Modern Tenements To Replace London Slums, Housing 1,445 of City's Poor

By HARRYFLORY
United Press Staff Correspondent
LONDON, Jan. 17. — Within five minutes walk of the Houses of Parliament and Westminster Abbey three and a half acres of London's worst slums have just received sentence of death.

"Tanswell Street Clearance Area," reads the blue print in the architect's office of the London County Council. There 215 mean, dilapidated two-story houses, some facing so-called streets no more than four feet wide, where 1,445 persons now exist, will be razed. In their place will rise three modern, five-story tenements, to house 1,562 persons, with plenty of air, light and open space.

The mean little so-called streets will disappear. There will even be a green garden, fenced in by trees between the two wings of the main U-shaped building.

For each inhabitant of the Tanswell street area so rehoused the national exchequer will pay the London Council £3. 5. 0. ($16.25) annually for forty years, at an eventual cost of more than £300,000 ($1,000,000). Meanwhile the London County Council will be contributing another £30,000 ($90,000) at the rate of £3. 15. 0. ($18.75) annually for forty years for each new dwelling provided. The rest of the cost, it is hoped, will be covered by the rent paid by the new tenants, many of whom will be the

Credit for Visual Radio Transmission Goes to Former Texas University Man

AUSTIN, Jan. 17 — It is with a great deal of pride that Dean T. U. Taylor of the University of Texas college of engineering and professor of that college point to the new discovery in the field of radio transmission of photographs, documents, and other papers, a facsimile device, recently announced by the Radio Corporation of America. For it was through the genius of a former University of Texas engineering student that this invention was evolved and perfected.

HOME PROJECT HAS BEGINNING IN TENNESSEE

CROSSVILLE, Tenn., Jan. 17. — Seven families, housed in modern, native stone cottages with surrounding acreages sufficient for raising the owner's produce and small cash crops, started 1935 with a new deal at Cumberland Homesteads, Inc., the federal government's only homestead project in Tennessee.

The first group of the 350 families which eventually will live in the community development moved into new homes during the final days of 1934.

Typical of the persons who will settle the project was the first resident—Ernest Ramsey, former sawmill operator in a small community 11 miles from here. His family consists of a wife and four children.

Modern Pioneers
"You are the modern pioneers," Charles E. Pynchon, national manager of the Federal Subsistence Homesteads, told the seven families who secured first houses completed at Cumberland.

Since last February, 93 families have been living in temporary barns and tents, constructing houses and clearing portions of the 11,600 acres of rich Cumberland Plateau soil purchased for Tennessee's homestead experiment. Men in the group included former miners, wood cutters, laborers and industrial workers whom the depression threw out of employment as well as farmers from submarginal land.

Project officials also hired day laborers who do not intend to live in homesteads.

Development plans now specify a total of 350 homesteads. Colonists will move into homes upon completion, expected at the rate of ten a month.

Many Applicants
More than 2,500 applications and 5,000 queries were received at the Cumberland offices. No additional applications are being accepted.

The government bought 11,600 acres of cut-over forest land from Missouri Coal and Land Co. for $7.76 an acre. Forty-two hundred acres will be left in forest as a permanent timber and firewood supply. The remainder will be cleared for homes, gardens, farms, grazing and industry.

Last year, 520 acres were planted in crops — molasses, potatoes, flax, produce and vegetables, 14,000 bushels of Irish potatoes were gathered, 14,000 cans of vegetables were preserved for winter consumption.

20 Years to Pay
Families will be given 20 years to finish paying for the Crab Orchard stone houses and an average of 16 acres with each for individual cultivation. The usual cost will be $2,365. The cash outlay, however, totals only approximately $1,150 for each home.

The stone — either sandstone in pink, buff and gray colors or weathered black — and white field stone — is secured easily in the area. Wood and shingles are finished from timber cut on the homestead land. Nails and plumbing fixtures are practically the only necessities cash expenditures.

A three-year supply of firewood stacked behind his new home awaits each homesteader.

45-Hour Week
Colonists work 45 hours a week at labor for which their ability suits them. They receive cash remuneration for 15 hours; the remainder is in kind. The Cumberland Homesteads, situated 110 miles each of Nashville in the East Tennessee Cumberland Plateau, was allotted $600 of the total $25,000,000 appropriated by Congress for the 40 subsistence homestead projects.

The Cumberland project has led to inspire criticism similar that directed toward like experiments, notably the one at Reville, W. Va.

HOOKS AND SLIDES

LONG have been the yowls cent on high by yammering promoters and various boxing commissions decrying Max Baer's knock-out of Kingfish Levinsky in that four-round exhibition in Chicago.

It has been pointed out that the Buttery "Butcher Boy," who turned enraged grizzly in the second round of that fight to put the kibosh on the former mackeral purveyor, did himself wrong to the tune of $50,000 in scoring the knockout.

The critics indicate that Pretty Boy Baer would have pulled down that much, or more, in a return go if he had let the Kingfish coast along through to the end of his pent-up emotions, made loose-hot by the continual taunting and belittling of Levinsky.

But Baer did more than $50,000 worth of good to his reputation — and a million dollars' worth of good to that of the so-called fight game — with that one punch that floored his foe.

Since his championship go with the Pawing Pachyderm, Baer has done nothing more to enhance his reputation as a heavyweight king than pose with ravishing dolls in this town and that, pose with ravishing dolls in that town and this, make a vaudeville tour that was more pathetic than funny, do a few movie stunts, and declare that he was ready to take on Steve Hamas and Art Lasky as a good evening's workout.

All in a Single Punch
FANS don't get pepped over champions of that kind; not since Jack Dempsey spoiled them with his unequalled personality and ferocity in the ring. But that one punch on the chin of Mister Levinsky changed Baer's championship complexion overnight.

Those who saw the thing, witnessed a scowling, sneering, much in the manner of the Manassa Mauler, walk out of the corner and, in one fell swoop, away the Kingfish for the night. Much in the same way as the Lothario was wont to peek his wares some time back.

The same punch had the effect of awakening the fans to the fact there still was hope for revival of the fight game. Long disgraced, the reign of the shady dealers, foams, mismatches, and questionable characters, fight fans saw a knockout prove there is one champion who has what they want, a knockout punch equal to Baer's, the scowling, fierce attack of the old Manassa Man, plenty color, and cocky enough to talk way in and out of anything.

Follow the Leader
In many ways, the carefree, like a big brother to babies, higher divisions. For years, votes of the fight game looked up to the heavyweight, the ultimate in the ring world.

Like a big brother, Baer's are bound to influence the heavies, middles, welters, light et al, just as Dempsey's actions were responsible for the product of great fighting men in the divisions when he was king.

Now it is supposed to be agreed that he is broke, or nearly, and that the reason for his career-busting tour with his brother Floyd Baer, is to recoup the ily fortune.

Let him return to the earth, open arms of the fans with swashbuckling, "take-on-all-comers" attitude, and the boys who put their backs for duels will get that otherwise tough job easy him.

SISTER MARY'S RECIPES

BY MARY E. DAGUE
NEA Service Staff Writer

THE best sandwich I discovered in 1934 was one made, wonder of wonders, with dried beef. Of course, there were cheese, tomato and several other interesting items in the filling, too—but dried beef was the flavor-giver.

For that reason, and also because creamed dried beef is one of the best quickly prepared main dishes I know, I nominate dried beef, which you may buy in glass jars or in bulk, for your 1935 emergency chef.

The nourishment furnished by dried beef is not particularly important. Other foods with which it is combined supply that, the beef adding flavor.

There is no waste to dried beef, however, and, pound for pound, the fuel value is twelve per cent higher than round steak.

The beef salts any dish sufficiently.

Dried Beef Gravy Is Good
Well-made dried beef gravy has a rich, delicious flavor and a warm, creamy color quite different from the white, pasty-looking stuff occasionally encountered. Serve creamed dried beef with baked potatoes and tomato salad and finish up with apple pie and cheese. We especially like this meat.

A very good and inexpensive sandwich filling is made by combining finely chopped dried beef, minced gherkins and mayonnaise. This filling is especially good between slices of rye or whole wheat bread.

And here's the savory filling I use so much which will keep in the ice box almost indefinitely:

Dried Beef Sandwich Filling:
One cup dried beef, 1 cup finely diced cheese, 1 cup sifted tomato, 1-4 teaspoon dry mustard, 1-8 teaspoon white pepper, 1 egg.
Chop dried beef and combine with cheese. Put in top of double boiler and cook over hot water until cheese begins to melt. Add tomato which has been rubbed through a coarse sieve to remove seeds and cook and stir until mixture is thoroughly blended. Stir in mustard and pepper and egg slightly beaten. Stir over hot water until thickened, not more than one minute, and pour into a bowl or jar to cool.

Tomorrow's Menu
BREAKFAST: Grape juice, corned beef, ham omelet, crisp graham toast, milk, coffee.
LUNCHEON: Cream of celery soup, toast sticks, Chinese cabbage salad, savory dried beef sandwiches, sliced oranges with shredded coconut, milk, tea.
DINNER: Tuna fish loaf, tomato sauce, baked sweet potatoes, creamed peas in cream, cabbage and grapefruit salad, cheese cake, milk, coffee.

If you prefer a sauce to cream for the peas, melt 1 tablespoon butter in a small sauce pan, stir in 2 teaspoons flour and when perfectly smooth and bubbly add 1 cup milk. Cook and stir until mixture boils. Season with salt and pepper and pour over peas which have been reheated in a little of their own juice.

best apartments the bath tub is in the kitchen, next to the hot water kettle, covered, but not concealed, with a wooden cover when not in use.

There is no steam heating. Tenants, even former slum dwellers, prefer their open fires. One L. C. C. housing estate has steam heat. It is unpopular and uneconomic.

5475 Top Rent
Rents in the China Walk estate range from 9 shillings ($2.25) weekly for a two room apartment of bedroom, sitting room and combined kitchen-bathroom, to 19 shillings ($4.75) for one with four bedrooms, sitting room, kitchen and separate bathroom.

Most of the tenants are happy. A few preferred their old slum dwellings. Then they had a "yard" which belonged to them, even though it was only a six feet by eight stone walled enclosed which never saw the sun. Now they rarely use the ornamental gardens between the blocks of buildings. They are too public. All their neighbors can see them. They prefer the public parks where they are gazed upon by strangers, not neighbors.

BUG RESPONSIBILITY
OTTAWA, Ont., Jan. 17 — The city of Ottawa has been legally absolved of responsibility for the movements of cockroaches. Recently Omer Vezina, of Eastview, sued the city for $2,000, claiming that cockroaches had wandered from a city dump into his home, rendering it uninhabitable. The Ontario Supreme Court dismissed the action on the grounds that the city did not own the cockroaches and was not responsible for their behavior.

The Brazos River Project

Latest of the much talked-of projects to face the people of Cisco is the proposed Brazos River project, which was discussed before small groups of business men at the Chamber of Commerce Monday and Wednesday and which was presented briefly to the Chamber of Commerce board of directors in a regular meeting Tuesday evening.

