City Begins Drive For Delinquent Taxes

ACTION TAKEN TO GET FUNDS TO PAY BONDS

A strong campaign is being opened here to collect all delinquent city taxes, it was announced this morning. The announcement was made following action by the city commission at the regular meeting last night, in which the matter was turned over to the city attorney. "We are going to make a vigorous effort to collect all back taxes," City Attorney R. E. Grantham said this morning. "We are having to do this to take care of our bond issue. The bondholders are expecting this, for it is a part of the agreement for paying the city debt." He referred to the recent issue of bonds made in settlement of the city's municipal debt, undergoing exchange at Austin. The bonds call for a payoff of $233 for every $1,000 of the old bonded indebtedness. "All delinquent taxes will come under this classification," the city attorney said, "regardless of how far back they go. Taxes for 1934 are delinquent. "We have a form of split payment, through which half may be paid by December 1 and the other half by June 1. If the first half is not paid by December, the whole tax becomes delinquent on February 1."

Condition of Arab Hero Is Critical

WOOLE, Eng., May 15 — Col. T. E. Lawrence lay at Woole military hospital today suffering from a fractured skull. Specialists struggled to save the hero of the Arabs who led in the desert which changed history in the Near East. It was learned that Lawrence was going so fast on his motorcycle at the time of the accident that he was catapulted over 100 feet through the air, and crashed on the road so hard that a part of his clothing was torn off and imbedded in the tar surface.

Mojave Plans Real '49er Celebration

MOJAVE, Cal., May 15 — A real "forty-niner" celebration is planned by Mojave residents on May 19 to celebrate the revival of gold and silver mining in this area. The festival, in which prospectors and visitors will frolic in a style befitting a wide-open mining camp, will focus attention on sensational gold and silver strikes made during the past year. Full development of new areas, it is estimated, will bring work for 2,500 men. Chief among the new mines is the Golden Queen, where $30,000,000 of gold ore has been revealed, and the more recent Middle Butte discoveries where a lease held by Sen. Key Pittman of Nevada, Walker Tvent and Bob Montgomery, shipped $80,000 or more in a two-week period at the rate of a carload a day.

WOMAN 'POSTMASTER'

TROY, O., — Mrs. Harriette Drury, who served as Troy's "postmaster" from 1867 to 1875, is believed to have been the first woman in the United States to hold a federal office. Records of her service have just been uncovered here. Residents of Belvidere, Ill., had believed that a woman postmaster there from 1871 to 1875 was the first woman officeholder.

SPEECH LEAVES STABILIZING OF MONEY TO OTHER NATIONS

WASHINGTON, May 15 — The Morgenthau money speech gave foreign nations an opening to initiate international currency stabilization negotiations if they desire, but congressional efforts in the United States to nothing. The international significance of the speech must be judged in the light of President Roosevelt's first stabilization effort in 1933. The first major reaction to the Morgenthau speech was a resolution

Claims Nudism Wrecked Home

Nudism wrecked her home. Mrs. Adelle Farrum, former stage and film actress, testified in asking $1,000 a month alimony and a divorce in Los Angeles court where she is shown here with her daughter, Melinda, 4 months old. She charged that Ralph G. Farrum, theatrical agent, frequented nudist camps and struck her when she refused to accompany him.

GARNER SAYS PATMAN VOTE NOT HARMFUL

WASHINGTON, May 15 — Vice President John N. Garner was reported today to have suggested to certain senators that it would be "good politics" to vote to override a presidential veto of the Patman inflationary bonus bill. The social Texan thus placed himself in open disagreement with Mr. Roosevelt over the controversial measure. It was learned authoritatively that several senators who are undecided to vote had been advised by Garner that a ballot cast against the president would have no harmful effect. Garner, whose 32 years of experience in congress have made him an astute politician, declined to confirm or deny the report. His political philosophy of the vice president on the matter was represented in this manner. A veto will please business interests fearful of the $2,000,000,000 currency expansion provision of the Patman measure. Passage over a veto will please the veterans and leave both groups friendly to the administration when elections are held next year.

FESS HITS NEW DEAL YELLOW SPRINGS, Ohio.

Former United States Senator Simon D. Fess, arch foe of the New Deal, still is bitter against it. Fess, speaking at his home here, admitted the capitalist system, which has grown out of individualism, which he advocates, has its faults, but said, "It is the best that has been invented so far."

