KING, FRENCH MINISTER ASSASSINATED

Suspect in Cleburne Money Lender's Murder Is Charged

IDENTIFIED 'STRANGER' SEEN WITH HIM

OKLAHOMA, Oct. 9 — H. R. Taylor, 42, former convict with a long record, today was charged with the murder in the slaying of Walter Jones, wellknown Cleburne money lender and professional gambler.

W. W. Freeland filed the complaint with Dist. Atty Sam. H. Jones, after Taylor had been identified as the alleged "stranger" and person seen with Jones last Friday.

Freeland then filed the complaint in court.

George Schober and D. A. Collings, Cleburne, who talked with Taylor for 30 minutes before he left town, pointed out the suspect as the man.

Morrison and Homer Adams, Cleburne, did not identify Taylor as the man, however.

he body of one, who had a habit of carrying large sums of money and recently offered a $10,000 bill as payment for small purchases, was found Sunday beneath a culvert on the road 14 miles southwest of Cleburne.

Freeland said Jones told him last night that he and the "stranger" were to go that day to make a $5,000 cash bond for Taylor.

Taylor was brought here last night in a car, where he was viewed by several Cleburne men. He was arrested at Fort Worth along with a suspected suspect. Freeland said the suspect had not been connected with the case.

Quadruplets Are Doing Pretty Well, Too, Thank You

Quadruplets are just about as important as quintuplets, if you want the opinion of these four little girls and their parents, Constable and Mrs. Carl A. Morlock, of Lansing, Mich.—and just as pretty, too, as the picture strikingly shows. Donning their best dresses and hair ribbons, these 4-year-olds posed to show what a healthy, happy quartet they are. None of them ever had a sick day. Left to right are Edna, Sarah, Wilma, and Helen.

LEGISLATORS NOTIFIED OF NEW SESSION

AUSTIN, Oct. 9 — Texas legislators today formally were notified by Sec'y of State W. W. Heath to convene in the fourth extraordinary session Friday noon to consider Gov. Miriam A. Ferguson's five-point $100,000,000 program for economic rehabilitation.

The governor's special session call was issued a few minutes before the dinner hour last night. While she signed official copies of her proclamation at the governor's mansion, James E. Ferguson sat in the shadows of the executive office and talked to newspapermen.

Nineteen senators and 104 house members favored a special session and a second chance to enact the recovery program, he said.

Text of Call

Following is the text of the governor's proclamation:

"I, Miriam A. Ferguson, governor of the state of Texas, do by virtue of authority vested in me by the constitution of this state, hereby call a special session of the Forty-third legislature to be convened in the city of Austin, at 12 o'clock noon on Friday, the twentieth day of October, A. D. 1934, for the consideration of the following matters:

1. Remission of penalty and interest on delinquent taxes.
2. Authority for completion of what is known as the Buchanan dam or dams on the Colorado river as now proposed, and necessary funds therefor.
3. Authority for the Brazos river project for construction of dams to impound and conserve the water thereof and the reclamation of overflowed lands on said Brazos river and its tributaries and necessary funds therefor.
4. The Texas centennial and the provision for adequate funds therefor.
5. For additional and necessary relief for indigent and unemployed people of Texas as is now required.
6. To consider and act on such other subjects and questions as I as governor may from time to time during said called session submit by message or otherwise to the legislature.

"The secretary of state will hereby take notice of this action and notify the members of the legislature at once."

Mustapha Kemal Pasha, 57-year-old dictator of Turkey, is reported to be considering matrimony again. Viennese diplomatic circles say his bride will be Princess Ruhie of Albania (above) most beautiful of King Zog's four daughters.

Ruler of Yugoslavia Shot on French Visit

MARSEILLES, France, Oct. 9.—King Alexander of Yugoslavia and French Foreign Minister Louis Barthou were shot to death today by an assassin.

Gen. George, a French officer, also was killed by bullets by the assassin and Admiral Berthelot, the French prefect at Toulon, was critically wounded.

The fatal shots echoed through Europe with a political repercussion that recalled the assassination in 1914 of Archduke Francis Ferdinand of Austria, leading to the World War.

