CALLAHAN COUNTY IS ALLOTTED 72 CUTTER COWS FOR RELIEF

Callahan county has been allotted 72 cutter cows for the Relief Administration. Read the following letter received by County Agent Jenkins.

In a letter from the Federal Relief Administration working through Texas A & M College we are informed this day that we are to buy 72 cutter cows for canning at Abilene from this county. The letter states: "The Federal Emergency Relief Administration has allowed Texas Relief Commission sufficient funds to purchase a minimum of 20,000 cutter cows for its relief needs."

"The Extension Service of A & M College is cooperating through the County Agents in regulating the flow of these cows to the slaughtering centers. It is hoped to have the job done by January 15. Canning plants are being equipped at these centers where cows will be immediately processed into canned products."

"The F. E. R. A. will have experienced cattle buyers at the various slaughtering plants, where cattle will be purchased and paid for on the basis of Fort Worth market prices. County agents will issue permits to original growers only, and stockmen will deliver cows to the slaughtering plants on designated dates. A minimum of $1.75 per cow will be paid for cutter cows. No commission will be charged. Buyer will reserve the right to reject any cows carrying insufficient flesh, crippled or diseased animals."

"The allotment for Callahan County is 72 cows. Hold yourself in readiness to have them delivered to the Abilene plant on proper notice from the Extension Service."

"May we depend on you to secure the cutter cows from your stockmen?"

Yours very truly,
A. L. SMITH.
GEORGE W. BARNES
Extension Husbandmen.

All farmers who have cows that will grade cutter or better and want to sell to the Relief Commission, please drop me a note and state how many you have and if you will deliver them to Abilene on the day they advise me to get them there, I believe we can supply that number easily. Let me have your names at once so I may be ready.

ROSS B. JENKINS,
County Agent.

Gov. Miriam Ferguson Col. Dick McCarty At The Helm of New Weekly Paper Will Not Run Again

Gov. Miriam A. Ferguson has announced that she will not be a candidate for reelection to the office of governor of Texas. This announcement from Gov. Ferguson came as quite a surprise and has set the political pot, which has been simmering for some weeks, to boiling, and there is much speculation as to who will be in the gubernatorial race next year.

Mrs. Ferguson's statement is as follows: "In the language of a distinguished statesman 'I do not choose to run. That is, I do not care to become a candidate again for governor of Texas. At the close of my first term I left the state clear of debt and a surplus of over $5,000,000 in the treasury. At the close of my present term I will leave the state again practically out of debt. This will be made possible by carrying out my platform promise to reduce appropriations in the sum of $15,000,000 notwithstanding I inherited a deficiency from the preceding administration of approximately $19,000,000. If my successor will adhere to that same course there will again be a surplus in the treasury and the credit of the state restored."

"It is the time honored custom to restrict tenure in the governor's office to two terms. Though delayed, the people have honored me with a second term and I feel that the obedience to a wise custom I should retire. At the close of my present term I will have served four years as governor and will have presided over the governor's mansion for almost seven years. This is enough honor for one family—in all probability it is more than will ever come to any other family. I am deeply grateful to the people for their loyalty, often under trying conditions. While my activities will be as a private citizen in the ranks, yet I intend to exercise my right to be of service to the people who have honored me and mine when I am needed in the defense of those candidates and principles that involve the liberty and the freedom of the people."

Lieut-Gov. Edgar E. Witt, Jimmie Allred, attorney general; Coke Stevenson, speaker of the house of representatives; Clint Small, state senator; Tom Hunter and Charles C. McDonald of Wichita Falls; and Maury Hughes of Dallas, chairman of the state democratic executive committee, are mentioned as possible candidates for governor.

Thanksgiving Day Activities in Baird

Business houses of Baird were closed at 11 o'clock yesterday and many Bairdites went to Clyde to witness the football game, the last of the season for the Baird Bears.

Thanksgiving services were held at the Baptist Church last night.

Relief Work In County

There are now 241 men working in the county on relief work. Baird, Clyde and Cross Plains are cleaning up the streets and will begin graveling streets soon. These men are paid $2.10 for 6 hours a day, five days in the week, and the work as outlined will give work for three months or until about February 15.

Other projects are being considered among them being a park for Baird and quite a lot of road work.

Delphian Chapter Entertains Clyde Study Club

Proclaim good will and good health to all by using a Christmas Seal on every package and letter.

The Star last week received a copy of the Lauders Tribune, volume one, number two, which is a new weekly issued by Col. Dick McCarty, the venerable, widely known and recognized as one of the best and most popular newspaper men in the state. The Tribune is a four-page, seven column paper and carries a nice line of advertising. The paper is printed in the Albany News office.

Col. Dick McCarty, for thirty years editor of the Albany News, retired from active service about two years ago when his eyesight became impaired and his health broken. He leased the Albany News to Chas. A. Fryar, the present publisher, and spent several months in an El Paso hospital recuperating and undergoing treatment for an eye affliction. The Colonel is fast regaining his health and due to his energetic nature, he was not content to continue his rest while his own paper was under lease, therefore, he established the Lauders Tribune and will manage and edit the paper.

May the new weekly flourish and Col. McCarty always keep that happy disposition, which endears him to all.

Bureau Warns Tax Must Be Paid On Hogs Slaughtered

Commissioner of Internal Revenue Guy T. Helvering, in a communication to local revenue agents, has stated that the bureau has been informed many farmers and others are slaughtering hogs and selling the products to consumers without payment of a processing tax.

"This is a violation of the agricultural adjustment act and regulations promulgated thereunder, which provide that any person who slaughters hogs for market must file appropriate returns and pay the processing tax thereon," said the statement.

"The tax applies even in the case of the producer who slaughters his own hogs and sells or otherwise disposes of all or any part of the products."

"Heavy penalties are provided for violation of the law or evasion of the tax and any person who slaughters hogs and sells all or any part thereof should confer with the collector of internal revenue for his district who will assist him in preparing and filing the required return."

BAIRD BEARS DEFEAT CLYDE 31-0 IN THANKSGIVING DAY GAME

Bowlus Hardware and Furniture Store Gets Philco Franchise

The West Texas Distributor for the Philco Radios has placed the franchise for Baird and vicinity with the Bowlus Hardware & Furniture Store.

