6 TEXANS DIE FROM TRAFFIC OF THE STATE

Violent deaths claimed nine victims in Texas over the week-end. Six were killed in auto accidents, two were suicides and one was drowned.

Boatmen were dragging Lake Wichita today for the body of Morris Crow, 15, believed drowned Sunday when his boat overturned. Mrs. Fred Williams died in a Burkeburnet hospital of gunshot wounds which officers said were self-inflicted. She had attended an all night party with her husband and another couple. No motive was learned for her suicide.

Cecil Ramon, 35, was killed and 2 companions injured when the automobile Raymon was driving struck a switch engine at Austin.

Mrs. Frances Chitwood, 51, San Marcos, was killed Sunday on the Beaumont-Houston highway when her husband swerved to avoid a crash with another machine and they went into a ditch.

J. S. Johnson was killed near Conway when his automobile collided with another as he was en route to find a doctor to attend a neighbor's child, seriously ill.

MARKED INCREASE IN TRAFFIC DEATHS

AUSTIN, Oct. 21—Marked increase in traffic deaths for the first eight months of 1935 over the same period of 1934 was revealed by state department of health statistics compiled today.

There were 1,094 deaths that portion of 1935, compared with 993 for the same period in 1934.

Deaths for the first eight months of 1935 in leading cities followed by 1934 death in the same cities were: Cleburne 1, last year 0; Fort Worth 51, last year 65; Sweetwater 1, last year 4; Wichita Falls 14, last year 13.

More Home Buying In Big Northwest

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 21—The greatest demand for new homes since 1929 is evident in the Pacific northwest, according to banking firms.

"In nearly every city there is a waiting list of buyers who want new homes," remarked one loan association executive. "Our firm has lent $1,433,738 in three-quarters of last year, compared to $874,600 all last year. Demand for mortgage money is increasing in all sections of Oregon and Washington. August business was 20 per cent more than the all-time high, set in 1928, for the month."

VANCOUVER, B. C., Oct. 21—Mayor G. G. McGree's book, "The Conquest of Poverty," is now on the shelves of President Roosevelt's library in the White House.

Talmadge Gains Recognition For Bankhead Fight

WASH., Oct. 21—Governor Eugene Talmadge, bitter New Deal foe and presidential aspirant, today won supreme court recognition of his fight to have the Bankhead cotton control act declared unconstitutional.

Government officials named in a suit by Georgia asked permission to launch the attack in a motion filed with the supreme court on October 14.

The complaint was nominally filed by the attorney general of Georgia but the brief made clear the action had been on direct instruction of Talmadge, who has used the Bankhead Act as a basis for much criticism of the New Deal.

Prior to Georgia's petition, the court had already accepted jurisdiction in an attack on the law brought by Lee Moor, a Texas cotton plantation owner. Moor's suit did not involve the United States and it was doubtful until the action by Georgia was begun, whether the New Deal would join in the dispute.

PIERSON WILL GET INSANITY TRIAL TODAY

AUSTIN, Oct. 21—Howard Pierson, 21, who killed his father, Associate Justice Williamson, and his mother on lonely Bull Creek road near Austin last April 24, will face a sanity hearing before District Judge C. A. Wheeler today.

Pierson's attorney asked for a sanity hearing for Pierson before he is questioned on an indictment of murdering his mother, which was called for trial at 10 a. m. today.

Pierson appeared in court escorted by a deputy sheriff. He was clad in a white shirt and dark trousers. He stared straight ahead and said nothing.

Both sides announced they were ready for the trial. Judge Wheeler ordered 150 more talsmen drawn to supplement the regular panel.

If the jury finds Pierson insane, he will be sent to an asylum for treatment. If later pronounced sane, he may face trial for murder. If found sane, the youth must be tried for murder, the jury may then find him guilty or not guilty by reason of insanity.

Reich Celebrates Rail Centennial

LEIPZIG, Oct. 21—Germany is celebrating the 100th anniversary of the opening of its first railway line in 1835. Although the steam engine was invented in 1769 and the first locomotive in 1814, the technical starting point of the railroad era was opened just a century ago.

