POWER WORKERS STRIKE AT EL PASO

U. S. TO SEND GROUP TO END THE WALKOUT

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27—(U.P.)—Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins today ordered a conciliation commission to fly to El Paso in an effort to settle a power plant strike. Labor department headquarters said Commissioner Joseph Myers would leave Austin immediately by plane and arrive at El Paso late today.

EL PASO, Feb. 27—(U.P.)—Power service was resumed partially today in El Paso from an auxiliary plant but only a part of the downtown business district and hospitals were supplied. El Paso Electric company officials said full service will not be resumed until after the Rio Grande power plant outside the city can be put in operation.

The stand-by plant does not have sufficient capacity to provide power for industrial purposes.

Workers in the two large plants walked out on strike at 3:33 a. m. (MST) today, halting electric power in a 150-mile area of the Rio Grande Valley, affecting 150,000 persons.

Strikers pulled the switches and walked out of the Santa Fe street power plant here and the big Rio Grande plant just over the line in New Mexico, electricity was cut off from cities and farms from Fort Hancock, Texas, to Hatch, N. M. The strike lacked only one day of being called on the anniversary of a similar walkout on Feb. 28, 1935, which paralyzed activity in the El Paso area for many hours.

The local of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, issued a statement explaining the strike call on the claim the company had violated an agreement which resulted from the strike a year ago.

Cleburnite Faces Burglary Charges

FORT WORTH, Feb. 27—(U.P.)—Burglary of A. E. Young's grocery at Deer Creek on Highway Two was charged today against Ford Fisher, 19, Cleburne, on a complaint in Justice Marvin Beatty's court. He was arrested at Cleburne where he allegedly tried to sell two slot machines taken Tuesday night. He told officers here he received a five year suspended sentence in Johnson county Friday. Officers are seeking two other suspects.

J C CAMPAIGN ADVANCES AS SMOKER NEAR

The membership drive of the Junior Chamber of Commerce movement has been going forward rapidly during the last few days, it was announced by workers today. Some 15 young business men of the city have been working on the drive, which includes plans for bringing all the young men into the organization, regardless of their business or past experience in civic work. The first smoker of the year is to be held at the Laguna Hotel the evening of March 9, a week from Monday. An entertainment committee has been working on plans for the smoker, which will include a member of the state organization as the principal speaker of the evening.

Texas Prisoners Are Seeking Bonus

HUNTSVILLE Feb. 27—(U.P.)—George Betts, Austin, veterans service officer, was busy with-in the walls of the Texas prison today, taking applications for payment of the world war bonus from 500 convicts who served overseas. Texas prisoners will receive approximately $250,000 in bonus money, Betts estimated. Their bonds will be sent to relatives for safekeeping until release of the prisoners.

Skeleton Case Suspects' Names Promised

HEARING FOR HENRY COUPLE TO BE FRIDAY

Names of the four persons charged with Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Henry in the "hanging skeleton" case, will be revealed at the habeas corpus hearing in ninety-first district court tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock, District Attorney Grady Owen promised the Daily News in an interview.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry, charged with murder by stabbing in connection with the death of H. L. McBee of Rising Star, former husband of Mrs. Henry, will be given a hearing, following a writ of habeas corpus they obtained when charged in Justice Wilson's court.

Four persons besides the Henrys have been arrested in connection with the case, which developed sensationally yesterday after three weeks of intensive work by county officials and state safety department men. The names of the four have been withheld by officials, pending the hearing Friday, Owen said. Charges against them are known to have been prepared.

Pentecostal Church Is Holding Revival

The public has been extended an invitation to attend the revival meeting which is being held this week at the Pentecostal church, West Seventeenth street. Miss Hannah L. Martin, California, is conducting the services. The meeting begins at 7:45. In addition there are meetings held each afternoon for teachers of the Bible. Subjects as "The Lord's Supper," "The Jews' Passover," "Is the Townsend plan found in the Bible," and "Will This Fulfill Bible Prophecy?" will be discussed.

Lotief to Speak On Townsend Plan

State Representative Cecil A. Lotief will address Ciscoans on the Townsend Old Age Pension plan in the city hall auditorium this evening at 7:30. It has been announced. The address will be free and Ciscoans are invited to attend.

Will Parmer Home Destroyed by Fire

The home of Will Parmer, five miles west of the city on Highway One, was destroyed by fire last night. The flames started in the roof of the two-story building. It was reported and consumed the house, but some of the furniture was saved.

Farmer in School With Grandchildren

JONESBORO, Ark., Feb. 27—(U.P.)—E. G. Mealer, 67-year-old farmer has started to school with his grandchildren, with hopes of learning to read and write. The farmers desire for an education so late in life was promoted because of his love for the Bible, from which he can quote entire chapters, learned by memory after they had been read to him by others. A resident of Scott county, Mealer is one of the 39 adults in that district who have enrolled in the government opportunity school.

Abilene To be Host To Endeavor Units

ABILENE, Feb. 27—The Endeavor Societies of Abilene are to be hosts to the Mid West District Christian Endeavors in a rousing convention of fun and fellowship Friday, Saturday and Sunday, Feb. 27, 28, and 29. Plans are being made to entertain over two hundred out-of-town visitors, in the meses of Abilene. The convention program will be all around the theme "The Call of the Master." Among those to speak are Rev. Thurman Morgan of Breckenridge, Rev. Al Dorsett of Snyder, R. L. Willingham of Abilene, Neil Witherspoon, state intermediate superintendent, of Jacksonville, Jim England of Dallas, and

BEGIN HERE TODAY JANE WESTON feels her dreams have come true when she sets out on a three weeks' ocean cruise, accepted in payment for the salary due her when the magazine for which she worked as typist suspended publication. Dick, introduced Jane to his friend, SNOWSHOES, a detective, others on board are: NORA LANE, famous actress and owner of the Kokonut diamond; wealth, eccentric MADAME DOREMUS; DEBBIE, LENZ, and MANNIE JACKSON, black-malicious; TINO BOSSI, opera singer; KEN MARTIN and LINDA HAYES, floor show entertainers. Dick and Jane spend much of their time together. There is a misunderstanding comes between them. Dick meets Nora Lane and

WORLD ROTARY WORK QUESTION RAISED TODAY

The question of whether Rotary International could accomplish what the world statesmen have failed to do in preventing war was raised in an address at the Rotary luncheon here today by Leon Maner, speaking on international relations. Maner was introduced by J. J. Collins, program chairman for the day. The address was supplemented by a talk from Former District Governor Tom Taylor of Brownwood, international relations chairman of the Brownwood club, who expressed appreciation of the friendly spirit which exists between the Cisco club and the Brownwood organization.

New Farm Bill Is Sent to President

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27—(U.P.)—Congress finished work on the $500,000,000 farm bill today and presented the New Deal with a vehicle for carrying on its agricultural program. House and senate adopted a conference report on the administration measure, which now goes to President Roosevelt. Signature by the president will be the signal for the department of agriculture to swing into action with a broad new farm program replacing the AAA.

YANKEE, 81, DEFIES ZERO

MAYNARD, Mass. — (U.P.) — The rigors of New England winters hold no terrors for 81-year-old Daniel Parmenter. A farmer of rugged Colonial ancestry, he wears no more clothes in mid-winter than on the hottest day of summer. "If I bundled up, I'd catch cold," says this octogenarian.

Blanton Urges C.C.C. Camp Location Here

Congressman Thomas L. Blanton has asked for location of a CCC camp at Cisco during the next period, for the purpose of building the state park on the site north of the city at Lake Cisco, he informed the Daily News today. In a letter addressed to Frank Langston, editor of the Daily News, Congressman Blanton said, in part: "Replying to your letter just received, I herewith enclose a copy of letter which I have filed with Director Fechner. You may rest assured that I will do all I can to help in this matter."

Jap Army Chiefs Reach Compromise With Leaders in Radical Uprising

TOKYO, Feb. 27—(U.P.)—Army chiefs today reached a compromise with leaders of the extremist army group who attempted a coup and perpetrated a grave national emergency. While the guns of a battle fleet dominated the city, and troops and blue jackets guarded the imperial palace, the army chiefs and the young revolting officers agreed the rebels would return to their regiments. By 8 p. m. the rebel soldiers had started to return to their barracks. Authorities expected they would all be back at their proper stations by tomorrow morning. As they compromised the city and nation was under a most stern state of martial law and there was a censorship that strangled all news, except officially approved material.

ICE FLOES ARE MENACE TO AIR BASE OF ARMY

FORT LEAVENWORTH, Kan., Feb. 27—(U.P.)—Huge floes piled up in the ice gorged Missouri river in this vicinity today, threatening inundation to Kickapoo Island, the army's air base, and rich farming land on the Missouri side of the river. Already the ice-jammed river had spread over lowlands and forced a dozen families to flee with their possessions to higher ground. By mid-morning, however, the gorge had broken at Atchison, and the flood waters receded. Five families were displaced to their homes. So acute was the threat in this area that army authorities considered sending bombing planes over the stream to blast the ice jam. The wall of ice, jammed tightly for several miles upstream, extended from the terminal bridge in Leavenworth to North of the Fort Leavenworth bridge.

One Youth Invades Women's Diet Class

AMES, Ia., Feb. 27—(U.P.)—Iowa State College's lone male home economics student, Forrest Clark, Toledo, Ia., confesses that he was a bit dismayed when he opened his lab manual to find that he would need two white uniforms and a hairnet. Clark finally persuaded the department to let him work in the dietetics laboratory in white shirt and apron instead. Clark a pre-medical freshman, wants to be a physician. "In my estimation," he asserted, "doctors don't know enough about foods and dietetics." He admits he had to do "a lot of talking" before he was permitted to register for the course. Special cooking courses for men are on the curriculum of the home economics department but never before has a man enrolled in a dietetics course. Clark believed his new training will help him pay for his medical education.

Man Arrested For False Redfern Tale

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27—(U.P.)—The Netherlands Legation received word today that Alfred Harrod, who recently claimed he found Aviator Paul Redfern in the jungles of South America, has been arrested following an alleged confession his stories were false.

MUSEUM TO OPEN

LENINGRAD—(U.P.)—The world's only museum of the Arctic will be opened in Leningrad soon. It will house rich material on the history of Arctic expeditions as also on explorations and the mastery of the Arctic in the modern time.

Governor Attacks Testimony of Taxi Driver in Identification of Bruno

TRENTON, N. J., Feb. 27—(U.P.)—Governor Harold Hoffman today attacked the credibility of Joseph Perrone, taxi driver, who swore Bruno Hauptmann gave him a note to deliver to John Condon during negotiations for payment of the Lindbergh ransom. The governor leaped to the attack against the prosecution as Attorney General David Wilentz conferred with Col. H. Norman Schwarzkopf, superintendent of state police, and Prosecutor Anthony Hauk, of Hunterdon county. The United Press learned Wilentz had a powerful weapon to combat further reprieves for Hauptmann. Hoffman contended Perrone's identification of Hauptmann as the man who gave him a dollar to deliver a note to Condon was vague and uncertain.

'Messenger to Garcia' Is Ill

Pointing out his perilous route, the man who won world note by carrying the famed "message to Garcia" is shown here—Col. Andrew S. Rowan, army veteran, reported failing in health in his San Francisco home. He will be 79 April 23. Rowan evaded the watchful Spaniards to reach the Cuban commander at Bayamo on May 1, 1898, with assurance from President McKinley that Garcia could count on U. S. aid. Rowan's message was verbal, so he would not be shot as a spy if documents were found on him.

Move for Reconsideration of Hagood Dismissal Gets Deaf Ear From Dern

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27—(U.P.)—A congressional delegation called on Secretary of War George Dern today and unsuccessfully urged reconsideration of disciplinary action in dismissal of Major General Johnson Hagood, critic of WPA. Earlier the war department had said Hagood was relieved of command of the Eighth Corps area because of his "wisecracking" methods of criticism, not only in reference to WPA but on other occasions. Chairman John McSwain of the house military affairs committee, one of the group of three saw Dern today, said: "We urged that the injustice be righted." With McSwain were Senator James Byrnes, d. S. C., and Representative Thomas Blanton, d. Texas. McSwain said Dern failed to discuss the disciplinary action. He indicated a possible appeal to the president.

Church Announced At Dan Horn Sunday

Preaching services at Dan Horn Sunday were announced today by Rev. John W. Tickner for both morning and evening. Rev. Mr. Tickner will have charge of the 11 o'clock service and Rev. J. B. Armstrong, Methodist Missionary of the Cisco district, at the 7:30 service.

El Paso Planning Tribute to Padres

EL PASO, Feb. 27—(U.P.)—Commemorating the sacrifices of Spanish padres who made new trails in the New World, 35,000 Catholic parishioners are expected to march in the annual Corpus Christi procession of the El Paso diocese on March 31. Bishop A. J. Schuler is arranging the program to start the celebration in this diocese of the Texas Centennial.

Eastland Man To Be Buried at Electra

FORT WORTH, Feb. 27—(U.P.)—Charles LeClere, formerly of Eastland, died at Electra yesterday. He was employed at the Magnolia gasoline plant.

Three Persons Are Convicted of Fraud

DALLAS, Feb. 27—(U.P.)—James Dorsey and two of his associates in operation of the Securities Service corporation were convicted by a federal court jury of using the mails to defraud and violating the National Securities Act.

NEW DEAL IS BLAMED AGAIN

ALBANY, Ga., Feb. 27—(U.P.)—Governor Eugene Talmadge balked in his attempt to operate the state without an appropriation bill, today blamed the New Deal for "deliberately" bringing on the state's chaotic financial situation in an effort to stop him from "campaigning against Mr. Roosevelt in the United States."

Talmadge, bitter New Deal foe, who was given endorsement for president by the grass roots democratic convention, declared: "The New Deal has gone to the length of backing up a suspended treasurer in taking over $20,000,000 worth of bonds out of the vaults of the state." George Hamilton, before being from office by Talmadge, said he transferred securities held in the state vault and removed them to the Federal reserve bank in Atlanta.

After Japan's Revolt, What Next?

