Train Tomorrow's Drivers Today

High schools throughout the country are being called upon by leading educators to enact a major role in solving the automobile accident problem.

As a contribution to this cause, and to give the schools definite tools with which to work, the Education Division of the National Safety Council in New York City has prepared a textbook on the subject called: "Good Driving—A Manual for the High Schools."

In brief, the manual attempts to describe what an automobile is and how to operate it. It is illustrated with charts and photographs and contains a list of reference material for those who wish to develop special topics.

The importance of this work is emphasized by the fact that in some states there is no law to prevent a child from stepping from the tiller of his kiddie car to the wheel of a high powered automobile.

Your Business May Be Next

In commenting upon government competition with the power industry, J. E. Callbreath, Secretary of the American Mining Congress, recently said: "The writer has no brief for the power companies of the country, but he does believe that this interference with private enterprise is not only an outrage upon investors but will prevent future development."

Those who think that destruction of the power industry would not affect their businesses and their interests are due for a sad awakening. What must be constantly remembered is that, even though power is the political target now, those who are fighting it will not long be satisfied to do battle on a single front.

The fact of the matter is that a determined demand is being made to revolutionize our entire principle of government in its relation to private industry. Under proposed theories, individual initiative would be suppressed. Enterprise would become a crime against the state.

Every American has a direct and personal interest in the power fight and in seeing that politics is not allowed to destroy this great industry—and destroy with it hundreds of millions of dollars in invested savings.

"The political government cannot take over and operate the commercial enterprises of the nation without destroying the constitutional foundations of our government."—Donald R. Richberg.

Texas Topics

By RAYMOND BROOKS

AUSTIN, Nov. 13 — The state game department has a sort of "roll of honor" in its names of Texas citizens whose lands contain lakes from which the department is given the privilege each year of collecting brood fish for supplying its hatcheries, and thus in turn restocking the streams of the state with game fish. The list also includes names of ranch owners who cooperate with the state in the development of wild game animals and game bird resources. These lands constitute a sort of breeding ground from which game is taken to sparse sections and released.

ment, have a staunch friend in Congressman J. P. Buchanan, chairman of the house appropriations committee of congress. Mr. Buchanan has visioned, as an adjunct of the great Lake Buchanan project, a federal government game-preserving preserve and a federal fish hatchery operated on one of the tributaries of the Colorado river above Buchanan dam. He has pledged the states his fullest cooperation in making this game preserve and fish hatchery a reality when the dam has been completed.

The Clew of the Forgotten Murder

BEGIN HERE TODAY. When CHARLES MORDEK, reporter for The Blade, is found dead DAN BLEEKER, publisher, employs STELLA MUCKLEY, criminologist, to solve the murder. Mordek had been investigating the affairs of FRANK B. CATHAY, wealthy and prominent, following the arrest of an impostor claiming to be Cathay and accompanied by a girl called MARY BRIGGS. The day following Mordek's death Cathay dies of poisoning. Griff learns Mordek had visited the apartment of ALICE EORTON, pretty and unemployed. He confers with KENNETH BOONE, accuses the pair of killing Mordek, and they are arrested. Mrs. B. ANCHER, a doctor, for whom Mrs. Cathay and Carl Racine, detective employed by her, have been searching, is located. Griff and Bleeker interrupt a conference between the three. Later they go to the hotel where Mary Briggs, now known as Stella Muckley, is staying. They find CHARLES FISHER, Cathay's lawyer, talking to the girl. NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XXXV CHARLES FISHER twisted his lips in a sheepish smile. "Gentlemen," he said, "may I congratulate you upon your perspicacity." "Griff met his gaze steadily. "I want to congratulate you," he said, "upon your quick presence of mind. I wasn't certain that you had seen us in the lobby when we entered the hotel." "Will you please," said the young woman in tones of fey dignity, "explain to me the meaning of this—all three of you?" Fisher's smile faded from his face. He glanced significantly at the criminologist. "Gentlemen," he said, "I had, as you know, just entered the room when you knocked. I had not had an opportunity to state the purpose of my errand to Miss Muckley. I think that you will, perhaps, benefit far more if you let me ask the questions. After I have finished you are, of course, at liberty to ask any questions that you wish." Griff nodded. "I'm not so certain," Bleeker said, "but what..." "Naturally," Griff broke in, "Mr. Fisher knows more about the matter than we do. He's in a position to ask more intelligent questions." "Thank you," said Fisher with dignity. "I am still waiting," said the young woman, "to know what this is all about." Fisher faced her and stared accusingly into her alert black eyes. "When you gave the name of Mary Briggs to the police," he said, "and insisted that you were a hitch-hiker you must have known that eventually you were going to be called upon to make a more complete explanation." THE young woman stared at him with eyes that slowly widened. Her lips parted. Her quick breathing showed her sudden agitation. She took two steps and dropped into a chair as though the strength had left her knees. "How did you find out?" she asked. Fisher's smile was the smile of a vigorous attorney who is about to embark upon the cross-examination of a helpless witness, a witness

