France Sets Out Clear-Cut Foreign Policy

STATEMENT IS BASIS OF NEW PEACE TALKS

PARIS, France, Dec. 1 — France furnished friends and enemies in Europe today with a clear out statement of foreign policy as a basis for discussions of whether to continue preparations for war or start practical negotiations for peace.

The keynote as laid down by Pierre Laval, foreign minister was:— France sincerely invites Germany into negotiations designed to consolidate but it will not abandon its present allies nor depart from the machinery of the League of Nations to win Germany over.

1— France sincerely invites Germany into negotiations designed to consolidate but it will not abandon its present allies nor depart from the machinery of the League of Nations to win Germany over.

2— It will not be a fact the permanent of Germany in violation of the Versailles treaty.

3— It will insist that the Saar plebiscite January 13, is conducted fairly and without coercion and if it is, will abide by the result.

Laval spoke in the chamber of deputies last night in debate on the budget of foreign affairs. His speech was received with tremendous enthusiasm.

LADY LIONS TO HAVE CARNIVAL ON DECEMBER 13

Committees are already at work and a score of attractions have been scheduled for the event and funds necessary to make it a scream of fun and merriment have already been underwritten, according to those in charge.

Much secrecy about the matter lends more enchantment to the event. Very little has been let out just yet, says the committee, adding that there is a strong jail already built and ready for use. Just what part this is going to play can only be conjectured, but it is safe to say that some Lions who have never been locked up before are going to suffer incarceration on the evening of Dec. 13, the time for which the carnival has been scheduled.

They are urging that every one in Cisco, whether they are Lions or not, arrange to attend this home talent carnival, as it will be open to all.

SENTIMENT ON VETS BONUS IS UNFAVORABLE

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1.—Unfavorable sentiment toward a suggested compromise payment of the veterans bonus was expressed by members of the house today.

Rep. John Ramm, Democrat, Missouri, chairman of the house veterans committee candidate for speaker, said he believed that a large percentage of both houses were pledged to payment of the bonus in full.

Ramm's opinion came after a statement by Frederick Steiwer, Representative, Ore. that payment of the cash value of the bonus to needy former soldiers would be unacceptable to the veterans.

GETS RARE BOOKS

CHAPEL HILL, S. C., Dec. 1 — A new addition to the University of North Carolina library includes 58 books printed in the 15th Century, over 800 manuscripts on parchment dating back to the 11th Century, and a number of manuscripts of the medieval period.

Guns of His Victims Get "Baby Face."

George (Baby Face) Nelson who advanced to the unenvied position of Public Enemy No. 1 by the elimination process, on a slab in a Niles Center, Ill., undertaking parlor. He was found beside a road near there, dead of bullet wounds suffered in the battle with two federal agents he fatally shot. Behind are the men who found him.

POLICE STUDY KIDNAP THREAT IN OKLAHOMA

TULSA, Dec. 1.—Study of the mysterious slaying of John Gorrel 23 led city criminologists today to re-examination of a threat made last summer to kidnap the daughter of a wealthy Tulsa oil man.

Meantime investigators learned young Gorrel received a telephone call at dinner Thursday night, a few hours before he was killed, which left him pale and tense. The youth's mother said he refused to discuss the call with her.

Gorrel, a dental college student home from Kansas City for the holidays, was found dead with two bullet wounds in his head in his stalled sedan on a lonely driveway early yesterday. The shots had been fired from his own pistol, which evidently had been wiped clean of fingerprints and restored to a holster.

Milk, Cheese Prices Highest Since 1931

DENISON, Dec. 1 — Milk and cheese prices here are at the highest level since 1931.

During the past month cheese prices have risen 5 cents per pound at the Kraft Cheese plant here, bringing the price up to 32 cents per pound.

The Denison plant uses about 35,000 pounds of milk daily. It is brought in by twenty-five trucks operating within a radius of 50 miles.

Sheriff Captures 150-Gallon Still

Sheriff Virge Foster captured a 150-gallon still between Cisco and Eastland Friday night, according to local police.

The still, which had never been used, was stored at the city hall here until Saturday morning, while the owner was allowed to return to his home near Cross Plains in Calahan county, officers said. He was to return today, it was said.

Molest Property? Were Eating It Up

HOUSTON, Dec. 1 — Charles Heuschle, 75, was charged with malicious mischief in the shooting of three of his neighbor's turkeys.

He told the court he shot them when he found the fowls in his truck garden, attacking his string beans and black-eyed peas.

"Did you shoot them because they were molesting your property?" he was asked.

"Molesting it!" the aged man cried. "By golly, they were eating it up."

He was assessed a small fine, which he said he would appeal.