With little authentic news coming out of Japan after the coup by the army, it is probably too early to tell definitely what the action will likely mean.

First of all, however, the revolt is not likely to affect the monarchy. The Japanese regard their emperor or Mikado as a god, whose very presence is sacred. While the individual Japanese may meditate, the emperor prays for the entire nation. For this reason, then, no orthodox Japanese is likely to start a movement to overthrow the emperor, nor, if he should start such a movement, would it likely gain much of a following. The only element in Japan, which might seek to overthrow the emperor, and one which is meting with resistance from every other quarter, is communism.

It can readily be imagined that there are other powers, notably in Russia and China, which would be willing to aid a communistic revolt in Japan. But the revolt this week appears instead to be the other extreme. The jingoists, the army men who are advocating rule by the war department instead of through the more democratic channels appear to be the ones who sponsored the uprising. The army men apparently felt that the diplomats were getting "soft" in their liberal tendencies and that it was time for them to step in.

If the military men of Japan have staged a successful revolution, which it appears they may have, then the repercussions in the Far East and perhaps over the entire world may be far reaching.

The army has insisted on expansion—military occupancy of territory—as in the case of Korea, Manchuria, and North China, and this may bring early trouble. Such a movement, too hasty, might inflame the long suffering Chinese and weld them together into a patriotic nation, with a band of hatred for Japan. If pushed toward Outer Mongolia, as it likely would be pushed, the Japanese would likely meet with armed resistance from the Mongolians, who are supervised by Soviet Russia, just as Manchukuo is supervised by Japanese.

In Russia and Japan would be found two nations, each seeking to expand, Russia seeking more seaports, Japan seeking more land and at the same time trying to block Russia's securing a seaport which would hurt the Japanese trade. In the two nations also there would be a struggle for political supremacy. Russia is communistic, Japan is violently anti-communistic. Both nations are great military powers. It would be a test of strength that might well rock the entire world.

FDR for Postmasters' Civil Service

Away back in the days of Canonized Andrew Jackson the democrats believed "to the victors belong the spoils." President Roosevelt is a Jacksonian democrat but he is opposed to the spoils system and would substitute civil service, placing all postmasterships under civil service. He does not expect action at this session. He told his press conference

OUT OUR WAY

THE NARROW ESCAPE

he expects to continue conferences on the subject during his second term. He remarked that he advocated such a proposition as far back as 1913. First and second and third class postmasters do not come under the civil service now. Really, all employes of the government, federal or state, should be picked by civil service commissions and the fittest should survive and win the appointments. This may take place some day after the coming of the millennial age, but not while the spoils system of favoritism in selection shall have the backing of the great political leaders, who are practical men and who must have rewards for their henchmen who prefer the pie counter rush to the cold-blooded examiners of the civil service commission.

UNDER THE DOME AT AUSTIN

By GORDON K. SHEARER
United Press Staff Correspondent
AUSTIN, Feb. 26—(U.P.)—Personalities behind the Texas laws will be shown when Judge Ocie Speer completes a self-assigned centennial task.

Judge Speer formerly sat on the State Supreme Court bench. He is gathering portraits of all others who have done so of all Texas appellate court judges. Federal judges resident in Texas and of all the states' attorneys general. From Collingsworth to Curston, Judge Speer's 100 year collection of Chief Justices of the Supreme Court was completed this week.

As a result the State Supreme Court room will be able to have the likenesses of the first two Chief Justices. Curiously enough neither of them presided at a sitting of the court. Its first session was presided over by Chief Justice Thomas J. Rusk in 1840.

Chief Justice James Collinsworth, first to head the court, was drowned at Galveston, before holding a session. John Birdsall, appointed Collinsworth's successor in 1838, served only a month during which time there was no session of the court. Then the Congress of the Republic of Texas met and elected Rusk.

Judge Birdsall in 1839 formed a law partnership with General Sam Houston in Harris county. He had come to Texas from New York. Until Judge Speer began his research no likeness of Judge Birdsall was known to be preserved. By diligent correspondence one has been found. Mrs. Floride Speer Peterson, who is collaborating with her father in his research, located a portrait in the courthouse at Mayville, Chautauque county, New York. Birdsall had been a circuit judge there in 1824. The picture shows him as a handsome, clean shaven, dark-haired man. A high forehead is the chief characteristic.

Search for a likeness of Judge Collinsworth led to the interesting bit of information that the name truly is Collinsworth though the letter "g" is omitted in his signature to the Texas Declaration of Independence. Searching for a picture, Judge Speer was referred by Clarence Wharton, Houston attorney and historian to Mrs. F. F. Abendroth, Wharton, Texas, a grand-niece of the first chief justice. Judge Speer wrote to her inquiring for a portrait of James Collinsworth. In reply she showed him for the spelling, said all the family spell the with a "g." Collinsworth county in the Texas Panhandle, which was named for the first chief justice is officially named "Collingsworth."

Portraits of Judges of the Court of Criminal Appeals begun with 1876. For 40 years the State Supreme Court had jurisdiction in both criminal and civil cases. When the division was made, first judges of the criminal court of final resort were M. D. Ector, C. M. Winkler and John White. The three were elected at the same time a new constitution drafted in 1875 was adopted. Ector was from Harris county; Winkler from Navarro county and White from Gaudalupe county. The court then was known simply as the Court of Appeals. Since, 11 courts of civil appeals have been created.

Judge Speer's collection numbers more than 300 pictures. Beside judges he has gathered also the photographs of noted Texas law writers and compilers.

One of the pictures is of A. B. Petticoas often quoted as an authority in Texas courts. He was father of Judge W. M. Petticoas of Ft. Paso. H. P. Gammel is probably the only layman whose photograph is in the collection. Under the name of Gammel's Laws there was issued one of the most comprehensive compilations of Texas law that has been attempted. It drew commendation from the state legislature. The compiler and publisher died a few years ago in Austin. His life had been marked by twin-hobbies, collection of Texas legal historical matter.

First reporter of the Texas higher court opinions as revealed by Judge Speer's research, was J. Wilmet Dallam. He died when he was only 29 years of age.

Clothing Permits Required in Papua

SLIDNEY, N. S. W., Feb. 27—(U.P.)—In Papua, natives must obtain a permit from the administration before they may wear any clothing. Sir Hubert Murray, Lieutenant-Governor of Papua, revealed here. Sir Hubert said that a Papuan must show that he understands the correct use of clothing, and the need for constant washing to prevent disease before a permit is granted. The danger is that the simple Papuans, who are fond of gathering rags of European clothing and wearing them, allowed them to get sodden by rain and kept on wearing them, leading to disease.

Texas Topics

By RAYMOND BROOKS

AUSTIN, Feb. 27—Attacking 8000 per cent discrimination in the rates of property assessment in taxation in Texas, Representative C. M. McFarland of Wichita Falls has worked out means by which the remedy can be applied, in his opinion by statute rather than by constitutional amendment. The legislative and tax commission have for years tried to iron out tax assessment in equalities and conflicts between different counties and at least two governors have sponsored the same efforts; but far the state has failed to set up any control agency to revise assessments made for it by the counties.

Representative McFarland has announced he will offer a series of bills to correct this situation, an particularly injustices levied against manufacturing and livestock interests in numerous counties, and will sponsor them at the next regular session of the legislature.

A further correction to remedy the collection of all taxes from the "owner" of real property and not from the mortgage holder who actually owns equities in the property will be offered by Representative McFarland in the form of a not and mortgage registration and assessment law. Under this, no mortgage could be enforced in court unless registered and a fee of about 50 cents per $1000 face value paid upon it.

Many counties, McFarland said, are letting stores escape the rendition of their goods on hand at the first of the year; others are permitting manufacturing establishments to avoid rendition for taxes of any of their products; while other counties assess the full value of both. State tax collections are made on the county renditions, and there is now no agency to which a taxpayer can appeal for relief against the discrimination. In two adjoining counties, one manufacturing establishment was shown to have been required to pay 8000 times as much taxes, pro rata, on its products as a factory in the other county. Similar discrepancies have been found in the property tax on mercantile establishments.

Mr. McFarland spent three months in a detailed study of the rates at which property of all kinds is rendered in each county, and has built up tables showing the discriminations between its citizens. Texas imposes by failure to have some state equalizing authority such as was advocated by Governor Pat M. Neff, Governor Dan Moody, and is included in the program of Representative James V. Allred in tax re-adjustment.

The district attorney this morning said that six weeks ago he wrote to L. G. Phares, head of the department of public safety, asking for aid, and that J. N. Thompson and A. L. Barr, state investigator, were assigned to the case Jan. 3.

They have been working under order ever since and have been aided by local officers, the sheriff's department of Eastland and Coleman counties, the district attorney, at Allen D. Dabney, special prosecutor.

"I knew we were on the right track some time ago," Owen said, "but couldn't say so until all the suspects had been arrested and the clues run down."

Many stories were heard by the investigators before they were finally stilled down to the case which the state will present. The trial the Henrys on an earlier murder charge recently was continued in district court until the April term.

CRUISE TO NOWHERE

BEGIN HERE TODAY JANE WESTON feels her dreams have come true when she sets out on a three weeks' ocean cruise, accepted in payment for the salary due her when the magazine for which she worked as typist suspended publication.

On board the ship, she meets handsome DIRK STROM, expert ski jumper, as penitent as Jane. The trip was a gift to him from the parents of a child whose life he saved.

Now go on with the story CHAPTER XIV WHEN DIRK reached Suite AA he saw Nora Lane in the sitting room, her features pale. Seated close to the wall, she twisted the handkerchief in her hand, and stared into nothingness before her.

His eyes swept through the door to the bedroom beyond and he saw the body of Mannie Jackson. The purser was bending over it, going through the pockets of the suit. The ship's doctor came out of the bedroom, and seeing the detective, said, "He's been dead only a short while. Not more than an hour, I should say."

"Shot while Miss Lane was with us in the ballroom," Snowshoes said thoughtfully. "Or in the bar. Between 11 o'clock and midnight."

The actress sat there, wringing her handkerchief. She stood up, and said, her whole being writhed with despair, "Oh, why should this have happened to me on this cruise?"

She was plainly too distracted to be of any use in the ship's inquest, and the doctor indicated to the purser that he was to provide another stateroom for her, where she could get some rest.

Nora Lane appealed to the purser. "Oh, this won't get to the papers, will it? Oh, why, why? Haven't I enough to bear without this thing?"

won't go to bed before we know more about this monstrous—"

"This is the first murder I've ever seen on shipboard, and I'm stumped. There are no signs of a struggle, and the doctor says it couldn't have been a suicide. There is no identification on him. Nothing in his pockets but a wallet and a film pack, exposed. We might have the film developed. This might show something, a sea gull, or a pretty girl—"

"Or something pertaining to his racket," Snowshoes said darkly. "He was a yegg—an extortion artist. Blackmail. He introduced himself as Mannie Jackson, but it may not be his real name."

DIRK went in with the purser to look over the bedroom for clues. Not a single article in the room was disarranged. The trunk was locked. There was no object lying on the floor beside the corpse. Snowshoes was already at work outside, looking for fingerprints on the doorknob. He came into the bedroom and went through the routine job of searching with a glass every object that might have been touched by the intruder. There were no clues, no telltale fingerprints.

"Gloves!" Snowshoes explained. "A planned job. And not a single clue!" "They stood over the fallen man while Snowshoes ruminated aloud. "He was shot through the heart from a distance of at least 10 feet. No powder signs. He was facing the man who shot him. If Mannie fell in that position the man was standing just inside the door that leads to the sitting room. That's all the physical evidence we have to work with. The rest will take time. We can get the bullet that killed him, later on, but the gun has probably been thrown overboard."

The purser was more mystified than the rest. "But what was Mannie Jackson doing in this suite? With the door locked on the outside?" Snowshoes's eyes were still roving tirelessly about the bedroom and the bathroom beyond. But he said, "The person who shot him simply walked out after the thing was done, and closed the door. Swallowed up by the ship. It looks like a perfect job. It's like a crime committed in a hotel where there are a thousand guests. It's a curious thing, but in a public house the murderer is almost never apprehended. People come and go all the time. It's what you might call," he added, smiling dourly, "an anonymous crime."

DIRK went outside to Nora Lane. She was alone now, for the doctor had gone back to the ship's infirmary. He said, "I'm so sorry this happened, Miss Lane. But I want you to know that you've two friends on board to shield you from any unpleasantness."

The actress tried bravely to smile, and gave him her hand. "I thank you," she said. "My first apprehension was for you. It was a wild thought which came to me in my first panic. Looking at the man on the floor, I said, 'This is the man Dirk knocked down this afternoon. I hope he won't be implicated.'"

"Perhaps I should be thanking you," Dirk said. "But if there's anything I can do in the next few days, please let me know."

"You have been very kind," she said. "We had gay times together. But, now—"

"I know," he said. "You'll have to stay secluded in your new stateroom. I'll hardly see you. I'll have to answer a lot of questions."

He knew that this was the end of his one taste of glamour. Nora Lane wouldn't be seen on shipboard with him again. He had realized a boyish ambition only to have it snatched away from him by mishap.

Snowshoes came in with the purser, and said, "Not a single clue!" "Mr. Blake," the actress said, "I want you to keep our agreement. You are to act as my bodyguard during the rest of this cruise. I'm in your hands," she added. "You're my lawyer, too."

"In that case," Snowshoes said, "I'll do my professional best to solve the crime."

THE purser still looked completely mystified. "I'm glad you're going to help with the case. You can have a free hand. I'm stumped. I wouldn't know which way to turn. I'll have to go to report to the captain soon. But I'd like to know something to tell him—"

He threw up his hands with a gesture of despair. "I can't make head or tail of it. You know something about the man," he went on, "so what do you say it is, Mr. Blake? What was Mannie Jackson's motive in entering this suite? If he was a black-maller he'd be looking for—"

The purser stopped, but Nora Lane looked at him squarely, her chin up. "Some evidence pertaining to my private life," she said firmly. "Letters—"

"Why not a theft? Has anything been stolen?" Suddenly Nora Lane's hand flew to her throat. In the first stricken moments when she was unwilling to enter the room where the man lay on the floor, she had been too distraught to remember the thing she and Snowshoes had come seeking in her suite. The necklace with the Kokinor diamond!

