NIMROD MAN IS SLAIN IN SHERIFF RAID

TRIED TO RUN AS ARRESTED OFFICERS SAY

One person was dead and another in jail at Eastland today pending charges of operating a whiskey still following a sheriff's raid near Nimrod at 8:30 this morning. The grand jury in session at Eastland was to investigate the shooting, it was reported.

The dead man was identified as S. W. Bachus, 42, of near Nimrod. A companion, whom reports from Eastland said was Ellis Tomlinson, was held in the city jail at Eastland after the raid.

Bachus was shot by Sheriff Virgo Foster, officers said, when he attempted to run when the sheriff and two other officers raided a still he was alleged to be operating. Officers said Foster fired above Bachus' head but the bullet struck him after ricocheting off two branches of a tree.

The ball was said to have entered Bachus' elbow and to have passed through into the right side. The body was brought to Green's general home here this morning. Police Chief M. L. Perdue accompanied the ambulance to the scene of the shooting.

Sheriff Foster was accompanied on the raid by Officers Loss Woods and Sam Hedricks.

Bachus is survived by his widow and six children. Funeral arrangements had not been made this afternoon pending arrival of the slain man's brother, it was announced by the funeral home.

A large still and several barrels of mash were reported to have been found at the place where the raid took place.

Fall Pardon Given To Joyce Howell

AUSTIN, Dec. 6 — Gov. Ferguson today fully pardoned Joyce Howell, convicted in Taylor and Palo Pinto counties of robbery with firearms and robbery in November, 1932. He had been sentenced to five years, recently receiving a conditioned pardon.

Sentence of 14 years assessed against Seth Howard in Ellis, Eastland, and six other counties on charges of theft and burglary was reduced to two years. He was convicted in February, 1934.

Colorado Seeking Erosion Control

COLORADO SPRINGS, Col., Dec. 6 — Soil erosion control experiments are being conducted in El Paso county in an effort to save the pastures and grazing land.

Soil erosion control means the difference between El Paso county becoming an eroded desert-like area of a fertile country, according to the experts who are conducting the experiments.

Grass of the Pikes Peak region has been starved down to "skin and bones." Cattle grazing on this land cannot derive enough strength from this grass to survive a hard winter. There is a good chance of bringing this land back to productivity, the experts say.

Over-grazing is another evil that has taken a heavy toll in El Paso county. Some of the lands have been practically denuded and it may be necessary to re-seed the land to produce new grass. However, experiments are being conducted to see if a rotation of grazing that will allow the land to rest, will not bring it back.

George T. Sinton, one of the leading agriculturists and dairymen of the region, has been successful with the rotation of grazing. By taking the cattle off the grazing plot for four or five weeks, late in May and early in June, the grass is allowed to come up and strengthen.

Soviet Leader Is Given Hero Funeral

MOSCOW, Dec. 6 — The Soviet Union gave a heroic funeral today to its slain leader, Sergei Kirov, and at the same time declared war on all terrorists, 66 of whom were shot summarily yesterday.

Under a leaden sky, with the thermometer around 15 below zero, Josef Stalin and other leaders carried the cremated ashes of Kirov reverently across snow-encrusted Red Square and placed them in the Kremlin wall, resting place of the Soviet great.

Hungarians Expelled From Jugo-Slavia

OPEN BREAK IS FORESEEN IN REPRISALS

(Copyright by United Press)
VIENNA, Dec. 6 — Mass expulsions of Hungarians from Jugo-Slavia in reprisal for the assassination of King Alexander brought these countries to the verge of an open break today.

By dozens, scores, and hundreds, frightened groups of men, women, and children were sent to the Hungarian frontier, torn from their homes because Jugo-Slavia holds that Hungary sheltered the terrorist gang which plotted Alexander's assassination.

Mounted police were dispatched to guard the Jugo-Slavian legation at Budapest. Extra patrols of police roamed the city, fearing mounting popular anger.

Reports in Belgrade, unconfirmed, said 15,000 persons in all would be expelled.

United Press dispatches from correspondents on the Jugo-Slavia-Hungary frontier brought pitiful stories of the groups of frightened peasants arising from their homes of many years.

The League of Nations council, meeting at Geneva, considered the Jugo-Slavian complaint to the League that Hungary sheltered the Alexander assassin gang.

HUNGARIANS ANGERED OVER REPRISALS

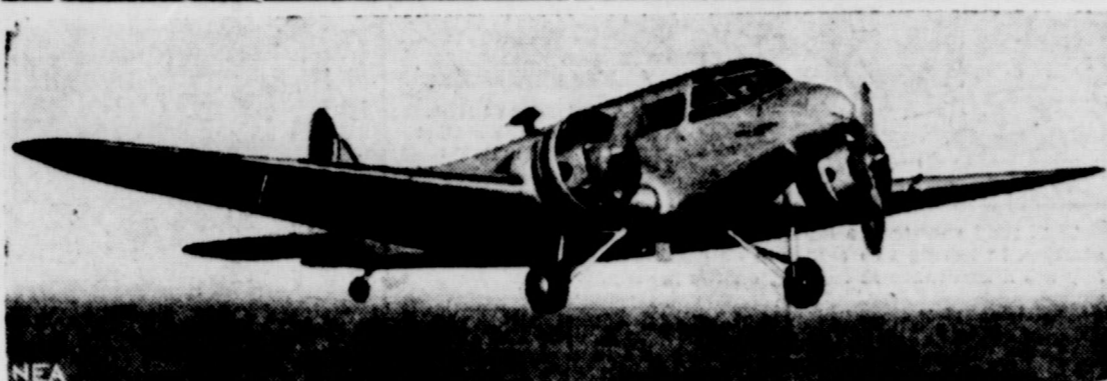

BUDAPEST, Dec. 6 — Intense indignation spread throughout Hungary today as the wholesale deportation of Hungarian families by Jugo-Slavia for the murder of King Alexander by a Jugo-Slavian terrorist.

Plane Goes Down as Hawaiian Shores Are Hailed

GIANT SEARCH FOR ULM PLANE IS ORGANIZED

HONOLULU, Dec. 6 — Determined to find some trace of the trans-Pacific flight plane, Star of Australia, the United States navy today organized a new giant comb-like maneuver in the waters off the Hawaiian Islands.

Some naval men described the move as the last desperate attempt to save Capt. Charles Ulm and his companions.

When Ulm's plane, after a flight from Oakland, Cal., became lost and took to the water Tuesday morning, the aviator said he thought the plane would float 48 hours. The deadline was yesterday.

Surface craft of the navy went into searching formation at 6 a. m., under orders to make a clean sweep of an area as far as 400 miles east of Honolulu. Submarines took up a line 10 miles apart, while destroyers cruised 15 miles apart.

COUNTRY-BOY GARNER BACK AT CAPITAL

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6 — John Garner returned to Washington today with the observation that he was "just a country boy trying to get along with the city slickers."

