FOR CURBING SPECULATION

A vast reservoir of credit is awaiting recovery. The federal reserve board, in its monthly review issued this week, said an unprecedented volume of cash reserves has been built up by federal reserve banks, a volume so great that past experience indicates it will be more than enough to supply probable business needs. The total reserve supply of cash is estimated at $1,600,000,000. That is cash. What such a volume of excess reserves means in potential circulation volume can be seen from the ratio that one billion dollars in cash means a possible credit volume of from 10 to 15 billions of dollars. Industry and commerce will find a great reservoir of credit awaiting them on the road to normalcy. Confidence is the key that will unlock this resource, and confidence is rapidly being restored to the American business picture. Indeed, what the federal reserve board is more concerned about now is an over-dose of this confidence. The board has profited from 1929. Unwarranted speculation is the danger which it sees in the presence of such a volume of reserves awaiting employment. Once the credit volume begins to move into commercial and industrial enterprises, there is serious likelihood that the quickening influence of this movement will encourage over-extension and rankly speculative ventures which would eventually get out of hand and lead to some such giddy financial whirl as precipitated the depression in 1929. The board proposes a brake that will curb such tendency, in asking congress for a law to make the reserve requirements for member banks increase in the ratio that the turnover of a bank's deposits increases. In other words, the more rapidly the bank's deposits were turned over in the form of loans, the higher would rise the amount of cash reserves required. The object of such a geared schedule would be to discourage speculation by retarding speed in the use of the depositors' funds. So-called speculation is the most inconsiderate use of funds, and it has no place in a legitimate program for the use of other people's money. Consequently, it is the last resort in financial operations, and is encouraged by an abundance of money under conditions which minimize the possible dangers. The necessity of increasing the volume of reserves in proportion to the volume of credit extended would be expected to serve as a governor which retards an engine above a certain speed, by reminding the bankers of the presence of these dangers. Thus a means would be placed in the hands of the federal reserve board to keep the credit situation under control and thereby prevent speculative impulses from running away with the economic wagon into another disastrous wreck.

UNEMPLOYMENT INSURANCE

Taxation of payrolls to provide an unemployment insurance fund is said to be favored of the administration for passage this session. Purpose of the measure pending in congress is to encourage state and local insurance funds by providing for remission of the tax to firms contributing to such funds. Unemployment insurance is on the way. It is not as practicable as it seems. A world of experience will be gained before a workable system will be established. What form it will take in that outcome is uncertain; but any form that permits an idle worker to be indefinitely supported at the expense of the rest of the workers is headed for failure. For the workers will provide the insurance, directly or indirectly, out of their wages. The most satisfactory type of unemployment insurance is individual savings. These may take the form of investment in the company which is the employer. Many concerns, notably the Humble company which has interests here, encourage employee stock ownership by attractive savings plans of payment. The result works both to the advantage of the company in a more loyal personnel and to the employe in helping him to save systematically. Employment insurance and old age insurance are two modern social objectives. The latter is an issue in the campaign of at least one Texas candidate for governor. Both are in the theoretical stage. Both would lay heavy and perhaps costly duties upon the government. Both threaten to interfere with the time-honored, conservative privileges of the individual to lay up individual savings. A worker who would contribute five per cent of his pay, directly or indirectly, to an unemployment insurance pool, would have to compromise his individual savings program to the community program. It may be the logical step. Many, many people, whose life savings were swept away in the economic disaster of the last four years, would welcome putting the responsibility for their sustenance in old age upon the state. We are travelling in an interesting direction, to say the least.

ANOTHER FEATURE OF THE NEW DEAL

Speaking of the so-called "forgotten man," a federal corporation is being formed to control co-operative farm communities for the benefit of stranded populations of rural and urban centers. Col. Lawrence Westbrook is working out the plan for the communities which will be similar to the subsistence homestead project directed by the public works administration. It is said that thousands of acres have been offered the government as gifts or a nominal price for the farm communities. Most of the projects designed to care for people stranded in cities, oil fields and coal fields, "who have some agricultural background," will follow the general outline of the Woodlake community operated in Trinity county (Texas) by Texas Rural Communities, a corporation. Woodlake community project was worked out by the Texas relief administration and placed into operation last Christmas when 100 families were moved from Houston. Each of these families was provided with three acres of land and a house costing $1800. The settlement is in two units a short distance apart and the project is expected to amortize itself in 15 years.

According to the Texas colonel, he is not trying to do all the thinking for the community colonists but the government is trying to give them an opportunity to do their own thinking. He believes the selecting of locations acceptable to industrial settlements is better than trying to induce industry to go to the community. His theory is that the best plan is to get the stranded to the community center and industry will follow.

"BACK HOME AGAIN IN INDIANA"

"Time a Vindicator of the Actions of Man"

By HUGH NUGENT FITZGERALD

For the first time in American history cotton control is the law of the land—that is, it is the decree of the New Deal administration. Former Gov. Ross Sterling must have chuckled when he read in the public prints that President Roosevelt had signed the Bankhead law. Now the Bankhead law provides for a Texas yield of the fleecy staple of something like 3,000,000 bales, and a marketing yield for the American world for the year of 10,000,000 bales. Ross Sterling served a term of two years as governor. He had guided a plow pulled by a mule in his boyhood. He was born on a farm. As governor of Texas he recommended to the lawmakers an acreage control law. His viewpoint was that a bumper crop of cotton brought poverty to the growers—while a lean crop, or rather a fair crop of cotton—brought prosperity to the growers as well as prosperity to the mercantile and manufacturing industries of Texas. Sterling had to take the staff. He was very severely censured by those who did not believe in state control of the acreage planted to cotton. He was denounced as a fathead, ignorant of the constitution, the bill of rights and the fundamental principles of a democratic form of government. His control measure failed. It was tossed aside as a "direct violation of the constitution." Now the Bankhead acreage and production measure is the law of the land—unless it is to be given the acid test by the chief justice and his eight fellow justices of the supreme court of the United States—and declared unconstitutional—or otherwise. Many of the critics of Sterling nominated him for a place in the hall of dumbbells. Now what are they going to do with the illustrious skipper of the American ship of state and the democratic members of the American congress? Are they dumbbells? Are they fat-heads? Or, are they wise statesmen of a new civilization and a New Deal administration?

TEXAS SILLIMAN EVANS MARCHES ALONG

Silliman Evans has transferred himself from Washington to Baltimore. He resigned the post of fourth assistant postmaster general to be the vice president of one of the great casualty and surety companies of America. A Washington correspondent is authority for the statement that a salary of $17,500 a year is attached to the new job. Vice President John N. Garner advised Evans to get out of politics, to accept the Baltimore offer and to lay something aside for a rainy day for Mrs. Evans and the two little Evanses.

And why not? A salary of $17,500 a year in a non-political job should be much more tempting than a salary of $4,000 a year as a servant of the people and even within the range of the paper bullets of propagandist newspaper writers or critics of the party in power.

