TEXAS CONTINUES IN DROUGHTY GRIP

Biggest Fourth Is Anticipated at Lake Cisco Wednesday

PROGRAM FOR HOLIDAY HAS MANY THRILLS

Cisco will take a holiday Wednesday, July Fourth, in anticipation of the largest gatherings that ever crowded into the Lake Cisco parks for the annual Fourth picnic and the biennial political carnival.

The ceremonies, sponsored by the chamber of commerce and the Lake Cisco Amusement company, will begin at 9:30 o'clock in the morning with a 30-minute band concert by the Lobo band under the direction of G. W. Cullum. At 10 o'clock opportunity will be given to make and local candidates to make announcements.

The afternoon events will be arranged with another concert at 1:30 p. m. Cullum and his band followed by addresses by Oscar Chasman, Eastland, candidate for congress from the 17th Texas district, and Cong. Thomas L. Stanton, incumbent, at 3 p. m.

Parachute Drop

The most spectacular feature of the program will be a 5,000-foot parachute drop into Lake Cisco by two Bannister, daring young stunt men. This is scheduled to take place at around 5 o'clock. Bannisters has another stunt in store for the Fourth crowd, in which he will drive an automobile through a flaming board wall. This will take place at 8 p. m.

Parks Bright and Clean

The parks, recently worked over by a large crew of relief workers are in the most attractive condition that they have ever been. Plenty of parking room is assured, while asphalt road leads into the area, placing the dusty thoroughfare that was formerly a source of some discomfort on account of the dust. The trees have been white washed, weeds and high grass removed, and the whole area presents a bright, clean, new appearance that is inviting.

Minister Says He Will Ask New Trial

SAN ANTONIO, July 2 — The Rev. Wm. Welburn, loser in last week's divorce action brought by a woman he declared he never married, announced today he would file motion for a new trial.

Describing himself as an innocent man, the former pastor said he would base the motion on an allegation that a grand jury indictment charging him with perjury influenced the divorce trial jury's verdict.

The verdict reached shortly after the grand jury indictment was returned, granted Mrs. Welburn a divorce from the minister and custody of her 7-month-old child, parentage of which Welburn denied.

