Decisive Fighting Going On In Madrid EMPLOYEES' WAGE TAX TO BEGIN JAN. 1

About Our Friends

By STEPHEN A. LONG

Sunday was a lovely day... too lovely to stay inside... and so we went out. No, Mayor J. T. Berry called and taking our wives we hied away to Hamlin where we both lived a few years ago... He in the number business and we as superintendents of the city schools... it was indeed a happy outing... no better drive anywhere than by way of Albany and Stamford...

Crossing the bridge on Lake Cisco where we saw many duck swimming quietly on the smooth surface of the water where soon the echoes of guns will be driving shyness into those seemingly tame fowls... on through that lovely drive where pastures containing fat white faced cattle... hills and valley out-rivalling the beautiful scenery of sunny California... and on to Moran where we have many friends... Albany with clean, wide streets that were laid out when the west was young... when there was plenty of room for the little town that grew up a ranching community under shadow of old Fort Griffin, an outpost of civilization... a few soldiers guarded the frontier from Indian attacks and formed protection to the long line of wagons that brought flour, bacon, and ammunition from the east... trade for buffalo robes to take back home in payment...

And so up the hills that you expect to cross and then descend to our former level but when ascending you are just up on one of the steep steps of the foothills that lead the Cap Rock of the great plains untidy... You never come down... And in summer you find that a wind even here has increased almost a hurricane that makes you think of the Sweetwater writer who wrote "The Wind"...

Some fine farming country as you see at Stamford... vast, level farms cotton, feed and much of it sown in small grain... dark green almost too high for safety from

FIGHTING IS HEAVY IN AIR AND ON LAND

The nationalists were making a supreme bid today for the capture of Madrid. The fate of the capital was in doubt. Government defenders resisted with a ferocity that matched the fury of the attack of a great victory. An uncensored telephone conversation with a neutral source in Madrid indicated the nationalists were not in the city. Nevertheless, news from Madrid itself showed the defenders were hard pressed. If the nationalists were not actually in the city, they were driving ahead in all its outskirts along the western edge. United Press dispatches showed the fighting was hot and heavy. Aerial bombs, artillery, machine guns, rifles, and hand grenades kept up a continuous bombardment. Aerial attacks, which caused 150 deaths, and injured many Sunday, continued today. The extent of the new casualties was not known.

WARMING UP TO WINTER

Another polar bear bather? No, sir—E. and Alice Ryan of Newark, N. J., isn't wrapping that beach robe around her for comfort sake, either. It's modesty she's after. One of the early birds of the winter migration to Miami Beach, Fla., she quickly discovered that too many were already on hand to let her sunbathe in the er-raw.

Former Ciscoans Visit Here Sunday

Atha C. Kinsey, former Ciscoan, but now a conductor on the Southern Pacific with headquarters in El Paso, visited old friends in Cisco Sunday. Mrs. Kinsey will be remembered here as Miss Gilbert Walker, who has resided in Tucson, Arizona for the past several years.

Parking Regulation For Highway One

Chief of Police M. L. Purdue has issued an order relative to parking on Highway One which is to be temporarily opened to traffic Wednesday, Nov. 18. The order is that all center parking on the two business blocks of West Eighth street will change from center parking to 45-degree curb parking. This is now a state highway and not a street, therefore, highway regulations will be in force, the chief states. You must stop at all intersections before coming to a highway and you cannot double park on any highway. This is for your protection, Mr. Purdue says, and he therefore urges that all observe these regulations. After a two weeks travel of the new highway it will again be closed for topping.

Frank Langston Goes To Wichita Falls

Frank Langston, editor of the Cisco Press, has been employed by the Wichita Falls Post, and begins his duties today. It was stated, G. B. Langston said that he did not know details of the kind of work that his son would do nor how long the employment would last. Frank left for Wichita Falls Sunday.

