Robber Trio Fire on Romney Service Station Proprietor

S. E. BOWLES IS JUST MISSED BY BUCKSHOT

Local and county officers today were considering a possibility that three men who attempted to rob a Romney filling station at 2 this morning an dwbo fired a charge of buckshot at the proprietor, S. E. Bowles, when he interrupted them, were members of the quartet of Lubbock jail breakers, headed by the notorious Ed (Perch Mouth) Stanton. Romney is 10 miles south of Cisco.

There was a tendency to discount the theory, because of the indefiniteness of the descriptions available and the presence of only three in the gang, but officers said that the actions of the trio and the circumstances of the attempted robbery were enough to support the conjecture. It was pointed out that the gang would likely steal an isolated station from which to steal fuel and that ordinary gasoline thieves would have fled from the spot without resistance.

Mr. Bowles was shot at as he stepped from the door of his combined service station and grocery to remonstrate with two men who had awakened him at the pumps. The pair had heard him and were pushing a car from the driveway when Mr. Bowles appeared.

He said they returned to his marks, and a moment later a charge of buckshots, fired from behind an abandoned ice box beside a vacant service station across the street, passed an inch or two in front of him and splattered upon the station wall at his side.

He jumped back into the building, and as he did so he heard the motor of the car start. The machine swung around in the highway and came back, headed toward Cisco. In front of his station it paused briefly enough for a third man, who ran from behind the old ice box, to jump into it. It drove rapidly toward Cisco, he said.

Cisco police were notified immediately and blocked Highway 23 south of here, but no trace of the fleeing trio was seen.

No Descriptions
Mr. Bowles was unable to give a description of the men or the car, although he said he believed it was a touring car. However, Mrs. Bowles, who came to the door with her husband when the noise of the thieves at the pumps awoke them, said that it was a Chevrolet car that looked new.

Officers recalled that the Lubbock fugitives were last reported in a Chevrolet coach. They explained that the presence of only three could be accounted for in the possibility that one of the quartet had sought refuge with relatives, known to reside in this part of the state.

A discharged shell for a 12-gauge shotgun was found by Constable Hicks this morning behind the ice box. Prints in the dust, he said, showed that the gunman had crouched upon one knee and foot as he fired, and the position of the shell, to the right of this position, indicated it was fired from an automatic gun which ejected it after the shot.

No other clues were obtained. Lubbock fugitives were reported sighted above Aspermont about dusk yesterday. Aspermont is 100 miles northwest of Cisco.

Langer Victory in Primary Indicated

BISMARCK, N. D., June 28 — Gov. Wm. Langer, convicted two weeks ago of a federal felony and sentenced to a possible penitentiary sentence or heavy fine, apparently had won a smashing victory today in his fight for renomination and popular confidence. In partial tabulation of balloting in the state primary yesterday, Langer raced far ahead of two republican opponents.

A jury found him guilty of compelling CWA employees to subscribe to his political newspaper.

WEATHER

Putting Final Touch to Victory

It's a moment of triumph for this pair of New Dealers and their smiles show it, as Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace signs the commission which makes Rexford G. Tugwell, standing, under-secretary of agriculture. Tugwell was confirmed in his new berth by the senate after a battle that aroused national interest.

Housing Bill Signed By President Today

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 28 — The housing bill, one of the major efforts in the administration's recovery program, designed to stimulate construction throughout the nation, was signed today by President Roosevelt.

There is no indication as yet, however, as to the personnel of the board that will administer the measure. The bill provides for improvement in housing standards and conditions with a system of mutual mortgage insurance.

President Roosevelt approved a joint resolution to amend the settlement of war claims acts of 1928 and a joint resolution providing an additional appropriation for expenses of special and select committees of the house for the fiscal year 1935.

Meanwhile, it was explained at the White House that the president was making steady progress toward the appointment of various boards and commissions. It was indicated that all of them might not be filled before he leaves Saturday for Hawaii and that he would complete the job by navy radio from the cruiser Houston.

Faced with a busy week, Mr. Roosevelt later in the day hoped to put the finishing touches to his nationwide address that he will make tonight at 9:30 o'clock EST (8:30 CST).

New Auto Agency Reported for Cisco

The Mancill building across the street from the city hall, has been leased by an Eastland firm for a Pontiac and Buick agency, it was said today. The new agency is due to open July 1.

SPECTACULAR EVENTS MARK 4TH PROGRAM

Some of the most spectacular events prepared for any entertainment at Lake Cisco are included on the program arranged for the annual Fourth of July picnic at the lake next week. These include a daring parachute drop from a plane flying at 5,000 feet, into the waters of the lake, or a night fireworks display of unusual splendor, as well as the spectacle of an automobile driven at top speed through a flaming board wall.

The parachute drop is being arranged by Elmo Bannister, one of the most daring stunt men of the country. He assured the program committee that the breath-taking spectacle would be ready at the time appointed.

Bannister will also drive a Ford car through a board wall in flames. In these two stunts, he promised thrills that his watchers will never forget. The flaming wall stunt will take place about 8 o'clock, and the parachute drop is slated for late afternoon.

Political Attraction
As has become the custom at the lake in election years the picnic this year will include a political carnival. Heading the political attractions will be addresses by Cong. Thomas L. Blanton, seeking re-election from the 17th congressional district, and one of his opponents, State Rep. Oscar Chastain. Cong. Blanton will speak at 2:30 p. m.

Candidates for state and local offices will be given opportunity at 10:30 a. m. to make announcements. During the afternoon and evening, a water carnival and boxing matches will provide entertainment. The swimming and diving events will conclude at 9 o'clock in the evening with a fire dive from the 40-foot tower in the big pool. A diver, his clothing on fire, will leap into a patch of flames upon the surface of the water.

Three dances are also upon the program, to be offered by the Lake Cisco Amusement company, beginning with a German dance at midnight, July 3, and concluding with a "Big Time" dance at 9 p. m. July 4.

Music for the day will be provided by the Lobs band under the direction of G. W. Collum.

Plenty of Cold Water
Three thousand pounds of ice have been ordered to cool the barrels of water that will be placed about the park to quench the thirst of the thousands who will swarm into the lake playground for the day and night. In addition, concessions of various sort will cater to the needs of the visitors.

Committees from the chamber of commerce are busy with last minute details of the program, and every effort is being made to insure the convenience and pleasure of the visitors. The roads into the lake playground have been paved, so that there will be little of Fourth of July dust to interfere with the comfort of the crowds.

Fresh water will be run into the pools for the crowds of swimmers and bathers, and a multitude of other details are being minutely attended to so that the sum total of the program will mean a thoroughly enjoyable day for all who come.

Tonight Men's Night At Methodist Church
Interest and attendance upon the revival meeting for the First Methodist church, which the pastor the Rev. Frank L. Turner, is conducting upon the lawn of the church, continued to increase today. The meeting is due to close Sunday night.

Tonight the services will be especially for men, and a special invitation has been extended to every man in Cisco, the pastor said. He added that it will not be a service for men only however, but that women will also be welcome. A sermon of special appeal to men will be preached.

Last night the Rev. Mr. Turner used as his subject "The Philosophy of Jesus." He presented Jesus as the "seeking, saving, life-giving Christ." At the conclusion of the service, one man was converted and baptized into the church, bringing the number received during the revival to four, and the number for the year to 55.

Word Club to Have Program Friday at 8
The Word Community club will have a program at Lake Strickland at 8 o'clock Friday night, with candidates speaking, music and an auction of goods donated by Cisco merchants through which the club seeks to raise funds to send a delegate to the summer short course at A. and M. college, and to buy a canner and sealer.

The Cisco chamber of commerce through J. M. Bird, agricultural secretary, is assisting with the program. Cakes, homemade ice cream and lemonade will be sold.

Lake Strickland is two and a half miles southeast of Cisco.

A Testimonial to Cisco's Spirit

Today's issue of the Daily News, commemorating the founding of the newspaper 15 years ago, and recalling the discovery of oil and its great influence upon the community, is a striking testimonial to the aggressive, hopeful spirit of the business men of this city and their confidence in the future. The edition contains 54 pages.

The articles printed in the tabloid section present interesting and informative data on most of the principal business, social and civic institutions of the city, and the advertisements give a broad picture of the commercial and industrial status.

The limitations within which the staff worked to collect and publish the data resulted in some omissions which the News regrets, but in the volume of articles and advertisements herewith presented to you will be found much of a historical, factual and sentimental value. We believe it is a faithful reflection of Cisco's material aspect and the community atmosphere.

The News desires here to express its gratitude for the assistance so liberally and willingly given the staff in the preparation of this edition. Where possible, credit has been given but where this has not been possible we wish our contributors to be assured of our appreciation. To those who have placed advertisements in the edition, we also express thanks; and we invite the reader to study these advertisements carefully.

Today's edition will be distributed in 5,000 copies. It will be placed in chambers of commerce and other centers of civic interest throughout this section of the state, as well as in every home that can be reached within a wide radius of Cisco.

TVA MAY PROVE SOLUTION TO PROBLEMS FOR REST OF NATION

EDITOR'S NOTE: Following is the third of Dr. Arthur E. Morgan's stories on the Tennessee Valley. In it he discusses government in business and organization of the TVA.

By DR. ARTHUR E. MORGAN, Chairman of the Tennessee Valley Authority.

(Written for the United Press) KNOXVILLE, Tenn., June 28 — Tennessee Valley Authority is a corporation owned by the United States government, but governed as a private corporation. The proper way to view its program is not as an isolated undertaking, but as an integral part of the whole program of the present administration. The TVA is the expression of a desire on the part of the president and congress to work out in a limited area a principles of social and economic planning which later can have application on a wider scale.

Not Emergency Measure
The Tennessee Valley Authority act is not primarily an emergency unemployment relief measure. In its various programs the government provided about $5,000,000,000 to overcome the depression. Only one per cent, roughly speaking, was allocated to the TVA. The money is being used as far as consistent to relieve unemployment. But that is not the main purpose. The main purpose is to make the business and social life of the farms and the small towns permanently prosperous to get the help of the young people in training competent folk to carry on small industries, and to add to the capacities of the old and young to enjoy their lives where they were born.

It is a pioneer job, requiring the pioneer spirit and the pioneer patriotism of those who originally peopled the valley. The historic origin of the people, and their sturdy independence of character, are being used as far as consistent to enjoy their lives where they were born.

BANDIT LOOTS BANK, KIDNAPS ITS PRESIDENT

President Davis said the amount of the loot obtained from the bank was "not large".

R. C. Smith, cashier, and Mrs. T. E. Willis, bookkeeper, the only occupants of the bank in addition to Davis when the bandit entered, were locked in the vault.

They released themselves by means of an inside lock.

100 DEATHS ARE ATTRIBUTED TO EXTREME HEAT

CHICAGO, Jun. 28.—Sweltering, killing heat hung over the United States today with scant hope of early relief after exacting a toll of nearly a hundred lives.

In several states all June records were shattered as the mercury continued its upward climb. The heat wave, following close upon the worst drought in a generation, was held responsible for 75 drownings and 23 other deaths during the last week, according to a United Press nationwide survey.