It has been our pleasure to listen to a partial demonstration of this Super-Radio, and it truly is, a Super-Radio, for distance is no hindrance to this scientifically constructed machine; Berlin, Germany, some eight thousand miles away, was brought in just as clear and distinct as an ordinary machine will bring in one of the leading Texas stations. Tone, well it is just marvelous, and you can tune to either the high pitched notes of the low bass—and speaking of volume, this machine carries sufficient power to bring in the weak-sisters as well as the strong ones. See Bowlus' add on another page of this issue. You will find that it covers a lot of territory, but it's facts that are undisturbable and well worth your time to investigate this marvelous creation in the radio field.

Tax Adds Little To Cost of Cotton Goods

The processing tax of 4.2 cents per pound of the net weight of raw cotton going into manufactured commodities accounts for only a small percentage of the cost of finished cotton goods.

Investigation in 10 major cities throughout the country, made under the direction of Dr. Fred C. Howe, Consumers' Counsel of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration, indicate that clerks in some retail stores are still explaining price increases on cotton goods by citing the processing tax as the only, or at least as an important cause.

"That the processing tax is a negligible factor in the price mark-ups on cotton goods has been proven beyond quibble," said Dr. Howe in discussing the question. "Those who attribute an undue share of price increases to the tax are badly informed."

On a sheet, which usually contains a little less than two pounds of cotton the tax amounts to just under 8 cents. On ordinary work shirts, the tax is about 3 1-2 cents. The same proportion holds for other cotton goods, depending upon the weight of raw cotton used in manufacturing.

Other costs than the processing tax contribute to price increases. Where operating and other costs have increased, they are adding to the selling price. The processing tax itself, however, remains a minor factor.

Judge Long opened court at Albany Monday morning.

Tuberculosis still kills more people between the ages of 15 and 45 than any other disease. Buy Christmas Seals.

Baird invaded Clyde in their annual Thanksgiving day classic to hand them a 31-0 defeat on Clyde's gridiron. The Bears found very little trouble in ripping the Clyde line for many gains. V. Strickland starred in the line smashes, while Bryant got the majority of the tackles. Atchinson made some neat end runs and taken care of the pass receiving. Bell played a good game all the way through.

For Clyde, Dillard played the outstanding game in the ball totting department. Rhodes and Malphuis played a good game at their positions. Baird's first touchdown was scored in the 2nd quarter when Bell carried the ball over. Strickland played the line for the second counter early in the third quarter.

Judson Atchinson scored the remaining three touchdowns in the last of the third and the fourth quarters. Atchinson received a pass from Bell after the last touchdown for the only extra point.

Synopsis of the game:
Baird: Carried the ball 62 times for 236 yards.

Lost 10 yards in scrimmage.
Passed 5 times, 1 complete for 64 yards, 2 incomplete, 2 intercepted.

Drew 5 yards in penalties. Made 13 first downs, punted 4 times for 182 yards.

Clyde: Carried the ball 25 times for 41 yards.

Passed 13 times, 4 complete for 72 yards, 7 incomplete, 2 intercepted.

Drew 20 yards in penalties, made 3 first downs, punted 12 times for 255 yards.

Baird Overwhelms Punam 25 to 0

With an amazing running attack that cut the defense to ribbons, the Baird Bears inflicted a stunning 25-0 defeat on the Punam Panthers here Friday afternoon in one of the most thrilling football games of the year. To start the fray, Atchinson faked a kick and galloped off down the field for 50 yards and a touchdown.

In every quarter the Panthers smashed the Bear's line for good gains, but never did cross the pay stripe, but did threaten twice. Baird used 8 passes, 3 were complete for 53 yards, 3 were incomplete, and 2 were intercepted. Only one resulted in a touchdown and that being in the third quarter when Barrett hurled a pass to Atchinson for the counter. The other touchdowns resulted from a sweeping end run by Atchinson in the second quarter, and again when he ran around right end for 20 yards and a touchdown in the fourth period. Bell dropped kicked only one goal of the two attempts.

On the running plays Baird gained 232 yards in the 45 times to carry the ball, punted 8 times for 357 yards, made 10 first downs, lost 2 yards in scrimmage and drew 5 yards in penalties.

Punam hurled 19 passes, 6 were complete, 13 incomplete, not one was intercepted. On their 54 times to carry the ball they made 162 yards, drew 30 yards in penalties, made 9 first downs, punted 9 times for 330 yards and lost 21 yards in scrimmage.

Earl Saunderman was the outstanding player for Punam. Everett played a good game, the backfield and Cooke made a good showing in the line.

For Baird Captain Stanley played a wonderful game from end, Bell, shifty quarter back, did some beautiful punt returning, one in particular when he returned a punt 65 yards through the entire Punam squad only to be run out of bounds. Atchinson did some nice running and pass receiving.

RED CROSS RELIEF

IN 120 DISASTERS

Help Given in Fires, Floods, Earthquake and Epidemics Part of Year's Task

The American Red Cross has reached into the homes of six million families in the past year with unemployment and disaster relief, Chairman John Barton Payne announced.

"As the year closed the organization continued in readiness to serve in the forthcoming winter at the point of greatest need and to adjust its service to meet the calls of the emergency of unemployment and disaster," Chairman Payne stated.

In a year of greatest economic distress in the nation's history, in which the Red Cross ably discharged a relief task in distributing flour and clothing to distressed families in all but six of the nation's 3,098 counties, the organization also was called into action in 120 disasters, of which 96 were within the borders of the United States.

Earthquake, floods, hurricanes, fires and other cataclysms visited death and destruction upon the lives and homes of thousands of people. Red Cross statistics showed that in the 120 disasters almost a thousand lives were lost, 148,340 homes were destroyed or damaged, 13,375 persons were injured, and Red Cross relief was given to 452,879 individuals.

In giving aid in these disasters, in its unemployment relief and in handling the distribution of government wheat and cotton, the Red Cross expended from its national treasury the sum of $1,070,284.

