About Our Friends

By STEVE A. LONG

Now, what are we going to do about the winter weather? ... The groundhog saw very little of his shadow in Cisco vicinity Tuesday, and that late in the afternoon, while Abilene reports that never a glimpse of himself did he see there. ... But in Fort Worth, he saw plenty. ... and here comes the weatherman, Mr. Cline, with predictions for much more cold weather for this season. ... Now we are in a pickle. ... Will it be mixed weather? Can it be that we will have a little cold weather late in the season while all will be balmy and spring-like over at Abilene and vicinity? ... while in Fort Worth they will be having much cold weather? ... Please excuse us on the weather condition. ... we prefer to talk about our friends.

The Junior Chamber of Commerce is busy helping the welfare association gather clothing for the nation's needy. ... a good project for any organization. ... F. B. Altman is heading the drive. ... Where so many are busy at a thing it cannot fail to be kept in the public mind. ... Many people allow old clothing and shoes to accumulate in the closets and attics that could be used by the needy. ... and we are sure the dry goods merchant would welcome the eliminating of the out-of-style garments from your wardrobe so that he could supply you with something from his newly acquired spring line.

Mrs. Velma Hayden chatting with a friend. Will St. John watching a friend have his fortune told and finding much mirth in the true things told. ... K. H. Pittard getting about today. ... Dr. Clark saluting a friend. ... R. E. Grantham and George Boyd been for coffee. ... Frank Walker bound for an appointment with Dr. E. S. James. ... M. H. Applegate swinging along the street.

FEW OLD AGED APPEARED FOR REINSTATEMENT

About 55 old people signed blanks for re-instatement on the old age pension rolls in Cisco Monday and Tuesday, said W. W. Kelley, pension investigator for Eastland county, as he prepared to leave for appointments in other parts of the county before coming back to Cisco Monday to resume investigations.

Mr. Kelley was plainly disappointed that more people had not come to meet him and file applications for reinstatement. He remarked that there were many more who should be eligible for reinstatement. The department seems to be anxious and willing to restore pensions where ever possible and this cannot be done, he said, unless the pensioners file their applications. The notice was so short that it is his opinion that news of his being in Cisco could not reach many old people who would have otherwise been present.

Flood Makes New Threats on Mississippi

U. S. ARMY AIDS IN FLOOD ZONE IN EVACUATION

SAN ANTONIO, Feb. 3 (UP)—Eighth Corps Area army headquarters received orders by radio today to send immediately six evacuation teams of 45 men and seven officers to the flood area of southern Arkansas.

MEN AND FLOOD FIGHT TO STANDSTILL
CAIRO, Feb. 3 (UP)—Men and the "super flood" fought each other to a standstill on the walls of Cairo today.

After a steady rise through the night, the Ohio river remained at 39.38 feet for eight hours. Engineers refused to predict whether the crest had arrived.

No one relaxed vigilance after a night of bursting "sand boils" of spouting geysers in the streets, of breaking gas means, of sinking sidewalks and collapsing houses.

Hickman, Ky., and New Madrid, Mo., awaited breathlessly to see if Cairo could throw back the flood. Behind the crest was Paduch, Ky., a ghost city, where the river was 19 miles wide and five feet deep in the streets. 34,000 persons were driven out of Paduch, and fire added to the disaster.

Louisville, still farther back, had 230,000 homeless, 211 dead and 25 of its 49 square miles under water. Deaths from the gulf to Pittsburgh jumped to 395. There are 1,000,000 homeless, and property damage is $500,000,000.

At New Madrid ten more bodies were recovered bring to 15 the known dead in the sinking of the barge carrying 100 workmen. Fourteen of those aboard the barge still are missing.

CISCO PROMISES MUCH SPORT IN TONIGHT'S GAME

BY TOMMY LA MORE
The Cisco high school basketball team will meet Mineral Wells tonight in the high school gym at 7:30.

The Lobos defeated the Mountaineers once this season by a score of 19-10 in the Mineral Wells court. The Mountaineers play a rugged type of basketball having very little floor work but much passing and long shots.

Starting lineup for the Lobos are forwards, Marcell and Odell Harrison; guards, Sherman and Yarborough; center, Bacon.

After the game there will be eight fast boxing bouts staged between Mineral Wells boxers and Cisco leather pushers.