She entered the bedroom and went to the big trunk in a corner. She fumbled in her evening bag for the key, and opened the trunk. Snowshoes swung the trunk lid back, and Nora Lane opened the little top drawer. Then she looked up, and her eyes were like china eyes. The Kokinor diamond was gone!

"It's gone," she said simply, and invited the purser to look in. "Why didn't we think of that first?" Snowshoes said. "The diamond!" (To Be Continued)

Luckies—"IT'S TOASTED"

Your throat protection—against irritation—against cough

Over a period of years, certain basic advances have been made in the selection and treatment of cigarette tobaccos for Lucky Strike Cigarettes. They include preliminary analyses of the tobaccos selected; use of center leaves; the higher heat treatment of tobacco ("toasting"); consideration of acid-alkaline balance, with consequent definite improvement in flavor; and controlled uniformity in the finished product.
All these combine to produce a superior cigarette—a modern cigarette, a cigarette made of rich, ripe-bodied tobaccos—A Light Smoke.

No Tricks

The purchase of a used car can be compared somewhat to the purchase of a "Cat in a Bag".

The company from whom you buy a used car is most important to consider when the time comes for you to make a decision. The purchase of a used car involves not only the car, but the finance charge, the guarantee and the honest representations made to you by the seller.

Our success as new and used car merchants has not come about by accident. We have always held as sacred the character of honest representation. No "padding" of finance charges and a thorough appreciation of the used car guarantee after the car is sold. Really, we are more interested in creating a favorable impression after you own the car than prior to its purchase.

Come in and you will see an entirely different atmosphere at A. G. MOTOR COMPANY. Remember these prices are for thorough, dependable cars, ready to run, completely reconditioned, satisfactory tires, good paint and has the best possible appearance and performance commensurate with the age of the car.

THE BOSTON STORE MOVES TO BROWNWOOD

The entire stock of the Boston Store in Cisco will be placed on Sale Friday, February 28th, 1936, promptly at 9 a. m. The buying public is well aware of the quality merchandise carried by this store, and the owner has conducted a business in Eastland county for the past 16 years, the last five years has been here in Cisco. My only reason for putting on this Quit Business Sale is only due to the fact that the opportunity presented itself for me to secure a two story fifty-foot front store located at 111 and 112 Center street, Brownwood [formerly The Economy Dry Goods Co.,] consequently I am throwing this high-class stock of Dry Goods, Ready-to-Wear, Millinery, Shoes, Men's and Boy's Clothing on the market for most any price it will bring. Nothing will be reserved. My entire stock of New Spring Merchandise that has just arrived, and all that arrives before this sale closes will be included. You will find nothing but real Quit Business Bargains when you come to this sale. I can look back over the past 16 years that I have spent in Cisco and Eastland county with pleasure and regret to leave my many friends. I extend to all a cordial invitation to visit me and my new store any time you are in Brownwood. Assuring you of my deep and sincere appreciation for your past patronage, I am,

Sincerely,

I. MOLDAVE

About Our Friends

Mrs. Rex Carrothers shopping... George Fee down town... Mrs. A. D. Anderson getting in her yellow car... R. L. Ponsler giving serious thought to a Centennial pageant... E. P. Crawford, H. L. Dyer, J. A. Bearman, A. D. Anderson, also giving consideration to the thought as brought out by Secretary Spencer at a called meeting yesterday...

A. G. Tuttle and his Penney organization, all on their toes over the report of a visit from J. C. Penney, himself, next week... Mr. Tuttle has a letter saying that he will be in Cisco about March 4... It is safe to guess that many Ciscoans will avail themselves of the opportunity of seeing in person the founder of this chain of stores... that numbers in the thousands.

S. R. Wood been to the bank... Ed Huestis dashing by... Miss Marie Pratt going to work... Nick Miller dashing away somewhere... W. H. Hayes reports Mrs. Hayes getting along nicely after her operation... Charles Yates reports that Mrs. Yates is walking about at home after a major operation here...

Ed Duncan says we may plant our corn early in March and Irish potatoes from the fifteenth to the twentieth... the moon will be right at this period... the town farmer needs every assistance possible and it is well to have the moon as well as the weather on ones side... fruit trees are threatening to bloom out now... black berries are also swelling their buds... roses are awakening to the call of the sunshine... onions and winter greens such as rape and kale are growing away as if we had never had cold weather... Good gardeners are planting turnips, lettuce, beets, English peas, carrots and spinach...

Strawberries are blooming and may soon be offered on the market... Wise farmers and gardeners are stirring their land that has already been broken... this conserves the moisture and makes a seed bed able to sprout early plantings, even though we do not have much rain during March and April...

NEW DEAL IS BLAMED AGAIN BY TALMADGE

ATLANTA, Ga., Feb. 27.—(U.P.)—Governor Eugene Talmadge balked at his attempt to operate the state without an appropriation bill, today "deliberately" bringing on the state's chaotic financial situation in an effort to stop him from "campaigning against Mr. Roosevelt in the United States."

BOYHOOD RELIC CHERISHED

VALLEJO, Cal. — (U.P.) — Jack Ward, 62, veteran ball player, keeps on old time street gas lamp in his home. It is a souvenir of when as a boy he used to shot the glass pieces out of it with his sling-shot when the police were not looking.

LAW MAKERS OBLIGING

PORTLAND, Ore.—(U.P.)—Finding that taxicab meters could not be adjusted to abide by city requirements as to charge for waiting time Portland's city council obligingly changed the ordinance to fit the meters.

Skeleton Case Suspects' Names Promised

HEARING FOR HENRY COUPLE TO BE FRIDAY

Names of the four persons charged with Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Henry in the "hanging skeleton" case, will be revealed at the habeas corpus hearing in ninety-first district court tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock, District Attorney Grady Owen promised the Daily News in an interview.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry, charged with murder by stabbing in connection with the death of H. L. McBee of Rising Star, former husband of Mrs. Henry, will be given a hearing, following a writ of habeas corpus they obtained when charged in Justice Wilson's court.

Four persons besides the Henrys have been arrested in connection with the case, which developed sensationally yesterday after three weeks of intensive work by county officials and state safety department men. The names of the four have been withheld by officials, pending the hearing Friday, Owen said. Charges against them are known to have been prepared.

Grand Jury to Convene

Meanwhile a new grand jury will convene Monday and will likely begin study of the case at once.

The Daily News has been reliably informed that four persons took part in the slaying and burial of McBee at Rising Star in 1933 and the subsequent disinterment and hanging of the body, where it was found a year and a half later.

The Henrys were charged with murder in the case before and their trial recently was postponed. Re-charging them in the justice court here Monday night was one of the swift developments in the case during the last three weeks.

Pentecostal Church Is Holding Revival

The public has been extended an invitation to attend the revival meeting which is being held this week at the Pentecostal church, West Seventeenth street.

Miss Hannah L. Martin, California, is conducting the services. The meeting begins at 7:45. In addition there are meetings held each afternoon for teachers of the Bible, Subjects as "The Lord's Supper," "The Jews' Passover," "Is the Townsend plan found in the Bible," and "Will This Fulfill Bible Prophecy?" will be discussed.

Will Parmer Home Destroyed by Fire

The home of Will Parmer, five miles west of the city on Highway One, was destroyed by fire last night. The flames started in the roof of the two-story building, it was reported and consumed the house, but some of the furniture was saved.

Farmer in School With Grandchildren

JONESBORO, Ark., Feb. 27.—(U.P.)—E. C. Mealer, 67-year-old farmer has started to school with his grandchildren, with hopes of learning to read and write.

DECEASED FIGHTING BEAR

MINNEAPOLIS, Kans. —(U.P.)—Pete Anderson, caretaker at a state park game preserve at Pratt, Kans., near here, "played dead" so realistically recently that a bear which had a death grip on him released his hold. Anderson scrambled to his feet and outdistanced the bear to the fence.

G-Man! What A Beau Brummel!

If your idea of an ace sleuth is a furtive individual in double-breasted cap, equipped with magnifying glass and bloodhound, take a look at this fashion plate, none other than J. Edgar Hoover, head of the Department of Justice Bureau of Investigation. Sunshine, not racketeers, was the quarry of the G-men's natty boss when this photo was snapped at Miami Beach.

WORLD ROTARY WORK QUESTION RAISED TODAY

The question of whether Rotary International could accomplish what the world statesmen have failed to do in preventing war was raised in an address at the Rotary luncheon here today by Leon Maner, speaking on international relations.

New Farm Bill Is Sent to President

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—(U.P.)—Congress finished work on the $500,000,000 farm bill today and presented the New Deal with a vehicle for carrying on its agricultural program.

YANKEE, 81, DEFIES ZERO

MAYNARD, Mass. —(U.P.)—The rigors of New England winters hold no terrors for 81-year-old Daniel Parmenter. A farmer of rugged Colonial ancestry, he wears no more clothes in mid-winter than on the hottest day of summer. "If I bundled up, I'd catch cold," says this octogenarian.

Blanton Urges C.C.C. Camp Location Here

Congressman Thomas L. Blanton has asked for location of a CCC camp at Cisco during the next period, for the purpose of building the state park on the site north of the city at Lake Cisco, he informed the Daily News today.

In a letter addressed to Frank Langston, editor of the Daily News, Congressman Blanton said, in part: "Replying to your letter just received, I herewith enclose a copy of letter which I have filed with Director Fechner. You may rest assured that I will do all I can to help in this matter."

The letter referred to was in response to an earlier letter from Dr. Hubert Seale of the Cisco Boosters and was addressed to Robert Fechner, director of the Emergency Conservation Work, Washington. It said: "I herewith enclose a letter from my constituent, Dr. W. Hubert Seale of the Cisco Boosters, Cisco, Texas. I would appreciate it very much if you would approve the recommendation made by the Texas state parks board for a CCC camp to be located at Cisco, Texas for the next period."

Jap Army Chiefs Reach Compromise With Leaders in Radical Uprising

TOKYO, Feb. 27.—(U.P.)—Army chiefs today reached a compromise with leaders of the extremist army group who attempted a coup and precipitated a grave national emergency.

ICE FLOES ARE MENACE TO AIR BASE OF ARMY

FORT LEAVENWORTH, Kan., Feb. 27.—(U.P.)—Huge floes piled up in the ice clogged Missouri river in this vicinity today, threatening inundation to Kickapoo Island, the army's air base, and rich farming land on the Missouri side of the river.

Already the ice-jammed river had spread over lowlands and forced a dozen families to flee with their possessions to higher ground. By mid-morning, however, the gorge had broken at Atchison, and the flooded waters receded. Five families returned to their homes.

After Japan's Revolt, What Next?

With little authentic news coming out of Japan after the coup by the army, it is probably too early to tell definitely what the action will likely mean.

First of all, however, the revolt is not likely to affect the monarchy. The Japanese regard their emperor or Mikado as a god, whose very presence is sacred. While the individual Japanese may meditate, the emperor prays for the entire nation. For this reason, then, no orthodox Japanese is likely to start a movement to overthrow the emperor, nor, if he should start such a movement, would it likely gain much of a following. The only element in Japan, which might seek to overthrow the emperor, and one which is meting with resistance from every other quarter, is communism.

It can readily be imagined that there are other powers, notably in Russia and China, which would be willing to aid a communistic revolt in Japan. But the revolt this week appears instead to be the other extreme. The jingoists, the army men who are advocating rule by the war department instead of through the more democratic channels appear to be the ones who sponsored the uprising. The army men apparently felt that the diplomats were getting "soft" in their liberal tendencies and that it was time for them to step in.

If the military men of Japan have staged a successful revolution, which it appears they may have, then the repercussions in the Far East and perhaps over the entire world may be far reaching.

The army has insisted on expansion—military occupancy of territory—as in the case of Korea, Manchuria, and North China, and this may bring early trouble. Such a movement, too hasty, might inflame the long suffering Chinese and weld them together into a patriotic nation, with a hand of hatred for Japan. If pushed toward Outer Mongolia, as it likely would be pushed, the Japanese would likely meet with armed resistance from the Mongolians, who are supervised by Soviet Russia, just as Manchukuo is supervised by Japanese.

In Russia and Japan would be found two nations, each seeking to expand, Russia seeking more seaports, Japan seeking more land and at the same time trying to block Russia's securing a seaport which would hurt the Japanese trade. In the two nations also there would be a struggle for political supremacy. Russia is communistic. Japan is violently anti-communistic. Both nations are great military powers. It would be a test of strength that might well rock the entire world.

FDR for Postmasters' Civil Service

Away back in the days of Canonized Andrew Jackson the democrats believed "to the victors belong the spoils." President Roosevelt is a Jacksonian democrat but he is opposed to the spoils system and would substitute civil service, placing all postmasterships under civil service. He does not expect action at this session. He told his press conference he expects to continue conferences on the subject during his second term. He remarked that he advocated such a proposition as far back as 1913. First and second and third class postmasters do not come under the civil service now. Really, all employees of the government, federal or state, should be picked by civil service commissions and the fittest should survive and win the appointments. This may take place some day after the coming of the millennial age, but not while the spoils system of favoritism in selection shall have the backing of the great political leaders, who are practical men and who must have rewards for their henchmen who prefer the pie counter rush to the cold-blooded examiners of the civil service commission.

UNDER THE DOME AT AUSTIN

By GORDON K. SHEARER

United Press Staff Correspondent
AUSTIN, Feb. 26—(AP)—Personalities behind the Texas laws will be shown when Judge Cecil Speer completes a self-assigned centennial task.

Judge Speer formerly sat on the State Supreme Court bench. He is gathering portraits of all others who have done so, of all Texas appellate courts.

Federal judges resident in Texas and of all the states' attorneys general. From Collingsworth to Carson, Judge Speer's 109 year collection of Chief Justices of the Supreme Court was completed this week.

As a result the State Supreme Court room will be able to have the likenesses of the first two Chief Justices. Curiously enough neither of them presided at a sitting of the court. Its first session was presided over by Chief Justice Thomas J. Rusk in 1840.