ANTI-RABIES DRIVE

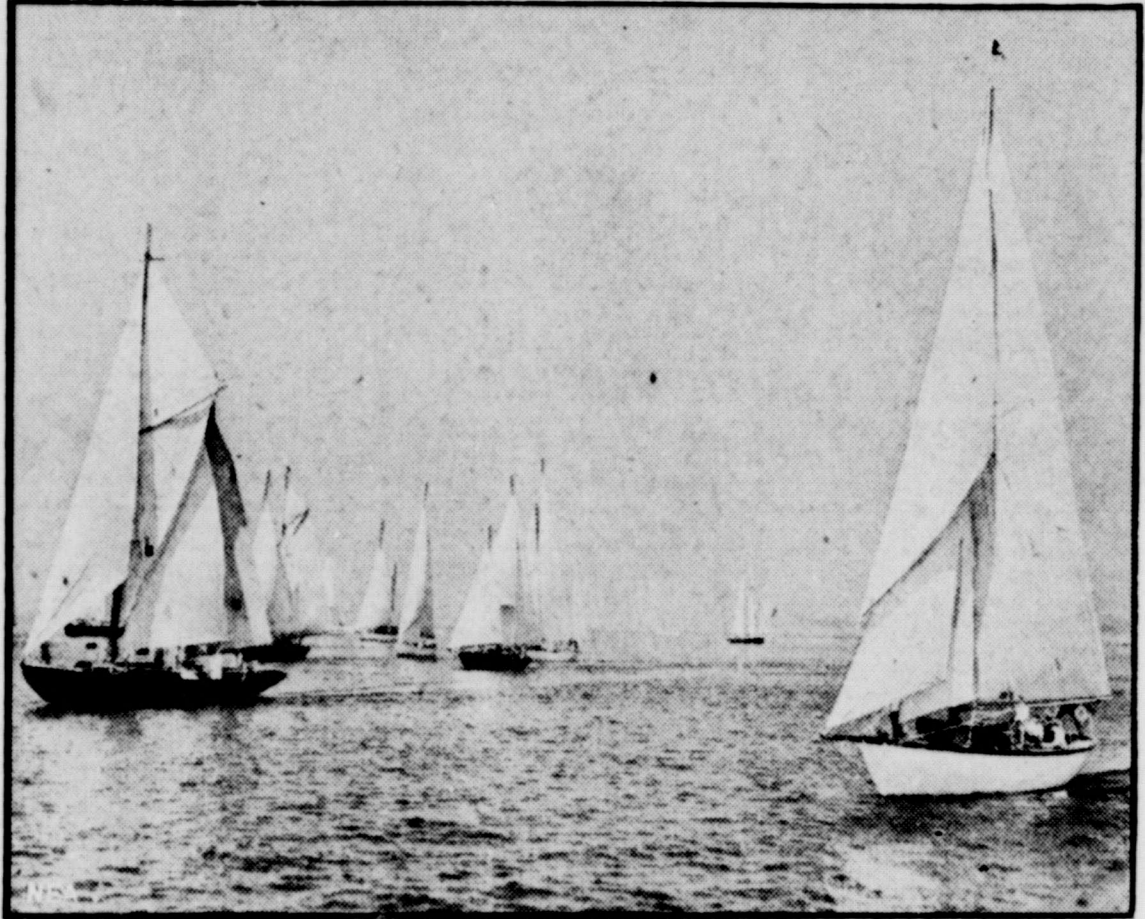

EL PASO, July 2 — City of police have killed 41 dogs to curb a rabies epidemic which City-County Health Officer T. J. McCamant said started among wolves and coyotes.

WEATHER

West Texas — Generally fair to partly cloudy tonight and Wednesday.

East Texas — Generally fair tonight; Tuesday partly cloudy to unsettled; local showers near west coast; continued warm.

CAMPAIGN FOR GOVERNOR STILL PROVES PUZZLE

By GORDON K. SHEARER
United Press Staff Correspondent
AUSTIN, July 2 — With four weeks to go, the race for governor in Texas is still a puzzle.

Any ranking of the candidates this Saturday may need much changing by Saturday, July 28, when the ballots are to be cast.

Allred continues to be named as leader by most Austin visitors. They give several reasons. Past races have shown him unbeatable in winning votes during a campaign tour. Most of the other candidates are taking jobs at him; that is taken to mean they expect him to be in the run-off. An attack on a candidate whose friend might be won for the second primary with him on is poor politics. Another reason cited by those who pick Allred is that he is expected to get the bulk of the dry vote.

Soft Ball League To Reform Tonight

There will be a meeting at 7 o'clock this evening at the chamber of commerce to reorganize the city soft ball league and make plans for the rest of the season, it was announced this morning. Plans under contemplation call for a circuit of six teams, playing three nights weekly, with no inter-city games allowed.

All interested in the sport are invited to attend.

Following the meeting, there will be a game between Albany and Cisco all-star teams at the lighted field.

TRANSIT STRIKE IS THREATENED AT FT. WORTH

FORT WORTH, July 2 — Street car and bus operators here today threatened to go on strike unless their demands for collective bargaining rights are met.

Every attempt will be made to prevent a strike, union leaders said, but "drastic action" may be necessary unless the North Texas Traction company reinstates all of 15 men allegedly discharged because of union affiliations.

A mass meeting was called for tonight to discuss the situation.

Company officials denied that the men were dismissed because of union membership.

They urged the employees to wait upon a decision in the matter from the national labor board.

Lake Cisco Guests

Guests at Lake Cisco lodge last week included: Robert Massey, Waco; Spencer Neville, Waco; Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Bigelow, Waco; Mr. and Mrs. George Cox and three children, Dallas; Mr. and Mrs. Galley and children, Ranger; Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Bosch, Dallas; and Mr. and Mrs. McDonald, Sweetwater.

President Creates Advisory Committee

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 2 — President Roosevelt today issued an executive order creating a national emergency committee to advise him on problems connected with public works, labor disputes and industrial recovery.

TENNESSEE VALLEY IS IDEAL SPOT FOR SOCIAL EXPERIMENT

EDITOR'S NOTE: The fourth story in Dr. Arthur E. Morgan's series on the Tennessee Valley, which follows, tells why President Roosevelt chose this site for his vast experiment in applied sociology.

By DR. ARTHUR E. MORGAN
Chairman of the Tennessee Valley Authority

Knoxville, Tenn., July 2 — There were a number of reasons why the Tennessee valley seemed appropriate as a testing ground for the president's ideas. For some time there has been under way the Muscle Shoals power development. That has been booting about for a decade. Twice congress has passed bills to the effect that Muscle Shoals should be operated by the government. Twice such bills were vetoed by the president. The plants and dam waters were going to waste.

Man Shoots Three, Then Kills Himself

DALLAS, July 2 — Hugh Davis, 56, today shot and killed three persons because they refused to attend a picnic with him. Then he shot himself fatally.

The victims: Mrs. Sally Carson, 40, former wife of Davis. Mrs. Julia Patrick, 70. Sam Carson, 19, son of Mrs. Carson.

Mrs. Frank Richards, daughter-in-law of Mrs. Carson, saw the killing. She told police that the Carson boy was shot first by Davis. Then she said, he killed the two women.

