ITALY CHARGES BRITAIN SEEKING WAR

FASCISTS TURN DOWN PEACE PROPOSALS OF LEAGUE WHILE NATION WAITS MOBILIZATION

ROME, Sept. 19. — Coincident with announcement of a government spokesman that the League of Nations peace proposals are "absolutely unacceptable to Italy," the influential newspaper Gironale D'Italia charged today that Great Britain is preparing to fight Italy.

Gironale's editor, Virginio Gayda, usually regarded as representing the views of the regime, said recent utterances in the British press showed that nations determination to fight Italy.

Regarding alleged references in the British press to closing of the Suez canal and Gibraltar and to Italy's inability to stand against the British fleet, the editorial said: "It is incredible yet true. It is not only provocative and threatening but a deliberate expression of the will to fight."

Italy's determination to reject the league peace proposal was expressed earlier by the official spokesman.

After reading an unofficial summary of the plan, the spokesman said: "Although we have not yet received the text of the apparent spirit which dominates the proposals manifests opposition to Italy."

He said the nature of the proposal providing for international government of Ethiopia supports Italy's thesis that Ethiopia is unable to govern itself.

Little doubt remained that rejection of the proposals by Premier Benito Mussolini and the Italian cabinet Saturday would be a mere formality.

The news put it up to the league to make Italy a better offer or face the fact of an Italian expedition into Ethiopia.

It came as tension gripped a roused country in preparations for a masses "test" mobilization. The call for this may come at any moment for between 12,000,000 and 15,000,000 people.

Fascists have been warned to prepare for the call today or tomorrow. Probably it will come in the late afternoon so as not to disrupt business. It would keep boys and girls at designated posts until 9 p. m., men and women until midnight.

Italy accepts half of peace plan.

ADDIS ABABA, Sept. 19. —Ethiopia moved half the road to peace with Italy today by agreeing to accept almost entirely the proposals for a peace settlement.

Officials told the United Press that the proposals are completely acceptable except for the proposal making possible the granting to Italy of paramount Italian interests in this country.

Even that reservation was expected to prove a stumbling block and officials here have little hope that Premier Benito Mussolini would accept the proposal.

Funeral held in Cisco for N. L. Perkinson.

Funeral services were held this morning at 9 o'clock at Green's Funeral Home for N. L. Perkinson who died yesterday morning at 2 o'clock in a local hospital. The body was sent by rail at 10:50 to Dallas where interment will take place at Laurel Land Memorial Park.

Perkinson was proprietor of the Main Street Lunch Room and was better known as "Pop". He has been a resident of Cisco for 12 years.

He is survived by his widow, a son, W. E. Perkinson, Cisco; two daughters, Mrs. J. A. Nichols of Wichita Falls and Mrs. T. D. Hill of Nacodoches; and a grandson, Donald Albert Perkinson of Dallas.

TWO DECLARE FOR ELECTION IN LOUISIANA

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 19. — First definite indication of dissent among leading lieutenants of the assassinated Huey Long came today with an announcement of Candidey, backed by at least two powerful members of Long's machine, for United States senator and governor.

Lieutenant Governor James Noe declared himself for the governorship now held by O. K. Allen. Wade Martin, chairman of the state public service commission sought the senatorship. Both offices will be filled by election in January.

Noe and Martin have the support of Associate Justice John Fournet of the state supreme court and Rev. Gerald Smith, organizer of the share-our-wealth movement.

But in Houma, Louisiana, speaker Allen Ensmeyer of the Louisiana house of representatives and himself a power among the Kingfish's henchmen, said such a step (the candidacies of Noe and Martin) "is absolutely opposed to the course of action that had been decided upon by a majority of the party leaders."

He said he would have 1,000 share-our-wealth club members in Tulsa county by Saturday night.

Colored Chorus To Sing Here Tonight

The West Texas Baptist District Chorus (colored) will sing at the city hall auditorium tonight at 8:15. It has been announced. The chorus was to have been here Sept. 3 but was postponed because of rain.

Prosecution Rests In Trial of Reis

COLEMAN, Sept. 19. — Prosecutors rested testimony today in the trial of Louis Reis, 19, of Talpa, charged with murder, after attempting to prove he killed Fred Brown, Talpa, by a knife. Reis was expected to testify. The state prevented testimony to show Brown was beaten, then was placed in his automobile and the machine driven over a cliff near Valera, to give the appearance he died in an accident. The killing occurred last May 3.

Choral Club Will Hold Meet Friday

Members of the Cisco Choral club will hold their first meeting of the year tomorrow night at 7 o'clock in the Woman's club house, West Seventh street. The meeting is to be an important business meeting for the purpose of electing officers. All members are urged to be present.

Mooney's Philosophy Unchanged; Prisoner Says It Is Same as FDR's

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 19. — Tom Mooney's social and economic philosophy, source of much of the determination of California officials to keep him in prison until his death, remains unchanged after 19 years of imprisonment. Mooney still believe in a social revolution, dictatorship of the working classes, and in the principles of I. W. W., he revealed in an

THREE CLUBS ORGANIZED AT HIGH SCHOOL

Three high school clubs have been organized so far in the Cisco school extra-curricular activity program. It has been announced.

While these three have elected officers, four others yet remain to be organized, it was learned.

Clubs which have already elected officers are Choral club, Science club, and pep squad.

Officers elected are:

Choral club: Lurline Poe, president; Norma King, vice president; Bessie Rave Coates, secretary-treasurer; Miss Ella Andres, sponsor.

Science club: Pansy Lee Porter, president; Hugh Chief Brown, secretary-treasurer; C. C. Duff, sponsor.

Pep squad: Ruth Bartine, Debra Carroll, Jane McCormick, and J. Tipton, yell eaders; Miss Ida Mae Collins, sponsor.

In the athletics division Roy Furnam was elected captain of the 1935 football team.

Sponsors of other groups, which have not yet elected officers, are J. M. Bird, F. F. A.; Robert L. Maddox, Lobo Band; Miss Frances Bowen, Home Economics.

Two Talks Feature Program at Rotary

Talks by Miss Frances Bowen and Rev. J. Stuart Pearce featured the Rotary club program at the weekly luncheon today.

Miss Bowen, new home economics teacher in the high school, spoke on her work there. Dr. Pearce spoke on the constitution in keeping with National Constitution Week.

Members of the club voted to attend individually a meeting of the Lions club next Wednesday, following an invitation from that organization.

Senators Learn More Of Wine Statistics

AUSTIN, Sept. 19. — Texas senators spent considerably more about wine today after hearing from Jefferson Peyer, attorney, and Gerald Pearce, economist, for the national wine institute. Both are from San Francisco.

The two answered questions ranging from why wine gives some people heartburn to what California considers an open saloon.

They also heard statistics to show that when wine consumption increases consumption of hard liquor lessens. Low taxes and easy availability were urged.

Loboes to Work Under Floodlights Tonight

It was announced today by Coaches Van Sickle and Dexter Shelby that the Cisco Loboes will have their first workout on the lighted field tonight at 8 o'clock.

In preparing for their first game of the season tomorrow night with Electra, the squad will have light drills and a practice of the plays to be used.

There will also be a pep rally at the high school auditorium tomorrow at 11:30 a. m. A pep squad has been organized and new cheer leaders will have charge. The public is invited to come and cheer with the students, and help make the first game of the season one of the best.

BRINGHURST IS WAITING ORDER FOR PARK JOB

George R. Bringhurst, state highway engineer, today was awaiting instructions to proceed with his work of making a survey of the Cisco state park site.

Arriving here yesterday, Bringhurst awaited a letter from the state office containing orders for resuming his work.

He said he came to Cisco from Perryton in response to a telegram that informed him further orders would await him here.

Bringhurst this afternoon said that if he had not come by tomorrow morning, he likely would go to work anyway.

Scout Troop 4 To Greet Scoutmaster

Members of Boy Scout Troop Four are asked to meet tonight at 7 o'clock in the basement of the First Methodist church for the purpose of welcoming the new scoutmaster, Ralph Barton.

JUBILEE FOR BOOSTER CLUB TALKED HERE

Plans were being laid today for an anniversary jubilee of the Cisco Boosters, following a meeting at the Laguna hotel last night of officers, directors, and others interested.

The final plans were still pending a conference today with J. B. Moreno, director of the Lions club minstrel, who was being sought for the direction of a carnival and possibly a style show.

The booster organization is a year old and has been functioning to promote Cisco activities. A number of its projects already have been completed or are under way a present.

Thomas L. Blanton has been invited to speak at the next Booster dinner, it was announced last night, when plans for the dinner were outlined.

MACHINERY FOR PAVING CUTOFF MOVED TO SITE

Bucy and Childs today were moving machinery to the quarry site near the Leary cutoff. Highway 187, to begin work on the paving of the road, it was reported today.

The Rising Star firm has been awarded the contract to crush and deliver the stone for paving of the road.

The quarry is to be located on the Hart place near the highway, it was announced.

Letting of the contract for the stone was another step on the way to securing a paved road between Cisco and Breckenridge.

The nine miles of road between Cisco and the Breckenridge highway at the Eastland county line for a long time has been badly in need of repairs. The Cisco Chamber of Commerce and others have sought to secure a better road and recently, after the stretch had been repaired and given a good caliche base the state highway commission authorized paving of it.

Announcement of letting of the stone contract was made yesterday.

CHICAGO, Sept. 19. — All games of the 1935 world series will be broadcast over the CBS and NBC networks.

The broadcasts will be sponsored by the Ford Motor company again.

Funeral for E. Hart Pends Arrangements

Arrangements have not been made for funeral services for E. Hart who died yesterday in a Ranher hospital. Hart was a resident of Cisco and had been in Ranher approximately two days.

Green's Funeral Home has charge of the body.

Pension Legislation Study Referred To State's Affairs Committee Today

AUSTIN, Sept. 19. — A resolution in the house by Representative Edgar Keefer, Frankston, calling for postponement of old age pension legislation until studied by a 10 member joint committee was referred to the state affairs committee today.

Representative Jesse James, Cameron, co-author of a chain store tax bill fixing a $1 to $750 scale, said 90 house members had signed the bill. Governor Allred, however, said he believed the measure should not exclude lumberyards and filling stations.

The senate adjourned until 2 p. m. and the house until tomorrow.

COOK SCHOOL FOR CISCOANS IS NEXT WEEK

Miss Albertine Berry, home economics director for the Community National Gas company, will conduct a two day cooking school in Cisco Wednesday and Thursday of next week, according to an announcement made today by H. L. Dyer local gas company manager. Miss Berry, who known cooking and home economics expert spent considerable time in Cisco last summer giving food demonstrations and aiding Cisco housewives in their homes.

The ideal theater, which has been opened for the fall and winter, is where the cooking school will be held. A special platform is being built over the orchestra pit for Miss Berry so that attending housewives may observe more readily and to make it easier to inspect Miss Berry's dishes more closely.

Arrangements have been made with the theater management for a free picture show for all housewives who attend. The show will be given the evening of the last day of the school. A new picture with an outstanding Hollywood star will be shown.

A cordial welcome is extended to every housewife in Cisco to attend. Dyer said and there will be no obligations whatever. Miss Berry will award the food which she prepares, and the dishes used to those attending the school. A beautiful radiant heater, a white enamel kitchen radiant heater, and a new Astrogill broiler will also be given away the last day of the school.

Miss Berry who has gained wide recognition throughout the South-west for her timely cooking and home economics broadcasts last week over radio station WFAB of Dallas, will specialize in the newest ideas in plain and fancy recipes, complete meals, and toothsome delicacies, according to Dyer.

The school will start each day at 2 p. m.

The Fall Livestock Show

Change of the annual Eastland county livestock show from a spring to a fall affair by the Cisco Chamber of Commerce, which sponsors the exhibit, was for two reasons, it has been pointed out. They are better livestock at lower cost and a ready market for the animals shown, both of which conditions are brought about at the fall show rather than the spring affair.

Feeding of animals through the winter months to get them in shape for the stock show costs a great deal more than many of the farmers and stockmen feel that they are justified in spending to be able to exhibit prize animals. At the same time, it costs much less to get the stock in shape for the fall showing, and they are perhaps actually in better condition. Actual cost of the show itself is lower in the fall, with feed costing less and other things about equal.

Most farmers and stockmen have more money in the fall than they have in the spring due to the harvesting of crops with the attending annual payoff for them. They are better able, then, to purchase livestock in the fall than they would be six months later. Since the purpose of the livestock show is to promote interest in fine stock through exhibition and sale, and since farmers and stockmen are the principal buyers of the animals, the interest will be greatly increased by holding the show in the fall.

Last spring's stock show, although attended by bad weather at its opening, was termed the most successful ever held here, from the viewpoint of the quality of animals shown. Chamber of Commerce directors, in changing the date of the show from the spring to the fall, were hopeful of promoting more interest in it and in drawing exhibits from more stockmen of this part of West Texas.

Paving of the Leerer Cutoff

Paving of the Leerer Cutoff, Highway 187, scheduled to begin this week, marks the successful termination of efforts by Ciscoans to secure a good paved road from here to Breckenridge.

During the early days of the oil boom, the road was given a topping. Heavy trucks carrying heavier loads of tools and other heavy materials, together with the unusually heavy traffic of a routine nature, caused the road to be badly worn, however, until it became a source of much complaint on the part of merchants. It almost shut Cisco off from Breckenridge, motorists avoiding it as much as possible.

The Cisco Chamber of Commerce and others interested in securing a good road began working to secure a resurfacing of the nine miles of Eastland county highway from Cisco to the Eastland-Breckenridge fork. Their efforts were rewarded when the state allocated funds and improved the road, putting a caliche base on it.

Then, when it appeared that another wait might be necessary before any paving was done, it was announced suddenly that paving of the road had been authorized by the state highway commission.

Wednesday of this week it was announced that the con-

WASHINGTON—Further notes on lobbying:
The "power trust" lobby, which for years has spent more money and hired more lobbyists than any other, probably will join the prohibition lobby as a has-been. Its devious, secretive methods are blocked by a provision in the utility holding company act forbidding anyone paid by a holding company or subsidiary from lobbying without publicly registering with the SEC.

You can get a rough idea how many resident lobbyists there are here by counting some 2500 lawyers and law firms in the city telephone directory. Several hundred other lobbyists don't profess to be lawyers. Nobody knows how many, among those who do, ever passed bar exams.

Sometimes lobbyists start with an ace in the hole. A congressman who voted against the "death sentence" tells me he made a survey among colleagues who did likewise and found about 85 per cent of them either owned holding company securities or had members of their immediate families who owned some.

ONE of the most recent officials to resign and join the brotherhood is former Assistant Attorney General William Stanley, who has established law practice and has been representing certain financing companies which want more out of the Federal Housing Administration set-up than they've been getting.