"You know I've been down there in Uvalde all summer and sort of wanted to see what the city life lights looked like," he growled.

"A fellow coming in from the country has to be careful. He's like a jackrabbit when the dogs get after him. He just has to crawl under a prickly-pear or a thorny bush and say nothing."

Garner, appearing in excellent health, refused to discuss the speakership fight in the house or any question of current national interest.

Giant Armadillo Remains Are Found

LUBBOCK, Dec. 6 — Teeth, leg bones, armor scutes, and pieces of ribs and vertebrae of prehistoric glyptodonts have been unearthed by a party of student geologists under the direction of Dr. M. A. Stainbrook, associate professor of geology at Texas Technological College.

The glyptodonts, giant armadillos of the pleistocene age, were excavated near the Brazos river in the vicinity of Jayton in Stonewall County. The party also found a huge bone which they believe is a part of a sloth skeleton. The remains were found four feet below the surface in a sandy formation.

Geological students forming the party included Horace Harrington, Lubbock; Kenneth Davis, Lubbock; Mark Orr, Idalou; and Powell Miller, Lubbock.

Cold Weather Hurts Fresh Vegetables

CRYSTAL CITY, Tex., Dec. 6 — Cold weather with the mercury dropping to 34 degrees, damaged the fresh vegetables grown here.

The tomato supply has dropped off, but spinach has benefited greatly by the cold weather. Car loadings of broccoli, parsley, turnips and beets are on the increase.

U. S. TO HOLD PARLEY ENDED BY JAP MOVE

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6 — Strong indications were given today that the United States will consider the London naval conversations ended if and when Japan renounces the Washington naval treaty.

United States it was said, will consider the Japanese delegates will have withdrawn from the London conversations effective from the moment that notice of termination of the naval treaties is served, unless Japan at the same time offers a definite naval limitation plan, to replace the principle of limitations in the Washington and London pacts.

This explanation of the United States position came shortly after Ambassador Norman Davis in London had made clear in a speech the United States will not accept Japan's demands for naval parity.

Any new substitute proposal, it was said, must contain a new and fundamental basis for replacement of the principle of limitation, which would so alter the situation as to make the United States feel that Japan had not intended terminating the conversations. In such event, this government would consent to further conversations in an effort to chart a practical course in the effort to continue naval limitation.

It was emphasized that even if renounced at this time, the Washington treaty, by its terms, would continue in effect until the end of 1936. The United States government hopes that in the meantime ways and means might be found to continue effective cooperation among the principal naval powers in both the field of political stability and limitations.

CISCOANS TO HEAR RUSSIAN CHORUS DEC. 17

CISCOANS will again have an opportunity of hearing the Slavian, sky Russian chorus here Dec. 17, it was announced by Director G. W. Colburn of the Lobo band. The appearance of the chorus is sponsored by the high school band and choral club.

The organization, which made its appearance several years ago as the Russian chorus, is headed by Margarita Slaviansky, world-famed conductor.

"This is a distinct educational opportunity," Director Colburn said this morning. "The chorus ranks high in present day music of the world. I remember especially the voice of its bass soloist."

The chorus has been in the United States for a number of years, where it has made concert appearances in most of the larger cities.

The band and chorus club are bringing the chorus to Cisco and will receive a part of the proceeds from the concert. The chorus will also appear in Breckenridge on the present tour.

The Bryant's Art Studio and Gift Shop, with Mrs. J. T. Bryant and daughter, Miss Pearl, as proprietresses, have moved to the former location of the Sport Shoppe next door to E. P. Crawford on D. avenue, where they want to meet all their friends during the holiday season. They expect to show you something different as gifts for the Christmas spirit.

The shop has been conducted at the proprietresses' residence during the last several years but now they feel that their increased showings warrant moving to the shopping district.

OLD SLAYING CASE SOLVED AT GROESBECK

GROESBECK, Dec. 6 — A seven-month-old kidnaping and murder case said Mrs. Adams, widow of the victim.

Rangers were searching for Mrs. Adams' son Dwayne, 26, named by the mother in an asserted confession that he helped her in the slaying of the husband and father.

Adam's body was found floating in a water tank on the outskirts of Thornton, near here, last May.

Mrs. Adams committed suicide at the home of a friend at Teague late yesterday.

Special Rangers assigned to the case said Mrs. Adams made a verbal statement that she and her son had slain her husband.

The husband, a dairyman, disappeared on the night of May 21. Dwayne received a letter next day, saying that: "We've got the wrong man. Excuse us. Your old man is in a house in Groesbeck and he will return in a few days."

DESDEMONA
Fiercely blowing north winds with air filled with sand did not prevent members of the "21" Study club from gathering at their club house on Tuesday, Nov. 27th for a luncheon given at 1 o'clock in honor of Mrs. Joseph M. Perkins, president of the 6th district of the Texas Federation and Mrs. James Horton who is secretary of 6th district, both of Eastland. Hostesses for the occasion were Mmes. W. E. Barron, Roy Ashburn and J. E. Heeter, of the social committee. Bright colored autumn leaves "mums" and roses were used in the decorations. Small tables centered with small turkeys and red leaves were quite attractive. After the guests were seated, Mrs. Barron returned thanks and the hostesses then passed the plates of chicken salad on lettuce, stuffed celery, clives, hot rolls and butter with second course of pumpkin pie, whipped cream and coffee. At the close of the luncheon, corsages of roses tied with club colors, green and white, were presented to the honorees. The roses were from the garden of Mrs. J. H. Rushing, Sr., the only charter member still a member of the club and who was unable to be present on account of illness. A very unfortunate incident was that the wood heating stove refused to burn without smoking so all present had their eyes filled with tears from the smoke. Mrs. A. B.
Hensie, president of the club, rescued the situation by inviting the guests to come to her home for the program, which consisted of talks by the honorees, Mrs. W. C. Bedford as leader introduced Mrs. Horton who talked on "County Libraries," a subject of vital interest to all club women. She gave in a very interesting manner facts in regard to benefits to be derived from a "County Library" and told how club women can help in getting one in our county. Mrs. Perkins was then introduced and talked on the recent meeting of the State Federation, giving a splendid account of the outstanding speakers at the meeting held in Austin at the Permanent Headquarters of the State Federation. Mrs. Perkins is one of the most gifted speakers in the federation and those who heard her account of the state meeting felt almost like they had been there. The "21" Study club members felt they were quite honored in having the district president and secretary as their guests. Beside the honorees,

How your MONEY WORKS FOR YOU IN A Checking Account

When you put your money in a savings account you get interest on it. In a checking account you get service for it—and let the bank draw the interest. In return for this interest the bank gives you privileges worth far more to you than the interest itself.

When you maintain a balance commensurate with your use of your checking account privileges, the bank will be reimbursed for the expense of serving you. Otherwise, the bank may properly look to you to meet this expense.

