MYERS ACQUITTED OF MURDER CHARGE

Nearly 250 Lost as Palatial Vacation Liner Is Burned

ANY CAUGHT IN CABINS AS FIRE STARTS

BURRY PARK, N. J., Sept. 8 — A palatial bulk of the New York and Jersey Lines, Morro Castle, was lost tonight after a fire had broken out on the $3,000,000 vessel, taking the lives of nearly 250 vacation voyagers, many of whom were trapped in their rooms.

The 558 passengers and crew aboard the ship, 233 were estimated to have lost their lives by burning or were missing. One hundred and 83 bodies were recovered and survivors accounted for 323. Three hundred and 18 were aboard were passengers and crew members of the crew. Fifty were unaccounted for.

Many of the dead were trapped in their cabins and burned to death. Others were drowned as they leaped into the sea to escape the flames. A large percentage of the crew escaped.

The survivors told harrowing tales of their salvation from death at sea. Several expert swimmers among them swam eight miles to the shore. Others escaped in life boats, being pulled overboard from the burning vessel.

Cause Unknown

The cause of the fire was not definitely determined. Some survivors reported that lightning had struck an oil tank on the ship.

With her captain dead in his cabin of heart disease—he was seen before the fire and did not see the tragedy—the flaming ship drifted helplessly toward the coast.

Distress SOS calls went through the air and a dozen liners and other ships hastened to the rescue. A rescue could be done except to save survivors.

Seventeen members of the ship's crew remained aboard the vessel, but succeeded in getting a hawser from a coast guard cutter which then started towing the burning hulk to port.

A total of 80 bodies, recovered at Jersey, by fishing boats and guard vessels.

SPEED SOUGHT IN REHOUSING LOAN PROGRAM

ABILENE, Sept. 8 — "Did you ever have a person beg you to sign your note?" was the query shot representatives of 16 towns at a federal housing conference in Abilene Friday by R. A. Stuart, director of the program in west Texas, who answered his own query with, "that is the very thing the government is doing to those who can qualify for housing loans."

The housing speaker declared he had been advised Thursday, but not officially, that the housing administration had waived its requirement for borrowers to be paid up on taxes and in good grade with loan companies. Owners so delinquent are eligible for loans, and it remains to the discretion of lending institutions themselves as to who will receive loans from this group. Other qualifications for borrowers were: (1) the borrower must possess the title to the property he borrows on and (2) the borrower must have an annual income five times greater than he pays back each year. The borrower can secure from $100 to $2,000 for each repair job, and is limited to five jobs, or a total of $10,000.

LOCAL ASS'N IS APPROVED AS AGENCY

The Cisco Federal Savings and Loan association, it was announced Saturday by T. Hunter Foley, secretary-treasurer, has received from National Housing Adm'r Moffett a certificate of approval as an agency for making loans for repair and improvement of homes under the federal rehousing plan.

Looms . . . hundreds of thousands like this . . . clatter, clatter, clatter, mechanisms with clamorous shuttles watched by tense, deft workers . . . drawing billions of thread into the cloth you wear and use . . . Often they have woven a new pattern into industrial life—more speed, fewer men, shorter hours. And now the man at the loom wants working-time lessened for himself and about 500,000 others in order that approximately 125,000 now employed may have new jobs . . . He knows that American business will lose vast sums while he is away from his loom. The strike will cost him and his union an almost equal amount. He knows there will be violence and suffering, and nation-wide alarm . . . He wonders when he will come back to help pick up the tangled threads of progress.

KINGFISH ARMY MOBILIZED FOR QUICK ACTION

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 8 — The Louisiana national guard, mobilized here by Sen. Huey P. Long, today was ordered to prepare itself for instant action.

Leaves were cancelled and 3,000 troops were rigidly confined to barracks and state-owned dock buildings.

City authorities, Long's bitter political enemies, obviously suspected some immediate move to enforce 26 new state laws that strip the city government of much of its power.

Mayor T. Semmes Walmsey took secret precautions against immediate seizure of city offices by troops and against use of troops to sway the result of Tuesday's congressional primary. He commanded a force of 1,300 regular and special policemen, as fully armed, if not as well trained, as the military.

Five Rural Schools Start Terms Monday

EASTLAND, Sept. 8 — Approximately 450 rural school children of Morton Valley, Kokomo, Alameda, Union and Cross Roads will resume their studies Monday. County Supt. B. E. McGlamery stated Saturday.

The schools, all of nine months terms, are headed by the following principals: Lewis Smith, Morton Valley; L. R. Higginbotham Kokomo; R. B. Hodge, Alameda; Carl Elliott, Union and J. R. Ervin at Cross Roads.

The start is earlier than heretofore for many of the schools, the county superintendent declared, because there is little work on the farm and very little if any cotton picking.

Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Karkalis Friday moved their residence from Cisco to Eastland where Mr. Karkalis is employed in the county tax collector's department.

ENROLLMENT IN HS STARTS MONDAY AT 9

Instructions for registration of students for the 1934-35 term of Cisco high school tomorrow morning were announced Saturday by Principal H. Brandon. Registration is to begin at 9 o'clock with assembly in the high school auditorium for explanation of routine and further instructions.

Principal Brandon invited parents of students, particularly those of beginning freshmen to accompany their children to the registration hall.

All students were urged to have their daily schedule made out before appearing for registration. Books will be issued them at the time, Mr. Brandon said.