LOCAL EMPLOYEES ARE RECEIVING FORMS TODAY FOR REGISTRATION IN OLD AGE SECURITY PROGRAM

Employees are receiving today from the postoffice a form known as the "Employer's Application for Identification Number," the first step in the Social Security Act old age benefit program. Blanks will be received by employers of one or more persons. Employers will be asked to state the city, county and state of his business, the name of the business, address, approximate number of persons employed, exact nature of business, principal products or services sold if not a manufacturer, and whether the firm is a branch or a subsidiary company, giving the name and address of headquarters. On Nov. 24 employees will receive a form called "Applications for Account Number." These are to be filled out and returned to the postmaster by Dec. 5, following which numbered tags will be issued to the employees. These tags are three by one inch in size and each employee's number is on it. The employee is told to keep this card and keep a record of the number of the card, which may be lost. This card is to be signed immediately and the number on it reported to the employer. This employee is to fill out the application for account number, giving his full name, address, the name and address of his or her present employer, age, when and where born, parents' names, sex, color, and number of registration card if you have registered with the United States Employment Service. A copy of the tax return to be filled out by employers also has been received. This return must show, by quarters, the total amount of wages subject to tax paid or payable during 1936. Eligible persons will receive benefits after 65, even though they have an income from savings or investments. Although farm workers and those in domestic employment are not included in the plan, persons following such occupations will become eligible if they should change to an eligible occupation.

DALHART SAYS 'BREAD BOWL' NOT 'DUST BOWL'

DALHART, Nov. 16 (UP)—Dalhart prepared today to make good its claim of being in the heart of the nation's "bread bowl" and to refuse descriptions of this area as "the dust bowl." Farmers, ranchmen, and officials from Texas, Oklahoma and New Mexico met here Saturday to discuss their problems. The meeting suggested two important changes: one to include the northwest Texas Panhandle in the western region of the 1936 soil conservation setup; and that the agricultural soil conservation rules applying to crops on the high plains be changed to permit farmers to obtain full payment of $1 an acre for soil building crops whether a cover crop is actually established or not.

TWO WIDOWS OF TEX. PIONEERS HONORED TODAY

DALLAS, Nov. 16 (UP)—Two frail aging women, widows of men who served Texas 100 years ago in its fight for independence, had seen the Texas Centennial today. Mrs. Mary Longly of Abilene, and Mrs. Mary Catherine Berry of Baird, rested after being the guests of Centennial officials Sunday.

Tennessee Visits Cisco and Kinfolk

Will Hayes of Limestone, Tenn., cousin of W. A. McCall and Charlie Hartman, and nephew of the late J. W. Hartman, spent the weekend in Cisco on his first visit to Texas. Sunday was spent in touring about the vicinity, where points of beauty were pointed out. The party visited the Lake and surrounding territory. Mr. Hayes was very impressed with the city and the message trees was something new to him. He left Sunday evening for Dallas, where he will visit the Centennial before returning to his home.

Increase in Oil is 18,519 Barrels Day

AUSTIN, Nov. 16 (UP)—Texas allowable oil production was increased 18,519 barrels a day by order of the State Railroad Commission today. The total allowable for the state as fixed in the order effective November 1 was 1,109,260 barrels.

MARY PICKFORD TO BE MARRIED TO BUD ROGERS

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 16 (UP)—Mary Pickford and Buddy Rogers, screen star and orchestra leader, will be married in the spring, it was learned today. A definite date for the wedding has not been set. The announcement, which will be made formally Friday or Saturday, establishes definitely the romance which has been rumored since Miss Pickford divorced Douglas Fairbanks, who she married after her divorce from Owen Moore. Rogers never has been married.

Swiss Gird to Resist Invasion

With France preparing to build fortifications along the Swiss and Belgian borders and ominous rumors rising of a possible German thrust through Swiss territory in event of a new war, Switzerland is enrolling, arming and training her troops with feverish haste. Here, facing towering peaks of their mountainous country, a detachment of Swiss soldiers, in tight marching order, is being instructed in the use of a new type of anti-aircraft gun.

