COMMISSION TO INVESTIGATE STRIKE

About Our Friends

By STEP A. LONG

Mrs. Reba Northcutt, aunt of our recently young friend, Bob Sanford, who comes from Covington, Ky., is a land of fast horses and beautiful women, is surprised at the few copies of the Daily News...

Ben Waters, a Moran friend of our standing writer, "We wish to say I am always reading your and other editorials first and to my mind, the editorial, 'Condoning Criminals' in the Daily News, Monday, Nov. 9, is the best one I have read in any paper..."

Melvin Sandler, first grader, has his mind set on being a Lobo. He has paid a visit at the office of the children's department to get a fresh Daily News for Grandpa Goldberg as they passed going to the lake road home...

Frank West, local Cisco boy, who is taking his M.A. degree in the University of Texas, majoring in Journalism, and who is assistant editor of the business page of the Daily News, covered the Cisco-Ranger game for us yesterday and is writing the story in today's issue...

Well, as usual, the band, led by Frank Yager and Marian Jacobs, was a stellar attraction between halves yesterday. Maddox gets many compliments each time his band plays...

Those military, yet delicately tailored suits of Ranger squad drew comment. And we couldn't see anything wrong with the dresses of their leaders. And Vernon Shirley did some mighty good work...

MEASURES USED TO REVITALIZE HICKOK NO. 2

Preparations are being made to production to the Hickok No. 2 drilled during the summer promised so much and was a sentiment to all concerned...

Things may be done, it was well deeper, acidize the lime which are both above and the present sand, or shoot. All of these measures may be used as has been indicated unless more is brought about by one of these deeper, are said to be the measures.

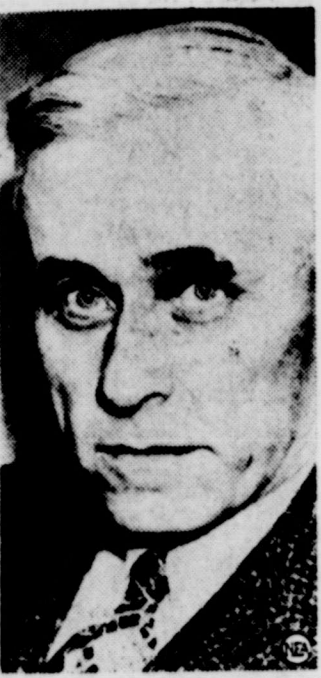

The Hickok and Lone Star are drilling along on their find what may lie at the end rainbow, testing this same near the 4,000 foot mark. Hickok is setting the 15-inch to take care of a 500-foot water. The Lone Star is past 1,000 feet mark.

Della Henry Jury Is Dismissed by Judge

FAIL TO REACH AGREEMENT IN NOTED CASE

EASTLAND, Nov. 12 (UP)—Jurors in the trial of Mrs. Della Henry, charged with the murder of her former husband, H. L. McBee, were dismissed today after failing to agree. District Judge B. W. Patterson dismissed the jury after it had deliberated more than 37 hours without reaching a verdict. The case was given to the jury at 10:50 Tuesday evening, and after deliberating until 11:35 Thursday morning they reported to Judge Patterson that they were unable to arrive at a verdict. The vote stood nine to three. Mrs. Della Henry was tried for the killing of her former husband, H. L. McBee, highway worker, living at Rising Star, May 1, 1933. In a few months, she married Raymond Henry, who was tried in a former case and convicted, being given a fifty year sentence. Henry's case was appealed and will be submitted to the court of criminal appeals Wednesday, December 23rd. Testimony in Mrs. Henry's case lasted almost a week, and has drawn widespread attention. Arguments began Tuesday, and lasted six hours—three hours for each side. The case was submitted to the jury Tuesday evening. The dismissal of the jury means that motions for a new trial will have to be filed and be heard by Judge Patterson and a new date set for the trial.

C. school education chairman of the National Congress and field secretary of the National Education Association will lead this panel. Her questions will be directed to a high school girl and boy a rural girl and boy and a college girl and boy. The questions which brim with human interest are: 'What does youth want?' 'What do we want for youth?' 'What are communities doing to help youth?' 'What is the relation of youth to public welfare?'

