NURSERY CARE FOR CHILDREN BAPTISTS SAY

"Will Thou Not Revive Us Again That Thy People May Rejoice With Thee," was the text of the first sermon preached by the Rev. E. F. Cole, pastor of the First Baptist church of Ames, who is doing the preaching at the local First Baptist church, during the series of revival meetings being conducted here during the next two weeks.

The Rev. Cole was introduced by Pastor E. S. James, who said that he considered the Rev. Cole one of the very best pastor-evangelists of Texas, having held a meeting with Mr. Cole's own church last summer and learned of the deep spirituality and sincere earnestness of this likeable man.

In a few short, snappy phrases, Rev. Mr. Cole put his audience at ease last night and in a friendly good humor as he told them that while they had never seen a man like him before, he also was having a new experience in his life because he, himself, had never seen an audience just like this one and that with possibly a few exceptions he liked their looks fairly well. After a few smiles Mr. Cole proceeded with his text.

The Rev. Mr. James emphasized the announcement that a nursery would be provided under capable supervision, where children would be cared for during the services each evening from 7:10 to the time of the prayer services, until the close of the preaching service.

TYLER HOMES DAMAGED BY WIND AND HAIL

Hail, rain, dust and high winds traveled erratically across Texas Tuesday in a freakish exhibition of March weather.

At Tyler a tornado early today, sweeping across East Texas from Chandler, near Tyler, to Longview and Kilgore in the oil field, caused damage estimated at $1,000,000.

A severe hail storm accompanying the wind shattered windows in thousands of Tyler homes and business buildings, smashed car tops, and ruined building roofs. The damage in Tyler was estimated in excess of $300,000. No one was reported injured in the storm area.

A similar storm and wind crippled power lines at Texarkana. The wind shift from west to northwest brought abatement of the duster which had stifled vast areas of the panhandle and far west Texas Sunday. Skies began clearing at Amarillo, Abilene, Midland, and El Paso.

Visibility at Fort Worth and Dallas was one mile. At Wichita Falls four miles; San Antonio, four miles; Houston, six miles. The weather bureau predicted even gust-veston on the gulf would have dulled by afternoon.

Suitor Sues For Damages

There are indications that this world is getting sort of topsy turvy—compared with what used to be right side up.

A man has sued his wife for damages because while they were motoring together she accidentally ran into something and he was hurt. A young girl has had her mother arrested for giving her a spanking, and the mother has been fined a hundred dollars.

Now, creme de la creme, a young fellow sues his girl's father for a hundred thousand dollars because the old man has prevented him from marrying his girl. What do you think of that? That is a new one. That is the last word in progress.

It doth appear that a new danger menaces the father of a marriageable daughter—and Lord knows he has always had enough troubles. Now he must be careful not to express disapproval of any young man who wants his girl's hand in more or less holy bonds of matrimony, or it may cost him something. He had better be careful how he talks about the girl's wooers. If daughter comes in around three-thirty in the morning from an automobile ride, he had better not ask "Who have you been out until this late hour with?" That remark is not grammatical anyway. But it is not advisable to say even "With whom have you been out until this late hour?" Such a question might be taken as calumnious. Better omit the words "until this late hour" lest they be used as a basis for a defamation of character suit.

The time was when an amirist looked with fear and trembling on his girl's dad. He dreaded the ordeal of asking for her hand. But nowadays he doesn't get it he sues for damages. It is the father now who must tread upon eggs.

If a man does not want his daughter to marry a certain chap he had better be cautious about saying so. No more lording it over lovelorn gallants. If the father has an adverse opinion concerning the young man, he had better be careful what he does with it. If he feels that duty, regardless of caution, requires that he mention his conviction to the daughter, he should swear her to secrecy by all the bands that have been invented, or he may have to pay a would-be son-in-law alimony.

A hundred thousand dollars balm wanted for not being preferred as a son-in-law! Can you beat it? It is good graft if one can get it.

But perhaps the sued pater familias will take as his own the motto adopted by the United States congress in our war with the Barbary pirates: "Millions for defense but not one cent for tribute."

At least the league's standards are mounting. They're even beginning to consider sanctions against a nation which seized its own land.