WHOLE VILLAGE WIPED OUT BY DERANGED MAN

TIELAND, Alberta, Canada, Nov. 16 (UP)—The entire population of this frontier village was wiped out today in a feud which took six lives. Authorities said they believed Carl Sheets, deranged over the loss of his job as railway foreman, killed Carl Nelson, foreman, who replaced him; Nelson's family and two others.

To Attend Carter's Carbuertor School

Jack Elkins of Vaughn-Elkins Battery & Repair Shop left this weekend for St. Louis, where he will attend Carter's Carbuertor School for the next two weeks.

Wife Shocked Over Husband's Suicide

NEW YORK, Nov. 16 (UP)—Shocked over the death of her husband who plunged 14 stories from their apartment, put the former Adelaide Moffett, Standard Oil heiress, under the care of a physician today. The wealthy young David Brooks, whom she married July 13, started to open a window and toppled to the sidewalk Saturday night.

CHINESE TELEGRAPH PICKS UP SPEED; FINGER POINTS OUT 10,000 WORDS

SHANGHAI, Nov. 16 (UP)—Faster and more accurate telegraphic communication has been assured in China by the invention of a machine capable of sending and receiving 10,000 Chinese characters. For half a century Chinese communications officials have led a search for a time and trouble saving machine for use in the national telegraphic network. When the first telegraphic line in China was built between Peitang Port at Tangku and Tientsin 37 years ago, a number of Chinese characters were given numbers, and transmission was made in the number code. The system has been continued to the present, but has proved not only slow but subject to frequent inaccuracies. After examination of the new apparatus perfected by Wang Pailien, an obscure cable engineer of the Ministry of Communications, experts have announced the machine a success. Although 10,000 characters represent only a fraction of the total listing in a standard Chinese dictionary, the number is large enough for practical purposes. Like a Chinese typewriter, the sending apparatus of the new machine is equipped with a large table of Chinese characters framed under a rectangular plate glass. A movable pointer, mounted on a platform is used to designate the character to be sent. When the pointer has been placed above the desired character, transmission is made by pressing a button. The arrangement of the characters is according to strokes and derivatives, as in a Chinese dictionary, and a typist accustomed to the Chinese typewriter will have no difficulty in handling the new telegraphic machine. The receiving apparatus is similar to the popular teletype receiver.

'Sky High' Dress Rehearsal Tonight

There will be gloom in the show camp and conviction that the play will be a "top." That's all as it should be, for tonight's performance is dress rehearsal for the Parent-Teacher production. Tomorrow night the curtain will rise promptly at 8:17 o'clock and the play will move like clockwork. The actors will revise their verdict and agree with the audience which is sure to acclaim them. Don't miss this big show of 60 local people. It is full of comedy, romance thrills and even a few tears. Buy your reserved seats at the City Drug store and get choice seats for "Sky High" to be given at the Cisco High School Auditorium Tuesday and Wednesday, Nov. 17 and 18 at 8:17 p. m.

BETTER TIMES INDICATED BY MORTGAGE FILE

Better business conditions for persons in various occupations are interpreted in the increase of chattel mortgages filed in the county clerk's office the first 10 months this year over a similar period in 1935. Miss Genevieve Truly, deputy clerk, checked the books and the results showed an increase of approximately 25 per cent over last year. A total of 5,966 chattel mortgages were filed the first 10 months of this year, compared to 4,863 for a similar period in 1935. The figures are interpreted as showing people are in better shape this year and credit conditions easier. The increase also shows a big pickup in installment buying of things which the average person can do without when times are hard. Chattel liens against furniture, refrigerators and washing machines reveal a pickup in demand for home goods, officials say. Automobile liens are numerous in the recordings, too, registration of new cars in the county indicate.