Records Required

Students who have done some high school work elsewhere and are entering Cisco high for the first time were instructed to bring their records with them to registration Monday. If these records are not available, they should have a list of their credits made out for tentative classification until the records can be secured, the principal said.

"With a broader and enriched curriculum offered this year, we are looking forward to having a most successful year," said Mr. Brandon. "We again ask that each individual interested in the success of the school give his or her fullest cooperation."

Registration likewise begins in the lower grades Monday at 9 a. m.

Sleeping Sickness Gaining in Midwest

CHICAGO, Sept. 8 — Sleeping sickness, epidemic terror of the Midwest for three years, is gaining "alarming momentum" in Indiana and Illinois, reports by state health authorities revealed today.

Forty-one new cases appeared in the last days of this week in southern and central Illinois, boosting the year's total to 167. Two new cases were diagnosed in Indiana where 90 persons have fallen victim to the strange disease. Thirty-five persons have died of the malady, 20 in Illinois and 15 in Indiana. Iowa has had six cases but no fatalities.

Du Pont Will Face Senate Arms Probe

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 8 — Irenee du Pont, whose vast Delaware munitions interests made war-time profits of $58,000,000 will face senate investigators next week in one of the most important phases of the fast moving arms inquiry, it was learned today.

The 58-year-old manufacturer, one of America's wealthiest men and an organizer of the non-partisan American Liberty League, recently condemned the investigation as part of a nationwide "red plot."

It was understood Du Pont will insist his firm's trade secrets be withheld from newspapermen and that hearings involving his activities be attended only by senators and investigators.

Cisco Methodists Back From San Antonio With Praise For Centennial Celebration

Cisco Methodists, back from San Antonio where they attended the centennial of the Texas Methodist church, returned here today with glowing accounts of the celebration and its pageantry. Those going from here included the Rev. and Mrs. Frank L. Turner of First church and their two children; the Rev. and Mrs. B. W. Kramer of Twelfth street church and their daughter, Dorothy, and Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Wood and two children.

The celebration, began Tuesday evening and was attended by an estimated 10,000 Methodists from Texas and other parts of the nation. Among the visitors was Bishop Edwin Holt Hughes, of Washington, D. C., senior bishop of the Methodist Episcopal church.

The centennial, said the Rev. Mr. Turner, depicted the origin and

Boosters Will Push Community Projects

The Cisco Boosters, a group of young Cisco business and professional men organized into a unit to promote the industrial and commercial welfare of Cisco, Friday evening enthusiastically endorsed projects that committees have been shaping and voted full speed ahead on programs to advertise this city's industrial advantages, promote home trade and induce a more vigorous community interest in community institutions.

The meeting was about a dinner on the roof garden of the Laguna hotel. Vice President Dr. Hubert Seale presided. Music was furnished by a trio composed of Harry Schaefer, Ernest Hittson and Spurgeon Parks. The session was informal, resolving itself into round table discussions centered about the various topics as they were brought up on committee reports.

Projects

Principal actions taken by the group were:

1—Authorization of a committee, headed by Johnny Cox, to go ahead with publication and distribution of a comprehensive booklet, illustrated and setting out in detail Cisco's advantages for commercial and industrial enterprises, and describing community features of interest to capital contemplating decentralization in line with the administration program or establishing new units. Cox presented a "dummy" of this booklet with articles and illustrations that will be included. The work of his committee was praised by the group.

2—Approval of plans presented by Mitt Williams, committee chairman, for a trade-at-home campaign, including selection of an appropriate slogan, preparation of placards instating upon home-town support and so forth. Williams urged encouragement of a community spirit of rivalry with other towns to help along this cause.

3—A move to assist Randolph college in its plans, now on foot, to bring an overall factory and other small industries to Cisco in which student labor would be employed. H. R. Garrett, who was present with President David P. Tyndall, said that the college has negotiations under way that promise to produce satisfactory results along this line. President Tyndall pledged the school's cooperation with the Boosters.

Aid to Team and Band

The organization also pledged its aid to Coach Dexter Shelley of the Lobos and G. W. Collum, director of the Lobo band, in a rising vote of thanks for their work. Shelley told the group that he expects a fair team this year, a team, as he said, that will have plenty of fight.

Sec'y H. G. Bailey was instructed to write a letter to the state highway commission urging that, if any highway changes through Cisco are contemplated, the action should be taken as quickly as possible to relieve suspense on the part of certain business firms that depend upon highway location.

Talks were made by several members, including T. C. Williams, who suggested more active contacts with communities about Cisco; Geo. Boyd, F. D. Wright, R. L. Ponsler, and others.

EXONERATED IN DEATH OF MARIAN MILLS

NORMAN, Okla., Sept. 8 — Neal Myers was acquitted tonight of murder charges in connection with the death of his co-ed sweetheart, Marian Mills. A district court jury found him not guilty on the state's charge that he was responsible for her death in an attempt to avert moth-erhood after a University of Oklahoma campus romance.

The verdict was reached on the first ballot after the jury had asked reading of parts of the cross examination of Mrs. Hazel Brown, in whose home the girl died on July 10. The woman, testifying under promise of immunity, exonerated the boy of any illegal acts against the girl in her delicate condition.

The court room cheered despite Judge Tom Pace's orders against demonstrations. The judge ordered the offenders, many of them Delta Upsilon fraternity brothers of Myers, seized.

9,252,000-Bale Crop Of Cotton Estimated

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 8 — The 1934 United States cotton crop was $3.8 per cent of normal on September 1, indicating a production of 9,252,000 bales, the crop reporting service of the department of agriculture announced today.

