CISCO BANK IS GRANTED STATE CHARTER WED.

Climaxing three years of persistent efforts to reorganize and reopen the Cisco Banking company, which closed its doors in September, 1931, the state banking board at Austin yesterday granted the Cisco State bank a charter contingent upon a loan of $140,000 from the Reconstruction Finance corporation, it was announced here today.

The conference, said Dr. Pearce, will open officially with assembly and supper at 5:30 p. m. Monday. All children will be required to arrive in time to register, receive assignments and pass physical examinations before that hour. The camp will close Saturday with breakfast.

Also said that preferential consideration will be given children who register from Cisco, whether of the Presbyterian denomination or not. They may register either with himself or with Mrs. W. W. Wallace, he said.

No children under 12 years old or over 15 years will be considered. Cots provided for the children to sleep upon.

Resume Testimony in Poison-Murder Trial

PAMPA, June 21—Testimony was resumed today in the poison-murder trial of the Rev. Louis Shockley when District Judge W. R. Ewing overruled a defense objection that an autopsy on the body of one of the alleged victims was obtained illegally.

"So far as we have found, the objection is entirely original," Judge Ewing said.

Defense attorneys had contended that when the body of W. T. Hudgins, who died November 3, 1930, was secretly exhumed the night of March 10 the accused minister should have been notified and permitted to have been present. The state contends Shockley poisoned four from which bread was made and consumed by members of the Hudgins family, his relatives. Three persons died, allegedly from the effects of the poison in the bread.

"SAMPSON" IS REVIVAL THEME THIS EVENING

"Sampson, or the Penalties of Sin," will be the subject of the Rev. Frank L. Turner, pastor, in tonight's service of a revival series which began Sunday.

The services are being held in the open air, on the lot adjoining the church building. The place is well lighted and cool, and large congregations have responded each evening.

Last night the pastor spoke upon "The Plan of Salvation," basing his sermon upon St. Paul's experience with the Philippian jailer from whose dungeon he and Silas were freed by an earthquake and who became a Christian when thus convinced of the power with which he dealt.

To the question, "What shall I do to saved?" the pastor declared that Paul directed the penitent man not to church membership, nor to baptism nor to any of the formulae of the church as essential to salvation, but that he required him first to believe. Baptism, church membership and other "outward manifestations of an inward cleansing," he said, occurred later.

Services begin at 8:15 each evening. Song services are directed by J. Hollis Clark.

Morning services are held at 10 o'clock in the church auditorium. Attendance upon these services is encouraging, said the pastor.

Humble Picnic Will Bring 500 Saturday

Humble sales department employees to the number of more than 500 are expected in Cisco Saturday from over a slice of Texas that stretches from Longview on the east to El Paso on the west.

They will be here for the annual bi-district picnic—the Fort Worth and Abilene districts—that will take place at Lake Cisco.

C. B. Newby, of Breckenridge, a member of the general planning committee, said today while a guest at the Cisco Rotary club, that an effort is on foot to make the picnic a permanent affair at the lake.

Five airplane loads of Humble come from Houston to join the sales officials and employees during the outing. In spite of the presence of even that amount of officialdom, speech-making will be an art taboed, however, said Mr. Newby.

The day will be given over to swimming in a golf tournament, soft ball games between women's teams, one of which will come from Fort Worth, and between men's teams, to bridge, and to boating and fishing, if there be some among the visitors who wish to enjoy themselves at the latter sports, and to eating.

The day will wind up with a dance at 9 o'clock in the evening. There will be two "eating" events—a weller roast at 12:30 in the afternoon and a barbecue and fish fry at 8:30.

The general committee in charge of arrangements is composed of S. V. Jay, Fort Worth, E. W. Berry, Abilene, C. B. Gullette, Fort Worth; C. B. Newby, Breckenridge; Mrs. F. D. McMahon, Mrs. J. E. Architects are being hired by prospective executives of the housing project.

The bill sets up a $200,000,000 insurance fund for building and loan associations similar to the bank deposit insurance corporation which was established last winter. The insurance fund is expected to handle the financing of at least one billion dollars worth of home repairs.

NEW PROBLEM IS ADDED TO NRA TROUBLES

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 21 — To the many problems of the National Recovery administration today was added another — what to do with industries where price stabilization has been abandoned and which now claim they cannot pay code wages or maintain code hours.

The problem became more acute today when the cleaning and dyeing industry, with 11,000 plants, 175,000 shops and 350,000 workers, announced withdrawal of its code. The laundry industry abandoned the Blue Eagle several days ago.

Both industries told similar stories. They wanted to continue under a code but could not because Admin'r Hugh S. Johnson had taken price-fixing away and had failed to enforce the trade agreements.

The price freeze was dropped from all service codes because the NRA had constant complaints and felt it was impossible to enforce.

Today the trade executive committee of the cleaning and dyeing industry declared flatly that labor benefits of the code could not be continued without price stabilization.

Capital of $50,000

The new bank will have a capital stock of $50,000 and a surplus of $10,000. Its reopening will release to the community assets that the time of its closing were estimated at a quarter of a million dollars.

"We are going to get this detail behind us as quickly as possible. We are just as anxious as anybody to throw the doors open to the public again. I feel sure that we shall be able to do that before July 15, but of course, no one can foresee what further difficulties or hindrances may arise to delay us."

Dabney arrived from Austin at 4 o'clock this morning with F. D. Wright and R. E. Grantham, the latter who represented the city of Cisco at a railroad commission gas rate hearing there. The bank board went into session on the Cisco State bank charter application at 2 yesterday afternoon.

1ST CANDIDATE ANNOUNCES FOR PRIMARY IN '36

By GORDON K. SHEARER
 United Press Staff Correspondent
 AUSTIN, June 21.—Jefferson G. Smith, Austin, is the first candidate for the 1936 democratic primary election. His announcement breaks all early records.

Smith withdrew from the race for state school superintendent this year. His withdrawal left present State School Superintendent L. A. Woods without an opponent. A. M. Blackman of the race, had previously withdrawn. Smith said he has not given up his candidacy but only postponed it two years.

Apathy of the governor's campaign promises to be broken soon. Taking a cue from Tom Hunter, who has forged to the front by sharp attacks on Attorney-General James V. Allred, other candidates may be expected to get less polite and more antagonistic.

A. W. Von Struve managing the Hunter campaign, admits that Hunter's hammer and tonge discussion has been a factor in his success. He says that this candidate has just begun along the line of such an attack. Other candidates as well as Allred are to be "attended to" as the election nears.

"Unmade" Crowds

Whatever the reason, Hunter has the campaign record for "unmade" crowds. Exclusive of "openings" and addresses at places which had resolutions, conventions or anniversaries to draw a crowd, few of the candidate's addresses have attracted many hearers. Some have frequently addressed less than 100. One is said to have eight by count.

Polls are being taken weekly to gauge Hunter's campaign. These, Von Struve said, back up Hunter's claim that he now is out in front. Next week his campaign will take a turn. He will begin a series of visits to 25 cities and towns, all with more than 10,000 population.

Sharp contrast is seen in the only two statewide judgeships races. W. C. Morrow, presiding judge of the court of criminal appeals, at no time had an announced opponent. This is the more remarkable in view of the popular clamor for speeding procedure to stop the crime wave.

The place on the state supreme court, vacated by Judge T. B. Greenwood, developer of the hottest races. It is a three-cornered one. Judge Hal S. Lattimore of the Fort Worth court of civil appeals is on the ballot for the place as "H. S." Lattimore. "That little touch in the leading mean votes. 'H. S.' is so similar to 'O. S.' in initials of his father who has been uniformly successful in races for the court of criminal appeals. Another judge of a court of appeals, James W. McDonald, Austin, seeks the place. Judge John Sharp, present member of the commission to assist the supreme court, seeks it, too. The ballot, through a notary's error, lists him as a resident of Travis instead of Ellis county.

The effect of Jefferson T. Baker's changing his name to George B. Terrell before running for state treasurer is dubious. Congressman George B. Terrell has denounced it and his many friends may agree that such "legal jargonism" ought to be stopped.

Use of nicknames on the ballot is prohibited. J. J. Jack Patterson, Dallas, is listed as a candidate for comptroller. It was ruled two years ago when he ran for railroad commissioner that he could not run as J. J. (Jack) Patterson but could use the full name without a parenthesis or showing that it was his true name. J. P. (Jimmie) Rogers was trimmed to J. P. Rogers in listing one of Harris county's two candidates for lieutenant governor.

Dennis B. Waller, taking the place of his brother, Rex Waller, who was killed while he was a candidate for state treasurer, announces his campaign to vindicate the name.

Decision of the state democratic executive committee to take no action on negro participation in the primary probably means a large negro vote. Much of it is in counties friendly to C. C. McDonald's candidacy. The executive committee decision is in line with court decisions. How far individual counties will seek to discourage the negro vote is uncertain. Lily white ascendancy in the republican party in Texas in recent years has led to stronger efforts of negroes to get a vote in the democratic primaries.

12,000 in Ft. Worth Have No Bath Tub

FORT WORTH, June 21.—There are some 12,000 persons in Fort Worth who can not enjoy singing in a bathtub. Reason: they have no bathtub.

Jelly Making
 Jellies are made by cooking together certain fruit juices and sugar in the proper proportions. A good glass of jelly is clear, sparkling transparent, and of a beautiful color. When slipped out of the glass, it holds its form and still quiver. It can be cut with a clean, distinct cleavage, retaining the clear surface and angles made by the knife. Tenderness and firmness are unmistakable qualities.