CARBON BLACK PLANT PERMIT IS REPORTED

It was reported here Saturday that Hickock oil and gas interests had been awarded a permit to establish a carbon black plant in or near Cisco. The report said that the Oil and Gas division of the Texas Railroad commission had granted the permit to the organization.

R. L. Ponsler, head of Hickock interests in Texas, could not be reached for a statement last night, and others connected with the Cisco Gas corporation here and the Consolidated Gasoline company at Eastland had no available figures and were unwilling to make definite statement concerning the reported permit and plant.

It was pointed out that such a plant would call for the expenditure of a large amount of money and a large payroll at Cisco.

Plans Saturday night were indefinite, and those connected with the gas company said they could not reveal even these without a statement from Ponsler.

SALT LAKE GROWS SMALLER

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, Dec. 1.—Great Salt Lake is smaller and saltier than ever before in the history of white men in this region, District Engineer A. B. Purton of the United States Geological Survey surface water division reports the lake 1.1 feet below the zero mark record in 1905.

GIRL CHARGED WITH SLAYING FATHER FREED

FLORESVILLE, Dec. 1 — Miss Inez Passmore, 16-year-old farm girl, today was freed of charges of murdering her father, who had slain her sweetheart and threatening members of her own family.

A jury in district court returned a directed verdict of not guilty in the slaying of G. A. Passmore.

Clive Chaffin, youth employed on the Passmore farm near Nixon, was shot to death when Passmore became enraged of his attentions to Miss Passmore. She said she shot her father when he threatened her and other members of the family immediately after he killed Chaffin.

Yale Man In Panama Asks About Old Eli

PORT ARTHUR, Dec. 1 — Old Eli Yale can be proud of the loyalty of Joe Lynch.

E. C. Caffery, operator at the radium station in West Port Arthur, was surprised recently to pull the following message out of air.

"Ray for Old Eli!" came back the wireless message from Panama, more than 1,800 miles away.

Church Bells Again Ring Out At Mexia

MEXIA, Dec. 1 — After many years of silence a church bell will again ring out in Mexia on Sunday mornings.

The First Methodist church is erecting a 90-foot tower in back of the church and a bell will be hung there as soon as it is finished.

There have been no church bells in Mexia for many years but members of the Methodist church decided it would be a good idea to revive the old custom.

PALESTINE, Dec. 1 — Fire lanes laid out through the pine forest in the Maydelle section by the Maydelle CCC is believed an effective method of preventing future fires. The system will enable fire fighters to gain quick access to the flames and will serve as passages for residents.

FERA SCHOOL ENROLLMENT NEARLY 300

Enrollment of the FERA schools here has almost reached the 300 mark, it was announced yesterday by Lee Humphreys, supervisor. He urged other Ciscoans to register in the school as soon as possible.

"There are many people of Cisco who are not taking advantage of the exceptional opportunities offered them in these schools absolutely free," he said.

"In the commercial schools are offered courses that would cost from $75 to $125 if tuition were charged. We have a fine crop of teachers in this department, with Mrs. Allen Raymond as supervisor. These classes meet from 4 to 5 o'clock in the afternoon and at 7 o'clock each evening."

Mrs. Muriel Shook has charge of the sewing school, which meets at the high school from 1 to 4 o'clock each afternoon. Mrs. Alice Henson has charge of the sewing classes at the east ward and Mrs. Oia Ezzell and Mrs. Maude Bailey at the south ward.

Other teachers and classes listed by the supervisor are:

Mrs. A. L. Thomas, music, city hall;

J. Hollis Clark, psychology at Randolph college and orchestra work at the high school;

Miss Mattie Davidson, grammar school courses, 604 West Twelfth street;

Miss Fern Warren, grammar school subjects, 312 West Ninth street;

Miss Marjorie Lee Russell, public school subjects, 602 West Tenth street in mornings and 308 West 8th street in afternoons;

Mrs. Laura Humphreys, painting, south ward school;

Miss Evelyn Fields, public speaking;

Miss Lillian Joyner, dietetics and practical nursing, east ward school.

"We are glad to give these good reports," the supervisor said, "but more people of Cisco should enroll in some one or more of these schools while there is an opportunity."

Mother at 14; Dad's 14, Too

WINTER HITS WHOLE NATION WITH FREEZES

By United Press

Light frost accompanied the first touch of winter on the gulf coast today as the mercury dropped to 44 degrees for the season's low.

Freezing temperature gripped the north part of the state, but rising temperatures were expected for today. A ground temperature of 30 degrees was reported at Dallas and a thin layer of ice was formed on small bodies of water.

By United Press

Wintry blasts which struck yesterday in Missouri moved eastward today and lashed the great lakes region.