Many elaborate ceremonies in honor of the event are being held throughout Germany. An impressive monument commemorating the first railway line is being erected appropriately at Leipzig, in front of its great railroad station which is the largest in Europe, perhaps in the world.

Germany today has the largest railway company in the world, comprising 100,000 miles of track and employing more than 650,000 operatives.

One member of the committee said he believed that the committee

ALLRED GETS PRAISE, BLAME FROM SOLONS

AUSTIN, Oct. 21—Governor James Allred today was denounced and defended on the floor of the legislature for his message last week ordering legislators to "get busy."

Representative Sam Hannah, Dallas, and Tom Cooper, Luedale, represented the governor's views, while Representative Franklin Spears, San Antonio, commended Allred.

Senators, by a 19 to 8 vote, sent a resolution to their finance committee, asking the governor to give specific views on the pension question. Before the vote was taken Senator Will Martin, Hill-boro, took Allred to task for speaking in "glittering generalities." Senator Cline Small, Amarillo, and Allan Shivers, Port Arthur, commended the administration for not attempting them what to do.

"At the first session submitted first liquor regulation and a salary bill. Now he says old age pension must come first," Cooper told house members. "But nobody in a long time has accused a governor of consistency or sincerity. He is trying to throw 181 legislators to the lions to further his own political ambitions. I am not going to be a sacrifice with me. Maybe the legislators will taste a little blood and then they may go out and eat a lion."

Retaliation Sought Against Farm Boys

TIFFIN, O., Oct. 21—Councilman Charles Trimmer has proposed a city ordinance which would prohibit farmers' sons from working in Tiffin.

Centennial control commissioners given the task of allocating local funds, kept back $16,000 to serve meritorious projects to be determined later. The remainder was allotted Saturday after many hearings and disputes.

Wisconsin Church Keeps Centennial

LA PONTE, Wis., Oct. 21—Establishment of the first Catholic church in Wisconsin here in 1835, when this place was inhabited by Chippewa Indians, Frenchmen, half-breeds, Canadians and Americans was recalled at a recent centennial celebration.

The founder was Bishop Frederic Baraga, then a young Austrian padre succeeding to the Indian missions of Father Menard, Aloxex and Marquette. The church bell was reputed to have been made from gold rings, watches, and silverware Baraga solicited in Europe. La Pointe, on Madeline Island, in early days was known as the metropolis of northern Wisconsin the home of 10,000 Chippewa Indians.

Other negro women previously had been fined the same amount when they appeared before Mayor J. T. Berry on the same charge.

The trouble allegedly was between the defendant and Alma Sirls and Lorane Sirls.

The courtroom was crowded with spectators for the first jury trial under Mayor Berry as Donald Traynor, counsel for the defendant, asked for an instructed verdict of not guilty on the grounds that the pistol and ice pick alleged to have figured in the affair readily were produced by the defendant's attorneys.

City Attorney R. E. Grantham held that the ice pick in question could be construed as a deadly weapon only when used as such.

She was stricken with infantile paralysis when a child. Last year one of the most difficult surgical operations was performed. Several operations followed during which she acquired the title "the girl with many operations." One operation required six months before its success could be determined.

During the many operations Miss Ruhling received letters and flowers from persons in various parts of the country attracted by her courage. One who sent flowers was Bernard Rauchwerk, Irvington, N. J.

She answered Rauchwerk's letter. For six months he wrote her daily, sending flowers weekly. When the success of her numerous operations seemed in the balance he hurried to Independence to see her. His visit cheered her up considerably.

Today she can walk and is now Mrs. Bernard Rauchwerk. They were married at Rauchwerk's home.

The Livestock Show

The biggest and best livestock show in the history of the county is being planned for Friday and Saturday of this week.

The annual Eastland County Livestock Show has been changed from the spring to the fall and is due to bring more interest than ever before.

Because of the cost of feed, condition of animals, and trade advantage in the fall, it was thought that the fall show would be better than the spring exhibits had in the past. Feed will cost less now than it would in the spring and will therefore make the actual show more economical. At the same time, the animals have had the summer pasturage and it will take little feeding to put them in condition to show off to better advantage. In the fall farmers are usually in a little better shape financially than they are in the spring and sale of the prize animals is due to be better.