Some congressmen insist on putting themselves under obligation to lobbyists. Millard of New York, who recently was yelling so loudly about the Jim Farley stamp scandal, requested the United Drydocks Co. to give some of its sheet metal work to a New York man. A company which sent an inter-office memorandum suggesting compliance with the request, "as, of course, a member of the House naval affairs committee may be very useful in future dealings with the navy."

About 20,000 lawyers and agents (most of them not Washingtonians) are licensed to practice before the Treasury. More than 200 have been disbarred, suspended or reprimanded in the past few years by a Treasury committee appointed to enforce ethical standards. The cream of this business is in tax refunds for corporations and rebates for huge estates.

A FEW newspapermen have deserted their trade to take up lobbying. Jim West, who left his job covering Hoover for a press association to become press agent for the Republican National Committee for a while, received $3400 from shipbuilding companies during the Senate munitions hearings and $7500 from duPont, Remington, and Curtiss-Wright.

Very rarely a correspondent is discovered to be on the secret payroll of an organization engaged in lobbying or propaganda, whereupon he is fired from the senate press gallery if he hasn't formally disclosed the connection.

A political writer representing a Boston newspaper used to brand progressives as Norris and Wheeler regularly as "bolshheviks" until it was discovered he was working on the side for the New England Power Association, which then hired him as one of its officials. I observed him dining with Senator Walsh of Massachusetts at the Carlton not long ago.

tract had been let for the crushing of rock for the paving of the road. An Eastland county firm, Bucy and Childs of Rising Star, secured the contract and announced that it would begin moving machinery to the road immediately for the purpose of paving it.

STATES' RIGHTS DEMOCRATS ARE ORGANIZED BY JOE HUMPHREYS

CROCKETT, Sept. 19—Organization of the States' Rights Democratic Group, sponsored by Joe Bailey Humphreys, Crockett, City Attorney, is now under way and individual set-ups are being made in every county in the state, Humphreys said today.

At present temporary organizations have been set up in more than 40 of the most populous counties and other groups are likewise being formed in other counties, he said.

Humphreys scored President Roosevelt for having endorsed the Cole-Disney compromise oil bill, saying that action on the part of the president is merely another example of how the current administration had dominated private enterprise and taken from other states their rights to govern their own industries.

"Government interference in this gigantic business would seriously injure all oil producing states and would be especially detrimental to Texas," Humphreys said.

Fight U. S. Control
"The federal government is determined to get control of Texas' most valuable natural resource. Everybody knows that we have more than half the world's supply of oil in Texas and they had better begin to find out that we are going to lose control of it unless we wake up and fight federal encroachment upon the rights of states.

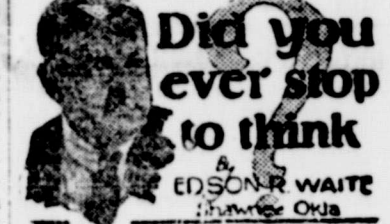

"Texas derives thousands of dollars annually in taxes from production of oil and its associated industries. Thousands of dollars go to the school districts where adequate facilities are now made possible for the children who otherwise would be deprived of the privilege of attending a well equipped school. All these would be lost when the Federal government steps in and the taxpayers will be called upon for more and heavier taxes.

"New Deal Threat"
"The New Deal is a constant threat to our oil industry. Although a most vicious bill was killed by committee action through the efforts of one of our outstanding congressmen last year, there has cropped up a new bill which has been made a part of the so-called 'most program.' As long as these egomaniacs crave power, we people in Texas have more to guard than any other state in the union.

"I am interested in seeing the Democratic Party remain in power, but that is impossible under the present set-up.

Much Encouragement
"I am now organizing Texas, county by county, to carry on the defense of local self-government. We will send delegates to every

There is no question but that good roads go much to make any section attractive. The city that is surrounded by good roads keeps ahead in the March of Progress.

No city can be known as a 'live city,' a good place in which to trade or visit that pays no attention to the surrounding roads. It might have beautiful homes, a good business section, and yet lack the necessary spirit of progress.

The best known cities are those who make themselves attractive by keeping the surrounding roads in good condition the year around.

Cities that do not have good roads in all directions, know the business they should have will go to the other cities who do have good roads.

Business comes where it is invited and stays where it is well treated. Good roads are an invitation!

LAW TO GUARD RADIUM WATER SALE INDORSED

By TED H. MALOY
United Press Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—Legislation may be asked to control use of radio-active waters and thereby eliminate some of the fears that have grown about the use of radium in its various forms. Dr. C. Everett Field of the Radium Institute Laboratory here told the United Press.

The horror of a living death spread in 1924 when five women employees of the United States Radium Corporation discovered they had had been poisoned from painting brushes with the tongue as they painted watch dials with luminescent paint. It was accentuated on March 31, 1932, when Eben M. Byers, millionaire Pittsburgh iron manufacturer, died after drinking a radium solution.

European health resorts at radio-active springs have appealed to American therapists to correct the impression here that such waters are poisonous.

Want Use Controlled
The contemplated legislation would "control the indiscriminate use of radio-active water generators by the public," Dr. Field said. There is no recognized harmful influence of the water, he said, "other than for use of a remedy where it does not apply."

Byers died after doubling and quadrupling the prescribed dose. Dr. Field asserted. The watch dial painters were poisoned by mesothorium, he said, which is "200 times stronger and two-thirds cheaper than radium."

Meso-thorium is radio-active and is used in less refined states. It loses its luminous or its radio-activity much faster than radium, which emanates its ray for 1,700 years.

Claims Called Exaggerated
Federal control of radio-active products followed the watch dial cases of 1924. In 1930, J. W. Sale an expert of the United States Food, Drug and Insecticide Administration, attacked the "highly exaggerated claims, evidently designed to mislead the purchaser, for many alleged radio-active products."

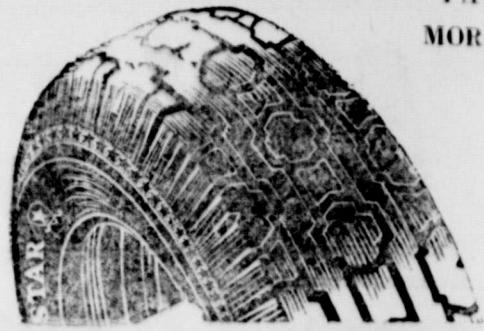

He found only five per cent of the products said to be radio-active contained material quantities of radium. A patient would have to drink 1,687 gallons of water daily to get a minimum dosage of radio-activity has met in Texas.

Asked what he thought of being dubbed a "one man revolt," Humphreys said, "Don't they wish it really were only a one-man revolution."

from one of the products, he said. A more strict control would permit only government-tested products on the market and would regulate their use.

Look To Copeland
Sen. Royal S. Copeland, New York physician, is looked to by the radium therapists as likely to introduce their legislation. However, Copeland told the United Press, he had not considered such an act.

With the controlled use of radium and radio-active substances Dr. Field envisaged more extensive use and greater curative results. He has been using these substances in his treatments for 20 years. He has made more than 7,000 injections of radium chloride into the veins of his patients.

Many diseases respond to radio-active treatments, Dr. Field said. One of the worst is arthritis.

Great Benefits Seen
Government control, or partial government control, would give confidence to the field of radio-active therapy he believes. Use of the radio-active substances though known to the ancients who visited the medical springs, is just dawning, he said.

Production of artificial radium which would be active for only a few hours but be much stronger and a great deal cheaper than pure radium has been announced by Prof. Ernest O. Lawrence of the University of California. Each wave that hits the shore releases a small volume of radium gas.

With these known sources of radio-active substances to be developed Dr. Field foresees a new day in the battle against disease.

Loboes To Match Speed, Determination Against Weight

OPEN SEASON WITH ELECTRA FRIDAY NIGHT

Even Loboes, spotting their opponents 13 pounds to the man, tomorrow night will trot out on Chesley Field to open the 1935 grid season against the Electra Wildcats.

The eyes of the Oil Belt will be turned upon them as they take the field against the big team which led to a scoreless tie against Mustang, Okla., last week. Oil Belt and sports writers, in checking over the teams of the district, have passed up the Loboes with the comment that there's not enough pep on the squad. The Loboes tomorrow night will be out to prove just how wrong fans and sport writers can be.

To Be Underdogs
The Loboes will be putting their strength, deception, and determination against the weight and experience of a seasoned team. They will face the game underdogs, with the task of proving that they can fight an uphill fight and come out winners.

The Loboes have little reserve strength, either in numbers or in pep. The various men have been asked about to get the weight in effective places as possible, however. Wende, out of practice for some time with a bad ankle, may be able to play, and likely will be used as end.

A check over the probable lineup shows that there is a great difference in weights. The following probable lineups are purely guesswork, especially in the Cisco backfield, where a great deal of shifting about is likely.

Probable Lineup	Electra	Wt.
Wagley	Smith	160
Page	Cummins	185
Merrett	Wilkins	165
Doe	Parnell	154
Rainbolt	Holt	160
Barnes	Stacy	200
Wende	Collins	157
Stansbury	Bryant	135
Beasley	Jennings	160
McCauley	Flusche	160
Burnam	Gibson	180

BIG DAM CHATTER

It will be interesting to watch the Big Dam teams in action this year and notice the difference in the style of play used by the various members of the district conference. Practically all the well known types of play will be in vogue.

To begin at home, Cisco will be using a Notre Dame offensive, with a tackle and a backfield shift. The backfield shifts into either a punt formation or the famous bookie box.

Coaches Shelley and Van Sickle will use a good many aerials to offset the weight advantages in which they will put themselves against most of their foes.

Eastland, the only team in the district yet to go into action, will likely be using a very short formation for most of its plays, although it may be that TCU's Johnny Kibben will spring a single wingback or a double wingback to get a little more power and deception.

Last week the Mavericks were helpless in the use of forward passes and resorted to tackle drives for the most part. A good many punts likely will be used later on in the season.

Ranger, it is generally conceded, will need a system of offense only to get the ball into play, depending on the power of its giant, line, the big back and three fast wide-backs to get the power necessary to go places. Coach Reid here last season used his own variation of a punt formation.

Just what is to be on the card at Brownwood is more or less of a mystery as yet. The Lions have a new coach and apparently will try to make whatever changes are necessary to get away from the no-nore stigma of last season. They used a punt and double-wingback formation last year.

Dewey Mayhew at Abilene is reported to have a lot of husky green material that looks good. He will be trying to whip it into shape for the final games of the season which means that he will be particularly interested in beating Cisco. Mayhew, year in and year out, has used a short punt formation, running many plays to the back side, and putting plenty of pep in the air.

At Breckenridge the boys will be becoming an old timer in the Oil Belt but a newcomer to Breck. Coach Eck Curtis, who formerly coached at Ranger and Electra, will likely use the Rockne style of play with which he has been so successful. At Ranger two years ago he used many reverses. Unlike Coach Shelley of Cisco, Curtis used no line shift at Ranger.

HOOKS AND SLIDES

PHILADELPHIA—Thomas Austin Yawkey asserts that if he had had the say, Julius Solters would not have been swapped by the Red Sox to the St. Louis Browns for Oscar Melillo and $10,000.

After what Yawkey has spent in Boston, it is difficult to understand just what a baseball owner has to do to have the final word on deals involving his own club.

Yawkey has invested more than $3,000,000 in the Hub, more than $750,000 of it for talent, including $250,000 for Joe Cronin and $125,000 for Lefty Bob Grove. Without boring you with details, it can be said without fear of contradiction that the New York capitalist did not receive any the best of it in several transactions.

Yawkey's remarks about Solters may be an indication that the bank roll man of Fenway Park intends to take an active hand in future Red Sox purchases, sales, and exchanges. Heretofore, they have been solely in the hands of Edward Trowbridge Collins, the immortal second baseman. Yawkey's accompanying his team on its final western jaunt may also be significant.

Yawkey Knows Way Around
YAWKEY is no babe in the baseball woods, even though he may have appeared to be one at times. Tom comes from a baseball family.

His foster father, William Hooper Yawkey, was president of the Detroit Tigers from 1903 until 1907 and retained a half interest in that franchise until his death in 1918. Tom played second base in a preparatory school and at Yale and always has been an ardent American League fan.

The deal that did the most good for an American League club this year was the one that put Solters in the livery of the Browns. Collins and Cronin gave up on Solters a bit too soon.

Cronin said the big outfielder from Baltimore had a hitch in his swing. Solters credits Rogers Hornsby with straightening him out along this line. Anyway, Julius is hitting .322 for the Browns. In the Boston club's last visit in St. Louis, the young man the Red Sox got rid of broke up four of six games.

What the Red Sox lack more than anything outside of another right-handed power pitcher is a right-handed power hitter. Solters has been just that ever since he left Boston.

Good Linemen Are On Penn State Team

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., Sept. 19.—With amply justified optimism, Coach Bob Higgins has begun drilling his Penn State football candidates for the autumn campaign which includes an invasion of the Pitt Panthers' lair, Oct. 26.

Beginning his sixth season as head coach of the Nittany Lions, Higgins has 14 varsity lettermen in suits, including the entire 1934 forward wall, with the exception of Lou Kreizman, a guard.

He is further fortunate in having available 17 members of last year's freshman squad, rated as Penn State's best yearling crew in a decade.

Sophomore material include Dan De Marino, 195-pound tackle; Carl Waughman, end and Johnny Economos, guard, who appear most likely to earn first-string positions. Fritz Owens, Walter Komnic and "Rabbit" Wear, a diminutive but speedy quarter, are the new backs expected to make the strongest claims for regular berths.

The season opener will be the Lebanon Valley game, Oct. 5. Higgins issued invitations to 44 candidates to report for the initial workouts.

Among the lettermen available are Captain Bob Weber and Roy Schuyler, tackles; Lou Bath, Frank Wanser and Harry Latorre, guards; Charles Cherundolo and Jim O'Hara, centers; Frank Smith, Art Fry and Bob Morini, ends.

Live Communities Are Built By Home Trade Says C-C Secretary Spencer

When you find high class public schools located accessible to your children; when you find a community of fine churches; when you find all the conveniences of modern life at your elbow, just stop and think that this is the result of successful home trade, which has made it possible to create a splendid center of civilization in your locality, according to Secretary J. E. Spencer of the Chamber of Commerce.

"If everybody had decided to trade away from home these things could not exist in your neighborhood. They might exist in some remote city where your welfare is never considered, and you might as well be in the wilds of Africa, for all those who had profited by the money you sent them would care."

