FREIGHT LINE AGENT SHOT TO DEATH

Head of State Legion Faces Federal Charges of Forgery

AN PERKINS ENTERS PLEA OF NOT GUILTY

WACO, May 4 — L. Van Perkins, Cameron, Texas, state commander of the American Legion, today entered a plea of not guilty to federal charges he forged names of payees to government obligations. The bond was arranged after Perkins appeared at a hearing before United States Comm'r McCorkle. The Legion head entered a plea of not guilty. A blanket complaint filed against Perkins dealt with four checks allegedly forged and endorsed. The total of those was $987. Perkins said the complaint resulted through his handling of compensation checks for veterans as a convenience to the payees, which he did with authority to endorse checks in the four instances mentioned. All of the checks were payable to the same veteran. Perkins was arrested Thursday by agents of the department of justice, it was revealed.

Sh-h-h-h!

She wouldn't say "yes" and she wouldn't say "no" would Sweden's lovely Princess Ingrid, to those rumors of royal romance. But even as she left her Paris hotel the other day, as shown here, reports persisted that she actually is engaged to Prince Frederick of Denmark.

ELDER ROBLES IS CERTAIN OF GIRL'S RETURN

TUCSON, Ariz., May 4. — June Robles, 6-year-old school girl kidnaped a week ago Wednesday, will be returned safe and unharmed within a few hours, her family indicated today. Jubilant in spirit, Bernable Robles, 73-year-old grandfather of the girl, broke his silence of eight days to tell the United Press: "Wait until late today or tonight. I feel something is going to happen." Secret negotiations for payment of ransom, probably the $15,000, were reported near conclusion. Al Aquire, friend of June's grandfather, and another unnamed person were said to be acting as intermediaries.

"Love Forever" Ends in Year

One "anniversary marriage" was enough for Sidney Fox, film actress, shown here somberly gazing ahead as she won a divorce decree in Los Angeles court from Charles Beahan, scenarist. They promised to repeat their vows annually to prove their happiness, but after the first celebration, he was cruel, she charged, so she left him.

NEW ZEP WILL MERIT TITLE OF 'FLYING HOTEL'

FRIEDRICHSHAFEN, May 4. — Save for the finishing touches, the passenger accommodations of the new Zeppelin now under construction, the LZ 129, have been completed. Their spaciousness alone would merit giving the new dirigible the title of "Flying Hotel." They are four times as large as those on the "Graf Zeppelin," which for all its guests had not more than 100 square meters of floor space.

WOODIN'S LAST THOUGHTS WERE FOR ROOSEVELT

NEW YORK, May 4. — Funeral services for former Sec'y of the Treasury Wm. H. Woodin, will be held at 4 p. m. Saturday at the Fifth Avenue Presbyterian church, members of his family announced today. The body will be taken to Pennsylvania for burial.

Woodin in his last hours thought only of President Roosevelt, whom he served faithfully. Death and doctors beat over the cot in a hospital last night. The semi-conscious man was mumbling in delirium. Occasional phrases were intelligible. These were: "Yes, GovernorWell, Governor, I" Woodin always called Mr. Roosevelt "Governor." When life left him he was talking to his beloved friend, who, though not physically present, was an image in his mind.

Repairs to School Auditorium Made

Repair of the ceiling in the high school auditorium and improvement of the stage and band pit is almost complete. The room has been receded with celotex, replacing the plaster ceiling which crashed to the floor two weeks ago, luckily when the room was empty.

Three Children Dead Of Mistaken Dose

SAPULPA, Okla., May 4.—Three children were dead from accidental strichnine poisoning. Betty Barrett, 6, and her sisters, May, 3, and Wanda, 2, died after their father, Chester Barrett, administered the chemical by mistake, thinking it was quinine.

Rayburn Bill Due To Pass House Today

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 4.—Backed to the limit by administration leaders, the Rayburn stock market control bill was expected to pass the house today. The democratic leadership was confident that the bill would come to a final vote in virtually the same form as that decided on by the house interstate commerce committee.