HELD OFFICE 46 YEARS

HOLDEN, Me. — Perhaps one of the oldest officeholders in the country is A. H. Faington. He has been the town's treasurer-tax collector since 1889.

SOLON HURLS BULLY CHARGE AT ROOSEVELT

WASHINGTON, May 15. — Sen. Daniel Hastings, chairman of the republican senatorial campaign committee, asserted today that President Roosevelt "acted like a small town bully" in his address to farmers supporting the AAA program. Hastings was particularly incensed by Mr. Roosevelt's statement to the 4,000 farmers that "a great many of the high and mighty had been lying about the New Deal farm program." "The president's speech," said Hastings "reminds me of the small town bully who boldly and courageously calls his enemy foul names when he has his own crowd about him to protect him." The republican denunciation came as the farmers closed the business part of the crusade to Washington by adopting resolutions calling on congress to continue and strengthen the AAA. The resolution denounced "powerful organized groups which are attempting to destroy the AAA."

Liquor Legalized In South Carolina

COLUMBIA, S. C., May 15 — South Carolina today joined the ranks of states which have legalized sale of alcoholic drinks today. The law became effective at midnight with the approval of Gov. Olin Johnston of the state licensing system.

Tinkham Demands Break With Soviet

WASHINGTON, May 15 — Rep. George Tinkham rep. Mass., today demanded the U. S. sever diplomatic relations with the Soviet Union, which he asserted is fomenting revolution in this country.

NEW ERA FOR EDUCATION TO BE STARTED

By RALPH TEATSORTH, United Press Staff Correspondent. COLUMBUS, O., May 15. — A new era in American grammar school and high school education, in which most of the old precepts of formal instruction are discarded and development of a pupil's predominant talents is the governing principle, is being planned in Ohio State university's educational laboratory.

No Commencement

In this school, there will be no commencement and no diplomas. When pupils complete the minimum course, they will be graduated. The only evidence of graduation will be written appraisals of each student's ability from the school's faculty. In these appraisals, the faculty will recommend to parents a future course. Some will be advised to go to college or art schools. Some will be advised to remain in high school for another year. A few will be advised to go to work immediately. This school of the future is not entirely a dream of educators. A school following out these ultra-modern teaching theories has been operated by Ohio State university for several years.

First Class June 11

The first graduating class of Ohio's experimental university school will complete its work on June 11. There are 62 pupils. Instead of a commencement, these students who entered the experimental plant 12 years ago will participate in a series of "year-end" events. Each student will have a part in the program. University school's plan has been to forget prescribed studies and courses. Each student has been treated as an individual and has been permitted to pursue studies calculated to bring out the best in him.

Whole City in Chain Letter 'Gold Rush' That Flops

The chain letter craze sweeping the country reached proportions of a "gold rush" in Springfield, Mo., where crowds, of which the above is typical, stampeded to join in more than a dozen schemes that flourished in the city, with all classes of society participating. Sienographers and notaries are shown typing $2, $3, and $5 letters for the clamoring throng. In half a day more than $18,000 changed hands. Then the bottom fell out of the market with many "holding the bag."

VISITORS GIVE SHORT TALKS BEFORE LIONS

With an address by Will C. Grant public relations director of the Lone Star company of Dallas, and a lesson on faith by Tommy Thompson of the advertising department of the same company, likewise of Dallas, the lack of a program was filled and an entertaining 30 minutes was brought as a fitting sequence to an unusually good chicken dinner. Lions from Breckenridge were to have furnished the program, but they were unable to attend, hence the visitors were pressed for an impromptu program.

Kingsford-Smith Wins Life Battle

SYDNEY, N. S. W., May 15. — Sir Charles Kingsford-Smith, Australia's great aviator, landed his plane Southern Cross at the air-drome here today after a seven-hour battle for his life over the Tasman sea against tremendous odds. Smith ran into trouble 80 miles from land when, without warning, his plane lost its starboard propeller. Then a short time later the port motor began to sputter and at a time he thought it could not last 15 minutes more.

Says Salvation Of Cotton For Farmers

JACKSON, Miss., May 15. — Salvation of the cotton industry lies with cotton farmers, who must decide whether they want the government to continue the crop loans, E. P. Creekmore, general manager of the American Cotton Cooperative association, told the Mississippi members today. Creekmore said he believed the question facing the farmers was whether the south wants to let the price drop to the world level so that export trade can be regained, or whether they want to reduce production and grow only enough cotton for American use.