During one period of twelve weeks, 46 disasters occurred in 23 states. Red Cross disaster workers were hard pressed in meeting all of these needs occurring at once, but everywhere misery was promptly relieved.

Support of the Red Cross work is through its annual roll call, conducted by chapters in the period from Armistice Day to Thanksgiving Day, November 11 to November 30. Every citizen who joins the Red Cross as a member aids in carrying relief to disaster victims and in other Red Cross services, such as preservation of life, child welfare through the Junior Red Cross, and direct service for the public health.

RED CROSS CLOTHES
THE NATION'S NEEDY

Flour, Bread, Clothing Reach Into More Than Five Million Homes of Jobless

The greatest task ever undertaken by a relief agency in the history of private charity is drawing to a close with the final distribution of cotton clothing to more than five million families by the American Red Cross.

At the direction of the Congress, beginning eighteen months ago, the Red Cross undertook to convert the wheat and cotton surpluses of the Farm Board into food and clothing for the unemployed and needy. In the consequent operation, this relief agency entered upon a commercial enterprise greater than any single commercial firm has ever undertaken in the same period of time.

In the ensuing months the Red Cross converted 85,000,000 bushels of wheat into flour and bread and gave it to 5,803,000 families. The distribution was through 3,700 Red Cross chapters and hundreds of other charitable agencies. During the severe northwestern drought of 1931 the Red Cross also gave wheat in the form of food for livestock to 184,188 families.

The clothing—dresses, underwear, overalls, jumpers, sweaters and stockings for men, women and children, and even blankets and comforters—was distributed to 5,465,410 families. More than 54,000,000 ready-made garments and 92,000,000 yards of cotton cloth were given to the needy. This clothing came from 844,900 bales of cotton.

The wheat distribution was concluded in June, 1933, and final distribution of cotton clothing is occurring in the fall months.

In handling these tasks voted to it by Congress, the Red Cross will expend from its own treasury $735,000. At the same time the organization carried on its regular program of disaster relief; of service to the veterans of all our wars; of educational and welfare work through the Junior Red Cross; of health education and public health nursing and of life saving and first aid. Funds for this work come from the membership roll call the Red Cross chapters conduct from Armistice Day to Thanksgiving Day, when every one is invited to join the Red Cross and aid in this vital relief work.

Seven hundred thousand women volunteers under the Red Cross banner sewed for the needy last year and many thousands still are making cotton garments for their Red Cross chapters.

The Red Cross has 3,701 chapters and 10,000 branches of chapters. Thus it can be mobilized nationwide in a great relief task within 24 hours.

Does the constitutional right of free speech extend to a girl student who calls her teacher a "sap?" This weighty question is involved in a ruling by the Setauket, Long Island, school board, which has ordered 17-year-old Elsie Augustaitis to apologize to her teacher, Harold Fogg, to whom she applied the offensive epithet. The fact that Mr. Fogg has invoked the law to force an apology seems to indicate that Elsie is right per se.

Tornado is Most Frequent Disaster; Causes Heavy Loss of Lives

What type of disaster occurs most frequently in the United States?

This question is answered from the relief annals of the American Red Cross which show over a period of years that the tornado, or cyclone as it is called in some sections, is the most frequent and claims a heavy toll of life. It swoops almost without warning, and in the terrific whirlpool of its fierce winds it destroys all in its path.

The Red Cross gave relief in 44 tornadoes in eighteen states last year. The tornadoes killed 336 persons, injured 2,755 and the Red Cross gave aid to 21,736 who were homeless, injured or otherwise victims of the storms.

Toll of the Earthquakes

When a severe earthquake killed 95 persons; injured 4,911 and destroyed several thousand homes in Southern California last March, the Red Cross was first upon the ground with emergency relief. It required more than three months for the Red Cross to restore the needy to a self-sustaining basis. The organization expended a relief fund of $411,000.

Serves Under Five Presidents

John Barton Payne, a retired judge and lawyer of international reputation, is serving his twelfth year as chairman of the American Red Cross. His service is without pay, and his appointment is by the President of the United States. He has served by appointment in high public office under five presidents—Wilson, Harding, Coolidge, Hoover and Roosevelt.

Prepared to Save Lives

One of the most valuable services given to the American public by the Red Cross is through its Life Saving and First Aid courses. Virtually all of the life guards at beaches and pools in the nation are Red Cross life savers. Nearly every industry in America supports the First Aid work of the Red Cross because it annually saves lives of thousands of injured persons. These courses are taught by Red Cross experts in both lines. Last year 46,354 certificates were issued to persons completing the First Aid course and 78,795 certificates for completing Life Saving instruction.

War Veterans' Problems

Not since the period of the World War has the Red Cross faced a greater problem in handling the claims of World War and other veterans. Due to the changes in the regulations covering veterans' claims, chapters all over the nation have been crowded with veteran applicants for relief and for service in preparing appeals. During last year Red Cross home service workers in 2,268 chapters dealt with the problems of 411,124 ex-service men or their families. The chapters also aided 7,345 men still in the regular army, navy and marine corps.

An Army of Children

The membership in the Junior Red Cross last year was 6,629,866 boys and girls in schools, private, public and parochial. They enjoyed volunteer work in hospitals and for orphans, the aged and crippled, and also aided their schoolfellows by providing spectacles for their eyes, purchasing clothing and giving many other services to them. ## Thanksgiving Day

We think it appropriate at this time to print the first account of the origin of Thanksgiving Day, as it was set down in 1623 by William Bradford, Governor of Plymouth Plantation. The spelling and punctuation are just as Governor Bradford wrote it in his Journal.