RESOLUTIONS OF USCC HEED FDR WARNING

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 4. — Heeding President Roosevelt's warning against the cry of "wolf," the United States chamber of commerce today adopted a lengthy list of moderately worded resolutions concerning the relationship of business to government. In none of the 23 resolutions, which were produced after President Roosevelt had sent a sharply worded note to the chamber, was there any outspoken condemnation of the new deal or any of its major components. Mr. Roosevelt's note came at a crucial moment. The 2,000 delegates to the convention had heard a series of speeches denouncing the recovery program and were preparing to end their meeting with adoption of strongly worded resolutions. The president's message was couched in courteous and cordial language, but left no doubt that Mr. Roosevelt expected the chamber to be cautious in whatever resolutions it might pass. "It is time to stop crying 'wolf,'" the president said.

LESS EMPHASIS ON PRICE-LIFTING REPORTED

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 4. — The administration was reported authoritatively today to have decided to try to raise commodity prices indirectly by stimulating business activity rather than experimenting with currency depreciation or price fixing. Disappointment over results of recent price-raising schemes was believed to have led administration officials to place more emphasis on natural recovery processes through quickening normal channels of trade. With the problem of business recovery and prices closely related, it is not believed that all artificial price lifting plans will be abandoned. But it is thought that from now on the recovery drive will center on new plans to stimulate industrial activity and less on pure price-lifting schemes.

AXMEN LEAD CACHE MARCH OF EXPEDITION

NEW YORK, May 4. — Leading a string of heavily laden pack horses, six veteran axmen headed by E. C. Lemarque soon will attempt to cross the ice-logged Peace river and plunge into the forest northwest of Fort St. John, B. C. They will mark a route through the upper Canadian Rockies for the Bédouin-Canadian Sub-Arctic expedition, which will penetrate and explore 15,000 square miles of unknown wilderness south of the Yukon.

Follow Trail

For the first 175 miles Lemarque will follow a trail blazed by Thomases Wilde and another crew of huskies, who set out from Fort St. John to chart the first stage of the expedition's route and establish Cache No. 1.

Truck Driver Killed In Highway Crash

DALLAS, May 4.—R. L. Noell, 37, Dallas county truck driver, was killed today when his truck collided with an automobile containing four Van Alstyne high school students and the father of one of them. The students were en route to Fort Worth, where they were to have been entertained as a feature of the school's annual senior day. Those in the passenger car were shaken and bruised and received slight cuts.

Too Old Fashioned, Say the New Dealers

First it was the navy (which disapproved a PWA painting of sailors on New York's Riverside drive) and now it's the department of agriculture that has become involved in an art controversy. If you ask Rexford Tugwell, under secretary of agriculture, the huge mural Gilbert White has painted for the new agricultural building isn't quite modern enough, especially for a building dedicated to the New Deal. So there will be no formal unveiling when the work is done. A section of the landscape, the product of three years' work, is shown above, with White standing at the left.

PASTORS START GAMBLING WAR AT FORT WORTH

FORT WORTH, May 4. — Fort Worth ministers have started a concerted drive, against horse race "gambling" which they declare will be carried into the next legislature in a fight to repeal the law, which now is only one year old. The ministers are basing their fight both on the moral issue and the contention that betting at the Arlington Downs track has proved detrimental to business conditions in Fort Worth.

DOCK STRIKE IS ATTEMPTED

HOUSTON, May 4.—Labor representatives and the contracts committee of the International Longshoremen's association will meet at Galveston this afternoon to discuss a proposal of steamshippers to arbitrate a wage controversy which has kept 4,000 Texas and Louisiana dockworkers on strike for the past four days. Calling of the meeting at Galveston came close upon first violence here in picketing of the wharves. George Rolf, a leading contractor, was beaten by a group of longshoremen when he interceded in behalf of a negro surrounded by the dockworkers.

NEGRO FOREMAN IS INDICTED IN SLAYING

LAKE CHARLES, La., May 4. — Elisha Cathole, negro foreman of an independent Louisiana longshoremen union, was indicted today by a grand jury on charges of murdering George Humphrey, a May Day labor disturbance.