Pectin is the essential jelly-making substance found in fruit juices. Pectin belongs to a group of substances known as carbohydrates. It is found in the cell wall of fruits. A combination in fruit juices of pectin, acid, and sugar in proper proportions is essential in order to make good jelly. The best fruits for jelly making are those which contain both acid and pectin. The pectin, the fundamental jelly-making quality, is found in most all fruits and some vegetables, notably the root tubers. Some fruits contain very much more pectin than others, and it is more abundant in slightly under-ripe fruit than in that which is fully ripe. It is generally believed that pectin substances occur in plants in three distinct forms: the parent substance, proto-pectin, or pectose, which is chiefly responsible for the hard texture of green fruit. During the ripening process or by boiling, this pectose, which is an insoluble substance, is converted into pectin, which is soluble. As the fruit becomes over-ripe much of the pectin is changed to pectic acid, which is practically insoluble and lacks jelly-making power. Boiling the pectin for a long time will change it to pectic acid. Therefore, it can be readily understood why it is necessary to boil firm fruits to extract a juice rich in pectin, why over-ripe fruits are not suitable for jelly making, and why too long cooking or boiling of the jelly may result in failure. Fruits which are not over-ripe are most satisfactory for jelly making.

Test the Juice for Pectin. and see if there is considerable pectin present. Pour into a glass one tablespoon of the fruit juice and add to it the same amount of alcohol, mix by turning the glass gently, then pour carefully into another glass. If the pectin precipitates in a solid mass or clot, it is usually safe to add a cupful of sugar to each cup of juice in making jelly. If the pectin does not collect in this manner, the amount of sugar should be decreased. The most usual mistake made in jelly making is the addition of too much sugar. The result being a syrup instead of a jelly. This test for the presence of pectin in fruit juice is not an accurate quantitative test, but simply indicates whether little or much pectin is present. From such a test it is possible with some experience to decide approximately how much sugar should be added.

NOTE: Alcohol is poison and care should be taken in its use and the contents of the test destroyed immediately after test is made.

Stew grapes over slow fire until soft, strain through sieve, add sugar, cinnamon, allspice, pepper, salt, cloves, and vinegar. Boil until thick like jelly and bottle. Makes two pints.

RELIEF VARIES IN PER CAPITA EXPENDITURES

AUSTIN, June 21.—State auditors today said it was "questionable if relief funds have been fairly distributed over the state" after completing a special report on Texas relief for three months ending February 28, 1934.

The report showed that the amount expended for direct relief per destitute person varied by population groups.

"Due to the fact that relief applications from counties are not all compiled on a uniform basis and are inflated in many instances it is extremely difficult to allocate relief funds so that all relief subjects over the state will receive the same proportionate amounts of their total needs," it was pointed out.

A total of $6,413,791 was allocated and advanced to Texas counties for relief during the three months.

MAKING JELLY AT HOME
 "Jelly making is no trouble at all and I know that I am to have a good product when I follow the method given at one of the club meetings. I have been making jelly by this method for the last few weeks and missed much by not knowing it earlier," said Mrs. Beattie Kirbie, farm food supply co-operator of the Olden Home Demonstration Club. "I test the juice by the alcohol method to determine the amount of sugar to use, measure from three to five cups of juice, not more than five, heat to boiling and add equal amount of sugar, boil rapidly until the jelly drops off the spoon in flakes or sheets. The drops will be syrupy at first and then get heavy and two or three drops run together in one sheet. Pour into sterilized jars or glasses. Fill to the top as jelly shrinks as it cools and there will be enough

HOP GROWERS ON COAST FACE SLOW DEMAND

SALEM, Ore., June 21.—The boom from legal beer subsided, Pacific coast hopgrowers today faced the 1934 crop with a large surplus, slow demand and prices moderate in several ways.

Just a year ago, spurred by legislation of beer and impending repeal, dealers bid against each other, running hop prices to 75 cents a pound, one of the highest marks on record.

Hops Fluctuated
 Today hops fluctuated uncertainly between 20 and 30 cents, with demand negligible. Failure of beer consumption to reach proportions originally estimated was blamed for the deflation.

Nearly all commercial hops are grown in the three Pacific coast states, with greatest production in the Willamette and Rogue river valleys of Oregon.

On June 1 Oregon growers held 20,173 bales of hops from the year before, California 16,430 and Washington 6,172. H. A. Cornoyer, secretary of the Oregon Growers' association, reported. A year previous the holdings amounted to only 3,204, 2,715 and 1,224 bales respectively. A bale of hops, 200 pounds, is sufficient for 250 barrels of beer.

1934 Crop $5,000 Bales
 Last year Oregon produced 100,000 bales, California 57,000, Washington 39,000. Cornoyer estimated the Oregon 1934 crop at 85,000 bales, with a decrease in Washington and slight increase in California.

Further decline in prices is due when the new hop crop goes on the market late in the summer, observers believed. The surplus now on hand will drop sharply in value before the influx of newly-dried hops, preferred by brewers.

Tax Penalty Respite Will End June 30th

The special law providing for omission and reduction of penalties on delinquent state taxes expires June 30, 1934, a statement issued Saturday by County Tax Collector T. L. Cooper reminds. After that date, the collector says in an advertisement printed in today's American, his office will be required to collect 10 per cent penalty, six per cent interest per annum and $2 tax cost per year on delinquent taxes.

Those owing delinquent taxes are urged to read the advertisement carefully.

PARKER QUILTS OR DID HE? IS ARGUED POINT

AUSTIN, June 21.—R. D. Parker, who served for 25 years as an employee of the Texas Railroad commission and who of late had been in charge of proration enforcement in east Texas oil field, was no longer associated with the commission today.

By what means Parker's services were terminated was a subject of controversy.

The Texas Railroad commission said Parker was discharged because he failed to curb the flow of illegally produced oil. Parker said he resigned because of the "utter failure of all three members of the commission to cooperate with me in any form."

The dismissal order, made public Wednesday, was effect at once. It bore the signature of Comrs. C. V. Terrell and Ernest Thompson but did not contain that of Commr. Chairman Lon A. Smith.

PASTURE FIRES CAUSE ALARM TO CATTLEMEN

ALBANY, June 21.—Grass fires over Shackelford county pasture lands are becoming alarming of recent weeks and farmers and ranchmen are urging all who can in any way help keep down this dangerous hazard, to take every precaution possible to prevent these grass fires.

Albany citizens have been called on several times to help put out fires near the city and they have responded in a fine way. Groups of ten to thirty and forty men have gone out to help save the farmers and ranchmen what grass they could but some losses have been heavy and will be keenly felt.

J. H. Reynolds lost about 100 acres of the best grass he had in the Allen pasture six or eight miles east of Albany, when fire swept that section Tuesday. Fire on the Judge Matthews land six miles north of Albany Wednesday, estimated at 60 to 100 acres of good grass land.

Hardly a day passes that some new spot of blackened grass and timber is seen on some of the highways and public roads leading in and out of Albany. Not only is this a heavy loss in pastureage, but often times the trees are practically killed.

With the country heeding moisture so badly it is heart-rending to the ranchmen to see so much grass swept away, and they live in suspense for fear of the loss that might be sustained in livestock and other property.

Dionnes Seeking to Break Fair Contract

NORTH BAY, Ont., June 21.—The Dionne family is attempting to break a contract to take the famous quintuplets to the Chicago fair and may ask the Canadian government to act in the dispute, it was disclosed Tuesday by the 61-year-old grandfather of the infant girls.

Speedier Deliveries than you've ever made

—and at less cost than you ever thought possible

FAST delivery service is more important than ever before. And because of its unequalled "pick-up", the new Ford V-8 Delivery Car will give you speedier deliveries than you've ever made.

The new Ford V-8 is the most economical delivery car Ford has ever built... and that goes for maintenance costs as well as fuel consumption. If repairs ever do become necessary, remember that Ford parts cost a lot less than parts for any other delivery car made.

Drive one of these new Ford V-8's. Ask your nearest Ford dealer to allow you to check its economy for yourself on a test run... then consider how smart an appearance this unit makes on the road.

If you'll do these three things we believe you'll agree that no better or more economical daily advertisement for your business can be purchased today at any price.

OLD FOLKS LIKE THIS LAXATIVE

Tired, slow-functioning, eliminative organs need the "full" action, prompt, easy movement given by Feen-a-mint, the delightful-tasting chewing gum laxative that contains a laxative ingredient regularly prescribed by physicians. Old folks especially need modern Feen-a-mint, because, by chewing, the laxative is distributed uniformly into the system and this does not shock, irritate, nor strain. Prompt, thorough-acting, Feen-a-mint, while pleasant to take, contains no richness to upset your stomach or diet. Work-hardened old folks like Feen-a-mint because its more modern action eliminates any necessity of experiencing that delay that starts poisons seeping into the system. "Daisy" is dangerous—daisy-Feen-a-mint for constipation. 15c and 25c at drugists everywhere.

CALLS ALL-BRAN NATIONAL NATURAL LAXATIVE

Delicious Cereal Checked His Constipation

Here is an unsolicited letter from Mr. Daniels:

"For many years I have been habitually constipated, and have used all sorts of laxatives. So, in fairness to Kellogg's ALL-BRAN, I heartily claim it to be a most wonderful remedy for constipation.

