Bitterness in Farewell Note

Bitter vindictiveness for his accusers, new protestations of his inncence, and gratitude for Governor Hoffman's intercession in his behalf made a dramatic document of the crudely written "farewell note" which Bruno Richard Hauptmann sent New Jersey's chief executive on uled execution. Beneath this picture of the Lindbergh baby's slayer in defiant mood is the closing paragraph of his last desperate appeal and farewell.

TRENTON, N. ### CITY-WIDE 'GO-TO-CHURCH'

(Rev. W. H. Cole, Pastor First Methodist Church)

The city-wide Go-To-Church movement in Cisco gets under way today (Sunday). All churches of Cisco are participating in this undertaking. "Attend some church service" is the admonition that is being broadcast all over the city. Cards will be passed in all the churches for every person to sign at each service. In this way a record of the attendance of each person will be made and each church will know at the end of the month how well the members have responded to this city-wide and church-wide appeal.

There is a great appeal at the Easter season when the death and resurrection of Christ is recalled. It is a special season for the deepening of the spiritual life. Many safe-guarding conventions and valuable social traditions have disappeared. There is an old proverb:

'Lengthen your ropes but strengthen your stakes." The ropes of freedom, license, and opportunity have been lengthened. The only safeguar against such freedom is to drive more deeply the "stakes" of internal moral control. This Go-To-Church movement offers the opportunity to all Ciscoans to "strengthen your stakes.

"Worship would not be universal if it did not supply an instinctive and universal need. It is as necessary to life as clothing . . . . To lay hold upon the vast power around them, to draw from it the strength to make them conquerors in the life struggle has always been the deep desire of men. Worship, by some rite or ritual simple or elaborate, is the means used for reaching out toward the great power beyond . . . . God is near and can be reached by any aspiring heart; but the mood and the means are generally afforded in and by the

It is significantly true that those who do not worship in the church rarely, if ever, worship anywhere

Few persons live who do not, at times at least, desire to approach the throne of grace. But the throne is often missed through wrong approach. "What do I get out of my membership in the church?" I get the privilege and means of worship not afforded me in

Go-To-Church month in Cisco offers the entire citizenship the means and the mood for worship of the The Cisco churches are calling the citizens to that high privilege and value for spiritual health and growth. Therefore "Attend some church service."

$700,000 To Continue Local Public Works

Secretary Harold Ickes told the United States senate that PWA had 7000 approved projects for which he had no money. Texas projects approved involve $17,500,000 of construction. There is certain to be another big relief appropriation in the future. All the people who need it should be taken care of. BUT THE PUBLIC WANTS SOMETHING LASTING AND TANGIBLE AS A RESULT OF THE EXPENDITURES. PWA has been the most successful building machine and has done something toward supplying the pressing needs of the unemployed and to help the unemployables on their way.

$700,000,000 to be devoted to this purpose. The statesman from Arizona is positive that with this sum more than $1,500,000,000 worth of construction can be accomplished. whether or not they are on relief. Senator Hayden placed this in the record of congress: "At least 70 per cent of the money already spent for materials has gone directly into the pockets of the hundreds of thousands of men called back to work in the mines, mills, factories and on transportation lines throughout the country . . . It is certain that a substantial part of the increase is due to the purchase of materials, equipment and supplies that have gone into the thousands of school houses, buildings, water systems, hospitals, municipal power plants, streets and other types of useful projects authorized by the National Industrial Recovery act of 1933." On with the PWA program.

JAYCEES PAUSE CLEANING JOB,

Confronted with a task that grew in magnitude as they progressed the Junior Chamber of Commerce lads paused Friday in their efforts to clean Cisco's streets of rubbish tin cans, dead cats and other refuse that mounted into more truck loads than one usually counts in such matters and decided to take a few more afternons for the work.

The young men began at the T & P. railroad, said President Dallas Wales Saturday in discussing the efforts to make Cisco the clean city of their ideals, and worked the streets from Main, west, but after two afternoons of arduous toil only collected to Tenth street. A few more days will be necessary to complete the task set by the body.

"Many people had their premises already cleaned and ready, trash placed conveniently and in containers, but many more had made no effort to assist the young men in their efforts. Many vacant lots were cluttered with tin cans, dead cats, dead chickens and innumerable items that should never be placed in the city limits" said Mr. Wales. One source of offenders in this. he said, seemed to be the short time renter, who, when he leaves, piles all his rubbish in the alley or on an adjacent vacant lot. This of course reflects on the citizen near by and makes his place appear in a bad light.