"Notwithstanding all their great paines & industrie, and ye great hops of large cropp, the Lord seemed to blast, & take away the same, and to threaten further & more sore famine unto them, by great drought which continued from ye 3 weeke in May, till about ye middle of July, without any raine, and with great heat (for ye most parte), inasomuch as ye corne began to wither away, though it set with fishe, the moisture whereof helped it much. Yet at length it began to languish sore, and some of ye drier grounds were parched like withered hay, part whereof was now recovered. Upon which they set a parte a solemn day of humiliation, to seek ye Lord by humble & fervent prayer, in this great distress. And he was pleased to give them a gracious & speedy answer, both to their own & the Indians admiration, that lived amongst them. For all ye morning, and greatest part of the day, it was clear weather & very hotte, and not a cloud or any signe of raine to be seen, yet toward evening it began to overcast, and shortly and gentle showers, as gave them after to raine, with such sweete cause of joyceing & blessing God. It came, without either wind, or thunder, or any violence, and by degrees in ye abundance, as that ye earth was thoroughly wete and soaked therewith. Which did so apparently revive & quicken ye decayed corne & other fruits, as was wonderfull to see, and made ye Indians astonished to behold; and afterwards the Lord sent them such seasonable showers, with interchange of faire warme weather, as, through his blessing, caused a fruitfull & liberall harvest, to their no small comfort and rejoycing. For which mercie (in time convenient) they also sett aparte a day of thanksgiving."

We have kept the form of Thanksgiving Day, but ought we not also to keep it in the spirit of those Pilgrim Fathers?

Indian Summer

Every year, or almost every year, there comes a long spell of mild weather, after the first sharp drop in temperature, which over most of America is known as "Indian Summer." An old saying used to be that Indian Summer never came until after there had been a fall of snow "deep enough to show rabbit tracks." That early snowfall was known to our pioneer ancestors as "Squaw Winter."

This was the hunting season of the Indians, as it is the hunting season for the white folks today. It is a hazy, pleasant interlude between the end of Summer and the onset of real Winter. It is the time of year to take one's gun and one's dog and go out into the woods, after anything or nothing. It is the last, or almost the last chance to be outdoors in comfort until another Springtide comes.

In spite of the haze and the smoke from brush fires, the eye seems to penetrate farther in Indian Summer than in real Summer. The trees are nearly leafless now, and through their bare branches the stroller in the woods sees farther and clearer things that were hidden are now disclosed. The whole landscape takes on a new and somewhat sad aspect.

That is Indian Summer as it is known in the North and East. In the milder South, however, it is not unknown. There is that period, nearly every year, between the hurricane season and Christmas, when it seems the perfection of happiness just to be out of doors. Farm work is over for the year. The mosquitoes have gone into winter quarters. The slanting sun peering over the bulge of the earth's girdle cheers without burning. Under the liveoaks, among the pines, wherever one chooses to wander there comes to feeling that it is good to just be alive.

There is nothing like the American Indian Summer anywhere else in the world. European Summers leap right into cold rainy Winter. American Springs are brief; our Summers come early; but our long, lovely Autumns make up for the short Spring.

Many Thanks To Our Readers

We wish to express our sincere appreciation to our readers for the way they are responding to our "Clean the Slate" subscription offer. The Star appreciates the loyal subscribers, many of whom have been on our subscription list for many years, and quite a few who have been on our list since the paper was established December 8, 1887. We realize that like ourselves, many of our subscribers have felt very keenly the scarcity of money the past few years and while appreciating The Star and our efforts to give them a good weekly paper, they could not pay and that was the reason that prompted us to make such an unusual offer to those in arrears on subscription, for we do not want to lose any of our subscribers, and we felt that most all can pay one full year's subscription, which cleans the slate and puts them one year in advance.

Conditions are improving, and all have more work, prices are better and the future looks much better to all of us and we trust that our Honor Roll will continue to grow until The Star can claim one of the largest paid-up subscription lists of any weekly paper in this section. Be one of the many members of our paid-up subscribers next week. We need the money to pay those we owe and we believe our readers appreciate our efforts to give them a good paper and will gladly respond to our call.

The delusion that is universally chased—women.

The world owes everyone a living, but everyone must be their own collector.

Scovil declares that so mysteriously are we linked with others in the world that we cannot fail to do our duty without harming others, nor bear ourselves bravely without benefit to others.

The modern city needs the strength and vitality of the country boy. But that country boy who thinks of escaping the supposed toil and isolation of the farm by plunging into the ceaseless whirl of the city entertains the wildest sort of a dream.

What if it is midnight? Do you know that weeping may endure for the night, but joy cometh in the morning? Already your eyes catch the sapphire glow that crowns the far-off hills. Wait—the sun will rise and the shadows will all be gone.

It is said that after thirty years of more or less continuous work, the Hudson River Tunnel, from Jersey City to Manhattan Island, was finished three days ahead of time. So accurate were the plans of Chief Engineer Jacobs, that when the ends of the tunnel met there was not the variation of a hair in the courses of the Jersey section and the New York heading. When the hydraulic jacks sent the shield forward for the last time, it was found that the joining of the two sections had been exactly in line both as to level and direction. This was a marvelous feat. Destiny has two sections. One relates to the poor, toiling heart as it digs and delves in these lower lands. The other relates to those ever-expanding and developing plans in higher realms. Some sweet day the plan shall have all been wrought out. Somewhere and somehow, these two sections of destiny will meet—and that without variableness, neither a shadow cast by the turning.

Glimpse From The Past

E. M. Eller, living at Belle Plaine, brought a part of a copy of the Callahan County News to the Star office a few days ago. The paper was found folded in a crack in the wall of the house on the place now owned by Mr. Eller, and formerly owned by the late J. L. Denham, whose name was written in pencil on the paper.

The paper is dated September 2, 1910,—twenty-three years ago—Vol. 2, No. 36. Ralph Shuffler and his father, the late Rev. E. M. Shuffler, were running the paper at that time.

Among the more important news items, was a news story boosting Trades Day to be held on Monday, September 5th and all the merchants carried ads featuring specials for the occasion, among them H. Schwartz, Wristen & Johnson, Will D. Boydston, Holmes Bros. (and we are sure the missing pages of the paper carried an ad for B. L. Boydston) Driskill Bros.

The Valley Manufacturing Co. had just been organized, absorbing the Valley Ice Co., and had ordered equipment for an electric light plant. The first plant to be installed in Baïrd, had burned some two years before. This plant was located across the street from the Star office where the Red Top service station is now located. The new plant was built down in the flat east of town. Baïrd had two rigs then, the Air Blast (Gin and the Callahan County Gin. Cotton was selling at 14.85 the day the paper was issued.