European affairs, with France, Italy, Germany, Yugoslavia and the other members of the Little Entente juggling for a balance of power, will undoubtedly be profoundly affected by the assassination.

The king was shot just after he landed here from a Jugoslavain warship on an important mission.

CONFERENCE ON HAUPTMANN CASE CALLED

TRENTON, N. J., Oct. 9.—New York and New Jersey officials will confer with Gov. Harry Moore this afternoon to discuss the early extradition of Bruno R. Hauptmann to this state to stand trial on charges of murdering Charles A. Lindbergh, Jr., the head of the state police announced today.

New Jersey authorities, moving swiftly to get custody of Hauptmann, invited Bronx County Dist. Atty Samuel Foley and several assistants to the conference.

Hauptmann was indicted by the Hunterdon county grand jury yesterday, Col. Charles A. Lindbergh who identified Hauptmann by his voice as the man in the cemetery when the money was paid, appeared briefly before the jury.

Year-Old Town Hall Found Illegal

ROVERPORT, O., Oct. 9 — The town hall here — has been discovered by state officials, or 50 years, the affairs of Roverport have been carried on here by men government in a building which did not legally exist, according to state records.

That almost six decades, there one mistake made with public is — the town paid the federal amount $181 which it was not supposed to pay, state examiners said.

"I suppose," said H. C. Rainer, "that something will have to be done about it — I mean the legal one, not the fact that we've been out here."

If we go legal at this late date," Rainer said, "it may be bad all around. While lived so long in sin, legally, we at least pretty respectable. If we legal, we may go crooked. I'm not sure."

Rainer rejoined, "we I think, go something about that. I can't let a thing like that go against us after all these years. I'll put up one cent, if you will."

Graham Leaves Today for Clinic

Dr. E. A. Graham was to leave this morning for St. Louis, Boston and other cities where he will attend to his patients.

His absence his practice will be in charge of Dr. Waddell, New York, who arrived today.

Dr. Graham will drive to Dallas on Monday in time to board a train for St. Louis, his first stop.

ENROLLMENT HIKE CAUSES ARE EXPLORED

AUSTIN, Oct. 9 — With a total enrollment closely approaching the 7,000-mark at the University of Texas, an increase of approximately one thousand over that of last year at the corresponding date, and with reports of like increases of student registration at the various other state and denominational universities and colleges in Texas, much interest has been aroused in the part of faculty men and women and other educators as to the probable cause of this apparent awakening of the young men and women of the state to the advantages of college training.

A variety of reasons have been offered in private discussions of the subject for this seeming abnormal increase of enrollment at higher institutions of learning this new scholastic year. It is attributed by some to the lack of employment of youths of families who have sufficient means to send their sons and daughters to college. Rather than they should be idle they are kept in school, it is pointed out.

Mental Development

Another theory which has strong supporters among educators who have kept in close touch with the student youth movement is that during the last few years, especially there has been noticeable development of the mental characteristics of the students. Those who are studying in universities and colleges today are more serious-minded and have more well defined purposes in life than those who in former years attended these institutions. This new epoch of student thought is said to have been first manifested shortly after the World war. It has been accentuated during recent years by economic problems and crises which have touched to a greater or lesser degree practically every person in Texas and perhaps throughout the country, it is stated by university teachers who are given the matter earnest thought. Students have had their interest aroused to an unusual degree in affairs of government. Those who are fresh out of high school are ambitious to equip themselves for a fight for livelihood and success in the various lines of human endeavor in which they hope to devote their life work.

Of course, there continues to be a certain element of students in all

NEW CLUES IN GAS STATION MURDER FOUND

BURLESON, Oct. 9 — Ranger Dick Hamilton and sheriff's forces uncovered new clues today which they believed will lead to the arrest of the slayers of E. E. Mallory, 24, filling station attendant, whose body was found pierced by two bullets here yesterday.

Three automobile loads of deputy sheriffs, acting on tips from local sources, searched this territory for the slayers.

The new clues, officers said, did not point toward possibility that the slayers also may have been connected with the killing of Walter Jones, Cleburne professional bondsman.