"Need I tell you that I have long since ceased using laxatives? Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is the National Natural Laxative. If it were used by every family in the United States for breakfast, we would have a much healthier race of people."—Mr. John Daniels, 1090 Third St., North Bergen, N. J.

Tests show Kellogg's ALL-BRAN furnishes "bulk" to exercise the intestines and vitamin B to help tone the intestinal tract. ALL-BRAN also supplies iron for the blood.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like that in leafy vegetables. Isn't this food much pleasanter than risking pills and drugs? Two tablespoonfuls daily are usually sufficient. If not relieved this way, see your doctor.

SMASHES SPEEDWAY RACE RECORD!

—and then be smoked a Camel!

TRY THIS EXPERIENCE in increasing energy quickly when worn out!

If you have ever tried to clock 300 or 400 miles' in one day's drive you can imagine the terrific output of energy a racing driver crowds into "the 500" at Indianapolis. As Bill Cummings said himself after the race: "For 200 grueling laps...I had to average 104.863 miles an hour, the new world's record for 'the 500'...sometimes hitting it up to over 2 miles a minute...to win. 4 hours and 46 minutes of this wrings the vitality out of a man. I felt pretty well played out at the end of the race. My mechanic and I turned to Camels for the first luxurious smoke that always chases that tired feeling away. Any time I'm 'all in' I know that Camels will give me a 'lift' in energy. I smoke them steadily, too, because I know that Camels will never jangle healthy nerves."

This "energizing effect" in Camels, long recognized by Camel smokers, has recently been studied and confirmed by a famous research laboratory in New York. It is harmless, refreshing. You'll like Camels—a matchless blend of costlier tobaccos. You can "get a lift with a Camel" as often as you wish. Camels never get on your nerves, no matter how many you smoke.

Camels are made from finer, MORE EXPENSIVE TOBACCOS—Turkish and Domestic—than any other popular brand

ROAD TO TRUE RICHES: Seek ye first the kingdom of God, and his righteousness; and all these things shall be added unto you.—Matthew 6: 33.

BRITAIN DOESN'T LIKE OUR RODEOS

All the troubles of Pandora's fabled box beset Tex Austin's expensive effort to popularize the rodeo in England. He is the victim of a legal attack or interposition by some humane society at every turn. Even his charity performances have got him into difficulties. He is threatened with failure and great financial loss.

It begins to look as if he chose the wrong country. People's interest in sports, indeed, their very definition of sports, springs from the national experience. There is nothing in the British national life to suggest to the average Britisher any appreciation of the sport element in a spectacle so hard on a man as bulldozing an American steer. When one brute of a human grabs another by the throat and slams him upon the canvas mat hard enough to shatter his bones, the Englishman, as well as his American cousin, can jolly well see some point to the performance; and it is quite probable that modern British culture is not too far removed from a brawny era to fall altogether to find some elements of satisfaction in the spectacle of two pit bulldogs at the bloody business of tearing one another to pieces. Such scenes have a root of sentiment in the national soil. There is a meaning back of them which can be interpreted in terms of historical fact, a meaning that the Britisher instinctively understands, just as the American grasps a significance in his rodeo. The rodeo sentiment is a refined expression of a brave and titanic struggle with a frontier and the economic challenge of a period about which clusters perhaps the most romantic portion of the American saga. We see in the rodeo not what the Britisher sees as cruel, but the dramatization of a spirit and an experience, a theme of conquest that strikes a sympathetic note in minds still close in history to the period that produced the traditions thus revived. We enjoy the rodeo not because we see in it anything unfair or painful to the animals, but because these animals are a vital part of the picture to which a significant sentiment attaches. In a sense, they represent the antagonist, the forces of opposition which were required to be overcome before the conquest was complete. The fact that the performers put themselves at greater risk than they do the animals is proof enough of the sentiment and the attitude.

But one cannot blame the Britisher if the spectacle of a bawling steer plowing up the tanbark with a bronzed athlete hanging onto his horns offends his sensibilities. What has he ever experienced to lend any significance to that sight? The American sees vast, sun-baked ranges; he sees acres of meaty bodies milling or in furious stampeade; he sees men fighting drouth, prairie fires, maddened animals and even maddened men; he sees men dying and men triumphant over unholly odds. In short, he reviews a proud history in the swift suggestions of that entertainment, and he gets a wallop out of it. But what of the British spectator, who gets his meat in refrigerated compartments from Australia, Argentina or Texas? What of romance is there in the tenderloin he had for dinner last night. Its dearest suggestions for him are connected with maritime supremacy and free trade.

HOPKINS SENDS BIG MONEY TO TEXAS

Administrator Harry L. Hopkins has allotted $792,500 for relief purposes in Texas. This sum was granted, according to Hopkins, with the understanding that it takes care of federal relief emergency administration 50 per cent up to June 1. Furthermore, he said in his wire to the governor, "It is expected that the administration costs will be taken out of this fund. I am also allotting for June $122,727 for transients; $32,492 for NRA; $23,908 for student aid; $710 for public works parks; $8,665 for research."

He made no mention of a sum to purchase additional cod liver oil. Perhaps he had a reason. The stock of cod liver oil on hand, representing an investment of $49,000, may be sufficient until the coming of fall or winter. Mussolini in his early days as a dictator used cod liver oil on lazy adults who refused to work when given orders to work by the agents of Il Duce. It worked like a charm. After a second dose all the indifferent accepted jobs wherever they found them, or wherever Mussolini ordered them. Cod liver oil may work wonders under the skies of Texas.

INTERESTING FIGURES FROM DIGEST

There are many interesting sidelights to the Literary Digest poll. An analysis of "how voters in this poll voted in 1932, and how they vote now" is one of the sidelights. For instance: Voted for others than Roosevelt and Hoover in 1932, 20,064 for the New Deal and 7,071 against the New Deal. There is a column devoted to "those who did not vote in 1932." Its total is $1,420. This was the division: For the New Deal, 17,041. Against the New Deal, 14,879.

Speaking from the ballots from industrial centers, these centers continue to give the president a majority. All of New England and New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania returned larger ratios for F. D. R. and his policies in this New Deal poll than they did for him in 1932. Bankers' ballots recorded separately made it "clear that American bankers, on the whole, are against the president's policies," and "the 'nos' have piled up a lead of 1280 and a plurality in 31 of the 47 states heard from." Again, "some of the states that have returned the strongest popular vote for Roosevelt showed the strongest bankers' opposition against his policies." Speaking of the South the Digest says, "Bankers' ballots from southern states total a comfortable vote of confidence for the New Deal that closely parallels popular action."

The Best News We Could Read Right Now

Head of Army Air Corps Invited "To Take a Ride"

By HUGH NUGENT FITZGERALD
Major Gen. Benjamin G. Foulois is chief of the army air corps. An unanimous and formal demand for his immediate removal has been made to Secy of War George Dern by a house investigating committee of eight members. Their report has been presented to Pres Roosevelt, accusing the general of "dishonesty, gross misconduct, violations of law, incompetency and mismanagement."

World war will be fought in the air. Gen. Mitchell "knows it is going to be fought in the air." Now for another roar of protest "from the inside of the air service" and the loyal friends of the general who has been invited to take a ride and this, too, without delay—"for a day in court."

SECY IKES ORDERS PWA HOUSING SHAKEUP
Secy Ikes has named Horatio B. Backett as PWA director of housing and general manager of the public works emergency housing corporation. Backett's appointment followed a shakeup in the housing division after an investigation of what

Ikes calls "very loose business methods."

Robert B. Kohn was the director of the housing division. He resigned after he had been shorn of his powers by Ikes. Washington has been informed that at least 10 prominent officials of the housing division will be removed through transfers "or their voluntary resignation." Secy Ikes said the division had "approved" land values as submitted by the owners without careful checking through independent sources. That is, the appraisers of the division acting for the government and the people permitted the owners to place their own values on the property to be sold to the government. Why shouldn't there be a shakeup? Why shouldn't there be resignations? Why shouldn't there be prosecutions?

Throne of the Editor's Spectacles

By GEORGE
First meager returns from the Daily News effort to gauge local sentiment with respect to the governor's race puts Maury Hughes and Jimmy Allred in the forefront. Fourteen persons early today had responded to the News' request that they register their present sentiment on the issue. Mr. Hughes got six of these votes and Mr. Allred five. Tom Hunter, who many able political prognosticators believe will carry the county, received only two of these votes and Clint Small got one.

A great many of you readers gave the ballot scant notice. Some of you are downright lazy, of course, and the problem of snipping the coupon out of the front page, checking your favorite and sending it in was too much for your summer lethargy. I'm sorry we could not perforate the square so it could be readily detached. Others of you are indifferent, and still others are suspicious of the motives of the News in conducting this poll.

The latter should be assured the News is acting in collaboration with a number of newspapers over the state in attempting to secure a definite indication of the drift of political sentiment as regards the governor's race. The citizen is asked to vote his or her "present" sentiments, and the act constitutes neither a contract nor a moral obligation to support the candidate now favored. We keep no records of who voted and you may express a pres-

Texas Topics

By RAYMOND BROOKS

AUSTIN, June 21.—Early in September, Texas will see an almost unprecedented number of resignations of state employes, whichever way the political cat jumps in the primaries. It will just be getting ready for a new administration and a new lineup of administrative officials. The governor's office, lieutenant governor's office and attorney general's office will go into new hands. There are candidates opposing incumbents for all state offices except superintendent of public instruction and presiding judge of criminal appeals court. Many of the "career" people in governmental offices will feel their best prospect is to get aligned with some successful candidate they have known. This will not be confined to the same offices in which they have worked, as some of those who have guessed right and had the ability to back it up feel equally free to offer for work in any division of the government.