C. H. Mahan was selling pianos and organs in Baïrd then. Mr. and Mrs. Mahan now live in Fort Worth but keep up with things in Baïrd through The Star, which has gone to them ever since they moved away from Baïrd.

Rev. W. J. Lee was pastor of the Methodist church at that time.

M. Franklin was the ice man then. Dickey & Bounds were the village Blacksmiths. T. A. Irvin was sheriff of Callahan County. Driskill Bros. were engaged in the gent's furnishing business.

The Abilene Presbytery had held a session in Baïrd that week with an attendance of 150 members and lay delegates from the district.

B. L. Boydston was establishing a millinery department in his store, with Mrs. A. M. Miller, Miss Nena Hampton and Miss Jennie Harris in charge.

Misses Willie Floyd, Mattie Scott, Mable Miller and Annie Mae Wristen each had a part in the Epworth League program for the following Sunday.

Among the personals we find the following:

Homer Shanks of Clyde, was in town, Tuesday.

Miss Willie Floyd will go to Abilene this week to take up her duties as teacher in the Abilene Public School.

Wilson Fraser, who has accepted a position as student assistant in Polytechnic College, Fort Worth, left this week to take up his duties.

Miss Lillian Coffman will leave in a few days for Abilene where she will enter Simmons College.

Miss Rex Gilliland has gone to Albany, where she will attend Reynolds Academy.

B. C. Chrisman and J. M. Jones of Atwell, were in town.

Miss Francis Ross will leave Tuesday for Sherman, where she will attend Kid-Key College.

The paper is yellow and brittle with age and falls to pieces with a touch of the hand.

Almost twice as many girls as boys die of tuberculosis between the ages of 15 and 25. Tuberculosis associations are devoting special attention to this age group. Christmas Seals support their work.

Albany Lions— Baird Bears

Yes, on last Friday afternoon the Albany Lions and the Baird Bears lined up in battle array on the campus of the Baird high school, and blast take it all, each team kicked the pig skin like thunder and Tom Walker for a victory on the battlefield of glory. Those Baird Bears are good clean sports, tough as whale bone, long winded, and as fast as a jack rabbit, but darn they just could not keep the Albany Lions off the goal line for a touchdown—Seven to nothing in favor off the Albany Lions. O yes, the Bears did their durndest, good fighters, eh, and truly symbolize the fighting qualities of Old Bruin, but dang, the Albany Lions proved to be the Kings of the jungle in this hard fought battle. It was one of the most interesting football games that we have ever witnessed, all clean sports, eh, and gosh every inch of the ground was hotly contested for victory. And get this: Albany and Baird were there to back their teams with their fighting clothes—About five hundred went over from Albany, and somebody said Baïrd was a city of some twenty-five hundred folks; but golly the way they packed that campus, about four deep, it looked to us like there might have been four or five thousand fans, and doggone how they did fan for their team. But the Bears just could not cross the goal line. After the game was over with, one woman passed us a-crying. We said to her: Don't cry honey, you will have another try at us next year. We like the town of Baïrd, have a whole lot of good friends living there, namely, Judge Ben F. Russell, Judge Powell, Secretary Asbury, Miss Eliza and Haynie Gilliland of The Baird Star. And get this, we were not mad at 'em, even if we did down 'em in a pig skin contest. They just couldn't keep the Albany Lions away from the goal line. And now in conclusion, we want to pay our respects to that blasted rough road leading to Baïrd, it's in a hell-ov-a fix. Dust ankle deep and darn the rocks stick up, crooks and grade almost impossible. Coming back we could not see our hands before us, but gee, it was awful. And say Mr. Commissioners Court, did your ears burn Friday afternoon? Spect so. I tell you, you had better get your car down to the ground, and get wise and let the Highway Commission build this road. Yes, the Albany football fans sure did preach your funeral—it's a disgrace to these modern times. Here is the Highway folks asking the money at the court, and for a right of way to build this road—And the Court just wont, eh?

PEP SQUAD, EH?
That Baïrd high school pep squad was a beauty forever, about fifty or seventy-five pretty high school girls dressed in red uniforms, but doggone they were beautiful indeed, and put on one of the prettiest drills that we have ever seen. What is the matter with Albany's pep squad? Some two or three years ago they supported an excellent pep squad—Where are you Albany high school girls? Put on another show like you use to. We have three or more games to play and plenty of time yet to pull a pep squad show.

Why Children Need a Liquid Laxative

The temporary relief children get from some synthetic, habit-forming cathartic may cause bowel strain, and even set-up irritation in the kidneys. A properly prepared liquid laxative brings a perfect movement. There is no discomfort at the time and no weakness after. You don't have to give the child "a double dose" a day or two later.

Can constipation be corrected in children? "Yes!" say medical men. "Yes!" say many mothers who have followed this sensible medical advice: 1. Select a good liquid laxative. 2. Give the dose you find suited to the system. 3. Gradually reduce the dose until the bowels are moving regularly without aid.

An approved liquid laxative (one that is widely used for children) is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. The mild laxative action of this excellent preparation is the best form of help for children—and grown-ups, too. The dose can be regulated for any age or need.

Your druggist has Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. Member N. R. A.

Eula Locals

(Conty)

Well I will try and write the Star a few lines. We are all well out this way as far as I know and you know when we are all well we are thankful.

Thursday is Thanksgiving day and I am sure we all are more than thankful for the past year. We realize that times are not what we want them to be but when we look back we can see times much better than they were a year ago. Everything is moving forward. We farmers made a very good crop and the price of cotton has been a great help. Many debts have been paid, which has been a great help to everybody.

You don't see so many long faces. Give us time, with good prices and we will come out on top. The stockmen have my sympathy. Cattle and hogs won't hardly sell. Personally I like high prices on every thing. I don't see why we can't have all the bacon we want this year.

You know when we get all these roads built we have marked out Callahan County is going to be on the map. We have a fine county to live in. What we want and need is good roads so we can see each other more often.

Let me thank Bro. Mayes of Baird for the nice compliment he paid the Eula neighborhood, I have lived here 44 years and I can endorse every word he said. Come again Bro. Mayes. We are always glad to have you.