LOTIEF ISSUES STATEMENT ON TAX REMISSION

Following the passage of the delinquent tax penalty and interest remission bill in the state legislature, the following statement was issued by Rep. Cecil A. Lotief of the 107th district: "The committee report on the delinquent tax bill has finally passed both houses of the legislature and will now go to the governor's office for her approval. "The bill, as passed, will not become effective until February 8, 1935, because it failed to get the necessary two-thirds vote in the senate to put it into immediate effect. Under this law all interest and penalties that have accrued on all ad valorem and poll taxes which were delinquent on or before August 1, 1934, are released if such taxes are paid on or before March 15, 1935. This includes city and school district taxes, as well as county and state. "Such taxes may be paid after March 15, and before April 1, 1935, with an addition of two per cent penalty on said taxes, and may be paid during the month of April, April, 1935, with an addition of three per cent. If paid during the month of May, four per cent penalty is added and if paid in June a penalty of five per cent. If such taxes are paid after June 30, 1935, eight per cent penalty is added thereto, together with interest on said taxes at the rate of six per cent per annum on and from July 1, 1935. "Under this act if such delinquent taxes are not paid on or before March 15, 1935, the provisions of this act shall not apply to cities, town and independent school districts, unless and until the governing body thereof shall adopt a resolution, or ordinance adopting the provisions of this act. "The act does not delay or extend the time for payment of delinquent taxes, nor prevent suits for collection."