The weather bureau said that in most sections the hot weather will continue for at least two days and that the only prospect of relief from rain were in Minnesota and the Dakotas.

AUTO CLASSIC RACERS FACE NEW FUEL CUT

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., June 28—Faced with a probable further reduction in gasoline supply for the 1935 Indianapolis Speedway race, drivers and mechanics have turned to their garages to develop more fuel-saving devices.

Col. E. V. Rickenbacker, president of the Indianapolis Speedway corporation, has indicated that another slash will be made in the fuel supply before the 1935 classic is run. This year the speedway contestants were limited to 45 gallons for the 500-mile grind, and three gallons for the 25-mile qualification run.

Placed with Experiment
Highly pleased with this year's fuel experiment, Col. Rickenbacker indicated that the national technical committee of the American Automobile association will consider data on the proposed fuel allowance cut at its meeting in Detroit in July.

The automobile owners of the country likely will save thousands of dollars in gasoline bills as a result of fuel-saving devices and improved gasoline developed as a result of this year's fuel consumption limit.

Automotive engineers hope that further reductions can be made in 1935, and experiments to be made in Detroit will determine whether an attempt to cut the gasoline allowance will be made.

12 Cars Finished
Thirty-three cars started in this year's race, and 12 finished. None of the cars was forced out by a shortage of fuel.

Among the first ten finishers, the minimum gas consumption was 33 1/2 gallons, while the maximum was 43 gallons. Despite the fuel consumption limit which was inaugurated this year, "Wild Bill" Cummings set a new track record of 104.863 miles per hour, bettering Lou Meyer's 1933 mark of 104.162.

When the gasoline limitation was announced, its critics pointed out that it would slow the race. The ruling, however, produced a new record and one of the most thrilling, evenly-matched and safest races ever held on the Indianapolis bricks.

— what it means

—to blend and cross-blend mild ripe tobaccos to "weld" them together

THERE are a great many different kinds of tobacco grown in this country and abroad. No two kinds are quite alike.

Every variety has a different taste and other different qualities all its own.

Some have more natural sweetness than others—some add a rare spice and a rich aroma—some burn more freely than others.

To get Chesterfield's milder better taste we take the right amounts of the right kinds of home-grown tobaccos, then add aromatic Turkish.

When these tobaccos are blended and cross-blended the Chesterfield way—balanced—each kind of tobacco helps to bring out the best smoking qualities of the others.

That's what blending and cross-blending means to Chesterfield—milder better taste. And that's why They Satisfy.

ROOSEVELT CONTINUES FAVORITE IN POLLS

It goes without saying that the enterprising publishers of the Literary Digest are making history in these torrid days of summer. Four out of five persons who voted for Franklin D. Roosevelt in 1932 still are loyal to him and one out of every three who favored Herbert Hoover has swung over to the New Deal president and his program. All this was revealed in the Literary Digest poll as balloting passed the million mark. Indeed, the figures show out of a total of 1,169,827 votes 727,000 favored the Roosevelt policies of recovery. Vermont was the only state in the 48 in which the chief executive did not obtain a majority. Seven states voted three to one for the New Deal. Ten others favored it two to one, and 28 states gave F. D. R. a greater ratio than they did in 1932.

It is significant that the heaviest trend to the New Deal president from Herbert Hoover was in the northwestern states. Twenty states returned a smaller ratio for Roosevelt than at his election in 1932.

A special poll for the ministers of America showed a decided majority in favor of the Roosevelt policies of government. As a matter of fact, the real poll will be taken in November when a nationwide election will be held, a new house of representatives and a third of the membership of the American senate elected by the American sovereigns on the day when the ballot is the thing. This will tell the story of the gains or the losses of the New Deal administration and its recovery and relief policies of government.

HULL PRAISES INTER-AMERICAN HIGHWAY PROJECT

Sec'y of State Cordell Hull is to visit the capitals of all the South American republics. He is a powerful champion of the planned Inter-American highway. His viewpoint is that when completed the highway will not enhance commercial contracts and wonderment, but "will in the broadest sense offer an open sesame to the understanding hearts of the people of the two countries." Incidentally, congress before adjournment appropriated a large sum of money to enable the United States to cooperate with Latin-American countries in building the highway. Sec'y Hull, in a statement given to the Washington correspondents, called attention to the progress made in the Mexican roads from the Texas border south. He let it be known that as the program develops the highway is expected to be extended through the country south of the Panama canal to Santiago, Chile, Buenos Aires, Argentina and Rio De Janeiro, Brazil, utilizing insofar as possible existing highways.

Cordell Hull is a man of the broadest vision. He is one of the scholars of the administration. He is deeply interested in the trade relations which should exist between the nations of North and South America. Many of the South American republics are fast growing, their population is increasing by leaps and bounds and the development of their natural resources are on the way from the Panama canal all down the line to Patagonia.

TEXAS RETAIL SALES JUMP DURING MAY

Business is business in Texas. Retail dollar sales in May increased 11 per cent over April sales. Sales for the year based on reports from 88 stores in representative sections of Texas averaged 30 per cent more than sales during the corresponding period of 1933. Dr. S. H. Buechel is the assistant director and statistician of the bureau of business research of the University of Texas, and is responsible for the information.

Regardless of a near drought in May and June the procession of marchers has not been sidetracked and no side-stepping has been noticeable to the naked eye. According to Washington advices, farmers' purchasing power the nation over increased 25 per cent during the first nine months in which crop reduction benefits were distributed. L. H. Bean, AAA economic adviser, said the farm prices including benefit payments had an average exchange value this May of 30 per cent higher than in the corresponding month of 1933 and 60 per cent higher than in March, 1933. All this is most encouraging to the millions of Americans who are marching on in the middle of the road, each individual doing his level best to keep his home larders well supplied and with plenty of pity for the spineless ones who decorate the bleachers on the firing line of march "to the top of the hill."

PRICE FIXING ON WAY TO COURT OF LAST RESORT

Gen. Hugh Johnson is having his own trouble. All the heads of the New Deal set-ups are facing extraordinary problems which call for solution. It is said that a major engagement over the issue of price fixing is to be fought out before the federal trade commission and passed on to the supreme court of the United States. Ostensibly the dispute involved only comparatively small interests of three rubber companies. Washington lets it be known that developments seem likely to transform it into another celebrated industrial case, which would basically affect NRA's price control powers, and that the object of the battle is to determine the right of American industries to fix or refuse to fix prices. Gen. Johnson is the real heavyweight battler of the administration. He is booked for many engagements. He is a warrior bold, as militant as a West Pointer should be and, win or lose, he never lets it be known that he is whipped or has lost faith in his cause. Men of the Johnson type can take it on the chin, smile a beautiful grimy smile and then renew the firing all along the line.

TRAGEDY IN THREE ACTS

Gov. Langer Wins Decision

By HUGH NUGENT FITZGERALD.
Gov. William Langer appealed in an ouster suit brought by the Lieutenant governor for his post to the supreme court of his commonwealth. That court ruled conviction in the federal court of conspiracy did not take from him right to hold the office of governor until his successor has been elected. Now Langer will continue his campaign for renomination. He is seeking the non-partisan nomination as well as the republican nomination. He is the head of the left wing of his party and is a thorough-going socialist, although siding under another trademark. North Dakota democrats will place a ticket in the field. They hope for a tremendous vote for their primary candidate. There was a time when North Dakota was a republican stronghold. Now the non-partisans have split into two wings or organizations. Langer leads the radicals. His lieutenant-governor (Olson) leads the conservative radicals or socialists.

South Dakota landed in the democratic column last year. Peter Norbeck was the only republican elected. He returned to Washington as a second term and has been a consistent supporter of the Roosevelt New Deal legislative program. Democrats are confident of sweeping Dakota again this year. They elected a senator W. D. Bulow, in 1930. As for Peter Norbeck, republican and Rooseveltian, he is said to be the most popular political leader carrying a republican brand in the two Dakotas or the Northwest.

SAMUEL INSULL AS A DAMNED LITERARY FELLER
Samuel Insull, facing trial in the criminal courts of Chicago, is a very busy man. He is writing a book. He is working six days a week as a literary feller. He is going to tell how he started as a poor boy in England, crossed the Atlantic ocean, landed in the city of New York, became the secretary and adviser to the immortal Edison, kept his eye on the job, became the ruler of a $2,000,000 utility empire, became an invisible ruler of a dozen commonwealths, went down in the crash of 1929, became a fugitive from justice, was extradited from Greece by American authorities and now at 74 patiently awaits the verdict of 12 of his peers in the jury box. Robert Quillen may not be a prophet, but his guess is that Samuel Insull will be given a verdict of acquittal. If so, his book should be one of "the six best sellers" along in autumn time.

AUSTIN, June 28—At least four members of the Texas house, advocates of a new oil commission, visited the governor's office within 24 hours of Gov. Ferguson's public criticism of the railroad commission and attorney-general, after the ouster of R. D. Parker by two members of the commission, and the commissioners' statement that illegal oil production was increasing in east Texas. Discussion already has moved around to the question of the type of new agency to be formed.

BROOKS

One state official believed it would be a natural resource commission thus committed to the economy idea of consolidating two existing boards with the new service rather than creating a brand new agency. This would take in the board of water engineers and the reclamation service.

The gas utilities division being a rate-supervision service, would be left under the rate-supervising railroad commission. But the present revenues from oil production, used to finance the oil and gas division, would be shifted over to the new agency, and is claimed to be sufficient to pay not only oil supervision, but the whole natural resource administration. The change would take nearly $1,000,000 a year off the salary of each of the three railroad commissioners. It would take over half the volume of activities away from the railroad board.

Unconfirmed reports say the voting members of the commission have in mind a definite program. What this program includes has not been announced, and cannot be stated as official; but there is good reason to believe it will set the organization back to the point where the attempt was made to remove Robert L. Holliday, which failed in the courts.

That would restore Adam R. Johnson, who was nominated as director by Member Carl Estes. The program would retain Miss Marie Dresden in her former, and her chosen field of work. It would discharge some of those slated for dismissal who were left on during the uncertainties of the membership struggle.

It would weed out individuals from several county boards whose presence has been controversial. So far as opinion goes, it will not oust any entire county board. It would retain and approve many of the economies affected by Miss Dresden as director, in systematizing the office, correlating purchases and requiring various county staffs to be comparable. Miss Dresden has not yet installed standard scales of pay for workers lacking basic data for it.

SOPHIE KERR'S SUPERB LOVE STORY

"STAY OUT OF MY LIFE!"

By Sophie Kerr

BEGIN HERE TODAY
When HOWARD JACKSON, young geology professor, comes to the small middle-western town of Marburg, JANE THURY, the prettiest girl in town, determines to win his heart. Howard is attracted by Jane's friend, AMY LOWE, but Jane schemes to keep them apart. Then one evening Howard calls on Amy and almost immediately they fall in love.

Presently she came to the park. Various other strollers, mostly men, glanced at her with speculative admiration.

CHAPTER VII
MISS ROSA went with Jane to the late afternoon train and waited with her in the big empty station. "I know I ought to go along with you," she said at last, "just for a few days to get you settled."

"If you went with me I'd get off at the next station and go somewhere else. I don't want you or anyone else."