I spent last week in Baird at court. I met so many of my friends from all over the county, I will mention a few. John Bar, Chas. Bar, Paul Harrel, Jim McMillon from Cross Plains; Sam Yeager and Chas. Bray from Putnam; Homer Kinnard and many others from Clyde, and so many from Baird. You know I sure did enjoy every minute of my time.

I was sorry to hear of the death of Hugh Moore. Mr. Moore was a good man and he will be missed over at Dudley, where he lived so long. One by one the old timers are leaving us.

I am glad to hear the good news about the Al Irvin oil well. Well Al Irvin has lots of friends all over Callahan County and all will rejoice in him getting a good oil well. Al Irvin is a man that loves his friends.

I am sorry to hear about my good friend Buck White being sick, sure hope he soon will be up again.

Well if this dont land in the waste basket, I will come again. Here's hoping everybody will have a good day next Thursday.

NOVEMBER IS CHEVROLET ANNIVERSARY MONTH

November marks the twenty-second anniversary of the formation of the company which today is the largest producer of motor cars and trucks in the world.

On November 3, 1911, the Chevrolet Motor Company of Michigan was organized, and production started on a modest scale, the output for the remainder of 1911 not exceeding five or six cars.

In the full year of 1912 production totaled 2,999 cars. This presents quite a contrast to production in 1933, which has already crossed the 600,000 mark.

During the first year of its existence, nearly the entire output of Chevrolet was sold through retail stores in Chicago, Philadelphia and Boston. With the opening of further retail outlets, the second year of the company's history found production close to 6,000 units. This comparatively large volume—for that day—necessitated opening another plant in New York City.

That Chevrolet was destined to become a volume car was indicated as early as 1915. That year the famous "490" model, so named because it listed at $490, went into production and at the end of the year more than 60,000 units were produced. By this time the main plant of Chevrolet was located in Flint and its dealer organization covered the principle cities of the country.

The year 1916 saw a general expansion of the production facilities of the company. Additional plants were purchased and assembly plants started at Oakland, Cal., Fort Worth, Tex., and a general enlargement of the Flint operation took place.

In 1917 production for the first time exceeded the hundred thousand mark and on May 23, 1918 General Motors purchased all assets of the Chevrolet Motor Company. The history of the rise of Chevrolet in the past fifteen years is well known.

W. S. Knudsen came into the Chevrolet executive organization from General Motors in 1922 and became president and general manager of the company in 1924. Shortly after assuming this office, Mr. Knudsen, recognizing in Marvyn E. Coyle, managerial material, made Mr. Coyle assistant to the president. From this time he has worked quietly behind the scenes with Mr. Knudsen in shaping policies and administrative procedure of Chevrolet.

By co-incident, Mr. Coyle was named general manager of Chevrolet almost on the eve of the company's twenty-second anniversary. He also entered the General Motors organization in the Fall of 1911, within a few weeks of the formation of the company which he now heads.

Speaking to a group of executives in his office on Chevrolet's birthday, Mr. Coyle reminded them that since the beginning of the company more than 9,000,000 passenger cars and trucks had been produced and sold. "It took the first 11 years," Mr. Coyle said, "to build the first million vehicles. In the 11-year period ending today, the eight million units were produced."

Chevrolet so far this year, Mr. Coyle pointed out, has obtained 45 per cent of all passenger car business in its price field—and is continuing its position of leader in the automotive world, a position it has held for the last three consecutive years and for the last five out of seven years.

Did You Ever Stop To Think

By Edson R. Waite Shawnee, Oklahoma

JAMES E. BARRETT, MANAGING DIRECTOR OF THE OKLAHOMA BILTMORE HOTEL IN OKLAHOMA CITY, SAYS:

"Advertising is one of the most powerful forces in modern American life.

"Without advertising you would probably eat different foods from what you eat now, live in a different kind of house, wear different kinds of clothes.

"Advertising has made it possible for you to have oranges from California and Florida, flour from Minneapolis, St. Louis or Kansas City; coffee from Brazil; sugar from Cuba; shoes and textiles from New England; silks from Japan and necessities from every part of the world.

"Advertising has made it possible to buy these articles reasonably by increasing their sale, thereby increasing the quantities produced and lowering the cost of production and distribution.

"Everywhere you turn you will see advertised articles which, because of advertising, are high in quality, reliable and desirable.

"Without advertising your life would not be nearly so comfortable as it is at present.

"Advertising can and will be a powerful force for good in America, for the men who advertise have learned that it is a force which must be carefully guarded for the good of the people as a whole."

THE RED CROSS HELPS

THE American Red Cross is probably the most practical organization in the world. It comes to the rescue quickly and efficiently in times of flood, famine, earthquake or any other disaster. The most important word in that last sentence is "efficiently." It's easy to be quick and willing, but it's a mighty hard thing to be efficient.

Here is an example of its every day efficiency. Tons of Red Cross flour have been released to welfare agencies over the length and breadth of the land. Thousands of cases of evaporated milk are being distributed to relief clients. How can these two important foods—the flour and the milk—be brought together in nourishing, appetizing dishes? The Baltimore Red Cross Chapter decided to furnish the answer to this question, and the result was a compact, practical booklet from which we are quoting the following:

What Is Evaporated Milk?

"Evaporated milk is pure, whole cow's milk with half the water taken out, and nothing added. Just as it comes from the can it's twice as rich as the milk the cow gave.

"For drinking, mix evaporated milk with an equal amount of water, and serve (hot or cold) plain, or with a dash of nutmeg, cinnamon, or salt. It makes smooth, delicious fruit drinks, too.

"For soup, milk, add one tablespoon of starch to half a cup of evaporated milk, mixed with the same amount of water. For sour cream use one tablespoon of vinegar to a cup of the milk as it comes from the can. In baking use one-half teaspoon of soda for every cup of sour milk or cream.

For All Cooking
"Wherever milk is needed, evaporated milk gives foods the finest flavor and texture. Use it as it pours from the can, in coffee for adults, in soups, in custards to save eggs, in sauces to save butter, and on cereals.
"Mix it with an equal amount of water to cook cereals, to cream vegetables, fish or meat, and to prepare puddings and other desserts. Instead of water, you can often add the liquid from cooked or canned vegetables, fruits, fish or meat.