Fights from flyweight on up will be staged and all promise to be well worth attending as the Mineral Wells team is seeking revenge on the local lads for the defeats suffered last week in Mineral Wells.

MURDERER IS HIDDEN FROM MAD CITIZENS

WILLOW SPRINGS, Mo., Feb. 3 (UP)—Robert Kenyon, 20, described by officers as a moron reportedly was being moved secretly from jail to jail in the Ozark country today to thwart angry citizens who would lynch him for kidnaping and murdering Dr. J. C. B. Davis, beloved elderly physician and local political leader.

Kenyon confessed before dawn today that he kidnaped the 67 year old physician and emptied his pistol into his body as the doctor knelt in a thicket, a checkbook ready to write a check for $5,000, the amount of the ransom demanded.

Kenyon lead officers to the thicket where the body, pierced by seven bullets, lay face down on the frozen ground.

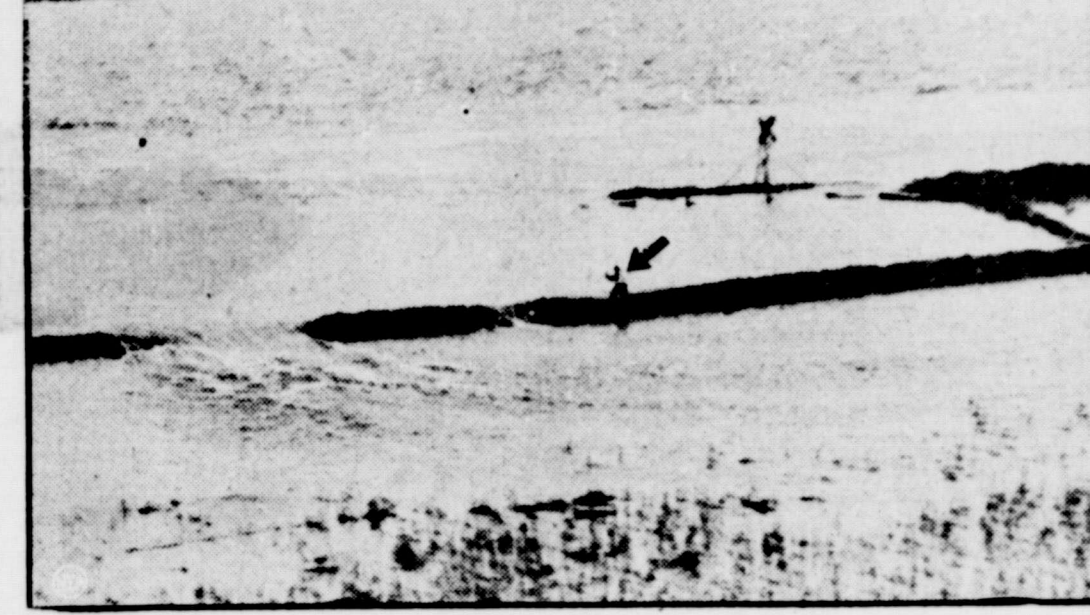

Immediately after the body was found, a heavy guard escorted the youth to an unnamed jail. Feeling among the citizens of Howell county where Dr. Davis had practiced for thirty years, much of his work being charity, was intense.

While a coroner's jury reviewed facts of the slaying twelve miles south of here, groups of angry men gathered in the streets at Willow Springs.

The coroner found two bullets had penetrated the physician's head four the chest, and one had struck his right thumb.

Water Boils Through Levee Break

As water boiled through a break in the levee at Besse, Tenn., a photographer for a Memphis newspaper and NEA Service lingered precariously for one last picture before a rescue boat carried him to safety. This dramatic scene was made from an airplane. Ten minutes before, 600 men stood waist deep in the swirling Mississippi flood water here and piled sandbags on the levee wall in a desperate but futile battle to hold back the flood. The water lapped over the top, then broke through. Barges and steamboats saved the workmen.

When the break came at Besse the 600 workmen scrambled frantically into the boats which had stood by to rescue them. Where the clustered rowboats float had been a strong retaining wall a few minutes before. In this arduous, note the rescued workmen who dot the hatch covers of the two barges.

