Rebels Take Madrid as Cabinet Flees City

TROOPS LOOT FOREIGN AND LOCAL HOMES

MADRID, Nov. 7. (U.P.)—General Francisco Franco's rebel troops entered Madrid today after furious street fighting.

The cabinet fled to Valencia to set up an emergency government, leaving its fighting forces to attempt to hold off the Nationalists. Russian Ambassador Marcel Rosenberg and his staff likewise left the city and established an embassy "outside of Madrid."

A war committee took charge of the capital and turned its 4,000 apartment houses into fortresses for a final fight. An intense cannonading of the rebel positions outside the city proper slackened during the morning.

Hundreds of prisoners shot. Anarchists here shot hundreds of hostages and threatened to blow up the prisons in which 30,000 other prisoners were held, as well as munitions in the center of Madrid.

Before departing, the cabinet said it was withdrawing "temporarily" for military and political reasons, in order to "prevent unnecessary bombardment of government buildings and loss of life to civilians."

Francisco Largo Caballero, fighting Socialist leader, remains in sole charge of the government in the defense of Madrid.

Observers said even the fall of Madrid certainly would not mean the end of the civil war.

General Jose Varela, rebel commander at Toledo, radioed that rebel forces had captured all airports in Madrid.

Embassy Ready for Siege

The American Embassy, with Charge de Affaires Eric C. Wendelin in command, began to receive Americans and was prepared for a siege with enough provisions to maintain 100 persons for two weeks.

Families of Spanish members of the embassy staff moved into the legation along with American citizens. Other foreigners sought their own embassies and legations, which in addition in the case of the Latin American nations sheltered thousands of Spaniards sympathetic to the rebel cause.

Bombs from insurgent airplanes blasted the city. One wounded three youths and an old woman. Another crashed through the roof of a building and caused its top floor to collapse.

Rebels suffered great losses in yesterday's fighting.

Loyalists in a powerful surprise attack, ripped through Nationalist lines west of San Sebastian today and inflicted a damaging defeat.

Four loyalist planes opened the attack. Under cover of this barrage government militiamen poured from their trenches and within a few hours captured all the positions which the nationalists took in the past three weeks—Durango, Ondarrosa, Elgoibar and Mondragon.

A column of Moors entered Madrid almost unopposed, crossing the Toledo bridge. Then the Moors were routed, for the moment at least. Massed Nationalist tanks were ready to follow them across the Toledo bridge, but skilled loyalist engineers were ready to blow up the bridge. The tanks halted.

Women, Tots in Danger

Thousands of women and children, fleeing the city to the east were endangered by the Nationalist artillery fire directed on the Valencia road area.

Nationalist airplanes in groups of six were flying over the city, bombing the last strongholds.

Foreign Legionnaires stormed a series of "barricades of stone" built at the city gates. Several of the death barricades were found unoccupied, their occupants having fled.

The emergency defense committee sent 20,000 picked men to trenches dug several weeks ago by volunteers.

Big fleets of trucks laden with food were massed behind the rebel lines, carrying food sufficient to feed the city's 1,500,000 people for 48 hours during the expected capture and consolidation of victory.

'War Baby' Now A Young Lady

Here is a hint as to what has become of the "war babies," born during the din of the world struggle. Twenty years ago, little Julia Brackeveldt was born in a cellar in battle-torn Ypres, Belgium. Above is a picture of her today, a pretty young lady designated as honor guest for the Armistice Day celebrations at San Jose, Calif., where Miss Brackeveldt now lives.

M'BEE DEFENSE PLACE FIRST WITNESS SAT.

Attorneys defending Mrs. Della Henry at her trial on the charges of slaying her former husband, H. L. McBees, used their first witness Saturday in 88th District Court at Eastland.

Mrs. Nettie Valley who was a neighbor of McBees when he disappeared, said she saw the highway worker leave his home and go in the direction of the railroad tracks early that morning. That was the last time she saw McBees, she testified.

Mrs. Valley said she was not home for over an hour that afternoon, but did not see anyone else leave or come to the residence. On cross examination, the witness said shrubbery and trees prevented to an extent her sight of the entrances to the McBees home.