"And certainly for baking, evaporated milk is the right choice. With it, all the good old recipes, from bread to cake, are more nourishing, taste better, and stay fresh longer. The flour gives fuel to keep our bodies warm and to make them 'go.' The milk gives building material for bones, teeth and muscles, and vitamins that protect our health."

Tested Recipes

The booklet does not stop there with its practicality, but goes on to give eighteen tested, low cost recipes for baked things in which evaporated milk is used. And all of the recipes were required to pass rigid taste and appearance tests, too, before they were included.

These recipes are for making biscuit, griddle cakes, plain muffins, bread, oatmeal bread, hot apple dumplings, sauce for hot apple dumplings, crumb cake, cottage pudding, vanilla sauce, gingerbread, plain cake, pie crust, soft ginger cookies, oatmeal cookies, peanut cookies, chocolate, mango and cream filling for pie.

We have not space to quote all of these recipes, but here is a sample to show what they are like:

Pie Crust

4 cups flour
2 teaspoons salt
1 cup fat
1/2 cup evaporated milk
and
1/2 cup water, mixed

All ingredients should be combined in one measure, mixed with salt. Work fat evenly into flour. The pastry will be richer if fat and flour are well together, evenly blended. Add flour bit at a time, and stir with a fork quickly but thoroughly into the wet mixture. Some flour should be reserved for rolling. Add only sufficient diluted milk to make dough soft enough to roll out. Yield: four double-crusts, or two double-crust pies. A copy of this booklet can be obtained by writing to the National Milk Association, 1111 Pennsylvania Building, Philadelphia, Pa.

While approving most of President Roosevelt's recovery program, William Randolph Hearst through his great chain of newspapers is vigorously attacking the NRA, which he, like many others, believes is retarding recovery, rather than aiding it. The avowed objects of the NRA are laudable enough, but its methods and their results are not so good, according to the views of an increasing number of patriotic citizens.

Farm, Poultry and Livestock Hints

By Ross B. Jenkins, Co. Agent

APPLES IN THE SPRING, FALL

We remember an old saying from our boyhood days that ran like this: "Apples in the Springtime, peaches in the fall; if I don't get the kind I want, I won't have any at all." It has so happened with many of us that we didn't get any at all. It was our pleasure to have in the office a few days ago a man who is well known in this part of the State as a successful orchardist and Nationally known as a pecan specialist and breeder, who is now with the State Department of Agriculture. This was our friend, Mr. J. H. Burkett, of Clyde. His particular purpose just now is to organize a section in this part of the State that has proven itself as an ideal soil for apples. With his co-operation we are planning a move to enlist the growers of Jones, Taylor, Callahan Eastland, Comanche and Brown counties in this move to grow apples for commercial purposes. The soil has been found to be right, the moisture normally sufficient, and the market good, owing to the remoteness from any close competitor. Trucks will pick them up at the orchard as soon as the news is out that apples are available at any point in this section.

There are some fine orchards in this section that the owners point to with pride and well do so for they have paid this year as high as $400 per acre. That is the best one record in this dry year. Others have done much better than the bumper cotton crop on the choicest acres.

There are some orchards that will go into profitable bearing if the owners will properly prune and cultivate. All orchards should have a cover crop of Purple vetch planted each fall or other suitable crop that can be turned under in the spring which returns to the soil from 200 to 300 pounds of nitrogen which is an orchard's greatest need. Then keep the soil clean of weeds and grass during the summer. Proper pruning then will give correct shape and size to the trees. No orchard will return a profit if neglected.

It will not be possible to grow apples without spraying as the insects are well over this country but spraying will prevent serious damage.

We have talked with some men recently who are considering putting in orchards and wish to know which is the land to select. Without going to a long discussion of orchard sites let us say these points are most essential: Select the best soil on the farm, one of deep and well drained structure; a site on the top or side of a hill that slopes to the North or Northeast, never in the valley; a site where the roots can easily penetrate the soil to a good depth to serve as a good support. Many trees are lost when of good size by having been blown out when the soil is wet. Last, a site that has not had an old orchard die out from disease.

In today's mail comes a letter from Mr. Burkett which says, "As a representative of the Department of Agriculture, Austin, Texas, I have been assigned by the commissioner of Agriculture, Hon. J. E. McDonald, the responsibility of encouraging the development of a commercial apple industry for this section of the State."

"We have a few apple growers in the vicinity of Clyde and Baird that I happen to know have made successes of growing high quality commercial grades of this delectable fruit. The past harvesting season their fruit brought a fancy price; as much as $3 per bushel. From them we learn the proper technique of spraying, cultivating, tinning, grading, packing and marketing. We have them as object lessons to guide us. And they will be glad to cooperate with all growers who undertake seriously to make their orchards profitable."

"From one of the most active truck distributors operating out of Clyde I have learned that if this section of the country would increase their acreage of apples one hundred fold and grow first class fruit that it would not go begging on the markets of the country."

"There are, in fact, five counties surrounding Callahan which have vast quantities of good apple land which if planted to approved commercial varieties and given proper care, would rival the apple regions of Arkansas, Missouri, Colorado, and California."

"But it should be understood that if one desires to engage in apple growing on a commercial scale, he must prepare to give his orchard the best of care, plant on the best soil, and undertake to fight insects and disease. If he doesn't do this he will do better not to plant."

"The Clyde section already has several hundred acres planted to apples. A recent casual inspection reveals that most of these young orchards which are just coming into bearing show they are being neglected to such an extent that they will prove a disappointment to the owner. Most all of these young orchards given proper care can be made into a revenue producing investment. But if they are longer neglected will prove a liability instead of an asset.

There is another serious feature connected with apple orcharding where the owner neglects to give it proper treatment. This harms not only the owner but other growers who are giving their orchards scientific care. That is the matter of neglecting the old orchard. This breeds and multiplies injurious insects and diseases which migrate to those clean orchards.