A safe and sound bank, a live merchantile establishment, or an industry that is commanding business in the community is a great asset to every person in that community. It is the thing that decides the stability of the town, and determines the growth of the place and its desirability as a place in which to live, he said. No person cares to locate in a town where business is uncertain and shaky, or where conditions are so uncertain that investments in real estate would be a doubtful venture. And all of these conditions depend in the final analysis on what you are doing with your money and whether the town is receiving the business to which it is entitled.

"In home trade, however, you are dealing with neighbors and friends. You are dealing with those who are ready to chip in and help as far as their means will allow them when you and your family are in distress; you are dealing with those who are your joint partners in the joys and sorrows of your home community. Disaster to you is disaster to them."

"The welfare of the people of a community is inseparable, he pointed out. Selfishness and shortsightedness exist but it's the liberal, broadminded spirit of live and let live that makes your home community an abiding place worth while."

"Very few of the country towns of the state offer better business opportunities than they did twenty years ago, and in many of them the prospects are not so promising as they were at that time. One reason for this, perhaps, is the growing tendency to patronize mail order houses and stores located in the larger centers. It is worth nothing that farm values depend in some measure, at least, on the proximity of the property to a good town. Eliminate the country town, and land values surely will drop. We believe the small town is needed, and that farmers and townspeople are exceedingly shortsighted when they fail to patronize home merchants and their home institutions."

ARM PATROLMAN

Inheritance Tax Is Levied by County

Special to Daily News
EASTLAND, Sept. 19 — Inheritance tax of $232.78 has been levied by Eastland county against Miss Lillian Shertzer, daughter of John Shertzer, who died July 14, 1934. Actual market value of property of Miss Shertzer which was inherited from her father was placed at $48,278 in an appraisal by the county judge and comptroller. A statutory exemption of $25,000 was allowed before the 1 per cent tax was levied. No other beneficiaries of Shertzer had income or property whose values were of amount when a tax was permissible, the appraisal stated.

Papers were filed in County Clerk T. M. Collier's office.

Kansas State Gears For Fast Football

MANHATTAN, Kans., Sept. 19 — Kansas State college will have its "mighty atom" on the gridiron this fall in Fred Sims, 136-pounder who came here as an all-state man. The agricultural college, champion of the Big Six last year, has a new head coach, Wesley Fry, who succeeded Lynn Waldorf. No change in system is contemplated, however. There will be no radical departures from the style of play inaugurated last year, Fry announced. The only changes will be those inaugurated to meet changing personnel and new conditions.

He intends to step up the speed of the varsity about 20 per cent through the re-appearance of 13 returning lettermen. Last year Kansas State averaged 55 plays per game and the aim this year, Fry said, is 75. The shift and nudge were geared up during spring practice.

As far as possible, Fry and his assistant Stan Williamson, plan to use at least two full teams in every game to prevent fatigue from bogging down the swiftstriking phase of the attack. Let us figure your next ton of printing. Our job printing department is equipped to serve your needs. — Phone 80.

The BLUE DOOR
By Rachel Mack

BEGIN HERE TODAY
RUTH WOODSON, pretty, high-spirited girl of 18, was sitting at a table in the little town of Worthville. The queer old caretaker, BERTHA GIBBS, also known as "MAY," thinks that ELAINE CHAMBERS, whose grandfather built the house, is a fortune teller. Ruth needed shelter and having fallen in love with the young man next door, JOHN McNEILL, decides to stay on a while, posing as Elaine. Elaine, meanwhile, at Graystone college, vows to a sorority meeting to win the love of her childhood hero, John McNeill. She plans to go to Worthville.

John McNeill has fallen in love with Ruth and worries about her being alone with Bertha Gibbs in the old house. Ruth is not disturbed by the queer old woman, but she hears in the house at night. Elaine goes to New York and her mother, MRS. McNEILL, tells her that her uncle, DENNIS McNEILL, has escaped from an insane asylum and is thought to be in New York. This news is received by the HUNTERS, her husband, since he hates Dennis and was the one who caused her to be committed. Elaine is in love with a senator at Annapolis, DENNIS DAVIS, but encourages the attentions of TEDDY VAN HARTINGTON.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XX
MRS. McNEILL, arriving home a few days earlier than she had expected, took a taxi from the depot to her home on Garfield avenue. When she reached home she was given a welcome by Susie, the colored cook who had served her for almost 30 years. Mrs. McNeill exclaimed, "How nice everything looks, Susie! I don't believe I've been missed at all. How's Mr. John?" "If it's his appetite you're asking about," answered Susie, "it ain't never been better. But he's doin' a powerful lot of galavantin'. He ain't home any longer than it takes to eat his meals and spruce up."

Mrs. McNeill looked pleased. She said, "I always thought John would be socially inclined if he once got started. Where has he been going, Susie?" "Now you're askin' me sumthin'," replied Susie. She rolled her eyes importantly, enjoying the remarkableness of the news she was about to impart. "He's been goin' o'vah to the old Hunter house!" Mrs. McNeill stared in amazement, her well-bred mouth actually gaping. "What do you mean by that, Susie? What on earth does he do there?" "He hangs aroun' a young lady," Susie informed her. "Who is the girl?" Mrs. McNeill asked. "You don't mean the Chalmers child, do you, Susie?" "Yes," said Susie, nodding. "Dat's who 'tis, all right. He call her 'Elaine' when he yell at her one mornin' from the yard. Ebe and me recollects her from a chile, but we ain't had a good look at her since she's been teach. Seem like she done come all by herself to take a rest. Mr. John tole me not to talk about it to nobody, an' I ain't."

MRS. McNEILL was calculating. "Elaine must be about 20 years old now. Do you mean the girl hasn't seen anybody but John, Susie?" "Seems like she ain't," replied Susie. "Maybe she's done caught the solitary bug from crazy Bertha Gibbs."

Mrs. McNeill laughed, then grew sober. "She's got no business being alone in that house with Bertha. I've an idea she came without her mother's consent. I must look into it, Susie."

John arrived just in time for dinner; almost before the soup was finished his mother was asking him questions about Elaine. His reticence surprised her. Could Susie be right about his being "daffy" over the girl? She said, "John, I must see her! She's got no business in the world being in that house. Whatever induced her to come? Just a whim?" "It seems so," answered John. "She needed a rest."

Mrs. McNeill said, "I'm afraid I wouldn't recognize her now. I recall her as a handsome, imperious child. How is Bertha reacting to it all, John?" "More reasonably than you'd expect," John replied. "But I feel darn'd uneasy about it, just the same. I've just been thinking, Mother, couldn't we ask her over here to finish out her visit?" "Of course we could see," she told him. "I've been planning the same thing myself. Go over after dinner and bring her to me. I think I can convince her that she ought to come to us."

Ruth was not prepared for John's request that she run over to see his mother with him. It threw her into a panic. She exclaimed, "Why, John! I didn't know your mother was at home."

"She came back today," John told her.

He did not let her wait to "primp," as he called it, but seized her hand and drew her, running, after him across the lawn.

MRS. McNEILL met them in the hall and kissed Ruth matter-of-factly as she greeted her. She said, "You're a dear child to come. John says you haven't been seeing people, but I felt you wouldn't mind seeing me. I was leading Ruth into the big living room and seating her on a divan as she talked. The girl's panic was vanishing. She had been accepted as Elaine, even in the clear lamplight. Perhaps there was nothing to fear, after all. She looked shyly at John and his beaming smile reassured her.

He said, "Mother's got a plan. A swell one."

"What is it?" Ruth asked, her voice a little fluttery.

"It's this," said Mrs. McNeill. "You're to go back and pack your clothes and come to us at once. You're not to stay another night in that desolate old barn. It's not practical. It's not even safe."

Ruth answered, surprised and touched. "Oh, but I couldn't do that. I couldn't."

Mrs. McNeill asked pointedly, "Does your mother know you are here, Elaine?" "No," answered Ruth, flushing hotly.

"And do you think she'd approve of your being here alone?" continued Mrs. McNeill firmly. "No. I suppose she wouldn't."

"Well then!" said Mrs. McNeill, as if that settled it. "Do you want John to tell old Bertha Gibbs

ACES OF RING MIX COLLEGE JABS AND JOBS

By WILLARD R. SMITH
United Press Staff Correspondent
MADISON, Wis., Sept. 19 — The 1935 National Collegiate boxing champions in the professional jargon are "ham - and - egg" fighters because they, just like the preliminary boys, have to have jobs to eat.

When the University of Wisconsin's championship boxing team polished off six major opponents without a defeat, tie or even a close match last season, it centered the attention of amateurs throughout the Middle West on the opportunities of collegiate boxing here and attracted a corps of candidates seeking tryouts — and "jobs" with meals.

George Downer, manager of boxing, and Coach Johnny Walsh, having been besieged by boys who want to push leather for Wisconsin. More than a score of high school graduates with good grades, including half a dozen state or sectional Golden Gloves champions, came here this year.

Football Men First
"Unfortunately, many of these boys lack the means to pay their way through college and end need board and room jobs to get by," Downer said. "Such jobs are all too scarce, and football and basketball, which turn in most of our revenue, have first call on most of those."

Courage is their first requisite, steaks secondary, and then cash. Only one man on Wisconsin's entire championship squad last season had an income from home which relieved him of the necessity of working for meals.

Five of the veterans who helped beat West Virginia, Pittsburgh, Haskell, Syracuse, North Dakota and Michigan state last season, together with some capable reserves, will make the 1936 squad fully as strong as the 1935 championship team.

Wisconsin will send a full team to the national collegiate tournament at the University of Virginia next March when collegiate amateurs are selected for the American Olympic tryouts.

May Meet Pacific Team
The season schedule includes Penn State, 1935 eastern intercollegiate champions; Maryland, undefeated last year; Pittsburgh, Syracuse, Michigan state and North Dakota, which won the Minneapolis Golden Gloves tournament for two years, and possibly the champions of the Pacific coast conference.

All five of the regulars, George Stupar, Gordon Harman, Charles Zenda, Nick Deonovich and James Wright, are returning not only to the ring but to jobs ranging from fancy feeding places to ordinary hash houses. Each, at least in part, is working his way through college. At the table, as in the ring, these boys can dish it out — and they can take it.

FIGHTS FIRES 43 YEARS
BOSTON — Fire Captain John Williams has retired after 43 years of service. He served at one time or another as fire captain on each of the four fireboats in Boston harbor.

Cross Is Erected For Martyr Priest

NOME, Alaska, Sept. 19. — Father Frederick Rupert Alaska missionary who perished on the Kupukok trail in December, 1932, will be remembered by a great cross erected on the summit of Hen and Chickens Mountain, under plans of Father Gabriel Menager.

An attempt also will be made to have the peak renamed Mt. Rupert.

The priest was superior of the Pligman Hos Springs orphanage in the lower Kupukok country. He froze to death on the trail, in 1932, while packing a load of Christmas gifts to the orphanage. Father Menager now holds the post.

SPENDS YEAR IN "LUNG"
SPICKANE, Wash. — Fred Betlach, 16, victim of infantile paralysis is rounding out a year in a mechanical breathing apparatus. Young Betlach, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gus Betlach, is now able to spend more than half his time out of the "lung."

Auto Horn Ban By 1945 Is Forecast

COLLINGSWOOD, N. J. Sept. 19. — The day is coming when automobiles will glide along softly and smoothly — with horns and all noisy klaxons things of the past.

Such is the prediction of Mayor Joseph H. Van Meter, of Collingswood.

Van Meter believes the horns will be barred before 1945 by federal law.

"All this blowing and tooting belongs to an age gone by," said the mayor. "And if we tried to do without it, we'd soon find that most of it is unnecessary and mighty hard on the nerves."

Parking Sign Held For Police Ransom

SEATTLE, Sept. 19. — A new wrinkle in kidnaping appeared on Seattle police department blotters when Ralph M. Sweet, insurance broker, held a traffic sign for ransom.

"I will return the same if proper consideration is given to the two inclosed parking tags," Sweet wrote.

He found the sign lying in the middle of the street, where it had been knocked off its standard. He also collected two tags the same day for parking where it had been.

The police department could find no legal authority for ransoming no-parking signs.

SISTER MARY'S RECIPES

BY MARY E. DAGUE

EVERY Christmas a friend sends me a sack of corn plucked from her garden and dried in her kitchen. It's a good-tasting gift and different, too.

Dried corn is easy to make and simple to store. There are several good driers on the market and one is really an investment because it will work with other foods as well as corn.

Or you can make a drier that will fit your oven or the top of a coal range. Screening is stretched over the frame of the required size and the whole is covered with cheesecloth. Small legs at each corner of the frame elevate it to a coal range. Three to four inches permit free circulation of air between the tray and the warm stove top or oven bottom.

Blanch Before Drying
All vegetables should be blanched before drying. This dipping into boiling water insures perfect cleanliness and induces even evaporation.

To dry corn remove husks and silk as usual. Drop into boiling water and boil five minutes—long enough to set the milk. Cut kernels from cob taking care not to cut deep enough to cut cob. Scrape out pulp. Spread thinly and evenly on tray and dry from three to four hours at a temperature of about 125 degrees F. Stir occasionally while drying. Let

Tomorrow's Menu

BREAKFAST: Grapes, cereal, cream, baked French toast, honey, milk, coffee.

LUNCHEON: Peppers stuffed with rice and cheese, minted pear salad, baking powder biscuits, milk, tea.

DINNER: Boned shoulder of pork stuffed and roasted, cabbage in cream, corn croquettes, stuffed beet salad, apple slump, milk, coffee.

stand on trays until perfectly dry. Store in dust-proof containers in a dry place.

Soak the corn from two to four hours in lukewarm water before cooking. Use two cups water to one cup corn and cook in the same water in which the corn was soaked. It will take about forty-five minutes to simmer the corn until tender. Season with butter, salt and pepper and serve as you would canned corn.

Dried apples are a famous Pennsylvania dish. The apples are pared, cored and cut in thin slices, then dried. Soak apples overnight before using. They make delicious pie and sauce as well as a spicy suet pudding. Early in the spring when fresh fruit is high and scarce a few pounds of dried apples help in meal planning.

Historic House Of '76 Still Standing

BOSTON, Sept. 19. — The old Marshall House, in Marshall Lane, within the shadows of Faneuil Hall, is one of the few buildings still standing here that offers a direct link with Revolutionary War days.

Built in the early 18th Century, it once was the home of Ebenezer Hancock, deputy paymaster-general of the Continental Army.

In 1776, when Count D'Estaing arrived here with his fleet, his ships carried 2,000,000 silver crowns which King Louis XVI of France had sent as a loan to cover the back pay of the Continental Army. The fortune was transferred from the shops to the Marshall House where it was stored until used.

STOCK SHOW WILL BE HELD DURING FALL

Initial plans were made Tuesday to hold the annual Eastland County Livestock show here in the fall rather than in the spring. The date for the show was set as Oct. 25-26 at the regular meeting of the Cisco Chamber of Commerce directors.