Just so as not to attract undue attention during the campaign months, the Cincinnati baseball team might temporarily let themselves be known as the Pinks.

BEGIN HERE TODAY TOBY RYAN, 19, works behind the jewelry counter of a large Manhattan department store. She poses for a photograph to be used in a store advertisement and MARY BLAKE, the photographer, tells her she has a "camera face." Toby goes to dinner with BILL BLANDE, who works in an advertising agency. A few days later Toby loses her job, due to the scheming of jealous MARY BLAKE, who runs a model agency. Blake tells her she must have photographs in order to register as a model and arranges for him to take them. After several anxious days, the model agency reports to Toby that she has been accepted for her. She goes to the office, in told she must wear a white evening dress. Toby has none. NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XII

THE girl at the desk looked thoughtful. "Maybe," she said after a moment, "you could borrow a dress." Toby knew she couldn't. In all New York there was no one from whom she could borrow a white evening dress. And she couldn't possibly buy one. Her purse contained less than $10. She was going to lose the chance she had dreamed of, the chance she had prayed for—because she didn't have a white evening dress. She said, trying to hide her disappointment, "I'll see—"

And then the amazing thing happened. The girl in the gray fur coat had been standing with her back toward the other two. She turned now. "Listen, Sally," she said. "I've got a dress she can wear. I'm taller than she is, but we're about the same size otherwise."

"Oh—would you?" Toby's voice was eager. "You'll probably have to turn up the hem," the girl in the fur coat went on, "but that's easy. I've got slippers to match—I think they'll fit you. What size do you wear?" "Four-A."

"Then that's all right. Mine are four-B, but nobody will know the difference." The girl called Sally said, with some uncertainty, "If you're sure the dress will be all right, Harriet—" girl at the desk said. "Let's see if I tell you the time you're to be at the studio!"

THE house in which Harriet Holm lived was in a row of houses, all much alike, on an east side street boasting, to left and right, much more pretentious dwellings. Toby had no difficulty finding the address. She arrived a few minutes after 5, expecting that Harriet would be late. But she was mistaken; the door buzzed, releasing the lock, almost immediately after Toby pressed the bell.

She went inside, climbed the first flight of stairs. Then, from above, a head appeared over the banister and a voice called, "I hope you don't mind climbing! It's the top floor—"

Toby went up two more flights. Harriet Holm, clad in a becoming blue negligee, met her at the top step. "Those steps are terrible," she said. "I've climbed them myself so often I'm beginning to feel like a mountain goat! But I keep the place because it's rather nice, once you get up here—"

It was rather nice. The "apartment" was a huge room across the front of the house with three windows looking down on the street. Pale yellow draperies had been drawn back so that none of the afternoon light was lost. There were book shelves, well filled, in the space between the windows. On one side a dark green davenport faced a coffee table on which was a copper tray and vermillion coffee set. In the center of the opposite wall a piece of Chinese embroidery hung. Low, comfortable chairs stood before the windows and a leather footstool was pushed against the wall. There were splashes of color—dull blue, gold, sea green, and henna—in cushions and pictures and bits of pottery.

She held the dress up before her. "What do you think of it?" "It's beautiful! But do you think it will fit me?" "Easy enough to find out," Harriet said. "Try it on."

Off came Toby's own dress, and over her head went the soft folds of satin. Harriet snapped the fasteners, stepped back and eyed the other girl critically. "Well," she said, "you can see for yourself. There's a mirror—"

Toby moved to the mirror, stared at the image reflected. "Oh—" she said, and then again, "Oh!" She couldn't believe, for an instant, that the girl in the mirror was herself.

Harriet said softly, "I'll have to sell it to you, Toby. After seeing you in that dress I'd never have the nerve to wear it again myself. It was made for you! Of course it will have to be turned up about an inch, but that's easy. Wait, I'll get the slippers—"

AN hour later Toby departed, carrying the borrowed evening dress and slippers in a pasteboard box. One hand on the door, she halted. Toby said earnestly, "I'll never forget what you've done for me."

