WORK ON HIGHWAY 89 TO BEGIN SOON

About Our Friends

By STEP A. LONG

Well now, O. L. Stamey, G. M. Grasty and T. G. Caudle are going to be a little hard to get along with up at the high school for a few days... if they have a disdainful nose-in-the-air... I-have-been-somewhere attitude... you will know that it is just because they have been somewhere... and they have been somewhere... would you think of it... all the way out to the Rose Bowl in Pasadena, Calif., and had seats on the 20-yard line.

Yes sir, Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Stamey, T. G. Caudle and G. M. Grasty attended the great football classic and took some wonderful snapshots of the game which they have promised to show us at their earliest convenience. Now, that gives them a distinction that should merit some humility on our part when we come into their presence.

All we can say is, we wish we could have been with them on the trip... have an idea it was a wonderful outing and one to be remembered... But starting school after the holidays will soon bring them down to earth and the level of common mortals and so they will possibly speak to us by the time we meet.

Wm. Reagan tells us this one... man's wife lay sick unto death and she called her husband to her bedside and asked him to grant her request... Of course he said he would do anything in his power to give her happiness in her last moments... "Well, I want you to ride to my funeral with mother," she feebly gasped out... "Now honey, I would be willing to grant almost anything but you know we never speak and do not get along at all," he remonstrated... But she insisted and he finally said, "Well, I will do it to please you, but it certainly will spoil the day for me!"

Preparations are going forward for the Midgets banquet to be held Jan. 7, according to previous announcement... A great gang of chaps and comedians, who know, we may be going to the Rose Bowl to see some of them playing in that grand classic... It is told that a man is only limited in his achievements by his vision... which means ambition is his attainment... if that ambition goes far enough he will reach many heights... of course that ambition may be unworthy of the end... but that is another side of the story... But one must not decide if the star of his hopes is worthy of achievement and then let his course accordingly.

Gov. Murphy Offers to Mediate in Strike

135,000 MEN GET LAID OFF FROM STRIKE

FLINT, Mich., Jan. 4 (U.P.)—Gov. Frank Murphy entered the automobile labor crisis as a mediator today while officials of the United Automobile Workers Union sought hearing on an injunction barring their members from occupying two plants of the Fisher Body Corporation, General Motors subsidiary.

Pickets in the closed Fisher Body plant clashed with police at Cleveland, Ohio, where Lieutenant Peter Kekik was maulled by 75 men, who sought to prevent a plant manager from entering the building.

While tension increased in Michigan, Governor Murphy offered to mediate.

"I hope violence can be avoided," he said. "Although many of my acquaintances do not agree that this is possible."

Murphy said there had been no requests for intervention.

Representatives from 50 automobile unions in 16 cities pointed to the strikes which already have closed ten General Motors plants and thrown 37,000 workers out of work. Then the workers appointed a committee with full power to call a general strike, unless the corporation agrees to confer on seven "conditions of settlement" demanded.

William Knudsen, General Motors vice president, announced that 135,000 workers would be laid off this week because of shortage of materials. He insisted that union officials should negotiate with local plant managers—not with the corporation as a whole.

AS PANTHERS DROVE TO VICTORY IN ROSE BOWL CLASSIC

OFFICERS WATCHING HIGHWAYS FOR MEN WHO SAID 'ALL IS WELL'

TACOMA, Wash., Jan. 4 (U.P.)—Governor Clarence Martin today personally directed police watching highways, hampered by the heaviest snow of the season, in search of two men who related word to Dr. Mattson that his son, Charles, 10, kidnaped eight days ago, was well.

Governor Martin was at state patrol headquarters in Olympia directing the manhunt.

The cause of sudden activity was the appearance last night of two men at a lumber mill at Shelton, 52 miles southwest of here. One of the men told E. R. Gurbie, the watchman, to "notify Dr. Mattson in person that everything is well." The man left hurriedly in an automobile. Later that night, two men stopped at a cafe here and ordered food to take out.

Early today police at Seattle raided a house after a neighbor said he heard a child's cry. Deputies entered the house and emerged after considerable time with two men, about whom officers would give no information.

DR. MATTON HEARS "ALL IS WELL" MESSAGE

TACOMA, Wash., Jan. 4 (U.P.)—Dr. William Mattson, father of the kidnaped Charles Mattson, was heartened today when he received the message two men sent through a sawmill watchman that "all is well."

FIRST SEVERE WINTER WAVE COVERS TEXAS

The wind slackened to a mild 12 mile gait at Amarillo Monday morning and the temperature there climbed to 20 degrees from a low of 14. Austin, with a low of 32, was the only government weather station reporting colder weather Monday than Sunday morning. Dallas had 35 degrees, Abilene 32.