Here the chief executive beams on downy-haired Kate, proudly held by her mother, Mrs. James Roosevelt. The ceremony took place in the drawing room of the family home at Hyde Park, N. Y.

Moors, foreign legionnaires, rebel soldiers tried a desperate dash into the heart of the city last night. A strengthened militia line was surprised to find the enemy approaching. Militiamen began a quiet enveloping movement and opening fire, stopped the nationalists. 'There was a growing opinion that the nationalists had lost one great opportunity to take Madrid. On Sunday the loyalist forces were demoralized and close to panic. Two days ago foreign military experts were convinced the city was doomed. Now, thousands of fresh troops have arrived. One hundred and twenty-four miles in 115 minutes was the record made by Jack Anderson in a drive to Fort Worth Tuesday night in getting Mrs. R. F. Gilman who had a small slice of bone lodged in her throat with danger of death from choking starting her in the face. Mrs. Gilman had the bone removed and is said to be resting quietly and out of danger in a Fort Worth hospital today. Mrs. Gilman consulted her physician Tuesday afternoon as soon as the trouble developed and he stated to her that there were only a few places where hospitals were equipped to do this kind of work in this section of the state, namely, Abilene, Fort Worth, Dallas and El Paso. Calls to the nearest place found the Abilene physician out of town and so a rush was made to Fort Worth. Mr. Anderson said he was not nervous while doing the driving which had to be made careful as well as quickly, but when the ordeal was over he felt the nervous strain greatly. Mrs. Gilman, friends said, was resting well in a Fort Worth hospital and would return home as soon as she had rested sufficiently as to be well out of danger from any complications.

CISCO AND RANGER BATTLE TO TIE IN ARMISTICE GAME, 6 TO 6

(By DICK WEST) Two small but brave football squads—once the peerless leaders of the mighty Oil Belt—battled to a 6-6 tie here Wednesday afternoon as Cisco and Ranger settled the annual Armistice feud. Ranger, with only three boys who had never played the game before this season, and Cisco, trying valiantly to advance with a slender line that looked like the grammar school team of ten years ago, each tore into each other with all the force that 125 to 150-pound youths could command. Both were fighting to get out of the Oil Belt cellar, but when the sun settled behind the western stands of Chesley field a one-touchdown-the left both teams where they belonged—on the bottom in the standings, but on top in determination, grit and courage. The Lobos clearly deserved to win, but two bad breaks were costly—an offside penalty which nullified the perfect point after touchdown, and a blocked kick which gave the Bulldogs their touchdown. Throughout the first quarter both teams gained easily within the 30-yard lines, but their attacks stopped when approaching pay territory. Then Dexter Shelley, who has done marvelous work in fashioning an attack out of nothing at all, changed strategy at the start of the second quarter, sending in Red Donahoe in place of Joe Slicker with orders to hit the Ranger weak side. Red, no bigger than the midgets at the Texas Centennial, engineered as prettily a touchdown march as was ever made on that field, featuring clever, hard-driving running by a round-headed little German from south of Cisco, Vernon Steyer. Starting everywhere from a deep punt formation, tucking the ball securely under his right arm and pausing before he picked his hole, Steyer was easily the best back on the field. Ten inches shorter and 35 pounds lighter, he never the less resembled Breckenridge's immortal Boon Magness with slumped head, short neck and loping stride. Slicker in the first quarter tried to weak deception behind a line too weak to block out the opposition; Donahoe stuck to straight football until the Flying Dutchman had advanced the ball over 80 yards. Then when it seemed the attack would fall 5 yards short of the goal, Rainbolt, circled his right end for a touchdown. Westler's kick was perfect, but Cisco was offside, forced to kick again farther from the goal, and it was blocked by Dudley, Ranger's right end. The Maroon and White never gave up and in the fourth quarter

MAN DISPLAYS BLOODY WOMAN HEAD IN PAPER

AUSTIN, Utah, Nov. 12 (UP)—Two young women reported to police today they had been accosted by a degenerate a few hours after police had started search for a man who 11 year old Della DeHaven, said stopped her and displayed a woman's head wrapped in a blood-stained newspaper. The story of the young women was the only evidence police had to the child's story related hysterically to her parents late yesterday. The girl still near collapse, began the hunt when she ran screaming to her home, a piece of bloodstained newspaper in her hands. She told of a man who tried to induce her to get into his car. When she refused, she said, the man reached into the back seat and held up a woman's head with "light blond hair." He threatened that she would suffer the same fate if she didn't get into the car.