There is a big "if" of contingency hanging over the Texas highway department. The same sort of thing bears as well on the board of insurance commissioners and other similar overlapping app-itive boards, and up-

Behind the Scenes in Washington

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON.—They had one of those highbrow musicales at the White House the other night, organized by Mrs. Roosevelt, who likes to entertain and make everybody happy. Mr. Roosevelt, whose favorite song is "Home on the Range" and who is always up on the current slang, walked into it on the arm of a colored servant. "You know," he confided to the servant, "I'm very strong for this sort of thing. But I can take it."

Who's Crazy? Your Guess
A MAN walked into the Senate gallery the other day and he was very nearly nude. To be exact, he wore sandals, a loin cloth and a short white cape over his shoulders. (Later he described himself as "the American Gandhi.") Anyway, he wore so little that he caused no end of consternation and was promptly hustled out of view by Sergeant-at-Arms Chesley Journey and half a dozen policemen.

It was at that point that Senator Frederic C. Walcott of Connecticut, a Republican if ever there was one, demanded: "What do you want to arrest him for? Probably he's the only sane man in Washington." There's a certain amount of evidence that Walcott was giving voice to an opinion widely held not only in Washington, but also in the country outside. To be brutally frank, however, one must admit that nearly all congressmen, as well as most New Dealers, harbor an idea that the rest of the nation is not crazy, but just plain dumb. (Neither idea is completely true.)

RAREST sight in Washington. Miss Frances ("Robbie") Robinson, in an NRA corridor without her boss, General Johnson. Reason: She had been out to powder her nose. Willard Thorp, chief of Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce until Chairman Stephens of Commerce Committee scuttled his confirmation, working with sleeves rolled up in office of Dexter Keizer, brains of NRA Consumers Advisory Board. Thorp is doing temporary job for his close friend Keezer before taking big job with National Emergency Council—after Congress adjourns.

Willard hotel, fourth floor. Clarence Darrow and Charles Edward Russell, his adviser two aged, inveterate Socialists—trotting to the elevator toward lunch. Darrow unkempt as usual, Russell dapper in straw hat, tropical suit, cane and sport shoes.

Don Richberg, biggest NEA shot next to Johnson, sticking his head out office window to signal to Mrs. R., waiting in automobile across the street, that he's ready to go home. (Just at that point, I heard later, a sudden conference broke out and Mrs. R. had to wait an hour and a half.)

Jim Farley's house-warming for the press, beginning at his office in new postoffice building and continuing long at Hotel Raleigh's top floor ballroom. Jim, who doesn't drink, said the newspaper boys had been nice to him and he wanted to do something nice for them.

PEACOCK PROPHETS

MILWAUKEE, June 21 — Peacocks at the Washington park zoo have proven to be reliable weather prophets. On dry days the birds seldom utter a sound, but as humidity increases and rain is in the offing, they start to cry. As a storm becomes more imminent the cries become louder and more frequent. Usually by the time the storm breaks, the peacock section is a virtual bedlam.

NEW BIDS MAY BE CALLED ON HIGHWAY JOB

Errors in estimates on the federal emergency highway project for the reconstruction of Highway 23 south of Cisco nine miles to Romney, are reported to have held up federal approval of a contract tentatively awarded an Able firm. Bid on the project was said to be several thousand dollars in excess of what the federal bureau of roads would approve as a result of these errors.

It was considered probable that the project will be resubmitted for bids. Meantime, difficulty is being encountered in obtaining funds to continue the reconstruction of the Leary cut-off north of Cisco to a junction with Highway 67.

Garner Says His Job Is Unimportant And Obscure But He Likes It Now

As they always were, I don't believe our national viewpoint is changing radically. "You can't drag me into any discussion as to whether the house or the senate is the more efficient law-making body. I do not think when I was in the house I wasn't able to keep the farmer's hours I do now. Probably I didn't really have more fun—probably it just seemed so. And I didn't anticipate any greater opportunity for public service or personal satisfaction in changing from this speakership to the vice presidency. There's no thrill to being elected vice president—not to one who's been as close to our government as long as I have. Just less work—and less power."

He compares his present position with his job in the house of representatives. "As speaker of the house I had the best time of my life," he says. "I had a hand in the swift daily activity of lawmaking, deciding what legislation should be brought out, what killed. There's nothing more thrilling and exciting to a politician of 30 years who thrives on excitement as I do. The vice-president, being neither an executive of the government nor a legislator, is a figure of slight importance with a title of great impressiveness."

Too Many Committees "The vice president cannot initiate any reform. I know of one shoring need for reform in the senate: There are entirely too many committees. No, when two or three of these committees, as often happens, have hearings at the same hour, it's physically impossible for a man to attend all of them. Of course, the proceedings are recorded, but a member doesn't get the same impression from the printed record as he does from personal appearances. And no one could read all the printed records, anyway."

SCHOOL BOARD ACTS TO STOP BOND JUGGLING

AUSTIN, June 21.—The state board of education has moved to stop Texas school districts from "juggling" their bonded debts.

Attorney-general James V. Allred was asked to prepare blank forms on which the true status of interest, sinking fund accounts, tax income and levy and a record of taxable values, may be recorded for each school district.

The data, sworn to by district officials, will be required of every school district asking the state board to buy its bonds.

It has been reported that many school districts have levied necessary taxes for bond retirement, but have collected only about 30 per cent of the revenue. Others have reduced taxable values by half to reduce their income so as to be unable to pay interest and sinking fund allotments due on district bonds.

Strict Accounting
 Backed by legislative enactment, the state board of education has required a strict accounting of interest and sinking fund on only that part of bond issues held by the state school fund. Many districts have defaulted on the portions of bond issues held by individuals.

One Dallas securities company, which has distributed over $100,000,000 in Texas municipal obligations during the past 20 years, observed that "a number of communities are now seeking to willfully repudiate their obligations, demanding without justification that principal, as well as interest, should be reduced."

They have purposely withheld payment of interest coupons and maturing principal where funds were available for payment, in an effort to drive the market for their obligations down.

A number of communities have purposely increased their general operating expenses to a point where the full available taxing power is used for this purpose, leaving nothing for debt service.

"Lavish Spending"
 "The property owners located in the repudiating cities and districts, therefore, being subjected to the maximum legal tax levies and the public officials are lavishly spending the full proceeds of collections without making any payments to its creditors," the manager of the securities company said.

The board of education is making an effort to preserve the credit of Texas securities on the bond market.

It now has a cash balance of $1,476,000 to invest for the available school fund of Texas. The sum may be invested in short term U. S. treasury certificates because refund bond offerings of $941,000 have failed. Treasury certificates will be preferred unless more desirable Texas securities can be found.

Too much, moreover, legislative effort has been blamed for the alleged efforts of many school districts to avoid honest debts.

"Hostels" Awaiting Young Travelers
 WASHINGTON, June 21.—Youthful wanderers from all parts of the world will find shelter in thousands of European "youth hostels," this summer, according to the National Geographic society.

In keeping cool during the summer months choice of foods will play an important part.

The energy requirements are naturally less with warm weather, so the caloric consumption of the winter months should be reduced. The heat and humidity as well as the tendency toward physical inactivity make it unnecessary and inadvisable to provide a diet rich in heat producing foods.

However, it is vastly important to eat nourishing foods which are easily digested and will regulate the functions of the body and guard against the annoying digestive troubles. Always keep in mind that the stomach is as sensitive to the heat as any part of the human organism and overloading or overtaxing it in any way may cause much unnecessary distress.

Have Balanced Diet
 Try to maintain a balanced diet, using the minimum amount of fat and carbohydrate possible to keep the correct proportions. Protein always is needed to take care of the wear and tear of the body, but because protein foods tend to increase energy production in the system, it's advisable to cut down on them, too.

When the heat is excessive, there are certain types of foods it is wise to avoid. Rich sauces and gravies, fried foods, rich cakes and desserts, hot breads and all kinds of sweets have a decided heating effect on the body. All fats are heat producers and some are difficult to digest as well.

The foods to eat are fresh fruits and vegetables, meat or its substitute not often than once a day. And drink plenty of milk and water. Three well-balanced meals will do much toward making even them to seek food and lodging. Within these limits, for shilling a franc, or a mark, the traveler may cook his supper, enjoy a fresside chat with friendly campers, and retire to a comfortable bed.

However, the Society explained, to avail himself of this Old World hospitality, the traveler must be a member of a national hostels association. Membership is obtained easily and dues do not total more than about $1 a year.

Reciprocal agreements between the various countries assure members admission to any foreign hostel, whether it be the Reichshospital, band fur Deutsche Jugendherbergen, La Ligue Francaise pour de Auberges de la Jeunesse, or the Gaelic An Oige of the Irish Free State.

All associations are alike in their ideals of international democracy and simple living and there are no race, creed, or social distinction. Youth and a slender purse win first consideration.

CONCORD, N. H., June 21.—When Mrs. Joseph Houston bought a fowl for Sunday dinner, she also received a half dozen eggs although she wasn't aware of it. She was preparing it for the cooking pot when she discovered six good sized eggs inside.