Jane went on with cruel intention. "You'll be as glad to get rid of me as I am to go. We've never been very fond of each other, have we, Aunt Rosa? You don't care about anything but playing bridge and having nice fattening meals and making the house look a little better-kept than anybody else's. I suppose you're too old to know how young people feel, really."

"Maybe I am," said Miss Rosa wearily. "Anyway, Jane, I did the best I could with my limitations. I'm very fond of you, even if you don't believe it, and it fairly tears me to see you like this—"

"Will you stop nagging me?" "You're train's coming in." She hugged Jane's stiff, resistant shoulders and kissed her on both cheeks.

But Jane had pulled away from the embrace and was hurrying out to the train. The porter swung up her bag. Her trunk was slammed into the baggage car, three coaches ahead. Miss Rosa watched, more unhappy and perturbed than she had ever been in her whole life.

All the way back to the house Miss Rosa was miserable with defeat. "I shouldn't have let her go," she thought.

Jane, by now some 50 miles away, was for the moment unaware of her advantages. The energy that had started her on this determined flight had gone.

NEVER afterward in her life was she able to recall any detail of that journey, how she reached the hotel nor how she spent the first few days of her stay, for she was suspended in pain and unreality. The truth was that she stayed in her room most of the time, lying in bed or sitting by the window, while the management, only partly reassured by messages from Miss Rosa, kept an uneasy watch on her, sending in maids on unnecessary errands, while the housekeeper lingered nervously in the hall for their reports. Jane did not know it. But she did know that after a while she began to come alive and to feel that she must do something.

Accordingly she went out for a walk, looking into shop windows at first blankly, then with a faint interest quickened by the sight of clothes and trinkets superior to anything Marburg could offer. Presently she came to the park and strolled in a little way to rest in its greenness. The important feeling subsided, leaving a flatness in its place and great loneliness. Various other strollers, mostly men, glanced at her with speculative admiration. "It's a very cruel letter," she thought. "It's a very cruel letter," she thought. "It's a very cruel letter," she thought.

LADIES AID SURPRISES

MRS. BENEDICT WITH SHOWER
The Ladies Aid of the First Christian church met Wednesday with Mrs. Bob Winston, for the social of the month. This being the bride's month, each member gave a penny for each year that she had been married. A mock-wedding was performed which evoked much laughter. The devotion was conducted by Miss Marie Lanister. As the day was the birthday of the president, Mrs. J. F. Benedict, Mrs. H. H. Davis presented her with an umbrella when opened showered Mrs. Benedict with handkerchiefs. Johnson Back as State Relief Head

AUSTIN, June 28.—Adam R. Johnson, storm center of state relief disputes that brought his ouster on April 9, was back in the saddle today. He was reelected as state relief director by a five to four vote and given pay for the time he has been out.

Fears that Johnson might make reprisals on recent appointees on the state relief administrative staff were quired with the announcement he will remove none who co-operates.

Miss Marie Dresden, college-trained social worker from Wisconsin, who replaced Johnson last April, had not given an answer to a request of the commission that she continue as a social service consultant under Johnson.

SAN ANTONIO, June 28.—The sensational Welburn divorce trial threatened today to develop into a battle of handwriting experts. Attorneys for Mrs. Wineta Long Welburn, who seeks a divorce from the Rev. Wm. D. Welburn, who says he never married her, were expected to present experts of their own to refute testimony of T. N. Smith, defense expert.

Smith testified that signatures on the marriage application and on the license itself were free-hand forgeries of the young Methodist minister's signature.

Detectives Guard Frisco Newspapers

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., June 28.—Private detectives guarded San Francisco newspaper plants today after the Chronicle received notes threatening to blow up its building unless it changed its attitude toward the Pacific coast maritime strike.

As President Roosevelt's special labor board continued the second day of its mediation efforts, industrial leaders issued a third ultimatum. They said curtly that they would open the port of San Francisco by force if necessary—by noon Friday unless the union men returned to work.

WASH GUT 15 MILES OF KIDNEY TUBES

Win Back Pep . . . Vigor . . . Vitality
Medical authorities agree that your kidneys contain 15 MILES of tiny tubes or filta which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy.

If you have trouble with too frequent bladder passages with scanty amount causing burning and discomfort, the 15 MILES of kidney tubes need washing out. This danger signal may be the beginning of nagging backache, leg pains, loss of pep and vitality, setting up nights, lumbago, swollen feet and ankles, rheumatic pains and dizziness.

If kidneys don't empty 3 pints every day and get rid of 4 pounds of waste matter, your body will take up these poisons causing serious trouble. It may knock you out and lay you up for many months. Don't wait. Ask your druggist for DOAN'S PILLS . . . a doctor's prescription . . . which has been used successfully by millions of kidney sufferers for over 40 years. They give quick relief and will help to wash out the 15 MILES of kidney tubes.

But don't take chances with strong drugs or so-called "kidney cures" that claim to fix you up in 15 minutes, for they may seriously injure and irritate delicate tissues. Insist on DOAN'S PILLS . . . the old reliable relief that contains no "dose" or habit-forming drugs. Be sure you get DOAN'S PILLS at your druggist. ©1924, Foster-Milburn Co.

TVA May Prove--

as well as the great natural wealth of the valley and its ideal geographical relation to the rest of the continent led the nation to place the responsibility for the success of this undertaking on the pioneers of the Tennessee river basin.

Two Phases of Work
There are two distinct phases of the work of the Tennessee Valley Authority. There are, first, definite projects which are given by law to the Authority to carry out and, second, there is a general program of social and economic planning. The Act provides for two clearly defined projects. They are the generation and transmission of power, and the development of cheaper fertilizer.

The aim of the TVA is to present a picture of possibilities, and to help the people of this region to work out organization and means whereby the spirit of sharing of opportunities and responsibilities can become the dominant and guiding spirit of the people.

Economic Business
It is said that the Tennessee Valley Authority project implies that the government is going to generate and distribute electric power. Also, it may manufacture and distribute fertilizer. If these things mean that the government is going into business, then it is vital to have this results.—Call 80.

It's Great To Lose Fat and Feel Years Younger

We picked out this letter for fat folks to read to-day — read every word.

"I give you my full permission to print this letter. I used Kruschen Salts for reducing. I lost 30 lbs. since I have been taking it. I praise it to everybody I know that is fat. And I also feel years younger."

Miss Edna Hunn, Algiers, La. A jar of Kruschen Salts lasts 4 weeks and the cost is trifling. Are you taking Salts to reduce or to please your palate?

Just try Kruschen for a month—besides losing fat you'll gain in physical attractiveness—skin grows clear—eyes sparkle with health. Take half a teaspoonful in a glass of hot water before breakfast every morning—you feel cooler in hot weather—get it at Moore Drug Co. or any drugstore in the world.—Adv.

business done in an economic manner and not in a political manner. In choosing those people who are to carry out its policies, the choice must be on the basis of ability to render real service, and not political service. There is no inherent reason why government in business cannot make great economic savings if its personnel is chosen for efficiency.

There is a provision that no political test of any kind shall enter in the employment of men on this Tennessee Valley Authority work. Men shall be employed on the basis of merit and no other. The TVA is working in that spirit.

ROBBER TRIO FIRE ON ONE STATION MAN

Local and county officers today were considering a possibility that three men who attempted to rob a Romney filling station at 2 this morning an d who fired a charge of buckshot at the proprietor, S. B. Bowles, when he interrupted them, were members of the quartet of Lubbock jail breakers, headed by the notorious Ed (Perch Mouth) Stanton. Romney is 10 miles south of Cisco.

There was a tendency to discount the theory, because of the indefiniteness of the descriptions available and the presence of only three in the gang, but officers said that the actions of the trio and the circumstances of the attempted robbery were enough to support the conjecture. It was pointed out that the gang would likely select an isolated station from which to steal fuel and that ordinary gasoline thieves would have fled from the spot without resistance.

Mr. Bowles was shot at as he stepped from the door of his combined service station and grocery to reprimand with two men who had awakened him at the pumps. The pair had heard him and were pushing a car from the driveway when Mr. Bowles appeared.

Retorted He said they retorted to his remarks, and a moment later a charge of buckshot, fired from behind an abandoned ice box beside a vacant service station across the street, passed an inch or two in front of him and splattered upon the station wall at his side.

He jumped back into the building, and as he did so he heard the motor of the car start. The machine swung around in the highway and came back, headed toward Cisco. In front of his station it paused briefly enough for a third man, who ran from behind the old ice box, to jump into it. It drove rapidly toward Cisco, he said.

Cisco police were notified immediately and blocked Highway 23 south of here. A trace of the fleeing trio was seen.

No Descriptions Mr. Bowles was unable to give a description of the men or the car, although he said he believed it was a touring car. However, Mrs. Bowles, who came to the door with her husband when the noise of the thieves at the pumps awoke them, said that it was a Chevrolet that looked new.

Officers recalled that the Lubbock fugitives were last reported in a Chevrolet coach. They explained that the presence of only three could be accounted for in the possibility that one of the quartet had sought refuge with relatives, known to reside in this part of the state.

A discharged shell for a 12-gauge shotgun was found by Constable Hicks this morning behind the ice box. Prints in the dust, he said, showed that the gunman had crouched upon one knee and foot as he fired, and the position of the shell, to the right of this position, indicated it was fired from an automatic gun which ejected it after the shot.

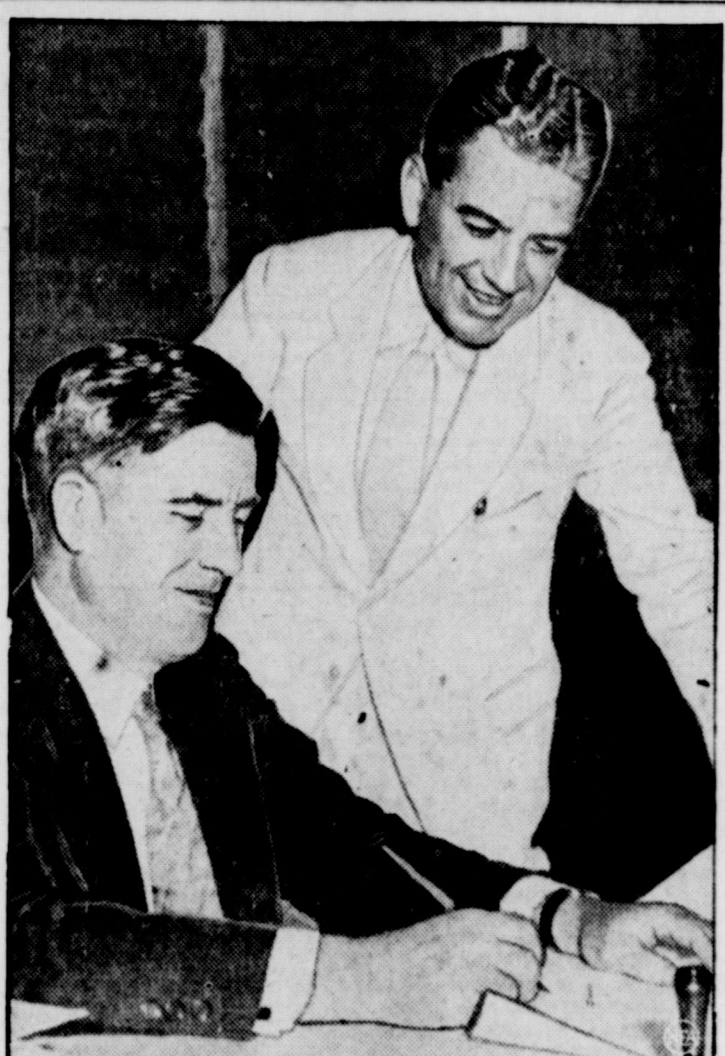

No other clues were obtained. It was recalled that the four Lubbock fugitives were reported sighted above Aspermont about dusk yesterday. Aspermont is 100 miles northwest of Cisco.