Did You Ever Stop To Think

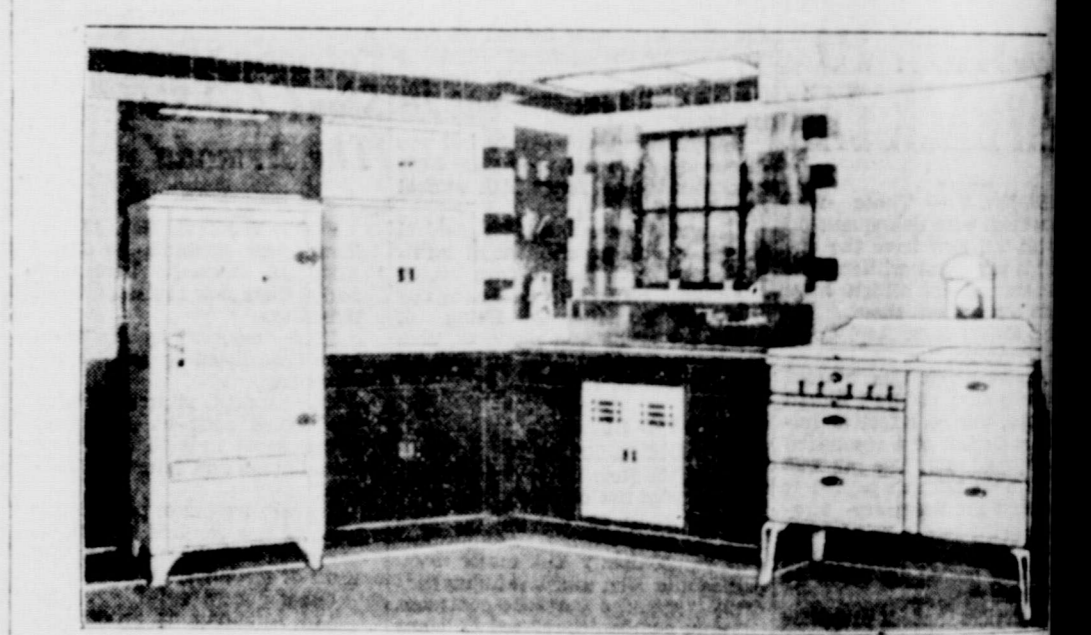

By Edson R. Waite Shawnee, Oklahoma William Southern, Jr., publisher of the Independence (Mo.) Examiner, says: "It is a curious thing that men desiring success in business will see other merchants next door making a success by advertising and refusing to understand how it is done. "In every city in the country, large and small, are outstanding advertisers whose success is primarily and exclusively due to the extensive use of the local newspaper. An enterprising merchant comes to town and immediately cleans up the store, puts in a good stock and begins an advertising campaign. The first broadcast in a page in the local paper. This brings a fine business to the new store for several reasons. First, there is the element of curiosity; next, there are the offered bargains in the advertisement; and third, the purchasers are comparing prices and quality to see if the store is on the level and if they get the goods as advertised. It is important, of course, that the merchandise be handled properly and that it be worth the money. "With this as a foundation, extensive advertising does the rest. The new store continues to carry a page at least once a week, some of the same; but remits penalty and interest as above set out. The act provides that no additional cost shall be charged against anyone who shall pay his taxes under the terms of this act. "The act further provides that any person shall have the right to pay any of such taxes for any one year, or for any number of years without at the same time paying other taxes that may be then delinquent."

Texas Keeps Track Of Her Earthquakes

AUSTIN, Nov. 13 — Texas does not hide her earthquakes. She boasts of them. Dr. E. H. Hobbs, director of the Bureau of Geology, University of Texas, issued a bulletin on them. "There have been four in the last 10 years. On July 20, 1925, one occurred about Amarillo. It covered the Texas Panhandle and parts of Oklahoma, Kansas, Colorado and New Mexico. "A little more than a year later a severe quake occurred in the same area. Considerable damage was done. Small earthquakes were felt by Mexico, April 9, 1927, in Paris, Texas, on April 11, 1927, in Roundup, and on April 12, 1927, in Amarillo. "Roundup want ads are a vestment—Phone 80."

BULLDOGS IN FIRST PLACE WITH 42-0 WIN

Before an Armistice Day crowd of 6,000, the Ranger Bulldogs Monday continued their unbroken march toward a district crown by overwhelming the Cisco Lobos under a 42 to 0 score.

Without Caffrey, who was injured late in the first quarter, the Lobos were unable to cope with the heavy Ranger backs, and Britt and Anderson ran wild to lead the Maroon and White to a six-touchdown victory. Anderson kicked each goal.

The third Ranger touchdown also came in the second period. After the Lobos had worked the ball into Ranger territory, Anderson quick-kicked out on the Cisco 49-yard line. Warden stepped up and snatched Groce's pass intended for Stansbury to gallop 45 yards for a score.

The Lobos then came back and began a drive down the field. Stansbury took Anderson's kick on the Cisco five yard stripe and returned to the 39. Then Ranger drew a 15-yard penalty that took the ball into Bulldog territory and gave the Lobos their initial first down.

The Bulldogs made two touchdowns in the third quarter. The Lobos were penalized 15 yards and Rylee kicked out of bounds on the Ranger 49. The Bulldogs alternated at the business of line busting and came steadily down the field, and Anderson went over for the touchdown and followed the effort with an extra point from placement.

Even 'Eternal Hills' of North Carolina Feel March of Progress Under New Deal

ROBBINSVILLE, N. C., Nov. 13.—Even the "eternal hills" have yielded to modernity. Mountains have proved to be no barrier against progress. The "New Deal" has found its way into Graham county, for decades cut off from the rest of North Carolina by rock-ribbed walls reared by nature.

Leading farmers estimate that there are enough home-grown products in storage here this fall to feed the entire population of Graham county, including the livestock, until next spring. This can be done without a cent of added expense, it is said.