GREEN WANTS A.F.L. SETTLE INTERNAL WAR

TAMPA, Fla., Nov. 16 (UP)—President William Green challenged the American Federation of Labor's 56th annual convention today to settle its internal warfare "on the basis of facts" and to lead the nation's workers in a "strong campaign toward a higher wage level and better living conditions." "Labor stands at the threshold of a new day," Green told 500 delegates assembled to decide whether an end to the John L. Lewis rebellion shall be sought by conciliatory methods, or by ruthless warfare. Green declared the determination of union leaders to battle the Lewis uprising when he said the federation would never "abandon our economic philosophy to follow untried experimentation."

Prosperity Ahead—And for Cisco!

"Flood of money flows to workers and shareholders," is the headline of a state newspaper Sunday. And it continues further with the statement that cash disbursements will reach millions before Christmas, thus making it probable that this will be a very happy one, both for the people who will have something to spend and with which to buy Christmas cheer, and the businessmen who will revel in the increased business.

Prospects do look very favorable for a few years now of unusually good times. Practically all people who want to work are provided with employment. It is very hard now to find a laborer who is idle to spade your garden or do an odd job. The immense spending by the government has done by this means what other countries of the world are doing by revolution. Bringing prosperity and ending unemployment. After all, the millions spent by our own government to quell the unrest of the masses which in 1932 had almost reached the point of revolutionary measures, have been a cheap price compared to the millions that European countries have had to pay in addition to bloodshed and carnage. All countries have paid. Those who have not actually engaged in war or revolution have quieted their people by war preparation. They have given them employment and saved themselves to some extent while we have built roads, public buildings, parks, saved the fertility of the soil through erosion projects, have added to our country's wealth and now are emerging into prosperity without the carnage of bloodshed.

Laws recently passed that will limit the hoarding of wealth will be the means of much spending by the rich. They will put that money into circulation and aid prosperity through that means because the government will demand it and circulate it for them if they do not do so themselves. No longer can a rich corporation hold its funds as a vast reserve and thus limit the circulation of money—a cause of the depressed times just passed.

So big corporations have been declaring dividends all this month. A very good state of affairs, indeed. The big problem of any government is to keep its money circulating among its people. Money naturally gravitates to a few who, when they hoard it, leave only a limited amount of money with which to do business. This always brings about depressed times. The more money is circulating the more prosperous the community, is a matter of economic principles that all men who have given it any study at all, know.

So within the coming months we are going to find more investments into real values, not so much stock gambling as usual in optimistic times but investments into things that make for the nation's wealth. Money is going to be rather plentiful, fairly easy to get and low interest rates to those who can show a reasonable excuse for borrowing money. Business will expand and with this expansion will come opportunities for employment for those who are fitted for the tasks and are willing to give a return in energy for wages expected. Government work has lowered the morale of the worker. There is no gainsaying that. Thousands will be unwilling to give a fair days work in return for good wages, but this fact is going to make it all the better for the man or woman who is willing to play fair at the game of employment.

Business concerns who go after business will find it ready to be captured. A few years of prosperity is just ahead for the asking. Many will ask and they will be amply rewarded. Cisco merchants have the same opportunity as others. Business will be here but will not fall into your laps. Many will be scrambling for opportunities and for us it will be the same immutable law as always—The survival of the fittest.

DAILY NEWS—AMERICAN AND ROUNDUP

HALF-ACRE in EDEN

BEGIN HERE TODAY
MARCIA CAMPFIELD, daughter of wealthy PHILIP CAMPFIELD, knows that the neighborhood is buzzing with gossip over the sudden disappearance of FRANK KENDRICK, whose engagement to Marcia has been announced. Since his disappearance, a shortage in Kendrick's business accounts has been discovered. Refusing to let others know how deeply she has been hurt, Marcia goes to the dramatic club rooms and is given the leading part in the forthcoming play, "DOROTHY OSBORN," who, as Frank Kendrick, is given a less important part.

CHAPTER V
MARCIA did not speak until the Waddells maid had left coffee on a low table where she and Helen sat before the fireplace. After two months of enduring the knowledge of Frank Kendrick's thefts and disappearance, Helen's news that his whereabouts had been discovered, by mere chance, came as a sudden and unexpected blow, paralyzing coherent thought.