Jayces Active in Old Clothes Drive
The Junior Chamber of Commerce of the state is active in gathering old clothing to be sent to flood victims, local president of the organization, A. D. Starling, said today. He has appointed a committee to care for local work and insists that everything be in not later than Friday. All clothing available will be sent by truck to headquarters Saturday morning he announces, and desires that Cisco make its usual good showing in such matters.

Present amounts donated by four sectors of the county is as follows: Ranger leads with $650., Cisco follows with $435., and Eastland gives $303, with Rising Star donating $145. This donation being for an emergency, does not release anyone who has signed for a special amount until that obligation has been fulfilled, said Mr. Spencer.

A total of $1,600 is expected by the end of the week. Horace Conley, emergency chairman, reports $200 turned in to the fund by employees of the Humble Company this morning which was not counted in the above figures for Cisco. The Lions club donated $11.50 to the fund today.

Howe also served on the board before.

COMPROMISE MAY BE MADE BY MOTOR CO.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3 (UP)—Officials of the U. S. labor department were informed today that the first conference between John L. Lewis, labor leader, and William Knudsen, vice president of General Motors, had increased hopes of peaceful settlement of the automobile strike.

ANOTHER CONFERENCE TO BE HELD LATE TODAY
DETROIT, Feb. 3 (UP)—Capital and labor chiefs brought together through intervention of President Roosevelt in an effort to avert violence at Flint met for an hour and a half today seeking a peaceful settlement of the General Motors strike.

John L. Lewis, chief of the Committee for Industrial Organization, sat face to face with William Knudsen, vice president of General Motors.

Dr. Frank Murphy presided as mediator and special representative of President Roosevelt. "There has been an interesting, friendly and helpful conference," Murphy said. "There will be another later today."

The union and corporation leaders met only five hours before a court injunction ordering more than one-thousand sitdown strikers out of two Fisher Body plants at Flint, was served.

As the 3 p. m. deadline neared, it became likely that enforcements of the injunction would be deferred. Although the Circuit Court and sheriff at Flint have the power to use troops to clear out strikers, it was understood Murphy would exercise his supreme command of the national guard to prevent bloodshed.

The sitdown strikers, uninformed of their telegrams of last night, in which they said any attempt to evict them by force would result in a "blood bath of unarmed workers." It was believed a compromise might be arranged whereby General Motors would recognize the automobile workers union, clearing the way for voluntary removal of the strikers as an evidence of good will before resuming collective bargaining efforts.

E. P. CRAWFORD MEETS WITH BOYS BETTER BUSINESS CLUB TUESDAY

The Boys Better Business club met in regular session last night at the Daily News office with their circulation manager and were addressed by E. P. Crawford, Jack Hunter, president, with Raymond Evans as secretary.

Mr. Crawford's talk was inspiring to these young boys, with open minds, in business for themselves, taking responsibilities upon their young shoulders. He stepped down from his sphere of adulthood, and experiences gained by the years he has attained, and in his address became a boy again, among boys, leading them up through his boyhood days, and finally into manhood. Among the many things he stressed were several that were outstanding.

1. To be true to myself, thereby being true to my friends, my customers and my neighbors.
 2. To be always courteous and polite to my customers; to ask for objections in a mild, courteous manner. Not to argue with anyone regarding the payment of an account, but "begging their pardon" will state my side of the issues involved.
 3. To pledge myself to always put my subscriber's paper on the porch, or at the place designated.
 4. To remember that in building my business, it is not necessary that I take the business of someone else.
 5. I pledge myself to always bear in mind that I am obligated to keep the laws of my home, my community, my state and my nation, and to be loyal in act, word and deed at any time and under all conditions, regardless of consequences to myself.
 6. To render sympathy to the distressed, help the weak and needy and to place honor always above praise rendered because of glory won through deceit or dishonesty.
- Nine boys were present at this meeting. Refreshments of pie and pop were served.

What's News Today

The all-absorbing topics of floods in the Ohio valley and in the sit-down strike in the General Motors plants in Flint, Mich., where strikers have refused to move since December 30, promises new development today and perhaps tomorrow.

About the time Cairo was beginning to rejoice over flood cessation, the river began a new rise which threatened the bulwarks erected against its mighty power. Engineers and workmen on levees are tense as the time approaches the zero hour. Meanwhile, Red Cross relief pours in as sympathetic givers all over the land send in their contributions.