Listed among the uses of the project are the following: 1 - Between 1,000,000 and 3,000,000 acres will be protected from harmful overflow. 2 - Irrigation will be made available to 500,000 acres. 3 - Between 250,000,000 and 300,000,000 kilowatt hours of electrical energy will be generated annually. 4 - Sufficient water for all domestic, municipal, and industrial purposes will be made available.

It is estimated that, if granted, the project will require from five to 10 years to complete. Power dams will be the first built, so that the state may make power available to liquidate the loan.

The four main purposes of the project are: 1 - To control the major floods in the Brazos and its tributary streams. 2 - To alleviate, in so far as is practicable, the harmful effects of droughts. 3 - To make the waters so stored serve for domestic industrial, irrigation, recreation, hydro-electric purposes and for all other purposes permitted by the state constitution. 4 - To construct suitable works for the prevention of soil erosion and depletion.

A Worthwhile Government Program

The recent proposal that railroad grade-crossing elimination be made a part of federal relief work during the current year is finding increasing support.

It is supported by safety authorities, who know that such a program would do much to reduce and eventually eliminate the great loss of life due to crossing accidents. It is supported by railroad men, who know that it would expedite and improve service. It is supported by state governments, which realize the need for crossing elimination but have no funds to devote to it.

This last phase of the proposal is not especially important, inasmuch as federal funds are disbursed with the principal stress laid on getting maximum employment for each dollar spent and encouraging private enterprise.

Safely, employment and public welfare will all be advanced if the government accepts the proposal. There are some 30,000 grade crossings which have no protection—and each year thousands of lives unnecessarily wasted because of accidents at them.

COOPERATIVE TERRACE PLAN IS SIGNED UP

COLLEGE STATION, Jan. 17 — Terracing takes its place early as an important rural activity of 1935 and Texas Rural Communities, Inc., to cooperate in increasing the amount of land in the state under the protection of terraces.

Under the plan, which is definitely a part of the rural rehabilitation program of the Emergency Relief Administration and of the soil and water conservation program of the Extension Service, M. R. Bentley, agricultural engineer, will be charged with the extension service and will give supervision to the work which will be carried on in the counties through the farm demonstration work supplemented by terracing assistants employed by relief agencies.

The extension service, according to the agreement, will be responsible for securing the cooperation in counties desiring the program; for furnishing technical supervision of county terracing assistants employed by the Rural Communities Inc., and for assisting with training workers and giving general supervision of conservation work. The Rural Communities, Inc., which is the governmental agency charged with rural rehabilitation, will employ an assistant to its manager to furnish general supervision of these terracing assistants who will provide funds on a refunding basis to facilitate conservation work that will furnish work for relief labor and will also provide financial aid for individuals who desire to terrace their lands with regular money for it from regular financial institutions.

AUSTIN, Jan. 17 — Saying mental defects and other state dependents have increased more than 218 per cent since 1921, a group of Texas citizens has announced formation of the Texas Human Betterment foundation with headquarters in San Antonio. Object of the organization seems to foster the recommendations of the state board of control, for sexual sterilization of the insane.

When he is hired as governor for the children of MISS TRACY, an artist, ALIAN VINCENT, Mrs. Tracy's brother-in-law, is attempting to marry her. Through him Ann learns that Peter is furnishing a home for her and her children. She becomes ill and goes to Peter's home in Florida for a brief rest.

CHAPTER XLVII THERE had been consternation among the tenants at Peter's Florida grove when Ann arrived from the nearest railroad station. "When's Mr. Peter comin'?" Lena asked.

"Not for some time," Ann told her. "I haven't been well and only came to rest for a few weeks. After a while, when I'm stronger, I'm going—" her voice faltered, "going away."

"Something's wrong," Lena said laboriously to Sam. "It don't seem natural, her trapezin' you down here without him."

Rep. Cecil Lotief of Cross Plains has reintroduced his anti-monopoly bill to levy severe penalties upon public utilities which may discriminate between comparable communities, or which may reduce rates to freeze out competition, then raise them again as soon as the competitor is crushed.

proof against city regulation on the one hand on the chance of competition or municipal ownership-operation on the other. The incoming governor is pledged to repeal public utility franchise laws. It is a safe guess that any monopoly-fostering general statute proposing to perpetuate the franchises of utility-companies will fail to pass the test of his executive scrutiny; but almost equally safe to guess that the legislature is not going further to inurend and utility in monopoly and special privilege.

New Gas Sought For Automobile Races

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Jan. 17 — Another reduction in the gasoline supply permitted drivers in the annual 500-mile Memorial Day race at the Speedway here has necessitated further study of fuel consumption by automotive engineers. Drivers will be allowed only 42 1-2 gallons of fuel for the race as compared to 48 gallons last year.

EFFICIENCY IN THEFT SPRINGFIELD, Mo., Jan. 17 — There's a trick to every trade and a thief who looted a department store cash register of $37.17 realized it. He carefully studied the mechanism in opening a complicated coin register. Then when she walked away for a few minutes, he slipped behind the counter and took the money from the drawer.

FOOTBALL IRON MAN PULLMAN, Wash., Jan. 17 — Captain George Theodoratos, giant tackle, was chief "iron man" of the Washington State college football team in 1934. He played 396 minutes in eight games. Stan Smith, sophomore center, was second high with 386 minutes, followed by Johnny Blake, tackle, with 376.

Behind the Scenes in Washington

BY RODNEY DUTCHER, NFA Service Staff Correspondent WASHINGTON — Denial of the facts has but slightly cooled the hot spot that was made for several New Deal folks with the explosion into print of the Burlew incident. Here's the inside story: Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt has the ax out for Ebert K. Burlew, administrative assistant to and closest lieutenant of Interior Secretary Harold Ickes. The president, Secretary Wallace and Postmaster General Farley are also among the many who privately have expressed strong disapproval of Burlew.

Considering that lineup, it may seem rather astonishing that Burlew is a hard person to bug. The chief reason is the well-known obstinacy of Ickes, who may resign from the cabinet rather than swerve in loyalty to his trusted subordinate. Burlew went on Mrs. Roosevelt's bad books weeks ago. Privately, she blames him for the mess that has been made of Subsistence Homesteads, especially her pet project at Reedsville, W. Va.

SIMILARLY, Louis R. Glavis — another Ickes favorite, who heads the vast Ickes investigative force, or "spy system," and may well be called America's super-sleuth — has incurred White House displeasure by his almost incredible espionage into the affairs of officials high and low. Just as the capital teams with stories of Burlew's anti-New Deal activities, so does it teem with wild tales of the Glavis methods.

The two men, who usually work in harmony, operate through a wide field — interior affairs, PWA, Oil Administration, Indian affairs, territories and insular possessions, Office of Education, and many other sections of the Ickes domain. Between them, they have created a sort of terrorism in some of those areas. They even come into conflict with officials in other agencies.

Lovable by MARY RAYMOND

BEGIN HERE TODAY ANN BOLIVIER breaks her engagement to TONY MIKKE the same day that PETER KENNEL tells VALERIA VINCENT, his fiancée, that everything is over between them. Ann thinks she still loves TONY and believes he still cares for her, but when chance brings the two together and Peter asks Ann to marry him she agrees.

They go to Florida and are happy there until Peter is recalled home. His family sends Ann and Valeria to make trouble for her and Ann goes away, leaving no trace of her whereabouts. She is hired as governess for the children of MISS TRACY, an artist. ALIAN VINCENT, Mrs. Tracy's brother-in-law, is attempting to marry her. Through him Ann learns that Peter is furnishing a home for her and her children.

Now GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XLVII THERE had been consternation among the tenants at Peter's Florida grove when Ann arrived from the nearest railroad station. "When's Mr. Peter comin'?" Lena asked.

"Not for some time," Ann told her. "I haven't been well and only came to rest for a few weeks. After a while, when I'm stronger, I'm going—" her voice faltered, "going away."

"Something's wrong," Lena said laboriously to Sam. "It don't seem natural, her trapezin' you down here without him."

Rep. Cecil Lotief of Cross Plains has reintroduced his anti-monopoly bill to levy severe penalties upon public utilities which may discriminate between comparable communities, or which may reduce rates to freeze out competition, then raise them again as soon as the competitor is crushed.

They had come up against a wall when they learned Mingo had left town. The afternoon mail was due on a silver tray. Peter crossed the room and glanced through it differently. A Florida package was in the pile. He turned it and then held it under the light. His hand shook.

"Mister Peter, please come to Miss Ann sick." Little Juan. Bless him! He'd deny Peter's feeling of wild indignation was succeeded by a terror. Ann was in their Florida home, sick. And there were 1000 miles between them.

THE little Florida home was wrapped in silence but Ann awoke. A few hours ago Corita looking like a dark rose in her silk dress, had gone to a dance. Ann, seeing the expression Corita's eyes, had said "Oh, get it all right. I'll look something up tonight. Don't forget front door key."

But she gave up reading after while and got into bed. She might have dozed, but the moment was wide awake. A had come on the grounds. It early for Corita to be setting her feet on a silk robe. Ann slipped on a silk robe and went to the window. A tall man's figure, was outlined for moment in the moonlight. A then was gone.

Ann's heart seemed to stand still. "Hello, there!" it was a voice. Just below her window. She was dreaming. Peter far away — yet it was Peter's voice, dreaming or not, Ann stood across the room, turning the weak fingers. Down the stairs into the dark hall. Not waiting turn on the light, she flung door wide and reached out to Peter, blindly.

SHE was crushed against him, feeling his kisses on her lips, her hair. Pierce, teeth demanding kisses. His kisses seemed real. Yet she must be dreaming. She missed him so, but he had passed out of her life. Here he was, his deep voice, his now, strange, tender quality, assuring her. His arms held her close.

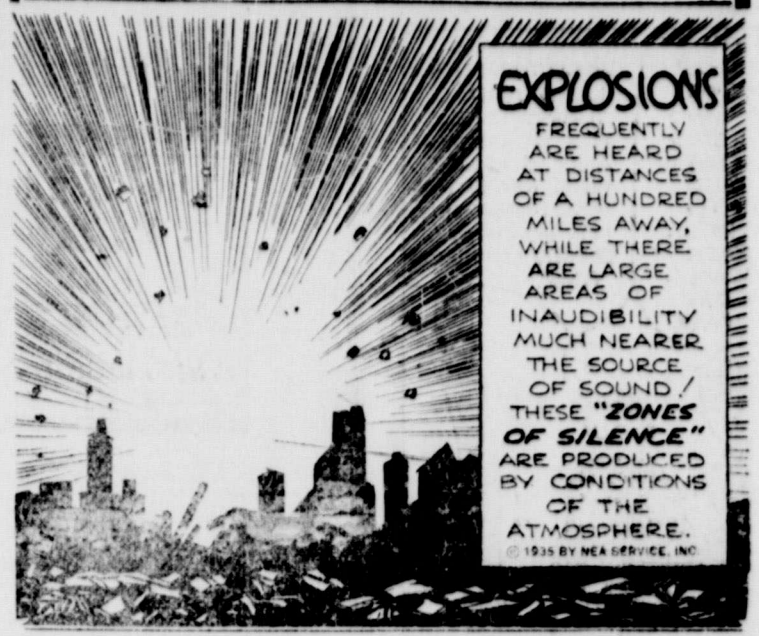

"You knew I was here?" "Now that you mention it, I believe I had some faint idea looking you up." His voice, so fully shaken, belied the "Oh, Peter, Peter, darling, I well now." "Little idiot," Peter whispered hoarsely. "Running away from me, keeping me in hell."