Monday's Menu

BREAKFAST: Strawberries, cereal, cream, shirred eggs, toast, milk, coffee.

LUNCHEON: Scalloped new cabbage with tomatoes, brown bread and cheese sandwiches, jelly roll, milk, tea.

DINNER: Veal and ham pie, chard with lemon butter, cucumber salad, raspberry ice, milk, coffee.

Fresh fruits and vegetables are refreshing and cooling because they are low in calories which produce heat and energy. Vitamins and mineral constituents, so essential for maintaining health are supplied in abundance. They are valuable, too, on account of their roughage and is as necessary in summer as in winter.

Sip Hot Drinks Slowly
 Of course plenty of liquids always are needed. But as heat causes more rapid evaporation from the surface of the body, a larger amount of milk and water and fruit juices are required in warm weather to insure adequate elimination.

Iced beverages are inviting on a hot day but remember that if they are drunk rapidly they may cause discomfort by the sudden chilling of the stomach. Slowly sipping very cold drinks and slowly eating frozen dishes is the safest way and the most effective, too, because it creates a more lasting coolness.

Ices and sherbets are more cooling than ice creams. The higher the fat content in any dessert, frozen or otherwise, the more calories and consequently the more heat.

Frank Views Upon Women Cost His Job

AKRON, O., June 21.—Because he aired his views on women frankly, a University of Akron professor is out of a job.

Prof. Frank Maturo was quoted as saying in an interview that "Men don't want their women pure any more." Prof. Maturo denied he made the statement, but he lost his job just the same. The faculty asked him to resign.

Students rallied to his defense by charging authorities at the university are "archaic and provincial." Members of Sigma Delta Nu sorority approved the views of Professor Maturo. One girl there said: "He spoke the truth. It's hard to hear the truth. Men don't want their women pure. All the girls know it and the men admit it. It doesn't make any difference any more."

Mrs. Alma Spencer, house mother of Zeta Tau Alpha sorority, said: "It's a pretty broad statement. But this is 1934 and not 1880. All the girls I have talked with believe the statement is a pretty thin reason for discharging the professor."

Faculty members declined to discuss the matter.

Registration for Presbyterian Camp May Exceed Quota

OPENS MONDAY FOR ONE WEEK AT LAKE CISCO

Registrations actual and indicated for the Fifth Annual Intermediate Camp conference of the Fort Worth Presbytery of the Presbyterian church which opens Monday, June 25 at Lake Cisco, are exceeding the camp limit of 100. Dr. J. Stuart Pearce, pastor of the First Presbyterian church and a member of the camp committee, said today.

The camp will hold for a week during which a program of religious instruction will be carried on in connection with recreational activities for boys and girls of from 12 to 25 years of age, inclusive.

This will be the first time that the encampment will have been held here. Preparations are under way to make it a permanent institution here, by providing a site and buildings to take care, not only of the intermediate group, but of camp conferences for young people of other age groups.

Opens With Supper

The conference, said Dr. Pearce, will open officially with assembly and supper at 5:30 p. m. Monday. All children will be required to arrive in time to register, receive assignments and pass physical examinations before that hour. The camp will close Saturday with breakfast.

He also said that preferential consideration will be given children who register from Cisco, whether of the Presbyterian denomination or not. They may register either with themselves or with Mrs. W. W. Wallace, he said.

No children under 12 years old over 15 years will be considered.

Cots Provided

Cots will be provided for the children to sleep upon. Each child will be required to bring a pad or heavy quilt and other bedding. However, other equipment to be brought by the children consists of Bible, pencil, notebook, a book to be read during "Quiet Hours", towels, bed linen, blankets, pillow, bathing suit, hiking clothing and personal articles. The fee for each child will be $5 which pays for meals, general camp expenses and so forth.

The camp will be under the direction of the Rev. M. H. Applewhite, Fort Worth. Courses in religious education will be taught at stated hours during the mornings. Afternoons will be given over to recreational activities, organizational meetings and rest periods. The campers will be grouped in "tribes" headed by an older young person as counselor.

During the camp, the girls will be quartered in the Country club and the boys in the Lake Cisco pavilion. Thursday, June 28, will be Visitor's day.

The faculty for the camp will consist of the Rev. Mr. Applewhite, Dr. Pearce, Miss Stella Hovey, presbytery young people's work director; the Rev. Frank Taylor, director of recreation; and Mrs. G. A. Nelson, in charge of dormitories and meals.

Couple Still Missing On Sail Boat Trip

CHICAGO, June 21 — Hope for the safety of a youth and a girl who sailed to return from a hazardous Lake Michigan sail boat trip dwindled today.

An airplane, three coast guard cutters, and lake freighters joined in a fruitless search for Raymond Gustafson, 24, and Miss Ruth Hatch, a student residing with the Gustafson family.

They had not been seen since they embarked for an all-day sail at 10 a. m. yesterday in the youth's 16-foot boat.

Resume Testimony in Poison-Murder Trial

PAMPA, June 21.—Testimony was resumed today in the poison-murder trial of the Rev. Louis Shockley by District Judge W. R. Ewing overruled a defense objection that an autopsy of the body of one of the alleged victims was obtained illegally.

"So far as we have found, the objection is entirely original," Judge Ewing said.

Defense attorneys had contended that when the body of W. T. Hudgins, who died November 3, 1930, was secretly exhumed the night of March 10 the accused minister should have been notified and permitted to have been present. The state contends Shockley poisoned flour from which bread was made and consumed by members of the Hudgins family, his relatives. Three persons died, allegedly from the effects of the poison in the bread.

W. D. May Is Taken to Leavenworth Prison

FORT WORTH, June 21.—The gates at Leavenworth penitentiary will close behind W. D. May, Handley farmer today as he begins 27 years servitude on conviction in the $72,000 postal robbery here in February 1933.

In custody of U. S. Marshal J. R. Wright, May left last night for Leavenworth. He also faces death in the electric chair for the Handley triple slaying last year, which the officers contend grew out of the mail robbery. An appeal is to be taken from the district court verdict.

Miss Perkins Denies Peace Move Deadlock

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 21.—Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins, the dynamic woman entrusted by President Roosevelt with the task of bringing peace to the turbulent steel industry, today awaited answer from plant owners on labor's peace proposals.

She revealed that she had placed the four-point peace offer before the American Iron and Steel Institute both "by mail and phone" but that she had not received a reply "because they probably want to think it over."

She denied that there was a deadlock in negotiations.

DECISION ON GAS RATE FOR CISCO WAITS

AUSTIN, June 21 — The State Railroad Commission today took under advisement the controversy between the city of Cisco and the Community Gas company over rates charges in that city. The city is attempting to reduce the rate from 67 1/2 cents per 1,000 cubic feet to 50 cents.

The gas company has asked for permission to institute a "step rate" schedule of gas charges in Cisco, beginning at $1.60 for the first 1,000 feet and progressing to 50 cents per thousand after the first 5,000 feet have been consumed.

The hearing was before Comm'r E. O. Thompson, at whose request it had been postponed from a previous setting.

Appearing in behalf of the city were F. D. Wright and R. N. Grant-ham, the latter city attorney. Marshal Newcomb appeared for the gas company.

Com. Thompson indicated the commission would rule upon the issue within a few days.

"SAMPSON" IS REVIVAL THEME THIS EVENING

"Sampson, or the Penalties of Sin," will be the subject of the Rev. Frank L. Turner, pastor, in tonight's sermon upon St. Paul's experience with an autopsy of a revival series which began Sunday.

The services are being held in the open air, on the lot adjoining the church building. The place is well lighted and cool, and large congregations have responded each evening.

Last night the pastor spoke upon "The Plan of Salvation", basing his sermon upon St. Paul's experience with the Philippian jailer from whose dungeon he and Silas were freed by an earthquake and who became a Christian when thus convinced of the power with which he dealt.

"To the question, 'What shall I do to be saved?' the pastor declared that Paul directed the penitent man not to church membership, nor to baptism nor to any of the formulae of the church as essential to salvation, but that he required him first to believe. Baptism, church membership and other 'outward manifestations of an inward cleansing," he said, occurred later.

Song services are directed by J. Hollis Clark.

Morning services are held at 10 o'clock in the church auditorium. Attendance upon these services is encouraging, said the pastor.

Humble Picnic Will Bring 500 Saturday

Humble sales department employees to the number of more than 500 are expected in Cisco Saturday from over a slice of Texas that stretches from Longview on the east to El Paso on the west.

They will be here for the annual bi-district picnic—the Fort Worth and Abilene districts—that will take place at Lake Cisco.

C. B. Newby, of Breckenridge, a member of the general planning committee, said today, while a guest at the Cisco Rotary club, that an effort is on foot to make the picnic a permanent affair at the lake.

Five airplane loads of Humble come from Houston to join the sales officials and employees during the outing. In spite of the presence of even that amount of officialdom, speech-making will be an art taboo, however, said Mr. Newby.

The day will be given over to swimming, to a golf tournament, soft ball games between women's teams, one of which will come from Fort Worth, and between men's teams to bridge, and to boating and fishing, if there be some among the visitors who wish to enjoy themselves at the latter sports, and to eating.

The day will wind up with a dance at 9 o'clock in the evening.

There will be two "eatings" events—a wicker roast at 12:30 in the afternoon and a barbecue and fish fry at 6:30.