Word Club to Have Program Friday at 8

The Word Community club will have a program at Lake Strickland at 8 o'clock Friday night, with canyons speaking, music and an auction of goods donated by Cisco merchants through which the club seeks to raise funds to send a delegate to the summer short course at A. and M. college, and to buy a canner and sealer.

The Cisco chamber of commerce through J. M. Bird, agricultural secretary, is assisting with the program. Cakes, homemade ice cream and lemonade will be sold. Lake Strickland is two and a half miles southeast of Cisco.

Putting Final Touch to Victory

It's a moment of triumph for this pair of New Dealers and their smiles show it, as Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace signs the commission which makes Rexford G. Tugwell, standing, under-secretary of agriculture. Tugwell was confirmed in his new berth by the senate after a battle that aroused national interest.

Housing Bill Signed By President Today

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 28.—The housing bill, one of the major efforts in the administration's recovery program, designed to stimulate construction throughout the nation, was signed today by President Roosevelt.

There is no indication as yet, however, as to the personnel of the board that will administer the measure. The bill provides for improvement in housing standards and conditions with a system of mutual mortgage insurance.

President Roosevelt approved a joint resolution to amend the settlement of war claims acts of 1928 and a joint resolution providing an additional appropriation for expenses of special and select committees of the house for the fiscal year 1935.

Meanwhile, it was explained at the White House that the president was making steady progress toward the appointment of various boards and commissions. It was indicated that all of them might not be filled before he leaves Saturday for Hawaii and that he would complete the job by navy radio from the cruiser Houston.

Faced with a busy week, Mr. Roosevelt later in the day hoped to put the finishing touches to his nationwide address that he will make tonight at 9:30 o'clock EST (8:30 CST).

Langer Victory in Primary Indicated

BISMARCK, N. D., June 28.—Gov. Wm. Langer, convicted two weeks ago of a federal felony and facing a possible penitentiary sentence or heavy fine, apparently had won a smashing victory today in his fight for renomination and popular confidence. In partial tabulation of balloting in the state primary yesterday, Langer raced far ahead of two republican opponents.

A jury found him guilty of compelling CWA employees to subscribe to his political newspaper.

Trolleys were pulled from overhead wires and motormen who attempted to replace them were beaten. Two cars operators were among those taken to hospitals.

SPECTACULAR EVENTS MARK 4TH PROGRAM

Some of the most spectacular events prepared for any entertainment at Lake Cisco are included on the program arranged for the annual Fourth of July picnic at the lake next week. These include a daring parachute drop from a plane flying at 5,000 feet, into the waters of the lake, or a night fireworks display of unusual splendor, as well as the spectacle of an automobile driven at top speed through a flaming board wall.

The parachute drop is being arranged by Elmo Bannister, one of the most daring stunt men of the country. He assured the program committee that the breath-taking spectacle would be ready at the time appointed.

Bannister will also drive a Ford car through a board wall in flames. In these two stunts, he promised thrills that his watchers will never forget. The flaming wall stunt will take place about 8 o'clock, and the parachute drop is slated for late afternoon.

Political Attraction As has become the custom at the lake in election years the picnic this year will include a political carnival. Heading the political attractions will be addresses by Cong. Thomas L. Blanton, seeking re-election from the 17th congressional district, and one of his opponents, State Rep. Oscar Chastain. Cong. Blanton will speak at 2:30 p. m.

Candidates for state and local offices will be given opportunity at 10:30 a. m. to make announcements.

During the afternoon and evening, a water carnival and boxing matches will provide entertainment. The swimming and diving events will conclude at 9 o'clock in the evening with a fire dive from the 40-foot tower in the big pool. A diver, his clothing on fire, will leap into a patch of flames upon the surface of the water.

Three dances are also upon the program, to be offered by the Lake Cisco Amusement company, beginning with a German dance at midnight, July 3, and concluding with a "Big Time" dance at 9 p. m. July 4.

Music for the day will be provided by the Lobo band under the direction of G. W. Collum.

Plenty of Cold Water Three thousand pounds of ice have been ordered to cool the barrels of water that will be placed about the parks to quench the thirst of the thousands who will swarm into the lake playground for the day and night. In addition, concessions of various sort will cater to the needs of the visitors.

Committees from the chamber of commerce are busy with last minute details of the program, and every effort is being made to insure the convenience and pleasure of the visitors. The roads into the lake playground have been patrolled, so that there will be little Fourth of July dust to interfere with the comfort of the crowds.

Fresh water will be run into the pools for the crowds of swimmers and bathers, and a multitude of other details are being minutely attended to so that the sum total of the program will mean a thoroughly enjoyable day for all who come.

Shrimp Catch This Year Is Heaviest

ARANSAS PASS, June 28.—Aransas Pass hopes northern shrimp eaters will continue in good appetite. More shrimp were caught here last season and more were shipped to northern cities than every before according to W. A. Scrivener, vice president of the Aransas Pass Harbor Terminal railway.

The biggest day's catch was 165,000 pounds, Scrivener reported. Heaviest buyer of fresh shrimp from Texas was Chicago, possibly because World's Fair visitors from Gulf states demanded their favorite delicacy at Chicago restaurants and hotels.

A Testimonial to Cisco's Spirit

Today's issue of the Daily News, commemorating the founding of the newspaper 15 years ago, and recalling the discovery of oil and its great influence upon the community, is a striking testimonial to the aggressive, hopeful spirit of the business men of this city and their confidence in the future. The edition contains 54 pages.

The articles printed in the tabloid section present interesting and informative data on most of the principal business, social and civic institutions of the city, and the advertisements give a broad picture of the commercial and industrial status.

The limitations within which the staff worked to collect and publish the data resulted in some omissions which the News regrets, but in the volume of articles and advertisements herewith presented to you will be found much of a historical, factual and sentimental value. We believe it is a faithful reflection of Cisco's material aspect and the community atmosphere.

The News desires here to express its gratitude for the assistance so liberally and willingly given the staff in the preparation of this edition. Where possible, credit has been given but where this has not been possible we wish our appreciation to those who have placed advertisements in the edition, we also express thanks; and we invite the reader to study these advertisements carefully.

Today's edition will be distributed in 5,000 copies. It will be placed in chambers of commerce and other centers of civic interest throughout this section of the state, as well as in every home that can be reached within a wide radius of Cisco.

BANDIT LOOTS BANK, KIDNAPS ITS PRESIDENT

COVINGTON, Texas, June 28.—A lone bandit today held up the First State bank of Covington, seized an undetermined sum of money and kidnaped the bank president, M. T. Davis.

The banker-hostage was released unharmed about 10 miles southwest of Covington.

Officials and citizens posse were immediately formed, and officers throughout this section of the state joined in a search for the fleeing bandit.

President Davis said the amount of the loot obtained from the bank was "not large."

R. C. Smith, cashier, and Mrs. T. B. Willis, bookkeeper, the only occupants of the bank in addition to Davis when the bandit entered, were locked in the vault.

They released themselves by means of an inside lock.

OIL WELL GAS FUMES FATAL TO 2 WORKERS

BRECKENRIDGE, June 28.—Two of four men overcome by oil well gas fumes near Eliaeville this morning are dead, and the other two are in a Breckenridge hospital, one of them in a reportedly critical condition.

The dead men were: Leland Price, 24. Waddell Greenstreet, 25.

The men were installing a braided pipe in the cellar of the Baker, Perdue and Evans well two miles west of Eliaeville—a town 15 miles north of here—when S. A. Fry, 40, tool dresser, noticed his three companions staggering helplessly about. He felt himself being overcome, and pleaded with the others to get out of the pit under the derrick floor.

"I saw they were too far gone," he said, "and that I had better get out of there if I wanted to live."

He clambered out of the pit and summoned J. F. Eaker, well drilling contractor, who, with other help hastily summoned, pulled the three victims from the cellar.

Breckenridge and Graham and rescuers were able after a long while to revive Joe Williams, 27, who was brought to a hospital here where he was said to be in an extremely critical condition.

Doctors this afternoon gave Fry a good chance to recover.

All four were Eliaeville men. The three younger were working as roustabouts on the well. The accident occurred about 10 o'clock this morning, after the four had been working at intervals in the cellar. They had been in the place only a few minutes when Fry noticed the peculiar actions of his companions and warned them.

100 DEATHS ARE ATTRIBUTED TO EXTREME HEAT

The weather bureau said that in most sections the hot weather will continue for at least two days and that the only prospect of relief from rain were in Minnesota and the Dakotas.

CONTRACT FOR HIGHWAY SIGNS AWARDED BY CC

The chamber of commerce board of directors Tuesday night awarded a contract to the Goen Sign Co., Brookridge, for three six by sixteen-foot pictorial signs and 50 small signs to be placed along highways leading into Cisco to advertise Lake Cisco. Cost of the signs to the chamber will be $16 per month for 12 months, a total of $192.

One of the large signs is to be erected at Metcalf Gap, east of Cisco; another on Highway No. 1 three miles west of Abilene and a third at the junction of Highway No. 1 and 23 in Cisco. Third street and D avenue, in such a position that motorists coming from either direction may see it plainly and be directed to the lake.

The latter sign is to be erected immediately.

50 Small Signs

The 50 small signs are to be placed at approximate intervals of 10 miles on all cardinal highways for distances of 150 miles in both directions on Highway No. 1 and of 90 miles on each of the other highways.

The board of directors heard an explanation of the organization and purposes of the proposed federal savings and loan association for Cisco by C. Gordon Jones, representing the government in the organization, and approved the project. The association would apply investments of local citizens together with government furnished capital to loans on Cisco homes. It would be governed by a board of local business men.

The directors occupied considerable time in discussion of plans for the Fourth of July picnic and political carnival at Lake Cisco. The general program committee is to meet this afternoon at the chamber's offices to arrange the program for the event.

G. M. Official Denies Bids on Cars Raised

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 28.—Charges that certain automobile companies raised their bids for army truck contracts after the Ford Motor company was barred from government business, were denied Tuesday in a letter from a General Motors corporation official to the House military affairs investigating committee.

J. B. Woodside, Washington manager of the General Motors Fleet corporation, wrote the committee that orders had been issued by the executive vice president to GMC as soon as it was learned that Ford would no longer be a competitor that no division of the corporation would take advantage of that situation.