The stock show in Cisco has been coming along each year, improving a little and looking forward to finer stock in the county. It has probably done more to increase the interest in good, blooded livestock than anything else, and farmers and ranchers are learning that it pays to have good animals.

In addition, the FFA boys, the younger generation of farmers and ranchers, are already enthusiastic over fine stock and each year are showing prize animals that they have fed in preparation for the show. Many of them this year are planning to enter calves, sheep, and other animals that they have been feeding during recent weeks.

Texas is turning back to agriculture to a great extent. But the past is definitely behind us in agriculture, as in other industries. Out of it is emerging a new and greater agriculture, improved methods, better crops and better livestock. That will be its contribution to the future greatness of the nation.

The Eastland County Livestock Show will be doing its part to achieve that end.

Parent-Teachers to Provide Books

The Parent-Teachers Association has announced that it will sponsor a carnival and an amateur night program on Halloween. Although it is little early to have much to say about the plans, it may be well to point out the worthwhileness of the undertaking.

Each year the Parent-Teachers have sponsored a fund to buy milk for underprivileged children. They are sponsoring such a fund again this year and in addition, are planning to aid the schools further by buying new books for the grade school reading rooms, purchasing the books on the state approved list.

Cisco's school children need new outside reading books. While an excellent library is maintained in the high school, even it could use more books. The condition is much more pronounced in the grade schools however.

The state department of education looks upon developing in the child a taste for reading good literature as one of the important duties of the school. For this reason it approves a list of books and gives reading certificates to those pupils who read a certain number of them. If the schools here had more books there would be more of the certificates issued.

There is little use in attempting to teach Johnny and Mary how to read without teaching them what to read and helping them to develop a taste for reading. Many boys and girls go through school disliking education because of a bad taste which has been left in their mouths by someone's poor choice of reading material for them. The state list of approved books is designed to correct this and the Parent-Teachers are hoping to do their share by providing more of the type of books which the children will like and which will be beneficial to them.

MISSIONARY, 80, SCORNS EXODUS FROM ETHIOPIA AS WAR BEGINS

By LEON BARON
United Press Staff Correspondent
HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 21—Betty Davis thinks Shakespeare was a pretty sound old duffer when he observed that "The play's the thing."
Miss Davis, who acts in the films, thinks so, too.

Today she went on record as being opposed to that sprightly game known locally as "scene stealing" or "camera hogging." That is, when it's done purposefully. To set out deliberately to monopolize the camera with closeups is a poor stunt indeed, said Miss Davis. The rest of the cast should come in for a play, too.

"Closeups have a certain value in a picture, but too many of a star are bound to build up an unpleasant audience reaction," said Miss Davis. "They get tired of seeing so much of one person. Often when one role is favored, padded, and elevated unduly, the story flies out the window."

"There are more human beings portrayed on the screen than ever before, simply because actors have learned their lesson of not demanding too much sympathy. Previously many shrank from doing something which fans would regard as unpleasant."

"Now they have learned that audiences don't want to see people they only like; they would rather see characters that interest them. 'Liking' something, after all, is such an intermediate and impositive emotion.

"It's the play that counts and I think most actors and actresses realize that now. A good all round picture in which the star plays a competent but not obtrusive part is much better than one which is spoiled by centering too much on the star to the exclusion of the others in the cast."

Having spoken, the pretty blonde actress showed she could practice what she preached. She played an entire love scene with Franchot Tone in "Hard Luck Dame" with her back turned to the camera.

"It wasn't my scene," she explained later. "I could express far more with the back of my head in that case than I could with my face. The man is always the more vital character in a love scene, anyway."

Texas Topics

By RAYMOND BROOKS

AUSTIN, Oct. 21 — Representative Charles H. Tenyson of Wichita Falls has announced he will ask Gov. Alfred to submit at the next session on his bill to outlaw the 50-cent "ready to serve" charge of many gas companies against every domestic consumer of gas in the state.