Miss Opal Valley, daughter of Mrs. Valley, said she had seen McBees for the last time between 7 and 8 o'clock on the morning of May 1. The court sustained the state's objection to the defense questioning Miss Vada Switzer, a telephone operator and bookkeeper, on her conversation with the defendant at the telephone office May 3, 1933. Miss Switzer testified that defendant placed a call to a McBees relative in Eastland and was sobbing and shaking after the telephone conversation.

Much of the afternoon session was in comparison of testimony of Pete Fenwick, M. E. (Sandy) Tyler and Ted Crosswhite, at the Raymond Henry, and Mrs. Henry trials.

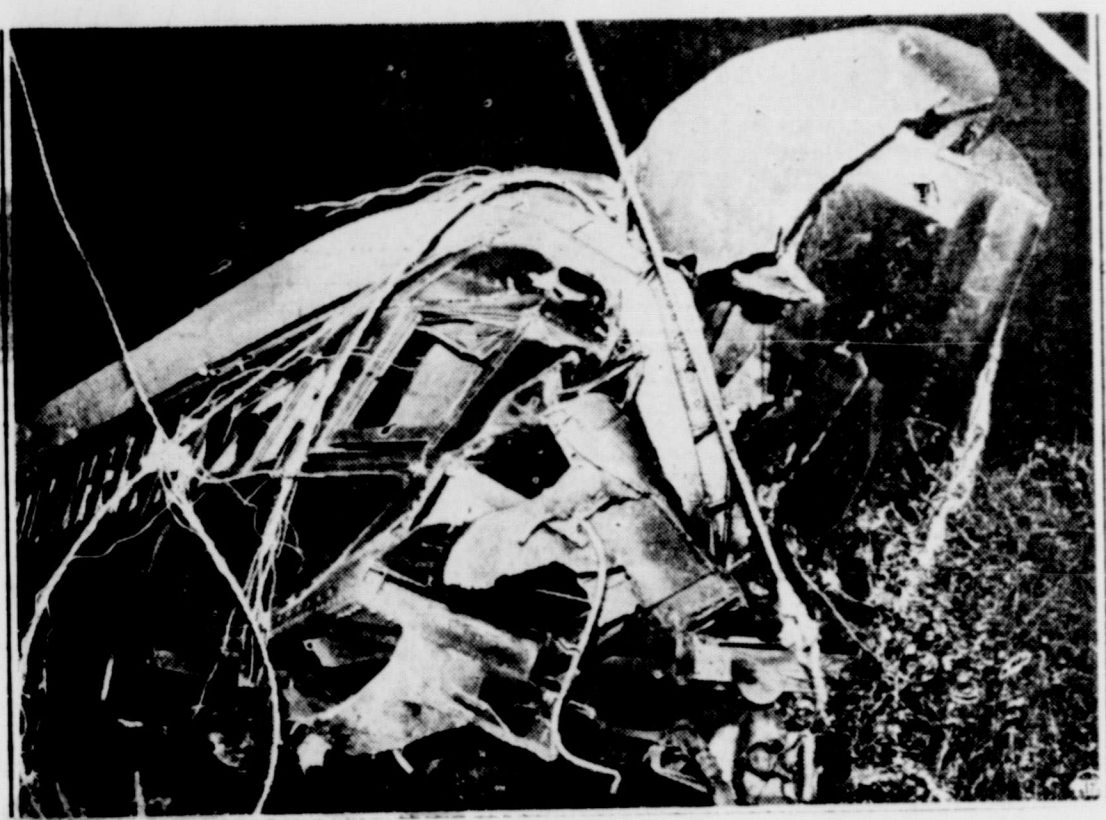

Henry received a 50-year sentence in his conviction in the case April 5, this year.

J. Frank Sparks, chief attorney for Mrs. Henry, drew denials from Tyler on a new version of the slaying. The denials were as those of Friday when he questioned Fenwick if Tyler wasn't guilty of the slaying. The jury was withdrawn when Tyler was questioned on those lines.

When Fenwick was questioned by defense Friday afternoon, the court instructed the jury to disregard negative answers and they were not to be used as evidence.

Sheriff Virge Foster testified that Mrs. McBees had not requested any investigation of the disappearance and death of her husband. On cross examination he admitted there was no necessity for any request to investigate as all his department was employed on the case.

FDR PLANNING SECOND TERM EXPENSE CUT

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7. (U.P.)—Administration fiscal plans for President Roosevelt's second term revealed today to the United Press, show expenditures of a balanced budget during the fiscal year beginning next July 1.

