not matter."

"Hum—" said Billings. They were in the fort then and under the shadow of a great wall. "Here," the guide began oratorically.

Estelle was standing. "Then you'll be ready at 11?" she questioned.

"Yes, darling." "It's a good time for the trip. A grim day is best."

"Poetic little lamb, aren't you?" Marcia asked, amused. Estelle turned away with more color than usual in her cheeks. She was accustomed to being laughed at for such remarks and the laughter always made her feel lonely and young and misplaced. Pablito was the only one who did not laugh at her. He understood and often said the same sort of things himself.

Thinking of him for a moment, Estelle closed her eyes. They were 21—two long years ahead. They knew they could not hope for Jim Field's consent to the marriage and that if they married without his consent no obstacles would stop him from seeking them out and finding them. Estelle it was who had seen the wisdom of waiting the two years and who had insisted upon it. There were times when she wondered at her own strength in making this decision but even then she clung to it.

Estelle looked quickly at Marcia who was studying the late-in-the-season list of arrivals in Havana and did not see the look. When Estelle went on reading her hand shook a little. What would Marcia recognize him if she were to see him? Estelle, continuing her reading, only half-conscious of the words, thought she probably would. She spoke up then. "This is evidently from a close friend of yours. She signs herself Jane."

Marcia was instantly alert. "Give it here, child," she ordered sharply. "I didn't know there was a letter there from her."

"The envelope was addressed with a typewriter," Estelle explained. "She is secretary to Mrs. I. Browning Bishop."

"I HAVEN'T read much of it," said Estelle. Marcia's eyes narrowed, moving down the page and coming upon the mention of Pablito. Estelle's too quickly given reassurance told that she had seen the words. It was unfortunate Marcia could not, at the moment, think of an acceptable explanation so, with outward calm, she finished reading the letter, resolved to request Jane hereafter never to use that name again—at least in writing.

Estelle was standing. "Then you'll be ready at 11?" she questioned.

"Yes, darling." "It's a good time for the trip. A grim day is best."

state has to pay much more than it would if its checks were good when issued. But salaried employes have no such protection. If the state paid nominal interest — 4 per cent — on its warrants, the warrants would be at par, and bidders would not have to figure in six to eight per cent for protection, and the state would not be gyping its workers. But it's perhaps expecting too much of 181 men that they should use as much business judgment as the operator of a hamburger stand.

On the theme of legislative business ability—the legislature is now throwing away one million dollars of the people's money, though under a situation that requires both legislative and voters' action to remedy. Rep. Harold Kayton, chairman of the house highways and motor traffic committee, has called to the attention of the legislature without recommendation that the state could refinance the $100,000,000 of county and district road bonds assumed by the state, and save one per cent a year interest on them. A constitutional amendment would have to be submitted by the legislature. It would of course be adopted by the voters, if submitted.

The state has a good many other millions of dollars of old bonds it had failed to pay — because they were owned by its subdivisions and departments. The recent legislature found it necessary to provide for paying back interest on these, and taking steps toward remedying the default, before it could issue saleable relief bonds. All these could be included in the general refinancing authority.

Local districts and counties already have been stopped from issuing bonds for state highway purposes.

Today's Pattern

Chic Contrast

The all-important style note of today is contrast. In this frock, it is shown in a separate yoke, collar and belt—Judy it in black and white or navy and red combination.

Pattern—2908 x

HERE is a strikingly dashing costume that can be made up in mixtures, rough silks or satin. It is designed in six sizes, 16, 18 and 20 (with corresponding bust measures of 32, 34, 36, 38) and also in 4 and 42. Size 16 requires 4 3/4 yards of material plus 1-4 yard 32 inches wide for the tie collar and contrast.

To secure a pattern and simple sewing chart of this model cut this sketch and mail it to Julia Boyd, 103 Park Avenue, York, N. Y., together with 15 cents in coin. Be sure to enclose separate sheet of paper, your name, full address, your size, the number of this pattern (No. 2908x), and mention the name of this paper.