An automaton could not have added sugar and cream to a cup with less consciousness than did Marcia. She stirred, drank, put down the cup with a hand become mechanical. Yet her first words to Helen indicated that her confusion was already settling, that she was seeking a channel leading toward a solution of the problem presented.

"The first thing that popped into my mind, just now," she said slowly, "was the possibility of amnesia. That's always the pleasantest explanation. But I think the embellements rule that out."

"Frank as a busboy? What does that indicate to you, Helen? Not only that he's short of money—stranded, feeling himself cut off not only from his old life, but from every manner of his old life. I pity him with all my heart!"

"For weeks," Marcia continued, looking into the fire, "all of us who knew Frank have been wondering where on earth he could be. Now that he's found, who is clever enough to know what to do about him?"

Helen nodded, but was silent.

"I MEAN," Marcia said, "that there is a problem of procedure to say the least. Your information—our information, now—properly belongs to a lot of people. To the people who lost money through him."

"We really owe it to all those people to tell them. But, then what? Should they hold a meeting to decide what to do, since all have an equal interest and therefore equal rights? Somehow, the idea is ridiculous."

"Should you and I handle the thing ourselves? Or should we take somebody else or two or three somebodies else into our confidence?"

But Helen was staring into the fire, as perplexed as Marcia herself.

"As Frank's jilted fiancée I wasn't supposed to know," Marcia went on, "but I do know, that a couple of weeks after he went away a group of people who had lost money through him made inquiries about the possibility of getting him back here in case he should be found—just as he has been found now. Their idea was that they'd like to compel him to come home to straighten out his affairs and to help them salvage what they could, without bringing charges against him. In other words, if he were found and wouldn't return voluntarily, they wanted the state to step in, bring him back and then step out again. But they learned that the state would very quickly take charge of the whole affair if it were ever taken to the authorities. And that would certainly mean prosecution, which no one wanted."

Marcia lifted the receiver and called a New York number. "I want the first available seat on a plane to Chicago," she said into the transmitter.

Helen nodded again.

"Which means," she responded, "that although it isn't what you'd call a strictly private matter, still it is strictly unofficial, and no one concerned wants to make it otherwise. As you say, there's a question of procedure. . . . Marcia, this is too delicate a case for delicate words. Plainly speaking, I feel that you're the person most concerned and therefore most to be considered. What do you want done? Wouldn't it be best to drop the whole thing? Wouldn't it save all sorts of pain and trouble and ill feeling, to you most of all, to keep this news to ourselves? Why shouldn't we send word to Frank, through my cousin in Chicago, that we alone know where he is and that we'll keep the secret, while he makes amends as best he can?"

MARCIA leaned back in her chair and closed her eyes wearily. Just to think was becoming more and more painful.

that you can take it, let me continue in candid vein and remind you of the village we live in. Don't you imagine you'll suffer from the gossip? Heaven only knows how the thing has been kept as secret as has been done. There's no use denying that rumors are going around everywhere, and rumors breed faster and faster. They'd feed on Frank's return, even more than on his absence. And the gossip can't exclude you."

"The gossip has included me already," Marcia reminded her. "It was a bit of a task to face so many people at the Stagecraft Guild trouts last night, as a matter of fact. Probably I don't like to be gossiped about any more than anyone else does, but it's all in a lifetime, literally."

"Right. And what's to be done?"
"After all my talk, I don't know. If you don't mind, I think I'll ask Dad's advice. He's a clever father. He'll know what to do and how to do it, if anybody does."

She stood up.
"Meanwhile, let's pretend the problem doesn't exist. Shall we go on over to Mrs. Henderson's for our play scripts?"

EARLY in the afternoon Marcia, at home, was called to the telephone. Her father's secretary was on the wire.

"Mr. Campfield had to leave on a matter in Miami. He just had time to catch the plane. He wanted me to tell you that he would call you by long distance, at the first opportunity, and let you know just how long he would be away. A week or 10 days, he thought."