Navy Review To Be Jubilee High Spot

LONDON, May 15 — The King's review of his navy July 16 will be one of the high spots of the silver Jubilee celebrations. The interest of the public is enormous. Already tens of thousands have reserved accommodations while some 50 vessels will be anchored at Spithead as "grandstands." According to present arrangements, the Cunard-White Star Bengalia will be the largest liner at the review. Other big ships that will house thousands are: Asturias (Cunard-White Star), Asturias (Royal Mail), Alcantara (Royal Mail), Viceroy of India (Peninsula and Orient), Arandora Star (Blue Star), Indrapoera (Rotterdam Lloyd), The Southern Railway company is sending 17 of its cross-channel steamers, while the Southampton and Isle of Wight Steam Packet company probably will have eleven vessels present. Five of these already have been chartered. Many big trading concerns are arranging special outings for their staffs and the event is expected to be watched by nearly 100,000 people. Some of the bookings have been for parties of 200 or 300.

JUDGE SARTIN TO BE SPEAKER AT RANDOLPH

Judge B. D. Sartin of Wichita Falls will deliver the commencement address to the senior class of Randolph college next Tuesday evening. The college commencement will be held at the college auditorium Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock. Rev. W. A. Richardson, pastor of the First Christian church of Eastland, will deliver the baccalaureate sermon. The sermon will be in the First Christian church here next Sunday evening at 7:45. The college has announced that there will be 30 candidates for the Associate of Arts degree in this spring's class.

RAY NICHOLS HEADS W T C C; AMARILLO CONVENTION CITY

PLAINVIEW, May 15 — The West Texas Chamber of Commerce today selected Amarillo as the 1936 convention city. Directors today elected Ray Nichols, Vernon publisher, as president to succeed J. D. Hamlin, Farwell. Nichols was nominated and elected without opposition. C. M. Caldwell, Abilene, was elected first vice president; Van Zandt

CHAIN LETTER END FORESEEN BY ATTORNEY

End of the chain letter had soon been predicted, today by City Attorney R. E. Grantham as the $1 and $5 craze struck hard at the city. The city attorney based his prediction upon the action by tax collectors demanding a $37.50 occupation tax from all vendors of the chain letters. "The state taxes all vendors of endless chain schemes," the city attorney said. "Failure to pay the tax carries a fine of not less than $10 nor more than $200." He described the city today as having "gone nuts over the chain letters," following establishment of headquarters here and a strong tendency to run into $1 and $5 letters instead of the original send-a-dime scheme. When asked what the city intends to do, if anything, the attorney said, "Nothing. It doesn't come under our authority. It is the state's affair."

SHOOTSELF OVER CHAIN LETTER CRAZE

FAIRFIELD, Ill., May 15 — The chain letter craze was blamed today for the suicide of Cecil Hedlee, 39, father of 5, who shot and killed himself because he "thought a mob was going to get him for breaking the chain."

Last Year's Cotton Certificates Asked

Cotton farmers who have Bankhead cotton certificates carried over from last year should turn them in to the cotton assistant, O. W. Ewing, in the county agent's office at once and sign the necessary papers to have them replaced with certificates good for ginning cotton this year, according to County Agent C. Metz Herald. Only those who have old certificates are affected by this announcement, it was said. Those who do not have old certificates to be replaced will be notified when the time comes to sign up for their certificates for this year.

LAKE UP OVER 3 FEET; BRECK USES BOATS

Hard rain, with a little hail falling in spots, today virtually halted traffic here as the streets were filled with water. One and a half inches of rain had fallen by noon today, bringing the total for the last two days to 2.6 inches. Lake Cisco at noon had risen three feet and three inches, it was reported at the pump station. The depth of the lake was given as 71 feet. Breckenridge was drenched in a hard downpour this morning, when three inches of rain fell there. Parts of the city were flooded, and boats were reported to be in use on West Walker street. The boats were used more as a novelty than a necessity, however, it was said. The Gonzales river, usually a mere streamlet, was said to be bankful. Some communication lines were reported to have been damaged but were quickly repaired.

At Eastland, low parts of the city were said to have been flooded for a time this morning. Ranger reported that its Hageman Lake was overflowing for the first time since 1932. Lake Bernie at Cisco likewise reported to be running over the spillway. Rain for this month today had reached 6.5 inches. This brought the total for the year up to 13.3 inches.