Chief Justice James Collinsworth, first to head the court, was drowned at Galveston, before holding a session. John Birdsall, appointed Collinsworth's successor in 1838, served only a month during which time there was no session of the court. Then the Congress of the Republic of Texas met and elected Rusk.

Judge Birdsall in 1839 formed a law partnership with General Sam Houston in Harris county. He had come to Texas from New York. Until Judge Speer began his research no likeness of Judge Birdsall was known to be preserved. By diligent correspondence one has been found.

Mrs. Floride Speer Peterson, who is collaborating with her father in his research, located a portrait in the courthouse at Mesquite, Chautauque county, New York. Birdsall had been a circuit judge there in 1824. The picture shows him as a handsome, clean shaven, dark-haired man. A high forehead is the chief characteristic.

Search for a likeness of Judge Collinsworth led to the interesting bit of information that the name truly is Collinsworth though the letter "g" is omitted in his signature to the Texas Declaration of Independence.

Searching for a picture, Judge Speer was referred by Clarence Wharton, Houston attorney and historian to Mrs. F. F. Abendroth, Wharton, Texas, a grand-niece of the first chief justice, Judge Speer wrote to her inquiring for a portrait of James Collinsworth. In reply she chided him for the spelling, said all the family spell the with a "g". Collinsworth county in the Texas Panhandle, which was named for the first chief justice is officially named "Collingsworth."

Portraits of Judges of the Court of Criminal Appeals began with 1876. For 40 years the State Supreme Court had jurisdiction in both criminal and civil cases. When the division was made, first judges of the criminal court of final resort were M. D. Ector, C. M. Winkler and John White. The three were elected at the same time a new constitution drafted in 1875 was adopted. Ector was from Harris county; Winkler from Navarro county and White from Gaudalope county. The court then was known simply as the Court of Appeals. Since, 11 courts of civil appeals have been created.

Judge Speer's collection numbers more than 300 pictures. Beside judges he has gathered also the photographs of noted Texas law writers and compilers.

One of the pictures is of A. B. Petticolas often quoted as an authority in Texas courts. He was father of Judge W. M. Petticolas of El Paso. H. N. P. Gammel is probably the only layman whose photograph is in the collection. Under the name of Gammel's Laws there was issued one of the most comprehensive compilations of Texas law that has been attempted. It drew commendation from the state legislature. The compiler and publisher died a few years ago in Austin. His life had been marked by win-hobbies, collection of Texas legal and historical matter.

First reporter of the Texas higher court opinions, as revealed by Judge Speer's research, was J. Wilmer Dallam. He died when he was only 29 years of age.

SLDNEY, N. S. W., Feb. 27—(AP)—In Papua, natives must obtain a permit from the administration before they may wear any clothing. Sir Hubert Murray, Lieutenant-Governor of Papua, revealed here.

Sir Hubert said that a Papuan must show that he understands the correct use of clothing, and the need for constant washing to prevent disease before a permit is granted. The danger is that the simple Papuans, who are fond of gathering rags of European clothing and wearing them, allowed them to get sodden by rain and kept on wearing them, leading to disease.

FRECKLES and HIS FRIENDS

MYRA NORTH, Special Nurse — By Thompson and Coll

FIGHTING AUNT OF JOE LOUIS BOWS TO FANS

PRATT CITY, Ala., Feb. 27.—(UP)—The massive aunt of Joe Louis straightened to her full height and almost filled the doorway of her home as she said:

"I was the fighter in this family long before Joe Louis ever took to fighting. Why, when I was a child I was so strong that I used to go around looking for somebody to whip!"

Mary Tucker, 6 feet tall and now 65 years old, still vigorous after a rugged life as a field hand on a farm and foreman on land clearing jobs in Birmingham, pointed to a large framed picture above her fireplace.

There, crouched in a fighting pose, was a picture of her nephew—the "Brown Bomber."

Joe's Always Silent

"If he were here right now," she said, "he'd be as quiet as that picture. His mother writes me that Joe says he'll be down to see you some time." She says that much, he's done a half-a-day's talking.

"He's that quiet."

"That's one difference between us. And another difference—he fights for money, and I fought for sport!"

Mary dropped into the rocking chair at the fireplace where she sits and sews quilts—"now that I'm not as strong as I used to be since I had a stroke."

"Why on the farm down near Lafayette (Ala.), I would pick two rows of cotton at one time," she boasted. "And I could pick two rows of fodder the same way."

Bossed Labor Gang

When Mary migrated to Birmingham, she got a wagon and a mule and peddled coal on the streets. Then she went into bigger business. She rounded up mules and men to work for her, when she constructed to clear land for new houses.

When they were dynamiting rocks, scraping ground and building rock walls, the muscular Mary would help. She says she couldn't just sit around idle.

"Once when somebody asked me to build a rock wall, I didn't have a trowel along with me. So I just pitched in and mixed the mortar with my bare hand!"

Weighted 237 Once

"I don't weigh but 196 now," she lamented, "but I used to weigh 237."

She glanced back at the picture of the nephew who brought pride to the little weather-beaten house in this Birmingham suburb.

"I ain't seen Joe Louis since he was 11 when my sister's family moved to Detroit from Alabama. I'm not expecting him to send me any present. He's got seven brothers and sisters to help out."

"His mother wanted to make a violin player out of him. But she might have known he'd have to do sump'n stronger'n that—coming from this family!"

ZOO HAS UNIQUE FOWLS

TOPEKA, Kan.—(UP)—The Gage Park Zoo here has three fowls not to be found elsewhere in the world. They were produced by crossing a blue guinea hen with a Buff Orpington rooster. The hybrids have white and yellow feathers, a head like no other fowl's the voice of a guinea, the appearance of a small wild turkey and the strut of an ostrich.

LONDON.—(UP)—Britain is experiencing a divorce boom. The latest return by the Registrar-General's office showed that 3,934 divorces had been granted in the past year, and divorce judges are now dealing with another 1,300 applications. All British records are being broken.

Abilene To be Host To Endeavor Units

ABILENE, Feb. 27.—The Endeavor Societies of Abilene are to be hosts to the Mid West District Christian Endeavorers in a rousing convention of fun and fellowship on Friday, Saturday and Sunday, March 6, 7, and 8. Plans are being made to entertain over two hundred out-of-town visitors, in the homes of Abilene.

The convention program will be built around the theme "The Call of the Master." Among those to speak are Rev. Thurman Morgan of Breckenridge, Rev. Al Dorsett of Snyder, R. L. Willsingham of Abilene, Neil Witherspoon, state intermediate superintendent, of Jackboro, Jim England of Dallas, and Webb Stovall of Abilene, Mid West District President.

The convention banquet will be held in the basement of the First Christian church Saturday evening with Tom Brittain as "master of ceremonies." A few of the special features for the banquet program are a play from McMurry dramatic club, and duet and quartet selections from the college music departments of Abilene.

Dog Heir to Estate Owes Arkansas $20

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Feb. 27.—(UP)—Attorneys for the state revenue department are seeking a solution of how the state can collect an inheritance tax on the $500 bequest left to a pet dog.

The dog answers to the name of "Flip" and was bequeathed that sum and a life interest in the family home, by his late master, W. K. Sims, east Arkansas planter.

Under Arkansas inheritance tax laws, strangers in blood, friends, servants, nephews and nieces have no exemptions.

At the inheritance tax rate the dog would owe the state $20.

Survey to Be Made Of Panhandle Area

LUBBOCK, Feb. 27.—(UP)—More than 13,500 square miles of territory in 15 South Plains counties will be covered in an archaeological survey to be made by NYA students of Texas Technological college, according to plans of Dr. W. C. Holden, instructor in anthropology and history.

Four persons from each county will make a surface survey of the area. The work will include artifact cataloguing, house-to-house canvassing to discover possible articles of value found by residents, and card-indexing of items found by ordinary methods of research. The project has already been approved by NYA headquarters at Austin.

FARMERS PUT ELECTRIC AIDS TO WIDE USE

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27 — (U.P.)—Versatility of the American farmer has made it possible for him to find more than 200 uses for electric power the Rural Electrification Administration reports.

Current is used to heat, cool, furnish light and power, destroy insects, cut grain and even to keep vegetable crops from freezing. The farmer virtually has become a jack of all trades, mechanic, plumber, merchant, salesman, blacksmith and purchasing agent, the administration says, in adapting electricity to his needs.

One of the strangest uses coming to the attention of the REA was illumination of duck farms. These fowls, it seems, are afraid of the dark and sometimes stampede at night. Under the bright lights they lose their timidity and remain content.

Farm Districts Report

From various agricultural districts word of other unusual uses of electricity on farms has been received.

The Ohio Agricultural Experiment Station found that cooked soybeans were an extra good supplemental food for hogs. To cook these over on open fire was a chore. Labor costs were high. Electricity cooks them at 10 cents per hundred weight in an electric cooker.

A Virginia farmer found that water in a creek passing through his property came from a hot spring. He installed an electric pump and irrigated his vegetables from the warm creek. This prevented his produce from freezing and he received an excellent price for his late vegetables.

Aids Egg Storage

In egg storage, temperature is important. If temperatures are above 55 degrees or below 30, the whites of eggs become weak and watery and the yolks are visible in candling. White electric coolers, controlled by thermostats, an ideal temperature of 50 degrees can be maintained.

An electrically driven spray gun saves both time and money. There is no waste, and the insect killer goes on the surface rapidly and uniformly.

Electricity is used extensively in quail, pheasant and game farms for incubating, brooding, control of humidity and ventilation.

In fact, the REA said, the uses of electricity are limited only by the ingenuity of the farmer himself.

Film Shows Famed Rush to Kimberley

NEW YORK, Feb. 26 — (U.P.)—Movie makers have attempted to reconstruct the "drama of diamonds" that was enacted 90 years ago in Kimberley, South Africa. Today Kimberley is a ghost town, but in the 1870s it was the teeming set for a colorful episode in history.

The most vivid character was given to the GB production, "Rhodes," starring Walter Huston. Kimberley in the days when Rhodes first went to Africa to seek health and fortune was a border town on the fringe of civilization. It teemed with activities of desperadoes and derelicts. Its gambling dens and dance halls were like those in America during the gold rush days.

The film was made in the veldt and producers pledged themselves to make it faithful to history.

Cost of Living High in Ranger Boom As Strawberries $1.10 Quart, Writer Recalls

By BOYCE HOUSE

Author of "Were You in Ranger?"

Although the prices of commodities in Ranger during the great boom never soared to the heights reached in the Klondike and in California in the days of '49, the cost of living was high in the oil field city, particularly during 1920, the second big year of the rush.

Strawberries were $1.10 a quart. However this quotation was on March 29 and perhaps it was a little early for strawberries.

Gasoline was 32 cents a gallon — and that was before the time when the government began charging five cents per gallon in taxes.

An advertisement in the Ranger Times read: "For sale, one team of mules, wagon and harness cheap — $800."

At one time, every grocery store in town was out of sugar.

A franchise was let for a street railway in Ranger and there was much talk of interurban lines to Eastland, to Mineral Wells and on to Fort Worth. (None of these projects ever materialized.)

A construction company capitalized at $4,000 borrowed $35,000 from a bank.

Incidentally, Eastland had probably the youngest bank president in the state — he was only 25.

One of the weirdest dreams of the weird period was that of a promoter who planned a skyscraper in Ranger. The building was to have an observation tower and he expected to charge passengers 25 cents to ride to the top and view the surrounding country. He estimated a revenue from this source alone of $25,000 annually!

A campaign was conducted among the schools to rid the city of rats and mice. The second grade of Cooper school killed more than 2,000 rodents in two weeks and won first prize.

Danger of disease constituted one of the chief problems at Ranger. An influenza epidemic swept through the city and 2,500 cases were reported.

The Times recorded that there were 2,000 inoculations against typhoid and 10,000 vaccinations against smallpox.

No less than 22 passenger trains a day arrived in Ranger. Ten were operated by the Texas & Pacific and brought in a total of 1,000 passengers, on an average. Eight trains plied over the Hamon-Kell between Erickson and Ranger, and four ran south over that line from Ranger to Dublin.

Ranger merchants lost three-quarters of a million dollars a year on bad checks.

Where the Western Union had received less than $300 in business a month, the boom raised the payroll alone to $4,000 each month.

The Chamber of Commerce, in an advertisement in October, 1919, claimed a population of 35,000 for Ranger (the town had 800 inhabitants or so prior to the discovery of oil); and stated that Ranger had eight refineries, 10 trunk pipe lines, six casinghead plants and 100 companies operating in the field.

Building permits for the preceding July had been $477,750.

In 1920, the Chamber of Commerce had a membership of 2,000

DIVINING RODS TERMED HOOEY BY GEOLOGIST

By ROY J. FORREST

United Press Staff Correspondent

HOUSTON, Feb. 27 — (U.P.)—Dr. L. W. Blau, geologist for a major oil company claims to be one of the nation's leading authorities on the "divining rod" — "wiggly stick" method of petroleum prospecting.

Dr. Blau doesn't believe however, that such methods for the discovery of oil pools are feasible or even possible, but he claims to be an expert through experience on the subject.

A "divining rod" is a metal rod, tree branch or some other object which a person carries about over the ground until it is directly above a mineral deposit. It is claimed that such rods will be drawn magnetically or will be "disturbed" by the deposit.

The approved methods of all accredited geologists in prospecting for oil are those advanced by Dr. Blau, but as chief of a large staff of geologists, he has inspected more than 1,000 "wiggly sticks" and other mineral-locating devices.

"Black Magic"

He calls such efforts and related efforts for discovering oil "black magic."

"The rapid growth of the oil industry, and the high profits derived by the more fortunate land and royalty owners from oil so often found on previously worthless land," Dr. Blau said, "have so prepped on the imaginations of some would-be inventors and miracle men that hardly a month passes without news of the invention of a purportedly reliable oil finder."

"One common characteristic of all inventors or claimants," the geologist said, "is that they have never studied an exact science."

"Another is that each has worked 'many years' on his invention, depending on the age of the inventor."