Cotton production last year was 13,047,000 bales.

Abandonment for the season was 2.8 per cent and the area left for harvest was 27,241,000 acres.

Two Killed in Gun Battle in Oklahoma

ALTUS, Okla., Sept. 8 — C. F. Stover, restaurateur, owner, and Henry Hill, negro policeman, were killed and Earl Rose, a white man, was wounded critically here today during a gun battle in the negro section of the city.

Title Scrap Is Set For Next Saturday

NEW YORK, Sept. 8 — The world's welterweight championship fight between Barney Ross and Jimmy McLarin will be held next Saturday night Sept. 15. It was announced today following another postponement of the match.

Human Skin Kills May Disease Germs

CHICAGO, Sept. 8 — Man's skin is the most remarkable disinfecting agent in existence, experiments of University of Illinois medical research scientists indicate.

A series of tests under the direction of Dr. Lloyd Arnold of the University college of Medicine showed that 98 per cent of thousands of bacterial which had been placed in contact with human skin disappeared within ten minutes.

Dangerous bacteria, such as those of lockjaw, boils, typhoid and dysentery, vanished as quickly as did the more harmless ones.

"However, the skin has certain minute never-sterile areas where germs do not disappear," Dr. Arnold reported, "but such areas are under the fingernails, the hair line which marks the junction of the lip with the membrane lining of the nostrils, and the rim of the eyelid where the outside skin meets the inside lining."

Dirt almost completely destroys the disinfecting qualities, the experiments further showed. The percentage of bacteria which disappeared from unclean skin surfaces was almost negligible in every case, the scientists found.

New Deal Gets Test In Maine Election

PORTLAND, Me., Sept. 8 — Maine, traditionally the nation's political testing board, voted Monday in first state election in the inauguration of the New Deal.

Republicans and democrats alike the outcome will be interpreted generally as either an endorsement or repudiation of Roosevelt politics. The major issue, has stirred an interest and a heavy vote is expected.

Among other things, Maine, pro or con, will decide whether to repeal its prohibition law.

met separately. Because of the absence of so many members during vacation the auxiliary has been meeting collectively.

After the meetings all circles went to the home of Mrs. Leith Morris where they gave a handkerchief shower for Mrs. Blumberg, a member who is leaving Cisco soon.

Personal Mention

Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Wood and three children were expected to return today from San Antonio where they attended the Texas Methodist centennial celebration. They left Cisco Saturday by motor for the trip.

Al Shiparo of Wilson, Okla., was a Cisco visitor Wednesday and Thursday.

Mrs. Charles Joyner and Pauline Joyner of Merkel were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Powell Wednesday.

Mrs. Josie Bates of Bastrop has returned to her home after a visit with her son, Ed Bates.

Margaret Lavern Key is visiting in Fort Worth.

Miss Hettie Ann Parrott of Throckmorton is visiting her sister, Mrs. Carlton Cochran.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Donica and Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Gallagher have returned from a trip to Carlsbad, New Mexico.

Judge J. D. Barker left yesterday for his home in Sweetwater. Mrs. Barker and daughter, Marguerite will leave for Sweetwater this afternoon.

Cole Chism who has been visiting in Cisco left yesterday for Lubbock where he will attend Texas Tech. Mr. Chism will be employed by the Hilton Hotel in Lubbock.

Births in August

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Strickland, daughter, Irene Strickland, born August 25.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy George, son, James O'Daniel George, born August 25, 1934.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Harrel Barrett, daughter, August 4, 1934.

Mr. and Mrs. V. E. Morris, daughter, Vera Mae Morris, born August 3, 1934.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Wilkins, daughter, Clydelle Wilkins, born August 23, 1934.

Mr. and Mrs. V. C. Lassiter, son, Frankie Marion Lassiter, born August 30, 1934.

REICH CLUB

The Reich Home Demonstration club, at a recent meeting, planned an achievement program to be given sometime next month.

At the home of Mrs. R. N. Hazlewood, food demonstrator, there will be a pantry display, showing the necessary variety of foods. A record of the club members' preservation of food may be seen.

At the home of Mrs. Elbert Ezzell, wardrobe demonstrator, there will be a demonstration in grafting a foundation pattern. A number of garments made by foundation patterns and other articles of sewing will be displayed.

At the home of Mrs. R. D. Vanderford yard demonstrator may be seen a tile cutting bed and a rose garden.

Scrimmage Added to Lobo Menu as Grind Gets Serious

FEED THEM ABOUT WHICH COACH BUILDS

By FRANK LANGSTON
Coach Dexter Shelley and his Lobo completed a week of pre-season drills Friday afternoon, topping the work with a hard scrimmage that gave the boys who had been waiting to get at one another all opportunity for such contact as was wanted.

What! No Gold? Cisco fans will not cheer a silver-clad pack of Lobos to glory on Chesley field this season. For the first time in many years a Cisco team has broken the old tradition and departed from gold uniforms to wear its other color, black. New uniforms will include black jerseys, pants, socks, shoes, and helmets, with only a dash of gold afforded by the numbers on the jerseys. The effect will be that the team, already light, will have the appearance of being much heavier than it really is.

Throughout Texas, just as the team carried weight a corresponding amount of bulk. The name is respected, but the boys of 1934

ANNUAL CLUB TOURNEY WILL START SEPT. 16

Match play in the annual Cisco Country club golf tournament will begin Sunday, September 16, according to an announcement Saturday by Club Golf Capt. P. L. Cagle.