The Federal government, according to present plans, will be placed upon a pay-as-you-go basis and a reduction of the public debt begun before the middle of Mr. Roosevelt's second term, a high treasury official said.

Government income has been mounting steadily during the last two years and is expected to be boosted still more by continued prosperity and added revenue from tax laws passed by congress last session. Expenditures this year, however, will exceed income.

Some federal economies are planned. Among these is consolidation of several bureaus, especially agencies created to deal with the depression.

It is expected that the public debt, now $33,822,000,000, will reach approximately $35,000,000,000 before the treasury "turns the corner" and starts reductions. A relief appropriation of at least $1,000,000,000 by the next congress is expected.

Ordinary government expenditures—excepting relief—already are within the federal income. The new corporation surplus tax, upon which collections will begin next year, is estimated to yield approximately $700,000,000 a year.

Liquidation of government loans by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation and other federal lending agencies is counted upon to aid reduction of the federal debt.

WALK OUT WILL LAY OFF OVER 40,000 MEN

BEAUMONT, Nov. 7. (U.P.)—President Roosevelt was asked to intervene in the seamen's strike and avert a threatened shutdown of Gulf Coast activities. G. E. Hatton of Beaumont, president of District Council of the Oil and Gas Workers' Union said he wired President Roosevelt that the maritime walk-out would result in the laying off of between 40,000 and 50,000 men in the region. Police freed 71 striking pickets and sympathizers who were arrested here Friday for violating warnings against picketing on the waterfront pier. The seamen were ordered to leave the city.

SECRETARY PERKINS NOT TO ASK INTERVENTION

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7. (U.P.)—Secretary Frances Perkins today said she does not anticipate requesting President Roosevelt to intervene personally in the present maritime strike or to appoint a special board to bring about a settlement. Mrs. Perkins said she was fully confident in the ability of Edward McGrady, assistant Secretary of Labor, to conduct all settlement efforts in San Francisco, the center of the spreading walkout. The secretary cited the following developments in the maritime situation:

1. She believed the steamship American Legion, destined to sail from New York with Secretary of State Cordell Hull and a delegation to the Pan-American peace conference in Buenos Aires would be able to leave the harbor without difficulties.

2. She had been informed by department agents in New York that efforts of the walkout on the coast had been greatly exaggerated.

3. The labor department studied the legal possibilities of deporting Harry Bridges, Pacific coast strike leader, as recently as last spring, and found no evidence for his deportation. Bridges came to this country from Australia in 1920.

F. D. ROOSEVELT STUDIES JAN. 5 BUDGET REPORT

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 7. (U.P.)—President Roosevelt secluded himself from all but official visitors in the White House today to work on his budget report to the next Congress convening Jan. 5.

The president was represented as intent upon a balanced federal budget by the end of the fiscal year beginning next July 1.

He was said to have warned the cabinet it would be wise for the heads of the Federal agencies not to inflate estimates in anticipation of reductions. He said he would personally scrutinize every estimate.

Friday night in a nation-wide radio address in his study in the White House Mr. Roosevelt opened the 1936 Mobilization for Human Needs with a plea to all citizens to contribute generously to local Community Chest campaigns.

A week from Tuesday he will board the cruiser Indianapolis at Charleston, S. C., to be gone probably two or three weeks. He is expected to visit Buenos Aires for opening of the Pan-American peace conference.

UNITED STEEL TO WIN APPROVAL OF OTHERS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7. (U.P.)—Extension of the United States Steel Corp.'s "cost of living" basis for wages to other industries was looked for today by labor department officials.

Approval of the plan was expected, also, from leaders of organized labor, whose chief complaint during increasing prosperity has been that wages failed to rise with increased cost of living.

Bureau of Labor statistics will be used by the U. S. Steel as basis for variations in wages. Under the arrangements wages of the steel concern will be raised or lowered a corresponding amount each time the bureau's statistics rise or fall five per cent.

These figures are prepared four times a year by experts who make extensive studies of prices of commodities and rents.

The index is now at 82 per cent of the so-called 1923-1925 normal. It rose 17 per cent when the bureau published its latest index on Sept. 15.