"Still another is that the invention has been at a previous time submitted to some great scientist who was unable to understand it."

One of the most fantastic of the hundreds of inventions Dr. Blau has examined was one which it was claimed, would not only locate oil fields, but would register gravity of the oil, thickness of the sand and size of the field.

Tested Rod

"We took the device to an oil tank farm," Dr. Blau explained. "It rotated just as rapidly near a tank with 50 feet depth of East Texas oil as it did near a tank with 10 feet of Conroe crude, which are different grades."

The inventor explained to Dr. Blau that the Conroe crude was "so much higher in gravity that it made up for lack of volume."

Some of the inventions are so "miraculous," Dr. Blau said, that the inventors claim to be able to locate oil fields while in an office by just working their machines on a map.

Despite Dr. Blau's skepticism regarding such ridiculous claims, he checks each invention brought to him in the hope that some inventor—crackpot or genius—might stumble upon a feasible formula as a short-cut to new and undreamed of oil pools.

Former County Judge Ed. S. Pritchard illustrates, with the following incident, the calm and unruffled fashion in which the opportunity to make sums that now would be considered fortunes was viewed during the boom.

Pritchard then was county treasurer and had not been admitted to the practice of law. A farmer, with a claim against an oil company, called on his friend Pritchard at the courthouse for advice. The official told him that a certain lawyer was very capable and the farmer remarked he would like to have the attorney's service. Pritchard called the barrister over the telephone and explained that a large amount was involved.

Although it was only a block's walk, the lawyer was so long in arriving that the farmer actually had started out of Pritchard's office. The attorney decided to take the case on a contingent fee basis but, not wishing to be bothered with the matter himself, he formed a partnership just to have someone to turn the case over to; and his associate fought it through to a successful finish. The two lawyers divided a fee of $40,000.

MISSOURI DRINKS FREELY

KANSAS CITY, Mo. — (U.P.)—Eight gallons of beer and a gallon of hard liquor for every citizen of the state were consumed during 1935, liquor department figures reveal. The state collected $3,508,542 in liquor taxes.

PHEASANT CRASHES LIBRARY

PADUCAH, Ky. — (U.P.)—All was quiet in the city library when suddenly something banged and glass crashed. Miss Harriet Boswell, librarian, looked up just in time to see a pheasant plump down beside her desk. It had crashed through a skylight.

OHIOAN COUSIN OF LINCOLN

CONNEAUT, O. — (U.P.)—One of Conneaut's oldest citizens is a distant cousin of Abraham Lincoln. He is Charles Evans Lincoln, 80, who modeled the first Willys-Knight automobile in 1901. His avocation is woodcraft and he recently completed a miniature lighthouse built of 1,000 pieces of black walnut and birch.

Behind the Scenes in Washington

BY RODNEY DUTCHER

NEA Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON — Perhaps the old men of Congress are not hurrying us into war. But they are doing considerably less than nothing to keep us out of it.

As late as a month ago, it appeared that drastic, permanent neutrality legislation was certain as a result of strong congressional sentiment backed by overwhelming and articulate popular desire.

Now the atmosphere suddenly has become little short of jingoistic. Congressional leaders and the administration are ditching previous neutrality plans in favor of extending the relatively weak and supposedly "stopgap" neutrality act now in effect.

Theoretically responsible statesmen are holding warnings against the Japanese. Others are bellowing that "freedom of the seas" must be preserved at all costs.

THERE are several reasons for the change of outlook. But no factor is more interesting—not to say significant—than the cast of characters involved, which reveals that the contest over neutrality is, and has been, a startlingly definite conflict between the young men of Congress and the old.

The young men are willing to have their country sacrifice trade, profits, and neutrality rights to avoid the ravages of war. The old men, it appears, are not.

The first statesman to challenge the Senate Munitions committee was Senator Carter Glass of Virginia. Glass is 78, the oldest of the senators.

One of the chief fears that led the administration to feel that the neutrality issue might well go over until after election was the belief that Senator William E. Borah, a candidate for the Republican presidential nomination, might try to make a burning issue of it if there were any curtailment of America's traditional—not actual, as England learned to her profit—insistence on "freedom of the seas" and other neutral rights.

Borah might have embarrassed the administration and cost it votes. Borah will soon be 71 years old.

THE man who split the whole has become little short of jingoistic. Congressional leaders and the administration are ditching previous neutrality plans in favor of extending the relatively weak and supposedly "stopgap" neutrality act now in effect.

Theoretically responsible statesmen are holding warnings against the Japanese. Others are bellowing that "freedom of the seas" must be preserved at all costs.

FOREMOST among the fighters for strict neutrality—some of them war veterans—with their ages, are:

Chairman Nye of the Munitions committee, 52.

Senator Bennett Champ Clark of Missouri, 46.

Senator Homer Bone of Washington, 52.

Chief Investigator Stephen Rauschenbush of the Munitions committee, 53. (His staff averages under 20.)

Congressman Maury Maverick of Texas, 49.

Congressman Vito Marcantonio of New York, 33.

Congressman Byron Scott of California, 32.

Texas Politics Due to Get Hot With Nine Candidates for Governor's Job

ASTIN, Feb. 27.—(AP)—Nine prospective candidates for governor and threatening contests for almost every state office promise a lively Texas political season. Lists for the governor's race probably will change greatly before the filing time expires in June. A present likely roster includes: Governor James V. Alfred candidate for re-election. Hunter, Wichita Falls runner-up to Roy in the 1934 campaign. Senator Roy Sanderford, Belton, backed by former Governors Ferguson in a pension-for-all-over-65 campaign, with a sales tax to pay the pensions. Rube S. Wells, Chamber of Commerce secretary, Cooper, former county judge of Lamar county. F. W. Fisher, Tyler oil attorney who has been conducting a campaign for 15-cent oil tax and reduction of gasoline taxes. Hunter to Run. Hunter has not announced formally. Friends have been told he will run. Others expected to make the race are Commodore E. M. Hatfield, Ft. Worth. Trinity river navigator, R. E. Harding, a former house member from Fort Worth, Pierce Brooks, Dallas and A. U. Puckett, Kaufman county. A tenth candidate may be one of the following three: Frank Seefield, U. S. Internal Revenue collector, Austin; Senator Frank Rawlings, Fort Worth; or Speaker Coke Stevenson, Junction. Friends of the trio are said to be trying to get one of the three to run. Old age pensions and taxes promise to be the campaign issues. The two put some of the candidates in paradoxical tangles with opponents. Alfred was supporting the old age pension amendment when Sanderford's backers were opposing it. When the amendment was adopted Sanderford urged inclusion of all persons over 65 and a general sales tax to meet the expense. Alfred opposed the general sales tax but signed the bill limiting payments to needy Sanderford wants an immediate legislative session to raise pension money. Alfred favors waiting to determine the amount needed and says regulations placed on pensions by the legislature when Sanderford was a member necessitate delay for investigation.

Should Rawlings enter he can point to his proposal of more than a year ago—that all persons over 65 be registered so the state could devise a scribble pension plan. He is a tax conservative. Wells Pension Man. Wells claims to be the organizer of the first old age pension club in Texas. He wants $30 aid for every person over 65 and pension administration by county commissioners courts. He would limit any official to $2,000; have a unicameral legislature and make gasoline taxes pay all road charges. Harding gives in general approval of the Townsend plan with pensions beginning at 60. Fischer is for pensions for all over 65. He wants resource taxes rather than liquor taxes as a pension payment fund. Hunter was considered a liberal in his former race. His platform so severely criticized then by one paper that he sued and won a $15,000 judgment. Clint C. Small, Amarillo, another defeated candidate for governor in 1934, does not intend to run again. He wants to quit politics, including abandonment of his senate place at expiration of the term. Friends are insisting he run again for the senate. C. C. McDonald, Wichita Falls, who was tossed out by Hunter in the first Democratic primary last year with a resultant switch of the Ferguson support, has shown no inclination to run this year.

Warmer weather is welcomed by everyone. Uncle John Blackwell visited Mr. and Mrs. J. W. GrGreen Sunday afternoon. Misses Anna Belle Barron and Edna King spent Monday night in Scranton. Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Webb and boys visited in the homes of Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Porter and Mr. and Mrs. W. Green a little while Sunday afternoon. Mr. and Mrs. Bob Blackwell and son Bobbie visited her parents. Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Luttrell of Scranton Thursday. Mrs. J. R. Poplin visited Mrs. L. M. Barron Wednesday afternoon. Jack Awall of Enis visited his mother, Mrs. J. R. Poplin Sunday. Mrs. C. L. Webb and boys visited Mrs. Bob Blackwell Wednesday afternoon. L. M. Barron is on the sick list this week.

DESDEMONA

By MRS. W. C. BEDFORD

Friday afternoon at the Methodist church funeral services were conducted over the remains of little Kenneth Vancelle Ashburn, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy K. Ashburn, who passed away early Thursday morning after an illness of ten days, having had pneumonia. Not long before that he had been seriously ill from scarletine so was in a weakened condition. All that medical skill and loving hands could do was done for him, but God saw fit to call this bright and beautiful baby home to Heaven. He would have been three years old the fifteenth of this coming May and had been a joy to his parents and his only sister, Anita, who is eleven years old and every one in town loved him and were grieved at his passing away. The church was filled to capacity and the floral offerings were numerous and beautiful. The services were conducted by Rev. E. M. Daily who read the scripture lesson and Rev. H. H. Nance who gave the oration. A special request song, "Swing Low Sweet Chariot" was sung by Messrs. W. T. L. Acree, Whit Richards, Elmer Abnerly and Ed Parks, with Miss Emma Parks at the piano. At the close of the service a large crowd of friends and relatives went to Strawn where interment was made in the beautiful cemetery. Sincere sympathy of the whole community is being extended to the sorrowing parents and sister. Quite a number of relatives and friends from other places came to the funeral among them being Mr. and Mrs. Plummer Ashburn, formerly of Desdemona but now of Crane, Mrs. E. M. Omer of Cisco and Mrs. W. E. David, of Tulsa, two sisters of Mrs. Ashburn, Rev. and Mrs. H. H. Nance, of Carbon, W. F. Mac Dermott, of Fort Worth, and many others whose names we did not record.

Sympathy of the community is being extended to Mrs. C. A. Skippin on account of the death of her brother-in-law who passed away Sunday and was buried at Brownwood on Monday. Mrs. Skippin had been at Brownwood several days and Mr. Skippin was there from Friday until after the funeral on Monday. The Methodist Missionary Society met Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. C. O. Bragg for the monthly social meeting. The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. Charles Lee, who led the devotional. Mrs. S. E. Snodgrass, secretary, called the roll and read the minutes. Items of Missionary News and letters from Conference officers as printed in the Bulletin were read by Misses Mattie Henry, C. O. Bragg, Preston Sparks, S. E. Snodgrass, Charles Lee, E. M. Adly and W. C. Bedford. A social hour was then enjoyed with games of "Sweethearts" and "Identifications" led by the hostess. At the close of the games, Mrs. Bragg served a very attractive and delicious refreshment of chicken salad, pickle, toast, cherry pie with whipped cream and iced grape juice. Favors were Washington hatchets.

Mrs. Clarence Ragland and Mrs. Roy Rushing drove up to Ranger on business Thursday. Mrs. Ed Davis and two daughters of Tahoka, accompanied by Mrs. Dug Barton of Carbon were here Thursday visiting old friends and neighbors who were delighted to see them. Mrs. Davis was also looking after her property. Worshipful Master Walter May, and Secretary I. N. Williams, and a large number of others of the Desdemona Masonic Lodge, went to German Monday night and joined with the Gorman lodge in a George Washington program. Visitors from a number of other lodges were in attendance. Mr. and Mrs. Dave Key and her nephew, Myron Nerren, drove down to Pearl, near Gatesville, Saturday and visited until Sunday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. Jim Key who moved down there the first of January. Miss Mildred Harris of Ranger spent the week-end with Miss Rubalee Krapp. Mr. and Mrs. Dave Key drove up to Ranger on Tuesday afternoon of last week to meet Myron Nerren of Denver, a nephew of Mrs. Key whom she had not seen for ten years. He will visit here for some time before going to Dallas to live. Guy Bruce who has been working for several months on an oil freighter plying between Galveston and New Orleans and North Atlantic seaports came in Monday for a visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. S. Bruce and his sister, Miss Virginia Bruce. He had not been home since last September and his family and many friends are delighted to see him again. O. A. Koutze spent the past week in west Texas and New Mexico on business. W. H. Whitworth was in Eastland on business Monday. Mr. and Mrs. Tillman Dyson, formerly of Desdemona but now of Stephenville were here Sunday for a short visit with old friends and neighbors who were delighted to see them. In the report of Honor Roll pupils of John Tarleton the names of two Desdemona girls appeared. Those of Miss Nell Roberts and Miss Romalee Wright. Their many friends are glad to know they are continuing the good record they made there last year. Another name in which Desdemona friends were interested was that of Melvin Lawson of Cisco, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. G. Lawson who lived here for a number of years before moving to Cisco. We are sorry to report that Mrs. Whitton, mother of Mrs. C. W. Malby and Arthur Whitton is seriously ill. Mrs. Whitton has made her home with her daughter for the past eight years and for four years has been helpless on account of paralysis. Mrs. Mattie Henry and father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. John Mendenhall, visited L. F. Mendenhall and wife at Cisco on Monday afternoon of last week. Mrs. Henry and father had returned from Marlin where Mr. Mendenhall had been treated for rheumatism. We are glad to report that he is much improved after the treatment there. Gallagher and Lawson who are drilling a wildcat well near Hamilton struck a gas flow of five million cubic feet at a depth of 2,380 feet. Their contract calls for a depth of 5,400 feet so they will continue to that depth. They will use the gas they struck for firing the boiler instead of having to haul fuel oil from Cisco. Those former Desdemona citizens are starting another well near Cisco and have moved some of their men from Hamilton to Cisco. They always employ Desdemona men on the wells they drill.