Police were informed that Davis invited the two women and the youth to attend a picnic with him Sunday night near his fishing camp. They had refused.

Final Report Made By Darrow Board

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 2 — For the third and last time the Darrow recovery review board reported today that the NRA is squeezing the "little man" and the consumer and bolstering huge monopolies.

The board's final report was made public today. It differed from the earlier findings only in the specific injustices cited. The conclusions were the same as those of its first and most effective bombshell.

Truck Loaded With Cattle Is Ignited

A truck carrying about 15 head of cattle caught fire on Highway No. 1 in the eastern edge of the city last night about 10 o'clock. The cattle were liberated by the driver and the fire was extinguished by the Cisco fire department after considerable damage had been done to the truck.

Name of the driver and his destination were not ascertained.

HITLER SEEKS LEGAL BASIS FOR SLAYINGS

BERLIN, July 2 — After "liquidating" his political enemies in a bath of blood and bullets, Chancellor Adolf Hitler and his modern "committee of public safety" today sought to present to the world legal justification for the execution of at least 24 high officials.

"All executions of storm troop leaders," the nazi high command declared, "followed summary court martial proceedings, before court martials held in Berlin and Munich."

Chancellor Hitler erected another bulwark of defense for his strong position when he released telegrams from President Hindenburg which put the stamp of approval on "suppression of treasonable machinations" and gave the old warrior's blessing to the bloody undertaking of the past week-end, which may result in an even higher death toll when the whole truth is known.

Decline in Business Mortality Reported

DALLAS, July 2 — A sharp decline in the business mortality rate, a substantial improvement in merchandise distribution, and a gain in building operations were constructive features of the business and industrial situation in the 11th district during the past month, the Federal Reserve bank of Dallas reported Sunday.

The number of failures in May was at a low level and the indebtedness of defaulting firms was the smallest in any month during the past 14 years, the review said.

Department store sales in larger cities reflected a gain of 10 per cent over April and were 22 per cent larger than in May last year. Wholesale distribution was substantially larger than in April and exceeded that in May. The valuation of building permits issued at principal cities was approximately double that in either the previous month or the corresponding month of 1933.

U. S. PLANS HUGE PROGRAM AS FISCAL YEAR IS CLOSED

By RICHARD L. GRIDLEY
United Press Financial Correspondent
WASHINGTON, D. C., July 2 — The federal government Saturday closed its books for the 1934 fiscal year on the largest peace-time spending program in history and made plans for even larger expenditures over the new fiscal year beginning tomorrow.

Approximately $7,000,000,000 or $86 for every man, woman and child in the country was poured out of the federal treasury in an ambitious attempt to turn the tide of business and to give relief to millions of people until prosperity is restored.

MIDDLE WEEK SHOWERS ARE IN PROSPECT

DALLAS, July 2 — Prayers for rain continued unanswered today except for showers in scattered Texas communities.

Meteorologist Joseph L. Cline said, however, that increasingly unsettled weather conditions might result in general rains by the middle of the week. In the meantime the state will have to do with light local showers, Cline said.

Light showers were reported from several stations over the state yesterday. Houston experienced considerable relief from heat during a brief downpour totalling 52 of an inch. San Antonio got .94 of an inch. Corpus Christi .62, Palestine and Del Rio .92, while Amarillo and Abilene reported light rains.

Texas has not had a good general rain since the first week in April.

FDR CAREFREE AS HE STARTS LONG VACATION

ABOARD U. S. S. GILMER
Chesapeake Bay, July 2 — President Roosevelt, who knows how to take a vacation and does it best at sea, relaxed completely today from the strain of directing national affairs.

As the cruiser Houston bore him southward over the Atlantic, the president put off responsibility and idled pleasantly in the companionship of Franklin, Jr., and John, youngest of his sons.

Last important business was finished during the night as the Houston slipped down Chesapeake Bay. Only three newspapers are along. They are quartered on the destroyer Gilmer.

Cisco Will Contest With Breckenridge

Tuesday, July 3, will be statewide "Conoco Day," when special sales efforts will be put forth by the Continental Oil company, features by contests between various cities.

Cisco Conoco stations will be matched against Breckenridge stations in the day's contest. J. H. Mitchell, local distributor of Conoco products, announced. He asked Cisco automobile drivers to help the Cisco stations win in this drive by filling their tanks at these stations during the day.

Cisco Conoco dealers are City Garage and Battery company, Agnew and Richardson, Cotton Brothers, and R. F. Russell Grocery.

Geodetic Survey to Establish Markers

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 2 — The United States Geological Survey has begun construction of a system of land elevation markers at 10-mile intervals over most of the United States, officials said today in denying reports that giant towers would be built to be used as geodetic laboratories.