BRITISH PROTESTS AGAINST ATTACK ON ENGLISH SHIPS

LONDON, Jan. 4 (U.P.)—Great Britain protested strongly to the Spanish nationalist government today against attacks on two British steamships. A spokesman said the government intended to reserve to its own navy the authority to take any action regarding the right of British ships. The spokesman confessed "anxiety" over Germany's policy of retaliatory seizure of Spanish loyalist shipping.

SPEAKER BANKHEAD PREPARES LEGISLATION

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4 (U.P.)—Speaker William Bankhead moved today to prepare the House of Representatives for "emergency action" on neutrality legislation in event it is demanded by President Roosevelt.

Bankhead said he would ask the democratic caucus to authorize immediate reappointment of present democrats to the important foreign affairs committee. This would enable the committee to act at once on any proposals submitted.

Simultaneously diplomatic officials indicated President Roosevelt is prepared to declare an embargo on shipment of arms to Spain and Germany if relations between the two countries become strained to a point where a "state of war" exists.

SPANISH AMBASSADOR SILENT ABOUT FUND

MADRID, Jan. 4 (U.P.)—At least 45 persons were killed and more than 20 wounded today in a series of rebel air raids on the capital, concentrating on a workers suburb.

The days' first attack early in the morning was accompanied by artillery fire.

OIL INDUSTRY STUDIES NEED FOR CONTROLS

By LOUIS H. GERTEIS

United Press Staff Correspondent

TULSA, Okla., Jan. 4 (U.P.)—America produced a record amount of crude oil in 1936 and created 1937 problems of production-control and conservation of supply.

The industry opposes federal control of production and has fought against any such attempts. But the outflow of around 1,100,000 barrels this year emphasizes the necessity of some action. Chief reasons that 1937 will see such action taken are:

1—The Connally "hot-oil" law, which prohibits interstate commerce in contraband oil produced in excess of state allowances, expires June 16.

2—The interstate oil compact—adopted by six producing states—expires in September.

Many believe that the signatory states to the compact, the industry's own panacea for the production evils, will be extended with congressional approval. The six states which now are members are Texas, Oklahoma, Kansas, New Mexico, Illinois and Colorado. Leaders of the movement, which has been in operation 16 months, claim it has justified itself.

The chief reason for such great concern now is that fact that the compact worked at a period when the industry slowly was pulling itself out of the depression. Now higher prices are going into effect. Several companies have announced 17 cents a barrel increases for January. This will heighten the rush to make quick profits by increasing production unless some restrictive measures are taken. One other factor is that "hot-oil," now estimated at from 8,000 to 10,000 barrels daily, may increase.

One benefit from the higher prices is the fact that wild-catting—the exploitation of unknown territory—will become more prominent as prices go around the $1.35 per barrel mark. This is essential to keep the nation's oil reserves from dwindling. Reserves now are being used up at the rate of about 1,000,000,000 barrels annually, although at the end of 1935 commerce department figures showed the nation's known reserves around 12,000,000,000 barrels. In addition, reclamation from old wells by new processes has been of aid.

But Dan J. Moran, president of Continental Oil Corporation, in announcing the 17-cent price rise recently warned that the price could be sustained only if "unnecessary drilling" is stopped.

One development this year came as most major producers abandoned the retail selling field, leasing filling stations to independent merchants. The movement started in Iowa when large companies sought to evade payment of a "chain store" tax, but it has spread to other sections. Oil men credit the plan with helping to stabilize the

Odlum Anticipates New Business Gain

By Floyd B. Odlum

President, Atlas Corporation

JERSEY CITY, Jan. 4 (U.P.)—In spite of the fact that the year 1936 was an election year in the United States, and that the international situation was more disturbing than at any time since the ending of the great war in 1918, it proved to be the best year for economic recovery since the beginning of the depression in 1929.

Unless war breaks out and upsets the normal economic forces of the government policies at home are suddenly reversed, we may look to a continuation of productive activities in this country. Many industries are operating at the highest rates, even if not the highest profits, in history.

If the consumptive capacity in the country is or will be sufficient to absorb good now being produced, which seems likely, we can anticipate a continuation of present good business, and in certain lines further substantial improvement.

National Ideals Preserve Democracy!

The nation has come to the end of an eventful year. For the first time since the worst days of depression, industry has felt the stimuli of better times, of broadening markets, of increased earnings. Prospects for the future are immeasurably brightened.

Yet we must not be blind to the vital problems that all of us as individuals and as members of the economic and social order, still face.