Havana Strikers Are Sent Back to Work

HAVANA, Cuba, Oct. 9 — Striking workers were ordered back to work today by union leaders, but the capital continued nervous because of continued terrorism.

What was to be a general strike in sympathy with dismissed telephone company employees was about 50 per cent effective yesterday. Public utility workers who called, it did not go out themselves in a body, they said, because the strike was taking on a revolutionary tinge.

KANSAS COPS FIND TWO-WAY RADIO AN AID

KANSAS CITY, Kan., Oct. 9 — A two-way police department radio system, considered the most modern in the country, has brought the Kansas City, Kan., department many minutes closer to the bandit and sneak thief.

The system, recently installed, outdoes the police radio in general use in that the cruising cars, as well as the headquarters office, are sending stations. The cruising patrolmen do not receive instructions from the department dispatcher, but communicate with him.

Coincident with the installation of the new system three outside substations were closed and the city now operates with only the headquarters station where the radio control room is located.

The radio station, licensed by the government, operates on a frequency of 33,100 kilocycles, or a nine meter band. This high frequency, the engineers say, will prevent interference. The power is 100 watts, and that of the cruiser stations, which also are individually licensed to broadcast — but four watts, provided by storage batteries.

Because of the rough terrain of Kansas City, with high ridges of hills rearing themselves between some of the districts and headquarters, the light power of the car sending stations is inadequate. However, to overcome this a booster relay station has been erected. Severe tests showed two-way communication was possible from every section of the city regardless of traffic and other physical conditions which a few years ago would have caused so much static that reception would have been impossible.

Phillips Party Here Making Explorations

A party of Phillips Petroleum company drillers and geologists is in Cisco, making exhaustive tests of possible oil and gas bearing formations over an area southwest of Cisco. The group, expected to be here for three or four months, is core drilling in the vicinity of Dan Horn, it was reported.

Members are Ralph Singbusch, Springdale, Ark.; Dan Griffin, Edmond, Okla.; Glenn Keedy, Wakeney, Kan.; Earl Reimund, Shidder, Okla.; Larry LaPrade, Bartlesville, Okla.; and E. E. Elledge, Chickasha, Okla. Wayne Govar, of Fayetteville, Ark., who died early Sunday morning here, was another member of the party.

Richberg Defends President's Action

CHICAGO, Oct. 9 — Donald R. Richberg, President Roosevelt's spokesman of the new deal, defended his chief today for not fulfilling all the pledges of the democratic platform.

In discussing the impending re-organization of the NRA, Richberg told the Rotary club the president's "policy of balancing the budget or feeding millions of hungry. He said President Roosevelt ineffectually chose the latter course."

Prosecution Paints Insull Crash Scene

CHICAGO, Oct. 9 — For the first time since Samuel Insull and 16 associates went on trial for a $143,000 mail fraud, government prosecutors today attempted to permit a picture in testimony of the crash of Insull's fortunes.

Forty men and women were summoned to tell of the loss of fortunes wiped out when the $2,000,000,000 Insull utilities chain fell in financial ruins.

Rebel Stronghold In Spain Is Taken

MADRID, Spain, Oct. 9 — Troops captured the rebel stronghold of Trubia, in the outskirts of Oviedo today without firing a shot. Eight hundred prisoners were taken.

At the same time, government airplanes bombed three rebel centers near Oviedo. Two of the centers were reported to have been destroyed.

Meanwhile members of the parliament gathered for a session expected to bring stern measures to suppress the revolt. A thousand members of the Spanish foreign legion arrived at Barcelona from Morocco and it was believed 3,000 more would arrive soon.

Salsberry and Bass Trial Opens Today

CENTERTVILLE, Texas, Oct. 9 — Trial of Mrs. Daisy Salsberry, 45, and Ivo Bass, 27, on charges of murder in connection with the death of Charles Salsberry, 28, whose body was found in his burning home here last August, was to start here today.

The state claimed Salsberry was poisoned and left in the burning home because he was jealous of Bass' attentions to Mrs. Salsberry.

The district attorney said they would ask the jury to send Bass to the electric chair.

