LOYALISTS FIGHTING BLOODY BATTLE

Lobo Band Members, 'Exes' Enjoy Banquet

FRESHMEN AND MAGICIAN ARE PROGRAM HITS

About eighty band members, "exes" and guests enjoyed the unusual program incident to the annual Lobo band banquet at the Laguna roof Friday night when an extempore feature by freshmen band members and the magic of King Felton, noted stage manipulator delighted the audience with a performance varied and outstanding by the unique turns, ending with games and dancing until a late hour.

Friday Nov. 27, marked the annual celebration of the Cisco Lobo band banquet and initiation of freshmen members to full membership in the band. President Frank Yarger presided over the tables festively decorated with an abundance of mistletoe and tinsel roping.

About eighty members "exes" and guests enjoyed the turkey dinner with all the trimmings. Group singing was led by Rev. Applewhite, and the extempore performances of the freshmen, Harry Grey, F. E. Sage, Eldon Anderson and Glean Boyd were especially hilariously received in a vocal quartet, as were Jessie Lee Haynie, Mary Olive Garrett and Bobbie McWhorter singing "Let Me Call You Sweetheart".

Dr. James F. Hardie, Presbyterian Revivalist, presided over the banquet. He gave a two-minute lecture on "Why Blackberries are red when they are green" and Glenn Bailey finally admitted his good looks were a great factor in winning the girls.

The freshmen were then asked to draw from a box of cards on which were instructions for their next performances, which were imitations ranging from the "Cat's serenade on the back fence," to the "Radio announcer."

The group was adjourned for fifteen minutes while the floor was cleared and the stage set for a thirty minute program of magic and legerdemain by King Felton. No one was able to believe his eyes as the nimble fingers of the magician produced billiard balls and coins from the air and made chains and chairs from steel hoops, looping and interlocking them in seemingly impossible fashion.

Games and dancing to records and warring over King Felton's tricks filled the evening until good nights were said and all felt assured that the banquet was a complete success.

Will Preach at Presbyterian Meet

DR. JAMES F. HARDIE, Presbyterian Revivalist

PRESBYTERIAN REVIVAL WILL BEGIN TODAY

There will be revival services at the First Presbyterian church beginning Sunday November 29th and continuing each morning at 10 and each evening at 7:30. Dr. James F. Hardie pastor of the Broadway Presbyterian church in Fort Worth is to do the preaching and the local pastor, Rev. M. H. Applewhite is to lead the singing.

Dr. Hardie is an outstanding pastor and evangelist and the people of Cisco are most fortunate to have him at this particular time. He recently moved to Fort Worth from Charlottesville, N. C., where he was pastor for several years.

MORE ARRESTS BY RANGERS IN BLANTON CASE

SAN PERLITA, Nov. 28 (UP)—The killing of a Mexican hunting guide, Fernando Ramirez, 50, stirred new excitement in Can Perita today as Texas Rangers continued their search for Luther Blanton and his son, John, who disappeared more than a week ago.

The officers were unable to connect the two cases immediately, but were investigating the possibility that Ramirez knew something concerning the disappearance of Blanton and his son.

Five Mexicans, four men and a woman, were arrested for questioning. Justice of the Peace, Frank Wilson began an inquest hearing and heard the testimony of Dr. C. C. Conley that Ramirez had been dead since four o'clock this morning.

The Blantons disappeared more than a week ago, after leaving their farm home to hunt in the forbidden game preserve of the one million acre King ranch.

Ramirez, besides farming a small winter garden, served as a hunting guide for deer hunters on a 500 acre tract owned by a Harlingen business man.

BIRDWELL WILL HEAD TEACHERS ASSOCIATION

Lions Deter Minstrel For Elk's Program

The Lions minstrel which was scheduled for December 10 and then since it was found to conflict with important events in the city was changed to December 17, has been indefinitely postponed until after Christmas holidays on account of another important conflict with that of the Elks' Christmas Charity event also scheduled for December 17.

Where Chicago 'L' Wreck Took Shocking Toll

With at least nine dead and more than 60 injured, Chicago authorities sought explanation of the 'L' railway crash pictured above, one of the most appalling in the city's history.

A North Shore electric express, traveling at high speed, sliced 40 feet through the 50-foot wooden coach shown center, crushed it into matchwood against the steel coach ahead and hurled 70 passengers on the 'L' local to the tracks and the street below.

Apartment dwellers nearby rushed to aid the injured, lying screaming along the right-of-way, and gave first aid until the victims could be removed to hospitals. Firemen, one of whom is seen in the middle of the shattered coach, prevented a blazer after the collision. The motorman of the express train was held for questioning.

Peace Agenda Bracketts Tariffs, Neutrality Vital Parley Issues

Eyes of World on American Policy To Avert War

By HARRY W. FRANTZ, United Press Staff Correspondent. WASHINGTON, Nov. 28 (UP)—Discussion of the rules of neutrality at the Buenos Aires Conference will be of worldwide interest as reflecting current current expert opinion on this most difficult chapter of international law.

The agenda provides for "consideration of the rules regarding the rights and duties of neutrals and belligerents" and the United States already has indicated its special interest in deliberations on this topic. The American government in recent years has taken world leadership in revising and modernizing concepts of neutrality, generally in the direction of less sweeping demands for "freedom of the seas" than were upheld in the period of the World War.