THIS CURIOUS WORLD By William Ferguson

EXPLOSIONS FREQUENTLY ARE HEARD AT DISTANCES OF A HUNDRED MILES AWAY, WHILE THERE ARE LARGE AREAS OF INAUDIBILITY MUCH NEARER THE SOURCE OF SOUND.

THE NUMBER DESIGNATING THE SIZE OF A HAT IS OBTAINED BY ADDING THE LENGTH AND WIDTH OF THE CROWN, IN INCHES, AND DIVIDING THE RESULT BY TWO.

IN MOST STATES, HUNTING LICENSES MUST BE OBTAINED IN ORDER TO HUNT BULL FROGS!

FROM A collection of reports on recent observations, it appears that there is usually a large area of audibility surrounding the source of sound, and beyond this lies a circular zone of inaudibility.

during the threat of inflation, did so because they felt in that way they were insuring themselves against such an event.

They did not take kindly to devaluation if it changed the letter of their contract.

They relied on a constitutional provision that the government shall not take private property without just compensation. "Just compensation," they say, is ounce for ounce of the gold their contract calls for.

The constitution, though, also says that congress may regulate the value of the currency. It was under this clause that the gold clause bonds were outlawed and made payable in any legal tender.

This conflict, the power of congress to regulate currency, against the prohibition that forbade it to take private property for public use without just compensation, is the conflict which must be decided by the court.

This leads to the question of "what is just compensation?"

The bondholders say it is $1.69 of currency or 25.8 grains of gold nine-tenths fine. Others contend that it may be any figure, noting that remote factors may enter into this question. For a buyer of gold bonds in 1929 who paid for them in paper dollars will be receiving more, on the basis of present prices of what he buys, if he receives just their face value in currency.

These are the questions, the answers to which will not be known until the court hands down its decision.

What Makes a Bank Grow?

This Is The BANK that SERVICE Is Building

The First National Bank grows and prospers steadily year after year. Why is this?

The answer is plain—because we render exceptional service and provide absolute safety for all money entrusted to our care. We have done our best to deserve the patronage of the public and the public has shown its appreciation by bringing us its business in constantly increasing quantity.

We cordially invite the accounts of Merchants, Corporations and Individuals and will extend lines of credit and accommodation consistent with the rules of good banking.

Ma Ferguson Parole Revoked by Allred

AUSTIN, Jan. 17 — Gov. James Allred today revoked a conditional pardon granted by Ex-Governor Miriam A. Ferguson on January 4 to Earl Renois, convicted of burglary in Johnson and Dallas counties and sentenced to five years.

Gov. Allred had been informed by Fort Worth police that Renois was arrested there with burglar tools in his possession. He was suspected in connection with crimes under investigation.

Senator Opposes Child Labor Law

AUSTIN, Jan. 17 — The Texas senate today was asked to condemn the federal child labor amendment and request congress to write a new one.

A resolution offered by Sen. John Hornsby, Austin, declared the present labor amendments seeks to substitute paternalistic government for parenthood.

LUCKY FIND

BURLINGTON, Wis., Jan. 17 — An old receipt bearing a canceled stamp blew against the feet of Jay Land here and he picked it up.

Trying to trace its source, he discovered that it came from a bale of paper which a junk man had taken from an old express office in a neighboring town. Land bought the bale for 75 cents. It contained many more stamps of the Civil War period. He already has sold $30 worth to dealers and has made one more find that may be worth one much as all the others sold.

Sparrs Sees Need Of More Band Money

Commenting upon recent efforts of the band committee to secure more funds for the Lobo band, Alex Sparr, president of the First National bank today issued the following statement: "I certainly think the band is an asset to both the school and the town. Especially is it an integral part of Cisco at the high school football games. "It has been sadly neglected in the past, I'm afraid, in the matter of finances. "Something should be done, in my opinion, to provide a source of more revenue for the band, either from the proceeds of the football games or by some other means."

Cisco Man's Cactus Gift to World Fair

Display Described in Magazine Article

Contribution of a Ciscoan to the cactus exhibit at the Chicago Century of Progress is described in the December issue of Cactus and Succulent Journal. Attention was directed to the article by Dr. D. Ball of Cisco. J. B. Ely, Cisco florist, is the Ciscoan whose contribution to the spectacular exhibit is described. The Journal says in part: "Cactus Pete's collection of more than 50 plants of California desert cacti and other species made an imposing display. One wonders how many desert miles he traversed in collecting them. Twenty-six Agaves were included in the garden, as were several fine Euphorbia specimens. In the center of the patio was a huge star, emblematic of the lone star state, made entirely of small native Texas species by Mr. J. B. Ely, Cisco, Texas." Other Texans also donated to the exhibit, among them William Lea-

BARBER ASKS LETTERS FOR BRAZOS PLAN

In an effort to create favorable sentiment for the proposed $50,000,000 Brazos river project, both among residents of the area affected and in government officials George Barber, representing the Brazos River board, urged a letter-writing campaign at a meeting of Cisco business men at the Chamber of Commerce Tuesday. Cisco civic organizations are to write letters to Senator Tom Connally and Congressman Thomas L. Blanton, urging appropriation of federal funds for the project. At the same time a committee to be appointed by the Chamber of Commerce here, will send letters to the citizens, pointing out the advantages of such a project, it was announced. The meeting was attended by a dozen Cisco business men representing civic organizations, F. E. Harrell, Cisco member of the Brazos River reclamation board, was among those present.

12 Major Dams

Pointing out the importance of the project, Barber, who is manager of the Mineral Wells Chamber of Commerce, said that it calls for the construction of 12 major dams on the Brazos river and its tributaries. This is at an estimated cost of $30,000,000. At the same time, he said, it is proposed to build from 25 to 30 smaller dams on streams in the Brazos watershed. This will involve another $20,000,000. He pointed out the immense amount of value to be derived from the conservation of water, which will be a total of 3,342,000 acre feet. "One of the important factors involved," he said, "is the control of soil erosion in this territory." He pointed out that the use of the dams will prevent the washing away of much valuable soil yearly. This will be connected largely with the small dams on upper reaches of the river's tributaries. One of the smaller dams is to be on the Leon river in Eastland county, according to the plan. From Cisco, Barber went to Abilene, where he was to speak before a group of business men in the home town of Rep. Blanton.

HOUSING NEED CANVASS TO BE EARLY IN WEEK

A survey of the needs of Cisco in relation to the better homes campaign will be made early next week, it was announced by the local committee of the Federal Housing Administration. As soon as the survey is completed, results will be filed and will be available for artisans, it was said. Cooperation for the good of the city and for bettering conditions of Cisco people was asked by the committee today. The move for improving homes under the Federal Housing Administration has been described as of the utmost importance to the community and individuals alike. The local committee today was working with county relief headquarters, which in turn passed the matter to the Austin board, to get some action upon the matter of the canvass of the city's needs.

Mrs. Pierce Singer At Rotary Luncheon

Mrs. Olin Pierce entertained the Rotary club at its regular luncheon today with vocal solos, including two numbers from "The Desert Song", "A Kiss in the Dark", and "Thine Alone", by Victor Herbert. In honor of the inauguration of Gov. Allred, she sang the Texas state song. Mrs. Pierce was accompanied in one of the numbers by Miss Lucille Pierce. Mrs. Pierce was presented by E. P. Crawford, who was in charge of the program for the day. Following her musical numbers, he told of his trip to Austin to the inauguration. In the absence of Miss Mattie Lea Kunkle, Mrs. Ben Kruskopf served as pianist for the club in the singing of "Battle Hymn of the Republic" and "America."

As New Chief Executive Takes Oath

Allred Becomes Governor

DR. HALE WILL HEAD C. OF C. DURING YEAR

AUSTIN, Jan. 17. — A former court reporter and a former shorthand expert took up the reins of Texas state government shortly after noon Tues. James Allred, 36, was sworn in as governor. Walter Woodul of Houston proceeded the chief executive by taking the oath as lieutenant governor. Both men who rose to high positions in public life from humble beginnings stood on an improvised platform over the front steps of the state granite capitol building. Before them was a multitude of approximately 10,000 persons, come from all parts of Texas to witness the ceremony. Heavy clouds hung overhead. Woodul, a tall, big-boned Texan, took the oath first. Allred watched nervously. For four years he had been Texas' attorney general, but this was no court room. He was appearing before not one judge but six million judges who work and live in Texas.

ADHERENCE TO WORLD COURT ASKED BY FDR

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17. — Pres. Roosevelt Wed. requested the senate to put the United States into the world court to make "international justice practicable and serviceable." In a special message, the president threw the weight of his influence behind the world court movement, asking early ratification of the protocols for American adherence. Noting that both republican and democratic platforms have advocated a voluntary international court Mr. Roosevelt said this was an "obviously sound and thoroughly American policy." "The sovereignty of the United States will in no way be diminished or jeopardized by such action," the president said. "At this period in international relationships, when every act is of moment to the future of world peace, the United States has an opportunity once more to throw its weight into the scale in favor of peace." Mr. Roosevelt's message, read to the senate by a clerk gave impetus to the most determined movement in years for American adherence to the court.

GOVERNOR PROMISES OPEN POLICY

AUSTIN, Jan. 17. — Gov. James Allred, today promised Texas a governing policy of "open covenants openly arrived at" by the state's 6,000,000 persons, the legislature, and chief executive. Law enforcement adequate relief was pledged. "The day of the political trickster, of closed door log rolling, of patronage trading, of political sniping, of political sabotage — these days, all of them, should pass out with the fogs of yester year," Gov. Allred told his inaugural audience. The sunshine of truth should come through open doors so all may see just how this government is carried on.

PEANUT ADJUSTMENT CONTRACT IS OFFERED TO PRODUCERS TODAY

By J. C. PATTERSON County Agent Beginning today and extending through January, committees will work in the old highway office, basement of the court house, Eastland, at Carbon Trading company, Carbon, at Higginbotham's, Rising Star, at Chambers of Commerce in Cisco and Ranger; and at the Hotel sample room in Gorman, to aid peanut producers in the execution of peanut adjustment contracts. Producers desiring to participate in this program should contact the nearest committee as soon after Jan. 17 as possible. The Plan The contracting producer agrees to not increase his peanut acreage this year above the average acreage planted to peanuts on that farm in 1933 or 1934; or where in one of the years 1933 or 1934 the acreage was considerably higher than the other to plant in 1935 not over 90 per cent of the highest acreage. Benefit payments to be made next fall after the total crop is measured will be at the rate of $2 per acre on the "permitted" acreage, being that acreage which contract signer is allowed to plant to peanuts; should, however, the 1934 yield on that farm have been above 500 pounds of nuts per acre the payment will be at the rate of four tenths of a cent a round on actual yield.