PAW PAW CROP LIGHT

YORKVILLE, Ohio, Oct. 9 — Even luscious fall paw paws were affected here by summer drought. Although considerably dwarfed this year, the wild fruit has its usual mellow flavor. Valley post offices have reeked during the last two weeks with fragrance of the banana-like fruit, being shipped to points farther East.

LIONS COMING TO CISCO FOR OPENER FRIDAY

The Brownwood Lions come to Cisco Friday evening at 8 o'clock to open the 1934 Oil Belt conference race with the Lobos on "Chesley Field."

In years past the Cisco-Brownwood game was regarded as a mere opener but the clash of the 1934 team is a serious moment in the history of the Lobo squad. Brownwood last year defeated a Cisco team the score being 7 to 6. This season, with a team said to compare with the home eleven, the prospect of a closely fought contest looms before the charges of Coaches Shelley and Hodges.

Brownwood will outweigh the Cisco team on the basis of reported weights. Furthermore, in spite of the fact that most of the players are new the Lions have real talent on their club.

It is true that the Polytechnic high team of Fort Worth scamped through the Lions for half a hundred points last week, but Coach Shelley who saw the game, declared that the big, fast Poly team is by far the best high school eleven he has seen this season and certain to go far in the state meet.

Brownwood is a much better team than the Fort Worth score indicates, he said.

A weakness at end positions, complicated by difficulty in erecting a successful defense against passes, is the main fault of the Mustangs. In an effort to halt a passing game, fatal to Lobo hopes at San Angelo a week earlier, Shelley used a five-man line part of the time against the Mustangs. The result was that the Mustang backs ran the Lobos ragged until the sixth man was restored. The experiment is not likely to be repeated against Brownwood.

The game with Brownwood will be the last, as well as the first, conference game of the Lobos on home turf until Thanksgiving day when the Eagles of Abilene come here for their annual Turkey day encounter with the Cisco boys. Game with Eastland, Breckenridge and Ranger will be played on foreign soil. That with Breckenridge, on October 28, will be the feature of a home-coming celebration at that city.

A game will be offered the home fans, however, between these important clashes in the shape of a non-conference fray with the Quanah team. Outside of that the home folks must take themselves to other towns over the long interval if they wish to see the Lobos in action.

Don't Let Them Start

Argentina, according to word from Buenos Aires, has withdrawn from the three-cornered attempt with the United States and Brazil to bring the war in the Gran Chaco to a close.

The league has, if course, the covenant; but the question is whether it has the will to apply it, by finding one or the other combatant guilty of causing the conflict, and taking steps against it.

Aside from the difficulty of identifying the aggressor, and the apparent lack of desire on the part of the league to impose penalties if one is found, the situation in the field makes peace hard to arrange through any third party.

All of which goes to show that the way to stop a war is to keep it from starting. Intervention before the armies begin killing each other, especially intervention backed by threats with power behind them, might have prevented the Chaco struggle.

Police More Efficient

If the criminal charges proposed against Hauptmann prevail, it will mean that in 14 out of 15 major kidnappings in the United States since March 1, 1932, the date of the Lindbergh abduction, the police have gone as far as they are able.

The record of authority in combatting one of the most repulsive types of crime has served greatly to raise all police agencies in public esteem in these last two years.

Freed of this burden, and restored to its original function of enforcing law which interprets the sentiment of all citizens, the police are setting up more respectable records, recapturing the spirit essential to success in their work, and reclaiming a great deal of that public confidence without which it can not hope to labor with effect.

Credit Democratization Makes Loans For Renovation Available on Character

"Democratization" of credit on a vast scale is here as the result of the modernization plan of the Federal Housing Administration. It was declared recently in an address by Roger Steffan, director of modernization credits for the administration.

"For the first time in banking history," said Steffan, speaking before Ohio Building Association league at Cincinnati, "it is possible — if not for the man in the street — at least for the man with a home — to apply to any cooperating financial institution, whether or not he had a previous banking connection there. That is a stupendous fact regarding the broadening of the credit base in this country, that has escaped the recognition that it otherwise would have received because of the many other dramatic phases of the modernization credit plan."