The ROMANTIC RUNAWAY

BEGIN HERE TODAY PABLITO, a handsome youth, became a fugitive when he fled from Key West to Havana with BEAT and ESTELLE, two sisters. Pablito has been accused of a murder he did not commit. He is in love with ESTELLE, the daughter of rich Jim FIELD, but feels he has risked himself from her father.

In Havana he becomes celebrated as a boxer and he and Beat open a gymnasium. With ALBERT, a titled Englishman, searching for his son, Pablito and Estelle meet again. They admit their love for each other. MARCIA, the daughter of the man who has remained silent, fearing scandal.

Billings, in Havana, suspects Pablito may be Estelle's son. He decides to pay a visit to Morro Castle.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XXXI

THE morning that Billings decided to visit Morro Castle was the same one on which Marcia Treadway said to Estelle, "I suppose I really ought to see the place."

The sentence ended in a yawn. Estelle said eagerly, "I'll order the car for 11 if that suits you."

"Oh, I suppose it will," Marcia agreed. "Hand me that newspaper, will you, child? And—read my letters for me. I don't know why people want to waste so much ink and paper anyhow."

Estelle settled to open and read Marcia's letters. At the third one she paused. It was from the one friend in whom Marcia confided. This friend—k nowing Marcia's quest though not the purpose behind it—had written, "Have you found your Pablito by any chance?"

Estelle looked quickly at Marcia who was studying the late-in-the-season list of arrivals in Havana and did not see the look. When Estelle went on reading her hand shook a little. What would Marcia recognize him if she were to see him? Estelle, continuing her reading, only half-conscious of the words, thought she probably would. She spoke up then. "This is evidently from a close friend of yours. She signs herself Jane."

FORD COMPANY WON'T INCREASE PRICES OF CARS

DETROIT, Mich., April 5 — Increase in wages and material costs brought automobile price increases yesterday by all units of the General Motors corporation. Almost at the same time Henry Ford announced that these factors would not cause his company to raise the selling prices of its cars.

Asserting that his company was operating profitably under present conditions, Ford said that if necessary to avoid price increases the Ford Motor company would expand its own production of materials used in car manufacturing. The Ford company several weeks ago let contracts for an enlargement of its steel producing facilities at the Rouge plant.

"I have found," said Ford, "that higher wages do not mean increased costs and if our material prices go too high we will start making our own."

It long has been the expressed Ford philosophy that higher wages make for more efficient workers and that "better materials are always more economic in the end."

"It is pretty certain," he said today, "that everybody will be looking for a plan to reduce prices before we can say that business is getting back where it should be."

PLEASANT HILL

Rev. Elwin Skiles of Cisco filled his regular appointments here Saturday night, Sunday and Sunday night. All services were well attended.

A large group of young folk from this community attended the district B. Y. P. U. meeting at the East Side Baptist church in Cisco Sunday afternoon.

An all-day rabbit drive was enjoyed by the local men and those of the surrounding communities Friday. At the noon hour the women served a delicious dinner at Mr. Kinard's tank, where the school children and teachers met them for lunch and an afternoon outing. After lunch, the children enjoyed an egg hunt, and the remainder of the afternoon was spent in playing games.

There Was the Rabbit, Down 'Buzzie's' Back!

"Buzzie" Dall had been wondering where the Easter rabbit had gone, so was amazed when Magician Thurston reached right down his back and pulled the bunny out! Thousands of children gathered for the annual egg-rolling on the White House lawn burst into cheers at the sight. Left to right in the picture are Jane Thurston, the magician's daughter; "Sistie" and "Buzzie" Dall, President Roosevelt's grandchildren; Thurston, and Mrs. Roosevelt. Behind Miss Thurston is John Muir, White House head usher.

TWO FEATURES OF INTEREST AT PECAN MEETING

Two events of particular interest to pecan growers will take place at Gorman Tuesday, April 10, when the Brazos Valley Pecan Growers association opens its annual spring meeting at the Ritz Theatre at 9:30 a. m. The visits to the Kirk and the Dr. Blackwell native groves which are being developed, will demonstrate principles of thinning, topping, budding and grafting. Visitors will have opportunity to witness these jobs in their various stages of development, it was announced.