Silliman Evans was born and reared in the little town of Joshua, Johnson county. His father was a Methodist minister, widely known throughout Texas in the days of his activity. His school days over, Evans became the secretary of a former editor of the Fort Worth Record. He is a born newspaper writer. In less than six years after his start he had been promoted from time to time until he was the managing editor of the Record. In the closing days of the Wilson administration he was appointed a member of the staff of Maurice Egan, for many years during the republican administrations American minister to one of the Scandinavian countries. He did not like the job. He served a year or more. He resigned and returned to the United States, and became the Washington correspondent of a Texas newspaper. It is a long call from Joshua in the county of Johnson to a $17,500 a year job in the Orle city. His Texas friends, under the sky of the fourth estate, are proud of the advancement of the boy who fought his way from Joshua to the capital of the nation.

A rash of boastfulness has broken out in Cisco which threatens to put piscatorial lying into the shade. Some of the stories told thus early have a boldness of conception and are told with temerity to put the most accomplished raconteur of fish tales to shame. Even bankers, ordinarily reserved and conservative people, have been infected with the epidemic.

When J. A. Elliott becomes prideful over his vegetable garden and is ready to admit it is the best in Cisco, you have some reason to put faith in his enthusiasm. After all, Mr. Elliott consistently has raised vegetables of superior quality. His tomatoes, his turnips, his beans and his radishes have annually attained distinction. His pride, therefore, is both sincere and pardonable.

But when Tom Stark grows so excited over his garden as to maintain that the cabbages, although planted only last January, are as big as dinner plates, one figures it's time to start the scientists on the hunt for a new bug. There's a microbe on the loose, you can bet.

The manner in which Tuesday's precinct beer election was advertised has been the subject of considerable comment. The common attitude is a resentfulness against the silence in which the election was cloaked. The resentment was mutual. The dry side of the prohibition argument felt that if the vote had been advertised it would have prevailed. On the other hand the wet sentiment expressed concern over the possibility it would have slipped up on.

The situation emphasizes the fact that most of us are democratic only to long as we get what we want.

Elections ought to be held in the white glare of publicity. Every person entitled to a vote ought to register his opinion. That is the only chance for democracy. If we don't have faith in it, we ought to change the form of government.

The following yarn was relayed to me from Nick Miller, who heard of it at Fort Worth oil operator friend, via Dick Lauderdale:

A wise-cracking salesman, toast-mastering an oil men's banquet at Fort Worth, remarked:

"Now, I can't make a speech. I never was any good at speech-making. I was born in the country and was brought up in the country. As a matter of fact, I was born and raised so far back in the country that we had to grease the wagon twice coming to town."

He paused, while a ripple of laughter coursed through the diners.

"But," he added, "most of you guys passed my house on the way to town."

Up to the Daily News this morning came the long and the short of the Nance Motor company to register protest. Rex Page and Roy Huffmeyer descended upon the editorial sanctum to insist the fact into this cranium that the company has a team in the playground baseball league. Of course, he blamed T. C. Williams, boss of the league, for not appizing me of the fact and promised to include it in the next listing of league members.

The Nance team tried a round with the Granmar school kids yesterday afternoon. The next time they play the schools kids, said Page and Huffmeyer, they intend to go to bat first so that at least three of them will get some batting practice.

AUSTIN, April 26 — The dark spectre of a block of negro votes in this year's democratic primary has started a little flurry, mostly among the candidates.

It seems that some dusky candidate of the ebony crown of the late Goosenek B 111 McDonald has started the agitation. Candidates were asked in telegrams from a Southeast Texas negro for appointments at Austin, when the negro vote was to be broached for discussion by this spokesman of the race.

A round-up of political headquarters at Austin failed to find any arrangement made for the "conference," but the negro had announced he would come to Austin to see the candidates or their campaign managers.

Under the long-drawn-out Nixon case from El Paso, the United States courts held the democratic party powerless to bar negroes from the primaries. State court decisions held political parties had power to prescribe qualifications of their members.

The gesture, if not of negro voters at least of those who might want to try to build them into a political force, brought to attention of all the candidates the fact of a potential block of votes that might be big

BEHIND THE SCENES IN WASHINGTON

By RODNEY DUTCHER

WASHINGTON—Notwithstanding steady business improvement, the New Deal situation on President Roosevelt's return seems more serious than at any time past.

The atmosphere of hushed expectancy has been firmly based on knowledge that certain groups were in for a bad licking. You can't be sure in which groups—or how bad.

The repetition may be tiresome, but a fundamental factor is that old conflict between the conservative business crowd, which insists government must keep its hands off if there's to be sustained recovery, and the social reformers, who believe business must be held in check if we're to avoid another big crash with all its misery and losses.

NRA and AAA are under more than the usual fire. Conservative Democrats—the powerful element which fought Roosevelt's nomination and has been pretty well ignored here since—are more vocal and active.

The automobile truce may be breaking down and many other strikes threaten. Even the Republicans show signs of life.

Roosevelt must decide whether to back up General Johnson in abandoning the NRA licensing power, whether and how far to support the stock market bill, securities act, Wagner bills, communications bill, the Senate's tax boost, food and drug bill, his own Brain Trust and other liberal supporters.

Many of his men in Congress, facing elections, urge him to rock no more boats.

Brain trusters fear that not only their proposals may be but that they may be tossed board as a result of congressional attacks against them.

The silliness of Dr. C. charges doesn't comfort much.

CONGRESSIONAL CROSS

Senators say it's a toss-up whether they'd rather not have Secretary Frances Perkins or Governor Pinchot on the stand.

Miss Perkins irritates the talking down to them and knowing more about the Red-headed Mrs. Pinchot—she flips off disconcerting answers to their best questions.

"Now if General Johnson making a failure," began Senator Walcott of Connecticut after she had attacked son and NRA before the committee.

"He's not making a failure," snapped Mrs. Pinchot. "He's making a citizen" to discuss government with his employer.

"And as a free citizen, Fred, doesn't he?" demanded Mrs. Pinchot.

OLD-TIMERS IN POLITICS

You to watch out for a break of both red-baiting, religious bigotry in this year. They anticipate pie of underground rumors of administration here is packed with Communists and that Jim Farley is filling postal service with Catholics.

FARMERS HAVE INTEREST RATES CUT IN HALF

Federal Land bank and land bank commissioner's farm mortgage loans in Texas have refinanced farmers' indebtedness upon which annual interest charges formerly ran from 5 per cent to 9 per cent in most cases. It was shown in an analysis by the Farm Credit Administration of more than half the loans closed from June 1, 1933, through March 31, 1934.

The highest rate farmers now pay on the mortgages into which these debts have been refinanced is 5 per cent and on a large proportion it is only 4-1/2 per cent. The savings resulting from reduced interest charges applies, of course, not merely to one year but to the life of the loan.

The analysis dealt only with interest rates paid on first and second mortgages, and upon short-term commercial bank loans. It did not deal with other classes of debt or many other untraceable items bearing upon the cost to farmers of carrying their debts, such as loan and appraisal fees. The total of loans closed from June of last year through March of this year in Texas was about $67,400,000.