FDR SUBMITS HIS PROGRAM OF SECURITY

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17. — President Roosevelt today submitted to congress a plan for unemployment compensation, old age pension, and the protection of mothers and children, which he estimated would require $100,000,000 to initiate. The president said the plan safeguarded the national credit and took into careful consideration the capacity of industry to assume financial burdens involved. With this message the New Deal entered its second phase, directed toward protecting men, women, and children from some of the hazards of life. The message proposed that the pension and benefits be financed through taxes on payrolls and wages. Mr. Roosevelt asked for speed. "Federal action is necessary to and conditioned upon the action of states," he told congress. The president hopes to have his social security system operating by Jan. 1, 1936. Proceed Cautiously He warned congress not to discredit sound plans for social security by attempting a too ambitious program before experience has defined the limits within which safety lies. He offered the experience of other major nations, which have found social insurance a sound and workable project. Mr. Roosevelt in his message recommended speed. 1—Unemployment compensation. 2—Old age benefits including compulsory and voluntary annuities. 3—Federal grants in aid of state mothers pensions systems and for the protection of homeless neglected dependent and crippled children. 4—Additional federal aid to state and local public health agencies.

SECURITY LEGISLATION INTRODUCED IN CONGRESS

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17. — Legislation to carry President Roosevelt's program of security for the aged and insurance payments for unemployed was introduced in congress today. Bills embodying recommendations of the president's committee on economic security were presented by Sen. Robert Wagner, dem., New York, and Rep. David Lewis, dem., Maryland. They faced thorough study by the senate finance committee and the house ways and means committee, with prospects of several changes, before being reported by the committee and enacted into law by the house and senate.

SCHOOLS HERE CLOSING FIRST HALF OF YEAR

Cisco college and public school students today were gathering up the loose ends of their first semester's work and getting ready for the second half of the year. Final examinations began at Randolph college Wednesday, it was announced by Dean E. B. Isaacs, and will continue through the week. The public schools are holding their examinations next week, Principal H. Brandon of the high school said. They will be held on Wednesday and Thursday, he said. An increase in enrollment is expected at Randolph next semester, Dean Isaacs said, bringing the total to more than 100 pupils. The enrollment will begin Monday of next week. High school registration for next semester's classes will be on Friday of next week, after the examinations are completed.

J. R. Johnson Opens Grocery Company

J. R. Johnson has opened a grocery store, to be known as the Johnson Grocery, at 1006 D avenue. He will handle staple groceries and produce, it was announced. ATLANTA Ga. Jan 17.—Georgia's public service commission claims to have saved Georgians "not less than $6,000,000" in 1934 by ordering reductions in gas, electric, telephone, express and freight and passenger railroad rates.

Ciscoans Get Well In Shallow Field

Striking oil in the shallow field west of Cisco at 425 feet, three Ciscoans have drilled in a well on the G. S. Pruett place. The well was estimated to be making from 10 to 15 barrels of oil daily. Those bringing in the well are L. R. Terry, L. A. Harrison, and L. H. Qualls. A pump is being installed to fill a 100 barrel storage tank, it was said.

HIGH SCHOOL FERA PROJECT WORK LISTED

The high school ground FERA project will start Friday, weather permitting, it was announced today by Supt. R. N. Cluck, supervisor of the project. "We will use about 20 men at a time," he said, "but will not start number to begin, due to the fact that there is some preliminary work to be done before the project can actually get under way." Total cost of the project will be $1,672.95, it was announced. Of this amount $1,226.25 will be for labor and will be furnished by the FERA. Of the remaining $446.70, to be furnished by the public school district, $304.50 will be for teams, trucks, and equipment, and $142.20 for material. Supt. Cluck this morning said that he believed the project would employ about 19 men at a time. This matter will be left to him, the relief office said, men being "carded out" as they are needed. The project calls for 3,000 man hours in common labor, 525 truck driver hours, and 320 hours for concrete workers. The work will consist of filling in and leveling the high school campus, repairing old walks, and putting in a few new ones. The Garden club has sponsored the project of beautifying the school ground. Earth for filling in the school ground is to be obtained from A. Z. Myrick, it has been announced. Before it can be had, however, a tank is to be drained, Supt. Cluck said today.

Dance Pupils Give Program For Lions

The presentation of Maxine Francis' pupils in dancing was the feature of the Lions program at the noonday luncheon Wed. President E. L. Smith presided but Charles Sandler presented the program for Jack Anderson, who was absent on account of illness. Those presented in rhythm dancing were Misses Maxine Francis, Geraldine Francis, Cleopatra Harper, Helen Rosenquest, Jackie Belew, Thelma Stokes, Glenn Johnson and Carla Vesta Smith. These young ladies were unusually good and showed expert training. Announcement was made of the presentation to the club of a famed Lion Code of Ethics by Past President H. L. Dyer. Further announcements were made concerning the Lion-Rotary Lobo Banquet, Thursday evening, January 24. Visitors present were: H. D. Gorman, L. J. Mollett, of Dallas, and H. L. Hays, of Abilene. Mrs. Ben Kruskopf was pianist for the Lions, in the absence of Miss Mattie Lea Kunkle, who is ill.

EXPORT PIGS

CORVALLIS, Ore., Jan. 17. — Twenty-one pedigreed and especially selected pigs from Oregon have been sent to China, where they will be a project in the agricultural improvement program of that country. They were fall pigs, represented leading breeds, and were in perfect physical condition.

Cisco Pupils and Parents To See Famed Upjohn Pictures On Exhibit at Schools

Pupils and patrons of the Cisco public schools have the opportunity now to see the original drawings and sketches by Anna Milo Upjohn famous portraitist of child life, according to Mrs. Howard H. Goss, home economics teacher in Cisco high school and county chairman of the Junior Red Cross. The Upjohn exhibit of child portraits will be shown at the Grammar school today, at the East Ward tomorrow, and the Chamber of Commerce Saturday, it was announced this afternoon by Mrs. Howard H. Goss, chairman of the county chapter of the Junior Red Cross. Miss Upjohn's pictures, each the school children in the pages of the Junior Red Cross News and on the Junior Red Cross Calendar. In addition to their schoolroom value, it was said, they serve to introduce the children of foreign lands to the children of America and to impart to them an intelligent, sympathetic appreciation of the children of these countries. Pictures of children in 18 different countries are shown in the Upjohn exhibit. The artist went to Europe in 1915 as a volunteer for civilian relief under the French. A year later, when the American Red Cross set up its European commission, she transferred her services to that organization. After the signing of the Armistice, she accepted a commission from the American Junior Red Cross to portray child life in those countries in Europe where educational relief projects were instituted in the name of the American Junior Red Cross, with a view of interpreting the youth of those countries to their youth friends in the United States. Miss Upjohn once remarked that "the only time in my life when I had enough children to suit me was when I was daily serving breakfast to 400 soldiers boys in a Red Cross canteen in London."

Cotton Acreage In Arizona Is Raised

PHOENIX, Ariz., Jan. 17—Possibility of large increase in the cotton acreage of Arizona should existing and planned irrigation projects receive sufficient water to bring their lands under cultivation, has been seen here.

The San Carlos irrigation project, upon completion of wells and filling of the Coolidge reservoir, could supply water for more than 100,000 acres of cotton. The Parker Gila project is proposed for 900,000 acres, most of which might be used for cotton culture, barring government crop limitation.

Because of high yield of irrigated cotton the state could step into the forefront of producers if restrictions do not block planting, and the irrigation districts receive sufficient water.

Numerous small projects financed by PWA or looking to construction under government support may swell the available cultivatable totals to many times the present 135,000 planted acres, even without the Parker project.

HERB PENNOCK MAKES EXIT FROM BOX HE GRACED FOR 22 SEASONS

By JACK CUDDY

United Press Staff Correspondent. NEW YORK, Jan. 17—Far from the flaring headlines, almost hidden in the jumble of briefs at the bottom of a sports page in a New York newspaper there appeared recently a terse farewell to one of the greatest arms that baseball ever knew and to one of the grandest players—Herb Pennock!

The paragraph said merely that Pennock had been appointed business manager of the Charlotte club of the Piedmont League, which is to be used as the farm of the Boston Red Sox. It said Pennock will do no more pitching.

That was all just a whispered "good bye" from the major leagues to one of the greatest southpaw pitchers of all time; a patriarch of hurlers who spent 22 seasons on the big time. Approaching 41, Pennock's great arm isn't what it used to be. Twilight settled on his pitching career last season with the Red Sox.

But twilight has not settled on the keen mind of the "Faultless Fliner" who wore the New York Yankees' uniform through eleven glamorous seasons and five world series. The late Miller Huggins once called Pennock "the greatest left-hander of all time." Huggins was prone to place as much store in mental equipment as in physical. "Feanuts," as Herb was known to his player friends, still has the old noggin, and Tom Yawkey and Eddie Collins of the Sox figure that he will put it to good use in developing pitchers down at Charlotte.

The Brazos River Project

Latest of the much talked-of projects to face the people of Cisco is the proposed Brazos River project, which was discussed before small groups of business men at the Chamber of Commerce Monday and Wednesday and which was presented briefly to the Chamber of Commerce board of directors in a regular meeting Tuesday evening. Just what is this project?

It is the first play ever drawn up in the United States for the development of water resources on a watershed basis. It will be presented to congress in a bill calling for a $50,000,000 loan which will pay for the construction of 12 major dams, numerous smaller dams, other control and reclamation work, and surveys of underground and other water resources in the upper reaches of the watershed, in which Cisco is located. It is credited by many with being the model for the present Tennessee Valley Authority.

Listed among the uses of the project are the following:
1—Between 1,000,000 and 3,000,000 acres will be protected from harmful overflow.

2—Irrigation will be made available to 500,000 acres.
3—Between 250,000,000 and 300,000,000 kilowatt hours of electrical energy will be generated annually.

4—Sufficient water for all domestic, municipal, and industrial purposes will be made available.
5—Numerous reservoirs will put within easy reach of all residents of the district and contiguous areas recreation centers of great attractiveness.

It is estimated that, if granted, the project will require from five to 10 years to complete. Power dams will be the first built, so that the state may make power available to liquidate the loan. This, by the way, is the only measure of the kind in which a state has made any tangible offer of cooperation. The last legislature voted a diversion of taxes in 10 overflow counties of the lower Brazos for 20 years, to provide funds for amortizing the loan and as a gesture of the state's good faith. It is not intended, however, that the state should repay the loan through taxation, but through the revenues derived from the project itself, as mentioned in connection with the power dams.

The four main purposes of the project are:
1—To control the major floods in the Brazos and its tributary streams.
2—To alleviate, in so far as is practicable, the harmful effects of droughts.

3—To make the waters so stored serve for domestic industrial, irrigation, recreation, hydro-electric purposes and for all other purposes permitted by the state constitution.
4—To construct suitable works for the prevention of soil erosion and depletion.

To Cisco people perhaps the last of these purposes will be of most interest, in view of the fact that a Cisco organization has undertaken a soil erosion in the farming area about the city. The project takes in the upper reaches of the river and its tributaries, where the erosion can best be checked.

A Worthwhile Government Program

The recent proposal that railroad grade-crossing elimination be made a part of federal relief work during the current year is finding increasing support.