Marcia remained beside the telephone, considering. A week or 10 days! Much too long a time to delay in Frank's case. Without her father's advice, how could she act?

Suddenly she lifted the receiver again and called a New York number.

"I want the first available seat on a plane to Chicago," Marcia said into the transmitter.

In 20 minutes she had packed a bag, left orders with the servants, and was in the car, being driven to the station to take the train to New York. With 60 seconds to spare, the chauffeur pulled up alongside the platform and Marcia stepped down. No time to buy a ticket in the station; she would pay on the train. Fifty-five seconds. She started across the platform, the chauffeur following with her bag. Fifty seconds.

"Well, hello, Marcia!"
It was Dorothy Osborn. The acid Dorothy, who had commented, for the benefit of all at the Stagecraft Guild trouts, concerning Marcia's romance with Frank Kendrick.

Forty-five seconds.
"Hello, Dorothy."
"Leaving us?"
"For a day or so."
Forty seconds.
"Where you going?"
"Oh—Schenectady."
"Oh! Didn't know you knew anybody there."

"Didn't you? In Schenectady? Oh, yes. My aunt—Aunt Priscilla. The one who's out on parole."
"Parole? Your aunt! My dear—"

"Homicide," said Marcia. "But she didn't know the gun was loaded."
"All aboard!" said a trainman. (To Be Continued)

THE LARGEST KNOWN HAILSTONE
FELL IN HEIDGRABEN, GERMANY, AUGUST 19, 1928.
ITS WEIGHT IS UNKNOWN, BUT THE DIMENSIONS IN INCHES, WERE FOUND TO BE 9.8 BY 5.5 BY 4.7.

THE PIONEERS DID NOT INVENT THE SOD HOUSE!

INDIANS BUILT SOD HOUSES BEFORE THE APPEARANCE OF WHITE MEN.

A SINGLE HAIR OF A SHEEP'S WOOL, WHEN SEEN UNDER A MICROSCOPE, IS NOTCHED LIKE A SAW!
WOOL, KNEADED AND BEATEN, IS HELD TOGETHER BY THE INTERLOCKING OF THE NOTCHES, AND FELT IS THE RESULT.

The Heidgraben hailstone was not weighed, but according to the dimensions, it would have weighed around four pounds. It was made of ordinary ice. However, hail is composed of snow, with considerable air space in it, and the weight is lessened. A one-and-a-half-pound hailstone fell in N. on July 6, 1928.

THIS CURIOUS WORLD

ABRAHAM LINCOLN CALLED HIS CABINET MEMBERS INTO SESSION ON SEPT. 22, 1862, FOR THE PURPOSE OF READING THE IMPORTANT PAPER NOW KNOWN AS THE EMANCIPATION PROCLAMATION. BUT FIRST HE READ THEM TWO CHAPTERS FROM THE HUMOROUS WRITINGS OF ARTEMUS WARD.

CACTUS GROWS RUDIMENTARY LEAVES BEFORE IT GROWS SPINES.

A CAMEL SWEATS ONLY ON THE BACK OF ITS NECK.

IN the early history of life, cacti had no spines. The spines gradually took the place of leaves, due to the necessity for protection, and to the arid conditions under which the plant was to live. But, even now, the tender rudimentary leaves make a brief appearance before the spines rush out.

America's All-Star Eleven

60 yard dashes... passes and punts... touchdowns... performance! That's how America picks 'em. By wire and air-mail, fans rush to the football experts the tip... "Here's another sure-fire All-American."

And when you pick the all-star cigarette eleven, it's performance again — it's what a cigarette does that counts

T-H-E-Y S-A-T-I-S-F-Y

Eleven letters that spell all the good things a cigarette can give... mildness... a pleasing taste and aroma... a blend of mild ripe home-grown and Turkish tobaccos rolled in pure cigarette paper

—the essentials of a good cigarette

THEY SATISFY

INTELLIGENT performance combined with unquestioned integrity, has helped us to prove to the community that we are worthy of trust.