CISCO, EASTLAND AND RANGER TO BOARD SCHOOL SPECIAL FRIDAY

Around 600 Cisco students will board the 19 coaches and baggage car now waiting on the T & P tracks to take the school special to the Centennial Friday morning, leaving Cisco at 6 o'clock and leaving Dallas at 11:20 that night. Principals of all the Cisco schools report the list growing as the time for going approaches. And indeed the list should grow to include every child and adult person in Cisco who has not already attended. It is an educational treat that is a loss to those who miss it. The $1.50 price is available to all persons who buy tickets through the schools, it is announced. It is not necessary to be a sponsor in order to get the rate. It is necessary in order to get the one-half entrance fee at the gate, but that will only be fifty cents anyway. Rex Moore of the ticket office urges that those who may be going should get their tickets today as several hundred from Rising Star and Pioneer are going on this train and they have not yet secured their tickets. If all come to buy at once a delay will be occasioned, he said. O. L. Stamey, principal of the high school, reports about 225 going; H. C. Bradley, principal at West Ward says 200 students; C. C. Duff, principal at Grammar school reports 125; T. C. Williams reports between 40 and 50 and this may grow by tomorrow. Ticket agent, Rex Moore says 19 coaches and one baggage car will form the special. All teachers will go, it is reported. State Superintendent Wood has ruled it will be counted a full day credit for instructors and students. Eastland and Ranger schools will board the special at their towns.

BETTER TOBACCO FOR ONE THING

DON'T GAMBLE WITH A COLD

COMMON colds are dangerous! Don't gamble with them. You will lose more often than you will win. Even if you are lucky and recover from a cold within a few days without loss of time or money, YOU STILL LOSE. Any illness to a member of the family is definitely false economy because colds create a condition of depressed physical vitality.

This is the age of preventive medicine and medical science has followed the formula that "it is better to keep well than to get well." Therefore, don't gamble. Strike at the root of common colds by eliminating conditions that contribute to "catching cold."

If the temperature of any room in the house is insufficient for comfort it is INADEQUATE

The common cold germ is a constant threat to your well-being during the winter season. If you do catch cold—don't gamble; consult your family doctor before it has an opportunity to undermine your health.

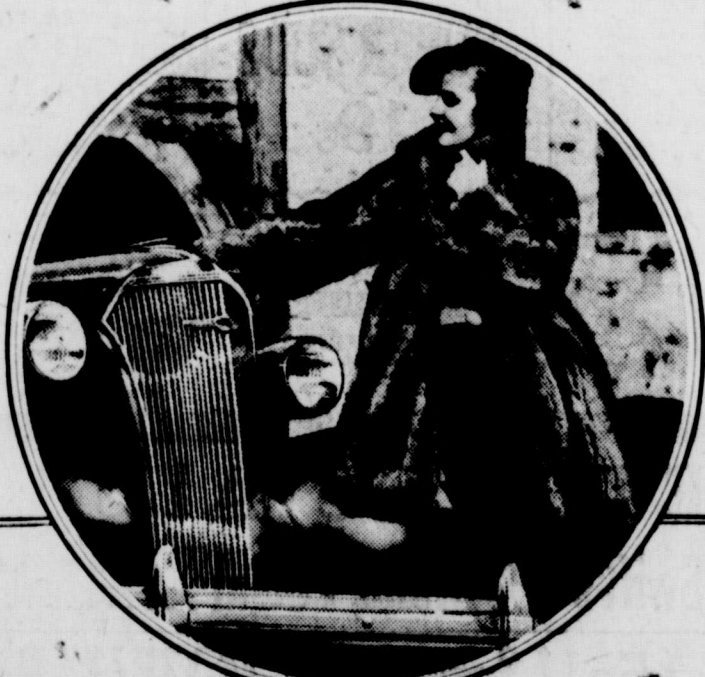

FOR HEALTH. Members of the family go from a heated room into a cold hall or adjoining unheated room; then shivering and chilled, they return to the heated room. This is one almost certain way to catch cold.