BROOKS

The ready to serve charges amount to $1,070,300 a year in Texas, a fee which no gas is furnished. R. O. P. Tenyson said. This measure will be asked as a companion to the Stofner-Tenyson bill which was passed at the closing session by the house and killed in committee in the senate, increasing by 50 per cent the gross production tax on utilities. The tax bill will be reoffered by Stofner and Tenyson in the new session under the taxing power included in the subject of the old-age pension law.

Tenyson's anti-service charge bill has been passed repeatedly by the house, but always has failed to reach a final vote in the senate. The Stofner-Tenyson bill increasing utility taxes mustered over 20 house votes, but was denied a hearing by the senate state affairs committee, and died in the committee.

Other members of the board of education indicated they would vote down Members James O. Gulke's resolution condemning the government's emergency education program through relief, works progress, national youth and public works agencies. His resolution charged this system was set up through political agencies, dissociated both from the federal education office and the state department of education and that its effect would be "subversion and indoctrination" of the policies of a national administration, and destruction both of state school systems and state school funds.

The other members replied that one phase of the protest—use of state textbooks applied only to used, out-of-adopter books. The other that the federal land-buying program was destroying local school taxes and jeopardizing school bonds owned by the permanent school fund, was not attempted to be answered.

Gov. Alfred recently had a bad quarter-hour trying to answer, or rather to listen to, a prominent Texas clubwoman who happened to own a hotel. This clubwoman wanted to know why she couldn't sell liquor in her hotel, if it was to be sold everywhere else. Gov. Alfred's suggestion that she talk to her legislators didn't satisfy her.

When she got really vehement, Gov. Alfred mildly reminded her to the substantial effect that "Ma'am, you aren't talking to your head waiter."

Loboes Preparing For Breckenridge Bucks

WILDERDOGS IN CONTEST HERE NEXT FRIDAY

Cisco Loboes this afternoon begin preparations for their first game with the Breckenridge Bucks. They are scheduled to play the Bucks on Chesley field at 7:30 p. m. Friday afternoon.

The Loboes were losing to the Bucks last week. The Bucks were taking the Loboes to the ground by a score of 18 to 6. In view of the fact that the Loboes lost to the Bucks in this week's contest they are far from admitting defeat before the game starts.

Eck Curtis will bring a big squad to Cisco, a squad that has improved during the season than any other in the league.

Loboes, on the other hand, are battling for that game they play the Bucks by a single point. Ciscoans made touchdowns of the afternoon, only to have them called back when offside or out of bounds. In each case much debate over whether the Loboes was actually out of bounds.

Only other Oil Belt tangle of the week will be that between the Bulldogs and the Abilene Bulldogs. The Bulldogs are encouraged by the fact that they defeated the Eastland Mavericks last week, while the Eagles lost to Haskell.

AGGIES PLAN BIG HOMECOMING FOR BAYLOR GAME ON SATURDAY

COLLEGE STATION, Oct. 21—A gala program featuring the Kyle Field grid battle between the Texas Aggies and Baylor Bears is in store for the coming week end for Aggie "exes" who return for their first "homecoming" football game of record. As an "appetizer" for a huge barbecue, the game and other homecoming activities Saturday, the Aggie "Fish" will tangle in an intrasquad tilt Friday afternoon.

In marking a coming event, the Aggies are returning a compliment as the Bears usually center their homecoming every other year around Aggie-Bear clashes at Waco.

Old Grad Section
All homecoming activities will take place at Kyle field, historic Aggie athletic battleground, including former students registration, a huge noon-time barbecue and the like. The "old grads" will occupy a special section of the stadium where they may re-play in words the thirty-three Aggie-Bear clashes since Cadet and Baylor eleven first faced each other in 1899. The Aggies can be happy in the

Rapt Crowds Hear Mobilization Call in Addis Ababa

Almost fanatic enthusiasm was fanned into flame by the reading of Emperor Haile Selassie's mobilization order calling 1,500,000 men to the colors to resist invasion by Italy. One of the typical scenes enacted in Addis Ababa as a Moslem leader read the fatal words to the rapt crowd is shown in this picture rushed to America.

BIG DAM CHATTER

Last year the Brownwood Lions went through the entire season without crossing their opponents' goal line. It began to look as though a more appropriate name would be the Brownwood Goats. But that's all changed now.