RAIN FALLS OVER NORTH OF TEXAS

Citizens of North Texas were jubilant today as rains continued to fall for the third consecutive day. Heavy downpours, as much in some cases as two inches, were reported. Other places reported light rains and "overcast" skies. The thunderstorms, however, were confined to the northern half of the state and along the coast no rainfall was reported. Austin, San Antonio and Del Rio, reported only traces of rain. The heaviest rainfall was at Fort Worth, where a 50-mile gale, accompanied by hail, was reported. A total of two inches of rain was reported by the weather bureau there. Abilene reported 1.46 inches and a hard rain continuing. Amarillo reported .18 of an inch.

CONVICT SLAIN AFTER BATTLE WITH OFFICERS

PARSONS, Kan., May 15. — The bullet torn body of Arthur Henderson, 34, escaped Oklahoman, life-term convict, lay in a Parsons morgue today and two members of his gang of robbers, one a woman, were in jail as a result of a gunfight in which two officers were wounded last night. Sheriff P. L. Hogan and City Detective Blanchard Bolander were wounded, Bolander seriously, in the encounter a mile north of here. The gunfight followed the partial mobilization of southeast Kansas officers who had sought Henderson and his confederates since Saturday night when they robbed a Thayer store of $250 and a number of guns.

Portuguese Pair Will Fly to Rome

CINCINNATI, O., May 15 — Two young Cincinnati residents of Portuguese descent, George and Alfred Monteverde, ages 26 and 25 respectively, are making preparations at Lunken airport here for a flight that has balked five attempts and resulted in the loss of three planes. The trip is that from New York to Rome. The young fliers have a Bellanca plane with a gasoline capacity of 615 gallons. They tested it here recently. On the flight Alfred will be the pilot and George the navigator. Each of the boys has been flying about two years.

Plan call for them to fly at about 14,000 feet. They have installed a specially designed radio and hope to keep in touch with the United States throughout the flight.

WEATHER

West Texas — Partly cloudy, preceded by showers east tonight; Thursday partly cloudy, slightly warmer north.

Science Keeps Pace With Needs

Freezing out the flames with dry ice, shot through a fire extinguisher is a new invention shown recently at a safety conference in Chicago. In more technical language, the carbon dioxide gas is blown through an extension horn attached to the fire extinguisher. The gas is transformed into snow, commonly called dry ice, which puts out fire without the damaging marks of water. It is especially valuable where blue prints or valuable paper documents should be protected from ruinous contact with water.

A new kind of hat for motorcycle drivers, miners and other industrial workers has been made of bakelite, a non-breakable composition, heretofore used in dish, pipe and pipe stem manufacture. It protects the wearer from falling chunks and dangerous materials.

Shoes with steel roller soles have also been suggested for the same class of workmen to protect their feet.

Thus scientific inventions keep pace with the needs of progress. It has been said, and truly, that necessity is the mother of invention. As the need for new mechanical or other devices become necessary for the forward movement in world progress, science comes along and produces the things necessary.

Dig Deep if You Would Win

Dig deep if you would have the richest treasures. One may wash gold dust from the shallow stream, but the coveted nugget of gold is found buried in the bowels of the earth. Those who would find diamonds must move mountains of earth and "full many a gem of purest ray serene the dark, unfathomed caves of ocean bear." The profoundest beauty in a great painting, or the work of sculpture, and the rarest jewel of wisdom on the printed page will not be found on the surface. Art does not surrender its true self to those who will not "dig deep." One may wear gold and jewels without descending to "unfathomed caves" or burrowing underground, but for the richest treasures in literature, painting, music and sculpture one must do his own prospecting. Others may create it, but the individual must discover it for himself. Art is the one absolute commonwealth. Though the common property of all, it is enjoyed by the few. Numbered among the natural resources of the earth are coal, gas, and the various minerals. Art is an artificial resource but of them all it alone is inexhaustible. What applies in the field of art and treasure-hunting is equally applicable to more workaday affairs. Deep digging pays in business, industry, labor, house-keeping, farming or study. In modern phraseology this universal truth is expressed in the counsel of the experience to youth to "get out and dig" if it would accomplish something in life.