ROAD OILING TAINTS WATER

FREMONT, O. (U.P.)—Low water level in the Sandusky river could not be blamed solely for the taste of the city's water this time. Officials said that oiling and tarring of rural roads in the river's basin was mostly responsible.

Norther Predicted To Hit Fort Worth

Another blustery cold wave was predicted to "rattle" Fort Worth windows and topple temperatures here last night.

Weatherman Paul Cook forecasted 30 degrees weather by today with partly cloudy sky.

The "norther" was to have whistled into Fort Worth early last night from the northwest, with snow forecast for the Panhandle area.

Livestock warnings were raised for the Panhandle and Oklahoma. The mercury was to have dropped between 16 and 22 degrees in north-west Oklahoma.

King's Marriage His Private Affair, Erasmus' Counsel 4 Centuries Ago

NEW YORK, Nov. 7. (U.P.)—A king's marriage is his own private matter, and whoever tax it upon a good wife is honorable enough whatever her birth. This counsel, along with much else pertinent to 1936, was written four centuries ago by the great humanist, Erasmus, to his pupil, the future Emperor Charles V of Spain. It is contained in Erasmus' famous book, "The Education of a Christian Prince," now republished in its first complete English translation by Columbia University Press. The translation with an introduction, is by Lester K. Born.

The work was for centuries a textbook for the education of European rulers, and Erasmus himself sent a copy to the much-married Henry the Eighth of England. His advice to Prince Charles on picking a bride was this:

"For my part, I should think that it would be by far most beneficial to the state if the marriage alliance of princes were confined within the limits of their own kingdoms, or, if they had to go beyond their boundaries, with only their nearest neighbors, and then only those who warrant faithful friendship. But, they say, it is not right for the daughter of a king to marry any one except a king or a king's son. Those are merely the fancies of individuals to raise their own kin to as high a position as they can, and the prince should have no sympathy with them in it.

"The marriage of princes is really a private matter of their own. It is called the greatest of human affairs, so that we too often have a recurrence of what happened to the Greeks and the Trojans because of Helen.

"But if you please to make a choice becoming a prince, your wife should be selected from all women for her integrity, modesty and wisdom, and one who would be an obedient wife to a good prince and would bear him children worthy both of their parents and the state. She is honorable enough, whatever her birth, who will make a good wife for the good prince."

Erasmus added that a good prince "does not consider his own affairs prosperous unless he looks out for the welfare of the state." Warning that unwise alliances with foreign princesses often produced wars, he added:

"Although I am aware that this custom is too long accepted for one to hope to be able to uproot it, yet I thought it best to give my advice in case things should turn out beyond my hopes."

NANCE WIRES FROM DETROIT ABOUT NEW CAR

A wire from S. H. Nance, Cisco Ford dealer, who together with his son, Garland Nance, and other Texas dealers in Detroit this week says: "Have just seen the New Ford V-8 for 1937, it is a knockout. Something entirely new in appearance, price and economy. Will call you when I get back. Want you to see it November 14."

The Nances left the middle of the week with a thousand Texas dealers on the Ford Special out of Dallas to see Henry's newest creation. They are expected back Monday.

DIVERS WIN ODD STRIKE

WARSAW (U.P.)—A strange event occurred at Gdynia, new Polish port on the Baltic, when 10 divers staged a walkout. They intended to go down into the sea and remain there until their demands for higher wages were granted. They got the increase.

HUGE CROWDS INSPECTED THE NEW CHEVROLET

Hundreds of people saw the new 1937 Chevrolet on display at the A. G. Motor company Saturday in response to the announcement that was sent out throughout all Cisco trade territory that a new car—completely new, would be on display in the show room.

A picture was made of one sal that was consumed while on lockers stood by—that of a two door sedan to Joe Lea and Wightman Moore.

WEST TEXAS—Cloudy; probably rain Sunday, snow in Panhandle. Colder in south portion.

Good Times Ahead

The fact that a man has a faculty of forgetting evil times and of harboring to the end the pleasant event of a lifetime probably accounts for the sighing of old-timers for the good old times. There is no other valid excuse for it.

For some few things the present can envy the past but the advantages of the present so overwhelmingly outnumber those of the dead yesterday that those who mourn the past can not be taken seriously. There is more romantic retrospection than sound reasoning in their sighs and lamentations.