Qualifying play opens today. Cagle asked that every member of the club who plans to enter the tournament qualify at the earliest so that this necessary preliminary part of the tournament will be out of the way and the pairings made in time for play to start promptly on the date scheduled.

Bill McMahon, high school graduate of last year, is defending club champion.

VETERANS ABSENT

BERWICK, Pa., Sept. 8—No Civil war veteran appeared at the annual Veterans Reunion held at Pater-son's Grove near here. Veterans of the Spanish-American and World Wars and Sons of Veterans were there, but for the first time since the reunions were held, no Civil war soldiers were present.

cal as to appearance and play. That is, if early season dope holds true, they will be. Theron Graves' twin brother, Thomas, has been balancing Brother Theron on the opposite side of the line.

At the Ends

Of the ends coming up sky-reaching Roy Burnam, youthful sprinter, appears to have a little weight edge over the others. So far George Sledge has been ruing at the other wing. Other ends battling for a place are a younger brother of George, Howell Sledge, and Lane Page, a pair of freshmen.

The Lobos will probably be benefited by the rule changes this year, which will permit them to develop a stronger passing attack to offset their lack of weight. The new rules provide that there is to be no five-yard penalty for more than one incomplete forward pass in a series of four downs as heretofore. Likewise, it provides a pass incomplete in the end zone does not give the ball to the opposing team on its 20-yard line unless the play occurred on fourth down.

This should open up the game near the goal line, and should give the Lobos an opportunity for both scoring plays from passes and greater variety in the running game, in which speed will be predominant.

Shelley began early to work on forward passing and has been having most of his backs heave the ball. At present Stansbury appears to have the edge over the rest of them in the aerial department.

All the backs and Burnam likewise have been working on punts, apparently with the idea of developing several good kickers. This will give the backs more opportunity to rest instead of having to batter at a heavy line in middlefield, and will conserve the strength of the Lobo attack for drives near the goal line when every ounce of energy counts.

you. Popeye Beasley, who flashed toward the end of the season last year, is one of the fastest men in the district. Caffrey is one of the best blockers developed in this part of the state in years, and he, Frank Shackelford, and Fred Riley will afford enough drive to go with that all that speed and shiftiness.

So much for the backfield, but what about the line? Where will all that speed get the boys if there isn't a line in front of them?

When the dust of last season's campaign had settled, there were three linemen left of the 1933 let-termen. They are Norris Littlepage at center, Gerald Merrett at guard, and Theron Graves at tackle. There was not an end among the six returning veterans.

Line Candidates

Merrett is light for a guard, and there do not appear to be many candidates for his position who are blessed with a great amount of bulk. Wendt, 150-pounder, has looked good so far and may get one of the jobs alongside of the snapper-back. Ruppert appears to be about the huskiest of the line candidates.

The tackles will be almost identi-

Others particularly mentioned were Littleton Fowler, the Stephenson brothers and John Alexander. The first Protestant chapel erected west of the Sabine river is Mahan's chapel, still in use as a place of worship 12 miles south of San Augustine, Texas, Mr. Turner said.

One morning was given over to an account of the development of Methodist religious education in Texas. This began with Reutersville college in 1840. This school together with Soule university, Mc-Kenzie college and Wesleyan college were merged into Southwestern university in 1873, which became the mother institution of the Texas Methodist educational system.

The pageant closing the centennial Thursday evening in the big San Antonio auditorium was a magnificent spectacle, said Mr. Turner. It was entitled "Comrades of Con-quest" and dramatized the history of Methodism over 150 years tracing its growth from small beginnings in- to a religious community of more than 10,000,000 adherents. The cast included over 1,000 persons and the large auditorium, seating 6,200 per- sons, was crowded for the spectacle, he said.

"Think ... Talk ... Write Texas Centennial in 1936," because it's the hundredth anniversary of a State's march of freedom. The world is watching Texas with wonder at its stupendous undertaking.

The world does not doubt that Texans will make a great success of such endeavor. Texans have never failed.

"Remember the Alamo, Remember Goliad"; remember San Jacinto, remember the great wilderness that was Texas at one time ... early Texans undertook to make a Nation from a wilderness and they succeeded!

In as short a time as one hundred years the prophecy of Thomas Jefferson, "The Province of Texas will be the richest State in our Union without exception," has become a reality!

Let us dedicate ourselves to the task of carrying it forward. Let us observe, let us challenge the best thought of future generations.

NATION'S GREATNESS: Righteousness exalteth a nation; but sin is a reproach to any people.—Proverbs 14: 34.

All Eyes Are Turned on Maine

The little state of Maine will be the cynosure of national political eyes Monday when what is generally conceded a practical test of New Deal sentiment will be taken. Voting in that state prior to a national election has consistently foretold the national result. This year there will be no nationwide election in the sense that a president is to be elected, but the issue of the national administration is almost, after two years, as well-defined an impersonation as the figure of the man whose policies it represents. The New Deal, then, will be the main issue in the Maine election and the candidates there who represent the New Deal and its antithesis will be, so far as the nation outside Maine is concerned, but figures put up in the wind.

Here in Texas and in other southern states where a democratic nomination is equivalent to election, candidates and politicians will view the Maine vote with less anxiety. Their interest will be confined to the prospect of democratic gains or losses in the congress and the prediction of a sentiment that will have an important bearing upon their own political policies and programs. But in states where party strength is nearly equal, the election will have a double significance.