Money in a checking account is an investment that pays you real dividends.

"If a university, an alumnus, or a business wished to help a needy student with a job, scholarship, or money, everyone would applaud," he said. "If you were to do the same for an athlete, you would be regarded as a sneak and a criminal."
"Is not an athlete entitled to as much help as a non-athlete?" he asked. "Do food, lodging, clothes, or spending money mean less to him than to another?"
"I am right in saying that football and basketball are rightfully extra-curricular activities then only the good students should be allowed to participate. Let them see to it, if they wish, that no one engages in athletics unless he passes his courses above the average."
"Under such restrictions, no university would be hiring an athlete, which would be commercialization;
it would merely be helping a deserving student, known by it to be such."
"The present situation," Bongard declared, merely rewards the outlaw player and the outlaw institution. The conference pacts that now exist, benefit those who observe them as scraps of paper. They penalize those who regard them as sacred obligations. Such conference rules serve no decent purpose."

Honors in Public Office

Two men who have rendered outstanding service in state office during the past two years have been mentioned in Austin news of the past week.

Elbert Hooper, first assistant attorney general with James V. Allred, who passed up an opportunity to make a logical race for attorney general, retired from the department and opened offices for the practice of law in Austin and Tyler. He leaves behind him a record of able, constructive and devoted work in the attorney general's department; and he carries with him the consciousness that by staying on the job and directing the work of the department during the political campaign, he contributed substantially to the success of Mr. Allred's race this year—in that Allred was able to give his time to the campaign without affairs of the attorney general's department being neglected.

Scott Gaines, another young lawyer, has been advanced to the post of first assistant for the rest of the term, succeeding Hooper in that post. Mr. Gaines already one of the distinguished lawyers of the department, has been chosen by the incoming Atty. Gen. William McCraw as a member of the staff for the next two years, and with a good degree of probability of continuing then as first assistant.

Mr. Gaines bears a name noted in the legal annals of the state, and he, despite his youth, has added professional laurels to that name. There is every probability that he, in the course of the next half-dozen years, should offer his record to the electorate for the state's highest legal office.

Brisbane as Homefolks

Texans who daily read the famous articles of Arthur Brisbane will feel a closer and more personal relations to this leader of public opinion now that his daughter, Sarah Brisbane, is to become the wife of John Reagan McCreary, Jr., of Texas.

Perhaps when Editor Brisbane retires, he will come to live on the Brazos river plantation of his daughter and son-in-law, and there get acquainted with the empire of Texas, as he has come to know California in the past.

Newspaper To Teach English

A tabloid weekly newspaper, printed with a vocabulary of only 900 of the most common English words, is being introduced in factories, prisons, night schools, CCC camps and other places throughout the United States, where people are learning the English language.

It is called The American World and is sponsored by the Language Research Institute at New York University.

The eight-page newspaper has proved its worth in this field, having been used for three years in New York City night schools.

The original list worked out by the committee, known as the "traveler's vocabulary," has 300 words which is considered the irreducible minimum with which a person can get around. This was lengthened to 600 and then to 900 as the number necessary for printing a simple newspaper. The institute learned that this number represents 76 per cent of the words used in an average newspaper and that most adults have a vocabulary of about 25,000.

A few of the 900 words are still in the doubtful list, but as soon as they are finally decided upon, they will be published as a possible means of help to those teaching the foreign born.

Radio Train Orders

New England sees radio brought into successful use to reduce problems always existing in the operation of freight trains. On a daily run between Springfield, Mass., and New Haven, Conn., of the New Haven railroad a system of high frequency waves now enables the engineer to talk with the conductor in the caboose while the train rattles on as though 50 or 100 cars did not separate them. Not even earphones are necessary. Whistle blowing, shouts, red lanterns and violent waving of arms seem suddenly unnecessary and childish—Once more efficiency comes along to swallow up the picturesque.

Did You Ever Stop To Think

By Edson R. Waite

That people everywhere have become accustomed to reading the advertisements before they buy. They know that real savings await them at the stores that advertise.

Good advertising has an educational influence which makes quality merchandise known to all.

The better merchandise is known the greater the demand for it. Truth and honesty in advertisements are the greatest business-pullers in existence.

Newspaper advertisements are convenient and are time savers for the busy shoppers.

Newspaper advertisements tell where to buy quality merchandise for less money.

People like to trade where their money gets the best results. That is why they read the ads.

The successful business of today has been made possible through two forces: Quality goods and advertising. These two forces working together do the work.

Behind the Scenes in Washington

BY RODNEY DUTCHER

WASHINGTON—Between elections and the opening of Congress, your nation's capital is enjoying one of its so-called crime waves.

It's a rather weak effort—the kind of crime wave where people call mass meetings of indignant citizens and nobody comes except a few officials anxious to call names or defend themselves.

But there's been some slight clamor for ousting the police chief, who is known as "Duck Legs," and the gamblers have been seriously inconvenienced. Also, the capital is finding out what became of its many ex-bootleggers who couldn't be crowded into the legitimate liquor business.

The crime wave really didn't consist of much except the murder of a newspaper vendor whom a gambler mistook for a gambling house operator.

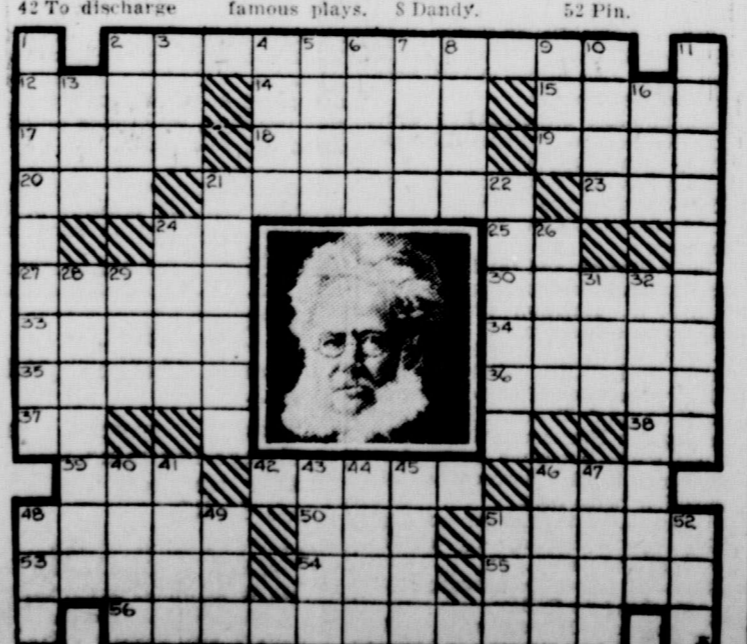

It was revealed that nearly all the surplus bootleggers had come into the gambling racket and that resultant overcrowding had led to bitter strife.

