Slain in Newest Chicago Mystery

In the second mystery of the kind to baffle Chicago police within a week, Miss Audrey Vallette, 31, former show-girl-singer, was found shot to death in her bed in a Chicago North Side hotel, where she had registered as Annabelle Blake.

PUBLIC HEALTH SERVICE ASKS FOR $100,000

GONZALES, July 7.—(U.P.)—The state health department made preparations today to open three district offices at Gonzales, Victoria and Cuero, centers of the flooded area last week where property damage was estimated at $12,990,000.

"We have asked the public health service in Washington for $100,000 to carry on this work," Ehlers said. "The money we ask must come without any strings attached. If we have to make requisitions and get supplies out of New York, many of these people are going to be dead before we get to them."

Four counties were flooded last week by the Guadalupe River. Victoria county was the worst sufferer, with damage of $5,990,000. Damage in DeWitt county was $4,000,000; Gonzales county: $2,530,000; Caldwell county $456,000.

Congressman Richard Kleberg said he would appeal directly to President Roosevelt for federal funds.

Ruth Bryan Owen to Marry Denmark Man

CISCO ORDER OUTSTANDING IN EQUIPMENT

AS Dan stared at the bloody cap, his mask-like face showed emotion for the first time. "Bob turned to him. 'You were with Eb, weren't you, when he went back to the tool house?'"

"Yes and no," Dan answered. We walked down to the shed, as said, but he went back alone to see if he'd locked the door.

THE SECOND OF SIAMESE TWINS MAY NOT LIVE

Organized Labor Seeks Compromise For Conflict in Own Ranks Today

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 7.—(U.P.)—Organized labor sought a compromise for conflict in its own ranks today on the heels of John L. Lewis' declaration of a "relentless but peaceful" campaign to unionize America's vast steel, textile, lumber, rubber and automobile industries.

Hopkins and Governors Move for Drouth Relief

Rushing measures of relief for the drouth-stricken areas of the northwest, Harry Hopkins, WPA administrator, is shown here in conference at St. Paul

with three governors of the affected area. Hopkins pledged immediate help to the section, where conditions are nearly as bad as in 1934. Left to right

Terriers Used In Coyote War

SEARING HEAT RUINS CROPS; PRICES SOAR

CHICAGO, July 7.—(U.P.)—Searing heat spread disaster over an everwidening area of the drouth ravaged midwest today.

With no rain in sight and thousands of acres of once fertile farm lands already blackened in the Dakotas, Montana, Wyoming and Minnesota, grain prices soared on Canadian and American exchanges.

"No relief" was the discouraging weather forecast in most sections. For the fourth consecutive day, temperature soared above the 100 mark. It was ideal grasshopper weather and the insects added to the destruction.

In Chicago swarms of sand flies impeded traffic. Thirsty cattle are dry stubble. Farm wells went dry and some towns were threatened with water shortage.

In the worst area of the Dakotas whether farmers, two weeks ago, saw another wheat burned out, corn scorched white, and was beyond salvation. Crop failure also threatened the rich wheat fields of the Canadian prairies.

DALLAS WALES GIVEN PARTY AS SURPRISE

About 30 members of the junior chamber of commerce met last night at a surprise birthday and going away banquet at the La-Vergne hotel, honoring Dallas Wales, president of the body, who is to be transferred elsewhere shortly.

Report by Pardon Board is Delayed

AUSTIN, July 7.—(U.P.)—The state pardon board will delay until late today or tomorrow a report on Gray Warren, one of four men sentenced to die Friday in the electric chair at Huntsville.

Chained Dogs Enter Den, Get Wolf

SAN ANTONIO, July 7.—(U.P.)—Prompted by a story of a Montana coyote trapper, Texas hunters of predatory animals are preparing to use wire-haired terriers in their business.

R. E. Bateman, a Montana district agent for the U. S. Department of Agriculture's predatory animal survey, described how the tiny dogs were used in den-hunting. He sent a dog into a female coyote's den, and to his surprise the terrier returned without its prey.

Bateman then tied a light chain to the dog's collar and sent it back again. There was a great commotion in the hole below. The hunter gave a tug on the chain and out came the dog with a coyote almost twice as large.