Maine predicted the downfall of the Hoover administration. It remains to be seen tomorrow whether or not it will also predict a recession from the New Deal toward which great dissatisfaction with the national economic and political course two years ago turned the tide of its votes. The outcome may also throw a more revealing light upon the so-called liberal-conservative separation. The Sinclair victory in the California democratic primary gave a rather startling indication of that so far as the party is concerned, and there is no doubt to what side the liberal element will tend.

There's Symbolism In the Clowning

The political opera comique goes on in New Orleans with antics that would be ludicrous but for the symbolism in all this clowning of the Kingfish and his puppets. It is a tragic thing to think upon—the fact that one man and one man's ambitions can make such mockery of a great state. One is made to ask in wonder and amazement if there is in democratic government any guarantee against this sort of political tyranny, or if wild gestures, flagrant showmanship and green pajamas are more effective instruments for public affection than reason and diligence for welfare and justice. It is incredible that an entire legislature should be in the grasp of a single man, ruled in spite of knowledge of the facts. The representatives who make up the Louisiana house and senate are not blind to evidences that are indisputable, and that they submit to domination in the face of these evidences is no argument for their regard for the state's welfare.

The issue is not one between the Kingfish and his erstwhile henchman, the mayor of New Orleans, but it is an issue between the ideal of sane, popular self-government and the astounding ambitions and political influence of one man. If such a thing can happen in Louisiana, it is yet to be conceived to what extent sinister influences might be fixed upon the most cherished institutions of the nation. Speaking of radicalism, the ambitions of Sinclair in California and even the preachments of the communists are conservative as compared with the meaning inherent in the antics of the Kingfish. The communists at least desire that the people shall determine the way, but the Kingfish rules by his own will. And a dictator in the name of democracy is no improvement over the old idea of divine right. Under the latter, one may at least know what to expect.

Rounding Up Dillinger's Aides

(From the Dallas Times-Herald)