At least five deaths were traceable to the weather.

Highways which were clogged with stranded motorists returning from their holiday vacations were passable in every section of Missouri and Kansas today.

Storm warnings were posted on the Atlantic seaboard from Delaware to Maine.

In the Pacific northwest a blizzard raged in southeast Oregon. Snow has fallen there for two days and today there was no indication of its abating.

Drifts as deep as six feet blocked highways.

In addition to demoralization of traffic in the midwest caused by snow, which reached a depth 18 inches, great damage was inflicted on communication lines telephone and telegraph lines were out in several northern districts.

RAINS AIDED FARMERS

GONZALES, Dec. 1 — Turkeys — 30,000 of them — were brought in by farmers and sold to produce houses here. The farmers received 15 cents a pound for the birds. Recent rains have proved a great aid to the farmers, as it will help fatten the underweight birds for the Christmas market.

COMM'N NAMES RISING STAR ROAD IN LIST

AUSTIN, Dec. 1 — Texas highway commissioners today provided $2,069 for building a spur road from highway 23 to the Graves in Goliad county of Col. Fannin and his men, heroes of Texas war for independence.

Special appropriations included Eastland county, $1,266, for maintaining highway 187, northeast of Cisco. $3,000 increase in appropriation for surfacing highway 23 from Rising Star to north of Romney.

Palo Pinto county, $1,306 for maintaining highway 158 from Minnis to highway 89;

Runnells and Nolan counties $2,280, for fencing the right-of-way on highway 158, and $324 for fencing the same in Nolan county.

THINK GARNER WILL SUPPORT SAM RAYBURN

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1 — The capital consensus today is that Vice President Garner hopes to maneuver Rep. Sam Rayburn of Texas into the speakership or majority leadership of the House.

That probably is one of the interests which is bringing Garner to Washington next week a month ahead of his usual schedule. He is expected also to help the administration plan a practicable legislative schedule. Much of the New Deal's battle to control congress will depend on party conferences here during the next three weeks.

Mr. Rayburn came to congress in 1913 and is rated among the most able of Democratic legislators.

But Majority Leader Joseph W. Bryans of Tennessee remains front runner in the speakership race.

Mr. Garner's House career is somewhat of a handicap to any aspiring Texans. The state has a habit of electing representatives and keeping them in office, Garner rose to the top that way, holding the House minority and majority leaderships in the past of three years before he became vice president, northern and western democrats argue that Texas has had honor enough.

More Barracks To Be At Galveston

GALVESTON, Dec. 1 — Maj. Gen. W. F. Hase, chief of the Coast Artillery Corps, has notified F. Leslie Body, general manager of the Chamber of Commerce, that barracks accommodations at Fort Crockett will be increased next year. General Hase said eight sets of quarters would be erected to house 120 enlisted men, members of an anti-aircraft regiment, who will replace the Third Attack Group which will be transferred to Barksdale field, Shreveport, La.

Hundreds View Body Of Slain Desperado

CHICAGO, Dec. 1 — Funeral services, reminiscent of the days when gang warfare raged in Chicago, were held today over the body of George (Baby Face) Nelson.

Hundreds of curious packed the small under-asking room where the remains of America's number one public enemy were laid out in a glistening, silver-white casket banked high with yellow crysanthe-mums and red rosebuds.

COLLEGE GRADUATES ONLY

BOSTON, Dec. 1 — Only college graduates will be allowed to be firemen in the future! Fire College opens for registration for 40 privates of the Boston Fire department, Dec. 3. There will be 28 lectures, which will cover all kinds of fire fighting emergency work, and departmental procedure.

Hazard of Forest Fire Reported High

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1 — Fires in unprotected forest areas of the United States last year were 20 times as damaging as blazes in protected sections, according to figures compiled by the agriculture department's forest service.

In all, fire swept 43,889,820 acres of the nation's timberland in 1933. Of this area, 40,166,900 acres was forest land devoid of protection and 3,722,920 acres was land under protection.

Approximately 20.79 per cent of the country's unprotected forests were burned, while the toll on protected land was 1.09 per cent.

All national forests are under systematic fire protection. The forest service estimated that 5333,579,240 acres need protection.

Property damage from forest fires in 1933 was estimated at $60,274,960. Compared with a five-year average of $62,831,423. The loss, however, does not include intangible values such as watershed, recreational, scenic, soil, young re-

THINK FIRST OF YOUR OWN COMMUNITY

This is your community. You live here. Probably you own a home or have business interests here. In some manner, what you have or what you earn comes from this community.

Therefore, you have a personal interest in the prosperity of your community. Also, you have a plain duty as a citizen to do what you can to promote local welfare.