John L. Lewis, labor leader, is silent this morning concerning the strike ejecting order issued against sit-down men who have held General Motors plants idle for more than a month. He will take command of the situation so far as the labor side of the strike is concerned. General Motors executives say they will begin treating with labor as soon as their plants are cleared of strikers.

A food blockade had been in force pending the action of the court order that had been requested by General Motors. This has been lifted and tends to clarify the situation.

More kidnaping and extortion money demanded! A Missouri physician fails to return after an absence of one week. A note demanding $5,000 is received by the family. It seems that this new kind of robbery is not eliminated regardless of the punishment that has been meted out to those caught.

Lindy turns up mysteriously after a few hours of being lost to the known world when nations of Europe claim they know nothing of his destination. But, presto, there he is in Italy and he and his wife, the former Anne Morrow, make a second landing in Rome and dodge the immense crowd to take refuge in the American embassy.

The Catholics converge on Manila to open the International Congress. Thousands are there for the meeting and gay flags decorate the city for the event. After a few thousand years Catholicism is stronger than ever before in the history of the world, despite the rise and increase of so many protestant churches.

Newspaper heads of a sheriff can't get into his own jail, another bathtub mystery and men bite lions, and finding of a body in New Mexico which may be linked with the disappearance of tourists a few years ago, all tend to incite the reader's interest on the front page today.

Looking across to Europe where the war-pot tries to boil and new arming and boasting of power by the German Hitler bring counter arming by others, finds France alarmed and quickly voting new big budgets for defense.

The army is to be enlarged in France and steel forts are to completely encircle the country. France fears German offensive and they are doing the heroic to keep the German soldier out of their borders.

England seems to also fear modern warfare as promulgated by Hitler and Italy. She is digging vast underground refuges for her people so that the threat of war gas cannot reach the population and vast stores of food, money and ammunition that is buried deep into the chalk underground of her little island. Gas masks are being hurriedly supplied for every man, woman and child in her empire. She is, like other nations, working frenziedly at building warships. The United States buries her own vast store of gold.

"Mrs. Simpson has lost 10 pounds in the last several weeks." We understand, however, that her husband-to-be has several hundred thousand.

Washington officials are having troubles with "strip dancers." A senatorial investigation committee might be able to get something on them.

A senator suggests we abolish "some of our verbal corpses." Isn't there a postoffice division that dispose of dead letters?

UNDER THE DOME AT AUSTIN

By GORDON K. SHEARER
United Press Staff Correspondent
AUSTIN, Feb. 3 (U.P.)—One source was heard about the state capitol in the song of praise for Dan X. Biele as the man to lead the University of Texas longhorns to a football renaissance.

That was the concealment by university athletic officials of the salary to be paid. First, officials had denied that there was dickering with Biele at all. Re-signation of the student member of the athletic council was forced because the student was not sufficiently guarded in his statement, and the efforts to get Biele leaked out.

A repercussion is expected when the appropriations for support of the university come before the legislature. The football staff is not paid by state appropriation but comparisons are bound to be made. Legality of a 10-year contract being executed by agents who have only six-year terms has been questioned also.

An unintentional snub for Attorney General William McCraw at the inaugural ball given by a citizens' committee was the prize morsel of capitol gossip for a week. McCraw was omitted from the list of prominent officials called to take a bow in the spotlight. When the omission was noticed there was a hurried offer to present him. McCraw declined to inter-