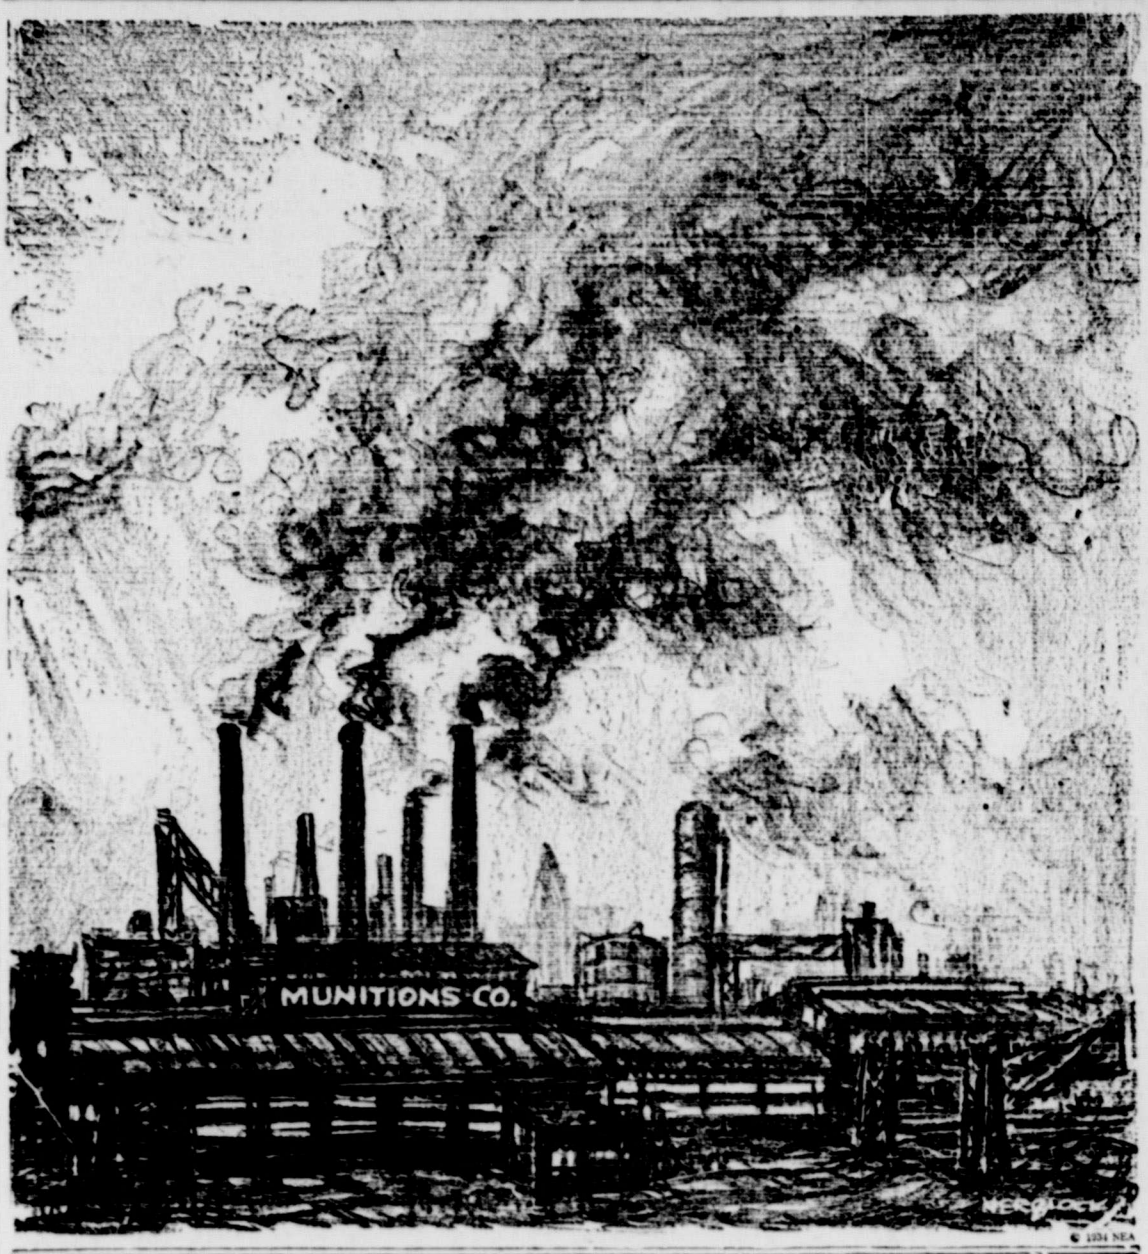

With a dogged persistence that does them much credit, federal operatives have ferreted out the group of persons who assisted John Dillinger in concealing himself and in his drastic efforts to disguise himself.

Of course, some of the persons arrested may be innocent, but three of them, including two doctors who performed the "face-lifting" operation, have confessed. They are not likely to be let off with light punishment.

Persons who knowingly and willingly harbor fugitives from justice are, obviously, in the same class with the indicted public enemies. They not only enable the criminals to continue to prey upon the public, but keep them in position to deal out death to arresting officers.

When a criminal remains at large for a long period after his indictment, it becomes plain that he has friends on the outside. It is just as important to bring these conspirators to justice as it is to catch the culprit that they assist. Persons who help one criminal are apt to help others.

New Session Rumors Cause Speculation

By RAYMOND BROOKS
AUSTIN, Sept. 8 — Reports of an imminent new called session of the legislature and a sheaf of far-reaching taxation bills were causing speculation and discussion among lawmakers here.
The sales tax bill, some of the members had heard, may be submitted to this session or one immediately after it, by Gov. Ferguson. Other tax bills, under the pressure of a "stampede" to find additional funds that can be used to supplement relief funds, were feared by some of the members.
Some of the discussion grew from the proposal of Sen. Will Beck for a supplemental appropriation of $500,000 for eleemosynary buildings, making up some of the deficiency in the building program for the two-year period. Building appropriations to create work, were considered the most direct way in which the state can apply tax money as a work relief substitute for direct relief.

An intensive investigation, attacking present relief methods, had been discussed in advance of the session; but were abandoned in favor of issuing all the relief bonds this session. The theory that all the relief funds would be exhausted before Allred took office and no more could be voted until June at the earliest. This was supposed to force panic or emergency action in the first days of Allred's administration, the underlying object, according to adverse speculation, being to force through an emergency sales tax, though Allred is opposed to the sales tax principle.
This "plot" discussion was intangible and third-or fourth-hand. It came from people who claimed to know, in a general way, that a bitter fight upon the present relief commission had been planned, but was withdrawn at the beginning of the session in favor of forcing the extension of relief funds as soon as possible and subjecting the new administration to emergency efforts, and unusual steps to find ways of meeting the huge relief demands. Continuation of the policy of a group of social service experts in greatly increasing the relief lists, despite the economy attitude of chief relief officials, was asserted to be a part of this idea.

Veteran skill is beginning to show at the surface in carefully-laid plans for harmony, efficient and smooth action at the democratic convention in Calveston.
The biggest play was to induce John N. Garner to step in, as the one Texan acceptable to all groups, as national committeeman, thus, while gracefully easing James E. Ferguson aside, still placating his friends in a way that the naming of a recent campaign partisan could not have done.
A democratic platform is being written in its main provisions, well in advance of the convention. A platform committee will hear all suggestions of delegates, then report practically the platform it had in its pocket.
But this platform instead of being formally put for once be given a real vitality and meaning by having its provisions laid down as the active, guiding force of his administration by Nominee Allred when Mr. Allred makes an important convention speech, that accepting the nomination for governor.
On the eve of the convention, there is definite promise that Allred's administration will take hold as the old partisan lines of division and bitterness shall have been more nearly obliterated than at any time since Pat Neff succeeded W. P. Hobby as governor.

UNDER THE DOME AT AUSTIN

By GORDON K. SHEARER
United Press Staff Correspondent
AUSTIN, Sept. 8 — Uneasy lies the head of the average state employee these days.

SHEARER

Changing administrative instructions mean hunting for new jobs. Many go to bed at nights wondering what they will do next January. Re-elections of the state treasurer, state comptroller, land commissioner, agricultural commissioner, and state school superintendent, bring a feeling of comparative security to employees in their departments.
There will be a new attorney-general and probably new heads for many other state departments. Texas politicians always have been good believers and staunch practitioners of "to the victor belongs the spoils." So there is strong likelihood that next January will see a new adjutant general, new secretary of state, new labor commissioner, and new banking commissioner. They head departments with many employees. If the department head changes, employees change, too.

general before he resigned to save the Allred campaign.
Organized labor leaders, here, the special session of the state legislature, decline to make any decisions about who will be the labor commissioner. Robert G. Austin printer held the post of Governor Ross Sterling. He is possibly. Labor men say what they are interested in is a variation of boxing and wrestling exhibition from the labor department.
Dick Griffin, Fort Worth, little ex-fighter and promoter whose sportsmanship was a big factor in legalizing paid-amateur bouts, is mentioned favorably ring and mat czar, if that becomes a separate post.
The staff that assisted General Allred already is making plans to scatter. Effie Waldron, Austin, is mentioned whenever there is discussion of the likely-to-be assistant attorneys-general. She says that a woman can make good charge of state campaign headquarters of a candidate for attorney-general. Formerly on the staff, she was secretary to George Puri, Dallas, and put in spare time qualifying as a lawyer.