Saturday the Lions went to Breckenridge to take on the Oil Belt favorites, and although they did not win, they accomplished what no other team, including San Angelo, had been able to do. They scored upon the Buckaroos in an 18 to 6 losing battle.

The Lions were overlooked in the early dope columns, but they have already proved that they have something and are right up with the leaders. Given a more open attack, they might go places. They have a fine pair of plugging backs and a good line. Wall, especially showed up well against Cisco.

ENGLISH HUNT TO OPEN WITH GAYETY NOV. 1

LONDON, Oct. 21—With the first blink of autumn in the air, hundreds of peppy foxhound pups have been sent scampering across the English fields in preparation for the festive opening of the fox hunting season on Nov. 1.

Cubbing, or the sport of initiating young hounds into the mysteries of the chase, is well underway. With their more adroit elders somewhat disdainful of chasing fox cubs, the pups quickly catch on to the art of stalking a fox. Although they cannot race with the speed of the experienced hounds the pups manage to nose out and follow the innocent cubs, thereby gaining experience for the real hunts later in the fall.

It is reported from Belvoir, Cottesmore, and Quorn, famed hunting districts, that cubs are numerous and healthy this year. Recent favorable scenting conditions have started the packs on their extensive training, interrupted earlier in the month by heavy winds and dry ground.

Rum Runners From Canada Are Losing

QUEBEC, Oct. 21—American bootleggers are putting Canadian rum runners out of business in their own strongholds.

It is reported that while American bootleggers are making fortunes by buying up illicit liquor from St. Pierre and Miquelon, the headquarters of a once vast rum-running industry, and distributing it in Quebec or smuggling it into the United States in automobiles and trucks, the Quebec bootleggers are barely struggling along.

The Quebec "moo-shiners" are busily engaged in attempting to store up as much liquor as possible for the long winter months, when the St. Lawrence River, ideal means of entry of big schooners laden with "whiskey blanc" from the French islands, is closed by ice. The American bootleggers are doing the same thing, but they are more successful.

The American rum runners do not have to depend on the "local market" to sell their goods. They have a thriving market in the United States. Quebec bootleggers, on the other hand, have struck hard times because of the recent price cuts made by the Quebec Liquor Commission. The cuts ranged from 15 to 30 per cent, but the bootleggers have been forced to maintain their standard price of $8 a gallon, or lose money.

Finance Plan for General Motors

NEW YORK, Oct. 21—A new plan of motor car financing plan effects a lower cost to the dealer and enables General Motors dealers to render the service simplest, most easily, under the new plan.

The new plan is not only the best and most effective of its kind, according to a statement by the General Motors Acceptance Corporation, "but its lower feature will bring all units of General Motors line within a few thousand dollars of potential buyers, and should have a stimulating effect on the entire motor industry. To the best of our knowledge, the G M A C 6 Per Cent Plan is by far the lowest cost plan for the purchase of cars in the United States today."

In addition to this, the new car plan has for the first time in the history of automobile financing, it can figure for himself. It completely eliminates those items as "varying charges", "service", etc.

SEVERAL PERSONNEL CHANGES

Although changes in masterships and hunt staffs are numerous this year, the well known hunts have escaped personnel shakeups better than some of the smaller ones. In four out of five shire packs—Quorn, Belvoir, Cottesmore, and Pytchley—there are no changes, but Sir Harold Werhner has retired from the mastership of the Fernie, his place being taken by Lady Zie Kernher in conjunction with Cammorder F. J. Alexander and Capt. D. Hignett. F. W. Rickett, of Ethiopian oil fame, has taken over control of the Craven Hunt, Major W. E. Royds acting as deputy master.

With participation in a hunt often costing around $225 a day, as it does in the famous Fernie Hunt, this sport is confined to wealthy Englishmen and foreigners. Many Americans have hunted on British soil in recent years. Among others are Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Walsh, of Long Island; Mr. and Mrs. F. Ambrose Clarke, of New York; A. C. Bost-

SPORT COSTS MILLIONS YEARLY

Experienced huntsmen look forward to a gala year at this ancient sport, which costs Britain yearly an estimated sum of $50,000,000. No small item on this bill is the sum paid to irate farmers for slaughtered poultry.