While the bulk of the loans refinanced carried rates from 5 per cent to 9 per cent, in a number of localities and in the cases of a number of loans, interest rates of 10 per cent were paid by farmers on their loans.

YOUNG ARTISTS TO SHOW WORK IN PITTSBURG

PITTSBURGH, Pa., April 26—An international show of creative arts and crafts by secondary school students of Europe and America opens today in the fine arts galleries of Carnegie Institute. Scholastic, national high school weekly, arranged the exhibition with the support of the Carnegie corporation of New York.

The American section includes over five hundred pieces of sculpture, pictorial art, textiles, jewelry, pottery and other arts and crafts. This section is composed wholly of work submitted by schools of 700 towns and cities in competition for the Tenth Annual Scholastic awards, national prizes for creative work by secondary school students in art and literature.

200 Pictorial Pieces Educational ministries of eight countries accepted Scholastic's invitation to the show. More than 200 pictorial pieces were received from the school departments of Copenhagen, Berlin, Bavaria, and Vienna.

There was competition between the American and European pieces for prizes. Winners of the 1934 Scholastic awards will be announced April 28.

The international exhibition of high school art remains on view at Carnegie Institute until May 13. During the summer and next winter it will tour the country under the auspices of the American Federation of Arts.

Six Students Honored Six American students were honored with individual exhibitions of their work. They were:

James Russell Bingham, 16, Oakmont, (Pa.) high school, Helen White, teacher, 13 pieces.
Bob Evans, 17, Austin high school, El Paso Texas, Neil Scott, teacher, 12 pieces.
Joseph Grilleto, 17, Connelly trade school, Pittsburgh, Pa., D. Frank Sullivan and R. S. Kennedy, teachers, 19 pieces.
Jacob Landau, 16, Overbrook high school, Philadelphia, Pa., S. Gordon Smyth teacher, 23 pieces.
Alvena Seckar, 18, Allentown (Pa.) high school, Anna L. Schadt, teacher, 18 pieces.

Robert Alvin White, 17, Arsenal technical schools, Indianapolis, Ind., Sara Bard, teacher, 10 pieces.

Although Scholastic has been conducting the high school art exhibition for six years, this is the first time that its scope has been international. Next year, many more nations have promised to be presented in the show.

Bernie Ann McCrea, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Yancey McCrea, was reported today to be critically ill with pneumonia. Yancey Jr. has also been confined to the house on account of illness.

standings will be cleared up and thousands of tenant-farmers will be given a few acres around their dwellings, upon which to raise those things necessary to self-sustenance. The rural rehabilitation program will be open to families that have made arrangements for crop production and also to those who are being allowed by their landlords to live on land removed from crop production, as well as to families not low living on farms, but whose life experience has been agricultural.

The procedure will be directed to provide the family with such essential necessities of operating a farm as may not now be available to them. Food and clothing will also be supplied until the family's own efforts meet these needs.

Large-scale shifting of families from town to town, or from one part of the farming territory to another, is not contemplated. The first job, said Director Dresden, is to care for destitute families where they are.

"Work Relief" To help the rehabilitation family make repayment of indebtedness to the relief agency, "work relief" will be initiated. These projects must be undertaken in such places, and to such an extent, as will meet the needs of the families to be rehabilitated. That is, the number of families to be aided and the time and manner in which they should be employed, for their own best interests, will be the fundamental consideration in determining the location and character of the projects.

State and local rehabilitation committees will be named to assist in putting the program into effect and it is expected that volunteer committees in each community will be chief factors. The county agricultural agent and home agents will be asked to advise in setting up practical plans of farm procedure for each family and supervision will be provided to see that the plans are effectively carried out.

Women will be expected to take an important part in planning and directing this progressive program. While the prime objective is to assure that destitute families are enabled to provide themselves with food and clothing, this is considered only the foundation upon which to build higher standards of rural life in all lines. Both individual and community interests will be fostered. Work projects, said Miss Dresden may be directed toward beautifying the community, on the ground that the greatest poverty in many of the smaller towns is their poverty of beauty.

Director Dresden pointed out that local plans and studies are being made by federal emergency relief administration officials at Washington with this in view.

JOB RELIEF BEING SHIFTED TO STATE

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 26—The federal emergency relief administration gradually has shifted the individual states a considerable share of responsibility in finding jobs for the millions of unemployed.

The civil works administration, which last January afforded jobs for 4,000,000 workers, has been in process of demobilization since March 31, while alternative relief and employment organizations have taken up the load.

With resources of $975,000,000 Harry L. Hopkins, administrator of the federal emergency relief administration, inaugurated new policies.

Projects Transferred All desirable local and state civil works projects in operation on the date of suspension of the civil work administration program (March 31) were to be transferred to the work divisions of the emergency relief administration. Persons employed by CWA were eligible for the emergency relief administrations although the general aim was re-employment in total expenditures.

The new program of work was to be carried forward in towns and cities having a population of more than 5,000 and in counties or subdivisions determined by the state emergency relief administrations to be predominantly urban or industrial.

This program responded to President Roosevelt's recommendation that the national relief directed to the aid of distressed families in rural areas, stranded population, and the unemployed in urban centers.

WASH OUT 15 MILES OF KIDNEY TUBES

Win Back Pep...Vigor...Vitality Medical authorities agree that your kidneys contain 15 MILES of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. They should pour out through the bladder 3 pints of fluid a day which contains 4 pounds of waste matter.

If you have trouble with too frequent bladder passages with scanty amount causing burning and discomfort, the 15 MILES of kidney tubes need washing out. This danger signal may be the beginning of nagging backache, leg pains, loss of pep and vitality, getting up nights, lumbago, swollen feet and ankles, rheumatic pains and dizziness.

If kidneys don't empty 3 pints every day and get rid of 4 pounds of waste matter, your body will take up these poisons causing serious trouble. It may knock you out and lay you up for many months. Don't wait. Ask your druggist for DOAN'S PILLS . . . a doctor's prescription . . . which has been used successfully by millions of kidney sufferers for over 40 years. They give quick relief and will help to wash out the 15 MILES of kidney tubes.

But don't take chances with strong drugs or so-called "kidney cures" that claim to fix you up in 15 minutes. Your common sense will tell you that this is impossible. Treatments of this nature may seriously injure and irritate delicate tissues. Insist on DOAN'S PILLS . . . the old reliable relief that contains no "drugs" or habit-forming drugs. Be sure you get DOAN'S PILLS at your druggist. © 1934, Foster-Milburn Co.

S.-JAPANESE FRANK SPEECH IS ADVOCATED

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 26 — (Special Staff) — Japanese ambassador proposed today that Japan and the United States deal with each other straight from the shoulder to mutual suspicions and attain mutual goals. The ambassador said Japan's so-called "hands-off" policy is an honest effort to do that. "The Japanese and you Americans are much alike after all that we do not have much difficulty in understanding each other," he told the United States in an exclusive interview. Japan, he continued, has restated its Chinese policy in a friendly but firm fashion so that Japan's position might be known. "We simply wanted to point out," he said, "that conditions in China such as that loans, military aid and other outside assistance are likely to increase political instability. There had been some particularly disturbing indications of that recently. As a very close neighbor to China with large and special interests at stake, we have said this: we ought to be consulted in every distant country or any plans some advance to China that might provoke military action or otherwise disturb the peace and order. That is a frank and fair statement."