Which, if any, of Allred's assistants will remain under the new generalship of Will McCamey cannot be learned. Pat Douglas may go back to the governor's office with Allred as a secretary. He is that post for former Governor Ross Sterling and Ross Sterling. Moody and Ross Sterling. Highway and institutional employees, who make up a big part of the state payroll, will be little affected by the change of administration. ## BEACH CLUB GIRL

MARIE McELROY

BEGIN HERE TODAY
BOOTS BARBURN, IS, married RUSSELL LUND, handsome aviator instructor, because she doesn't want to face her parents' disappointment on learning she has been snubbed by the younger set of Larchneck, fashionable New York suburb.
Russ goes to Miami, promising to send for Boots later. She gets a job in a big department store and takes a tiny room in Greenwich Village. She becomes ill with influenza and is befriended by DENIS FERGUSON, young nurse she met in Larchneck. Fergus sees that Boots has a doctor and nurse and begs her not to worry about expense.
After she recovers he asks her to live at his apartment and Boots, who has been shot off from social contacts for so long, goes with mingling.

English voice, with the frill of orgeandie flower petals callily white itself, cordial in the most polished, interested, sweet. All Boots was conscious of the slight strain of antagonism between the "Why?" she wondered. "What earth can she find to dislike in me? I'm so—so utterly harmless."
The afternoon wore on. Boots had long since closed her long, dapper and smiling in a starched white coat, had drawn a string-colored dull silk curtain shutting out the wintry blue light and the reflected street lights. More food had been brought in, more drinks served. People drifted in, drifted away. More than Boots had stirred to go but Boots had detained her.
"Who is she?" she asked young Edward.
"Kay?" He indicated the girl with the orgeandie petal collar. "Oh, she's been around quite a bit. We knew her at Cambridge. Her sister, Desiree, is married to one of the young instructors in chemistry. Kay's in charge of the Evelyn Amable shops here." He mentioned a name which stood for everything expensive and elegant in the world of cosmetics.
"She's very lovely," Boots said faintly. You could see this girl, moving in a little world of her own, issuing crisp orders, being efficient and charming and aloof all at once. No wonder Denis looked at her with admiring eyes.
"Smart girl," Edward Van Seiver affirmed, producing a cigarette case and proffering one to Boots. "Very good family, too. Derbyshire—something like that. I forgot which. She does this for a lark."
Of course she would, thought the younger girl with a surge of resentment. That frock probably came from Mendel-Bart's, in 57th street. It was a far cry from Kay of Evelyn Amable's marble palace dedicated to the service of beauty to Boots of the chintzes in Lacy's.

Through the Editor's Spectacles

By GEORGE

The A. G. Motor company has arranged a benefit softball game between its team and the powerful Breckenridge team at the lighted field next Thursday evening at 8 o'clock. Its club bolstered into all stars by the addition of outstanding players, the A. G. team will actually represent about the best that Cisco has to offer as it sets out to do battle with the strong visiting team in behalf of Orbie D. Jacobs, the lad whose future was sacrificed to the football ambitions of Cisco in one of those unfortunate accidents that sometimes occur on the training field.

All of the proceeds of this game, said Jack Anderson, A. G. Motor company member, will be turned in to a fund for Orbie D. Jacobs.
The benefit game gives us opportunity to see just how deep into the pockets of you folks this craze over softball goes. The tournament now in progress, a rather informal affair at the best, has drawn thousands of spectators each evening. Where a dime or a quarter is asked, even in a cause so worthy, this popularity may not be so evident. We shall see.
It can't be denied that the cause is worthy. There are few better reasons for playing such a game than the idea that prompted the A. G. company to arrange this contest. It ought, therefore, to have even more of the benefit of your attendance than a game that is played for no other purpose than to furnish the galleries amusement and the players the fun of participating in it.

School begins tomorrow! That phrase has a magic sound. When I was a boy it had the essence of a sentence pronounced with all the austerity of a court room drama. It summoned awesome visions of a tall, stooped, ferocious man whose aquiline nose curved over thin lips that never smiled and who was continually unrelenting pince-nez glasses on a long gold chain and setting them on the nose. How he could glare

Electric Service Is Cheap

WEST TEXAS UTILITIES COMPANY has made large investments to provide modern facilities for electric service in Cisco, even ahead of present day requirements. It is supplying over double the amount of service per customer as was supplied some eleven years ago. It has made seven domestic rate reductions since 1922 and is now collecting less per customer than it did in the days it was supplying near one-third the present amount of service. In addition thereto, it is shouldering for you much more of the tax burden than in previous years.

Your part is to further increase your use of the facilities provided. Electric service is one of the most valuable commodities of the household, yet it is sold at the lowest prices, takes only about 1 per cent of the workman's total household expenditures.

The present domestic rate schedule in Cisco will provide 515 kilowatt-hours per month for what only 73 kilowatt-hours would have cost you in 1922. A simple way to figure your electric service bill in Cisco on a completely electrified home is as follows:

First 50 Kilowatt-Hours at 7 1-2c

All Over at 2 1-2c

When water heater service is controlled so as to use investment in capacity already provided for the range, such added service costs only 1c per kilowatt-hour which makes such total service cost for the completely electrified home in Cisco even lower than any of the four largest cities in the State of Texas.