Reasons given for the change in time for the stock show were that sale of the animals would be more brisk and that better stock could be shown at less expense.

It was pointed out that the farmers, who would be expected to purchase the bulk of the stock shown, would be in better financial condition in the fall than in the spring, and would be able to purchase more stock.

Less Expense

At the same time, it was said, the cost of feed would be less in the fall. Whereas it would be expensive for stockmen to feed their stock through the winter months to keep them in good condition for the show, they could be kept in good condition in the fall at little cost.

Dr. F. E. Clark was named chairman of the arrangements committee for the stock show. Other committees named were Dr. Charles C. Jones, F. E. Harrell, A. Z. Myrick, and J. M. Bird.

W. H. LaRoque, B. A. Butler, and J. M. Bird were appointed on the publicity committee.

To Work Out Plans

The committees will work out further plans for the stock show in the near future, it was said. The show last spring was termed the best ever held in the county, and it was the hope of the Chamber of Commerce that the one this fall would surpass it.

The Chamber of Commerce directors heard a report from E. P. Crawford on correspondence concerning the state park and CCC camp here.

Progress on the relocation of Highway 80 through Cisco was discussed.

Expenditure of $15 for a lease for highway sign service on the Highway 89 cutoff at Weatherford was authorized by the directors.

Charles Sandler was appointed committee man on the State Manufacturing association.

Hot Dog! The Roosevelt Family Has a Picnic

First Break In Long Group Seen Over Elections

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 19.—First definite indication of dissent among leading lieutenants of the assassinated Huey Long came today with an announcement of candidacy, backed by at least two powerful members of Long's machine, for United States senator and governor.

Lieutenant Governor James Noe declared himself for the governorship now held by O. K. Allen. Wade Martin, chairman of the state public service commission sought the senatorship. Both offices will be filled by election in January.

Noe and Martin have the support of Associate Justice John Pournet of the state supreme court and Rev. Gerald Smith, organizer of the share-our-wealth movement.

But in Houma, Louisiana, speaker Allen Emmender of the Louisiana house of representatives and himself a power among the Kingfish's henchmen, said such a step (the candidacies of Noe and Martin) "is absolutely opposed to the course of action that had been decided upon by a majority of the party leaders."

Caffrey Given Wrist Watch As Football Award

J. E. Caffrey today was proudly displaying an engraved wrist watch which was presented to his son, Stentell Caffrey, by the Texas High School Coaches association.

The watch was presented in recognition of young Caffrey's all-state rating, as evidenced by his participation in the all-state game August 3. Caffrey played as a back on the North District team, which lost to the South District by the narrow margin of a single field goal.

Caffrey was captain of the 1934 Lobo team.

The watch, white and yellow gold, had the emblem of the All-State football game on the sides and Caffrey's name and position were engraved upon it.

His father said he would send the watch to the grid star, who is a freshman at Texas A. and M. college. Young Caffrey is rooming with Harry Brennan, another Ciscoan, at the college.

Preparations To Pave Cutoff Are Going Forward

Bucy and Childs Thursday were moving machinery to the quarry site near the Leary cutoff, Highway 157, to begin work on the paving of the road, it was reported today.

The Rising Star firm has been awarded the contract to crush and deliver the stone for paving of the road.

The quarry is to be located on the Hart place near the highway, it was announced.

Letting of the contract for the stone was another step on the way to securing a paved road between Cisco and Breckenridge.

The nine miles of road between Cisco and the Breckenridge highway at the Eastland county line for a long time has been badly in need of repairs. The Cisco Chamber of Commerce and others have sought to secure a better road and recently, after the stretch had been repaired and given a good caliche base, the state highway commission authorized paving of it.

Announcement of letting of the stone contract was made yesterday.

COMPETITION IN LOBO BAND GROWS KEEN

Strong competition for places in the Lobo band was foreseen Friday when Director Robert L. Maddox announced that there are more candidates for the band than there are suits to outfit them.

"We have 40 suits for the band," Maddox said, "and there are many more than that trying to make it."

He pointed out that at a practice looking forward to the football season there were 50 musicians drilling for the band.

"I'm glad to see it this way," he said. "It shows that we have plenty of material, and it will prove an incentive to make the band members work harder to keep their places."

Issuance of suits, he said, does not necessarily mean that those receiving them will keep them all season. He said that the band would be operated, in that respect, like a football team. Those receiving suits or on the "first string" being benched and having to give up their suits to the "reserves" if they fail to come up to the standard of the band.

Maddox has been working hard with the band to get it in shape for the football season. At the same time, he has a junior band which is in good shape and likely play for many of the games.

The band is planning to play at the Cisco-Electra game and to go to San Angelo for the Lobo-Boicat tangle next week.

New music suitable for games has been ordered recently, he said.

ITALY CLAIMS BRITAIN SEEKS TO MAKE WAR

BULLETIN BY UNITED PRESS

ROME, Sept. 19.—War spirit seethed throughout Italy today as 10 million Fascists, men, women, and children, awaited a "test" mobilization which Premier Benito Mussolini was expected to order within 24 hours.

Two more cargo boats sailed for East Africa with supplies and munition for additional troops embarked that embarked for Libya.

ROME, Sept. 19.—Coincident with announcement of a government spokesman that the League of Nations peace proposals are "absolutely unacceptable to Italy," the influential newspaper Gronale D'Italia charged today that Great Britain is preparing to fight Italy.

Gronale's editor, Virginio Gayda, usually regarded as a representative of the views of the regime, said recent utterances in the British press showed that nation's determination to fight Italy.

Regarding alleged references in the British press to closing of the Suez canal and Gibraltar and to Italy's inability to stand against the British fleet, the editorial said: "It is incredible yet true. It is not only provocative and threatening but a deliberate expression of the will to fight."

Italy's determination to reject the league peace proposal was expressed earlier by the official spokesman.

After reading an unofficial summary of the plan, the spokesman said: "Although we have not yet received the text of the apparent spirit which dominates the proposals manifests opposition to Italy. He said the nature of the proposal providing for international government of Ethiopia supports Italy's thesis that Ethiopia is unable to govern itself.

Little doubt remained that rejection of the proposals by Premier Benito Mussolini and the Italian cabinet Saturday would be a mere formality.

Await Mobilization

The news put it up to the league to make Italy a better offer or face the fact of an Italian expedition into Ethiopia.

It came as tension gripped a roused country in preparations for a masses "test" mobilization. The call for this may come at any moment for between 12,000,000 and 15,000,000 people.

Fascists have been warned to prepare for the call today or tomorrow. Probably it will come in the late afternoon so as not to disrupt business. It would keep boys and girls at designated posts until 9 p. m., men and women until midnight.

Home Economist To Teach Women Ways of Cooking

Miss Albertine Berry, home economist director for the Community National Gas company, will conduct a two day cooking school in Cisco Wednesday and Thursday of next week, according to an announcement made today by H. L. Dyer local gas company manager. Miss Berry will know cooking and home economics expert spent considerable time in Cisco last summer giving floor demonstrations and aiding Cisco housewives in their homes.

The ideal theatre, which has been opened for the fall and winter, is where the cooking school will be held. A special platform is being built over the orchestra pit for Miss Berry so that attending housewives may observe more readily and to make it easier to inspect Miss Berry's dishes more closely.

Arrangements have been made with the theater management for a free picture show for all housewives who attend. The show will be given the evening of the last day of the school. A new picture with an outstanding Hollywood star will be shown.

A cordial welcome is extended to every housewife in Cisco to attend. Dyer said and there will be no obligations whatever. Miss Berry will award the food which she prepares, and the dishes used to those attending the school. A beautiful radiant heater, a white enamel kitchen radiant heater, and a new Astrogall broiler will also be given away the last day of the school.

Miss Berry who has gained wide recognition throughout the South-west for her timely cooking and home economics broadcasts each week over radio station WFAB of Dallas, will specialize in the newest ideas in plain and fancy recipes, complete meals, and toothsome delicacies, according to Dyer.

The school will start each day at 2 p. m.

Two Talks Feature Program at Rotary

Talks by Miss Frances Bowen and Rev. J. Stuart Pearce featured the Rotary club program at the weekly luncheon today.

Miss Bowen, new home economics teacher in the high school, spoke on her work there. Dr. Pearce spoke on the constitution in keeping with National Constitution Week.

Members of the club voted to attend individually a meeting of the Lions club next Wednesday, following an invitation from that organization.

Choral Club Will Hold Meet Friday

Members of the Cisco Choral club will hold their first meeting of the year tomorrow night at 7 o'clock in the Woman's club house, West Seventh street. The meeting is to be an important business meeting for the purpose of electing officers. All members are urged to be present.

Illinois Farmers Ready for Rustlers

JOLIET, Ill., Sept. 18.—Determined to "shoot to kill," 2,000 Will county farmers today oiled their shotguns, placed them in reach, and awaited the alarm to start hunting cattle rustlers.

The Will county Anti-farm Theft association adopted the battle cry of "Get your Shotgun."

Modern cattle rustlers in fast trucks have stolen hundreds of head of cattle in the Chicago area. They are blamed for the slaying of a farm hand near here several weeks ago.

MOONEY PHILOSOPHY UNCHANGED; SAID TO RESEMBLE THAT OF FDR

By United Press

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 19.—Tom Mooney's social and economic philosophy, source of much of the determination of California officials to keep him in prison until his death, remains unchanged after 19 years of imprisonment.

Mooney still believe in a social revolution, dictatorship of the working classes, and in the principles of I. W. W., he revealed in an exposition of his beliefs during the hearing on his application for a writ of habeas corpus.

Furthermore, the man California accused of having set off the bomb which killed 10 and injured over 30 at a patriotic demonstration here in 1916 maintains President Roosevelt stands for much of what Mooney has stood for in the years of his imprisonment.

Bringhurst Here Awaiting Orders On Park Survey

George R. Bringhurst, state highway engineer Thursday was awaiting instructions to proceed with his work of making a survey of the Cisco state park site.

Arriving here yesterday, Bringhurst awaited a letter from the state office containing orders for resuming his work.

He said he came to Cisco from Perryton in response to a telegram that informed him further orders would await him here.

Bringhurst this afternoon said that he had not received the letter, but that if it had not come by tomorrow morning, he likely would go to work anyway.

Funeral for E. Hart Pends Arrangements

Arrangements have not been made for funeral services for E. Hart who died yesterday in a Ranger hospital. Hart was a resident of Cisco and had been in Ranger approximately two days.

Green's Funeral Home has charge of the body.

Community Fair Is Termed Successful

The Shady-Grove-Pleasant Hill community fair held at the Pleasant Hill school Thursday was termed by J. M. Bird, Cisco agriculturist, as far above the average.

People of the communities were celebrating a successful harvest season.

Approximately 50 persons had exhibits at the fair, it was announced.

Kent Word was superintendent of the fair, with W. R. Swan his assistant. Miss Dora Wende was head of the women's division, assisted by Mrs. J. T. Graves. Miss Lubena Wende was secretary.

Army Recruits Are Sought in Cisco

Corporal T. Lancaster, recruiting officer of the Twelfth Field Artillery, Fort Sam Houston, Thursday was in Cisco to accept applications for enlistments in the U. S. army.

Lancaster said he would return Saturday for other applications. Headquarters will be at the post office.

An applicant, he said, must be between the ages of 18 and 35, single with no dependents, and in excellent physical condition.

Historic House Of '76 Still Standing

BOSTON, Sept. 19.—The old Marshall House, in Marshall, Lane, within the shadows of Faneuil Hall, is one of the few buildings still standing here that offers a direct link with Revolutionary War days.

Built in the early 18th Century, it once was the home of Ebenezer Hancock, deputy postmaster-general of the Continental Army.

In 1779, when Count D'Estaing arrived here with his fleet, his ships carried 2,000,000 silver crowns which King Louis XVI of France had sent as a loan to cover the back pay of the Continental Army.

The fortune was transferred from the ships to the Marshall House where it was stored until used.

E. A. Wilson Buried Here On Tuesday

Funeral services were held Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock for E. A. Wilson who died Monday morning at 10:25 in his home on the Eastland highway.

Services were held at the First Methodist church with Rev. Frank L. Turner, officiating. Burial was in Oakwood cemetery. Green funeral home in charge.

Mr. Wilson, former employe of the Humble Pipe Line company is survived by his widow and two sons, Ned Wilson of Odessa and Thomas Allen Wilson of Cisco.

3 High School Clubs Organized During the Week

Three high school clubs have been organized so far in the Cisco extra-curricular activity program. It has been announced.

While these three have elected officers, four others yet remain to be organized, it was learned.

Clubs which have already elected officers are Choral club, Science club, and pep squad.

Officers elected are:

Choral club: Lurline Poe, president; Noma King, vice president; Bessie Raye Coates, secretary-treasurer; Miss Ella Andros, sponsor.

Science club: Pansy Lee Porter, president; Hugh Chief Brown; secretary-treasurer; C. C. Duff, sponsor.

Pep squad: Ruth Bartine, Dena Carroll, Jane McCormick, and Miss Ida Mae Collins, sponsor.

In the athletics division Roy Burnam was elected captain of the 1935 football team.

Sponsors of other groups, which have not yet elected officers, are J. M. Bird, F. F. A.; Robert L. Maddox, Lobo Band; Miss Frances Bowen, Home Economics.

Funeral Is Held For N. L. Perkinson

Funeral services were held Thursday morning at 9 o'clock at Green's Funeral Home for N. L. Perkinson who died Wednesday morning at 2 o'clock, in a local hospital. The body was sent by rail at 10:50 to Dallas where interment will take place at Laurel Land Memorial Park.

Perkinson was proprietor of the Main Street Lunch Room and was better known as "Pop." He has been a resident of Cisco for 12 years.

He is survived by his widow, a son, W. E. Perkinson, Cisco; two daughters, Mrs. J. A. Nichols of Wichita Falls and Mrs. T. D. Hill of Nacatoches; and a grandson, Donald Albert Perkinson of Dallas.

Jubilee Planned By Booster Club On Anniversary

Plans were being laid Thursday for an anniversary jubilee of the Cisco Boosters, following a meeting at the Laguna hotel Wednesday of officers, directors, and others interested.

The final plans were still pending a conference today with J. B. Moreno, director of the Lions club minstrel, who was being sought for the direction of a carnival and possibly a style show.

The booster organization is a year old and has been functioning to promote Cisco activities. A number of its projects already have been completed or are under way as present.

Thomas L. Blanton has been invited to speak at the next Booster dinner it was announced Wednesday when plans for the dinner were outlined.

Refuses Peace Plan

Italy's determination to reject the league peace proposal was expressed earlier by the official spokesman.