You help when you buy from your neighborhood merchants. You help when you deposit money in the local bank, because the bank is the chief agency by which home money is kept circulating for home good.

One of the best ways to work for your own interests is to boost community interests.

Time To Promote More Industries

The Cisco Boosters should increase their efforts to promote industries. The time is ripe.

It would seem from industrial news from over the country, especially in the New England sector, that the present efforts of the recently organized Cisco Boosters should take on new life and renew their efforts to give wide distribution to their pamphlet advertising, "Why Cisco?" There are many things that are contributing to the fact that industry is turning its eyes to the South.

Living conditions are higher in the North and East. Strikes are a constant source of worry. Rents and fuel are also higher than that obtained and hence make higher wages necessary in the industrial East. Here are a few news clippings that show trend of the industrial mind, and which show that it is in a receptive mood for what Cisco has to offer: "A strong bid by aroused New England cotton manufacturers to reduce the wide wage gaps between North and South, was made known yesterday.

With many mills faced by the choice of liquidating, moving from New England, or coming to terms with the employers of cheaper southern labor, an exhaustive study of existing wages was today before the industry, as preliminary to a new wage agreement."

"A majority of the cotton textile industry, through its trade associations, was said to support the investigation. From all parts of New England, recurrent threats of liquidation and cases of mills moving out of the region, were said to have forced the issue."

"A group of leading executives, who did not wish to be quoted as yet, said that unless the North and South get together within a short period of time, the outlook for a wave of failures is pessimistic in the extreme."

"Investigations, it was said, disclosed spreads as high as $8 and $10 between the wages paid for identical jobs in the two competing regions. A more typical example was cited, showing the rates paid to weavers on a certain type of loom. In certain mills, they range from $13 to $15.50 in the South, where northern workers are paid from $16.50 to $21.

The plan, said to be favored by a majority of New England manufacturers, calls for minimum wage in each of several classes of workers, to replace the single minimum for all workers which exists under the NRA code."

"Southern manufacturers are already lining up to resist this plan, said a prominent manufacturer. "But one of our strongest arguments comes from this fact: that many southern mills are today paying wages close to those in the North—and these are the most successful."

"The manufacturer said that the survival of a substantial part of New England's textile industry was at stake, so serious is the impact of cheap labor competition.

The Wandering Jews

Roumania refuses a landing at Constanza to 318 Jews who have been roaming the seas for two months and appear barred from every port. Of the 239 men and 79 women, 249 are Poles. They left Varna, Bulgaria, and according to report, were to be smuggled into Palestine at night. A British warship arrested the captain for previous smuggling and turned back the ship. Bulgaria will not allow the party to return there and so each port refuses them—A country with harsh suffering would be much better than no country at all.

Russia sees four more cotton farmers sentenced to death for sabotage and failure to produce the crop allotment. This makes 17 in all who are to give their lives for this failure—Is cotton really so scarce and human life really so cheap?

President Roosevelt and his advisers work on a tremendous new electrical power program at Warm Springs, Ga., Dr. Rexford Guy Tugwell, chief brain trust, and a national power policy committee appear to round out plans recently outlined. This is not taken as meaning nation-wide ownership public utilities, but that Government competition will insure new benefits to citizens with power as the primary objective—It is all a part of the President's "better lives for billions of Americans" idea.

ADOBE FENCE CHEATS FANS

VON HORN, Tex., Dec. 1—There will be no knot hole fans here next season. The high school athletic field will be enclosed with an adobe brick fence. To enclose the field, which is 510 by 330 feet, with a seven and a half foot wall, CWA workers made 75,000 adobe bricks. They are slabs much larger than the usual commercial brick.

PAYOFF TOO MUCH

SHAMOKIN, Pa., Dec. 1—Paying off an election bet was too much for Orvie Reinard. For losing the wager he was to haul Orvil Kiskibaugh in a wheelbarrow up the side of a 1,000 foot mountain. With 400 persons looking on, Reinard began wheeling. Half way up the mountain he collapsed and was given medical treatment.

Did You Ever Stop To Think

By Edson R. Waite
Shawnee, Oklahoma

Rudolf S. Hecht, chairman of the board of the Hibernia National bank of New Orleans, and president of the American Bankers Association, says:

"Banking has been subject to every imaginable criticism. It would be useless to deny that serious errors of judgment were committed during the feverish days of the boom period, but when the critical juncture came the over-whelming majority of bankers bravely took up the broken strands of the nation's financial structure and, with undaunted courage, went forward guided only by a sincere desire to do whatever was best for the welfare of the general public. Do not think that organization of business men more willing to actually carry on and do its full share towards finding a wise and sound solution of the nation's economic problem than the American Bankers Association.