Young Car Thieves

A juvenile court judge, divides his cases of auto thefts into three classes. First there are mischievous children who want to see whether they can make the thing go. Second, slightly older boys who take cars for joy rides. These, not being able to afford cars of their own, "borrow" those standing at curbs in order to give their girls evenings of the style to which they, or hope to be, accustomed. The third class is of still older lads who deliberately steal automobiles for the purpose of stripping them or selling them. Needless to say, the last class is recruited from the other two. The youngster, inspired by adventure to experiment with the car belonging to some one else, and the youth who takes the car of another because he would rather have stolen joys than quieter honest ones are making directly for the point of view which regards any stealable automobile as lawful prey. The recommendation of the judge and of the automobile club officers in his city are that high school boys be impressed with the dangers of stealing cars. This may help somewhat. The generation now in high school is a slightly more responsible one than that of four years ago, and more amenable to moral suggestion. But the place to begin is in the nursery. Stealing cars is merely one phase of a moral system—or lack of system—which takes no thought as to the rights of one's neighbors. A child of four can be taught principles of respect for the rights of others in such a way that the youth of 20 will abide by them.

Work Hard and Live Long

The world wearies of advice from the aged on how to live long, but Mrs. Francoise Levapresto of Staten Island, New York, has a right to give advice. Any woman who, on her 105th birthday, cooks and serves dinner for a big family, shakes hands with 300 school children and runs back and forth all day from house to front gate to respond to greetings from passers-by, with youthful alacrity and cheerfulness, has a right to a heading. "If you want to live to a ripe age," says Mrs. Levapresto, "work hard. Plenty of work, plenty of exercise, plenty of sleep and no worry—that's the way." There is such a thing as working too hard, but few nowadays come to an untimely end by that means. It is lack of exercise and occupation that does the most harm. Idleness kills far more than industry. It is surprising how much work can be accomplished, without injury to health, but rather to its benefit, if accompanied by "plenty of sleep and no worry."

Now Hitler Finds This Old Relic

material wealth, but in history. One hundred years ago, in 1835, the first peace council with the "wild tribes" of Western Plains Indians was held near here at what was then known as Camp Holmes, or Fort Edwards, at the mouth of Little river in the community now known as Bilby. The negotiations with the Indians was carried on under the direction of General Henry Leavenworth and his "Dragoons." In his party were such men as Steve W. Kearney, Lieut. Col. Henry Dodge, who were officers in the war of 1812. Governor Stokes, Francis Armstrong, August P. Chouteau, George Catlin, the great painter; Nathan Boone, son of Daniel Boone, and Lieut. Jefferson Davis, later president of the Confederacy, were on duty at Camp Holmes, or Fort Edwards. There are many other spots of historical interest around this progressive little city of 7,500 population. Holdenville is in the oil country, but its growth from a county seat town of 2,000 population to a thoroughly modern city of 7,500 has been steady and substantial. Moreover, Holdenville is the capital of a rich agricultural, livestock and produce-growing country. It was the boyhood home of the Dean brothers—Dizzy and Duffy—of baseball fame and it was while working in one of the Holdenville oil fields that Wiley Post got his start in aviation.

You remember how in Egypt, back in the days of the Pharaohs, they stored up grain during the seven good years so as to be ready for the seven lean years to come...

Lean years may come... and fat years may go... That's why we have close to a hundred million dollars worth of tobacco packed away in 4 1/2 miles of warehouses to grow mild and naturally sweet. To make sure that Chesterfields will be uniform in taste and mildness, we have in storage mild, ripe tobaccos from the crops of four years—1931-'32-'33 and '34.

LOS ANGELES GIVES PUBLIC SKY'S SECRET

LOS ANGELES, May 13 — The city has opened its $600,000 wonderland of science with a 80-foot planetarium, an artificial sky across which the stars and planets zipped through a century's movement in a quarter hour, and a 12-inch telescope that showed Saturn with all its rings.

Funds for the project were left the city by the will of the late Col. Griffith P. Griffith, philanthropist, and it was erected atop a small mountain in Griffith Park, another of his donations.

Land of Illusion It contains one of the country's three planetariums — intricate stereoscopic machines creating the illusion of a sky overhead by flashing the stars and planets' images on the ceiling of a 78-foot darkened dome under which 500 people may sit.

The planetarium accelerates the 24-hour day, so that the sun sets, the moon passes across the ceiling, the stars change positions, and dawn breaks, all in a few minutes.