JOHN D. M'RAE DIES AT HOME IN EASTLAND

EASTLAND, Feb. 27.—Judge John D. McRae, 66 prominent Eastland Eastland attorney since 1918, died Tuesday at his home in Eastland after a long illness. Funeral services were held Wednesday. Judge McRae, a former president of the Eastland Chamber of Commerce, came to this county in 1918 because of his connection with Tom Dees in development of the oil industry here. He was a captain in the Spanish-American war. Judge McRae formed a partnership with Earl Conner, Sr., in 1918, which continued until 1924 when he became associated with his nephew, Hamilton McRae. Judge McRae had lived a colorful life and was in Oklahoma when the Indian Territory was opened to homesteaders. He came to Texas first in 1894, a graduate of Washington and Lee law school. Survivors include the widow; three brothers, Kenneth and Dorsey McRae of Hope, Ark., and Hamilton McRae, Sr., Jackson, Miss.; and one sister, Mrs. Ambrose Hanegan, Hope, Ark.

PANHANDLE IS SEEKING HALT OF GAS WASTE

By ROY J. FORREST

United Press Staff Correspondent HOUSTON, Feb. 27.—(AP)—Citizens of the Texas Panhandle, the world's largest gas reservoir, have become convinced of the possibility of conserving this important natural resource, according to L. H. Clegg of Pampa. Clegg, former Oklahoma newspaperman, has interested himself in gas conservation and takes frequent trips over the country to attend court trials involving state's rights to regulate gas and oil production. "As much as 1,500,000,000 (b) cubic feet of gas is popped into the air and wasted every day," Clegg said. "This wasteful practice was intended to have been stopped last year when the Texas Legislature passed the anti-waste gas laws. "As soon as the laws went into effect, however," Clegg pointed out, "injunctions were secured by stripping (natural) gasoline plants and pipelines alike—and field conditions are just as bad as ever." An important recent development in the interest of gas conservation, Clegg said, was the decision of Federal Judge Randolph Bryant, of Sherman, to dismiss one of the most important injunctions against enforcement of the state gas laws. The case was that of the Cargray Gasoline Company against the state. Cargray operates the largest stripping plant in the Panhandle area, consuming approximately 200,000,000 cubic feet of gas daily. "The people of the Panhandle were mighty happy about Judge Bryant's decision," Clegg said. "They were beginning to believe that the entire gas reservoir, the largest ever discovered, would be dissipated within a few years. This would ruin the Panhandle. Panhandle citizens, residents of the famous 'dust bowl' of the 1935 drought, blamed the enormous gas waste for the blinding dust storms. "They say that the waste gas has killed off vegetation completely," Clegg smiled. "This, they say, has allowed the wind to blow it away caused the soil to become loose and more easily."

CONTRACTS ON ROAD WAITING FINAL PLANS

Letting of contracts for the relocation of Highway One along Eighth street through Cisco awaits only the plans of highway engineers, a Cisco delegation was told by the state highway commission at Austin Tuesday. The Ciscoans, who had made the trip to the capital to seek a hearing at the contract meeting, were informed that the project has been approved by the commission, which intends to go forward with it, and that only lack of plans has kept the contracts from being let. Returning to Cisco, the delegation today called Leo Ehlinger, chief district engineer of the highway department at Brownwood and informed him what action had been taken by the commission. Indications were that the plans would be completed soon and that the contracts would be let as soon as they are presented to the commission. The Cisco delegation appearing before the commission at Austin yesterday included Mayor J. T. Berry, City Attorney E. E. Grant, Secretary J. E. Spencer of the Chamber of Commerce, and E. P. Crawford. Cisco had become somewhat anxious over the delay in letting of contracts for the relocation of the road here when contracts for other projects were let during the last few weeks. For that reason it had been considered advisable to contact the commission at its contract-letting session in Austin and ascertain, if possible, the cause of delay. The project originally called for completion by July but delays, including a temporary abandonment and later changes in plans have caused a late start upon it. The contracts likely will be three separate ones but let at the same time, it has been indicated. Included in the project are the paving of Eighth street and the connecting strips of road to the present highway and the construction of a new Katy concrete overpass.

HOLLAND JOINS U. S. DRIVE FOR TRADE REVIVAL

By H. C. BUURMAN

(United Press Correspondent) AMSTERDAM, Feb. 27.—Early this spring an important trade mission headed by Jonkheer Dr. J. Loudon, the Dutch Minister at Paris, will visit as many South American countries as possible and work for an increase of reciprocal trade between Holland, with its colonies, and South America. This was revealed by the Minister for Commerce, Industry and Shipping, Dr. H. C. J. H. Geelissen, who said that not only North America but South America would receive Holland's most intensive attention during the present year. "Holland is determined," he said, "to do its utmost to shake off the influence of the crisis during 1936. The situation is by no means easy. However, there are several hopeful signs, such as, for instance, that last year Dutch industry earned more than in 1934, notwithstanding the fact that Holland remained on the gold standard. The prospects for shipping are a little better, and Holland at the moment has no serious competitors that are being laid up." The newly concluded reciprocal trade agreement between the United States and the Netherlands is having a far-reaching influence on the part of the United States to put international commerce again on a sane basis. Holland, with its important financial and commercial position in Europe and its tremendous colonies, to be a partner in this crusade. Although no official comment is available, there is no doubt that the agreement with the United States will have the effect of curtailing the gigantic plans of Dr. Geelissen to industrialize a great part of Holland and thus further reduce commerce with other countries. This plan was envisaged before the United States showed its determination to lower trade barriers. Holland's exports of tobacco, cocoa, dairy produce, hams and other agricultural products has been hit extremely hard. There seemed to be no prospect for normal commercial relations and the only way out apparently was to accept Dr. Geelissen's proposal to industrialize the country. It is safe to assume that Holland now will only build up industries that can replace the imports from countries that are unwilling to grant Holland a fair share in their trade. Holland, apparently, is going to work on the principle of "I buy from you and you buy from me."

It cannot be denied that Holland with 450,000 unemployed out of a population of not more than 8,000,000, will need all the increase in its trade turnover that it possibly can get to prevent a serious situation from becoming more acute. The export of agricultural and industrial products during recent years had been reduced by $600,000,000 annually. The government has been forced to assist farmers, industrial workers, and the unemployed to the extent of several hundreds of million guilders a year. So Holland is determined to seek more trade and its traders are pledged to adapt themselves to the United States agreement as a starting point, the mission to South America will seek to extend the benefits of reciprocity.

EASTLAND, Feb. 27.—Judge John D. McRae, 66 prominent Eastland Eastland attorney since 1918, died Tuesday at his home in Eastland after a long illness. Funeral services were held Wednesday. Judge McRae, a former president of the Eastland Chamber of Commerce, came to this county in 1918 because of his connection with Tom Dees in development of the oil industry here. He was a captain in the Spanish-American war. Judge McRae formed a partnership with Earl Conner, Sr., in 1918, which continued until 1924 when he became associated with his nephew, Hamilton McRae. Judge McRae had lived a colorful life and was in Oklahoma when the Indian Territory was opened to homesteaders. He came to Texas first in 1894, a graduate of Washington and Lee law school. Survivors include the widow; three brothers, Kenneth and Dorsey McRae of Hope, Ark., and Hamilton McRae, Sr., Jackson, Miss.; and one sister, Mrs. Ambrose Hanegan, Hope, Ark.

HOLLAND JOINS U. S. DRIVE FOR TRADE REVIVAL

By H. C. BUURMAN (United Press Correspondent) AMSTERDAM, Feb. 27.—Early this spring an important trade mission headed by Jonkheer Dr. J. Loudon, the Dutch Minister at Paris, will visit as many South American countries as possible and work for an increase of reciprocal trade between Holland, with its colonies, and South America. This was revealed by the Minister for Commerce, Industry and Shipping, Dr. H. C. J. H. Geelissen, who said that not only North America but South America would receive Holland's most intensive attention during the present year. "Holland is determined," he said, "to do its utmost to shake off the influence of the crisis during 1936. The situation is by no means easy. However, there are several hopeful signs, such as, for instance, that last year Dutch industry earned more than in 1934, notwithstanding the fact that Holland remained on the gold standard. The prospects for shipping are a little better, and Holland at the moment has no serious competitors that are being laid up." The newly concluded reciprocal trade agreement between the United States and the Netherlands is having a far-reaching influence on the part of the United States to put international commerce again on a sane basis. Holland, with its important financial and commercial position in Europe and its tremendous colonies, to be a partner in this crusade. Although no official comment is available, there is no doubt that the agreement with the United States will have the effect of curtailing the gigantic plans of Dr. Geelissen to industrialize a great part of Holland and thus further reduce commerce with other countries. This plan was envisaged before the United States showed its determination to lower trade barriers. Holland's exports of tobacco, cocoa, dairy produce, hams and other agricultural products has been hit extremely hard. There seemed to be no prospect for normal commercial relations and the only way out apparently was to accept Dr. Geelissen's proposal to industrialize the country. It is safe to assume that Holland now will only build up industries that can replace the imports from countries that are unwilling to grant Holland a fair share in their trade. Holland, apparently, is going to work on the principle of "I buy from you and you buy from me."

PANHANDLE IS SEEKING HALT OF GAS WASTE

By ROY J. FORREST United Press Staff Correspondent HOUSTON, Feb. 27.—(AP)—Citizens of the Texas Panhandle, the world's largest gas reservoir, have become convinced of the possibility of conserving this important natural resource, according to L. H. Clegg of Pampa. Clegg, former Oklahoma newspaperman, has interested himself in gas conservation and takes frequent trips over the country to attend court trials involving state's rights to regulate gas and oil

'Skeleton Murder' Case Is Believed Solved As Four More Held in Jail

EASTLAND, Feb. 27.—(Special)—By agreement of attorneys the habeas corpus hearing for Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Henry has been set for 10 o'clock Friday morning in ninety-first district court.

The "hanging skeleton murder" case of Rising Star was virtually solved Wednesday, it was believed, following arrest of four new suspects pending murder charges, and arrest of Raymond and Della Henry on new charges of murder by stabbing.

With the announced solution of the case came a sordid story of long brewing trouble, a man stabbed and allowed to die slowly while his murderers waited to bury him, the corpse dug up and hung from a tree to simulate suicide, marriage of the widow to the man who stabbed her husband, and finding the skeleton dangling at the end of a wire a year and a half later.

Names of the four new suspects in the three-year-old slaying of H. L. McBee were withheld Wednesday but some of them were understood to be held in the Eastland county jail and the others in the Coleman county jail.

S-Men in Case

Eastland and Coleman county officials were aided in solving the case by investigators from the newly created state department of public safety.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry, the latter the former wife of the slain highway worker, were charged in Justice Joe Wilson's court in Cisco Monday night. They demanded a writ of habeas corpus and a hearing was to be set today in ninety-first district court.

District Attorney Grady Owens Wednesday denied having a written confession from any of the suspects in the case, but the Daily News was informed by a reliable source that one of the persons closely connected with the slaying had made a statement implicating those now charged.

Raymond Henry was seen leaving the McBee home at Rising Star early on the morning of May 1, 1933 carrying an ice pick, the informant told the Daily News.

Died From Wounds

Later the witness saw McBee lying on the bed in his home, with stab wounds in the left side of his chest, and was told that Henry had stabbed him. Henry likewise is alleged to have two witnesses that he stabbed McBee.

The witness' story said that someone made an effort to bring a doctor to the aid of McBee, but was prevented.

McBee died about 11 o'clock that night and was buried by his murderers in the northeast corner of the wooded pasture where his skeleton was later found dangling from a tree, it was said.

Three weeks after McBee's death, the informant said, the body was dug up, dressed in the highway worker's clothing and with the highway tag in a trouser pocket, and was hung by a wire from a tree near the pasture, to give the impression of suicide.

Asked State Aid The district attorney this morning said that six weeks ago he wrote to L. G. Phares, head of the department of public safety, asking for aid, and that J. N. Thompson and A. L. Barr, state investigators, were assigned to the case Jan. 31.

They have been working under cover ever since and have been aided by federal officers, the sheriff's department, of Eastland and Coleman counties, the district attorney, and Allen D. Dabney, special prosecutor.

"I knew we were on the right track some time ago," Owen said, "but couldn't say so until all the suspects had been arrested and all the clues run down."

Many stories were heard by the

SWEETWATER LIONS DUE TO VISIT CISCO

The program chairman being absent Lien Press, S. H. Nance Wednesday filled in the time with talks from various members on subjects deemed of importance to the club.

Henry Rogers from Sweetwater announced that his club would like to visit Cisco with a representation from his city by way of introducing Lion Ross Cousins as a candidate for the district governorship for the next year. He was instructed to notify the local committee as to date desired and arrangements would be made accordingly.

Dallas Wales, J. A. Bearman, and Charles Kleiner spoke for a few minutes each. Lion Wales requested that each club member write to the congressman and senators for this district pressing Cisco's claim for a CCC camp at the earliest time possible. He stressed the importance of haste, saying that park board members, who recently visited Cisco to look over the project were enthusiastic to aid the claim and would immediately start work when the CCC camp was granted.

J. A. Bearman reported on his visit to the Lions club in Brownsville and expressed his gratitude for the letter he received from the home club while vacating in that city.

Charles Kleiner told some experiences he had in the San Antonio area while in the oil field in 1919.

Quitting Business

MOLDAVE SAYS BOSTON STORE LEAVING CISCO

I. Moldave, Eastland county merchant for 16 years, is announcing his intention of moving his dry goods business to Brownwood, where he has bought out the Economy store and where he will have more room to display the large stock of clothing and piece goods that he always carries.

Moldave is announcing a quit business sale for the Boston Store and promises people of this trade territory a real sale event that will make them remember him for many months. Every item in this immense stock is priced, he said, in a way that will make merchandise move. He prefers to sacrifice rather than go to the trouble and expense of packing and moving to Brownwood. It will cost a great deal of money to pack and haul to Brownwood, then unpack again. Therefore he thinks it much better to give his friends here a little parting gift in the way of a bargain sale and do it in a big way so that he will be remembered kindly by the people of Cisco trade territory. He invites Ciscoans to come and see for themselves what he is offering in this quit business sale.

investigators before they were finally sifted down to the case which the state will present. The trial of the Henrys on an earlier murder charge recently was continued in district court until the April term.