"The practice in the past of intercropping the orchard after it comes into bearing age should be discouraged. If one makes an investment in setting trees for a permanent investment, it is a shortsighted policy to neglect them. Every operator should have in mind the welfare of the tree."

Yours very truly,
J. H. BURKETT.

NICE THINGS TO REMEMBER

The county agents office wishes to express our gratefulness to Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Kelton for the beautiful bouquet of chrysanthemums that was brought in this week. Flowers such as these are a living example of specialized agriculture made into an art.

Those fine sweetpotatoes from the bin of Messrs. John Bryant and Marvin Clements hit the spot too. When our land will make 100 bushels of potatoes a year so scant of moisture as this one has been there seems to be yet less excuse for lack of food in Callahan.

WHEAT CONTRACTS

Some 76 wheat contracts were accepted at Fort Worth last week and will be mailed to Washington this week in hopes we can get the checks back before Christmas. Twenty cents per bushel will be paid on the allotment at this time.

CORN-HOG PLAN

There are many farmers who will be able to profit by signing the Corn-Hog reduction contract in Callahan County. It is the greatest one project advanced by the Government in that the Agricultural Adjustment expects to spend 500 million dollars to curb the stock of hogs and corn for the next two years. Corn producers will be paid 30 cents per bushel to reduce their crop 20 per cent and hog producers will be paid $15 per head to cut their hogs down to 75 per cent of the past three year average. Let me have a list of you men who will be interested in this move.

THIS AND THAT

The Thanksgiving market for turkeys is closed with many unsold in Callahan County. If those who have birds that will go on the Christmas market will pour the feed to them for the next three weeks a much better price will be gained and the outlook for a better price is much better than for the Thanksgiving market. Some reasons might be given as 4 million men are being put to work that were not working during the Thanksgiving market. These men will buy turkeys for Christmas in many sold heavily so we will be expected cases. The Northern turkey growers to furnish the bulk of the trade and our supply is not thought to be enough, so a better price will prevail. Our opinion is that it will pay to feed 4 cent feed for 10 cents return, that is, 4 cents worth of feed will produce 10 cents worth of turkey.

ONIONS

Mr. Loyd Cox was in the office the past week offering to cooperate with us in getting the farmers of this county to plant 100 acres of onions as an attempt to show that other crops will make a profit here as well as cotton. Mr. Cox is with the Baltimore Railway Company and will sign a contract to buy all onions we can raise. Last year the price was $1.00 average per bushel. He has a buyer who will supply plants at the minimum cost to growers. We are hoping all farmers who would be interested in planting on any commercial scale would see or write us in the name so we may call on you personally and present the plan and get your contract. Onions can be planted between the cotton rows and harvested before cotton is large enough to bother, that is, onions come off the land in June. We would be glad to have the names of all interested at once. There are about a dozen men signed up now.

HOG TOPICS

Some people feel that the low prices paid for hogs do not justify much care in handling them but we differ in this opinion and offer this as a suggestion. Any livestock that is produced is worth taking the very best of care or else it was a mistake to produce it in the first place. Then too, kindness to dumb animals should prevent us from neglecting their health and comfort. Figures made available to us show that the man who takes care of his hog production in the way that he should has a profit even in the past few lean years. Some items of every day necessity must either be done or neglected. One or the other is being practiced by every hog grower in Callahan. To get to the root of the thing let us start at the beginning.

When the pigs are born there are a few things that are necessary to the best interest of the pigs, sow, and producer. On the first day the pigs should be examined separately. The naval string should be cut off and iodine put on the wound. The sharp black needle should be cut off of both top and bottom teeth. A pair of side cutters are the best for this purpose and should be in the possession of every hog man. It is well to mark the pig this day also. This is done by a method of cutting a small slot from the right or left ear, if any are interested in the exact method of marking pigs, just drop a letter to this office.

On the third day all male pigs should be castrated. They will be well healed by the end of the week. Always put iodine on the wound to prevent infection. Never be guilty of using creosote on fresh wounds as you are likely to produce phenol poisoning, which is often fatal. Use creolin, lysol, or zoin. Iodine has already been suggested. Most of these are good for human consumption.

All hog pens should be provided with a salt trough. Every hog should have salt and either bone meal or lime flour. For your information we are writing today for prices of these materials and also for the price on meat scrap and tankage. These foods are essential for good thrifty hogs that have no days of bad health. Hog salting troughs should be in every pen. Put the box up about 8 inches from the floor of the pen and drive nails through the bottom so that they will point downward. This will prevent the rosters from tearing the box down as soon as it is put up; if you have not been feeding salt regularly, then put about a handful in the box the first day or so. As soon as the hogs become accustomed to eating salt it can be kept before them constantly as they have more judgement on how much they need than you do. Bone meal can be fed in the same way. It is better to feed bone meal or lime flour to hogs in their rations but if you are not feeding a slop with grain mash then free feed bone meal. Always remember that hogs never get enough salt from the suds from dishes. If you should want to know our candid opinion it would be that dirty dish water is good to grow earth worms, but very, very poor hog food. A hog is an animal that appreciates clean water as well as you, but because he will grow and develop to adult size on poor foods many people think that is good food for him. Remember you eat that same dish water product when you serve a slice of his carcass on the table. Clean, wholesome foods make clean, wholesome meat. Do you think that poor dirty food will make as clean and wholesome meat as the other type foods? Many young pigs will not grow off well for the reason the poor feeds have been infested with worms. If this happens, it is the duty of the hog man to ask the county agent how to get rid of them if the remedy is not already known. Hands up, how many know what to do? Answer, Give a capsule of tetrachloroethylene. Don't let the poor pig stay a runt. Hog sanitation, correct feeding practices, and care at birth make for profitable hog culture.

The double barred cross on the Christmas Seal is double-barrelled, too. One barrel shoots a message of cheer for the friend who gets the letter or package. The other shoots definite aid toward somebody who is in danger from tuberculosis.

We will be a long time paying for the depression in terms of added health hazards. Recent figures show that illness has been greater among the unemployed than among the general population. The danger of tuberculosis is increased when people are destitute. Buy Christmas Seals, they fight tuberculosis.