Flatwood Rabbit Drive Scheduled This Wednesday

A rabbit drive to which everyone has been invited to participate will be held at Flatwood on Wednesday, J. H. Pittman of that community has announced.

Hunters will gather at the Flatwood church at 1 p. m. Pittman stated. In many communities the ravages of rabbits on grain and the gnawing of young trees, becomes of such aggravated magnitude that farmers find it necessary to thin them out by concerted drives in which sometimes hundreds and even thousands of these animals are slain.

Usually, and especially in the western counties, long fences of poultry netting are stretched across some open country with a v-shaped opening outward. The men then drive the rabbits into the net thus made and by means of guns and clubs, the terrified animals are slain.

The association's statement was based on state department passport figures showing substantial gains in total foreign travel during 1935, particularly in the number of housewives going abroad. Of the 118,101 persons going abroad last year, the statement said, 16,817, or more than 14 per cent, were housewives, placing them far in the lead of all other occupation groups from the standpoint of foreign travel.

Students accounted for 10 per cent of all foreign travel and placed second on the passport list, while teachers finished third with 8 1/2 per cent, the statement said.

Floods Leave Thousands in Plight of These Marietta, O., Victims

Driven from her own home, Mrs. Eloise Allen prepares food for other refugees in a nearby schoolhouse which she stood on higher ground than her own flooded kitchen. To the safety and shelter of the school building came a procession of others dispossessed by the rising waters.

Jack Wade, 68-year-old bachelor, watched the waters rise about his own house. He gathered up what he could of his possessions and carried them to shelter. Here he sits, with the pitiful pile of bedding behind him, getting into his first dry shoes and socks in many hours.

To the children, saved from danger and made temporarily comfortable, the tragedy could not be as grave as to their elders. Here are two refugee youngsters sitting on a mattress laid across the top of desks in a schoolroom. It is all a good deal of a lark to them.

On the edges of the flood zone, residents watched anxiously the moving line that marked the rise of the water. Who would be next to be forced from his home? Here Eleanor Hill peers intently from her window at the ominous water-line, and her Chow dog is equally interested.

HAS FUN AT WORK. Here's Walter Carr taking 12 seconds out to roll a "makin's" cigarette with Prince Albert. "P.A. makes for easier rolling," he says, "doesn't blow away. It has a rich fragrance and taste." The Prince Albert process produces the most delightful and wholesome tobacco for cigarette and pipe smokers. We say: "You Must Be Pleased." Roll yourself 30 swell cigarettes from Prince Albert if you don't find them the finest, tastiest roll-your-own cigarettes you ever smoked, return the pocket tin with the rest of the tobacco in it to us at any time within a month from this date, and we will refund full purchase price, plus postage. Then he carried 17 pounds more than Reynoldstown, while this year he only carries 5 pounds more. If it were not for the glorious uncertainty of racing, most people would already concede Golden Miller the race. King's Stable to Race: One of the outstanding features of the English season will be appearance of King Edward's stable on the tracks, racing under the name of Lord Derby while the royal family is in mourning. When the nine-months period of mourning ends next September, the King is expected to take the sport up in a big way. It will be the first time he has raced under Jockey Club rules, and although at present none of the string stands a good chance of taking the royal purple and gold silk first under the wire, there are some youngsters that may develop well. Another big event will be the appearance of the Kentucky Derby winner, Omaha, in the Ascot Gold Cup race this June. He will probably be racing against Britain's 1935 triple-crown crack, Bahram, who won the Derby by The Thousand Guineas and the St. Leger for the Aga Khan. Big race of the season will be of course, the Derby Stakes, at Epsom, Wednesday, May 27, for which Marcel Boussac's Abjer and the Aga Khan's Baia Hissar are the early favorites in the betting. Black-Draught Relief Is Prompt And Refreshing: It's a good idea, that so many people have—to keep Black-Draught handy so they can take a dose for prompt relief at the first sign of constipation. "I have used Black-Draught a long time, about as long as I can remember, and have a package on my shelf now," writes Mr. Sherman Speed, of Evansville, Tenn. "I take Black-Draught for constipation which causes headache, a bad, tired feeling and for biliousness, bad taste in the mouth and sluggish feeling. Black-Draught, taken about two nights, clears up this trouble and I get all right." Black-Draught is made of medicinal herbs, dried and finely ground but no other change in their natural condition. It is a laxative that men and women like so well because of the refreshing relief it brings in constipation troubles.