Bones Found in 1934

Mrs. Henry, charged with murder in the justice court here Monday, is a former wife of McBee. Living with him at the time of the latter's disappearance, she later obtained a divorce and married Henry before the remains of M-Bee were found.

McBee's skeleton, partly clothed and partly eaten away by decay, was found dangling by a wire from a tree near Rising Star when two hunters came upon it in a wooded pasture on Dec. 22, 1934. The two were Dean Broaden, 9, and Herman Boman, 25, son and son-in-law, respectively, of O. C. Broaden on whose place the skeleton was found. At the time of the discovery many rumors were going the rounds in Rising Star but many of them have been discredited in the light of new evidence.

Life of Grace Moore... LOVE ME FOREVER... COLUMBIA PICTURES

Chapter Two

Although Mary Garden helped enormously with wise counsel, Grace Moore is solely responsible for her own career.

She had come from the tiny industrial town of Jellico, Tennessee, to Nashville to attend a girls' finishing school. Possessing ambitions as difficult to suppress as a coiled spring and anxious to carry them to fruition.

Grace, at this time, was seriously considering the life of a missionary. Her eyes were set on the wild plains of China. But the yellow-skinned natives were destined never to know what Grace Moore had in store for them.

The Chicago Civic Opera Company in the course of its regular migratory activities brought Mary Garden to Nashville and mapped out a new life for the southern girl. Miss Garden had long been an idol to Grace, hence her excitement was great when the opportunity presented itself through the faculty of the seminary, which arranged for the star to see a class of fine arts pupils.

The harassed Miss Garden had this sort of thing to contend with all over the nation, so it is dubious whether she even fractionally shared the enthusiasm of the gushing girls for the interview. But with Grace in their midst the students swarmed into the opera singer's dressing room and pined her with questions ranging from current events of the day to the composers of the classics.

Miss Garden took it valiantly. Despite the fact that many of her student eagerness—which were encouraged by upper grade schools in every city she visited—were wearying to her and she cut them as short as possible it is not true that she was either cold-blooded or hard-boiled. Often she put her alert capacity to assay queries to work and her interest in promising youngsters has been the genesis of several more or less brilliant careers.

History was made in Nashville that day. It stirred a quivering blue-eyed girl to launch upon a future that was to become filled with glory. Beyond a question of a doubt Mary Garden sensed something in Grace Moore as she pleaded with the diva to listen while she sang. That request, reiterated by new flocks of aspiring youngsters everywhere, was granted only in exceptional cases but La Garden was always generous with advice and counsel.

Still a Secret

Whether Grace was allowed to warble in her best juvenile manner for Miss Garden's judgment, they are the only ones who know today. Many, however, remember that they drew aside and talked at length—a privilege, indeed, with the great Garden. Miss Moore herself dates her greatest ambition and later career from that moment.

What unusual quality did Miss Garden discern in Grace Moore? What advice did she give the young student beyond the bromide injunction to study assiduously if she desired to make a career for herself? Likened child to herself?

It is possible that Miss Garden read in the deportment and soul of the youngster a fascinating similarity to herself. No one acquainted with Mary Garden's penetrating skill in deduction will be inclined to doubt that she recognized at that early date a rare quality in Grace, and one that more than any other may be credited with responsibility for her tremendous success in many fields—the nerve to take the breaks when they come her way and aggressively to follow up such opportunities, each break affords.

If this hypothesis is accepted as a valid one, it is shown that Mary Garden was correct. Grace Moore's belief that she possessed musical ability soon was put to test and proven. Soon she demonstrated rare vision and the courage that is so vital if one is to assault the supreme position in any field.

Enters Music School Grace persuaded her parents to send her to a fashionable school near Washington—but not too near to be disturbed by the dickering of Congress—where excellent facilities and study angles were available. Missionaries were forgotten; she lived with music, using her generous allowance in an equally generous manner to equip herself for a singing career regardless of the family attitude that a public career was unthinkable.

Through the director of the school—who was also the manager of a concert artists bureau—Grace was given an opportunity to appear with Martinelli in the national capital. Trembling with fear, Miss Moore later recounted, "I walked onto the stage and sang with a high, little soprano voice the biggest arias any 250-pound dramatic soprano ever attempted. I fooled nobody but my self; they thought I was singing the wrong stuff—but they also knew a voice was there. Even Martinelli knew that and gave me valuable advice."

Critics Hopeful The following day the critics said "A lion and a mouse gave a concert at the National Theatre yesterday. The lion made way for the mouse who disclosed a pretty and charming voice with a future."

Those three words blazed the trail. Grace Moore is certain now that nothing save death could have stopped her at that moment, from then on it was like an illness—she dreamed she walked, she talked with this one idea. "Forget everything else, get to New York and start with anything in the theatre that means a beginning." (To be continued.)

Over a period of years, certain basic advances have been made in the selection and treatment of cigarette tobaccos for Lucky Strike Cigarettes. They include preliminary analyses of the tobaccos selected; use of center leaves; the higher heat treatment of tobacco ("toasting"); consideration of acid-alkaline balance, with consequent definite improvement in flavor; and controlled uniformity in the finished product.

All these combine to produce a superior cigarette—a modern cigarette, a cigarette made of rich, ripe-bodied tobaccos—A Light Smoke.

The purchase of a used car can be compared somewhat to the purchase of a "Cat in a Bag".

The company from whom you buy a used car is most important to consider when the time comes for you to make a decision. The purchase of a used car involves not only the car, but the finance charge, the guarantee and the honest representations made to you by the seller.

Our success as new and used car merchants has not come about by accident. We have always held as sacred the character of honest representation. No "padding" of finance charges and a thorough appreciation of the used car guarantee after the car is sold. Really, we are more interested in creating a favorable impression after you own the car than prior to its purchase.

Come in and you will see an entirely different atmosphere at A. G. MOTOR COMPANY. Remember these prices are for thorough, dependable cars, ready to run, completely reconditioned, satisfactory tires, good paint and has the best possible appearance and performance commensurate with the age of the car.

BLACK-DRAUGHT Laxative That Thousands Prefer

Black-Draught has helped so many men and women that others, needing a purely vegetable laxative, should have no hesitancy in trying it. Black-Draught relieves constipation in an easy, natural way.

"We have found Black-Draught so satisfactory, I do not see any need to change," writes Mrs. Ralph Burch, of Black, Ala. "I take Black-Draught for biliousness and constipation which make me feel sluggish, tired and no account. Black-Draught surely will relieve me."

The proper use of this old, reliable laxative tends to leave the bowels acting regularly.

Be sure to try it! Sold everywhere in 25-cent packages.

More Hogs and Fewer Horses, Mules, Cattle and Sheep Shown for Texas

AUSTIN, Feb. 27—Decreases in the numbers of horses, mules, cattle, and sheep, and an increase in the number of hogs on farms on January 1, 1936, compared with the revised estimates for January 1, 1935, are shown by the annual inventory estimates of livestock on farms made by the crop reporting board of the department of agriculture. The number of horses decreased 2 per cent, mules 3 per cent, sheep 1 percent, and cattle half of 1 percent. The number of hogs increased 9 percent. The number of milk cows, which are included in the total for all cattle, decreased 2 percent. When the numbers of all species are converted to animal units, which allow for differences in size and feed requirements of the several species, the change from last year was a decrease of one-tenth of 1 percent.

The total value of all livestock on farms January 1, 1936, was $4,885,302,000. This was an increase of $1,635,217,000 or about 50 percent over the value on January 1, 1935, and was the highest value since January 1, 1930. The value per head of each species was materially higher on January 1 this year than last and was the highest for all species since January 1, 1932. These inventory values of livestock on farms as of January 1 should not be confused with the value of livestock production or with the income from livestock which will be estimated later.

Figures Revised
The estimated numbers of livestock on farms January 1, 1935, and for the preceding years have been revised on the basis of the 1935 census, supplemented by records of shipments and other information. The revised numbers for January 1, 1935, when compared with the preliminary estimates made in February, 1935, show little change in horses or mules, increases of about 5 percent in hogs and sheep, involve little change in the estimates of numbers on hand or of the amount and value of production during the years prior to 1935. In the case of cattle the increase in numbers from January 1, 1930, to January 1, 1934 to January 1, 1935, larger than had been previously estimated and the decrease from January 1, 1934 to January 1, 1935, was much smaller than estimated a year ago. The revised estimates show cattle numbers on January 1, 1934, to have been the largest on record.

The estimated number of horses on farms January 1, 1936, was 11,637,000 head; a decrease of 224,000 head or about 2 percent. The number of horses over two years old decreased 4 percent there was a further substantial increase in colts under one year old. The value per head of all horses and colts on January 1, 1936, was $96.79 compared with $77.05 on January 1, 1935. This was the highest January 1 value since 1921. The total value of horses this year was $1,126,400,000 compared with $913,870,000 a year ago.

Mules
The number of mules on January 1, 1936, was 4,685,000 head compared with 4,822,000 a year earlier; a decrease of about 3 percent. The number of mule colts under 1 year old increased but was more than offset by the decrease in mules over two years old. The value per head on January 1, 1936, was $120.42 compared with $99.34 a year earlier and the total value was $564,186,000 compared with $478,998,000.

Cattle
The estimated number of all cattle and calves on farms January 1, 1936, was 68,213,000 head, compared with the revised number of 68,529,000 head on January 1, 1935; 74,262,000 head on January 1, 1934; and 61,903,000 head on January 1, 1930. Compared with a year ago there was a decrease of only one half of 1 percent, but a decrease of 8 percent from the peak number of January 1, 1934. The value per head on January 1, 1936, was $34.09 compared with $20.22 a year earlier. This was the highest value per head since 1931. The total value was $2,325,386,000 compared with $1,385,948,000 a year ago.

Changes in cattle numbers during 1935 among different regions were quite varied. Numbers in the North Atlantic States increased. All of the states in the North Central (Corn Belt) states, except Kansas, had increased numbers with the largest increases in the states where number were sharply reduced in 1934 as a result of the drought. Numbers in the South Atlantic and south Central and Rocky Mountain states decreased, while in the states west of the continental divide, they increased.

Hogs
The estimated number of hogs on farms January 1, 1936, was 42,541,000 head, compared with the revised estimates of 39,004,000 head a year earlier, and 38,821,000 head two years earlier. The increase over a year ago was about 9 percent. Compared with the average number for 1932 and 1933, there was a decrease of about 30 percent. The value per head was $12.68 compared with $6.31 a year earlier, and the total value of $539,561,000 was 120 percent larger than a year earlier and the largest since 1931.

Sheep
The estimated total number of sheep, including lambs on January 1, 1936, was 51,673,000 head, of which 46,380,000 head were stock sheep and the balance were sheep and lambs on feed. Compared with a year ago, the number of stock sheep decreased 260,000 head. In the past, published estimates by states have carried total sheep, but this year's report by states shows only stock sheep and this form will be followed in future reports. The number of stock sheep in the native sheep states January 1, 1936, increased about 2 percent over a year earlier, but in the Western Sheep States, there was a decrease of nearly 2 percent. In the Western Sheep States most of the decrease during 1935 was in the number of ewe lambs being kept for breeding ewes with but little change in the number of ewes 1 year old and over. The average value per head of stock sheep on January 1, 1936, was $6.34 compared with $4.33 a year earlier and the total value of $294,249,000 was 46 percent higher than a year ago and the highest since 1930.

ject looms for 21 who underwent examinations today. L. L. Powell, statistician, stated.

The examinations were given here by John A. White, engineer for the state-wide tax survey project with headquarters at the district WPA office in Abilene, Powell said.

I've known this for a long time ... cigarettes cause no ills and cure no ailments.

You mean ALL cigarettes ... Yes, at some time or other I have just about tried them all and what I say goes for all of them.

Seriously ...
There is probably only one man on earth who would believe it if we told you that a cigarette would cure what ails you.

DAVENPORT TO ASK PLACE AS COUNTY CLERK

The Cisco Daily News and American and Roundup are authorized to publish the following statement from R. L. Davenport concerning his candidacy for the office of county clerk.

To the Voters of Eastland County: In presenting my claims to the citizens of this county for the responsible position of County Clerk, I realize that every citizen is entitled to know some of my qualifications and fitness for this office and I therefore feel justified in submitting you something of my training and experience that in my judgment qualify me for public office.

I was born and reared in Central Texas and moved with my father to Eastland county in 1888 where I have resided continuously with the exception of two years spent in Fort Worth, Texas, where I was engaged in the mercantile business. I am a graduate of the Metropolitan Business College of Dallas and after completing this work I was employed by some of the leading mercantile establishments of Eastland as bookkeeper and accountant. I was elected to the office of District Clerk of this county in 1904 and served for two terms, and I point with pride to the record which I established as your public servant. I have had several years experience as manager of abstract companies located in Eastland in which work I became thoroughly familiar with the records of the various courts of the county and especially those of the office of County Clerk. I married in Eastland county and have reared and educated my children in the public schools of our city, and have at all times been interested in the development and progress of our community.

If the voters of this county feel that I am worthy and qualified for the office I seek, I would appreciate the hearty support and influence of every citizen.

Respectfully submitted, R. L. (BOB) DAVENPORT.

TUCKER TO BE CANDIDATE FOR COMMISSIONER

The Cisco Daily News and American and Roundup are authorized to publish the following statement concerning the candidacy of Robert Tucker for the office of county commissioner of precinct four:

To the Voters of Precinct Four, Eastland County, Texas: After thorough consideration of the matter and believing myself fully qualified for the office I have decided to announce my candidacy for the responsible position of County Commissioner of Precinct No. 4, Eastland County, Texas, and in doing so I feel that every citizen should know something about my qualifications and fitness for the office. I therefore submit to you some of the things that in my judgment qualify me for the office.

I was born and reared in Eastland county, my father, M. C. Tucker, having moved to this county in 1880 at the age of twelve years and having resided here continuously since that time.

I have lived in the Pleasant Hill community in Precinct No. 4, all my life except three years spent in Cisco while employed in the building of roads in this precinct.