JAPAN HURTS DEFIANCE
PEKING, China, April 26 — China defied open defiance at Japan today which at the same time a government spokesman claimed that Washington was sending a note to Japan demanding an explanation of the Japanese proclamation of independence of China.

BRITISH GOVT. SERVES STATEMENTS
LONDON, April 26 — The British government is closely observing the statements that Japan will make in naval treaties when the London treaty expires, and also intends to double her air force in the next few years. Anthony Eden, lord of the seal, told the house of commons today.

1 Per Cent Drop in Poultry Shipments

AUSTIN, April 26 — Interstate shipments of poultry and eggs in Texas during March totaled 1,862 cars, against 1,868 cars in March, a decline of 21 per cent, according to the University of Texas bureau of business research. Poultry shipments for the two periods were 1,022 and 1,033 cars respectively. The price of swine will be the same as that of last year. Book tickets are now ready and there is quite a saving by buying tickets in book form. Manager Albert Hunt said.

Several Flee Prison Farm at Sugarland

SUGARLAND, April 26 — Several prisoners escaped from the Central prison farm near here shortly after 8 a. m. today. Capt. Buck Finagan, in charge of the farm, could not be reached, but officials said they believed two or four men had climbed an arm truck and ridden to freedom. Army officials said it would be impossible to know exactly how many had escaped until the crew had been brought in from the field and the roles checked.

POOL TO OPEN AT LAKE CISCO NEXT SUNDAY

The swimming pool at Lake Cisco has been washed out and a force of men are cutting weeds and clearing up around the premises preparatory to opening up next Sunday. A large number of cars bringing visitors from all parts of the state come to the lake every Sunday and the indications are that the swimming season will start off much sooner this year than usual. The price of swims will be the same as that of last year. Book tickets are now ready and there is quite a saving by buying tickets in book form. Manager Albert Hunt said.

Dothan 14 to 4 for Sale of 3.2 Beer

Returns from the Dothan box in Tuesday's beer election were reported from the county clerk's office as 14 for to 4 against legalization of the sale of the brew in precinct four of the county.

Neither Scranton or Pleasant Hill were heard from. Cisco's vote of 279 for and 172 against add to the Dothan vote for a total reported vote of 293 for legalization and 176 against. The votes at Scranton and Pleasant Hill were not believed sufficient to overcome this majority of 117 in favor of the legal sale. Unconfirmed reports were to the effect that Scranton cast about 50 votes total, with only three favoring the sale. Pleasant Hill cast a less vote, it was said.

Stab Wound Fatal To Strike Picket

ST. LOUIS, April 26 — Leo Stanford, stabbed while picketing a Fisher Body and Chevrolet Motor company plant here today, died in a hospital.

Shortly after his death, a laborer who continued to work at the Chevrolet plant despite a strike, surrendered to police and said he stabbed Stanford in self defense.

SHIPMENT OF CATTLE DURING MARCH JUMPS

AUSTIN, April 26 — Shipments of Texas livestock to Fort Worth and interstate points during March totaled 3,212 cars against 3,462 cars during March, 1933, decline of 7 per cent, according to the University of Texas bureau of business research. "More significant, however, than the change in total March shipments as compared with last year is the change in shipments of the various classes of livestock," the bureau's report said. "Cattle shipments for the two periods were respectively 2,127 and 1,858 cars, a gain of 14 per cent; calves, 497 and 390 cars, a rise of 4 per cent; hogs, 373 and 721 cars, a drop of 93 per cent; sheep, 365 and 493 cars, a slump of 62 per cent.

"For the first three months of the year shipments aggregated 10,396 cars compared with 9,113 cars during the corresponding period last year, an increase of 14 per cent. Cattle shipments for the comparable quarters were 6,450 and 5,111 cars, an increase of 26 per cent; calves, 1,709 and 1,334 cars, an increase of 28 per cent; hogs, 965 and 1,354 cars, a decline of 29 per cent; and sheep, 1,272 and 1,314 cars, a decline of 4 per cent.

20 Per Cent Above
"Shipments of cattle and calves to the Fort Worth market during March were more than 20 per cent above those of a year ago while receipts of Texas hogs and sheep at this market were only half those of last year. There was a sharp falling off of all classes of Texas livestock to the Los Angeles market compared with a year ago; hog shipments having fallen to only one-third of the number shipped to this market last year.

"Sharp increases occurred in shipments of sheep to California, other than Los Angeles, to Chicago, Kansas points, New Orleans and other Louisiana points, Missouri, and Iowa. These increases were about 50 per cent. There was but little change from last year in shipments to East St. Louis, Omaha, and other Nebraska points and Kansas City — the latter market having received less than one-sixth as many as in March, 1933.

182 Cars of Hogs
"Receipts of hogs in Texas from other states totaled 182 cars, against 121 cars in March last year, an increase of 50 per cent. The bulk of these receipts came from Kansas, Nebraska and Oklahoma. "Different sections of the state show considerable variation in shipments from last year. The northern half of the panhandle showed a 73 per cent increase in shipments of cattle but a drop of 50 per cent in shipments of calves, 65 per cent in hogs, and 60 per cent in sheep; while in the southern half of the panhandle there was but little change from last year. A decline in shipments of all classes of livestock occurred in the district lying adjacent to the cap rock of the east. Shipments of sheep from this district fell off 80 per cent from last year. Fewer cattle but a greater number of calves and sheep were shipped from the Trans-Pecos country, while shipments from the Edwards plateau were larger for all classes of livestock.

Prices Rising
"In spite of the large increase in shipments of cattle, not only from Texas but from other livestock areas prices have been rising steadily and substantially. Especially has this been true for the better classes of livestock. This situation is in marked contrast to the conditions which prevailed during the fall and early winter season. Moreover, the price outlook for the better classes of beef is constantly growing brighter. "On the other hand, hog prices continue to be depressed even though the slaughter under Federal inspection in March was the smallest since 1917 and was 16 per cent less than in March 1933. It is obvious therefore that the current depressed hog prices are caused largely by factors other than the supply situation. If the hog processing tax of $2.25 per 100 pounds is included, the cost of hogs to slaughterers during March was well above $6 per 100 pounds or more than 50 per cent greater than a year earlier."

Public Schools Are Retained in Rating

TUCSON, Ariz., April 26 — Police today pressed a widespread search for the abductor who kidnaped June Robles, 6 daughter of a wealthy pioneer Arizona family and demanded $15,000 ransom. The child was seized as she was returning from school yesterday. The kidnaper threatened her with death unless the money was paid within two days. The girl's family had made no contact with the kidnapers, they reported.

Three suspects, a salesman and two university students, who were arrested last night, were released when officers were convinced they had nothing to do with the case.