Congress has supported executive opinion in an abridgement of the rights claimed by the United States. O. L. Davis of San Benito was elected second vice president by acclamation.

Indianapolis Flies President's Flag On Many Cruises

WASHINGTON, Nov. 28 (UP)—The cruiser Indianapolis long has been favored by President Roosevelt as his personal cruise ship, and has the necessary facilities for his comfort and convenience.

The President embarked on the Indianapolis at Campobello on July 9, 1933, and cruised on it until arrival at Annapolis, Mr. August 1.

In September, 1933, the Indianapolis took Secretary of Navy Swanson for an inspection of naval stations in the Canal Zone, Territory of Hawaii, and 1934, this cruiser was assigned as the West Coast, and in January flagship of the commander, Scouting Force.

Latin Republics Seek to Lower Trade Wall

By GALE W. WALLACE, United Press Staff Correspondent. BUENOS AIRES, Nov. 28 (UP)—One of the most important of the economic problems to be discussed at the Interamerican Peace Conference which opens here Dec. 1 will be the question of tariffs and their effect upon the relations among the nations of the Americas.

This topic arises at a time when most Latin-American nations have embarked upon programs of protective and revenue-producing tariffs. The growing nationalist spirit in many of these countries has caused them to adopt tariffs to protect industries which might not survive in competitive world markets, but which are encouraged because they accomplish the desired effect of making the nation less dependent upon foreign producers.

Although business interests would like to see readjustments of tariffs between the nations, there is some doubt expressed that this will be accomplished by the conference. In all likelihood the conference will favor tariff truces that would have the effect of postponing for the time being any increase in import imposts. Objections may arise from the fact that the general tariff level of the United States is higher than those of most Latin-American countries.

MEN ENGAGE IN HAND TO HAND FIGHTS

MADRID, Nov. 28. (UP)—A loyalist army of miners and militiamen in a determined offensive, is fighting the bloodiest battle of the entire civil war against nationalists in Asturias, Spain's "bloody province," dispatches said Saturday.

Airplanes are fighting airplanes, tanks are fighting tanks, and the men in the lines are fighting hand to hand without quarter, it was said, apparently is the biggest loyalist offensive of the war.

Loyalists claimed a gain in the first phase of the fighting. The main objective is to capture Oviedo and to kill General Miguel Aranda, nationalist commander on that front and the most hated man in all Spain.

ITALY GERMANY AND JAPAN AGREE

MOSCOW, Nov. 28. (UP)—Italy, in common with Germany, is ready today to enter an agreement with Japan against communism, Maxim Litvinov, Foreign Commissar told the All-Union Congress of the Soviets today.

"I have information, and I say it with a sense of the fullest responsibility," Litvinov said, "that Italy recently proposed to Japan the same agreement, which has been published between Germany and Japan."

REBELS HAVE LOST

MADRID, Nov. 28. (UP)—General Emilio Kieber, mystery man of the civil war, asserted today the nationalists had lost their fight for Madrid, and if they entered the city they could not hold it.

His men already dispersed for an expected supreme attack by the nationalists, Kieber said he did not believe the nationalists could get into the city at all, unless Adolf Hitler and Benito Mussolini sent German and Italian troops to aid them.

Starling Favors Turkey Idea!

The Junior Chamber of Commerce is busy at the "Buy It in Cisco" movement which it expects to emphasize, especially after the first of the year, said President A. D. Starling this morning in discussing another project which he favors for the merchants to cooperate in, if sponsored by his civic body. That of giving away turkeys each Saturday until Christmas.

There are many turkeys in the Cisco trade territory that were not put on the Thanksgiving market because of the low price offerings for the fine birds grown in this section. Now, it was proven last year that throwing turkeys on the street would bring both town and rural population to the main street if such a project is advertised to the people. Crowds thronged the streets last year in response to the publicity given by the Daily News in its own sponsored event last fall. If this body should sponsor such an undertaking, the merchants could well afford to finance the event if they want people to come to town and they certainly do want that.

Mr. Starling thinks his chamber of commerce would be glad to take the lead in a turkey throwing, or giving away, in some form, to be decided on by the body at a meeting for the purpose, if the proposal meets with the approval of the merchants and that could only be known by a confab with the merchants of the city. The cost would be very slight for a few turkeys each week and the money turned loose to the farmers would circulate in Cisco for holiday buying.

If you favor the undertaking speak your sentiments. It is almost the first of December and any stimulation for holiday crowds and buying must be started at once if it is to be effective this season.

New Discoveries May Prolong Life!

When Morse first tried out the telegraph he sent this message: "What hath God wrought." And each day we are made to exclaim in the same manner, for scientists are moving forward by leaps and bounds. Someone may unthoughtfully say that the human race is getting too smart. But not so. God intended that we should have his mysteries unfold to us as we become able to understand them and to turn them to account. We are of the opinion that man makes no great scientific discovery until such time as God wants us to make it.

Unlike what was once common Meas, we do not think wisdom comes from the devil but from our Creator, who made this world for His own glory and identification. Surely it could not be His pleasure for us to remain dumb and not develop into a more glorious creation and to make these forward steps as our advancement is able to turn them to our betterment.