Protect your family against sudden changes of temperature. Give them the benefit of healthful, pure, warm air throughout the home. If you have been heating only one or two rooms, don't go through another winter without complete health protection. If you prefer individual unvented room heaters of the open flame type, be sure to use ONE IN EACH ROOM and provide adequate ventilation from slightly opened windows. Keep connecting doors open from one room to another so that a natural circulation of healthful, warm air prevails throughout the home.

Heat your entire house and provide adequate ventilation of pure air... for your health's sake!

A-G MOTOR CO. SELL SIXTEEN CHEVROLETS

More than 2,000 residents of Cisco and vicinity thronged the salesroom of the A. G. Motor Co. Saturday and Sunday to inspect the new 1937 Chevrolet which made their bow all over the United States on Saturday. Mr. Anderson, head of the firm, reported sixteen local sales in that period. This is the largest number of new Chevrolets ever sold by the local firm in the two days following announcement, he said.

Mr. Anderson reported advice from Detroit to the effect that advance orders for the 1937 models totaled more than 130,000. The message, signed by W. E. Holler, vice president and general sales manager of Chevrolet, asked him to thank local residents for the confidence which prompted them to invest in Chevrolet's new models "right away". The fact that more than 100,000 persons in all parts of the United States felt sufficient faith in the institution and its product to take an important step before they had even seen the car, is a tribute of which any company might well be proud, Mr. Holler wired. "And these owners' experience with their cars, throughout the months to come, will justify that faith to the utmost. It is the finest product Chevrolet has ever built."

He added that production in Chevrolet's new assembly plants from coast to coast was now proceeding at a rate which assures prompt delivery in the various models and colors.

Enrolling Recruits for Ship Strike

With more than a score of ships already tied up by "sit down" strikes, maritime workers flocked to the headquarters of the Seamen's Defense Committee in New York to enlist for a sympathy strike to aid the West Coast walkout of sailors and longshoremen. Strike recruits are pictured being enrolled.

CHEVROLET HAS BIG SHOW HERE SATURDAY

Chevrolet's new cars for 1937 are their local bow Saturday at the G. Motor Co. salesroom, where some 1500 persons had in mind the new product up to 7 p. m. Saturday. Mr. Anderson reported a sale of four units, in addition to five which had been ordered prior to Saturday.

Speaking in behalf of Mr. Holler, also in his own right Mr. Anderson voiced gratification at the friendly relations between the Chevrolet organization and the community. "I am especially impressed," he said, "with the fine car owners have paid us by buying 1937 cars 'right unseen.' There could be no more striking proof of the faith they feel in Chevrolet. And the local residents who have voiced their confidence in this manner are only a small percentage of a very large army of men who share that feeling and who shown their faith in the same 'right unseen' way."

Chevrolet's new passenger cars for 1937, comprising two new series, six models each, were introduced Saturday with public showings throughout the United States. The new series, known respectively as the Master and Master De Luxe, are identical except for front spring suspension, rear axle and steering ratios, and accessories and equipment.

The Master De Luxe models, in the action, formerly optional at extra cost, is not only continued as a major feature, but furnished at no extra cost. Master models are available with semi-elliptic front springs. All models of both series have fety plate glass all around and at additional charge.

Although the cars are described here from bumper to bumper, the more obvious outwardly has to do with body lines. A new treatment, described as "diamond crown headline styling," represents a distinct departure in design and induces an impression of added softness and grace. The change, however, goes deeper than appearance, for the bodies are entirely new. They introduce unexcelled construction, in which solid steel turret, steel side panels, steel double front, and steel floor are welded together to form a permanently silencing unit. Even the doors are all of steel.

The bodies are mounted on a chassis which is also new, with the new six-cylinder high-compression live-in-head engine developing 85 horsepower, new box-girder chassis, new combining rigidity and lightness, and hypoid rear axle drive shafts.

Chevrolet engineers emphasize that the 1937 models adhere to engineering principles which Chevrolet has developed through constant improvement year after year. They are more compact, with a gain in strength and a reduction in weight. Better hill-climbing and acceleration, with varying smoothness, durability and economy, characterize the performance of the entire new line.