Memories of lower costs of living are spoiled by recollections of correspondingly low wages, lower salaries and still lower industrial and commercial profits. The homely comforts of fifty years ago served the simple life, but who would surrender the electric light, gas heat, overstuffed furniture, running hot and cold water, the bath tub and hundreds of other modern conveniences and comforts for the woodpile and the well of the good old times?

The forefathers got along very nicely without automobiles, safety razors, barber shops, the telephone, the radio, moving pictures, hard-surfaced roads, paved streets, window glass, and many other things which are considered by modernity as the bare necessities of life. But the forefathers often dreamed of the days when they would have all these things.

Today will be yesterday tomorrow, when new comforts will console mankind. Life is bettering itself thus rapidly. Instead of sighing for the things of the past, the old-timers and their descendants would profit more by reading the history of the progress of world invention and discovery in the newspaper advertisements. Science is unceasingly busy with evolving new comforts for man so that the discomforts of today will be unknown to the future.

WILD IRON MAN

The Iron Man of baseball may become the wild man of the movies if Lou Gehrig, New York Yankee first baseman, is selected to enact the role of jungle man. Gehrig, shown above clad in leopard skin bending an iron bar (maybe it was already bent), is expected to take the part if test shots prove favorable. The movie job, formerly belonging to Johnny Weissmuller, famous swimmer, wouldn't be anything new to Gehrig—for he has been battling tigers, Indians, and the Athletics' elephant for years.

Mrs. J. W. Harris has returned from a visit with her mother at Big Spring.

Bigger, Better Than Ever—Billroy's

An old familiar name, "Billroy's Comedians" is emblazoning the billboards around Cisco, but when the show arrives here for its performance on Wednesday Nov. 11 the old trite saying of "everything new and all different" will truly be carried out as notices from cities where the attraction has played this season say that Billroy's this year is in every respect an entirely new offering regarded by most critics as the best of the whole twelve series manager Billy Wehle has offered.

Daphne "Queen of Fan Dancers" is the featured attraction this year and that alone is enough to show the seasoned theatre-goer that Billroy's Comedians have something new and something different—more than ever before, girls, many of them more of them, and all beautiful, shapely and enticing, are being featured, and according to one reviewer, the costumes are "beautiful but brief." But as usual, Manager Wehle has seen to it that there is nothing in the least offensive in his 12th Annual Production as he has built up an invaluable reputation for giving more clean entertainment for the money than any other show on the road and he could not afford to jeopardize that reputation.

To enumerate the various characters secured from the stage and screen would require more space than this column is allowed. However it may be said that the old favorites, the Palais Royale Orchestra is again with Billroy, and has been augmented by the addition of several well known musical artists from Bouche's Villa Venice at Miami.

A brand new waterproof tent to be seen this season, with more than 4,000 comfortable seats, and beautiful usherettes to see to the comfort of the patrons. Everything possible for the comfort and convenience of patrons, just like in a theatre, has been provided. New plays, new musical numbers, seventeen vaudeville acts and nearly all new faces are to be seen. So massive is the show that it requires thirty-five huge cars, trucks and buses to transport the 20,000 people all of whom are carefully selected artists and dancers from the leading clubs of Florida winter resorts.

Watch them when they reach Cisco where the show will be located at Ave. A and 18th street lot near the Nance Motor Co. and will present one performance on the evening Wednesday, Nov. 11. As usual ladies will be free when accompanied by one paid adult male. Popular prices will prevail. Doors open at 7:15, overture at 7:30. Curtain rises at 8:15 sharp, presenting a three-act play, 17 vaudeville acts, Daphne, and dozens of glorious girls. Arrange now to be there!

1937 CHEVROLET HAS BIG SHOW HERE SATURDAY

Chevrolet's new cars for 1937 made their local bow Saturday at the A. G. Motor Co. salesroom, where some 1500 persons had in- spected the new product up to 7 p. m. Saturday. Mr. Anderson reported the sale of four units, in addition to twelve which had been ordered prior to today.

Speaking in behalf of Mr. Hol- ler and also in his own right Mr. An- derson voiced gratification at the friendly relations between the Chevrolet organization and the community. "I am especially im- pressed," he said, "with the fine tribute owners have paid us by ordering 1937 cars."