"I do not mistrust the future. Dangers still lie in our path, but we shall conquer them. Nor do I think the clouds are as black as they have been painted. I am certain that we have passed the time when there can be no doubt that the time calls for courage and cooperation of every part of our population; and let it never be truly said that the banking fraternity is not doing its full share. On the contrary, I assure the president of the United States that the American bankers will play his full part, pledging their best efforts of heart, hand and mind in aiding in the reconstruction of the nation's financial and business life upon which we are now engaged."

Texas Topics

AUSTIN, Dec. 1—Theorists in realms of the ideal will ask the legislature in January to abolish the fee system of paying officials. Sheriffs will ask it to enlarge the scope by paying them for returning prisoners who fail to be indicted. It is three to one that the sheriffs will pass their bill.

Texas motorists in 1935 will have a wide range of color combinations for license plates on their automobiles, trucks, and other motor vehicles. Passenger cars privately owned will have number plates with numbers white on red. Private trucks will have numbers in green on gray; farm trucks, black on orange; trailers will have numbers in orange on black background. Dealer's numbers will be black on green; motorbus numbers, black on green; "X" plates, or those of cities and the state, will be white on black; and "X" motorcycles, the same. Private motorcycle number plates will be black on orange, and side-car plates, orange on black.

Those who have figured out Texas relief bond bonds will be exhausted in March or April, and that no new issue would be voted and distributed before September, have pointed out the state can levy taxes and assign the revenues to an employment fund, then provide for such employment as will qualify recipients to share its returns. This employment may consist, in cases of those unable to do other work of cleaning automobiles on a street corner of sorting old clothing, or even punching a time-clock daily. They figure an immense quantity of work of a lasting value can be provided through public agencies, such as school districts, counties and cities. Some of them believe such a direct tax-supported system will meet readily federal matching requirements. This plan will be urged in January as an alternative to the issuance of any more state relief bonds and indications now point to a stringent and vigorous fight against submitting a new bond issue. Those who feel that a new bond issue is the only solution have figured $40,000,000 as the most likely figure that will be proposed on which the state would be expected to taper off its direct and work relief activities in the next three or four years. They have pointed out as a long-range ending-point the same thing as the no-bond-issue proponents a comprehensive unemployment relief and old-age pension system.

UNDER THE DOME AT AUSTIN

AUSTIN, Dec. 1—Being a state railroad commissioner saved Col. Ernest O. Thompson from going to Washington last week sans toothbrush and handkerchiefs. The Colonel had remained at his office in the state capitol signing of orders until just before train time. He rushed to the station. There, he discovered that his grip which was to have been sent to the station from the hotel, had not arrived.

The conductor obligingly withheld the signal to start while the Colonel's Gladstone was hurried to the station by a porter.

When Dan Moody was governor, he invariably caught trains just as they were on the point of leaving. He would stay in his office until the last moment, then dash to the station. Sometimes he missed a train at the station and caught it in the yards before it got out of Austin.

Texas friends of Gov. Paul McNutt were a little hurt when they failed to get any response, either of acceptance or regret to their invitations to the Indiana executive to visit them while in the state. Beside an invitation from Gov. Ellet James V. Alfred, Governor McNutt had bids from Former Attorney General R. L. Bobbitt and Mayor J. R. Eppert, both of whom were war-days associates of the Indiana.

New political jobs are the main topic of capitol discussion with the approaching change of administration and the opening of a new session of the legislature. Miss Ruth Myers comes out advantageously in the shifting deck of the attorney general's department. She held that place during the administration of Attorney General Claude Pollard. Attorney General-Elect Will McCraw has chosen her for the same place. It pays much more than the position she has been holding in the state railroad commission offices. Miss Myers is daughter of Former State Labor

Commissioner Joseph Myers.

ANN HOLLISTER, pretty and 20, sells the family antiques to pay debts of her father, now dead. On the day of the sale a young man, stopped by motor trouble, comes to her home to telephone. After he leaves Ann finds a blue envelope missing and in its place a note signed "P.K." and "K.K."

Ann gets work as a librarian and becomes friendly with SARA KINY, also employed at the library. She meets TONY MICKLE, commercial artist, and is attracted by him, though Sara warns her that Tony is hick and treacherous while Ann sees Tony frequently and realizes she is falling in love with him.

She sees the young man who bought the blue vase and learns he is PETER KENDALL, a wealthy, prominent and engaged to VALENTIA BENVENUTO, society girl. Valeria has no sympathy with Peter's ambitions and plays around with a wild crowd.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER VIII
In the entrance hall Valeria raised her lips to Peter's kiss. "Darling, I'm not letting you stay simply got to get some sleep. You know I'm on that Jung League ticket sale. So you'll have to rush along."