It was said that the elevation markers would comprise small copper plates which would prove an invaluable aid to engineers. The money for the project will be supplied by the public works administration.

The geodetic survey had thousands of such markers already placed over the country and the newly planned work will be an extension of this system.

20,000 Greet Flying Brothers at Warsaw

WARSAW, Poland, July 2 — The Adamowicz brothers of Brooklyn landed their trans-Atlantic plane at the Warsaw airport at 5:40 p. m. today, and were greeted by a wildly cheering crowd of 20,000 citizens.

Marie Dressler Still Fighting Off Death

SANTA BARBARA, Cal., July 2 — Marie Dressler, 65-year-old screen favorite, remained in a critical condition early today with no noticeable change reported by doctors at her bedside.

The beloved trooper, who had emerged from a state of coma, to speak feebly to those surrounding her, continued to fight off death. Her physicians saw no immediate crisis.

ASKS TO BUY TEETH

EL PASO, July 2 — David Stern of Hollywood, Calif., has asked permission to buy gold teeth from El Pasoans. He said he would sell the teeth in turn to the U. S. mint.

TEXAS FARMERS PAID MILLIONS

Secy. Henry A. Wallace and his farm administration noted a mounting total of rental and benefit payments which on June 25 had reached $260,000,000. To the end of May $38,388,000 had been collected in processing taxes. Payments to wheat growers totaled $67,000,000 as of June 20, corn and hog payments $6,000,000. Tobacco payments $11,752,000. Total payments by states in all products grown included Arizona $380,681,000; Arkansas, $12,632,000; New Mexico, $913,000; Oklahoma, $16,528,000; Texas, $51,622,889. If the farmer was the forgotten man he has been given very generous recognition since the New Deal administration was inaugurated in the month of March, 1933. Now where do we go from here?

There is a campaign on in Texas and the first show down will come late in the month of July. There is a run-off that will take place late in August. There are thousands of candidates for minor offices. All the entrants for the major offices are doing their best to swing to the coat tails of F. D. R. and all down the line to justice of the peace in a brush district the candidates are promising eternal allegiance to the skipper of state who is going on the longest cruise ever attempted by a president of the United States while holding the reins of government.

JOHNSON HEAD OF RELIEF COMMISSION

Adam Johnson has been returned to his post as head of the state relief commission. He was ousted in early springtime when Robert L. Holliday was ousted as a member of the board. Holliday refused to take it on the nose. He appealed to the courts. The Texas court of last resort ruled that his ouster was illegal and confirmed his right to a membership in the commission. Johnson was voted out by a majority of one. Holliday was on the job Wednesday. There was another five to four reorganization. Johnson was called back. He was voted his salary for the months that he had been idle. He was warned that he must work in harmony with the governor and all concerned.

A committee of three was named to conduct an investigation as to the alleged political activities of Johnson in Travis county before the upheaval came in the spring months. It was voted by the commission to advertise for bids for a new location for state headquarters. It was a very busy session of the reorganized body.

Texas taxpayers voted a bond issue calling for millions of dollars for the relief of the real needy. That is the way the money should be expended. The real needy, the worthy needy should be given the preference. There should be no waste of the taxpayers' money. Practical politicians should keep their hands off.

RAIL WORKERS RECEIVE INCREASE

Rail workers throughout the country received an increase in basic wages the coming Sunday—"when the agreement signed last April between the railroad managers and the employees becomes effective." There are thousands of rail workers in Texas. Two years ago rail labor chieftains the nation over agreed to a 10 per cent reduction from pay checks as a means of assisting the railroads over the depression. July 1 one-fourth of the cut was to be restored and another fourth on January 1.

All government employees due for restoration July 1 of another five per cent of their 15 per cent in pay cuts. It is a matter of record that the first five per cent given back was retroactive from Feb. 1. Down here in Texas rail heads of the trade unions and their employers appeared to be amenable to reason and with the exception of the strikes of dock workers at the Gulf ports, harmonious relations between the employees and the employer is a most encouraging sign of the times.

BROWNSVILLE SHIP CHANNEL ON THE WAY

Builders of Brownsville in the county of Cameron are happy. Final plans and specifications for the ship channel and turning basin have been approved by the chief of army engineers. Advertising for bids has been ordered. Cong. Milton H. West camped in the city of Washington until the big project received the approval of the government. Furthermore, the wires carried the news that the public works administration had signed a requisition to put the money in motion. A loan and grant of $2,742,000 to the Brownsville navigation district for the construction of the channel and turning basin and terminal facilities was approved Dec. 8 of last year. Now the officials of the district predict actual work will be started within 60 to 90 days. Another such Gulf port appears to be on the way down where the waters of the Rio Grande pour into the Gulf of Mexico.