There could be no more striking proof of the faith they feel in Chevrolet. And the local residents who have voiced their confidence in this manner are only a small per- centage of a very large army of owners who share that feeling and have shown their faith in the same convincing way.

Chevrolet's new passenger cars for 1937, comprising two new series of six models each, were introduced Saturday with public showings throughout the United States. The two series, known respectively as the Master and Master De Luxe, are identical except for front spring suspension, rear axle and steering gear ratios, and accessories and trim.

On the Master De Luxe models, fume action formerly optional at extra cost, is not only continued as a major feature, but furnished at no extra cost. Master models are avail- able with semi-elliptic front springs only. All models of both series have safety plate glass all around and at no additional charge.

Although the cars are described as new from bumper to bumper, the change most obvious outwardly has to do with body lines. A new treat- ment, described as "diamond crown speedline styling," represents a distinct departure in design and produces an impression of added fleetness and grace. The change, however, goes deeper than appear- ance, for the bodies are entirely new. They introduce unisteeel con- struction, in which solid steel turret top, steel side panels, steel double cowl, and steel floor are welded to- gether to form a permanently sil- ent unit. Even the doors are all of steel.

The bodies are mounted on a chassis which is also new, with the new six-cylinder high-compression valve-in-head engine developing 85 horsepower, new box-girder chassis frame combining rigidity and light- ness, and hypoid rear axle drive gears.

Chevrolet engineers emphasize the fact that the 1937 models adhere closely to engineering principles which Chevrolet has developed through constant improvement year after year. They are more com- pact, with a gain in strength and a reduction in weight. Better hill- climbing and acceleration, with marked smoothness, durability and economy, characterize the per- formance of the entire new line.

Both body and chassis refinements contribute to noteworthy advances in safety, comfort, driving ease, and general owner satisfaction. The use of hypoid gears has lowered over- all height, and with it, the center of gravity, a change which in con- junction with wider-spaced rear springs, and larger cross-section tires on wider rims, makes for greater stability on the road. The power plant and the body are re-located on the frame, the body being longer and wider, with the floor 2 1-16 inches lower than in the 1936 Master De Luxe. The increase in width at the floor line in the front com- partment is almost five inches, across the front at windshield level, 1 1-2 inches, and between the doors across the front seat, two inches. Wider windshield and larger windows increase visibility and con- tribute much to safety.

Ample provision for luggage is made in every model. Town sedan and sport sedan in each line have spacious trunks, and models with- out trunks or rear seats have com- modious space behind the seat. Each model also has a package ledge across the top of the rear seat, as well as a locking compartment in the instrument panel.

The same power plant is used in both series. It is entirely new and is introduced as the highest refine- ment of the valve-in-head design, for which Chevrolet has been known over a long period of years. In it, the bore is increased from 3 5-16 to 3 1-2 inches, and the stroke re- duced from 4 to 3 3-4 inches, the displacement being stepped up from 206.8 to 216.5 inches, and the com- pression ratio raised from 6-to-1 to 6.25-to-1.

The crankshaft of the new engine has four bearings instead of three. Bearings are of the steel babbit type. The 68-pound crankshaft is counter-balanced and equipped with harmonic balancer, lighter and more sensitive than previously em- ployed. Lighter, dome-head pistons, shorter and stiffer connecting rods, four-bearing camshaft, and mani- folding system with thermostatic heat control, are among the power- plant's other new features.

Driving ease is increased, and durability enhanced, by the com- pletely Synco-Mesh transmission in the new models. It is more com- pact and rigid, and the synchroniz- ing mechanism is improved through the use of simplified cone clutches.

Sedan, coach, business coupe, sport sedan with trunk, and town sedan with trunk are available in both series. In addition, there is a sport coupe with rumble seat in the master De Luxe series, and a cabriolet with rumble seat on the master chassis, finished with de luxe appearance features.

THE GREATEST TRACTION TIRE EVER BUILT

For Muddy and Unimproved Roads

JUST the tire you need for any kind of driving or hauling over unimproved roads. This tire pulls through mud—sand—gumbo—here ordinary tires even with chains would get stuck.

The deep, rugged non-skid tread is scientifically designed to give maximum traction and is self-cleaning. Because the tread design is continuous, the tire rides smoothly and gives even wear.

Come in and see this new tire today. Put a set on your car and truck and forget traction worries. You will find them the most economical investment you ever made.