Full Guard of State Will Be Mobilized

HARRISBURG, Pa., June 28.—The war problem in which the 12,000 national guardsmen of Pennsylvania will participate during the annual encampment July 14 to 28 will, it is believed by military authorities, be the first ever attempted by the full national guard personnel of a state.

Moreover, the fortnight training period will mark the first simultaneous mobilization of all the units of this state since the World war. The Pennsylvania guardsmen, comprising the entire 28th Division, will pass in review during the camp period for the first time since 1928.

The war problem will consist in attacking and destroying a mythical army approaching Indian town Gap, where 6,000 of the guardsmen will be stationed during the training period. The remaining 6,000 will be at Mt. Gretna, 20 miles away; at Colebrook, near Mt. Gretna, and at Middletown airport, near Harrisburg.

Approximately $750,000 has been spent since last year for 37 permanent buildings and other improvements at Indian town Gap to equip the site for military reservation.

NEW SYSTEM TO BE VOTED ON IN CINCINNATI

CINCINNATI, June 28.—A reformed system of county government, setting up a governing commission and eliminating numerous present county offices, will be voted on in Hamilton county in November.

Provision was made to place on the ballot of the county, in which Cincinnati is situated, a proposition calling for election of a charter commission and names of commissioners to serve if the proposition is approved.

Archaic Systems

Two-thirds of the county commissioners favored the plan, thus making its inclusion on the ballot certain. The action was taken under a recent legislative enactment enabling reforms within counties of what had been called "archaic and extravagant county systems."

The charter commission, composed of 15 per cent, would submit its proposed charter for ratification at the next general election, in November, 1935.

Probable provision in the new charter, arrived at through investigations by Governor George White's commission on county government, include:

County Manager Plan

A board of county commissioners would have power to appoint a county manager, or chief executive officer.

Power of the county manager to appoint county personnel.

Popular election, aside from the commissioners, of only one officer—county rescuer. This officer would be elective to remove the prosecutor from any obligations since it would be elective to remove the prosecutor in office by county commissioners.

Home Demonstration Club News

By MISS RUTH RAMEY
Co. Home Dem. Agency

Below are some of the canning problems which Texas farm women have brought to the attention of Miss Lola Blair, food specialist, extension service, A and M college, who in turn offers suggestions in overcoming these difficulties:

1—Why does the water come out of the jars when processed, especially under pressure? (a) Undercooking during pre-heating state. Force product to "soak up" all water it will before packing. (b) Failure to pack product tight enough. (c) Failure to leave about one half inch space at top for air expansion. (d) Opening petcock. (e) Variance of pressure gauge. (f) Rapid boiling (if water bath). (g) Failure to pack or paddle out air bubbles.

2—Why do beans and okra turn dark? (a) Pigment in peas, or beans. (b) Okra discolors because cut with iron knife or cooked in iron vessel. (c) Okra may darken because it touches iron in can where pin holes in tin expose iron to product. (Note—Use good cans and stainless steel knives.) (d) "Breathers" or cans not sealed quite tight enough to keep out air.

3—Why do products taste as if vinegar had been added? (a) Products had flat sour due to (1) undercooking after processed; (2) standing too long after gathering and before cooling; (3) standing too long after sealing and before going into cooker.

4—What causes products to float? (a) Over sterilization. (b) Dry, lightweight products or spongy products. (c) Failure to pack products tightly. (d) Over-ripe products. (e) Sprung too heavy.

5—Why do beets turn white? (a) Wrong variety. (b) Detroit Dark Red is good. (c) Too old. Use beets one and one fourth inches in diameter. (d) Too great a change in temperature. Put hot water or vinegar on hot beets, and cold on cold.

6—Use of beet too old. (b) Use of hard water. (c) Use of table salt which contains starch.

7—Why do peas turn cloudy? (a) Insufficient blanching. (b) Improper grading. (c) Mineral in water. (d) Flat sour. (e) Peas too old. (f) Table salt.

8—Why can't I follow time table in magazines and newspapers? (a) Conditions in Texas are different because: (1) storage period extra long; (2) storage period very hot; (3) altitude vary, even in different parts of state.

9—What products must be canned under pressure for safety? (a) All non-acid vegetables and meat. (b) Water-bath for fruits, tomatoes, pickles or sweet pepper, and pickled beets only.

Uncooked Tomato Relish

1-2 peck ripe tomatoes
1 quart of cider vinegar
6 green peppers
6 sweet red peppers
4 medium-sized onions
1 cupful of finely chopped cabbage
2 teaspoonfuls of celery seed
1-2 teaspoonfuls of red pepper
1 teaspoonful of ground cloves

not water at all than just the light sprinkle every day." Water is scarce on most of the farms and by this method one uses not more than half the amount by giving the plants one good drink every two weeks or over a longer period of time.

THIS LAXATIVE Cleanses Completely

no bowel abuse

Cleanse bowels of waste matter more thoroughly, more completely with delicious Feen-a-mint, the chewing gum laxative, and you'll get quicker, surer relief from dizziness, headache and other constipation ills. Feen-a-mint acts more thoroughly because you chew it. Just as chewing prepares food for your stomach, so the chewing of Feen-a-mint distributes its laxative ingredient uniformly throughout the intestines to give a "full," more natural movement. Thus, Feen-a-mint never shocks the system nor abuses the bowels. Doctors themselves prescribe the laxative ingredient used in Feen-a-mint. Completely, thoroughly, Feen-a-mint empties and cleanses the bowels of putrid waste. As headache and dizziness go, you feel more active, energetic, fresh. Feen-a-mint contains no richness to upset stomach or to get stale. "Delay" is dangerous—chew Feen-a-mint for constipation. 15c and 25c at druggists.

NEED ENERGY?

Here's the latest word from Science on increasing Vim and Energy... quickly!

Today we call attention again to important facts which were presented to smokers in a recent item in this paper.

Perhaps you overlooked it. We repeat: You can release new vigor, when tired, by smoking a Camel.

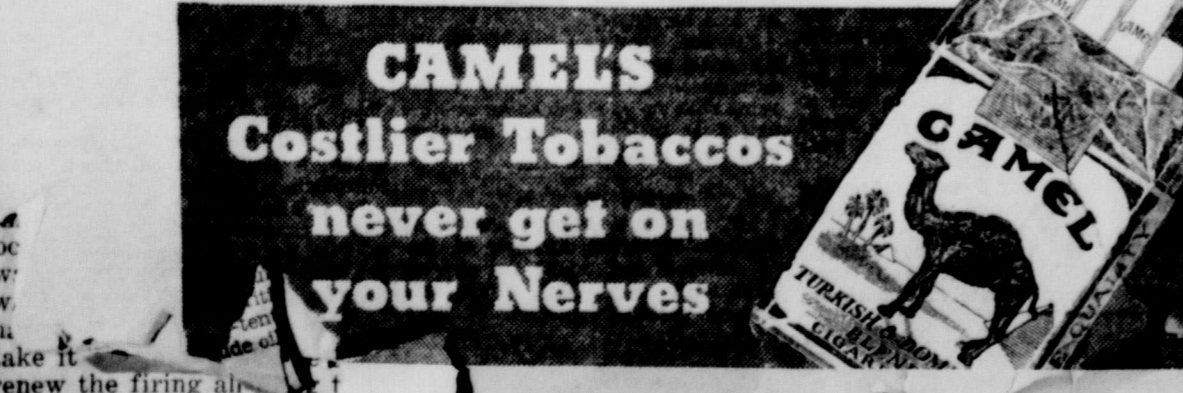

This comes from the "energizing effect" in

Camels as recently confirmed and described by a famous New York scientific laboratory. Everyone gets fatigued...cross...down in the dumps...when his energy is used up. But the way to turn on more energy has now been pointed out, by actual Camel smokers who tell of their own experiences. And by up-to-date research made in the laboratories of science. And so—"get a lift with a Camel!" Any time you want to enjoy yourself or restore yourself. Steady smoking need not concern Camel smokers, since the finer, MORE EXPENSIVE TOBACCOS in Camels never get on your nerves.

Camels are made from finer, MORE EXPENSIVE TOBACCOS—Turkish and Domestic—than any other popular brand.

AUTO CLASSIC RACERS FACE NEW FUEL CUT

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., June 28.—Faced with a probable further reduction in gasoline supply for the 1935 Indianapolis Speedway race, drivers and mechanics have turned to their garages to develop more fuel-saving devices.

Col. E. V. Rickenbacker, president of the Indianapolis Speedway corporation, has indicated that another slash will be made in the fuel supply before the 1935 classic is run. This year the speedway contestants were limited to 45 gallons for the 500-mile grind, and three gallons for the 25-mile qualification run.

Pleased With Experiment
Highly pleased with this year's fuel experiment, Col. Rickenbacker has indicated that the national technical committee of the American Automobile association will consider data on the proposed fuel allowance cut at its meeting in Detroit in July.

The automobile owners of the country likely will save thousands of dollars in gasoline bills as a result of fuel-saving devices and improved gasoline developed as a result of this year's fuel consumption limit.

Automotive engineers hope that further reductions can be made in 1935, and experiments to be made in Detroit will determine whether an attempt to cut the gasoline allowance will be made.

12 Cars Finished
Thirty-three cars started in this year's race, and 12 finished. None of the cars was forced out by a shortage of fuel.

Among the first ten finishers, the minimum gas consumption was 33 1/2 gallons, while the maximum was 43 gallons. Despite the fuel consumption limit which was inaugurated this year, "Wild Bill" Cummings set a new track record of 104.863 miles per hour, bettering Lou Meyer's 1933 mark of 104.162.

When the gasoline limitation was announced, its critics pointed out that it would slow the race. The ruling, however, produced a new record and one of the most thrilling, evenly-matched and safest races ever held on the Indianapolis bricks.

THERE are a great many different kinds of tobacco grown in this country and abroad. No two kinds are quite alike. Every variety has a different taste and other different qualities all its own. Some have more natural sweetness than others—some add a rare spice and a rich aroma—some burn more freely than others. To get Chesterfield's milder better taste we take the right amounts of the right kinds of home-grown tobaccos, then add aromatic Turkish. When these tobaccos are blended and cross-blended the Chesterfield way—balanced—each kind of tobacco helps to bring out the best smoking qualities of the others.

That's what blending and cross-blending means to Chesterfield —milder better taste. And that's why They Satisfy.

ROOSEVELT CONTINUES FAVORITE IN POLLS

It goes without saying that the enterprising publishers of the Literary Digest are making history in these torrid days of summer. Four out of five persons who voted for Franklin D. Roosevelt in 1932 still are loyal to him and one out of every three who favored Herbert Hoover has swung over to the New Deal president and his program. All this was revealed in the Literary Digest poll as balloting passed the million mark. Indeed, the figures show out of a total of 1,169,827 votes 727,000 favored the Roosevelt policies of recovery. Vermont was the only state in the 48 in which the chief executive did not obtain a majority. Seven states voted three to one for the New Deal. Ten others favored it two to one, and 28 states gave F. D. R. a greater ratio than they did in 1932.

It is significant that the heaviest trend to the New Deal president from Herbert Hoover was in the northwestern states. Twenty states returned a smaller ratio for Roosevelt than at his election in 1932.

