SISTER MARY'S RECIPES

BY MARY E. DAGUE

ANY woman who does her own work needs plenty of good wholesome food. Ash constituents, vitamins and an adequate number of calories must be supplied if she is to keep her body and nerves functioning properly. Those who neglect their diets often become over-fatigued and nervous.

Tomorrow's Menu

BREAKFAST: Stewed figs with lemon, hominy grits with cream, fried dried beef, crisp toast, milk, coffee. LUNCHEON: Toasted cheese sandwich, apple and celery salad, pumpkin pie (left from night-before dinner), tea. DINNER: Fillet of haddock fried in deep fat, tartar sauce, baked and mashed squash, lima beans in cream, grapefruit and pepper salad, cranberry ice, sponge cake, milk, coffee.

Avoid Unbalanced Diet

A breakfast of 600 to 800 calories may consist of fruit, cereal, eggs, or their equivalent, and toast or other bread stuff. Coffee has fuel value only if sugar and cream are added. Of course, all the calories might be furnished by toast or cereal alone, but this makes for an unbalanced diet. Luncheon of 900 calories must consist of more than a cup of tea and a cookie. A cream soup or some other hot dish or a hearty salad with bread and butter, fruit of some sort and a cookie or piece of cake are necessary to furnish sufficient calories.

Extra Snacks Add Weight

Mid-morning and mid-afternoon lunches make it easy to add to the amount regularly eaten at meals. A glass of milk taken with each meal will add 500 calories to her regular diet. About extra pat of butter adds about 100 calories. Cream and olive oil increase the fuel intake. If you must eat your lunch alone, plan it along with the other meals. Don't trust to something being left over from the night-before dinner, unless you plan the dinner with that in mind. And don't have your cup of tea standing up or on a corner of the kitchen table. Arrange it on a tray and take it to the pleasantest room in the house and you will gain time in the end.

Women's appetites are likely to be feeble because of confinement, indoors lack of systematic exercise and rest.

Loboes and Mavs Battle to Scoreless Tie

LOBOES MAKE TWO THREATS TOWARD GOAL

The Cisco Loboes and the Eastland Mavericks battled for 60 long minutes on cold and misty Chesley field here Friday afternoon, and when the game was over neither team had scored and the ball was still in midfield.

Cisco threatened twice and the Mavericks once, but to the most part the contest was waged in mid-field. All three scoring threats came in the first half.

In the initial quarter, with the ball on the Eastland 42 yard line T Taylor took a pass from Key and ran to the Cisco 8 yard line. On the next play, though Sikes fumbled and Cisco recovered on the Cisco 22. Then the Mavericks were penalized 15 yards for roughing, to end the scoring threat.

Cisco Threatens
After an exchange of punts Cisco gained possession of the ball on the Eastland 49 and Beasley, who had just entered the game, dashed around right end for 12 yards. After a lateral pass lost three, Beasley took another lateral on the end of a forward heave and went to the Eastland 15. The drive was halted, though, when Cisco fumbled a lateral back of the line and Eastland recovered on the Mavs' 20 yard line.

In the second period the Loboes threatened again. After a fumble had lost 11 yards for the Mavs, Stansbury returned a kick 30 yards to the Eastland 35 yard stripe. Then a forward and lateral pass, Rylee to Wendle to Beasley, placed the ball on the Eastland 15. Two plays gained nine yards and a lateral lost four, and the Eastlanders took the ball on downs.

Fumble Recovered
One time it appeared that Eastland might score just before the half ended, when the Mavs recovered a Cisco fumble. The play was called back, however, and Eastland penalized 15 yards.

From then on, the game was a battle in mid-field. With both teams hurling passes an exciting situation which the Mavericks offered by kicking to him at safety by grabbing each punt and making a good return before being brought down, returns ranging from 10 to 35 yards. At the same time, his own kicks were far superior to those of the Mavericks backs and were so hard to handle that the Eastland safety man fumbled frequently. Several times he got off kicks that went over the safety man, forcing him back to make the return. Beasley was hurt during the game but returned later and finished it in great style. Wendle and Rylee were taken out of the game in the second half, as was Ivie in the first half.

Lead in Penetrations
During the second half Eastland opened a passing attack that netted many first downs but which never threatened the Cisco goal line. The Loboes' kicking, punt returns, and pass interceptions, coupled with a ground attack offset the Mav heaves, though, and the end of the game found Eastland with the ball on its own side of the 50 yard stripe. The Loboes scored two 20-yard penetrations to one for the Mavericks, while the latter led in first downs, 15 to 9. The Mavs had the edge in the amount of yardage gained from scrimmage and in the air, but the Loboes more than offset this in punts and punt returns.

For Eastland the outstanding men were Sikes, Garrett, and Key in the backfield and Taylor at end. Beasley, Stansbury, Rainbolt, Wendle and Wagley were outstanding for the Loboes, while the entire team played a steady defensive game.

BIG DAM CHATTER

This column's predictions that Brownwood would make it tough for somebody in the district have been justified. Brownwood has defeated only Cisco and Eastland of the Oil Belt teams it has played so far, but it has certainly made the going tough for the rest.