It is supported by safety authorities, who know that such a program would do much to reduce and eventually eliminate the great loss of life due to crossing accidents. It is supported by railroad men, who know that it would expedite and improve service. It is supported by state governments, which realize the need for crossing elimination but have no funds to devote to it. And it is supported by the general public and the business man who knows that no form of public works could do more to take up the slack in employment and stimulate heavy industries while at the same time not interfering with any private endeavors.

This last phase of the proposal is not especially important, inasmuch as federal funds are disbursed with the principal stress laid on getting maximum employment for each dollar spent and encouraging private enterprise. In grade-crossing elimination, the greatest part of the money would go to workers, both on the job and in factories supplying cement, steel and other materials. And the revivifying effect of this would give impetus to employment.

Safely, employment and public welfare will all be advanced if the government accepts the proposal. There are some 30,000 grade crossings which have no protection—and each year thousands of lives unnecessarily wasted because of accidents at them. Here the government has an opportunity to be of the utmost service to all the people.

TROPHY BUT NO LETTER

AUSTIN, Jan. 17—Jim Tolbert husky University of Texas lineman refused a letter because he swung at an official after a game was presented with a mounted trophy by his teammates. Two cases of attempted slugging occurred in the Southwest Conference during the football season. Officials later voted to suspend players in such incidents from all further conference competition. Coaches will be dismissed.

CANADA'S OLDEST MAN

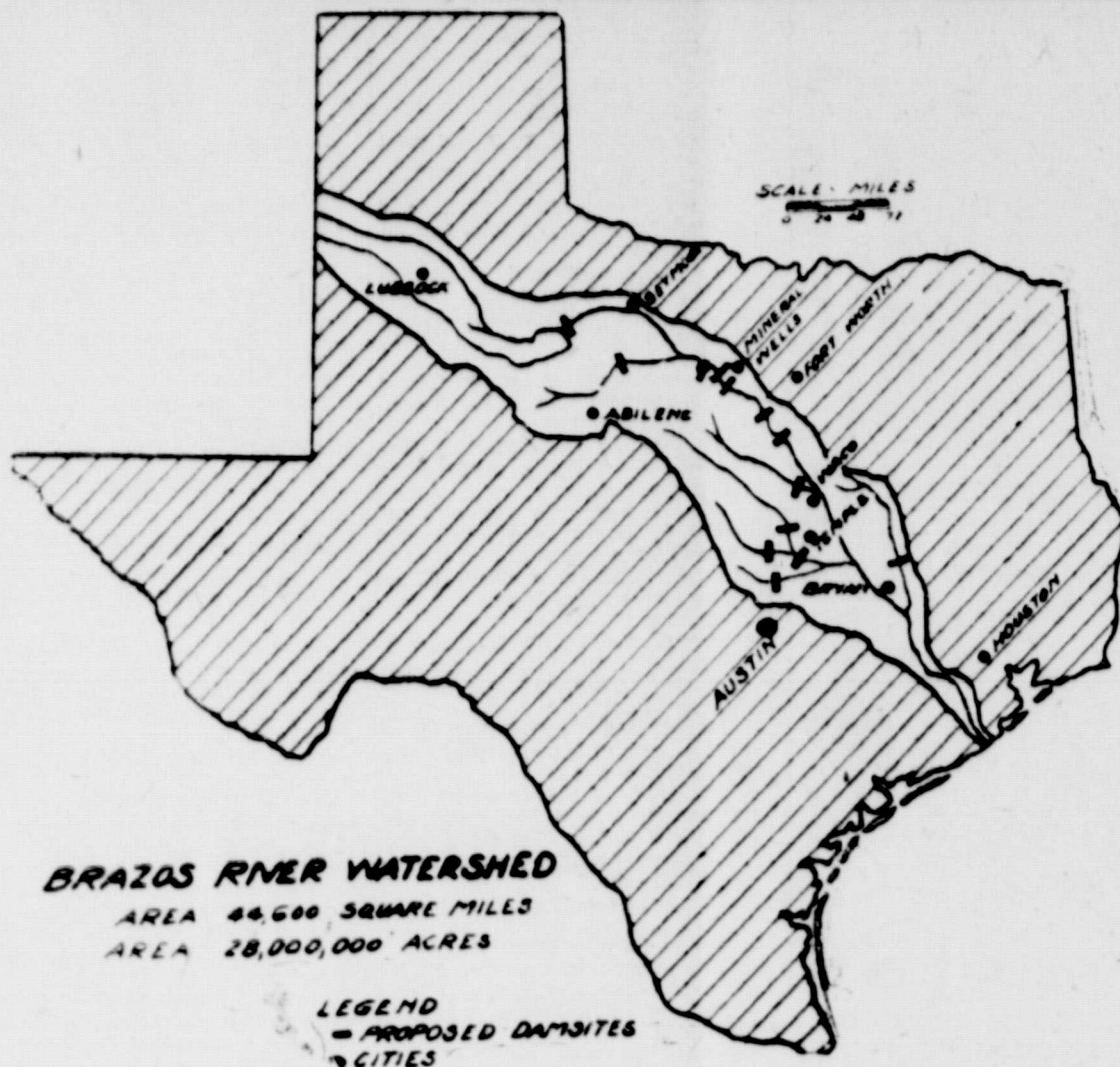

CORBELL, Ont., Jan. 17—Within 10 miles of this village, birthplace of the Dionne quintuplets, lives a man who spent over 100 years in this district before ever being mentioned in the news. While world tourist centers on the quinduplets John Birch is almost overlooked although he is believed to be the oldest man in Canada. Last June 4 he celebrated his 111th birthday.

EXPERT TROVE HUNTER

COLUMBIA, Mo., Jan. 17—Robert B. Miles, Negro professional treasure hunter, now trying to locate a buried treasure near here, has received 185 letters from persons throughout the United States seeking his help in locating treasures said to be hidden in various parts of the country. Miles replied that his present job was occupying too much of his time to assist in any other expeditions.

UNDER THE DOME AT AUSTIN

By GORDON K. SHEARER

United Press Staff Correspondent
AUSTIN, Jan. 17—The inside story of the race for speaker of the Texas House of Representatives has not yet been told. There will have to beal some of the wounds it caused before all is revealed. This much is known. Gov. Allred was offered a chance to defeat Speaker Coke R. Stevenson if he would drop his support of R. W. Calvert of Hillsboro in exchange for a candidate among the stalwart Stevenson supporters, who also was an Allred man.

The offer was made direct to Allred. He paced the floor and said: "No."

Stevenson also was told of the offer. The proposed new candidate's name was given.

"By gats, I believe I would have voted for him," Stevenson said. "By gats" is the speaker's favorite "oath."

State workers can plant Bermuda grass along state highways sustained by an appellate court decision at San Antonio. An attempt to prevent the planting had been made by a farmer who feared the rapid-growing grass would spread from Three to his farm. Chief Justice John H. Bickett filed a dissenting opinion.

"It is serious and dangerous," Justice Bickett warned, to invest subordinate state employees with immunity from judicial process. The majority opinion held planting Bermuda grass a proper way of maintaining a highway.

Bermuda grass is used extensively by engineers to prevent washing away of embankments. It is so used in Rio Grande levees. The loose mesh and its runners quickly cover the dirt and prevent soil erosion. The grass will not grow on a new embankment for a long time. It waits until the soil, usually excavated from a borrow pit, has become aerated.

Gov. Allred is not Texas' youngest governor. Former Governor Dan Moody was 33 when he took the oath of office. Allred is in his 36th year. Charles A. Culbertson, first to be known as "hol governor," was far from a boy when chief executive. He was 39.

To the rest of Texas Allred may have become governor at noon, Tuesday, Jan. 15. To Rep. Homer Leonard of McAllen, he became governor last Friday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock. The house and senate had just finished canvassing the election returns. It became Leonard's duty as temporary presiding officer to announce the result. He said: "I declare James V. Allred governor of Texas."

One member of the Texas legislature at least, still believes the state constitution is in effect. Rep. J. Carroll McConnell of Palo Pinto objected to house bills being read while the house and senate stood at ease in the joint session to canvass election returns.

The constitution requires bills to be read on three separate days in senate and house. McConnell pointed out that a reading at a joint session might be used later to contest validity of acts. The House saw the point. The bills were read after the Senate had retired.

about what changes were proposed. "They change the constitution," replied Speaker Stevenson. And he was correct. The constitution provides for a period session—30 days to introduce bills—30 days for committee hearings on them, and 60 days for action—but either house or senate may vary the procedure by four fifths vote. The rules proposed to abolish the division into periods. This has been done each session since the people voted for the divided session.

Luncheons being served to school children in 100 Texas counties, keep the children in school and make them better students at a cost of nine cents a meal, state relief officials have computed. All cost, however, is not paid from relief funds. There is local assistance and supervision. In many places grocers contribute vegetables and other foodstuffs. Menus of January lunches are being preserved from all schools in an effort to pick the best.

COOPERATIVE TERRACE PLAN IS SIGNED UP

COLLEGE STATION, Jan. 17—Terracing takes its place early as an important rural activity of 1935 and Texas Rural Communities, Inc., to cooperate in increasing the amount of land in the state under the protection of terraces.

Under a plan, which is definitely a part of the rural rehabilitation program of the Emergency Relief Administration and of the soil and water conservation program of the Extension Service, M. R. Bentley, agricultural engineer, will have charge for the Extension Service and will give supervision to the work which will be carried on in the counties through the farm demonstration work supplemented by terracing assistants employed by relief agencies.

The Extension Service, according to the agreement, will be responsible for securing the cooperation in counties desiring the program; for furnishing technical supervision of county terracing assistants employed by the Rural Communities Inc.; and for assisting with training workers and giving general supervision of conservation work.

The Rural Communities Inc. which is the governmental agency charged with rural rehabilitation will employ an assistant to its manager to furnish general supervision of these terracing assistants. These loans will provide funds on a refunding basis to facilitate conservation work that will furnish work for relief labor and will also provide financial aid for individuals who desire to terrace their lands with relief labor but are unable to obtain the money for it from regular financial institutions. These loans will be so arranged as to be payable over a long period of time with small interest charges.

Drunk Must Attend Church Eight Weeks

SHELBY, O., Jan. 17—Kard Gardner, who has appeared before the mayor on an average of once a week on intoxication charges, was fined recently as usual, but the fine and costs were suspended, providing Gardner attends Sunday school and church each Sunday for eight weeks.

He must bring an affidavit from the minister each Monday morning. Let us figure your next job of printing. Our job printing department is equipped to serve your needs.—Phone 80.

Texas Topics

By RAYMOND BROOKS

AUSTIN, Jan. 17—Saying mental defectives and other state dependents have increased more than 218 per cent since 1921, a group of Texas citizens has announced formation of the Texas Human Betterment foundation with headquarters in San Antonio. Object of the organization seems to foster the recommendations of the state board of control, for sexual sterilization of the insane. Dr. O. L. Newsworthy of San Antonio said the state has cared for an average of 19,410 inmates of institutions in the past two years, at a cost to taxpayers of $8,764,434, or 40 per cent of the instructional cost of all the public schools.

He showed, according to statistics from official state sources, that 16,066 persons had been subjected to operations for eugenic sterilization in 28 states, up to Jan. 1, 1933. One-half these, or 4423 men and 4081 women, were in the state of California.