CONFIDENTIAL REPORT

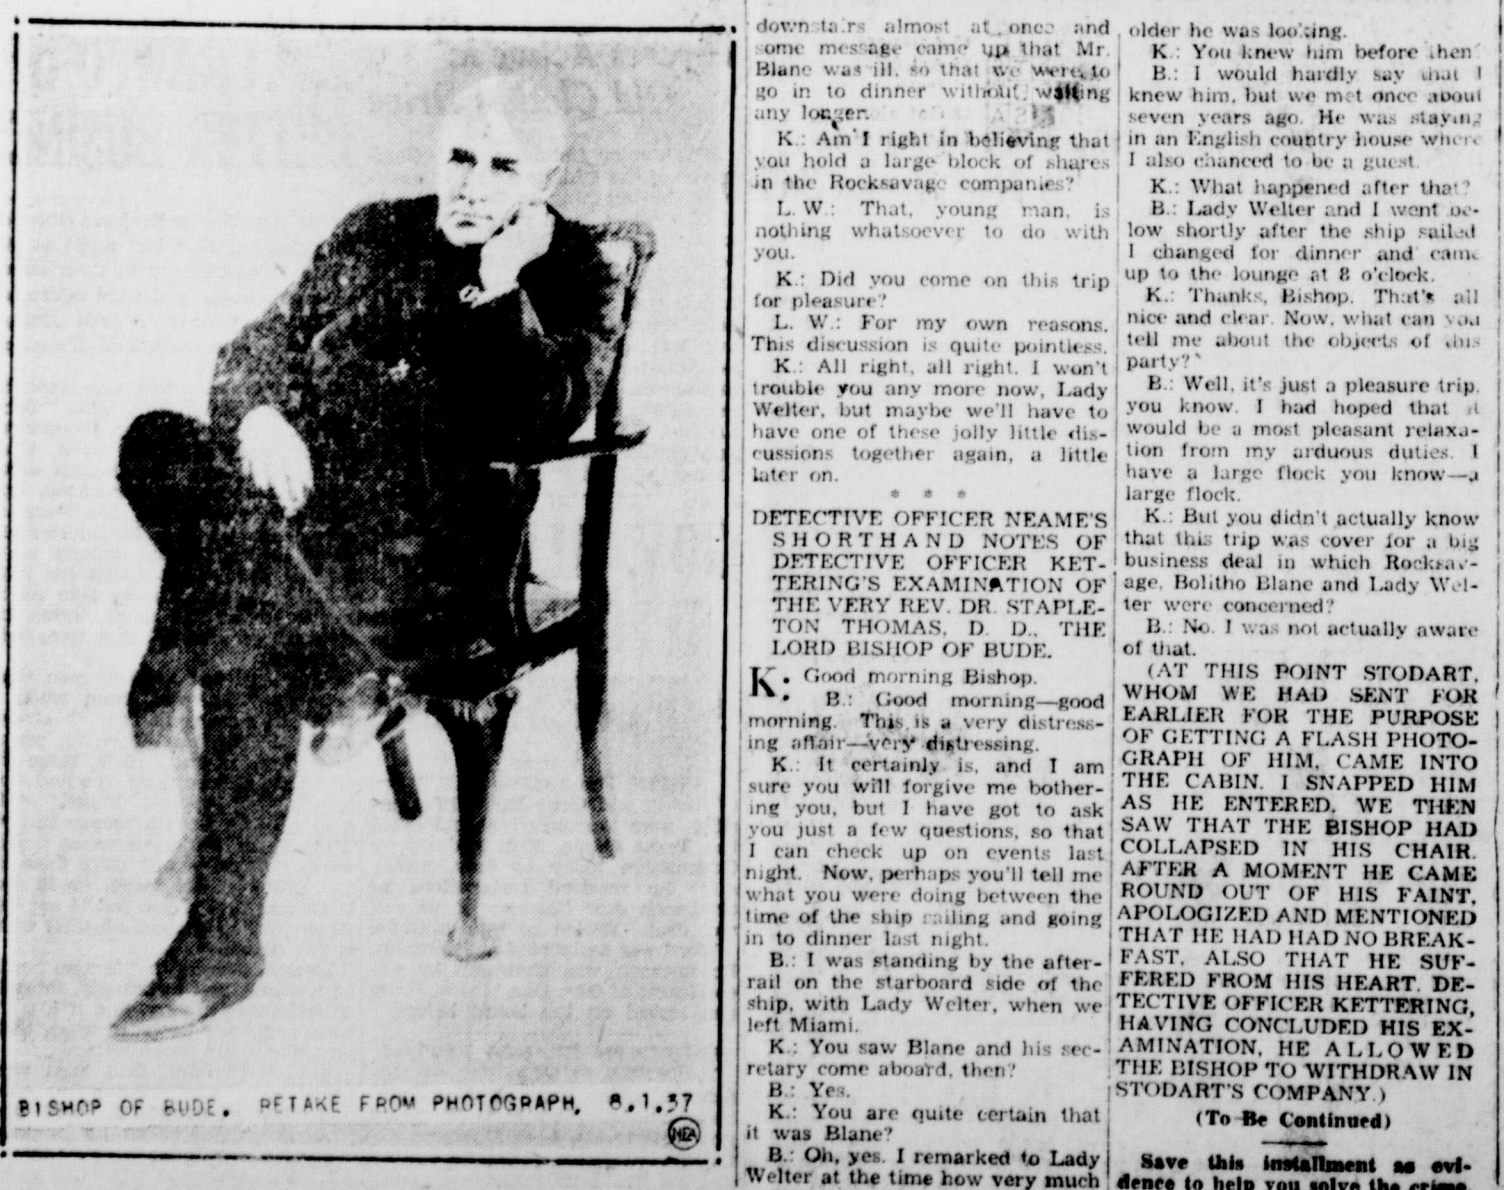

CRIME FILE ON BOLITHO BLANE

BOLITHO BLANE, British financier, disappears from yacht owned by his principal competitor, CARLTON ROY, at Miami, Fla. A note found in Blane's cabin, addressed to his secretary, MRS. M. STODART, indicates suicide since he faced bankruptcy. A memo written by Stodart shows Blane's company stock, MGT'S STDS, closing at a new low that day.
Other passengers aboard the yacht GOLDEN GULL are MISS FERIE ROCKS, Mrs. Rock's daughter, LADY WELTER, REGINALD JOCELYN, Mrs. JOCELYN, Lady Welter's daughter and son-in-law; the BISHOP OF BUDE; COLT LEIG FOSDICK, and INOSUKE HAYASHI.

Detective Officer KETTERING, boarding yacht at Miami, finds strange marks on Blane's cabin carpet and blood on curtain. Upon examination, Rocksavage admits inviting Blane aboard to effect amalgamation of their companies. Mr. and Mrs. Jocelyn reveal Lady Welter is heavily interested in Rocksavage stocks.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER VII
DETECTIVE OFFICER NEAME'S SHORT HAND NOTES OF DETECTIVE OFFICER KETTERING'S EXAMINATION OF LADY WELTER.
K: Good morning, Lady Welter.
L: Take a chair, please.
L.W.: Thank you, I prefer to stand.
K: Just as you wish, lady.
L.W.: What is it you wish to see me about?
K: Isn't that rather obvious? You know that I'm the officer in charge of the investigation of Mr. Bolitho Blane's death.
L.W.: And what has that to do with me?
K: Nothing—nothing as far as I know, Lady Welter, but this is just a matter of routine and you won't mind answering a few questions, I'm sure.
L.W.: That all depends on the questions, young man.