And so scientists have just run across a discovery in the laboratory of Dr. Franklin C. McClean in the University of Chicago that may stay the declining years of those who are of benefit to the world. It has always seemed a tragic thing in the life of mankind that just as we have lived to such old age as to have accumulated some wisdom, nature calls for our death and we pass on to the other life without being able to use the wisdom for the good of humanity. But now through this discovery of science we may be able to stay off old age for a season and our wisdom may be of value to the world.

Here it is. The bones of animals generate a young cell called an osteoblast, which becomes a middleaged cell called an osteoclast, which becomes an aged cell called a fibroblast which ultimately dies. Dr. Franklin McClean and his co-workers fed parathyroid extract to aged fibroblasts and turned them into baby osteoblasts. This may develop into a means of prolonging life to the biblical length of ancient patriarchs.

A Canada mother expecting her 10th baby reports threatening letters. As yet, no suspicion has been attached to the people upstairs.

MARCIA CANFIELD, daughter of wealthy PHILIP CANFIELD, known the neighborhood in business circles as the sister daughter of FRANK KENDRICK, whose engagement to Marcia has been announced. Since his disappearance, a shortage in Kendrick's funds has been discovered. Marcia has been advised by HILSON WARD, DELL, and others, Marcia is in a predicament when there is a hold-up on the money that was her mother's.

Chicago, she encounters BRUCE McDUGALL, a stranger, who volunteers a slight service. Marcia is also a passenger on the plane. Marcia takes to return home. A few weeks later she has decided to make his home in the suburbs.

CHAPTER XVI
MARCIA STOOD by the window, looking out at the city below. She thought of the robbery of the Dog Wagon when this man, it was now clear, had somehow assisted the actual bandits, and of the loss of her mother's ring, by odd chance returned. She thought of the stripping of her own home on Christmas afternoon, and of the audacious holdup of the benefit bridge party at which a hundred women of the town had lost all the jewelry they wore.

"What can we do," she demanded. "But tell the police! You have been robbing the town right and left! You all carry guns; it's a wonder you haven't murdered someone! The trouble is not what to do with you; it's how to protect your father and brother. The pause brought him no help. Then an idea occurred to him. "I wouldn't be the first guy who made a mistake," he said slowly, his face peculiarly ugly with his thought. "That you didn't put the cops on. Don't you think I know everybody in town is wise by now to what he did? He stole everything he could lay his hands on and then he beat it, but you never called the cops for him!"

Marcia stiffened at the impertinence. And then, as suddenly, she wanted to laugh, hysterically. But she sobbed, immediately, angrily and Carlo as quickly regretted his tactics.

"Look here," he pleaded. "I've got a wife. I've got the old man and Tony. Think of them, not me. I've made my mistakes, yes, but I'm no crook. I just got mixed up with the wrong people."

Marcia had no answer, but the door opened for Tony at the moment. He had put on his overcoat. Buttoning it and pulling gloves from his pocket, he looked at his brother.

"You'd better come along and get this over with," he said at last. "Come along—where?" asked Carlo, forcing his voice to be hard. "To tell the police who the rest of the gang are."

"You can't do that!" cried Carlo shrilly. "I can't do anything else," Tony retorted. "I'm not feeling sorry for you. I'm feeling sorry for myself. I'm worrying about keeping it from the old man."

"I am thinking of him! You've given me that to worry about. If I could let you off I'd do it, for his sake. But if I let you off, I'd be letting your whole gang off. I'm a citizen here, if that means anything to you. I've got to turn you in and your gang with you. And then I've got the job of keeping the old man ignorant."

MARCIA was aghast at the drama being enacted before her. Brother and brother! She longed for an easier solution than the stern one which Tony's logical mind, with what suffering she did not know, had fixed upon, but she knew there could be no other. The thief's forgotten cigarette burned his fingers. He turned to the sink and stamped out the glowing end. Through the window he saw the world—a wide, free world. "I could warn them off," he promised. "If I told them things were hot out here they wouldn't come back." His manner swept Marcia's sympathy aside.

"Well, they'd certainly not get religion just because of that," she said impatiently. "They'd simply transfer their work to some other place. How can you expect us to let that happen for your sake?" Carlo nodded in miserable acquiescence.

"Let me go up and say hello to the old man," he said. "Tony's right—he mustn't hear of this. Just let me go up and see him. When I come down we can talk over what to do. Whatever I've got coming to me, you can't let my wife and the old man suffer."

He pushed past them and closed the door. Tony and Marcia waited in silence, wretchedly aware of what they had to do.

"There's nothing we can do but tell the police, is there?" asked Tony dully, without hope. "I'll have to be awfully careful the old man doesn't hear."

"I wish I knew of something else, Tony," said Marcia. "It's hard for you and for your brother's wife."

The sound of an automobile starter came from the street. Startled, too late in suspecting, they rushed to the front door. Carlo was leaving Bobbs Neck.

TONY STELLICCI spent more than an hour in private conference with the police chief that afternoon. Telling all he knew, or guessed, of his brother's activities, he pleaded for secrecy, for his father's sake, as long as possible. The police immediately visited Carlo's garage; the identity of the two other outside men in the bandit gang, they thought, was plain. But Carlo's employees, too, had fled. Whether Carlo had stopped at the garage or passed somewhere long enough to telephone a warning, the police never knew, but Bobbs Neck had seen the last of the trio.