"I was going anyway," Peter said. "You forget I'm a working man. It's after 2 o'clock."

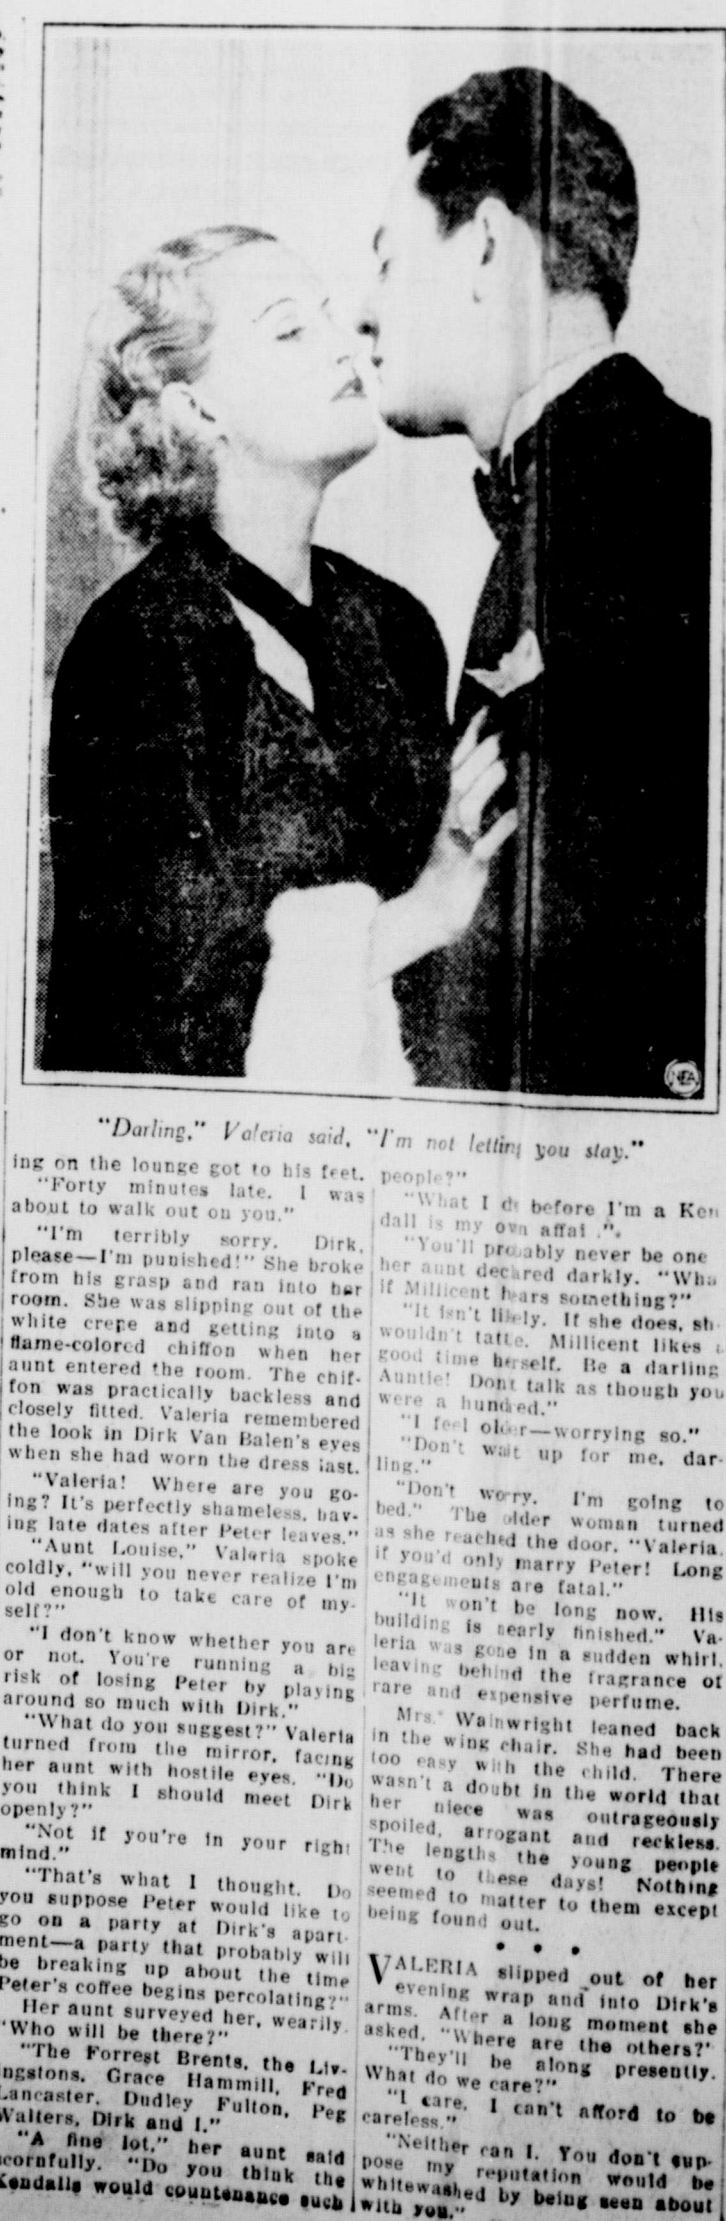

"I do forget," Valeria answered. "because there's no reason why you should be."

Peter said nothing. He and Valeria had been over this same ground so many times. She couldn't see that a man shouldn't be satisfied to sit back and do nothing, living on money he hadn't earned.

respectively, of the Abilene team, the Eagles were able to sweep down the field for three touchdowns and kick two goals.

The Loboes played brilliant football at times, but moments cost them many yards and possession of the ball when it appeared that their rallies could end only after they had crossed the goal line.

Loboes Score

The Loboes scored on the first play after they took possession of the ball in the opening quarter. Littlepage kicked to Walter who picked up the fumbled ball back of his goal line and returned to the Abilene 4-yard marker. Shytle made four at right guard and Barnes and Caffrey stopped Walter. Then Walter got off a poor kick that traveled to his own 14 yard line.

On the first play Caffrey stepped back and heaved to Burnam, who snared the ball with a beautiful catch and plowed for four yards more and a touchdown with a couple of passengers hanging on to his hips. Groce's attempt to run across for the extra point was unsuccessful.

Abilene came back then for an Eagle touchdown at the end of a long drive. Littlepage kicked to Shytle who was stopped on the Abilene 32 by Caffrey. Shytle made four at center and then five more. He made it first and 10 on the Abilene 44 yard marker. At this point Burnam was executing brilliant end play turning the runners in as they attempted to circle the wings.

Three attempts netted two yards and Walter kicked out of bounds on the Cisco 20 yard stripe. After Groce had lost 10 on a reverse, Caffrey kicked out on the Cisco 31.

larity among other boys, but the day came when he had to "make good" his boasts to keep up his reputation. Police already had an eye on this small, wistful boy back of the yards.

His deep blue eyes, his short stature and his cherubin countenance early gained him the name of "Baby Face." He detested the name and that aversion led him into many boyhood fights.

Police at first questioned and then warned him about neighborhood petty thefts. He joined a gang of "toughs" and began by stealing an automobile. At first they drove the automobiles a few hours and abandoned them.