K: Well, they're quite simple. It's just a matter of routine checking up, and I'd like you to tell me just what your movements were between the time of the yacht sailing from Miami and your going in to dinner last night.
L.W.: Are you accusing me...?
K: Now, now, have a heart, please. I'm not accusing anyone of anything, but it's my duty to get all these details which may seem stupid to you. Where were you when the ship sailed?
L.W.: I was on deck talking to the Bishop of Bude.
K: You saw the tender come off, then?
L.W.: I did and the bishop said to me, "That's Mr. Bolitho Blane," as the two men came up the gangway in to the middle of the ship.
K: The bishop knew Blane by sight, then?
L.W.: I don't know, I suppose so.
K: Right, what happened after that?
L.W.: The bishop and I went down to our cabins. When I came up to the lounge I found Mr. Rocksavage with Mr. Blane's secretary and the bishop. The secretary was introduced to me and we sat there until Mr. Rocksavage left.
K: What time was that?
L.W.: I really haven't the faintest idea. What has all this to do with...?
K: Patience, please. What happened after Mr. Rocksavage left the lounge?
L.W.: If you must know, the Japanese gentleman came in and then my daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Jocelyn. After the dinner barge sounded Mr. Rocksavage came in, too, but he went

Cisco Rally Doings Told By G. N. Quirl

Scout Executive G. N. Quirl, of Brownwood, who presided at the recent scout rally held at Cisco sends in the following report of the doings at this enjoyable event:

The Gorman Troop attended the recent North Section Rally held in Cisco with eleven Scouts under the leadership of the new Scoutmaster Paul A. Jones. This troop traveled the longest distance to the rally, which was thirty miles.