After reading an unofficial summary of the plan, the spokesman said: "Although we have not yet received the text of the apparent spirit which dominates the proposals manifests opposition to Italy. He said the nature of the proposal providing for international government of Ethiopia supports Italy's thesis that Ethiopia is unable to govern itself.

Little doubt remained that rejection of the proposals by Premier Benito Mussolini and the Italian cabinet Saturday would be a mere formality.

Await Mobilization

The news put it up to the league to make Italy a better offer or face the fact of an Italian expedition into Ethiopia.

It came as tension gripped a roused country in preparations for a masses "test" mobilization. The call for this may come at any moment for between 12,000,000 and 15,000,000 people.

Fascists have been warned to prepare for the call today or tomorrow. Probably it will come in the late afternoon so as not to disrupt business. It would keep boys and girls at designated posts until 9 p. m., men and women until midnight.

ITALY ACCEPTS HALF OF PEACE PLAN

OFFICE ABABA, Sept. 19.—Ethiopia made half the road to peace with Italy today by agreeing to accept almost entirely the proposals for a peace settlement.

Officials told the United Press that the proposals are completely acceptable except for the proposal making possible the granting to Italy of paramount Italian interests in this country.

Even that reservation was expected to prove a stumbling block and officials here have little hope that Premier Benito Mussolini would accept the proposal.

PENSION LEGISLATION REFERRED TO STATE'S AFFAIRS COMMITTEE

By United Press

AUSTIN, Sept. 19.—A resolution in the house by Representative Edgar Keefe, Frankston, calling for postponement of old age pension legislation until studied by a 10 member joint committee was referred to the state affairs committee today.

Representative Jesse James, Cameron, co-author of a chain store tax bill fixing a $1 to $750 scale, said 90 house members had signed the bill. Governor Allred, however, said he believed the measure should not exclude lumberyards and filling stations.

The senate adjourned until 2 p. m. and the house until tomorrow.

The Fall Livestock Show

Change of the annual Eastland county livestock show from a spring to a fall affair by the Cisco Chamber of Commerce, which sponsors the exhibit, was for two reasons, it has been pointed out. They are better livestock at lower cost and a ready market for the animals shown, both of which conditions are brought about at the fall show rather than the spring affair.

Feeding of animals through the winter months to get them in shape for the stock show costs a great deal more than many of the farmers and stockmen feel that they are justified in spending to be able to exhibit prize animals. At the same time, it costs much less to get the stock in shape for the fall showing, and they are perhaps actually in better condition. Actual cost of the show itself is lower in the fall, with feed costing less and other things about equal.

Most farmers and stockmen have more money in the fall than they have in the spring due to the harvesting of crops with the attending annual payoff for them. They are better able, then, to purchase livestock in the fall than they would be six months later. Since the purpose of the livestock show is to promote interest in fine stock through exhibition and sale, and since farmers and stockmen are the principal buyers of the animals, the interest will be greatly increased by holding the show in the fall.

Last spring's stock show, although attended by bad weather at its opening, was termed the most successful ever held here, from the viewpoint of the quality of animals shown. Chamber of Commerce directors, in changing the date of the show from the spring to the fall, were hopeful of promoting more interest in it and in drawing exhibits from more stockmen of this part of West Texas.

Paving of the Leeray Cutoff

Paving of the Leeray Cutoff, Highway 187, scheduled to begin this week, marks the successful termination of efforts by Ciscoans to secure a good paved road from here to Breckenridge.

During the early days of the oil boom, the road was given a topping. Heavy trucks carrying heavier loads of tools and other heavy materials, together with the unusually heavy traffic of a routine nature, caused the road to be badly worn, however, until it became a source of much complaint on the part of merchants. It almost shut Cisco off from Breckenridge, motorists avoiding it as much as possible.

The Cisco Chamber of Commerce and others interested in securing a good road began working to secure a resurfacing of the nine miles of Eastland county highway from Cisco to the Eastland-Breckenridge fork. Their efforts were rewarded when the state allocated funds and improved the road, putting a caliche base on it.

Then, when it appeared that another wait might be necessary before any paving was done, it was announced suddenly that paving of the road had been authorized by the state highway commission.

Wednesday of this week it was announced that the con-

Behind the Scenes in Washington

BY RODNEY DUTCHER

WASHINGTON—Further notes on lobbying:

The "power trust" lobby, which for years has spent more money and hired more lobbyists than any other, probably will join the prohibition lobby as a has-been. Its devices, secretive methods are blocked by a provision in the utility holding company act forbidding anyone paid by a holding company or subsidiary from lobbying without publicly registering with the SEC.

You can get a rough idea how many resident lobbyists there are here by counting some 2500 lawyers and law firms in the city telephone directory. Several hundred other lobbyists don't profess to be lawyers. Nobody knows how many, among those who do, ever passed bar exams.

Sometimes lobbyists start with an ace in the hole. A congressman who voted against the "death sentence" tells me he made a survey among colleagues who did likewise and found about 85 per cent of them either owned holding company securities or had members of their immediate families who owned some.

ONE of the most recent officials to resign and join the brotherhood is former Assistant Attorney General William Stanley, who has established law practices and has been representing certain financing companies which want more out of the Federal Housing Administration set-up than they've been getting.

Some congressmen insist on putting themselves under obligation to lobbyists. Millard of New York, who recently was yelling so loudly about the Jim Farley stamp scandal, requested the United Drydocks Co. to give some of its sheet metal work to a New York man. A company official sent an inter-office memorandum suggesting compliance with the request, "as, of course, a member of the House naval affairs committee may be very useful in future dealings with the navy."

About 20,000 lawyers and agents (most of them not Washingtonians) are licensed to practice before the Treasury. More than 200 have been disbanded, suspended or reprimanded in the past few years by a Treasury committee appointed to enforce ethical standards. The cream of this business is in tax refunds for corporations and rebates for huge estates.

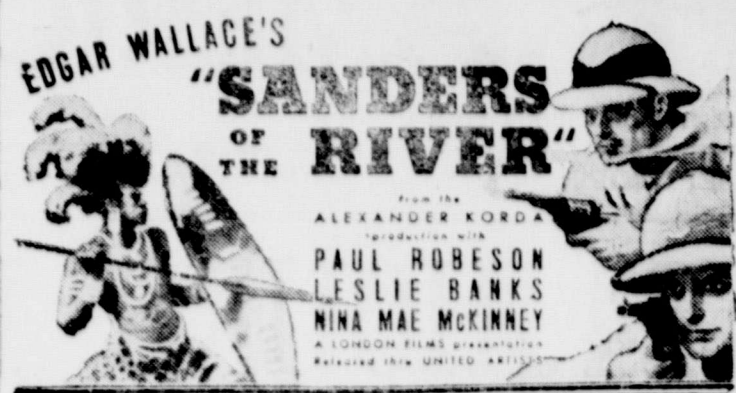

A FEW newspapermen have de-animated their trade to take up lobbying. Jim West, who left his job covering Hoover for a press association to become press agent for the Republican National Committee for a while, received $3400 from shipbuilding companies during the Senate munitions hearings and $7500 from duPont, Remington, and Curtiss-Wright.

Very rarely a correspondent is discovered to be on the secret payroll of an organization engaged in lobbying or propaganda, whereupon he is fired from the Senate press gallery if he hasn't formally disclosed the connection.

A political writer representing a Boston newspaper used to brand such progressives as Norris and Wheeler regularly as "bolshheviks" until it was discovered he was working on the side for the New England Power Association, which then hired him as one of its officials. I observed him dining with Senator Walsh of Massachusetts at the Carlton not long ago.

tract had been let for the crushing of rock for the paving of the road. An Eastland county firm, Bucy and Childs of Rising Star, secured the contract and announced that it would begin moving machinery to the road immediately for the purpose of paving it.

Chapter 6
WHAT HAS GONE BEFORE
(Mafolaba, enraged at the white traders who had falsely told of Sanders' death, puts them to death. Believing Sanders cannot reach his territory during the rainy season, the old king prepares to take revenge on Bosambo, Sanders' black ally. By capturing and holding Lilongo, Bosambo's wife, he lures him to his territory and prepares to execute them both. Lilongo first, the more to torture Bosambo, Sanders' black ally. By capturing and holding Lilongo, Bosambo's wife, he lures him to his territory and prepares to execute them both. Lilongo first, the more to torture Bosambo, Sanders' black ally. By capturing and holding Lilongo, Bosambo's wife, he lures him to his territory and prepares to execute them both.)

THE UPRAISED KNIFE
The sun beamed down upon the riverside village of the old king. Lilongo beamed as he sat amidst his people and looked upon the features of a captive who was bound to one of the sacrificial stakes. The captive was Lilongo, and while he hearkened to the sound of distant drums, the old king addressed her mockingly. "You know what they are saying," he asked her. "They are saying that a dog of a little chief is on his way here. The way through the drums he to you, King Mafolaba." Lilongo answered, "Bosambo will not fall into your trap."

"Who killed Ferguson?" asked Sanders of the old king. He is too cunning for you... But the words froze on her lips, for even as she spoke she saw a figure making its way through the mob of natives in the foreground. It was the figure of her husband, and with countenance set and tense he forced his way to her side and placed an arm about her shoulders. Then he turned his glance upon the grinning face of her tormentor. "So clever one," the old monarch said with a leer, "where is your cunning now? Have I not brought you here without a spear behind you—into my trap?"

"King Mafolaba," Bosambo told him, "I come in peace, but you may do with me what you will. This woman is the light of my life, and I would rather die than lose my people without her." His wife's lips trembled as she looked at him fondly. Then Bosambo spoke again. "King Mafolaba," he went on, "let her go free, and I promise you that she will send back two thousand pieces of gold."

The old king laughed huskily. "It is not your gold I want," he jeered. "It is your skin! Little dog of a chief, you chose to offend me once. For that you will die a slow death. But first you will see your woman die!" A fierce cry escaped Bosambo, and he drew back his spear, but ere he could strike with it he was seized by half a dozen of the old king's minions, who quickly disarmed him and dragged him to a stake several paces distant from the one to which Lilongo was tied.

The witch-doctor of the tribe capered towards Lilongo and began to dance before her maddeningly. Lilongo stared at him in horror. Fastened to the other stake, Bosambo looked at her despairingly. At last Mafolaba summoned his executioner, a powerful savage armed with a knife. This jacked advanced deliberately until he was face to face with Lilongo, and now he raised the dagger. Bosambo Tortured Lilongo closed her eyes again, and watching her, watching that blade as the executioner prepared to plunge it into her heart, Bosambo groaned aloud. Then he, too, shut out the scene from his gaze, for this was something that he could not bear to witness.

The smash of a shot broke the trend of Bosambo's thoughts. It was followed by a second report, and he opened his eyes to see Mafolaba's witch doctor and executioner falling to the ground, while Lilongo stood there with an amazed expression on her face, marveling at her sudden deliverance from death. Next came the deadly chatter of a machine-gun, and in the same in-

LAW TO GUARD RADIUM WATER SALE INDORSED

By TED H. MALOY

United Press Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—Legislation may be asked to control use of radio-active waters and thereby eliminate some of the fears that have grown about the use of radium in its various forms. Dr. C. Everett Field of the Radium Institute Laboratory here told the United Press.

The horror of a living death spread in 1924 when five women employees of the United States Radium Corporation discovered they had been poisoned from painting brushes with the tongue as they painted watch dials with luminous paint. It was accentuated on March 31, 1932, when Eben M. Byers, millionaire Pittsburgh iron manufacturer, died after drinking a radium solution.

European health resorts at radio-active springs have appealed to American therapists to correct the impression here that such waters are poisonous.

The Want Use Controlled
The contemplated legislation would "control the indiscriminate use of radio-active water generators by the public." Dr. Field said. There is no recognized harmful influence of the water, he said, "other than for use of a remedy where it does not apply."

Eyers died after doubling and quadrupling the prescribed dose. Dr. Field asserted. The watch dial painters were poisoned by mesothorium, he said, which is "200 times stronger and two-thirds cheaper than radium."

Meso-thorium is radio-active and is used in less refined states. It loses its luminous or its radio-activity much faster than radium which emanates its ray for 1,700 years.

Claims Called Exaggerated
Federal control of radio-active products followed the watch dial cases of 1924. In 1930, J. W. Sale an expert of the United States Food, Drug and Insecticide Administration, attacked the "highly exaggerated claims, evidently designed to mislead the purchaser, for many alleged radio-active products." He found only five per cent of the products said to be radio-active contained material quantities of radium.

A patient would have to drink 197 gallons of water daily to get a minimum dosage of radio-activity from one of the products, he said.

A more strict control would permit only government-tested products on the market and would regulate their use.

Look To Copeland
Sen. Royal S. Copeland, New York physician, is looked to by the radio-therapists as likely to introduce their legislation. However, Copeland told the United Press, he had not considered such an act.

With the controlled use of radium and radio-active substances Dr. Field envisioned more extensive use and greater curative results. He has been using these substances in his treatments for 20 years. He has made more than 7,000 injections of radium chloride into the veins of his patients.

Many diseases respond to radio-active treatments, Dr. Field said. One of the worst is arthritis.

Great Benefits Seen
Government control, or partial government control, would give confidence to the field of radio-active therapy, he believes. Use of the radio-active substances though known to the ancients who visited the medicinal springs, is just dawning, he said.

Production of artificial radium which would be active for only a few hours but be much stronger and a great deal cheaper than pure radium has been announced by Prof. Ernest O. Lawrence of the University of California. Each wave that hits the shore releases a small volume of radium gas.

With these known sources of radio-active substances to be developed Dr. Field foresees a new day in the battle against disease.

Inheritance Tax Is Levied by County

EASTLAND, Sept. 19.—Inheritance tax of $232.78 has been levied by Eastland county against Miss Lillian Shertzer, daughter of John Shertzer, who died July 14, 1934. Actual market value of property of Miss Shertzer was inherited from her father was placed at $48,278 in an appraisal by the county judge and comptroller. A statutory exemption of $25,000 was allowed here.

No other beneficiaries of Shertzer had income or property whose values were of amount when a tax was permissible, the appraisal stated.

Papers were filed in County Clerk T. M. Collier's office.