One Desperado Dead, Companion Captured

DAWSON, Mo., May 4.—One Illinois desperado was dead, another was under arrest with a bullet through his arm, and a woman was held today after state highway patrolmen ended a search they first believed was for Clyde Barrow and Bonnie Parker. Harry Williams, sought by Illinois and Iowa officials, was killed last night when state highway patrolmen and a posse of farmers cornered him in a wooded section near here. His companion, Walter Allen, was wounded and captured. A woman identified as Mrs. Florence Williams the dead man's widow, was captured earlier when the two men abandoned her.

Langdon to Head T.C.U. Student Body

FORT WORTH, May 4. — Jack Langdon, Texas Christian university senior and football star from Cleburne, was elected president of the student body for next year, tabulations from yesterday's student election revealed today. Langdon had a slim margin over Freddie Miller from Ennis.

NO VERDICT IS RETURNED BY PEACE JUSTICE

George Hartness, about 50, agent for the Merchants Past Motor lines here, was found shot to death on a side road four miles southwest of Cisco this afternoon. The body was found lying beside Hartness' coupe, a 45-caliber pistol, from which one shot had been fired, underneath it. From the position of the body, officers were of the opinion that Hartness had been seated on the running board of the car when the bullet struck him. The bullet entered at the mouth and came out at the back of the head. Officers here were notified by Oscar Penn, who said the body was discovered by his wife, Green Funeral home brought it to its parlors here where an inquest was conducted by Justice of the Peace Wilson this afternoon. No verdict had been returned at 3 o'clock.

Baptists Drive for Large Attendance

"Attend the Preaching Service" will be the slogan of the adult department of the First Baptist Sunday school for next Sunday. All officers and teachers of this department are urged to make special efforts toward having every pupil stay for the preaching service Sunday morning, according to Asa Skiles, superintendent of the adult department.

Hamilton Plans to Marry Sweetheart

DALLAS, May 4.—Raymond Hamilton, 20-year-old desperado, and his sweetheart, Mary Pitts, 18, plan to be married soon if Sheriff Schmid will let them, Hamilton said today. His sweetheart, jointly charged with him in the robbery of a bank at West, Texas, and now at liberty under bond, yesterday filed suit for divorce against her husband, Berney Pitts, Wichita Falls tailor.

BRITISH-JAP ECONOMIC CONFLICT.

Japanese tactics in foreign trade have at last aroused the British to the point of a vigorous protest and an asserted readiness to do something about it.

In time it was thought that the Japanese method of cutting under the rest of the world at the expense of its standards at home would cause a collapse of its vast market structure.

England and Japan are both island empires. In geographical situation they are almost identical.

SPEAKING OF THE LEGION OF LABOR

President Roosevelt is a busy man. On the last day of April William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, and Rep. Wm. P. Connery of Massachusetts, a spokesman for labor, appeared to the president for support on the grounds that "something drastic must be done to take up the slack in unemployment and to provide jobs for 10,000,000 persons estimated unemployed."

"Estimated" is one way of reckoning and an actual count is another way. In the days of gambling prosperity and mass production it was "estimated" that there was an army of three or four million persons in the United States who were idle most of the time and willing to be idle all of the time.

On May Day there were bright sides to the picture. Management of the Kansas City Southern railroad and its union trainmen and yardmen signed an agreement and this agreement will be in effect for one year from May 1.

TEXANS GUN MAKERS FOR CRIMINALS

A San Antonio gun shop operator has admitted to federal agents that he had sold machine guns and other deadly weapons to the henchmen of John Dillinger.

There are hideouts everywhere in the Southwest for the wild desperadoes of the period. Many of these hideouts are in the larger cities of Texas.

Texans should do their part. They should elect a state government strong enough to combat with crime and criminals and they should elect lawmakers who will do their full duty to the constitution, the people of Texas who are law abiding in the enactment of legislation that will not be rotten with loopholes or provide for a thousand chances or openings for "the law's delay."

How About Segregating the Poor Sufferers?

Manufacturers and Legislation

By HUGH NUGENT FITZGERALD

All the great industrial organizations are out on the firing line through their press service agents. For instance the National Association of Manufacturers has its bureau of publicity directed by men who know how to prepare the argument against pending legislative proposals in the congress of the United States.