The depression, for example, caused a great increase in the burden of taxation and, more serious still, an unprecedented rise in the public debt. The time for debating the wisdom of emergency spending has passed, and the time for balancing our books has come. No less a figure than the president has said that it should soon be possible to meet outgo with income, so far as the federal government is concerned, and in achieving that he will have the wholehearted assistance of all responsible elements in our national life. Furthermore, once the budget is balanced, we must apply ourselves rigorously to reducing the debt and thus eventually decrease the tax load. Such a program would give the strongest possible spur to the recovery movement.

The problem of unemployment looms almost as large today as it did at the abyssal low point. Industry has pledged itself to do all within its power to curb this intolerable condition, and in doing that it must have the help of government, to the extent that no legislation be passed which will frighten and discourage the investor—the source of all productive employment.

Certain specific industries, in spite of the progress they have made, are confronted with the gravest difficulties. The utility industry is a case in point. It has enjoyed a vast increase in power consumption—yet this has been largely offset by artificial depressants, of which the principal one is the constant threat of subsidized competition both from federal hydro-electric plants, and federally-backed municipal plants. It is encouraging to report, however, that negotiations are now under way to eliminate glaring inequalities.

Our largest single industry, the railroads, has felt the pinch of recovery in material increases in freight and passenger traffic. But this industry, too, has been handicapped by a vast increase in power consumption, and the public policy made by the railroads pay their own way, and are rigidly regulated in every phase of operation. Other carriers, on the contrary, are unregulated or half-regulated, and some are directly subsidized from the public treasury. Furthermore, there is the threat of new laws—unsound in principle and unjustified in practice—that would in one way or another increase railroad operating costs at a time when the lines are stipulating deficits with modest profits, without providing means for the railroads to better their revenue in order to meet the bill.

The Republican Party will have their next meeting in the city of Washington, D. C., on Monday, Jan. 11, at 7:30 p. m. at the Chamber of Commerce. The meeting will be held in the Chamber of Commerce, and will be held in the Chamber of Commerce.

In the field of merchandising—a field which is intimately connected with the welfare of every individual—there is the threat of laws that would penalize the efficient in the interest of the inefficient, at the expense of the consuming public.

So it goes, down the roster of industries. Other businesses—insurance, mining, oil manufacturing, etc.—are sharing in the recovery movement, but almost all of them are faced with serious man-made problems. These problems are also the people's problems—on them depends employment, progress of all kinds; and security for the individual. It is to the solution of these problems that we must all devote our attention.

In conclusion, it would be well for us all, on the threshold of the new year, to look abroad at dictator-ridden Europe. Free speech has become a crime. All criticism of those in power has been silenced with imprisonment and death. In some countries the right to worship has been abrogated by law, the state has been made Divine, the dictator in power must be regarded as a god, and the individual has been reduced to an actual state of slavery.

While we pity the citizens of those nations, and wonder that such things could have come to pass in this country, we can learn an invaluable lesson from the plight. We still live under a Constitution that guarantees us freedom of religion, freedom of speech and freedom of the press. Upon the preservation of the Constitution and the liberties it guarantees depends the future of the United States and the American people. In the pursuit of an economic millennium we must not sacrifice national ideals and principles that are the very lifeblood of democracy.

UNDER THE DOME AT AUSTIN

By GORDON K. SHEARER

United Press Staff Correspondent
AUSTIN, Jan. 4 (UP)—Selection of a head football coach for the University of Texas has many angles.

Technically the state legislature has nothing to do with the designation of the coach. Practically, however, the legislature must satisfy the coach is paid $5,000 or $15,000, so far as state appropriation is concerned. The coach is paid exclusively from the auxiliary income of the Athletic Council. But University officials fear the effect on appropriations for other university purposes if legislators hear $15,000 is being paid for a football coach at A. & M. college, the football coach also is head of the physical education department with a $2,700 state paid salary.

There is also the angle of satisfying the professors. This is done at present by a rule that no coach shall be paid more than a full-time professor. That effects any feeling that the University is turning to athletics rather than education, but it doesn't work out in the matter of supply and demand.

There are many coaches, just as there are many ball players. But the number does not keep a Babe Ruth or a Dizzy Dean from being expensive.

Some of the University officials will admit privately that coaches perhaps are entitled to demand more than a professor.

The coach is in a highly competitive field. His "class" must get out on the field and compete with the "classes" of other coaches. If it is not proficient if it has not received proper instruction, it makes a poor showing.

The educational professor's class gets no such test, except the competition of intercollegiate debate. If one is likely to discover it for a long time to come if the coach's class does not make good there is a quick clamor for a change in the instructor.