The general committee in charge of arrangements is composed of S. V. Jay, Fort Worth; E. W. Berry, Abilene; C. B. Gullette, Fort Worth; C. B. Newby, Breckenridge; Mrs. F. D. McMahon, Mrs. J. E. Caffrey, Mrs. J. W. Thomas and Mrs. W. C. McDaniel, Cisco; Mrs. E. W. Berry, Abilene, and Mrs. C. B. Newby, Breckenridge.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., June 21 — Charges that young girls aspiring to motion picture careers are forced to submit to "affairs" with studio courtiers were contained today in a grand jury report.

County officials made public the testimony of a feminine "bit player" that she and others who came to Hollywood are forced to surrender their charms and become "party girls" in exchange for minor assignments.

Her testimony preceded indictment of Dave Allen, head of the Central Casting bureau, and Gloria Marsh, screen actress, on moral charges.

Revival Starts at Romney, June 25th

"Good singing and gospel preaching will be the features of these services," he said. "People of the community, irrespective of denomination are invited to worship with us."

NEWTON MOB LYNCH NEGRO AS ATTACKER

NEWTON, Texas, June 21 — A 38-year-old negro, charged with attacking a young white girl here, was lynched last night by a mob of 200 armed men who overpowered two deputy sheriffs taking the victim to Orange for safe-keeping.

The nude body of the negro, John Briggs, was found at 2 a. m. today in front of a box factory where he worked. He had been hanged.

The deputies were halted on the highway 27 miles south of here. The officers were disarmed and a noose was thrown around the negro's neck as he sat in the officers' car.

The negro was jerked from the car. The officers were told to "get going." They said they drove away immediately.

Deputy Sheriffs D. W. Smith and W. E. Davison were ordered by Sheriff T. S. Hughes to take the negro from the old Newton county jail last night when a howling mob of men and women gathered outside.

"We told the negro the jail was about to be stormed, and that we were helpless," Smith said. "We asked him if he wanted to attempt to slip away and go to Orange with us."

"He accepted gladly."

The negro, crying frantically, was given a coat and hastened out of the rear door of the jail to an awaiting automobile.

Smith said that about 27 miles from Newton the road was blocked by a mob of men standing eight men deep. They were armed with shot-guns, rifles and pistols, Smith said.

The negro admitted attacking the girl before he was lynched, authorities said.

Cisco Party Will "Split" for Return

Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Crawford, their daughter, Helen, and Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Foxworth and Miss Adele Anderson, who left several days ago for Detroit, Mich., where Mr. Crawford will attend the convention of Rotary International, will "split up" for their return to Cisco.

After the convention, Mr. Crawford will go to Flint, Mich., where a new Chevrolet, purchased through the A. G. Motor company here, will be delivered to him. Mr. Foxworth and Miss Helen will return in the new machine by way of Kentucky. Mr. and Mrs. Foxworth and Miss Adele will drive the old car back by way of Alabama.

HELIUM GAS IS SOLE INDUSTRY OF TINY TOWN

DEXTER, Kan., June 21.—This community of 500 persons has lost its most important industry with the closing of the helium gas fields here.

The Dexter field is one of the three in the world, the other two being located at Thatcher, Colo., and Amarillo, Tex. After the federal government withdrew its contracts for the gas, production was curtailed to such an extent that it necessitated closing the plant there.

Discovered in 1903

The gas first was discovered in 1903. Two drillers struck a large flow of gas at a depth of 480 feet. The pressure was so great that the roar of the escaping "fuel" was heard for several miles.

The town planned a monster celebration and the whole countryside was invited. It was decided to unhook a pipe and ignite the escaping gas. This was to be allowed to burn all day and night while the townsmen celebrated.

The big day arrived. Flowery speeches were delivered and a torch was applied to the escaping gas. It was promptly blown out, succeeding torches met the same fate. The gas refused to burn and the celebration ceased. Dexter soon forgot about its gas fields.

Found to Be Helium

Later samples of the gas were sent to the University of Kansas chemistry department. It was found that the gas contained helium—an element whose value was not understood at that time.

When the World War came the product immediately became a demand for use in dirigibles. Helium is light and non-inflammable. After the war the industry lapsed into a period of stagnation.

In 1927, however, the government again became interested in the Dexter field and awaited a contract for the extraction of the helium to the Kentucky Oxygen and Hydrogen company, which built a large plant here. Control later passed to the Goodyear company.

Army Planning Mass Flight to Alaska

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 21.—Smartering under criticism heaped on it while it flew the air mail, the army air corps is planning a spectacular mass flight from Washington to Nome, Alaska "to prove its flying ability," it was revealed today.

Detailed plans have not been drawn up but the flight will have three primary objectives:

1.—To demonstrate mass flying ability of army air corps pilots who had only a modicum of success in flying the air mail.

2.—Goodwill promotion between the United States and Canada.

3.—A thorough test of the efficiency of the 12 Martin bombers to be flown.

Silver Act Is Being Put Into Effect Now

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 21.—The U. S. government has begun to carry out provisions of the new silver purchase act which provides for an eventual 25 per cent silver base for the country's metallic monetary reserves, Sec'y of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau, Jr., said today.

NEW PROBLEM IS ADDED TO NRA TROUBLES

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 21 — To the many problems of the National Recovery administration today was added another — what to do with industries where price stabilization has been abandoned and which now claim they cannot pay code wages or maintain code hours.

The problem became more acute today when the cleaning and dyeing industry, with 11,000 plants, 175,000 shops and 350,000 workers, announced withdrawal of its code. The laundry industry abandoned the Blue Eagle several days ago.

Both industries told similar stories. They wanted to continue under a code but could not because Acme's Hugh S. Johnson had taken price-fixing away and had failed to enforce the trade agreements.

The price feature was dropped from all service codes because the NRA had constant complaints and felt it was impossible to enforce.

Today the trade executive committee of the cleaning and dyeing industry declared flatly that labor benefits of the code could not be continued without price stabilization.

Relief Purchases Of Cotton Planned

WEEDS "CURED" ILLS

HOWELL, Ark., June 21.—Portions brewed from weeds have cured the ills of Aunt Anny Curry, negro woman, during her 109 years. When she gets sick she goes out into the fields and pulls weeds, takes them into her house and boils some "tea." Every weed, she says, is a good medicine. The talent is in knowing what ills a particular weed is good for.

State Board Revokes 30 Doctors' Licenses

FORT WORTH, June 21. — The state board of medical examiners today revoked the licenses of 30 Texas doctors for the alleged use of narcotics for themselves and for illegal sale of narcotics.

Another 25 were placed on probation, Dr. I. A. Withers, Fort Worth, board president, said, following an executive session of the board. Names of the doctors were not disclosed.

DOORS DUE TO BE OPENED BY 15TH OF JULY

Climaxing three years of persistent efforts to reorganize and reopen the Cisco Banking company, which closed its doors in September, 1931, the state banking board at Austin yesterday granted the Cisco State bank a charter, contingent upon a loan of $140,000 from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, it was announced here today.

That loan was approved by the RFC some time ago, conditioned upon certain requirements. These requirements, said Guy Dabney, vice president of the bank, have practically all been met and most of the depositors in the closed bank have signed the agreement which was required. Under terms of the loan, the bank will make available immediately upon opening 60 per cent of Cisco Banking company deposits in cash. The remainder will be paid off as conditions warrant.

Mr. Dabney said that the bank hopes to be open for business not later than July 15. A vast amount of detail and organizational work remains to be done, he explained before any definite date for this opening can be fixed. Personnel is yet to be selected, and officers elected.

Capital of $50,000

The new bank will have a capital stock of $50,000 and a surplus of $10,000. Its reopening will release to the community assets that the time of its closing were estimated at a quarter of a million dollars.

"A great amount of preparatory work is still to be done before we can fix a definite date for the opening of the new bank," said Mr. Dabney, who directed the three-year efforts of the bank to work out of its difficulties, reorganize, and secure a RFC loan and state charter. "We are going to get this detail behind us as quickly as possible. We are just as anxious as anybody to throw the doors open to the public again. I feel sure that we shall be able to do that before July 15, but of course, no one can foresee what further difficulties or hindrances may arise to delay us."

Dabney arrived from Austin at 4 o'clock this morning with F. D. Wright and R. E. Grantham, the latter who represented the city of Cisco at a railroad commission gas rate hearing there. The bank board went into session on the Cisco State bank charter application at 2 yesterday afternoon.

ICC to Investigate Rates of Pipe Lines

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 21.—The Interstate Commerce commission today disclosed that it was considering an investigation of pipe line rates in the Southwest and Midwest.

The commission announced it had refused a petition of the Louisiana-Arkansas Refiners association to suspend present rates as required by the Atlantic Pipe Line company, Shell Pipe Line Corp., Standline Pipe Line company, the Texas Pipe Line Corp., and the Texas Empire Pipe Line company. Oil Adm'r Harold L. Ickes had asked the commission to suspend the rates.

Keeping Up With The Boy Scouts

Scouts of Troop No. 8 Brownwood with Jr. Ass't Scoutmaster Lewis Winebrenner hiked to Boysen's Cut Tuesday afternoon for an all-night camp. The boys hiked back to town Wednesday morning. All reported an enjoyable time.