50,000 MEN ADDED TO CORPS

Robert H. Fechner is the federal director of emergency conservation works. He has announced a new program. Fifty thousand men will be added to the civilian conservation corps early in the month of July as a part of the government's $525,000,000 drouth relief program. Recruiting will take place in 22 states in the drouth area. President Roosevelt authorized use of $12,500,000 for the increase of the corps. Director Fechner has estimated that the sum allotted would keep the 50,000 men in camp for three months. Texas and Oklahoma are included in the states in which a total of 150 to 250 new camps will be established. Each of the camps will have the strength of 250 men, and all existing camps in the drouth region will be increased from 200 to 250.

PLENTY OF GOOD SUBJECTS

UNDER THE DOME AT AUSTIN

By GORDON K. SHEARE R

United Press Staff Correspondent AUSTIN, July 2.—The cavalry lads have a new one to pull on the doughboys when relatives advance the ages of the service are the topics. Troopers of the Texas National Guard had beer at their two-week encampment near Mineral Wells. The doughboys will have no beer at Palacio's next month. At least they are destined to go dry unless Maj. Gen. John A. Hulien changes his mind and orders. So far he has refused to permit beer at the Palacio encampment.

Big Gen. Ja-ob F. Wolters ruled in favor of beer for the encampment of the cavalry brigade which he commands. It was at the canteen there both on tap and in bottles. Bottled beer was served for 10 cents. Mugs of draught beer were a nickel. Officers were not permitted to drink at the canteen. Beer was served as part of the officers' mess.

General Wolters says the serving of beer caused no disorder, was easily handled and seemed to please the personnel. Incidentally, the Palo Pinto county encampment was the first National Guard encampment at which beer has been permitted in many years.

General Hulien's chief objection to permitting beer at Palacio's is said to be because many of the infantrymen are minors.

"Junior commission" is the name that has been tacked on the east Texas committee of three designated by the Texas railroad commission to oversee oil tenders and oil movement. The term is used in communications of the Texas Petroleum council.

Forged pardons are not new in Texas. One of the most celebrated releases by spurious order occurred during the administration of the late Gov. J. D. Cayer. A 99-year convict obtained liberty that way. See back in his home county by the prosecuting attorney, he left Texas before it was discovered how he left prison. He was not recaptured.

A genuine pardon blank with the true signature of Governor Sayers was used in that case. The release, intended for another prisoner, was altered to apply to the 99-year convict. A forged release order freed a prisoner during the recent administration of Gov. Ross S. Sterling. In that case, as in one recently discovered, state stationery was imitated and names forged.

"It's a girl" was the news given Secretary of State W. W. Heath this week. The daughter is the first child born to him and Mrs. Heath.

State railroad commissioners are planning for the future. One plan is to prevent abandonment of oil pipe lines when they cease to be profitable. In the past year the commission was confronted with many applications for abandonment of rail lines that had become money losers. Foreseeing possible similar occurrences for pipe lines, the situation is to be forestalled, if possible.

Pipe line companies were so notified this week by Commissioner E. C. Thompson. He explained that the chief purpose of the commission in calling upon the companies to submit maps, inventories and production costs of their lines is to assure continuance of the lines. Oil men had thought a new slash in rates was imminent.

Instead rates may be raised where it becomes apparent that they cannot be operated successfully without increased revenue. "We do not want any line abandoned so long as there is oil left to be moved in the territory it serves," Thompson said.

Members of the committee of the Regents of the University of Texas who look after the College of Mines expect to make a trip to El Paso soon. The time has not been set. Chairman Braufort Jester said they plan to look over the school and find out just what its scope is before choosing a new president for it. Some noted mining instructors are said to be available but the El Paso school carries many courses besides its engineering curriculum.

When the state court of criminal appeals closes its term here Saturday in compliance with the state constitution, it will end its busiest year. Records show that already 856 appeals have been carried to it from lower courts since the preceding term ended June 24, 1933. That year's term had but 677 appeals.

SOPHIE KERR'S SUPERB LOVE STORY "STAY OUT OF MY LIFE!"

BEGIN HERE TODAY

When HOWARD JACKSON, young geology professor, comes to Harburg JANE KERR, the prettiest girl in town, determined to win his heart. Howard, however, falls in love with AMY LAW, Jane's best friend. Jane, angered, tries to force Howard into an engagement and, when this fails, leaves for New York, declaring she will never return. Amy and Howard set the date of their wedding in June.