Sponsors of the $4,500,000 Colorado River Authority power development project of Texas narrowly missed this week an opportunity to show their piteful youngster to the chief official of its biggest counterparty, Dr. Arthur E. Morgan, president of T. V. A., stopped over in Austin a few hours, on his way to the West.

His project is almost 100 to 1, as compared with C. V. A., and is the symbol of the nation's whole public development of its wasted water-power resources. But this does not detract from the confidence or the pride in which its sponsors hold the initial Texas development as a small but worthy emulator of the giant Tennessee Valley development.

Rep. Cecil Lotief of Cross Plains has reintroduced his anti-monopoly bill, to levy severe penalties upon public utilities which may discriminate between comparable communities, or which may reduce rates to freeze out competition, then raise them again as soon as the competitor is crushed.

His bill is based upon widely-differing rates for natural gas in cities and towns of Eastland Callahan and adjoining counties; ranging from 25 cents in some towns of competitive situation, to about $1.25 in monopoly towns.

Legislators who will consider public utility regulation bills this session have been warned to watch for the hoary joker known as "indeterminate franchise" provisions in the bills.

That means, in plain language, changing the definite-term franchise granted by a city, to a perpetual monopoly in the hand of some privately owned utility company.

proof against city-regulation on the one hand on the chance of competition or municipal ownership-operation on the other.
The incoming governor is pledged to real public utility regulation. It is a safe guess that any monopoly-fostering general statute proposing utility-companies will fail to pass the test of his executive scrutiny; but almost equally safe to guess that the legislature is not going further to trench and utility in monopoly and special privilege.

CLUCK SPEAKS OVER RADIO ON ADULT SCHOOL

Supt. R. N. Cluck, who has had charge of the adult education in Cisco, today said he would speak on the subject of adult education here in a radio address over Station WACO, Waco, next Wednesday.

This announcement followed an invitation from W. E. Marshall, state supervisor, which he received today.

"I think it is a distinct honor to have Cisco's school singled out," the superintendent said.

Following is the text of Marshall's letter:

"Due to the fact that we believe that the adult education program in Cisco under your direction is one of the best in Texas, and due to the fact that we are sponsoring a radio broadcast relative to adult education throughout Texas, over station WACO in Waco, each Wednesday morning at 10:30, the principal speaker each time being one of the foremost advocates of adult education in Texas, and one who is constantly advancing the cause of education in Texas, I am taking this opportunity and manner of requesting your presence at station WACO in Waco on Wednesday morning, Jan. 23, as guest speaker on adult education in your city, showing what is being done and accomplished in Cisco in the way of adult education, the interest shown there in the importance of adult education in your opinion, and other phases along those lines.

INCREASE IN COTTON QUOTA VERY SLIGHT

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17—Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace today sent a Bankhead tax-free cotton production limit for 1935 of 10,500,000 bales of 500 pounds each.

The allotment is virtually the same as that for the 1934 crop. The increase in the 1935 quota over that of 1934 is 523,000 bales of 478 pounds.

In addition to the tax exemption certificates for the 1935 quota, certificates for about 700,000 bales remain from 1934 allotments.

"It is probable that all the certificates carried over from the 1934 season will be used in 1935," the announcement said.

TERROR REIGNS AS SAAR GIVEN BACK TO REICH

GENEVA, Jan. 17—The League of Nations tonight returned the rich Saar mining region to Germany, ending 15 years of bitter post-war dispute.

SAARBRUCKEN, Jan. 17—An invisible reign of terror prevailed today in the Saar.

Police insisted they were unable to control it because it did not consist of violence but whispered threats which police were unable to trace but which have broken the nerve of thousands who voted against Hitler in the plebiscite last Sunday.

The resulting exodus across the border into France for safety has increased daily.

ROADMAKING BY PLANE
OLYMPIA, Wash., Jan. 17—Because Washington covers such a wide area, the state highway department the past biennium took 3,567 aerial photographs in planning highway locations. The aerial mapping covered 2,017 square miles of territory and included construction projects totaling 853 miles in length.

New Gas Sought For Automobile Races
INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Jan. 17—Another reduction in the gasoline supply permitted drivers in the annual 500-mile Memorial Day race at the Speedway here has necessitated further study of fuel consumption by automotive engineers.

Man Charged When Car Kills Child

SAN ANTONIO, Jan. 17—Charges of murder and driving while intoxicated were filed here Tues. against F. M. Simmons, Beeville contractor, whose automobile struck and fatally injured Henry Collins, 11 months old.

The child was killed last night while the mother, Ruby Collins, was carrying it across the highway. Mrs. Collins received a skull fracture when Simmons car plunged from the highway and struck her and the baby.

Home Program May Cut Relief

(Copyright, 1935, by United Press)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 17—To reduce federal relief rolls, 4,000,000 persons through a wide substance homestead rural rehabilitation program received serious consideration from administration chieftains.

The cost, estimated at $750,000,000 and $1,000,000,000, come from the $4,000,000,000 Roosevelt is asking from Congress to finance work for the 14,000,000 persons now receiving government aid.

Credit for Visual Radio Transmission Goes to Former Texas University Man

AUSTIN, Jan. 17 — It is with a great deal of pride that Dean T. U. Taylor of the University of Texas...

pany, conceived the idea that a system for transmitting facsimile reproductions by radio might be possible. He sought a talented young engineer to develop it for the company...

Dean Taylor has just learned that this astonishing piece of electrical equipment was fashioned by Maurice Artzt, who obtained his bachelor of science degree from the university in 1925.

The new device which Artzt invented was described by President David Sarnoff of the Radio Corporation of America as "epoch-making" in the history of wireless transmission.

Modern Tenements To Replace London Slums, Housing 1,445 of City's Poor

By HARRY FLOREY

LONDON, Jan. 17. — Within five minutes walk of the Houses of Parliament and Westminster Abbey three and a half acres of London's worst slums have just received sentence of death.

"Tanswell Street Clearance Area," reads the blue print in the architect's office of the London County Council. There 215 mean, dilapidated two-story houses, some facing so-called streets no more than four feet wide, where 1,445 persons now exist, will be razed.

The mean little so-called streets will disappear. There will even be a green garden fenced in the true U-shaped building.

For each inhabitant of the Tanswell street area so rehoused the national exchequer will pay the London Council L3 5 0. ($16.25) annually for forty years, at an eventual cost of more than L200,000 ($1,000,000).

Five Year Program It's all part of the national government's intensive slum clearance scheme enthusiastically backed by the London County Council.

With the London County Council architect's blue print as a guide the United Press correspondent explored the Tanswell Street Clearance Area.

"We all manage to sleep on beds," the bulky, cheerful mother proclaimed. "But I don't think it's right we should cook, eat, sleep and

Supreme Court Will Test NIRA Validity

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17. — The supreme court Tues. received an appeal to test of the validity of the National Industrial Recovery act and codes under it today when the government filed a jurisdictional statement in the Belcher lumber case.

The appeal is from a ruling of the federal district court of the northern district of Alabama, holding that the NIRA and the lumber code were unconstitutional.

Most of the tenants are happy. A few preferred their old slum dwellings. Then they had a "yard" which belonged to them, even though it was only a six feet by eight stone walled enclosure which never saw the sun.

The China Walk estate is one of the smaller of the L. C. C.'s 114 housing estates. China Walk's 1,500 inhabitants constitute a mere fraction of the L. C. C.'s 300,000 tenants.

COMMITTEE IS APPOINTED FOR BIRTHDAY BALL

H. L. Dyer, general chairman for the president's ball Jan. 30, has announced committees who will have charge of all arrangements necessary to make the occasion the success that its proponents have a right to expect.

Committees are as follows: Publicity — Leonard Hudson and Louise Trammell. Music and arrangements — Mr. and Mrs. Jack Anderson.

To help more patients and institutions in each community, 70 cents of every dollar raised by each local birthday ball committee will be retained by that committee to be expended within the local community or within the nearest geographical unit of which the community is a part, the purpose of this being to give each local committee the opportunity of exercising their judgment on using the money in their own town, in the town next door, in their county, in their state, or in their section.

Thirty cents of every dollar raised will come to the National Committee for delivery to the President to be presented by him to the President's Birthday Ball Commission for Infantile Paralysis Research, which he has created to widen research efforts aimed to bring under control the disease itself, especially medical science has successfully combated smallpox, diphtheria, typhoid fever, yellow fever and other maladies.

None of the funds raised by the 1935 Birthday Ball for the President will go to Georgia Warm Springs Foundation.

Worst Gang Broken Up By Federal Men

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17 — The most dangerous gang in America has been shattered with the killing of Kate Ma Barker and her son, Fred, J. Edgar Hoover, chief of the bureau of investigation, said today.

"It was the brainiest and most desperate of all this Barker-Karpis gang," Hoover added.

The only leaders of the desperadoes still at large, he said, are Al Karpis and Arthur Barker, brother of Fred.

NEW YORK, Jan. 17 — Reporting disbursements for 1934 of $1,729,514 for philanthropic purposes, the Commonwealth Fund, in its annual report, made public today, vigorously stressed the necessity for an improvement in hospitalization and medical practice in the rural sections of the country. At least half of the country doctors were held not fully competent.

"The Fund," the report said, "has found in many rural communities a type of service which does credit to the profession and which carries within itself, in spite of numerous handicaps, the seeds of continuous progress. Yet no one conversant with the facts can be complacent about the average quality of the medical care now available in American small towns."

For every conscientious and competent physician there is, roughly speaking, at least one other who makes superficial examinations, ignores the laboratory in diagnosis, relies overmuch on medication in therapy, neglects preventive measures, and subjects his patients uncritically to surgical interference.

"It is time for realism to replace romanticism in American thinking about this matter; a basic reality is that rural medicine, by and large, is not good enough."

Medical Innovations
Referring to "the often acrimonious controversy" as to innovations in medical economics, the report declares:

"The quality of the service rendered must be regarded as fundamental in any effort to evaluate either the existing organization of medicine or the suggested alternatives."

"Speaking broadly, any system of medical practice must stand or fall by the safeguards it throws about the patient, the degree to which it encourages professional growth, its effect on both the leaders and the stragglers in medicine."

"The public needs much more information along these lines before it can decide intelligently, as a matter of social policy, what changes the profession should be asked to make."

The First National Bank grows and prospers steadily year after year. Why is this?

The answer is plain—because we render exceptional service and provide absolute safety for all money entrusted to our care. We have done our best to deserve the patronage of the public and the public has shown its appreciation by bringing us its business in constantly increasing quantity.

We cordially invite the accounts of Merchants, Corporations and Individuals and will extend lines of credit and accommodation consistent with the rules of good banking.

Ma Ferguson Parole Revoked by Allred

AUSTIN, Jan. 17 — Gov. James Allred today revoked a conditional pardon granted by Ex-Governor Miriam A. Ferguson on January 4, to Earl Renois, convicted of burglary in Johnson and Dallas counties and sentenced to five years.

Gov. Allred had been informed by Fort Worth police that Renois was arrested there with burglar tools in his possession. He was suspected in connection with crimes under investigation.

Senator Opposes Child Labor Law

AUSTIN, Jan. 17 — The Texas senate today was asked to condemn the federal child labor amendment and request congress to write a new one.