Save On Your FUEL BILL! MAKE YOUR HOME COMFORTABLE WEATHER STRIP all windows and doors. This will keep out drafts of cold wind and will also keep out the dust when the spring winds begin. Most every house in Cisco has been subject to window frame and door frame shrinkage and as a consequence, cold air continually sweeps in and makes the fuel bill pile up when you try to stay comfortable. This weather stripping is easily put on and gets results. Our carpenters can put it on for you economically, or you can do it yourself. Weather stripping is economical and efficient, and will soon pay for itself. Call us for FREE information or demonstration. CISCO LUMBER & SUPPLY CO. "WE'RE HOME FOLKS" PHONE 196

Lovely bouquets of lilac, apple blossom and other spring blooms added proper charm to the lovely homes. The party gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George P. Fee for the first course, then to the homes of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Mamer and last to the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Crawford where the game of monopoly furnished entertainment. Others present were Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Foxworth, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Anderson, Miss Adelle Anderson and Mr. Drewery.

Country Club To Meet at Later Date

The meeting of Country Club members and golf players, which had been scheduled for Monday night, was postponed until next week, it was announced this morning by J. E. Caffrey, president of the club.

Installation of the new golf grass greens, a drive for new members and the general progress of the organization, were the subjects to be discussed, said Mr. Caffrey.

"We want to make the Country club a community center for social activity," said Mr. Caffrey, "and there are many prominent people in Cisco who should be member of the club and would join in the club's activities if properly solicited," he continued.

East Ward Holds Program Last Night

An interesting entertainment was given last night at the East Ward school building in an open house and P-T-A program.

The large auditorium upstairs was filled to capacity. Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Ely received the guests and conducted them throughout the building, which was appropriately decorated for the occasion with cut flowers, fern and art work by the pupils of the school.

Among the visitors who were especially interested in school work were the following: O. J. Russell, R. L. Ponsler, Mrs. N. A. Brown, Mrs. Sam Kimmell and Mrs. P. R. Warwick, members of the school board, each of whom made a short talk. R. N. Cluck, superintendent, gave interesting facts concerning school activities. Several teachers of the West side schools and Mrs. M. L. Hill from the Central school also gave short talks.

In the newly decorated auditorium the following program was presented: A pantomime play given by members of the East Ward P-T-A song, "Home On The Range", first grade pupils; solo, "Old Faithful", Mrs. Sam Kimmell and Mrs. P. R. Warwick; minstrel composed of pupils of third, fourth and fifth grades, with Alton Wilson as "Middle Man", Fred Steffy, Jr., as "First End Man", and Donald Squaglia as "Second End Man"; with dance numbers by Patsy Rose and Alline Ely; a spelling match from the blueback speller conducted by Mrs. Alfred Irby, high school librarian; talk by R. N. Cluck.

T. C. Williams, principal, extended thanks of the East Side Garden club to the Cisco Garden club for shrubbery presented to the school. The grounds are now being prepared for planting the shrubbery. Following the program, punch and cookies were served to the guests. The entertainment committee consisted of T. C. Williams, chairman, Miss Lucy Kittrell, program; Mrs. Ora Foreman and Mrs. Jack Farleigh, refreshments.

OF RICH, RIPE-BODIED TOBACCO — "IT'S TOASTED."

SCIENTIFIC BLENDING

The blending of tobaccos to secure a given taste—uniformly, season after season and year after year—is both an art and a science.

Every fresh blending of Lucky Strike tobacco contains more than 100 different types produced on thousands of different farms—not only in Virginia, North and South Carolina, Georgia, Tennessee, Kentucky, Maryland and other States, but tobacco-lands in Macedonia and Xanthia in Greece, Smyrna and Samsoun in Turkey—where the finest Turkish tobacco is grown.

Luckies are less acid

LUCKIES ARE LESS ACID!
Recent chemical tests show* that other popular brands have an excess of acidity over Lucky Strike of from 53% to 100%.