Both body and chassis refinements contribute to noteworthy advances in safety, comfort, driving ease, and general owner satisfaction. The use of hypoid gears has lowered overall height, and with it, the center of gravity, a change which, in connection with wider-spaced rear springs, and larger cross-section tires in wider rims, makes for greater stability on the road. The power plant and the body are re-located on the frame, the body being longer and wider with the floor 2-1/16 inches lower than in the 1936 Master De Luxe. The increase in width of the floor line in the front compartment is almost five inches, across the front at windshield level, 1-1/2 inches, and between the beam across the front seat, two inches. Wider windshield and larger windows increase visibility and contribute much to safety.

Ample provision for luggage is made in every model. Town sedan and sport sedan in each line have spacious trunks, and models without trunks or rear decks have commodious space behind the seat. Each model also has a package ledge across the top of the rear seat, as well as a locking compartment in the instrument panel.

The same power plant is used in both series. It is entirely new and is introduced as the highest refinement of the valve-in-head design, for which Chevrolet has been known over a long period of years. In it, the bore is increased from 3 5/16 to 3 1/2 inches, and the stroke reduced from 4 to 3 3/4 inches, the displacement being stepped up from 206.8 to 216.5 inches, and the compression ratio raised from 6-to-1 to 6.25-to-1.

The crankshaft of the new engine has four bearings instead of three. Bearings are of the steel babbit type. The 68-pound crankshaft is counter-balanced and equipped with harmonic balancer, lighter and more sensitive than that previously employed. Lighter, dome-head pistons, shorter and stiffer connecting rods, four-bearing camshaft, and manifold system with thermostatic heat control, are among the power plant's other new features.

Driving ease is increased, and durability enhanced, by the completely Sycro-Mesh transmission in both series. It is more compact and rigid, and the synchronizing mechanism is improved through the use of simplified cone clutches.

Sedan, coach, business coupe, sport sedan with trunk, and town sedan with trunk are available in both series. In addition, there is a sport coupe with rumble seat in the master De Luxe series, and a cabriolet with rumble seat on the master chassis, finished with de luxe appearance features.

F. D. ROOSEVELT STUDIES JAN. 5 BUDGET REPORT

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 7. (U.P.) President Roosevelt secluded himself from all but official visitors in the White House today to work on his budget report to the next Congress convening Jan. 5.

The president was represented as intent upon a balanced federal budget by the end of the fiscal year beginning next July 1.

He was said to have warned the cabinet it would be wise for the heads of the Federal agencies not to inflate estimates in anticipation of reductions. He said he would personally scrutinize every estimate.

Friday night, in a nation-wide radio address in his study in the White House, Mr. Roosevelt opened the 1936 Mobilization for Human Needs with a plea to all citizens to contribute generously to local Community Chest campaigns.

A week from Tuesday he will board the cruiser Indianapolis at Charleston, S. C., to be gone probably two or three weeks. He is expected to visit Buenos Aires for opening of the Pan-American peace conference.

UNITED STEEL TO WIN APPROVAL OF OTHERS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7. (U.P.) Extension of the United States Steel Corp.'s "cost of living" basis for wages to other industries was looked for today by labor department officials.

Approval of the plan was expected, also, from leaders of organized labor, whose chief complaint during increasing prosperity has been that wages failed to rise with increased cost of living.

Bureau of Labor statistics will be used by the U. S. Steel as basis for variations in wages. Under the arrangements wages of the steel concern will be raised or lowered a corresponding amount each time the bureau's statistics rise or fall five per cent.

These figures are prepared four times a year by experts who make extensive studies of prices of commodities and rents.

The index is now at 82 per cent of the so-called 1923-1925 normal. It rose 1.7 per cent when the bureau published its latest index on Sept. 15.

HUGE CROWDS INSPECTED THE NEW CHEVROLET

Hundreds of people saw the new 1937 Chevrolet on display at the A. G. Motor company Saturday in response to the announcement that was sent out throughout all Cisco's trade territory that a new car—completely new, would be on display in the show rooms.

A picture was made of one sale that was consummated while on-lookers stood by—that of a two-door sedan to Joe Lea and Wightman Moore.

You Can't Fool Everybody

All of us know what a pleasure it is to meet a person who is real—without pretensions, without affectations.

Yet few of us ever allow ourselves to appear to others as we really are.

BE YOURSELF! is certainly good advice from the venacular.

To affect a quality, and to plume yourself upon it, is just to confess that YOU HAVE NOT GOT IT.