News Letters of Interest From Correspondents Over Eastland County

DESDEMONA

By MRS. W. C. BEDFORD

The first meeting of the Twenty-One Study club for this club year was held Tuesday, September 10 at the club house which had been attractively decorated with vases and bouquets of roses, pot plants and vines around the colonnades. Hostesses for the day were, Mrs. W. E. Barron and Mrs. W. C. Bedford. The program for the day was one required of all federated clubs—a Federation Day. The meeting was called to order by the outgoing president, Mrs. W. H. Davis, with Mrs. W. E. Barron outlining secretary calling the roll which was responded to by members giving quotations from the Federation news. During the business session, the year book committee reported that the year books had been printed by the De Leon Free Press and had been given to the members present. The members all were delighted with the books and especially praised the attractive covers and perfect printing. Mrs. C. W. Malby led the program which was as follows: Salute to the Flag; Reading of club collect by the club; Introduction of new correspondents by Mrs. W. E. Barron; Reading of "A model club woman," by Mrs. S. E. Snodgrass; Out-going president's address, read by Mrs. Malby for Mrs. A. B. Henslee, who recently moved to Freer. In-coming president's address, read by Mrs. A. C. Robert for Mrs. Mattie Henry who was out of town. Talk on Federation publications: (a) The club woman, organ of the General Federation, (b) The Federation News, organ of the Texas Federation, by Mrs. W. H. Davis. Reading, "Texas Memoranda," Lexie Dean Robertson, Mrs. Malby; Song "Federation," the club with Miss Edith Creighton at the piano. The meeting adjourned for a social hour during which time the hostesses served an attractive refreshment plate, carrying out the club colors of green and white in yo-yo salad on lettuce, sandwiches of green bread with peppermint spread, potato chips, olives and coffee. Favorites were small pictures of Mrs. Joseph M. Perkins, president of Sixth District, Mrs. James Horton, secretary of Sixth District, Mrs. Velney Taylor, president of Texas Federation, and others prominent in state and General Federation. The pictures were mounted on stiff white paper with tiny green ribbon boxes at top and something about each picture written at the bottom. On the back of each picture was the date and names of hostesses. The following new members were welcomed into the club: Miss Edith Creighton, Mrs. Tom Nabers, Mrs. Preston Sparks, Mrs. C. A. Skipping, and Mrs. Charles Lee. Others present were, Mrs. Aaron Henslee of Longview, and Misses R. K. Ganton, W. H. Davis, David Parks, S. E. Snodgrass, A. C.

Robert, W. E. Barron and W. C. Bedford. Charlie Greenhaw of Cisco visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Greenhaw, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. S. T. Stover drove over to Gorman on business Friday afternoon. At the cemetery working Friday it was decided to ask donations to be used in hiring some one to keep the cemetery in order between the regular workings.

Mr. and Mrs. Preston Sparks spent the weekend at their former home at Brownwood. Mr. Sparks is principal of our grammar school and he and his wife have an apartment at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Nabers. They were accompanied as for Comanche by Mr. and Mrs. Nabers who visited relatives. Mrs. Lewis, mother of Mrs. Nabers, came home with them for a visit.

Mr. and Mrs. O. P. Newberry of Gorman, visited friends here Saturday afternoon. Mrs. C. A. Skipping, accompanied by Mrs. David Parks and Miss Elizabeth Wyche, of Shreveport, La., drove over to De Leon Wednesday to see about getting advertising for the programs for the play, "Here Comes Arabella," to be given at the high school Thursday and Friday nights. Miss Wyche is the director of the play.

Mr. and Mrs. Denny Moss drove down to Fort Worth on business Tuesday. Mrs. J. W. Roe, of Comanche, is visiting her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Roe, her health is not good and Mr. and Mrs. Roe have taken her over to Gorman to the Blackwell Sanitarium several times.

Rev. Baldere, who moved here from Abilene Tuesday, began his pastorate at the Baptist church Sunday night when he preached to a large crowd including not only Baptists but many of the other denominations. In the morning the Baptist pulpit was filled by Rev. Lenchow of Ranger, who lived here when he was a boy. He preached a good sermon to a large crowd.

Miss Lillie Buchan drove over to Stephenville Friday to take Miss Nell Robert, who went to reenter John Tarleton college. Mrs. A. C. Robert went with them.

A delightful social was held at the Methodist church Friday night. After opening with prayer and song, Miss Beatrice Anderson gave a humorous reading and Miss Gloria Stewart played a piano solo, both of which were given splendidly and much enjoyed games were played and refreshments of punch and sandwiches were served.

Mrs. D. E. Lewis, Mrs. Ed Harrison and Mrs. Mattie Henry went to Ranger Thursday to solicit advertising for the programs for the play "Here Comes Arabella" which is sponsored by the P-T-A. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Daniels, of De Leon, visited her brother, S. T.

LOBOES WILL OPEN SEASON FRIDAY NIGHT

Eleven Loboes, spotting their opponents 13 pounds to the man, tomorrow night will trot out on Chesley Field to open the 1935 grid season against the Electra Wildcats.
The eyes of the Oil Belt will be turned upon them as they take the field against the big team which battled to a scoreless tie against Mangum, Okla., last week. Oil Belt fans and sports writers, in checking over the teams of the district, have passed up the Loboes with the comment that there's not enough beef on the squad. The Loboes tomorrow night will be out to prove just how wrong fans and sport writers can be.

To Be Underdogs
The Loboes will be putting their speed, deception, and determination up against the weight and experience of a seasoned team. They will enter the game the underdogs, with the task of proving that they can fight an uphill fight and come out winners.

The Loboes have little reserve strength, either in numbers or in weight. The various men have been shifted about to get the weight in as effective places as possible, however. Wende, out of practice for some time with a bad ankle, may be able to play, and likely will be used as end.

A check over the probable lineup shows that there is a great difference in weights. The following probable lineups are purely guesswork, especially in the Cisco backfield, where a great deal of shifting about is likely.

Probable Lineup	Wt.	Cisco	Electra	Wt.
Left Ends	148	Wagley	Smith	160

MEMOIRS TELL ZIMMERMANN NOTE SECRETS

NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—Eighteen years after the famous "Zimmermann note" crystallized American sentiment against Germany to the point of war, the inside story of how the department of state obtained the document was revealed today with publication of the "War Memoirs of Robert Lansing" (Bobbs Merrill). The British secret service turned it over to United States authorities.

The note, Woodrow Wilson's secretary of state wrote, was sent to the German minister to Mexico by Herr Zimmermann, German secretary of foreign affairs, and told the minister to promise Mexico and Arizona, if that country would ally itself with the Central Powers.

Published March 1, 1917, Lansing, secretary of state from June 23, 1915, to February 13, 1920, revealed all the details of how the note was received, the maneuvering by the administration in making it public at a propitious moment, and the reaction to publication on March 1, 1917.

The Zimmermann note arrived at the state department February 26, 1917. It had been obtained by secret agents of the British government and forwarded by them to London, where it had just been deciphered by means of a complicated German code, Lansing wrote.

Where the British got the note was not mentioned.

The note, as forwarded to Mexico by Count von Bernstorff, German ambassador to the United States, read:

German Legation, Mexico City, Number 130 (code used). Foreign office telegraphs January sixteenth. Number 1. Strictly secret. Decode yourself. We intend to begin unrestricted U-Boat warfare on February first. Effort will be made notwithstanding this to keep the United States neutral. In the event that we should not be successful in this, we propose alliance to Mexico on the following basis: to make war together; make peace together; generous financial support; and agreement on our part that Mexico shall renounce the formerly lost territory in Texas, New Mexico and Arizona. Arrangement of details to be left to your Honor. You should disclose the foregoing to the president in strict secrecy as soon as outbreak of war with United States is certain and add the proposal that he shall invite Japan to immediate spontaneous concurrent effort and at the same time use his good offices (or mediate) between us and Japan. Please call the president's attention to the fact that the ruthless (literally inconsiderate) employment of our U-boats offers the prospect of forcing England in a few months to make peace. Acknowledge receipt, Zimmermann. End of Telegram.

Bernstorff, (Parenthetical matter by the author.)

President Wilson Quoted

The statement that stirred in the White House, state department and inner circles of the Cabinet and congress when the note was read, was intense, Lansing wrote. President Wilson exclaimed, "Good Lord," two or three times as he read Secretary of Treasury William Gibbs McAdoo, now senator from California, was called in to decide the best strategy in making it public.

After much conferring, the president finally decided to release the note on the morning of March 1. The administration wished to remain out of the picture in giving out the note, so Lansing called a correspondent secretly to his home and gave him a paraphrase of the note.

Lansing wrote that publication the next morning "created a profound sensation throughout the country" and that "its effect on congress was very marked." Many patriotic speeches followed in congress, and that day the house passed the controversial bill to arm merchantmen, 513 to 13.

The much-sought verification of the note, however, had not yet arrived from the United States Embassy in London. It was not until the second morning, however, that verification arrived.

Zimmerman Admitted Note

Two days later Zimmermann in Berlin admitted the note was genuine. Charges that the government had forged the note, which had been advanced by the pro-German press, collapsed, Lansing wrote.

"The people of the eastern states had been clamoring with increasing vehemence for war against Germany," the memoirs continue, "because of the submarine outrages, but the middle west and the Pacific states had not responded to that spirit. The Zimmermann telegram, however, opened their eyes to the real character and purpose of the Berlin government."

Lansing died Oct. 29, 1928, before he completed the memoirs; hence his account of his break with President Wilson after the war was not written.

Appended to the volume, important in appraising the war period, are personal sketches of Woodrow Wilson, Arthur James Balfour, General Joffre, Count von Bernstorff, Baron Zwiadinek and Lansing's personal views on social life in Washington.

OFFICERS ARE INSTALLED AT LEGION MEET

An enthusiastic meeting of John William Butts post, American Legion, was held at the Legion Hut Monday night and much interest was manifested and a renewed determination was noted in which more activity will be seen by putting on a campaign for new members. Sixteen Legionnaires and six service men were in attendance, among whom was J. G. Hanrahan, superintendent of the Humble Pipe Line company, who was recently sent to Cisco and will be with the local post. He was introduced to the Legion as one who will put new life into the organization.

The purpose of the meeting last night was the election of officers for the ensuing year, and the following officers were selected and installed:

- Post commander, Rex Moore.
- First vice commander, W. C. Clough.
- Second vice commander, W. J. Foxworth.
- Post adjutant and finance officer, W. C. McDaniel.
- Sergeant at arms, M. H. French.
- Service officer, Doc Cabaness.
- Post chaplain, Dr. J. Stuart Pearce.

The Legion is making plans to bring to Cisco at an early date the Harley Sadler organization. Later announcements as to this high class clean entertainment will be made.

Among those in attendance last night were: Rex Moore, Crigler Paschall, C. E. Yates, J. B. Hunter, George Ruppert, W. J. Foxworth, W. C. Clough, W. C. McDaniel, Haywood Cabaness, Leon McPherson, J. C. Hanrahan, Dil Langston, W. R. Huettig, M. H. French, E. L. Smith, Simon Copelin.

Kansas State Gears For Fast Football

MANHATTAN, Kans., Sept. 19.—Kansas State college will have its "mighty atom" on the gridiron this fall in Fred Sims, 126-pounder who came here as an all-state man.

The agricultural college, champion of the Big Six last year, has a new head coach, Wesley Fry, who succeeded Lynn Wadsworth. No change in system is contemplated however.

There will be no radical departures from the style of play inaugurated last year, Fry announced. "The only changes will be those inaugurated to meet changing personnel and new conditions."

He intends to step up the speed of the variety about 20 per cent through the reappearance of 15 returning lettermen. Last year Kansas State averaged 55 plays per game and the aim this year, Fry said, is 75. The shift and nuddle were geared up during spring practice.

As far as possible, Fry and his assistant Stan Williamson, plan to use at least two full teams in every game, to prevent fatigue from bogging down the swiftstriking phase of the attack.

Auto Horn Ban By 1945 Is Forecast

COLLINGSWOOD, N. J., Sept. 19.—The day is coming when automobiles will glide along softly and smoothly — with horns and all noisy klaxons things of the past.

Such is the prediction of Mayor Joseph H. Van Meter, of Collingswood. Van Meter believes the horns will be barred before 1945 by federal law.

"All this blowing and tooting belongs to an age gone by," said the mayor. "And if we tried to do without it, we'd soon find that most of it is unnecessary and mighty hard on the nerves."

SISTER MARY'S RECIPES

BY MARY E. DAGUE
NEA Service Staff Writer

EVERY Christmas a friend sends me a sack of corn plucked from her garden and dried in her kitchen. It's a good-tasting gift and different, too.

Dried corn is easy to make and simple to store. There are several good driers on the market and one is really an investment because it will work with other foods as well as corn.

Or you can make a drier that will fit your oven or the top of a coal range. Screening is stretched over the frame of the required size and the whole is covered with cheesecloth. Small legs at each corner of the frame elevate it to the proper height. Three to four inches permit free circulation of air between the tray and the warm stove top or oven bottom.

Blanch Before Drying
All vegetables should be blanched before drying. This dipping into boiling water insures perfect cleanliness and induces even evaporation.

To dry corn remove husks and silk as usual. Drop into boiling water and boil five minutes—long enough to set the milk. Cut kernels from cob taking care not to scrape out the pulp. Spread thinly and evenly on tray and dry from three to four hours at a temperature of about 125 degrees F. Stir occasionally while drying. Let stand on trays until perfectly dry. Store in dust-proof containers in a dry place.

Soak the corn from two to four hours in lukewarm water before cooking. Use two cups water to one cup corn and cook in the same water in which the corn was soaked. It will take about forty-five minutes to simmer the corn until tender. Season with butter, salt and pepper and serve as you would canned corn.

Dried apples are a famous Pennsylvania dish. The apples are pared, cored and cut in thin slices, then dried. Soak apples over night before using. They make delicious pie and sauce as well as a spicy suet pudding. Early in the spring when fresh fruit is high and scarce a few pounds of dried apples help in meal planning.

NATURAL GAS TO BE STORED IN THE EARTH

WESTLAND, Sept. 19 — Conversion of natural gas in Eastland county by recycling casinghead gas is back in the ground, announced here by the Arab company. The company is carrying out its No. 2 A. C. Goen section 16, block 4, H. and T. highway company survey, for use of the gas in the new project. The gas will be returned to the ground through the No. 2 Goen for use, according to the announcement. Gas from which casinghead gas has been removed, returned to the ground will absorb the casinghead gas, leading conservation engineers say. This adds to the economic value of conserving excess casinghead gas for which there is no market at the time of production, they say. The project follows similar action in this area by other companies. The Lone Star Gas company is returning excess residue casinghead gas to the ground in the same field all summer as a conservation program.

Expansion Seen For CCC Rolls in Texas

WESTMIN, Sept. 19 — Every eligible youth in Texas may be invited to become a Civilian Conservation Corps recruit in October, State Employment Supervisor Neal E. Guy announced. He estimated that 100,000 eligible youths between the ages of 18 and 28 were asked to apply in district relief administrator county case workers. In addition to enlarging the number of enrollees, Guy said all men in the service now may continue as long as work and conduct is satisfactory. Previously CCC enrollees were discharged after two months terms. Those now working may get an honorable discharge if they find suitable outside work. CCC ranks recently were expanded by enlistment of 14,819 men.