The dogs were used for their ability to follow a scent as well as their retrieving value. Professional hunters in Texas destroyed 914 predatory animals in April. The animals—coyotes, bobcats, wolves, and mountain lions—annually take a heavy toll from domestic animals on farms and ranches in West Texas. The April catch included 702 coyotes, 144 bobcats, 66 wolves, and two mountain lions.

TWO HOUSES BEING BUILT AT LAKE SITE

The young people of the Presbyterian Church are building camp grounds at Lake Cisco today preparatory for the opening of the immediate and Senior encampment to open for its second annual session here for the Fort Worth Presbytery Thursday, July 9. About 125 young people are expected.

Two houses, purchased locally, have been moved to the camp grounds which overlook the Lake and a great scope of country adjacent, and are being made into an assembly hall and a camp for the young people who are to assemble here. The encampment includes the ages from 12 to 17 and will be chaperoned and taught while getting the relaxation and outing in this ideally located camp, the grounds for which were donated by the city of Cisco by means of a long lease to the church.

These grounds were laid out last summer and a road built encircling the hill which is to be entirely occupied by this encampment. Permanent buildings will be erected as funds are found. Sites for other camp cottages have been secured and will be erected shortly. Haskell having already secured a site upon which they will shortly build a camp house.

Free With Help

A whole philosophy of government is bound up in the idea of a referee, with people free to do as they may so long they do not interfere with others' rights. Government is a matter of definition, or limitations and of machinery to put this idea into effect.

There is to the mind acute conflict with the let-alone principle and the thousand and one acts and kinds of paternalism the United States has experienced in the past few years.

Yet in the mind of a wise, clear-thinking Texas editor, this conflict has been reconciled. As we get it, here is the way he solves the conflict:

Without the paternalism of recent years, the nation would have been in chaos, with financial institutions destroyed, instead of restored in stability. Agriculture would have been hopeless, rather than back on the high road. The nation has been sent another $10 billion dollars in debt, toward the present $32-billion peak.

Some of the acts of government were drastic. Yet the government is only to see that each fellow gets an even break. The answer is that the harsh and revolutionary and drastic remedies were simply applied to restore the ability to maintain equality, to leave each element free and to take the feet of some of the giants off the toes of the helpless.

Crop plow-under was to restore a balance, so the grower might live. Help for the needy was to restore a balance, so they could manage on their own. Aid for financial institutions was to protect, not the banks, but the depositors, in independent self-maintenance.

The appeal against reactionary court decisions is to allow the individual the same economic freedom that the court itself so jealously protects for his political rights and functioning.

Government, in short, is to protect freedom, with power to curtail—or to define—freedom so as to make it work. Relief, social legislation, business functions, are to read-just life to the basic condition. Criminal law is to make everybody play the game. Sovereignty is the duty to referee the game, with the power to make the decision stick.

Conversation Causes Mistrial
TOLKIDO—4P—While testifying in a $15,000 damage suit, Dr. R. L. Bidwell recognized a juror as one of his patients, and during a recess asked him how he was. Judge Robert O. Gostine saw them speaking together, so declared a mistrial.

Lincoln Death Copy Not Worth $1,000

MONTEREY, Cal., July 7.—(AP)—Sergt. Frank Newton of the Monterey Presidio, who returned from long service in China with a copy of the extra edition of the New York Herald containing the story of the assassination of President Lincoln, which he had purchased from a Chinese, is being bombarded with letters from many sections of the country. It was reported here previously that the newspaper was worth $1,000 to Eastern collectors. This was strenuous and Newton admits he received no such offer. Collectors do not regard such editions as rarities and decline to place a value on them. The soldier's fan mail includes many offers of marriage. Other letters have expressed a historical interest in the paper. Newton has not sold the newspaper.

Strange Flood Story Told

LOWELL, Mass.—(AP)—Flood waters last March carried away a white dress which Therese Baril had knitted, but that didn't stop her from wearing the same dress. The dress was found and returned to her after flood waters had destroyed her home and washed the dress away.