So the police have raided many of the gambling joints and the bookies and "numbers game" operators are leading miserable lives. Some of the small-time boys, according to a direct tip I get from the underworld, have now been driven back to bootlegging, because it's temporarily much safer. There must be a moral somewhere in this.

The rooms were beautifully decorated in keeping with the occasion. A lighted Christmas tree full of presents stood in one corner of the room.

There were two distinguished guests for the evening, Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Daniels of Abilene. Man and Woman Commander of the seventh district.

Leon McPherson, commander of the Cisco post presided throughout the evening, called on Mr. Daniels who responded with "American Legion and American Auxiliary," a very interesting talk. Mrs. Daniels also gave an interesting discussion carrying out the point, "Pay your 1935 dues. It is not your or my organization but it is our auxiliary". Other interesting speakers for the evening were Roy Johnson of Abilene, Mr. Roberson of Ranger, post commander of the Ranger Legion who also extended a welcome to the Cisco post from the Ranger Post to the next convention which will be held in Ranger in April. Adjutant John D. McRae of Ranger was another guest for the evening.

Construction of a carbon black plant near Cisco by the Hickok company will begin shortly after the first of the year, it was announced Thursday afternoon by R. L. Ponsler, superintendent of Hickok interests in Texas.

"I can't say just where the plant will be located," he said, "because I don't know yet. But I do know that it will be in the immediate vicinity of Cisco. But the direction of the plant from here has not yet been settled."

"We will know some time before Jan. 1 just when and where construction will begin. We want to start construction of the plant as early after the first of the year as possible."

Relation to Cisco
Asked what the plant will mean to Cisco in a financial way, Ponsler said that between $60,000 and $75,000 will be spent for labor in building the plant. The payroll, he said, will run about $2,400 a month.

"I'm sorry I can't tell just yet what most of the Cisco people would like to hear about the place and date the first actual construction work," but I wouldn't be able to say without talking with Mr. Hickok. As soon as we do know, though, we will be glad to tell what the plans are."

Ponsler estimated that the plant would bring to Cisco about eight or ten new families engaged in the carbon black manufacture. The plant will require three or four months of construction before actual operation can start, he said.

"We are going to put in an up-to-date plant," he said. "That is in line with the policy of the company. We intend to produce only the highest grade carbon black."

Methods Changed
He explained that the production and grading of the carbon black has changed greatly even in the last few years. "They used to burn it and scrape it off and maybe that's changed now," he said, "but all that's changed now."

"The product itself is not tested as it once was, but is vulcanized in raw rubber and the rubber is tested. For this reason the laboratory alone at a carbon black plant will cost from $5,000 to $10,000." He explained that, inasmuch as the chief use of carbon black is in rubber, it is placed in the rubber and must pass elongation, compression and shearing tests, just as metal would.

He said he hoped he would not be directly connected with the plant, preferring to keep only the duties in the field now assigned to him.

The plant will burn 6,000,000 cubic feet of gas daily, he said. The Cisco gas was recently tested at a university laboratory in Oklahoma, with this finding:

'RED TERROR' ORDERED FOR SOVIET FOES

(Copyright 1934 by United Press)
LENINGRAD, Russia, Dec. 6 — Ruthless extermination of enemies of the Soviet regime was proclaimed today because of the assassination of Sergei Kirov, one of the high leaders of communist Russia.

A degree of terror was made known by the execution of persons found implicated in the assassination.

The parliament assembled immediately after the assassination on Saturday and passed a resolution evoking the most important weapon of the dictatorship of the proletariat — the summary "red terror" under which many thousands of potential foes of the government faced execution before firing squads in the early years of the revolution.

The resolution precluded the possibility of delaying execution by appeal, from persons found guilty of terroristic acts. The foreign office was instructed to carry out the parliament declared it could not accept clemency appeals for examination. The utmost speed was demanded of authorities conducting the investigation of the assassination and possibility of a conspiracy.

Despite the widespread investigation, a report was circulated that Kirov was killed by one of his personal forces because of a grudge and that it was not a political crime.

GALA LIGHTS BEING STRUNG ALONG STREET

With the Thanksgiving holidays past Cisco Monday definitely took on the atmosphere of Christmas. Stores up and down D avenue were putting their gift suggestions in prominent places for early shoppers, and workmen were busy stringing a cable along the main business street for the installation of the colored holiday lights. There was even the promise, for the kid- dies, that Santa Claus would pay a visit to the city before long.

The long cable down D avenue, reaching from the Daily News at Third street to the Nance Motor company at Ninth street, was to have wires running from it to each side of the street, five to the block, with colored lights every four feet.

The lighting was made possible through the cooperation of Cisco merchants and the West Texas Utilities company. Merchants each donated $1 to pay for light strings where vacant buildings occur, and those who did not have light strings of their own purchased them. Labor and electricity until Jan. 1 were to be furnished by the power company.

Colored Lights Wednesday
Dick Giles of the West Texas Utilities company today announced that the lights would be turned on Wednesday for the first time and that they would burn each night afterwards until January 1. The committee which arranged details, under the general direction of J. J. Collins, was composed of Dick Lauderdale, W. H. LaRoque, Charles Sandler, and Jack Anderson.

While this committee was arranging for lights, another committee of Matt Williams and Herman Wood was negotiating for a visit from Santa Claus before Christmas. Finally Santa agreed to leave his work and come to Cisco for a few moments on Saturday afternoon, Dec. 15. He said he would be here at 2 o'clock.

Plans were being worked out today for the jolly old fellow to be met by the Lobo band and a fire truck. It was rumored that he might have 300 pounds of candy to distribute among the good children, if he found any in Cisco.

Cisco merchants were taking unusual pains to decorate their stores in Christmas style today, upon the assumption that this would be a season of early Christmas shopping.

15 SHOPPING DAYS 'TILL CHRISTMAS

"We want more money—and we want it before Christmas!"

POLICE WARN MOTORISTS OF TRAFFIC LAWS

Police Monday asked the cooperation of Cisco-ans in a drive for better observance of traffic laws within the city limits, including parking in the downtown district.

Double-parking, of which there has been a great deal lately, came in for the first criticism, and police urged motorists to help them to stop it. It was described as unsightly, inconvenient, and dangerous.

"Some of the business men park their cars on D avenue all day," police said. "They at least can park on another street so that their customers can find a parking space in front of their stores."

The parking of cars for such a period of time, it was said, has necessitated the double-parking of shoppers who want curb service or who will have heavy bundles to carry out of the stores and do not wish to carry them for a great distance.

To Enforce Traffic Law
Police said that they had been lenient with motorists lately in the matter of double-parking, but that they intend to see that the city traffic ordinance are enforced.

When a parking space is not available, motorists will be allowed to stop in front of a store long enough to go in, transact their business, and return to the car, but double and triple-parking will not be tolerated.