Young Democrat Clubs Sponsored in Nat'l Program to Make Party Self-Sustaining

By RAYMOND BROOKS
AUSTIN, April 26 — A forty-year plan of putting the democratic party on a self-sustaining basis, as to votes, was announced here by the motive behind Pres. Roosevelt and Chm'n James A. Farley's sponsorship of the new Young Democrats of America.

"The party, to continue in power, cannot rely on disaffected republicans or recalcitrant independent voters," one of the leaders of the Young Democrats Texas chapter said. "Pres. Roosevelt realized that to carry forward the victory, the democratic party must reach out to a large number of new votes, not alienated, and not heretofore active. The Young Democrats of America hoping for vigorous and effective units in all states, is the answer."

This element, "with young democrats from 21 to 90 years of age,"—meaning people brought into active political affairs for the first time, regardless of age, was expected to build permanent foundations for party leadership in all states, and particularly in the uncertain states that sometimes go republican and sometimes democratic. The statement acknowledged this present democratic victory to have been based on the reputation of republicans of their own party leadership. The national Young Democrat movement already has absorbed an intangible earlier Texas organization, and begun to mobilize members with the same definite objectives as the personal parties in other nations. Only they haven't adopted black shirts, or brown shirts, or begun marching in parades. On this basis, the Young Democrat state organizations have laid down rigid restrictions governing their leaders. These officers and state committeemen are forbidden, while holding Young Democrat party posts, to becoming candidates for office, or take prominent part in leading or advancing the candidacy of others. They have to resign their party posts first. The one commitment is that the organization will do its best to elect all democratic nominees everywhere.

HAMILTON IS PLEASED WITH JAIL NOTORIETY

DALLAS, April 26 — Obviously considering himself a hero, Raymond Hamilton talked freely of his escapades today in face of announcements by state prosecutors that they would seek the death penalty for Texas' second ranking desperado.

The 20-year-old outlaw was not a cringing, frightened boy as he looked out from his cell upon a heavily armed guard determined to bar any possible attempt at escape.

It was a "field day" for the almost beardless youth who was captured late yesterday after the robbery of the First National bank of Lewisville. He was the most popular occupant of the jail.

There were news reel cameramen, newspaper photographers, reporters and a host of officers, all bidding for his favor. And he revelled in the attention paid him.

Under the bright camera lights he posed like a veteran trooper. When asked to smile he dispelled all thoughts of his future fate and flash a grin that encompassed his thinly drawn face.

"I Can Take It"
"Well they've got me now, but I can take it," he said.

Freely he discussed many of the crimes for which he received a 263-year sentence, the longest in the state's history.

District Atty Robert Hurt announced today he would ask a Dallas county grand jury to indict Hamilton under the habitual criminal statute and would demand a death penalty. Hurt said he was positive of obtaining a death sentence for Hamilton.

Hamilton's capture climaxed one of the greatest manhunts in the history of the southwest. The arrest followed a wild 40-mile automobile chase over muddy roads after the Lewisville bank had been robbed of approximately $1,000. The chase ended at Howe, Texas, where Hamilton found a highway blocked by heavily armed possemen. He surrendered without resistance as did his companion, T. R. Brooks, 21, Wichita Falls.

Quarrelled With Barrow
Hamilton will be charged with the robbery February 27 of a bank at Lancaster of $4,138. Dallas officials said, Clyde Barrow and Bonnie Parker also are sought for the robbery.

It was over division of loot from this robbery that Hamilton and Barrow quarrelled and terminated their outlaw partnership, Hamilton told officers. Barrow insisted on giving Bonnie an equal share. Hamilton objected and withdrew from the longstanding association.

Hamilton admitted he robbed a national guard armory at Ranger, Texas, and obtained a machine gun which he later used in several robberies, including the Grand Prairie bank holdup.

"In that job," he said, "two old heads helped me. I won't say who they were, but my brother Floyd was one of them."

Raymond emphatically denied that Clyde Barrow and Bonnie Parker engineered his sensational break from the Eastham state prison farm last January.

BARROW REPORTED SEEN AT QUANAH
QUANAH, April 26 — City, county and federal officers patrolled highways in Hardeman and neighboring counties today on the lookout for Clyde Barrow, reported seen in Quanah, late yesterday. A local filling station operator informed officers that he saw another man and a red-headed woman stopped at his station for gas and oil.

Spanish Crisis Looms As Cabinet Resigns

MADRID, Spain, April 26 — The cabinet of Premier Lerroux resigned Wednesday and a political crisis of major importance was precipitated at the time that fall doors swung open to thousands of monarchist prisoners under a new amnesty bill. ## BUSINESSLIKE AID PREPARED FOR FARMERS

AUSTIN, April 26 — Many farm families in Texas were cut off from various federal emergency relief rolls on April 1st, but a new program will be put into immediate effect for aid of a different and more businesslike kind, it was announced today by Director Marie Dresden of the Texas Relief commission.

New relief for most families will be directed mainly toward helping them to become self-sustaining. Families not suited to farm projects, may be continued on work projects, or where no other course is open, will be given direct relief.

During the government's program relating to reduction of certain crops in Texas, many tenant farmers became displaced only to find themselves on the relief rolls of the state.

Director Dresden is of the opinion that many landowners who let tenants go, due to inability to care for them, would be now willing to have those same tenants, on an equal number of them live on their farms under the jurisdiction of the Texas Relief commission's rural rehabilitation division.

It has been pointed out that widespread misunderstanding of acreage reduction contracts has led to the release of many tenant-farmers. Officials of the administration believe that when brought to the attention of land-owners, these misunderstandings will be corrected.

FARMERS HAVE INTEREST RATES CUT IN HALF

Federal Land bank and land bank commissioner's farm mortgage loans in Texas have refinanced farmers' indebtedness upon which annual interest charges formerly ran from 5 to 9 per cent in most cases. This is shown in an analysis by the Farm Credit Administration of more than half the loans closed from June 1933, through March 31, 1934.

The highest rate farmers now pay on the mortgages into which these loans have been refinanced is 5 per cent and on a large proportion it is only 4 1/2 per cent. The savings resulting from reduced interest charges applies, of course, not merely to one year but to the life of the loan.

The analysis dealt only with interest rates paid on first and second mortgages, and upon short-term commercial bank loans. It did not deal with other classes of debt or with other untraceable items bearing upon the cost to farmers of carrying their debts, such as loan and renewal fees. The total of loans closed from June of last year through March of this year in Texas was about $67,400,000.

While the bulk of the loans refinanced carried rates from 5 per cent to 9 per cent, in a number of instances and in the cases of a number of loans, interest rates of 10 per cent were paid by farmers on their debts.

BANKHEAD BILL BECOMES LAW AS FDR SIGNS

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 26—President Roosevelt signed the Bankhead cotton control bill Saturday and embarked the nation on its first experience in compulsory crop limitation.

The act restricts this year's cotton crop to 10,000,000 bales by levying a tax of 50 per cent on production in excess of quotas assigned by the agricultural adjustment administration. Tax exemption certificates will be issued to cover amounts within quota limits.

Sen. John Bankhead, of Ala., and his brother, Rep. Wm. Bankhead, co-author of the measure, were present as Mr. Roosevelt signed the bill. The president presented the pens he used to the Bankhead brothers.