Find Citadel Ruins Built in 5th Century

KERCH, U.S.S.R., July 7.—(AP)—Soviet archaeologists have discovered 20 ancient fortified settlements near here which in the 5th century before Christ formed a part of the so-called Bosphorus Kingdom. Walls of the ancient city of Dia were discovered, as well as the water reservoirs of the settlement and the ruins of numerous buildings. From gravestones, brass and bronze, copper and iron articles found in the graves it was learned that besides Greek burials there since the 3rd century B. C. later Roman burials also took place.

Aid Granted for 3-Year Research

CORNWALLIS, Ore., July 7.—(AP)—Rockefeller Foundation has made a $20,000 grant to Dr. Roger J. Williams, professor at Oregon State College, here, to carry on a three-year research project on the subject of panathenic acid. Panathenic acid, so named because of its universality in all living cells, was discovered several years ago by Dr. Williams in connection with his research with yeast. He has since proved that it is a growth stimulant of extreme potency and that it appears to be a factor in regulation of growth as well.

Tobacco is Highly Advertised in 1611

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., July 7.—(AP)—No advertisement of today is more extravagant with its praise of tobacco's merits than was a certain Scotch physician, Dr. William Barclay, back in 1611. The good doctor's laudatory words concerning the weed were discovered in a monograph titled "Nepenthe of the Vertues of Tobacco," by Alfred C. Potter, for 43 years Harvard University's librarian. Wrote Dr. Barclay: "Is tobacco preseruent from the scouthache; it cureth the migraine, the colicke, the cough, the cold; it stayeth growing fatts; it is the antidote of Hypochondriacke melancholie; it prepareth the stomacke for meat; it maketh a clear voice; it cleareth the yoice; it maketh a sweet breath; it cleareth the sight; it comforteth nerves. And in a few words it is the princeesse of physical plants."

Belgians Lead World In Beer Consumption

GENEVA, July 7.—(AP)—Belgians drink more than twice as much beer as the people of any other country according to a report on "nutrition" received by the League of Nations. Each Belgian man, woman, and child drink on an average 310 pints of beer every year. Next to the Belgians, but a long way behind, come the British, who average 128 pints annually. The Germans are third, with a consumption of 120 pints.

MYRA NORTH, Special Nurse — By Thompson and Coll

TEXAS STAGES FIVE-MAN RACE FOR GOVERNOR

By RICHARD M. MOREHEAD United Press Staff Correspondent DALLAS, July 7.—(U.P.)—If the estimated 10,000,000 Centennial visitors to Texas this summer wish to see natives quite as wild as Texas are reputed to be, they can take time to watch the campaign for governor.

The state's highest office has received bids from five Democratic candidates. One of the five will be elected since Texas is a dyed-in-the-wool Democratic stronghold as far as state politics is concerned.

Q. What part of the United States is covered by Texas? M. L. Marble Falls. A. About one-twelfth. Russia is the only European country that is larger than Texas.

Q. Did Gen. Houston build the "Steamboat House," in which he lived at Huntsville? D. A. A. Beaumont. A. No. It was built about 1860 by Dr. Rufus W. Bailey, president of Austin College at Huntsville, and was rented to Houston after Bailey's death.

Q. What is the sheep and goat production of Texas? D. E. Sonora. A. January 1, 1936, there were 7,682,000 sheep and lambs and 2,410,000 goats and kids, with an estimated total value for both of $47,171,000.

Q. Who was General Castillon? A. P. Cotulla. A. Gen. Manuel Fernandez Castillon was a Spaniard, who was in direct command of the Mexican forces at the Alamo and was killed at San Jacinto. He was buried in the DaZavala burial ground across the Bayou from the battlefield.

Q. Does Texas have officers called "rangerettes"? A. L. Springfield, Mo. A. "Rangerettes" is a name given a group of young women serving as guides to the Centennial Exposition at Dallas and occasionally going on missions to other States for the exposition. They are not officers and have no official authority of any kind.

Crayon Projects In Texas History It is easy to teach children history with penciled outline pictures of historical subjects and colored crayola. History taught in this way is never forgotten and a taste is created for more information.

Will H. Mayes, 2519 Salado Street, Austin, Texas. I enclose 25 cents in coin, securely wrapped, for a copy of "Texas Under Six Flags."