"Girl Crazy"

Then he became "girl crazy." To get money to become a "sport" he began selling automobiles he stole. In 1925 he was caught with a stolen automobile, but was let off with a short sentence to the St. Charles School for boys.

A year later he was paroled, but twice was returned for violating the parole. Inside he was a good prisoner and was made a monitor with authority over 75 boys.

At expiration of his sentence he returned with the resolve to "go straight." The reputation he once had sought and gloried in became a burden that he couldn't throw off. Police kept him under surveillance.

Bigger and Sullen

At 21 his mother said he became bitter and sullen. Police, he complained, hounded him as he drove a delivery truck and would not let him "go straight."

A year later, in 1926, he quit his truck to throw his lot definitely with a gang of gunmen. His first major "job" was the robbery of a bank at Spring Grove, Ill.

For a time after that he was not identified as participating in any major crimes. Then he robbed a bank at Hillsdale, Ill., and another at Itasca, Ill., in 1930.

Convicted of Bank Robbery

He was captured and convicted of the Hillsdale robbery. A jury sentenced him to serve from one year to life in Joliet penitentiary. While there he participated in an attempted prison break, but was caught.

In 1932 he was brought back to be tried for the Itasca robbery. The jury sentenced him to from one to 20 years. While being returned to prison he escaped from his jail guards.

Again Nelson dropped out of police sight. He was heard from again almost two years later, when he joined the Dillinger gang after the leader had escaped from Lake County jail at Crown Point, Ind.

Machine Gunner

He became a machine gunner in the Dillinger ranks and won the reputation of having an "itchy" trigger finger. Police say he participated in every bank robbery committed by the Dillinger gang after he joined.

"Baby Face" became a trusted lieutenant of Dillinger — they were made of the same stuff — cold, hard, daring and fearless. Many of Dillinger's Chicago "contacts" with the underworld were made through Nelson.

He followed Dillinger and other members of the gang to a Wisconsin resort hideout near Mercer, last July. Their "women" wen with them. Federal department of justice agents were not far behind.