He described the plan as a "workable credit loan" sponsored by the United States government and implemented by private capital, such as the local federal savings and loan associations. The plan, he said, is lacking in red tape and in the place of collateral, co-makers, endorser's mortgages and other security, substitutes a contract of insurance.

"This," he said, "protects it is considered 100 per cent financial institutions against credit loss, and thereby, in effect, is intended to release unsecured credit based on character and earning power to property owners so they can improve and enjoy their properties now, and pay for these desirable results with very small monthly installments over a period of from one to five years."

Credit on Character
The main agencies in renovation of properties, and the only tests for applicants are whether or not the payments are within his means, and whether or not he will pay, he said.

Any property owner may apply for a loan under the plan, as explained by Steffan. Loans of from $100 to $2,000 are available on notes running from one to five years. The financial institution may not collect more than $5 discount per $100 original face amount of a one-year note. Charge for longer periods than one year are on the same basis. Note may be paid in full before maturity.

INDIANS SPURN WHITE FATHER'S MEDICINE MEN

MESA VERDE CAMP, Ariz., Oct. 7

— Indian medicine men and their Red Six brethren on numerous reservations in Arizona have no use for modern medical science.

For generations the practice of curing for the sick in their native ways has been handed down from one medicine man to another and still dominates unless the scattered Indian colonies are watched closely. Evidence of this was brought here this week by Dr. B. Huff, physician on the Apache Indian reservation.

His report that two Indian youths already have died from an epidemic of measles and many others are confined to their tepees, some in a serious condition, has caused E. W. Frailey, reservation superintendent to close all schools and order the medicine men to end their treating the cases.

This has renewed a long standing fight between medical science and the teachings of the tribal medicine men.

The Indians confine their cases to large pits, known as roasting pits where the ill remain as long as they can endure the heat from fires built about the pits. When the agony and burning can be endured no longer they run to the nearest stream and plunge into the water.

The fire of the roasting-pits is supposed to chase the evil spirits within the body outside and the water is supposed to cleanse the outer portions of all such demons, according to the superstition of the Apache tribe.

This method of treatment is one of the greatest hindrances to fighting the disease that has caused much worry on the reservation, according to Dr. Huff.

"JACK KELLY'S" ABUNDANT

MT. VERNON, O., Oct. 7—A news story circulated widely by the United Press mail service concerning a Jack Kelly who left a roll of bills for Jim Platt, local theater manager, to keep for him brought letters from dozens of "Jack Kelly" claimants to the roll. Platt said he had never heard of the man, and that he was still holding the bills.

"There is an increase for 1934 of $117,116,913," the press league's bulletin pointed out. "Of this amount $24,463,737 — or $136,642 daily, 30 days a month for every month since Jan. 1—has been going into the hands of royalty owners alone, covering their owners' one-eighth, with the money being spread over the entire state."

Farmers of the state, directly affected by the drought, aren't in such bad shape, either, the league's statistics show.

Value of the state's five major crops—cotton, wheat, corn, oats, and grain sorghums—is more than $302,000,000 greater than for 1932 and more than $140,000,000 greater than for 1931.

DROUTH BROUGHT SANTA CLAUS TO FARMERS OF MIDDLEWEST

DALLAS, Oct. 9—It was pretty bad, all right, but the drouth in Texas was not quite the calamity it was painted, an exhaustive survey by the Texas Daily Press League indicated.

The rainfall maps and charts showing estimates of crop conditions placed Texas in the "drouth area," but, as one economist pointed out, "business maps don't come with rainfall maps."

With most of the state's crops harvested and the proceeds therefrom in circulation or in the bank, and with ranches cleared of surplus or diseased cattle, conditions appear not nearly so bad as calamity howlers predicted, according to the league's review.

Oil was one factor that kept Texas business on the upgrade despite the effects of drouth, the press league's bulletin disclosed. So far as oil was concerned "there was no crop failure."

Oil Income Doubled

Texas received more than twice as much for oil produced in the first six months of 1934 as during the same period of 1933, the survey showed. For the first half of last year the state produced 185,025,533 barrels of oil sold for $78,592,987. For the same period this year the oil income was $197,709,900, although only a little more petroleum was produced—186,306,737 barrels.