A special poll for the ministers of America showed a majority in favor of the Roosevelt policies of government. As a matter of fact, the real poll will be taken in November when a nationwide election will be held, a new House of Representatives and a third of the membership of the American senate elected by the American sovereigns on the day when the ballot is the thing. This will tell the story of the gains or the losses of the New Deal administration and its recovery and relief policies of government.

ALL PRAISES INTER-AMERICAN HIGHWAY PROJECT

Sec'y of State Cordell Hull is to visit the capitals of all the South American republics. He is a powerful champion of the planned Inter-American highway. His viewpoint is that when completed the highway will not enhance commercial contracts and wonderment, but "will in the broadest sense offer an open sesame to the understanding hearts of the people of the two countries." Incidentally, congress before adjournment appropriated a large sum of money to enable the United States to cooperate with Latin-American countries in building the highway. Sec'y Hull, in a statement given to the Washington correspondents, called attention to the progress made in the Mexican roads from the Texas border south. He let it be known that as the program develops the highway is expected to be extended through the country south of the Panama canal to Santiago, Chile, Buenos Aires, Argentina and Rio De Janeiro, Brazil, utilizing insofar as possible existing highways.

Cordell Hull is a man of the broadest vision. He is one of the scholars of the administration. He is deeply interested in the trade relations which should exist between the nations of North and South America. Many of the South American republics are fast growing, their population is increasing by leaps and bounds and the development of their natural resources are on the way from the Panama canal all down the line to Patagonia.

TEXAS RETAIL SALES JUMP DURING MAY

Business is business in Texas. Retail dollar sales in May increased 11 per cent over April sales. Sales for the year based on reports from 88 stores in representative sections of Texas averaged 30 per cent more than sales during the corresponding period of 1933. Dr. S. H. Buechel is the assistant director and statistician of the bureau of business research of the University of Texas, and is responsible for the information.

Regardless of a near drought in May and June the procession of marchers has not been sidetracked and no side-stepping has been noticeable to the naked eye. According to Washington advices, farmers' purchasing power the nation over increased 25 per cent during the first nine months in which crop reduction benefits were distributed. L. H. Bean, AAA economic adviser, said the farm prices including benefit payments had an average exchange value this May of 30 per cent higher than in the corresponding month of 1933 and 60 per cent higher than in March, 1933. All this is most encouraging to the millions of Americans who are marching on in the middle of the road, each individual doing his level best to keep his home larders well supplied and with plenty of pity for the spineless ones who decorate the bleachers on the firing line of march "to the top of the hill."

PRICE FIXING ON WAY TO COURT OF LAST RESORT

Gen. Hugh Johnson is having his own trouble. All the heads of the New Deal set-ups are facing extraordinary problems which call for solution. It is said that a major engagement over the issue of price fixing is to be fought out before the federal trade commission and passed on to the supreme court of the United States. Ostensibly the dispute involved only comparatively small interests of three rubber companies. Washington lets it be known that developments seem likely to transform it into another celebrated industrial case, which would basically affect NRA's price control powers, and that the object of the battle is to determine the right of American industries to fix or refuse to fix prices.

Gen. Johnson is the real heavyweight battler of the administration. He is booked for many engagements. He is a warrior bold, as militant as a West Pointer should be and, win or lose, he never lets it be known that he is whipped or has lost faith in his cause. Men of the Johnson type can take it on the chin, smile a beautiful grimy smile and then take it and renew the firing

Gov. Langer Wins Decision

By HUGH NUGENT FITZGERALD
Gov. William Langer appealed in an ouster suit brought by the Lieutenant governor for his post to the supreme court of his commonwealth. That court ruled conviction in the federal court of conspiracy did not take from him right to hold the office of governor until his successor has been elected. Now Langer will continue his campaign for re-election. He is seeking the non-partisan nomination as well as the republican nomination. He is the head of the left wing of his party and is a thorough-going socialist, although sailing under another trademark. North Dakota democrats will place a ticket in the field. They hope for a tremendous vote for their primary candidate. There was a time when North Dakota was a republican stronghold. Now the non-partisans have split into two wings or organizations. Langer leads the radicals. His lieutenant-governor (Olson) leads the conservative radicals or socialists.

South Dakota landed in the democratic column last year. Peter Norbeck was the only republican elected. He returned to Washington as a second term and has been a consistent supporter of the Roosevelt New Deal legislative program. Democrats are confident of sweeping Dakota again this year. They elected a senator, W. D. Bulow, in 1930. As for Peter Norbeck, republican and Rooseveltian, he is said to be the most popular political leader carrying a republican brand in the two "Dakotas or the Northwest."

SAMUEL INSULL AS A 'DAMNED LITERARY FELLER'
Samuel Insull, facing trial in the criminal courts of Chicago, is a very busy man. He is writing a book. He is working six days a week as a "literary feller." He is going to tell how he started as a poor boy in England, crossed the Atlantic ocean, landed in the city of New York, became the secretary and adviser to the immortal Edison, kept his eye on the job, became the ruler of a $2,000,000,000 utilities empire, became an invisible ruler of a dozen commonwealths, went down in the crash of 1929, became a fugitive from justice, was extradited from Greece by American authorities and now at 74 patiently awaits the verdict of 12 of his peers in the jury box. Robert Quillen may not be a prophet, but his guess is that Samuel Insull will be given a verdict of acquittal. If so, his book should be one of "the six best sellers" along in autumn time.

Texas Topics

By RAYMOND BROOKS

AUSTIN, June 28.—At least four members of the Texas house, advocates of a new oil commission, visited the governor's office within 24 hours of Gov. Ferguson's public criticism of the railroad commission and attorney-general, after the ouster of R. D. Parker by two members of the commission, and the commissioners' statement that illegal oil production was increasing in east Texas. Discussion

BROOKS already has moved around to the question of the type of new agency to be formed. One state official believed it would be a natural resource commission thus committed to the economy idea, of consolidating two existing boards with the new service rather than creating a brand new agency. This would take in the board of water engineers and the reclamation service.

The gas utilities division being left under the rate-supervising railroad commission. But the present revenues from oil production, used to finance the oil and gas division, would be shifted over to the new agency, and is claimed to be sufficient to pay not only oil supervision, but the whole natural resource administration. The change would take nearly $1-000 a year off the salary of each of the three railroad commissioners. It would take over half the volume of activities away from the railroad board.

This records the fact that the relief commission, in session during the next 10 days, will go far down the line in drastic revision and re-organization of the relief set-up. Unconfirmed reports say the voting members of the commission have in mind a definite program. What this program includes has not been announced, and cannot be stated as official; but there is good reason to believe it will set the organization back to the point where the attempt was made to remove Robert L. Holliday, which failed in the courts.

That would restore Adam R. Johnson, who was nominated as director by Member Carl Estes.

The program would retain Miss Marie Dresden in her former, and her chosen field of work. It would discharge some of those slated for dismissal who were left on during the uncertainties of the membership squabble.

It would weed out individuals from several county boards whose presence has been controversial. So far as opinion goes, it will not oust any entire county board.

It would retain and approve many of the economies affected by Miss Dresden as director, in systematizing the office, correlating purchases and requiring various county staffs to be comparable. Miss Dresden has not yet installed standard scales of pay for workers lacking basic data for it.

SOPHIE KERR'S SUPERB LOVE STORY

"STAY OUT OF MY LIFE!"

By Sophie Kerr

BEGIN HERE TODAY

When HOWARD JACKSON, young geology professor, comes to the small middle-western town of Marburg, Jane TERRY, the prettiest girl in town, determines to win his heart.

Howard is attracted by Jane's friend, AMY LOWE, but Jane schemes to keep them apart. Then one evening Howard calls on Amy and almost immediately they fall in love.

Later that night Jane confronts Howard and accuses him of breaking her heart. When he tries to calm her she interprets his words as an accusation of love and announces their engagement.

A day later Howard is trying to explain to Amy what happened when Jane sees them together. She flies into a rage. Howard tells Jane he does not and never did want to marry her and that it is Amy he loves. Jane leaves Amy admits her love for Howard and agrees to marry him.

Jane decides to go to New York.

CHAPTER VII

MISS ROSA went with Jane to the late afternoon train and waited with her in the big empty station. "I know I ought to go along with you," she said at last, "just for a few days to get you settled."

"If you went with me I'd get off at the next station and go somewhere else. I don't want you or anyone else."

Jane went on with cruel intention. "You'll be as glad to get rid of me as I am to go. We've never been very fond of each other, have we, Aunt Rosa? You don't care about anything but playing bridge and having nice fattening meals and making the house look a little better-kept than anybody else's. I suppose you're too old to know how young people feel, really."

"Maybe I am," said Miss Rosa wearily. "Anyway, Jane, I did the best I could with my limitations. I'm very fond of you, even if you don't believe it, and it fairly tears me to see you like this."

"Will you stop nagging me!" "Your train's coming in." She hugged Jane's stiff, resistant shoulders and kissed her on both cheeks.

But Jane had pulled away from the embrace and was hurrying out to the train. The porter swung up her bag. Her trunk was slung into the baggage car three coaches ahead. Miss Rosa watched, more unhappy and perturbed than she had ever been in her whole life.

All the way back to the house Miss Rosa was miserable with defeat. "I shouldn't have let her go," she thought. Jane, by now some 50 miles away, was for the moment unaware of her advantages. The energy that had started her on this determined flight had gone.

NEVER afterward in her life was she able to recall any detail of that journey, how she reached the hotel nor how she spent the first few days of her stay, for she was suspended in pain and unreality. The truth was that she stayed in her room most of the time, lying in bed or sitting by the window, while the management, only partly reassured by messages from Miss Rosa, kept an uneasy watch on her, sending in maids on unnecessary errands, while the housekeeper lingered nervously in the hall for their reports. Jane did not know it, but she did know that after a while she began to feel things.

Accordingly she walked, looking out for a high-grade window at first blankly, then with a faint interest quickened by the sight of clothes and trinkets superior to anything Marburg could offer.

Presently she came to the park and strolled in a little way to rest in its greenness. The important feeling subsided, leaving a flatness in its place and great loneliness.

Various other strollers, mostly elderly men, glanced at her with speculative admiration, all of them only too ready and willing to start conversation. Jane saw that and it pleased her.

She must vindicate herself. She must do something quickly to show her superiority to Amy and all the aimless and took her aside, to make Howard Jackson realize what he had lost. A vague, brilliant vision of herself returning to dazzle and to condescend rose in her mind, but she could not evolve any definite guide toward its realization. There must be something she could study with immediate results and she would find out at once.

BUT the registrar's office of the Columbia summer school was baffled by Jane and bewildered by her.

One of the secretaries, more observant than the others, had seen the tight nerves, the despairing eagerness behind Jane's apparent aimlessness and took her aside, "Look here," she said kindly, "why do you bother with this sort of thing? It's mostly for teachers, you know. You seem to me, I don't know exactly why, but you do seem to me to be looking for something quite practical, outside of education. Why don't you take a course in one of these normal schools and get into some business—publishing or advertising, maybe? My sister went to one and she's done awfully well, got a position as secretary to the editor of a big magazine and worked herself out of the staff. I'll give you a couple of addresses."