Cotton Grades For This Week Lower

The samples from selected representative gins in Texas classed this week reflect slightly lower grades and shorter staples as compared with the classification reported last week. For the season to date, about 93 per cent of the samples classed has been applicable to the white and extra white standards, of which about 22 per cent was strict middling, 56 per cent was middling, and 15 per cent was of grades to the standards for spotted cotton, most of which was strict middling spotted. One of the significant features of the report this week is the increase in the proportion shown for cotton having staple length shorter than 7-8 inch. This week 7 per cent of samples classed had staple shorter than 7-8 inch. The increase in this short cotton is very pronounced for District 8, the Sandy Coastal Plains. Over 34 per cent of the samples from this district classed this week was shorter than 7-8 inch, and the cumulative results for the season show that over 25 per cent of the samples from this district this season have been shorter than 7-8 inch. Despite the increase in cotton of this designation in District 8, only about one and one-half per cent has been shorter than 7-8 inch for the state as a whole to date.

AAA HEARING ON CORN-HOGS TO BE SEPT. 26

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19 — The Agricultural Adjustment Administration has announced that a public hearing on a future corn-hog adjustment program will be held in the small ballroom of the Willard Hotel in Washington, on September 26 at 10 a. m. The hearing will be held under the provisions of the new amendments to the Agricultural Adjustment Act. All interested parties will be given an opportunity to be heard upon the following questions:

1. Whether the current average farm price of corn and of hogs is less than the fair exchange value of these commodities.
2. Whether the average farm price of corn and of hogs is likely to be less than the fair exchange value of these commodities during the period when the corn and hogs produced the current or next succeeding marketing year will be normally marketed.
3. Whether the conditions and factors relating to the production, marketing and consumption of corn and hogs are such that the exercise of any one or more of the powers conferred upon the Secretary of Agriculture under the Act as amended will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the Act.
4. Whether the exercise of the power to provide for adjustments in acreage or production of corn and hogs through agreements with corn and hog producers and for adjustment payments in connection with such agreements is administratively practicable and best calculated to effectuate the declared policy of the Act.

American Air Needs Are to Be Outlined

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19 — A nationwide educational program to familiarize the public with the needs and advancements of American aviation will be held between Sept. 23 and Nov. 1. Aviation organizations throughout the country are co-operating with National Aeronautic Association committees in 700 of the larger cities to develop plans for the observance of air progress. "America must lead in the air," asserts Senator William G. McAdoo, president of the N. A. A. "The present unrest in Europe and the race for greater armaments make it imperative that the United States develop speedily a more comprehensive program for air defense. "In the commercial air transport field we face the strong competition of continental countries in our South American and Far Eastern markets. At home, we have lagged far behind other countries in educating our people to the advantages of air mail, express and passenger service. Last year, less than one-half of one per cent of our citizens traveled by air, as compared to double this number who traveled on the air lines of France and Italy. "The air progress program will, we hope, create a better understanding and a wide acceptance of aviation in all its branches," said McAdoo. "and I invite the citizens of the United States to join with us in this important work." Plans for the observance of air progress throughout America include airport demonstrations and air tours, public meetings, national and local radio broadcasts, retail store window displays and other features. The department of commerce and other governmental agencies are co-operating in arranging the national program.

Field White From Sun-Popped Corn

CLEVELAND, Sept. 19 — There is a story concerning the southern farmer's mule which froze to death when it saw popcorn popping from the intense heat and mistook it for snow. Burnice Howell, farmer here, didn't lose a mule but he brought an ear of popcorn to town to prove that at least one half of the story could be true. Popcorn in his field actually popped and covered the ground with white, fluffy kernels.

GIANT STALKS SHOWN

ROBINSON, Ill. — Two big stalks of corn, the tallest 15 feet 6 inches, with the highest ear 10 feet from the root, were exhibited here by Walter Reynolds, Crawford county farmer.

H. J. COX TEST GIVES PROMISE OF GOOD WELL

BRECKENRIDGE, Sept. 19 — Reports from H. J. Cox deep test near the Stephens and Young county lines give promise of a commercial producer, according to information released here. The well, located on the Corbett land in the Ruthey Campbell survey, was shot recently, and it was said to have 3,300 feet of oil in the hole, bottomed at 4,340 feet. While the deep test was being made in search of production from Ellenberger lime, it had not been determined whether the production was from this lime or not early Friday. The test is being watched with keen interest here by many who believe that a revival of oil interest in this section will come from the Ellenberger horizon.

Canadians Report Employment Gain

OTTAWA, Ont., Sept. 19 — More than 15,000 more persons were employed in Canada last month than at the beginning of July, the Dominion Bureau of Statistics reports. Returns received from 9,387 firms showed that their payrolls aggregated 494,949 persons on August 1, compared with 484,533 on July 1, an increase of 1.6. The advance considerably exceeded the average gain recorded in August of the last 14 years. The bureau declares the increase "continued the moderately forward movement that with but one interruption has characterized the industrial situation since the beginning of 1935, the only general decline since Jan. 1 having been that of a seasonal nature on April 1. The increase occurred largely in manufacturing, construction and maintenance and transportation. Mining, communications and services also showed improvement. On the other hand, logging and retail trade reported seasonal declines.

Better Farming In Panhandle Is Seen

AMARILLO, Sept. 19 — Market improvement in farming conditions in the Texas Panhandle is reflected by the exhibits at the Tri-State Exposition which opened here Saturday.

Rains have brought relief to a country that only a year ago was severely drought ridden, and already a late crop that will approach normal proportions, is ready for harvest. An unprecedented number of entries in the livestock exhibit was reported, due to the improved grazing this year and the lower expense of feeding. Governor Clyde Tingley of New Mexico is expected to visit the exposition on Sept. 20. Carnival attractions, a circus, horse racing and numerous other events have been planned.

THIEVES LEAVE TRAIL

LYNN, Mass. - Theft of 800 sticks of gum from the car of a candy salesman was solved when police followed a trail of wrappers and cellophane to a freight car. They found three youths playing cards for the remainder of the loot.

MINES MORE GOLD

CYDNEY - Australia this year will produce considerably more than 1,000,000 fine ounces of gold, according to an official estimate. The figure represents a record for a great many years and approaches the old days between 1931 and 1930.

DRILLING TO START OCT. 1 NEAR CISCO

A. A. Wisdom, Houston oil operator, announced here Saturday he had completed arrangements to drill six miles south of Cisco on the Gus Wepde 149.5 acre tract beginning Oct. 1. The well will be drilled on the southwest quarter of section 62, block 3, H. & T. C. survey, 590 feet from the south line and 230 feet from the east line.

The location is 1 1/2 miles north-west of the old Humble School well and is near the Rising Star highway. Drilling operations will be started by October 1, Wisdom said. Phillips Petroleum company has a half interest in the 1500 acre block and in the well.

CASING SET AT 402 FEET IN GOWAN WELL

EASTLAND, Sept. 19 - Ten inch casing has been set at 402 feet today on States Oil corporation's Number One J. O. Gowan, section 65, H. and T. C. railway survey, block two, near Gorman.

The well is an offset to Kirk and Davidson's Number One Gowan well, block 25, H. and T. C. railway survey, which is credited as being a pointer to what was formerly a dormant Gorman area. Davidson and Kirk's well was brought in the latter part of July and gauged 120 barrels for 24 hours. The well is still flowing at 70 barrels a day and is being pinched back. A. A. Davidson said recently. The Davidson-Kirk well underwent acidization test, however, before production hit the 120 barrel mark. Other operations are in progress near Gorman, some being in Comanche county.

LOOT IS 'PANTIES'

INDEPENDENCE, Mo. - Police were puzzled after an unidentified 16-year-old youth stole 5 dozen pairs of women's 'panties' from a department store. Desk Sergeant Horace B. Jones was at a loss to explain the probable motive.

LOST COINS RECOVERED

MILLS, Mass. - Wreckers paid the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad $15 for an old station. During the razing they found $9 in small change which apparently had slipped down a crack at the ticket office window.

OLD COUPLE SEE FIRST MOVIE

BOSTON - On their first visit to a big city, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Guilmette, elderly Kingsley Falls, Que., couple saw their first movie. Another thrill - a subway ride.

BUILDS ARCHIVES

PRESCOTT, Ariz. - A new building, to house early Arizona records, has been completed on the grounds surrounding the old governor's mansion here. The building will be used as an historical library.

CITY REPORT FOR 4 MONTHS IS RELEASED

Total receipts for the city of Cisco for the four months of May, June, July, and August were $21,974.32, as against total disbursements of $35,464.73, according to a report for the period issued Wednesday by the office of the city secretary.

The latter figure included, besides the regular expenses the bond interest, refinancing of old bonds, and the handling of new bonds, the report showed.

Total receipts for the period, $22,015.57. Less discounts on water bills, $41.25; total, $21,974.32.

Other disbursements of $8,879.11 were listed as follows: Refund water deposits, $191; refund water revenue, $2.75; bond interests, $4,318.07; refinancing old bonds, $4,380.19; handling new bonds, $62.95; equipment, $26.10.

CERTIFICATES ON BALES ARE ISSUED TO 300

Three hundred tax exemption certificates on this year's cotton crop were issued at the Chamber of Commerce Wednesday when county cotton officials were here.

The certificates represented exemptions on approximately 600 bales, it was said.

A. E. Arthur, assistant in cotton adjustment, Ira Swift, Joe McNeely, and F. S. Boland were those at work on the issuing of exemption certificates here today.

It was pointed out by Arthur that the blue two-bale certificates, representing 100 per cent exemption, are not transferrable and must be turned back for transferrable certificates.

Ethiopian Officer Husband of Texan

COLLEGE STATION, Sept. 19 - Alex Del Valle, 27, mentioned in news dispatch from Djibouti as the first officer commissioned by the Ethiopian Legation in London to serve in the army of Empress Haile Selassie is married to a Brownsville girl and spent two years at Texas A&M college, beginning in the fall of 1930, as a special student in agriculture.

Del Valle, a Cuban, son of one of the wealthiest families of that country, came to Texas following his marriage to a Brownsville, Texas, girl whom he met while she was visiting in Cuba. The young bride's father presented the newly married couple with a citrus fruit farm in the Rio Grande Valley and Del Valle came to A. and M. for a course in agriculture as preparation for managing the farm.

Del Valle always found adventure to his liking, friends here said. Dean E. J. Kyle of the school of agriculture who knew him while a student here, received only recently a postcard from him mailed in Paris, advising that he was on the way to Marseilles en route to Ethiopia. The writer added he was a captain in the Ethiopian Imperial army and the first officer to be accepted by the London Legation.

According to reports of friends who knew him here he was in Texas the past Christmas with his wife's family, wealthy landowners in the Brownsville section.

Stop Chills and Fever!

Rid Your System of Malaria!

Shivering with chills one moment and burning with fever the next—that's one of the effects of Malaria. Unless checked, the disease will do serious harm to your health. Malaria, a blood infection, calls for two things. First, destroying the infection in the blood. Second, building up the blood to overcome the effects of the disease and to fortify against further attack.

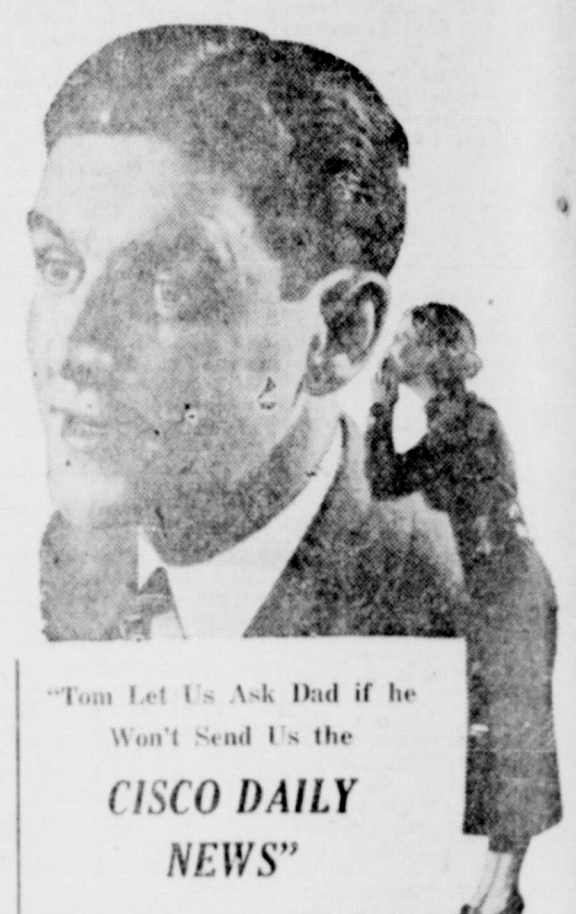

Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic supplies both these effects. It contains tasteless quinine, which kills the infection in the blood, and iron, which enriches and builds up the blood. Chills and fever soon stop and you are restored to health and comfort. For half a century, Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic has been sure relief for Malaria. It is just as useful, too, as a general tonic for old and young. Pleasant to take and absolutely harmless. Safe to give children. Get a bottle at any drug store. Now two sizes—50c and $1. The $1 size contains 2 1/2 times as much as the 50c size and gives you 25% more for your money.

Gunplay, Flow of Oil To Be Shown In Oil Belt Book Appearing in October

Blazing six-guns, action, romance, rivers of black gold, all a part of the great Ranger oil boom have been reconstructed by Boyce House, West Texas newspaperman and author, in his book, "Oil Boom," which is due to leave the press early in October.

House went through the boom as an editor and reporter and saw first hand most of the incidents and historical events which he treats with an originality and ease that makes his book not only interesting reading but historically correct.

Humor, pathos, and adventure are cleverly interwoven with the romance of those early boom days. Some of the historical incidents, places and familiar scenes recorded are the sled that hauled folk across the mud on Main street in Pecos, the cemetery that was not for sale, the gun fight in which three were killed, the Belgian count who fought a driller.

House draws intimate word pictures of the indomitable men who played leading parts in the drama of the Ranger oil boom. There was Colonel W. K. Gordon whose faith resulted in the discovery of the Ranger field, Tom Harrell's meteoric rise from country school teacher to multi-millionaire, and Breck Walker's leap from stage-coach driver to millions.

Money flowed into the Ranger area in amounts that staggered the imagination of men and resulted in financial recklessness and skyrocketing prices. Fifty dollars was paid for service car fare from Cisco to Breckenridge, a day and a half, and muddy roads to go 30 miles. It was nothing for a million and a half dollars cash to change hands daily. These and scores of other interesting conditions are vividly pictured in "Oil Boom."

Etchings by Professor S. P. Ziegler of T. C. U., illustrate oil field scenes.