"Here is an increase for 1934 of $117,116,913," the press league's bulletin pointed out. "Of this amount $24,463,737 — or $136,642 daily, 30 days a month for every month since Jan. 1—has been going into the hands of royalty owners alone, covering their owners' one-eighth, with the money being spread over the entire state."

Exaggerated Idea

The press league blames it on an exaggerated idea of harm done by the drouth which in turn resulted from the scramble for state and federal relief funds.

Instead of counting their blessings the various communities tabulated their ailments in order to impress relief agencies and thus get a bigger share of relief funds than they would otherwise receive.

Even cattlemen, admittedly the greatest drouth sufferers, are not as bad off as vivid tales of starving cattle, dying on the ranges or being slaughtered by government agents.

would indicate, the league concludes. The survey quoted from the magazine "Farm and Ranch" to show that much of the slaughtering was primarily to eradicate tuberculosis and Bang's disease. It was a health measure carried out with funds appropriated long before the drouth, the magazine stated.

That so many Texas counties went on the federal "emergency drouth relief" lists, according to the magazine, "is evidence that alert farmers sensed the opportunity to cull their herds of unprofitable animals.

"In no sense can 'drouth relief' be interpreted to mean suffering and want."

"The cattlemen are accustomed to playing long shots," the league comments. "In the dry areas the cattlemen has never 'hit' more than once in three years."

For this reason the drouth in many instances was a disguised blessing. It brought with it federal payments that helped the ranchman to sustain his loss whereas in other years he had to bear it alone.

Drouth also brought higher prices for the farm products in its wake, so that in a large measure reduced production was offset by higher returns for what crops were salvaged.

300,000 GALS. DRAINED

LENEXA, Kan., Oct. 9—Looking for a needle in a haystack couldn't be much worse than trying to find a diamond ring in a lake, Joe Singer believes, but at any rate he has his ring back. Workmen put in three days draining 300,000 gallons of water from the lake before they recovered the ring.

universities and colleges who are there merely to "pass the time away," out it is the expressed belief of teachers that the percentage of such students is much smaller than in times past.

The improved efficiency of high school education throughout Texas is also credited with having had much to do with the sending of more students to the higher educational institutions than was the case a few years ago.

ALMOST 1,000 INCREASE

AUSTIN, Oct. 9—Just eleven short of one thousand more students had enrolled at the University of Texas by October 6, 1934, than on the corresponding date last year, according to records of the auditor. Students have until October 15 to register for credit. A total of 1,000 students had registered through October 5, as compared with 1,000 the year. This figure surpasses the total enrollment for the session.

Relieves Headache Due To Constipation

"Theford's Black-Drug" has been used in my family for years. I take it whenever I have a headache that comes from constipation. When I take a dose of Theford's, I feel a breeze coming on. I take a dose easy. Before I know it, I have used Black-Drug three days—but not any more. I have used Black-Drug Theford's Black-Drug. "CHILDREN LIKE THE DRUG."

This is Fire Prevention Week!

Help Make Your City Safe From Fires by Always Observing The Ten Rules in Your Home.

1. Keep matches in closed container and the reach of children. Handle matches carefully, and dispose of them properly and see to it that they are extinguished before leaving your hand.
2. Keep all gas lights and open flames away from woodwork or other material that will burn. Keep low curtains to hang near these flames, for they may blow them into contact with the fire.
3. Always disconnect the electric iron, or heater or other electric appliance from the socket not using them. Never use any substitute for a fuse.
4. Watch the gas stove—do not use rubber connections.
5. Keep floor mops in a metal container, and not place them in the closet.
6. Promptly collect and remove all rubbish. Refuse matter. Keep the basement and space stairways clean. Then take a look in the attic clear out the things you do not use.
7. Do not start fires with coal oil, benzine or kerosene.
8. If gasoline is ever used for cleaning put away the work out of doors.
9. Learn the location of the nearest Fire Box, and post the Fire Department's telephone number in a convenient place.
10. Inspect your property frequently.