Another important measure pending is the Wagner-Connelly labor disputes bill. The National Association of Manufacturers is hostile to the bill and believes it should be defeated.

unfair practices specified are aimed at employers and no recognition taken of coercion by labor organizations themselves. This is the recommendation of the public relations men of the association: "Machinery should be established within the various code authorities to handle disputes as has been done in the oil, cotton textile and many other industries."

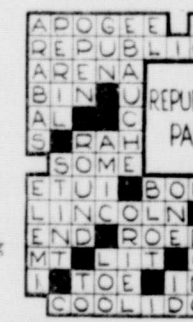

First and last and all the time the National Association of Manufacturers called for the defeat of the Wagner-Lewis unemployment insurance bill. It is declared that this measure "amounts to an attempt by the federal government to coerce state legislatures into action by draining millions of dollars more that might otherwise go into pay envelopes, would place American industry in a still weaker condition to come with foreign competition by increasing production costs and is an attempt to have congress use its power of taxation to compel uniformity of state laws, establishing a precedent which might be used to force uniform marriage and divorce legislatures and the tax would of course operate heaviest against the heavy goods industry because their payroll cost is high." As for the tariff bill which gives the President power to make trade agreements with foreign countries and proclaim them without reference to the senate it is alleged by the spokesman of the nation association "there can be no defense, however, of the denial of the right of industry which would be affected to be heard upon such a vital matter dealing with their employment capacity."

All in all this powerful association and its spokesmen would sandbag the tariff bill. There is pending a proposal known as amendment to the federal trade commission act. Its defeat by the congress is recommended and all industrialists and their sympathizers are advised to "throw the weight of their influence against its enactment."

Another recommendation calls for the defeat of the proposal calling for state taxation of interstate sales. This bill would grant the consent of congress to taxation by the states of any commodities in interstate commerce. It is branded as "not only invalid as a delegation of federal functions of regulating interstate commerce but representing an unsound legislative policy even if valid."

The general counsel of the association interprets the act as intended to give states the sales tax laws "the right to levy upon income and merchandise," as "the bill sets up clearly the principle of taxation that might lead to the building of tariff walls between the states which would create the same commercial chaos that Europe has in the form of narrow trade barriers."

Really, all the beneficiaries of high tariff special privilege laws of other administrations are organizing for a battle royal this year, speaking of general elections to take place in November and in the coming presidential election campaign of 1936.

Through the Editor's Spectacles

The eligibility bogey has settled upon the city soft ball league in its first week I can visualize a great need of sympathy for the officials of the loop, and certainly hold them no envy in their positions. Theirs will be a thankless job, full of many troubles. They will be called upon to decide delicate issues upon whose turning may hinge the love and affection of friends. The outcome may even draw a cabbage or two, perchance a brickbat. My suggestion to T. C. Williams and Frank Langston is that they organize a tribunal of authority to determine contested matters and questions arising within the league, and thus slip from their shoulders what promises to become a crushing burden of jurisdiction with attendant censure and scant praise.

The first of these bogey questions to rear its head above the present peaceful surface of the infant league's affairs is styled "Nance Motor Co. vs. Bird."

Those of you who read yesterday's Daily News will recall that Bird was the defendant in a Rotary club trial for breach of faith, desertion, athletic apostasy and what-have-you. The charges arose out of the fact that Bird had played with the Baptist Victory class team against the Nance team Wednesday afternoon. The Baptists gave the Ford sellers an awful wallop. The club charged Bird with having deserted the Rotary team, with which he had been certified and which stood in great need of his services, in order to join up with the Baptist team, a promising winner in the loop schedule. Hiram Brandon, pitcher for the Lions club team, had likewise deserted and gone over to the Baptists, but there was some excuse for his act "he argued, because he is president of the class and therefore bore it more responsibility than he bore the Lions."

In his report to the charges yesterday, Bird denied joining up with the Victory team. He asserted he had played with the class team because it needed a player at a critical moment and had drafted him to fill the vacancy because he is a member of the class and happened to be on hand when the vacancy made itself evident. To which the Rotary club replied that he had thereby given aid and comfort to an enemy, assisting it to a standing in the league which the Rotary club squad would have to overcome if it wins the loop title; and also that the strange coincidence of the vacancy and the strong man to fill it sounded mighty suspicious.