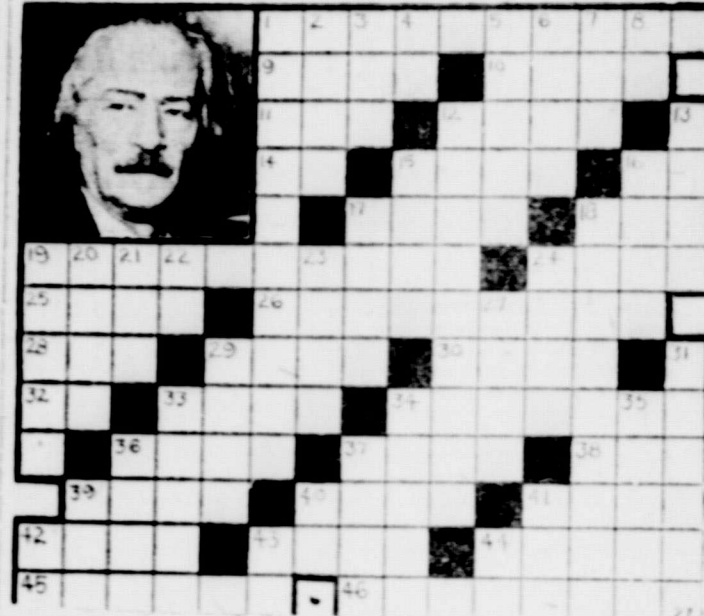

The police congratulated themselves that this must spell the end of the series of holdups. They continued to wonder about the four actual bandits—the outside talent which, obviously now, had had Carlo and his men for Bobbs Neck pilots. But, lacking any leads from the three who had become fugitives, they didn't think it likely that they would again encounter the four strangers.

With so many people in town able to identify them, and with their assistants no longer available, the quartet, said the police, would raid the town no more. The police were immensely relieved. The tops of their trade did not include a crystal ball.

Rodney Dutcher Tells How Social Security Operates; Affects 26,000,000 After Jan. 1

By RODNEY DUTCHER, Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Nov. 28.—You might, out of moment, be pardoned for supposing that Congress had met secretly in the woods at night to pass the Social Security Act and that the president had furtively signed it, thereupon tucking the law into a desk drawer, where it remained until it was dragged out as a red-hot campaign issue.

Requests for information keep pouring into newspaper offices and the headquarters of the Social Security Board (SSB) in Washington. Immediate interest is especially aroused by the contributory old age benefits system, which goes into effect Jan. 1 for an estimated 26,000,000 and making them understand what the plan is all about is one of the great information-spreading tasks of history.

Cataloguing those men and women, seeing that they and their employers all pay the sums required to finance the scheme, and then seeing that each beneficiary gets what's coming to him is a job the magnitude of which exceeds anything of the kind ever undertaken.

It's a job, incidentally, where the biggest and hardest part will have to be done before the U. S. Supreme Court decides whether it's all constitutional.

Here are Chief Features: Main features of the Social Security Act are the following: 1. Old age benefits through an employer-employee contributory system.

2. A federal-state unemployment compensation system.

3. Public assistance through grants to states for aid to persons over 65, the needy blind, and dependent children.

4. The end of November will find those 26,000,000 workers in factories, mines, stores, offices, and on other business and industrial jobs, receiving from their employers application blanks which must be filled out and given to postmasters for transit to Washington by Dec. 5.

Each blank is an application for assignment of a number to the individual's "social security account" which is kept by the SSB.

Beginning Jan. 1 the government will collect a tax from both employers and employees on the workers' wages up to $3000 a year.

For three years workers will pay 1 per cent per dollar of wages and the rate gradually rises until it becomes 3 per cent in 1949.

The employer, who forwards all the money involved in the tax, contributes a sum equal to all the taxes his employees pay.

Maximum is $85. What the worker finally receives in monthly benefit payments as a result of these contributions after he is 65 depends on the amount of wages or salary he receives between January 1 and his 65th birthday. Minimum monthly payment is $10

HOW AMERICAN PEOPLE ARE AFFECTED BY FEDERAL, STATE PROGRAM FOR SOCIAL SECURITY

- WAGE-EARNERS: 38 million men, 11 million women. May be eligible for: 1. Retirement Benefits, 2. Unemployment Compensation, 3. Maternal and Child Health Services, 4. Public Health Services, 5. Vocational Rehabilitation, 6. Aid to Needy Aged, 7. Aid to Needy Blind. ADULTS NOT WAGE-EARNERS: 5 million men, 31 million women. May be eligible for: 1. Aid to the Needy Aged, 2. Aid to the Needy Blind, 3. Maternal and Child Health Services, 4. Public Health Services, 5. Vocational Rehabilitation. CHILDREN (Under 16 years): 19 million boys, 19 million girls. May be eligible for: 1. Aid to Dependent Children, 2. Maternal and Child Health Services, 3. Services to Crippled Children, 4. Child Welfare Services, 5. Public Health Services.

and maximum $65, since, for purposes of the act earnings in excess of $3,000 a year aren't counted as "wages."