Whether it is courage, or learning, or intellect, or wit, or a way with women, or riches, or social position, or whatever else it may be that a man boasts of, you may conclude by his boasting about it that it is precisely the direction in which he is rather weak.

For if a man possesses any faculty to the full, it will not occur to him to make a great show of it; he will be quite content to know that he has it.

This is the application of the Spanish proverb, "A clattering hoof is a nail gone."

Of course, no man ought to let the reins go entirely loose, and show himself just as he is, moles, scars, birthmarks and all.

There are, many of us know, evil sides to our nature which require "the negative attitude of dissimulation," but this does not justify a positive feigning of qualities which are not there.

It should be remembered always that affectation is easily recognized, even before it is clear what is being affected.

Affectation cannot last very long and one day the mask will fall off.

No person can preserve for long a fictitious character; for Nature will assert herself.

There is a maximum attributed to Napoleon, "Everything that is unnatural is imperfect."

It is a rule of universal application.

Condoning Criminals!

We are facing a strange condition in the United States. We are in an era of unequalled criminality, and along with it goes an attitude of unparalleled consideration for the criminal.

This is a period of weeping over the dilemmas of the devilish scant sympathy for their victims. This is an age of protecting the law breaker. A scowling scoundrel can choke a frail woman and five babies to death and folks will fill his cell with flowers, candy and books, and spend their good money telegraphing petitions for leniency for him.

We seem to have gone insane over the question of mercy. We somehow or other have become warped around and twisted about to where we feel that to condone somebody's wickedness is a gracious, lovely thing that must win us stars in our heavenly crowns. And this soft, silly mercy is a thing that makes the law breaker snicker in his sleeve. He likes it, he likes it as wolves like lambs, and cats like birds; he laps it up and thanks you kindly, and demands more.

But what does that absurd mercy attitude do to the folks who need protection from the assassins of peace? What does it do to the cause of law and order? Remitted fines, suspended sentences, verdicts of scot free where long terms should have been given, twelve months where twelve years are deserved, turning loose confirmed criminals with long criminal records. No wonder we have a world-wide reputation for being the most lawless of civilized nations; we have earned it.

Mercy is a beautiful trait, but mercy like anything else can be misapplied, perverted, and divorced from sense. Everyone should love mercy, but that does not mean that mercy is to be handed out indiscriminately. One can not expect to yield brainlessly to every merciful impulse.

To love mercy, to yearn to do mercy, yet to refuse mercy where mercy should be refused is more commendable than to be sentimentally, mawkishly, asininely merciful. The Bible commands us to love mercy but does not command us to be insanely merciful. We are plainly told to love mercy and do justice. To love mercy and do justice is to punish adequately where punishment is needed, no matter how sorry we may feel about it. "Vengeance is mine," saith the Lord; but in this sphere the Lord works largely through human agencies.

We are in a national state of mind where we do not need to worry about getting justice tempered with mercy. Our problem now is to get mercy tempered with justice.

Texas Highways Will Place 4 Million Aid

AUSTIN, Nov. 9.—With the threat of highway fund diversion thrust at temporarily into the background, the Texas Highway Department is making plans to place $4,000,000 in federal aid projects under contract in November. Notice that bids would be received followed closely on approval of the federal aid program by the federal bureau of public roads.

Present indications are that another heavy letting will be held in January or December and that the average letting for the next 12 months will be about $2,000,000. Had the diversion plan proposed in the legislature been carried out it is doubtful if the department could have made any substantial contract awards until March, when its revenues will be swelled by payment of motor vehicle registration fees.

In addition to escaping fund diversion at the recent special session, friends of an efficient highway system turned back another effort that would have caused considerable confusion. This was the novel proposal that rights-of-way of state highways be prospected for oil, the revenues to be paid to old age assistance funds. The traveler can readily imagine the difficulties he would encounter in a tour of the East Texas oil field, or any other major producing area, had this scheme been authorized. The motorist would have been forced to dodge guy wires, slush pits, drilling rigs and other impediments that attaches to drilling and producing an oil well.

The plan to authorize this type of oil development was ruled out of order by Speaker Coke Stevenson in the house after it had been added as an amendment in the senate. The point of order against it was raised by Rep. Sidney Latham of Longview, whose district is in the heart of the great East Texas field.