A resolution offered by Sen. John Hornsby, Austin, declared the present labor amendments seeks to substitute paternalistic government for parenthood.

It was submitted by a republican congress more than 10 and a half years ago, without the sanction of a single Texas congressman, Hornsby declared.

LUCKY FIND
BURLINGTON, Wis., Jan. 17 — An old receipt bearing a canceled stamp blew against the feet of Jay Land here and he picked it up. Trying to trace its source, he discovered that it came from a hale of paper which a junk man had taken from an old express office in a neighboring town. Land bought the bale for 75 cents. It contained many more stamps of the Civil War period. He already has sold $150 worth to dealers and has made one rare find that may be worth one much as all the others sold.

ASHAMED TO BE LISTED AS MILLIONAIRE

BINGHAMPTON, N. Y., Jan. 17.—The desire of rich men and those who hope to be rich—to accumulate far beyond their needs and thus add to the suffering of the poor and working classes, was condemned bitterly by George F. Johnson of Binghamton.

Johnson is chairman of the board of directors of the Endicott Johnson Corporation, one of the largest shoe manufacturers in the world.

"No man has the right to pile up money while thousands of people are suffering from lack of the necessities of life," the head of the wealthy concern said.

"Any man who dies rich, dies disgraced," he philosophized.

World War Income

Johnson's remarks were made shortly after his name was included in a list of men who earned

Waco Dates Back To Trading Post

A trading post, Fort Fisher, was established at the present site of the city of Waco in 1837, but was abandoned after three weeks because of the hostility of the Hanso Indians who inhabited the region.

Six years later, in 1843, a treaty was made with the Indians and Toomey's Trading Post was established at what is now known as Trading Post creek. G. Hazard, veteran of the Texas War for Independence, was in charge.

In 1845, Neil McLennan, a Scotsman for whom the county was named, built the first house in the Bosque hills.

In 1846, George B. Erath, a Justice of the Peace who had lived in Texas 16 years and our town on the site of an Indian village and sold town lots at "not less than $1.00 per acre."

The town was first named Lantana, but the name was changed later to Waco, after the Hanso Indians.

and provide hospitalization, Christmas funds, and many other commendable projects.

Last year, because of the dire need, Johnson contributed $200,000 in Binghamton alone toward relief.

The years in which his income reached a million dollars, Johnson explained, was when the country was on a "huge drunk," and once because of the receipt of a large block of stock when his company was reorganized.

Has Little Left

"However, I have comparatively little left of the profits from the business we hold," he declared.

"Much of the money has been ploughed back into the business, to improve conditions and benefit the community, as it should be."

"Each year my principal has dwindled. My expenses, gifts and use of money are increasing."

"Last year we dipped into the principal for about $200,000, and at the rate I am going, if I live five years, I shall probably be pretty near where I started — nil."

That, in the face of the fact that Endicott Johnson Corporation was among the first to recover from the depression and for the last two years has been operating very profitably, indicates what is happening to the shoe magnate's fortunes.

Johnson worked himself up from the ranks. He still remembers the time when he worked for less than an office boy receives nowadays.

FRANCE TESTS FLYING BOAT CARRYING 70

By HAROLD FITTLINGER, United Press Staff Correspondent

PARIS, Jan. 17.—A great flying boat capable of carrying 70 passengers on two decks is undergoing trials at Biscarosse in the south of France. The plane, which is the largest ever built in France, is destined for the South American service where the French hope it will assure them supremacy over German and American rivals.

The machine, which will be known as the Lieutenant de Vaisseau Paris, was constructed at the Latécoere factories near Toulouse which are famous for their flying boats. It is so huge that the only way it could be transported to the sea for trial was to dismantle it and ship it by sections in a convoy of trucks. Weighing 32 tons, this plane has a wingspread of 50 meters and is 32 meters long and nine meters high. Six water-cooled Hispano-Suiza engines of 850 horsepower each will run it at a speed of 230 kilometers an hour at low altitudes and at 250 miles an hour at 2,000 meters. The cruising radius is 4,500 kilometers.

Passenger accommodations include berths for 45 persons, with luxuriously appointed first class compartments on the lower deck and second class accommodations on the upper.

The wings, into which the six motors are streamlined, are of metal ribbing covered with fabric and the fuselage is all metal. To eliminate fire risks the gas tanks are placed in the pontoons.

When the Lieutenant de Vaisseau Paris will be ready for its first hop across the South Atlantic is not yet known, but is expected early next summer, when Air France, the owners, expect to have completed the series of preliminary tests just begun.

UNIVERSITY OIL LANDS MAY SEE MUCH DEVELOPMENT DURING 1935

AUSTIN, Jan. 17.—It is regarded as no improbable that there may be a considerable expansion of the development of oil and gas on land owned by the University of Texas during the current year, according to the views of men employed in the industry. At this time there are approximately 250,000 acres of university lands under lease for oil and gas exploration and exploitation. Much of this leased area is in wildcat territory. In view of the fact that there is more activity in drilling wildcat tests in Texas at this time than at any period since 1912, it is expected the University lands will share in this work of exploration.

The development of an oil field in Andrews county by the Humble Oil and Refining company may lead to the discovery of production on a block of 294,000 acres owned by the University in that county. This land is situated close to production and part of it is already under lease to the Humble Oil and Refining company recently completed the construction of a modern oil camp in the southern part of Gaines county, situated adjacent to its field operations in Andrews county.

Another significant recent development in West Texas is the discovery of oil in the test being drilled by the Gulf Production company in Crane county. Oil was obtained in this well at a depth of 10,918 feet, which is only about 400 feet short of the deepest producing well in the world, located in California. The Crane county test also situated not far from a block of 63,680 acres owned by the university in Crane county. The well will be drilled deep into the geocline in the anticipation of larger production may be obtained by the Board of Regents looking to the drilling of a deep test 8,000 feet or more on its 4,000-acre block of land situated on the main land, across the bay from Crane county.

Joe Johnson has comparatively little left of the tremendous personal fortune he accumulated and the wealth his business brought in. He is one of the world's true philanthropists. The New Ford V-8 for 1935

A New Kind of Motor Car—Designed for Easy Riding

"NEW SEAT POSITION"
"NEW WEIGHT DISTRIBUTION"
NEW LONGER, MORE FLEXIBLE SPRINGS

In the New Ford V-8 for 1935, all the weight of car and passengers is correctly balanced and distributed. Seats are moved forward so that passengers on the rear seat ride nearer the center of the car. This, with new spring suspension, and longer and more flexible springs, gives new smoothness, ease and riding comfort on every road.

For 1935, Ford has taken another revolutionary step forward. To the proved performance of the famous Ford V-8 engine has been added remarkable riding comfort. And the entire car has been clothed with a new and modern beauty, both inside and out.

The illustration on this page shows the distinctive modern lines of the New Ford V-8 for 1935. When you see the car in the showrooms or on the road you notice at once its larger size as well as its handsome appearance. It is longer, with more body room, more leg room and more baggage room. It is lower to the ground —easier to step in and out. The front seats are as much as 5 1/2 inches wider in some body types. The curved gear shift lever gives additional front-seat comfort.

NEW, LONGER SPRINGS OF UNUSUAL FLEXIBILITY

The springing of the New Ford V-8 for 1935 is entirely new. The springbase of the car (the distance from the front to the rear spring) is 123 inches, or eleven inches longer than the wheelbase. This has been accomplished by mounting the front spring in front of the front axle and the back spring in back of the rear axle. This design gives you increased comfort without sacrificing ease of handling.

Front and rear springs are longer and more flexible, with tapered leaves for the most effective spring action and quieter operation.

NEW FEATURES FOR SAFETY, COMFORT AND EASE OF HANDLING

See the New Ford V-8 at the showrooms of Ford dealers. They have many interesting things to tell you and show you about its outstanding V-8 performance and comfort, luxurious new upholstery and appointments, improved, quiet-stopping brakes, new easy-pressure clutch, easier steering, new rigid X-type frame, Clear-Vision Ventilation and the many other features of the car. All 1935 Ford V-8 cars have Safety Glass throughout, at no additional cost. All have all-steel bodies.

MONTREAL EXPECTS TENNIS STARS AT INDOOR TOURNEY THIS MONTH

MONTREAL, Jan. 17 — Headed by Sydney B. Wood, youthful veteran of the United States Davis Cup team, a representative international field of amateur tennis players will come here for the Montreal Indoor Tennis Club's annual Canadian covered court singles and doubles championships late this month. The tourney is expected to be one of the keenest in the history of the event. Denying reports that this year's championships would be limited to Canadian players, Charles W. Leslie, chairman of the tournament committee, announced that a number of leading United States players would compete, among them members of the first ten in the rankings.

Among those who are expected, in addition to Wood, are Gregory Mangin, of Newark, N. J.; Richard N. "Dick" Williams, former U. S. Davis Cup star; Manuel Alonzo, former Spanish Davis Cup player, and William D. "Bill" Aspelotte. Wood will be one of the favorites to succeed Frank X. Shields, first-ranking United States player, as holder of the Canadian indoor crown. Shields is not expected to defend his title. George M. Lott, Jr., a former champion and frequent contender for the title, will also be among the missing, as he recently became a professional along with Lester Stoeft, his doubles partner.

Seeking to regain the championship for the Dominion will be most of the leading players of Eastern Canada. They will include Marcel Rainville, Canadian outdoor champion; M. Laird Watt, Canadian Davis Cup player; Robert D. Murray, Quebec titleholder, and Roland Longtin, high-ranking Quebec player.

OBSCURE BONESETTER FIRST TO GIVE HOPE TO PARALYSIS VICTIMS

NEW YORK, Jan. 17 — A discovery made nearly one hundred years ago by an obscure bonesetter today holds the attention of the nation.

The bonesetter, one Jacob Heine, made the first accurate report on infantile paralysis in 1840. Nobody paid much attention to it, and still less notice was taken of the American, Charles Fayette Taylor, who designed exercising machines and worked out a system of muscle building for victims of the disease in the 1860's. It was not until infantile paralysis epidemic broke out in Sweden in the 'Eighties, followed by others almost annually until the present day, that national and international notice was taken of the disease.

This attention has been focused in the United States during the last two years, and today has reached a climax in a movement captained by some of the nation's greatest scientists and philanthropists. Banded together, they now propose to "wipe disease from the face of the earth," and express hope that it will be outlawed as a major menace before its 100th birthday anniversary in 1940.

To help make this possible, the disease which Jacob Heine discovered will have the center of attention this January 30th when more than 5,600 communities in the United States will unite to raise funds for a nation-wide war against infantile paralysis.

The community affairs, in the form of birthday parties for President Roosevelt, the world's most famous victor in a personal battle against the disease, are being organized under a national committee whose chairman is Col. Henry L. Doherty and whose members include most of the nation's great philanthropic leaders. Proceeds from the parties are expected to supply a fund for year-in-year-out campaign against the disease. Seventy cents of every dollar raised will be retained by local communities to rehabilitate infantile paralysis victims, while 30 per cent will be turned over to a Birthday Ball Commission for Infantile Paralysis.