Cars must be parked within 12 inches of the curb, motorists were warned.

Alley parking, which has been a favorite with some motorists, must stop, the police said. Cars may be parked only on the north side of downtown alleys. Recently they have been jammed into the alleys in such a manner as to obstruct any traffic that might have to pass through.

Observe Stop Signs
Stop signs must be observed, the police department said. The signs have been placed on the streets for the safety of motorists and pedestrians alike, it was pointed out. "The people have been abusing them lately without paying the least attention to them. That's got to stop, or we are going to have to give some people some tickets for traffic violations," motorists were warned.

"And another thing—don't park near those fire plugs." Parking in the space reserved by the plugs is only endangering car so parked and the property near it, it was pointed out.

"We don't have very heavy traffic in Cisco now," police said, "but we will have during the holidays, and the people can help us to take care of it by observing these traffic don'ts."

CISCOANS TO HEAR RUSSIAN CHORUS DEC. 17

Ciscoans will again have an opportunity of hearing the Slaviansky Russian chorus here Dec. 17. It was announced by Director G. W. Cullum of the Lobo band. The appearance of the chorus is sponsored by the high school band and choral club.

The organization, which made its appearance several years ago as the Royal Russian chorus, is headed by Margarita Slaviansky, world-famed conductor.

"This is a distinct educational opportunity," Director Cullum said this morning. "The chorus ranks high in present day music of the world. I remember especially the voice of its bass soloist."

The chorus has been in the United States for a number of years, where it has made concert appearances in most of the larger cities.

The band and choral club are bringing the chorus to Cisco and will receive a part of the proceeds from the concert. The chorus will also appear in Breckenridge on the present tour.

COLORED MAN INJURED WHEN AWNING FALLS

L. A. Alexander, negro about 65, was injured Monday when he was caught in a crash as the awning at Norvell-Miller grocery company at the corner of D avenue and Eighth street fell. He was reported to have suffered a broken leg and cuts about the head.

The accident occurred when workmen of the West Texas Utilities company, tightening a cable to string colored lights across the street, exerted more pressure than the weak awning could stand and it collapsed.

The negro was taken to Graham's sanitarium in Green's ambulance, where he received medical attention.

Other persons nearby were not under the awning at the time of the crash. No damage except the loss of the awning was reported to the store.

JUGO-SLAVS IN REPRISAL ACTS UPON HUNGARY

(Copyright by United Press)
VIENNA, Dec. 6 — Mass expulsions of Hungarians from Jugoslavians in reprisal for the assassination of King Alexander brought these countries to the verge on an open break today.

By dozens, scores, and hundreds, frightened groups of men, women, and children were sent to the Hungarian frontier, torn from their homes because Jugoslavia holds that Hungary sheltered the terrorist gang which plotted Alexander's assassination.

Mounted police were dispatched to guard the Jugoslavians at the Budapest. Extra patrols of police roamed the city, fearing mounting popular anger.

Reports in Belgrade, unconfirmed, said 18,000 persons in all would be expelled.

United Press dispatches from correspondents on the Jugoslavians-Hungary frontier brought pitiful stories of the groups of frightened peasants arising from their homes of many years.

The League of Nations council, meeting at Geneva, considered the Jugoslavians complaint to the League that Hungary sheltered the Alexander assassin gang.

Many diplomats here feared a break between Jugoslavia and Hungary.

At the end of the evening it was announced that $4,000 had been pledged for the coming church year with at least half the membership yet to be interviewed. The board of stewards, which sponsored the dinner, was optimistic over the outlook for the new year.

Rev. J. B. Curry, presiding elder of the Cisco district, was the principal speaker for the evening. W. J. Leach was toastmaster. Music was furnished by Harry Schaefer's string band and a male quartet composed of Loy Boyd, George Boyd, Joe Hughes, and Weldon Ussey.

The basement of the church, where the dinner took place, was decorated with chrysanthemums.

Farmer Believes Ticks Have Right to Live

HOUSTON, Dec. 6 — Seed ticks, considered the scourge of cattle by agricultural authorities, have a champion in Louis Schiel, 75.

He is one of 80 farmers of the Cypress section near Houston who sought to enjoin tick inspectors from enforcing the eradication law.

"Ticks are good for cattle," Schiel declared. "They take away the bad blood. They were put here by God and they will be here if you dip for 100 years."

"There were ticks when I came here in 1875, and cattle were better 50 years ago than they are now."

"The coons in the river bottom have ticks, the rabbits get ticks and the dogs get ticks. If the boys go down to the river they come back with ticks and you got to pull them off their necks."

There have been ticks since the world began, he said at a hearing on the eradication question, and he favored letting them alone—they have a right to live.

U. S. TO HOLD PARLEY ENDED BY JAP MOVE

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6 — Strong indications were given today that the United States will consider the London naval conversations ended if and when Japan renounces the Washington naval treaty.

United States it was said, will consider the Japanese delegates will have withdrawn from the London conversations effective from the moment that notice of termination of the naval treaties is served, unless Japan at the same time offers a definite naval limitation plan to replace the principle of limitations in the Washington and London pacts.

This explanation of the United States position came shortly after Ambassador Norman Davis in London had made clear in a speech the United States will not accept Japan's demands for naval parity.

Any new substitute proposal, it was said, must contain a new and fundamental basis for replacement of the principle of limitation, which would so alter the situation as to make the United States feel that Japan had not intended terminating the conversations. In such event this government would consent to further conversations in an effort to start a practical course in the effort to continue naval limitation.

It was emphasized that even if denounced at this time, the Washington treaty, by its terms, would continue in effect until the end of 1936. The United States government hopes that in the meantime ways and means might be found to continue cooperation among the principal naval powers in both the field of political stability and limitations.

TRIED TO RUN AS ARRESTED SAY OFFICERS

One person was dead and another in jail at Eastland today, held on charges of operating a whiskey still following a sheriff's raid near Nimrod at 8:30 this morning. The grand jury in session at Eastland was to investigate the shooting, it was reported.

The dead man was identified as S. W. Bachus, 42, of near Nimrod. A companion, whom reports from Eastland said was Ellis Tomlinson, was held in the city jail at Eastland after the raid.

Bachus was shot by Sheriff Virgo Foster, officers said, when he attempted to run when the sheriff and two other officers raided a still he was alleged to be operating. Officers said Foster fired above Bachus' head but the bullet struck him after ricocheting off two branches of a tree.

The ball was said to have entered Bachus' elbow and to have passed through into the right side. The body was brought to Green's general home here this morning. Police Chief M. L. Pridgen accompanied the ambulance to the scene of the shooting.

Sheriff Foster was accompanied on the raid by Officers Loss Woods and Sam Hedricks.

Bachus is survived by his widow and six children. Funeral arrangements had not been made this afternoon pending arrival of the slain man's brother. It was announced by the funeral home.