A great deal of credit is due Troop No. 6 of Eastland for having won second place in the rally, while their Scoutmaster, Bill Jessop had an appointment at home with Old Man Flu. (We hope the old man has gone by now and that Bill is feeling O. K. again.)

We are introducing W. J. Starr, new Scoutmaster of Troop No. 43, Eastland & E. Hittson, Scoutmaster Troop No. 191 and Scouts of this troop are with out a doubt crowing over winning the big rally.

Scoutmaster Jack Dwyer and his Scouts of Troop No. 103 walked off with third place. (You should have heard their singing.)

Another new Scoutmaster Otis Hichcock, who has recently taken Troop No. 37, wants to know all of the other Scoutmasters.

Everyone will be glad to learn that our good friend George Henshaw who attended the rally, is now back in Breckbridge and with Troop No. 29 again.

Scouts and Scouters at the Rally missed Scoutmasters Bates, Jessop, Bert Jones, Skipper Thorpe and Commissioner Russell B. Jones, who are nearly always in attendance.

District Commissioner Horace Conley left the meeting stating that he would have to have his throat treated after having to supervise the various events. (Seems that we were slightly noisy.) Vice President E. P. Crawford made a welcome talk to all Scouts and Scouters.

Dick Lauderdale, finance chairman for Cisco District is not only a good finance man but knows how to figure out how many Scouts a pie will serve. He said by rights it figured one pie to a Scout, but he made one serve four at the Rally.

Scoutmaster McCracken was seen at the meeting peddling bananas. We understand that he was successful.

Rally Dates
 The Rally for the Central Section, which includes Troops from: Blanket, Bangs, Zephyr, Rising Star, Mullin and Brownwood will be held in Brownwood during Anniversary Week. Exact date is February 11th. The East Section Rally date is to be February 15th. Scouts in this section will come from the following towns: Stephenville, DeLeon, Dublin, Comanche, Sipe Springs, and Gustine. Scouts of San Saba, Richland Springs, Lampasas, Lometa, and Goltwaite all in the South Section will hold their Rally Thursday, February 25th.

National Jamboree
 Dr. Jewel Daugherty, president of our Council leads the way by placing his registration as Council Representative and physician to the Jamboree. Applications are now available and any scout who wishes to make application should get in touch with his Scoutmaster or the Scout Office.

27th Birthday
 Scouts all over the United States will celebrate the 27th Birthday of Scouting starting February 7th through 13th. Scouts and Scouters should watch announcements in papers for the exact time of the National Broadcast next Monday night, February 8th, which will be led by Chief Scout Executive James E. West and likely President Franklin D. Roosevelt, who is honorary President of Boy Scout of America.

South Becomes Social Security Testing Ground

By MAYNARD STITT
 United Press Staff Correspondent
 BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Feb. 3. (AP)—The South has become a testing ground for the constitutionality of the administration's social security program.

Results have been varied. The Federal Social Security law has been upheld in one decision; the Alabama law—in regard to unemployment compensation insurance has been declared both valid and invalid and the Mississippi state law has been upheld.

Three of the rulings were in Federal courts. Other suits are pending in state courts.

The Alabama law was declared unconstitutional by a federal court and was upheld by a state circuit court.

Most sweeping of these decisions was the one handed down here by the Federal court for the Northern Alabama district. In that ruling Judge David J. Davis upheld the law in its broadest sense.

Davis Succeeded Grubb
 Davis succeeded the late William I. Grubb Judge Grubb made several decisions invalidating New Deal legislation. The Tennessee Valley Authority Act, the Agriculture Adjustment Administration Act and the Federal excise tax on alcoholic beverage dealers in dry states were upheld unconstitutional in his court.

The social security tax, Judge Davis said, is a weapon against future depressions. He described the suffering during the depression at length and ruled that Congress—having spent billions to end it—was empowered to tax the privilege of employing to prevent recurrence of such "calamities."

Plaintiffs Cite Injunction
 The complainants had asked the suit be thrown out because they had obtained an injunction from a three-judge federal court in Montgomery preventing collection of taxes levied by the state law. Under the federal act if they had paid state taxes 90 per cent could have been given to the state, and their obligation to the federal government would have amounted to only 10 per cent.