The Bird defense, however, pla-ceded the Rotarians for the time being—they will see how much of the meant when they play the Baptist team tonight—but it stirred the Nance Motor company team.

Now that team will lodge a protest of the game because of Bird's admitted ineligibility, and demand a forfeit.

One of the most interesting avocations for a person, it seems to me, is microscopic study. At the Palace theater yesterday, K. N. Green showed scenes which reveal how the lens for microscopes are made. That process is interesting, but not half as much as the revelations which the powerful man-made eyes make of the invisible world about us.

It is said that there is an infinity of the diminishing as well as an infinity of the expanding. In other words, one might go on getting smaller and smaller forever, never vanishing completely. As difficult as it is to comprehend illimitable space, it is more difficult to comprehend this.

A fairland of exquisite beauty.

DONNA of the BIG TOP by BEULAH POYNTER

BEGIN HERE TODAY DONNA GABRIEL and MADELINE SIDDAL, who call themselves "The Gabriel Sisters" are trapeze performers with Renfro's circus. DON DAVID, the animal trainer, is in love with Donna who regards him merely as a friend. Madeline, in love with AMOS SIDDAL, asks her to spend the week-end on his farm she persuades Donna to take her place. Donna is much attracted by BILL SIDDAL, Madeline's cousin.

Two weeks later Donna falls from the trapeze and is taken to a hospital, badly injured. Madeline sends word to Bill that "Madeline" is ill. She leaves a note telling Donna to continue the impersonation until she is well. Then Madeline goes on with the circus.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER VIII

BILL SIDDAL was not conscious that he had been praying all that long, bitter night as he sat in the shabby, ill-ventilated day coach in a train that seemed to be drawn by slow-footed oxen instead of a steam engine.

Madeline's letter had been not only a shock but an eye-opener. Until he had learned of the accident he had not analyzed his feeling toward the girl he believed to be his cousin. Her visit had been a never-to-be-forgotten event in his colorless life.

Wishing to spare his grand-uncle suspense and worry, he made an excuse to get away, intending to keep all knowledge of the accident from the old man, if possible, until Madeline was on the road to recovery.

"Is she alive?" the young man demanded across the desk. Assured that she was, Bill sank weakly into a chair and for several seconds seemed unable to speak.

"But she can not be moved at present," Dr. Cotton said. "Not for two weeks at least."

"I—I may see her?" "Surely. Miss Wyatt—take Mr. Sidal to 39."

Donna was asleep when they stepped into the hushed chamber. Bill crossed to the bedside and looked down at the white, pinched face. It required a tremendous effort not to bend down and kiss that surged through him like a tumultuous torrent.

When you're better I'm going to take you to the farm with me," Bill said. book from his pocket, asked the amount and filled in a blank. In all his 26 years Bill had never known a sick day. Possibly it was his own virile health that had prompted him to take up the study of medicine. All that he had learned about it was forgotten now in the flood of relief that swept over him. Madeline would recover! He did not question Dr. Cotton's diagnosis, nor his statement that she could not be moved for two weeks. If she had to stay, then Bill would stay.

Not until hours later did the fact of their close relationship disclose his dreams of their future together. Then, like a specter, this fact arose to haunt him. Even if Madeline loved him could they face a community that would look upon their marriage as a sin? So long as Grandfather Sidal lived, Bill knew he was tied to the farm and the environs of Lebanon.

At noon Donna awakened and the nurse informed her that her "cousin" had come. "Cousin? I—I haven't any cousin."

"Mr. Sidal, dear. You were asleep when he arrived. He said he would be back this afternoon."

Vaguely Donna understood the words. But she was still too fogged to understand the real meaning of the statement. The knowledge that Bill Sidal cared enough to come to see her caused a warm glow in her heart and brought tears to her eyes.

"My—my sister?" she managed. "That's just too bad, but she had to go on with the circus."