Examples: Worker who earns an average of $30 a week, or $1560 a year, for 30 years after 1936 before he becomes 65 will receive government checks of $50.75 a month for the rest of his life after he is 65.

If he dies before receiving any monthly payments his family will receive 3 1/2 per cent of these wages, or $1638. If he works but 19 years at an average of $30 weekly before reaching 65, his monthly check will be $25.50 and the death payment would be $546. Ten years' work at $15 a week would mean $19 a month after 65.

All benefits will come out of the Treasury's "Old Age Reserve Account." Lump sums equivalent to 3 1/2 per cent of total wages are paid to workers who reach 65 before they quality for monthly benefits, which will not be paid until 1942. These and death lump sum payments will begin to become payable in 1937.

How to Figure Benefit: If you don't get an application blank from your employer, call around for one at the postoffice. If you want to figure out what your monthly benefit will be after 65, estimate your total wages (not above $300 annually) between now and your 65th birthday.

The percentage of those total wages payable as the monthly rate of benefit will be one half of 1 per cent on the first $3,000, plus one twelfth of one per cent on the next $42,000 and one twenty-fourth of 1 per cent on all over $45,000.

To receive the $85 maximum your total wages would have to be about $130,000. For each month in which you are regularly employed after 65

RENO INTERESTS PALESTINE: RENO, Nev. (UP)—Reno is beginning to attract attention. The latest request for information was from the Chamber of Commerce for Tel Aviv and Jaffa, Palestine. The data, it was said, were desired for the chamber's library to meet demands for information about Reno.

CANDIDATE SPENDS 3 CENTS: FALL RIVER, Mass. (UP)—Campaign expenses for Arthur Sunderland, unsuccessful candidate for representative, totaled 3 cents. He explained that the sum represented the postage stamp used to mail his expenditures to the secretary of state.

DOUKHOBORS PREFER JAIL: NELSON, B. C. (UP)—Doukhobors would rather go to jail for a month than pay a $10 fine. They were found guilty of keeping their children away from school. One of the two sentenced said it was "against his conscience" to have his children educated.

CATS GET DRUNK ON BEER: LONDON (UP)—Scores of cats and dogs became drunk on Putney Hill, Wandsworth, when a number of barrels of beer fell from a brewer's lorry and burst. As the beer went flowing down the hill, the cats and dogs lapped it up greedily.

Shepards Return From San Antonio: Mr. and Mrs. Charles Shepard have returned from San Antonio where they attended the funeral of Miss Mollie R. Nelson, aunt of Mrs. P. P. Shepard, who will be remembered by Cisconans having visited here often.

Miss Nelson was buried Wednesday following services at the St. Mark Episcopal church at San Antonio.

Mr. and Mrs. P. P. Shepard will remain in San Antonio a few days.

MANN'S CELEBRATING GOLDEN ANNIVERSARY; EXPECT 100

Rev. and Mrs. J. D. Mann, 1704 D Avenue, Cisco, are celebrating their golden wedding anniversary today, surrounded by children, grandchildren, and great grandchildren, and relatives, who are expected to number 100 in all.

Rev. Mann is a native of Missouri being born 75 years ago and married to Miss Mary Susie Catton, of the same state. Mrs. Mann is 66 years of age. They came to Texas in 1872 and to Cisco about 30 years ago.

They have two daughters, Mrs. S. E. Knox Abilene and Mrs. H. E. Whisenant, Cisco, route 3. The grandchildren are, Mary Knox, Zelma Knox, Ina Knox, Joe Finley, Knox and Cayton Knox, Abilene; J. C. Whisenant, Breckenridge; Mrs. F. H. Lemmert, Eastland; Neli Whisenant, Sherrill Whisenant, Cisco, route 3.

Four grandchildren, Lee Ora Wooley, Geraldine Wooley, Cisco, route 3; Dot Whisenant, Breckenridge; Marie Lummetz, Eastland.

If the weather is favorable, about 100 people are expected to be present, said Rev. Mann. He also added that he didn't know whether he will be able to celebrate the diamond anniversary or not but that he had set his figures at an age of 103 years. He may reach it, he is very active at 75.