The judge informed them that they had erred in obtaining a ruling of unconstitutionality from a federal court. If they had attacked the state law in the state courts, whether it was constitutional or unconstitutional they would have been liable only 1 per cent of the payroll value—the amount required by federal law. But since they had obtained an injunction against the state law in a federal court, they had no recourse and the money already paid to the state would be lost.

Judge Davis construed the social security tax a properly levied one and refused the injunction, although complainants argued this would prevent them from further pursuing the question of the constitutionality of the state law. Unless they want to lose the money already paid to the state, the plaintiffs must prove the federal law invalid. Meanwhile they plan to appeal Davis' ruling.

Mellon Case Precedent
 They also attacked the tax on the grounds it was a move by Congress to force states to enact unemployment compensation laws. Davis cited the case of Mellon versus Florida in which it was ruled Congress had the power to enact an inheritance tax. Florida had attempted to prove it to enact a state inheritance tax.

The present social security act is for the "general welfare" of the people, and Judge Davis said if it could not be upheld under the "general welfare" clause of the constitution, the clause was useless.

The federal court ruling against the state law was made in a suit brought in Montgomery by the same complainants. The court there threw it out on grounds that it violated the state and federal constitutions in that it applied to companies with "eight or more" employees.

That distinction and classification was unreasonable and amounted to taking property for the general welfare without due process of law, the court said. It granted a permanent injunction to prevent collection of state taxes from the plaintiffs.

U. S. Court Refuses Injunction
 A three-judge federal court in New Orleans refused an injunction three cotton mills had asked to prevent Mississippi from collecting unemployment compensation taxes. The court did not rule directly on the validity of the state act. The same argument that was upheld in the Montgomery decisions was presented to the court.

The Circuit Court at Gadsden, Ala., presided over by Judge J. H. Disque, a state jurist, held the Alabama law constitutional. This suit differed from others that employes of two firms—the Gulf States Steel Corp. and the Dwight Manufacturing Co.—brought suit against their employers to retrieve the taxes deducted from their wages.

Alabama was made a party to the suit and entered it to argue the law's constitutionality, which was upheld.

The 5th District Circuit Court of appeals at New Orleans upheld another decision of Judge Davis which had been favorable to the New Deal. Judge Davis had ruled against two Alabama cotton mills seeking to obtain rebates of $1,000,000 in taxes paid under the invalidated AAA.

Scenes as Chevrolet Workers Return to Their Jobs

Approximately 90 per cent of the 40,000 Chevrolet workers called back to work last week reported at their work benches. Above is shown a group of happy Chevrolet workers as they return to their jobs at the Chevrolet Gear and Axle plant in Detroit, in line with the company's program of giving part-time employment to as many employees as possible in order to keep them off relief rolls. Upper right, some of the workers gathered inside the plant awaiting the shift change which will give them the signal to return to their machines. Lower left, Frank Svatora checks in with a big smile while Walter Frost waits in line behind him to follow suit.

Randolph College Notes

The second semester opens well and the following new students are enrolled: Raymond Black, Truscott; Hardy Ratliff, Pearsall; Sam Adair, Brownfield; Frankie Scott, Pearsall; Jack Shugart, El Dorado; Elizabeth Covey, Benjamin; Lucie Mae Wright local. Some others may arrive Monday.

Dr. Harold C. Simon, of New Orleans, is expected to come for conference next week, and will probably join the faculty. He is an M.A. from Southern Methodist University and has had 13 year's experience in school management; he teaches Social Science, Education, Public Speaking and Physical Education. His team in Public Speaking won the Arkansas championship last year.

Mrs. Dean, Mrs. Bruce and some others of the Randolph family have been "waiting" of late. All students are up now.

Pres. McKissick and Dr. Clark motored to Graham Lord's Day; half a dozen persons united with the church and some fine contacts were made for the college. Dr. Clark hopes to resume work at Randolph at an early date.

Chapel was very interesting Wednesday. Prof. King used her class in Biology. Talks were made by Misses Lamb and Donham; special music by Miss Burleson, Clark and Parris; scripture (19th Psalm) by Andrew Burroughs. Everyone enjoyed this variation of program.

Due to bad weather the enrollment may be extended till Monday; with assured affiliation, convenient terms, standardized courses, the halls ought to be filled with ambitious boys and girls.

ter gave his pet an impromptu stable on the front porch, one of the few front porches above water in Paducah.