Miami Prepares For Annual Kennel Show

MIAMI, Fla., Jan. 17 — With an expected entry list of more than 250 dogs, the Miami Biltmore Kennel club is outgiving its program now for its third annual show, which is on the calendar Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

American, Canadian and English entries will give the international touch again this year to the mid-winter blue ribbon dog classic in which champions of all breeds will vie for trophies presented by Col. Henry L. Doherty, president of the Florida Year-Round club, sponsoring the show.

Competition will be keen in all breeds which will be passed on by one of the world's best known show judges, George S. Thomas, of South Hamilton, Mass.

In last year's show 242 dogs competed for titles in the various classes; a total of 141 exhibitors from 21 states, England and the Dominion of Canada also shipped entries here. Regular exhibitors at the show include such prominent fanciers as Mrs. Gertrude Rockefeller Dodge of Convent, N. J.; Miss Louise Flagler, of Millbrook, N. Y.; Mrs. E. H.

Dangler, of Comstock Park, Mich.; J. W. Viner, of Chicago; John Field, of London, Eng.; George A. Taylor, of Quebec, Can.; Mrs. W. C. Penner, of Charleston, S. C.; Mrs. Henrietta Procter Doanell of Larchmont, N. Y.; and Mrs. W. L. Bailes, of Atlanta, Ga., and many others.

"get a Lift with a Camel!"

COL. ROSCOE TURNER, holder of the transcontinental records west-to-east and east-to-west: "A speed flier uses up energy just as his motor uses 'gas.' A Camel gives me a 'refill' on energy. I smoke all I want. Camels never upset my nerves."

SIR CHARLES KINGSFORD SMITH, famous flier who holds the record from Australia to California—7300 miles in 51 hours—says: "Once you've had a real chance to appreciate the mild, mellow flavor of Camels, no other type of smoke seems to satisfy. ● From Newark Airport to Miami and return in 15 hours and 16 minutes! That's the record held by Chief Pilot E. H. Parker, of the Eastern Air Lines. But let him tell you about transport flying and how Camels help him through the strain. In his own words: "The steady grind of transport flying takes stamina—vitality—nerves that never waver. Passengers . . . mail . . . express must arrive on time, and it's the pilot's duty to see that they do! There are plenty of times when I get tired. Then I smoke a Camel. For I have noticed that Camels help in easing the strain. I can go on with more alertness and vigor. I smoke Camels a lot. They never affect my nerves."

ALABAMA GRID HOPES BRIGHT DESPITE LOSS

By STEVE T. MCGINNIS
United Press Staff Correspondent
BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Jan. 17 — The Alabama Crimson Tide, claimant with Minnesota to the national gridiron championship, will lose heavily through graduation, but will return a wealth of material for the 1935 campaign.

A third consecutive Southeastern Conference championship would be no upset, although many of the Tide's conference rivals will be much improved.
Coach Frank Thomas will lose Dixie Howell, All-America and the Tide's greatest triple-threat back; Don Hutson, All-America and the team's greatest pass-snaring end; Capt. Bill Lee, All-America tackle; Joe Demyanovich, rugged fullback; Charley Marr and Bob Ed Morrow, regular guards; Ralph Gandy, a substitute end; Joe Diddy, a sub center, and Tilden Campbell, substitute quarterback.
The last three named were no great shakes, and will not be sorely missed. The eight made their last appearance in Alabama's 29-13 crushing of the Stanford Indians in the Tournament of The Roses.

Bryant Stays
To say that Howell and Hutson may be replaced seems to stretch a point. This is possible, however. Coach Thomas has another year with Paul Bryant, the other 1934 regular flankman, and two more years with Joe Mickey Riley. Howell's understudy in 1934, Bryant is larger and showed definite promise of entering Hutson's class as a pass-receiver. His impediment the past season was merely that more passes were thrown to his colleague, Hutson.
Riley is built along Howell's lines. He resorts more upon speed — his is greater than Howell's — than the deceptive type of running which characterized Dixie. His touchdown pass to Hutson in the closing seconds of the first half against Stanford was no fluke. He threw even better ones against Kentucky and Georgia Tech last year. In putting Riley must develop quite a bit before donning Howell's vacant shoes.
Quarter Post Filled
Perhaps the greatest boon to the 1935 Tide will be the return of Riley Smith, 206-pound blocking quarterback. Smith didn't draw the acclaim due him last year. Only his coaches and teammates can attest to his true worth. His high percentage for conversion of the extra point, his leading the interference, his grant choice of plays, his defense against passes — all combined to make Smith an excellent quarterback.

Jim Whitley, a junior tackle, will undergo an appendectomy and return to his regular position in the line. To fill the other tackle vacancy, Coach Thomas may select from Ben Basswell, 211-pounder; Bill Young, 208; and Sonny McGehee, 208, all of whom saw considerable service last year, in addition to a heavy group of reserves and a promising crew from 1934's undefeated Fresh eleven.

Plenty of Guards
There's no famine with Tarzan White, 206; Angelo Danelutti, 187; Wally Dahlkamp, 197; and Bill Peters, 194; White is a virtual cinch.
Kavanaugh Francis will be back at center, a matter of misfortune to Tide opponents and will have two seasoned substitutes in Raiford Ellis and Lamar Mose, each weighing 190 and each having two more years on the Alabama team.
Riley is almost certain for a regular fullback post, and his running mate will be formed of an alternate regular, the past season, and young Tom Boozer, a hard-driving speedster. Boozer, a sophomore last year, refused to be ignored by the coaches, and saw much use as relief man for Angelich. Another set of good backs, ignoring a fine Fresh crew coming up, include Roy White, 185-pounder who took the role of Bobby Stapp, the latter a triple-threat.

Miss Demyanovich
At fullback, Bob Nisbet is the most likely choice. He under studied Demyanovich last year, but Joe's ruggedness prevented Nisbet being overwhelmed with experience. The coaches have not scant hope of developing as versatile a fullback as the departing Iron ole.
Running at end with Bryant will probably be Jim Walker, an experienced sub of last year's championship team. Hilton Walker and Red Keller are other experienced ends returning.

Coach Thomas will be confronted with the task of reshaping his attack somewhat. The main question is: Will the attack fit around Joe Mickey Riley as it did about Howell's slight? The matter of material should not be a great difficulty for all the merit of the exodus of Howell and Hutson. It is not likely that the combination of Riley and Bryant might become the counterpart.

GAS IS LEAST DESTRUCTIVE AVERS EXPERT

BRISTOL, England, Jan. 17 — Poison gas is the least destructive weapon in modern warfare, but also one of the most effective, according to Dr. Herbert Levinstein, who became recognized during the Great War as one of the leading poison-gas experts on the Allied side.
Dr. Levinstein told the Institute of Chemists here that out of 75,000 poison gas casualties among United States troops in the Great War only 1-1/2 per cent proved fatal.
"This is one instance," he said, "of what has proved to be generally true—that toxic substances cause far fewer deaths than high explosives, but are more effective in military results."

No More Danger
Dr. Levinstein declared that the application of chemical science to war has not made war more dangerous either to soldiers or civilians.
"It has introduced fresh possibilities of effecting a strategic surprise," he said, "which is quite different. Far more destruction of property, greater mortality and suffering are caused by dropping high explosive or incendiary bombs from aircraft than by using gas-filled bombs or shells."

Elder Men at Front
The "over-forties" may be the fortune shock troops of a future war, while the young men will take control of the home front, according to Dr. Levinstein.
"If all men were called to the colors for military training at 49 it would do them a great deal of good," he said. Recent progress has made war a less unsuitable occupation for middle-aged people than it was in 1914. War has been largely mechanized. Trenches are now dug by powerful machines. If engineers set their minds to it they could

STUDENTS ARE MORE SERIOUS OVER COLLEGE

OMAHA, Neb., Jan. 17 — The butterfly, the flapper, the lounge lizard and the sophisticate are fast disappearing types among college students, Dr. Charles W. Gilkey, dean of the University of Chicago chapel, said in an address here.
"It is the best generation of college students I have seen in 30 years of contact with students," Dr. Gilkey said.
Increased attendance at chapel and more interest in religious discussion were cited as evidence of the disappearance of the "hard-boiled" college generation.
Today's students are serious-minded, realistic and convinced something is radically wrong with a social scheme which offers them so little, Dr. Gilkey said.
"Students are not at all convinced about the solution of our situation but they are convinced that something is wrong," Dr. Gilkey said. "Communism attracts the smallest group of all because it is a drama and if there is one thing a college student can stand for it is a drama."
The most pressing social issue for students, he said, according to the doctor, he said there are more young men and women willing to go to jail rather than war than ever before.

There still are more, he said, who though not avowed pacifists, reserve the right to decide in their own minds whether a war is justified before enlisting.
Extension of RFC Lending Is Sought
WASHINGTON, Jan. 17 — The administration has decided definitely to seek legislation extending the lending power of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation for two more years, Jesse Jones, chairman, said after a conference with the president.
Jones cited various reasons as to the necessity for the extension, pointing out the commodity credit corporations need further assistance as well as export and import banks.

Man Jailed After 12 Years Liberty
LEAVENWORTH, Kan., Jan. 17 — After spending 12 years as a fugitive, during which he built up a successful coal business in Colorado Springs, Col., Frank McNeely is back in the federal penitentiary here.
He was brought back to serve the remaining eight months of a 30-month sentence for mutilating currency.
When he was arrested on the old charge, McNeely made no protest. Colorado Springs civic leaders, including the mayor and chief of police, petitioned the attorney general in Washington to recommend a pardon.
The only answer was the arrival of deputy United States marshals to take McNeely back to Leavenworth. In Colorado Springs he left not only his business and good reputation, but his wife and three children, two of whom were born while he was a fugitive. It was a letter from his wife, telling of her destitute circumstances, that caused him to walk away from the prison where he was a trustee.
"I knew it would come some day," McNeely said, "so I worked hard to save-up something for the family to live on while I am away. It was relief when they caught up with me. I served that sentence 26 months in anguish since I ran away. I'm going to complete payment for the only thing I ever did in my life. I am ashamed of a fast-talking stranger got me off on the wrong path."

Ballot Error Puts Men in Wrong Jobs
BURDET, Kan., Jan. 15 — Two men elected to the wrong offices here through an error in the ballot, now have been properly straightened out. Each resigned the office to which he was elected and the county commissioners appointed them to the right offices.
G. W. Bindy was elected township treasurer, but had been nominated clerk. C. O. Steffen was elected clerk, but had been nominated treasurer.

Such SAFETY and ENDURANCE at HIGH SPEED

THINK what this means to you. You need the same reserve safety, blowout protection and dependability that Ab Jenkins demanded when he recently smashed 77 World Speed Records on the hot salt desert track at Bonneville, Utah, where temperatures were as high as 120°.
Car owners today travel faster and farther because the modern highway is built for fast driving with its wide roads and gradual turns. High speed driving creates heat in tires that eats the very life out of tire cords unprotected against friction. That is why you need Firestone High Speed Tires.
Firestone Tires proved they have something other tires do not have—an Extra Reserve Margin of Safety—provided by Gum-Dipping—the heat-resisting Extra Process used only in Firestone Tires.
Come in—let us equip your car with a set of new Firestone High Speed Tires—so that you may have this Safety and Blowout Protection.