A large still and several barrels of mash were reported to have been found at the place where the raid took place.

ANNIVERSARY CELEBRATED BY BROGDONS

On Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Brogdon, well known and substantial family of the Romney community, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary surrounded by their six children and eight grandchildren.

Mr. and Mrs. Brogdon, who settled at their present comfortable farm home one mile north of Romney some thirty years ago, are natives of Alabama and were married in 1864, coming to Texas two years later.

Mr. Brogdon was born August 22, 1862, in Lee county, Ala. Mrs. Brogdon was Miss Elizabeth Bibby, sister of O. C. Bibby who was in business in Cisco for a number of years, and was born August 1, 1869, in Coosa county, Ala.

Their six children are George, of Eastland; Mrs. George and Mrs. Ed Blackwell, of Gorman, both having married the two Drs. Blackwell of that city; Dewey, also of Gorman; Guy, of Romney; and Mrs. F. J. Harnelson also of Romney.

This couple, surrounded by children and grandchildren, enjoyed one of the fine old dinners for which old time Texans are famous.

Grocery Store To Replace Old Awning

Work will begin tomorrow on a new awning and front for the Norvell-Miller grocery building, it was announced by the company today. Brick on the facing above the awning will be replaced and a new awning will be put up, it was said.

The old awning fell, injuring one man Monday when bricks from the facing above were piling out of place as a wire was being stretched across the street in the stringing of Christmas lights.

Street Shining In Holiday Splendor

Shining red, green and blue, hundreds of little lights hung from wires on Cisco's main business street last night were reminding workers and tourists, strollers and window-shoppers that it will soon be Christmas.

Recalling memories of former years, the lights were turned on for the first time this season last night to help the people capture once again the fleeting Christmas spirit.

DESDEMONA

Fiercely blowing north winds with air filled with sand did not prevent members of the "21" Study club from gathering at their club house on Tuesday, Nov. 27th for a luncheon given at 1 o'clock in honor of Mrs. Joseph M. Perkins, president of the 6th district of the Texas Federation and Mrs. James Horton who is secretary of 6th district, both of Eastland. Hostesses for the occasion were Mmes. W. E. Barron, Roy Ashburn and J. E. Heeter, of the social committee. Bright colored autumn leaves "mums" and roses were used in the decorations. Small tables centered with small tables and red leaves were quite attractive. After the guests were seated, Mrs. Barron returned thanks and the hostesses then passed the plates of chicken salad on lettuce, stuffed celery, olives, hot rolls and butter with second course of pumpkin pie, whipped cream and coffee. At the close of the luncheon, corsages of red and white, were presented to the honorees. The roses were from the garden of Mrs. J. H. Rushing, Sr., the only charter member still a member of the club and who was unable to be present on account of illness. A very unfortunate incident was that the wood heating stove refused to burn without smoking so all present had their eyes filled with tears from the smoke. Mrs. A. B. Henlee, president of the club, rescued the situation by inviting the guests to come to her home for the program, which consisted of talks by the honorees, Mrs. W. C. Bedford as leader introduced Mrs. Horton who talked on "County Libraries," a subject of vital interest to all club women. She gave in a very interesting manner facts in regard to benefits to be derived from a "County Library" and told how club women can help in getting one in our county. Mrs. Perkins was then introduced and talked on the recent

Honors in Public Office

Two men who have rendered outstanding service in state office during the past two years have been mentioned in Austin news of the past week.

Elbert Hooper, first assistant attorney general with James V. Allred, who passed up an opportunity to make a logical race for attorney general, retired from the department and opened offices for the practice of law in Austin and Tyler. He leaves behind him a record of able, constructive and devoted work in the attorney general's department; and he carries with him the consciousness that by staying on the job and directing the work of the department during the political campaign, he contributed substantially to the success of Mr. Allred's race this year—in that Allred was able to give his time to the campaign without affairs of the attorney general's department being neglected.

Scott Gaines, another young lawyer, has been advanced to the post of first assistant for the rest of the term, succeeding Hooper in that post. Mr. Gaines already one of the distinguished lawyers of the department, has been chosen by the incoming Atty. Gen. William McCraw as a member of the staff for the next two years, and with a good degree of probability of continuing then as first assistant.

Mr. Gaines bears a name noted in the legal annals of the state, and he, despite his youth, has added professional laurels to that name. There is every probability that he, in the course of the next half-dozen years, should offer his record to the electorate for the state's highest legal office.

Brisbane as Homefolks

Texans who daily read the famous articles of Arthur Brisbane will feel a closer and more personal relations to this leader of public opinion now that his daughter, Sarah Brisbane, is to become the wife of John Reagan McCreary, Jr., of Texas.

Perhaps when Editor Brisbane retires, he will come to live on the Brazos river plantation of his daughter and son-in-law, and there get acquainted with the empire of Texas, as he has come to know California in the past.

Newspaper To Teach English

A tabloid weekly newspaper, printed with a vocabulary of only 900 of the most common English words, is being introduced in factories, prisons, night schools, CCC camps and other places throughout the United States, where people are learning the English language.

It is called The American World and is sponsored by the Language Research Institute at New York University.

The eight-page newspaper has proved its worth in this field, having been used for three years in New York City night schools.

The original list worked out by the committee, known as the "traveler's vocabulary," has 300 words which is considered the irreducible minimum with which a person can get around. This was lengthened to 600 and then to 900 as the number necessary for printing a simple newspaper. The institute learned that this number represents 76 per cent of the words used in an average newspaper and that most adults have a vocabulary of about 25,000.

A few of the 900 words are still in the doubtful list, but as soon as they are finally decided upon, they will be published as a possible means of help to those teaching the foreign born.

Radio Train Orders

New England sees radio brought into successful use to reduce problems always existing in the operation of freight trains. On a daily run between Springfield, Mass., and New Haven, Conn., of the New Haven railroad a system of high frequency waves now enables the engineer to talk with the conductor in the caboose while the train rattles on as though 50 or 100 cars did not separate them. Not even earphones are necessary. Whistle blowing, shouts, red lanterns and violent waving of arms seem suddenly unnecessary and childish—Once more efficiency comes along to swallow up the picturesque.

Did You Ever Stop To Think

By Edson R. Waite Shawnee, Oklahoma

That people everywhere have become accustomed to reading the advertisements before they buy. They know that real savings await them at the stores that advertise. Good advertising has an educational influence which makes quality merchandise known to all.

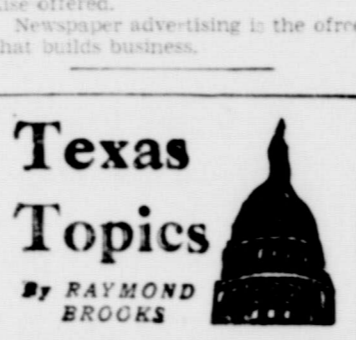

The better merchandise is known the greater the demand for it. Truth and honesty in advertisements are the greatest business-pullers in existence. Newspaper advertisements are convenient and are time savers for the busy shoppers. Newspaper advertisements tell where to buy quality merchandise for less money. People like to trade where their money gets the best results. That is why they read the ads. The successful business of today has been made possible through two forces: Quality goods and advertising. These two forces working together do the work.