It was the first line of direction Jane had found and she probably would not have followed it but one of the schools was near her hotel. She passed it as she went back there and after a moment's hesitation returned and entered. It was a competent place with more than a suggestion of swagger. At once Jane felt herself at ease. She was understood.

That night she wrote two letters. One was to her aunt, an answer to the letters and telegrams which poor Miss Rosa had been heaping on her ever since her arrival and which Jane, so far, had not noticed.

BUT over the second letter she hesitated. Ever since that morning in the chapel she had been beset with the wish to revenge herself if she could. The letter, ready at last, after many crossings out and changes, was far from consistent but Jane could do in a spontaneous, dashing hand.

"My dear Amy: I've been surprised not to hear from you since I left. It seemed to me that the least you owed me was an explanation if you didn't feel quite up to an apology.

"I want to tell you again that in spite of everything he may say, Howard Jackson literally pursued me with his attentions and made love to me ardently. Also he certainly did ask me to marry him and I cared for him deeply. I believe in his honor and sincerity and I know him so well that I still believe in them and am still absolutely certain that he cares for me and you have deliberately stepped in to drive us apart. Well, you have succeeded. You have taken away from me the only man I could ever care for—a man who really loved me until you came between us. Fortunately I am strong enough to go on without you, with out either of you. But the scar of this wound you have inflicted will always remain."

To Miss Rosa, Jane's letter indicated that Jane was herself again and not utterly broken under the fiasco of her engagement.

For Amy there was no such comfort. When she saw Jane's letter she did not want to open it, and the actual reading overwhelmed her.

"Of course it isn't true that Howard asked her to marry him, M. er," she said, "but Jane by time believes it's true. You know she is."

"It's a very cruel letter," sounds a little like 'East L. Are you going to write to me? I don't know, but I shall. She's so alone.

Amy's letter was c than Jane's. She to her mother to "Dear DARLINGTONS

"If there is world I can I did not happy way thing to me no fee or w have you

NEEDED: GOOD HECKLERS FOR STATE RACES

By GORDON K. SHEARER
United Press Staff Correspondent
AUSTIN, June 28.—What the Texas political campaign needs is some good hecklers.

Candidates are talking generalities and platitudes. A few good hecklers would make them specific. Nearly all candidates for governor in some speech or other have used an old age pension as a talking point. Audiences are left to believe that they can go blithely down life's pathway, regardless of the future, if only they elect that particular candidate for governor.

A good lusty-lunged heckler would ask some questions about it. He would inquire who is to pay the pensions and how. He would ask if it is to have a fate like the mothers' pension. The state legislature nearly got credit for a mothers' pension law and shifted the burden to the counties. County commissioners were authorized to grant such pensions from county funds, if they saw fit.

The heckler would ask what age will be required to become eligible for a pension. He would ask if indigence is to be a prerequisite, and if the aged man or woman is to be required to take the pride-breaking oath of pauperism.

Rich Pensioners
An indigence clause as a prerequisite to Confederate pensions was so distasteful to public sentiment that it is ignored. Some pensioners, made rich by oil strikes, are resented to continue as state pensioners.

Many of the planks being voiced by candidates are subject to pertinent inquiries. Lack of questioning indicates that public interest has not been stimulated by them.

All candidates are for easing the tax burden. How they are going to do it varies with the candidate. A heckler might ask each one how adequate appropriations are to be made if the state income is reduced in face of an overdraft of nearly $5,000,000.

"How about insane sleeping in hours for lack of buildings?" is a question that might give a candidate considerable pause. Most of the candidates have foreseen that some question, if unasked, at least will have arisen in the minds of voters. They are ready to answer with a plan for shifting the burden.

"Examine it" is the phrase heard from the political stump.
"Hot Potato" Issue
The sales tax was one of the early methods proposed. Then the little fellow figured out that he does most of the buying and it has been dropped like a hot potato. A tax on mortgages and notes (the big fellows hold them) has taken its place. Now the little fellows who sign the notes and mortgages are asking if the big fellows will not add just that much more on to his charges in interest and fees.

Other candidates would tax the chain stores. Chain stores made such a showing when it was attempted that legislators shied off. Other industries, singled out to take the burden off the land and the little fellow might get hecklers to ask the candidates the questions they will ask when bills for the taxes reach the legislature. But they save their ammunition. They know campaign promises are brittle.

Sincere Candidate
A candidate who is sincere and "knows his stuff" will welcome a heckler. He quickly can gain sympathy of an audience in an impromptu exchange with a heckler. At the worst, he has amplifiers and can draw the heckler out.

Hecklers in the past have been used to help a candidate. The late Senator Joseph W. Bailey, pliant and somewhat ponderous in his arguments until roused, was spurred into a return to his old-time fire by planned use of hecklers.

Supporters noted that Bailey was not setting the pace he could set. Without Bailey's knowledge a heckler was placed at the rear of an audience when senator addressed at Uvalde. A few barbs from the heckler and Bailey was going at his best.

Dan Moody used to quell hecklers when it was inconvenient to answer their questions by shouting, "What did you get your pardon?" If the heckler was made angry the crowd laughed all the more.

Forged Furlough Is Detected at Prison
AUSTIN, June 28.—A forged furlough sent to the state prison on a holiday failed to release W. C. Neal who has served four and a half years of a 12-year forgery sentence given him in Harris county. It was revealed here Tuesday.

The names of Gov. Miriam A. Ferguson, the secretary to the governor and the secretary of state all were forged to the furlough.

A keen eye in the prison office apparently detected something wrong with the furlough. A telephone message to Austin brought the disclosure that no such furlough had been issued.

Files of Leaders of Silver Shirts Seized
ASHVILLE, N. C., June 28.—The personal files of Wm. Dudley Pelley, leader of the Silver Shirts of America, were seized by a United States marshal Tuesday on orders of a congressional committee seeking to determine whether the organization is connected with a fascist movement in this country.

Reaction on Five
Reaction of the five youngsters to the treatment was hailed as further proof and verification of Dr. Evans' discovery hailed as a sensation by the medical world when it was announced recently.

The agent, an extract of the pituitary gland, was administered through a girl, ranging in age from 12 to 14 years, and two boys, 11 and 13 years old.

Four of the children were treated over a two-year period. They grew at rate exceeding their development during the previous four years and some that above normal children of the same age.

For 23 months the injections were withheld from the fifth youngster. Then the treatment was applied and the child grew an inch and a half in six weeks.

Sixth Case
A sixth case, in which other methods of promoting growth were employed, yielded less satisfactory results.

The Evans hormone, doctors said, not only spurred development of the children, but resulted also in changes in configuration and facial expression.

Whereas medical circles hailed the treatment as a great success in treatment of children, they do not believe it can be applied successfully to adults.

JEFF DAVIS' CELL KEY
OLD POINT COMFORT, BEACH, Va., June 28.—The key which locked the heavy grated doors behind Jefferson Davis, president of the Confederacy, when he was imprisoned in Casemate No. 2 of Fort Monroe after the collapse of the southern states' cause, has been found in the possession of Charles E. Flynn, of Phoebus, Va. It is a folding key, made of brass. Flynn found it after a truck had smashed through the door of a storehouse in the Fort, in which the key had been used for a number of years.

PRESENT GAS RATE ORDERED RETAINED HERE

AUSTIN, June 28.—Cisco residents will continue to pay a gas rate of 75 cents a thousand cubic feet with 10 per cent discount for payment of bills in 10 days, under an order issued Wednesday by the state railroad commission.

The rate has been in dispute since October 29, 1931. At that time the city by ordinance ordered a reduction to 60 cents. Community Natural Gas company appealed to the state railroad commission and on May 1, 1932 submitted to the city a proposed sliding scale rate.

In issuing the order yesterday the commission said: "In the present unsettled and distressed condition of our country and of this particular municipality, the commission finds no reason why a rate which prior to and since acquisition of the property by the Community Natural Gas company has prevailed and which has not heretofore been complained of by the summary should not, for the distressed period at least, be continued."

The case was argued before Commissioner E. O. Thompson at Austin last week and taken under advisement.

RULING AFFECTS TWO CASES
The Texas Railroad commission order at Austin yesterday keeping unchanged at 67 1/2 cents net the domestic gas rate charged by the Community Natural Gas company in Cisco, is in effect, a ruling against both the gas company and the city, it was explained here.

The order was issued by the commission to dispose of two cases, which were consolidated upon the request of the city attorney and the agreement of the gas company. The city had passed an ordinance reducing the maximum domestic rate from the 67 1/2 cents net to 50 cents net, and the gas company appealed to the commission for an order prohibiting enforcement of that maximum.

In an application filed later, the Community sought authority to establish a "step" rate schedule beginning at $1.00 for the first 1,000 feet and progressing to 30 cents per 1,000 feet after the 3,000 feet had been consumed. The city attacked this proposed schedule and when hearings were held here last year, the two cases were consolidated and testimony taken upon both at the same time.

The city attorney Grantham explained does not affect the ordinance recently passed, fixing a minimum rate of 40 cents per 1,000 cubic feet for domestic gas.

DEMANDS FOR LEGISLATION TAKING SHAPE

AUSTIN, June 28.—State officials already are scribbling notes on the legislative slate, months in advance of the next session of a Texas legislature.
Whether the slate will be picked up by the 44th legislature, meeting next year, or by the "fighting 43rd" legislature which may have a third special session in September, is problematical.
Shadows of east Texas oil derricks fall long across the legislative slate. Demands for food and clothing may be scrawled by the destitute as the supply of relief dollars from the sale of "bread bonds" dwindles.
On the same slate there is a new challenge written in the bold hand of John F. Wallace, member of the state board of control:
"The legislature should adopt a policy of either caring for all our insane, our tuberculars, or our unfortunate, or stop pretending to do so."

Writing Figures
The state board of control also is writing figures. The 44th legislature will be asked to appropriate thousands of dollars for the operations of public institutions, schools and colleges. The aggregate total amount needed will not be ascertained until budget hearings, now being conducted, have ended.
Wallace has found state hospitals to be in the most "deplorable and distressing condition" of any time within his knowledge.
He said 255 patients are sleeping on mattresses placed on the floors of hospital corridors. There are no beds for them, nor places for beds. Four hundred more are waiting for admittance.
The state school for the feeble minded here is operating at full capacity—1,000. Seven hundred are on a waiting list.
In a single county jail 59 insane patients have been held waiting for hospitalization. One county judge refused to conduct any more sanity hearings. There would be no room for the unfortunate persons if they were adjudged insane.
Hundreds of tuberculars are awaiting an opportunity for treatment in state hospitals.
The Texas relief law allows three per cent of state relief funds for the hospitalization of indigent tuberculars. The relief commission ruled that beneficiaries of that fund must have been on the indigent relief rolls.
For that reason, only 52 patients have been placed in private institutions in El Paso and San Antonio since the law became effective last March 1, Wallace declared.

"The legislature must make more room or we shall utterly fail in our obligations to society and to the unfortunate of our state," he said.
"The state now is caring for approximately 20,000 wards in public institutions.