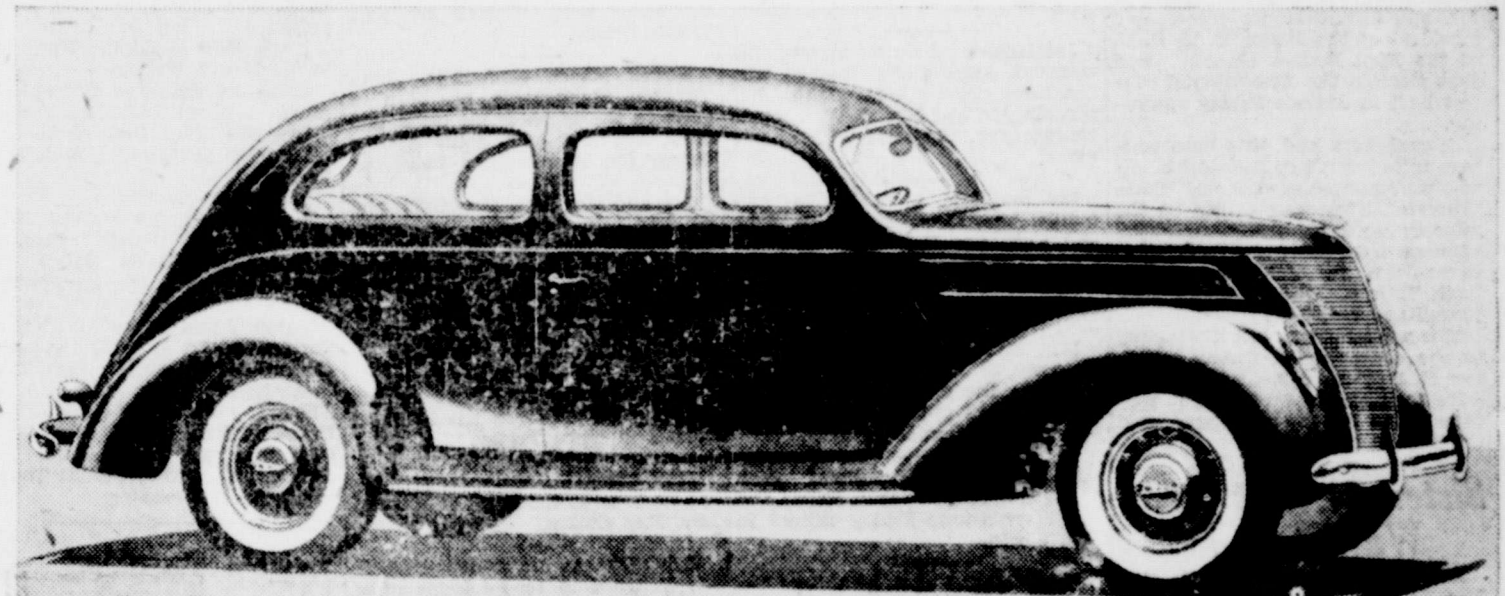

Attend Funeral in Carlton Saturday

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Leach and Mrs. Irene Hallmark were in Carlton Saturday attending the funeral of Mrs. O. P. Tillinghast, 82 year old mother of O. J. Tillinghast of the Piggly Wiggly grocery store in Cisco.

Mrs. Tillinghast died Wednesday with a heart attack at the home of her daughter, in Wichita Falls. She is the mother of twelve children. Mr. and Mrs. Tillinghast left immediately for Wichita Falls following receipt of the message, but returned to Cisco Saturday morning to meet the train on which three sisters were to arrive from California. They all proceeded to Carlton for the burial services which were to be held at 3:30 o'clock Saturday.

News from any angle—this QUALITY CAR IN THE LOW-PRICE FIELD

THE New Ford V-8 for 1937 is one car, built in only one chassis size—but the quality V-8 engine which powers it is now offered in two sizes, 85 horsepower for maximum performance with good economy—60 horsepower for good performance with maximum economy. The smaller 60-horsepower V-8 engine, optional in several body types, makes possible the lowest price for a Ford car in years. The car is entirely new in appearance—wide and roomy, with a low center of gravity. Headlamps are streamlined into the fender aprons. The modern hood type hood is hinged at the back. The new all-steel top sweeps back from the windshield in an unbroken curve. Interiors are tailored to the minute. The slanting V-type windshield opens in all closed cars. It is new in safety, quiet and comfort. The body is all steel—top, sides, floor and frame, welded into a single steel unit of great protective strength. Safety Glass all around at no extra charge. New methods of mounting body and engine bring quieter operation. You are invited to visit your Ford dealer and see how the quality car in the low-price field has broadened its range and extended its usefulness.

care for some of the surplus of turkeys in Cisco trade territory and would circulate that money in Cisco farm territory. It would bring big crowds here each Saturday.

This story is told on big, jolly, good-natured F. J. Aisup, local dairyman. It is said that he recently announced that he is now in a position to supply his patrons all the milk they want and that he can handle several new customers. He is said to have added that since installing city water his milk is much purer than when he used branch water. "Please, don't anybody take this seriously."

R. E. Grantham was said to have been having trouble with an evasive witness. Finally he asked him if he was acquainted with any of the jurymen. Yes, replied the witness, "I know more than half of them." "Are you willing to swear that you know more than half of them?" Grantham then asked. "If it comes to that," the witness replied, "I am willing to swear that I know more than all of them put together."

This one is told of S. H. Nance, automobile dealer, who has some of the saving Scotch traits. One of his salesmen had an accident in a neighboring town and he wired that he was in a hospital for an indefinite time. He asked for instructions as to what to do about it. Nance immediately wired back: "Start your summer vacation as of yesterday date."

O. L. Stamey, principal of the high school, was asked the other day why the high school was known as a store house of knowledge. Stamey replied that he was sure he didn't know unless it was because the freshmen brought in so much knowledge and the seniors took away so little. Now was that nice, we ask you.

A very pretty cashier of a well known cafe in Cisco recently asked her boss for a vacation so she might recuperate her beauty. "What makes you think you are slipping," said the boss. "The men now stop to count their change," she replied.

Robt. L. Maddox, a bright young chap, was teaching music in a school when an irate father came to him and asked him what he went by telling him his daughter had no possible chance of ever developing into a musician after having taken good money for coaching her the past several years. "So you take my money month after month all the time knowing that there was no chance for my daughter to learn music," he exclaimed. "Yes, and I have been saving you money. Whenever I tell young ladies they cannot learn music, they go immediately to the lower floor where the teacher charges 50 cents more for a lesson, and just figure up how much more cash that would have been for all this time," Maddox replied.