Brunk's Comedians Return To Cisco Monday To Play a Week's Engagement

By RAYMOND BROOKS

AUSTIN Dec. 6.—Big business men seemingly were not so anxious after all to tell the legislature their views on changes in the tax system.

None of the numerous list of business men and community leaders had showed up for the first day of a scheduled hearing by Sen. Duggan's committee on tax recommendations. So the committee consulted with a number of administrative workers of the comptroller's department on the phase of closing up the books in present tax collection, and set over for the time indefinitely the hearing to be given the public.

The Centennial committee, having aired its views about new taxes to finance the 1936 exposition, likely was not to have any further saying before the committee, whose work is to try to find a plan for balancing up the present tax load. The incoming administration, through R. B. Anderson, who will be tax commissioner, is working with the senate group.

In the absence of any conclusions yet reached by the committee two types of taxation are certain to find some degree of approval as to make them possible in the long session of the legislature next month.

These are a general sales tax—"tax on poverty"—and an income tax.

Opponents of the sales tax may invoke the income tax idea again as in 1933 to counter the sales levy; but these same people would be fighting an income tax, if proposed on its own merits.

The most probable first steps in tax revision will be to bring the other $10,000,000,000 of wealth in Texas onto the rolls, with the $3,000,000,000 now on assessment, and to cap the holder of revenue-producing bonds and mortgages to pay tax on them either by charging or by duplicating the taxes now paid by borrowers who hold title to physical property.

There will be a strong fight for taxation of equities, meaning the mortgage-holder shall pay on his proportion of the ownership of a property. Another drive will be for a registration fee on such securities as mortgages and notes.

Since the state already has assumed county and district bonds for highways, the plan of former Rep. John T. Smith for the state to take over all outstanding local bond issues, and with it the power to issue all future bonds, or to control the issuance of bonds and taxation to pay them, may not be as far-fetched as some would imagine.

Brunk's Comedians, old time favorites, will be in Cisco again next week for a week's engagement changing their program each night. This year Brunk's are bringing the largest company to Cisco they have ever carried and charging the cheapest prices.

Their opening play, it is announced, will be "Tildy Anne," a comedy in four acts, and six acts of feature vaudeville will be given between the acts, featuring King Felton, the man of mystery who will be an added attraction, as well as Capt. Charles Barnette, late of the Rindling circus, on the flying trapeze and tight wire. Herman Mundin will entertain on the crazy bicycles, riding them upside-down.

The big tent, which is well heated and rain-proof, will be located across the street from the Daniels hotel. Monday is ladies' night, when women will be admitted free when accompanied by a paid admission. The doors will open at 7 p. m. and the play will start at 8 p. m. preceded by a concert by the orchestra at 7:40.

OMAHA MAN TO EXPLAIN PLAN FOR BUILDING

OMAHA, Neb., Dec. 6.—A 20-year building program plan, with the federal government co-operating with the states, will be presented to the next congress by H. H. Harper, Omaha real estate man.

The plan which has gathered a large number of adherents in this section, is becoming known as the "Harper" or "Omaha" plan. On the theory that building of new structures without tearing down the same number of old ones is wrong, Harper proposes terms for owners of obsolete buildings, who would replace them with modern ones.

The federal government would be expected to stand the expense of tearing down the old buildings, residential or industrial, with FEPA labor clear the sites and haul that portion of the material which might be usable to the new site. The program would be limited to one-twentieth of one-third of today's residential or industrial buildings.

Owners would use what parts of the demolished buildings they could without cost. Exempt Property. The state governments would be asked to exempt from taxation sites where the old buildings stood until new buildings are erected on the same sites. In the meantime the city or state could use the land for park or other purposes.

Erectors of new buildings would borrow their money and contract for building through private channels. The plan, Harper believes, would satisfy contractors, realtors, architects, material men and labor. It would provide steady employment for the building trade for 20 years with no great cost to the tax payers he believes.

OPEN HOUSE AT CISCO LIBRARY ON THURSDAY
Climaxing its observance of book week, the Cisco public library will hold open house from 3 to 5 and from 7 to 9 o'clock tomorrow and will sponsor a reception for the city commission in the evening.
The city commission recently started the move of giving more books by appropriating $50 for the founding of a Texas book shelf for the library. It is hoped that the reception in the evening will be Mayor J. T. Berry, J. R. Burnett, W. J. Foxworth, W. R. Winston, H. C. Henderson, and H. A. Bible.
The library committee has purchased eight rare books pertaining to Texas, which will be on display at the library. All Ciscoans are invited to visit the library during the open-house period.
This is the only time during the year, it was said, that the library committee asks the donation of books by the people of Cisco. The committee is especially anxious to receive good books pertaining to Texas or by Texas authors, good books of fiction, or reference books.

Expert Reports His Findings On Sleep
ATLANTA, Ga., Dec. 6 — Dr. Giovanni Giddings says it is time for the world to wake up about sleep. Dr. Giddings is a recognized authority on sleeping habits, and has written several books about it.
Recently he completed more than 150,000 hours of spying on children's sleep—not personally, but by means of an electric gadget which automatically keeps an eye on the sleeper.
Here are some of his findings:
The worst part of the night's sleep for a child is the first half hour, which is marked by much tossing around and adjusting.
The best part of the night's sleep, when repose is at a maximum, is the 90 minutes following the first half hour of adjustment.
Females are much better sleepers than males. They go to sleep more quickly and sleep more soundly.
Under-eating before retiring has virtually no effect on upon the night's repose.
Over-eating, however, has a very marked effect, interfering with sleep and making the child restless.
There is no truth in the old saying that a hot bath before bed will make you sleep. A hot bath has virtually no effect. The same is true of a cold bath.
Physical exercise has little or no effect upon sleep.