Many residents throughout the West Texas oil and gas area are urging advance orders of House's book as a civic service and an encouragement for a book that will retain the true historical story of Eastland county's great oil field for the future. The Tardy Publishing company of Dallas, will publish the book.

House has been editor of the Cisco News, Ranger Times, and Oil Belt News.

Keeping Up With The Boy Scouts

Scout News

Now that all scouts are in school, almost every scoutmaster is going to see a decided increase in their troop advancement program — especially so where tests are more of a scholarly nature. Contrary to the opinion of most people that scouts make the greatest advancement during the summer vacation period, they make more advancement during the school months. The tests that have to do with the out-of-doors are the ones that are passed most during vacation time. This is largely due to their wanting to forget about tests that require "in-door" thinking.

Scout Rallies

The council is planning for a scout rally for each of the four sections of the council during the fall months. The date for the central section is October 12. Dates for the other sections will probably be announced next week. The usual contests will take place in various scoutcrafts.

County Fairs

A number of troops are planning to take part and have exhibits at their home town fairs, which are to be held during the fall.

Court of Honor

Breckenridge district states that they are to have a big court of honor for their district September 20. Mr. Odie Minatra, chairman of the court of honor, will be in charge, assisted by scouters in the district.

Archery

More and more interest is being shown in archery — more evidently so this true since the summer camp and the handicraft schools, which have been conducted. It is hoped that a number of archery tournaments can be worked out in the near future, and that by next spring the Comanche Trail council will have a real group of archers.

Many at Revival At Bluff Branch

The revival being conducted by the Church of Christ at Bluff Branch, is drawing large crowds at each service. Rev. M. F. Manchester of Desdemona is doing the preaching. Everyone is invited to attend and take part in the worship.

STEAL BRIDGE RAILING

FT. LAUDERDALE, Fla. — With considerable daring, thieves dismantled 200 feet of pipe railing on a bridge in Howard county and carted the loot away, probably hoping to sell it as junk.

SHUN HAZARDOUS JOB

BOSTON — Pumpkins are growing in Charlestown's business district. They are ripening on the vines in a flower pot. Where the seeds came from is a mystery.

SHIELD OF CURRENCY

BOSTON — A shield composed of 30 small bills ranging from 2 cents to 50 cents in denomination and designed by Francis Spiner, U. S. treasurer during the Civil War, has been hanging on the walls of the Boston Young Men's Christian Union office for 30 years.

PUMPKINS IN BOSTON

MOSCOW, Idaho — Only one bidder sought the job of painting the city water tower. Five prospective bidders considered the work too hazardous. The tank will be sprayed from a 96-foot scaffold.

Twelve New Books Placed in Library

Twelve new books have been added to the reading material of the Cisco public library and may be secured there, it was announced this morning by Mrs. L. D. Wilson, librarian.

They are: Margie Rawlin, "South Moon Under"; S. S. Van Dine, "The Garden Murder Case"; Bess Street-er Aldrich, "Spring Came On Forever" and "A Lanther In Her Hand"; Stark Young, "Pelicans"; Willa Cather, "Lucy Gayheart"; Alexander, "Candy"; Elery Queen, "Halfway House"; Ann Bridge, "Plyrian Spring"; Louise Platt Hauck, "The Crystal Tree"; Edwin Latham, "The Wind Blew West"; Sol-zer, "Silver Spurs."

POLICE UNWANTED

SLOAN, N. Y. — The taxpayers of Sloan do not want a police force according to Casimer Zaidel, president of the Taxpayers' association. He protested a $6,000 appropriation for a police force and obtained a show cause order for a review of the case.

CLEANERS GATHER BAIT

INDIO, Cal. — Bait men from the nearby seacoast are pushing big vacuum cleaners over the streets of this desert town nights during the annual cricket migration. Crickets are sucked up by the thousands, embalmed and sold for bait to San Pedro fishermen.

The same friction by which the Indian created a flame caused the easy ignition of the first Friction Match made by the Frenchman, Dr. Chas. Sauria, in 1831. . . . This was a basic discovery that we still use today. But how obsolete a smudging flame now seems in contrast with the convenience, safety and cleanliness of Electric Heat.

Mankind has an innate sense of cleanliness in relation to his food. Hence, the ever-increasing demand for such Electric Appliances as the Range, Electric Water Heater and the Electric Refrigerator. These modern electric appliances can be had on convenient terms, and you will be surprised at the moderate cost of such added superior service.

CONSTITUTION DISCUSSED AT LION MEETING

Rev. J. Stuart Pearce gave a talk on the Constitution of the United States at the regular Lions luncheon Wednesday. In his introduction he mentioned that the constitution was not a divinely inspired document in the sense that could not be changed nor improved upon, but while being susceptible to changes, those changes should be made difficult so that too hasty acts could not spoil the greatest guarantee to political liberty ever promulgated and which has made this the greatest and freest nation on earth. "We should be slow," he said, "to remove these safeguards to liberty and personal happiness which have come through the constitution."

This document does not cure all ills but gives its people the liberty to work out their problems in safety and peace. It should not be changed to suit the convenience of any political party nor for the classes he pointed out. It should and does promote education and the intelligence to live by the document. No people who are ignorant can live under a democratic government which gets its life from a constitution. It provides opportunities to live and advance the nation's state of living and in doing so implies obligation to the people. They must respect the liberty and happiness of others while granting them to the individual.

"Therefore," he continued, "it develops a conscience of morality on what we owe to our country. We should respect the liberty of others and the constitution guarantees all these things to the citizen. He ended with the injunction to be aware of changes and make them slowly."

Reports of the Lions Minutemen committees showed a net proceeds of $250.23. A vote of thanks was given to those who had been active in the promotion of the event.

Miss Zelma Curtis Weds Newton Hart Sunday Afternoon

Marriage vows were said Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock in the pastor's study of the First Baptist church for Miss Zelma Curtis and Mr. Newton Hart. Rev. E. S. James, pastor of the First Baptist church performed the ceremony in the presence of the bride's mother, Mrs. M. B. Curtis and Mrs. Myrtle Anderson and young daughter, Dorothy Jean.

Mr. and Mrs. Hart are members and earnest workers of the Baptist church. Mr. Hart is Sunday school superintendent at the Cornish community and Mrs. Hart was formerly a teacher in the Intermediate Department of the First Baptist Sunday school. Mrs. Hart had been an employee of the Cisco Daily News for the past seven years, having charge of the bookkeeping and circulation departments.

The couple will make their home three miles south from the Breckenridge highway.

Immediately following the ceremony the bride and groom were honored guests at dinner at the home of Mr. Hart. Present were Mr. and Mrs. John Hart and children of Eastland; Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Hart and children of Eastland; Mr. and Mrs. Joe Matthews and son, Gerald, of Eastland; Mrs. K. N. Greer, Cisco; Sam Hart, Miss Rose and Miss Guss Hart, Mrs. L. N. Hart, mother of the bridegroom; Mrs. M. B. Curtis, Mrs. Myrtle Anderson and daughter, Dorothy Jean. The couple then left for a honeymoon visit in Dallas, Mineral Wells, and Mesia.

Piercing Yarn On Swordfish Is Told

BUZZARDE BAY, Mass., Sept. 18.—Captain Frank Lynch tells this one: "On board the Rita a swordfish was captured with its blade broken off on the thick end. The sword had penetrated the hull of the boat beneath the water line. Deckhands sawed off the sword. It plugged the hole made in the craft and the boat sailed for home upon arrival home, one of the crew who had stowed his suitcase beside the mast, yanked and yanked but it failed to budge. The sword had penetrated the planing and the suitcase, fastening it to the mast. When the sword was dug out, water poured in."

Strictly Fresh Egg Is Defined by Penn

HARRISBURG, Pa., Sept. 18.—Just what is a "strictly fresh" egg? The Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture, adopting regulations for enforcement of a new egg law, gives the technical qualifications. Depth of the air cell shall not exceed two-eighths of an inch; it must be in a fixed position and have a regular outline. Yolk may be faintly visible, but it must not "jerk" when the egg is turned. The germ must not show any visible development. The white must be firm and clear.

Texas Cotton Co-Op Will Be Dissolved

DALLAS, Sept. 18.—Officials of the Texas Cotton Cooperative association announced Tuesday that the association would be dissolved and cooperative marketing would be continued through a new association chartered under the state cooperative marketing law. Reserve fund accumulations of the association, amounting to $1,000,000 will be returned to cotton growers who are members, as a result of the action. Service in marketing was not interrupted, cotton being delivered by producers today. The 16 incorporating directors of the Texas Cotton association all are members of the board of the Cotton Cooperative association, which is not in process of dissolution.

COTTON CONTROL DEBATE

AUSTIN, Sept. 18.—Advisability of government control in cotton production will be debated next year in Texas Interscholastic League contests. Information for use in Texas schools will be prepared by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration.

SISTER MARY'S RECIPES

BY MARY E. DAGUE
NEA Service Staff Writer

WITH emergency shelves and delicatessen stores handy, there is no reason on earth why a simple home meal planned at the children in mind shouldn't easily be converted into a company one with frills at need—and no fuss about it, either. A soup—cream or home-made—a salad of fresh fruits or vegetables or a dressy looking dessert will do wonders to the plainest meal. Or home-made relishes or preserves or hot baking powder biscuits will furnish up an everyday menu.

A week's menus planned in advance is a definite means toward economy. Money, time and labor are saved thereby. The tendency toward extravagant marketing is checked and there is no frantic haste when it's nearly meal time and nothing planned. Often in sheer panic because the cupboard so closely resembles Old Mother Hubbard's we rush out and buy chops or steak we can't afford because they will cook quickly.

Save Work, Too
Advance planning often enables you to double up on cooking processes, too. Enough potatoes can be boiled at one time for the immediate meal and creamed potatoes, hashed brown or any one of a number of savory uses planned for the following one. A meat pie, timbale, hash or croquettes will take care of the left-overs from the weekly roast.

Bread-making, bread crumbs, pancakes or a mock duck use up a week's accumulation of stale bread and crumbs. A jellied salad in the middle of the week finishes odds and ends of fruits and vegetables.

Cookies and cakes which have lost their freshness can be made

Tomorrow's Menu

BREAKFAST: Grapes, cereal, cream, toasted codfish, corn bread, milk, coffee.
LUNCHEON: Stewed egg-plant, raisin bread, ginger ale cooler.
DINNER: Rolled flank of beef, baked sweet potatoes, creamed kohlrabi, banana and peanut salad, peach sunburst ice box cake, milk, coffee.

into delectable desserts. Stale cake, for instance, is fine in a "trifle." Cut stale sponge cake in thin slices and spread each slice with jelly or jam. Put into a mold and pour boiled custard over. Cover the mold and put in the refrigerator for all day and serve with whipped cream masking the mold after it is turned out on the best Haviland chop-plate.

A modern version of the old-fashioned trifle is the popular ice box cake. Try making it with crisp butter cookies instead of sponge cake or lady-fingers. It's quite different and altogether delicious.

Peach Sunburst Ice Box Cake
Two cups whipping cream, 4 tablespoons powdered sugar, 1-8 teaspoon salt, 3-4 teaspoon almond flavoring, 32 butter cookies, 3 peaches.

Whip cream, add sugar, salt and flavoring. Line bottom and sides of a seven-inch spring form with cookies. Add layer of whipping cream, then another layer of cookies and repeat layer for layer until all are used. Top with cream and decorate with half peach in the center and strips of peach around to imitate sunburst. Chill in refrigerator for at least three hours before serving.

Disease Shrinking All Bones of Body

KANSAS CITY, Kans., Sept. 19.—Scott Baker, 48, of this city, lost three inches in height from July to August as a result of the dread Paget's disease.

Baker's halcyon first was brought to the attention of physicians in July when he began to "shrink." They diagnosed his ailment as Paget's disease, but were unable to tell how long he had been afflicted.

Although there is no known cure for the disease, its effect on the system is well known. It causes a deficiency in the amount of calcium in the bones and causes them to become pliable.

If the daily treatment now being given Baker fails to arrest the disease, his weight will soon become too great for his bones and they will break, physicians said.

Drives 70 Miles In Aged Phaeton

KERRVILLE, Sept. 19.—Going back to the good old days, at least as far as the mode of travel is concerned, Holand McCombs, horse fancier, recently rode in an 1891 phaeton from Kerrville to San Antonio, a distance of 70 miles.

The phaeton was pulled by a spirited trotter, and it took 14 hours to make the journey. The route was paved the entire distance. McCombs averaged about 12 miles per hour for the first 20 miles.

Kerrville Building Expenditure Double

KERRVILLE, Sept. 19.—Building expenditures in Kerrville for housing construction alone will exceed $100,000 this year, doubling last year's figure, according to contractors and lumbermen.

More than $50,000 worth of construction was under way on Sept. 1, including a new $25,000 Catholic church.

Many new homes have been built during the past year and numerous others have repaired and renovated.

"Camels don't get your Wind"
FAMOUS GOLFERS SAY

SO MILD! YOU CAN SMOKE ALL YOU WANT

I'M FUSSY ABOUT MILDNESS. CAMELS ARE SO MILD THEY DON'T GET MY WIND. I LIKE THE "LIFT" I GET WITH A CAMEL.

STORE EXECUTIVE—Dorothy Smart Bill

KEEPING FIT IS JUST AS IMPORTANT TO ME AS TO STAR ATHLETES. CAMELS ARE MILD—NEVER JANGLE MY NERVES.

BUSINESS EXECUTIVE—F. W. Watson

ARMOUR: "I've smoked Camels for years," Tommy declares. "Camels never bother my nerves."

SARAZEN: "Camels are milder," reports Gene. "They never get my wind or upset my nerves."

MEHLHORN: Bill comments: "I smoke Camels steadily. They don't get my wind or my nerves."

CRAIG WOOD (right)—Tommy Armour—Helen Hicks—Gene Sarazen—Bill Mehlhorn—Denny Shute—Willie Macfarlane!

Their names sound a roll call of tense moments that have made golfing history, when prime "condition" and healthy nerves were at a premium. All are outspoken in their preference for Camels.

"Camels are so smooth and mild they never affect my wind," says Craig Wood, pictured at the right as he paused to smoke a Camel. Willie Macfarlane, the former U.S. Open Champion, adds: "Camels are mild. They don't get my wind." Miss Helen Hicks brings up the feminine viewpoint. "There's a delicacy of flavor in Camels that appeals to women. Camels never interfere with one's wind." And Denny Shute says: "I switched to Camels years ago. I smoke them constantly, without upsetting my nerves or disturbing my wind."

You'll Like Their Mildness Too!

Such experiences with Camels can be matched right among your own friends. You'll like Camels too. Camels are made from costlier tobaccos. They never tire your taste.