HOME LADDERS DEMANDED TILLSONBURG, Ont.—(U.P.)—An ancient by-law, never repealed, demands all Tillsonburg residents have ladders fixed to their houses, leading from the roof to the ground. Failure to observe the law carried a $50 penalty.

"School" Misused Word as University

CINCINNATI, O., July 7.—(U.P.)—The undergraduate designation of a college or university as "school" is distasteful to Dr. Raymond Walters, president of the University of Cincinnati.

A former teacher of English, Dr. Walters advocates correct usage of terms for educational institutions. "On the campus, in dormitories and fraternity houses, and also in undergraduate newspapers, the word 'school' is loosely used," Dr. Walters said.

Major candidate, Hunter has been a paradox of Texas politics for six years. His three campaigns for the governorship have been unsuccessful, but his 1934 drive brought him into the party run-off.

Dallas Attorney Enters Race Pierre Brooks, Dallas attorney, a comparative unknown in state campaigns, is the fifth candidate for governor. He has been conducting an active speaking campaign for several weeks.

At least three of Allred's four opponents must be considered as major foes, but thus far the governor seems to have maintained the support that twice elected him to the governorship. A forceful, active campaigner, Allred's numerous appearances since his election as governor have given his views wide publicity.

WATER STARTS FIRE DENVER.—(U.P.)—Water, customarily used for extinguishing fire, turned the tables and started a blaze which almost destroyed a garage under construction here.

IRON MAN—Continued from page one. Why had Pat's questions about Dan aroused Susie to such fierce denial? Just what sort of a woman was Susie?

Supposing Susie had found out more about Lyman Fosdick's affairs than anyone knew and was using her knowledge now to her own advantage? Claire determined to question her later.

When they told her about her brother she collapsed into a chair with a smothered shriek. "What'd I tell you? I knew something was going to happen—I knew it all the time. George Banes saw the white miner and—"

"And he saw this what-you-call-it at about the same place from which the shot was aimed at Claire?" asked Pat sarcastically. "Ever hear of this spook sniping at anyone?"

"No-no," answered Susie. "He just walks. Some say kinda dim and slow-like, but George Banes seen him hustling along the trail like he was going somewhere."

"Um, probably was late for a spook conference." Pat lighted a cigaret and offered his package to the others. "How about a little fire in here, Claire? It's chilly."

Dan was dispatched for firewood, and as the door closed behind him, Pat looked steadily at the housekeeper. "What do you know about that man, Miss Spratt? Were he and Eb on good terms?"

For a minute Susie did not answer. Then her full lips tightened into a hard line. "Dan never had nothin' to do with it, I'm tellin' you. How you know Eb didn't just happen to remember something he wanted down in the village and go after it?"

"That's right, Pat," agreed Bob. "How about my going to see if I can find him?"

"Okay if you're willing," answered Pat. "I'll go out and do some more digging in that hole by the cupola wall. I'll get Dallas to help me."

DAN came in then with the wood. After the fire had been started and the men had gone, Claire sent Susie back to the kitchen. The girl wanted to be alone to think things over.

She wandered about the library, and finally sat down before the old-fashioned bookcase. Claire took down a small red volume near her. Poems. Her uncle had been fond of poetry.

There was another copy of the verses of this same obscure poet in the bookcase in Lyman Fosdick's room upstairs. "Jewels of Verse." Idly she turned the pages, her mind going back to the happenings of the last few hours.

What evil threat hung over this place, striking three times in such a short space of time? Did someone else know about Lyman Fosdick's hidden jewels? Could Dan Dallas have fired those mysterious shots the night before?

Library on Wheels Popular in Hawaii

HONOLULU, July 7.—(U.P.)—Reports for the first eight months of operation of Hawaii's wheels show that the innovation has solved successfully the problem of thinly settled and widely spread communities which do not have adequate library facilities.

Since the adoption of the system of having library on wheels make the regular rounds of these communities, 82,547 books, during the first eight months of operation, have been sent to 6,000 regular borrowers.

The library-to-date has traveled 8,000 miles in the 600 square mile area that it serves, calling 11 times at each of the 21 country schools and pausing at least a day at each stop so that everyone might be served.