Thirty-three construction projects, involving work in nearly as many counties, were completed in September by the Highway Department. The work included 189.7 miles of grading, small drainage structures, base work and various types of surfacing, eight railroad grade separations and one major bridge structure. The added mileage brought to 20,797 the number of miles in the system of state maintained roads.

Prominently mentioned as a prospective appointee for the highway commission in capitol circles is Rep. Fred Mauritz of Ganado. During the special session a petition circulated in the house urging his appointment by Governor Allred was signed by more than 100 members. The petition was circulated by Rep. Morris Roberts who will assume his duties as state senator next January. It was signed by four of the five house members who will become senators at the 45th regular session.

Mr. Mauritz said he was not an applicant for the post but that he would deem service on the highway commission one of the highest honors that could be conferred on any citizen. For years he has been a road enthusiast and has contributed much in the campaign for an adequate highway system.

VIKING FORTRESS FOUND
STOCKHOLM (U.P.)—The remains of a 1,000-year-old Viking fortress has been found on the Swedish island of Gotland.

Ranger Boy Wins 4-H Rural Award

Howard Hinnan of Ranger has been awarded a gold medal of honor for making the best report of any 4-H club member in the county in a National 4-H Rural Electrification Contest conducted by extension agents.

The winner who was designated automatically entered in the state contest, in which the prize is a $50 merchandise certificate. Eight all-expense educational trips to the 15th National 4-H club congress to be held in Chicago November 27-December 5, will be awarded to that number of highest scoring state champions.

The three highest scoring of the eight will be awarded cash college scholarships of $400, $300 and $200 which are provided with all other prizes in the contest by Westinghouse Electric & Manufacturing company.

Contestants were required to submit a diagram showing the location of their farm with relation to the nearest "high line", and another plan showing how to wire their home and out buildings if not now wired. They were also required among other things to indicate what appliances they could use to advantage, and what they could add where they now have electricity.

Brownwood Offered 12c Turkey Price

BROWNWOOD, Nov. 9 (U.P.)—Several thousand turkeys gobbled excitedly today in coops and wagons along Brownwood's "produce row." Wholesalers were offering 12 cents a pound for first class birds, the same as is offered at Ft. Worth.

Barbecue Attendant Kills Football Boy

BEAUMONT, Nov. 9 (U.P.)—Mike Natale, manager of a barbecue stand was charged with murder here today in connection with the fatal shooting of Raymond Lightfoot, 21, former high school football player.

Diphtheria Yields To Immunization

AUSTIN, Nov. 9.—With sporadic cases of diphtheria being reported from various communities in Texas, Dr. John W. Brown, State Health Officer, has issued another warning to citizens to be on guard. The importance, the value, and the effectiveness of diphtheria immunization of children, he said, is a well established fact to the medical profession of today and it is possible to say, without reservation, that diphtheria is a preventable disease. "Since diphtheria immunization is now a procedure of proved value," Dr. Brown said, "it places the control of diphtheria in our hands, but the greatest obstruction to elimination of diphtheria is delay."

"Mass immunization in schools and clinics has demonstrated that the people of a community may control the number of cases of this preventable disease and that immunization is a simple and harmless procedure. However, the fact that 134 cases of diphtheria were reported to the State Health Department for the month of October shows that diphtheria is on the increase. The first week of October showed 27 new cases reported to the State Department, the second week showed 7, the third week 27, and the fourth or last week showed the alarming number of 63 new cases.

"The fact that diphtheria is most dangerous to the very young children makes immunization not only a school problem but a preschool problem. Parents who fail to observe a precaution which may prevent a fatal illness are taking a heavy responsibility. This immunizing agent is absolutely safe to administer. There is only a slight local reaction and practically no constitutional or trouble some after effects. It confers a life-time immunity in the majority of cases.

"It is hoped that every community, if it has not already done so, will commence to wage a campaign to have all preschool and school children immunized against diphtheria."

Few things that grow require all the care and cultivation it takes to raise the mild, ripe tobaccos in Chesterfield Cigarettes.

Proper curing by the farmer gives flavor to Chesterfield tobaccos just as it does to fine hams and bacon.

Old Age Pension
Law is Explained

AUSTIN, Nov. 9.—Our definite responsibility is to get assistance to the needy aged, and no deserving applicant or pension recipient in Texas should be afraid that we will overlook him, said Acting Director Orville S. Carpenter, of the Texas Old Age Assistance Commission, today explaining re-investigation procedure required by the new pension statute.