"Yes, of course, she had to go on," Donna fought to smile bravely. "She left a letter for you, but I don't think you are strong enough back to the circus as soon as possible. Don't think me vain, but the act needs me." "The act will have to do without you for a long time. You've had a close shave. Dr. Cotton told me that at first he was certain you had at first been a concussion. That could have been very serious." "Nothing matters so long as my back is all right. It is, isn't it? They didn't tell me it was, just to bolster my courage?" Panic seized her. "Your back is perfectly all right," he reassured her. "But I mustn't tire you. When you are stronger you can tell me how it happened."

"I DON'T know myself unless Traff—" She paused abruptly, unwilling to cast suspicion, when she was uncertain, upon one of her profession. "How is Grandfather Sidal?" she added hastily. "I didn't tell him you were hurt. Didn't want to worry him if I could help it, but since I'll have to stay longer than I expected I'll let him know now."

"Why should he worry about me?" she asked wonderingly. "Why not, Madeline? You're the apple of his eye—"

Madeline! She had forgotten! He had come because he thought she was his cousin. Even with death so close, Madeline had kept up the masquerade. In her great joy at seeing him Donna had forgotten Bill did not know her real identity. He had come to her as a duty and she had thought—

Her icy fingers wriggled in his grasp. Bill loosened them and drew back, intuitively feeling that something was wrong. Yet what had he said to offend her? Certainly the mention of an old man's affection should not do that.

"I'll go now," he said, and arose. Her eyes were closed to hide the disappointment she felt. At his feet lay Madeline's letter. He picked it up. "Yours," he said. "It hasn't been opened." He placed it on the bed near her hand. "Don't try to read until you are stronger. And don't worry about anything, I'll be here in the morning, but if there is anything you want in the meantime have them send for me. I'm at the Commercial House."

"You're very kind," she murmured, but there was nothing more than formal politeness in her tone. "I love him, I love him!" she moaned when the door closed behind him. "What shall I do?" Her fumbling fingers tore open the flap of the letter. The words Madeline had scrawled danced crazily on the sheet but she could read enough to understand what they conveyed. "I'll do it! I will be Madeline! It's her deception, not mine. What else can I do? Oh God, if this is a sin—don't punish me! Let him learn to love me! I love him so! I can't send him out of my life! I can't be wickedness, then I'm a wicked woman—but, oh, please God, give me my chance for love and happiness!" Half-hysterical, with tears rolling down her cheeks, she tore the letter to shreds, then fainted with exhaustion. (To Be Continued)

RODE WITH DRIVER

LLAIRE, O., May 4—Nonchalant after he was dug out of a stone in Gaylor mine here, Robert King, a miner, insisted on riding the driver of the ambulance which was taking him to a hospital. In physicians at the hospital and no injuries Marling rode home by trolley.

THE NEW FANGLES (MOM 'V POP) By Cowan Specs---

I CAN'T IMAGINE WHAT'S AILIN' YA!

WELL, I DON'T FEEL SICK ENOUGH T'PAY DOC STULL, OR OLD TRIBON A COUPLE BUCKS, T' FIND OUT

OF ALL THINGS! HERE COMES DOC STULL UP THE STREET NOW!!

QUICK! WHERE'S MY HAT? I GOT AN IDEA!!

HI, DOC! SAY, S'POSIN' YA HAD THE JITTERS AN' YER BONES ACHED ALL OVER— WHAT'D YA DO?

I'D CONSULT A GOOD PHYSICIAN, IF I WERE YOU, WINDY

THANKS, DOC! THAT'S WHAT I'LL DO— I'LL GO SEE DOC TRIBON

OUT OUR WAY

MA! HE WON'T GO OVER AND SEE IF THAT'S A SNAKE! THERE'S A WORLD OF PRETTY VIOLETS OVER THERE.

YOU GO OVER AND SEE IF THAT'S A SNAKE, AND STOP BEING SO OBSTINATE.

IT DON'T MAKE NO DIFFERENCE IF I GIT SNAKE BIT, IM ONY JUST ONE O' TH' MALE PART O' TH' FAMILY, O' COURSE, WE'RE S'POSED TO BE EQUAL, BUT YOU NOTICE WHICH O' TH' SPECIES HAS TO FIGHT MICE, SPIDERS, SNAKES, AN' PUMP TIRES— YEH, EQUALITY!

