AND UP, F. O. B. FLINT, MICH.

When Chevrolet announced price reductions several weeks ago, something important happened . . . something of vital concern to every buyer of a low-priced car: Chevrolet stepped into the most favorable price position it has enjoyed in a long time! Reductions amounting to as much as $50-the most substantial price cuts announced in the low-price field this year-dropped Chevrolet's base price to a new low figure of $465. Just compare this price-compare any Chevrolet price-with those of other cars. Then compare what you get for what you pay! There'll be no question in your mind which car to buy, once you do. Chevrolet offers patented Knee-Action-and others do not! Chevrolet alone has a Fisher body! And the same thing applies to cable-controlled brakes, Y-K frame, shock-proof steering, and 80-horsepower, valve-in-head, six-cylinder engine. Chevrolet gives you far more features-far finer quality-a far better name for dependability. Yet the price of the Chevrolet Standard is lower than that of any other six or, of course, any eight in the world.

GOV. MYERS AND FARM DEBT HOLIDAY

Gov. W. I. Myers of the federal farm credit administration is in the picture. He has taken the viewpoint that refinancing of farm mortgage indebtedness by his organization has done away with any need for wide use of the Frazier-Lemke farm debt moratorium bill approved by President Roosevelt. This measure was signed over the protest of representatives of insurance companies or other large holders of farm mortgage paper. The act gives debt burdened farmers a chance to scale down their obligations through the federal courts, "or a breathing spell if they are unable to reach an agreement with their creditors." In a review of farm credit work Gov. Myers predicted that loans and commitments would result in the government becoming the holder of mortgage indebtedness amounting to over $2,500,000,000 or more than 30 per cent of the present estimated total of $8,000,000,-000 in farm mortgages. Of course, Gov. Myers insists that the amendment to the bankruptcy act is in accord with the program of the farm credit administration "to prevent occasional selfish creditors from foreclosing on distressed farm debtors." He stressed that farmers as a class are very slow to take bankruptcy and that his experience in working with them personally and in the farm credit administration has New Deal them personally and in the farm credit administration has given him every confidence that they still retain an ever present urge to pay their debts. Moreover, he said that 90 has a nationwide to be said that 90 cents out of every dollar loaned by the land banks and commissioners under the farm credit administration "had gone missioners under the farm credit administration "had gone overthrown by the Declaration of powerful newspapers and magazines. Colossus of the North, and then he to put farmers in a position where they are not in need of Independence." He threw down the Allotment for seven of the states, including Texas, had not been agreed upon, but is expected to bring the total well over $100,000,000. This is the warning given by the review: "It cannot be denied that crucial points lie in the path which business must follow during the next six months, but with the reassurance given by the president that nothing is to be allowed to interrupt the recovery movement the overcoming of timidity and the jettisoning of the present excessive caution may result in a sudden forging ahead in the next few weeks."

All the experiments and New Deal recovery and relief acts or experiments are to be given the acid test the coming six months, according to the prophets of the hour and the critics of the administration.

THOMAS CALLS FOR FARM-LABOR PARTY.

Norman Thomas is the chief apostle of right wing socialists in this republic. He has been nominated by the socialists of New York as their candidate for the office of United States senator at the November election. He was a minister of the gospel before he became a socialist. He deserted the pulpit for the rostrum. He is a writer of ability, an orator of eloquence and perhaps the most outstanding leader of the followers of Kark Marx in this republic of Washington and Jefferson and Lincoln and Wilson and Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Speaking through the Today magazine columns, he advises the formation of a national farm-labor party for the campaign of 1936. He would "preserve the rule of democracy but he would destroy capitalism and substitute for the same co-operative commonwealth system with profit elimi-

This is the 158th anniversary of the celebration of the declaration of American independence. Its founders gave to the people who came after them constitutional liberty and the absolute right of a free people to do their own thinking and praying, and voting, and to elect their own servants and to make their own laws under a free flag; for equal opportunities open to all and the right of life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness guaranteed to all.

RETIREMENT PENSION FOR RAIL WORKERS

President Roosevelt signed the Crosser bill which sets up a retirement pension system for railroad workers. The legislation provided retirement would come to railroad employes at the age of 65. It compels both the workers and their employers to contribute to a retirement fund. This fund to be built up under the new law to be administered by a railroad retirement board. The president branded the measure as "crudely drawn" and declared it will require many changes and amendments at the next session of the congress. Principal points of the act are interesting to the more than 1,300,-000 railroad workers: A three man board to serve for five years at $10,000 annual pay; employes may retire after reaching 65, or having completed 30 years service; the annuity begins in six months and is based on the length of service and the rate of pay; upon retirement each employe is to receive monthly payment equal to two per cent of his monthly pay multiplied by the number of years he has served. In the rail world old age insurance is not on the way-it is here.

"Why should California golfers excel?"

Espinosa answered his own question. The reason is as obvious as it is in every other form of athletics. The best baseball players in the world come from California-Orvie Overall, Bill Lange, Harry Hooper, Duffy Lewis, Dutch Leonard and Tony Lazzeri, to confine ourselves to the comparative old-timers.

"In California athletes enjoy a golden opportunity. They can keep active the year around. Golf isn't a seasonable sport out there on the western slope. Those inclined to play it can practice, experiment and go into competition 12 months of the year.

'And as for courses, California's can't be beaten anywhere. I've played in England, Scotland, Ireland, South America, Canada, and Mexico, and looking back on the wind-swept Del Monte course at Monterey, Calif., where I was raised, I can't find one to compare with it.' . . .

Jimmy Collins Still Alive and Kickin'

'VE always wondered what kind of guy Jimmy Collins was. The name, Jimmy Collins, in baseball always has meant as much to me as that of Stanley Ketchel in boxing. So much in fact that I resented Jimmy Collins coming in lately as the Cardinal first baseman. I don't care if his name is Jimmy Collins. He shouldn't have used it. It's like a preliminary fighter coming in calling himself Stanley Ketchel.

In my memory, and I'm getting to be an old pappy guy, I can't recall anybody selecting an all-time all-team that did not include Jimmy Collins. It seems that Jimmy Collins played for Louisville n 1895, for Boston the next 11 years, and for the Athletics in 190 and '08. They're still trying to find an infielder who can distinguish one baseball from a handful of grass like Jimmy Collins. And was I happy today when I learned that Jimmy Collins was the father of Municipal Leagues in Buffalo, that would have seemed strange to them a few years later, Babe Ruth might have been the finest left-handed pitcher the game has known to date had not he developed into a home-run specialist through knowing that, as a pitcher, he wasn't expected to hit.