The new law, House Bill 8, takes away requirements concerning property, cash ownership, and income as bases for determining eligibility. Entire basis of the new assistance law is the need of the individual. Aid contributed by other individuals, whether cash or free rent, free board, free medical care, or clothes, must be taken into consideration.

Later Investigation
 "At present we are busy segregating cases in which recipients show no cash in the bank, no property owned, and no other income except that from the commission. These cases will not be re-investigated until later because the old people would evidently be in need if they were off the rolls," Carpenter declared.

House Bill 8 requires that all recipients now on the rolls be re-investigated.

Investigated Immediately
 "We have started already re-investigating each recipient on the rolls whose eligibility under the new law is doubtful, because he has income, property, or in receiving assistance from some individual. However, it should be remembered that we will look at each of these cases with the question in mind: "Is this old person in necessitous circumstances?" he added.

Those not on Rolls
 "Of the applicants—whose cases have not been investigated, or now are in the process of investigation, we will ascertain those whose applications reflect need and then get to them first. Many of our policies will be determined by the fact that winter is coming and that the needy aged must be taken care of now and not six months from now.

"The evident intent of the legislature was that assistance must go to the needy aged, and we will see that they get their grants as soon as possible," Carpenter said.

Later Investigation
 "At present we are busy segregating cases in which recipients show no cash in the bank, no property owned, and no other income except that from the commission. These cases will not be re-investigated until later because the old people would evidently be in need if they were off the rolls," Carpenter declared.

House Bill 8 requires that all recipients now on the rolls be re-investigated.

Investigated Immediately
 "We have started already re-investigating each recipient on the rolls whose eligibility under the new law is doubtful, because he has income, property, or in receiving assistance from some individual. However, it should be remembered that we will look at each of these cases with the question in mind: "Is this old person in necessitous circumstances?" he added.

Those not on Rolls
 "Of the applicants—whose cases have not been investigated, or now are in the process of investigation, we will ascertain those whose applications reflect need and then get to them first. Many of our policies will be determined by the fact that winter is coming and that the needy aged must be taken care of now and not six months from now.

"The evident intent of the legislature was that assistance must go to the needy aged, and we will see that they get their grants as soon as possible," Carpenter said.

King's Marriage His Private Affair, Erasmus' Counsel 4 Centuries Ago

NEW YORK, Nov. 7. (U.P.)—A king's marriage is his own private matter, and whoever will make him a good wife is honorable enough whatever her birth. This counsel, along with much else pertinent to 1936, was written four centuries ago by the great humorist, Erasmus, to his pupil, the future Emperor Charles V of Spain. It is contained in Erasmus' famous book, "The Education of a Christian Prince," now republished in its first complete English translation by Columbia University Press. The translation with an introduction, is by Lester K. Born.

The work was for centuries a textbook for the education of European rulers, and Erasmus himself sent a copy to the much-married Henry the Eighth of England. His advice to Prince Charles on picking a bride was this:

"For my part, I should think that it would be by far most beneficial to the state if the marriage alliance of princes were confined within the limits of their own kingdoms or, if they had to go beyond their boundaries, with only their nearest neighbors, and then only those who warrant faithful friendship. But, they say, it is not right for the daughter of a king to marry anyone except a king or a king's son. Those are merely the fancies of individuals to raise their own kin to as high a position as they can, and the prince should have no sympathy with them at all.

"The marriage of princes is really a private matter of their own. It is called the greatest of human affairs, so that we too often have a recurrence of what happened to the Greeks and the Trojans because of Helen.

"But if you please to make a choice becoming a prince, your wife should be selected from all women for her integrity, modesty and wisdom, and one who would be an obedient wife to a good prince and would bear him children worthy both of their parents and the state. She is honorable enough, whatever her birth, who will make a good wife for the good prince."

Erasmus added that a good prince "does not consider his own affairs prosperous unless he looks out for the welfare of the state." Warning that unwise alliances with foreign princesses often produced wars, he added:

"Although I am aware that this custom is too long accepted for one to hope to be able to uproot it, yet I thought it best to give my advice in case things should turn out beyond my hopes."