During the cubbing season, the young foxhounds are subjected to their first taste of real discipline. Every morning they exercise with the pack over distances around 40 miles, being kept in strict order by the huntsmen. As each dog leaves the kennel, it must pass through a brine bath to cleanse and strengthen the feet.

After the cross country jaunt the dogs are served with a lavish breakfast of steaming boiled horseflesh and oatmeal. A chiropodist is always on hand to treat the slightest lameness or cuticle trouble.

U. S. - MEXICO AUTO TRAVEL NOW COMMON

MEXICO, Oct. 21—Automobile travel from the United States to Mexico City has become a commonplace occurrence.

Motorists from various parts of the United States are now driving all the way in increasing numbers. This flow is expected to increase now that the dry season is at hand, and will reach a grand climax when an expected 1,500 automobiles will drive from Dallas, Tex., when the Laredo-Mexico City highway is officially inaugurated in December.

A considerable portion of the road—which is 770 miles long—is over mountains. These roads have been carefully graded and "terraced" to make them safe for automobile travel.

For all practical purposes, the road already has been completed. Considerable work of paving, oiling and bridge building, however, will continue well into 1936.

Bridges Built At various places, motorists now are forced to use ferries. Four bridges are being built to eliminate this, and according to the Department of Communications and Public Works, they will be completed as follows:

Bridges over the Axila and Mochizuma rivers, Oct. 1935. Bridges over the Tasquillo river, February, 1936.

Bridge over the Tampamion river, April, 1936.

Approximately 3,500 men have been kept at work on the highway in recent months, most of them in the mountainous region around Jacala and Matlapa.

The highway, which will eventually be a link in the proposed Argentine-Alaska motor road, was originally scheduled to be opened in June, 1933. Last year it was hoped it could be officially opened before the year came to an end. However, various delays have prolonged the work. It has cost more in the number of lives lost and in money than was originally estimated.

Scenic Wonders

Now, however, the road is a reality and affords all sorts of spectacles and scenic wonders to the motorist. From Laredo to Monterrey, it is as good as any paved highway anywhere. This stretch of 151 miles includes a 43-mile straightaway in the desert, which is devoid of any curves.

From the industrial city of Monterrey, often called the "Pittsburgh of Mexico," the road leads over mountains to Saltillo, capital of the state of Coahuila, through a region where long-horned cattle abound.

Leaving Coahuila, the drive continues through fruit-growing regions to Ciudad Victoria, the capital of Tamaulipas state. Then it goes to Valles, in the state of San Luis Potosi, and thereafter comes the mountain-climb to the Mexican plateau. It was in this section where the work has been considerably delayed.

Winding Road

Between Valles and Jacala, in the state of Hidalgo, the road winds around, leaving the tropical part of Mexico's Gulf region, and approaching the tableland. After Jacala the motorist comes to the big mining center of Pachuca, and from there on it is a relatively short ride into the capital.

Already, it is reported, experienced tourists have made the motor trip from the border to Mexico City in two days. Still, the road has not been declared officially open. Some drivers, who do not care to make the mountain climb in the automobiles, drive as far as Monterrey, and then ship their motors to Mexico City.

Every facility is offered motorists, but strict compliance with all regulations, including posting of bond, is required.

Did you ever stop to think

EDSON WAITE, Shawnee, Okla.

Recently I have received many letters from editors and readers in the east, asking me what I know about Governor Alf M. Landon, of Kansas, the man who has won world-wide attention by both reducing taxes and balancing the budget. Well, if I told all the good things I have heard about him, it would fill a book instead of a short column.

Last summer I drove to Minnesota, via Kansas and Iowa. Naturally, I called on newspaper men en route. In about every office I called on in Kansas I saw a large picture of Governor Landon on the wall, and everyone I met told me what a great state Kansas is and what a grand man Governor Landon is. In fact, I heard so much about balancing budgets and reducing taxes that I decided to stop at Topeka and interview the governor.

In my own mind I knew that about all states, as well as the national government, were trying to see how much they could spend at the expense of the taxpayer, instead of how much they could save for the taxpayer. Full of doubts, I called first at the office of the state accountant, who proved to me that the state had over a million dollars on hand at the close of the last fiscal year. Taxes were reduced and the budget was balanced. I went into that office with a doubt in my mind; it came out satisfied that what I thought impossible had been proved possible.