A special projector sprinkles the Milky Way across the ceiling. At any given hour of the brief "night" the machine may be stopped and the various constellations or the planets of our own system may be pointed out.

5,000 Years By adjustment of the mirrors and prisms that project the light, the heavens 5,000 years ago, or 5,000 years hence, may be shown.

Under another dome is a 12-inch refractor telescope — one of the most powerful available for public use—that brings the moon within 300 miles.

A plaster model of the moon itself is in an adjoining gallery, the craters and mountain ranges faithfully reproduced from photographs taken through the Mt. Wilson Observatory's 100-inch telescope.

Lights traveling across the face of the model produce the effect of sunlight upon the actual moon, and show the various stages — quarter, half and full moon — as well as the dark shadows cast by the high mountains.

Huge Image of Sun A 21-inch image of the sun is projected on a screen by a device known as a coelostat. This arrangement of revolving mirrors will shoot sunbeams into a spectro-heliograph and a spectroscope, scientific device for studying sunlight.

The telescope and sun-studying devices are not playthings, but actual scientific tools, and will be used by gifted amateurs in useful research, according to Dr. Philip Fox, director of the Adler Planetarium in Chicago, guest director here for several months.

BRITAIN READY FOR BIG YEAR OF YACHTING

By H. L. PERCY
United Press Staff Correspondent
LONDON, May 15. — Yacht racing starts here June 1. It generally is regarded as one of the best seasons ever experienced.
The special Silver Jubilee programs, and the presence of Gerald Lambert's Yankee, are the two factors that will aid.
The season opens with a regatta at Harwich and ends at Dartmouth, August 31. All the races will be off southern England, and many valuable extra prizes are being put up. High spot of the season will be the Royal Regatta at Cowes, Isle of Wight, August 5-10.

First Big Race
The first, or big, class this year will consist of Britannia, Endeavour, Yankee, Shamrock, Velsheda, Astra, Candida, and the schooner Westward, which yachtsmen describe as the finest fleet of racing vessels ever seen in this or any other country.
Nearly all the British vessels have had alterations made in order to cope with the Yankee, which many here regard as faster than Rainbow.
When the yacht Vigilant came over in 1894 her principal opponent was Britannia, which defeated her 11 times in 17 races. That same Britannia, now 42 years old, is still racing, but is hardly likely to repeat her success against the Yankee.

King Sticks to Britannia
Some time ago it was suggested that a new yacht should be built for King George by public subscription to commemorate his Silver Jubilee, but the King, who is much attached to Britannia, declined the offer. Britannia, however, has been overhauled.
The extensively altered vessel in the fleet, however, is H. W. Stephenson's Velsheda, whose stern has been lengthened and bow modified. The yacht has also been fitted with a center-plate and solid steel rigging, and like most of the others in the class, she will carry the now fashionable double-clewed jib. Velsheda showed rather disappointing form last summer.
Shamrock has also been fitted with a center-plate and has had her rudder altered. She had a center-plate when she competed for the America's Cup in 1930, but on her return from New York it was removed. The vessel's rig has been somewhat modified.

Candida's Alterations
H. A. Andreae's Candida has had alterations of her accommodation below decks and an addition to her sail area. Last year her sail plan was cut down with a view to larger time allowance, but the reduction in canvas proved to be rather too drastic and she failed to produce the form she had shown in her early years.

Yawned Jaws Open
BROCKTON, Mass. — Joan Byrne won't yawn in a hurry again. Recently he yawned so hard his jaw wouldn't close. Police took him to a hospital where he was put to sleep and his jaws finally closed.

American Indians Stop Paris Traffic

PARIS, May 15. — Fourteen Sioux Indians, with war paint and all of the fixings, descended from the S. S. Bremen boat train to block traffic and to give Parisians a real thrill. The French, after seeing American films, are convinced that 75 per cent of the population of the United States is made up of Indians and gangsters.

Armed with tepees and similar trappings, they came all the way from Pine Ridge, S. D., to set up a typical Sioux village at the Brussels Exposition to show the world Indian customs and war dances.
With typical Indian stoicism they marched past astounded porters and fellow passengers who lined the platform. They called a halt when accosted by a group of photographers and reporters, who were undaunted by the ferocious war paint. Daniel Black Horn, 72-year-old chief, introduced Sam Lone Bear, their interpreter.