WHY MOTHERS GET GRAY.

FRECKLES and HIS FRIENDS.

A CUSTOMER CAME IN, BOUGHT A DIAMOND, AND THIS IS THE RESULT...

WELL, I SOLD THAT MAN THE LARGEST DIAMOND IN MY STOCK! IMAGINE IT... THREE THOUSAND BUCKS!!

AND ALL YOU GOT FOR IT WAS HIS SIGNATURE ON A CHECK! SAY... I WOULDN'T EVEN TAKE A CHECK FROM MY COUSIN!

WELL, OF COURSE, YOU KNOW YOUR RELATIVES BETTER THAN I DO!

YOU'D BETTER FIND OUT IF THE CHECK IS GOOD FOR $3000... I WOULDN'T TAKE ANY CHANCES!!

PERSONALLY, I THINK YOUR DIAMOND IS ABOUT AS SAFE AS A SACRIFICE HIT! HOW DO YOU KNOW HE'S THE GUY HE SAID HE WAS?

HE IDENTIFIED HIMSELF... HE HAS A WART ON HIS LEFT SHOULDER!

WELL, I DON'T THINK IT'S GOOD BUSINESS, PARTING WITH A SWELL DIAMOND AND GETTING NOTHING BUT A CHECK FOR IT... YOUR DIAMOND IS GONE, AND I BET THAT GUY WAS PLAYING GLASSIES FOR KEEPS!

revealed by the microscope lens.

Life beyond the normal vision must have some consciousness or appreciation, otherwise the magic beauty in which its forms are designed would not be.

So appealing has this beauty proved to the imagination, that one fanciful writer told a story where, in the hero, a young scientist, became so enamored of a beautiful girl that he discovered in a garden in a raindrop, that when the drop evaporated he pined away and died.

Such stories as that are too extravagant for the realistic taste, but they serve to illustrate what range of romantic possibilities lie in the vast, vast world we cannot see but whose manifestations are in evidence all about us.

CARD OF THANKS

We desire to thank from the depth of our hearts all who assisted in any way during the recent illness and death of our beloved wife and daughter. We desire to express our appreciation especially to the faithful pastor and friends who ministered to us in any way and to those who brought flowers and who assisted so tenderly during the funeral services. May God's richest blessings rest upon you always.

Dog "Points" Snake Brood for Master

BRECKENRIDGE, May 4 — This is the story of a snake dog — not that famous fish dog who was so good he dived into the river after his master's silver dollar and brought up a five-pound bass and 50 cents in change.

One morning recently Old Baldy and his master, F. B. Williams, started to the field to work. In their path they found Mamma and Papa Rattlesnake and their proud brood of offspring. Leaving the dog with the snakes, Williams raced home for his shotgun.

When he returned the snakes and Old Baldy were gone. Presently a barking called him to a ravine. There stood the dog, "pointing" the snakes. Williams killed them.

They always get a hearing crackle!

snap! pop!