Fairy tales, books on aviation and sports stories are said by library authorities to be most in demand.

Most Irksome Phrase "What I Mean Is"

BERKELEY, Cal., July 7.—(U.P.)—The most objectionable phrase in the English language according to Mrs. Ruth Norton Donnelly, English instructor of the University of California, is "What I mean is."

Slang, Mrs. Donnelly thinks, is preferable to the necessity of having to explain what a person means if they cannot do it the first time in correct English.

Most of the trouble, however, she states, lies in the fact that the person talking does not know himself what he wants to say.

HOUSE OF SHADOWS by Ida R. Gleason © 1936 NEA Service, Inc.

BEGIN HERE TODAY CLAIRE FOSDICK sets out to drive to the lonely mountain home left her by her eccentric uncle, LYMAN FOSDICK. Claire is trying to decide whether to marry NICK HAIN, to whom she owes money, she also hopes to find a valuable and mysterious jewel hidden by her uncle and believed to be hidden in the house.

Here car is wrecked by a log across the road. PAT MCGAN, an old friend, and BOB STEELE, a young stranger, witness the scene and take Claire to the mountain house where EB SPRATT and his sister, SUSIE, are the caretakers. Claire sees a curious arrow carved on the wall of an upstairs bedroom and, lamp in hand, follows the arrow to the cupola. A noiseless bullet shatters the lamp. The men search the house and grounds but find nothing. Claire, who has been with Dan at breakfast, falls to appear at the door. Bob goes for him and returns—with Eb's cap, showing blood stains.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER V

AS Dan stared at the bloody cap, his mask-like face showed emotion for the first time. Bob turned to him. "You were with Eb, weren't you, when he went back to the tool house?"

"Yes and no," Dan answered. "We walked down to the shed, as I said, but he went back alone to see if he'd locked the door."

"And you didn't hear anything that might explain this?" "Not a sound."

"All right," Bob turned away with a dissatisfied shrug. "Come on. We've got to see if we can find him before we do anything else."

But Claire came around the corner of the house just then and they could not keep the story from her.

"What do you think?" she asked Pat anxiously as she fell into step beside him. "Do you believe we'll find him?"

The others had gone on ahead. Pat stopped and took both the girl's hands in his. "I have a hunch we won't," he said. "I wish you'd go back into the house, Claire. I'd feel safer about you if you did."

"You believe Eb was killed, then?" Pat shrugged. "I just said I had a hunch, Claire, but I'm not the seventh son of a seventh son, so maybe it's a bum steer. It's only that after last night, dear, I know if anything should happen to you"—he touched the bandage on her wrist tenderly—"it—well, it would mean a lot to me."

Just then Bob Steele, halled from a clump of aspens, "Oh, there you are!" Bob's voice held relief. "I missed you two, and came back."

SEVERAL hours of careful searching revealed no trace of Eb. Acknowledging themselves beaten, the young people and Dan retraced their steps to the house to tell Susie. They found her in the library. When they told her about her brother she collapsed into a chair with a smothered shriek. "What'd I tell you? I knew something was going to happen—I knew it all the time. George Banes saw the white miner and—"

No Requests Made For Grain Loans
Although July 1 marked the opening of the period for making application for loans for fall planting of wheat, oats, barley and rye, no requests have been made to the Eastland County emergency crop loan office of the Farm Credit Administration, Murrah Nolte, district supervisor, of Breckenridge, stated Monday.

IT'S ONLY natural for a clock maker to keep his eye on the time. So, when Frederick Speller says Prince Albert shapes up into a perfect "makin's" cigarette in mighty fast time, you may depend on Fred's being right. Says Fred: "That 'crimp cut' makes P. A. shape up nice and firm. Makes a grand, gratifying smoke too. And the P. A. 'no-bite' process turns a trick that takes out all the sting and harshness."

"THE FACT that Prince Albert is packed in tin makes a hit with me and every 'roll-your-own' I've ever met," says Mr. Speller. "Stays fresh right down to the finish."

"YOU GET your money back if you don't put a big okay on this choice tobacco after you've rolled 30 cigarettes," says Mr. Speller. "P. A. is a great in a pipe too."