In New York Jane enrolls in a business school and later becomes secretary to the president of the Kandel Real Estate company. She meets ROGER THORPE, head of the rental department.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER X

"NOW there's a smart chap," said Kandel after Roger Thorpe had left them. "You heard him—something queer comes up and he goes right out and takes hold himself, doesn't leave it to his assistants. He might have sent one of the boys who'd have balled it all up and got us a lot of bad publicity."

Jane nodded gravely. This piece suited her exactly. As soon as Mr. Kandel had finished the gist of letters she went to her desk and looked it through. Good supplies, plenty of them, an almost new machine, a comfortable chair, the desk itself large and expensive—not of course to be compared to Mr. Kandel's magnificent walnut and plate glass bulwark, but a sort of young brother to it.

Jane's dark slimness, her black frock and red beads were quite in the picture, and she knew it as a cat knows its beauty against a satin cushion. But she wasted no time on effect. She was too intent on getting the letters typed and making them look smart. When she had done a couple she brought them to Mr. Kandel. "Do you like that style?" she asked. "Would you prefer less margin, or a double space throughout?" "They look all right to me," said Mr. Kandel. Jane was disappointed. She had hoped for more approval. The truth was that Mr. Kandel had begun to re-value her precipitancy. The girl might be efficient, but she was much too young and too pretty, and she had outsmarted him on salary. Likely, too, Mrs. Kandel wouldn't be pleased when she saw Jane. While Jane typed on swiftly, Mr. Kandel made up his mind that at the first reasonable excuse he'd ease her out.

At the end of the week Mr. Kandel had forgotten his intention to ease Jane out. Three things had proved her value to him, her capacity for work, her deliberate and delicate brow-beating of a contractor who had come to the Kandel office intent on having a row with the head of the firm (Mr. Kandel had listened to this from his secret sanctum) and finally, but not least important, the verdict of Mrs. Kandel, who one day clanked her diamond bracelets into the place, looked Jane, over from head to feet, talked with her a few minutes and told her husband later, "That girl's all right. She's got class."

JANE had not the slightest idea that she was under observation, or that there was any question of her permanence. The place suited her and that had settled it in her own mind. It was all the better to have so much to learn. She couldn't agonize over the mysteries of contracts, leases and mortgages, plot-books and appraisals and building code were waiting to be absorbed.

In the Kandel offices it was conceded from her first appearance that she was under observation, or that there was any question of her permanence. The place suited her and that had settled it in her own mind. It was all the better to have so much to learn. She couldn't agonize over the mysteries of contracts, leases and mortgages, plot-books and appraisals and building code were waiting to be absorbed.

Texas Topics

By RAYMOND BROOKS

AUSTIN, July 2.—How the living ex-governors of Texas will line this year for election of the man to hold the office they have held would be a diverting morsel of information. But it has not been developed, and perhaps with one or two exceptions, will not be. Former Gov. Dan Moody said he has made up his mind, but is not disclosing his choice. Former Gov. James E. Ferguson—both ex and the present governor—are of course for C. C. McDonald.

C. B. Colquitt, W. P. Hoiby, Pat M. Neff, Dan Moody and Ross S. Sterling complete the list.

Outside the Fergusons, none has officially broken into print in support of any candidate personally.

Edgar Witt, lieutenant governor, is completing his long service without so far having been afforded the opportunity to sit for a single moment in the chief executive's chair as acting governor.

Lynch Davidson, in a two-year term, had the same experience. There is no visible prospect now that Mr. Witt will get an opportunity to function as governor.

Gov. Sterling had planned to leave the state for 10 days, thus calling

Tomorrow's Star Signals

By OCTAVINE

You should complete whatever started tomorrow, for otherwise you will not be completed. The afternoon and evening are unsteady. The very early morning is the best bet of the day. The early bird may reach get his worm, if he starts early enough. The after-dinner hours might be as pleasant but do not let any inclination get beyond reason.

TOMORROW'S BIRTHDAYS

You should have a good memory and be a talented keeper of records or historian. You will be inclined to be mystical and may receive mysterious letters from now through Sept. 3. Pleasures, theater, children and romance should help you expand financially No. 26 to Dec. A long-delayed trip may come to pass during June, 1935. Danger Aug. 1. Socially favorable Aug. 2.

MARRIAGE SERIOUS

WATERBURY, Conn., July 2.—Marriage, even on a date, is not to be taken trivially, ruled Superior Court Judge Edwin C. Dickenson, refusing to annul the marriage of Robert F. Davis, who claimed he was because his girl friend "dared him to" while they were on an automobile ride.

"I'll wait for you at five o'clock and we'll drive down to Henri's and have dinner."

pealing, all of which made him feel large and protecting. "I'm going to prescribe for you," he said. "I'll wait for you at five o'clock and we'll drive down to Henri's and have dinner. Now don't look doubtful. It's all settled. You and I must get acquainted. Then Thorpe himself had a moment of doubt. "I forgot, I have a little errand for the boss right after five. I'll call for you at your hotel at half-past. Where is it?"