Critics of administration charged that the Bankhead plan involves "regimentation" and is a step toward national "collectivism." It is an arbitrarily imposed padlock on the right of an individual to grow as much as he chooses, they said.

The bill's supporters replied that the cotton belt demanded such legislation that no thought has been given to applying the compulsion principle to other crops, except tobacco; that the act will operate only for the rest of this year unless producers choose to continue it.

Farm administration, it was said, expect an early court test of the act. Secy of Agriculture Henry Wallace supported the measure only after questionnaires distributed by the AAA demonstrated the feeling of the cotton belt. Wallace is not certain the producers fully realize what they were asking.

"I can foresee a multiplicity of suits and claims which might arise," the secretary said.

Wallace also is afraid that the high value of the tax exemption certificates may foster "a tendency to short the emphasis on cotton production to an emphasis on the production of exemption certificates."

HOME PLANS OF GOVERNMENT TO AID THOUSANDS

By CARROLL KENWORTHY
United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON, April 26.—The government is spending $25,000,000 to promote purchase of land and building of new homes for thousands of its citizens in the long-range program for "Resettlement of America."

A special emergency division of government known as "the division of subsistence homesteads" has been created for this purpose and already has begun preparations on 32 sites in 20 states.

The purpose of this enterprise is to place portions of the population now economically "stranded" by shifting tides of business, or farm developments on tracts of land where they largely can be self-supporting.

Homestead Tract
As the title of the work indicates, they are expected to secure at least "subsistence" from garden, cow, poultry and other food which they can raise. The "homestead" tracts average about four acres in size.

This program is only a part of the sweeping readjustment of population to the land undertaken by President Roosevelt and his "New Deal" advisers. Other aspects include the return to nature of 40 to 100 million acres of land now producing surplus crops, the reforestation of denuded watersheds and creation of new timber reserves, grazing lands and national parks.

By mid-April the government had launched resettlement homesteads for 4,310 families, selecting for them 17,240 acres of land. About 30 other projects were under consideration with announcement expected imminently.

"Stranded" Communities
Communities "stranded" by the closing of industries or mines are examples. Secretary of Interior Ickes, whom this work proceeds, said that approximately 300,000 coal miners have little prospect of ever attaining permanent work again in their communities, because of the exhaustion of closing of mines.

Large numbers of persons attached to copper, lead, zinc and petroleum production communities are in a similar situation, officials said. Likewise some industries dependent upon timber are in a similar situation.

Sterling Announces 3rd New Oil Sand
HOUSTON, April 26.—Former Gov. Ross S. Sterling, admittedly broke when he left the governor's mansion 16 months ago, announced his third new oil sand discovery within a year here this week.

A new deep well in his Hogg Brothers farm No. 2 gave the old West Columbia field at Brazoria county hopes for a new oil boom. The 700-barrel well was brought in at 5,200 feet, 2,200 feet lower than the oil sand which made the field the third largest in the state.

Sterling organized his corporation early last year in an effort to recoup his oil fortune allegedly lost during his term as governor.

DEGREE ORDER IS PROTESTED BY TEACHERS

By RAYMOND BROOKS
AUSTIN, April 26.—The Texas Classroom Teachers' association, in state meeting here, has protested a recent order sending non-degree-holding teachers back to college or ultimately ousting them from their jobs.

The association endorsed part of the same regulation that required all new teachers to have degrees before being employed in the grade schools or high schools.

Regulations it discussed were those recently adopted by the state committee on classified and accredited high schools, and promulgated by the state Power to enforce the regulations lies in the right to withdraw or deny affiliation to the high school of a system whose grade schools do not comply. The state committee is made up of representatives of the colleges, high schools, grade schools and supervisory agencies.

The classroom teachers objected that the new order requiring them to complete additional work within specified time violated their existing permanent certificates, was retroactive and thus illegal. They further objected that the teachers have been forced to work for reduced pay, often paid in scrip or not paid at all, and have been compelled during the depression often to carry such an overload that it would be unwise to compel them, even when individuals can afford it, to undertake a heavy summer school program.

The resolution further protested that many regulations are not now enforced, as to limits on teacher load and asked that effectiveness of the new regulations be delayed until more normal conditions are restored. The group asked permission to appear at the next meeting of the committee to discuss the effect of the new regulations. The resolutions were announced by Laura L. Allison, president, Uлуу Meek, vice president, and Katherine Cook, secretary of the state association.

BAILEY TAKES UP CHALLENGE IN TOGA RACE

DALLAS, April 23.—Congressman Joseph Weldon Bailey, Jr., Monday donned his fighting togs and actively entered his campaign for the senatorial post now held by Sen. Tom Connally.

Accepting a challenge of administration support, plainly evidenced in Washington a few days ago when President Roosevelt slapped Connally on the back and referred to him in glowing terms of friendship, Bailey said:

"I saw with my own eyes the president's friendly gesture toward Connally when the Texas Full House Special delegation called on him. There is no doubt as to its intent and purpose. The president did it because of Connally's vote on the independent office bill, and it was a gesture promised him because he voted to override the cause of his vote."

Bailey voted to override the president's veto of the measure restoring part of the pay out to government employees. Sen Connally voted to sustain the veto.

"The talk in the cloakrooms the day before the vote in the senate was that Connally would vote to override," Bailey said. "Before the vote was taken Vice President Garner, Silliman Evans and Jesse Jones conferred with him. Connally voted against overriding because these gentlemen wanted him to."

"The question," he added, "is whether the people of Texas are going to run their own affairs of whether they are going to say who is to be their United States senator, or whether Jesse Jones, the vice president, Silliman Evans and his friend, Amon Carter, are going to do the dictating."

Bailey said he did not blame the president for making an open gesture to Connally. His fight was against what he termed undue interference of a small group, he said.

There are many different ways of cutting tobacco. A long time ago, it used to be cut on what was known as a Pease Cutter, but this darkened the tobacco, and it was not uniform. The cutters today are the most improved, modern, up-to-the-minute type. They cut uniformly, and cut in long shreds. The tobacco in Chesterfield is cut right—you can judge for yourself how Chesterfields burn and how they taste.

YOUNG DEMOS TO MEET MAY 4-5 AT DALLAS

CORPUS CHRISTI, April 26.—Invited by their part in the new and encouraged by the apparent success of their organization, approximately 5,000 young people of Texas will meet in a state convention at Dallas today and Saturday, May 4 and 5, and the most interesting political get-together ever staged in the Star state is certain to result. The older heads of the party, since realizing the potential strength of the youthful movement, are passing the word around that the Young Democrats and what they do in Dallas.

During the past six months 175 counties out of 254 have been organized, according to present indications, and a club in the state will be a strong representation at the convention. After discussing the state program and county officers, the delegates are expected to produce the final political platform and to elect the state headquarters, Corpus Christi, Texas.

Radical Departure
This organization is the idea of a young people, and the program for the meet has been planned by its members. Inasmuch as it will be a radical departure from any political organization ever before held in Texas, it is recommended that all persons, regardless of age or party affiliation, make effort to be present at least a part of the proceedings. They will undoubtedly have eyes opened.