PRIMITIVE FOREST PLANNED

SPOKANE, Wash. (AP)—A "primitive forest" area, which is to remain untouched by civilization, is being planned for central Washington by the U. S. Forest Service, according to reports from Washington.

HUGE COAL CHUNK MINED SALT LAKE CITY (AP)—A five by 10 foot chunk of coal from the Carbon county fields exhibited at the state capitol weighs 20,900 pounds. Tremendous pressure on old vegetable matter pressed the mass to its extremely condensed state, geologists explained.

HORSE AND DOGS FAITHFUL Pinehurst, Tex. (AP)—When Geo. D. Bender, 54, stockman, was stricken with a fatal heart ailment, his horse and two dogs stood guard over his body in a thicket for four days until searchers found the body.

CHILDREN TO STUDY STARS PASADENA, Cal. (AP)—Hollywood celebrities will not be the only "stars" to be seen during the coming year here. Eighty thousand school children have been signed up for astronomical courses at the Griffith observatory.

INDIAN CHIEF IN POVERTY

NORTH MANCHESTER, Ind. (AP)—A movement has been started here to erect a comfortable shelter for John Newman, a 91-year-old Indian and former chief of the powerful Miami who once claimed this territory. Newman is living in a shack.

JAPANESE SUICIDES CHECKED

TOKYO (AP)—Studying suicide as a social problem, Japanese authorities found that most cases were the result of illness and domestic difficulties. It was found also that the love deaths, so often associated in the popular mind with Japanese suicides, were not in such a large proportion.

generally adopt a policy of restraining the purchase of their products by belligerents, the net effect might be to encourage a greater self-sufficiency of European countries to the disadvantage of Latin-American peacetime commerce.
Effect Might Be Great
On the other hand, common policies with regard to neutrality among American republics would give them a powerful voice in event of a future major struggle in Europe, and could prove an effective agency for peace. Such common view also would encourage the world at large to seek some internationally acceptable rules to govern relations in times of conflict.
United States policy regarding neutrality has presumed war to be a contagious disease and therefore sought to avoid its contraction by a deliberate restraint of commerce, tourist travel, money-lending and other operations that would create interests for American citizens other than those of peace.
The principal United States enactments on neutrality are:
The act passed by congress on Aug. 24, 1935, prohibiting export of "arms, ammunitions, or implements of war" to any port of a belligerent state or any neutral port for transshipment to or for the use of, a belligerent country.
On Feb. 29, 1936, Congress extended the life of the act to May 1, 1937, and declared that, following the proclamation of the President of a state of war, it would be unlawful for any person to purchase, sell or exchange bonds, securities, or other obligations of the government of any belligerent country or to make any loan or extend any credit to such government. This did not forbid ordinary commercial credits.

tion treatment in handling of currencies. To some nations this might have the effect of annulling the benefits they have derived from exchange control programs. Foremost among the Latin-American nations which have adopted the exchange control system of controlling their currencies are Argentina, Brazil and Chile.
Adopted as an emergency measure during the financial crisis, exchange control has proved in most cases to be a success. Argentina for instance, has benefited and has been able to embark upon a vast public works program in addition to subsidizing its grain producers.
Sanitary Code Sought
Because of the lack of time it is expected that the conference will adopt, without much discussion, a resolution favoring agreement on sanitary regulations regarding the interchange of animal and vegetable products. This is favored by Argentina, which is desirous of exporting its livestock products such as chilled and frozen beef and mutton to the United States.
Other topics on the agenda treating with economics are expected to receive little attention. However, Argentina may revive the proposal it made at the Montevideo conference two years ago that a Pan-American flag be adopted for maritime communication. Under this proposal ships flying such a flag would be granted the same privileges when entering the ports of other American nations as those accorded vessels of that country. This proposal has been opposed by the United States.
Resolutions urging improvement in maritime and land communications and encouragement of tourist travel also are expected to receive favorable consideration. Included among these probably will be one urging the expeditious extension of the Pan-American Highway.

Anson Prepares For Famed Ball
ANSON, Nov. 28 — Christmas decorations and flags were hung in the business section here this week as Anson citizens prepared to play hosts for their own West Texas show, the Cowboy Christmas Ball opening the night of December 3, and expects to attract hundreds of visitors. The ball last for three nights.
Various committees have been preparing for several weeks for the varied entertainment program for the ball. The program committee in a meeting this week made arrangements for an old time chuck wagon dinner on Friday, December 4, and for other program features, including a parade of old time vehicles at 2 p. m. and a band concert in the evening with several bands participating. The same committee has also invited neighboring towns to select their "belles" and escorts for Friday night. They will be given free admission and will be publicly introduced.
Members of the program committee are George Harrell, Earl Isbell, Joe Huffman, Omar Burleson, E. M. Connel, J. W. Purifoy, Otto Sorensen, Mrs. J. L. Gordon and Mrs. Gilbert Smith.