Another source of fly breeding. that of careless handling of cows Lots were found to be kept in an Displayed in Jar unsanitary condition, often tying their cows behind their house or near some one else's property. These conditons, with the cans which will hold rain water, will certainly become fly and mosquito breeders and may result in summer sickness that will mar the good health record of "This body wishes to thank the Mayor, the city commission and an who have assisted in the work given encouragement. We expect to finish the job but would like all sible", said Mr. Wales.

SOIL WORK IN DUST BOWL IS EFFECTIVE

By LEWIS LARKIN

United Press Ctaff Correspondent LIBERAL, Kas., April 4 -(U.R)-Forces of man are triumpning over those of nature in slowly halting dust storms which have scourged states the past two years.

In southwestern Kansas and the panhandles of Oklahoma and Texas men and machines, directed by the soil conservation service of the Department of Agriculture, are weakening the destructive elements.

Base of Kansas operations are placed near Liberal on a 25,000 acre tract known as Kansas project No. 4. In this area there are 74 farmers and 110 PWA workers directed by Fred J. Sykes of the soil conservation service. Approximately three-fourths of land owners on this tract have signed contracts with the government. They agree to cooperate and to cultivate their land in such a manner to prevent soil ero-

"Farmers and WPA workers first must level off the land," Sykes explained, by grading down the dust duamocks created by the black alzzards. On the level felds furwa, or lists, are plowed at right angles to he direction of the wind, ers have agreed to plant

. ....ir and other longemmed crops in the spaces beween terraces. When the crop is cut long stubble is left to catch and stop any dust which might be whipped by a strong wind."

Results Already Apparent

Viistors to southwestern Kansas already can see results of the work. In the fields which have not been treated, strong prairie winds the fine dust and loose soil into the air where it is carried distances varying from a few feet to hundreds of miles. In the fields where the tough crops have been planted the winds only move the soil a few nches at the most.

Sam Hayden, foreman of WPA workers on the Libera pro ject, believes the work being done ultimately will be the salvation of the middle west's dust bowl.

Sykes believes the situation calls for highly scentific and technical study. He is convinced that the wind alone is not responsible for

Winds Not High

"The worst dust storms," he said occurred when we were in a low barometric pressure area. That seems to have happened almost invariably, I noticed there was particularly high wind at all times but when the barometer was low the dust would blow harder than during high readings."

Louis Lemert, who owns 800 acres, was one of the first to sign the government contract. He insists all farmers must cooperate if the project is to be successful.

"Last year," he said, "virtually my entire crop was destroyed. The winds took the seed and crops as well as the dust. I couldn't put in a crop this year. I'm with the government all the way on this dust orm project.

"Conditions here," Cabett "are similar to those around Liberal. Farmers are beginning to see results from soil terracing planting of certain crops to stop dust storms. In another six months we will have the situation fairly under control.'

At Dalhart, Tex., 100 miles south of Liberal in the Lone Star panhandle, a project begun last year has shown amazing results.

In charge of B. H. Hopkins, this project has been terraced and graded to retain moisture. Farmers planted kefir and realize d15 bush-

LET'S TALK ABOUT CLOTHES

DENTON, April 4 - Modesty was of evening freeks. The famous designers have turned from the darng,, low cut gown of last season, to the more feminine models with decolletes far from low.

Restrained scphistication has given way to natural charm. and though some bare backs are seen high necks crevail almost univer? sally in the majority of frecks. Some models are even draped to the throat.

A natural easy fitting silhouette with reasonably full skirts was a distinguishing feature in the entire collection. Evening gowns for the mere mature woman are marked by drapery which crosses from shoulder to shoulder and cascades there to the hem. They are fashioned from dull white crepes, accented with mustard, ivy and green. Fleral prints of pussy willow silk make beautiful creations for evening. These gowns, however, should follow very simple lines so as not to detract from the beauty of the material. They should be free of ornament, with only a slight trimming of contrasting material.

For the younger set, girls at Texas State College for Women (CIA) uggest full skirted. flocr-length freeks with shert puffed sleeves. They are made of checked taffeta, white faille, pale blue breche, and there is a winsome note about them which is cleverly accented with trimmings of colored strass, embroidery and bowknot fastenings. Starched lace dresses are particularly smart for the young girl. They're shown in white and pastels with short cuffed sleeves and high stand-up collars. Clusters of dark flewers at the neck and waist give the dresses a piquant charm tha is indeed rare.