Friday the Abilene Eagles, who must beat Brownwood to stay in the running, and probably won't had to come from behind to win from Brownwood. Brownwood was the first team this season to score upon the Breckenridge Buckaroos. If the Lions go at this rate next year they may be heard from in some places where they are not as yet

THE NEW FANGLES (Mom'n Pop)

By COWAN. Irish Come Back To Beat Buckeyes

By HENRY McLEMORE
OHIO STADIUM, Columbus, O., Nov. 2 — Crushed by Ohio State's juggernaut line and riddled by its bulleting backs for three full quarters the fighting Irish of Notre Dame today staged the most glorious and heart stopping rally in the history of football to defeat the Buckeyes, 18 to 13, here today.

With less than 60 seconds to go, Bill Shakespeare, faded back to Ohio State's 35 yard line and, with the ball poised in his hand, swept the field in a search of a possible receiver. He found one, Big Wayne Millner, standing squarely under the goal. Taking aim like a squirrel hunter, he hurled the ball, Millner leaping high in the air, pulled it down for the score.

Sam Baugh Passes Frogs to Victory

WACO, Nov. 2 — Led by Sam Baugh, a quarterback who throws a football like a baseball, Texas Christian university, today remained among the undefeated of the country by winning over Baylor, 23 to 0.

Held scoreless in the first period, the Christians took to the air in the second and scored twice in quick order on passes.

Again by way of passes, TCU added two more in the fourth period. Sam Baugh threw three of the passes that accounted for scores.

Golf Chat

By WILLIAM PHILPOTT
(Professional, Cisco Country Club)

The golf ball industry was entirely British up to the time an American by the name of Haskell produced the first rubber-cored ball for general use. The Haskell ball, which revolutionized golf and the golf ball industry, was a distinct advancement on the "suttie" ball, being much livelier and capable of giving the average golfer 20 yards or more extra distance.

It had not been perfected, however, until the art of winding the rubber core and centering it evenly been discovered. Consequently the ball was hard to control; for it would duct and swerve owing to its construction.

At this time many manufacturers were experimenting on other types of cores. There was the singer ball with a large core containing a loose steel pellet, the theory being that the pellet inside the revolving ball would increase its flight and roll. There was also the pneumatic core, a semi-rubber core and the liquid center, the principle of which is used today in high-priced balls.

JUDAH TAKEN CAPTIVE

Text: II Kings 25:1-12
The International Uniform Sunday School Lesson for Nov. 3.

BY WM. E. GILROY, D. D.
Editor of Advance

THE Babylonian captivity is a tragic chapter in Jewish annals that occupies an important place in history. Here we are concerned chiefly with the religious and social resistance to the warlike empires of the ancient world.

The little land lay between these empires, occupying something of the same position that Belgium occupied in the World War. The strong kingdom that David established, and that Solomon brought to heights of greater glory, weakened in the dissensions and rebellions that followed Solomon's death.

WHEN Solomon died and Rehoboam came to the throne, there was a strong demand that the burdens of the people should be lightened. Rehoboam took counsel from two classes of people, the young men who advised him to rule with a strong hand and the older men who advised him to correct the injustices of which the people complained.

Rehoboam's weakness and his head course in following the advice of the young men led to a rebellion in which the kingdom of David and Solomon was rent in twain, and two kingdoms, the southern Kingdom of Judah and the northern Kingdom of Israel, took their place with parallel columns of rulers.

In the history of the Kingdom of Judah we have the story of the good King Josiah. But the history of kings and kingdoms, is the record of how weak, perverse, and incompetent monarchs have come from strong and righteous predecessors. The northern Kingdom of Israel had already fallen before Assyria and now Judah, in a time of difficulty and danger, was under the rule of the weak King Zedekiah. The power of Babylon was dominant.

THERE might have been reasonable hope for a measure of autonomy on the part of Judah, in much the same way that Palestine later had a measure of autonomy under Roman rule, but that hope disappeared when Zedekiah rebelled.

The rebellion immediately brought serious consequences. Nebuchadnezzar, king of Babylon, came with a great army and besieged Jerusalem.

Jerusalem suffered the fate that great capitals have always suffered in the hands of invading foes. The temple and palace were destroyed, and every great house in the city was laid low with fire. The people who were left were carried off to Babylon, with only the poorest left to be vine-dressers and husbandmen. The highest teachings and the spiritual recovery of Israel are associated with this captivity. It is these teachings that future lessons will emphasize.

Rising Star Boy Is Held in Kidnaping

DECATUR Nov. 2 — An 18-year-old Rising Star youth, Vernon Adams, today had cause to regret the impulse that late yesterday led him into a criminal's pathway. He remained in the Wise county jail here on charges of kidnaping and robbery.

His alleged victim was P. W. Curry, Decatur, traveling salesman. Curry offered the youth a ride at Cisco, Nearing Rhome, the Mitcheller drew a pistol and five miles beyond, forced Mr. Curry from the car. City Marshal Charlie Jackson of Bowie halted the young alleged gunman on a description telephoned by Sheriff Tom Faith of Wise county.

Assistant District Attorney Jennings Brown of Decatur said he will oppose bond for the youth in an examining trial Monday or Tuesday.