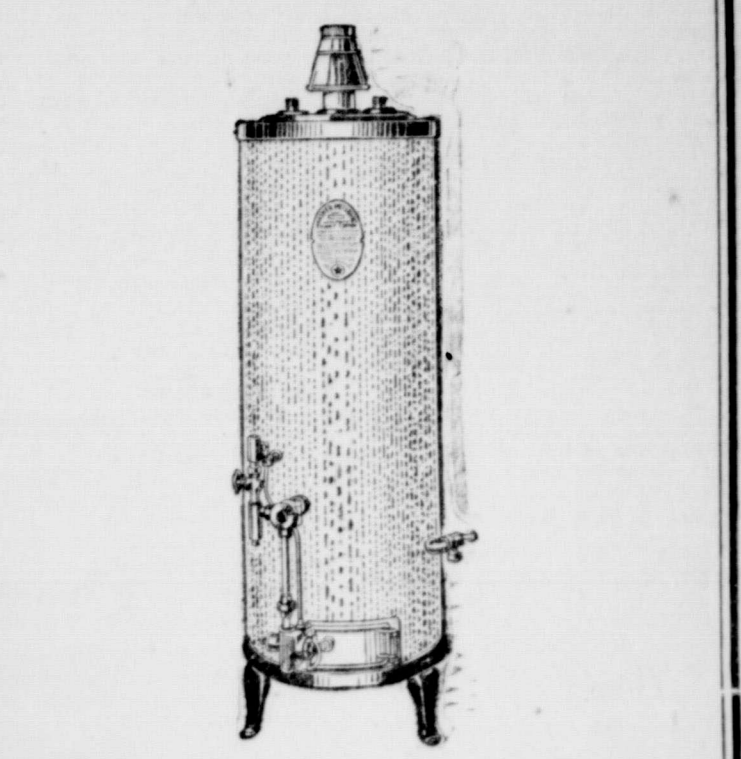

JUST watch children listen to Kellogg's Rice Krispies crackle in milk or cream. Then watch them eat. You never need to coax them.

Rice Krispies are a fine, nourishing food. Easy to digest. Extra good for the children's evening meal. Always oven-fresh in the wax-tite wrapper. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

STOPPED HYMN

BETHLEHEM, Conn., May 4 — The Rev. Edward R. White, pastor of the Federated church, was leading the congregation in singing an old familiar hymn when a cat fight started on the church steps. The singing turned to uncontrolled laughter as the sexton hurried from the church and chased the felines away.

"PLANT" FISH

GREELEY, Colo., May 4 — Fish ranging in size from 12 to 21 inches will help to make the streams of Colorado a "fisherman's paradise." The state game and fish department has placed large number of fish in rivers and streams throughout Colorado. The Big Thompson river received 7,000 of the large fish.

DAILY WALK

LANCASTER, Mass., May 4 — Francis H. Sawyer, friend of Henry Ford, who recently celebrated his 85th birthday anniversary, keeps in trim by walking 12 miles daily. It has been his habit for half a century.

"Not Revolution, But Evolution!"

"Those who speak of revolution are wrong. What they should do is to drop the first letter of the word. We are going through evolution not revolution." Speaking extemporaneously President Roosevelt thus defended his New Deal policies when, as shown here, he addressed the Subsistence home-stead show in the department of commerce building, Washington.

AGAINST HOMES

CONNEAUT, O., May 4 — Declaring there are 3,000 tourist homes lining U. S. Route 20 between Buffalo and Cleveland, J. H. Coley, proprietor of a hotel here, has started a one-man campaign to put the homes under regulation. He contends they injure hotel business in all cities along the highway.

COST IT CENTS

NEW ORLEANS, May 4 — At a total expenditure of 17 1/2 cents each, two New Orleans misses created stylish summer ensembles that aroused admiration among their associates. The girls—Annoe Leight, high school student, and her sister, Mary, Tulane university—made hats, dresses and chic purses from seven yards of white cambric, purchased for five cents a yard.

RATTLER SANDWICHES

SAN ANTONIO, May 4 — Cooled rattlesnake meat in toasted sandwiches was served by Witte Memorial museum here to attract visitors on the opening day of the Reptile garden. Harvey Dunbar had the first serving to prove the sandwich was a real delicacy.

Took CARDUI During The Change of Life

Cardui is purely vegetable, harmless, for women of all ages. Women who have used it to help their daughters and friends to it... "I took Cardui for weakness during the change of life," writes Mrs. Clara C. Allen, of Enfield, Conn. "It helped me and built up my strength. I also gave it to my daughters and they were helped during the change and for thousands of women testily benefited them. If it does not help YOU, consult a physician."

More Complete Movement NO BOWEL ABUSE

To banish logginess, headaches and other constipation ills, just cleanse your bowels of putrid waste with Feena-mint, the delicious chewing gum laxative that gives complete and thorough movement. It does this because you chew it. Chewing distributes the laxative ingredient of Feena-mint uniformly throughout the intestines to give you a "full," more natural movement. That's why Feena-mint is more complete, more thorough. That's why it never shocks the system nor abuses the bowels. It is safe and gentle and non-irritating. Feena-mint because of its more modern action eliminates any necessity of experiencing that delay that sees start of putrid wastes seeping their poisons into your system. "Delay" is dangerous—chew Feena-mint for constipation. 15c and 25c at druggists.