TRAPPED WILD DUCK
WELESLEY, Mass. — No wonder O. R. Rice had a bad case of the jitters. Strange, weird sounds came from out the fireplace in his home. On investigation, however, it turned out to be only a wild black duck that had become trapped in it.

Summer Sweethearts
By Mabel McElrott © 1935, NEA Service, Inc.

Katharine scarcely recognized the white face that stared at her from the mirror.

Moonlight streamed over the floor and lay in barred squares on the broad mahogany four-poster where she slept, restlessly turning in her dreams. A red-haired rider on a roan horse galloped through her dream; and there was a lean, ascetic-looking man in evening clothes somewhere in it, too. Kay argued with him, she was angry, she wept. She woke to an uneasy feeling.

But over the breakfast table Johnny Kaye was his usual pleasant self. He sprang to pull out Katharine's chair for her. His dark blue suit, his striped shirt, his scrubbed-looking surgeon's hands were good solid facts in the foggy morning.
"Sleep well?"
"Not so very." As she unfolded her napkin he observed that the shadows under her eyes were deeper. "The foghorn blew all night long," Katharine contributed, sugaring her grapefruit. "You're going into town?"
"On the 8:55, yes." He buttered a roll with precision. "Bertine said to tell you she'd be back before lunch. She had to go to some Garden Club meeting. And your father's off for early golf."

SHE lifted heavy eyes. Nothing seemed to matter very much this morning. She had missed her hour for riding. But did she want to ride any more? Wasn't Michael Heathcote becoming a far too important factor in her life? Wouldn't it, perhaps, be wise to make a clean cut of the matter? Oh, but it was her one great outlet, she needed it. It kept her going . . .

. . . thought perhaps you might come in and lunch with me," John Kaye was saying.
"Oh, I'm so sorry. I'm afraid I didn't hear what you said before," she said in contrition.
"I'm moving in Monday. Found a place," Dr. Kaye said. "It's furnished, so Bertine won't have any fun." His eyes twinkled behind the rimless glasses. "But I thought I'd like to see you again before I settle down to work in earnest. There won't be any more week-ends for me when I get under way."
"I'd love to come for lunch," Katharine said. "Could I see the apartment, perhaps? That would be fun."

It was arranged that she was to meet him at the Ritz at 1. Later they would go over to the building on the East River where Dr. Kaye was to live. In two rooms high above the turgid stream with its tugs and doughty steamers plying their way to New England. After John had left Katharine called the number of the riding club.
"That you, Tips? It's Miss Strykhurst. Tell Michael I won't be riding today. I didn't want him to keep Fury for me . . ."
"That's all right, Miss Strykhurst. Miss Michael, he went off with Miss Moon on Fury 10:15 minutes ago."

Katharine put the telephone in its cradle with hands that shook a little. She scarcely recognized the white face that stared back at her from the mirror. Sally Moon—on her own little horse. Sally there at her hour!
"Love to."
"Well, if John Kaye 'fell for' Gracia McIlvaine as easily as that, Katharine told herself later that night, she was afraid she wouldn't have much respect for him. Gracia had kept him at her side with quiet insistence all the remainder of the evening.
"Men are all fools," said Katharine to herself, as she undressed. Even Johnny, whom she had thought above such things. She fell asleep congratulating herself that she had not confided any of her innermost feelings to him.

WILKINS SEEKS CANADIANS FOR FLIGHT PILOTS

MONTREAL, May 15 — Two Canadian pilot-air engineers may lead Sir Hubert Wilkins, next "Ellsworth Trans-Antarctic Flight Expedition."

Sir Hubert now is in Canada visiting the various aviation centers in search of two hardy pilots, willing to undertake a dangerous non-stop flight across 2,900 miles of uncharted ice-wastes.

The noted explorer revealed during a visit here that the purpose of his next expedition will be to establish whether the Antarctic is one continent.

Leave in Fall

He plans to leave next fall. Traveling by cargo boat, the party will land at the old base on the Weddell Sea. The flight across the South Pole to the extreme side of the continent will start early in October.

Sir Hubert said the men he was seeking must have a "certain amount of business to dig plane from snow drifts, and to start the engine in the event of voluntary, or forced landings." In addition, they must have experience with land and seaplanes, and a knowledge of blind flying.