The visit to the Dallas Jobe orchard will show possibilities of a planted orchard on upland sand. This orchard is also interest with fruit trees which have been a paying investment before the pecan trees required the space occupied by the fruit.

Owners of native pecan timber will find it to their advantage to attend this meeting and pick up all possible information relative to the development of the native groves, said County Agent J. C. Patterson. And every owner of Eastland county farm land will find some points of interest suggesting the possibility of planting a grove that will in time make the owner independent, he added.

George B. Overton to Be Buried at Abilene

Funeral services will be held at Abilene this afternoon for George B. Overton, Cisco, salesman for the West Texas Utilities company, who died there last night after a brief illness. Overton, who was 32 was visiting at Abilene when he became ill Saturday.

He came to Cisco about a year ago, being transferred here from Albany. Prior to that he had served with the company at Cross Plains, Texas.

He was born in Mexico, July 22, 1902, and at the age of seven moved to Sweetwater, where he spent his boyhood. He was married last February 3 to Miss Thuy Tillotson of Rotan, the ceremony taking place at Altus, Okla.

Survivors besides his wife are a small daughter by a former marriage; his father, Dr. J. W. Overton of Dallas; his mother, Mrs. Louise Overton of Sweetwater; three half-brothers, C. E. Seifert of Rio de Janeiro; Oscar Seifert of Paral, Mexico; F. F. Seifert of Abilene, and a sister, Mrs. Guy Morris of Sweetwater.

The funeral services were to be held at 3 p. m. with Dr. T. S. Knox, pastor of First Presbyterian church, officiating. Burial will be made in a local cemetery.

Program

The program for the meeting was announced by Mr. Patterson as follows:

PROCESSED CHEESE USE SKIMMED MILK

Take 3 gallons of separated milk when it is curdled, heat to temperature of 100 degrees F, stirring most of the time. This makes the ordinary cottage cheese. Hold at this temperature for 30 minutes and continue stirring. Squeeze drier than customary for cottage cheese. Take 1/2 cup butter, salt to taste (about 1/2 teaspoonful), 1 tablespoonful soda and mix thoroughly into the cottage cheese. Let stand 2 hours. Add 1 cup sweet cream and put all into a double boiler and heat while cooking until a smooth consistency has been formed. Remove from the fire and add 1/2 cup of sweet or sour cream to which has been added cheese coloring as desired (about 1/2 to 3/4 teaspoonful). Beat until smooth and turn into buttered dish to mold.

This complete process must be finished within one day. The cheese should season for about five days. It may be covered with paraffin was it to be kept. This cheese is mild cheese with very little flavor and for that reason needs an added flavor. Pimientos, caraway seed or a small amount of strong flavored cheese melted and added, give a good flavor. A small size can of pimientos, or a quarter pound of strong flavored cheese, gives an excellent flavor.

RACE CLOSE IN ATTENDANCE CONTEST

The Missionary Society of the First Methodist church met at the church Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. W. G. Powell in the chair.

After the opening song, "Draw Me Nearer", the 19th Psalm was read, and Mrs. Andrew led in prayer.

Mrs. W. G. Powell and S. H. Nance were elected delegates to the annual meeting to be held in Fort Worth April 13-19. Reports on the attendance contest being waged between the circles were given with Circle 2 in the lead with 161 members for the first quarter. Circle 3, second with 152 and Circle 1 with 78. For the second quarter, Circle 2 has a lead of 8 points over the other two circles.

Those present Tuesday were: Mesdames W. G. Powell, L. E. Vaughn, Fred Hayes, Northrup Lane, George Winston, Mary Andrus, S. H. Nance, R. S. Elliott, T. J. Dean, John Shertzer, Frank Turner, J. W. Merkett, J. W. Thompson, and J. T. Fields. Visitors from the Twelfth Street Methodist church were Mrs. Robert Farmer and Mrs. T. Richardson.