Then I called on the governor. I found him one of the most pleasing, courteous business men I have ever met. I asked him some rather pointed questions as to any political ambitions he might have. In a quiet, unassuming manner he told me some of the many problems that had to be solved and something more about the glories of Kansas. The governor seemed more interested in the problems of the business man, the farmer and the laborer than he was in any political problems.

Governor Landon is an efficient executive who has done his best to be a good governor of Kansas. He has made good at the job. That is why he is one of the most talked of men in America today. Kansas is a wonderful state and has in Governor Landon a man who has worked wonders.

Newspaper advertising is the best means of which the merchant can extend a knowledge of his merchandise to his service. Newspapers go into the households of a community for a leisurely audience with mother, father, "Why, of course, Larry?" she said. "The more I see of you the happier I'll be. You know that."

"When you need a father confessor—" he began. Then he rumbled her hair and grinned down at her. "All right, Princess Charming, when may I see you again?"

"Any time you—oh, Larry, I almost forgot! I'm going on my vacation next week. I'm going down home. Will you come and see me before I go?"

"See you?" I'll take you out to dinner. How about Friday night?"

"Larry, will you? I'll be tickled to death!"

AFTER he had gone Jean lay back on the couch and mused: Dear old Larry! So reliable and dependable—and not, like some other old friends, always trying to bring up the subject of love and marriage! . . . But why had he acted so strangely when she was telling him about going down to the police station with Sandy? And what queer, unwanted thought was floating around in her subconscious mind, making her feel uncomfortable whenever she herself thought about it? Something was wrong, somewhere, what was it?

Refusal to Salute Flag Costs $50 and the sons and daughters, before the fire in winter and on the porch in summer, supplying suggestions for all their wants and needs. You notice I mention newspaper advertising only, because it is my opinion that the newspaper is the legitimate advertising medium. If newspaper advertising does not bring results there must be something wrong with the merchandise itself, or with the advertising copy.

Public spirited citizens, incensed by cowboys "rip-snorting" through the little town, built the jail to house the recalcitrant cowhands.

Immediately the boys began walking their horses quietly down the middle of the streets and the jail served only as a preparation.

INCREASED PIG PRODUCTION IS IN PROSPECT

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21—Larger United States pig crops this fall and next spring are probable according to information available to the Bureau of Agricultural Economics. The increase means larger slaughter supplies next summer; but, hog slaughter during the coming winter is expected to be smaller than a year ago.

Hog prices recently declined slightly from September prices, and a further seasonal drop is in prospect, says the bureau. But prices this winter are expected to average much higher than a year ago.

There were 10 per cent fewer hogs in Germany in early September compared with a year ago, the number of all classes of hogs except bred sows having declined. There were six per cent more bred sows in early September than a year ago.

The bureau says the decrease in numbers of slaughter hogs and young pigs in Germany probably will cause a decrease in slaughter supplies the remainder of this year and in early 1936, but that there probably will be an increase in hog slaughter in late 1936.

The British quota for imports of bacon and hams for the last quarter of 1935 has been tentatively fixed at about 17 per cent less than

George Lott Jr. Cyril Harrison

If you have searched for cigarette mildness, mark the words of George Lott, the tennis champion, and the 7-goal polo star, Cyril Harrison. "Camels," says Mr. Harrison, "are so mild they don't upset the nerves or affect the wind. And when I'm tired I get a 'lift' with a Camel." And Lott adds: "I found a delightful new experience in Camels. I understand that more expensive tobaccos are used in Camels. Naturally the cigarette that is blended from more expensive tobaccos is going to be easy and gentle on the throat. And Camels never get my wind. I'd walk a mile for a Camel!" Camels are made from more expensive tobaccos than any other popular brand. Turn to Camels and enjoy to the full the pleasure that comes from costlier tobaccos.

COSTLIER TOBACCO!

Camels are made from finer, MORE EXPENSIVE TOBACCO—Turkish and Domestic—than any other popular brand.