Eagle Touchdown

On the second try, Galbreath made it first down and Shytle hit the line for 9 yards. Moser went around right end for three and Moser made one. Then Shytle drove over for a touchdown. Galbreath's kick was good.

In the second quarter Abilene recovered a Lobo fumble on the Cisco 39. On second down Moser sneaked through right tackle for a first down on the Cisco 13. Walter slipped for a 10-yard loss but Jones took a pass for 2 yards and a drive at the line saved the Eagles the ball on the Cisco 4-yard stripe, and another play made it first and goal on the 3-yard line.

The Cisco line tightened for one play and then Moser plunged over for a touchdown. The kick was blocked, and the Eagles led by a 13 to 6 count when the half ended.

Second Half

Coming back for the second half, the eagles lost no time in their third and last touchdown. Howell kicked to Collum, who returned to his own yard penalty for holding and Caffrey's kick was blown out on the Cisco 35.

Caffrey and Thomas Graves stopped a drive at the line. Walter's pass was weak and two more plays gave Abilene a first down on the Loboes' 24. Walter picked up five. Walter's pass was wide, and Shytle in two tries made it first down on the Cisco 13. Shytle was stopped for no gain and Walter ran to the 2-yard line.

On second down Shytle plunged from the one-foot line for a touchdown. Walters' kick was good, to make the score Abilene 20, Cisco 6.

35-Yard Run

Cisco almost scored again in the third quarter when Caffrey, on a reverse, went around right end for 35 yards to the Abilene five yard marker. Two plays, lost five yards, though, and Beasley fumbled and lost five more on third down. Then Caffrey's pass slipped out of Stanberry's hands on fourth down, and the ball went over to the Eagles.

The Loboes made a couple of great goal-line stands in the second half when it appeared that Abilene would score again.

Shytle, Walter, Howell, Collins, and Balfanz starred for the Eagles. For the Loboes Burnam and Thomas Graves were outstanding at the ends, with Littlepage doing great work at center. Beasley, Rylee and Caffrey were the outstanding backfield men for Cisco. Caffrey's vicious blocking and tackling, as well as his efforts at getting the ball down the field earned him a berth on the all-district team alongside of Ranger's Anderson.

Baby Face Nelson's Education in Crime

By ROBERT T. LOUGHRAN
United Press Staff Correspondent
CHICAGO, Dec. 1.—Ten years ago Lester M. Gilles was a chubby, round-faced lad playing "robber" and "Indian" in the Chicago "back of the yards" district.

Now he lies on a morgue slab and a mark has been drawn through his crime name of George (Baby Face) Nelson in the police stations of every city in the nation, where he was wanted as America's number one public enemy.

In the old days of Al Capone's rule of Chicago gangland, 14-year-old George Gilles bluffed at being called bad...until his bluff was "called"; then he became a young hoodlum.

Pushed into Crime Career

He was pushed, by his own bragadoccio, into a career of crime that included bank robbery, automobile theft, murder, and a long list of other crimes.

Tuesday he died like his predecessors...John Dillinger and Charles (Pretty Boy) Floyd...with a gun in his hand and bullets in his body, but not before he had added to his list of other crimes the murder of two more United States department of justice agents.

Nelson was the last, but not the least, of the Dillinger gang that conducted a reign over the middle-west for nearly a year. The member at liberty, or perhaps also dead, is John Hamilton.

Avoided Old Haunts

For months his gangster associates had been "shadowed" by department of justice agents. He had carefully avoided his old haunts. His wife apparently deserted their two children to be with him.

In a small southwest side apartment his aged mother cared for his two small children, doctoring their childish hurts and listening to their plaints as she did her own son a few years ago.

"They'll kill George some day. I know," she said calmly. "I've already steeled myself to expect that. Yet, I dread the day they will bring his body home."

She recalled the days when he played about the stock yards. He was a hero then, she said, to every boy in the neighborhood because he always took the blame when a window was broken, or apples stolen from a peddler's wagon.

His boasting won for him a popu-

Under cover of darkness the agents surrounded the Little Bohemia, roadhouse which the gang had taken over. In some mysterious manner the Dillinger gang was warned of the trap.

Nelson with Dillinger and the rest slipped out at a back door and fled on foot. They left their women behind. The federal officers were waiting for the arrival of Melvin H. Purvis, chief of the Chicago department of justice office before striking.

On a road near the resort Nelson came upon a group of men sitting in an automobile. Thrusting his revolver into the car he said: "I don't know whether you are federal men or not but in case you are take this." He emptied his revolver. W. Carter Baum, a department of justice agent, died before he could life a machine gun that lay across his lap.