SHE kept him waiting a little that evening, for she had stopped on her way home to buy a new hat and that tonic act and the excitement of going out with the good-looking, agreeable Thorpe turned her dull mood into one so elated and gay that Thorpe stared when he saw her. "And pretty darned clever of me to pick her out," he thought complacently, "even if she doesn't help me a bit with the boss."

"That seems a good little hotel," he began as they started off, "even if you are tired of it. I've often heard of it as a well-run, quiet residential place, but I've never actually been in it before. I want an apartment for my own," said Jane. "I've never had time to hunt one, and my aunt and other people I know think it's frightful for me to live alone. But good heavens, why not? Women who earn their own money certainly ought to live as they like."

"Ought to! They do! Packs of 'em. What amazes me is that you say you want an apartment, and you're in the Kandel organization, and this is the first word that the head of Kandel's Rental and Management has heard of it."

"You—why of course, the very first day I was in the office Mr. Kandel said if I wanted an apartment to come to you—"

"It still holds good. And look here, I know the very place, two nice rooms and a big bath and a real honest-to-God kitchen in a made-over house on Tenth Street, the very latest thing. Third floor and no elevator, but that makes it better."

"How do you mean, that makes it better?" "No elevator boy checking up on your callers. I'm joking, of course, about that, but all the same it is agreeable to feel that everything you do isn't being spied on and talked about, as it is in a small town."

"But that's what I hate about small towns! I'd like to see that apartment. Unless it costs a great deal."

"Thorpe had a point to make: 'The office is like a small town, too, you know. Everyone looking and commenting, little chicks forming, some people trying to boost themselves—it's all wrong, it ought to be—'

"All for one and one for all, like the Three Musketeers." She glanced up, smiling, provocative, ready.

"I can't imagine why we're talking office shop," said Thorpe, returning the glance. "I want to know something about you, yourself, how come you're so awfully clever—and so awfully pretty? They don't usually team up, you know."

Miss Bounds Becomes Bride of Howard Goss

In an early morning ceremony witnessed by only close relatives and a few intimate friends, Miss Jaunita Bounds of Stamford and Howard H. Goss of Rising Star were married here Sunday, July 1, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. White, 504 I avenue. The Rev. E. S. James, pastor of the First Baptist church, officiated.

The bride wore a modish tailored black net frock, a black felt hat, and black patent pumps. Her gloves and bags were white, matching the novelty pique trim of her dress. She carried an arm bouquet of pink rosebuds, white lilies and snapdragons. Her going-away frock was a brown eyelet ensemble, worn with brown and white accessories. Immediately following the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Goss left on an overland trip to Monterey. After their return, they will be at home in Cisco.

Mrs. Goss is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Bounds, Stamford. Upon graduation from the Stamford high school, she attended Hardin and Simmons university, Abilene, for two years. She received a bachelor of science degree from Texas State College for Women, C. I. A. Denton, in the class of '31. Upon completion of her college course, she served as head of the home economics department in the Rotan high school. For the past two years, she has filled this same position in the Cisco public school system.

Mr. Goss is the son of Mr. and Mrs. G. G. Goss of Rising Star. He was an outstanding basketball player during his high school years and later at college. He attended both T. C. U., Fort Worth, and Howard Payne college, Brownwood, before receiving his bachelor of science and master of science degrees from Oklahoma university, class of '29. While completing his masters work, he was assistant professor of geology at Oklahoma university. For the past three years he has been principal of the west ward school Cisco.

Out-of-town guests for the wedding were: Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Bounds, R. W. Bounds, Miss Virginia Bounds, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Bounds and little daughter, Mary Elizabeth, Misses Kathleen Whittington and Mattie Merle Middleton, all of Stamford, and Mr. and Mrs. G. G. Goss of Rising Star.

"Christian Science" Was Lesson Theme

"Christian Science" is the subject of the lesson-sermon which was read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, July 1.

The golden text was: "Laying aside all malice, and all guile, and all hypocrisies, and envies, and all evil speakings, as newborn babes, desire the sincere milk of the word, that ye may grow thereby" (I Peter 2: 1, 2).

Among the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon was the following from the Bible: "A good tree cannot bring forth evil fruit, neither can a corrupt tree bring forth good fruit" (Matthew 7: 18).

The lesson-sermon also included the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Christian Science awakens the sinner, reclaims the infidel, and raises from the couch of pain the helpless invalid. It speaks to the dumb the words of Truth, and they answer with rejoicing. It causes the deaf to hear, the lame to walk, and the blind to see. Who would be the first to disown the Christliness of good works, when our Master says, 'By their fruits ye shall know them?' (page 342).