Length of Employment

The period of employment will extend from July 1, 1935, to April 1, 1936. The men will receive a salary of $500 and expenses, and a bonus of not less than $2,000, if the flight proves successful.

Sir Hubert said he favored Canadian fliers because they were probably the only ones capable of withstanding the rigors of the South Pole.

Two Canadian fliers have won fame with Sir Hubert's previous expeditions. Bert Bolchen, considered one of Canada's leading northern country fliers, was with the expedition last year, and L. Cheesman was engaged in 1929-1930.

JUBILEE TIME IN ENGLAND IS WEDDING TIME

By H. L. PERCY
United Press Staff Correspondent
LONDON, May 15.—Silver Jubilee time is marrying time.

Provincials here for the celebration, taking advantage of the cheap excursion trains that run from all parts of the island, also take advantage of the occasion to be married.

Judging from statistics normal times there will be well over 200 weddings a day during the Jubilee period.

City of Romance

These statistics have shown that despite its claim to sophistication, London still is a city of romance. Every day something like 130 marriages take place, and every quarter there are about 10,000. In some months there are 200 weddings a day.

There are several reasons for London's popularity for weddings. Many people in the provinces like the idea of being married at one of the famous old churches. Some have sentimental reasons such as a desire to be married in the same church as one of their ancestors. Then, it generally is cheaper with less publicity for the provincial to marry here away from the narrower influences of the home-town.

Residential Qualifications

A residential qualification of 15 days is necessary, otherwise a special license and a fee of $150 are needed.

One of the most popular wedding churches in London is St. George-the-Martyr, in Borough high street, east London. This is famous as the church of the marriage of Charles Dickens' little Dorrit. Mass marriages used to take place at St. George's on Easter Sunday, and sometimes as many as ten couples have been married simultaneously, one service sufficing for all. This custom, however, has now been discontinued.

Noted Singer Now Lives by Odd Jobs

LOS ANGELES, May 15.—Beatrice Leo, diva who once sang a command performance before Queen Victoria of Great Britain, is living in a modest room on South Broadway, on what she earns from odd jobs.

The once noted singer, now 72, was discovered when she fell and was bruised getting off a street car and was taken to a receiving hospital.

"I made my debut here in 1883," she recalled. "I played Mercedes in 'The Count of Monte Cristo.' That was down in the old opera house at First and Main streets."

"Later I went to London and I guess I made quite a name for myself, because the Queen wanted to hear me."

"Once I was worth around $200,000, but in 1906 I lost it. I've been doing odd jobs ever since."

Her real name is Mrs. Marie Hart.

Youth of Pacific Planning Meeting

MANILA, P. I., May 15.—Eleven countries, bordering the Pacific, will be represented in an international conference of youth leaders to be held here in July, under the auspices of the Pacific League of Youth.

Working out details of the conference is Attorney Theodore T. Evangelista, president of the Philippine Youth party and chairman of the controlling council of the Pacific League of Youth.

Evangelista was elected chairman during the conference in Shanghai in 1934. He went to Washington as secretary to Senate President Manuel Quezon when the latter headed the mission which carried the draft of the Philippine Constitution to the president.

Preparations, in the absence of Evangelista, are in the hands of Melchor P. Aquino, who heads the Philippine Youth committee on external relations.

Questions of vital importance to Pacific countries will be discussed during the conference. However, since the discussion will be purely academic, no resolution condemning or approving the conduct of any nation bordering the Pacific will be passed.

Each of the 11 countries is to be represented here by the delegates.

SAN DIEGO, Cal., May 15.—Red tape, which annoys people, killed a 14-foot python.

With five other pythons, the snake arrived from Singapore for the Pacific International Exposition. The bills of lading were sent in error to Chicago and customs officials would not let the snakes off the boat.

By the time the bills of lading arrived, the 14-foot python was dead. The others were sluggish and thin but will live.

Arabs Hunt Turtles For French Soups

TUNIS, May 15.—With the opening of the turtle soup season in France, scores of Arabs have started to hunt for fat, tortoises in the sandy regions of Soussa and Kairouan, where these shell creatures breed in vast numbers.

More than 50,000 turtles, it is estimated, will be shipped to Marseilles from Tunis during the next two months in order to meet the demands of French gourmets. The prices range from $2.80 to $3.50 per 100 turtles as compared to the low pre-war prices.

There also is a lucrative side business in selling tortoise shell to cabinet-makers and opticians.