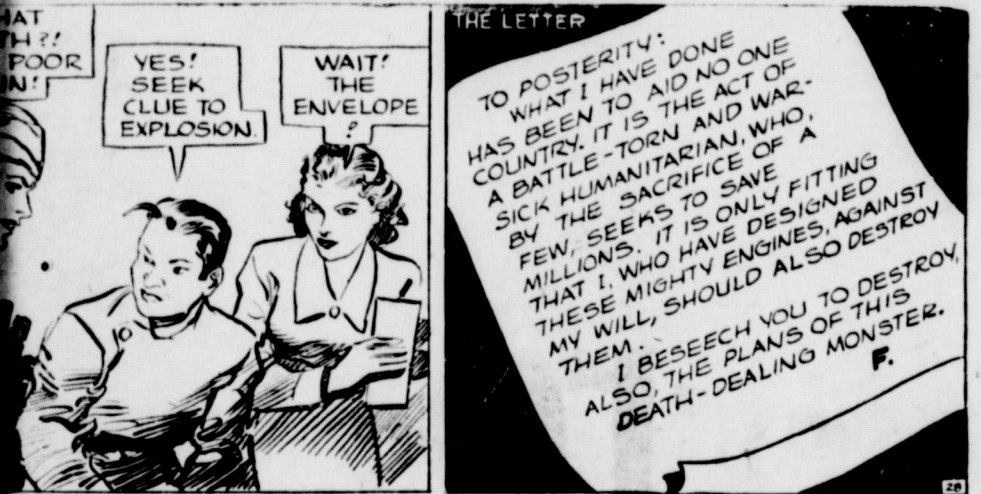

RA NORTH, Special Nurse--By Thompson and Coll

JACK! IT'S ALL SO TERRIBLE--HOW COULD THE MOBILFORT EXPLODE? IT WAS SUPPOSED TO BE BOMB AND SHELL PROOF.
HAVE YOU THAT ENVELOPE FENLIN GAVE YOU?
OF COURSE! I FORGOT ALL ABOUT IT-- BUT, WAIT-- PERHAPS WE CAN BE OF SOME HELP DOWN THERE!

I THINK WED BETTER GO, MYRA-- NURSES AND DOCTORS WON'T BE NEEDED, HERE!
I'M AFRAID YOU'RE RIGHT, JACK... BUT, SAY-- ISN'T THAT LEW WEN OVER THERE? HE'S SEARCHING FOR SOMETHING!

YES! SEEK CLUE TO EXPLOSION
WAIT! THE ENVELOPE?
THE LETTER
TO POSTERITY: WHAT I HAVE DONE HAS BEEN TO THE ACT OF A BATTLE-TORN AND WAR-COUNTRY, IT IS THE SACRIFICE OF A SICK HUMANITARIAN, WHO, BY THE SACRIFICE OF A FEW, SEEKS TO SAVE MILLIONS. IT IS ONLY FITTING THAT I, WHO HAVE DESIGNED THESE MIGHTY ENGINES, AGAINST MY WILL, SHOULD ALSO DESTROY THEM. I BESEECH YOU TO DESTROY ALSO THE PLANS OF THIS DEATH-DEALING MONSTER. F.

JACK! LOOK AT FENLIN'S FACE! WHY THAT'S THE CLOSEST IT'S EVER COME TO REAL EXPRESSION!
YOU'RE RIGHT, MYRA-- HE'S ACTUALLY SMILING!

SIX YARDS A CRACK IS DARN GOOD! THE BEST I COULD DO LAST YEAR WAS A LITTLE BETTER THAN FOUR YARDS!
YES, SON, BUT THAT'S PROBABLY BECAUSE SHADYSIDE DIDN'T HAVE A FELLOW NAMED FRECKLES BLOCKING FOR A FELLOW NAMED FRECKLES!!

WHO'S GOING TO BE AT THE BANQUET TONIGHT, SON?
ALL THE MEMBERS OF THE TEAM... IT'S OUR ANNUAL AFFAIR! PULL THAT KNOT GOOD AND TIGHT, MOM!

DOES YOUR ARM STILL BOTHER YOU?
IT'S KINDA SORE, MOM, BUT IT SHOULD BE.... IT GOT QUITE A TWIST WHEN I MADE THAT LAST TACKLE!
SAY, MOM, AT A FANCY DINNER, WHAT FORK DO YOU USE FIRST?
MAYBE YOU VON'T USE A FORK FIRST--

IF YOU HAVE A FRUIT COCKTAIL FIRST, YOU USE A SPOON-- BUT IF A SEAFOOD COCKTAIL IS FIRST, YOU USE A SMALL FORK.
I'M SURE GLAD I HAVE MY LEFT ARM IN A SLING... THAT'LL LEAVE ME ONLY ONE HAND WITH WHICH TO MAKE MISTAKES.

AIR CONDITIONING HEATING EQUIPMENT
INCREASE YOUR FAMILY'S Comfort
• The Electrogas Floor Furnace circulates clean, fresh warm air... an assurance of health and comfort in the home. An unlimited supply of heat is delivered instantly--when and where needed.
• Electrogas draws in cold air from the floor level (which is the coldest part of the house), warms it and maintains this constant circulation.
• Here is a permanent heating system--easy to install--and the cost is low. No basement required; does not take up valuable floor space, as only an attractive register is visible--level with the floor.