I feel that I have enjoyed fair success as a young man in handling my own business affairs and the affairs of my community in which keen interest in the public affairs of friends and neighbors in that the taxpayers' money of this county should be spent in a conservative manner.

Having had eight years experience in handling road machinery and building roads in this precinct, I feel that I am thoroughly qualified to fill this very important position.

Neither I nor any of my family, have ever asked for a public office and being a young man thirty-eight years of age, I feel justified in asking for a place in which to serve the people of this Commissioner's Precinct, and if you will elect me I will devote all my time to the best interests of this people.

Respectfully, ROBERT TUCKER.

L. A. Woods Seeking School Job Again

AUSTIN, Feb. 27—(UP)—State Superintendent L. A. Woods announced from his office this week that he would ask the people of Texas to return to the office of state superintendent of public instruction.

Woods will base his campaign upon fulfillment of his original platform promises, he said, which will include the following:

Promise not to reduce per capita apportionment, equalize educational opportunities in Texas, close gap between urban and rural schools, emphasize vocational training, provide more supervision and less inspection, administer school affairs with economy and efficiency, provide more school for the money, and provide a more practical course of study.

Woods is now serving his second term in the state office.

In plain words it's old-fashioned to have winter starting troubles. (You needn't admit anything in company—because lots of people don't know there is hard starting any more.) But get a neighbor off to one side. Chances are he's an old regular on Winter Blend Conoco Bronze, or he is one of the thousands and thousands who changed to it these recent cold months. See if he doesn't say almost these words: "You always start up on Conoco Bronze; you start, that's all. No weather yet, around here, seems to make any difference. Maybe your car isn't new, but this stuff starts. You or I don't know how any gasoline is made, no matter what we're told. But when you don't have to grind the starter and pray for your battery, nor keep on choking and choking, then you know you've got what you want. And they don't have to tell you any more about Conoco Bronze than the way it starts, as long as you know it does." Continental Oil Company, Established 1875

CLEANUP FOR COUNTY ASKED THIS SPRING

Urging that the people of Eastland county clean up and paint up this spring before the Texas Centennial begins, Mrs. James Horton of Eastland, county highway beautification chairman, this week called upon citizens of Cisco and other cities of the county to begin a beautification campaign.

Mrs. Horton urged not only the club women of the county but everyone else as well to cooperate in the campaign aimed at making a favorable impression upon Centennial tourists — "and just because we need to clean up the county too."

Mrs. C. H. Fee is highway chairman in Cisco, Mrs. M. H. Hagaman in Ranger, and Mrs. W. P. Leslie and Mrs. Dixie Williamson in Eastland.

Following is Mrs. Horton's statement.

Statement

"The year 1936 or Centennial Year for Texas, will be a year long remembered by Texans and by tourists and friends from all over the United States.

"Each of us want to make Eastland county more beautiful for these visitors as they travel over our highways.

"The state has done this for us: The public highway extends 40 feet on either side of the concrete slab. That 40 feet is the property of the highway department and they are keeping it clean. In the past two years many thousands of trees and shrubs have been planted by curbs and mail boxes and at the entrances of towns. Only last week the department planted 300 crepe myrtle shrubs at the entrances of towns in this county. These new plants will be kept watered by wagons so that they will be very beautiful in a very short time.

"Let's do our share by cleaning up and beautifying our property. You can help.

Clean Yards

"The vision extends many yards beyond the fenced-in highway. If you are a property renter or owner, does your home look clean and cared for? Old cars, fenders, tires, oil well materials, tin cans and unsightly lumber piles look badly to visitors. Let us tear down out-buildings and sheds which are no longer being used. Make your place look as well cared for as possible.

"This is the time of year to make plans for plantings. February and March are months in which to plant shrubery. We are urging the planting of crepe myrtle over the entire state of Texas. Plant two crepe myrtle, if you can, and help with this state wide campaign. Good healthy crepe myrtle plants should cost from 35 to 50 cents each and can be purchased from your nurseryman. Make little colorful flower beds of phlox, zinnias, petunias or cannas. Morning glories are to be planted over the entire state. They will cover unsightly places along public highways. Plant a five cent package and trail these beautiful morning glory vines over your front porch. These can be purchased from your groceryman.

"It is said that a can of paint will cover a multitude of sins. Why not cover some of the sins of Eastland county? Painted building look better and last longer.

"Plant, paint and paint and let's make Eastland county the clean county."

DROUGHT IN U. S. FORECAST FOR 3 MORE YEARS

SAN MARINO, Cal., Feb. 27 — (U.P.)—The disastrous droughts of the past few years may be expected to continue until about 1939, if the "weather cycle" theory holds true.

After that, for a period of 10 to 20 years, they will become less frequent and less severe.

Finally, with the return of a normal cycle of moisture, American farmers can hope to have complete relief from drought for a period of 150 years or more.

These are the conclusions of Halbert P. Gillette, who after years of scientific study of the "weather cycles, Gillette has become con- sidered the American Meteorological Society.

Rehearing in Beer Case Is Overruled

EASTLAND, Feb. 27 — A motion for a rehearing in the case of W. H. and C. E. Mayhew, recently refused a writ of mandamus to compel County Judge Clyde L. Garrett to hear their application for a permit to sell beer, was overruled Friday by the 11th Court of Civil Appeals.

The Cisco men had appealed from 51st district court, the appellate court in a dissenting opinion affirming the trial court's judgment.

35 Are Present At Contest in Church

Thirty-five were present in a Stewardship contest which was held Saturday afternoon at the First Baptist church.

The Cisco Sunbeams were awarded first and second places, with Ramona James, first, and Dale Humphries, second. Winners of first place will go to Abilene next Saturday to compete in the district contest. Winners at district will go to state. Mrs. J. A. Smith is sponsor of the Cisco group.

Agent Ending Work On Corn and Hogs

EASTLAND, Feb. 27 — Notified by state headquarters of the extension service at College Station to proceed with finish of work on the county's 286 corn-hog contracts for 1935, the county agent's office Friday announced dates when producers sign compliance certificates next week. Compliance contract work was halted upon invalidation of the AAA in January.

Producers may sign the certificates at the county agent's office Monday morning at Ranger, Monday afternoon at Cisco, Tuesday morning at Rising Star, Tuesday afternoon at Gorman, Wednesday morning and at Carbon Wednesday afternoon.

Producers unable to sign the certificates on the announced dates may do so at the county agent's office the remainder of the week.

An approximate payment of $7,000, promised by officials to County Agent C. Metz Heald, will be forthcoming after finish of the corn-hog contract work it was said. First payment also approximated $7,000.

Drivers Urged To Get Licenses Now

EASTLAND, Feb. 27 —With only 1,270 drivers' licenses issued, the county tax assessor-collector office Friday through Chief Deputy Clyde S. Karkalis urged Eastland county citizens to obtain the papers immediately.

"For our own and your convenience, come and get the drivers' licenses now," the office appealed.

It was pointed out the licenses are issued at no cost to the driver and that delay in obtaining the papers would result in congestion during this month and in March.

The office is now also issuing car licenses.

Over 17,000 drivers licenses have been sent to the county office from state headquarters.

FARMERS OF TEXAS ARE DUE TO RECEIVE DELAYED U. S. PAYMENTS

COLLEGE STATION, Feb. 27 — With the passing of a recent appropriation bill signed by the president of the United States, Texas farmers are due to receive approximately $17,500,000 to fulfill all old government obligations, according to E. N. Holmgreen, administrative assistant of the AAA at College Station.

"Some payments should begin to arrive within the next 30 days," Holmgreen announced.

"Obligations of the United States government to Texas farmers consist of second payments on the corn hog contracts, the completion of rental and parity checks of cotton and the cotton adjustment payments," he said.

Holmgreen went on to say that nearly all counties in the state have some second cotton rental and parity payments due and also that all counties have some cotton adjustment payments coming.

ELECTION IS ORDERED FOR CITY APRIL 7

The city commission, in regular session Tuesday, ordered a municipal election to be held April 7, the first Tuesday in the month.

The election will be for three commissioners to be elected for a period of two years each. Commissioners whose terms expire this spring are J. R. Burnett, W. R. Winston, and H. C. Henderson.

Final date for filing petitions is March 19, it was announced this morning by City Secretary J. B. Cate. The law requires the ballots to be printed 20 days before the election and the extra time will be needed for the printing, he said.

Only 3 Candidates

So far only the three incumbents have announced their candidacy for the commission. Burnett, mayor pro tem, has served as finance commissioner, Winston is water commissioner, and Henderson police commissioner.

The three men have announced that they will be making the race this spring on their past records.

The names of five per cent of the number voting in the last election will be necessary on petitions seeking to place the names of candidates on the tickets. Secretary Cate this afternoon said this would be about 46 names.

SCOUTERS OF AREA TO OPEN FINANCE DRIVE

EASTLAND, Feb. 27 — Thirty scouts of Eastland and Stephens counties Tuesday night gathered for a district meeting and banquet at the Connelley hotel, where they discussed finances and a drive to be undertaken by the Comanche Trail Council, including eight counties of this area.

Much enthusiasm was shown by those present and it was indicated that the various Boy Scout centers represented would begin their financial drives immediately.

Lloyd M. O'Neal, Dallas, from the regional scout headquarters, was the principal speaker of the evening, council president, also addressing. Dr. Jewel Daugherty of Brown-dressed the group, as did various executive committeemen and troop committeemen.

The members of the executive committee voted to send Scout Executive G. N. Quill to French Lick, Ind., to the scout executive school of instruction this spring.

Present at the meeting were Dr. L. C. Brown, Eastland; Mayor A. J. Morgan of Breckenridge; John F. Bailey Breckenridge; H. M. Jones, Breckenridge; P. B. Glenn, Breckenridge; Sidney Hughes, Breckenridge; J. C. Ferguson, Breckenridge; Frank Lagston, Cisco; Ross Elliott, Breckenridge; H. C. Davis, Eastland; Russell B. Jones, Breckenridge; Dr. Jewel Daugherty, Brownwood; Chairman Grady Pipkin; Lloyd M. O'Neal, Dallas; S. M. Doss, Eastland; J. H. Caton, Eastland; J. B. Johnson, Eastland; G. W. Jackson, Eastland; R. A. Steele, Ranger; A. J. Ratliff, Ranger; J. A. Bates, Breckenridge; Roy Braley; P. M. Faulk-

Davenport to Hold O. D. Stevens Trial

FORT WORTH, Feb. 26 — (U.P.)— Judge Willis McGregor, of criminal district court, today announced Judge George Davenport, of the 91st district court in Eastland, will preside at the second trial of O. D. Stevens, charged with murder in the Handley triple slaying.

AGENTS ENDING WORK ON CORN AND HOGS

EASTLAND, Feb. 27 — Notified by state headquarters of the extension service at College Station to proceed with finish of work on the county's 286 corn-hog contracts for 1935, the county agent's office Friday announced dates when producers sign compliance certificates next week. Compliance contract work was halted upon invalidation of the AAA in January.

Producers may sign the certificates at the county agent's office Monday morning at Ranger, Monday afternoon at Cisco, Tuesday morning at Rising Star, Tuesday afternoon at Gorman, Wednesday morning and at Carbon Wednesday afternoon.

Producers unable to sign the certificates on the announced dates may do so at the county agent's office the remainder of the week.

An approximate payment of $7,000, promised by officials to County Agent C. Metz Heald, will be forthcoming after finish of the corn-hog contract work it was said. First payment also approximated $7,000.

STUDIED TREE RINGS

Gillette's final conclusions of the existence of weather cycles were based upon intensive studies of the tree-ring thickness of the giant Sequoias in California and the Arizona pine. Other contributing elements were found in the study of the annual silt layers, or varves, of ancient glacial lakes, and the time intervals between recessional moraines deposited in the last Ice Age.

In his ten-year study of weather cycles, Gillette has become convinced that all great wars and migrations are caused by climatic conditions. Italy's present war in Ethiopia, for example, he believes is the direct result of the fact that Italy has suffered the past few years from droughts the same as the United States.

Estimates Ice Age Date

In his further research of the question of weather cycles, Gillette believes he has established the crest of the last great Ice Age which he places at 16,300 years, B. C. This, he says, was followed by a warm dry crest about 3,300 B. C., and there will be another Ice Age crest about 10,300 A. D., according to his computations.

Gillette, who was born in Waverly, Ia., was graduated from Columbia University and followed the profession of mining engineers until he retired, 10 years ago.

Luckies—a light smoke

OF RICH, RIPE-BODIED TOBACCO—"IT'S TOASTED"

CENTER LEAVES

The top leaves of all tobacco plants tend to give a definitely harsh, alkaline taste. The bottom leaves tend to acidity in the smoke. It is only the center leaves which approach in nature the most palatable acid-alkaline balance. In LUCKY STRIKE Cigarettes the center leaves are used.

LUCKIES ARE LESS ACID!

Recent chemical tests show* that other popular brands have an excess of acidity over Lucky Strike of from 53% to 100%.

THE BOSTON STORE MOVES TO BROWNWOOD

The entire stock of the Boston Store in Cisco will be placed on Sale Friday, February 28th, 1936, promptly at 9 a. m. The buying public is well aware of the quality merchandise carried by this store, and the owner has conducted a business in Eastland county for the past 16 years, the last five years has been here in Cisco. My only reason for putting on this Quit Business Sale is only due to the fact that the opportunity presented itself for me to secure a two story fifty-foot front store located at 111 and 112 Center street, Brownwood [formerly The Economy Dry Goods Co.,] consequently I am throwing this high-class stock of Dry Goods, Ready-to-Wear, Millinery, Shoes, Men's and Boy's Clothing on the market for most any price it will bring. Nothing will be reserved. My entire stock of New Spring Merchandise that has just arrived, and all that arrives before this sale closes will be included. You will find nothing but real Quit Business Bargains when you come to this sale. I can look back over the past 16 years that I have spent in Cisco and Eastland county with pleasure and regret to leave my many friends. I extend to all a cordial invitation to visit me and my new store any time you are in Brownwood. Assuring you of my deep and sincere appreciation for your past patronage, I am,