That might come your way. The scout motto is "Be Prepared". Just the other day, near Dallas, three boys rescued a young lady from being crowned. She had gone under the third time when they made the rescue. After applying artificial respiration, the patient was revived up to the present time the boys' names are unknown. We do not know whether they are scouts or not, but they were prepared and knew what to do when the emergency came. They evidently gained their knowledge by attending some life saving instruction school or camp. Every boy whether he is a scout or not should learn how to make a rescue in water.

THE NEW FANGLES (MOM 'N POP)

By Cowan

Eagle badges for Scouts Rex Langford, Troop No. 35, Blanket, J. Herbert Ragsdale, Troop No. 1, Brownwood, and Howard Adams, Troop No. 32, Olden, are now in the scout office and will be presented at next court of honor held at these places.

SOPHIE KERR'S SUPERB LOVE STORY "STAY OUT OF MY LIFE!"

By Sophie Kerr

CHAPTER I
"NO, I'm not going with you and you know you don't mind," Jane, very slim and pink and delectable, hung over the banister at the top of the stairs and threw the words down at her waiting aunt.

Jane Terry

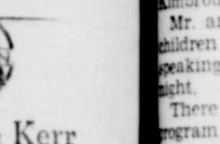

her work bag, her books and framed photographs and made them futile and temporary. When the cigaret was at last finished, somewhat to Jane's relief she wrapped the ashes and butt in a wad of crumpled paper, put it into the wastebasket and went down to telephone to her dearest friend, Amy Lowe had probably gone to the Marches, but she'd be sure.

JANE came dashing furiously downstairs but Miss Rosa had walked fast and as she reached the pavement she was fortunate enough to meet two ladies whom she knew, also dressed up and on their way to the March tea, so she proceeded on with them triumphantly, having managed to read Jane a lecture on the beach affair and escape without a scene. Miss Rosa Terry detested scenes, just as she detested a hard bed, a badly cooked dinner, a poor partner at whist, and scratches on her furniture; but in the 15 years since she had taken her brother's orphaned daughter to live with her—Jane was then a lovely, dimpled, willful five-year-old—she had never, not once, tried to correct or admonish Jane without drama.

TWO lines of thought went on side by side in Jane's head as she read, both slight but distinct. The first was regret that she couldn't do something exciting, and the second that there was no man she had ever met at all like Ann Veronica's ruddy blond Cape. Presently Jane dropped her book and hunted in the bottom bureau drawer for the pack of cigarets she had hidden there. At least she could smoke and Aunt Rosa disapproved of girls' smoking. So did everyone else in Marburg. Even Jane didn't have the daring to buy cigarets for herself in the local tobacco shop. Henry Berwyn had given her these and that was Henry's greatest attraction, though he didn't know it.

SOPHIE KERR'S SUPERB LOVE STORY "STAY OUT OF MY LIFE!"

CHAPTER IA
THE tennis courts were at the back of the gymnasium and as the two girls turned to the patch across the campus Amy stopped. "Wait a minute. I want to look along the elms."

Amy Lowe

"No, I just happened to think of something." She must divert Jane quickly. "I wonder who that man is coming out of the Museum. Look—in the brown suit."

and gone forever, Clementine Jane, do you think Miss Rosa would let me have her 'Song of Three Centuries'?" "I'll ask her when she comes home," said Jane, hurrying on. "Maybe she's home now. I'll just stop and see."

The Old Chuck Wagon
In days of the old West, when cowboys rode away from home, every one of the riders of the range looked forward to and longed for the meeting of "the chuck wagon." These heavy men naturally struck an appetite that is hard to appease, but today one finds them bragging about the "gub" they serve at all Hilton coffee shops. They like our food, our service, and the reasonable prices which we charge. Next time you are away from home, look for a Hilton coffee shop. You'll find the wonderful food we serve.

DRY WEATHER BEST TIME TO KILL BERMUDA
By J. C. PATTERSON
County Farm Agent
Dry weather is still the best time we know of for killing Bermuda grass, as shown by a report to the county agent by T. J. Morris of Carbon. Mr. Morris shallow-plowed this patch of Bermuda, then kept running a spring tooth harrow over it until all of the roots had been pulled to the surface, thus completely killing the grass. This demonstration was carried out several years ago but the method of control still holds good. It is a well known fact that Johnson grass may also be killed out in a similar manner.

GASOLINE IS WORM ANTIDOTE
The use of gasoline for control of worms in poultry has a strong advocate in Bob Smith of Okra who last spring treated 400 chickens with less than two quarts of gasoline. Plain gasoline is used. One teaspoonful is the dose for grown chickens and two teaspoonfuls for turkeys. Due to danger of strangulation the gasoline must be inserted down the throat with a small syringe carrying a 2 or 3 inch piece of rubber tubing over the nipple. For small chicks an eyedropper may be used. Nature will take care of most cases of colds and roupe if the birds are relieved of internal worms.

CONTROLS MOLES WITH POISON
Absolute control of moles in garden and peanut fields has been reported to the county agent by G. L. McBee of Mangum. This was accomplished by inserting into the soil at various points grains of corn coated with the strychnine poison, such as used in raven poisoning.
This poisoned grain is made by dissolving one-half teaspoonful of laundry starch in a little cold water, pouring slowly into a hot cup of boiling water, stirring to prevent lumping. When thick like mud-lake remove from fire and add 1-8 oz. of strychnine with 10 per cent saccharine mixed in and one teaspoonful of baking soda and stir rapidly; then add one tablespoonful of heavy corn syrup and stir to a smooth creamy paste. Pour this over one quart of corn and stir until grains are evenly coated.
This same mixture poured over wheat or milo makes a good poison grain for sparrows. Handle cautiously and keep in mind that you are working with a poison.

that applications for identification tags for cotton ginned prior to June 1, 1934, which is exempt from the tax provisions of the Bankhead control act, will be received after June 15.
In a previous announcement, holders of old cotton were asked to make these applications prior to June 15. Applications may be made by letter or on the government form, through the county agent.
County agents are being instructed to hold all applications received by them and deliver them to taggers as they go into the field to tag old cotton. Old cotton, under a special regulation of the commissioner of internal revenue, is permitted to move untaxed in the channels of the trade through the month of June.
These instructions are issued as a result of numerous inquiries by telegraph and telephone in order to assure persons interested in the cotton business that all old cotton will be tagged as soon as it is physically possible to accomplish the task and taggers will act on applications even though the applications are filed after June 15 and are not on government forms.
In making application, holders of old cotton should state the number of bales ginned prior to June 1 and their location.

ROAD TO TRUE RICHES: Seek ye first the kingdom of God, and his righteousness; and all these things shall be added unto you.—Matthew 6: 33.

BRITAIN DOESN'T LIKE OUR RODEOS

All the troubles of Pandora's fabled box beset Tex Austin's expensive effort to popularize the rodeo in England.

It begins to look as if he chose the wrong country.

People's interest in sports, indeed, their very definition of sports, springs from the national experience.

There is nothing in the British national life to suggest to the average Britisher any appreciation of the sport element in a spectacle so hard on a man as bulldozing an American steer.

When one brute of a human grabs another by the throat and slams him upon the canvas mat hard enough to shatter his bones, the Englishman, as well as his American cousin, can jolly well see some point to the performance; and it is quite probable that modern British culture is not too far removed from a brawnier era to fall altogether to find some elements of satisfaction in the spectacle of two pit bulldogs at the bloody business of tearing one another to pieces.

Such scenes have a root of sentiment in the national soil. There is a meaning back of them which can be interpreted in terms of historical fact, a meaning that the Britisher instinctively understands, just as the American grasps a significance in his rodeo. The rodeo sentiment is a refined expression of a brave and titanic struggle with a frontier and the economic challenge of a period about which clusters perhaps the most romantic portion of the American saga.

We see in the rodeo not what the Britisher sees as cruel, but the dramatization of a spirit and an experience, a theme of conquest that strikes a sympathetic note in minds still close in history to the period that produced the traditions thus revived.

We enjoy the rodeo not because we see in it anything unfair or painful to the animals, but because these animals are a vital part of the picture to which a significant sentiment attaches.

In a sense, they represent the antagonist, the forces of opposition which were required to be overcome before the conquest was complete. The fact that the performers put themselves at greater risk than they do the animals is proof enough of the sentiment and the attitude.

But one cannot blame the Britisher if the spectacle of a bawling steer plowing up the tankard with a bronzed athlete hanging onto his horns offends his sensibilities. What has he ever experienced to lend any significance to that sight? The American sees vast, sun-baked ranges; he sees acres of meaty bodies milling or in furious stampeede; he sees men fighting drouth, prairie fires, maddened animals and even maddened men, he sees men dying and men triumphant over unholy odds. In short, he reviews a proud history in the swift suggestions of that entertainment, and he gets a wallop out of it. But what of the British spectator, who gets his meat in refrigerated compartments from Australia, Argentina or Texas? What of romance is there in the tenderloin he had for dinner last night. Its dearest suggestions for him are connected with maritime supremacy and free trade.

HOPKINS SENDS BIG MONEY TO TEXAS

Administrator Harry L. Hopkins has allotted $792,500 for relief purposes in Texas. This sum was granted, according to Hopkins, with the understanding that it takes care of federal relief emergency administration 50 per cent up to June 1.

He made no mention of a sum to purchase additional cod liver oil. Perhaps he had a reason. The stock of cod liver oil on hand, representing an investment of $49,000, may be sufficient until the coming of fall or winter.

INTERESTING FIGURES FROM DIGEST

There are many interesting sidelights to the Literary Digest poll. An analysis of "how voters in this poll voted in 1932, and how they vote now" is one of the sidelights.