Electric Service Is Cheap. You Should Use More of It.

FRECKLES and HIS FRIENDS.

BRITAIN TRIES AIR COPS FOR BANDIT CHASE

LEICESTER, England, Sept. 8—British crime experts now are predicting the time in the near future when the "cop" in the air will supersede the policeman on the motorcycle as the chief weapon of the law in hunting down automobile bandits.

Airplanes and radio have been called into play by the police in a trial man-hunt near here. A fake bank hold-up was reported in a nearby town. Airplanes equipped with radio sets were sent from Desford airdrome.

Run to Earth

As a result the imaginary bandits were run to earth within 25 minutes of the time when they were supposed to have robbed the bank of $150,000.

The police expressed great satisfaction over the result and believe that when practical use is made of it a hot time will be in store for Great Britain's bandits.

The police airplanes were fitted with short-wave transmitting and receiving sets of a type used for military purposes. The police automobile, which worked in conjunction with the airplanes, also was equipped with a short-wave transmitter and receiver fitted under the dashboard. It could be operated equally well by the driver or passenger.

New British Method

This method of tracking-down bandits never has been tried before in Great Britain. Airplanes and police automobiles equipped with radio sets, however, have been used on a number of occasions for directing traffic at big race meetings such as Epsom and Ascot.

The pilots in the police airplanes claim that they can pick out any automobile at a height of 500 feet and follow it easily.

NEBRASKA CITY Neb., Sept. 8—Daily watering is believed to have saved the "Secretary Wallace tree" in Arbor Lodge State park. The tree was planted by Secretary of Agriculture Henry Wallace on last Arbor Day, when he appeared as a speaker at the Arbor Day celebration here.

History and Present Day Linked by Tree

LYONS, Neb., Sept. 8 — Pioneer days of Nebraska's history are linked with today by one of nature's landmarks—a huge elm tree, now hollow, which appears to be as old as the hills in its vicinity.

Year after year it has escaped the ax, first of the homemakers of early days, and later the cutting process that precedes the modern lumber-making device, the buzz-saw.

The tree measures 22 feet, four inches in circumference at the base. It stands nearly 75 feet high.

It branches out into five divisions about 12 feet up the trunk. Each division is as large as a fair sized tree trunk, with the sub-branches fully green and alive.

A storm some years ago tore away part of the trunk wall and the tree stands, split into two parts.

Many tales are told of the important part the tree played as a hiding place for valuable documents, weapons and lovers' notes. Two of the earliest settlers here relate the story of finding a wallet and revolver of strange make in its hollow trunk. The wallet was of leather, containing papers that no one could decipher. How they came here has remained a mystery to this day.

Many years ago camp meetings were held near the tree and the spot is referred to often as the old "camp meeting grounds."

Luncheon Friday Opens XXth Century Club Year

The Twentieth Century club luncheon opening the new club season was held Friday on the roof garden of the Laguna hotel. Dresden figurines on reflectors surrounded by clematis and golden rods were artistically used to carry out the club colors in the table decorations.

The place cards carried amusing verses describing each member. Mrs. E. P. Crawford, club president, as toastmistress extended greetings to the club.

The invocation was given by Mrs. Philip Pettit. After the introduction of guests the following program was presented during the luncheon.

Two solos, "Indian Love Call" and "The Old Spinning Wheel", by Mrs. Stuart Cate of Breckenridge.

A humorous skit in the form of a radio broadcast depicting the progress of the club since its organization, emphasis being placed on women's problems and the woman's movement, which is the theme for the coming year. Mrs. J. B. Cate was announcer for this part of the program, assisted by Mrs. C. H. Fee and Mrs. J. R. Burnett.

"A Tribute To Women", by Mrs. Alfred Irby.

In a short talk Mrs. Crawford told of the club plans for the ensuing year.

Mmes. J. R. Burnett, P. J. Butts, J. B. Cate, E. P. Crawford, C. H. Fee, Geo. P. Fee, S. E. Hittson, C. C. Jones, G. B. Kelly, J. C. McAfee, Philip Pettit, William Reagan, Hubert Seale, P. P. ### Style in Tweed

This handsome variation of the classic swaggar suit has a lumber-jack blouse in yellow, red and brown stripes that harmonize perfectly with the brown tweed straight skirt. Tall skirts are plain this fall and three-quarters top coat. It's the kind of an outfit around which to build an entire wardrobe. Note the double-breasted closing, wide collar with notched lapels, slit pockets and deep armholes on the flattering blouse.

Strength

This is the BANK that SERVICE is Building

Serviceability Founded Upon Extent of Resources and Soundness of Policies.

In banking . . . no elements singly or collectively can take the place of strength. The degree of that strength represents the quality of service a bank affords its customers and its community.

Primary responsibility, of course, is in a bank's custodianship of funds entrusted to it for safe keeping.

Therefore, its loans and other investments must be selected—not with a view of making the greatest portion of its deposits work to the highest per cent of return . . . but with the certainty that such employment be with the least degree of risk to the principal involved.

This, in short, defines the policy of operation here at the First National Bank—a policy not only representative of the management . . . but also representative of and undoubtedly responsible for our large patronage of individuals and concerns.

The full story is told in our statement of conditions published at intervals throughout the year (a copy of which may be had at any time). We believe an analysis of it will convince you of the desirability of banking here.