NOMINATIONS OF LIONS ARE MADE AT MEET
Today was nomination day for new officers for the Lions club for 1935, and this with other details occupied the time of the club at their noon day luncheon.
The board of directors, following the general custom made recommendations which are to lie over for two weeks, at which time these or others will be formally elected. The following were nominated: E. L. Smith, president; Chas. Sandler, Charles Kleiger and J. C. King, vice presidents; Joe G. Burnam, Secretary; R. C. Giles treasurer; Mitt Williams, Lion Tamer; H. Brandon, Tail Twister; W. J. Leach and W. H. LaRogue, new directors, to take the place of Mitt Williams and S. H. Nance retiring. Hold-over directors are Jack Anderson and R. E. Grantham.
The luncheon was attended with much merriment, a number of the Lion members having had the tables turned on them when they took the new Lions cage and went out to bring in a new Lion member and were themselves looked up and

GOV'T EXPENSE IS BOOSTED BY RECOVERY PAY
WASHINGTON, Dec. 6 — Heavy recovery cost sent government expenditures up to $638,607,912 last month from $499,420,000 in November a year ago, the treasury reported.
The November expenditures of which nearly two-thirds were for emergency purposes, however, were slightly under total October disbursements of $748,000,543,000.
Another sweeping rise in government gold holdings was reported in November with the rise in gold stocks approaching the $100,000,000 mark as the result of heavy foreign importations.
GAME PRESERVE PLANNED
MOUSTON, Wis., Dec. 6 — Forty-five hundred acres of tax delinquent land in the heart of Wisconsin are to be leased to the state soon for the establishment of Wisconsin's largest game preserve. The final step in the proposal was made recently when the Juneau County Board voted approval. County boards of Jackson and Wood counties, also involved in the vast program, already had approved the measure.

Mayan Civilization Is Ranked Highest

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—While three distinct aboriginal civilizations of the New World developed high points of native culture, Dr. Oliver G. Ricketson, Carnegie Institution archaeologist, believes the cultural achievement of the Mayo of Middle America should be ranked as "intellectually the highest."

Mr. Ricketson ranked the Mayo above the Aztec in the valley of Mexico, a people noted for military organization, and the Inca in the Highlands of Peru, whose "depotic if beneficent, paternalism, permeated every fiber of their politico-social fabric."

The archaeologist said Maya generally developed not only an accurate system whose numeration called for the independent invention of zero and place-numeration but also the orderly development of a pleasing architectural style and its accompanying decoration.
In their handling of perceptive Dr. Ricketson said, the Maya surpassed all ancient civilizations of the Old World previous to the Minocan civilization of Crete.

SOUTH VIEWS NEWSPRINT AS NEW INDUSTRY

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6 — The combined findings of the U. S. Forest Service and an expert chemist may form the basis for a huge new industry in the South—manufacture of newsprint from Southern Pine.

Dr. Charles H. Herty, chemist and research scientist, is working with Georgia on a co-operative project to determine the suitability of Southern Pine for making newsprint.

Experiment Advancing
Dr. Herty is said to be well along in his experiment. The Department of Agriculture's forest products laboratory at Madison, Wis., is doing work along the same lines.

If Herty's project succeeds, groups interested in establishing the industry can employ the forest service census to determine the availability and location of suitable Southern Pine forests. The latter survey, however, will not be completed for four or five years, officials said.

Help to Bury "Babes in Woods"

The children of Carlisle, Pa., joined their parents in contributing toward the fund to provide proper funerals for the three girls who were found slain in the nearby woods. About the same age as the slain girls, Martha, 13 (left), and Virginia, 9, daughters of Mrs. David Binkley (right) deposit their mites in a collection box.

not be finished in 20 years.

Huge Acreage Covered
The first completed survey covers about 25,000,000 gross acres of hardwood area in the Mississippi Delta. Work in the South now is centered on 30,000,000 acres of long-leaf and slash pine from which are derived virtually all national naval stores such as rosin and turpentine. Some work has been done among the pine lands of Mississippi, Texas, Louisiana and Tennessee, the latter in connection with TVA projects.

Daily News Will Be Postman for Santa

Hey! Kiddies. Santa Claus is coming!
The jolly old fellow will be in Cisco on Christmas Eve for his annual visit, with all his good things for good boys and girls. He'll be here before then, too, just to look things over and see what he's going to do about Christmas.

Have you been good since his last visit? Then why not write Santa a letter and tell him so. If you haven't, why not write him and ask him to forgive you and promise, if you really can to be better.

Write your letter as plainly as you can, so old Santa can read it, and send it to the Daily News. Remember that Santa Claus will have a lot of mail coming about this time of the year, so send it as soon as possible. The Daily News is going to act as postman for Santa Claus this year and see that he gets your letters.

Big Dipper Will Become Soup Spoon

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 6 — The Big Dipper, in another 50,000 years will be the same shape as a common ordinary soup spoon, according to Wagner Schelsinger, assistant director of the astronomy department of the Franklin museum.

During these next 50,000 years one will be able to watch the wandering stars in the tip of the handle move to the left and the rest to the right, thereby changing the shape of the Dipper considerably.

The star making machinery in the planetarium can switch them around in the most amazing ways. The universe can be turned back to 50,000 years ago, showing the astral positions at that time, and then can be turned forward to show how the dipper will appear in the year 51,934 A. D.

Old Mark Hannah Home Being Razed

CLEVELAND, Dec. 6 — The old home of the late Senator Marcus A. (Mark) Hanna, where Presidents William McKinley and Theodore Roosevelt once visited, is being leveled. Workers are razing it, timber by timber, because vandals and time would wreck it if it were not respectively done now.

The great mansion overlooked Lake Erie. When it was built it was out in the country, "to the west of town."

In 1896 McKinley stood on the front porch and was cheered by citizens shouting about the "full dinner pail" and the "gold dollar."

In 1903, Theodore Roosevelt and his daughter, Alice, were there for the wedding of Senator Hanna's daughter, Ruth, to Medill McCormick, of the Chicago family that made reapers and harvesters.

Only a year later, Mark Hanna died. His widow took some of the magnificent furnishings to her home in Washington. His daughter took others to her Chicago home.

For years now the grounds have grown up in weeds that choked the curving drive where carriages once swept up with the elite of the nation.

Boys had broken through the boarded windows and doors, exploring the decaying mansion. Storms from the lake were howling through the great halls. Youngsters of the neighborhood whispered of ghosts.

HOUSTON, Dec. 6 — A "substantial" increase in home building in 1935 was predicted today by I. Friedlander, Houston, president of the United States Building and Loan League.

Steps will be taken by the Federal Home Loan Bank System he said, to see that the $500,000,000 now available in associations for home lending is diverted properly from sections that are overbuilt to sections needing construction.

Friedlander said the increase would be due partly to the decision of the public to build homes and partly to activities of companies and individuals to build homes for legitimate profits.

The rise of wholesale prices of building materials which he said caused a setback in home building early in 1934 has been checked.

Increase in rent is balancing the margin between market value of existing homes and new buildings, he asserted, which would open the way for the revival of building in the spring of 1935.

INCREASE SEEN IN BUILDING OF HOMES IN 1935

WAXAHACHIE, Dec. 6—The cotton crop produced in Ellis county this year was the smallest in a decade, according to Robert P. Gatlin, Ennis, government statistician.

By November 14, 34,367 bales had been ginned in this county, 14,000 bales short of the Bankhead allotment. During the same period in 1933, 84,111 bales were ginned.

The bumper yield of 1920 when 152,000 bales were ginned in this county was recalled by the low figures for this season's crop.