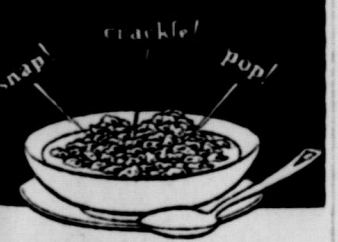

The first place the convention meets at a time of the year that will prove a dynamite boom for any other political group. This summer the state political scene will be held, and already the spot is beginning to boil.

This evidently does not bother young democrats one iota. In fact they are taking advantage of the situation by inviting all candidates for state offices to be present at the gathering on the evening of the night at Fair Park auditorium. The Young Democrats, as it is known, have placed a taboo on the organization's mixing in in-party politics by uniting behind candidates seeking nomination. They have encouraged their members to pick and actively support any candidate he sees fit.

MACHINERY IS BEING PLACED IN GUDE HOTEL

Machinery, including three large stamping machines, is being set in the lower floor of the Gude hotel building, where once was the lobby. Partitions which separated the lobby floor into compartments, have been torn out and the space converted into a large room housing what is said to be the beginning of a factory to manufacture a new type of automobile seat cover.

Barrels of steel springs, innumerable coils of thick steel wire and many bundles of steel rods are stored in the space, presumably for use in the manufacture. The quantity runs into many thousands of pounds.

A water permit has been issued for the "Self-Cooling Seat Corp." for meter connection to the Gude and the labels upon shipments of goods so read.

No confirmation of the report that the factory is being installed under the direction of Harry Reynolds, former Ciscoan and prominent Texas oil operator, has been received, however.

A force of workmen is engaged in tearing out partitions on upper floors also, and a remodeling process is said to be under way to fit up several living apartments out of what were once crowded hotel rooms.

Attack Suspect Is Guarded at Tyler

TYLER, April.—A heavy guard was placed about the Smith county jail here Tuesday following reports an attempt might be made to seize a 19-year-old oil field worker, accused of criminal assault upon a 14-year-old girl.

The suspect, Vernon Peerson, was arrested Monday night. He was being held without bond. The alleged attack was made upon Marjorie Hunt, who lives 10 miles east of here. Sunday night after Peerson and the girl left with three other couples to attend a picture show.

ARMS BUDGETS COMMITTEE IS BUSY 2 YEARS

By STEWART BROWN
United Press Staff Correspondent
GENEVA, April 26.—The most persevering and tireless committee of the disarmament conference has just concluded its labors.

After 17 months of continuous work the technical committee of the commission on national defense expenditure has just brought forth a report. The committee broke all league records for the duration and number of its sessions to draft this report. The committee has held 225 plenary sittings and about 200 sessions of its subcommittees since the beginning of the conference, more than two years ago.

Formed Beer Club
The members found each other so friendly and agreeable that once each week they met in plenary session as a Beer club in a local cafe. The committee was composed of two Poles, a Japanese, an Italian, a Frenchman, an Englishman and an Indian.

It was their task to examine the military budgets of all the governments represented at the conference with an object to deciding how international publicity could be applied to military expenditures. Also their work was to decide if it were possible to limit military budgets.

The latter work was somewhat handicapped by reservations against the principle of budgetary limitation of armaments made by the United States, Japan, Italy and Germany. Regarding publicity the committee unanimously found it desirable and applicable.

Important Work
Their labors might prove extremely important if the conference decides to obtain a reduction of armaments by cutting military budgets. They also have done great service to the conference by preparing a model military budget which makes it easy to compare the military expenditures of each country.

This work entailed the thorough examination of the military budgets of 60 countries. Full information for this purpose was submitted by countries representing 90 per cent of the world's military expenditure. The committee found in 1931 the world spent about $6,000,000,000 on armaments.

DRIVE STARTED ON PROMOTERS OF MAIL FRAUD

FORT WORTH, April 26.—Mail fraud promoters, especially of the oil and mining vintage, have been "put on the spot" in north and east Texas in a federal campaign to rid the area of such grafters.

With Fort Worth as their chief headquarters, promoters have flooded the public out of more than $200,000,000 in the area in the last 14 years, according to federal investigators and U. S. District Attorney Clyde O. Eastus.

Postal inspectors who gather evidence against promoters suspected of fraudulent operations, estimate that cases docketed within the last year have represented a loss to investors of more than $58,000,000 in fake oil and mining schemes.

A staff of five government attorneys are now concentrating on the prosecution of mail fraud defendants already docketed on the federal court calendar here. A special prosecutor, Walter Barlow, United States assistant attorney-general, has been sent here to aid in cleaning up the cases.

Col. Amos W. Woodcock, another specialty man from the attorney general's office at Washington, has been here several weeks aiding the government's war against promoters.

WEST CENTRAL TEXAS CRUDE LIMIT RAISED

AUSTIN, April 26.—Allowable oil production in Texas is slightly above a million barrels a day. A new order effective April 25 has been issued by the state railroad commission. East Texas was left with a permitted five per cent of the hourly well potential.

Permitted production for west central Texas was increased from 26,500 to 31,000 barrels daily; gulf coast from 161,242 to 168,968. South-west Texas was reduced to 82,107 from 82,228, and west Texas from 133,832 to 129,239.

Sellers' stay in the state penitentiary was because of conviction in Brown and Eastland counties. He had only been out on furlough one month when allegedly he committed the transgression.

Charges of theft have been filed against him in the justice of peace court at Eastland. He is being held at the county jail.

OLD FOLKS LIKE THIS LAXATIVE

Tired, slow-functioning, eliminative organs need the "full" action, prompt, easy movement given by Feena-mint, the delightful-tasting chewing gum laxative that contains a laxative ingredient regularly prescribed by physicians. Old folks especially need modern Feena-mint, because, by chewing, the laxative is distributed uniformly into the system and thus does not shock, irritate, nor strain. Prompt, thorough-acting Feena-mint, while pleasant to take, contains no richness to upset your stomach or diet. Work-hardened old folks like Feena-mint because its more modern action eliminates any necessity of expurgating that delay that starts poisons seeping into the system. "Delay" is dangerous—chew Feena-mint for constipation. 10c and 25c at druggists everywhere.

KNOW THE TRUTH ABOUT MOTOR OILS—Conoco dares to give you the facts!

Here are no idle claims—But PROOF!

COMPARE this positive proof of superiority with all the exaggerated claims you hear about motor oils—now the facts can be told. We arranged with the Contest Board, American Automobile Association, to test five widely-known and advertised motor oils along with New and Improved Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil in a daring "Destruction Test."

These six oils, a single fill of 5 quarts, with no more oil added, in six brand new strictly stock cars, were driven until the motor in each car was destroyed from lack of lubrication. The first oil failed with motor destroyed at 1,713.2 miles—others failed in rapid succession. The best of the competing oils ran a total of 3,318.8 miles... while New and Improved Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil lubricated its motor for a total of 4,729 miles!... more than 3,000 miles farther than the first oil to fail... and more than 1,400 miles farther than the second best oil. Thanks to Conoco's Hidden Quart protection, this amazing victory stands unchallenged!