Regents are closely divided on the question of limiting the salary of a coach to the level of that of a professor. They agree that the cost of a high price coach and a winning team is offset by greater stadium returns. Whether it benefits the institution is another question.

Outside the student clamor for a winning team the regents hear the same plea from alumni. Regents who live in cities where there have been strong teams like those of Rice Institute and Southern Methodist University get considerable pressure from ex-students living in those places. There is no regent resident in Fort Worth, where Texas Christian's great team has its domicile.

Oklahoma oil officials got a full display of what an oil proration hearing is in Texas, when they attended the Texas commission's December hearing.

Maps, charts and graphs were on all sides. New ones were unrolled and tacked up temporarily as various fields were discussed.

The Oklahoma men heard oil men cross examine each other and they heard experts questioned by other experts. All this, oil men say, is different from the usual Oklahoma hearing where the oil men have a discussion beforehand and designate a representative to make the presentation for all of them.

Whoever may be selected state fire insurance commissioner, an appropriate part of the Bible to be taken his oath when the commissioner takes his oath is from Jeremiah, 50:32, the passage which Gov. Miriam A. Ferguson marked in the Bible of the Governor's office when she finished her term, Jan. 15, 1935.

A portion of the verse reads: "And I will kindle a fire in his cities and it shall devour all round about him."

Former Governor Pat M. Neff left a marked Bible in the governor's office and instituted the custom of designating a passage for reading of the new governor. Succeeding governors have continued the practice.

Annual civic planning conferences will be sponsored by the Texas Planning Board. The first will be held next March in Austin. Theme of the opening conference will be the relation of planning to land conservation and land utilization. The conference will last two or three days. Presiding will be Col. R. C. Wood of the Texas Planning Board will be secretary.

IT is believed, now, that vultures for many miles around find a dead animal merely by following any fellow-vulture that seems to be going somewhere. One vulture, on discovering the carrion, makes a start for it, and another bird, somewhere in the distance, sees this direct move and follows. Others, seeing a preceding bird following suit, do likewise, and soon the carcass is covered with vultures.

NATE POWER OF DEMOCRATS MAKES HISTORY

By JOE ALEX MORRIS... Senate convenes tomorrow to go through the formalities of the opening of the 75th Congress and the duties of seating 75 Democratic members in the chamber.

The greatest administration in history will bring to the upper chamber a sprinkling of faces, a slash in the opposition and an increase of a dozen in the number of seats for the Democratic members.

As a result, the senate will be called to break its custom for the first time in 20 years and seat seven Democrats on the right side of the chamber on the Republican side of the aisle.

One Seat Vacant... comparison of the old and new Congress shows these totals: Old Congress 75 Democrats, 89 Republicans, 16 Farm-Labor, 2 Progressive, 1 Independent.

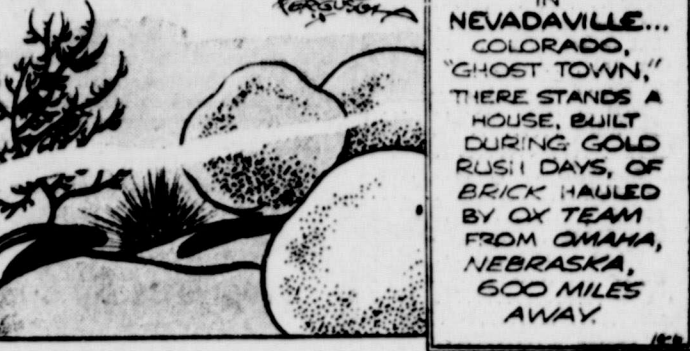

President John Nance Garner... committee of the majority and party leaders will advise the president the chamber is in session and will report back to the senate.

Lee Known As Orator... replaces Thomas P. Gore... H. Smathers, D. N. J., who died the towering W. Warren four out of his seat.

BEHIND THE SCENES IN WASHINGTON

BY RODNEY DUTCHER... WASHINGTON—In all the heavy speculation as to what the next four years of Roosevelt administration may bring forth, you rarely hear anyone mention the Democratic platform and its promises of last June.

THE platform definitely promised agriculture that the New Deal would "continue to improve the soil conservation and domestic allotment program with payments to farmers."

BEHIND THE SCENES IN WASHINGTON

BY RODNEY DUTCHER... WASHINGTON—Vice President John Nance Garner did the unprecedented in endorsing Congressman Sam Rayburn of Texas for the House floor leadership, because Rayburn wanted him to.

THE Garner statement, timed and planned with the rest of the pro-Rayburn campaign, was also designed to help make up the minds of new Democratic members and some old ones who weren't sure how they meant to vote.