Word Community to Have Meeting Friday

The Word community club will meet at Strickland lake, two miles southeast of Cisco, Friday evening at 8:30 p. m., when candidates will be given an opportunity to speak. Articles donated by club members will be auctioned off to provide funds to send a club delegate to the summer Short Course at A. and M. college July 29.
Homemade ice cream in cones will be sold.

CORN CROP IS IN DESPERATE NEED OF RAIN

COLLEGE STATION, June 28.—The Texas corn crop is desperately in need of rain by the first of July according to crop specialists at Texas A. & M. college.
Unless adequate moisture is forthcoming by that time, they said, the crop will have passed the stage where rain will increase the yield of grain.
Texas farmers planted about 5,250,000 acres of corn during the spring for feed and forage for livestock, but this huge investment is declining each day that dry weather continues.
Suggestions for salvaging the drought-damaged crop and for replacing corn with later seeded crops were offered. Where corn has made a good stalk growth but only a small amount of grain, the crop should be cut soon to utilize the full feed value of the whole plant.
Where there is enough corn acreage to justify, the greatest value can be obtained from the dried crop by putting it in a silo. If ensilage cutters are not available, the corn may be cut with a row binder, sled cutter or by hand and put in a trench silo.
Need Twice as Much
Dried up crops put in silos need at least twice as much water applied as normal green crops. There is little danger of getting too much water on a crop put in a trench silo, the specialists said.
If the corn acreage and the number of livestock do not warrant expense of making silage, the corn should be cut and shocked without delay to get the full feed value.
Grain sorghums, cowpeas and sudan grass were suggested as replacement crops if corn fails provided rain comes within "a reasonable time." For Central and South Texas hegar, darso, Spur feterita and Blackhull kafir were suggested as the best varieties. Shrook and darso were suggested for eastern and southeastern parts of the state.
If these substitute crops are planted between now and August 1, or even by Sept. 1, they may be expected to produce fair crops under favorable conditions.
Any crop except corn and grain sorghums may be planted for roughage or silage on acres contracted to the federal government on reduction contracts in wheat and corn-crop programs. If other land is not available the same may be done on farms where cotton land has been rented to the government.

PLAN FEDERAL S. AND L. ASS'N FOR THIS CITY

Organization of a Cisco Federal Savings and Loan Ass'n was undertaken Monday following a meeting of about 20 citizens with C. Gordon Jones, field organizer for the Federal Home Loan bank board at Washington.
Charles Kleiner was named temporary chairman; J. T. Berry temporary vice-chairman, and T. Hunter Foley temporary secretary-treasurer. Assisting these as an organizing committee are W. W. Wallace and Miss Lucille Seif, secretary of the Cisco Retail Merchants association.
The institution will be a federally chartered association serving Cisco people. Its capitalization is unlimited, the federal government investing three dollars for every one dollar invested locally. The association will be required to become a member of the newly organized Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corp., which will insure all investments up to $5,000 each, Mr. Jones explained.

Loans Locally
The association, which would be connected with the federal home loan bank at Little Rock, would loan money upon Cisco homes at rates of interest not to exceed 8 per cent, the loans payable in monthly installments. The association would be controlled by the local directors, and would be organized upon the plan laid down by the government as the most fool proof possible. Investments in the association would be guaranteed by the government.
Investments
Purpose of the association is to provide a place for the safe investment of local savings and a source of sound and reasonable credit for local home building. Loans may be paid over a period of from five to twenty years, and investments draw interest payable semi-annually at the rate determined by the earnings. The government, he said, takes "pot luck" with the local investors. When capital is paid in, the association has the privilege of borrowing one-third of the amount of this capital from the home loan bank at Little Rock, Ark., Jones explained.
Investments may be made either in lump sums or on the monthly payment plan.

Sales Competition Barred, Probers Told
WASHINGTON, D. C., June 28.—Army regulations now in existence concerning the purchase of light trucks have the practical effect of excluding all firms except the Chevrolet Motor company from bidding, Major Gen. Louis Bash, quartermaster-general of the army told a house military affairs investigating committee Monday.
Bash was the first witness as the committee began looking into the question of specification changes which assertedly "favor" certain companies.
Members of the committee said they had received reports that automobile manufacturers raised their bids as much as $50 a car when the Ford company was barred from bidding because it did not fly the Blue Eagle.

FROM GOLD DOLLARS TO OYSTERS PRESIDENT'S WORD IS SUPREME

Congress Leaves Roosevelt Dictatorial Powers Such as no President of the United States Has Ever Before Wielded

By FREDERICK C. OTHMAN
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, June 28.—Congress has left President Roosevelt dictatorial powers such as no chief executive before him ever demanded.
From the amount of gold in the dollar to the amount of water in a quart of oysters, President Roosevelt's word is supreme. From the Texas oil wells to the Georgia farmer how much cotton to plant, the Illinois banker how much interest to charge, and the Pennsylvania coal miner how many hours to work.
There is hardly any phase of American life which the president's influence, empowered by law, does not touch. The republican senatorial-congressional committee has compared Mr. Roosevelt to Mussolini, sees in his mounting powers "an end to liberty" and has called them an expression of the "socialist idea."

Democratic Retort
The democrats retorted that the president must have these extraordinary powers to combat the depression. They point with pride to progress so far made and insist that President Roosevelt has no idea of making himself an American dictator. The president himself says little, works hard, sets up new recovery aids and prepares for a lengthy vacation.
The specific powers of the president are divided among these 12 major programs:

1. Business control through the National Recovery administration, with authority to regulate through codes the minutest details of competition.
2. Agricultural control, including processing taxes to help the farmer, and crop control regulations to help him help himself.
3. Labor control, through the NRA wages and hours provisions and through the new labor bill providing for arbitration of disputes.
4. Stock market control, with a board appointed by him to administer the securities act, which outlaws doubtful practices and sets up rules under which brokers and exchanges must operate.
5. Communications control, affecting the telephone, the telegraph and the radio and designed to coordinate them.
6. Oil control, through the petroleum administration. (Not as effective as the president would like because of the failure of congress to pass a more comprehensive bill.)
7. Railroad control, through his federal coordinator, with power to scale down capital indebtedness, eliminate useless competition and abandon non-paying lines.
8. Tariff control, giving Mr. Roosevelt authority to adjust tariffs 50 per cent in either direction and thus govern the country's international trade.
9. Monetary control, including regulations of the currency and expenditure of a $2,000,000,000 fund to stabilize foreign exchange.
10. Banking control through the federal deposit insurance corporation and the Reconstruction Finance corporation.
11. Industrial finance control, through the loans to industry act, wherein the administration can lend $500,000,000 to those concerns which measure up to federal standards.
12. Relief control, wherein the federal agency relief administration supervises practically all relief activities in the country and gives shoes to the penniless city man and cows to the drought stricken farmer.

PIGEON FLIES HOME
BOSTON, June 28.—Pigeons get homesick, too. "Tillie," a carrier pigeon, was sold by Richard Davis of Boston to W. S. Skinner of San Antonio, Texas. One day, not long afterward, "Tillie" reappeared at the Davis home here. It had flown some 1800 miles.

Germany Will Send Delegates to London

BERLIN, June 28.—Great Britain's invitation to the government to send a delegation to London in an effort to avert the trade war threatened July 1, when Germany is to impose a moratorium on foreign debt payments, was accepted Saturday.
Great Britain announced that it would impose a clearing house to seize German credits in sufficient value, if possible, to meet services on German securities but it offered to negotiate. Germany had announced it might retaliate by barring imports from the entire British empire—a move that would penalize the dominions.

Canary Bird Goes Nudist, Plucks Garb
EL PASO, June 28.—One of Mrs. Fred Velasco's canary birds has gone nudist, and Mrs. Velasco is pretty upset about it.
"I don't know what made him do such a thing, especially at his age," she said.
The bird, 14 years old, plucked out every one of its feathers with its beak.
"The loss of his beautiful green and yellow feathers hasn't made him the least bit self-conscious," Mrs. Velasco said, "although he's a terrible looking thing."
"He sings louder than any of my other birds."

Los Angeles Jury Gives Woman Death

LOS ANGELES, Cal., June 28.—Nellie May Madison, dark-haired and middle-aged, convicted slayer of her fourth husband, was destined to become California's first woman to die on the gallows.
A superior court jury Saturday spurned leniency and returned a verdict carrying the extreme penalty for the alleged murder of a man the defendant insists is still alive.
The verdict was as astounding to a courtroom as was Mrs. Madison's plea that a man shot to death in her apartment was a stranger, and not her husband, Eric Madison, studio employe and reputed son of a former Danish politician.
She told the jury her husband, cashier in a studio cafe, abandoned the marital union the night the "stranger" was slain in her apartment. She had not seen him since, she said, Mrs. Madison denied killing the "stranger."

TIMES have changed!

COOKING isn't the job it used to be!

Rapid and revolutionary have been the improvements, in design and performance, of gas kitchen appliances these past few years. The modern gas range with its automatic controls, the gas refrigerator which operates without moving parts, the gas water heater which needs no attention... have brought welcome relief from old-fashioned meal-making and still a job with you, take the first step towards a modern all-gas kitchen by installing a new range. It will have these important features: Self-lighting, insulated oven, automatic oven heat control, smokeless broiler and burners that won't clog with boil-overs.

The matchless performance of these efficient servants working for you in a modern gas kitchen means better meals at less cost and more leisure hours to enjoy. They are sold on terms by your dealer or your gas company which make ownership easy.

Best as a CEREAL

Best for COOKING

It's so convenient to keep a package of Kelllogg's ALL-BRAN in the kitchen. Serve it as a cereal. Use it also as a healthful ingredient in your cooking. For muffins, breads, omelets, waffles, etc.

ALL-BRAN brings your family the "bulk" that is so helpful in correcting common constipation.

Two tablespoons daily are usually sufficient. In severe cases, with each meal. How much better than risking patent medicines!

Laboratory tests show Kelllogg's ALL-BRAN supplies "bulk" and vitamin B to aid regular habits. This "bulk" is similar to that in leafy vegetables. ALL-BRAN is also rich in iron for the blood.

Special processes of cooking and flavoring make Kelllogg's ALL-BRAN finer, softer, more palatable than ordinary raw bran.

And because it is all bran—with only flavoring added—it brings you more "bulk" than part-bran products.

Get the red-and-green package at your grocer's. Made by Kelllogg in Battle Creek.

If intruder puts in his appearance, the gander hisses a warning. If the trespasser still remains, the gander grabs a bill-full of flesh and hangs on.

as well as the great natural wealth of the valley and its ideal geographic relation to the rest of the continent led the nation to place the responsibility for the success of this undertaking on the pioneers of the Tennessee river basin.

Two Phases of Work
 There are two distinct phases of the work of the Tennessee Valley Authority. There are, first, definite projects which are given by law to the Authority to carry out and, second, there is a general program of social and economic planning.

The aim of the TVA is to present a picture of possibilities, and to help the people of this region to work out organization and means whereby the spirit of sharing of opportunities and responsibilities can become the dominant and guiding spirit of the people.

Economic Business
 It is said that the Tennessee Valley Authority project implies that the government is going to generate and distribute electric power. Also, it may manufacture and distribute fertilizer. If these things mean that the government is going into business, then it is vital to have this.