This is evidence... these are facts... that should open a new era of results and economy for your motor. Drive into a Conoco Station or dealer—fill with this New and Improved Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil. There's no longer any guess about what oil is best for your car!

Warning TO NEW CAR OWNERS

Some car manufacturers are using new types of bearings which will stand greater pressures and temperatures, resulting from increased power and speed. New and Improved Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil has been exhaustively tested on these new bearings. The results show that it gives them greater protection against damage than many straight mineral oils now on the market.

Protect your new car by using the motor oil you can be sure of.

COMM'N VOTES TO FAVOR NEW GAS SYSTEM

The city commission Monday night speedily passed a motion putting it on record as favoring the granting of a gas franchise to the Consolidated Gas company, Hickok subsidiary, and acceptance of that company's proposition for the construction of a municipal distribution system.

The proposition was laid before the body by R. L. Ponsler, superintendent of the Hickok corporation's interests in Texas. It provided for granting the Consolidated Gas company a franchise, entering into an agreement with the company for the installation of a complete distribution system to be financed by the Consolidated and paid for out of revenues of the plant, with interest at six per cent, and fixing minimum rates on domestic and industrial gas below which competing systems would not be permitted to sell.

The motion put the commission definitely on record as favoring the proposition in this form. Acceptance of the terms require enactment of city ordinances after all details have been worked out and agreed upon between the city and the Consolidated Gas company.

Minimum Necessary Attorney F. D. Wright explained to the commission that a U. S. supreme court decision and Texas court decisions have held that municipalities can fix minimum as well as maximum rates. This is necessary, Ponsler told the commission, to protect the investment in such a plant and insure revenues to pay for it in the face of competition.

The commission discussed briefly with attorneys the city's attitude with reference to the hearing on the Community Natural Gas company's petition making possible revised gas rates in Cisco, which is due to come up in federal district court at Abilene tomorrow.

Fishing permit charges were fixed at $1.50 for the season and 25 cents per day, the same as last season.

Gas Residue The Hickok people, primarily interested in gasoline production and operating gasoline extraction plants in this area, have millions of feet of gas daily to dispose of, Ponsler explained.

With the expanding market for our gasoline in the north, it is essential that we develop a corresponding market for the increasing gas output which is the inevitable by-product of our gasoline plant operation in this section.

READ CONTRACT IS ADVICE OF COUNTY AGENT

Crop reduction contracts should be carefully read by producers who have executed contracts. Each signatory should have a copy of the contract according to County Agent J. C. Patterson. In the rush of preparing the data for the contracts many producers have failed to observe the regulations governing the performance of the producer, he said.

In executing a corn-hog reduction contract, said the county agent, producers must have listed on contract the location and location of all other farms owned, operated or controlled by all parties to the contract, and are bound to not increase the corn acreage on any other farm not covered by contract above the 1932-1933 average acreage produced on that farm.

RFC OUTLAY IS FALLING BELOW BUDGET FIGURE

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 26.—The government's most important relief agency, the Reconstruction Finance corporation, is falling nearly $2,000,000,000 under budget estimates in its relief activities because of reduced needs.

Administration officials attributed the decrease to the greater than expected improvement in business activity which has allowed some borrowers to repay loans and made unnecessary for other businesses to ask for money.

When President Roosevelt compiled his budget figures for the fiscal year which ends June 30, he set $3,969,740,000 as the outside net expenditure of the RFC, a monthly average of $325,000,000. In nine months of the fiscal year the RFC has actually spent only $1,287,354,800 or about 40 cents for every dollar estimated in the budget.

INSULL ADMITS HE'S GLAD LONG CHASE IS OVER

ABOARD STEAMSHIP EXILONA, Off North African Coast, April 26.—Samuel Insull, fugitive American financier, is glad the long chase is over, he told the United Press as the vessel bringing him to the United States for trial fought its way through heavy seas along the African coast.

The Rio Grande project, it was understood here, is to include construction of a system of dams on the international stream between Del Rio and Rio Grande City, construction of flood control works and water conservation work.

Valley Assured It Will Receive Fund

Duke of Duval Girds for Fierce Battle To Defend South Texas Political Domain

BENAVIDES, April 26.—The Duke of Duval has drawn his battle lines to defend his political domain of 18 south Texas counties which he has represented in the state senate for 20 years.

The Duke officially registered on the legislature's roster as Senator Ar-hie Parr of Duval county, is in the race for re-election this year principally because of his love to fight. Two years ago he announced he would retire. He is 73. But he changed his mind because his enemies said if he didn't get out they would beat him.

There are those in the Rio Grande valley who say that Parr's tenure will end with the election this year. The Good Government league of Hidalgo, outside the democratic fold for six years, has dissolved—returning 7,500 members and anti-Parr voters to the party.

That campaign will take him into the sparsely populated counties to beat the mesquite for votes. His friends say that Duval county, which polled 2,000 votes last election will have 3,000 this year and most of them will be for the Duke of Duval.

Starr county with 800 votes last election is said to be 1900 strong now and Parr's friends are counting on a 10 to 1 majority. Zapata county is up to 900 from 150 votes two years ago. Jim Hogg county has 1,100 qualified voters as compared to 500 and Brooks county has raised from 500 to 1,300.

Those are the increases the Duke is after. Parr's name has become traditional among the Mexicans on his vast district. Among them he is known and revered as Senor Don Padre Parr.

Parr always carries his home county in the last election his friend, Milton West, who sought a congressional seat, received 1,900 votes on the first count. His nearest opponent had six.

The eighteen counties in the extensive 27th district are: Zavala, Frio, McMullen, LaSalle, Dimmit, Webb, Duval, Jim Hogg, Zapata, Jim Wells, Kenedy, Nueces, Kleberg, Wilbrey, Brooks, Starr, Hidalgo and Cameron.

PIONEERING A SERVICE TO FORD OWNERS

ENGINES AND OTHER UNITS RECONDITIONED AT THE FORD FACTORY

HENRY FORD believes that the engine overhaul should be a factory job. For in the Ford factory are the men and the machines which produced the engine originally. Engine overhaul should have the same advantage of our precision equipment and methods which engine manufacture had. That is our proposal to you.

When the time comes for the engine to be overhauled—that will be normally after 40,000 or 50,000 miles—the Ford owner simply gets from the local Ford dealer an engine that has been completely reconditioned in the Ford Motor Company plant at Dearborn, Michigan. The cost is far below the usual cost of overhauling—and there is a great saving in time, as your car is tied up for only a few hours instead of days. Besides that, the price is not guesswork—it is a fixed, known price.

This reconditioning service is further extended to such units as the distributor, carburetor and brake shoe assembly. Worn or obsolete parts are replaced with new ones. Every reconditioned unit installed by the Authorized Ford Dealer has passed the closest factory inspection. In every detail it is ready for thousands of miles of trouble-free service.

Ask any Ford dealer about this new money-saving service for owners of Models A and B and eight-cylinder Ford cars and trucks. This is an exclusive Ford service.