Campaign--

per cent with the other out of the race.

Unknown Quantity
Maury Hughes, Dallas, remains so far the unknown quantity in the campaign. It is his first state-wide race. That does not mean that he is a political novice. Trained by long association with Jed C. Adams, who for many years was democratic national committeeman from Texas, Hughes has been state democratic chairman and a leader in the movement against party bolters. He goes into the race, however, with the party machinery in the hands of a committee that turned him down on two pet projects. One was to place repeal of prohibition on the primary ballot. The other was to have an equal number of men and women on the state democratic executive committee.

Russell Making Friends
Edward K. Russell's best hope seems to be to get a wide enough acquaintance this year to make himself a formidable candidate in a later race. He is undoubtedly making friends by his campaign.

But if attempting to pick the standing in the governor's race is hard, the attempt in the race for attorney-general is harder. Walter Woodward and Bill McCraw have already opened up on each other. McCraw attempts to hang the Lone Star Gas corporation around Woodward's neck and Woodward is attempting to give McCraw a Klan necklace.

Judge H. S. Lattimore of the court of civil appeals at Fort Worth points out that he is on the ballot as a candidate for the supreme court under his own proper initials. It is not an attempt to seek votes through the similarity of his initials with those of his father, Judge O. S. Lattimore of the court of criminal appeals. "Hal," as he is known to friends, is a nickname and could not go on the ballot. He has been on the ballot in all his previous political races as "H. S."

WENT BROKE STUDYING
PHILADELPHIA, July 2.—Take it from Raymond Yun, 24, being broke is bad enough, but when a Yun hasn't a yen and its 10,000 miles home it's something to worry about. Yun, whose home is in Korea, faced that problem recently when his money ran out while he was trying to finish his studies as a sophomore in the School of Music at Temple university here. But as usual during the four years he has been in this country his ability to do a variety of odd jobs saved him.

TEXAS RELIEF DISGRACE SAYS ATTY-GENERAL

SULPHUR SPRINGS, July 2.—Administration of relief in Texas has been a "shameful disgrace," Attorney-general James V. Alford charged while speaking here Saturday night in his campaign for governor.

"The great humanitarian movement inaugurated by President Roosevelt has been woefully maladministered in our own state," Alford said. "Relief has been made a political bean-bag. The interest of those poor unfortunates for whom the recovery and relief acts were set in motion has been criminally neglected."

"It was never the intention of the far-sighted sponsors of our national relief program that it should be used by political bosses to give jobs to a coterie of impractical and incompetent proteges. But that's what's happened in Texas, and it has caused unwarranted prolonging of the actual distress of the people," Alford declared.

He strongly advocated a plan to provide jobs, "not doles," for competent Texans carefully selected from among the unemployed.

"We don't need to import people from other states to give us a lot of fine-spun theories that might be all right in the temperate sections of Chicago but have no place in Texas. What we need is a program that will provide jobs, not doles, for those who are able to work. The present situation is a shameful disgrace to Texas."

Alford spoke earlier today at Gilmer, Pittsburg, and Mount Pleasant, concluding a week of 16 speeches.

This fiscal year amounting to about $4,000,000,000 went for various relief purposes. The Reconstruction Finance corporation took $1,500,000,000 public works, more than $1,000,000,000 and smaller amounts went to civil works, emergency relief NRA and other agencies.

Despite the huge expenditures for the current fiscal year ending today the government lived far under the estimates set last January by President Roosevelt in his budget message. At that time he estimated expenditures at $11,000,000,000 and income at $3,250,000,000 which would leave a deficit of $7,750,000,000.

Government fiscal experts say that much of this money not spent for the current fiscal year would be carried over and spent during the new fiscal year beginning tomorrow.

regions of America. The summers are not too hot, nor the winters too cold. There is an abundant water supply. Lastly, there is a great reservoir of potential power. About 3,000,000 kilowatts are awaiting development.

We seem to have here all the facsquare miles, comprising parts of seven states, and approximately equal in area to Ohio, or to three-quarters the size of England. The aim is to make this a case or an example of a planned development, with the hope that principles and methods evolved here can be applied on a larger scale.

Low Productiveness

This region long has had a low per capita productiveness. Some areas are more prosperous than others. The Tennessee river basin contains some notable progressive and well-kept farm communities and some prosperous cities. On the other hand many more people are engaged in agriculture than are necessary.

Great resources worth many millions of dollars in water power abound in the Tennessee valley, but there has been little designing, little planning to bring about proper development, and so what is now a beautiful country, a rich country, is also a country of very great distress, showing again that social and economic planning is needed.

The Tennessee river and its tributaries drain an area of about 42,000