GRANDPARENTS OF 1934 HORSE BEING STUDIED

By HILLIER KRIEGHBAUM United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—The biography of "grandparents" of the present horse—animals which roamed North America several million years ago—is being compiled by Smithsonian Institution scientists.

The collection represents the largest aggregation of prehistoric horse remains uncovered. It ranged from remains of animals little more than colts to aged horses. Scientists said the wide number of specimens would allow them to study individual variations of the species as they never had been able to do before because of the limited number of skeletons available for study.

FAMOUS FOOTBALL FEATS!

COLUMBIA had pointed for the Cornell game all year in 1930, and when Ralph Hewitt stepped back 10 yards from the scrimmage line, with the ball at midfield, he booted a 60-yard drop kick that crossed between the goal posts, cohorts of the boys were jubilant. But not for long! Cornell came back with a terrific drive that soon pushed over even points—and the poor Lion was due take its annual sock on the chin. Then occurred one of the most dramatic days of the season. Hewitt, on his own 10-yard line, caught the Cornell kickoff. On the dead run he sidestepped and stiffened his way down the field 90 yards for a Columbia touchdown that won the game, 10-7.

Relief Clients To Be Given Potatoes

AUSTIN, Nov. 13—County administrators today were advised to call at central distribution points over the state for allotments of Maine Irish potatoes, which will be distributed as a surplus commodity by the Texas Relief Commission to all destitute families in Texas. Administrators will call for allotments when they are notified from distribution centers.

The shipment contained 7415,000 pounds of potatoes and will supply not only relief roll families but also the transient bureaus of the state.

Distribution will be made on the basis of 30 pounds per family of five per month, large families receiving more, small families less.

FLIERS SPUR BUSINESS
CADIZ, O. Nov. 13—Cadiz wants stratosphere fliers to land here again. When Mr. and Mrs. Jean Picard landed in a tree near here, gas stations serving hundreds of curious motorists enjoyed an immediate heavy business. Phone lines

NEGLECT OF COMMON CONSTIPATION IS A SERIOUS MATTER

Prevent This Condition with Kellogg's ALL-BRAN

The first question your doctor asks is whether you are constipated or not. He knows that this condition may cause headaches, loss of appetite and energy, sleeplessness. It is often the starting point of serious illness.

You can prevent and relieve common constipation so easily. Just eat a delicious cereal once a day. Laboratory tests show that Kellogg's ALL-BRAN provides "bulk" and vitamin B to aid regular habits. ALL-BRAN is also a rich source of blood-building iron.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like that found in leafy vegetables. Within the body, it forms a soft mass. Gently, it clears out the intestinal wastes.

Isn't this "cereal way" safer and far more pleasant than taking patent medicines—so often harmful? Two tablespoonsful of ALL-BRAN daily are usually sufficient. With each meal in chronic cases. If seriously ill, see your doctor—ALL-BRAN is not a "cure-all."

Enjoy ALL-BRAN as a cereal, or use in cooking. Get the red-and-green package at your grocer's. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

LAX THE BLADDER

Use Juniper Oil, Buchu Leaves, Etc.
If you are bothered getting up nights, burning leg pains, backache, make this 25c test. Flush out the excess acids and waste matter that cause irritation. Get Juniper oil, extract Buchu leaves, etc., in green tablets called BUKETS, the bladder laxative. After four days if not satisfied any druggist will return your 25c. DEAN DRUG CO.

HUGE CUCUMBER WON

HAVRE, Mont., Nov. 13—A cucumber supplied a lot of excitement for A. W. Slight and his family. Slight's cucumber measured 26 3/4 inches long and weighed 10 1/2 pounds. It was adjudged the largest grown in the nation this year, by a seed house.

TULLOS BROS.

Fair enough—

WE tell you that Chesterfield Cigarettes are made of mild, ripe tobaccos. We've told you about the paper—that it's pure and burns right, without taste or odor.

We have said that Chesterfields are made right. The tobaccos are aged, then blended and cross-blended, and cut into shreds the right width and length to smoke right.

These things are done to make what people want—a cigarette that's milder, a cigarette that tastes better—a cigarette that satisfies.

You can prove what we tell you about Chesterfield. May we ask you to try them—that would seem to be fair enough.