Speaking from the ballots from industrial centers, these centers continue to give the president a majority. All of New England and New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania returned larger ratios for F. D. R. and his policies in this New Deal poll than they did for him in 1932.

WASHINGTON—They had one of those highbrow musicales at the White House the other night, organized by Mrs. Roosevelt, who likes to entertain and make everybody happy.

Mr. Roosevelt, whose favorite song is "Home on the Range" and who is always up on the current slang, walked into it on the arm of a colored servant.

Through the Editor's Spectacles

First messenger returns from the Daily News effort to gauge local sentiment with respect to the governor's race puts Maury Hughes and Jimmy Alford in the forefront.

Mr. Hughes got six of these votes and Mr. Alford five. Tom Hunter, who many able political prognosticators believe will carry the county, received only two of these votes and Clint Small got one.

A great many of you readers gave the ballot scant notice. Some of you are downright lazy, of course, and the problem of snipping the coupon out of the front page, checking your favorite and sending it in was too much for your summer lethargy.

The latter should be assured, The News is acting in collaboration with a number of newspapers over the state in attempting to secure a definite indication of the drift of political sentiment as regards the governor's race.

PEACOCK PROPHETS

MILWAUKEE, June 21 — Peacocks at the Washington park zoo have proven to be reliable weather prophets. On dry days the birds seldom utter a sound but as humidity increases and rain is in the offing, they start to cry. As a storm becomes more imminent the cries become louder and more frequent. Usually by the time the storm breaks the peacock section is a virtual bedlam.

MISSIONARY SOCIETY MEETS WITH MRS. WINSTON

Mrs. George Winston and Mrs. T. J. Dean were hostesses to all circles of the Missionary Society of the First Methodist church Tuesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Winston.

Circle No. 2 had charge of the "World Outlook", program, with Mrs. William Reagan as leader. After the singing of "Tell me the Old Old Story," Mrs. Kate Finley gave the devotional followed by a prayer.

A very interesting article on "Woman's Missionary Society of Brazil" was discussed by Mrs. C. R. Stanford.

The circles decided to meet only twice a month during the months of July and August. They will meet on the second and third Tuesday of each month.

Mrs. W. G. Powell announced that circle No. 2 was leading by twenty points at the close of the second quarter in the attendance contest.

During the social hour Marion Jacobs entertained with several songs.

Refreshments were served to Mrs. R. W. Merritt, W. M. Joyner, M. D. Paschall, Joe Wilson, Frank Turner, W. D. Turd, Joe Lovelady, W. G. Powell, Noel, C. R. Sanford, Northup, W. B. Craddock, L. E. POWELL-PROCTOR NUPTIALS SOLEMNIZED

The marriage of Miss Opal Proctor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Proctor of Cisco, to Mr. Weidon Powell, son of Mrs. W. R. The ceremony was performed in the presence of the bride's father and her sister, Miss Lettie, and the members of the pastor's family. The couple will make their home in Cisco during the summer, when the groom is employed with the West Texas Utilities company.

The bride and groom met last fall as students at Randolph college. Mr. Powell, who attended the institution two years, was a member of this year's graduating class. SCHOOL BOARD ACTS TO STOP BOND JUGGLING

AUSTIN, June 21.—The state board of education has moved to stop Texas school districts from "juggling" their bonded debts.

Attorney-general James V. Alfred was asked to prepare blank forms on which the true status of interest, sinking fund accounts, tax income and levy, and a record of taxable values, may be recorded for each school district.

The data, sworn to by district officials, will be required of every school district asking the state board to buy its bonds.

It has been reported that many school districts have levied necessary taxes for bond retirement, but have collected only about 30 per cent of the revenue. Others have reduced taxable values by half to so reduce their income as to be unable to pay interest and sinking fund allotments due on district bonds.

Strick Accounting
Backed by legislative enactment, the state board of education has required a strict accounting of interest and sinking fund on only that part of bond issues held by the state school fund. Many districts have defaulted on the portions of bond issues held by individuals.

One Dallas securities company, which has distributed over $100,000,000 in Texas municipal obligations during the past 20 years, observed that "a number of communities are now seeking to wilyly repudiate their obligations, demanding without justification that principal, as well as interest, should be reduced." They have purposely withheld payment of interest coupons and maturing principal where funds were available for payment, in an effort to drive the market for their obligations down.

"A number of communities have purposely increased their general operating expenses to a point where the full available taxing power is used for this purpose, leaving nothing for debt service.

"Lavish Spending"
The property owners located in the repudiating cities and districts, therefore, were subjected to the maximum legal tax levies. The public officials are lavishly spending the full proceeds of collections without making any payments to its creditors," the manager of the securities company said.

The board of education is making an effort to preserve the credit of Texas securities on the bond market.

It now has a cash balance of $1,476,000 to invest for the available school fund of Texas. The sum may be invested in short term U. S. treasury certificates because refund bond offerings of $941,000 have failed. Treasury certificates will be preferred unless more desirable Texas securities can be found.

"Too much moratorium legislation" has been blamed for the alleged efforts of many school districts to avoid honest debts.

In keeping cool during the summer months choice of foods will play an important part. The energy requirements are naturally less with warm weather, so the caloric consumption of the winter months should be reduced. The heat and humidity as well as the tendency toward physical inactivity make it unnecessary and inadvisable to provide a diet rich in heat producing foods.

However, it is vastly important to eat nourishing foods which are easily digested and will regulate the functions of the body and guard against the annoying digestive troubles. Always keep in mind that the stomach is as sensitive to the heat as any part of the human organism and overloading or overtaxing it in any way may cause much unnecessary distress.

Have Balanced Diet
Try to maintain a balanced diet, using the minimum amount of fat and carbohydrate possible to keep the correct proportions. Protein always is needed to take care of the wear and tear of the body, but because protein foods tend to increase energy production in the system, it's advisable to cut down on them, too.

When the heat is excessive, there are certain types of foods it is wise to avoid. Rich sauces and gravies, fried foods, rich cakes and desserts, hot breads and all kinds of sweets have a decided cooling effect on the body. All fats are heat producers and some are difficult to digest as well.

The foods to eat are fresh fruits and vegetables, meat or its substitute not oftener than once a day. And drink plenty of milk and water. With these foods predominating will do much toward making even them to seek food and lodging. Within these limits, for shilling, a franc, or a mark, the traveler may cook his supper, enjoy a fresche chat with friendly campers, and retire to a comfortable bed.

However, the Society explained, to avail himself of this Old World hospitality, the traveler must be a member of a national hostel association. Membership is obtained easily and dues do not total more than about $1 a year.

Reciprocal agreements between the various countries assure members admission to any foreign hostel, whether it be the Reichsverband fur Deutsche Jugendherbergen, La Ligue Francaise pour de Auberges de la Jeunesse, or the Gaelic An Oise of the Irish Free State.

All associations are alike in their ideals of international democracy and simple living and there are no race, creed, or social distinction. Youth and a slender purse win first consideration.

CONCORD, N. H., June 21.—When Mrs. Joseph Houston bought a loaf for Sunday dinner, she also received a half dozen eggs although she wasn't aware of it. She was preparing it for the cooking pot when she discovered six good sized eggs inside.

"Hostels" Awaiting Young Travelers

WASHINGTON, June 21.—Youthful wanderers from all parts of the world will find shelter in thousands of European "youth hostels" this summer, according to the National Geographic society.

From the villages of Central Europe to the rocky Hebrides and from Alpine valleys to Norwegian fjords, youth inns are preparing to welcome youth visitors, whose empty stomachs and weary feet, lead very hot weather endurable. Fresh fruits and vegetables are refreshing and cooling because they are low in calories which produce heat and energy. Vitamins and mineral constituents, so essential for maintaining health are supplied in abundance. They are valuable, too, on account of their structure, which acts as ballast or roughage and is as necessary in summer as in winter.

Sip Hot Drinks Slowly
Of course plenty of liquids always are needed. But as heat causes more rapid evaporation from the surface of the body, a larger amount of milk and water and fruit juices are required in warm weather to insure adequate elimination.

Iced beverages are inviting on a hot day but remember that if they are drunk rapidly they may cause discomfort by the sudden chilling of the stomach. Slowly sipping very cold drinks and slowly eating frozen dishes is the safest way and the most effective, too, because it creates a more lasting coolness.

Ices and sherbets are more cooling than ice creams. The higher the fat content in any dessert, frozen or otherwise, the more calories and consequently the more heat

Frank Views Upon Women Cost His Job

AKRON, O., June 21.—Because he aired his views on women frankly, a University of Akron professor is out of a job.

Prof. Frank Maturo was quoted as saying in an interview that "Men don't want their women pure any more." Prof. Maturo denied he made the statement, but he lost his job just the same. The faculty asked him to resign.

Students rallied to his defense by charging authorities at the university are "archaic and provincial." Members of Sigma Delta Nu sorority approved the views of Professor Maturo. One girl there said: "He spoke the truth. It's hard to hear the truth. Men don't want their women pure. All the girls know it and the men admit it. It doesn't make any difference any more."

Mrs. Alma Spencer, house mother of Zeta Tau Alpha sorority, said: "It's a pretty broad statement. But this is 1934 and not 1880. All the girls I have talked with believe the statement is a pretty thin reason for discharging the professor.

Faculty members declined to discuss the matter.
